Holland Goes Back To Old Time November 12

ALDERMEN'S VOTE STOOD 7
TO 5, COMPLYING WITH
VOTE OF LAST MARCH

The common council of the city of Holland decided definitely to follow the vote of the people cast last March, favoring daylight saving time in the summer and turning back to central standard time in the winter, as prevailed so many years after the war.

A vote was taken on the time question last March giving a majority of 573 in favor of the old order of things. While Grand Rapids and some of the other neighboring cities remain on eastern standard time the year around, Saugatuck, Douglas and Fennville as well as Holland's rural trade radius, remain on the old time, regardless of what Holland or any other city does. Going back to the old time conforms with the time of our immediate surroundings.

According to the new order Holland will go back to central standard time at midnight Saturday, Nov. 12, 1932, and will go back to daylight saving time at midnight Saturday, March 11, 1933.

The time question has been a vexing problem and has become more mixed up since the Conlon bill was passed optionally putting the state on an eastern standard time basis. While our time will conform with our immediate surroundings we cannot help but be in a mixup with the large cities in the immediate neighborhood. We will, however, be conforming with Chikago time after Nov. 12.

Most mothers of school children will be delighted at the change. Some of the manufacturers prefer eastern standard time the year around. Radio listeners are constantly at sea with different times for different stations. It is hoped by many that the Conlon bill will be repealed at the next session of the legislature and that there will be better co-ordination in western Michigan on the time question.

The vote on the time question stood as follows:
Opposed to changing over to slow time, Aldermen Peter Brieve, John Woltman, Albert Van Zoeren, Benjamin Veltman and Albert E. Van Lente.

To change back to slow time, Aldermen Al Kleis, Henry Prins, Andrew Hyma, Bert Habing, Ben Steffens, Fritz Jonkman and Peter Huyser.

Aldermen Van Lente, Woltman and Brieve stated they had spoken to numerous residents here and that no objections to the eastern time could be found. It was Alderman Van Lente's contention that the spring vote was prior to the time decision in Grand Rapids and that such a decision would have influenced the ballot in Holland.

"Bill" Woldering gave an earnest talk in favor of the change. A second vote on the issue in the November election was advocated by Aldermen Kleis, Prins and Hyma.

The vote by wards on going back to the old time, voted on last March was as follows:

	Yes	No
First	294	262
Second	91	60
Third	261	181
Fourth	316	246
Fifth	492	230
Sixth	403	205
Totals	1767	1184

DR. WESTRAT OUT AS CITY HEALTH OFFICER

At the common council meeting last evening, after Mayor Nicodemus Bosch had asked aldermen to refrain from commenting, the aldermen did away with the office of health officer, which involves the position of Dr. William Westrate, the present official. The vote stood 9 to 3, declaring the office vacant.

The vote stood as follows:
To vacate office of city physician—Aldermen A. P. Kleis, Henry Prins, Peter Brieve, John Woltman, Albert Van Zoeren, Ben Steffens, Bert Habing, Peter Huyser and Benjamin Veltman.

Not to vacate office—Aldermen Andrew Hyma, Fritz Jonkman and Albert E. Van Lente.
It was thought by Alderman Hyma that the office could not be vacated and continue to conduct this department without a doctor at the head. Aldermen are now looking up the provisions in the charter.

NEW DOCK AT KOLLEN PARK HAS GOOD EFFECT

The dock recently built at Kollen park by welfare labor, advocated by Henry Vander Schel and this paper, has had the desired effect. Several letters have already been published from yacht owners and here is another which explains itself:

Chamber of Commerce, Holland, Mich.
Gentlemen:

I was very much pleased to note that the City of Holland is going to build a boat dock for small boats. I have had a 46-foot cruiser on Black lake for the past three years and I have wished a great many times that there was a dock in Holland in order that I might do different kinds of trading there. I will be glad to assist in any way possible.

Very truly yours,
MR. B. F. KENYON.

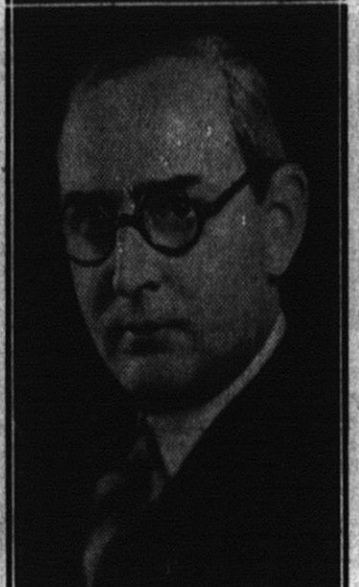

Grand Rapids, Mich.

The Sebewa Campfire Girls, with Mrs. Winifred Brady, guardian, will be guests of the Woman's club Friday afternoon, the camp entertaining with a play and camp drill work.

Mrs. James Wayer spoke at the forty-seventh anniversary meeting of the Women's Missionary society of the First Reformed church at Muskegon Thursday.

SENATOR VANDENBURG TO SPEAK IN HOLLAND

Senator Arthur Vandenberg, considered one of the most able platform speakers in this country, has been secured to close the speaking campaign in Holland on Friday evening, Nov. 4. He comes under the auspices of the Young Men's Republican club of this city, who have been working hard to get the senator here.

The Republican national committee was unwilling to have the senator come to Michigan for many speeches, but Mr. Vandenberg expressed the wish to come to Holland, the place where he spends much of his time in the summer, and the national committee gave him this date to speak in behalf of the Republican party.

The meeting will be held at the Holland Armory two weeks from today, Friday.

COUNCIL NOTES

Dr. E. J. Blekkink of the West-ern Theological seminary opened the meeting with prayer.

The welfare paid covering a period of two weeks, amounted to $3,222.52 regular and $2,027.19 temporary aid, $1,195.33.

To aid the unemployed the Holland common council adopted a plan whereby sewer connections will be made from Twelfth street, west, connecting the Bay View Furniture company with the sewerage system of Holland. The project will help many unemployed and will entail an expense of $3,004.40.

The sewers on the streets where the Holland Sugar company, Bay View and Holland shoe factory are located run at a dead end, often bringing stagnation. It is intended to make more and different connections so that there will be circulation of the system at that point. City Engineer Zuidema is in charge of the job.

The ways and means committee reported that because of economic conditions the vault in the city clerk's office be not enlarged this year, but the matter should be delayed until times improve. The council accepted the report.

The common council received a letter of thanks from Chief Lievense because of the kindly manner of the different aldermen relative to the chief's part and the bravery shown in the recent bank holdup.

The American Legion band, in a communication, stated that the organization was going to Battle Creek on Sunday, Oct. 30, leaving at 9 a. m. by bus to play two concerts, one at each soldiers' hospital at Camp Custer. They invited the mayor and common council to go with them. The matter was given to Alderman Van Lente of the sixth ward to find out how many would go.

The boilers at the city hall have been inspected and found o. k.

The matter of gas tests also came up at the meeting last evening. Two weeks ago the board of public works test showed 522 B. T. U. The gas company tester, however, tested 531 B. T. U. Manager Burgh stated at the meeting that a check-up is now being made as to the accuracy of both instruments to see if a proper register is being made. Correct or incorrect, the Holland Gas company will live up to standard as is required, and as it has always done. The aldermen felt that this was satisfactory and are awaiting a report upon the testing.

Alderman Peter Huyser, who with Aldermen Ben Steffens and Andrew Hyma, was appointed two weeks ago to confer with Holland physicians and dentists in regard to uniformity of charges for welfare cases paid by the city in regard to services of physicians on Wednesday afternoons, reported that the doctors held that uniform fees for major operations were the possible and that they felt the fees for home and office calls could not be reduced. He said the fees for calls were the same charged before the depression. Doctors, he reported, explained that several were within call on Wednesday afternoon, the usual half-holiday, and that complaints arose because persons sought only their family physician at such times. Alderman Albert Van Zoeren told of a case in which difficulty arose in locating a doctor a few days ago. He believed fees for city cases should be lowered as bills were paid promptly. Alderman Steffens said rates for operations had been lowered and the fees for calls were what was considered to be a minimum.

A regular teachers' meeting of the Fourteenth Street Christian Reformed church will be held tonight, Friday, at 7:30 o'clock.

150 Republican Local Workers Hear Pep Talks

SPEAKERS FROM WASHINGTON, NORTH DAKOTA AND HOLLAND DELIBERATE

Speakers Also Deliver Addresses in Zeeland and at Grand Haven.

The Republican campaign has opened in earnest in Holland and Ottawa county. Some of the activities are a Young Men's Republican club chronicled elsewhere in this issue.

The modest luncheon at Warm Friend Tavern, where 150 Republican workers gathered to listen to "pep" talks, was followed by addresses from former Governor Nestor of North Dakota, Attorney Jarrett Clark of Zeeland, Congressman Carl E. Mapes of Grand Rapids, Rev. Henry Ter Keurst of Holland, and Mrs. Wilson Compton of Washington, D. C.

William C. Vandenberg presided over the deliberations, telling why this luncheon was called, pointing out the importance of getting busy in behalf of the Republican party and President Hoover, who is making such a valiant and telling fight.

