Holland Teachers' Case Heard

Court Procedures
On Injunctions
Will Be Studied

LANSING — The Michigan Supreme Court Friday left undecided for at least two weeks the question of whether to lift an injunction forcing Holland school teachers to work without a contract.

The court asked school board and Michigan Education Association attorneys to file by Oct. 20 suggestions on possible procedures in modifying the injunction, and setting forth guidelines on subsequent use of this type of litigation.

Michigan Education Association attorney Theodore Swift, representing the Holland teachers, told the court that teachers aren't interested in any new limitations of the injunction. But Swift said he would comply with the order of Chief Justice John Dethmers.

Swift told the court that the 219 Holland school teachers were illegally ordered back to work Sept. 6 by the Ottawa County circuit court. He said the temporary injunction ordering the teachers to return to work without a contract settlement placed the teachers in "involuntary servitude."

School board attorneys James Townsend of Holland and Norman Jabin of Grand Rapids argued the teachers were in violation of the Hutchinson Act, which prohibits public employees from striking.

Since issuance of the temporary injunction, Holland teachers have been teaching school under legal protest.

Swift told the court since the teachers had no contract they were not public employees and therefore could not be on strike.

Jabin said the injunction ordering the teachers back to work was sought because a strike by the teachers had created "an emergency situation that threatened to disrupt the public school system of Holland."

Townsend and Jabin told Justice Thomas Brennan that the school board would abide by a decision of the Supreme Court. Holland teachers currently are being paid on last year's salary schedule, plus increments. Adjustments will be made when the master contract is signed.

Oral arguments took about 2½ hours.

Attending from Holland were Supt. Donald L. Ithman, Board President James O. Lamb, and Ted Boeve, Winona Penna and Paul Klomparsens of the HEA.

More Rain Falls Here

More rain splashed down Tuesday after a dreary two days, but the sun peeped through a time or two.

Rainfall Monday measured .64 inch. Since 5 p.m. Monday, another .21 inch fell. Sunday's rain measured .35 inch.

It was quite a contrast to a similar period in October, 1871, when most of Holland was destroyed by fire at the same time Chicago went up in flames.

Police Ticket Driver

Holland police ticketed Mary Jo Rutgers, 16, of 35 Cherry St. for disobeying stop sign after the car she operated collided with a car operated by Lewis Alan Borgman, 17, of 728 Marylane Dr. Monday at 6:45 p.m. on 17th St. and Maple Ave.

Underground Cable Conks Out; School Is Closed

West Ottawa Junior - Senior High School students had a day off Monday because of an underground power failure which cut off all electricity to the school.

Cause of the underground break which occurred about 25 feet from the utility pole about 400 feet south of the school has not been determined.

Electrical installers with the aid of Board of Public Works crews made repairs Monday. School was in session Tuesday.

The power failure was reported about 11 p.m. when a teacher passing the school noticed all lights were out. About 1 p.m. workmen determined the location of the break in the underground cable which is encased in concrete.

The break caused a circuit in a nearby substation to trip out for a time, causing power failure in the neighborhood. This trouble was cleared in a short time.

Community Health Week Proclaimed

Mayor Nelson Bosman today proclaimed Oct. 15-21 as Community Health Week in Holland, joining in a nationwide public service program sponsored by the American Medical Association.

"Teaming Up for Better Health" is the recurring national theme, and the Ottawa County Medical Association has arranged several features to make the local area more health conscious.

Dr. S. Walter Kuipers, president of the county association, said teams of doctors will visit high schools in an effort to interest students in careers in the field allied with health.

Other doctors will join panels appearing at various PTA's regarding health education on venereal diseases. This series is arranged in cooperation with the Holland PTA Council.

Other emphasis this year is placed on reviewing and updating information on immunization procedures. Awareness for the need of small pox vaccinations locally has dwindled mainly to those persons needing health certificates for foreign travel passports.

But small pox vaccinations and other immunizations including measles vaccine are as important as ever, although people seldom bestir themselves over the subject until an epidemic threatens. A well organized public health program in Ottawa county has met a good share of the needs of immunization among children and many parents keep abreast of children's needs through their pediatricians.

