The following election inspectors were appointed by the common council Wednesday night to serve in the coming presidential election in Holland: first ward, Simon Klein; second ward, Frank Stansbury; third ward, (appointed later); fourth ward, Wm. Lawrence; fifth ward, F. Yonkman; sixth ward, Adrian Caaue.

Hope college has 24 different societies, nine of which are literary. City inspector Henry Bosch was the first one in Holland to display the Red Cross sticker on the windshield of his car. It is expected that as soon as the legion boys get started on their drive next Monday many of the stickers will be seen on windshields.

CIRCUIT COURT OPENS IN OT-TAWA NOV. 3RD

JURORS HAVE BEEN DRAWN FOR THIS SESSION

A representative of this paper who happened to be in Grand Haven on other business was selected to draw the names of jurors from envelopes before two judges, the county clerk and members of the sheriff's force.

The proceedings are rather interesting. It is the work of Judge Cross as circuit judge of Ottawa and Allegan counties to issue an order stating that he will hold court, designating the time and place, and orders a jury drawn. In this case the place is Grand Haven, Ottawa county and the date is November 3.

The jury for the ensuing term of court is drawn by the county clerk, the sheriff, and justices of the peace at least fifteen days prior to the opening day of Circuit court. The supervisors, after their first meeting of the year which was held in April, mailed to County Clerk Orrie Sluiter a list of names of citizens who are taxpayers and who can be drawn from their respective district as jurors. Each name is put on a separate slip and enclosed in a receptacle marked with the name of that particular township or ward. At the time of drawing a jury, a slip is drawn from the slip so drawn is the juror from that particular township or ward. This process is continued until the twenty-four jurors are drawn.

These proceedings are followed out in the same way in every circuit court district in Michigan.

While circuit court will convene at Grand Haven on November 3, for preliminary work, the jury is not to report until November 10.

Holland and surrounding townships will also furnish some of the jurors as is evident from the list drawn on Tuesday afternoon: Holland, Peter De Goede, Ralph Ten Have, Peter H. Boven, George Artye; Zeeland—Wm. Gierum; Allendale—Adrian Van Farrowe; Blenden—Andrew Coy; Chester—Alga Shears; Crocker—B. L. Taylor; Georgetown—Melvin Dornbos; Grand Haven—Frank Wershy; Holland—John Van Dort; Jamestown—Nelson Brower; Olive—Gerrit Van Gelderen; Park—Milton G. West; Polkton—A. C. Muzzall; Port Sheldon—Gus Pommering; Robinson—Wm. Oener; Spring Lake—James Sneider; Tallmadge—C. Brower; Wright—Jasner Miller; Zeeland—John Roelofs; Grand Haven—Fred Jonker, Peter Sluiter.

PERCH ARE SEEN BY THE THOUSANDS

Jake Lieveense, secretary of Holland Game Protective Association has received from Lansing, from the game department, eight cans of fingerling bluegills, more than 2,000 in number.

These were deposited in Fisher Bay near Central Park. This at least will eventually help bluegill fishing in Black Lake although the consignment was not as large as was expected.

Mr. Lieveense states that early last spring the game department sent 30,000 perch fry and these were deposited in different parts of Black Lake and in visiting these different localities the other day, members of the local game association found that vicinity where these fish were deposited was simply swarming with fingerling perch, no doubt from the fry sent in by the state.

HOLLAND MAN ARRESTED BY THE STATE OFFICIALS

STATE FRUIT INSPECTOR FINDS LAW IS BEING DIS-OBEYED

Herman Willink of Holland, appeared before Justice Bauhahn and pleaded guilty to shipping grapes insufficiently marked. Mr. Willink's offense consisted in shipping choice grapes in baskets of less than 12 qts. capacity, which are expressly reserved for fancy table grapes, and also for neglecting to stamp his name and address on each basket.

Complaint was made by G. E. Culver of the state department of agriculture of Lansing, Michigan. He is closely watching all fruit and fruit packages from this vicinity.

Mr. Culver who called on this paper gave a great deal of information relative to fruit shipping.

Put your name and address on your box and basket shipments. Is the advice given by Inspector Culver of the State Dept. of Agri. Mr. Culver calls attention to the statute 207 P. A. 1913, which specifically states that all fruits and vegetables shipped in closed packages must have stamped on each package the name and address of the shipper. This applies especially to berries, celery, cucumbers, Apples, potatoes, grapes, peaches and pears are graded and marked according to a grading law adopted for each and which clearly defines the grading and marking. Growers and shippers can get copies of these fruit grades on request to Dept. of Agri., Lansing, Michigan.

LOOKS AS IF HOPE WILL HAVE GOOD TRACK TEAM

The prospects for a good track season this year are unusually bright. Kinney, Van Lare, Luben and Van Zoeren form a nucleus for the team while Van Wyke, Kik, Dok, Moser, Cliequennol, Ten Have, Riche, Ten Pas, Aikens and Wiersema are all promising men.

On the twenty-fourth of October the five mile cross country run will be held at M. A. C. The team is working hard every day, and in spite of the loss of Schutt, our strong man last year, expects to make a record when the show-down comes.

ALDERMEN WILL COMPROMISE ON MEAT ORDINANCE

NOTICE GIVEN OF NEW ORDINANCE TO BE INTRODUCED AT FUTURE MEETING

The much discussed meat ordinance did not come up for consideration at Wednesday night's session of the common council. The idea of passing a meat ordinance however has not been dropped. Ald. Oscar Peterson, chairman of the ordinance committee, gave formal notice that a new meat ordinance would be introduced at a future meeting. This new ordinance, it is understood, will in the main be the old ordinance that was rejected two weeks ago but will have some of its provisions changed to meet the wishes of the aldermen who opposed the earlier ordinance.

In other words, meat inspection legislation is expected to come as the result of a compromise, each faction in the council yielding to some extent in order to secure a practical measure that can command the votes of enough aldermen to pass it.

PARTRIDGE KILLS ITSELF BEFORE SEASON OPENS

Although the partridge season opened on October 15, the following from the Grand Haven Tribune on the 14th would indicate that this one was out of the running for the sportsmen.

"A partridge flew up against the window of the Boer Furniture store this morning and killed itself. The bird evidently thought he could go right on through the transparent substance but he was killed in the attempt."

Holland had a similar experience a few weeks ago when a beautiful Chinese pheasant flew through one of the windows of the new Junior High school and was temporarily stunned. After the pheasant had revived sufficiently it was liberated. No doubt this one got off the beaten path in the woods and made a visit to the city.

Two years ago, Dick Homkes, then deputy game warden in this district liberated 75 of these birds north of Holland, sent by the state, and it is said that these have begun to thrive and are becoming quite numerous and like quail cannot be shot.

ASK TOWNSHIP BOARD TO LAY SIDE WALK THERE

COMMON COUNCIL SENDS PETITION HOLLAND TOWNSHIP OFFICERS

On motion of Ald. Slagh a communication to the Holland township board respectfully suggesting the building of a sidewalk along the concrete road just east of the city limits on the Zeeland road. It is understood that the money has been appropriated by the board for such a walk but that there is difference of opinion as to which side of the road it shall be laid.

The council will point out to the board the great desirability of a walk there to protect the lives and limbs of pedestrians. The aldermen do not care which side of the street the walk is laid on but are anxious to have a walk laid on one side or the other. They are anxious to co-operate with the township board to bring this about.

ZONING MEN SUGGEST PURCHASE OF PLAYGROUND

ASK CITY TO BUY A BLOCK IN SOUTHWESTERN PART OF TOWN

The city zoning commission Wednesday night recommended to the common council the purchase of a block of vacant property bounded by 21st and 22nd streets and by Pine and Maple avenues. The commission believes that this would make an ideal playgrounds for that part of the city and that the council should not let the opportunity that has presented itself to buy it for city use, pass.

The commission has been working for some time on the question of a suitable playground in that part of the city and the members believe that they have now found the right spot.

There is no fund in the budget for such a purchase but it was suggested that arrangements might be made so that the matter could be taken care of in the next appropriation bill. The whole matter was referred to the ways and means committee, which body will confer with the zoning commission with a view of arriving at a definite plan. Then the question will be placed before the council for final decision.

NON-PARTISAN KAMFERBEEK CLUB ORGANIZED HERE

INITIAL MEETING HELD BRINGS OUT FIFTY MEMBERS

What is called the non-partisan Kamferbeek club has a newly organized club that is fostering the election of Fred Kamferbeek for Sheriff of Ottawa county.

At least fifty voters of different parties were present at the initial meeting, and Dick Vander Haar was named president, John De Kogger, secretary, and Henry Kraker, chairman of finance.

It was stated that a committee has also been appointed to organize the factories.

FORTNEY CASE IS ADJOURNED FOR ONE WEEK

ATTORNEY FOR SHERIFF DEMANDED THAT ABSENT WITNESS BE PRESENT

At least 500 people crowded the court room of the city hall yesterday to listen to the examination of Mr. Fortney who was charged with assault with intent to do great bodily harm less than the crime of murder.

With one exception the witnesses were the same as those who testified in the examination at Zeeland before Justice Clark, and the testimony given by these men tallies almost accurately with that given at Zeeland a month ago and published in full at that time.

The condition of Mr. Stephan was described as before, the bloody and battered face, the bloody shirt and his calls for assistance and it is needless to reiterate this testimony again at this time. The only addition that might be added to Mr. Stephan's testimony supplementary to what he gave at the Zeeland trial is that he stated that even up to this time, seven weeks afterward, he had not fully recovered, that he is suffering from head noises and dizziness and that often he has congestion in the nose which was broken during the assault, and that he was not troubled in this way before the assault took place. He also testified that during the assault when he heard someone say "stop that, stop that" it seemed to come from far away, that he attributed this to the fact that he was only semi-conscious.

The only new witness introduced was Carl Seldon of Robinson, who owns the home where Mrs. Hoen lives. The man sure was a card in answering questions, and got the attorney for the defense almost distracted with his sharp retorts and strange way of answering the questions put. He kept the court room in a roar of laughter, for he would be an attraction on a vaudeville stage.

Justice Den Herder had to rap several times for order, but the witness would continue his comical testimony until the end.

The sum and substance of the testimony of more than an hour was that Sheriff Fortney and deputy Den Herder had come to Carl Seldon's residence in Robinson to arrest Mrs. Hoen on the charge of slander. In the conversation Seldon contended that Mr. Fortney said among a great many other things, "So you're hooked up with Black Abe of Holland too," and that Mr. Fortney further stated, "Never mind, we'll get him too." This it was alleged was long before the assault took place. Seldon admitted that he had been called before the Grand Jury, but could not remember whether this was before or after the Zeeland trial.

Mr. Misner, attorney for the defense then asked the witness if there wasn't something lacking that the plaintiffs needed at the Zeeland trial and didn't have, and that he Seldon could supply that lack, and if that wasn't the reason he was a witness now and not in Zeeland. Mr. Seldon said that this was untrue.

The attorney for the defense then endeavored to pin Seldon down to a statement that he and Mrs. Hoen went to Zeeland after the trial to see Justice Clark. Seldon stated that he did not take Mrs. Hoen to Zeeland, that he did not know or had never seen Mr. Clark. He stated however that Mrs. Hoen had gone to Zeeland sometime after the trial to see an eye doctor, Mr. Pieper from Holland, who comes there from time to time to test eyes. Further than that he knew nothing of the activities of Mrs. Hoen in Zeeland.

The only variation from the former testimony given by Mr. Donnelly which was already published, was in stating the time that it took him coming from his Glass Factory to the Holland Furniture Company on the morning of the assault. In the former testimony, Mr. Donnelly stated two or three minutes, and Mr. Misner, attorney for Mr. Fortney, endeavored to pin him down to that old testimony. The court rather smiled when Donnelly made a quick retort that he wouldn't swear positively to minutes as he didn't keep a stop watch on the time made, for he didn't expect that his coming would result in being called as a witness afterward. He stated that he thought the time might have been three or four minutes, or five or more minutes possibly.

The examination struck a snag when the defense asked that Robert Herrick be placed on the stand. Mr. Herrick is the traveling salesman for the Holland Furniture Co., who lives in New York, and is possibly one of the most important witnesses in the entire case.

At the Zeeland trial Herrick could not be present, being in New York at the time, and an affidavit was introduced giving Herrick's version of the case which was allowed as evidence by Justice Clark after the two attorneys had agreed.

In part Mr. Herrick testified at that time according to the affidavit that he went to Mr. Stephan's room but was told that he was engaged. Just at that time he heard a commotion in the inner room, heard cries for help, burst open the door, saw a man holding Mr. Stephan on the floor, who while holding Mr. Stephan's head with one hand, struck Mr. Stephan in the face with the other.

The affidavit further alleges that he Herrick took up a chair in order to defend Mr. Stephan, but that the man in question put his hand on a revolver and ordered him to retire from the room. He states that the look in the man's eyes was a dangerous one and that the man appeared very much agitated. He thought that it was best to retire when the man in question assumed such a threatening attitude. He contends that as he backed out the beating started over again; and that he later learned that the man who assaulted Mr. Stephan was Sheriff Fortney.

This affidavit was read by Justice Clark, during the Zeeland trial, and as stated before was admitted as evidence by both attorneys, but when this affidavit came up again at the examination at Holland yesterday,

MILK PEDDLER'S HORSE FRIGHT-FULLY ABUSED

MAN IS FINED $50.00; HORSE ORDERED KILLED

John H. Grotenhuis, a Holland township milk peddler was arrested by officer Bontekoe on the charge of cruelty to animals.

Grotenhuis was peddling milk on Fairbanks avenue, when he states that the horse kicked him, and he lost his head, and he took up a club and beat the animal about the head and body.

People on Fairbanks avenue called up Chief Van Ry, told him what was going on, and also had a veterinary surgeon go to where the horse lay.

It was found that the horse had four holes in his head and was suffering considerably, and the horse was ordered shot by the officer.

When Grotenhuis appeared before Justice Brusse he pleaded guilty to the charge but stated in his own defense that the horse had kicked him before and this time kicked his money pouch that he had hanging to a strap.

Judge Brusse however imposed a heavy fine of $50.00 with $5.70 costs, besides giving him a lecture on the abuse of dumb animals.

SUIT BROUGHT AGAINST MILLER FOR $25,000

HENRY TEN BROEK ASKED THAT AMOUNT FROM PRESIDENT OF RESORT CO.

Swan A. Miller, president of the Macatawa Resort association, was made defendant in a $25,000 damage suit filed Wednesday in the circuit court of Ottawa county.

The suit was filed in behalf of Henry Ten Broek, prominent Grand Rapids insurance man, by the Grand Rapids legal firm of Lindsey, Shivel & Smedley.

Ten Broek seeks to collect for alleged injuries to his social and business standing which he charges were suffered when Miller "falsely and maliciously" caused his arrest.

Miller according to the declaration, swore out a warrant for Ten Broek's arrest on Aug. 29 last, charging the latter with destruction of two trees standing on Fern Park the property of the Macatawa Resort association. The trees were valued at $20 by Mr. Miller.

In a subsequent hearing, which was held Tuesday, Sept. 23, last, before Justice F. E. Fish of Allegan, the case against Ten Broek was dismissed. Mr. Miller being held to account for court costs.

At the trial, preceding which Ten Broek says he was detained in the Allegan jail for one-half day, the insurance man's defense was that he believed the trees in question were on his property.

He hired men felled and cut in to wood, he said, because they were dead and roofs of his two cottages were in danger of destruction in the event they should be blown down.

The cost of cutting the trees, he said, more than equalled their value. They were cut down according to the declaration on Dec. 27, 1922.

RESIGNS FROM PARK BOARD AFTER 12 YEARS

John A. Kelley, who some time ago left for California where he may make his home permanently, wrote the common council a letter Wednesday night resigning his position as member of the park and cemetery board. Mr. Kelley stated that in view of the fact that he might be away from the city indefinitely he felt it would not be fair to the other members of the board if he should stay on the board and he wished to give the council an opportunity to appoint a successor. The resignation was accepted with regret but a successor has not yet been appointed.