The speakers above mentioned spoke at Holland, Zeeland and Grand Haven, and a short review of the highlights of their speeches at these different places follows:

Mrs. Wilson Compton, prominent social and business woman of Washington, D. C., spoke on "Do We Want It?" Her straight-from-the-shoulder appeal to the Republicans of this community to go to the polls on Nov. 8 that they, to a man, counteract a vote from the larger centers, where many people are crying for a change at any cost, was well received, judging by the applause which greeted the stimulating and forceful speaker.

Mrs. Compton asked: "Why do I come to such a firmly established Republican community when my time might be better spent converting the numbers who are 'on the fence'? It is to warn Republicans." (Continued on page two)

FORMER CANNING COMPANY MAN DEAD

Word has been received by Nick Hoffman of the Boston Restaurant stating that Mr. C. L. Corey, for several years head of the Holland Canning Co., had died at Salada, Pa. A funeral took place in that city. For some time Mr. Corey lived on River avenue near 14th street.

DR. CLARENCE BOUMA TO SPEAK IN HOLLAND

Prof. Clarence Bouma, of Calvin college, Grand Rapids, is to speak in Holland at the Armory on Friday, Oct. 28. His subject will be "The Present Political Challenge to Christian Citizenship."

Mr. Bouma, it is said, will compare the platforms of the different parties, pointing out how these coincide or run counter to what Christian citizenship ought to be. Mr. Bouma will be introduced by Rev. Henry Ter Keurst of this city. The public is cordially invited.

HOLLAND GRIDDER LEAVES HOSPITAL; HE WILL RECOVER

Muskegon Chronicle—Hadden Hanchett, Holland High school football player, who suffered an injury to his neck in a football game with Muskegon High school two weeks ago, left Hackley hospital today on the road to complete recovery and with a warm spot in his heart for Muskegon, its football team and coach. The boy must wear a brace for some time, but with care his complete recovery is assured, his father, M. W. Hanchett, said today.

"My son wishes to thank the people of Muskegon, members of the high school football team and Coach C. Leo Redmond for the kind attention shown him while in the hospital here. He wishes also to extend his appreciation to the team physician to whom he gives much credit for his satisfactory recovery," the father said. "The boy is in fine spirits."

Poultry Industry Expands at Hamilton

This section of Heath township appears to be due for an expansion in the poultry and egg industry with Hamilton the center. With climbing price of eggs and the opening of the New York market for Michigan eggs, the industry has received a new impetus. Farmers near Hamilton are putting up new buildings or remodeling the old. It is claimed that this section of the state has an advantage by having nearly all one breed of poultry, namely the White Leghorn; also many acres of light sandy soils, most ideal for poultry raising; a more ideal climate; lower feed costs and better location than the communities from which eggs have been shipped in the past. There is a great deal of enthusiasm and undoubtedly the new industry will be a great boon to a large number of folks in this vicinity.

An extensive bit of repair work is being done by the government on both north and south piers at the Saugatuck harbor. A dredge and tug and crew have been busy two weeks.

ONE BANK BANDIT IS HELD IN CHICAGO FOR HOLLAND OFFICERS

Police Chief Peter A. Lievense has been advised that Saturday, Oct. 29, has been set for the extradition hearing at Chicago of Michael Laurentis, now held in Chicago as a suspect in the First State bank robbery Sept. 29. Request for extradition papers were issued Monday by Governor Brucker at Lansing to Chief Lievense and Prosecuting Attorney John R. Dethmers.

Chief Lievense has been named agent by Governor Brucker and he has been delegated to present the extradition papers to Governor Emerson of Illinois before the hearing in Chicago. Lievense has not decided when he plans to go to Springfield with the papers to get the Illinois governor's approval. Lievense also will appear at the hearing at Chicago to present evidence justifying the bringing of Laurentis to Holland to answer to charges of robbery armed.

Dr. Laurentis was identified by at least seven persons from photographs of criminals. If returned to Holland these persons likely will be called to substantiate their identifications. Two other suspects have been picked from police photographs.

Charles M. Stewart, representing the Burns Detective agency, Holland and state police and the sheriff's force of the county are following up all leads and eventually expect to apprehend all the bandits. It Appears That County Farm Agent Is Out

SUPERVISORS ABOLISH FARM UNIT BY A VOTE OF 9 TO 19; DEMONSTRATOR ALSO GOES

Rather an unusual thing occurred at the board of supervisors meeting when the members decided that the Ottawa county agricultural unit, over which C. F. Milham has ably presided for a number of years, should be abolished and voted that way by a 9 to 19 vote.

Strange to say the fight has always been on the health unit but this year the supervisors felt the importance of that unit and voted to retain it.

Another office abandoned for the present is that of home demonstration, presided over by Miss Esther Lott. It was somewhat expected that this office would be done away with in order to save the county money, but the doing away of the county farm agent who has been a wonderful aid to the farmers of this county, was entirely unexpected until a few days ago.

The board of supervisors is on a rampage to save money and to cut all corners in order that the tax roll, it is too early to say at this time the results of such a move. The supervisors undoubtedly have gone into the matter thoroughly and many supervisors, as well as citizens, spoke in behalf of retaining Mr. Milham and Miss Lott.

Mr. Milham has been an able organizer of young men, interesting them in calf clubs, agricultural clubs and kindred departures having to do with the farm. The exhibits at the different fairs have reflected this wonderful work.

Two weeks ago the Holland City News gave a detailed report on Mr. Milham's work during a year and it was tremendous. The women of the farm in turn will regret the going of Miss Lott, who has brought many bright spots into the lives of the farm women with her programs of home demonstration.

It is stated upon good authority that the retention of these two units would cost the taxpayer less than 10 cents on $1,000; to be exact 7 cents was the figure given.

Unless the supervisors should rescind their actions, which seems doubtful at this time, both Miss Lott and Mr. Milham will lose their positions Jan. 1.

County Clerk William Wilds gave a school of instruction to election inspectors of Ottawa county in the supervisors' room and Attorney Misner and William Connelly explained the amendment ballots to the supervisors.

Today, Friday, the matter of county salaries is to come up and undoubtedly there will be some paring there.

SUPERVISOR NOTES

Maynard Mohr, Zeeland township board there to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Gradius Lubbers and he took his seat for the first time this morning. This is the first time he has served on the board.

Charles E. Misner, Cornelius Roosenraad and William O. Van Eyck were appointed a committee to draft resolutions on the death of the veteran supervisor. The board attended the funeral of their old associate in a body when the services were held at Zeeland on Tuesday afternoon.

The soldiers' relief commission of Ottawa county, through its officers, Chairman Dr. A. E. Stickle, Secretary George C. Borck and Trustee Sam H. Bosch, have given relief during the past fiscal year ending Dec. 30, to 585 individuals, 254 of whom were adults and 331 children. The statutes provide that two-tenths of one mill on the assessed valuation of the county may be levied for soldiers' relief purposes, which will raise the sum of $9,925 for this purpose. The total expenditures for relief purposes was $5,451.31, administrative expenditures $118.65, deficiency of the previous fiscal year $513.36, leaving a balance on hand of $416.68 out of a total appropriation of $6,500 by the board of supervisors during the past fiscal year. There were 137 veterans' families to receive aid during this period.

EVANS-GREENWOOD WEDDING TAKES PLACE

Last evening the marriage of Miss Barbara Evans, daughter of Prof. Robert Evans, and Mr. Robert Greenwood took place at the home of the bride in Beechwood.

The marriage was performed by Rev. J. O. Randall, pastor of the M. E. Church of Holland. The home was beautifully decorated with baskets of flowers in a background of beautifully colored fall leaves. The marriage vows were said under an arch of bittersweet, in a setting of ferns and fall leaves.

The wedding took place at 9 o'clock in the evening when to the strains of Mendelssohn's march, played by Mrs. Dekker, the bride and groom slowly descended the stairs to the altar, where the ceremonies were performed. The bride was given in marriage by her father, Mr. Robert Evans, instructor in printing in Holland High school. An impressive ring ceremony featured on this occasion. The bride was attended by Miss Alyce Vande Riet.

Preceding the ceremony Mrs. Kathryn Dekker entertained with a piano solo and Miss Trixie Moore sang "A Love Song," accompanied by Miss Athalia Rose.

Following the ceremony a reception was held and a delicious three-course luncheon was served by Miss Emily Evans, Miss Mary Smith and Miss Athalia Rose.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. R. Groen of Montello Park, on Oct. 15, a son, Robert Jay.

Minister of 92 Gives Radio Address

Rev. Jacob Noordewier, 92-year-old pastor of the Christian Reformed church, spoke over Station WOOD at Grand Rapids on the Christian Reformed vesper hour, 4 to 5 p. m., Sunday, Mr. Noordewier spoke in the Holland language.