The public relations committee of the Ottawa County Medical Association has had two meetings in recent months with representatives of press and radio in the county.

Serving on this committee are Dr. Donald De Witt of Holland, chairman; Dr. Bernard Meeuwse of Holland, Dr. G.J. Kemme of Drenthe and Dr. Dennis Harvey of Grand Haven.

Serving on committees for Immunization, Dr. Vernon L. Boersma, Dr. Kuipers and Dr. Kemme; careers, Dr. De Witt and Dr. W.G. Winter; and VD panels, Dr. Meeuwse, Dr. Richard Schaftenaar and the Rev. William Burd.

Dr. Jay Post of Allendale is vice president of the Ottawa County Medical Association, and Dr. Jerome Wassink of Holland is secretary-treasurer.

Suspects Held in Kidnaping

Rural Allegan Woman
Forced Into Car;
Escapes in Holland

GRAND HAVEN—Two Muskegon men are being held by Grand Haven State Police in connection with the kidnaping and beating, in an apparent rape attempt, of a rural Allegan woman Friday night.

Authorities said Sharon Hitchcock, 22, of route 5, Allegan, was abducted by two men on the outskirts of Allegan shortly before midnight. The two men reportedly beat the woman while driving north toward Holland, police said.

State police turned over Charles King Jr., 23, and Donald Baker, 24, both of Muskegon, to Allegan Sheriff's deputies.

Holland police said that when the car arrived in Holland the two men stopped on East Eighth St. near Columbia Ave., and when one of her abductors left the car to look for a liquor store the woman jumped from the car and ran.

Mrs. Hitchcock encountered a plain clothed Holland policeman at a nearby gasoline station and he radioed for a patrol car to take the hysterical woman to Holland hospital where she was treated for facial injuries and examined by a local physician.

Doctors told police that the woman had apparently not been raped, however, officers said that the woman's clothing was bloody and the buttons were torn off her blouse. She was taken home by her husband after her release from the hospital.

Meanwhile, the two men had apparently fled north on US-31 and a car fitting their description was stopped by state police for a traffic violation.

This occurred a short time after the women escaped and no broadcast alert for the car had yet been made. The driver of the car, King, was held by state police because he was driving without an operators license. It was later learned that the car King was driving matched the description of the wanted car and he is now being held for Allegan authorities.

State police picked up Baker, who was a passenger in the car, shortly before 8 a.m. Saturday and he, too, is being held.

Destructive Fire Swept Holland 96 Years Ago

It was 96 years ago Monday that Holland was almost entirely destroyed by fire.

It was the same time as the Chicago fire, and the same tinder-dry conditions which caused Chicago to go up in flames existed in Holland which was less than 25 years old at the time.

Ninth Street Christian Reformed Church and Van Vleck Hall on Hope College campus are the principal landmarks remaining today which survived the fire.

The anniversary of Holland's big fire always coincides with Fire Prevention Week which is being observed this week.

This is the time families should check electrical outlets in their home, remove junk and clutter which would spread fire easily and determine exit routes for escaping in case of fire.

Ernest Olson Killed When Car Overturns

GRAND HAVEN — Ernest William (Bill) Olson, 19, of 365 Fourth Ave., Fruitport, died of internal injuries shortly after entering Grand Haven Municipal Hospital Wednesday as the result of an accident at 12:15 p.m. This was Ottawa County's 15th traffic fatality this year.

A passenger, Wayne Alver Gagnon, 21, of 1416 Eighth St., Muskegon, who with Olson was thrown from the vehicle, received bruises and lacerations of the head. He was treated at the hospital and released.

The accident occurred when Olson, driving on the straightaway south of 168th Ave., near Hickory St. in Spring Lake township, lost control of his car and overturned several times before coming to rest on its top.

Olson attended Fruitport schools, was an avid sportsman and a member of Bethel Baptist Church in Fruitport.