Mr. Kelley has served on the board for twelve years and has had a big part in the development of the city's park system.

Attorney Misner would not consent to the affidavit for a second time, giving as his reasons that there was contradictory evidence between the Zeeland and the Holland examinations and for that reason he demanded that Robert Herrick, the man who made the affidavit, appear in person. This was impossible of course since Herrick who is a traveling man is in the east, and was not subpoenaed, by the people, thinking that the affidavit in the former trial would stand.

This ended the examination right there, and it cannot be continued until Robert Herrick is brought to Holland from the East wherever he may be found. Justice Den Herder objected very much to having the case drag, in fact he insisted that the examination continue through the supper hour until all the witnesses had been examined.

Herrick was called at 7 o'clock and of course could not appear, and Judge Den Herder very much chagrined, adjourned court tentatively until Wednesday afternoon, October 23, at 1:30 o'clock.

He insisted that everyone connected with the case be ready, as he absolutely did not want this case to drag unnecessarily.

Other witnesses who testified were Dr. Tappan, Ed Zwemer, Ed Stephan, and Fred Boone. Their testimony was practically a reiteration of that given in Zeeland which has already been published.

Sheriff Delbert Fortney who was present was not called to the witness stand.

RADIO FEAST SATURDAY IS A BIG AFFAIR

Promptly at six o'clock Saturday evening when Mr. J. A. Hoover, manager of the H. J. Heinz Co. of Holland, gave the signal, 210 employees in the local plant of the H. J. Heinz Co. and twenty guests, who are directly or indirectly connected in a business way with this large concern, marched from the reception rooms in the Masonic Temple, into the spacious banquet hall, beautifully decorated for the occasion.

The banquet in Holland was but one of sixty-two banquets given simultaneously in sixty-two different cities located in the United States, Canada and the British Isles, where Heinz Co. plants are located.

The banquet was planned for some time and October 11 was selected for the celebration of Founder's Day, that being the date when Mr. H. J. Heinz laid the foundation for the large institution that bears his name.

From a humble beginning in 1869, fifty-five years ago Mr. Heinz planted the seed from which this gigantic enterprise has grown, the nucleus being an old house in Sharpsburg, Pa., of which two rooms and the basement were utilized and two women and a small boy were sufficient to meet all labor requirements, while four acres of land was all that was necessary to raise the horseradish and other produce that entered into the first canning operations undertaken by the founder. That was the beginning of the present H. J. Heinz Co. with its 57 varieties—its more than 10,000 employees—its 62 different plants dotting the United States, the largest one being located in Holland.

It was impossible to have all the employees come to Pittsburgh and for that reason the radio idea was conceived and the Westinghouse Electric Co. was given a contract to connect all branch banquets with the main banquet hall at Pittsburgh from which all speeches were broadcast. The principal speaker of the evening was President Coolidge who spoke directly from White House to the main banquet hall and to the 62 other banquet halls as well.

Other speakers were Charles M. Schwab, Secretary of Labor James J. Davis and U. S. Senator George Wharton Pepper.

The message from President Coolidge was heard at the banquet in Holland at 8:35 and in his discourse the president said in part as follows: "Working co-operation between business and the public, in accord with the dictates of common sense, is the true and practical ideal wished by the government."

"The supremacy of the government has been the main motive dominating the economic and political development of recent years, and it has brought public interest into the equation of modern industrial and commercial relations."

"But the government prefers to let business go its own way, so long as it is the right way; so long as it is the way of honest and genuine service to the real public interest. The government must be the servant of the public welfare and the creation of an informed and reasoned public opinion."

"It cannot be dominated by any privilege. It cannot be subservient to any private advantage. It must always represent the public."

"The people of America will keep control and ownership of their property as a preliminary to the maintenance of their supremacy over their government."

"It is the firm policy of the American people to insist that business forms and methods shall be subordinated to the public interest. In this regard, public authority, as represented by the government, has taken up the attitude of moderation and reasonableness in dealing with these difficult and complex problems. Exemplifying the changed attitude of the public and interest in their new relations is the changed policy toward consolidations in railroads. The public has now sanctioned a consolidation in the railroads by act of congress and compulsion if necessary and there is gratifying indication that this new program is going to be accepted and put into effect without resort to compulsion."

"The ideal now is that neither concentration nor competition shall be permitted to the extent of injuring the public interest."

"That, it seems to me, is substantially the present day attitude of society toward the relations of business and government. It is pretty generally accepted as a safe and proper rule, albeit there are infractions from time to time. But the policy is fixed and both business and the people have generally acquiesced in it. Probably we shall never attain to perfection in its administration, but we are progressing. Business itself has come to recognize the soundness of this rule and the absolute necessity of adherence to it. This attitude marks a long step toward industrial peace and economic stability. Powerful factors in the business world were for a time loath to abandon anything of their complete independence. They protested the whole theory of a right to interfere with their proceeds."

"Some of them made it necessary for the government to invoke extreme measures before they would be convinced. But now at last they have accepted the doctrine that the public right must be considered and must be served. Not only that but business with quite impressive unanimity, has admitted that the attitude of the public was correct and justifiable. I think we are warranted in feeling that the greatly preponderant share of business is entirely sincere in its conversion to the new view."

"A change has come over its entire attitude toward this set of questions. It has accepted the public's right of regulation, not grudgingly and with reservations, but frankly and openly."

Senator Pepper, a life long friend of the late Mr. Heinz to whom a monument was erected by the employees of the company and unveiled Saturday, was also one of the speakers. He told of his relationship with Mr. Heinz, the great love he held for his employees, his sterling qualities, his honesty in business, and his sense of fairness to the most humble in his employ. In his rather interesting introduction the senator said:

"At eight years of age Henry J. Heinz would go up and down the village street in Sharpsburg selling from a basket the surplus produce which he had raised in his mother's kitchen garden. When he was ten, the basket was replaced by a wheelbarrow. At twelve, says his biographer, his business had assumed the dignity of a horse and wagon. Tonight, 80 years after his birth, his memory is enshrined not only in the hearts of his fellow workers but in an industrial enterprise which has become one of the greatest of American necessities."

Charles M. Schwab, the great steel magnate, also one of the speakers, praised both the founder who has passed and the son who is now carrying on where the sire left off.

Mr. Schwab said in part: "I knew and prized as a friend the founder of this great business. He was a great man, a man with not only a great vision and great industry, but a good heart; not only a great man of splendid integrity, but a man who loved his fellowman; not a man who only talked of love of his fellowman but practiced it; a shining example of what an ideal man should be; a man of sympathetic understanding, charitable, kind-hearted, manly yet gentle, in short a real man whom everybody loved and admired while living and active, and a man whose memory and example will always be remembered and revered. I don't want to praise his successor unduly in his presence and in the presence of his friends and associates; his life and actions speak for themselves; but I will say he is a worthy son of a worthy father and a successful successor to a successful man."

"In my long experience I have seen many men try to be the kind of man they should like to be, that is, to have the real spirit and understanding and real love of the men and women with whom they work and associate, and unless they have that soul and spirit truly within themselves, their efforts always eventually fail; it becomes a pretense and cannot last. Howard Heinz has the true spirit and his every act carries the conviction that he is proud of you all; proud to his association with you all; proud to be kindly thought of by you all; and the proudest memory of his life will be the knowledge that he is loved and respected by you all as a man of honor, a man of soul and a democratic worker amongst you."

Secretary of Labor James J. Davis of Washington, D. C., in his speech, told of the qualities needed in business management that would bring about more amicable relations between capital and labor and paralleled the necessary qualifications with those long ago practiced by the founder of the Heinz Co. "This day demonstrates plainly the gratifying results attained because of these qualities," said Mr. Davis.

The unveiling of the statue of Mr. Heinz was most impressive and not only brought tears to the eyes of the son Howard Heinz but to the thousands of employees as well, who gathered to witness these unusual ceremonies.

The presentation of the statue was made by Howard Heinrich an employee who said in part:

"This is a significant and impressive hour. Summoned by the memories of him whom we 'have loved long since and lost awhile,' we assemble here to pay our tributes of respect and affection, and from a life so nobly lived, so surely crowned, to get incentive and inspiration for the brief span of years that yet remains to us."

"Following the death of the founder of H. J. Heinz Company, which occurred on the fourteenth day of May, 1919, the employees of the company, whom he loved and by whom he was loved, sought some means whereby they might express to the company and the world their respect and affection for him, who was their friend."

"They sought something that could be associated with the business, so daily contact with it would remind them of his life and work and character. They wanted something that would keep alive in their memories the outlines of the familiar form and figure, surrounded by the noble brow, and with smiling countenance illumined by the sparkling but kindly eyes. They desired something that should be enduring, typical of his influence upon their lives and upon the business which he, as leader, with their loyal co-operation as followers, had created. What could more completely meet these requirements than his statue, in enduring bronze, to stand in some suitable place on the premises?"

"Standing here before his unveiled statue, in the presence of those who knew him and loved him, may I offer in words written of another, but appropriate to him, this ode:

To the Founder:
"Tis one thing that the deeds you wrought have brought success, and given man his due.
It is another when a master's hand has builded better than he knew.
You built so that success did crown your efforts as you guided deed or act.
But to lay plans that others, coming on, might shape a fancy into fact is better still. And praise unmeasured unto masters of his class is due.
And on your tomb might be this epitaph: O man who builded better than he knew."

"Mr. Howard Heinz: In behalf of the employees of H. J. Heinz Company, in token of the exalted place which the founder holds in their interest and affection, and whose place in their hearts is firmly fixed, I present to the company this memorial of the founder."

"The fragrance of his life still abides to inspire others as he inspired, to serve as he served. The years will not dim his memory."

In his speech of acceptance the son Howard Heinz said in part as follows:

"On this great day in the history of our business when we celebrate fifty-five years of mutual good-will between employer and employees, we have no more sacred duty than to set this hour apart in which to reverently and gratefully acknowledge, not only this splendid gift, but the more splendid life of him who remains with us in precious memory."

"Your spokesman has beautifully referred to some of the marks of the man whose memory we have met to honor. Those here who did not know the founder may deem those words fulsome and extravagant praise, but to those of us who knew him and worked with him, we know how completely and faithfully they speak the truth. During his lifetime, we counted his friendship as one of our most precious possessions and the recollection of our intercourse with him will always be one of our most cherished memories. As a son, with the intimate knowledge which that relationship affords, I can say, and I say it with pride and reverence, he was one of those few great men who do not grow smaller the nearer you approach them. He was possessed with the greatest industry. He was tireless and indefatigable. He was not too big for little things. He was simple in his tastes and the habits of his life; strong in his convictions. He received with deference advice and suggestions and, while ever confident of his own judgment, was devoid of arrogance. He was as gleeful as the little children for whom he had so much love and many of whom in one way or another were the objects of his bounty. At his mother's knee he learned the lesson of reverence for the Bible and built his life upon faith in its message. That faith produced in him that cheerful, happy optimism that made him courageous in times of discouragement. He had the personal charm of winning others to his own optimism. It was both infectious and contagious."

"Successful in business, devoted to the church, loyal to his country and the welfare of its people, a more marked characteristic was his interest in the individual man, woman and child."

"No tribute of the employees could have touched my heart more tenderly or deeply than their desire to perpetuate my father's memory and influence, as their spokesman has told us. Their spontaneous, voluntary offerings to the fund to provide this memorial which we dedicate today filled my heart with gratitude, and the directors of the company are equally appreciative with me. It gives me the greatest pleasure and the utmost satisfaction, Mr. Heinrich, to accept, in the name of H. J. Heinz Company from you and from all of the employees whom you represent, this very beautiful memorial gift."

This closed the radio program at Holland whereupon Toastmaster Hoover called upon Rev. Paul P. Cheff and Hon. G. J. Diekmann to close the Founder's Day banquet with short addresses. Mr. Cheff told of his relations with the old gentleman Heinz some years ago. He told of how, when he first met the founder at a Sunday school convention, he noticed that Mr. Heinz was small of stature and that he was not so much impressed until the founder began to speak. He then observed the great qualities of the man, his broad vision and the magnetic force pent up in that small stature. Mr. Cheff stated that Mr. Heinz had been prominent in church and Sunday school work for years and because of this fact the pastor of Hope church was brought in contact with the great man. Mr. Cheff stated that a notable incident in connection with his Sunday school work was his mission to the Orient. In 1913 he led twenty-nine business men and Sunday school workers on a campaign through Japan, Korea and China, visiting seventy-nine cities and in each promoting Sunday school work.

Mr. Cheff contends that Mr. Heinz was one of this nation's greatest Sunday school workers and in meeting the man of great force and character, he also found a man who would also greet you with a sweet, honest, loving smile no matter when, how or where you would meet him.

Mr. Diekmann in closing gave a short history of the coming of the Heinz plant to Holland some 25 years ago. He told of how the late John Zwerner, who became very interested in pickle growing, had heard that the Heinz co. wished to locate in this vicinity and that privately he had been negotiating with a committee sent here by the company at that time. When the committee arrived, Mr. Diekmann said, there was no one to deal with them and they returned to Grand Rapids. "Disheartened," said Mr. Diekmann, "Old John came to my office and told me the circumstances. I told him not to be discouraged and that we would call together some of the leading citizens of Holland, Mr. Beach, Mr. Vischer, Mr. Post and others. This was done and Mr. Zwerner's plans were carried out and the first salting house for Holland was landed. From this humble beginning the little town, so to speak, a large oak has reared its head on high. The Heinz plant in Holland is reflected on the farms in this vicinity. Pickles have raised many a farm mortgage and a farmer with 10 acres can now divide his acreage with his sons who now raise small trucks for the Heinz Co. at a greater return than the larger farm would yield before the company was located in this vicinity."

Mr. Diekmann in speaking of the founder stated that Mr. Heinz was a man with a heart, he was a man with a soul, he loved his neighbor and while Mr. Heinz had a wonderful capacity for business, he did not associate selfishness with it. He believed that this was an age of distribution, that this was a period to foster a fraternal spirit between employee and employer and the time had arrived for better understanding and more amicable relations, Mr. Diekmann in closing stated that Mr. Heinz was a man of the people and one who rubbed elbows with his fellowman.

HEINZ CO. GIVES PRIZES TO ITS EMPLOYEES

During the program at the H. J. Heinz radio banquet at the Masonic Temple Saturday night nothing was more surprising and impressive than the presentation of gold watches and a gold medal to three faithful Holland employees of the company. During a lull in the program manager Hoover of the Holland plant thought it an opportune time to spring a surprise.

He first called the name of Joseph Lhotka, of West 12th street, and asked him to come to the speakers' table. The employee in question very much taken aback, hesitatingly came forward and Mr. Hoover then questioned him. "How long have you been in our employ?" The man responded, "Twenty-one years."

"Did you enjoy your work and are you satisfied?" Mr. Lhotka stated that he was.

"Then in behalf of Howard Heinz of the H. J. Heinz company I present you, in behalf of the company, with this token for faithful service rendered," whereupon Mr. Hoover presented the now very much surprised man with a beautiful solid gold watch of very fine make.

The next man to be surprised was Philip Chervensky, 331 West 15th St. He had also been with the company 21 years and came forward to accept his beautiful timepiece of solid gold.

Carl Self, 304 West 12th street, who had been with the company 12 years, was presented with a large gold medal containing the bust of H. J. Heinz, the founder, on one side, in bold relief, with the name of Carl Self on the other together with the inscription, "For Faithful Service Rendered."

The presentation of these tokens brought repeated rounds of applause from those attending the banquet.

GUEST TABLE IN SHAPE OF LARGE PICKLE

Altho the H. J. Heinz company staged 62 different banquets in 62 different cities Saturday, and all of them were very much alike, the one at the Masonic temple in Holland was different. Manager J. A. Hoover, who, by the way, was toastmaster at the banquet, handled the Holland affair with great skill and he and his aids sprang a new one.

