Paul Flieman and Fred Wichers applied to the council for a licence to run a bowling alley in the Slag and Smith building on Eighth street. Some was referred to the committee on licence.

The bill of Fritz Jonkman which was rejected at the last meeting of the council was again rejected last evening. The bill is for $9.75 for time taken to inspect lumber at Grand Haven for the new city Hall. Alderman Jellema contends that this bill should be paid by the Rickerman Co., as they are to furnish lumber according to specifications. The council members all thought the same with the exception of Vanden Berg who held that the city should pay for this work.

Alderman Jellema and Drinkwater as a committee were instructed to increase the insurance on the city Hall 15,000 and were instructed to pass it around among different agencies.

A committee of which Jellema is chairman was instructed to look into the question of sewer extension on West 14th and First avenue the cellars in that vicinity are constantly flooded, and considerable damage has been done to the basement of Olert and Steffens Bros. grocery stores.

Operations on the new city hall will soon be resumed. The work has been at a stand still for the past two weeks owing to financial difficulties of Rickman the contractor. The firm is having difficulties among themselves which is being aired in the Kalamazoo circuit court and at best the firm is in bad shape. However the Michigan Trust Co. of Grand Rapids who are the receivers and the Fidelity Bonding Co., of Baltimore through their attorney Mr. Owen, who was in the city this week, have agreed to finish the building. The agreement was read to the council members who all agreed to the contract with the acceptance of a few minor changes. These changes the city attorney was instructed to make. The agreement in substance is that the city go ahead with the work under the supervision of Arthur W. Rickman all bills to be paid by the city. If after the building is completed there is a surplus left above the contract price, the same is to be paid over to the receivers to satisfy creditors but on the other hand should the work go over the contract price the Bonding Co. is to pay into the city treasury the difference. There will be no difficulty about this as the city is well protected and cannot possibly lose one cent. The sum of $386.20 due for labor will also be paid by the Bonding Co.

T. Keppel Sons were the lowest bidder to furnish the material for the West Fifteenth street sewer between Van Raalte Ave., and Harrison Ave., and they were awarded the contract.

The Werkman building on River and Tenth was ordered repaired within thirty days or otherwise to be torn down. The unoccupied store building of E. Vander Veen on River and 16th street was also ordered fixed up within thirty days or summary action will be taken.

Gas Company Representatives Meet Council

Messrs. Lemon, Covode, Brewer, Bender, and Manager Davis, stockholders of the Holland Gas Co., met with the Common Council last evening to go over the difficulties that have existed between the city and the Gas Co. for sometime past. The contention of the Gas Co. is that the city puts a wrong construction upon the franchise. They claim that the franchise implies that connections shall be made to the meter, but all piping beyond the meter must be paid by the consumer; while the city contends that the piping and connections must be made to the stove.

Mr. Covode of the Gas Co. said that they had for sometime in the past connected with the stove but this was done as an inducement to get new business and not because it was compulsory and as soon as it was demonstrated that to much was asked of them they began to charge for connections.

Mr. Brewer who is operator of the Holland Gas Co., cited an instance where a consumer put in a water heater for the bath room and wished the company to put in the connections free, claiming that the heater was a cooking device for cooking water.

The main object of the meeting however was not to discuss this connection problem, but to have the franchise changed so that the company is treated with more fairness and consequently can give better service.

Mr. Bender explains in detail the condition in which the Gas Co. finds itself today. "Our company has a bonded debt of $184,000 and has a capital stock of $195,000. The earnings of the company are not enough to pay running expenses and the interest on our bonds, letting alone making extensions which you ask of us. Although the stockholders in this company paid $1.00 cents on the dollar for their stock the bonds if put upon the market today cannot possibly bring 60 cents on the dollar, consequently we cannot borrow the money to make the necessary extensions. What we want is a fair rate for gas and by making such changes in the franchise, fair to the city and the company alike we can give better service and at the same time increase our earnings sufficiently to meet the demands of extensions and better service. Holland is getting cheaper gas than any city of its size in the United States and all we ask is that a committee be appointed consisting of members of the council and Holland Business men who will see the equity of our demands and after this committee finds that our demands are just, we are willing to leave it to the voters of the city of Holland and have them pass upon it at the next regular election. The change we ask for in the franchise will add to the sum of the average consumers bill not over 7 cents per month and he will have perfect service which now owing to lack of funds we are unable to give, we can then make all necessary extensions."

Our company cannot possibly keep going under these conditions says Mr. Covode and if another company gets hold of this Gas plant do you think you can do as well by them as you can by us who have always tried to be fair as near as it was in their power to be? Do you think we would relinquish this plant if there was one cent of money in it for the stockholders? These gentlemen, are the conditions and that will be the ultimate result. No action for such a committee was taken at the meeting however but a committee was appointed consisting of Alderman Van Eyck, Dyke and Jellema together with two business men, C. Verschure and Austin Harrington to look into the matter of connection whether it be to the meter or to the stove.

Post is International Subject

Sheriff Andre arrived home from his trip to Mexico last night, but he did not bring the object of his trip, Richard H. Post back with him as he expected. The sheriff was very much disappointed, but there is but one explanation. He bumped up against Mexican red tape which could not be untangled.

The sheriff went directly to Monterey and made known his claims to the authorities there. He notified the American consul of his business in Mexico and learned that the extradition papers calling for the surrender of Harry Post to the Michigan officer were still in process of translation and the Mexican government could not turn the young man over to the American officer until the process had been completed and the matter had passed through the proper channels.

Mr. Andre was unable to get any satisfaction whatever in the matter except that the Mexican government had not completed the necessary formalities. Neither the American consul nor ambassador were able to hurry matters, and the officer could get no encouragement as to whether it would take the Mexicans three days or three months before they were ready to release Post.