Local Man Missing in Shipwreck

Vernon A. Ratering
Was Aboard Freight
Panoceanic Faith

A Holland man, Vernon A. Ratering, 39, is among 23 crewmen missing and presumed dead who were aboard the freighter Panoceanic Faith which went down Monday about 870 miles southwest of Kodiak, Alaska.

Ratering's brother, the Rev. Norman Ratering, a Reformed church minister in Danforth, Ill., was notified Wednesday by the Coast Guard.

Their parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ratering, died 10 days apart in Holland in February, 1965.

Rev. Ratering said his brother has been a seaman for 15 years or more, operating out of River Rouge, Detroit, the home port. The missing man left in September on a run which customarily took him to ports all over the world. Ordinarily, he would return to "Detroit in June."

The Raterings were associated with Bethel Reformed Church while living in Holland.

The missing man was formerly employed at Holland-Racine Shoes, Inc., and also worked at Kroger and A. and P. stores.

He attended Holland High School through the 11th grade, 1942-45.

Meanwhile in Kodiak, Alaska, only a flickering hope remained that some missing crewmen might be on a life raft bobbing somewhere in the North Pacific according to United Press International.

When the ship went down Monday, nearby ships rescued five of its 40 crewmen. Thirteen bodies were recovered. Rev. Ratering was informed nine had been identified.

U.S. Coast Guard headquarters at Juneau, Alaska, said three rafts have been recovered and one empty one sighted. A spokesman said hopes of finding the missing crewmen depended on the condition of one raft still to be found. Five ships were searching the area today.

On Wednesday, UPI listed Ratering's home as Danforth, Ill.

Police Field Services 'Inadequate'

Report on Ottawa
Sheriff's Operations
Presented to Board

GRAND HAVEN—The general level of police field service in Ottawa county is inadequate to meet local needs, a report from the Public Administration Service of Chicago, submitted to the Board of Supervisors at Monday's meeting, points out.

In a resume of a study authorized by the board last June, the report states also that staff and auxiliary services and field operations are "grossly inadequate" and large sums of money are being spent for these services without achieving meaningful results.

The study on "Police Services in Ottawa County" is included in an 80-page bound report, copies of which were distributed to the board members at the first meeting of the October session Monday. The sheriff's committee was authorized to hire the Chicago firm at the June session at a cost not to exceed $10,000 following repeated requests from the sheriff's department for additional funds.

Basic factors causing the conditions in law enforcement in the county, listed in the report are: (1) rapid growth of police needs and problems has outstripped local professional competence to meet them; (2) Personnel and other resources are not sufficiently available in kind, numbers and quality, even under conditions of effective organization, management and controls; (3) the state, county, and most municipalities have no real awareness of the scope of local crime problems because of unsound reporting practices and are thus not alerted to the need to combat them; (4) excessive jurisdictional, operational and internal fragmentation virtually deny any opportunity for concentrated and effective action; (5) effective communications between the various police authorities in the county do not exist.

A long list of alternatives "for improving police service" in the county follow the summary of the shortcomings of the services. New patterns of relationship must be found, the report says, which allow for a more adequate level of police service for both supportive and basic patrol functions and which also provide more equitable cost distribution. Potential solutions range from complete consolidation to informal cooperation, the report continued. Many alternatives were listed.

It cited overlapping of services by the state police post personnel at Grand Haven and the sheriff's department, based at Grand Haven and Holland. "Both agencies offer identical law enforcement facilities and each provides its own staff and auxiliary services to support its line functions. Both agencies assign men to unsolved cases with no communication or exchange of information. Elimination of these duplicative services through any realignment of functions agreed upon between the state police and the county department would free staff positions and funds to provide those services required but not now offered by any police agency operating in the county," it said.

Conclusions were that aeration will remove iron and sulfur odor but will not reduce hardness. The lime and carbon treatment removed iron and reduced hardness by 50 per cent.

Although the same amount of chlorination was applied in both treatments, Council noted the chlorine taste was more obvious in the aerated sample.

It was again brought out by Monday's council session that minimum rates for Allegan at $1.20 per month are 36 per cent lower than the national average. The present rate, it was noted, no longer covers billing and water reading costs.

