City Fathers Want Us To Buy Holland Sugar

MAYOR AND ALDERMEN ARE ALSO GRATEFUL THAT
BAKER FURNITURE CO.
HAS BECOME A
FACT

The common council meeting was of short duration last evening, taking up a little over a half hour.

Alderman Steffens opened the meeting with prayer, the flag was saluted as is the custom and the welfare list was read by Alderman Woltman of the second ward.

The welfare claims amounted to $2,617.76. Of this the groceries are again high on the list amounting to $1,415.53; milk comes next, $547.71; coal bills are again coming in to the amount of $235.59; gas and oil, $54.81.

Alderman Prins of the First ward was very much elated over the fact that at last, after many weeks of hard work and trying situations, the Baker Furniture Co. of Allegan, to employ over 200 men after Jan. 1, will become another industrial institution for Holland.

Now that the matter has been finally closed Mr. Prins suggested that the common council give a vote of thanks to those who had a part in bringing this about and especially to William Connelly, industrial director, who was the "go-between" getting all the factions to agree as to policy. It was a tiresome job which took tireless effort.

The mayor and common council gave Mr. Connelly and the others who took part in these negotiations a rising vote of thanks which was unanimous.

The committee who were to negotiate for a double entry system of bookkeeping for the board of public works and the city reported progress.

The common council also approved City Engineer Zuidema's plans for lateral and storm sewers from Eighth to Eleventh streets and from Eighth to Fourth streets, to cost approximately $5,000, considerable of it going to hand labor.

Sidewalks to be repaired are becoming the butt of jokes at nearly every meeting. Mayor Bosch again called Alderman Prins' attention to this fact but Alderman Prins came back and said: "Well, Mr. Mayor, you promised to come along and point them out to me." The mayor smiled and "Heinie" and "Nickie" would go arm in arm picking out bad sidewalks.

Alderman Kleis presented a resolution to the common council asking the people of Holland to use Holland sugar. Albert Keppel, who was in the audience, also voiced his approval to stand by Holland's factory by using Holland sugar. It was Alderman Kleis who more than a year ago sent in a resolution asking that an attempt be made to open the Holland Sugar Co. At that time William C. Vandenberg, one-time alderman of the Third ward, was secured to make that attempt together with his brother, Vaudie. The results have been very gratifying and the resolution presented by Mr. Kleis was unanimously passed by the entire council and also received the approval of Mayor Bosch. The resolution follows:

Holland, Mich., Oct. 18, 1933.

"Whereas, after having been idle for a number of years the local sugar mill is about to reopen and,

"Whereas, the revival of this industry is proving to be a real stimulant to our courage and to our faith in this community, and

"Whereas, the growers of sugar beets will share in the reopening of this mill and employment will be given to approximately 225 men during the operating season, and

"Whereas, it seems fitting and proper that the City of Holland officially should suggest to our civic organizations the promotion of an expression of appreciation to all who have had a part in the revival of the best sugar industry in this community.

"Now, therefore, be it resolved that the mayor and common council of the City of Holland for itself and in behalf of the community at large hereby extends thanks and appreciation to all who in any way whatsoever participated in the venture, and be it further

"Resolved that it is the sense of this body that all possible encouragement should be extended to the end that the revival of this industry should go on into the future years, indefinitely, and be it further

"Resolved, that in our opinion the most substantial manner in which this community can be helped to ensure the permanency of the industry is to recommend and make an appeal that this community—which includes all of western Michigan—purchase sugar made in this community and be it further

"Resolved, that this body requests William M. Connelly, managing director of our Chamber of Commerce, to solicit the co-operation of all civic organizations, the Woman's Literary club, the Merchants' association, the Exchange club, the Rotary club, and all other organizations in an effort to secure the co-operation of this entire community to use sugar made in Holland—the object being to "keep our sugar factory going" and be it further

"Resolved, that a copy of this resolution be sent to the Lake Shore Sugar company."

Andrew Hankiewicz of Grand Rapids was found guilty of a statutory charge by a jury in circuit court Wednesday. David Kuno of Grand Haven was found not guilty on a statutory charge by a jury.

BOAT FROM EUROPE IS IN HARBOR AT GR. HAVEN

The Swedish steamship "Lab," came into port this morning with 750 tons of wood pulp aboard for the Vyn company which will be stored in the warehouse and trucked from here to manufacturing concerns in Grand Rapids.

The ship was delayed as she ran aground in Lake Ontario. She has crossed the ocean, taking in all about a month for the trip. This is the second Swedish boat that has come into port this year. The ship is not over 300 feet long and looks like a small craft to brave the seas of the Atlantic. Her crew of about 25 men are natives of Sweden and speak their native tongue.

Between 50 and 60 local men are being employed to unload the ship. This is the fifth large boat to enter Grand Haven harbor within the last week. Holland harbor and dock committee, get busy.

YOUNG DEMOCRATS HOLD COUNCIL MEETING AT COURTHOUSE TUESDAY

The Young Democrat clubs of America for Michigan will hold a state meeting October 26 at Saginaw and Tuesday night a county meeting was held here to select delegates to the state meeting.

Those chosen were D. S. Decker, Tony Vandenberg, C. M. McNaughton, Holland; Marinus Barne, Zeeland; Ferdinand Moll, N. F. Yongman, Edward Broekema, Martin Van Schelven, Paul Behm and Gerrit Van Coevering of Grand Haven.

Paul Behm, justice of the peace, who has taken a prominent part in local political circles, presided and Charles E. Misner spoke briefly. A committee of three, including N. F. Yongman, formerly of Holland; Martin Van Schelven and Marinus Barne, was chosen to fill in any vacancies that might occur as the organization is desirous of having a full representation from Ottawa county at the state meeting.

The county organization will be perfected at a meeting to be held at Grand Haven on November 9 and later local clubs for the cities and other communities in the county will be organized.

At the state meeting a caucus of the fifth district will be held on October 26 at 10 a. m. an hour preceding the general meeting. John Dolfin, national committeeman heads the organization.

NEW TRIAL SOUGHT IN W. MCCAFFERTY CASE

Motion for a new trial for Wallace McCafferty, convicted in circuit court in Ottawa county of the murder of Frank Wallert, was filed today in circuit court by Charles E. Misner, attorney for McCafferty.

The attorney bases his claim for a new trial on the prejudicial charge of the court, on the fact that the court instructed the jury to disregard the verdict of manslaughter and made contradictory statements in the charge, he says.

The transcription of the court proceedings has been made and if the trial is denied in the lower court the case will be appealed to the supreme court, Mr. Misner stated.

Wallace McCafferty is now in Marquette prison for life where he was sentenced immediately following the trial of William Wildorf, charged jointly with McCafferty for the murder of the former local man. Wildorf is also serving a life sentence at Marquette.

"GREEN" WINTER IN OFFING, SAYS CHIPPEWA JAKE

(Grand Rapids Herald)

Take it from Jake Chippewa, direct descendant of old Chief Wasong-Ning of the Chippewa Indians at Suttons Bay, Michigan, it's going to be a "green" winter. That means, he explained, that things aren't going to be so bad.

The Indian prophet has just completed his trip among the omens and this is what he has found:

Muskies are building low houses, which means not much ice.

Squirrels are not storing up any great quantities of nuts which may, of course, be a result of another finding that there aren't many nuts this fall.

Moss is light, showing that trees will not have much protection.

The hunting moon was yellow instead of white, which could forecast much snow.

Deers' hooves are dull, indicating they will not have to paw through deep snow or over heavy ice.

Chippewa adds, confidentially, that he has to predict an open winter every year to keep his wife from insisting that he cut up more firewood.

MANY TONS OF BEETS AT THE SUGAR FACTORY

The Lake Shore Sugar company officials state that up to 4 o'clock today 1,400 tons of beets had come to the sugar mill and the pyramid of beets were assuming tremendous proportions. There was also 100 tons in the railroad yards to be unloaded tomorrow.