The sheriff visited Harry Post in the prison at Monterey and secured from him a statement to the effect that he was willing to return to Michigan and waived all claims. He stated that he would not fight extradition and his signed statement was taken by Sheriff Andre to the American authorities and to the Mexican governor. The governor explained, however, that he was powerless to act as the matter had not come before him. He stated that it was an international affair between American and Mexican governments and Post himself no matter if he was willing to return without a fight, had no word in the matter. The American government had asked the Mexican government to arrest Post and hold him until extradition proceedings were started and the Mexican government had done so.

Harry Post has now been confined in the Mexican prison for 3 months and he is pretty weary of the prison life in Monterey. He has lost about twenty pounds in weight and the strain in which he has been for more than a year has told on him severely. At first he was closely confined in the institution and was compelled to live on the prison fare, which was pretty coarse and meagre at the best. Through the efforts of friends, however, he now has his meals sent into the prison for him and he is allowed the liberty of the institution.

While in Monterey, Sheriff Andre had a good look at the big prison and its methods. As a result of his investigation, he states that any prisoner would prefer a long term in an American institution in preference to a short one in a Mexican pen. There is little work required of the men and their existence drags sadly, in consequence. The food consists principally of corn pancakes without seasoning and bean soup once a day.

Henry R. Brink Arrested

Henry R. Brink, proprietor of the River street stationary store was arrested for selling obscene and vile picture postal cards. A plain clothed man entered the store and purchased the cards and it was found that they came under the ban. Mr. Brink was arraigned before Justice Miles and pleaded guilty to the charge. He paid a fine of $6. Paul Coster was also arrested on the same charge but it is claimed that one of his employees sold them contrary to instructions.

The Choral Union will hold its regular meeting next week Thursday evening, Oct. 28, at Van Raalte Memorial Hall.

You are using some kind of fuel, but unless you are burning Genuine Gas Coke you are not getting the most heat for your money. More heat is saved by burning Coke because it requires but little draft. Strong drafts carry the heat up the chimney.

HOW TO BURN GENUINE GAS COKE

KEEP DOWN THE DRAFT

That's the whole secret of burning GAS COKE successfully.

KEEP DOWN THE DRAFT.

It is the most important thing—and it saves the heat instead of rushing it out the chimney.

KEEP DOWN THE DRAFT.

Genuine Gas Coke does not require as much draft as hard coal.

DO NOT shake the fire down as hard coal requires—probably just a trifle to get rid of the excess of ashes—but only a very little bit. Saves the work and fuel—and the grate.

TO BANK A FIRE—Put on a heavy bed of coke. Spread with fine coke or throw on a few ashes. CLOSE THE DRAFT and open the feed door if like. The fire will keep over night and in 15 minutes next morning you will have a glowing fire and intense heat.

Order a ton and examine it—you will find it's all good, clean coke. Burn it according to our instructions, being sure that the drafts are closed. You will find it easy to kindle, economical to use and a wonderful heat maker.

North Blendon

Annually at this season of the year the farmers of Northern Blendon make numerous trips to Grand Haven to dispose of their produce. There are a bunch of them who have their regular clients and the inhabitants of the sand-dune-surrounded county seat gladly pay above market price for the fine mellow tubers from Blendon's fertile soil. The brawny, husky toilers look forward to these long thirty-mile trips not only as profitable, but they combine it with pleasure. The little group of neighbors leave late in the evening and drive all night so as to arrive on the market early. When well along half way the procession of heavily loaded wagons is brought to a halt. Several children witnessed the act and gave the alarm but before Mr. Meenge could reach the orchard the party had fled.

Osborn to Make Good

John F. McCutcheon, the noted cartoonist, recently said in one of his lectures, that he never worried when, at the eleventh hour, no cartoon for the coming day's paper had been drawn. "I always know," he said "that there will be a cartoon, for the contract calls for one and there must be one." On next Wednesday evening Chase S. Osborn will appear in Holland as the Republican nominee for governor, speaking in this city in his own behalf. The people of Holland will be given an opportunity to hear this man of strong personality and great eloquence and judge for themselves whether or not he shall receive a favorable verdict at their hands.

Chase S. Osborn will make good in Holland.

If he is elected governor of Michigan he will make a good governor. He will make a good governor because he must.

The News is a Republican paper and naturally it would seem that we would be biased in making a statement of this sort. But, laying aside the party element and considering the position of Mr. Osborn in coming before the people, and the man himself, the conclusion we have reached is inevitable.

Mr. Osborn has gone through the state and told the people that under the present regime the affairs of state require a change of managers. He pointed to himself as the man who would make these necessary changes without fear or favor. Upon that platform he came before the people of his party in the primaries and upon that platform he was nominated. If he is elected governor of Michigan he must make good in the eyes of the people who have placed their trust in him and like McCutcheon, because he must be well.

Mr. Osborn is qualified by education, travel, experience and great success in the management of his own business affairs, to make for Michigan a good governor. He is a thoroughly conscientious man, a man whom self-acquired success has placed in a position where he can stand upon his own feet and do the right as he sees it without fear or favor. Above all, to judge from Mr. Osborn's past success, he is a man who will take a keen pride in his work as governor and will put into it the best stuff he has in him.

Mr. Osborn CAN MAKE GOOD for he has every qualification. He MUST MAKE GOOD for he has every reason to desire to do for the people what he has promised them. The News believes that Mr. Osborn will make good because he can and because he must.

Two hundred thousand voters at the primaries believed in him. They will watch his administration closely and when his regime as governor is run they will be able to say "well done, good and faithful servant".

The Poultry Show—A Growth

"One! two! three! The bumble bee! The rooster crows; and away he goes".

The Holland Poultry and Pet stock association is now preparing for the biggest show of any of the eleven years of its organization. Not in any of the ten preceding years of its existence has this society shown so vigorous and so early activity accompanied with such favorable results as in this its eleventh year. This time may seem somewhat early for comment upon the annual poultry show since it is not to take place until the middle of December of this year. But the News impressed by the early activity of members and officials of this growing association desires to help along the movement and pull with the association which we believe is doing a work that will be of lasting benefit in this community.

