Seven Thousand Men Sign in County; Holland Lists 1,879

Forms Are Forwarded to Clerks Wilds and Miss Warner

A total of 11,667 men from 21 through 35 registered in Ottawa and Allegan counties Wednesday as part of the nation's conscription registration.

Ottawa registered 7,004 men, about 1,000 ahead of predictions.

Allegan's registration totaled 4,663. The prediction was 5,000.

All registration cards in the two counties have been forwarded to County Clerk William Wilds in Grand Haven and County Clerk Esther Warner in Allegan. The draft boards were to take over the draft machinery in this area today.

NO HEADQUARTERS YET

The big question here today was where the Holland draft board will operate.

But it will remain unanswered until the board receives official notification of its appointment, Board Member Vaudie Vandenberg said. The board is ready to function, but will delay setting up a headquarters until official notification is received.

Registrations of conscriptees in Holland city totaled 1,879, including 94 Hope college students. Registrations by wards follow:

First, 315; second, 128; third, 261; fourth, 281; fifth, 433; sixth, 367.

At 1 p.m. Wednesday, 841 had been registered in the city, leaving 1,038 to be registered until 9 p.m. the closing hours for the polls.

Zeeland city registered 417 men Wednesday. Three inmates of the county jail in Grand Haven also were registered.

Grand Haven city's registration totaled 1,089 and ward figures follow: First, 188; second, 200; third, 218, fourth, 201; fifth, 282.

Registrations by townships follow: Allendale, 153; Blendon, 175; Chester, 131; Crockery, 162; Georgetown, 431; Grand Haven, 146; Holland, 500; Jamestown, 165; Olive, 153; Park No. 1, 93; Park No. 2, 133; Polkton, 266; Port Sheldon, 37; Robinson, 108; Spring Lake, 421; Tallmadge, 181; Wright, 171; Zeeland, 190.

Allegan county's registration was divided as follows:

Cities: Allegan city, ward one, 300; ward two, 165; ward three, 115; Otsego, 484; Plainwell, 325.

Townships: Allegan, 125; Casco, 142; Cheshire, 90; Clyde, 158; Dorr No. 1, 146; Dorr No. 2, 56; Fillmore, 256; Ganges, 142; Gunplain, 97; Heath, 121, Hopkins, 155; Laketown, 98; Lee, 76; Leighton, 112; Manlius, 102; Martin, 193; Monterey, 115; Otsego, 78; Overisel, 179; Salem, 223; Saugatuck No. 1, 73; Saugatuck No. 2, 87; Trowbridge, 87; Valley, 25; Watson, 81; Wayland No. 1, 148; Wayland No. 2, 108.

The registration included one in Allegan's hospital. Six in the Allegan jail will be signed upon their release. A second draft board for Allegan county may be appointed as one board is supposed to function for each 3,500 registrants.

In Holland city the rush of registrations tapered off about 7 p.m. and there were only a few who affixed their names to their registration blanks between 8 and 9 p.m.

City Clerk Oscar Peterson registered approximately six young men who were confined to their homes by illness. Several out-of-town persons were registered at the wards.

Employes aboard the S. S. North American, South American and Alabama within the draft ages registered in the sixth ward.

Holland's registration cards were taken to Grand Haven this morning by Mayor Henry Geerlings, City Attorney Clarence A. Lokker and City Assessor Peter H. Van Ark when they went to a meeting of the board of supervisors.

Six of the seven sons of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Van Lente were registered Wednesday at Park No. 2. They were Nels, Lloyd, Don, Ralph, Jr., Gerald and Vernon Van Lente. The seventh son, Ivan James Van Lente, was too young to register, he being only 17.

With the completion of the draft registration, the election machinery ceased to function and the county draft boards were to begin functioning.

As soon as each board gets its cards it will shuffle and number them, placing "1" in the upper left hand corner of the top card, "2" on the second, and so on until the last card is reached.

Master sheets will be prepared giving the name of each registrant and his number. They will be posted outside local board headquarters so that every man can see what his number is. And it's up to him to learn his number.

It would take 14 years for sound to span the distance between the earth and the sun.

To Form Dime Chain Saturday

Using the slogan, "A Dime on the Line Will Show Some Kid a Good Time," to obtain funds to defray costs of the Halloween party for Holland kiddies, the Holland Junior Chamber of Commerce will form a chain of dimes in the downtown business district Saturday, starting at 8 a.m.

The line will start in front of Yonker's drug store at 20 West Eighth St. Any person who finds it impossible to place his contribution in the chain personally may call Yonker's drug store or the P. S. Boter and Co. store and a member of the organization will call at the home for the dime.

The Jaycee organization will stage its third annual Halloween party Thursday night, Oct. 31, in Riverview park. A parade will precede the program at the park.