Slicing of beets and sugar making will start at 7 o'clock Saturday morning and 200 men will be employed. Trucks waiting to be unloaded sometimes extend two city blocks. It is like the good old days.

Mr. William J. Grotemut and daughter, Miss Wilhelmina Grotemut of Petoskey, motored in to Grand Rapids, Allegan, Kalamazoo, where they visited relatives and to Holland where they called on their cousins, Mrs. James De Young and Mrs. Benjamin A. Mulder, the past week.

A meeting of the auxiliary of Eagles will be held tonight, Friday, at 8 o'clock in the Eagle hall.

Parade Nearly Starts Down Town Stampede

HOPE COLLEGE HOMECOMING
A COLORFUL AFFAIR.
SOPHS WIN PULL.

The Hope college Homecoming was a colorful affair with the girls' dormitory and several fraternity houses all lighted and decorated.

The sophomores won another victory over the freshmen by pulling them through Black river, but when the freshmen had been pulled through and would not stop pulling the sophs tied the end of the rope to a tree which naturally ended the pull.

Bonfires and speeches on the campus were some of the cheerful events that bring a bubbling over of college spirit.

There was only one matter that seemed to have been mismanaged and that was the route of the parade. From the post office north on River avenue and from River avenue east on Eighth street to the Tavern, the two chief blocks in the city, were eliminated from the parade route. Expectant people, thousands of them, had parked their automobiles and had lined the streets, to find that the parade was diverted over Central avenue instead, east on Eighth street to the college campus.

When this was noticed there was a grand rush to Central avenue and a backing out of cars and finally a blockade that was absolutely dangerous. Many cars had fenders smashed and there was a disgruntled crowd which had come downtown, some from the country, to see what Hope college had to offer. But a few in those two blocks who had convenient spots either in automobiles or on the street or in windows of business places saw the parade at all.

Chief of Police Lievens had put two special men on River avenue and Eighth street and Ninth and River to take care of the traffic but they hustled to Central avenue to break up the blockade there when the mistake was noticed. It is the custom to bring the line of march to police headquarters, Mr. Lievens says, but it appears somebody at the head of the parade blundered and took the wrong street. The police department was not to blame in the least but will see that the route of march will be strictly followed in future parades.

The Dorian Literary society of Hope college was the winner of first prize in the parade of floats. Second place was awarded to the Fraternal society, the Cosmopolitans taking third.

A big pep meeting in Carnegie hall for the Hope-Alma game which was played Saturday at River view park climaxed Friday's festivities. The program consisted of several musical selections, played by the college band, led by Prof. Deckard Ritter; yell, led by Yell Masters Kruizenga, Van Ark and Mistretta, and a laugh-pulling skit in which Linden Lindsay, John Vander Meulen, John Henderson, B. J. Hoffman and Miss Ruth Burkett took part.

Christian Walvoord, president of the student council, then awarded the prize for the winner in the parade of floats held previously to the pep meeting.

After the Hope brass quartet played several pieces a group of girls presented a sketch called "Football as Co-eds Play It." Miss Catherine Haig took the part of Coach Hinga with Miss Betty G. o. e. n. e. r impersonating Jack Schouten.

Coach Hinga spoke briefly and called on Captains Eddie Damon and Louis Japinga, and Jim Nettinga and Gordon Korstanje, two other members of the team, who spoke concerning Saturday's game.

A huge bonfire on the campus training field on Twelfth street followed the meeting.

Final activities of the celebration were held Saturday evening with fraternities and sororities entertaining alumni members at parties and banquets. "Open house" was held in Voorhees hall Saturday. After the game Saturday afternoon which Hope won, the score being Hope 19, Albion 12, a Koffee Klets for alumni and their friends was conducted.

Activities of the campus also included the Michigan Student Volunteer convention which was held Saturday and Sunday.

BUILDING IS BEING PRE- PARED FOR BAKER PLANT

Already twenty men are at work in the old Bush and Lane piano factory building, which will soon be occupied by the Baker Furniture company of Allegan.

John De Wilde, superintendent of the Baker company, has been spending several days at the local plant, preparing it for the moving of the industry from Allegan to Holland. Mr. De Wilde is also in charge of employment. More than 300 applications for employment were received in the first two days and that number has increased considerably Wednesday and Thursday.

Mr. Hollis Baker stated that he was very much pleased with the co-operation he received from Holland and its citizens.

LOCAL BARBER FINED; DID NOT HAVE LICENSE

Henry Fisher, barber of Grand Haven, was fined $5 and assessed costs of $4.30 for failing to have a license for cutting hair. He appeared before Justice Paul Behm and pleaded guilty to the complaint made by Frank D. Kellogg, deputy state inspector. He paid the fine and costs and was released.

A meeting of the auxiliary of Eagles will be held tonight, Friday, at 8 o'clock in the Eagle hall.

This Large Plant Becomes The Baker Furniture Company

The public secret is out and the Baker Furniture Company of Allegan has acquired the Bush & Lane Piano plant, wonderfully located across from Prospect Park.

Because of this and other reasons it took at least two months to gather up the loose ends in the transaction to make it a binding legal proposition. At least a score of men had "a finger in the pie," working diligently and gratuitously and the clearing house for this work was in the Chamber of Commerce rooms at Warm Friend Tavern. There were days and days of meetings, disheartening outcomes; one obstacle was brushed aside when another would "bob up."

At last the proposal was signed, sealed and delivered and work is already going on at the plant to put it in shape to accommodate at least 200 working men who will get out the famous Baker line of furniture before the first of the year and in time for the nation's furniture exhibit. Story elsewhere.

News Items Taken From the Files of Holland City News Fifty, Twenty-five and Fifteen Years Ago Today

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Allegan county has shipped 10,000 bushels of peaches thus far this season. Our neighbors are destined to become the fruit belt of the state if they keep on.

Fifty years ago was an era of railroad building. According to the News files 4,244 miles of track had been laid thus far in 1883 up to October. In Michigan alone 142 miles of new railroad was built. It was expected that the trackage would be extended far over 5,000 miles by the end of the year for 1883. During 1882 over 7,000 miles of new railroad beds and trackage was completed. Note: Those were railroad building days and the beginning of this country's greatest development. Quite a different picture today with the advent of the auto and truck.

Attorneys McBride and Seely had a real clinch in Pagonson's court at Grand Haven during the Lawrence examination. Fortunately there was no blood shed. These legal gentlemen had better get a couple of pair of boxing gloves and go down to "Rosie Mount" and have it out some morning before breakfast.

Note: A lawyer's fight in the olden days was a common occurrence—your editor has seen many of them. Today they are just as fighting mad but it results in a tongue lashing rather than a nose smashing. It goes hard with an attorney who goes in for prize fighting in court these days. One of the attorneys in question was the much beloved late George W. McBride, possibly the most eloquent speaker in North Ottawa and an uncle of Charles McBride of this city. A Republican convention was never complete without him and his passing brought much sorrow to his host of friends in Western Michigan. Possibly the most pathetic event ever witnessed in an Ottawa county convention was when "George W." the old grizzled veteran of the Civil war, asked to speak for the last time to the delegates assembled. Feeble and blind, caused by old age, he was led to the platform and for a brief spell his wonderful eloquence, his great command of language, his enthusiasm and old time fire asserted itself. He carried away his audience and there were many tear-dimmed eyes among those 200 delegates. It was McBride's last appearance in the political arena; he died shortly afterward. The void is still felt by the older Republicans who attend these political gatherings.

Word has been received at Washington that Pvt. Tieman Scheepel, 272 East 9th St., Holland, died in France of Spanish influenza. He was with the infantry and arrived in France a month ago and took sick almost immediately. Another star in blue in Holland's service flag was turned to gold. Note: You will notice these were terrible war days. We consider that "dark days," but folks today at least are healthier than ever; no one is slaughtered and our sons are not "gun fodder" and our land is bursting with food provided by a most benevolent Creator, in fact to such an extent that we are compelled to stop growing and what is more, turn meat into fertilizer. To us Hollanders brought up in extreme poverty without welfare aid this does not seem exactly right.