Some eleven years ago a few local poultry fanciers, seizing upon the idea that they could promote their own best interests and set a higher standard for the neighboring raisers of poultry by organizing an association and arranging for an annual exhibition of their stock, formed the society. From an unpretentious beginning a great movement has developed. From a few the members have become many. Each year has witnessed a large increase in membership and in the number of exhibits and the Association has each year been forced into larger and more commodious quarters for its annual show. The membership formerly only including the citizens of Holland and vicinity now including many people from neighboring cities and towns, among them Grand Rapids and Allegan. There has been a steady growth in ever department of the society and the Holland Poultry and Pet stock association is becoming known and is gaining friends rapidly. This year the local association joined the American Poultry association thus coming in contact with all of the benefits of that organization.

And for this rapid and consistent growth "there's a reason". Men like R. Westveld, J. B. Hadden, John Schippers and John and Will Vissers have been behind the machinery of the association and their work has brought about the present excellent conditions. It has been a matter of personal pride with these gentlemen for each and every one of them is a dyed-in-the-wool poultry fancier.

So dyed-in-the-wool are they that if J. B. Hadden's Brown Leghorn rooster crows just a trifle hoarsely on a frosty winter mid-night "just as the moon rises o'er the city", J. B. gets flannel and cough syrup and hot salt in a stocking, goes quickly to the suffering pet and doctors it up; when R. Westveld's Partridge Wyandottes go to bed at night they are carefully bathed and wrapped in blankets and placed in soft straw beds; it is alleged that so careful are the rest of the gentlemen with their favorites that they have been known to watch lonely vigils through the long night hours for fear their chicks in their long happy dreams of chickenhood, might fall from the roost and be drowned in the water tank. James De Koster, it is said, once by mistake slaughtered one of his Buff Plymouth Rocks in the dark of a November night and the next day could not eat his Thanksgiving dinner so great was his grief.

But, seriously, it has been these men and men like them who have worked hard and faithfully for the interest of this worthy association. They deserve the credit for giving poultry fanciers an opportunity to exhibit their products, for giving the people of Holland an opportunity to come and see the best that this section of the state has to offer in this field, and also the credit for giving to Holland itself an annual event that attracts the attention of outsiders and commands their favorable comment and respect. The little poultry association of eleven years ago could not have assumed its present proportions were its work and activity not beneficial in the community and the News ventures to predict that at a not far distant day this association will be as high standing as any similar institution in the country.

An early and severe winter is predicted. This is cold comfort.

Hemans is Inconsistent

Lawton T. Hemans, the democratic candidate for governor, was a former member of the Michigan legislature. As a candidate for governor he is now basing his sole hope for election on the expected acceptance of his statement that republican legislatures have been extravagant. But it will be remembered that when he was a member of the legislature Mr. Hemans urgently opposed such a claim. "I do not believe," said Mr. Hemans, "that the increased expenditures came through the extravagance of the legislature in voting its appropriations. The reason for increased taxation in Michigan comes from the creation of new institutions new acts and new ways for the expenditure of money and through the great increase of patients in our insane asylums and our prisons." This statement was made by Mr. Hemans as a representative of the people of Michigan at a time when he was being paid from the state treasury for his services. Mr. Hemans' statement then referred to experience which he had gained as a legislator and as a representative of the people of his district. But now as the democratic candidate for governor Mr. Hemans is denying and disregarding the very declarations he made as a state official. Personal ambition and partisan requirements and not his actual information and sincere opinions are at this time responsible for Mr. Hemans' declarations.

Diekema for Speaker

Congressman Sam W. South of Pontiac is making a great campaign this fall through his section of the state and he is lambasting his Democratic opponent right and left. Congressman Smith has come out openly and strongly for Diekema as candidate for the speakership. In this connection Mr. Smith says:

"My Democratic opponent sought to convey the idea that I had been favored by Speaker Cannon. Therefore the reference was drawn that I would be likely to support Cannon for speaker in the sixty-second congress, notwithstanding the fact that I have publicly announced on the twenty-third day of last March if elected to the sixty-second congress my candidate for speaker would be the Hon. Gerrit J. Diekema of Michigan."

Such announcements show the current of feeling among the members of congress, in favor of Diekema for the speaker.

A Proposed New Railroad for Saugatuck

Two gentlemen of Saugatuck, Messrs. Charles Bird and W. R. Takken, have proposed this week to a number of Allegan men that the two towns shall unite in effort to induce the Michigan Central railway company to extend its line from Allegan via Fennville to Saugatuck and Douglas. The proposal met with instant favor. A consultation was had with President Owen of the Board of Trade of Allegan, and it is likely that ere long the towns named will unite in representations to the railway company. Incidentally it was learned that not long ago a minor official of the company said there was intention on the part of the company to make this extension. There are many reasons why it might well be done. The present line has no connections of value at Allegan, while completion to the lake would give access to northwestern business and a shorter line to the east than the New York Central lines now possess. There exists a survey (that made by B. C. Fauror), and there is another, and possibly better, the Dewing railway line though not complete to the shore. The right of way of either would not be expensive. Ample dockage at Saugatuck is obtainable and room for yards; and there are now at least twelve feet of water in the harbor and its approaches. That depth has been maintained ever since the harbor improvements of a few years ago and there is no reason for presuming it will not be permanent. The chances for getting this additional rail service are so good that they are well worth taking.

Claims He Offered to Pay Five

Mr. Van Kooi, who was released from the county jail by the paying of the fine stated to the officers that they did not pay the fine because they believed by so doing the old gentleman would admit himself a thief. As a matter of fact Mrs. Van Kooi states that the log on the Dunton property which he was accused of stealing was a rotten one and had been there for a long time. It blocked a path and Van Kooi believing that no one would object to the cutting off one or two lengths and take the wood home. That was several weeks ago but no action was taken until recently. Mrs. Van Kooi stated that they offered to pay as high as five dollars for the two wheelbarrow loads of half rotten wood. When the wife came to Grand Haven with the money she demurred at the increased costs as they had been boosted above ten dollars. After telephone communications with the justice in Holland the price of freedom was set at $14.50 which the wife paid. The old gentleman has worried considerably in the few days in jail and when his wife came for him he could scarcely walk.