The tables were arranged a little differently than at the other banquets. However, the outstanding feature was the guest table which represented a large pickle, stem and all, 30 feet long. This pickle was entirely in green and the only adverse comment that could possibly be made was the fact that the "warts" were lacking unless the large platters graining with chicken and the other good things, including Heinz 57 varieties, might represent these barnacle things that the gherkin is heir to.

The tables were beautifully decorated in green and yellow, with large bouquets of yellow dahlias the largest flowers obtainable being secured. At each cover was laid a beautifully printed program showing the memorial statue to the late Mr. Heinz printed in copper ink; also in bold relief a sower sowing seed; a school room where children are taught; a shepherd herding his sheep; a reaper cutting grain with a scythe; and a panoramic picture of an industrial plant nestling on a river bank. These emblems are all done in copper, while the other embellishments are in pale blue. Besides the festooning of flags, palms and potted plants filled every available niche in the banquet hall. At each cover lay a biography of the late H. J. Heinz, a book of 132 pages, containing a cut of the founder, and a description of his life from boyhood to the close of his career, when death took him at the age of 75 on May 9, 1919. The books, 230 in number, were presented one to each guest.

The employees and guests as well appreciate the wonderful work done by manager Hoover in staging this banquet. In uniqueness the banquet hall surpassed anything ever before attempted here, and as far as the Holland end is concerned, nothing was left undone to make the festivity an unusually pleasant one.

NEW COUNTERFEIT $50 CERTIFICATE BEING CIRCULATED

The United States Treasury department warns the public of two new counterfeit bills which have been recently thrown upon the exchange and have been checked.

One is a fifty dollar gold certificate issued for the series of 1922. The description is as follows: Check letter "B"; plate number 11; H. V. Speelman, register of the U. S.; portrait of Grant. The bill is printed from photomechanical plates of excellent workmanship on genuine paper obtained by bleaching the printing from one dollar bill. The general appearance of the face is that of a washed bill, owing to the bleaching process. The letter work and portrait of Grant, however, are well executed, except that in the hair and head of the portrait white spots appear, denoting the failure to reproduce the fine hair lines. The back of the bill is not the right color, the shade being red rather than the golden yellow of the genuine.

Another five-dollar counterfeit is reported. The bill is of poor workmanship and should not deceive the ordinary careful handler of money. It is drawn on the Federal Reserve bank of Cleveland, O.; Check letter "F"; plate number blurred; A. W. Mellon, secretary of the treasury; Frank White, treasurer of the U. S.; portrait of Lincoln.

Heinz Company. To Broadcast the address of President Coolidge, special telephone connections were made between Washington, D. C., and the banquet hall in Pittsburgh.

GAME AND FISH MEN PROTEST G. R. BILLS

It was evident from the large number of fishermen who gathered at the City Hall Monday evening that they were vitally interested in the proposed fish law changes voted for at the fish congress at Grand Rapids last week. While some of the suggestions made by this congress were very meritorious, the vote taken by members of the Holland Game and Protective association, demonstrates that Holland will do all in its power to prevent laws being passed at Lansing in January that will impose a rod tax on all fishermen of $1.50 annually, and also to prevent the second proposed measure of closing this lake and all lakes in Michigan to fishermen from January 1st until June 15th.

Holland fishermen are unalterably opposed to these two proposed laws, as was shown when more than two hundred fish-fans present voted to work against the passing of any such legislation.

It was decided to pick a strong legislative committee selected from members of the organization not alone but from among other citizens in Holland and Ottawa county as well. This committee will go to Lansing to foster fair fish legislation but will endeavor to prevent laws such as the two proposed from being passed.

There were many fishermen at the meeting who voiced their protests, among them being Wm. Visser, Andrew Klomparsen, George Bender, Dr. Waltz, Peter Smith, Gerard Cook, Peter Lieveens, Jake Lieveens, Gene Goudeau and others. Representative Kooyers was also present and stated that he was decidedly opposed to the two measures as suggested. He stated that it was not the first time that a rod tax bill was presented to the legislature. He contended, however, that when the bill did come up there was so much opposition that the measure was never reported out of committee. If it had, it would have been snowed under in the house. Mr. Kooyers felt that the sentiment had not changed much since that time but thought it would be well to watch fish legislation more closely. He also stated that he would keep the officers of the Holland Game Protective association fully informed on all proposed legislation and when such matters would be likely to come up. He stated that he would be especially watchful when bills came up that were of vital importance not alone to Holland and the resort district but to all lake port towns as well.

Frank B. Salisbury of Grand Haven, deputy state game warden, was in Muskegon Saturday to attend a meeting of Muskegon sportsmen, as a representative of the Michigan department of conservation. The meeting was called by a group of about 40 Muskegon sportsmen to discuss the plans for stopping the spearing of fish through the ice during the cold months.

At the present time the state law permits the spearing of any fish through the ice with the exception of trout and black bass. Thus many game fish are taken by spears and sportsmen believe that the sport is being spoiled. At the meeting Saturday the majority of the sportsmen present were in favor of closing Muskegon county waters to fish spearing.

A similar move is being discussed by many of the fishermen in Ottawa county, where spearing thru the ice has been done rather extensively in the past, Mr. Salisbury contends.

HOPE STUDENTS ARE PLACED ON THEIR HONOR

A new honor code has been drafted by the Hope student council. The president of the four college classes, a representative of the preparatory department and one faculty member will constitute a committee to adopt or reject the measure.

The maximum penalty for conviction will mean expulsion from college and the minimum penalty will mean failure in the subject for the student.

The code provides that if suspicions exist that violations are committed in the class room the offenders will be given a warning and if they persist they will be summoned before the prosecutor for trial, which will be private. The offenders are entitled to counsel.

A section of the code provides that every student sign a pledge that no assistance has been given or received in all examinations and quizzes as well as all work performed outside of the class room. Failure to sign the pledge will be considered a violation.

BUSINESS CHANGE TAKES PLACE IN ZEELAND

During the past week another noteworthy business change in Zeeland took place, when Martin Langus purchased the William Diemer property located adjacent to the city hall on the west. Mr. Langus expects to begin the erection of a new business building on the lot either this fall or next spring. This will prove another decided improvement on Zeeland's Main street.

A reception for the students of Western Theological Seminary was given Friday evening by Dr. Henry Hoppers, who occupies the seminary chair of Hebrew, at his fine home on twelfth street. More than a hundred guests were present, including, besides thirty-nine students and their guests, several of the special friends of the seminary. The guests were very pleasantly entertained by the seminary quartet, which rendered several humorous but harmonious numbers. Mr. J. Dosker, of Grand Rapids, gave the address of the evening, a homely, inspirational talk which was much appreciated by everyone present. Good music was again forthcoming when Miss Nettie, of the college, sang some of the songs of old Ireland.

After the program the guests drifted into more or less informal groups and, while refreshments were served, carried on conversations which, judging from the mirth evidenced, were very much enjoyed.

Mrs. L. Stanton of Muscatine, Ia., is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Ben Metzger, 443 College avenue.

HAS TWO BIG FIRES IN A FEW WEEKS

The Meyering family, living a mile and a half south and a mile west of Graafschap, has been followed by a fire jinx the last few weeks. About four or five weeks ago the house of Henry Meyering burned down and on Monday night at about 8 o'clock the large barn of his son, Clarence Meyering, twenty rods away from the site of the burned house went up in flames. The burning down of the house was due, it is supposed, to a defective chimney, but it is not known what caused the fire that destroyed the barn Monday night.

A very large number of people soon gathered at the farm when the fire became visible for many miles around Monday night and it was due to the presence of these people that the house of Clarence Meyering was saved. One man jumped into the well and filled the buckets with water as they were lowered to him. Others carried the buckets to the house where still other men on the roof kept the shingles wet. Palls of water were also dashed against the siding and so the house was kept protected against the intense heat from the blazing barn.

The barn however was completely destroyed, as were the granary, a shed, corncrib and other outbuildings. About all that was saved was a motor truck and a little farm machinery. In the barn was stored all the season's hay and straw. Mr. Meyering had some time ago threshed the season's crops of grain and over a thousand bushels of grain was destroyed by the flames.

The barn that was burned Monday night is reported to be fairly well insured, although the insurance will not cover the loss completely, it is said. The house that went up in flames a few weeks ago was only partly covered by insurance.

COMMUNICATION

Editor—
I enclose copy of letter received on Monday night from Circuit Judge Neil E. Reid, of Mt. Clemens, who has been aiding the grand jury investigation in this county. The investigation closed on Saturday of last week, and at its close Judge Reid wrote me the letter referred to.

On Friday I appeared before the Judge and asked him that I might be heard relative to the accusations made against me, and his letter is in response to that request. I believe the public will be interested.

A large number of witnesses have appeared before the grand jury, including, I believe, everyone that could possibly claim to have any knowledge concerning me, and this letter from the judge with whom I am not personally acquainted, but who is a man of wide experience, should and no doubt will put an end to all the wild rumors that have been so detrimental to law enforcement during the last few weeks.

Yours very truly,
FRED T. MILES,
Prosecuting Attorney.
The enclosure follows:—
Clerk's Office of Ottawa County
Grand Haven, Michigan.
October 11, 1924.

Hon. Fred T. Miles,
Holland, Mich.
Dear Sir:—

In reference to your request to be heard in the Grand Jury proceedings and to be permitted to give testimony therein, I desire to say that no believable testimony from any source that ought to be regarded as reliable has been given against you; and that it is not necessary that you give testimony in explanation of any testimony given.

I feel convinced by the showing thus far made that you have been an able and efficient officer, and that your work in the future should not be handicapped by any suspicion that you have fallen short of doing your duty.
(Signed) Neil E. Reid,
Circuit Judge.

The Beechwood P-T club met Friday evening with a large audience in attendance. The finance committee announced they would hold an auction sale some time in Nov. A very good program was given after the business meeting: song by the audience, dialogue by the first grade children, piano and cornet duet by Mr. and Mrs. Von Ins, exercise by twelve boys, reading by Mrs. Ralph Gunn, who responded with an encore. After this another duet was given by the Von Ins.

Refreshments were served by the committee.

In the beginning of Fall weather, everybody ought to be just as happy as can be. Thoughts of the coming Winter ought to bring nothing but contentment -- the realization of entire security from storm and cold.

Don't stop enjoying life when Winter begins. Why not make your home cozy and cheerful with a HOLLAND Furnace? Winter is the season for more activity, better health and added joy. The Holland-St. Louis Sugar Co. will start its plants at Holland and St. Louis on Wednesday for a 100-day beet slicing campaign. Work at the Decatur plant was started last Saturday. Mrs. Salton was taken to the home of relatives at Sparta.

De Hope, the Dutch organ of the Reformed church in America, will complete its 57th volume with next week's issue. The weekly newspaper was launched in 1866 and has been edited and published by ministers and laymen under the direction of the council of Hope college. Rev. Peter J. Ogel was the first editor. Next to the De Grondwet now 65 years old, De Hope is the oldest paper in Holland. The Holland City News was established on Feb. 23, 1872 and is now in its 53rd year.

Rev. and Mrs. Gerrit Van Peursen, missionaries on furlough from Arabia, visited at Hope College on Thursday. Both gave short addresses at the chapel exercises. Accompanying them was Rev. John Van Peursen, of Zeeland, the missionary's brother.

The man arrested Tuesday for stealing $15 from H. Nyboer, who gave his name as Bill Alderink, turns out to be Joe Alderink, son of J. K. Alderink of Laketown. The wrong name does an injustice to several other Alderinks by that name. Joe Alderink is now serving a term of 30 days in the county jail.

George A. Peirgin of this city was elected chairman of the Ottawa Co. Republic Service league, launched here by State Representative Howard F. Baxter, Grand Rapids, district organizer. Jack Van Putten, Jr., honor student at Holland high school, has been awarded a two-year scholarship in Northwestern Naval academy at Lake Geneva, Wis. Van Putten won the prize for which 100 sons of officers competed in the examinations. He is a son of Capt. Jacob J. Van Putten, U. S. A., and a former resident of Holland. Rabbit and partridge seasons opened Wednesday. Warm weather during the last week has curtailed the enthusiasm of the Holland hunters. A few nimrods however have shouldered their guns. Partridge are reported as scarce in all sections of western Michigan, but rabbits, as usual, are plentiful. Rabbit hunters, however, are likely to hold off to some extent, because the bunnies are not counted as a toothsome table delicacy during warm weather. The season on woodcock also opens today, although little interest in this particular bird is found hereabouts, because of its scarcity.

In order that the Hope grid team may practice after dark, two powerful electric lights have been placed on the hill near the gym. The lights were used for the first time Thursday night and proved highly successful, the entire field being accessible for play. Hope is coming rapidly to the front in the football sport, but for years has been handicapped by lack of time for practice. With the lights this defect will be remedied and practice sessions can be carried on long after dark.

The company lost nothing according to their statement to the county sheriff's officers who investigated. A sign on the safe reading "No money in this safe, only papers valuable to this firm" evidently saved the vault from being broken. The yeggs had a sense of humor, however, for they wrote "Thanks, this saves us a lot of trouble," just below the sign. Officers have a clue as to who did the job and finger prints have been sent to Grand Rapids for classification.

"Ottawa County I believe will have as much ripe corn this year as any county in Michigan," says agricultural agent Milham. It will pay every farmer who has a good pure strain of corn to go through the field and select next year's seed supply from the stalk. By selecting from the stalk the farmers can see the height and vigor of the plant and its root system, the height and angle the ear is carried and the outstanding plants which will produce a more vigorous growth the following year. Great care should be exercised in the drying of the seed. The ideal method being to use electric welded wire cutting cross wires to make spikes upon which to impale ears. The twine method of suspending ears is also good. Any method is good which keeps ears separate allowing air to circulate all around. Ears should be hung in a barn driveway or in a corn crib where air will circulate rapidly.

Field selection of seed potatoes also pays, claims the agricultural agent, because field selection will eliminate diseased and unprofitable hills. Healthy seed of any kind will yield a greater acre return than ordinary seed.

Same Hen--Fed Differently

Ordinary "chicken feed" will make a good hen lay two eggs a week. Purina will make the same hen lay four eggs a week. So don't ask for "chicken feed." Demand Purina Chicken Chowder and Purina Hen Chow in checkerboard bags. Please do not feed Chowder without Hen Chow or Hen Chow without Chowder — to do so upsets the scientific balance and loses you extra eggs. Feed as directed on the instructions with each bag and get more eggs.

HOLLAND FIRM FURNISHES FINE CALIFORNIA HOTEL

Judging from a description of the new Senator Hotel just completed at Sacramento, California, and the picture of the exterior and interior printed in Keller's Hotel Weekly, one of the leading hotel papers in the United States, this new tavern surely is a beauty, costing nearly three million dollars.

The hotel is nestled in a grove of tropical trees and plants and has surroundings that make the northern long for sunny California.

Holland is identified with this new western enterprise thru the Komforter Kotton Company, managed by Alfred Van Duren. The local firm's part in furnishing the hotel with some of its equipment is shown in an article printed in Keller's Hotel Weekly, that paper publishing the following:

"Often has the present been referred to as the age of specializing in industry. That such is true is markedly manifest in the great business of supplying the hotel trade. Attention to the details in production of one article often has made for striking success. As an example of this one well can cite the Komforter Kotton Company of Holland, Mich., manufacturers of mattress protectors. One of this firm's latest works was equipping the new Hotel Senator at Sacramento with its products. Its mattress protector consists of two thicknesses of cloth, bleached cambric, with a filler of cotton felt. This is quilted with parallel rows of stitching, which holds the cotton filler in place, permitting washing the pad without the cotton being torn or becoming lumpy. Many hotels in all parts of the country have been equipped with this essential.