The above picture was taken at last year's chain-of-dimes and shows Ray J. Kronemeyer, who was organization president at that time, placing his dime on the line.

THREE INJURED IN AUTO CRASH

Trio in City Hospital With Severe Hurts; One Is Unconscious

Three young men were seriously injuried about 11:30 p.m. Sunday in a headon collision of two automobiles on US-31 about five miles south of Holland. The injured were confined in Holland hospital.

Bernard Evink, 23, 204 East 14th St., suffered a large cut on the forehead. His right ear was almost cut off and he suffered abdominal injuries.

R. Meiste, 18, route 5, Holland, was in an unconscious condition. He suffered a severe cut on the head and possible fractured jaw.

Gerald Glupker, 18, route 1, Hamilton, suffered a fractured right ankle and fractured nose. His physician reported he also may be suffering a possible skull fracture.

According to reports, Evink was driving northward to Holland while Glupker with Meiste in his car was driving southward en route home. The accident occurred north of the big curve on US-31.

Police Officer Leonard Steketee went to the scene of the accident. Deputy Sheriff J. W. Schreckengust of Saugatuck said he had not made a report of the accident as he had been too busy Sunday night arranging for the removal of the injured trio to Holland hospital.

NEAR FINISH OF BULB PLANTING

Although only approximately one-tenth the ordinary number of tulip bulbs will be available in the United States this year, there will be no shortage at the Holland tulip festival, Festival Manager S. H. Houtman said Tuesday.

Fall planting of bulbs is virtually completed with well over 3,000,000 laid out over the city streets and at the tulip farms outside the city.

The annual tulip requirements in the United States are about 100,000,000 bulbs, but only about 10,000,000 will be available to fanciers this year because of importation restrictions resulting from the war, Houtman stated.

In normal years local growers filled most of their orders from stock imported from Europe. Having been fore-sighted this year, they are able to fill a large percentage of their orders from domestic stock.

English growers have been eager to dispose of their crop of twenty million bulbs, but have found shipment difficult. The steamship Volendam originally of the Holland-American line but since the invasion operated under English control, was recently torpedoed and sunk. The Volendam carried five million tulips for the American market.

BOARD IS GIVEN RELIEF REPORT

Van Volkenburgh Tells of Ten Months Work in Ottawa

Grand Haven, Oct. 17 (Special)—James S. Van Volkenburgh, Ottawa county welfare director, informed the Ottawa board of supervisors today that total relief disbursements in the county for the 10-month period from Dec. 1, 1939, until Sept. 30, 1940, totaled $88,197.20.

He reported that committments totaled $91,937.86; disbursements, $88,197.20; unpaid committments, $3,740.66; cash balance, $3,343.16; net unobligated cash balance, $397.50.

Lionel Heap, former Grand Haven mayor, discussed the civil service amendment. He pointed out that the amendment proposes to take civil service from the legislature and make it a fundamental law of the state. Then no changes could be made by legislative enactment.

J. Cowan, bee inspector, presented each supervisor with a jar of honey.

Daniel P. Parer of Detroit explained to the supervisors this forenoon the advantages of having photostatic copies of deeds for recording instead of typing them. The matter was referred to a special committee of which Edward Soule is chairman.

As part of the observance of fire prevention week, the Holland Fire department staged a one-hour drill and tested its equipment Saturday afternoon near the plant of the Charles P. Limbert Co., Sixth St. and Columbia Ave.

At one time 10 streams of water were thrown into the air and the two pumps were pumping 10,000 gallons each per minute.

Two deluge sets with a capacity of 1,000 gallons per minute also were tested. The Limbert factory was used for the aerial ladder truck, water from a hose stretched along the aerial ladder being thrown onto the building.

Fire Chief Cornelius Blom, Jr., reported that he had received $5 from James Heerspink for the firemen's fund, the money being contributed by the local jeweler for the efficient work of the department in fighting a fire in his store last week. Mr. Blom publicly thanked Mr. Heerspink.

Halt Called in Enlistment as Guardsmen Start Armory Stay

Seventy-seven men and three officers of Company D, Holland's national guard unit, mobilized at 7:30 a.m. Tuesday in the armory for a year's military training under orders issued Sept. 25 by President Roosevelt.

At the public induction service at 9:30 a.m., Capt. H. Austin Lucas advised the guardsmen that, effective at noon Tuesday, the company ceased to be a national guard unit and became a part of the U. S. army.

Mayor Henry Geerlings urged the guardsmen to have "faith in your country, faith in your fellowmen and faith in your God."

There are three points to be considered—faith, hope and "goodbye" and the latter point, he stated, means that "God will be with you."