The old dominie 45 years ago was pastor of the Central Avenue Christian Reformed church of Holland. This was in the day when a pipe organ and electric lights were not allowed because it meant Sunday work. An orchestra was not thought of and a fiddle was an instrument of the devil because it was the mainstay at a dance. We can easily conjecture what a radio 45 years ago would have conjured into the minds of these fine, well meaning folks of yesterday. The radio, despite the "jazz," is playing a large part in spreading the gospel throughout the world today. It touches those who have forgotten the church and is a boon and a comfort to the sick shut-ins.

HOOPER WILL SPEAK IN DETROIT; CAN BE HEARD IN NATIONAL RADIO HOOK-UP

President Herbert Hoover is to deliver his third speech of the campaign in Detroit next Saturday night.

The decision of the president to carry his message to the industrial workers of the automobile city, was made on Monday after the president's return to the White House following his address in Cleveland.

PRESIDENT HOOVER

So successful was the Ohio speech that President Hoover feels a visit to the automobile center and talk to the workers in the central west was the thing to do.

As far as its seating capacity goes, the doors of the huge Olympia amphitheater seats 20,000 persons but it is expected that five times that number will seek admission to the hall.

The final decision to visit Michigan was influenced, according to word from Detroit, by the writings of the 20 Michigan editors who visited the President at the outset of the campaign; and by the thousands of telegrams which he received last week, urging that Michigan invitations be accepted.

William C. Vandenberg has secured a large number of tickets for the big Hoover meeting to be held in Detroit on Saturday night, when the president will speak. There will be a national hook-up on all the principal radio stations this Saturday evening.

What the Next Auto License Will Look Like

LETTERS WILL PRECEDE THE FIGURES ON THE MICHIGAN PLATES FOR NEXT YEAR

Elimination of all automobile license plates of more than six figures is to be accomplished by the Michigan Department of State in 1933 through the use of combinations of letters and numerals.

The system will reduce the quantity of steel needed for the plates and it is estimated that the move will effect a saving of several thousand dollars. The lower numbered plates will be easier to read and the letters which will precede the numbers will be assigned to definite counties.

The allocation of letters will be made in the order of the initial letter of the county name to which it is assigned. Thus "A" will be assigned to Allegan county, "B" to Baraga county, "O" to Ottawa, and so on down the entire alphabet until the letters "U," "Y," "Z," and "X" are met. These letters do not serve as initials of any county, and will consequently be assigned to Wayne county because one letter will not suffice for that county.

The counties according to initials are very unevenly divided. Six letters: J, N, P, R, T and V represent only one county each; two letters have two each; two have three each; one has four; two have eight each; and one letter, M, is the initial of thirteen counties.

Many of these eighty-three counties bear names of Indian origin, principally coming under C, M and O, the latter numbering six out of the total of eight, of which this county is one.

Work was started Tuesday on extending the lanes for the annual tulip festival to be held next May. A consignment of 75,000 tulip bulbs, received from The Netherlands, will be planted on boulevards, forming double lanes, parks, curbs and intersections. An estimate of tulips in bloom for the coming festival places the total at approximately 2,000,000.

Elgin Smith, 34, Grand Rapids postal worker, was convicted at Allegan late Tuesday of a statutory charge. The circuit court trial lasted a day and a half.

"Forget-Me-Nots" And Tulips To Vie Next Spring

LOCAL BOTANIST TELLS OF COLORS AND CONTRASTS FOR "TULIP TIME" FEATURES

By "Marve-Lindy"

Announcement that the city had started the planting of its additional 75,000 tulip bulbs has acted as a signal to the people of Holland in getting them busy on their individual tulip beds. Thoughts have turned ahead to next spring's Tulip Festival and from all indications the private displays will be larger and more impressive than ever before. This prediction is based on an interview with Mr. Harry Nellis, one of Holland's most ardent tulip enthusiasts and growers.

According to Mr. Nellis there is more attention now being given to the use of intermediate color shades on the part of individual planters. He pointed out that the city was concentrating on a mass effect largely achieved through the use of just three colors—red, yellow and pink. These are the common tulip colors and their vividness makes them ideal for the city's purpose.

To get the most good out of this mass effect and to heighten its brilliance, individual beds around the homes should offer a contrast in tone color. When the straight reds, yellows and pinks are planted, the beds merge in with those of the tulip lanes and lose some of their effectiveness. By using a variety of intermediate shades a color blending is secured that brings out a striking contrast to the strong colors used by the city.

When asked what shades should be preferred for this purpose, Mr. Nellis stated that this was entirely a matter of personal taste. The point for tulip planters to bear in mind is that there are over a thousand different varieties and with such a choice it is not necessary to stick to the commonplace colors. Orange, buff, violet, various browns, lavender and lilac are good intermediate colors. White should not be overlooked. It is used to be scarce, explained Mr. Nellis, and therefore has come to be regarded as rare, but these bulbs are now plentifully available.

What Mr. Nellis and all other tulip lovers would like is a longer blooming period than the customary two weeks. This being impossible, next year will see a new innovation in some of Holland's tulip beds in which forget-me-nots are used to extend the flowering time from two to six weeks. For the information of others who would like to try this practical idea, here is the procedure as outlined by Mr. Nellis.

When the tulip bulbs are planted, put in some forget-me-not plants right on top of the bed. Don't pay any attention to the tulip beds underneath, just plant the forget-me-nots right over them. Next spring the tulips will follow their way through but two weeks before they are in bloom the forget-me-nots will be a mass of color. The stage is set for the tulips when they emerge into bloom, and the blending is such as to impart a new radiance to the tulips. Then when the time comes for the tulips to droop, the forget-me-nots carry on another two weeks, concealing the husks that once were tulips.

There are three colors in the forget-me-not family that suggest themselves for this use, namely blue, white and pink. In the opinion of Mr. Nellis it is through such innovations that the Tulip Festival of Holland presents a freshness that will avoid the monotony of sameness.

When asked what tulip is his favorite among the thousands varieties, Mr. Nellis promptly named the City of Holland which to him is the most brilliant tulip in existence. It is a rich scarlet, of more vivid hue than the popular Pride of Haarlem which the city has so extensively used. The best way to set off this brilliance is to use a pure white tulip for contrast, a good variety being the Cottage Tulip Carrara.

HAS TEN FAMILIES
WORKING NORTH SIDE
GARDEN PATCHES

John Dunton, who owns a large part of the north side has had 10 families gardening on land he has there, and some rural gardens there have had—bringing an abundant supply of all sorts of vegetables for the coming winter. Mr. Dunton has more land for needy families and he will again allow them to use this land free next spring and summer. He believes some good hearted farmer should donate the use of his plot to break up some of this land so it will be easier to work after the winter is over.

MISS BREEN'S SPEAKING ENGAGEMENTS

Miss Nelle Breen left Tuesday night for Sheboygan, Wis., where she was one of the speakers at the Women's Missionary union on Wednesday. Thursday she spoke at a similar meeting in Chicago. Today she will be one of the speakers at the union meeting in Kalamazoo; on Tuesday, Oct. 25, in Grand Rapids; Wednesday Oct. 26, in Zeeland; Friday, Oct. 28, in Lucas, Mich.; and Tuesday, Nov. 1, in Muskegon. Miss Breen returned from her work in the United States mission, Africa, two weeks ago Tuesday. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Breen of Holland.

At the meeting of the Allegan city council this week an appropriation of $100 was made for the Welfare Community Church. This will be received for a new city truck to replace the old one, badly damaged by fire last week.

Buy Michigan Sugar

The earnest suggestion by Governor Brucker to the people of Michigan that they use Michigan beet sugar this year, ought not to be forgotten nor neglected.

The governor points out that within a few weeks the beet sugar industry of the state "will release more than $10,000,000" to the advantage of the farmer, beet worker, factory worker, transportation systems, machinery equipment and supply firms, quarry men, merchants and coal miners. More than 35,000 Michigan wage earners will be employed in the 11 sugar factories open this season, and they will receive $3,500,000 in wages. At the same time, over $6,000,000 will go to the farmers. And the public treasury will benefit through the receipt of a half-million dollars in taxes.

By buying the home product, sugar consumers of Michigan will be directly helping a strictly domestic industry which means a great deal to the general economic condition of the state when it flourishes, and in particular is a boon to the agriculturist. They also will be helping to maintain a competition with the cane sugar producers that will protect them against the gouging always sure to come when the cane sugar people are able to enjoy a near monopoly.

Don'ts for the Hunters

If wildfowl and small game hunters would avoid two violations of hunting propriety half of the ordinary list of accidents would be eliminated.

During the small game hunting seasons for several years from 15 to 20 fatal accidents have resulted. Most of the duck hunting accidents have occurred when hunters pulled their guns by the barrel from the bottom of the boat, it is pointed out, and most of the wood and field accidents have occurred when hunters dragged their guns after them through fences and brush heaps. It is these two careless practices that this season's hunters are being especially urged to avoid.

Among other suggestions given by the Department of Conservation for proper handling of guns are:

"Carry your gun over the fence with you with the barrel pointed away from yourself and others."

"If your gun falls on the ground or touches water, make certain the barrel is clear before you fire it."

"A gun lying on the bottom of the boat risks an accident."

"Make certain no other human is in the line of fire."