"These mattress protectors are made of all new stock, the padding being 100 per cent felted cotton, and conform to the bedding laws of all states. They are made in all shapes and sizes and are extensively used in hospitals, children's homes, state institutions, private residences and the like, as well as in hotels."

It is believed that the proposal to engage a county nurse for Ottawa county came a step nearer this forenoon as the result of an address made by Mrs. G. J. Diekema before the board of supervisors at their meeting in Grand Haven. Mrs. Diekema made an eloquent plea for a county nurse in Ottawa and at the conclusion of her speech the county solons quite lost their usual undemonstrative manner and rewarded the address with generous applause.

Mrs. Diekema spoke for fifteen or twenty minutes and told the supervisors in a straightforward and convincing way why Ottawa needs a county nurse and what such an official would mean to the health and happiness of the children of the county. She pointed out that both Holland and Grand Haven have city nurses and that both of those places are so well satisfied with the nurse system that they would not think of discontinuing it. But in spite of the fact that the two cities are supplied with nurses of their own they are ready to help support a county nurse—as well who will confine her work mostly to the rural district. In other words, the cities feel that the rural children have the same right to protection that the city children already have.

Mrs. Diekema went into the matter in some detail and gave a very convincing address. She was introduced by Chairman David Cline of Spring Lake. After her address, which was the first order of business of the morning session, the matter of the appointment of a county nurse was referred to the committee on public health which is composed of George Meyer of Grand Haven township, G. Lubbers of Zeeland township and John Y. Hulzena of Holland township. This committee will take the matter under consideration and will report before the end of the present session of the supervisors, when all the members will have a chance to vote on it.

The leading Democrats on the state ticket are scheduled to arrive in Holland at 5:15 Friday afternoon and in all probability they will be guests of the local Democrats at dinner previous to the big meeting in the evening.

The speakers are: Dean Cooley of the Engineering Department of the University of Michigan, who is known throughout the United States and some foreign countries for his ability in civil engineering and who is contesting the seat of Senator Couzens; the former warden of the state prison in Jackson; Edward Frensdorff, candidate for governor; and Harry C. White of Grand Rapids, who is a candidate for congress in the fifth district. The meeting will be in the Masonic Temple Friday evening.

Mortimer Cooley and Edward Frensdorff, who are conducting a vigorous campaign throughout the state, are usually accompanied in the various congressional districts and counties by candidates in whose counties they speak.

The Democratic state central committee is introducing a new and novel feature for out-of-door meetings. The speakers are accompanied by a special car carrying a complete loud speaking apparatus which will be set up and utilized at every point indicated for public meetings. This will enable everybody within a radius of two blocks to hear the speakers and at the same time make it possible for those speaking to conserve their strength and avoid putting their voices out of commission through extraordinary efforts to make it possible for the audience to hear. This loud speaking apparatus is in itself a large drawing card as many people are curious to see and hear its wonderful merits. By using this apparatus in the smaller cities it is almost compulsory for the entire town to listen to Democratic doctrine as expounded by Cooley and Frensdorff.

In the smaller hamlets the entire population can readily hear the speakers from their homes and offices without the necessity of doling up for the occasion.

Should an audience warrant setting up this apparatus early in the evening just to demonstrate its usefulness it may be possible to prevail upon the speakers to give the people in Holland a few minutes' talk.

The speakers arrive in Ottawa county Friday afternoon. The first stop will be in Zeeland at 2:30—one hour talk; Holland at 5:15 for evening meeting; leave Holland Saturday morning at 8:30; arrive in West Olive 8:50 for twenty minutes talk; arrive at Grand Haven 9:30 for one and one-quarter hour speech; arrive at Coopersville 11:30 for one hour talk; then into Kent county and Muskegon for night meeting.

BUY HOSIERY OF STRANGERS; GET STUNG

The Grand Haven Chamber of Commerce has taken up with affiliated organizations, through its Merchants Service Bureau, a move to apprehend the two salesmen who within the past few weeks have, apparently, defrauded a considerable number of Grand Haven residents. Hosiery is the article "sold" by these men.

It appears that reputable concerns have been misrepresented by these men. In one instance, the name of a Wisconsin manufacturer of silk hosiery was named as the firm the salesman was representing. An eastern firm was named by the other. Correspondence discloses that no such men were authorized to represent the concerns in question.

The method employed was to show a high grade of goods, priced extremely low. A deposit in cash was taken to bind the order. However the goods never arrived. The salesman in each instance has disappeared and it is certain the deposit went with him and the goods will never be received. It is thought.

A guidance to householders and others making such purchases if at all should be to make sure the salesperson is an authorized representative of the company in question. In the instance cited, the information obtained is that a blank note book was used as an order book. This should have been sufficient to warn prospective purchasers, the Chamber of Commerce feels. A salesman should at least be supplied with the regular order blank and credentials of his company.

Holland has also had some of these fake hosiery salesmen around. However, no complaints have been coming in. But then, folks are slow to tell others when they are stung, especially women folks where silk stockings are concerned. Enough complaints have come in about fake magazine salesmen to make up.

The safest rule to follow is not to buy from strangers at all. Reputable wholesalers sell to the retail trade only. They do not fill up the shelves of a local merchant and then go out in his territory and take the trade away. Anything a traveling salesman of that type may have to offer can be found in our local stores in larger quantities.

When you buy from your local merchant you are making a safe buy, you are purchasing from a man you know and if the goods are not right, he will make them right. When you buy from a local merchant you are buying from a man who pays taxes here, who helps support your churches, schools, and other civic interests. You are aiding a man who helps carry the load of taxes and service required to carry on in your city.

It had been decided by the Holland Poultry Association to hold a very important meeting Thursday evening at the city hall and Secretary Edward Brouwer had arranged for a speaker on that evening, but Wednesday morning he received word that the speaker could not be here.

The meeting for that reason will not be held but Secretary Brouwer will give due notice through the local papers as to just what time the next meeting will be called.

The plans are to make the next meeting a rousing one, for preparations must be made for the 25th anniversary show. This involves not only a large exhibition but an extraordinary program. No doubt souvenirs of the celebration and other things to commemorate the quarter century celebration will be issued.

For a poultry exhibit of that sort a big building must be secured and it is expected that at the next meeting all these details will have been worked out, and the directors of the organization, the president and secretary, will have definite plans to announce to the members of the association. Holland and vicinity should get behind this organization and aid it in its quarter-centennial celebration.

The Holland Poultry Association has had its ups and downs during these last 25 years but today it is on a more solid footing than ever before. It is really the Holland Poultry Association that put the "chick in chicken," for the poultry business wasn't much 25 years ago. Today lower Ottawa is the poultry center of Michigan and the Holland Poultry Association, that had its inception 25 years ago, was the starting point of this poultry development.

Those poultrymen that haven't become members should hasten to join, for there is a great deal of poultry information that can be obtained for the asking through this source that will result in money-making for the poultry man. The time is very auspicious to join the Holland Poultry Association on its 25th anniversary.

George H. Edwards, 49, well known farmer living at Edwards Crossing, about a half mile from Hanley, Ottawa county, was killed Monday in front of his home when the car was hit by a Holland Interurban. The car and its occupant were carried for nearly 115 feet along the tracks before the interurban came to a stop.

Edward's mother, Mrs. Sophia Edwards, 70 years old, was standing in the yard and saw the train bear down on Edwards. Contrary to his usual custom, Edwards is said to have failed to come to a stop before crossing Monday.

The interurban was going at a moderate rate of speed on the uphill grade and sounded its whistle just before the accident. The operator, however, could not see Edwards' machine as his view was obstructed by the house.

The body was taken to the undertaking rooms of L. L. Hildreth in Grandville after Coroner Bursma had investigated and reported there would be no inquest. Coroner Brusse of Holland was also called to the scene of the accident.

Edward was a single man and lived on the farm with his mother. Besides his mother, he is survived by a brother, Loren, of Wayland, and a sister, Mrs. Bertha Parr, of Byron township.

Funeral services were held at the Hanley Methodist Episcopal church at 2 o'clock Wednesday. Interment was in the Hanley cemetery.

Two delightful plays, carrying one back to the latter part of the 18th century in English life, were the feature of Tuesday's W. L. C. meeting.

Beautiful stage effects were achieved, and the interpretation of the exquisite lines and interesting characters of the plays was most artistic. "The Beau of Bath," showed Christmas night in the life of the Beau members.

when, aged and alone, he yearned for the delights and triumphs of his earlier years. Mrs. E. Moore played the Beau and Mrs. C. Bergen the Lady of the Portrait.

"The Silver Lining" depicted the attitude of the eighteenth century toward women entering the profession of literature. Fanny Burney had just had her first novel, "Evelina," accepted, but was afraid to let it be known that she was the author. When her uncle made the discovery he upbraided her for so bringing disgrace upon the family, but later, learning that she had received two hundred pounds for the book, he shrewdly concluded that when a "Bluestocking" has a silver lining, it should not be discouraged. Mrs. George Pelgrim interpreted the character of Fanny Burney and Miss Ethel Dykstra of Richard Burney, the uncle.

Mrs. J. Rhea and Mrs. J. DenHerdard gave stimulating reports of their attendance at the State Federation meetings at Petoskey. They praised highly the hospitality shown them in that city. Individual responsibility was the keynote of the meetings, and one's responsibility in various fields of work was pointed out by the many able speakers.

The musical part of the program was pleasing. Miss Ruth Keppel, accompanied by Mrs. A. C. Keppel, played "Valse Triste," by Sibelius, and "The Bee," by Schubert. Mrs. A. A. Visser sang "Three Ghosts," by Warford, and "Called Away," by Bassett. She was accompanied by Mrs. E. DePree.

Mrs. Helen C. Clarke of Sunnycrest was introduced to the club and explained the aim of her school.

The club went on record as endorsing the county nurse proposition. Mrs. Vande Riety announced a rummage sale to be held Saturday, Oct. 25, by the second, third and fourth divisions.

The people of the Methodist church in Holland are glad that Rev. J. C. De Vinney has been returned to the local congregation by the conference of that denomination and on Thursday evening they will show their appreciation by giving a reception at the church for Mr. De Vinney and his family. The reception will be in the nature of a 6:30 potluck supper. After that there will be a musical program and a social hour.

Mr. De Vinney has been in Holland for a two year period and has been extremely successful in leadership of the local congregation. He has initiated many things of value in the congregation and both pastor and congregation were pleased that their connection was not severed by the conference.

William Hiemenga and William Ebb who have been conducting a rug and carpet washing establishment for the past three years at 450 College avenue, have dissolved their partnership. Mr. Hiemenga, in taking over the business, has decided to build an up-to-date new building on West 17th street and will install the latest machinery to be in position to wash everything from a Persian rug to a rag carpet.

The name of the new firm will be The Holland Carpet and Rug Laundry.

The October meeting of the Home Missionary Society of the Methodist Church was held Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Sawyer, 75 W. 9th St. There was a large attendance and the meeting was enthusiastic and full of interest. Devotions were in charge of Mrs. J. Rank, assisted by Mrs. J. C. De Vinney and Mrs. C. Gross. The first chapter of the study book, "Adventures in Brotherhood," by Dorothy Gules, was made very interesting as outlined by Mrs. Elsie Gunn. Four young ladies presented a missionary playlet entitled "No Room," and Mr. S. Harris sang a solo.

Mrs. J. C. De Vinney was elected a delegate to attend the fortieth annual conference meeting of the Woman's Home Missionary of the Methodist church, to be held at Manistee, Nov. 4, 5, 6, and 7. The committee and jellies had been sent to the Al reported that a barrel of canned fruit drich Deaconess and Esther Home in Grand Rapids. Several new names were added to the membership roll. Mrs. J. E. Lewis group of ladies served delicious refreshments.

Fred Fairbanks, aged 35, years, two months, 16 days, passed away at 11 o'clock Friday morning, October 10, 1924, at his home three miles south of Holland. He leaves besides a host of sorrowing friends, his wife, Minnie, and two children, Francis and Helen, his father Frank Fairbanks, two brothers, Steven and John and one sister, Mrs. Wm. Schultema. Funeral services will be held Monday at 12 o'clock at the home and 1 o'clock at the Ebenezer Reformed church. Interment were at the Graafschap cemetery.

Mr. Fairbanks was caught in a tractor two weeks ago and died as a result of lockjaw.

Following two hearings, a coroner's jury late Monday afternoon came to the decision that "careless driving and excessive speed" caused the automobile accident on M-11, north of Ferysburg, Oct. 4, in which Clarence Field of Muskegon, father of two small children, was killed.

According to testimony, the car in which Field was riding, which also contained Timothy Rouman and Benjamin Strong of Muskegon, was crowded into the ditch by a car driven by Ralph Doughty of Muskegon, and containing Renata Loescher, owner of the car, and Richard Morse and Jacqueline Marshall.

The car driven by Doughty was traveling at 50 miles an hour, witnesses said.

The men's adult Bible class of the First Reformed church held its quarterly meeting in the parlors of the church Monday evening. Bert Slagh, president of the class, presided. There were 64 present. Reports of committees were given and they showed the class to be in a flourishing condition.

Dr. Henry Hoopers of the Western Theological Seminary gave the address of the evening, his subject being, "The Historicity of the Narrative of the Fall." After the meeting proper a social hour was enjoyed and refreshments were served.

The anxiously awaited new city and county directory will be delivered to the subscribers next Monday, according to word received Tuesday from the publishers, O. L. Blodgett & Co. The information for the new directory was gathered last spring by a corps of workers under the direction of O. L. Blodgett of Lansing and local people have been asking frequently as to when the new volume would be out. It takes time however to compile such a book and the book comes only about two weeks later than it was promised last spring when the work was undertaken.

The new volume will be a directory of Holland, Grand Haven, Zeeland, Coopersville, Spring Lake, and the villages and rural directories of Ottawa county.

Little Ruth-Doris Ringleberg was the victim of a strange automobile accident early Monday morning. The little girl is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Ringleberg of Grand Haven. The family left Kalamazoo in their car at about six o'clock Monday morning for the trip home.

When just outside of Kalamazoo, the little girl attempted to close the door of the sedan which had not been fastened. The car was running at a speed of about thirty miles an hour at the time and a gust of wind suddenly caused the door to swing open. The child was pulled out of the car and fell to the roadside.

Fortunately she landed in soft earth, but none-the-less sustained injuries and bruises. She was taken into the car and hurried home to Grand Haven. She was examined by a physician and it was discovered that her collar bone had been broken.

DID ROBBING ON BIG SCALE; IS CAUGHT

A man was caught in Paw Paw who believed that as long as he was going in for a life of robbery anyway he might as well do it on the grand scale. The sheriff's department received word that he had confessed to stealing 400 gallons of kerosene and 100 gallons of motor oil from the W. W. Oil company, located near the Grand Haven bridge in Holland. That is how he got connected with local affairs, but that robbery is only one of some fifty or so charges lodged against him. He has, by his own confession, broken into so many places that if he is to serve time for all it will be a hundred years or more before the Ottawa county authorities get a chance at him.

His name is Anthony Chapman and his aliases are Paul Chapman, Rex Chapman, and Rex Stokes. He has been seen in Holland more than once driving an Essex coach. He robbed the W. W. Oil Co. a few weeks ago and officers have been working on the case ever since. Thursday Deputy Sheriff Vander West went to Paw Paw and Chapman revealed to him where the stolen oil in ten oil drums was hidden. He described it as about three miles out of South Haven. Investigation proved this correct and Friday the deputy brought the goods to Holland and back to the owners.

Chapman has served time in Joliet. He is 24 years old. He is said to have confessed to numerous "jobs," among them the theft of a four-ton truck with a load of furniture on it in Jackson. He was also charged with stealing several radio outfits, breaking into grocery stores. When caught by the Paw Paw authorities he was in the act of breaking into a filling station. He also confessed that he was building a hoist with which he expected to hoist safes bodily out of buildings. He was going into the business on a big scale, according to his confessions. Since landing in jail he has twice tried to make his escape; once he had removed six bricks and once he had nearly sawed off a bar in his cell.

