As the financial result of the union Sunday-school picnic of Allegan county held in August at Macataw park each of the five schools participating has received $9.38 to be placed in the school treasury.

County Clerk Fremont Brown attended the Holland fair yesterday. Mr. Brown is an expert on exhibitions of the kind and pronounces the fair among the best.—
Grand Haven Tribune.

There will be an examination of teachers for Ottawa county, in the courthouse at Grand Haven, October 20-21, 1904, beginning at 8 o'clock a. m. The examination in reading will be based on Bryant's "Thanatopsis," and in theory and art, on White's "Art of Teaching."

Louis Lindel, a tramp, came from Waverly last Friday morning with his ribs fractured and a bad gash above his left eye. He says that he received his broken ribs by falling into the pit at the boiler room of the roundhouse at Waverly and that his head was injured in falling from a car at New Buffalo.

Among the displays at the fair last week that merit words of commendation was the nursery display of Geo. H. Souter, the north side dealer in nursery stock. Mr. Souter had a miniature garden containing trees of every description as well as a fine variety of shrubs and ornamental plants.

Muskegon Chronicle, Friday: J.
E. Clark, Superintendent of the city schools of Holland, was the guest of superintendent Frost today. "I came to visit the grades in the best system of public schools in western Michigan," he said. "I brought with me our science teacher, A. E.
Parkins, who came to visit the science department at the high school."

Judge Wolcott of Kent circuit court has issued a temporary injunction restraining the Maccabee's from paying $2000 insurance of the late Maurice Coston to Catherine Coston, his mother. The suit was brought by Emma Coston, widow of the deceased. The mother was named as beneficiary, but the wife claims that the deceased told her before his death that the insurance should go to her and she paid the premiums. His mother, however, refuses to relinquish her claim. Mrs.
Coston and her son formerly lived in Grand Haven and were well known in this city.

According to the following from the Allegan Gazette the gentlemen
at the head of the G. R. H. & C.
Interurban will construct a branch line from Jamestown to Allegan:

"There was no blowing of horns accompanying the recent visit of two notable gentlemen to Allegan and parts of the county to the north of town, but their coming was more potent with promise of electric railway construction than have been the trips of many others the past few years. They were Strathern Hendrie of Detroit and the superintendent of the Grand Rapids Holland electric road. They came across the country from Jamestown Ottawa county, through Salem, Monterey, and Allegan townships, and the object of their visit was to find what promise of business that region afforded for an extension of their line from Jamestown to Allegan. It may be truthfully stated that they are seriously considering the building of such a branch. The best of it is that they have at command all the capital needed, have already in operation a first-class and prosperous line, and are seeking a profitable extension of it. They wisely believe that it will be better to build through this unoccupied territory than to parallel a steam line and so have to complete for local as well as through traffic. It may be said with a degree of confidence that these gentlemen will ere long begin open negotiations for the requisite franchises and right of way; and when they do begin there will be no halting in their work."

There will be a congregational social at the First Reformed church this evening.

Rev. Paul Schuelke will conduct services in the German Lutheran church next Sunday at 10:30 a. m.

Rev. K. Van Goor, of Passiac, N. J., formerly of this city, has received a call from the Christian Reformed church at Door, Iowa.

Seats for the lecture course are selling so rapidly that it is feared it will be necessary to call a halt before next Wednesday, so as not to over-sell the seating capacity of the chapel.

The death of Mrs. A. Gleason, occurred Monday at her home on West Fourteenth street at the age of 45 years. Death was sudden and unexpected. A husband and two children survive. The funeral services were held Wednesday from the residence.

It is announced that the Goodrich Transportation Company will maintain all winter service between Grand Haven and Chicago. The Atlanta will make tri-weekly trips after December to which time daily service will be maintained by the Goodrich steamers.

Regarding the Allegan fair the Allegan Press says: "The receipts yesterday at the gate were $839.95, and 3,300 paid admission were received. There were more entries in some departments than last year, but not so many in others. Floral hall was not half filled. The fruit exhibit was fine so far as it went. Nothing but apples was shown."

Mr. J. H. William of Denver,
Colorado President of The Burmah
Gold Mining Company accompanied by Mr. E. B. Green of Grand Rapids are in this city for the purpose of interesting the people of Holland in a thoroughly established and legitimate business project.
They will be here for a week or ten days and are stopping at Hotel Holland.

Henry Wolcott has been released by Judge Padgham on a bail bond of $8000 signed by J. Bosman and A.
B. Bosman. Under the charge of murder in the first degree which was sustained by Justice De Vries of Holland, the justice could not grant bail to the prisoner. Attorneys Diekema and Kollen therefore appealed to Judge Padgham with the satisfactory result. After his release Wolcott came to this city and then went to the home of his father in Bentheim for a visit.

The Loyal Temperance Legion met Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Wright, 126
West 9th street and several important questions were considered. Arrangements were made to hold an entertainment soon and the society is looking for an important time. The next meeting will be held at the home of E. E.
Takken, 33 East 13th street. Let all persons interested in temperance attend and help the legion to success.

Mrs. J. Tilma died Tuesday morning at her home a mile east of the city on the Zeeland road after a long illness during which she suffered greatly. Her age was 66 years, and she came here from the Netherlands with her husband 35 years ago. Her husband died 24 years ago. A family of seven survives, three sons, George and Thomas of Grand Rapids and Edward, living at home, and four daughters, Mrs. J. Boonstra, Mrs. N.
Mennenga and Mrs. Vander Wege of this city, and Mrs. F. Van Pembrook of Grand Rapids. The funeral services will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home, Rev. A. Keizer officiating.

State Labor Commissioner Scott
Griswold has prepared for Chairman Diekema of the Republican state committee a statement showing the increase in factories in Michigan from January 1, 1897, to November 1, 1903. The statement shows that in 1896 the inspectors found 3,948 factories, of which 1, 376 were idle. On November 1, 1903 the inspectors found 6,996 factories all busy. In 1896 the number of employees was 101,053 at a daily average wage of $1.23, while in 1903 the number had increased to 279,699, with $1.75 as the daily average of pay. The amount of money invested in Michigan factories is estimated at $225,000, 000, and the total annual pay roll is $146,892,000.

A Good Physician

Is at a disadvantage unless the drugs he prescribes for his patient are pure and of a high standard. Good drugs are essential to good results.
No drug or chemical goes into a prescription in our store unless it is first tested and found to be pure and of the requisite strength. Your physician knows this and it is for this reason that our prescription business has grown so rapidly and given such good satisfaction. You owe it to your physician and the sick one to get your prescriptions filled at the right store. Try it and see. We guarantee satisfaction and charge no exorbitant prices.

Con De Pree's Drug Store

Voting Papers.

Persons wishing to become naturalized citizens can procure their 1st or 2nd papers on October 17 at the office of Diekema and Kollen.
County Clerk Fremont Brown and Deputy Mr. McEachron will be on hand to supply them. Do not forget the date Monday October 17th at the office of Diekema and Kollen First State Bank block. 40-2w

Miss Stella Clark will open a dancing school in the Harrington block.

James Larkin was given ten days in the county jail by Justice Devries.
The charge was drunkenness.

Don't forget about the lecture with Stereopticon Views at Winants chapel Monday Oct. 17 at 8 o'clock.

H. J. Fisher has sold his drug stock on West Thirteenth street to George Loge of Kalamazoo, who will continue the business.

Rev. D. R. Drukker, pastor of the Fourteenth street Christian Reformed church, has received a call from the Christian Reformed church of Crosby street, Grand Rapids.

B. Riksen has purchased of Geo.
W. Browning and Arend Visscher the large timber tract in Overisel township which they began to clear up last winter. It includes over 250 acres.

Three truancy cases were before the board of education at its meeting last Monday night and were referred to the superintendent for investigation. The appointment of Miss Genevieve Clarke as teacher of English was confirmed.

Beginning Saturday the Ladies of Grace Episcopal church will hold a rummage sale in the building immediately west of the Holland City State bank on West Eighth street.
People having clothes to dispose of are requested to notify the ladies and they will call for them.

Paving Contractor Prange of Grand Rapids has hired Contractor Oosting to remedy that part of the pavement where the brick had settled and this week Mr. Oosting had a force of men employed on the job.
When all is completed Mr. Prange will be paid the money still withheld by the city.