The old man aroused the sympathy of the jailers although he did present rather an odd appearance when he began his sentence with his Bible under his arm and a lunch in his pocket.

Cars Came Ashore

First wreckage from the illfated car ferry Pere Marquette No. 13, which sank in midlake off Sheboygan on Sept. 9, drifted ashore at Manitowish last week during the strong east wind. The wreckage consisted of parts of the cars that were on the ferry. Some of the pieces were large enough so that the numbers on the freight cars could be made out.

Later the ice box and a life raft from the car ferry were picked up at Sheboygan.

Notes of Sport

In a game played with the St. Alphonsus of Grand Rapids, Hope was victorious by a score of 22 to 0 Saturday. Coach Roest has made good in managing the Hopeites this game being a fair sample. Stegeman showed very prominently in the game making 4 touchdowns and 2 goals. Vruink and Hansen officiated.

A Gypsy Death and Funeral

People living in the neighborhood of the fairgrounds at Allegan were greatly at loss Friday night and Saturday morning to know what was the cause of all the moaning, crying and shouting that was carried on during the night. It was learned next day that a death had occurred in one of the gypsy camps. People at the fair remember the man of the camp, with his swarthy skin, long, pointed side-whiskers, shabby clothes, and bow-legs. The fortune telling tent was near the animal show but the tent in which the family slept was over near Floral hall. They came from Holland and had all the gypsy features. Besides the man and his wife there were seven children, the oldest about sixteen years old. They claimed to be Brazilians, but the death certificate showed they were of Austrian decent and Austria is gypsy land peculiarly. All the family were brilliantly dressed, principally in red and yellow, and all wore all sorts of trinkets, coins, and metal pendants from every part of their heads and arms. They had white rabbits, dogs, and all the animals and things that go along with poverty and neglect. The father was the only one who could speak more than one or two words of English, and he had a hard time making himself understood.

Friday afternoon the mother was taken very sick, and after a time a physician was called. Late in the afternoon she gave birth to a child, and at nine o'clock both the babe and mother were dead. Soon afterward the grief of the children and father showed itself in a sort of chant of lamentation which continued all through the night. The oldest boy cried all the time and the father walked here and there mumbling to himself. Saturday morning, with a gypsy from the other camp, he came to town and bought the burial clothes, all of bright colors. He bought lot-space in the cemetery and ordered a headstone. The funeral was held that afternoon and Undertaker Gordon had charge. Just before the coffin was lowered in to the grave the husband asked to have it opened. All who watched him were surprised to see him draw from his pocket a handful of money (dollars, halves, and smaller coins) which he carefully laid in the coffin by the side of the body. He then drew back and watched the coffin sink into the earth.

Strangely enough he remained at the grave and helped cover the coffin with earth and patted and packed the ground on top. He very much desired that the grave be cemented over, but this is not permitted by the cemetery board. He told Mr. Gordon when he left that he would be back in four weeks to see the tombstone set if it was ready by that time.

Those who thought these people poor, as they certainly seemed to be will perhaps be a little surprised to know that the father paid about $70 for the funeral and showed a wad of $100 more, or $200 for all anyone knows. The death certificate gave the woman's name as Margreta John. The sad family left Sunday for Chicago, from which city they came indirectly, with their three horses hitched to an old delivery wagon. The father told his friend in the other gypsy camp that he must go back to Chicago and get another mother for his children. The whole affair was pathetic, and several kind women in the neighborhood of the fairground went to the tent and gave the stricken family help in various ways.

Joins Development Bureau

The board of supervisors of Ottawa county voted to appropriate $500 to western Michigan development bureau to be used in the movement of developing Ottawa Co. waste land, together with the rest of western Michigan.

There are estimated to be about 300,000 acres of waste land in Ottawa county which can be turned to good use through the aid of the bureau, which is already doing much toward bringing out the possibilities of western Michigan in agriculture and other lines. Of late the efforts of the association have been largely devoted to the great Michigan fruit belt.

Representatives of the bureau will assist the farmers of the county in developing their orchard and berry land, and instruct them in the proper manner of packing, that their product may present a better appearance and retain a better state of preservation on the market, thus calling for better prices.

The representatives of the bureau appeared before the board the other day and their request was backed up by Arend Visscher, C. Verschure, A. Harrington, Ben Van Raalte, members of the board of trade from Holland.

"If the Shoe Fits, Put it On"

As was stated in the News last week, a concerted effort was made by all the churches of this city for better Sunday observance and according to program each denomination handled the question along different lines but tending to the same ultimate results. Rev. Niles of Hope church especially handled the subject without gloves. His text being "This is the day that the Lord hath made. Let us be glad and rejoice in it."

His sermon was forceful and convincing with very little mincing of matters. His main thought was that he who desecrates the Sabbath is a thief no matter how honest he may be by his fellow men, by desecrating the Sabbath he is stealing from the Lord.

Among other things brought forth in his sermon was the question of Sunday mail. "They tell me," says the dominee, "that Hope church members are the greatest offenders in the matter of getting Sunday mail and but for them it would practically be unnecessary to keep the Post office open. I have only been with you a short time and I do not know if this be true but where there is so much smoke there must be some fire and I am inclined to believe it." He went further and said, "They tell me that this church contains the leader in the community, politically, socially and financially. Upon you therefore, rests a great responsibility. You should be leader to bring souls to Christ." Even the News man "got his" in the sermon of the good dominee. The question of Sunday paper came up in the sermon and Mr. Niles asked this paper for issues of the Sunday editions of the Chicago papers, the Tribune, Record Herald and American were promptly furnished him. In his discussion on this topic he says, "see the elevating reading matter in this paper," naming the Chicago Tribune in particular, "which they tell me is the best of any of them. It is certainly the most demoralizing sheet that has ever come to my notice. We read here 'Up in the air with Hungry Halley', 'Danny Dreamer' 'The Wabash Ave Dance' 'Beside it the 1st Ward Hinky Dink ball is almost chaste.' If Moses should come to Chicago, what would he see? Holy Moses," and other kindred subjects. Elevating reading isn't it? and to take the curse off here we find a column of short sermons. I say, good people, those sheets down there defile the sanctity of this pulpit and they are not fit to be found in the home of any man." The sermon was without "doubt a strong one and came from the heart. It was a sermon where the following saying is appropriate: "If the shoe fits put it on."