THINGS WORTH KNOWING

Encourage each member of the family to contribute to table conversation.

Make your own dustless dust cloths by soaking old knitted underwear in kerosene for twenty-four hours and then drying thoroughly.

Remember that no clothes are cleaner than the last water in which they are rinsed, and they are seldom as clean.

Clean a greasy iron or steel skillet by boiling up washing soda in it, after first wiping with paper. Do not use this method on aluminum.

Family customs are cement binding the members together.

Clean brass and copper with pumice stone and oil.

FLOATING POPULATION

In China millions of people live on fragile houseboats, moored to the river banks and seldom moved in the course of a lifetime. Thus China, land of contradictions, seems to be the only country whose floating population is stationary.

Wind Hits Audience

To let the audience "think with the actors" during a storm scene in a London thriller, a wind machine is turned on those sitting on the main floor.

BELIEVES IN DOING
RATHER THAN IN SAYING

Congressman Carl Mapes, who has visited Holland for the last two days and was present at the Republican workers' luncheon, where 150 gathered, showed where President Hoover, long before he was president, indicated a provision of public works, bringing about labor in dull times and curtailing these activities when there was plenty of work for the purpose of taking up the labor slack.

He pointed out that while Roosevelt only advocated such activities now, President Hoover way back in 1924, when he was Secretary of Commerce, not only fought for such a policy, as the records at Washington will indicate, but laid the foundation for that policy, as Mr. Mapes read from the records in the national capital and those records of 1924 as given by Mr. Mapes follows below:

During the hearings before the joint committee of congress on the reorganization of the administrative branch of the government in 1924, Secretary of Commerce Hoover testified:

"During the last year we have had very rapid development in the construction of industries. The entire capacity of the material industries was occupied. All of the construction labor of the United States was employed. There was still a further demand for construction. The result was to lift prices without increasing either production or construction. At that moment on the study of the department of commerce, we advised the various departments of the national, state and municipal governments that they would be well advised to abate their construction work in order to allow private industry to have the market and the labor. Government construction is not in many instances a matter of such urgent importance. In any event government construction is a controllable thing, whereas private construction is not."

And again Secretary of Commerce Hoover said:

"All I am trying to make clear is that it is possible to have a general policy which will contribute something far more to the American public than incidental economies, due to a better segregation of functions and elimination of overlap. The ebb and flow in our business system is to a considerable degree controlled in its movement by the construction industries. The government is certainly in a position to give great relief in times of unemployment by giving intensity to its construction and to assist in relief from high price levels during times of high public demands."

OTTAWA SUPERVISOR
DIES AFTER OPERATION

Death came very suddenly to Gradus Lubbers at Huizenga Memorial hospital last Friday evening, following an operation for appendicitis the previous Monday morning. He had been ill only a few days before his operation. On Sunday morning he entered the hospital for observation and it was soon determined that an operation would be necessary early Monday morning.

Mr. Lubbers was the son of the late Geert Lubbers, one of the original pioneer colonists who came to the Zeeland settlement in 1847. He was born on the Lubbers homestead and lived in the vicinity of his birth until he was 20 years old, when in 1912 he became the owner of the old D. De Pree homestead at Lincoln street and Fairview road near Zeeland, where he has lived since. During his life, Mr. Lubbers had been active in public affairs. For several years he served as member of the board of education of Zeeland, and for many years was supervisor of Zeeland township which position he held at the time of his death. He had also served as a director of the Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance company of Ottawa and Agan counties.

Surviving are his widow and the following children: Mrs. Cornelius Shoemaker, Mrs. Herman Johnson, Mr. George Lubbers of Zeeland; Miss Tena Lubbers and Miss Mary Lubbers of Grand Rapids; also seven grandchildren; two brothers, Ralph of Sheldon, Ia.; John of Overleek township; two sisters, Mrs. George Vande Velde of Grand Rapids and Mrs. A. Lenters of Chicago.

The funeral services were held at the Lubbers home at 1:15 o'clock and at the First Christian Reformed church at 2 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon, the Rev. William Kok, pastor, officiating. Burial was made in the cemetery at West Drenthe.

ELECT SUPERVISOR TO FILL VACANCY

Following the sudden death of Mr. Gradus Lubbers last Friday, the township board met and upon motion by M. Van Loo, one of its members, elected Mr. Mynard Mohr to fill the vacancy. Mr. Mohr is a middle-aged man of some ability and may be considered an able and worthy successor to Mr. Lubbers. He resides on a farm one and a half miles north of this city, formerly occupied by his father-in-law, Mr. Ben Vanden Brink. Formerly he taught in Ottawa county rural schools.

lican voters that in their united strength only is their hope for a continuance of Herbert Hoover as the president of this country.

"The women of this country will help President Hoover build a permanent prosperity," Mrs. Compton declared. "They understand the things he stands for, health, happiness and opportunity for children, homes secure from loss, the American standard of living, the integrity of credit, a just settlement of world problems."

"The world will not get out of this depression except by American leadership. The need today is not to hush over and over the mistakes of the world. The present demand is for ability to go ahead from the present levels."

"This country has more real wealth than before the war. It has $329,000,000 greater than a dozen European countries. American incomes exceed a billion dollars a week. There are still six or seven employed for each idle man; total savings bank deposits are $29,000,000,000, nearly $1,000 per family. Our total gold is $4,000,000,000 while Britain has $588,000,000. These are facts, not arguments. They are taken from treasury reports and bank figures and show that even in this time of depression America is a gigantic figure in the world."

"The important thing for every American citizen in the next two weeks is that he weigh carefully and thoughtfully the programs of the two candidates. Our personal projects, our business and pleasures at this time are of little value compared with our national policies. America is at the crossroads."

"Roosevelt will not carry New York state—where he has had four years in which to reduce the cost of government; four years to correct and curb Wall Street; four years to remedy unemployment. He has not opposed Tammany Hall and we know by the national press what sort of a government has been conducted there by that crowd in New York City."

"Federal government does cost too much. Herbert Hoover has worked unceasingly since 1921 to bring about economies and saving. The Republican budget act was the first real attempt ever made to curtail the cost of government."

"The Republican party stands for a tariff wall which protects American labor and the American standard of living. Every foreign nation wants our tariff reduced. No foreign nation wants to increase our commerce."

"We are fighting today for our American homes and our standards of living as we fought in the world war and against far more dangerous enemies. I call upon you to vote your approval in November of the man who has met the enemy, set up the machinery and recovery and who will go ahead unimpeded by politics—Herbert Hoover."

Rev. Terkeurst of Trinity Reformed church of Holland spoke, admonishing the voters to go to the booths prayerfully and thoughtfully, not to be deceived by the promises extended by the Democratic party, whose suggestions during the past two years in congress have by no means proved to be the panacea for the ills that have accumulated, due in part to world economic conditions.

Mr. Terkeurst, who declared he intended to vote the straight ticket, said the greatest danger in the country is that of stampeding. But, he added, this tendency has been halted during the past few weeks. In his observations, many who jumped to the other side of the fence have returned, he stated. Mr. Terkeurst stated that Mr. Hoover could not fight his battles alone notwithstanding the fact that he is doing a mighty fine job as his sound, sane reasoning in his recent speeches indicate. His discourses have become the talk of the nation and have been cloaked in a dignity that befits the office he is holding.

Mr. Terkeurst likened the ballot to be voted Nov. 8 as a political menu. He said that in his political menu he would place a cross under Lincoln's head, which would mean a well balanced ration when he voted the ticket straight. Voting for a change of menu at this time would mean political dyspepsia for himself and the nation as well.

Mr. Terkeurst surely was good and his discourse brought gales of laughter.

Former Governor R. A. Nestos of North Dakota spoke at Holland and Zeeland and at Holland he was introduced by Attorney Jarrett Clark, who was instrumental in having the governor coming to this city.

The governor prefaced his remarks, stating the pleasure it gave him to meet so many bright young American Republican workers. He spoke in a rich brogue, indicating that he was a descendant from the Norsemen, and coming to this country as a poor lad, working his way to the governorship of his state, what to him was a land of opportunity.

In introducing the governor, Attorney Clark charged the Democratic party with malicious tactics with plenty of misstatements of facts by their spellbinders.

Mr. Nestos said in part as follows:

"Roosevelt has been justly criticized for his failure to take a definite stand on most of the important issues of the day," he said. "The present Democratic attitude toward the tariff is a case in point. With Democracy long committed to free trade or a tariff for revenue only and with the old line Democrats still loyal to the old theories, one can readily understand and respect a party declaration in favor of a competitive tariff for revenue, even if one cannot agree with its wisdom."

"But when leaders of the Democratic party by amendments and votes cast in congress seek to straddle the tariff issue, make it appear they are against protection in principle, but use it for vote getting at home, it becomes a hypocritical and reprehensible attitude. Take the Smoot-Hawley act, which Roosevelt delights so in attacking. We find Democratic senators cast 536 votes for increases

Hope's Grid Stars

ZWEMER BONNETTE NORLIN
NETTINGA JAPINGA

Here are five of the mainstays on the Hope college football team of 1932 who will appear here at Riverview stadium on the next two Saturdays. Jimmy Zwemer and Carroll Norlin, above, are two of the senior members of the team. This pair, tipping the scales at 154 pounds apiece, are rated as two of the best linemen in state college football. Louie Japinga, all conference speed king, and his big brother, Jim Nettinga, who does the blocking, will be performing in the backfield. Gerald Bonnette is having a great season in the punting and line-plunging departments.