Great interest is felt in the lecture to be given at Winants Chapel next Monday evening by Rev. M.
Kolyn. He will tell of "Sights and Scenes in Southern Syria" and as he has travelled extensively there will no doubt give an entertaining discourse. The lecture will be illustrated with some of the most striking scenes of his travels.

All interested in Bible study and Sunday school work should not fail to attend the "Illustrated Lecture" to be given by Rev. M. Kolyn, next Monday night at Winants Chapel at 8 o'clock. Admission 25 cents. All who are acquainted with Rev. Kolyn know him to be a forceful and eloquent speaker and he surely will not fail to interest his hearers.

MARINES GUARD WARSHIP

Official Use Every Precaution to Prevent Battleship Connecticut from Being Disabled or Destroyed.

New York, Oct. 4.—Guarded by marines with loaded rifles on board her and on shore, and with powerful electric searchlights playing over her, the newly-launched battleship Connecticut, already the object of three serious attacks, lay at her station in the Brooklyn navy yard last night. The officers are using every conceivable precaution against the recurrence of the mysterious attempts to disable or destroy the new war vessel, and they think they have about rendered it impossible. Marines and secret service men are about her all the time, while about the last official act of Rear Admiral Rodgers, who turned over the command of the yard to Rear Admiral Coghlan, was to make an appeal to the patriotism of the workmen.

THE CONNECTICUT AS SHE WILL LOOK WHEN COMPLETED.

While the regulations governing the construction of a vessel are strict and the supervision as strict, even greater precautions will be taken in future. A naval constructor will be on the new vessel until she leaves the yard, giving his personal supervision to every detail of the work. A strict investigation involving much detective work is under way. Of this the authorities will not talk.

GURNEY FORWARDS REGRETS TO BATES

International Incident Over Briton's Fine Is Closed—No Request for Recall.

Lenox, Mass., Oct. 3.—Henry Mortimer Durand, British ambassador, sent Acting Secretary of State Loomis a dispatch containing the regrets of Hugh Gurney for his infringement of the speed laws of Stockbridge. This expression of regret is addressed to Governor Bates. So far as the British embassy is concerned this closes the incident.

Ambassador Durand will take no further action and Mr. Gurney will continue, for the present at least, as third assistant secretary of the embassy. It is thought there will be no request for his recall. The ambassador will not ask that Judge Phelps be punished.

Wants Out of Sing Sing.
New York, Sept. 30.—Robert A. Ammon has applied in the United States circuit court for a writ of habeas corpus, through which he will seek to be released from Sing Sing prison, where he is now serving a four years' sentence for his connection with the Miller 520 per cent syndicate of Brooklyn. Ammon contends that in being deprived, as he claims, of commutation of his sentence for good behavior, the constitution of the United States is violated. He claims that, as a result, he is entitled to his liberty.

Payne Again Rallies.
Washington, Oct. 4.—Drs. Magruder, Rixey, Osler and Grayson, held their morning consultation over Postmaster General Payne. Reports from the sick-room were to the effect that Mr. Payne was conscious and that he asked for and drank some coffee which he appeared to relish. The following bulletin was issued at 9:30 o'clock: "The postmaster general has again rallied. Heart action very feeble. Condition grave."

Buffalo Aldermen Indicted.
Buffalo, Sept. 30.—Three aldermen and four former aldermen are under indictment charged with receiving bribes. This action was foreshadowed in these dispatches, when the existence of general grafting came to light. The grand jury reported and the police notified the men indicted that they must appear before the court to plead to the charge of bribe taking.

Municipal Ownership Defeated.
Chicago, Oct. 4.—Municipal operation of street railways was defeated by the city council by a vote of 31 yeas to 36 nays. "Shall the city of Chicago proceed to operate street railways?" was the question voted down. The aldermen refused to submit the question to the voters at the November election.

Davis' Letter of Acceptance.
Elkins, W. Va., Oct. 4.—Henry G. Davis' letter of acceptance of the Democratic nomination for vice president has been made public. The document is brief, and the candidate's comments upon the issues of the campaign have the conciseness and, in several instances, the abruptness of marginal notes.

Major Alvord Drops Dead.
St. Louis, Oct. 3.—Major Henry E. Alvord, chief of the dairy division of the United States department of agriculture, dropped dead at the World's fair from an attack of apoplexy. He was here attending the international pure food congress.

Bank Cashier Goes Free.
Joliet, Ill., Oct. 1.—After being in continuous session for nearly twelve hours the jury in the trial of A. H. Butler, former cashier of the defunct Exchange bank at Lockport, brought in a verdict finding the defendant not guilty.

Miss Agnes Miller, of Chicago, speaks to young women about dangers of the Menstrual Period.

"To Young Women:—I suffered for six years with dysmenorrhea (painful periods), so much so that I dreaded every month, as I knew it meant three or four days of intense pain. The doctor said this was due to an inflamed condition of the uterine appendages caused by repeated and neglected colds."

"If young girls only realized how dangerous it is to take cold at this critical time, much suffering would be spared them. Thank God for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, that was the only medicine which helped me any. Within three weeks after I started to take it, I noticed a marked improvement in my general health, and at the time of my next monthly period the pain had diminished considerably. I kept up the treatment, and was cured a month later. I am like another person since. I am in perfect health, my eyes are brighter, I have added 13 pounds to my weight, my color is good, and I feel light and happy."—Miss Agnes Miller, 25 Potomac Ave., Chicago, Ill.—$5000 forfeit if original of above letter proving genuineness cannot be produced.

The monthly sickness reflects the condition of a woman's health. Anything unusual at that time should have prompt and proper attention.

Notice

To Thomas F. Howe, grantee in the last recorded deed in the regular chain of titles to the land herein described and to the heirs of said Thomas F. Howe: Take notice that sale has been lawfully made of the following described land for unpaid taxes thereon, and that the undersigned has title thereto under tax deed issued therefore, and that you are entitled to a reconveyance thereof at any time within six months after service upon you of this notice, upon payment to the undersigned or the Register in Chancery of the county in which the lands lie of all sums paid upon such purchase, together with one hundred per cent. additional thereto, and the fees of the Sheriff for the service of this notice, to be computed as upon personal service of a declaration as commencement of suit, and the further sum of five dollars for each description, without other additional costs or charges. If payment as aforesaid is not made, the undersigned will institute proceedings for possession of the land.

THE WORST FIRE IN HISTORY OF WINNIPEG, MANITOBA, VISITS CITY.

TWO OF THE LARGEST BLOCKS ARE DESTROYED

Entire Town Is Threatened for a Time—Losses Estimated at $700,000 with $300,000 Insurance—Ruins May Burn for Days.

Winnipeg, Man., Oct. 12.—This city was visited Tuesday night by the worst fire in its history. In two hours two of the most important business blocks were destroyed, entailing losses aggregating $700,000, with insurance of $300,000. No lives were lost.

The damage is summarized as follows: New Bulman block, with stock, value $200,000, totally destroyed; J. H. Ashdown's block, value $500,000, totally destroyed; Davis block, partially damaged; Rialto block, badly damaged by water, smoke and heat.

The firms financially affected are: Bulman Bros., engravers and fine art printers; J. H. Ashdown, hardware; L. Melke & Company, Bryce & Company; J. & G. Cleghorn, manufacturing agents; Steele & Company, photographers; Dufferin company, Hingston-Smith Arms company.

The fire originated in the Bulman block. The flames spread with such rapidity that at one period it looked as if the conflagration would rival those of Toronto and Ottawa.

Owing to the fact that there were chemicals in the Bulman building, the flames were within a few minutes pouring forth from the top of that structure. Tongues of fire shot out on all sides and reached out over to Ashdown's. The fire also attacked the Davis block and the Woodbine hotel. The best the firemen could do was to endeavor to localize the outbreak, and this looked well-nigh impossible, owing to the rapidity with which it made its way through the Ashdown block and threatened Banfield's, the Leland hotel and Rialto block. The Rialto block was badly damaged by water and heat, but the danger to the other two structures was averted. The walls of the burned blocks have all fallen in, and although the firemen have the fire under control it will burn for days.

Bryan on Speaking Tour.

Terre Haute, Ind., Oct. 12.—W. J. Bryan, accompanied by W. H. Brien, chairman of the democratic state committee, party leaders of the Fifth district and many newspaper men left here Wednesday on a special train for an eight days' speaking tour of Indiana, during which he is scheduled to make 63 speeches. The most of them will be made from the rear of his private car. Night meetings will be held at Indianapolis, Fort Wayne, Richmond, Marion, Evansville and Glenwood Park, opposite Louisville, Ky.