HOLLAND WOMAN HEADS MISSION SOCIETY

Mrs. Christine Van Raalte Gilmore was re-elected for her twenty-sixth year as president of the Reformed church's Woman's Missionary union, comprising the classes of Muskegon, Grand Rapids and Holland, at the annual conference held Thursday in Second Reformed church at Zeeland.

Mrs. John A. Dykstra of Grand Rapids was re-elected first vice president. Mrs. John Van Peursem of Zeeland was elected second vice president to succeed Mrs. Menning of Grand Rapids and Mrs. Anthony Karremans of Muskegon was elected third vice president to succeed Mrs. M. J. Duven of Vriesland. Mr. E. J. Biekking of Holland was re-elected secretary and Mrs. John N. Trompen of Grand Rapids, treasurer. Bethany Reformed church, Grand Rapids, was selected as the place for next year's conference.

The number of societies reported totaled 3,678. The amount collected during the year was $19,300.

SOME DOG FIGHT, THIS

FOOT BALL GAME
The Grand Rapids Herald compares the Grand Haven foot ball team with a bunch of terriers, when it says:

"Did you ever see a perky, plucky fox-terrier bristle up to a massive mastiff—and almost get away with it? That's what little Grand Haven did to big Grand Rapids South here today. Sure, the terrier got a trouncing 40 to 14—but the mastiff experienced some worried moments."

U. S. BUILDS TEN BOATS TO CHASE BOOZE RUN- NERS AT BENTON HARBOR

The first of ten powerful cutters constructed for Uncle Sam's use was launched without ceremony at the Dachel Carter Boat company slip in the Benton Harbor ship canal. The cutters will be used for chasing rum runners on the great lakes and Atlantic coast. The Benton Harbor concern received the contract to build fast cruisers for service in the "dry" navy. The rum runners are 75 feet in length and 14 foot beam. The speed capacity of each will be twenty miles an hour. They cost $35,000 each.

FIND $800 ON DEAD BODY OF ALLEGAN MAN

A neatly wrapped bank roll containing $800 was found in the pockets of Clinton Calvin, 75, whose body was found in a secluded spot along the Kalamazoo river near Allegan Saturday afternoon. Frank Dunkley was hunting for fish worms when he discovered the aged man's body. Calvin had lived at the City hotel in Allegan for years. It is believed he died of natural causes in one of his frequent solitary walks up and down the river amid scenes of his boyhood days. Funeral services were held Tuesday morning. Burial was at Monterey.

Last Thursday evening 35 members of Erutha Rebekah staff motored to Grand Rapids and were the guests of Sunlight Rebekah lodge No. 62. At 7 o'clock a bountiful banquet was served by the entertaining lodge, one of the main features being a gorgeous cake with the words "Holland Team" inscribed upon it. The presentation speech being made by Etta M. Smith, Secretary of the Rebekah Assembly of Michigan. Her words were an inspiration and were full of praise of which any lodge might feel proud. The banquet was followed by the regular meeting of Sunlight lodge and the Holland team conferred the Rebekah Degree on a class of 8 candidates.

Grand Rapids lodgers are very enthusiastic about the work of our local team, there being about 400 members of that vicinity to witness the work. Past President and present Secretary Etta M. Smith and Warden Stella McClymont of the Rebekah Assembly of Michigan were also honor guests.

Mrs. W. M. Tappan was numbered among the Grand Rapids visitors Friday.

Mrs. A. M. Galentine and daughter Marcelle were visiting in Grand Rapids Friday.

HAMILTON COUPLE MARRIED 56 YEARS

Mr. and Mrs. Benj. LaBarge of Hamilton quietly observed the sixty-fifth anniversary of their wedding, Thursday, in their home. The marriage ceremony took place in Caledonia, Kent county, Oct. 9, 1859. Both were born in the state of New York. Mrs. LaBarge, whose maiden name was Amelia Williams, was born in Cayuga county, Dec. 16, 1841, and Mr. LaBarge was born, Nov. 15, 1836, in Franklin county. Five children were born to the couple but only one is now living, a daughter, sixty-three years of age, who resides in Pasadena, California. Mr. LaBarge came to Grand Rapids in 1844 and there learned blacksmithing, the trade which he followed until retirement some years ago. Some time before the Civil war he removed to Caledonia, Oct. 7, 1862, he enlisted in company E, 21st Michigan infantry, and served until his discharge, Aug. 22nd, 1865. Mr. LaBarge is the only surviving member of Hamilton chapter G. A. R. That he is still loyal to the cause for which he fought, and to his companions in arms, is shown by the fact that on Wednesday last week, though nearly eighty-eight years of age, he went to Grand Rapids, unattended, to be present at a reunion and banquet of his regiment in the Pantiind hotel. Mr. and Mrs. LaBarge have resided in Hamilton more than forty years and are very much respected. Though both have considerably outlived the allotted period of three score and ten years, yet they are enjoying exceptionally good health and are unusually active for people of such advanced age. Mr. LaBarge is seen every day on the street with his shopping basket. He takes personal care of his lawn and of a garden in which he raises his supply of vegetables. They have a pleasant and well-kept home the housekeeping all being done by themselves.

RETIRED LIFE SAVER IN CRIMINAL CONDITION

Word has been received in Holland of the very serious illness of Captain Jacob Van Weelden, former captain of the Macatawa life saving station, in the marine hospital in Chicago. Captain Van Weelden was taken ill with tonsillitis over a week ago and was then taken to the hospital. The toxins of the tonsillitis spread through his system and as a result he is in a critical condition. Mrs. Van Weelden spent several days at his bedside last week and after coming home for a brief visit left again Sunday night for Chicago.

Captain Van Weelden retired from the life saving service last year after more than thirty years in the service. He came to Holland and has been living here since.

ALLEGAN MAN HELD FOR CHICKEN STEALING

A number of farmers in Allegan county have reported thefts of chickens. In some instances 100 fowls have been taken.

In the arrest of William Scherer, 40, of Monterey township and Leo Meek, of 20, of Kalamazoo, but formerly of Monterey, Allegan authorities believe the solution to a number of the cases is at hand.

Both men were arraigned before Justice Fish Saturday. Scherer's examination was set for Oct. 20. In default of $1,000 bail he was remanded to the county jail. Meek waived examination and was bound over to the circuit court. His bail was set at $500.

BOUGHT INSURANCE STOCK; IS SORRY

An interesting tale of modern sales methods is set forth in the plea of the defendant in the case of the Pennsular Fire Insurance Co. vs. A. G. Schultz in the Allegan circuit court. Suit was commenced on a promissory note claimed to have been signed by defendant, for $1,500, dated Oct. 29, 1921, due in six months. The defendant charges that the salesman claimed that the insurance company was a successful business, that it was managed by men of means and of business success, that it had a surplus equal to its stock, and that was why he was selling stock of a par value of $25 for $50; that the stock was worth $82.50 and was paying a dividend of ten per cent which would soon be more; that defendant was getting a bargain and could not have had it were it not for the fact that there happened to be a small block of stock unsold; that he could give his note at seven per cent and get ten per cent on the stock, and the dividends would possibly be large enough to cover the note before it had to be paid; that the state of Michigan stood back of the insurance company and the investment was as safe as Liberty bonds—and various other statements calculated to make the purchaser believe here was the opportunity of a life time. But, continues the defendant, various and sundry of these statements were not true, and the company was not doing a thriving business but only selling its stock. He claims that it was capitalized at $1,000,000, but on account of its bad financial condition the insurance department assumed control and cut the capitalization to $200,000. Its surplus he charges was badly impaired, it was not a good investment, and there was no reasonable prospect that it would be able to pay dividends for a long time. Moreover, and as a final reason for not paying the note, he says they do not have stock unsold which they can deliver to him for his note.

TWENTY MEN MADE POSSIBLE GIRLS' SCHOOL

Public interest is growing in the Sunnycrest School for Girls that was recently established in the beautiful Poole home on the park road and local citizens are beginning to see the potentialities in such an institution. And as the general public is learning to appreciate what this institution may mean for Holland it is in point to reveal the names of the men who made this institution possible for this community. A group of local men got back of the situation and it was through their influence and backing that the institution was enabled to come here.

These men are: Carl E. Gschwind, A. H. Landwehr, E. G. Landwehr, G. J. Diekema, Con De Pree, Henry F. Zwemer, Frank Dyke, Wm. C. Vandenberg, John Vanden Berg, Jr., Walter C. Walsh, Dick Boter, Jacob Lokker, Jacob De Pree, H. Boone, Frank Bolhuis, Raymond Visscher, Henry Pelgrim, W. H. Beach, Dr. Wm. Westrate, and G. John Koolker.

The work of organizing the school has not yet been completed but it will be finished as soon as some members of the board of trustees, now absent, return. In the meantime the work of the school itself is getting into its full stride and the school will soon be ready for more pupils.

The board of trustees is composed of the following: Mrs. A. H. Landwehr, Mrs. Irene Bally, Butterfield of Detroit, Helen O. Clarke of Holland, Con De Pree, Carl Gschwind, Mrs. S. C. Rowson of Grand Rapids, and Henry Zwemer of Holland.

Helen Clarke is president and general manager and G. J. Diekema is legal counsellor of the institution. The financial secretaries are Mrs. Mary Frances Boam of St. Joseph and Mrs. Mary Langdon Clark of Holland. Officers are to be named by the board of trustees at an early meeting.

The Sunnycrest School for Girls admits pupils from 6 to 12 years old and applicants must be normal mentally and physically. The work receives no state appropriation but is supported almost entirely by contributions of friends of girls.

OTTAWA FARMER GOT A CHECK FOR $9,100

The Berlin Farm Bureau Association has been carrying on an extensive business under the management of James Egan, Jr., having handled 25,000 bushels of wheat since August 1. One farmer who had a large acreage of wheat received from the association a check for over $9,100 in payment for the crop. This is the largest check issued to a farmer in that territory and probably stands as a record for the entire county.

Seven carloads of fertilizer have been entirely sold for the fall seeding and more has been ordered. Coal is rolling in regularly and a hundred tons of sales a week is ordinary business.

MEN'S CHORUS TO BE ORGANIZED IN HOLLAND

A men's chorus is to be organized in Holland and the initial step was taken Monday forenoon at a meeting attended by six local music lovers. Those present at the meeting were: G. Cook, H. Cook, R. Van Lente, J. Ter Beek, John Vanderaals, and H. Wilson.

H. Cook, J. Ter Beek and John Vanderaals were appointed as a membership committee and all persons interested in a movement of this kind, and wishing to join the prospective organization are asked to apply to any one of these three men as soon as possible.

The membership will naturally be limited as too large a chorus would be unwieldy. It is proposed to limit it to fifty men. These will organize, elect officers and meet once a week for practice, probably under the direction of J. Jans Helder. It is proposed to give a concert some time during the winter or next spring.

LOCAL MAN FOUND LYING NEAR PHONE

At one o'clock today Chief Van Ry received an anonymous telephone call stating that Mrs. Carl Bigge wished to see him at her home, 139 East 18th street, that something had happened there. Mr. Van Ry jumped into an automobile, got to the Bigge home, but found everything locked. Thinking that the call was a fake call such as the police so often receive, Mr. Van Ry was about to return, when others who apparently got similar calls, came upon the scene and at that time Mr. Van Ry began to imagine that something really was wrong. With a skeleton key he opened the front door and underneath the telephone with the receiver hanging down by the cord, lay Carl Bigge, local insurance man, breathing heavily.

Noticing the man in agony Mr. Van Ry called up Dr. Tappan and Dr. Nichols who came immediately and started strenuous resuscitation methods, and the patient responded to the work.

At the time of going to press at three o'clock Mr. Bigge was living and his respiration was much better, although he was not conscious and could not say what caused his condition.

It is understood that Mrs. Bigge was in Grand Rapids at the time, and shortly before one o'clock Mr. Bigge called his wife's sister at Grand Rapids, and asked for Mrs. Bigge. Instead Mrs. Bigge herself answered the phone. Mr. Bigge began to speak, but never finished what he had to say, apparently having fallen to the floor where he was found by the local police and several friends.

Mrs. Bigge at once surmised that something was wrong at the house, and rushed to Holland in an automobile, arriving shortly before 2 o'clock. The doctors are at a loss from the examination to know just exactly what caused Mr. Bigge's condition.

A further provision of the proposed amendment which merits careful consideration since this accident occurred and was taken out for an automobile ride Tuesday. He will soon be in condition to resume his insurance work in Holland.

COLLEGE PLAYERS TO HAVE SHEEP LINED COATS

The members of the Hope college football squad will have sheeplined coats with the college monogram sewed on them at the next game that the team will play. The coats were made possible by a fund of $276 that was donated by 45 Holland men. The monograms are now being sewed on the coats and when the next game is played the boys will be out in all the glory of brand new coats.

IS FEATURED IN PHILADELPHIA PAPER

Miss Jennie Oostema, 39 E. 9th street, has received a copy of the pictorial section of the Philadelphia paper showing Rev. James Oostema in the act of laying the cornerstone of a beautiful new Baptist church at the corner of 50th and Spruce streets. Rev. Mr. Oostema spent his boyhood here and is well known here.

DUCK BAG QUOTA THIS YEAR IS 15

Reduction of the duck bag law to 15 ducks a day and shortening the season by an October 1st opening is to be sought by the state conservation commission, following a conference with representatives of various state sportsmen's associations.

Until the present the duck season has opened September 15. The bag allowed has been 25 ducks a day. Decreasing number of ducks and the need for greater protection was brought out at the conference.

The commission also proposes to locate a wild duck refuge in the center of St. Clair Flats. The Flats are considered an ideal spot.

The state of Michigan has been very good to the voters. During the summer a three months' period was given to re-register under the law, then after a short lapse of a few weeks, six weeks longer was given.

But the time for re-registration will come to an end next week Saturday, October 18, at 8 o'clock. If you haven't re-registered by that time, all hope to vote for a president this fall is over. There is no excuse, however, for any voters to fail to register, for surely plenty of time was given.

If you haven't re-registered up to this time, call on city clerk Overweg, at the city hall any time between 8 and 5 o'clock any day except Sunday, and next Saturday the office will be open in the evening until 8 o'clock for re-registration purposes.

The weather was certainly favorable to the Daughters of the American Revolution Thursday when they held their opening luncheon at Macatawa park. Those who approached Miss Knox's cottage through the woods had no difficulty in finding their destination for through the brilliant autumnal foliage they saw Old Glory, floating in the breeze. The cottage was beautiful, with decorative dahlias, zinnias and calliope's.

After a delicious buffet lunch a short business meeting was held. The resignation of Mrs. Howard Lary as treasurer was read and accepted with regret and Mrs. W. J. Garrod was unanimously elected to take her place. A report was given by Miss Post regarding the movie, "Lenore Ulic in 'Tiger Rose'", which is to be given at the Colonial theater, Monday and Tuesday, October 13 and 14, for the benefit of the Mission Children's Christmas supper.

Mrs. Martha Robbins gave a very interesting report of the first session of the state conference at Benton Harbor describing the beautiful building in which it was held and telling of the many activities of the D. A. R. throughout the state. Miss Florence Cotton discussed the evening session with special mention of Americanization work and Mrs. Craig C. Miller's address. She is president of the Michigan League of Women Voters and urged the D. A. R. women to vote intelligently and study civic questions. The Wednesday sessions were reported by Miss Post who emphasized Lieut. Col. L. R. Boal's address on peace through preparedness. The regent, Mrs. M. A. Clark, described the Thursday morning session and told of the work of other chapters through the state. The beautiful memorial service was described which closed a profitable and delightful meeting.

Mrs. Charles H. Mc Bride was a Grand Rapids visitor Friday.

COLD STORAGE CO'S PLANT IS NEARLY READY

The Western Michigan Packing Co's new cold storage building and power plant are almost ready for operation and in a few days the machinery will be running.