College Lecture Course

The Hope College Lecture Course will open its season's program next Friday evening in Carnegie gymnasium. Thos. Brooks Fletcher, who has risen from the sphere of newspaperdom to the American Lyceum platform will lecture on the "Martyrdom of Fools."

Those who have heard Mr. Fletcher speak very highly of him. He is eminently gifted by nature for his chosen profession. Masterful, magnetic with a powerful personality behind him, the young orator captivates his audiences and holds them. He keeps them alert alive and awake because he keeps them thinking. In the words of one of his admirers "He has a wonderful brain, that is a clear, cold, logic engine capable of spinning the gossamers as well as forging the anchors of thought. There is no question as to the eminency of Mr. Fletcher and no doubt as to the outcome of his lecture on the coming Friday.

At the meeting of the Treble Clef club Tuesday in the Music Hall, the attendance was very large and much enthusiasm was shown by the members in planning for the concert which they expect to give in Grand Haven this autumn. Although all the arrangements have not been completed and a date set, it is very probable that the concert will be given about the middle of November. From now on, all active members and those wishing to join as active members are earnestly requested to be present at every rehearsal. Visitors are welcome at any time. The club meets every Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in the Music Hall.

The Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. of Hope college held a joint reception in Carnegie Hall last Thursday evening. An opening address which was a hearty welcome to all the students, was given by E. O. Switters, president of the Y. M. C. A. Miss Irene Staplekamp recited "The Classical Parson" and responded of an encore with "Brown at Home". After a piano solo rendered by Arthur Huisinkveld, the new instructor in elocution gave a reading from Dickens after which she recited "When a Man's in Love". This was very heartily applauded. A few remarks were delivered by Prof. J. E. Kuizenga. Refreshments were served.

The funeral service of Frank S. Robinson was held last Tuesday afternoon at Hope church. Mr. Robinson was born in Leroy township, Calhoun county, Mich., Dec. 5, 1860. He was married to Mrs. Alice Naish Aug. 23, 1900. They lived for one year at Douglas and for nine years they have been residents of Holland. He has been a great sufferer for a number of years. After his operation in the summer of 1906 he professed conversion and united with Hope church in that same year. For more than a year he has been confined to his room by bright's disease. He died at the People's hospital in Grand Rapids, Oct. 15. Besides his wife, he leaves a father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Robinson of Fennville, two brothers, H. Lee Robinson of Escanaba, Harry M. Robinson of Fremont, and two sisters, Mrs. I. T. Wright of California and Mrs. E. E. Kingsbury of Ganges.

Activities Planned at H. Church

The church will be tastefully decorated with Autumnal leaves on Sunday, and the pastor will preach in the morning on "The Jewish and American Version of the Fading Leaf." The evening topic is "Christ's Apotheosis of Love."

The Young People's Meeting is at 6:30 p. m. The attendance last week was well nigh at "high water mark."

On Wednesday afternoon, at 4, the Catechumen's Classes begin. All parents are invited to send their children to study 45 minutes each week the most important of all truths as made clear for young minds in the Heidelberg Catechism newly translated and Americanized by Dominee Niles. Chase Osborn Takes with People

Chase S. Osborn and W. W. Wedemeyer, candidate for congress, addressed a great public meeting at Adrian last Thursday night. The meeting was held in the opera house, which was packed, and Mr. Osborn delivered his usual fine speech. He declared that the republican party was not on the defensive in the campaign; that the democratic party had given no reason why it should be placed in power.

"I stand squarely by my pledges made before the primary," said Mr. Osborn. "The dishonest men in office will have to go and go quickly if I am elected governor."

Taking up the insurgency movement Mr. Osborn declared that good was sure to result from it, and he then made a characteristic speech illuminating the insurgent movement by invading the history of the world and tracing the history of all insurgency, or rather progressiveness.

He also took up the mining tax proposition and challenged Lawton T. Hemans to show one thing that he, Mr. Hemans, stood for so far as the mines were concerned that Mr. Osborn did not also stand for.

"I'm not singling out one class of property to attack because it seems to strike a certain popular note," said Mr. Osborn. "I stand for absolute fairness in tax matters as in all other questions of government. All property should be taxed alike, mines, farm land and city property. No man should escape his just taxes."

Through a good part of his speech which was listened to attentively and frequently interrupted by applause, Mr. Osborn followed rather closely the line of battle laid down by Roosevelt at the New York convention.

"What is most needed in the state today is an investigation of the conditions existing in the state capitol at Lansing an investigation that will separate the good from the bad so that the people may know them. What we need is just such an investigation as has been conducted in New York. If the republican state ticket is elected in this campaign the officers will regard themselves as public servants."

"The democrats have been quite open and quite free to criticize. Mr. Hemans has felt quite at liberty to do so. Personally, I believe Mr. Hemans is a gentleman of honor and worthy of respect. Politically he has been seized with a queer delirium. When he was in the legislature he did not raise his hand to gain the issues for which he is now fighting. He says that he was in such a minority that it was impossible to effect reform. He might at least have left a name for himself by a firm stand for the principles in which he believed."

"Hemans does not add a thing to the taxation of the mines that the republican party does not stand for. I do not believe in picking out a few for special favors. I believe in an equal tax for all."

The campaign for Chase Osborn in Ingham is moving along finely. Republicans all over the county are pledging their royal support to him and taking hold of the work in his behalf in good spirit. Over in Stockbridge an Osborn club has been organized with 150 members and the organization promises to do some effective work in his behalf.