Big Implement House Fails.

Peoria, Ill., Oct. 12.—A sensation was created in financial circles here Wednesday when Charles A. Jamieson, of the firm of Kingman & Company, one of the largest implement houses in the United States, filed a bill asking for relief and an accounting. The capital stock of the concern is given at $1,850,000.

Will Go Into Commission.

New York, Oct. 12.—The protected cruiser Chattanooga has been put in commission at the New York navy yard. It will be several weeks before she is ready for actual service. Alexander Sharpe, Jr., will command the vessel.

FORMER GOVERNOR APPOINTED UNITED STATES SENATOR.

Prominent Republican Named to Fill Unexpired Term of the Deceased Statesman.

Boston, Oct. 12.—Gov. John L. Bates Wednesday appointed former Gov. W. Murray Crane, of Dalton, United States Senator, to fill the unexpired term of George F. Hoar, recently deceased.

Mr. Crane has informed Gov. Bates that he will accept. He is one of the largest paper manufacturers in the state and has been prominent in state politics for a score of years. In 1897 he was elected lieutenant governor and in 1900 became governor, which office he held for three years. Mr. Crane is a personal friend of President Roosevelt.

MUST GO TO JAIL.

Sentence Is Passed on Connecticut Teamsters Convicted of Conspiracy.

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 12.—Eight of the nine union teamsters who were convicted in the superior court last spring on the charge of conspiracy in bringing about a teamsters' strike here, were on Tuesday sentenced to three months each in the county jail. Orrin J. Stockford, the ninth man, was defaulted. This imposition of sentence ends one of the most notable cases brought before the Connecticut courts growing out of a labor strike. After a jury had found all nine men guilty, an appeal to secure a new trial was taken to the supreme court. The finding was adverse to them. The state's attorney consented to let the men work throughout the summer so that they could provide for their families.

Death of an Educator.

Madison, Wis., Oct. 12.—Dr. Caleb Harrison is dead at his home in this city, aged 44. He was for nine years a director of the Milwaukee public schools and later a member of the faculty of the University of Wisconsin, which position he left to become constructing engineer in the United States navy at Portsmouth, N. H., but was compelled to resign six months ago because of failing health.

State Ticket Named.

Providence, R. I., Oct. 12.—The republican state convention unanimously nominated the following state officers here Wednesday: George P. Utter, of Westerly, for governor; Charles W. Lippitt, of Providence, for lieutenant governor; William B. Greenough, of Providence, for secretary of state, and Walter A. Read, of Gloucester, for general treasurer.

Trial of Ex-Mayor Begun.

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 12.—A jury having been secured after two days' work, the third trial of former Mayor A. A. Ames for bribery and corruption began in earnest Wednesday.

To Float Big Loan.

Tokio, Oct. 12.—The government decided Wednesday to float a domestic loan of $40,000,000, representing the balance of the amount authorized by the diet.

DRESS AND FASHION.

AUTUMN FANCIES IN GOWNS AND BRIDAL ACCESSORIES.

A Fine French Cloth Dress of Unique Style—A Smartly Worn Boa and Hat—Fabrics For the Wedding Gown—The Bride's Veil and Shoes.

An early autumn gown that seems loath to part with all traces of the summer is the first one sketched. It is of the finest French cloth of a beautiful golden brown color. Bands of linen trim it, an entirely unusual but eminently pleasing arrangement. The belt, too, is of brown linen. Frills of ecru lace decorate the sleeves, and a soft spotted satin foulard makes the blouse bodice. The hat which crowns this is made of light brown crinoline, with a wreath of brown and green leaves and an ostrich feather shading from green to brown.

The second sketch shows a long white boa in real ostrich feathers closely and carefully twisted as a protection against a chill. The hat, smartly raised, displays a peculiar crumple at the back.

Bridal fabrics are no longer restricted to softest satin or most clinging silk. Ordinary muslins, silk muslin, chiffons, collennes and even voiles, with lace let in at intervals, are considered quite appropriate. White silk and kindred stuffs are embroidered in open hole work with orange blossom, daisies and sprays of dainty forgetmenots, and sometimes these embroideries are simply charming.

Old family lace is quite the thing for the wedding veil. But if one has this not there is much consolation to be found in the fact that tulle or chiffon is really much more becoming. Let the veil be soft and voluminous, cut square. It is prettier not to have any hem or applique work around it. The veil should not rest too flatly on the head. An orange blossom wreath, white violets or lilies of the valley may hold the plaits in place, or jewels. Wreaths of orange blossom have come back, and they look admirable with the lace veils. The shoes are either worked in silver or with orange blossom.

In autumn colors browns of many lovely tones, especially the dead leaf browns, appear in face cloths, alpaca, collennes and other fabrics, and a red mauve shade is all the fashion.

Greens—onion green and Paris green—and a sort of burnt cream color are in favor, and silver braid harmonizes beautifully with them.

AMY VARNUM.

Oysters on Toast.

The months having recovered the letter R and restored the oyster to its accustomed place on the menu, here is a tasty little trifle: Drain and wash some oysters. Put them, with their liquor, into a saucepan and cook until the oysters are plump, shaking the pan frequently to prevent burning. Drain off the liquor, season the oysters with salt, pepper and butter and pile on nicely browned slices of toast.

REPUBLICAN DEMONSTRATION

Fred M. Warner, Candidate for Governor.

Capt. E. P. Allen, noted Ypsilanti Orator.

Holland's largest republican demonstration will be held Tuesday evening, October 25 under the big tent back of Wm. Brusse's clothing store.

Fred M. Warner, candidate for governor on the republican ticket, and Capt. E. P. Allen of Ypsilanti, member of the Michigan Soldiers Home board will deliver addresses.

This will be Mr. Warner's first appearance in Holland and as he will make clear his position on the leading questions of state concern those interested in Michigan politics should not fail to hear him.

Capt. Allen is one of the most able speakers in the state campaign. On account of the volume and the carrying capacity of his voice he has been nicknamed "Foghorn" Allen. Do not fail to hear the genial Captain. He is good.

GREAT REPUBLICAN DEMONSTRATION

Hamilton Shows Why the Republican Ticket Should Be Supported.

General Apathy took to the woods in this city Wednesday night when Congressman Edward LaRue Hamilton of Niles made the opening speech of the campaign under a big tent. People were out in force from city and country and when about 1500 were squeezed into the tent there still remained nearly as many on the outside who could not be accommodated. It looked like the good old republican days and belied the stories that are being circulated of republican indifference. On the contrary the immense crowd that wished to attend and the enthusiasm manifested showed that the voters had not been misled by the ghost stories of the opposition but have become more strongly grounded in republican faith.

Congressman Hamilton was introduced by Mayor Henry Geerlings in a stirring speech that rung with the fervor of staunch republicanism.

Eloquence is the leading article in the grand mental equipment of Niles eloquent son and he dealt it out in good style in spite of the fact that he was handicapped by a severe cold that impaired his voice somewhat.

Warner sentiment was voiced by the Diekema Republican club of Hope College, which attended in a body and was echoed by the good old republicans who have refused to be frightened by the straw machine man manufactured by the opposition. The Ferris sentiment was crystallized in a body of High school students who were actuated principally by a desire to show the college boys that "they were not so many." All in all it was a distinctively republican gathering and republican enthusiasm was on the boards from start to finish. Some of the pointed paragraphs by Mr. Hamilton follow:

"Eight years ago, in the midst of hunger and want and bankruptcy and industrial rust and cobwebs, we were recruiting Coxe's army, reading Coin's Financial School, and talking about repudiating our debts in the face of the world.

"Then the Republican party went into power, and the Ship of State swung slowly round into the winds of trade with William McKinley at the wheel.

"The republican platform is a plain declaration for a continuance of the policy of protection to American labor and American industry, under which American ingenuity, enterprise, and invention have gone on in prosperous evolution, reducing friction, waste, and cost; increasing wages, output, and by-products; reducing profits per unit and increasing profits in gross; extracting the uttermost essence of utility; holding our own markets for our own people; gaining markets abroad, and giving to every man who wants to work a chance to work, so that now we have more money in use and circulation than ever before, circulating at lower interest rates than ever before, to pay lower freight rates than ever before, to run more factories than ever before, to give more employment to labor than ever before to pay higher wages than ever before.