The Rev. C. M. Beerthuis, pastor of Immanuel church, in a prayer for peace thanked God "for the way in which He has defended the nation down through the ages."

Postponed from last Monday night due to rain, the sendoff party and parade for Holland's national guardsmen will be held Thursday at 7:30 p.m., Dr. H. J. Masselink, chairman of the committee for the Holland Junior Chamber of Commerce which is sponsoring the event, said

The route of the parade will be north on River Ave. to Eighth St. and East on Eighth St. to the Pere Marquette depot. The same arrangements, as announced previously, will prevail, Dr. Masselink said, adding that if rain falls again, the event will be postponed.

All merchants are requested to line up for the parade on 10th St. in front of the Mass Furniture Store and will march behind the Christian high school band. Members of various fraternal organizations are asked to meet in front of the city hall.

Captain Lucas reported that he had received telegraphic instructions Monday night not to enlist any more recruits in the national guard until further notice. Prior orders were that after Oct. 16, men could be enlisted for one year's service in the national guard. He said young men who had contemplated joining the company will have to register Wednesday for the selective draft.

Capt. George Zegolis of Detroit, who was assigned to Company D to assist with the mobilization until the company leaves for its southern camp, arrived from Detroit Monday afternoon and joined the company this morning. Captain Zegolis, a former football player at Wayne university who recalled that Hope college beat the team in football several years ago, 33-0, will serve as the regular army instructor with Company D to check the "paper work."

Pvt. Osborne K. Vos was detailed as voucher clerk Pvt. Gerald N. Watson has been added for guard duty at the armory.

Pvts. David J. Hepworth and Luke Lambers were designated as orderlies to the officers. Pvt. John Wise will serve as bugler.

MAYOR LAUDS REGISTRATION

Is Pleased by Response of Both Workers and Men Who Enrolled

"A word of appreciation is due the many workers who so graciously and loyally gave of their time to take charge of the draft registration in Holland Wednesday," Mayor Henry Geerlings said today.

"When the call for volunteers was issued a few days ago the response was gratifying. Men and women in large numbers offered their services without remuneration. The registration was conducted in a dignified manner.

"In visiting the various registration places during the day I was particularly impressed with the attitude of the young men who appeared before the board to answer the 11 questions as they were asked by the registrars. These young men were thoughtful. They were serious. They knew what it was all about.

"No doubt they are wondering about the chances of their numbers coming up in the national lottery which will determine who first will be called for examination and who first will be called to leave home and fireside for a year's training. Modern youth is ready and willing to serve. No generation of youth, as I see it today, was ever more ready to respond to a mighty challenge to unselfish living.

"The nation's call has been answered by sixteen million men."

INSPECTOR FOR BUILDING WORK PROPOSED HERE

Office to Be Created by New Ordinance Given to Council

Statute Placed 'on Table' Until Solons Meet in Three Weeks

Creation of the office of a city building inspector, to be filled by council appointment, is provided in an ordinance introduced Tuesday night to common council by the ordinance committee.

Presented by Ald. Bruce Raymond, chairman of the ordinance, committee, the ordinance was tabled until council's meeting Nov. 6. City Clerk Oscar Peterson was instructed to have copies made and mailed to the aldermen and to those who desire to study it.

In explaining the various provisions of the ordinance, Raymond requested aldermen to consider the minimum amount which may be expended for building work without the necessity of obtaining a permit. Ald. James A. Drinkwater favored a $100 minimum.

Building activities have occupied council's attention for the past several meetings and at the Oct. 2 meeting, the committee was requested to draw up a proposed ordinance.

The proposed ordinance provides that the inspector will hold office, subject to condition of the charter, until the first Monday of May of each year or until his successor is appointed and qualified.

Under the proposed ordinance, no person shall repair or remodel a roof or chimney, nor shall any person erect, repair or remodel any building or structure to an extent requiring the expenditure of specified amount or allowing building owned or controlled by him to be erected or so repaired or remodeled without a permit.

Application for a permit will be filed in writing with the city clerk, to be accompanied by a plan or drawing, drawn approximately to scale. The application must show the description of the land and location which it is proposed that the building shall occupy, the name of the owner, the name of the owner of the building, the dimensions of the building, the materials to be used, the purpose for which the building is intended, the estimated cost of erecting, repairing or remodelling the same and such other information as may be necessary to furnish full and detailed advice as to the extent of the proposed work.

The ordinance also sets up the following fees to be charged for issuance of building permits:

Not exceeding $500, $1; from $500 to $1,000, $2; from $1,000 to $2,000, $3; from $2,000 to $3,000, $4; from $3,000 to $5,000, $5; in excess of $5,000, an additional fee of 50 cents per thousand.