Hope will return for a home stay at Riverview stadium this week as Coach Bud Hinga's varsity eleven meets St. Mary's college of Orchard Lake. The visitors will come with a record of not having been defeated in three games this fall.

in rates and 484 against proposed increases."

Mr. Nestos attacked the plan of the Democrats to have America meet with other nations to form tariff agreements. Such attempted discrimination in tariff rates between nations would result in friction and misunderstanding without end, he said.

Speaking of the waterway project, he argued that it is significant that the Republican platform includes the completion of the waterway as one of its important planks, but that the Democratic platform is silent on the question. He said a treaty with Canada has been negotiated, but that the battle is but partly won. Ratification by the senate and appropriation provisions must follow.

Mr. William C. Vandenberg, chairman of the Republican city committee, appointed the following executive board to assist the committee in arranging this luncheon and other activities of the party locally during the balance of the campaign: Ben Mulder, Randall Bosch, Miss Cora Vande Water, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. McBride, Vernon Ten Cate, Mrs. Jay Den Herder, Vaude Vandenberg, Mrs. Sears McLean, Henry S. Bosch, E. P. Stephan, G. M. Laepple, Arthur Van Duren and Edward Brouwer. At the meeting there was community singing with "Bill" Brouwer directing and Ed Stephan at the piano. It was a real enthusiastic rally closing with the singing of "America."

DISCOURSES OF PRESIDENT
HOOVER'S

The two recent addresses of President Hoover, at Des Moines and Cleveland, whatever the effects upon his own political destiny, will stand out for long as the most complete analysis that has been made for a long time of the condition of the country. The dramatic element injected into these discourses were that of the relation of the closeness to which this country came to the point of being obliged to go off the gold standard. Perhaps few Americans, outside those to whom the facts had to be confided at the time have any notion that this country came so close to scraping bottom as the president's declaration shows to have been the case. The danger to us came from the fact that whereas the debts of other countries and of our own country until after 1896 were payable in lawful money, our debt contracts are made in "gold coin of the present standard of weight and fineness." The news now will serve as a sensation rather than as a shock, but the danger of the moment is not to be minimized even now. The fact that when the president realized the situation and confided it to the leaders of both the great parties, remedial measures were immediately legalized, speaks pretty well for American statesmen regardless of their partisan politics and fair minded Americans, regardless of party, admire the president for his part in alleviating this trying situation.

Apart from this disclosure it must be said that the president's defense of the protective tariff was the outstanding feature of his address. It is getting to be fashionable in some political quarters to decry the tariff. Yet we notice that it is still as much of a local issue as General Hancock declared it to be long ago; especially in its application. Louisiana Democrats are just as eager for lumber and sugar protection as Michigan Republicans ever were; and Florida Democrats seem quite as anxious for a tariff on citrus fruits as Pittsburgh steelmasters ever were for a protection for steel. The tariff today is as much an issue as it ever was and President Hoover realizes that fully.

LITERARY CLUB

Mrs. Arthur H. Vandenberg, wife of Senator Vandenberg, gave an interesting address on "Washington Personalities" at a meeting of the Woman's Literary club on Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. J. E. Telling was in charge of the special music. Three vocal solos were sung by Mrs. D. B. K. Van Raalte, "I Came with a Song," "Oh, Love But a Day," and "My Heart, Thy Sweet Voice," from Samson and Delilah.

WORLD WAR'S GREATEST PRIVATE SOLDIER TO SPEAK
SUNDAY AT HOPE
MEMORIAL CHAPEL

In co-operation with the Anti-Saloon leagues of Michigan, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania and New Jersey, the Anti-Saloon League of America has secured Sergeant Alvin C. York, national hero of the world war, for a series of meetings which will continue to election day in November. He will be heard at Hope Memorial chapel next Sunday.

It was Sergeant York's daring feat of Oct. 8, 1918, when under orders with his squad of 17 men he went over the ridge and silenced a machine gun nest in the Argonne forest, leading back to the American lines 132 prisoners and with the loss of but 11 of his own men, that made him a national hero.

When he returned from France, New York went wild over him. He was feted and entertained by statesmen and generals. Both houses of congress met in joint session and cheered him to the echo. Vaudeville and motion picture agencies, newspaper syndicates, advertisers after his endorsement, offered him fabulous sums of money to "sign on the dotted line." But Alvin York had a different plan for his life. His heart was back in the Tennessee mountains where he was born and had lived his life until his country called him to service in the world war. His heart was with his own people, particularly with the boys and girls of his own country who had only the most meager opportunities for education. He had a great plan to build an institution of learning back in that mountain fastness and his plan and his dream have come true.

Sergeant York does not glorify the war. He is an advocate of peace and good will. And it was only after an all-night vigil on the mountainside that he got the consent of his conscience to don the uniform of the soldier. The York schools are his contribution to permanent peace. It is as a champion of education of the less favored, a preacher of righteousness and social justice that Sergeant York raises his voice against the legalized liquor traffic. He has thrilled thousands with his simple eloquence and as one critic says, "charmed them with his mellow mountain dialect, rich in idioms, brought over and handed down by those old Scotch-Irish settlers who first peopled York's native hills."

Sergeant York will be accompanied by Colonel Frank B. Ebbert, Los Angeles attorney, who is a veteran of both the Spanish-American and world wars, and a very eloquent speaker.

The schedule of Sergeant York and Colonel Ebbert calls for a meeting in Hope Memorial chapel next Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Of course, the meetings are free and every person is invited.

Blessed Event

Dr. Brower Continues his Word
Picture on the Holy Land

From time to time Dr. A. J. Brower has sent in to the Holland City News contributions of the Bible Lands of yesterday's marking comparisons at the time when Christ was still on earth, contrasting that period with the Holy Land of today.

Some time ago I read a statement in a paper made by Will Rogers where he claims to be about the only person that visited Egypt and did not take the trouble to see the Sphinx, just because he had seen Mr. Coolidge, but I say, go to Gezaik by all means and see this ancient monument. It certainly is marvelous.

Look at the Sphinx, how was it possible? Cheops, the biggest pyramid, nearly 5,000 years old, and perhaps will stand as long as the world lasts. How was it done? This pyramid, like the Moabite stone, dovetails very nicely with Holy Scripture.

There is a world of knowledge still hidden in this mound, without any doubt. More and more is discovered right along. King Tut stored dolls in his tomb that had movable joints everywhere, 1500 years before Christ. Why did he store practically everything imaginable in his tomb? The museum at Cairo is full of it, and yet 35 boxes have to be opened this day, the contents no one knows. How did the Greeks have a monopoly on art and sculpture? Where were their schools? You see, there is so much to learn and to discover that we know but very little. This was all done with a purpose. God's plan to all appearances.

One thing very much impressed me and that is that of all the different peoples that I have seen, whether black, yellow, red or white, that all were created with anatomies in common. They spoke different languages, but when you study them they are all bright and have this being like all of us. We have our gold but Solomon and Abraham had oodles of it. These men were brainy and wise, and so it is from the beginning to this day. God created them all after His own image, and let us never believe that we are smarter than the old Bible characters. Edison secretary, and Miss Winnie Kamphuis, treasurer. Miss Joanna De Pree was elected accompanist and Marvin Baas director. Mr. Baas for the past four years has been director of the choruses and glee clubs of the Christian High school. It was decided that the usual procedure of taking dues be discontinued and a collection be taken to cover expenses.

Mr. and Mrs. William Vander Schel celebrated their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary at their home Monday evening. More than 25 relatives gathered for the occasion. A social evening was enjoyed and refreshments were served.

Miss Barbara Evans, who will be an October bride, was honored with a linen shower Monday evening by Mrs. Lorraine Smith and Mrs. Fred E. Smith, at the home of the latter, 253 East Ninth street. A mock wedding was staged by Miss Athalie Roest, Miss Marian Te Winkel, Miss Emily Evans and Miss Wilma Buis. Bunces was played and prizes were awarded to Miss Mary Jane Smith and Miss Emily Evans. A dainty two-course luncheon was served to the twelve guests present.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Bement of Allendale, and Don L. Stevens were united in marriage Tuesday evening at the home of the bride's parents. Preceding the ceremony Mrs. Estelle De Vries sang "I Love You Truly." The wedding march was played by Mrs. W. E. Bauder. Affection's Strength never pretended to claim all the credit for inventing the incandescent light. He knew that Frank's kite and key gave him a good start, and this holds true in all discovery. One thing leads to another. What our predecessors settled for us, is just where we start. Often their fundamentals require greater intelligence than followers need, to piece such knowledge together and stumble on something new. Man learns by mistakes or accomplishments of others. Where is the present-day ape that has mastered a single language, and in what does he excel his ancient brother?
Affection is still a bribe of judgment; and it is hard for a man to admit a reason against the thing he loves, or to confess the force of an argument against an interest—South.