Council indicated it would raise this rate by January 1, 1968, whether or not a water treatment plant was installed. City attorney E. L. Andrews was instructed to study a more feasible rate schedule and prepare a resolution for council vote.

Mrs. G. Stephens Tells PEO About Convention

The two Holland PEO Chapters met Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Gerald Rocks, with Mrs. Kenneth Cox and Mrs. Paul McIlwain serving as co-hostesses.

A report of the Supreme Convention of the PEO Sisterhood was given by Mrs. G. E. Stephens who was one of 29 official delegates attending from the State of Michigan.

The convention, which is held every two years, was held Oct. 2, 3, 4, 5 in Seattle, Wash. Sessions were held in the Opera House at the beautiful Seattle Center. There were 1,251 official delegates from the 50 states and Canada, and 1,371 PEO's who were convention visitors.

The convention voted to authorize construction of three new buildings on the campus of Cottey Junior College — a health and physical fitness building, a classroom and laboratory building and a student center. The college, founded in 1884 in Nevada, Mo., has been owned and operated by the PEO Sisterhood since Oct. 6, 1927. It is accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools and by the National Association of Schools of Music for Junior Colleges.

A unique feature of the college is that no special fees are charged for music or art courses. It also has an unusual dormitory plan, with rooms arranged in suites having their own living room and utilities. The present enrollment is 350, with girls attending from 40 states and 11 foreign countries. Its educational program is one designed as preparation for transfer to a four-year college or university.

The PEO Sisterhood established an Educational Fund in 1907 to assist young women in the United States and Canada to attain an education beyond the high school level. In the 60 years of its existence, 15,000 young women have received loans totaling $7,774,000 from this revolving fund.

It was also reported at the convention that the PEO Sisterhood, through voluntary contributions, provided 47 scholarships amounting to $83,500 in 1965-66 and 76 scholarships amounting to $85,250 in 1966-67. These were scholarships given to foreign women, pursuing graduate study in the United States and Canada, and were made available through the PEO International Peace Scholarship program.

Chapter DF of Holland recently held a silver tea at the home of Dr. Bernadette De Valois. The proceeds will go to the International Peace Scholarship Fund. In 1969 the PEO Sisterhood will celebrate its Centennial and the Supreme Convention will be held in Des Moines, Iowa. The Sisterhood has 4,168 chapters in the United States and Canada and a total active membership of 162,767.

At its banquet Wednesday evening, Oct. 4, the convention was privileged to have as its speaker Gov. Daniel J. Evans of the State of Washington.

Young women in the area interested in knowing about Cottey College or the personalized loan service provided by the PEO are asked to contact Mrs. George Steinger, president of Chapter BW, or Mrs. Edmund J. Jonoski, president of Chapter DF.

Red Cross Anniversary Dinner Slated Oct. 24

U.S. Rep. Guy Vander Jagt of Michigan's 9th district will be the speaker at the 50th anniversary dinner of the Ottawa County Red Cross Tuesday, Oct. 24, in Phelps Hall on Hope College campus. Punch will be served at 7 p.m. and the dinner at 7:30 p.m.

When the Red Cross was organized back in 1917, home service and disaster service were the two most important services conducted by the chapter. Today, the Ottawa chapter has more than 2,500 active adult volunteers and over 10,000 enrolled in the Red Cross Youth

U.S. Rep. Guy Vander Jagt program. There are 17 service programs currently in force.

Cong. Vander Jagt will relate some of the experiences of 50 years of Red Cross service in the county. An honor graduate of Hope College, Yale Divinity School and the University of Michigan Law School, Vander Jagt was elected Congressman in 1966 after serving for two years as state senator for the 36th district which includes his home town of Cadillac.

Probably the most significant advancement in 50 years of Red Cross history in Ottawa county is the blood service program which operates on a "no charge-no replacement" basis. Another advancement is acquiring a chapter house in Holland made possible by the generous bequest of the late J. Edgar Lee of Grand Haven.