Fees will be exempted for the issuance of a permit for governmental or political subdivisions or for religious or educational purposes. The ordinance also provides that no person shall begin operations for the erection, repair or remodeling of any structure without first posting a duplicate of the permit, issued by the city clerk, on the property described in the application.

OPENING HUNT IS SUCCESSFUL

Ideal hunting conditions greeted Hollanders Tuesday as many opened Michigan's lower peninsular small game and bird season. Early reports indicated that numerous hunters had been successful in bagging their limit of pheasants.

A heavy rain Monday improved hunting conditions. Bert Smith, local weather observer, said 1.12 inches of rain fell up to 7 p.m. Monday and .15 of an inch has fallen since then.

David Kempker, 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Kempker, living on East Fourth St., shot a pheasant this morning before he left for school.

Frank M. Lievense and John Cooper entered the fields at 7 a.m. and at 8 a.m. had shot two pheasants each.

Drummond had hitch-hiked a ride with George E. McFarland of Home Acres and asked McFarland to stop while he ran into the station to get something to eat. He went in and demanded cash from Mrs. Troy. She informed her husband who overtook Drummond and McFarland.

McFarland, arraigned before Justice Ferris, pleaded guilty to a drunk driving charge and was fined $53.75 and given 10 days in jail.

SAYS GAMES AT FAIR IN OTTAWA WERE OF SKILL

Hudsonville Group Files Reply to Suit Filed by Parsons

Grand Haven, Oct. 17 (Special) —The Hudsonville Community Fair association, in a reply to a suit filed by Prosecutor Elbern Parsons, admits that games specified by Parsons were operated at the fair, but denies any law was violated as the games were of skill only.

After acquittal of one of five respondents, arrested at the fair this year for operation of alleged gambling devices, Parsons filed a civil suit, seeking a permanent injunction against operation of the devices which he claimed were games of chance. He had obtained conviction of one other of the five through a plea of guilty and trial of the three others is scheduled for the November term of court.

Georgetown township, co-defendant in the injunction suit because it leases the land on which the fair is held, has also filed an answer, denying knowledge of Parsons' allegations and claiming there were no violations of the law to its knowledge.

A conference between fair officials and the prosecutor on Sept. 8, 1939, relative to the fair is admitted but the fair association denies there was gambling to its knowledge in 1939 and states that the fair was conducted in the same manner this year.

The answer declares the association had a right to conduct the fair as it did and that the allegations of the prosecutor are not violations of the state gambling law.

Parsons said he would continue his campaign against gambling and has asked that the injunction suit be heard at the November term of circuit court which opens Nov. 18.

The committee also recommended the purchase of one set of cathedral chimes at a cost of $295, pointing out that $150 had been received from the 1940 senior class and that $145 is expected from the 1941 class.

The recommendations were submitted by Trustee Albert E. Lampen who reported he had met recently with Trustee John Olert, Supt. E. E. Fell, Eugene F. Heeter and Mr. Ludlow to discuss the department's needs. Olert, supported by Trustee C. J. De Koster, moved for adoption of the report.

The matter of arranging a series of classes in distributive industry was referred to the committee on schools and Fell with power to act. The superintendent informed the board that he had met with Lawrence T. Thompson about the project which would be made available to all clerks and salesmen of all Holland stores and firms.

He pointed out that the federal government will supply funds to take care of 66⅔ per cent of the cost while the state government will furnish 8⅓ per cent, leaving the remaining 25 per cent to be supplied by the sponsoring agent which would be the board of education.

Following is an article taken from the Kalamazoo Gazette which appeared in the May 7 issue also: If one were to judge from the appearances or on the face of affairs it would seem that it was prepostrous for Greese to go to war with Turkey. Greece can put into the field all told, considerably less than three hundred thousand men while Turkey can muster more than a million. But there is a well defined belief among the diplomats of Europe, that Russia is at the bottom of the revolt. It is stated that Russia has for years been trying to involve Turkey in hostilities in order that she might have an excuse to conquer and annex the sultan's dominions, and that purpose is so well known in Europe that the Christian powers have declined to interfere forcibly in Turkish affairs because they know that sooner or later such interferences would involve them with Russia. It is also stated that the agents of the czar provoked the massacres of the Armenians with the hope and expectations that England, Germany and other nations might intervene. When they refused to do so the massacres ceased and Russian intrigue sought another field of action, which was found among the discontented Cretans. The outcome of the struggle cannot be predicted with any degree of certainty.

A brief article from Ann Arbor, dated May 1, also is of interest. It is as follows: The regents have tendered Harry L. Hutchins, dean of the law department, the presidency of the Michigan university during the period of Dr. Angell's absence as minister to Turkey. It has been expected all along that the post of president would be offered Mr. Hutchins if the regents decided it were necessary to appoint any one person to fill the chair made vacant by the absence of Dr. Angell. It has not been stated at what increase in salary Hutchins will assume the work of acting president, but there will no doubt be an increase.