Which spider weaves its web differently than thousands of years ago? Where are the ants that show greater wisdom than those in the days of Solomon? And the bees that make better honey than those of Samson's time?

It all goes to show God rules over everything. In conclusion, let me state that I saw but little, comparatively speaking, with what there is to be seen.

Creation is so vast that it is entirely incomprehensible by human mind. In St. John 21, verse 25, we read: "And there are also many other things which Jesus did, which, if they should be written every one, I suppose, that even the world itself could not contain the books that should be written."

"Nothing new under the sun" is too necessary to know the old. Some may say that the New Testament is enough for me but really the two books are one and inseparable. Like all things old and new, the new is copied after or contained in the old, the same with the Bible. "The New Testament is in the old contained, and old is in the new explained."

Palestine is the Land of the Book and the Bible is the Book of the Land.

The End.

About 200 people heard an instructive and stirring address by Rev. John C. Ketcham Tuesday evening at the Community hall.

Mr. Ketcham explained the amendments, which will be on the ballot on Nov. 8. He showed in a very clear and interesting manner what the amendment meant and pointed out both the advantages and dangers of each one. He also spoke on the more general subject of taxation, showing the difference between the federal and state taxes.

He stated that a good many folks were complaining about the high federal taxes, while in reality not a cent of these taxes goes to the federal government.

Taking up the cry for reduced taxes and the promises by some candidates for tax reductions which face the government. Out of every dollar paid in taxes the federal government 27 cents went to war debt, 27 cents to soldiers' relief, 17 cents for the army and navy, 9 cents for public works and only the remaining 20 cents could be used for actual government expenses.

These facts, he stated, prove conclusively that a promise to reduce taxes 50 per cent cannot be fulfilled. At the close he explained the ballot and gave instructions in regard to correct voting.

It was a splendid address, giving honest and clear instruction to the voters. There was no partisan politics in it and everyone, regardless of party affiliations, was greatly benefited. Addresses of this type are the need of the day, according to our opinion. The people need and want to know the facts and without being covered up and falsified by party politics. It was evidently Mr. Ketcham's purpose to make better citizens, but he also succeeded in making many friends as well.

Request State to Pave to Hamilton

Allegan city council voted Monday to request the state highway department to pave from Allegan to Hamilton and to have the grading work done this fall as was done when the Allegan-Otsego road was paved. They believe would furnish considerable employment to local men and thus lessen the burden of supplying for the needy during the winter months. It is understood the state intends to pave this stretch within the near future.

The Allegan council also voted to give the local school board the Stanley Hill gravel pit if the school board will beautify it. The city stipulates, however, that the space may not be used for parking nor be sold. School authorities have long considered this patch of ground an eyesore and are anxious, it is said, to enhance it in some way.—Allegan News.

Good—let's now begin to ask for a little paving from Holland to Hamilton and finish the job.

TRYING A NEW BEAN
Cranberry beans have been known a long time but only recently have they been grown in Michigan as a market crop. They have been so grown, however, in California. The yield here this season has been about the same as that of white beans but the yield was somewhat larger. They are in demand chiefly in coal mining regions for some queer reason. White beans in some parts of Michigan are not yielding well, due to anthracnose. Growers will have to look for disease-free beans.

FENNVILLE WILL HEAR EX-GOV. OSBORN TALK

Word was received here Thursday from the office of the Allegan county chairman of the Republican committee to the effect that Chase

Quinn Ryan of the Chicago Tribune radio announcing staff, tonight gives his "Headlines of Other Days," a real worth-while feature.

This week at least the Holland City News gives a "Headlines of Other Days" of its own since this story is too long for the twenty-five years ago column.

Here it is:

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY

The Holland City News devoted a column and some pictures to an event that attracted the attention not only of Holland, but of the entire state.

"Tommy" Robinson, formerly bell boy at Hotel Holland, now of South Haven, was selected by Charles A. Floyd, head of the Holland Interurban and manager of the State Fair at Detroit, to walk from Holland to the fair. He left Holland fully packed with advertising matter which he has to scatter broadcast along the highway selected for him.

The conditions are that he will not accept a ride but must walk every step. His reward for filling the contract was $50.00 in gold and expenses. However, should he arrive before the allotted time a snug sum will be added. The young man has taken this task for more reasons than the fun of the trip. The money is to start him through University of Michigan, where he hopes to take up a law course. He has been very successful thus far in securing funds for his education. He worked his way through Holland High school as boot-black, bell boy and porter at the local hotel and then was promoted to night clerk.

Young Robinson was also prominent in athletic sports at school, starting as a high jumper, showing skill as a boxer and playing on the baseball and football teams.

He also won signal honors in oratory first, capturing the high school oratorical contest, then the district contest and finally winning the gold medal in the state contest.

Robinson is in excellent shape for the Detroit walk; weight, 151 pounds, is 5 ft. 10 in. in height. "Tommy" made the first lap to Grand Rapids in one day, 32 miles, a little the worst for wear but bright and early the next morning. He made Caledonia the next day, followed by Hastings, Charlotte and intervening towns. He struggled into Lansing six miles to the bad and behind schedule because of a downpour of rain for the entire day, and he had to travel guanoes instead of roads. (Remember, no concrete then). Before reaching Lansing it was already late and he was too fatigued to travel on six miles further. He saw a light in a farm house and timidly knocked. Mrs. Stieffle, a widow with 6 children, opened the door and thinking "Tommy" a tramp, first refused him admittance, but when young Robinson told her he was the "State Fair Wanderer" the door was opened wide for she had read the story and saw his picture in the Lansing State Journal. Tom got a square meal and the best feather bed in the house.

Mail carriers everywhere endeavored to give Tommy a lift but it was "no go." The agreement published was any one discovering that the "State Fair Wanderer" was riding would capture the reward of $50 and the "Wanderer" would lose $50.

The next issue of the News shows that "Tommy" had arrived at the State Fair at Detroit and was received with due acclaim, which included a march led by one of the large bands at the exposition. The entire distance over the advertising route mapped out which included the principal cities between Holland and Detroit and side trips totaled 356 miles. The trip, it seems, agreed with Robinson, for when he started he weighed in at 151 pounds and when he arrived at the fair the scales showed 156 pounds.

The long trip through mud and dust meant that "Tommy" needed new suit of clothing and John D. Moley, large Detroit clothing dealer, fitted out the Holland boy from head to foot and called it square. It required a trunk to take home the nice things other merchants of that city saw fit to give him, they appreciating fully that the "wanderer" had been the source of some fine advertising for the progress of the trip being chronicled daily in the entire state press. It appeared that Tom Robinson arrived way ahead of schedule. Note: Well, the money received from the Detroit trip started him in his law course and he has been practicing law successfully now for 20 years at least—a score of years in Holland and one year in Benton Harbor.

Miss Edith Van Liere, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Van Liere of route 3, and Joe Raak, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Raak, were united in marriage last week, Thursday evening, at the home of the bridegroom's parents at 312 State street, Zeeland. Rev. Gerrit Hoffmeyer of Grand Rapids performed the double ring ceremony. The bride, who was a beautiful brown gown with accessories to match, was attended by her sister, Miss Joan Van Liere. Stephan Dieters attended the bridegroom. Following the ceremony a reception was held for about 50 relatives and friends. The newlyweds left on a wedding trip to Kentucky. On their return they will make their home in Zeeland.

ZEELAND BOY MARRIES EAST SAUGATUCK GIRL

On last Thursday evening at seven o'clock Mr. Joe Raak of Zeeland was married to Miss Edith Van Liere of East Saugatuck. The ceremony was performed at the home of Mr. Raak's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Raak on North State street, Zeeland, where Rev. Gerrit Hoffmeyer of Grand Rapids performed the marriage rites.

The home was beautifully decorated and the bride and groom stood under an arch of ferns and cut flowers while the marriage vows were said. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Johanna Van Liere of East Saugatuck, while Stephan Dieters of East Saugatuck acted as best man.

Mr. Raak is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Raak of North State street, and is well and favorably known here, and Mrs. Raak is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Evert Van Liere of East Saugatuck and now of Holland.

Following the ceremony a wedding supper was served to sixty invited guests.

The newly married couple immediately left on a short wedding trip to Kentucky and Wisconsin before returning to Zeeland, where the will make their home.

Ottawa County Health Unit Is Retained

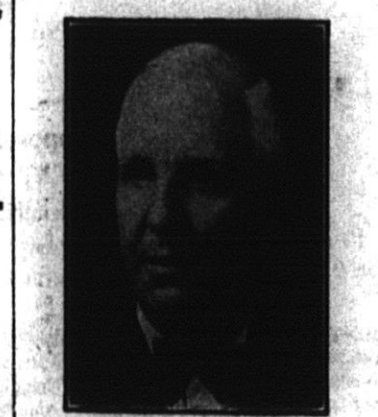

EIGHTEEN DECIDE IN FAVOR OF DEPARTMENT WITH 10 OPPOSED: MISNER MAKES PLEA

Ottawa county supervisors did a very commendable thing when they retained the health unit, so-called, that has been a boom to the rural districts of this county.