In Opposition to H. J. Heinz

George E. Walker of Grand Rapids, representing the Walker pickling concern, spent several days in the city sizing up the prospects of opening a branch to their plant in Zeeland and found things decidedly favorable. A subscription of 75 acres would insure a pickle salting station at Zeeland, and after a canvass of but two days he had already secured one-third of the acreage, upon which he decided to go ahead with the proposition and forthwith looked up a site. On Wednesday he purchased a parcel of land on Colonial avenue just north of the Pere Marquette railroad tracks from C. DeJonge, and in the spring of 1911 suitable buildings will be erected. The company has a large plant at Carlisle, Mich., where their headquarters are. The new salting house is in opposition to the Heinz plant which we already have.

Osborn Pleased with Record

While in Detroit Chase Osborn took occasion to reply to the charge of Lawton T. Hemans that the expenses of the railroad commissioner's office was high while he, Mr. Osborn, was commissioner. Says the republican candidate:

"I only wish that he had gone far enough to tell the people why they were increased. It would have made more votes for me than I can make for myself. Whether his figures are exactly right, I do not know, because I have no data at hand, but I acknowledge frankly that I spent more money than my predecessor, but I got something for it."

Then Mr. Osborn tells that he forced the big roads to reduce their fares to two cents in accordance with the law. This cost money, he says, and he spent it. He tells of his fight to enforce the law requiring the separation of grades, gathered statistics on railroading in all parts of the world that comparisons might be made, and watched the development of electric railroads with great care.

"I wish I had the definite figures here to show, but I will secure them and then I can take up the subject where Mr. Hemans has left off. Of course I don't blame him for the use of this material in the campaign. It is necessary for him to advance some argument as to why he should be elected instead of myself, but where he leaves off the story of my career I will be always only too pleased to continue the recital. If there is one period of my life of which I am especially proud it was the time I spent in the employ of the state as railroad commissioner, and the more light there is shed on my administration of the office the better I will be pleased."

Board of Supervisors

The Board of Supervisors adopted the depository system, and the banks of the county will hereafter be asked to bid on the county moneys.

The board elected Fred F. McEachron of Grand Haven, E. H. Stiles of Coopersville and Gerard Cook of Holland as election canvassers.

Judge of Probate Kirby's report, which was brought before the board, shows that there were ten inmates in the state asylum for the insane at the date of the last report, October 1, 1909. During the year 22 have been admitted to the asylum from Ottawa county. Six have been transferred to the state and twelve have been discharged as improved or recovered. At the present time there are 10 insane persons being kept at the expense of the county. The judge asked an appropriation of $3,500 for the maintenance of the county cases for the coming year.

The board will make the annual trip of inspection to the county in firmly tomorrow. Supervisors Cline, Huizenga and Knight were appointed a special committee to arrange for the transportation.

The election of the school examiner was also taken up. There were two candidates in the field for the job and they have been doing some strenuous campaigning among the supervisors. There was but one ballot and the result was Henry K. Boer, 14; Leon Ives, 9. Mr. Boer who is the present incumbent was declared elected. Mr. Ives is from Coopersville.

A petition was presented by a remnant of the Grand Army of the Republic and friends asking for the use of the north west corner of the basement of the court house free was granted.

Hope Church Notes

Prof. J. E. and Mrs. Kuizenga entertained the ladies of Voorhees Dormitory last Friday evening. A very pleasant evening was spent by the young ladies, the chief entertainment being the "progressive bean bag." Mrs. Kuizenga served dainty refreshments after which the fair co-eds returned home.

A new club was organized at Hope college last Friday afternoon with a membership of 20. William J. Stronks of the junior class was elected president and John Bennink secretary and treasurer.

The purpose of this club is to train the boys of the college in the art of singing. Mr. Arthur Huisinkveld will play for the club.

WILT THOU THAT WE COMMAND FIRE?

Luke 9:51-56—October 23

"And it came to pass, when the days were well-nigh come, that he should be received up, he steadfastly set his face to go to Jerusalem and sent messengers before his face."

THIS week's study relates an incident which occurred on the occasion of our Lord's journey from Galilee to Jerusalem just before his crucifixion. He knew that his hour was come; that his sacrificial life of three and a half years should be accomplished. The Great Teacher was full of courage. "But of the people there were none with him" in the sense of sympathetic appreciation of the conditions. True, he had informed the twelve Apostles respecting the consummation of his work and his nearness, but they had been slow to believe all the things written in the Law and the prophecies concerning him. Their minds naturally grasped the glorious things spoken of the Messiah. They were so busy thinking of his glorious Kingdom, and of their glorious association with him in that Kingdom, that they failed to note the other prophecies which, with equal distinctness, foretold his sufferings and ignominy. Similarly, they overlooked the Master's own words concerning his death. They thought of him as speaking in some figurative, hyperbolic manner. And Peter even attempted to rebuke him, saying, "Be this far from thee, Lord; it shall not happen unto thee."

Refused by the Samaritans

Another account intimates that James and John visited the Samaritan city for the purchase of bread and supplies for the party. The Samaritans recognized them and inquired, would the Great Teacher recognize the Samaritans and heal their sickness or would he treat them as Jews in general treated them—unkindly? They believed the latter. The Apostles frankly told them that the Great Teacher was sent only to the Jewish nation and would not stop to heal their sick ones, because he was "not sent save to the lost sheep of the house of Israel."

Naturally enough the Samaritans resented this and were angry. They said, Very well. Buy bread from the people whom you instruct and whose sick you heal.

St. John and St. James were greatly incensed at this. Was not Jesus the greatest Teacher? Was he not the Messiah? Had he not, as such, the right to determine the will of God respecting who should and who should not receive his benefactions? With this answer they came to Jesus and, relating the circumstances, asked, "Wilt thou that we command fire to come down from heaven to destroy these men and their city?"

What Spirit Are Ye Of?