The chapter house at 89 West 11th St. has served as the home of Ottawa county Red Cross activities for more than four years. In May, 1963, open house was held for more than 300 persons to inspect the headquarters.

The anniversary meeting also will serve as the annual recognition night for eligible volunteers for the past year's service. Chapter Chairman Harold Langejans will present a national award to James Rotman of Holland for saving the life of a small child last May.

Also on the program will be a candlelight capping of new officers for the coming year. All volunteers are requested to wear uniforms for the anniversary event.

Mrs. Jack Nash is serving as general chairman, assisted by the Red Cross staff. Betty Broman is in charge of invitations; Bruce Raymond speaker; Mrs. Marge Peerbolt, decorations.

Sunday School Lesson

Sunday, Oct. 15
The Lord of History
Amos 1:3-5; 2:4-8; 9:7-8
By C. P. Dame

Today there is much talk about love and forgiveness which is fine but so little is said about justice and punishment. If you believe in God who is righteous, then you confess that He punishes sin.

I, God judges individuals and nations too. Farmer Amos knew God. And he also knew his world. When he came to Bethel where the king's chapel stood to preach he revealed his knowledge of the nations.

Although Amos had never gone to college and had never read a book on speaking he knew how to get the attention of his hearers. He told the people of Israel that God had vowed that He would punish Damascus, the capital of Syria because of its brutality and besides He would punish Gaza in Philistia and Tyre and Edom and Ammon and Moab. These nations were guilty of cruelty, aggressive warfare, and the absence of pity and brotherhood.

His hearers no doubt applauded for they hated these neighboring nations. The purpose Amos had in mind was to arouse in his hearers an awareness of their own sins and guilt. But it is so much easier to see the sins of others than our own. Nations are like individuals in that respect.

II. The most privileged nations and individuals are the most responsible. After speaking about the neighboring nations Amos turned his attention to Judah. This nation had God's law but it did not keep the law. The nation was guilty of apostasy. The people were covenant breakers. The other nations did not have God's written law but Judah did and despised it. God would punish Judah.

The hearers of Amos were members of the northern nation, Israel. Amos turned his attention to that nation and pointed out its sins. He was very specific about it. The first crime was "selling the righteous for silver." The rich sold the poor debtors into slavery. The second crime was that "they sold the needy for a pair of shoes." To hand over the shoes was equivalent to handing over tilededness.

The rich were land-hungry and they panted "after the dust of the earth on the head of the poor"—this was the third crime. The fourth was unchastity. Sacred prostitution was practiced. The fifth crime was keeping the garments of the poor as a pledge which was contrary to God's law (Ex. 22:25, Deut. 24:12). In those days people in the East slept in their day clothes at night, hence the garments had to be restored before nightfall. Israel was a sinful nation and was in danger of punishment. What about the modern privileged nations?

III. God is concerned for all people. He is the sovereign ruler. This Amos teaches as he points out that the God who brought the children of Israel out of Egypt is the same God who also brought the Philistines from Caphtor, the isle of Crete, to Palestine and directed the Syrians from far-off Kir to Syria.

The Holy Spirit gave Amos a wonderful insight. The people of Israel thought that they were God's favorites. Since Israel had been highly favored its punishments would be greater. We know that both Judah and Israel were carried into captivity. Nations are subject to God's law. We are a favored nation—what about our future?

COHO FEVER

The recent tragic epidemic of coho fever has left many of our leaders and officials completely frustrated. Suddenly they were faced by people who responded to no reasonable appeal, who thrust themselves into mortal danger despite the best-intentioned warnings, who — some of them — paid with their lives. Said Lt. Ward Lewis of the Coast Guard, "People never learn." Said Frankfort Police Chief Clarence Miller, "What can you do when you're trying to help someone and they just ignore you?" Said Sen. Birch Bayh of Indiana, who is trying to find ways of averting another such tragedy, "There are some limits beyond which a person cannot be protected from his own foolishness."