There will be service over the Pere Marquette railroad by way of a siding whereby cars can be set at the doors of the cold storage building.

Loading and unloading platforms have been provided for the receiving and delivery of fruits and produce by auto truck. These can make their approach to the plant over concrete highways entering the city from every direction.

MINISTER REPRESENTS THE OLDEST INSURANCE FIRM

No matter what some people may think of it, the Rev. H. A. Baines, of Petoskey, formerly of Allegan, has at least a unique advertisement printed on his stationery. The following is taken from his envelopes:

"Return in five days to Pastor H. A. Baines, 315 Fulton St., Petoskey, Michigan, Agent for the World's Oldest Life Insurance Co., 6,000 Years standing. God Almighty and Son, Soul Owners. Insures against hell fire. 'For God so loved the world that He gave His only Begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life. John 3:1. Insure at once.'"

AMERICA AND NOT NETHERLANDS HAS BEST DIAMOND CUTTERS

At one time all the diamonds imported into this country were cut in Holland or Belgium. It was about 50 years ago that a Hollandian named Hermann opened a diamond-cutting establishment in New York, but he did only repair work and recutting. There was another small establishment in Boston. From these small beginnings the cutting industry has grown in this country until about a thousand men are now engaged at it and they cut a good portion of the large stones sold here. Because of the high wages paid, however, nothing but stones of considerable value, where the cutting cost is comparatively small, are cut here. But the workmen are the finest in the world, and it is not infrequent that a fine stone already cut in Europe is recut here because of the superior workmanship.

NOORDELOOS MAN CELEBRATES HIS 84TH BIRTHDAY

On October 3rd at the home of Peter Heyboer at Noordeeloos, his father Mr. Philip Heyboer, the only surviving pioneer in that community, celebrated his 84th birthday in the presence of children, grandchildren and great grandchildren to the number of 64. Several fine gifts were presented to the highly respected Mr. Heyboer with a few well chosen words spoken by Mr. Peter Rokus to which Mr. Heyboer replied with words of kindness and love to all. Refreshments were served and all went home having spent a very pleasant evening.

WAUKAZOO MAN DIES IN CHICAGO

Word has been received in Holland of the sudden death of George W. Lyndon at his residence, 1720 East 56th street, Chicago. Mr. Lyndon was for many years a resident of Waukazoo during the summer months and he owned a beautiful residence there called "Lyndonhurst." He married the late Mrs. Scully, who prior to her first marriage was Miss Birkhoff.

The deceased is survived by four children: Madeline, Dudley, Marion, and George Lyndon. The funeral services were held Friday and burial took place in Forest Home cemetery, Chicago.

ZEELAND MAN MADE SECRETARY OF CHRIS. REF. SUNDAY SCHOOL ASS'N

Rev. W. B. Groen of Grand Rapids was elected president of the Christian Reformed Sunday school association of the middle west at its opening session at Kalamazoo Thursday. Rev. M. Van Vessum of Zeeland, who has been secretary of the association for 20 years, was re-elected. Delegates numbering 355 are attending the annual convention from Michigan, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois. Grand Rapids leading with 133 and Muskegon second 55. The next convention will be held in Grand Rapids in October 1925.

MAPLE SYRUP IN CRANK CASE O, WHAT A SWEET RIDE

Allegan News—Carl Ramhardt works in Otsego. He drives back and forth each day. Monday morning he discovered his car was without oil. He stopped at the home of his son, Maynard, in the Otsego road to borrow some. Maynard keeps the oil in a maple syrup can—and maple syrup too. The cans got interchanged. Carl had a sweet ride into Otsego and felt pretty stuck up about it all. So saith Maynard.

YES, YOU CAN MAKE CIDER BUT—

Yes, you can make cider of your surplus or imperfect apples without falling into the hands of a prohibition agent—but see that it doesn't "work." Hard cider is under suspicion. You can take your apples to a cider mill, as you always did. Here are the government rulings of the prohibition unit of the bureau of internal revenue which govern the subject:

"Any person may manufacture non-intoxicating cider exclusively for home use without permit. This cider may be made either at home or at a custom mill."

If it starts to work keep it working until it is vinegar or sell it to a vinegar manufacturer. Here is the rule:

"Vinegar exclusively for use in the home of the manufacturer thereof may be manufactured from cider and other fruit juices without permit as provided by Section 610. Juice manufactured for home use which has fermented and is not required for home vinegar may be sold to a vinegar manufacturer who has permit to purchase."

Complete regulations concerning the manufacture of cider—and it will be safest to get them—may be secured by applying for Regulations 60 from the federal prohibition director at your state capital or from the U. S. bureau of internal revenue, Washington, D. C.

GIVES TALK ON AMERICA'S FUTURE

Mrs. G. Huizenga entertained the W. C. T. U. this week at her home on 13th street. Mrs. A. Walvoord led the devotions and Miss Nella Tanis gave a vocal solo, "Angel Serenade," by Braga accompanied by Miss Margaret De Weerd.

Some items on the benefits of prohibition were given, followed by an address by Rev. James Wayer on "A Priceless Trust—America's Future." This was a fine subject ably handled by the speaker. He referred to great nations of the past having lost their heritage through unfaithfulness and our great responsibility to keep safely our heritage expressed in the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution. He named ignorance, indifference, aliens and lawlessness to be enemies we must fight to keep our inheritance secure. The remedy is largely in the hands of the mothers of the nation, who must strive to keep the family life sacred, train the boys and girls in religious and moral standards and use the franchise intelligently and sacredly.

The refreshment committee was Mesdames W. VanDyke, Eby, Stanton, De Haan and Hop.

October 8th being the wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Knaak, the latter entertained twelve young ladies at their home at 263 W. 19th St. in a "Hard Time" party. The guests were very appropriately garbed and considerable amusement was afforded as different gowns were inspected.

Bunco was enjoyed the early part of the evening, at which Evelyn Lordahl won high honors and Estella Mohl received the consolation prize. In the later contests Anna Van Dyke, Christine Steketee and Jeanette Yonker carried off the honors. After the buffet luncheon the girls sang and told stories until the wee small hours.

Mrs. Knaak was presented a lovely bouquet of chrysanthemums.

Five of the six men who were taken in Wednesday night's raid in Robinson township and Grand Haven demanded an examination when they appeared before Justice Den Herder Thursday afternoon for arraignment. The men are John Simonowski, John Behm, George Van Hall, Charles Du Shane and William Metzler. The other person taken in the raid, Fred Metzler, is the father of William Metzler and he seems to have been taken because the alleged bootlegging was on his property, not because he was personally implicated. It is still uncertain whether a charge will be pressed against him. The examination of the other five will take place 'the latter part of this week in the court of Justice Den Herder.

Two additional warrants were sworn out as a result of the raid of Wednesday night but only one of them has as yet been served. This was on Adam Banasak of Robinson.

The men who are in the toils already have various quantities of illicit liquor chalked up against their names. The state police had a truck with them on which they carried the goods away from the scene of the raid. Back of the names of the men the following notations appear: Simonowski, large quantity of liquor; John Behms, small quantity; George Van Hall, small quantity; Charles Du Shane, small quantity; Wm. Metzler, large amount.

When the raid was made on the place and the officials knocked at the door there was no answer. When they had broken open the door they found that part of the liquor had been emptied into the sink but that part of it was left, which they took along as evidence. A woman was pouring the liquor into the drain when the officer stopped her.

The statements made Thursday by some of the victims of the raid that it had been pulled off in some cases without search warrants were unfounded. The Grand Haven Tribune Thursday printed the following paragraph on this head:

"In a statement made this morning by prosecuting Attorney Fred T. Miles the prosecutor stated that all state police raids in this county conducted Wednesday night were made in a perfectly legal manner and that search warrants were secured in the case of every raid made. No unethical methods were used in making the raids."

Alderman Bert Slagh has the following on the proposed meat ordinance:

The newly proposed meat ordinance is certainly getting its publicity through the local papers which I deem is educational and will be profitable when thoroughly understood. I have read with care the article written by Ald. Visser the Holland City News and I think he has put the proposition before the readers in the proper light. I think also that he is justified in his contentions, namely that the proposed meat ordinance discriminates between the farmer and the so-called string butcher. I have also read Alderman Peterson's article in the same issue and by the way the chairman of the fifth is chairman of the ordinance committee.

Mr. Peterson's argument is that an ordinance gives the health department control over the string butchers and farmers which I will agree to, but what in the name of common sense is the idea of putting a complete check on the farmer, and not the string butcher? The fact that the string butcher is licensed and has a license tag on his truck does not assure us of good wholesome meat for Holland. What the six aldermen want is an ordinance that will make all meats subject to inspection the inspection being made without fear or favor.

There is still another reason why I voted against the ordinance, and that is that the license fee is too high. It would simply mean that a very few of the string butchers would take out a license and they would have a monopoly on the sale of meats in Holland and a probable raise in price would result. There is no doubt in my mind that both Aldermen Visser and Peterson are conscientious in this matter and want to pass a meat ordinance that will be a credit to the common council and a benefit to Holland.

I am convinced of the fact that if the ordinance committee will make the proposed changes, the meat ordinance will carry by a unanimous vote at the next council meeting.

Yours for good clean wholesome meat for Holland.

LOCAL

There was great revelry in the saloon of the good ship Sorosis last Friday night when its crew and their guests set sail from the port of Hope. It started with Sorosis President Van Vessom's "Ship-a-Hoy" and ended with a repeat of "Ship Biscuit." Margaret Anderson's "Steamship" was an extremely clever paper and the "Courtship" of divers countries was prettily represented. Anne Tyssie read a paper on "Friendship," while Ardeen Van Arendonk played the hero in an extreme case of "Hardship." "Sea Foam" lent variety to the program.—Hope College Anchor.

The services at the Wesleyan Methodist church, located on the corner of Pine and 17th street for Sunday, October 19, will be as follows: Prayer and praise service at 10 A. M., sermon by the pastor, Rev. G. Visser at 10:30. The choir will render special music at the morning services. The Sunday school meets at 11:45. Rev. G. Visser, pastor of the Wesleyan Methodist church announces that a children's Bible class will be held every Wednesday afternoon at 6 o'clock, while at 7:30 P. M. on Wednesday a prayer and Bible study class will be held. The children of the church and also parents are urged to attend these meetings, and a hearty welcome is also extended to all who may come.

Wednesday morning for the first time, the Grand Haven-Ferrysburg bridge was swung by power. The electricity has been installed and the apparatus connected by the city employees under C. Westes. The bridge worked well although a few minor adjustments are to be made which will complete this share of the work. City Manager Taylor stated that paving would be finished by the end of next week and that about the middle of November the opening of the new structure would be celebrated.

The committee on claims and accounts reported $3855.30 to the common council Wednesday night for the past two weeks and the committee on poor reported $155 for temporary aid. Rev. Wm. Van Vleet of Kalamazoo has declined a call extended to him by the Seventh Reformed church of Holland.

Summer Alderman Dick Steketee, local plumber was married to Mrs. Anna Klompars at the Steketee home on West 18th street, Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock, Rev. C. P. OTTAWA COUNTY TRUCK GOES TO PENNSYLVANIA AND BACK AGAIN

They carried the furniture of George Gehring to Wilkesbarre and returned with a load for Grand Rapids. The trip was made without trouble and excellent time was made.

OPERA "MARTHA" IS A GREAT FAVORITE

SINGLE ADMISSIONS FOR "MARTHA" NOW ON SALE

"Martha" given by the Aborn Opera Co. on the night of October 27 is to be well patronized, it being one of the outstanding numbers of Hope's Lecture bureau.

The first number, "The Little Symphony Orchestra" was so pleasing to the audience that a great demand is also being made to see "Martha" a number very much different, but just as good.

Single admission reservations can be made after 1 o'clock Friday at the Huizenga Jewelry store. Of course it must be understood that this does not apply to those who have course tickets, but to those who can purchase single admission tickets beginning at 1:00 o'clock Friday.

BUSY MEN'S CLUB WILL MEET IN HIGH SCHOOL

It has been decided that until further notice the Busy Men's club will meet in the gymnasium of the high school every Monday afternoon and evening. The committee has made arrangements for gym class work and also for volleyball and kindred sports.

Many business men attend these classes to get the much needed exercise that they would not get in any other way. All those wishing to join the Busy Men's club are requested to see either George Kooker at the Huizenga Jewelry company or come to the meeting Monday evening.

PROSECUTOR MILES EXONERATED BY JUDGE

RECEIVES LETTER FROM JURIST IN CHARGE OF GRAND JURY TO THAT EFFECT

Prosecutor Fred T. Miles is in receipt of a letter from Judge Neal Reid who presides over the Grand Jury proceedings in Ottawa county in which States Attorney Warner was the prosecutor.

Circuit Judge Reid states in his letter that "there is no believable testimony from any source that ought to be regarded as reliable as has been given against him."

His letter sets forth that Mr. Miles has been an efficient officer and should not be further handicapped in his duties by any suspicions on the part of any one.

Mr. Miles had written to the presiding judge asking for information on the grand jury investigation in order that he might be set aright before the people.

Just what Judge Reid says in his letter will be found in a communication on page three of this issue.

HEALTH IS LIFE

Health is the foundation upon which the best in life is built. It is the power back of happy, contented homes. It makes possible the big business successes. It manifests itself in the clear thought and execution of the world's masterpieces. Most of the great men of history had health and strength to back up their ambitions. It is health that makes youth so attractive, and it is health that makes life worth while.

Health is humanity's most Precious Possession

Without health all life falls flat. Without it there is not strength necessary to the attainment of ideals, the realization of ambitions. Without it vision is worth nothing; plans might as well not be made; homes are unhappy; and failure becomes common.

Many people have health and do not take care of it. Many others haven't health and long for it above all other things. Yet

Health is Easy to Obtain—and Easy to Keep

There is a cardinal principle to keep in mind—health depends upon the condition of the spine. If your health is not good, if you are not living life to the fullest, you may depend upon it

THERE IS A CAUSE

The Science of Chiropractic has proved that the cause in more than ninety per cent of cases of ill health and disease is pressure upon nerves. The life and impulse to normal function of every organ and cell in her body is supplied by the nerves, which transmit Nature's vital force from the brain to parts of the body. The only place where pressure can take place is in the spine. The small segments, or vertebrae, of the spine become displaced (subluxated) and press upon the delicate nerve cables as they branch out from the cord. This cuts off, or diminishes, the flow of vital force, and disease results.

The Chiropractor by palpation finds the subluxated vertebrae, and by a skillful thrust adjusts them to normal alignment. The normal flow of vital force is restored, and health results.

The Chiropractor does not treat, heal or cure. He adjusts. Innate Intelligence (Nature) cures.

We (I) will gladly explain to you the Science of Chiropractic and its remarkable results. Don't put off investigating. Live while you can.

Consultation and spinal analysis without charge.

"When you give them your contract, you know you're going to get action. They seem to know how to get things done."

"They save lots of time by cutting all the lumber in their own mills, and having their own men put up the house."

That's the kind of remarks you will hear from owners of homes built the Bolhuis way. Those homes are built according to each individual home-owner's tastes, and in the most economical manner yet known to the building industry.

LOCAL PASTORS BUILD HOUSE AND CHURCH

Holland Seventh Day Adventists, together with churches elsewhere, have the past week been celebrating the anniversary of the organization of that denomination. The half century mark has been reached and hence their jubilee celebration over the work of the church in this country as well as the advance made by foreign missionaries in other countries.

Fifty years ago the Adventists sent their first foreign missionary across the seas. He went to Switzerland. Today the denomination has sent the advent message into 115 countries.

In 1921 when the last statistical report was compiled there were 14,289 evangelistic workers who are carrying forward their message in 194 languages and dialects.

From this humble beginning, with one publication, the church now operates 51 publishing houses and branches which have a total investment of $4,221,575.72.