It was decided by a vote of 18 to 10 that this department would be maintained.

The public health committee submitted a majority and minority report on Monday afternoon, the majority report signed by Charles E. Misner and Peter Damstra. William Havedink from Blendon presented the minority report. Board Member Charles Misner of Grand Haven this year as well as last year gave a convincing plea to retain the health unit.

"The cost of the health unit to this county is less than the amount that is being received from outside resources," said Mr. Misner when addressing the board—"The $6,583.27 is received annually from the state, the federal government and the Rockefeller Foundation. The county appropriation is $6,000, a net gain of $583.27 in cash. Under the new system $4,000 has been actually saved to the township. About five times more is now received from each dollar spent under the new system. Co-operation of all the supervisors with the health unit can save approximately $10,000 in the future," he declared.

CHARLES MISNER,
Who Made Plea for Health Unit.

Mr. Misner showed that the total cost to the county in reality to support this department was $3,832.46, when the deductions for the examination of welfare labor, examination of afflicted adults and mental cases and the capital expenses were made. The total cost of the unit last year was $11,850.23. The total credit from outside sources was $8,017.77.

Under the old system with a county nurse, the total cost was $5,029.60, he pointed out. He appealed to the true economy basis of the plan and urged that the supervisors not be blinded by false economies. He stated that the future purpose of the unit be to erase local township laws, to allow a county physician that could be employed to actually take care of the indigent sick.

Roelof Dragt, Allendale, urged the unit be dropped as a too costly expenditure. He stated his constituents were solidly behind discontinuance and pointed to a local meeting at the Allendale town hall.

Floyd Harrison, in answer to Mr. Misner, said "How can we forget taxes, and the plea that it is false economy to reduce them. It is the most vital question the people have to contend with and the reduction of taxes is the greatest relief work which there is at the present time."

Cornelis Roosenraad made some minor suggestions as to improvement in the unit's method but stated he was for the proposition. Peter Bowman cited some excellent work that was done in his township. He stated that many times Dr. Ten Have would have rendered medical services to indigent cases but he was prevented by the township law. He believed his township was saved many dollars by the unit.

OTTAWA COUNTY SUPERVISORS' NOTES

John Lubben of Coopersville was reappointed superintendent of the poor. He was opposed by William Hannigan, Tallmadge. The former officer succeeded by the narrow vote of 15 to 13. He is appointed for three years.

As a special order of business the report of the agricultural committee will be held tomorrow morning. A general discussion of the county agent's office and home demonstration departments will be heard relative to the retention, abolishment or curtailment of that department.

Peter Rycenga, chairman of the county officers' committee, announced that the salary schedules of county officers had been made and as a special order of business the board would consider the matter Wednesday afternoon.

The board passed the appropriation of $150 for inspection of bees. This is a cut of $50 from last year's amount.

George Borck answered several questions relatives to assistance that had been given to indigents in the county through the soldiers' relief commission.

A suggestion was made that the school commissioner be elected at the same time the county officers were chosen instead of at a special election as an economy measure. Mr. Misner pointed out this was a state law, designed to keep this office out of the line of politics, as is the circuit judge elections, he said.

Charles Veldhuis, superintendent of schools at Coopersville, was reappointed for his second term as county school examiner. David M. Cline of Spring Lake was appointed director of the Michigan Tourist and Resort association from the Ottawa county board with Ben Brower of Holland as alternate director. Appointment of a commissioner for the county infirmary was put over until tomorrow.

Maynard Mohr of Zeeland township, appointed to fill the position of township supervisor, vacated by the death of Gradus Lubbers, was seated today. His appointment was by the township board. The supervisors voted to attend the funeral of Mr. Lubbers in Zeeland tomorrow afternoon, leaving here in a body after the morning session. Mr. Lubbers was a veteran of twenty years' service on the board. A committee composed of Charles E. Misner of Grand Haven, Cornelius Roosenraad of Zeeland, and William O. Van Eyck of Holland was appointed to draw up resolutions on the death of Mr. Lubbers.

William Hutton, representing the Eagle-Ottawa Leather company, as the largest taxpayer in Ottawa county, sent a communication to the board endorsing the work of the county agricultural agent and the home demonstration agent. Mr. Hutton called attention to the work done by these two officers in instruction in forming, gardening and home canning which, he said, were of prime importance during the present depression.

"CONCRETE" CONNELLY AGAIN ELECTED ON OTTAWA ROAD COMMISSION

William M. Connelly, road commissioner of Ottawa county for 17 years, was reappointed by unanimous vote of the board of supervisors to serve another six-year term. Mr. Connelly began his service as commissioner May 1, 1915. He has served continuously since. When the office of president of the Michigan Good Roads association was made vacant several years ago Mr. Connelly was elected to the office, which he still holds. A member of the state senate a decade ago, Mr. Connelly was the leader in much of the highway legislation of the period when the state was striving to improve its highway system. Concrete highways, since been adopted as standard construction for main-traveled roads, were strenuously advocated by Mr. Connelly during the early days of road building.

WANTS WORKERS WORK SHARED

The Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring a share-the-work movement among manufacturers and merchants, urging them to adjust their schedules so as to provide work for more workers through a larger division of present working hours. Although several manufacturers have followed this policy for some time, it is proposed to urge its adoption in all places of industry.

"Complete co-operation is essential if noticeable aid is to be extended here," Mr. Lievesee said. "If anyone thinks the worker with a job that yields something more than a living is selfishly reluctant to share it with the unfortunate person who has no job, he thinks wrong. Again and again men in factories facing further cutting of production have been asked whether they wanted fewer men employed with fewer hours. Invariably the answer has been in favor of more workers and fewer hours."

"The share-the-work movement has been slow in getting started, but finally America has realized the need and value of it."

In addition to Mr. Lievesee, Ernest C. Brooks, William Brouwer, H. S. Covell, D. B. K. Van Raalte and Vaudie Vandenberg attended the conference.

Mr. Brouwer, president of the Merchants' association, said many of the business men have divided work in stores as a means of keeping original staffs intact.

Flames of undetermined origin damaged the Joseph Renihan cottage "Kilcare" at Highland Park, Grand Haven, to the extent of $1,000 on the building and about the same amount on the contents.

And the muskrats of Monroe are building higher and thicker works for this winter. But what say the feathers on the wild geese? Will it be a mild winter or severe?

JOHN MARTIN IS HELD UP AND ROBBED IN HOME

John Martin, well known Fennville farmer, was attacked a few nights ago by two young men, who bound and gagged him and robbed him of a small sum of money. The robbers, whom Martin said he had never seen before, drove up to his home on the New Richmond road and when he opened the door he was struck over the head and then tied up. They took a wallet from his pocket, and left. Mr. Martin, after some effort, succeeded in freeing himself and went to the Haney farm near by to give the alarm.

MAN PLEADS GUILTY TO TAPPING OF WIRES

Florence Botbyl pleaded guilty to the charge of tapping municipal electric light wires at his home in Grand Haven before Justice Paul Behm yesterday afternoon. Complaint was made by City Electrician Weisese, who brought evidence to show that Botbyl had taken current off of the city wires which was not recorded in the meter. Justice Behm took the case under consideration. The penalty is not less than $25 nor more than $100 or 90 days in the county jail.

AMENDMENTS ARE OPPOSED

Municipal League Goes on Record Against Proposals Regarding Property Tax

Organized opposition to proposed constitutional amendments designed to limit real estate taxation and exempt entire small homesteads has been pledged by the Michigan Municipal League, meeting at Lansing. City officials and representatives in the league's annual meeting adopted a report charging proponents of the amendments are attempting to "force the hand of the legislature by crippling the property tax." Speakers expressed the fear that the new taxes the legislature might be forced to devise if the amendments carried would result in a less equitable system than now exists. It would tend to drive industry from Michigan.

STATE IS "CLOSING" ITS PARKS

Nine of Michigan's state parks have been closed for the 1932 season since Sept. 15; 12 more were closed on Sept. 30, and seven scheduled for closing on Oct. 15, P. J. Hoffmaster, state parks superintendent, has announced. This official closing of the parks does not mean that visitors are excluded, but all equipment is stored, and caretakers are removed. At the Ottawa Beach oval folks can go the year around—there are no restrictions or barriers put up as was the case for a few weeks last year and until Holland sent a protest to the department showing the foolishness of such a move. These were then removed for good and this example was followed in every park in Michigan. Big lake in action in the winter is an awesome sight and worth seeing.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Beekman, pioneers of this city, are planning to celebrate their fifty-seventh wedding anniversary Oct. 20. Beekman is 83 and Mrs. Beekman is 75. Beekman is the only survivor of four brothers. Beekman is a native of Germany and Mrs. Beekman, nee Albertha Dalman, was born in Grand Rapids. They have lived their entire wedded career in Holland. Beekman sailed the lakes for many years and for years was employed in local industrial plants. Mr. and Mrs. Beekman are parents of 12 children, 6 living. They are Garrett, Egbert, Russell, Herman, Mrs. William Kuhlman, all of Holland, and Mrs. Gertrude Wright of Battle Creek. There are 19 grandchildren. —Grand Rapids Press.