"Is there a shadow of a half-substantiated half-reason why we should now invite bankruptcy by abandoning this policy whose continuance is a continuing argument in favor of its continuance, and turn this government over to illegal, kaleidoscopic, phantasmagoric experiment again?"

Republican Club Attention!
Members of the Holland Republican club and members of the republican party are urged to attend the first club meeting of the campaign which will be held at De Grandwet Hall next Monday evening at 7:30.

All of the county candidates will be present and a program of speeches and campaign songs will be carried out. Campaign literature will be distributed and campaign buttons and also pictures of Roosevelt, Fairbanks and Warner will be given to those who desire them.

The meeting will be a rouser and in addition to the club members all loyal republicans are urged to attend as plans for the campaign will be discussed.

Do not forget the date. Do not fail to come.

William Saalwasser—Grand Haven township.

Board Of Supervisors.

The board of supervisors is in session at Grand Haven and is having a busy time.

At Monday's session Probate Judge Kirby submitted his report on the indigent and public insane cases charged to this county. The judge stated that on Oct. 1, 1904, there were nine Ottawa county cases in the asylums. Four of them were males and five were females. During the past year sixteen patients have been admitted to the asylum as Ottawa county charges. Two of them have died, three have been discharged as cured and one has been transferred to Mecosta county.

Mr. Veldman moved to make the election of a school examiner and one superintendent of the poor a special order for Friday morning. Mr. Clark held a petition of the Riverside Railway Company and moved that it be placed on the table until Friday.

The ordinance asks for the right to use the highways and to build a bridge across Grand River at Bass River. The ordinance is not signed by any one person and it will be fully covered and discussed today.

The committee on buildings and grounds made its report. The committee reported that it had considered the bids for coal and finding the Clark Coal Company the lowest bidders, 130 tons of coal had been ordered of that company. The committee also reported that a coal bin large enough to store coal for the jail and court house had been built at the cost of $270. Sewer and water pipes had been changed and other minor improvements made.

It was recommended the insurance on the jail be increased from $4000 to $8000 and also that shelves and a table be placed in the drain commissioner's office at a cost of about $45.

Drain Commissioner Grow's report was also received by the board and the work done in that department was described at length.

The report of the superintendents of poor was next in order and the board accepted the invitation to visit the poor farm. Wednesday of next week was set as the day and Messrs Gordon, Parks and Hubbard were appointed a committee to arrange for transportation.

By the poor farm report it was found that the receipts from the board appropriations, produce on farm and monies received from cities and towns was $7153.41. The expenses for running farm, including salaries of help, repairs, threshing, supplies, etc. was $3383.69. The support of poor in towns and cities cost the county $2513.93 for transportation, supplies, etc.

Grand Haven city is indebted to the county for support to the amount of $366.57. There are at present 32 males and 11 females in the county house. Four deaths have occurred at the poor farm during the year. In closing the report the poor superintendents, William W. Angell, A. Noble, and Arthur Van Duren, recommended that the board appropriate $4000 for the coming year.

Biggest Fair In Every Respect.

That the fair last week was "Holland's Biggest Fair" will be shown by a presentation of a few details.

The gate receipts were $250 greater than the fair of last year, and at that last year's fair was considered a great success.

The concessions netted $45 more than last year.

The grandstand receipts were $60 better than last year.

501 more entries were received this year than last.

$691 were paid in premiums this year.

Every hall was crowded to its fullest capacity, as were the stalls for the accommodation of horses and cattle and the pens for sheep and cattle.

The poultry show exhibit far out-classed that of last year.

From the foregoing brief paragraphs it will be gathered that the fair was a great success, and a visit to it would show that it was a record breaker. In fact it far exceeded the expectations of the management and was a forecast of the great things that can be expected of the fair association next year.

Last year when the women completed a tour of the art hall they spoke of the lack of exhibits. This year they were lavish in their praises.

The agricultural department and the household department were crowded and the exhibits were a credit to Holland vicinity. The same can be said of every department excepting the cattle department. This was not as good as it should be, although some fine stock was shown, and it is conservative to say that Holland and vicinity can afford a better exhibit. Next year it is thought that an increase will be made and the standard raised. Messrs. Van Kampen and Siersma, the superintendents, are already planning to interest the farmers and secure a greater display.

The races were very exciting and very good although the field of horses was not as large as expected. This was due to the fact that some of the horses expected by Mr. De Pree went to Lake Odessa instead of coming here. Friday's races were of the neck-and-neck variety and every heat of the 2:19 pace was a battle royal between George R., driven by Johnny Boone, and Joe Archer, driven by Charles Harrington, from the word "go." The second was a dead heat. Joe Archer won the race in straight heats. Summaries:

J. E. Murray officiated as starter in a very efficient and satisfactory manner.

Entries could not be secured for the slow race, but the other two novelty events were given and proved exciting and highly amusing. In the race in which the horses were harnessed in front of the judge's stand, driven a half mile go-as-you-please, and then unharnessed. John Tuesink won with Joe Allen's horse.

The race in which the horses walked a mile, trotted a mile and went go-as-you-please a mile was intensely exciting. When the four horses went the half mile on a walk O. Schaap's boy took the lead with ease and grace and kept it throughout the trotting part. All was going well with him on the go-as-you-please when the horse bolted the track and ran upon the commons inside the inclosure. This settled it for Mr. Schaaps speed merchant and Henry Siersma drove his big gray a winner with a great flourish of the whip amid the acclaims of hundreds of his friends and neighbors.

The board of directors met Tuesday and audited bills and passed up on the premiums. The sum awarded footed $691, an increase of $170 over last year.

There were several matters up for adjustment and all were settled satisfactorily after considerable discussion.

A resolution was passed extending thanks to all who aided in making the fair a success, particularly the press, the judges, the superintendents. A vote of thanks was extended the Citizens Telephone Co., for courtesies.

The matter of changing the location of the fair was deferred until a future meeting.

It was decided that all bills be paid and in addition thereto the interest on the mortgage for two years. This still leaves a small balance in the treasury, but it was not decided what disposition should be made of this balance.

General Items.

William Johnson, just 21 years old, physically fit and consumed with a desire to become a soldier, was rejected by E. E. Cummings, recruiting officer at Muncie, Indiana, because his eight fell short a fraction of an inch. One hour later he returned and suggested that a mistake had been made. On another trial it was found that he exceeded the regulation height by a small fraction. Then it was learned Johnson had employed his hour in butting his head vigorously against a wall to raise a bump large enough to admit him to the service.

When Judge Parker was nominated for the presidency his wardrobe consisted of about four suits of clothes, made by a tailor in the nearby town of Kingston. As well-dressed visitors began to pour in he noticed his comparative shabbiness, so on his first trip to New York he ordered half a dozen suits from a leader in sartorial style. Not wishing, however, to offend his country tailor, he commissioned him to build the same number of suits. And now when up-country he wears the Kingston garments and when in the city sports the others.—Chicago Chronicle.

Another potato story. George Beasore of Allenton, dug four potatoes from one hill, the total weight of which was seven pounds and seven ounces. The largest potato in the lot is said to have weighed three and a fourth pounds.

Lake & Marine.

A new life saving station is being erected at Big Point Sauble to replace the old wooden structure which has been in service for so many years. Contractor Newcombe of Manistee is doing the work which was commenced last week Friday. The foundation of the new structure will be of piling and concrete and the building will be substantial and modern in every respect.

FLOWERS OF THE FALL TIME.

The flowers of the fall time are the best; Above the fading grasses now they blaze, Rare jewels left in Nature's bounty chest, Poured scattering along the autumn ways.

The hollyhocks are braver, redder, now— Their banners flashing bold before they fall, They are resolved to die before they bow In homage to the distant winter's call.

The morning glories show a deeper hue And riot into blossom as they twine; They drink a gay farewell in morning dew And flaunt the frost defiance from each vine.

The cosmos flowers sparkle in the dawn— All fairylike the fragile shapes appear, As echoes of the flowers that are gone, As stars that stud the twilight of the year.

The dahlias swagger, nonchalant and rude, And crowd the meeker blossoms from the way; The asters make a picture many-hued, Framed in the drifting haze of autumn gray; White clematis all snowlike idly cling Where leaves already turn to brown and gold, And loses perfumes that each zephyr flings Above the page where summer's tale is told.