During the years between 1912 and 1922 the mission offering amounted to $17,553,760.91 while the contributions for all purposes during that decade amounted to $62,590,778.53 or a per capita of $39.86.

Sanitariums and hospitals have been established in the United States, England, Canada, South America, Australia, India, China, Japan, Korea, Norway, Sweden, and Africa.

The cause for the steady advancement of the Seventh Day Adventist church can be laid to the servants of the church, if the two Holland pastors are any criterion.

Rev. Walter T. Elliott, when he came here, had practically nothing to begin with, but he organized his flock and built the beautiful little church on 13th street with his own hands, assisted by his congregation.

Rev. Mr. Elliott might have sat back and served his flock today, but three years ago he left with his family for the island of Haiti where he is working amongst the natives.

Rev. Grant W. Hordford emulated the former pastor's example by building a house himself, then selling it to pay off the church indebtedness. He has also remodeled the church parsonage himself.

ASK FISH SPEAR BARRED FROM MUSKEGON LAKE

Muskegon sportsmen are seeking to ban spearing of fish in Muskegon lake. A petition will be presented before John Baird, director of conservation, when he holds a hearing at the county building Friday. The Muskegon recreation club and the Isaak Walton league are active in urging that spearing be declared illegal there. Excessive spearing in the past few years has spoiled fishing it is claimed.

The first nine months of 1924, according to figures compiled by W. H. Phillips of the United States customs office, shows a 25 per cent increase in the total number of vessels plying in and out of the Grand Haven harbor, as compared with the same period for last year. A 50 per cent increase in vessel tonnage is shown.

The total entrances for the period is 708 as compared with 558 for 1923, while the total clearances is 716 as compared with 555 in 1923. The comparison on vessel tonnage is 1,105,420 on arrival ships as compared to 928,712 for 1923 and on clearances, 1,112,557 for the nine months period this year, 924,913 being the 1923 figure.

With industry rapidly on the gain and all of Grand Haven's shops running it is figured that there is still time to make 1924 one of the city's best business years.

With six new industries added to the local list by the chamber of commerce during the past two years it is expected Grand Haven will be in the market for more labor, both skilled and unskilled, within a few weeks.

An Isaak Walton League chapter was formed in Grand Haven Monday night when 33 sportsmen and nature lovers signed cards applying for membership into the Walton League. The Waltons met in the public library there at 8 o'clock and formed their organization.

Great enthusiasm was shown in the affair and what is hoped will be a strong organization in the interests of conservation was formed. Thirty-three members are now paid in. Up-building of forests, conservation of game, fish and woodlands are the aims of the Walton League. More members are in prospect according to those who have started the organization there.

Twenty Grand Haven people who were interested previously and who are members of the Grand Rapids chapter, will be transferred to the Grand Haven organization in the near future. With the thirty-three people already in the Grand Haven chapter, this will make 53 members of the Grand Haven chapter of the Isaak Walton League. The transfer cannot be made until the charter is given the Grand Haven chapter. One hundred members is the goal set for the near future.

Plans have been formulated for the organization of an Ottawa county Republican service league. The league was fostered at a luncheon Friday at the Holland Country club house with State Senator Howard Baxter of Grand Rapids as chairman and organizer. Representatives were present from Grand Haven, Holland and Zeeland. The purpose of the league will be to attack the war records of LaFollette and Wheeler.

At the annual meeting of the chamber of commerce, of Saugatuck, the following officers were elected: President, Dr. W. B. House; vice president, Mrs. W. H. Allen; secretary, Lemuel R. Brady; treasurer, Frank Wicks. The executive committee comprises Charles Parrish, Ira Koning and E. L. Leland.

Nickie Lanning went to Grand Rapids Friday on business with a special Overland touring car.

STEALING OF CHRISTMAS TREES A THING OF PAST

In an effort to curb the increasing destruction of young evergreens on the wild lands of Michigan, the state conservation commission has offered the services of its game wardens to county treasurers for help in restraining Christmas tree thievery.

Secy. Edgar Cochran, of the commission at Lansing has written every county treasurer in the state calling attention to paragraph 4156, section 1557, compiled laws of 1915, which give the county authority to ask for restraining orders and to possess and sell for the satisfying of taxes and property that a delinquent owner or his agent may attempt to remove from such lands. Because the county treasurers have no means of learning of encroachments upon wild lands, in process of reversion to the state for taxes, the entire game warden force has been placed at their disposal.

The commission expects, with its wardens constantly in the field backed by the authority of the county treasurers, to be able to stop depredations by Christmas tree thieves and to vigorously prosecute those found stealing evergreens.

NO CAUSE FOR ACTION SAYS JUSTICE COURT JURY

A jury in Justice Fildus Fish's court at Allegan Tuesday night brought in a verdict of no cause for action in the case of Will Reeves against H. G. Wilson. Reeves claimed damages for his automobile as the result of an accident one night last July when Wilson, it was claimed, ran into his car driven by Reeves' son-in-law, Paul McGauran. Wilson claimed he was blinded by McGauran's light, only one of which was burning, while McGauran testified that he was coasting down the slight grade, well on his side of the road.

NEW YORK MAN TO START DANCING SCHOOL HERE

Harold J. Ringold of New York city is planning to open a studio of the dance arts in Holland. Mr. Ringold is from the Vestoff Serova Russian school of dancing in New York and also a pupil of Ned Wayburn, the man who has made himself famous for staging the "Ziegfeld Follies." Every type of dancing from ballroom to ballet will be taught; also clog and eccentric specialties. Special work will be devoted to making professional appearances. Mr. Ringold has spent the last few years on the stage, where he has learned the technique of stage dancing. "A big point is," said Mr. Ringold, "that dancing brings out many qualities that are inactive in the human body. Those who do not desire dancing as a means of devoting their life to this work, will find that dancing develops grace and carriage, builds one up physically and makes them popular wherever they go."

Mr. Ringold will try especially to make dancing interesting to the young men. "That it is the greatest type of muscular development cannot be disputed," said Mr. Ringold, "when we think of the marvelous physiques that Ted Shawn, Robert Quinlan, Leonard St. Leo, Alexander Yokovief, Valodin Vestoff have developed through dancing. Real masculine gestures and movements will be taught, leaving no trace of the technique that a girl demands to become beautiful and graceful. A man is always popular on the dance floor or at a recital if he has movement and grace and is not clumsy."

Mr. Ringold is planning to have a studio ready very shortly and an announcement for the opening date will be made later. Classes and private lessons will be organized for ballet, aesthetic, ball room, character work, clogging and eccentric dances to be followed each week by an assembly at which several of the advanced pupils will be given a chance to display their talent.

The Sunnycrest School for Girls, established in the building on the Poole property, is rapidly getting in shape for its season's work. There are now twelve girls in the school and one more is about to be added in a few days, a little six-year-old. Miss Minnie Beld of Zeeland has been engaged as the teacher and the day school sessions are now in full swing. While there is still much to be done to put the institution into perfect shape for capacity work, the school is gradually settling down to real work.

How the Sunnycrest School for Girls came to Holland is rather interesting. It was located at Chelsea but the building there was getting too small and Helen C. Clarke, president and general manager, was looking around for another building there. She happened to be calling with Mrs. Mary Langdon Clark, of St. Joseph, who was putting on a tag day in Holland, at the office of Carl Gschwind when Mr. Gschwind asked, "Why don't you move your school to Holland?"

Coming at a time when plans were on foot to go into another building anyway, it did not seem preposterous and Mr. Gschwind suggested Pine Lodge as the place for the school. Miss Clark looked at the place and practically decided after several visits, to take it and come here with her school. She visited Pine Lodge a number of times and was about to come to a decision when Mr. Gschwind taking note of the fact that Pine Lodge would require many alterations for a school of that kind, suggested the Poole place. A visit to the place made Miss Clark decide immediately that it was an ideal building and place for her school and she decided almost on the spot that if the place could be secured she would come to Holland with her school.

Negotiations were entered into with the owners and the whole deal was closed in about two weeks. And this is how Sunnycrest came to Holland to be added to the list of institutions in this community.

OCTOBER 17 IS DATE OF EXAMINATION

A small army of thirty officials of the state of Michigan descended upon Ottawa county Wednesday evening and made a raid on fifteen places in the northern section of the county for alleged liquor law violations. Armed with search warrants that had been prepared beforehand on information said to have been secured during several weeks of work on the part of the operatives of the state attorney general's department, they descended upon the places marked for action in five automobiles and one truck, equipped to handle any situation that might present itself.

When the raid was over in Robinson township in the community that has been the center of acrimonious controversy in this county all summer six persons were in the care of the state officers. Four of these were from Robinson township in the general neighborhood figuring in the now famous accusations of Mrs. Margie Hoen, and two from Grand Haven.

The men arrested are: William Metzler, Fred Metzler, J. E. Behm, John Simonowski, all of Robinson township, and George Van Hall and Charles Du Shane of Grand Haven. The men were taken to Holland by the state police and were lodged in the city jail here over night.

In some cases it is reported that places were searched but no arrests were made. The charge came from Grand Haven, according to reports received over the wire, that three of those who received a visit from the state police declared the search had been made without search warrants. It was not possible to secure first-hand information from members of the state officers, but it is known that they made careful preparations for the raid and were armed with many search warrants before descending upon the places to be raided.

The raid was made without the knowledge of the county sheriff's department. The sheriff's department Friday morning could furnish no information about the affair because they had not been consulted and had not taken any hand in the raid. Neither had the state officers even applied to the sheriff's department to lodge their prisoners but they took them over to Holland and had them placed in the jail here. The Grand Haven city police did not take a part in the raid either. It was exclusively a state of Michigan affair, prepared for by the state police and carried out by them.

The raid in Robinson township was staged shortly after six o'clock Wednesday night and after the work there was finished operations were transferred to Grand Haven, where the places visited were searched at about nine o'clock.

No word has come from the state officers in regard to the raid and although they are known to have been working for weeks in this county they have had nothing to say but they merely struck when they were ready. The work in Ottawa county has been under the direction of Deputy Attorney General Fred Warner.

The six men lodged in the Holland city jail were scheduled to be arraigned Thursday afternoon before Justice Den Herder.

The examination of the men taken in the liquor raids in Robinson township and Grand Haven city will be held next Friday, October 17, before Justice Den Herder of this city. The men have been released after furnishing $500 bail each, all except Charles Du Shane who could not furnish the necessary bonds.

Adam Banisiak, who was arrested Friday as the seventh victim of the raid, is awaiting sentence before the Ottawa county circuit court on an earlier charge. The officers claim to have found a gallon and a half of wine in his possession.

Further developments are expected as a result of the raid of last Wednesday but just at the moment there is a lull. Some of the men taken in the raid were subpoenaed to appear before the grand jury in session in Grand Haven but what testimony, if any, they gave, has not been made public and will not be made public until the final report of the investigation of the grand jury has been made.

How long the grand jury, which resumed its sessions Friday, will continue its work is still a question. The Grand Haven, but what testimony, if a story to the effect that it was being rumored in Grand Haven that the final testimony in the case was being taken and that the suspense that has developed throughout the county would soon be relieved by a report from the court. But no word has come from the judge himself and whether or not the rumor of adjournment is well founded remains to be seen. It is guessed by some that the raid of Wednesday night may have a considerable bearing on how long the grand jury will continue. If that raid should uncover a lead the court may be expected to follow it.

The Michigan Agricultural college through the farm engineering department, co-operating with the extension agents in each county are putting on a series of septic tank demonstrations in 11 southern counties in Michigan. Allegan is to have four of these as follows: Oct. 16, at 10 a. m., standard time, at W. J. Hoffmaster's farm, Hopkins; 3 p. m. at C. O. Gaidner's in Martin; Oct. 17, at 10 a. m., at George Bloss farm at Dunningville; at 3 p. m., E. F. Middlemas, two miles south of Chicago.

Robert Marron, 60, a widely known farmer of Allegan county died Friday morning from injuries sustained Thursday afternoon when a team of horses hitched to a corn binder, which he was oiling, bolted. The main gear wheel of the machine passed over his body. He died at John Robinson hospital.

Mrs. John Homfeld and daughter Gertrude were Grand Rapids visitors Thursday.

THURSDAY WAS ANNIVERSARY OF HOLLAND'S BURNING

Thursday, October 9, marked the 53rd anniversary of Holland's disastrous fire when the city was laid in ashes caused by a fierce forest fire to the west, when embers were swept into the city by a heavy wind.

While Holland did not mark the anniversary of the fire, Chicago did, when it opened its $5,000,000 stadium in Grant Park.

On Thursday a duplicate of the shack belonging to Mrs. O'Leary was put up in the park, and the cow kicking over the lantern in the O'Leary barn was re-enacted and the antiquated fire apparatus used in 1871 was drawn out by man power to the duplicate O'Leary barn that caused the destruction of Chicago, and an attempt was made to put out the fire.

Contrasting the progress of Chicago, a four-story wooden structure was placed alongside the O'Leary shack. This building was set afire and an alarm was turned in to Chicago's crack fire departments and soon the stadium arena was filled with fire fighting trucks, all motor driven. The fire made little headway after the 1924 fire departments appeared on the scene.

Holland, on a smaller scale, could duplicate a celebration of that kind.

P. M. KILLS TRUCK DRIVER AT VRIESLAND

While hauling gravel from a pit to a concrete mixer working on the new M-61 road between Holland and Vriesland, Daniel Malnes, 53, of Kalamazoo, a truck driver, was fatally injured when a Pere Marquette passenger train bound for Chicago, struck the heavily loaded truck on a crossing about 800 feet from the Pere Marquette railroad station at Vriesland at 12:50 o'clock Friday afternoon. He was taken to Butterworth hospital at Grand Rapids and died from bruises later.

Malnes, who was employed by William Fredericks of Vriesland, was thrown clear of the truck when the crash took place and death resulted from internal injuries. With seven other drivers employed in hauling gravel, he drove over the railroad tracks several times a day, a sink hole in the main road, forcing the heavy trucks to use the railroad crossing to and from the gravel pit.

The train, in charge of Engineer William Lexo and Conductor G. S. Bright, both of Grand Rapids, was not scheduled to stop at the Vriesland station, but was going at a low rate of speed when it hit the truck, according to the station agent. The truck was the property of Malnes, was carried for about 200 feet and demolished.

Coroner J. B. Hilliker of Grand Rapids viewed the body and gave permission for its removal to the undertaking rooms of B. A. Spring, from where it was taken to Kalamazoo on Saturday for burial.

According to Fredericks, Malnes had worked for him as a truck driver for about three years. Previous to that time he was a farmer, owning a farm near Three Rivers. He had been employed on the new M-61 construction since early in the summer and was making his home with a farmer near Vriesland.

He is survived by his widow, his father, Ferris Malnes and two sisters, Mrs. Margaret Welty and Mrs. Peter Blingman, all of Kalamazoo.

Though very serious in its main aspects the raid that was made Wednesday evening by operatives of the state police under the personal direction of deputy attorney general Fred Warner was not without its humorous side. The story is told of how John Simonowski, the man who figured very prominently in the accusations of Mrs. Margie Hoen last spring, got it in the neck just in the nick of time and there has been many a good laugh at his expense.

Simonowski, according to the tale that has leaked out from the raid which in every respect was conducted with less publicity than any similar raid has ever enjoyed, had been aging a keg of "good stuff" in a wood for four long, long years. It may be presumed that sometimes as he thought of it his tongue had been hanging out, but he seems to have had a great deal of stamina. At any rate, he did not disturb the stuff for four years of 365 long days and long nights each.

And even then he had the courage to make it his bid to let it age longer. Evidently he wanted "good stuff" to be real goods when finally the time came to put the spigot to the keg. But he feared that the wood would rot because he had buried the keg underground for safe-keeping. Evidently he had no desire to let officers get away with his prime, A No. 1 stuff and he kept the ground over it nicely leveled, only he knowing the whereabouts of the precious fluid. So when the fear assailed him that the keg might rot he dug it up at last to give it a coat of paint and thus protect it against the action of the moisture of the soil.