At Beechwood P.T. club a program was given featuring Attorney Fred T. Miles, who spoke on the subject, "Perseverance," and Mrs. Frank Stalker, who gave as her discourse, "Amusements for Young Folks." Master Woodrow Maris made a hit when the youngster rendered the following:

"There was a little Hun,
Who had a little gun;
The bullets were all dum-dum-dum.

He climbed up a tree,
To snipe all he could see,
And now he's in kingdom come.

The body of Joe Wentzel, who died in Camp Custer, was sent to Hamilton for burial. His parents live there, although the young man has dwelt in both Holland and Zeeland and enlisted here.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY

Some time ago Raymond Vischer, studying law at U. of M., had a fine overcoat stolen at Ann Arbor and he notified the police there. The Saginaw police a few days later notified Chief Kamferbeek at Holland that burglars had broken in a dwelling in that city and in their haste in getting away left the coat there which proved to be the one belonging to Mr. Vischer.

WORLD'S FAIR TO BE OPEN UNTIL NOV. 12

A Century of Progress exposition in Chicago will remain open until midnight, November 12, Maj. Lenox R. Lohr, general manager, announced.

The announcement came after adoption of a resolution by the Concessionaires' association which had asked the management to extend the fair beyond October 31 and to reopen in 1934.

England's Gift

In 1859 a small shipment of wild rabbits from England was made to Australia where it was believed the small animals would thrive. That was 74 years ago. Today Australia is overrun with rabbits necessitating great hunts under government supervision. It is said that rabbits cause losses to crops and stock (through devouring forage plants) to the extent of over $100,000,000 a year. The annual campaign of control takes place in late October.

Louis Mulder will give a chalk talk on the "Life of Christ" tonight, Friday, at 7:30 o'clock at the First Baptist church.

The death of John Koning, alderman of the fourth ward, was chronicled on this date. The common council acted as pall bearers. The funeral was held from Third Reformed church. Besides the widow, the children, Fannie, Clara, Nellie, Belle, Ada, John Edward and Robert, survive.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO TODAY

Henry D. Pelgrim of North Holland, nephew of Henry Pelgrim, Sr., of Holland, died at Camp Custer, where he was in training. Young Pelgrim was a cousin of Pvt. Chester Vander Velde of Zeeland, who also died of Spanish influenza within the week. Note: This "Spanish Flu" took an awful toll in all soldiers camps where young men were trained to go "overseas."

Not alone soldiers died but many civilians as well—a score of them in Holland during that year. More died in America of "the flu" than those killed in the war.

Rev. Leonard Trap, formerly of Zeeland, now chaplain at Camp Custer, will leave for Camp Taylor, Ky., for further training when he will be assigned to an army unit overseas.

After shooting a hen pheasant a hunter told Morey Kuite he was sure it was a cock when he shot at it; Kuite told him he should have been COCK SURE before he shot.

After Mrs. George Kollen sent a telegram to Geneva to endorse peace and ask all men to be friends, Mrs. Cross reviewed a book entitled "All Men Are Enemies."

After listening to SHERMAN ROGERS, the NRA chairman, speak at the high school, a teacher asked a sleepy student what Sherman said. He replied: "War Is Hell."

ALBION NEXT FOE
FOR HOPE COLLEGE

Coach Bud Hinga's Hope college gridiron squad will tackle Albion Saturday at Albion. Hope and Albion played to a 6 to 6 battle last year.

Hope has won its first three games against Ferris, Grand Rapids Junior and Alma, and will play Albion as its first of three contests away from home, followed by games at Kalamazoo and Detroit City college. Hope will play Hillsdale here on November 11.

Coach Gerald Brech's Holland High school squad will occupy River view field three successive weeks, playing Benton Harbor, Muskegon Heights and Grand Rapids South. The annual classic with Grand Haven will be played at Grand Haven November 11. Holland has won two out of four games this season.

WEST STATE C. E. MEET
TO BE HELD IN HOLLAND

The Holland Christian Endeavor union is sponsoring a public program tonight, Friday, in Third Reformed church, featuring Lance B. Latham and his white shirt brigade of Chicago.

Plans also are completed for the western Michigan convalesce the week, Saturday and Sunday, October 21 and 22 in Trinity Reformed church. The program will feature get-acquainted games directed by Josephine Kaper; assembly led by Marvin Schaap, union president; address by Rev. A. Pieters; open forum for juniors and intermediates in charge of Jacob Just and Margaret Houston, followed by a banquet with Garrett Raterink of Grand Rapids in charge of the music.

Ted Dykstra of Grand Rapids will preside at the evening session, featuring an address by Rev. B. Mulder of Grand Rapids and group conferences in charge of State Secretary E. S. Marks of Detroit, Marvin Siekman, Louis Marsile, Helen Tracy, Lester Harvey and Margaret Houston.

The program for Sunday morning will cover conferences and union activities directed by Marks, followed by church attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. William Klerkoper have returned to their home in Detroit after visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. Post for more than a week.

EDITORIAL

THE REAL SIGNIFICANCE OF THE NRA

If ever the NRA received impetus in Holland, the News feels that Sherman Rogers, noted editor from New York, is responsible for this new attitude. Justifiable or not, there was a feeling that there was "strong arm" methods being used early in the campaign. Overzealous workers too often use the word boycott, penalty and "God help those who violate the NRA." While under the circumstances it may have created fear temporarily it also proved grinding and obnoxious to a free people.

Mr. Rogers handled the case differently and we believe that this is the intent of President Roosevelt. He told us in Holland: "Do not fear to send in constructive criticisms. The heads of the nation want to be told where injustices are done and hardships are brought about." He says: "The NRA was not and is not and cannot be construed as a dictatorial measure. The whole purpose of the NRA is to bring into our life the spirit of the Golden Rule."

Mr. Rogers states that President Roosevelt will never dictate the business policy of the country for that would destroy our democracy but the people themselves as a democratic body through public opinion will compel flagrant violators to live up to a code of ethics in their business dealing that cannot be misunderstood.

The News feels that Mr. Rogers has put the NRA over in the right light, not in flowery platitudes but straight from the shoulder in a language we all understand. It is up to us to work constructively, to criticize, not as a fault-finder or a "nagger," but rather to bring about a better understanding and undoubtedly changes that are justifiable.

Let us build our confidence on the fundamentals of the NRA and from this foundation a real workable structure, promulgating the greatest good for the greatest number, will be molder.

Mr. Rogers has sent a ray of light illuminating and dissipating the maze with which the NRA was surrounded.

Sherman Rogers delivered electrifying NRA address here yesterday to combined meeting of luncheon clubs. They need, however, to be aroused in the manner that Rogers is doing it.

COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE CHIEF OF POLICE

The police board has appointed a committee to investigate certain charges against the chief of police. The charges up to this time seem very vague but whatever they may be undoubtedly the board will give them fair and honest consideration. Chief Lievens considered that he did not know definitely what the charges were and that his record spoke for itself and he courted any investigation that might be made.

It is well for the public to withhold judgment until these matters, whatever they are, are gone into. The editor of the News has had considerable to do with police board work, having been a member and chairman of the board for several years. From time to time all the police chiefs had to go through just that—Kamferbeek, Dykhuus, Frank Van Ry and now Peter Lievens. The News does not know what the charges are but in the face of the splendid record made by Mr. Lievens, one instance in which he nearly lost his life for bravery, this should allow him most earnest consideration and the withholding of public judgment until the findings of the police board are made known.

Holland Man Helps Put Over Road Project

HIGHWAY FROM LAKEWOOD
FARM TO GRAND HAVEN
IS ASSURED

The road that has been advocated by the Holland City News for the last two years will become a fact. The new highway extends from Lakewood Farm, or rather Ottawa Beach, north to Grand Haven along the hills of Lake Michigan, with the "Big Lake" often in sight. This road, although not a trunk line, will go through the wild country still left in Ottawa county, and will be one of the finest scenic roads in western Michigan.