Across the fields and by the country roads Are scarlet blooms that mock the setting sun, And goldenrod lifts up its treasure loads To show what El Dorado it has won, And so with bloom ablaze, with changing leaf, The patient year leans slowly to its rest With flower laughter that makes light of grief.

The flowers of the fall time are the best. —W. D. N., in Chicago Daily Tribune.

One-Fourth of the Schooner Vesta

By J. C. PLUMMER

(Copyright, 1904, by Daily Story Pub. Co.)

THE schooner Vesta turned into the Saxifrage river under full sail and, after traversing nine miles of that placid stream, Capt. Pumphrey ported his tiller and the two negro sailors, inspired by some spirited orders from the skipper, manipulated the sails in such a way that the schooner passed Nor-West point and came to anchor in the little town, just beyond the promontory, as easily as a child would enter its bedroom.

Capt. Pumphrey was in a good humor, for he had carried his last load of oysters to Baltimore and it had met with a ready customer at good prices and there was money in his pocket for himself and for Miss Joanna Pritchett. Miss Pritchett owned one-quarter of the schooner Vesta and Capt. Pumphrey owned the remaining three-fourths. It was the dream of Capt. Pumphrey to own the whole of that dainty little puny, not that Miss Joanna interfered in his management, but because he had practically built the craft and had a very strong affection for her. Time and time again had he besought Miss Joanna to sell him her interest, offering her a really large sum for it, but the lady, for some reason, declined parting with her interest.

"I'll take this beer money up to Miss Pritchett's before I go home," said the skipper to himself after he had noted with care that the Vesta was safely anchored. "I guess she'll be glad to have some money now crops are being worked."

Miss Joanna received him with her usual friendliness.

"I hope you have had a pleasant voyage, captain," she said.

"Yes, m'm, a very good voyage; I hope things have gone all right on the farm."

Faith, there was no need for the aspiration. Things always went well on Miss Joanna's farm, for she managed her 200 acres to perfection. She could tell the state of each field as perfectly as could a town matron inform one as to the condition of the nine or ten rooms in her house which she swept and garnished each day. From his stand on the porch the skipper could see long lines of blue-green corn against a background of brown soil, row after row of strawberry plants ready to burst into white bloom, and way beyond a sea of wheat rippling in the evening breeze as did the captain's native element.

"I suppose, m'm, you've not thought anything about selling your interest in the Vesta?" asked the skipper, when he had paid Miss Pritchett her share of the schooner's earnings.

Miss Joanna answered in the negative and the skipper, declining a pressing invitation to supper, set out for home.

"No supper for me," muttered the skipper, as he trudged along. "I've suspended a long time that Miss Joanna has a hankering after me and I'm not mooring to any woman, not me."

As he passed the inn the landlord, leaning against a porch post, balled him as to Baltimore news.

"Newthin' new down hyar," said the landlord, after receiving the skipper's budget, "savin' that Miss Joanna's beau has come back."

"What beau?" demanded the skipper. "Why, Jared Bowne, who was sweet on her years ago. He's made money in the west and has come back plum pot on gettin' her. They say he's the reason she never married."

Capt. Pumphrey continued his way homeward rather pensively. He had had an idea that he was the cause of Miss Joanna remaining a spinster. A man hates to be wrong in his opinions.

Capt. Pumphrey didn't enjoy his supper as he was wont. And yet it was one to make Saint Simeon Stylites break the fast of Lent. Oysters fried a uniform brown, done exactly to a turn; corn cakes or "slappers" which cannot possibly be produced in any other locality save southern Maryland, and fragrant coffee.

"If she marries that fellow," mused the captain, letting his coffee grow cold, "he'll want to manage the interest in the Vesta. He'll come poking around with suggesting this and that and make a hurrah's nest of things."

Contrary to his custom Capt. Pumphrey walked over to the Pritchett farm the next morning. He had never paid a visit to Miss Pritchett before unless business impelled the call, but he wanted to see how things were looking.

Mr. Bowne was sitting on the porch regarding the surroundings with what, that captain thought, was a proprietary air. It nettled the skipper. What right had this westerner to plump down into a snug Maryland farm and assume the management of a quarter of his beloved schooner? Capt. Pumphrey felt that if there was any man he disliked it was Bowne.

Mr. Bowne, after the introduction, asked about the Vesta.

"Is your vessel coppered, captain?" he inquired.

The captain, with rising ire, replied in the negative.

"Pity," said Mr. Bowne, "vessels should be coppered."

"What will you do, now that the oysters are over?" asked Mr. Bowne.

Capt. Pumphrey replied, with acerbity, that if no especial business turned up he'd wait for garden truck to be ready to ship.

"Why, that would be a big waste of time," objected Mr. Bowne. "Why don't you nose around for a cargo of wood to Baltimore and carry a load of coal back to some town on the bay?"

Capt. Pumphrey took his leave and strode home white with wrath. In a lady's presence he dared not reply to Bowne's impudent suggestions as he would have liked and his pent up feelings burst forth on his way homeward in a gush of profanity amid which the name of Bowne occurred frequently.

The skipper sat on the poop of the Vesta in a brown study. He had made a discovery that astonished him. Much as he disliked the idea of the management of a quarter of the Vesta to pass into Bowne's hands he found that the passing of the entirety of Miss Pritchett into his possession worried him more than did the fractional part of his schooner.

"ME," REPLIED THE SKIPPER.

"Taint possible I've been bitten and didn't know it," mused the skipper. Footsteps on the deck aroused him and looking up he beheld Mr. Bowne and Miss Pritchett advancing aft.

Miss Pritchett sat on a chair and Mr. Bowne nosed about.

"Why don't you have wire rigging, captain?" he said, "we have all wire fences in the west."

"I like rope," snapped the skipper. "Your mast isn't quite plumb, is it?" continued Mr. Bowne.

"Mebbe your eyes ain't plumb," snarled the captain.

"Your rigging needs a little tar, I think," suggested Mr. Bowne. "I know some fellow as needs a little tar and a few feathers," growled the captain, quivering with rage.

After the couple had departed the captain strode up and down his deck like a man distraught. Suddenly he thundered out an order to get a boat ready for him to go ashore, and hastened toward the Pritchett farm.

"Miss Pritchett," said he, abruptly, on entering the room where the lady was complacently sewing, "will you sell the quarter interest in the Vesta at any price?"

"No, captain," replied Miss Pritchett, pleasantly, "I don't want to sell it."

"Then," said the skipper, "will you buy the three-quarters interest?"

"What's the price, captain?" asked Miss Joanna, demurely.

"Me," replied the skipper.

"Really, captain," exclaimed Miss Joanna, "I—I—well, yes, I suppose I'll pay that price for the interest."

And the schooner Vesta changed from a proper fraction, for she always behaved well, did the Vesta, into a whole number.

"And this here fellow, Bowne," said the skipper, later, "how long is he going to hang around?"

"Oh, Jared is going back to-night. He came on to ask me to go back with him so as to attend his wedding with a western girl, but under the circumstances I think I'll stay home."

"Hem," coughed the captain.

But, considering the farm and the Vesta as a composite whole number and with Miss Joanna thrown in, Capt. Pumphrey was a very happy man.

Breyman-Ray.

Miss Alvena Breyman and Percy Ray were united in marriage Thursday evening, October 6, at their new home on Central Avenue, by Rev. D. S. Benedict, rector of Grace Episcopal church in the presence of over 100 guests. During the ceremony the bride party was beneath a canopy and bell.

The bride was charmingly gowned in white. She was attended by Miss Josephine Kleyn, and A. J. Westveer was best man. Miss Maud Kleyn played the wedding march and also played soft music during the service. The rooms were decorated with flowers and ropes of smilax, red roses predominating in the refreshment room.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray left for a wedding trip to Denver, St. Louis and other points.

AFTER THE SPOILS

Democrats Are Not Sincere In Their Pledges.

BOSS CAMPAU FOR SENATOR

Is Ambition of Party Managers—Republicans Will Not Be Led Into the Trap.