In the last forty years or so we have been conditioned to think that every problem we have can be officially solved by some kind of program and that the more money the program costs the faster and more conclusive will be the results. But coho fever does not respond to this prescription. Here we are not dealing with a social or economic problem which an infusion of money can cure. Here we are faced with a perversion of people who see a chance for unusual pleasure. Face people with an unusual opportunity for pleasure or profit and their selfishness in most cases becomes evident. So it is with coho fever. The prospect of dragging a big one out of the depths can blind any fisherman to the counsels of prudence. Good advice, no matter how sensible it is, will keep him from the imprudence of challenging nature in an attempt to satisfy his demand for pleasure.

Can we make the Coast Guard policemen? Can we physically restrain those who would risk their lives foolishly? All we can do is hope that as time passes the fever will become less virulent, which may only happen when the pleasure of catching a coho becomes more commonplace. How many fishermen may drown before we come to that point is anybody's guess.

So be careful. We have had a sample of the coho. We like the taste. If some of our fisherman friends have more than they need, we at the Sentinel would like more samples.

Arrests After Months Of Investigation By Police Detectives

Months of investigation by Holland police detectives was climaxed early Sunday morning by the arrest of three persons and the seizure of a large quantity of marijuana.

Arrested were James A. Offord, 22, of Valparaiso, Ind., and Robert Michael Keller, 24, of Chicago, Ill., who were charged with the sale of narcotics, and Keller's wife, Rebecca Ann, 22, who was charged with aiding and abetting in the sale of narcotics, police said.

All three demanded examination at their arraignment before Municipal Judge John Galien Sunday afternoon and were ordered to appear for examination on Oct. 17. Bond was set at $7,500 each.

Both Offord and Mrs. Keller are being held in the Holland jail while Keller, an invalid, is confined to Holland Hospital.

Holland police, with the cooperation of Grand Rapids police vice squad officers, arrested Offord at 4:50 a.m. after he allegedly sold one pound of marijuana to an unidentified man on 16th St. east of US-31. The buyer was not from Holland, police said.

The officers, armed with shotguns, rushed Offord's car after the sale had been completed and he offered no resistance.

A total of 12 pounds of marijuana was found in Offord's car, police said. Three pounds of the marijuana was processed while the remainder was unprocessed weed.

Officers said the 12 pounds of marijuana was an unusually large quantity to be seized in this area. Police added that it was obvious that more than the Holland area was being supplied by the trio.

The retail value of the marijuana was placed at a minimum of $1,200, police said.

Police and vice squad officers, accompanied by an Allegan sheriff's deputy, arrested Keller and his wife at a Saugatuck motel where they were staying at about 6 a.m.

Detectives, who have been working on the illicit narcotic sale in Holland for months, said that the arrests are believed to have cut off a major source of marijuana in this area.

Board President James O. Lamb said there was no report on teacher negotiations other than to reiterate that the board's committee stands ready to resume negotiations at any time and he was hopeful another meeting would be called in the near future.

On recommendation of Harvey Butler of the swimming pool committee, the board unanimously approved the purchase of a 66-passenger bus to be used in transporting elementary children to the swimming pool for classes. Action approved low bid of R.E. Barber Inc. for a 1967 Ford Chassis and Wayne body at total cost of $8,148.50, the costs to come from the swimming pool fund.

Butler said arrangements could be made with other sports departments for use of the bus to games, etc. He also spoke of pool policies in which suits and towels would be available.

Announcement also was made that Counselor Tom Carrey would be joining 10 counselors of Michigan Friday on a counseling tour arranged by Northern Michigan College.

All board members were present except Russel Fredricks. Lamb gave the invocation. Butler reviewed the financial report which was largely a matter of accounting for income and certain expenditures inasmuch as no budget for the year has been adopted due to the teacher crisis. ## New County Budget Asks $1,885,545

GRAND HAVEN — A proposed budget for Ottawa county for 1968 totaling $1,885,545 was submitted to the Ottawa County Board of Supervisors Tuesday by Gerrit Bottema of Spring Lake, chairman of the ways and means committee.

The proposed budget is roughly $300,000 more than the 1967 budget. The total may be changed before the budget is adopted later in the session.