By an almost unanimous vote the board of supervisors voted to accept the resolution for relief road projects through the county which they passed on Friday. The vote Monday morning was 27 to one, Albert Stegenga, Olive, being the only supervisor to oppose the resolution.

The morning was taken up with discussion relative to the matter. Ernest C. Brooks of Holland, member of the state emergency relief commission, addressed the board on the great need for the board to co-operate with the road commission in giving support to the plans outlined by the commission that the welfare needs of this county be aided through work relief.

He cited the danger that is imminent as federal and state funds are being exhausted and stated that counties must exert themselves to co-operate by spending some of the state road funds for welfare needs.

Three Days Wasted

Mayor Heap pointed out that three days had been wasted in discussion over the matter which in reality was one that could have been entirely handled by the county emergency relief commission and the road commission. James DePrez of Zeeland took exception to this statement and a similar one made by Austin Harrington, chairman of the road commission. He declared the board was only trying to inform itself on the matter that they act for the county's best interests.

The state welfare commission urges that the money from the Kulp bill be used for welfare work relief. The road commission has pointed out that the first obligation is the payment of bonds and interest from that fund. Mr. Brooks believes that the welfare situation is so acute that payment of bonds and interest might better be deferred.

The road commission has jurisdiction over the funds coming from the weight tax. This county has been one of the counties in the state that has cooperated liberally with the welfare demands of the county and they propose to carry on the overhead of several county road projects as far as the funds coming to them will permit and as far as the welfare workers are willing to work on the same basis as regular labor.

The 30-70 plan for financing some of the road projects was relinquished and the present plan as adopted by the board when it was learned that this was the most expeditious method of giving work to county welfare representatives of the road commission stated.

The report of the probate judge was read recommending the same amount as appropriated last year for the widow's pensions and insane institutions be set aside for the ensuing year.

The question of the judge's salary was brought up and Charles E. Misner pointed an amended section of the state law, passed in 1931, which limits the salary of probate judges in counties of this size to $3,100.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS CHANGE TIME OF OPENING

A regular meeting of the board of education was held Monday evening in the high school building. Trustee Martha D. Kollen, chairman of the committee of schools, presented a report advising a change in time in starting schools in the morning. Trustee Henry Geerling's motion for the adoption of the report was carried with only one dissenting vote. The new time schedule will go into effect as soon as the necessary changes can be made.

According to the new schedule, the kindergarten classes will begin at 9 o'clock in the morning with dismissal at 11:15 a. m.

The first grade will start at 8:45 and will continue until 11:15. Grades from the second through the sixth will also begin at 8:45 and will be excused at 11:45 a. m. Formerly the elementary schools began morning exercises at 8:30 o'clock and the kindergarten and first grade were dismissed at 11 o'clock.

The morning school sessions in junior and senior high schools will open at 8:15 o'clock, instead of 8 o'clock, and will be dismissed at 11:55 o'clock. The three morning periods will be shortened five minutes each to absorb the 15 minutes loss of time.

Trustee Ernest C. Brooks gave a report on the recent trip to Detroit of a delegation of school board members and Supt. E. E. Fell for the formal application for a loan of NRA funds for the proposed addition to the high school building.

Trustee Henry Geerds was instructed by the board to write the attorney general of the state for an opinion on the legality of the county holding back school funds, pending disposition of the dispute over whether county or city should stand the loss of tax funds collected by the city and not yet turned over to the county treasurer when the bank holiday was declared.

HOLLAND CITY NEWS

Holland City News is published weekly at the office of the City Clerk, 33 W. 8th St., Holland, Mich. Established 1872.

An International Road

Venezuela, Colombia and Ecuador lie side by side in northern South America. Although they are neighbors, until recently it has been easier for a resident of one country to go to Europe or the United States than to travel overland to the next. This state of affairs is to be remedied by a motor road being built through the mountains. Already 2,000 miles of the road have been opened, making it possible to travel from Venezuela to Colombia, and the remaining 300 miles needed to link Colombia with Ecuador should be completed next year.

It is hard to over-estimate the social, economic or political effect of such a highway. It will unite three nations of similar antecedents, but widely varying resources, which never have had a fair chance to trade with one another or to build up friendships based on common interests. Anything may come of such an opportunity, but chiefly, one hopes, will come mutual prosperity and mutual good will.

(Detroit Free Press)

Last spring Frank D. Fitzgerald, Michigan Secretary of State, made a sensible suggestion by proposing that the weight tax on automobiles be materially reduced. He argued that there is no present need for the large road extensions which have used up returns from the tax in other years and that the public is entitled to relief from needless assessments. It was advanced also in support of his plan, that reduction of the weight tax would enable many people to operate cars, who otherwise must leave them in the garage. The secretary suggested a tax of $3 a year for light cars, $6 a year for cars of medium weight, and $9 a year for heavy cars.

In support of his contention that many automobiles are being driven off the road, instead of on it, by the high weight tax at present in force, Mr. Fitzgerald now produces figures which show that the number of motor cars licensed in Michigan has diminished more than a quarter of a million in the last four years and he makes a point of still more immediate impressiveness by producing these facts:

The number of licensed vehicles was 67,087 less on Oct. 1 of this year than it was on Oct. 1, 1932. This year 415,496 owners of motor vehicles took advantage of the law permitting them to buy half-year license tags good until Aug. 1, but only 343,140 were able to pay the tax that would enable them to run the remainder of the year.

There seems to be no doubt about the connection between this material falling off in the use of motor vehicles in Michigan in the last 12 months and the excessive severity of the weight tax that Lansing exacts, and which in the case of large cars, goes as high as $35 a year. Certainly the failure of almost 75,000 car owners to secure licenses for the second and more extensive period of the current year can have only one cause at a time when the need for motor transportation is distinctly on the upgrade owing to increase of employment and business.

A reduction of the weight tax next year might diminish total returns considerably, but it would be a constructive act, if the general welfare of the state and its people is taken properly into consideration. And such a reduction is particularly necessary because of the material increase in the price of gasoline, and, especially, because of the heavy tax upon that fuel. Indeed it will be decidedly wise if the legislature at the first opportunity not only cuts the weight tax, but also reduces the state gasoline tax. The agriculturist, the factory worker who uses his machine to get to and from work, and the business man and manufacturer are all entitled to this help and consideration.

It is time for the Michigan state government to give the motor car owner a break.

TOTAL COUNTY TAX SLIGHTLY OVER MILLION

Supervisors Apportion School, County, State, City, Township Taxes.

The total tax for Ottawa county as fixed by the board of supervisors in the taxes and apportionment statement is $1,041,400.64. This includes schools, county, state, debt service, city and township taxes. The Ottawa county tax is $131,960, making the county tax rate 3.01 mills, a figure slightly under the 4 mills allocated by the Ottawa county tax commission last spring. Added to this is the county debt service of $17,715 for interest charges on county and general road building bonds, the only indebtedness of the county.

Added to the county tax amount is the state tax of $29,095.59. The county infirm cost of $18,740.22 and the tuberculosis cost of $16,722.30.

The total valuation of the county including real and personal property, is $44,361,143, a drop of nearly $5,000,000 over that of last year. The county tax is $368,519.33 less than last year, due largely to the drop in the state tax and no road appropriations; the 15-mill rate of the tax is fixed by the state and the slight cut in the county budget. The state sales tax has greatly reduced the state property tax.

The board adopted the above schedule following a stormy session when the annual budget was fixed. The board went into a committee of the whole and adopted the budget item by item.

The soldiers' relief commission appropriation of $4,500 as passed was debated at length following a motion made by Maynard Mohr, Zeeland township, that the appropriation be cut out entirely. He later changed the motion to one that would allow $500. He based his motion on the fact that a new welfare board had been created to take care of all welfare necessities and he believed that maintaining the soldiers' relief commission on the scale last year would duplicate relief work. He read the President's message, delivered at Chicago recently pointing out that ex-service men were no different from other citizens and should not be made exceptions in receiving welfare aid.