We listen with keen interest for the Master's response. As we once viewed the matter of the Divine program it would have seemed right for the Great Teacher to say to the Apostles, Never mind, my dear Disciples; wait just a little while and all those Samaritans will die and my Heavenly Father will deliver them over to the devils for an eternity of torture. In comparison with eternal torture that which you purpose in the way of burning up their city and incidentally burning them for a few minutes would be as nothing. I appreciate, my dear disciples, your spirit, that it is God-like; that you desire to do all the roasting and burning within your power, and I commend you for it. Continue to thus copy your God and to cause suffering to as many as possible of your fellow-creatures who do not think exactly as you do.

Was this the answer of the Great Teacher? Thank God, No! His teaching was the very reverse—sympathetic, loving, kind. And he had the Father's Spirit and understood it and followed it perfectly. In answer to their query, we read, "Jesus turned and rebuked them" and said, "Ye know not what spirit ye are of! The Son of man is not come to destroy men's lives, but to save them!"

"A Savior and a Great One"

The language spoken in Palestine in Jesus' day was the Syriac. One of the Great Teacher's titles is The Savior. And this, in the Syriac language, signifies, "The Life-Giver." The whole world was damned enough before the lesson from the Book and not attempt to teach the Book.

"The Poor Always With You"

Our Lord, in reply to the argument of Judas, that the ointment should have been sold for a large sum for the benefit of the poor, answered, The poor ye have always with you. Whosoever ye will ye may do them good; but me ye have not always. Poverty is sure to be a factor in the social order during the present time, because, in our fallen condition as a race, some are more brilliant of mind than others and selfishness is the general rule. Hence until the end of the reign of sin and death the poor will be here. And there is a blessing attached to every good deed, every noble endeavor to help any member of the race to higher and better conditions, mentally, morally, physically. By and by there will be no poor, for, under the Kingdom condition, love will be the ruling principle, instead of selfishness.

"But Me Ye Have Not Always"

This was true of the Master. A little while and he was gone from them, ascended to the Father's right hand. The same principle prevails in respect to the Lord's followers styled, "The members of his Body." Whatever we can do for these members, the great Head will consider as though done unto himself. While, therefore, it will always be in order to do good unto all men as we have opportunity, it will always be in order also to do good "especially unto the household of faith."

The spirit of selfishness in Judas led on from one degree to another of covetousness until he was willing to sell his Master to his enemies. Alas, what a terrible power for evil is selfishness! How many are willing to barter the Truth for the sake of worldly ease or prosperity! Such as have the spirit of the Truth to a considerable extent should beware of where selfishness leads if followed—to the Second Death.

Within the last few days Mr. John Kramer has received news from Washington, that his pension was allowed; the same good news was received by Henry Konigsberg.

We hear it rumored, and we think it is correct, that Mr. J. Duursema has made his old foreman—Ed. Verschure—a present of a gold watch, and one of his coopers a present of a silver chain, upon relinquishing his hold upon the stove factory. This is just like Duursema—liberal to a fault.

Hon. M. D. Howard was the first one to fling a Hancock and English banner to the breeze, and now the Democratic Club have followed by stretching a large one of the same kind across Eighth street. Two of our vessels also fly that banner—Kate Howard and the Wollin. The Republicans, on the other hand, show no banners at all.

During the past few days Mr. J. Duursema and Koffers have sold their share in the stove factory to Mr. Jos. Fixter, of Milwaukee.

Early settlers should not be in a hurry to destroy their primitive log cabins—there's no telling what price they may bring at some distant future. A committee from Chicago in the interest of the world's fair visited Washington County, Kentucky, last week, and bought the log cabin in which Abraham Lincoln lived as a boy and where his father was married to Nancy Hanks, the certificate being preserved there yet in the County Clerk's office. The price paid for this historic relic was $1,000, and it will be taken down and erected entire on a prominent site at the world's fair.

THERE is a difference here between old men's and young men's styles—and it is a mighty sight more than claim-deep.

Edelheimer Stein Clothes

The label in the coat means that if you're ever disappointed you won't be disappointed long—if they're wrong, just give back the clothes and get back your money.

An Incident in the Death of Wm. McKinley

By E. J. EDWARDS

I believe it was practically the unanimous opinion of those who were near President McKinley at the time of his visit to Buffalo in September, 1901, that at no time during his term as President did he seem so thoroughly happy. He was buoyant, his spirits were high, he was looking forward to an important departure in our economic policy, he had been showered with evidences of the profound esteem and the real affection that the people generally entertained for him. He felt he had obtained the full confidence of his fellow countrymen—that they believed absolutely in his sincerity and integrity of purpose, and his desire to serve the whole people impartially and with fairness.

Especially did the president seem to realize all this the day before he was shot down, and he did not hesitate to express his sense of gratitude over the discovery. He had a grateful word for everybody who was presented to him that day and sometimes several words.

In the course of the afternoon a prominent physician of Buffalo was presented to the president. There was the usual interchange of formalities, and then the physician presumed upon the good nature of the president to take a little more of his time.

"Mr. President," he said, "I want to take this opportunity to say to you that there is no member of your party who more sincerely admires your courage as president, or who has higher personal respect for you than I. I am not in any sense a politician, and so I can say this to you without an imputation or suspicion that I have some favor to ask. I have no favor to ask of you except the one that I believe is in the hearts of all sincere Americans, and that is, that you shall continue through the remainder of your term as president to bring to your great office the dignity and high achievement which have so far characterized your administration."

Probably nothing that was said to the president that day touched him more deeply than the words of this physician, and before he would permit the latter to give way to the guests behind him, the president spoke with feeling and in cordial appreciation of what the physician had said to him.

The following day the president, mortally wounded, lay awaiting the arrival of the physicians and surgeons who had been hastily summoned to his side. As these men arrived one after another and bent over him the wounded man looked searching, into each new face. It was a habit of McKinley to look intently into the face of every person he met, that he might remember its owner should they two chance to meet again.

Finally, all the men of medicine and surgery who had been summoned were present, with one exception, and at last he, too, arrived with all possible speed and bent over the president. For an instant the latter looked piercingly at him, then his eyes lighted up in recognition, a smile parted his lips, and he began to speak faintly, yet clearly.