Hon. Fred M. Warner, who heads the Republican state ticket, is selected as the special target of the enemies of the party in this campaign, and they are seeking by every means to create the impression that he is unworthy of the high trust for which he has been named. Two years ago Mr. Warner was on the ticket as nominee for secretary of state, and there was perhaps no other name on that ticket so generally conceded to be unassailable in its popularity. It was everywhere said that he was the ideal candidate, for whom the full party vote should be polled, and the result proved that true. Now what, we might ask, has occurred since to justify a different estimate? Mr. Warner was elected by one of the highest majorities recorded, and the record of his administration for two years is open to any who would assail it. Has it been assailed? No. Has any corruption, any dereliction, any incapacity, any fault whatever been found in his conduct of the secretary's office? None—none whatever. He has gone about his duties modestly, faithfully, intelligently, efficiently, and has given the state an administration of merit never surpassed in that office. It is not pretended to convict him of any fault as a servant of the state, and his detractors cannot deny that he has given his time and his talents to the public service, and has nowhere betrayed the public interest nor in any manner compromised the good name of the state or of the party that chose him. But, they say, he would do so as governor, and they bring forward the nonsensical and meaningless allegation that he is a creature of "the machine," and would be a puppet in the hands of unscrupulous bosses—just as the very same papers that are saying this used to caricature McKinley as a horrible puppet in the hands of a terrible ogre labeled Mark Hanna. They asserted that Mr. Warner is in some way mortgaged and will be controlled by some such evil influences, as they continually declared that McKinley was. They show no evidence, of course, of any pledge or obligation from him, and Mr. Warner for himself has earnestly declared his absolute freedom from any obligation or implication whatever affecting his official action, other than those in the platform upon which he was nominated. The voters will judge whether the man who has a record so clean and honorable in the public positions he has filled, is likely to show himself a different kind of a man when the more serious responsibility of the chief executive is laid upon him.

Republicans in Michigan who, for whatever reason, are disposed to look with favor upon the Democratic blandishments to vote against Fred M. Warner, or any legislative candidates, should remember that there is much more at stake in this campaign than the adoption of any particular system of nominating candidates for office. In this connection the Saginaw Courier-Herald very wisely says:

The Democratic managers' plan is to induce disaffected Republicans to vote against the Republican legislative candidates as well as for the Democratic candidate for governor. They are wise in this, according to their plans, because they know that a Democratic governor would be as helpless as a woggle bug if he were elected governor with a Republican legislature. Indeed, such a partisan division of the legislative and executive departments would defeat the purpose which they are inciting Republicans to imagine is the real object of their plans. Primary reform, in fact, would have a better show were Mr. Warner elected in such case, because he has declared his purpose of signing any bill passed by the legislature, whether for local option or for state-wide adoption.

The "Independent" or any other sort of voter will search in vain the Democratic speeches, newspapers, and other sources of outlying, to find any reference to the fact that the next legislature will reapportion and redistrict the state, both as to congressional and legislative divisions, and will elect a United States senator to succeed Senator Burrows, Republican. And right here is the meat in the cocanut.

Now it is assumed that nearly every one of the Republicans disgruntled on state issues intends to vote for the Republican candidate for president. The Democrats foster this assumption, in order not to alarm the dissatisfied voter and make him suspicious of the real purpose of the Democratic managers. That purpose is not to secure primary reform, for which they care little or nothing, but to secure control of the legislature, redistrict the state and elect a United States senator.

They can secure this control only by the votes of the Republicans, who are importuned to vote against Fred M. Warner and for the Democratic legislative candidates. These Republicans, sound on the national ticket, anxious for the continuance of a Republican congress, who could not be induced, under any circumstances, to vote to cripple the national administration, are in reality asked—under the guise of an alleged non-partisan state movement—to place the executive office and the legislature in the hands of the Democrats so that they may have an opportunity to gerrymander the state against the Republicans, to send a Democrat from Michigan to sit six years in the United States senate, and to juggle the districts so that they may have a chance to in crease that party's representation in the lower house from Michigan from one member to half a dozen or more. Such an outcome might easily result in turning over congress to the Democrats in the middle of President Roosevelt's administration, and prove a serious setback to the country's present satisfactory condition.

Do the Republicans of Michigan desire to become party to such a political condition?

Roosevelt Republicans, the kind that are true blue and rock-rooted in national affairs, as all these men are whom the Democratic managers are endeavoring to persuade to help them gain control of Michigan by this "non-partisan" trick, may well think twice before they fall in with their wishes by voting against the Republican candidate for governor and the legislative candidates.

They certainly do not want the state gerrymandered for ten years to come by the D. J. Campau crowd. They certainly do not want to see D. J. Campau occupying a seat in the United States senate. They certainly do not want to see the most of our present strong delegation in congress swept out two years hence. If they do not, they should support Fred M. Warner, clean, honest, capable, without a flaw in his private and public character, and the legislative nominees. They should emulate Hon. Geo. B. Horton, master of the State grange, who declares that the division of sentiment in the party upon the question of the best method of reforming the nominating system is not so wide that it cannot be bridged by a Republican legislature and a Republican governor.

At any rate, they have opportunity to ponder the seriousness, in a party sense, of giving the state into political charge of the present Democratic organization.

FRED M. WARNER'S RECORD STANDS FOR ITSELF.

Although a young man, Fred M. Warner has been in public life for a number of years. He was the youngest member of the state senate during the two terms he was a member of that body, and the youngest man ever elected secretary of state of Michigan. His official acts are known to his fellow citizens. They, more completely than anything else possibly could, give the lie to the charges now being made by newspapers that have assailed the character of every public man since their establishment, that he is the tool of the machine and the corporations. We have the testimony of these newspapers, recorded in their editorial columns at the close of two sessions of the legislature of which he was a member, that his vote was on the right side of every question affecting the people's interests. Mr. Warner's record in the senate at a time when the question of corporation influence was strenuously in evidence is an open book, which may be scanned from cover to cover without disclosing an instance of failure on his part to vote and act independently in the interest of his constituents.

His record as secretary of state is equally commendable. In all matters growing out of the litigation with the railroads he has stood steadfastly by the attorney general, upholding the latter's hands in every effort made by the companies in their fight to defeat the repeal of the special charter of the Michigan Central. From the beginning the railroads have cunningly sought to set the public against the further defense of the suits by making it appear that the expense would be ruinous. Notwithstanding adverse criticism due to these tactics of the railroad companies, Mr. Warner, as chairman of the board of state auditors, before which all these items of expense come for allowance, has never for a moment hesitated about voting to give the attorney general all the assistance asked for. His record both in the state senate and as a member of the board of state auditors has been one of honesty and independence. And we have the voluntary testimony of the Scripps newspapers to prove that he was never controlled by the machine or the corporations.

THE "NON-PARTISAN" DODGE.

Strange thing this: The Democrats are making their fight for governor and the legislature on a "non-partisan" basis. And yet they filled the supreme justice vacancy on their ticket last week with a Democrat, when they might have left it blank or named one of the Republican nominees.

As we understand this "non-partisan" dodge the Campau organization wants all the Republicans to be non-partisan and vote for the Democratic candidate for governor and the Democratic legislative nominees, but all Democrats must vote their party ticket straight. They hope, in fact, that the "non-partisan" trick may fool enough Republicans to elect their whole state ticket, supreme justices and all.

The real object of this "non-partisan" campaign, this throwing of Parker overboard, is the control of the state administration and the legislature, the election of Boss Dan Campau to the United States senate in place of Senator Burrows, and the gerrymandering of the legislative and congressional districts of the state.

They may fool some of the Republicans some of the time, but we hope not all of the time. It's clever, but will it last to November 87—Saginaw Courier-Herald.

The fact that many of the workers in the Republican ranks throughout the state were found to be lined up for Mr. Warner for governor, has given rise to the charge that he was in the hands of "the machine." There is nothing further from the truth. The fact is that these workers were brought in by Mr. Warner instead of the workers bringing him in. He made his own canvass, and by his good fellowship and clean record won his own nomination.—Judge Lamb, Cadillac.

The Democratic war cry to Democrats in this campaign is "Vote 'er straight," while to Republicans they dishonestly talk non-partisanship, but the game won't work.

WATSON'S LETTER.

Synopsis of Document Accepting People's Party Nomination for President.

Birmingham, Ala., Oct. 10.—Thomas E. Watson's letter formally accepting the populist nomination for president, has been made public. The letter, which is addressed to Samuel W. Williams, chairman of the committee on notification, is about 12,500 words long. It declares the gold standard "unscientific and wrong," asserts that those who produce wealth in the United States are robbed of the fruits of their labor, and charges "combined capital" with a plot to crush out individual liberty by downing the labor unions.