Dear Me! Allegan Gets More Deer

The Allegan Rod and Gun club will shortly have fifteen more deer, three bucks and twelve does, to add to the county herd. They come from the state hospital in Kalamazoo. Their fences were getting poor and they didn't feel that they cared to repair them under existing conditions, so got in communication with the state conservation department, who referred them to the Allegan club. They will be yarded for a time that they may become accustomed to their new surroundings before being liberated. This makes a herd of between thirty-five and forty for the county.

Fisherman must Deal With Heads In Fishing Zones

ALL PROBLEMS AFFECTING LAKES AND STREAMS WILL COME UNDER JURISDICTION OF NEW CHIEFS

Another marked advance has been recorded in the fishery affairs of Michigan through the establishment of 11 zones where all matters pertaining to the operation of fish hatcheries, rearing and feeding stations, the planting of fishes and studies of lake and stream conditions are concentrated under a single district manager. The new setup goes into effect immediately and should result in better fishing conditions for the 500,000 anglers who annually turn to our inland waters for sport and food.

After five years of effort to bring our fishery operations to the point where the fishing fertility of our waters would be restored to some semblance of their pristine glory Michigan can well afford to say, "We have this fish problem licked." Results have proven this.

Today this state is looked on in national affairs as having made the greatest progress in the maintenance and re-establishment of fishery resources. Holland and Ottawa county is in Lydell zone, embracing Kent and Ottawa with Claude Lydall of Comstock Park the head.

Any person whose fishing interests are centered in any particular county will now have the opportunity of having his problems and wants handled by a supervisor whose business it is to know about the streams and lakes in his territory. There will be no more jockeying around with Lansing headquarters. Everything from handling requests for fish plants up to elaborate lake and stream surveys must be taken up with the district supervisors.

This new effort will do away with a lot of lost motion and delays and put the public in direct touch with men who understand the fish problems peculiar to the districts. It means direct action when emergencies arise and should bring to every individual fisherman a better understanding of what must be overcome before the ordinary fisherman can go out and bring back a creel or string full of fish.

Those who have been placed in charge of the various districts and their headquarters follow:

HUDSONVILLE GROUP ESCAPES; CAR STALLED IN PATH OF FAST TRAIN

G. R. Press—Five Hudsonville young folk and John De Vree, Sr., narrowly escaped death Thursday evening when the motorcar in which they were returning to school in Kalamazoo became stalled on railway tracks at Ross station.

As the young people, Elizabeth De Vree, Norma Alward and Mabel Kell, Bernice Hughes and Verna Huyser, approached the crossing Miss Alward noted the approach of a fast train and called out a warning. Mr. De Vree, the driver, applied the brakes, stalling the car in the middle of the right-of-way. The car was a two-door sedan causing delay in unloading, but all escaped before the train crashed into the vehicle, although the last to leave was not more than 10 feet from the car when it was hit.

The party had attended the marriage of Paul DeWendt and Miss Ethel De Vree at the home of Mr. and Mrs. De Vree earlier in the evening.

Born To Dr. and Mrs. F. E. DeWeese of Holland—a daughter, Mary Ann. The baby was born in a Grand Rapids hospital. Mrs. DeWeese was formerly Miss Helen Noble, a daughter of Mrs. F. Noble and a niece of Miss Allie L. Engle—Allegan News.

FROM A DUTCH CANAL BOAT

Holland is a water land and the way to see Holland is to go about by water, not by train as so many hurried tourists do. It is ideal travel to get on one of their many canal boats and leisurely survey from the deck the passing warrens and docked ocean liners and then when away from the city, the lush and watery fields of green, canal fretted villages, every now and then passing boats loaded with vegetables and hay, for boats are the market carts of the Dutch.

The janitor will receive $600, which is $200 less than suggested in June. Other new salaries are: Clerk, $2,500; treasurer, $2,500; prosecutor, $2,500, all including clerk hire; drain commissioner, $1,000; school commissioner, $2,000; probate court clerical help, $1,200.

Grand Haven to be ready with machine guns

Within a few days Grand Haven police will be ready to combat bank robbers with modern weapons. The city council voted last night to buy $600 worth of new equipment, including a machine gun for the police department.

Grand Haven banks are interested to the extent of paying two-fifths of the cost.

Members of the council, police department, and bankers have been given several demonstrations recently and the technical advice of Capt. Victor L. Colson of Company F has been sought. Captain Colson, a firearm expert, recommended the machine gun. Instruction in the use of the new weapons will be given members of the police force in the next two weeks at Muskegon, where the company selling the weapons is conducting a school of instruction. Chief of Police Lawrence DeWitt has recommended periodic practice.

That part of M-89 between Allegan and Fennville is in about the poorest condition of any road that the state pretends to keep in condition. The gravel is broken through and the "wash boards" are continuous. It is all right to pave the Hamilton road, but a road that carries the traffic that the Fennville road has should get a little more attention than a "lick and a promise."

What it needs is a tarmac coating to end this expensive scraping and resultant dust.

William T. Kinsey, the founder of newspapers in Auburn and Waterloo, Ind., and a printer in Saugatuck and Douglas, Mich., and also a veteran of the Civil war, died at Ft. Wayne Sunday morning at the home of a nephew, Thomas W. Stuart. He was 93 years old, and was in Ft. Wayne to attend the reunion of the 44th Indiana Infantry, in which he served during the Civil war. Mr. Kinsey was a native of Auburn, Ind. In 1860 he was a delegate to the Republican national convention at which Lincoln was nominated for the presidency.

A thirty-year-old farm hand, Norman Porter, is in the county jail charged with taking indecent liberties with a seven-year-old girl in Leighton township, Allegan county.

Porter had been placed on the farm in that township by the Travelers Aid Society of Grand Rapids. He was arrested last Saturday in Caledonia by Deputy Sheriff Hanna of Leighton after Sheriff Teed of this county with a posse had searched for him most of Friday night.

Arrested Tuesday before Justice Fish he demanded an examination which was set for Oct. 25. Bail of $6,400 was not given.

The case of Leonard Tiefenthal of Hopkins, arrested on a statutory charge, was dismissed in Justice Fish's court of Allegan. The man proved to the court that he was married to the girl in the case. His bondsman was released after costs were paid.

Visiting Frenchman Would Like to See Hoover Remain

Holland Evening Sentinel—"Hoover must stay, and prohibition must go," were the statements of Harold Arbens, young engineer of Paris, France, in an interview yesterday in which he revealed the European attitude on affairs in the United States. Mr. Arbens left last evening for Detroit after spending two days in Holland.

Arbens, who travels through the United States every year, made a stop in Holland to visit the Holland Furnace company and study the principles of the new air-conditioner manufactured by the local concern. He was high in his praises of the unit.

"You have a nice little city here," said the French visitor, "and the air-conditioner will be a big thing some day, and will doubtlessly be an aid to Holland's employment."

And J. P. Kolla, he's great. He's a Frenchman, you know. Not an ordinary Frenchman, but one who has gathered the best from the French race and from the Americans."

When asked about his impressions of the United States, Mr. Arbens went on in an emotional manner that is characteristic of his people. "There are two major faults in this country," he advised. "First, it is still a young nation and, like a child, a headache makes you believe that you are sick. All one hears is depression, depression. Why, this country is in far better condition than most European nations, yet you complain."

"The second fault is the eighteenth amendment. If prohibition is repealed business will improve immediately, new buildings will be constructed and men will go back to work."

Arbens went on to say that he certainly hopes that Hoover is re-elected. All European countries have confidence in the present executive, and no one abroad knows of Roosevelt, declared the visitor.

He said most business men with whom he has come in contact favor the re-election of Hoover.

Arbens has been in this country three weeks on this trip. He stopped at New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, St. Louis, Cincinnati, Chicago and other major American cities. He will be in Detroit for a few days, and he expects to remain in this country perhaps two or three weeks longer.

FIRE AND POLICE COMMISSIONERS HOLD MEET

A meeting of the board of police and fire commissioners was held Monday afternoon in the city hall. Plans were made to hold a special meeting to consider the purchase of additional weapons for the police department.

Bills totaling $78, expenses of local authorities in attempts to locate the bandits who robbed the First State bank, were presented to the board. It was stated that most of this expense will be borne by the county.

The commissioners voted to withhold payment of a bill for $34.15 for damages to an automobile of George Tinnholt until further investigation. It was reported that Special Officer John De Vries, who was employed to test cars on the streets here, crashed the police car into the parked machine of Mr. Tinnholt.

Fire Chief C. Blom, Jr., and John Luidens were authorized to make arrangements for the purchase and installation of a water tank on a discarded fire truck to be used at rural fires.

A recommendation of Commissioner Henry Ketel that new tires with puncture-proof tubes be purchased for the police car was adopted.