HHS GOES WELL BUT IS DOWNED BY CENTRAL, 14-7

Chapman Scores Season's First Touchdown for Dutchmen

Holland high in its last non-conference game against Grand Rapids Central in Riverview park Friday night looked the best it has so far this season although losing to the Hilltoppers, 14-7.

With four mainstays out with injuries or illness, it was tough going for the local eleven but they kept pace orilliantly until the final seconds when they rested the ball on Central's 28-yard line. Scheerhorn, Thomas and Chapman in the backfield and Van Lente at center took the places of the four missing men and all looked good. Chapman, who made a quick change from end to fullback when Eby was injured, looked especially good.

Holland scored its first touchdown of the season in the first quarter soon after Central had gone over. After Central's first touchdown, Helrigel received the kickoff and came up five yards to the Holland 38. Here Chapman negotiated a successful 25-yard pass to Thomas who wound up on the Central 20-yard line just at the quarter's end. Kempker and Chapman made a first down in the next three plays after which Chapman brought the pigskin up to the one-foot line. He also charged across for the touchdown and Kempker put the cap on the first seven points Holland has owned this season.

Central scored first late in the first quarter when Karel went around right, cut back and ran 23 yards for a touchdown. The ball had been booted down to the Central 19 but Sayfie took the ball from the 20 over to Holland's 36.

Later in the center quarter, Chapman, going through center, fumbled and Reynolds of Central recovered. Karel also fumbled on the first play but recovered the ball and went around right end for nine yards. He picked up about 15 more yards before going around right for another touchdown with the same run used for the first-quarter score.

Nick Afendoulis' kick was again good. He has not missed one yet this season. Holland's successful pass was one of two out of eight attempts. Central tried only a few passes, all of which were incomplete.

Really pounding for first downs in the fourth quarter it looked like Holland might be able to chalk up another touchdown. Central held, however, as Holland came down to its 13 and, taking the ball over there, came up to the 29 on three successive plays. Here Karel fumbled and Draper recovered but last-minute pass attempts were incomplete.

Local DAR Group Hears Illustrated Travel Talk

Members of Elizabeth Schuyler Hamilton chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution were entertained last Thursday by Mrs. Melvin D. Baldwin of Grand Rapids, who gave a delightful travel talk about the Latin American countries of Columbia and Ecuador, illustrated by colored stills. The meeting was in the home of Mrs. Harold McLean on West 12th St.

Mrs. Baldwin, who with her husband has spent a total of 19 weeks in South America during the past two years, explained the extensive planning which must be done and red tape which must be unraveled before departing on a trip to the smaller South American countries. For the most part unvisited by the average traveler, the interior regions of Colombia and Ecuador afford interesting experiences and gorgeous scenery, she said. Trying to get off the beaten trail, they took a trip through Colombia river on a river steamer.

The slides showed the beauties of the countryside and the characteristics of the populace. The travelers found the historic cities of Barranquilla and Quita, especially interesting.

Mrs. C. C. Wood, chapter regent, presided, and the chaplain, Mrs. E. V. Hartman, conducted devotions. Routine reports were heard. Dr. F. E. De Weese, local dentist, appeared before the group and explained the proposed Amendment No. 4, to the State Constitution which will be on the ballot in the Nov. 5 election. To insure better service and protection to the public, vote "yes" on the dental amendment, he advised. Forty-four states already have stringent regulatory laws regarding the dental profession, he said.

Following the program a social hour was enjoyed. Hostesses with Mrs. McLean were Mrs. W. C. Vandenberg, Mrs. Roy Champion and Miss Mildred Stone.

At the next meeting, Nov. 14, Sidney J. Jenckes will speak on "A Battle With a Shadow."

EXPERIENCE, BUT—

Wendell Willkie spoke the language of common sense when he refuted Democratic logic about the third term. That logic has for its basic argument the contention that an experienced man like Roosevelt can do more for America than an inexperienced man like Willkie.

Mr. Willkie's answer was that that argument will apply with still greater force to a fourth term, and with yet more force to a fifth. When time comes for a sixth term, a man who has had five terms in the White House obviously is more experienced than anyone who has had none. And so on. By the use of the argument of experience any president could always stay in office until death removed him.

But what Mr. Willkie had to say about the menace of the third term was even more arresting than what he said about the logic used by the New Dealers. If a third term merely meant the breaking of a tradition, it would not be worth while to waste any great amount of breath on the subject. A tradition is only a tradition; if there are only sentimental reasons for preserving it, it can never stand up long against the procession of events.