Ronald Bakker, the new engineer-manager of the County Road Commission, presented the proposed highway budget for 1968, listing $3,075,000 for highway maintenance and improvement, and a $90,000 budget for parks.

Included in the budget is money for 120 new plantings at the Hager Hardwood park arboretum near Hudsonville in 1968. The board chairman, Herman Windemuller of Park township, named a county-wide committee to lead a funds drive for the arboretum. The group includes F.C. Bolt, Grand Haven; Randall Dekker, Zeeland; Marinus De Young, Allendale; Calvin VanderWerf, Holland; Jerome Gryse, Hudsonville; and Herman Laug, Coopersville.

Larry Hilldore of the county social welfare department reported on a study a committee, named by the board, has made on the need for a new county medical facility. The committee has met three times he said, and has met with opposition from nursing home operators in the county. The group is not ready to make recommendations and asked for more time to make a final report.

Zeeland and Grand Haven hospitals are making plans for additions for extended care of county patients, he said, and these may effect the need for a county hospital. Cost of such a county building would be $3 million, at least, he said.

Willard Klaver, Zeeland a former member of the board, was seated to succeed the late Andrew Schermer. The parks committee reported that 20½ acres of land adjacent to the Grose county park in Chester township is available to the county and the board voted to offer the estate $8,500 for the land, which includes a residence. The amount would be taken from the contingency fund in the 1967 budget.

Chairman Windemuller announced that the Grand Haven school district is seeking federal funds for an outdoor classroom project, using the district's school forests. A resolution was adopted by the board, supporting the program, and offering the schools use of county lands in its program.

Dystrophy Patients Urged To Take Influenza Shots

The Ottawa County Chapter of Muscular Dystrophy Association of America today urged all Muscular Dystrophy patients to get flu shots as soon as possible.

An outbreak of influenza this winter, especially in the east, was forecast by Surgeon General William H. Stewart who urged that vaccine be used by those most seriously affected by epidemic flu such as persons over 45 years old and individuals with chronic illnesses. Immunization should begin as soon as practicable after Oct. 1 and ideally should be completed by early December, the Public Health Service Advisory Committee recommended.

Mrs. Ben Van Dis Jr., president of the Ottawa chapter, said the cost of the shots given to Muscular Dystrophy patients will be defrayed by the local chapter.

eight years old (by Jan. 7, 1968) through age 13. Application forms may be picked up at the Ford Agency in Hamilton or at the football field. In case of rain, the competition will be held one week later, Oct. 21, at 10 a.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Heyboer were one of twelve couples of the Herman Miller Furniture Company in Zeeland who attended the Michigan-Navy football game in Ann Arbor last Saturday.

School Board Endorses Merger

The Board of Education Monday night unanimously endorsed the forthcoming school reorganization election Nov. 9 in which Federal and Harrington school districts would be merged with Holland district.

This is part of the county-wide reorganization program which was defeated in Ottawa county last May. On the second, time-around Nov. 9 districts to be merged will vote separately. Votes cast in all three districts will be counted together. A simple majority is needed to carry. If the vote carries, the merger would be effective July 1, 1968.

Board member Dale Mossburg, Holland's member on the Ottawa County 18-member reorganization committee, said that since the last election, some changes have been made in boundaries. All of Bursley district has been put with Jenison, not half of it with Hudsonville; and Allendale district has been put with Coopersville, not with Hudsonville. This leaves Hudsonville boundaries unchanged, and so Hudsonville will not vote in the Nov. 9 election. Grand Haven and West Ottawa whose boundaries remain unchanged also will not vote.

In endorsing a "yes" vote on the reorganization program, the board pointed out that it was concerned mainly with the geographic proximity of the two districts to Holland, and even more concerned with the education of the children.

If the vote passes Nov. 9, the Holland board will submit to the people a transportation millage proposition which would provide transportation to all outlying districts in the enlarged Holland district as well as Harrington and Federal.

Also voting on district reorganization on Nov. 9 will be Zeeland, Spring Lake, Coopersville and Jenison.