Mayor Lionel Heap supported his motion and stated that welfare support coming from the emergency relief commission would be just as plentiful as from the soldiers' relief, but the men would work for the funds while the commission had no means of supplying work. Charles E. Misner challenged Mr. Heap's statement pointing out that the government expressly states this is an emergency relief plan and that communities are not to cut off their present methods of raising relief money.

Pleds with Board.
Samuel Bosch of Holland, a member of the commission, pleaded with the board to continue the appropriation as a legal action adopted by the state 30 years ago and as a humanitarian act relieving ex-service men from having to be placed on the welfare lists with the rank and file.

The appropriation carried by a vote of 21 to 5.
The Michigan Tourist & Resort appropriation of $400 had a narrow squeak when the supervisors voted 13 to 13 to leave it on the budget list. The motion presented by Harm Plaggenmeyer, moved to strike it from the list, but the tie vote gave no majority, therefore it remained on the appropriation list.

Mr. Misner stated that for every penny invested in that fund $1 was returned. Ottawa county's resort business is one of the major industries and has added millions to the assessed values. The appropriation to the advertising of this county is a matter that should have received the entire support of the board, several of the leaders of the board believe.

Deputy Gets Raise.
The salary of Fred Den Herder, deputy county treasurer, was raised from $1,200 to $1,400. Mr. Den Herder appeared before the board telling the supervisors that due to the increase in work caused by the large amount of delinquent tax, and comparison with salaries of other deputies in this county and surrounding counties he believed he was entitled to an increase. There was but one vote against the raise.

The total tax for this city is $214,211.67; Holland, $385,506.80; Zeeland City, $32,249.41; Spring Lake township, $37,229.94; Grand Haven township, $9,567.02; Robinson township, $8,623.82; Crocker township, $11,311.71.

The total amount of school taxes to be raised in the county is $110,044.45. Holland pays $40,000 debt service for schools, Grand Haven, $27,497.40, and Zeeland township and city which are not divided, $19,238.30.

The following is the list of total township taxes for the ensuing year:

Allendale, $11,837.55; Blendon, $11,328.89; Chester, $13,479.23; Crocker, $11,311.71; Georgetown, $25,547.50; Grand Haven township, $9,567.02; Holland township, $60,865.41; Jamestown, $21,298.48; Olive, $9,848.65; Park, $55,689.07; Polkton, $34,598.08; Port Sheldon, $5,726.71; Robinson, $8,623.82; Spring Lake, $37,229.94; Tallmadge, $17,117.96; Wright, $20,064.68; Zeeland, $55,302.67; Grand Haven, $214,211.67; Holland City, $385,506.80; Zeeland City, $32,249.41.

The salary of the judge of probate of Ottawa county, which has been brought before the board at every session since Miss Cora Vande Water took office last January, was fixed by the board of supervisors at $3,100 to conform with the amended state law which states that the salary for a probate judge for counties of this size, 54,000 population, be fixed at $3,100.

Miss Vande Water appeared before the board last night and declared that the board had no jurisdiction over the salary and that she has been receiving $3,100 for probate duties and $700 for juvenile court work, the two departments of court in the probate office. She asked the board if, by their action, she was to understand that the juvenile court work was to be abolished from the local courts.

TO TELL OF PLAN FOR SELLING QUALITY EGGS

Michigan poultrymen will be able to inspect a successful co-operative association specializing in handling premium eggs for the New York trade and to hear men familiar with the egg trade at the meeting in Hamilton this Thursday, October 19.

An Invitation

TO THE PEOPLE OF HOLLAND AND VICINITY—

The Model Drug Store invites you to a special exposition of the new San-Tox and Nurse Brand products now being held at our store.

We have long felt that the people of Holland would welcome an opportunity to become better acquainted with ALL the products manufactured locally, and since so many important changes and additions have been made to the SAN-TOX line in recent months, this seems to be a very opportune time for a special local exposition.

We shall greatly appreciate your attendance even if purely as a matter of community interest. The display, we feel sure, will not only acquaint you with a fine new line of locally-made products, but will clearly demonstrate that in a wide variety of drug store merchandise there is no reason why you can not conveniently, and with definite assurance of the right quality and good value, patronize a home industry the growth of which . . . as everyone realizes . . . will help to create employment, build our City, and benefit us all.

What Fishes Do With Eggs

Most fresh water fishes are content to allow their eggs to settle to the bottom of the water where because of their sticky nature they cling to anything with which they come in contact. The rainbow trout, however, insist on burying their eggs in the mud as a means of protection from enemies. The mother performs this task by flipping out a shallow trench in the gravel bottom with her tail, into which she sheds part of her eggs and then covers them up by the same action through which she digs another trench for more eggs. The whole process is repeated until all of her eggs, numbering in the thousands, have been deposited and well blanketed with mud.

Here Are Hunters Who Can't Hunt

A law adopted in Michigan in 1931 is going to mean that more than 675 Michigan men will be refused a license to hunt deer this fall. The Division of Field Administration of the Department of Conservation has compiled a list of persons who have been convicted of violation of the deer laws during the past three years or who have shot or killed anyone in a deer hunting accident in five years. Under the law these persons will not be permitted to hunt deer. The list will be submitted to field men in the various counties before the sale of deer licenses begins November 1. Last year the Department's list of those not privileged to go deer hunting amounted to 694. However, several names were removed because of expiration of the time limits. A few more convicted of deer law violations during the year were added to the 1933 list. The 1932 deer hunting season resulted in four hunting fatalities and three injuries.

Deer hunting licenses for the 1933 season will be placed on sale by Conservation Department license agents, November 1, 15 days prior to the opening of the season. Maurice Kuite is in charge in Holland. The fee for the resident deer license this year has been dropped from $3.50 to $2.25 and the cost of the non-resident license has dropped from $50 to $25. The fee for a camp deer license is $3.00.

UNUSUAL PROGRAM TO BE GIVEN AT NINTH ST. CHURCH LARGE GROUP OF CHILDREN COMING HERE TO RENDER PROGRAM

A most unusual program is to be given in Ninth Street church next week, Thursday evening, when some forty children of the Way of Life Mission of Grand Rapids will come to this city. It is no doubt known to the majority of Holland folks that Mr. John Vandewater, formerly of Holland, later of Chicago where he was in charge of the Helping Hand Mission, is now in Grand Rapids where he is superintending city mission work as this is carried on by the Christian Reformed churches.

Mr. Vandewater, however, is not the only former Holland citizen now in mission work in the furniture city. Working with him is Miss Gertrude Holkeboer, the daughter of Mrs. David Holkeboer of 37 East Fifteenth street. Miss Holkeboer is in general charge of the Way of Life mission of Grand Rapids, which work is sponsored by the Franklin Street Christian Reformed church, and it is through the efforts of Miss Holkeboer that the children, some forty in number, will be able to come to Holland.

It is quite a coincidence that the program is being sponsored by the Daughters of the King Sunday school class, a group of young women who were organized more than fifteen years ago under the leadership of Miss Tena Holkeboer, sister of Miss Gertrude Holkeboer, and for the past fourteen years doing mission work in Amoy, China.

The program will include vocal and instrumental numbers and readings and no doubt will create much interest here. The program is to be given at Ninth Street Christian Reformed church on Thursday evening, October 26, beginning at 7:30 o'clock.

The public is cordially invited. An offering will be taken up for mission causes.

FIRE DRILLS HELD IN SCHOOLS OF THIS CITY

Grand Haven Tribune—Fire drills were held in the schools of the city Friday as one of the activities in connection with fire prevention week which has been observed over the country. The drills were conducted by Edward Coates, assistant fire chief, who is in charge of the local fire department.

The Ferry school with 400 students was emptied in one and a half minutes, which included the time from gong to gong; the Christian school, of 150 students, was emptied in 40 seconds; the Central school with 1,100 students in two minutes, 10 seconds.