The only hope for the "middle and lower classes," as Mr. Watson terms them, he sees is the rise and growth to success of a third party, not subject to corporation domination. Constructively, he proposes a national board of arbitration to pass upon disputes between capital and labor, the adoption of the initiative and referendum for the making of federal laws and the ownership of public utilities.

The question of class legislation is discussed, the national banking and transportation systems being held up as shining examples in this respect. The inevitable outgrowth of these systems, he declares, is the building up of colossal fortunes at the expense of the people.

Judge Parker's candidacy is excoriated in Mr. Watson's letter of acceptance as deceitful and disingenuous—an attempt at compromise between the interests of the trusts, of which he is virtually charged with being the tool, and the people. From Roosevelt Mr. Watson thinks that there is less to fear, his attitude having been boldly taken, his convictions plainly declared, his willingness to fight openly expressed. The managers of the democratic campaign are arraigned in the most scathing terms. The party is declared to be in deadly fear of offending the financial interests upon which, it is asserted, it depends for victory.

AMERICAN WINS.

Heath Captures Vanderbilt Cup in Great Auto Race—Many Accidents—One Man Killed.

New York, Oct. 10.—One dead and another dying is one of the results of the automobile race for the cup offered by William K. Vanderbilt, Jr.

George Arents, Jr., a New York millionaire, lies injured in a hospital at Long Island, while his chauffeur, Carl Meusel, is dead.

During the race, which was won by George Heath, an American, driving a 90 horsepower motor, Arents' car was wrecked by the tires slipping. The chauffeur, who was horribly mangled, was taken to a hospital, where he died an hour later. Arents also was taken to the hospital, where it was found, among other injuries, he was suffering from a cerebral hemorrhage.

The race was a most fiercely contested one. Heath finished the 300-mile course in 6:55:45 elapsed time, and 5:26:45 corrected time. Albert Clement, Jr., driving an 80 horsepower machine, was a close second, finishing in 6:58:13 elapsed time, and 5:28:13 corrected time. The time as herewith given is official. There were 18 starters, but only two finished. The course of the race was exactly 30.24 miles in length. It was an elongated triangle, at the apex of which, to the west, is the village of Queens. The course was covered ten times.

"CHICAGO DAY" AT FAIR.

Immense Throngs Flock to St. Louis Exposition—Formal Exercises Are Held.

St. Louis, Oct. 10.—"Chicago day" was observed at the world's fair Saturday by immense throngs of residents of that city, reinforced by thousands of St. Louisans. For three days special trains and regular trains, divided into numerous sections, have been bringing thousands of persons to St. Louis from Chicago, and no time was lost in reaching the world's fair grounds. State Senator J. P. Mahoney, of Chicago, presided at the exercises in the Illinois building, and introduced State Commissioner C. J. Doyle, of Greenville. Commissioner Doyle acted as Gov. Yates' personal representative. Following President Francis' address of welcome to the visitors, Mayor Harrison was called upon to respond in the name of the "White City." A response by Alderman J. E. Bennett, on behalf of "the committee of 400," concluded the exercises. But few hours intervened before the pike parade, headed by the great Chinese dragon, operated by 100 men, started down the amusement street. Distinctly oriental in its character, the feature was a treat for even those so-called staid and sophisticated dwellers of the grounds. Closing the day's fête, the doors of the Illinois building were thrown open for an informal reception.

Wynne Succeeds Payne.

Washington, Oct. 11.—President Roosevelt Monday announced the appointment of Robert J. Wynne, acting postmaster general, as postmaster general. How long Mr. Wynne may continue as postmaster general has not been determined. Beyond the statement that the appointment is temporary in character nothing is known. The probability is that he will be succeeded by Mr. Cortelyou about January 1.

Burglars Rob a Bank.

Chicago, Oct. 10.—Robbers blew open the vault in the bank of Young, Hamilton & Co., at Freehold, Ind., early Saturday morning, wrecking part of the building and escaping with about $4,000.

AUTOMOBILE TOOK A FATAL PLUNGE

FALLS OVER HIGH BANK IN NEW YORK AND TRAIN CRASHES INTO WRECKAGE.

Two Persons Are Instantly Killed, One Dies a Few Hours Later, and Six Others Receive Very Severe Injuries.

New York, Oct. 7.—While speeding along the Bronx early this morning an automobile containing nine persons went off an embankment at One Hundred and Sixty-first street and Jerome avenue, and three persons were killed and six injured. The machine fell onto the New York Central railroad tracks and the wreckage was struck by a south-bound train. In the automobile when the accident occurred were five women and four men. The automobile was in charge of Albert Noyes. At Jerome avenue and One Hundred and Sixty-first street the roadway is between 20 and 30 feet above the railroad tracks. When the big machine plunged downward it struck near the south-bound tracks and the nine persons and the automobile were caught by an incoming train known as the Croton local.

The body of Albert Noyes, chauffeur of the wrecked automobile, was found underneath the pilot of the engine, horribly mangled. At three o'clock this morning one of the injured women identified at Cordham hospital as Anna Smith, 17 years old, died. This made a total of three dead, one of whom, a woman, was still unidentified. Wreckage of the machine was found scattered along the railroad track for a distance of two blocks. The car had been reduced literally to bits. It is said to have been running at least 25 miles an hour when the accident occurred.

BALL GAMES ARE OVER.

New York Wins Championship in National League and Boston in American.

Convicted of Manslaughter.

Vinita, I. T., Oct. 10.—Ed and Dan Price, farmers, who killed Tom Qualls, a noted desperado, were found guilty of manslaughter. The Prices aided officers several years ago in apprehending Qualls and he swore vengeance. Qualls was released from the penitentiary recently. Then the Prices provoked a quarrel with the former desperado which resulted in his death.

Four Die in Hotel Fire.

St. Joseph, Mo., Oct. 8.—The Tracey hotel in South St. Joseph burned Friday morning, four persons losing their lives. The dead are: Lafayette Frew, aged 50 years, speculator in live stock; C. F. Norton, aged 35 years, employee of Stockyards company; Mrs. Anna Weston, of Gentry county, Mo., guest; unknown man.

SHOULD PUNISH MOBS.

Federal Judge in Alabama Urges Grand Jury to Take Action.

Huntsville, Ala., Oct. 12.—The intervention of the federal court to suppress lynchings in the south and its power to punish members of the mobs for slaying negroes solely because of racial prejudice and in violation of the constitution were principles enunciated by United States Judge Thomas G. Jones in charging the federal grand jury Tuesday. For the first time in criminal legal procedure in the south, Judge Jones maintained that it was within the power of the federal courts to prevent white men from lynching negroes in violation of rights guaranteed colored citizens of the United States under the fourteenth amendment to the constitution. The jury had completed its investigation of the facts in connection with the overpowering of the state troops and lynching of Maples. The judge in delivering his charge discussed the authority under which offenses of the kind may be punished.

Found Guilty of Complicity.

Bellevue, Ill., Oct. 12.—After being out 14 hours, a jury in the Bellevue circuit court returned a verdict finding Nellie Gardner and Mabel Wright guilty of complicity in the murder of John Dunlap and fixed their punishment at 14 years each in the penitentiary. The girls are 18 years old and in view of the fact that the charge was only constructive complicity some surprise was expressed over the severity of the sentence.

First Snow of Season.

New York, Oct. 12.—The first snow of the season fell at Albany, Schenectady and a number of other places up the state Wednesday. It melted as fast as it fell.

While Miss Bessie Blackman was trying on a cloak in A. Steketee's store last Saturday, her purse containing $26 disappeared. As she and a friend were standing before the mirror they noticed three young women standing near where the pocketbook lay. Soon two of the girls went away, and a little later were followed by the third. Then it was noticed that Miss Blackman's pocketbook, which had lain under the other lady's, had disappeared. The two young ladies who left first were stopped at the bottom of the stairs but satisfied Miss Blackman that they were not implicated. Later the pocketbook was found in an empty shirtwaist box at DuMez Bros. and this money was gone. Suspicion fastened upon Mrs. Minnie Bontekoe and she was arraigned in Justice VanDuren's court Monday. She disclaimed all knowledge of the affair. Mrs. Bontekoe was taken to the county jail pending the hearing which will be held Saturday. After passing the night in jail she was released on a bail bond signed by Tim Slag and Martin Beukema.

Wife of Anthony Pauls Mysteriously Disappears

Mrs. Henrietta Pauls wife of Anthony Pauls, 200 Hastings street, Grand Rapids, mysteriously disappeared from her home yesterday noon and up to noon today her whereabouts had not been discovered.