The arguments against a third term are far from sentimental. Mr. Willkie sees plainly that the American form of government is tied up with the tradition, a fact that Jefferson also saw clearly. A president may have every intention in the world to retire at the end of a third term; there are always hordes of self-interested persons about his throne who will inevitably be still more eager for a fourth term for him than for a third. They will build up their political machine to "draft" him again and yet again; and he will almost certainly be unable to withstand it. Or if not this president, then another who follows him and who can perpetuate himself in office because of the enormous power that long tenancy of the office has given their organization.

The American people do not yet seem awake to the fact that the third term issue is the most important question before the country today—more important than national defense. The danger to the American way of life and to the American form of democracy is far greater from the third term than it is from Hitler or any other foreign enemy. People who oppose the third term are not sentimentalists; they recognize clearly that they are dealing with a life-and-death issue.

THE CHURCH INVITES YOU
Godly Thinking

The thoughts we think determine the characters of men we are and of the world in which we live. The life of a man is but his thoughts put into action. In holy writ we read, "as a man thinketh so is he."

To think high, noble, holy thoughts makes a man a saint; but low, selfish, sensual thoughts turn him into a brute.

What a wonderful world this becomes when we think godly thoughts. It is transformed into heaven here when love, justice, temperance, brotherhood, cooperation and peace are the order. It becomes a Christianized world. Why not accept the invitation and go to church next Sunday?

Hope Freshmen Are Guests of Society

Later the group gathered at the home of Dorothy Waldo in Zeeland for games and a taffy pull in keeping with the "pull" there. Arlene DeVries was accompanist for group singing around the piano.

Freshman girls entertained at the affair were: Lois Koopman, Marjorie Koopman, Edna Nyland, Marian Sandee, Ruth Van Bronkhorst, Hermina Maasen, Dorothy Koolker, Dorothy Zeeuw, Betty Jayne Smith, Doris Bos, Ethelyn Van Leeuwen, Genevieve Bussies, Margaret Light, Marian Vande Bunte, Irene Bogard, Marian DeJongh, Joan De Kraker, Virginia Ewing, Marian Van Zyl and Jean Vander Wege.

The Message of John the Baptist
Luke 3:3, 8-17, 21, 22

By Henry Geerlings

John the Baptist was a great man. He was great in goodness, great in a deep sense of unsparing righteousness, great in faith and courage and insight and purpose. He was a preacher with a real message and he knew how to deliver it. Little men do not draw the crowds to them when their preaching acts like a searching detective to find out and lay bare their sins before their very eyes.

This country preacher saw into men's souls and with all the power of his moving eloquence he pursuaded men to repentance. He made them feel how bad they were and they confessed their sins, repented and were baptised and forgiven. When a preacher can bring about results like these he is a preacher of power whom men fear and respect. He is the kind of a revolutionist every age needs. He is a real maker of men. He is the clarion voice that warns society of its follies and calls it to its better self and finer possibilities. He is the introducer of new eras of goodness and a real builder of a cleaner civilization. He is always looking ahead and he is always asking men to look with him.

John was preparing the soulway for Jesus in the lives of men. And this was a task that commanded and required all the resources that this rugged preacher of the great out-of-doors had. He had to be a man of great faith—such faith that would so apprehend Jesus as that he could be sure Jesus was Jesus and then urge Him upon the minds and hearts of people. He had to have such an apprehension of Jesus as to be fully persuaded that He was the real Messiah for whose advent devout and expectant Israel had been waiting through the weary centuries. He had to have such a faith as would convince him that Jesus Himself would prove Himself to be the Messiah. He had to feel deep down in his soul that he was taking no chances with this young prophet of Galilee.

The more we study John's situation the more we see how difficult his task was with himself first of all and then with the people whose minds he was getting ready to think about Jesus. There was quite enough to make faith hard for John. He was the lone pathfinder in the hearts of men. There were no brother ministers to think with him and to lend him the support of their own conceptions of this strange young man in Nazareth. He had no past to appeal to. He had no fruits of history to exhibit. He just stood alone at the close of one period of time and at the opening of another to see and think about this young man whom he finally proclaimed as the Lamb of God that taketh away the sin of the world.

We believe that we are thoroughly justified in declaring that this great prophet of the wilderness must have given himself to hours of meditation respecting the identity of Jesus, His being the very Messiah at last come to make good the prophecies of the vibrant ages. It is fanciful to see a struggling soul named John the Baptist fighting with his doubts, at last emerging triumphant in the conviction that the carpenter of Nazareth was the real Christ for whose admission into life their souls he could prepare the minds of his countrymen. It is no easy thing always to infect other people with your faith and to impregnate their minds with your ideas. The removal of prejudices from minds and the persuading of people to see and face a new day coming is no small undertaking. It is hard to get people to believe in your ideal even sometimes to see it. The Jesus whom John saw and believed in was not always the Jesus whom his hearers saw.