A feature of the Central school drill was the assistance given by the high school students to the little children in the building. Each of the older students carried some one of the little children and the order and precision of the drill was a fine thing to have seen, said Mr. Coates.

The fire department has sponsored cleaning up fire hazards about the city and called attention of property owners and manufacturers to rubbish that might be a hazard.

A three-day evangelistic program will be held in Vriesland Reformed church Oct. 31, Nov. 1 and 2. The speakers in charge will be Rev. Raymond Drukker and Rev. Abram Rynbrandt of Grand Rapids and Dr. S. C. Netting, president of Western Theological Seminary.

FORMERLY MISS MARIE KLEIS

Above is a picture of Mrs. Herman Paul Harms of Chicago, who was recently wed and before her marriage was Miss Marie Kleis, vivacious young lady and daughter of Alderman and Mrs. Albert Kleis. She has always been a popular young lady during her high school and Hope college days. Mr. Harms and Miss Kleis met at Hope, from which both are graduates, and this surely can be called a college romance.

The young husband is surgical interne at Billings hospital, University of Chicago. The happy couple is living at 5636 Drexel boulevard, Chicago.

Editor Sherman Rogers Tells Holland the Truth about NRA.

One of the most forceful speakers this city has heard in many years was Sherman Rogers, editor of the "Outlook" and "Liberty" magazines of New York City. Mr. Rogers devoted four days to Holland and came under the auspices of the Holland Exchange club.

He spoke to at least half a dozen audiences, meeting before civic clubs, students and school children and winds up his stay here Thursday evening with a mass meeting at the Holland armory which is packing the capacity of the building.

All who heard Mr. Rogers were much impressed by his discourses—in fact often they were carried away with his word picture—and for the first time Holland folks had the real reason, the workings and the result of the NRA explained to them in the common language of the "man in the streets." It is impossible to report all the speeches at these different meetings, but in substance these enlightening talks are found below:

By SHERMAN ROGERS

(Editor Outlook and Liberty)

If the people of the United States will try to be fair with the fundamental principles of the NIRA it will be a definite nation-turning success. If the NIRA does not succeed, it will be due to misunderstanding of its principles, and not because the idea was not worthy of the support of this nation.

We must understand three principles back of the NIRA to judge it properly. It is either a law calling for the best there is in the social, industrial and agricultural life of the nation, or it is the most advertised legislative mistake in all history. The NIRA either stands or falls on its fairness, on its appeal to the Golden Rule in business relations, among business men, and in economic relations between the business man, labor and the general public.

The NIRA does appeal to the best there is in this nation. It does not attempt to coerce or compel, therefore, the NIRA is a measure intended to inspire the co-operation of all factions of American life through voluntary action. If we can understand this correctly we cannot help but be fair with the legislation, its intentions, and the great good that will ensue to a troubled nation by honestly attempting to live up to the spirit of the act.

They say this is a crisis in history. That statement is correct. The NIRA is one of the most important factors in shaping the destinies of the people of this country safely through this critical period. Get one thing straight—President Roosevelt, General Johnson and the administration have no desire to act as, or to ever become dictators. They are not, never have been, and have never wanted to be dictators in any sense of the word. A dictatorship is a condition brought about in a country where the executive dissolves parliamentary rules and as an individual rules a country without the advice, or the consent of legislative bodies. A dictator is a man who rules as he sees fit without regard to the constitutional rights, or the aid of the representatives of the people over whom he dictates. Let's look at this fairly and those who fear the power of our president, will recognize the fact that he is just exactly 100 per cent opposite from a dictator or a possible dictator. There will be no dictator in this country if the people think clearly, co-operate fully, and stand back of the principles that dictated the constitution that has ruled us for 150 years, rules our lives today and will continue to do so.

President Roosevelt was granted by congress in a very critical time, a definite discretionary power, but congress defined the limits: the president could go in using the discretionary power they gave him. There is certainly not even the semblance of dictatorial powers in that action. Congress is still the voice of the nation. Just as much so as ten years ago or fifty years ago. Congress has not the right, nor cannot assume the right to change this situation without the consent of 36 states. Congress has its rights definitely defined by the constitution and the supreme court is the final arbiter of what congress can and cannot do. The people who wrote our constitution protected the rights of liberty. They protected the sanctity of government of the people, by the people and for the people, and no congress in peace time can abridge the dictates of the constitution without first getting the consent of 36 of our 48 states.

Now let's be fair with the last congress and fair with the conscientious leader that assumed the presidency last March. Our congress recognized that during the months that congress would not be in session, grave situations might take place, therefore, they definitely gave the president power to reduce the content of the gold dollar downward if the condition warranted to one-half of its present value or any higher determination. Therefore they definitely set forth the exact rights of the executive in that. They gave the president the right to reduce or increase the tariff 50 per cent as the emergency conditions may warrant, which was purely a definite discretionary power and not one of personal dictatorship. Congress defines the duties of the postmaster. It defines the duty of a senator. It defines the duty of a federal judge. This is the very essence of the spirit of liberty, the spirit of majority rule, and these are the very foundation stones of the definite powers they repose in the hands of the chief executive.

The NIRA was not, is not, and cannot be construed as a dictatorial measure in any manner, shape or form. It is much less in arbitrary influence than any other congressional measure ever passed. The NIRA dictates nothing. It appeals to the sense of fair play of a nation. It attempts to establish by common consent a much higher code of business practice than this country has ever known. It attempts to do this in the spirit of the Golden Rule. The NIRA is a voluntary proposition. It asks the voluntary support of all factions of American life. It appeals not to force; it appeals to fair play; it appeals for a high standard of moral obligations between business and the public and inversely between public and business.

It is the first great piece of national legislation in all history passed in a critical period of the nation's life where the law appealed for voluntary action. If the people can but understand this fact I cannot see where there can be a valid objection from either the spirit of the act or the laudable purposes the legislation is attempting to establish in this country. The last congress and the president realized that nothing can succeed in this country unless it has the support of a large majority of its citizens. The only power back of the NIRA is public opinion. Public opinion either makes it succeed or causes its failure, and if there is one scintilla of dictatorship, force or coercion in that act, I have failed to find it.

Now let's see what the act does do. It is attempting to establish a code of moral practices between all factions of American life that will be so laudably fair and so constructively practical that they will become unwritten, but standard practice after the NIRA two years of operation has been reached. Now let's go into this deeper: For 25 years the moral spirit of this country cried out for the abolition of child labor. The NIRA abolished that, for the last 15 years the highest moral leadership in business has attempted again and again to establish business codes that would raise the moral standards of business practice which would be much stronger than any law could impose.

The very fine type of American business leadership that has attempted to establish these codes in business practice have failed, yet every business man must admit and secretly espouse the value to society of a high moral code in business.

The NIRA will for two years (Continued on Page Four)

OUTSIDE TULIP TIME PUBLICITY BEGINS

Grand Rapids Press—Holland's annual tulip festival will bring more than 3,000,000 tulips in bloom, according to John VanBraght, superintendent of city parks. A consignment of 250,000 bulbs, recently received from The Netherlands, soon will repose in pockets in the earth, ready to bloom during the week of the festival in May.

The bulbs will be planted in curbs to form additional lanes, in the city parks and boulevards. Two new lanes, each a mile long, will extend from Twenty-fourth to Eighth St. on College Ave. and Columbia Ave. Bulbs also will be set in lanes on other streets, so as to convert every avenue into the city in lane formation, and in the new park on US-31.

Ottawa County Farmers to Receive $81,000

A final summary of the wheat acreage reduction campaign in Ottawa county has been prepared by C. P. Milham, secretary of the organization, showing that Ottawa farmers who are cooperating will receive a total of $81,000 in the next three year period for reducing acreage by 1277 acres each year for two years. The average return which will be received by each farmer will be $31.70 for each acre taken out of production.