"Doctor," he said, "it was good of you to come. I remember well what you said to me yesterday, and among other things you told me was this: That you had no favor to ask of me. To-day I am not so fortunate—I have to ask a professional favor of you. But before you begin to render me that favor I want to thank you for coming."

Again the president smiled into the face bent over him. Then he gently closed his eyes, and patiently awaited the services of the physicians and surgeons.

The coroner's jury in the case of Nicholas Coster arrived at a decision of accidental death and holds that the city is not to blame for the fatal accident. The chief witness examined in the case were Guy Pond and Jake DeFeyer. The jury was composed of R. Weurding, Fred Boone, C. Blom, jr., Dr. Curtiss, Simon Kleyn and Albert Keppel.

John Van Wyke was Monday fined the costs, $12, and made to return $3 to John Meyboer, a tailor, whom it was claimed he robbed of the sum. Meyboer stated that Van Wyke came into his store and asked for change for $5. When Meyboer had counted out $3 and was getting more, the man took the change and decamped without leaving the $5. He went to Grand Rapids, where Chief of Police Kamferbeek arrested him.

Nicholas Koster, a lineman, 28 years old, died from injuries sustained in a fall caused by a defective pole. Koster was working on the cross-arm of the pole, 30 feet high, when the pole broke at the base and he was thrown upon a junk pile. He sustained two broken ribs, but pneumonia developed, which caused his death. Koster was a city employee. The funeral of Nicholas Koster was held Wednesday afternoon at one o'clock from the home at 178 East Fifth street and two o'clock from the First Reformed church. The Rev. Veltman officiated.

More than 400 students are now in attendance at Hope college. There are 50 students in the freshman class all of them taking a regular classical course. This is the largest attendance in the history of the college. Three new members of the faculty have been added in the persons of Peter Schlosser, who comes from the University of Syracuse and who conducts the class in German; Miss Elma Martin, who comes from Vassar to have charge of the English classes, and Miss Alval Fauncort of Oberlin and the Curry School of Expression at Boston, who has charge of the classes in physical culture and expression.

Holland may have a mattress factory in the near future if the present plans materialize. The G. P. Mayhew company of Grand Rapids has moved from there and will locate in the building on West Eighth street that was formerly occupied by the Princess Skating rink. For the present the concern will manufacture comfortors, mattress fillings and all kinds of cotton felt goods in the building. If the business warrants it however, a complete mattress factory will be installed and the work will be done on a large scale.

News has been received here by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gus M. Dehn, of the successful ascent by Prof. William Norris Dehn of this city, of Glacier Peak, in Washington state. Dehn, who is a member of the faculty of the State university in Washington, with David C. Hall, also of the university, and 51 others set out to scale the peak. Dehn and Hall separated from the party, and while the others started up on the east side, they began the climb to the summit from the west side, something which has been attempted with failure. They reached the top in sixteen hours, even ahead of those from the east side. They found evidences of the summit having been reached but twice before, and both times by way of the east slope. Professor Dehn was born and grew up in Holland, and is a graduate of Hope college.

LADIES OF THE MACCABEES
OF THE WORLDIs Not Raising Its Rates Nor Making
Any Change or Readjustment.

Local members of the Ladies of the Maccabees of the World have called attention to the confusion which seems to exist in the minds of the public on account of the similarity of the name of that order with the name of another fraternal insurance society for women.

The Ladies of the Maccabees of the World has absolutely no connection with the Ladies of the Modern Maccabees, an order which is at present re-adjusting. Its management is and has always been wholly by women and its funds have always been entirely separate from those of any other order.

It has a membership of 154,000 women in 54 states and provinces of the United States and Canada.

It is further distinguished from other orders by the fact that it is the original woman's order on adequate rates. The Ladies of the Maccabees of the World is not raising its rates, nor making any change or re-adjustment. It has been on an adequate rate basis for many years. Its members, both old and new, are and have been paying rates recommended as adequate by a competent actuary, Mr. Abb Landis.

Although established in 1892, this order did not begin to work in Michigan until 1904. Its growth here has been steady, and it now has in this state a large number of members, all of whom are paying rates based on the National Fraternal Congress Mortality table. These rates provide for a reserve fund for the safe protection of the home without increased cost to the members. This fund, which now amounts to $4,512,561.64, is safely invested in municipal bonds, and draws interest annually of $175,000 and over.

Women who join the Ladies of the Maccabees of the World need not fear any increase in cost in years to come as they advance in years or possibly fail in health. Each member pays the cost of her own protection.

The following figures, taken from the Report for 1909 of the Michigan Insurance Department, and from published official reports of the Order, show its splendid financial condition and substantial growth:

The association is widely known among business men from coast to coast as a responsible business institution with a high standing as to financial stability and fair dealing. Hon. James V. Barry, insurance commissioner for Michigan, writes in reply to an inquiry from a member:

Dear Madam: Answering your inquiry of the 3rd inst., permit me to say that the Ladies of the Maccabees of the World is financially one of the strongest fraternal societies doing business in this state. On December 31 last this society had admitted assets of $4,316,911, and liabilities of $130,022. The larger proportion of the society's invested assets is in high grade municipal bonds. Very respectfully, JAMES V. BARRY, Michigan Commissioner of Insurance.

The headquarters are at Port Huron, in the World's Maccabee Temple. Mrs. Lillian M. Hollister is Supreme Commander, and Miss Bina M. West is Supreme Record Keeper of the Ladies of the Maccabees of the World.

Mrs. Joyce Wegner, Irving Hotel, Grand Rapids, Mich., is District Deputy for the Ladies of the Maccabees of the World in this part of the state, and Mrs. Alberta Droelle, 411 St. Aubin Avenue, Detroit, is the State Commander for Michigan. Either lady will gladly give any further information desired about the standing of this Order, and its insurance, social and fraternal advantages, or this may be secured at the headquarters of the Order at Port Huron, Mich.