And he chose the day of the raid to do this, dows-gone it! He had it above ground and nicely painted when the army of officers descended on the Robinson district. And the officials, with their usual heartlessness, carried the precious keg away with them on their truck. And all the way to Holland Simonowski kept bemoaning the fact that he had been such a darned fool as to dig up his keg just on that one day of all days of the year.

About fifty members of the Erutha Rebekah Lodge No. 27 of Holland, went to Grand Rapids Thursday evening to confer the initiatory degree on eight candidates of the Sunlight Rebekah Lodge No. 63. Supper was served at 6:30 and a good time was enjoyed by all.

Oh! What a Day!

Our ambition is to make this the BEST DAY we have ever seen, and tomorrow EVEN BETTER.

TELLS OF LIFE OF FORMER TEACHER

Rev. John H. Gillespie, D. D., of the New Brunswick Theological Seminary and formerly professor of Greek at Hope college, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. George W. Martin, at Iowa City, Ia., on September 20.

He was born in Glasgow, Scotland, February 9, 1858. The family came to America when he was a young man and his collegiate training was received at Rutgers College, from which he graduated in 1882. While in college he showed unusual aptitude in the study of Greek and thus won the encouragement of Professor Jacob Cooper, who hoped that he would become a teacher of that subject. His heart, however, was in the ministry with special thought of the foreign missionary field. He entered the New Brunswick Theological Seminary, and, graduating in 1885, was licensed by the Classis of Bergen.

Being hindered by his health from becoming a foreign missionary he accepted a call to the pastorate of the Reformed church at New Hurley, New York, and served that church three years, (1885-88). Then he became Professor of Greek in Hope college and filled the position with marked success for ten years, (1888-98). He was an inspiring teacher. Many a student received his first stimulus to scholarly work from him. There are several Professors of Greek in western colleges whose interest came from him.

It was natural that when the Professorship of New Testament Greek at the New Brunswick Seminary became vacant the thought of the church should turn toward him. The General Synod of 1898 elected him, and removing to New Brunswick, he filled the professorship until 1911. In that year, to the great regret of all connected with the Seminary, he felt constrained by the condition of his health to resign. His services were so valuable that the institution could not dispense with them. So he was prevailed upon to remain as Instructor in New Testament Text Criticism and Missions. This was his title for ten years (1911-21), during the last six of which the instructorship in Missions was elevated to a lectureship (1915-21). Then again his health demanded relief and he resigned these duties. During all the time he rendered most valuable service in giving Beginners' Greek to those students who came to the Seminary without a knowledge of that language. This he continued after 1921 until he removed to Iowa in November, 1922.

He was also Curator of the Seminary Museum from 1911 and devoted a great deal of time and care to its improvement and the classifying of the objects it contained, both those in the missionary collection and those in the Biblical and historical line. Indeed, everything he did was done with a care and thoroughness which were the admiration of all who knew him. In 1919 Mrs. Gillespie died. Dr. Gillespie's only child is the wife of George W. Martin, who was assistant Professor of Botany at Rutgers college until 1923 when he resigned to accept a similar position at the University of Iowa. It was on that account that Dr. Gillespie moved from New Brunswick last November.—Christian Intelligencer.

Quick work by Deputy Den Herder of the sheriff's department at Grand Haven resulted in the return of a Ford sedan owned by W. H. Lupton of Grand Rapids an hour after the vehicle had been stolen Monday afternoon. Mr. Lupton, a salesman for W. Eykenhout and son of Grand Rapids, had his car parked near the new Homel Shirt company plant Grand Haven and left for a short time but when he returned the vehicle was gone.

He notified the sheriff's department and Deputy Den Herder called surrounding places. The car was taken near Muskegon by Chief Hansen's men and three boys, William Fix 13, Frank Kardin 15, and Steve Radakewitz 13, were held. The latter was taken to the Reform school at Lansing Tuesday and the two other lads who are on probation will probably be returned to that institution.

ward that the proposed meat ordinance is one sided.

The purpose in drawing up this ordinance was to give our health department better control over the string butchers and farmers who supply the people of Holland with a large percentage of their fresh meat and poultry.

It is true that this ordinance does require the inspection, before it can be sold, of all meats brought in by farmers, who are not operating under a license. This will give our health department the opportunity to now of all sources of supply, and certainly an honest farmer, who brings in only wholesome meat, will not object to this requirement.

It is also true that the ordinance does not require the inspection of every piece of meat brought in by a string butcher, who is operating under a license, but our health authorities can control the licensed dealers, as they are in contact with him and his place of business continually; and the requirements under which the licensed dealer must operate can best be given by quoting from the ordinance as follows:

- (428) Sec. 3.
- (429) Sec. 4 (a) (b).
- (430) Sec. 5.
- (431) Sec. 6.
- (432) Sec. 7 (a) (b) (c).
- (433) Sec. 12.

Respect

Oscar Peterson.

The sections referred to by Mr. Peterson read as follows:

- (428) Sec. 3.—Every person desiring to engage in the sale or delivery of fresh meats to retailers in the city of Holland, before doing so shall make application to the city clerk of the said city of Holland for a license for that purpose, which application shall be in writing upon the form prescribed by the city of Holland, and shall be approved by the Health Officer or the City Inspector of said city.

- (429) Sec. 4. A said application shall state fully:—
- (a) The full name, age and residence of said applicant.
- (b) The exact location and a complete description of applicant's slaughter house.

- (430) Sec. 5. The fee charged for the license required under this ordinance shall be $50 annually.

- (431) Sec. 6. The license herein provided for, if issued, shall not be transferable and shall not extend beyond the first Monday in June next after the issuance of same. Provided further, that said license may be revoked or suspended at any time upon hearing, by the Mayor after notice by the health officer, when any of the provisions of this ordinance, or any law of the state relating to the sale and delivery of meat for human consumption shall have been violated by the licensee.

- (432) Sec. 7. No licensee shall sell, hold, offer for sale or deliver to a retailer in the city of Holland any fresh meat unless:—

- (a) The animal from which said meat was obtained shall have been slaughtered in a slaughter house as described and located in the application of a licensee.
- (b) Said fresh meat shall be entirely free from disease and fit for human consumption.
- (c) Said meat shall have been kept from contamination by flies, or dust in a suitable covering from the time of butchering until delivery of the same to the retailer.

- (437) Sec. 12. Slaughter houses from which fresh meat is obtained for sale or delivery to retailers in the city of Holland, shall be thoroughly cleaned not less than once daily. All hides, non-edible parts, roughage and manure shall be removed immediately upon slaughter and kept where and as directed by the Health Officer or City Inspector of the city of Holland may condemn or exclude from sale in the city of Holland, any fresh meat obtained from a slaughter house where the provisions of this section are not complied with.

LOCAL

The Grand Haven-Muskegon road has proved the most dangerous in Muskegon county this year. There have been several fatal accidents on this highway compared with few on the other roads. Just why this is true officials are unable to ascertain unless it is the fact that the highway is straight and results in fast driving.

At the merchants' meeting Tuesday night the Bell Telephone directory again came in for scoring, the merchants claiming that the present directory is simply impossible, inconvenient, hard to read and a good many other things not very complimentary. Secretary Beeuwkes stated that he had repeatedly gone to Manager Ripley, who stated that all the directories were printed in one office under contract, and that they were all printed the same, and further that it was impossible to make a change, as it would mean an endless expense if all cities wanted directories printed according to their ideas. It is evident that this closed the matter as far as the Bell Telephone Co. is concerned and Holland will have to be contented with the present form of directory.

Does it pay to do something for boys and girls in the community? Does the money invested in projects that are designed to fill the lives of the youngsters bring dividends? These questions are often asked in connection with proposed plans for activities that are designed to serve as an outlet for the excess energy of boys and girls.

Mrs. Henry Vennema gave the answer Tuesday at the luncheon of the Woman's Literary club. Mrs. Vennema, whose husband is a brother of Dr. Ame Vennema, former president of Hope college, came here from Menominee, Mich., and while here was the guest of Mrs. A. Visscher and Miss Anne Visscher. She spoke in Benton Harbor recently before the A. R. convention and today she is speaking in Kalamazoo, telling the story of the Boys' Club of Menominee, of which she is president.

During a period of two years there has not been a single case from Menominee before the juvenile court, and the juvenile court judge himself credits it to the work of the Menominee Boys' club. That is the only difference between Menominee and other cities in the same district, and the other towns are liberally represented in the juvenile court.

And so was Menominee at one time. In fact, the now famous Boys' club grew out of the fact that there were a large number of delinquency cases. This caused the D. A. R. to organize the club which furnishes the boys of the city with all the activities that boys desire—radio, billiards, library, athletic activities, dancing, schools of etiquette, in fact anything that can engage the attention and enthusiasm of a boy. The work is all done free of charge by women and the club is self-supporting.

And does it pay, even in dollars and cents? Mrs. Vennema's answer was an enthusiastic yes.

A matter that has come up at the meetings of the Merchants' Ass'n repeatedly is the starting of a merchants service and credit bureau. This bureau keeps tab on customers who ask for credit and a merchant knows immediately whether a new customer is worthy of credit or whether he or she is a professional "deadbeat." It knows whether said customer has had hard luck but is honest although temporarily handicapped; also keeps tab on new customers moving in from other cities to Holland, and a great many other things that relate to the credit-giving business.

At the meeting Tuesday night Secretary Beeuwkes gave a very clear report on this subject, telling what is involved and the benefits derived. He also explained that the chamber of commerce was willing to install this system provided the merchants are patriotic enough to join the chamber of commerce and by so doing have the benefit of the service that was to be installed. Sixty merchants are already members of the chamber, and Secretary Prins pointed out that the rest of them should be and thus show their loyalty to Holland.

A few of the merchants were afraid that a move of this kind would eventually absorb the merchants' association into the chamber of commerce.

However, Chairman Vandersluis felt that it would rather stimulate the merchants' organization.

Peter Prins, secretary of the C. of C., stated that the chamber of commerce did not want such a thing to happen; in fact, he recommended that the Merchants' association hold their identity as before, as the merchants have many problems that can be handled best through their own association.

Bert Slaght stated that he was for a moving of joining the chamber of commerce, if such benefits could be derived as have been stated above but that he stood strongly for a Merchants' association also. Frank Bolhuis of the Bolhuis Lumber & Mfg. Co., gave in detail the great benefits of a merchants credit association from his own experience in Grand Rapids and Muskegon, where the benefits were exceptionally great, he said, and paid for the service many times over.

John Rutgers, Jr., made a motion that the Merchants' Ass'n go on record giving the merchants credit bureau as planned by the chamber of commerce of Holland its moral support and no doubt in the very near future a credit bureau will be established in Holland, and the proper filing cases, desks, other furniture, etc., will be installed in the chamber of commerce rooms in the city hall.

Hannah and Mary Te Roller, 79 East 10th street, have received word from their brother that his nephew John H. Bruins has received the appointment to the consulate in Riga, Latvia. Mr. Bruins will be best related by contagion last winter. There were in addition 12 deaths, and they are listed at $60,000.

"When you fail to take the necessary precautions and do not report the cases, you are not fooling the Health Department," says Dr. R. J. Harrington, city health officer. "You are hurting your neighbor and the city."

Company in Albany and Troy, New York, and also in Tacoma, Wash. He entered the consular service at Washington only a year ago and now has received the appointment of Vice Consul to Riga, Latvia.

Latvia is one of the present political divisions of old Russia, organized since the war. Riga is a city of about 330,000 and has a considerable American colony, also many Germans. Mr. Bruins left America October 4th on the S. S. Leviathan.

Inspirational addresses at the opening luncheon of the Woman's Literary club held Tuesday noon initiated the club work for the year. Mrs. Dorian Russell, retiring president of the State Federation of Women's clubs and director of the National Federation, after a most entertaining account of her trip to the biennial conference at Los Angeles, gave a report of the most important phases of the convention. The aim of the Federation has become the closer drawing of the club activities into accordance with the teachings of Christ. Though the work of the individual clubs is concerned largely with furthering the movements for better health and education, and the greater happiness of its own community, its influence is nationally exerted in its advocacy of legislation which will promote the welfare of the country at large.

One of the most interesting of Mrs. Russell's observations was her account of the growth in strength and charm of personality of the Federation leaders through their years of service. That it is "the woman who does the work who gets the development" was most evident.

Mrs. Henry Vennema, head of the Boys' Club of Menominee, Mich., delighted the club with her account of that work. This club, organized nine years ago by the D. A. R. chapter, for the purpose of promoting better citizenship among the boys, and employing the method of providing plenty of wholesome entertainment in furthering this cause, has grown from a membership of fifteen to over nine hundred. The club now has a club house and caters to almost every desire of a boy's heart. That it has been effective in accomplishing its purpose is shown by the fact that during the past two years not a case has come before the juvenile court.

Mrs. J. Telling, accompanied by Mrs. Robbins, sang "The Cry of the Woman," and "In the Dark."

The Muskegon Health Department is waging a health campaign in our neighboring city by showing the cost in dollars and cents of an epidemic. The department produced figures to show the two epidemics, scarlet fever and diphtheria, cost Muskegon $200,000 last winter.

The information was obtained in questionnaires sent out by the department to the various families visited by contagion last winter. There were in addition 12 deaths, and they are listed at $60,000.

"When you fail to take the necessary precautions and do not report the cases, you are not fooling the Health Department," says Dr. R. J. Harrington, city health officer. "You are hurting your neighbor and the city."

Muskegon children lost an agree-gate of 2,600 weeks of school because of the contagion. It is figured that it costs $82.40 a child for 40 weeks' school.

The fees from state automobile licenses for the third quarter of 1924 will reach $730,245, Secretary of State Charles J. DeLand stated in an announcement made Tuesday. Of this sum, $363,121 will be returned to the counties in proportion to the number of licenses issued.

The money thus turned over to the various counties will be expended in the road program of the respective counties. Ottawa's share of the money is given as $35,338.97.

The state administrative board in session at Lansing Tuesday also authorized the construction of national guard armories at Holland and Benton Harbor. The armories will each cost $55,000 a portion of the sum to be born by the cities in which the armories are located.

With a total in hand of $1,864.00 and with the drive just taking on a new impetus, the campaign for funds for the Holland City Mission and the Holland Boy Scouts is progressing satisfactorily, according to Con De Pree, who is in active charge of the work. Because of the fact that he has been away from the city a great deal the past few months and also because of the usual summer let-down in all activities, the drive was not pushed systematically since spring but now it is to be finished up and the account is to be balanced as soon as possible.

The following list was given out by Mr. DePree Tuesday, representing the donations received for these two causes up-to-date.

Woman's Literary Club.....	$100.00
West. Mich. Furniture Co.....	234.00
Holland Furnace Co.....	896.00
Michigan Tea Rusk Co.....	20.00
Holland Shoe Co.....	270.25
Poole Bros.....	46.00
Bolhuis Lbr. & Mfg. Co.....	43.50
Holland Furnace Co.....	177.75
De Pree Company.....	154.50
B. P. O. E.....	25.00
City of Holland.....	50.00

$1864.00

In some cases the donors have specified which of the two causes they wish the money to be credited to. The City of Holland, for instance, specified that their $50, voted by the council last Wednesday night, was to be devoted to the boy scout fund. In some other cases the city mission was specified, while in still other cases the donors direct to give part to the mission and part to the scouts. In all cases where nothing is said, the committee will credit one-third to the scout fund and two-thirds to the mission fund.

The total amount sought for this cause is $4,500, of which $3,000 will go to the mission fund and $1,500 to the scout fund. In addition to the donations listed above some individual donations have been received that will be listed in a lump in the final report. Work is in progress now in several factories for this cause and further reports will soon come in when they will be printed, each institution receiving proper credit.

If any institution or individual has been missed, they are invited to send their donations to Con De Pree.