Christian preachers today have much difficulty in having people see the Christ they see and serve. The Christ of the intellect is not always the Christ of the heart and of experience. Getting people to accept Christ often partakes of a great adventure. Indeed we may all adventure on Him and we shall find that He becomes more and more.

We must confess that John had a fine conception of the greatness and the goodness and the power of Jesus. John never tried to thrust himself into the foreground, but he did make Jesus great and glorified Him. It is a sign of true greatness when a preacher can make people see Jesus rather than himself. John was a master of taking second place.

REFUGEE TELLS OF NAZI ARREST, AMERICA HAVEN

Student at Hope Says His Father Was Sent to German Camp

Paul Fried, German refugee student at Hope college, held the attention of the Holland Rotary club at its meeting in the Warm Friend tavern last Thursday noon when he related "My Experiences With the Nazis."

Fried enrolled as a freshman at Hope college this fall on a scholarship. He was "privileged" to enter this country Dec. 22, 1939, he said, and he had not been here 24 hours before someone asked him how he would like a scholarship. At that time, he explained, he was not yet accustomed to the speed in which Americans do things but he gladly accepted the scholarship, nevertheless.

So the life of this young man who speaks nearly perfect English, having studied it in German schools as a foreign language, instantly became stabilized after about six years of Nazi persecution. He receives letters from his parents in Prague about every six weeks, he explained, although he does not receive all the letters they write nor do they receive all of his. All letters, of course, are censored.

He was born and raised in Germany where his father was editor-in-chief of one of the leading Berlin newspapers and his mother was a doctor. When he was five years of age, they moved to Wiesbaden where his father continued writing and his mother maintained a convalescent home while the two brothers went to school. So they lived as Americans and other people do, Fried said, until 1933 when Hitler was called.

No matter how illegal the things Hitler is doing now and has done for the past seven years are, he pointed out, one has to admit that having been called by the president, he did "get in" in a legal way. According to the speaker, Germans believed that after five or six months, he would be out of the government again but by that time he was even stronger and had taken over many government forces.

Once established, Fried narrated, he began to fulfill his program, part of which was the persecution of all Jews, whether they held the Jewish religion or not. His parents, he added, were Jews of Christian faith, but because the persecution was for all Jews, the Fried family was included.

He said the Nazis naturally wanted to get all the money and property his father had and probably to get rid of his father. His father was arrested without charge, he said, and sent to a concentration camp in July, 1933.

Although the Frieds resided in Germany they had come from Austria, he explained. Therefore, his mother asked the Australian consul to protest in her behalf, which he did, and within a few months his father was released, but not until he had signed a paper saying he would never claim any of his confiscated property, would ask nothing for the time he was in the camp without a charge and would leave the country.

Leaving the country, the family was not allowed to take out more than ten marks, a mark being about $2.50 in American money. Arriving in Austria, it was almost impossible to start over again, especially with no money because the country was small and poor. However, he stated his father taught evening school and his mother found work so things were again going fairly well when he finished school and found a job.

The majority of people in Austria at that time favored joining the German reich, he stated—not necessarily Hitlerism, but the reich from which they thought they could derive some benefit. Fried said he knows that opinions had changed much and many who welcomed Hitler have now changed their minds.

When Hitler entered Austria in 1938 the Nazis had had five years of experience and soon gained a hold on the whole country and again began the persecution of the Jews.

Although he himself had no political association or money, he was subject to persecution, he said, probably because he was a refugee already and had not told too good a tale of the Nazis. At this time he was not living in the same city as his parents. He awoke one morning about 6 a.m. he recalled, and discovered a man at the foot of his bed. He could not comprehend the situation at first, he said, and thought he might be dreaming. The man said he was an officer of the secret police and "when I heard that, I woke up completely." Fried said on the way to the police station he asked the officer why he had been arrested and was told that it was because he was an unwanted foreigner. He has since learned, he remarked, that it is bad to ask "Why?" about anything in Germany.

At first, he said, the small room in which he was kept with about 17 thieves, burglars, tramps, political leaders, government officials and rich and poor Jews looked extremely crowded. Before six weeks were up about 75 people were being kept in the room and he found it had been "empty" with 17.

Six weeks later, the young refugee stated, he was called before an officer and was told he could be free if he wanted to, on condition that he sign a paper saying that he would never make any claims for compensation and that he would leave Austria and never come back.