Anthony Pauls, well known as "Tony" in Holland, where he lived some years ago is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Pauls, old residents of this city. At present he lives in Grand Rapids, and was for 16 years connected with the Spring Dry goods company. Recently he went in business for himself on West Bridge street. The Grand Rapids Herald tells of the disappearance as follows:

"Mr. and Mrs. Pauls were eating dinner at a restaurant near his dry goods store in West Bridge street when she suddenly complained of nausea and stepped out. Since that time husband, relatives and police have failed to find her. The fact that she has been ill for some time with nervous prostration and that she has been despondent places the case in an alarming light.

Thinking that his wife had gone home, Mr. Pauls went to the house to see if she needed medical attendance, but she was not there. On a table was a note to the effect that she realized her physical condition and that the future held out no hopes for her. Other sentences of the note showed her melancholy state of mind. She is 40 years of age and of medium height and build. When last seen she wore a black dress, black hat and gloves. She has been traced to Mt. Vernon and West Bridge streets, but no farther.

Later: The body of Mrs. Pauls was found in Grand River under the West Side power canal guard gates this morning by keeper William De Forrest. It is evident that she committed suicide. Her home life was all that could be expected and no motive for the act can be discovered. It is believed she was temporarily insane.

Populist Candidate Scorches Parker And Praises Roosevelt.

Thomas E. Watson, candidate of the Populists for the presidency, has given out his letter of acceptance.

"The statement has been made that in a speech in Atlanta I expressed a preference for Mr. Roosevelt over Mr. Parker," says he. "Neither in that speech, nor in any other, have I done so. Being a candidate for the presidency myself I would have made myself a side-show to whichever of the other two candidates I expressed a preference for—whereas I am in full, militant, aggressive show of my own.

"Much abuse has been heaped upon me because more time was devoted to the denunciation of Parker than Roosevelt. The reason is obvious enough. Roosevelt is a straight out Republican who declared boldly for Republican principles, defiantly defending existing conditions. To attack him is a short easy job. He is so conspicuous and so stationary a target that he who wished to take a shot at him could not possibly miss the mark. He is not in ambush; he is not behind 'blinds'; he stands in the open and he says to his enemies, 'here I am, a Republican who stands pat on all existing conditions; if you want a fight come on.'

"Now, I can understand a Republican like that, and while I would love to make my battleax ring in his helmet until one of us went down to political defeat and death, yet I could respect him all the while as a foeman worthy of any man's steel."

"With Mr. Parker it is different. He is not a Jeffersonian Democrat, yet he seeks to secure the support of Jeffersonians. If he would speak out plainly and tell the people that he is in principle the same thing, practically, that Roosevelt is, the Bryan Democrats would fall away from him by the millions."

Hope College News

Judge Kirby of Grand Haven addressed the Diekema Republican club on Monday evening.

Rev. G. H. Dubbink was installed Tuesday evening as Professor of Didactic and Polemic Theology in the seminary. The exercises connected with that occasion took place in the 3rd Reformed church. A large percentage of students attended.

Seminary students on the 16th will preach at places designated: C. Deelsnyder, Dalton; J. Van Peursem, West Olive; J. Wesseling, Constantine; B. Brinkman, 3rd Holland; P. Grooters, New Era; H. Tillman, Hamilton.

Death of J. O. Doesburg.

In the death of J. O. Doesburg, Holland loses one of its pioneer business men and Ottawa county loses its oldest druggist.

Mr. Doesburg's death occurred Thursday evening, October 6, at the Butterworth hospital in Grand Rapids where he was receiving treatment for tumor of the stomach. His son Charles was at his bedside.

Mr. Doesburg was born in Hiltzert, the Netherlands, 66 years ago and came to this country with his parents and the Schaap family at the age of 11 years. The entire trip was by boat to Western Michigan and it was 1849 when the landing was made near what is now Holland harbor. Soon after his arrival Mr. Doesburg started to learn the printers trade in the office of Hawks & Bassett, who had come here from Allegan and founded "De Hollander," the first Ottawa county paper. He was the first from the ranks of the colonists to learn the printers trade and was also the first to start in the drug business. After serving a short apprenticeship in the printer's trade he went to Grand Haven and worked on the "Grand Haven Times." Returning to this city, he and his father and brothers founded the Ottawa County Register which was published by Doesburg & Sons until the sixties. Then came the call for soldiers and Mr. Doesburg responded. He enlisted in 1862 in Company L, 25 Michigan, and was given the office of second lieutenant, which he held until 1863, when he was compelled to resign his commission on account of physical disabilities. On his return he embarked in the drug business and conducted his store here successfully for 40 years. He was one of the sufferers from the fire of 1871 but immediately resumed business.

He is survived by three sons, Harry R., Charles A. and Francis R. The other surviving relatives are a sister and three brothers, Mrs. J. M. Oggel of Orange City, Iowa, Otto J. of Chicago, Gerrit S. of Holland, and Cornelius H. Doesburg of Kalamazoo. The funeral services were held Monday afternoon at the Ninth St. Christian Reformed church, Rev. A. Keizer and Dr. J. T. Bergen officiating. The pall bearers were John Kramer, John Lous, John Van Lente, H. J. Ter Sleight, P. De Feyter, and P. De Vries, all members of Company I, 25th Michigan Infantry.

ANNUAL CLOAK SALE

Commencing Monday, October 17th

And continuing until Saturday, October 22nd, we will place on sale about 1000 Garments. The full line of two of the largest Cloak Manufacturers in this country. These goods are all this fall's production, embracing everything new in Cloakdom. Handling goods in this way enables us to show a larger selection of popular goods than can be had in any Cloak department. Not purchasing outright but handling on consignment places us in a position to make extremely low prices on strictly UP-TO-DATE MERCHANDISE. We have fitted up a room on the 2nd floor especially for this sale so that there will be ample room to display the goods; at the same time we will open up the first fall shipment of in long Scarfs and Clusters all especially priced for this occasion. The large Sales of the past 2 weeks, being far in excess of our most sanguine expectations and has reduced our stock in some departments to a low ebb. Our buyer has just returned from a market where he bought large quantities of merchandise for Spot Cash at greatly reduced prices. The goods are now arriving and will be placed on sale at lower prices than ever before quoted on similar goods, in fact less than other houses are accustomed to pay for such merchandise. An inspection of our Offerings will convince you that a dollar has more purchasing power at our store than a dollar and a half at any other business house in this city.

FURS

STATE OF MICHIGAN

The Probate Court for the County of Ottawa. In the matter of the estate of George Fox, Deceased. Notice is hereby given that four months from the 15th day of October, A. D., 1904, have been allowed for creditors to present their claims against said deceased to said court for examination and adjustment, and that all creditors of said deceased are required to present their claims to said court, at the Probate Office in the city of Grand Haven in said county, on or before the 15th day of February, A. D., 1905 and that said claims will be heard by said court on Monday, the 15th day of February, A. D., 1905 at ten o'clock in the forenoon. Dated October 15th, A. D., 1904. EDWARD F. KIRBY, Judge of Probate.

An Evening of Magic.

The famed Maro will appear at Winants chapel next Friday evening, Oct 21, the opening number in the lecture course. Never before have the citizens of Holland had an opportunity to see in their own town the magic of the Orient, the art of shadowgraphy, the laws of nature set aside in this most astounding sight of hand performance. To say that Maro is less than the greatest would be a figure of speech that would do Maro an injustice. Maro will be assisted by the saxophone quartette who will introduce music of the Orient, produced with genuine East India musical instrument, making altogether a most weird and fascinating performance. No doubt no more interesting and delightful entertainment ever was given in this city.

Evening School.

On Monday evening, October 10 at 7:30 o'clock, an evening school was opened in the rooms above H. Vander Ploeg's Book Store. The object of the school is to furnish instruction in reading, spelling, writing, composition history and arithmetic to such as were obliged to leave school too early to become posted in these branches. Secondly special opportunity will be given to those who recently arrived from foreign countries to learn the English language. Instruction will be given three evenings a week, Monday, Wednesday and Friday. Mr. Vander Ploeg will conduct some of the classes and will be assisted by an able teacher. The tuition has been placed as low as expenses will permit—15 cents an evening, three evenings for 40 cents. Already between 30 and 40 applicants have appeared and it is expected that this number will be greatly increased. Ladies are especially invited.