Thirty percent of all wheat growers according to census figures signed applications. As most of the larger farmers signed this makes a total of 38% of the acreage and 41% of the total yield in the county.

A total of 646 farmers signed. The average size farm signed is a 95 acre farm, on which an average of 13.2 acres of wheat has been produced over the past three year period. The average yield of co-operators was 22.6 bushels a year and 300 bushels per farm.

The Zealand - Blendon district signed the most applications of any district in the county, there being 117 wheat growers in this district signing. The largest sign up in any one township was in Polkton where 108 farmers signed. The Holland, Park, Olive and Port Sheldon district signed 107; Chester and Wright 106; Georgetown and Jamestown 106; Tallmadge and Allendale 44; Spring Lake and Crocker 38; and Robinson township 20 wheat growers.

According to census figures Ottawa farms average 70.6 acres each, and the average yield of wheat is 21 bushels per acre. So averages indicate that the larger farms and higher producing farms are cooperating to improve agricultural conditions. The list of co-operators will probably be published next week in the papers printed in Ottawa county.

WHAT JUDGE MILES SAID TO TWO MURDERERS

Grand Haven Tribune: Wallace McCafferty, 30, and William Wildorf, 33, were sentenced to life imprisonment at hard labor at Marquette prison, Upper Peninsula. Sentence was passed by Judge Fred T. Miles following his verdict of guilty, first degree murder, in the case of William Wildorf before whom his case was tried.

Judge Miles, before returning his verdict, found that Wildorf did not abandon the project and left the scene after the assault, that his responsibility in the crime was fully that of McCafferty and he is therefore equally guilty. Even if he could believe Wildorf's story 100 percent, he said, he would still find according to law, that he was an equal party to the murder.

Leo C. Lillie, defense attorney, took exception to the judge's statement that Wildorf did not leave the scene before the assault. Judge Miles told the prisoners that in all his years connected with law enforcement in this county totaling about 25, he had never known of a more cruel or deliberate murder. Both men were convicted of lying in wait, of deliberate, premeditated and willful murder of Frank Walcott, and there was no possible justification for such a deed.

"Neither of you would probably have committed such a deed if you had not been drinking. I cannot understand how a community can tolerate such places as you men said you frequented that afternoon before the assault. These places are more than half responsible for your crime."

HOPE BEATS ALMA COLLEGE, 19 TO 12

Hope college celebrated Homecoming Day Saturday by trouncing Alma 19 to 12 in a M. I. A. A. contest replete with thrills.

Alma opened the warfare by scoring a touchdown in the first period when Glance took a lateral pass to Hope's 2-yard line and then went over.

Hope came back in the second period when Jappinga cut back through right tackle and galloped 30 yards for a touchdown. Danson, in the third period, grabbed a pass from Jappinga on the Alma 10-yard line and went over, with Jappinga converting. Jappinga passed to Korstanje in the fourth period for a gain of 35 yards and another touchdown followed by a successful conversion from Jappinga's toe.

Alma scored its second touchdown in the last few minutes of the game.

Supervisors Keep County Health Unit

UNIT RETAINED BY 17-10 VOTE; HOLLAND MAN FIGHTS HARD AGAINST IT

The Ottawa County Health Unit was retained by the board of supervisors by a vote of 17-10 with an appropriation of $5,000 which is one thousand dollars less than was appropriated a year ago.

The board continued the unit after a vigorous opposition led by William O. Van Eyck of Holland, who moved that the unit be discontinued. Charles E. Misner, chairman of the public health committee, who has championed the cause of the health unit since it was established two years ago, made a strong plea for its continuance and showed in dollars and cents why this department is an economy for this county.

He pointed to Ottawa county being an outstanding county in the state in the matter of health work and the report of the unit presented to the board showed conclusively, he stated, that Ottawa county is being benefited many times the value of what is shown by mere figures.

Motion Loses

Mr. Van Eyck's motion lost 17 to 10. He presented another that the appropriation be cut to $3,000 which was also lost, 17 to 11. Cornelius Rosendaal, Zealand city, voting on this question although he refused to vote on the first. Mr. Misner moved that the original motion be voted upon and substituted $5,000 for $6,000 the amount to be appropriated. This won by a vote of 16 to 12.

Those opposing the health unit on the first vote were Roelf Dragt, Allendale; William Havedink, Blenheim; Hunter Hering, Crocker; Harm Smallegan, Jamestown; Albert Plaggemeier, Georgetown; Dick don; Floyd Harrison, Chester; Stegenga, Olive; Lester Martin, Wright; Maynard Mohr, Zealand township; William O. Van Eyck, Holland.

Peter Damstra, together with the above, voted to cut the appropriation to $3,000.

Harm Plaggemeier, Georgetown, moved to reconsider the work relief project which was passed by the board. The vote stood 15 for reconsideration against 13. He requested that copies of the resolution be made for all of the supervisors and that copies of the resolution sent by the state be made for the members of the board.

The bee inspection department was given $150 for the work in the county conducted by Jay Cowing. The request for $250 made by Ben Rosema in answer to Mayor Lionel Heap's accusation that he was feeding his family at the expense of the county was filed but is not to be made part of the minutes.

SUFFERS INJURY WHEN AUTO HITS HIS TRUCK

Louis J. Meyer, Ferrysburg, driver of a truck, suffered a fractured hand when a car driven by Louis J. Osteroush, son of Attorney and Mrs. Louis H. Osteroush of Grand Haven, crashed into the rear of the truck at the Grand Trunk crossing as Louis was driving to Muskegon with a number of companions who are all attending Junior College there. The car was badly damaged, but the boys escaped with minor cuts and bruises.

The Osteroush car was traveling north and in the confusion of another car coming in the lane of traffic the driver of the automobile hit the truck. The boys in the car beside the driver were Bob Williams, Frank White, Arthur Gildner, Robert Bugelski and Ralph Brandt. They continued to Muskegon later.

GRAND HAVEN WOMAN HURT IN AUTOMOBILE MISHAP

Mrs. John Dugas, riding in a car driven by her husband, was thrown out of the car about two miles south of Holland Saturday when one of the doors suddenly opened. She was thrown several feet and was unconscious when picked up. She was taken to the Holland hospital and remained there until midnight when her condition was so improved she was brought to her home in the city. Mr. and Mrs. Dugas were in the front seat and there were three in the rumble seat. They were on their way to the football game in Kalamazoo. Lewis Dugas, regular tackle on the local team, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Dugas.

HOLLAND TAKES DOWN LOWELL

Halfback Harry Irwin of the Holland football team led Coach Jerry Breen's Dutch Boys to a 35 to 13 victory over Lowell High school last night, the first Lowell defeat in four years.

Irwin scored three out of five of the Holland touchdowns. For nearly four years, the students of Coach Ronald Finch hadn't tasted defeat. Their only consolation now is that it took a Class A football team, and a good one at that, to force them into the abyss of defeat. But even at that Lowell might have emerged victorious had the aforementioned Mr. Harry Irwin been kidnapped some time before the game.

TO SHOOT DOGS FOUND LOOSE IN ALLEGAN COUNTY

A drastic warning that all dogs found running loose in the quarantined area of Allegan county will be shot was issued today by Sheriff Fred W. Miller and at the same time he warned owners of such animals that they faced prosecution for permitting dogs to run loose. Quarantine signs in the southern half of Allegan county were put up the first of September and the quarantine is still in effect. Dogs that have been vaccinated against rabies, and have been in close custody for thirty days since the vaccination, however, may be allowed their freedom.

There isn't much hope for a town that is too dead to think up an excuse for a government loan.

Piano Factory to be Occupied by the Baker Co.

ALLEGAN FURNITURE INDUSTRY, 40 YEARS OLD, SOON TO MOVE TO HOLLAND

Wheels will soon be turning again in the factory formerly occupied by Bush & Lane Piano Co. in this city.

The Chamber of Commerce during the week announced completion of plans for the removal of the Baker Furniture company industry from Allegan to this city. Papers executed and signed were ratified by the industrial commission Saturday.

Negotiations had been under way for some time between Hollis S. Baker, president of the Baker company, and the First State and Holland City State banks, by which title to the Holland property has been transferred to the Baker Furniture company in exchange for its Allegan plant.

The city of Holland, through its industrial commission, assisted in the consummation of this project, making use of certain impounded funds owned by itself in a separate settlement with the local banks. It was not necessary for the school board to participate directly in the negotiations, as had been previously announced. An arrangement was made by the Chamber of Commerce with the banks whereby in exchange for impounded funds the commission received the Ottawa Furniture company property for municipal use. Also mortgages against the Bush & Lane property were cancelled in order to attract the Baker industry to Holland in the belief that increased employment would assist the local welfare problems.

Organized 40 years ago in Allegan, the Baker Furniture company has since been engaged in the manufacture of high grade furniture. Its sales and showrooms, in the Keeler building, Grand Rapids, will continue to be maintained there. Officers of the company, besides President Baker, are: Secretary and designer, William Millington; vice president and sales manager, Frank VanSteenberg; treasurer and office manager, H. J. DeLano; manager of finishing, shipping and upholstery departments, Dennis O'Meara, and general superintendent, John DeWilde. The latter two are of Allegan, and the others of Grand Rapids.

The Baker interests expect to start immediately upon repairing the Bush & Lane property, which has been vacant for three years. It plans to have 30 to 40 men employed in the machine room within two weeks. It is expected the entire plant will be in operation early in December with approximately 200 employees.

President Baker said that it had been found feasible to house operations under a single roof instead of in three separate buildings, as in Allegan. He said also he considered the Bush & Lane plant fine and modern property, with the same floor space as had been provided in Allegan; that with the development of the St. Lawrence waterway the location in Holland, with a navigable harbor, offered limitless opportunities for the future and that he considered Holland one of the best places for the manufacture of furniture because of the proximity to Grand Rapids, stressing its strategic position in relation to manufacturing and retail markets. He complimented Holland on the fine class of its workmen, with their outstanding craftsmanship.

William M. Connelly, managing director of the chamber of commerce, whose efforts largely were responsible for completion of the deal with the Baker interests, declared today that Atty. Arthur Van Duren was an outstanding figure in solving the many legal problems involved in the deal.

The Chamber of Commerce, with William M. Connelly as its managing director and Arthur W. Wrieden as its president, made the following statement:

"The Chamber of Commerce is pleased to announce the completion of the Baker deal. All the necessary papers were executed at a late hour Friday afternoon and ratified by the industrial commission of the city.

The terms are substantially as previously published except that the city gets title to a large part of the Ottawa Furniture property in addition to the other considerations.

"If it had not been for the able assistance and untiring efforts of many members of the Chamber of Commerce, the difficult task would never have been completed. An outstanding figure in solving the many legal problems that this complicated deal presented was Atty. Arthur Van Duren.

"We are very happy that this deal has been consummated as we have practically done nothing else for the past month. This will enable us to turn our attention to other excellent prospects for filling some of our empty factory buildings. We shall continue our efforts just as untiringly until every factory building is filled and every man has a job.

"We wish to thank everyone that has so generously assisted in this deal and to thank the public for their patience and forbearance while we were working out one of the most difficult problems that has ever confronted those interested in the industrial development of the city."

ZEELAND YOUTH BADLY INJURED AS AUTO SKIDS

Junior Post, 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Post of this city, is in Zeeland hospital with severe injuries suffered late this afternoon when his auto skidded on Boonstra hill, a mile south of here, and crashed through a heavy steel guard cable and landed in a ditch. A passing motorist took young Post to the hospital, where his physician, Dr. C. E. Boone, said tonight it would be 24 hours before he would be able to determine definitely the extent of his patient's injuries.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS

By ANN PAGE
It is good news to learn that there will be no need to curb our appetites for grapefruit this season in spite of the great hurricane damage. There will be plenty for all at moderate prices.

Celery is one of the best fall vegetables, delicious as a relish, stuffed or in salads and also good cooked, whether buttered, creamed or braised. In addition it gives a most desirable flavor to soups and stews. Onions, beets and carrots, cabbage, cauliflower and spinach are the best vegetables for the coming week. Sweet and white potatoes are also of excellent quality. Some white potato added to mashed yams or sweet potatoes helps to give it suppleness.

Frying size chickens are available at attractive prices and they can help to make an attractive Sunday dinner.

Many markets are also featuring steaks, roasts and chops from beef, pork and lamb. Dinners, therefore, need not be monotonous. Make your Sunday dinner attractive, says the Quaker Maid Kitchen.

use every possible attempt to establish these codes of high ethical practice by common consent under a nation-wide government leadership. Why will the NRA succeed? In bringing a much higher moral practice in American business than any legal legislation could impose. The answer is simple: These codes will be established and enforced by the common consent of the people themselves. The strongest laws are those of social and business traditions and conventions that rule our lives much more strongly than any legislative action. The NRA is a nation-wide attempt to establish a new tradition, an unwritten understanding that will be enforced by public opinion. The American people will not, of course, apply the boycott, but the people of this country will be brought face to face with the moral obligation of buying commodities from firms who have established business practices acceptable to the public sense of justice.

Is there any thing dictatorial in this? Certainly not. It simply means that the man who has in the past called himself honest because he stayed within the legal limits of law, but outraged every moral sense of public fair play will be brought before the bar of public opinion and sentenced back to private life. If the NRA is backed properly now, it will establish a standard of morals in American business practice that will be the greatest guarantee of the perpetuity of liberty ever devised and when all is said and done, public opinion can be raised to that point of moral power, where a nation can be not only resurrected but permanent prosperity of its people re-established, and if it is not the highest purpose, if it is not the most laudable attempt to save a nation from its own grief, from his own selfishness, then I don't know what you would call it.

Four years we have all desired and prayed for a much higher degree of nation-wide social justice, a much higher degree of social righteousness. Well, the NRA with all of its faults is the first great piece of national legislation that will raise moral codes of the American people in business relations to the exact level they are capable of voluntarily establishing, and if this is not a Magna Carta of human rights, then I cannot use English correctly.

The president may have some doubts about the Blue Eagle establishing proper moral codes. He need not fear where the weight of public opinion will crush unfair business practice if the story can be properly brought to the people. The government is appealing to the moral conscience of a nation, but that is not enough. Every business leader, every individual who believes in his country and in the continuous elevation of high ideals in organized society should support the spirit of the NRA with all of their power. The wording of the NRA legislation is not perfect, never will be perfect. The conscience of the people will dictate changes continuously. Unfair minor details will be eliminated here and there. Where injustices creep in they will be taken out. There has never been a piece of legislation so flexible in its construction to always represent majority public opinion. No one doubts the high character of our chief executive. No one doubts his inherent sense of justice. Let's not fight him. If we see mistakes in some of his moves, let's help to correct them, but this is one time when the best there is in the people of this country must appeal to the best there is in the administration and in congress just as much as the best there is in congress and the president must appeal to the people of this country. This is the spirit of the NRA. It's up to the people through their own power to enforce the spirit of the act. People must recognize and recognize that by their purchasing power they can build business men who play fair and that at the same time they can tacitly eliminate those business individuals or organizations who flout fair dealing and attempt to override the rights of the people. The NRA will give direction and force to this power—a voluntary power, that no business man, big or little, will ever dare to ignore once the public conscience of this country is awakened, and let me say this, that in a very short space of time business men of the highest moral obligations to Golden Rule principles will be built stronger and stronger and those business forces in America that were always destructive will be eliminated by that one power that was written in a widely circulated book many centuries ago, principles that have been expounded from pulpits for a thousand years, principles that every right-thinking citizen has aspired to establish, that is the aim of the NRA. Whether this aim will be successful depends entirely on the sense of duty of our citizens in not only backing the spirit of this law, but in a friendly constructive manner helping the government make minor changes where they become necessary to meet the demands of an enlightened and inspired public opinion.