Taken to the Czechoslovak border by two police officers, he had neither reason nor passport—two things required to cross borders in Europe legally—so he had to cross illegally. They left the train a few miles before reaching the border and walked to a place where the officers knew there were no guards. From there he had to walk 25 miles to the next town where by bus and train he was able to join his family in Prague.

But It's True——————!

Burns wrote many of his poems in taverns, often under the influence of alcohol. Bartello landed on his feet. He later reported that they tingled slightly for a week. He ascribed his good fortune to the fact that he let himself land completely relaxed.

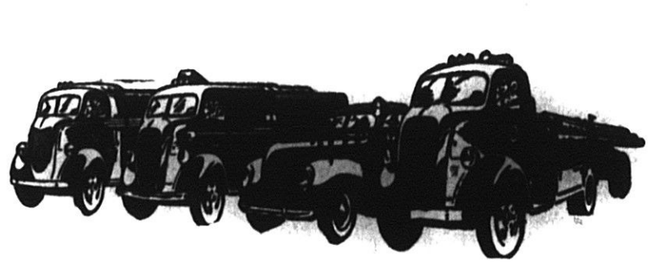
MECHANIZED PREPAREDNESS



Mechanized and motorized forces are essential to telephone preparedness. In Michigan there are 1,275 telephone trucks and cars — most of them equipped with tools, power units and material. Their day-by-day work may not seem dramatic. But in time of emergency . . . flood, tornado, sleet storm . . . these mechanized forces can be mobilized like an army. For instance, following the 1938 hurricane in New England, Michigan's trucks and trained crews worked side by side in the storm area with others from as far west as Nebraska. Mechanized preparedness is but one of many reasons why this Company is ready to do its part in the program of national defense.

30 STUDENTS OF ZEELAND GO TO LOCAL COLLEGE

Over Two Hundred of That Locality Get Degrees at Hope

Zeeland, Oct. 17 (Special) — Zeeland this year has 30 students who are attending Hope college. The freshman class has 13, the sophomore class nine and there are four juniors and four seniors. Since the first commencement of Hope college in 1866 more than 200 Zeelanders have received their A. B. degree from Hope college. This is an average of three students each year for a period of 74 years.

A checkup shows that the teaching profession has been chosen by the larger number of these graduates. More than 100 have taught or are now teaching in rural, elementary or high schools and several in missionary institutions in the U. S. in foreign countries. Others teach in private schools, colleges and universities. About 45 have become ministers or missionaries and have taken up their profession in various states and in distant lands. Twenty have become doctors or dentists and about 40 have gone into business of some kind.

Zeeland students at Hope college this year include the following in the freshman class: Donna Brouwer, Helen De Pree, Randall Dekker, Willis Hall, Virgil Janssen, Dorothy Leeuws, Gerard Looman, Betty Plasman, Doris Van Dragt, Jean Van Der Wege, Allen Van Kley, Rose Winstrom and Betty Wyngarden.

Those enrolled in the sophomore class include Florence Bouwer, Lester Lampen, Alvin Leenhouts, Evert Kleinjans, Gradus Shoemaker, Paul Van Eenenaam, Wallace Van Liere, Elaine Veneklasen and Charles Zoet. Juniors are Doris Van Hoeven, Jay Van Ommen, Jane Veneklasen and Dorothy Waldo. The four seniors are Helen Fairbanks, Lois Glerum, Laura Roosenraad and Thelma Van Dyke.

In 1857 Holland academy was organized. It became Hope college in 1866. It is natural that people residing in Zeeland and vicinity were deeply interested in the institution and many young men and women from here attended it from the very beginning.

At the first commencement of Hope college in 1866, eight students were graduated. Of these two may be called Zeeland residents although at the time of their graduation they resided in Kalamazoo.

William Moerdyk resided in Zeeland as a boy and later was pastor of Zeeland churches at two different times. He was the fourth pastor of First Reformed church of Zeeland from 1872 to 1877, and was the first pastor of Second Reformed church of Zeeland from 1905 to 1911. He was a member of the council and served as its president in 1891.

His brother, Peter, also a graduate that year, spent his childhood days in Zeeland. He served several churches in the Reformed denomination and was Professor in Latin and Greek at Hope college in 1871 and Sector of the Theological department from 1884 to 1886.

The next year four of the six graduates were from Zeeland and vicinity.

The Rev. James De Pree, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jan De Pree, pioneers of Zeeland, was graduated from Theological seminary in Holland in 1879 and served the Reformed church at Spring Lake as his first charge. Other charges were Sioux Center, Ia., and Synden, Wash.

Gerrit Bolks was the son of the late Rev. S. Bolks, who was pastor of First Reformed church, Zeeland, from 1865 to 1872. Two sons, Albert Bolks and Gerrit Bolks, were in charge of the pioneer hardware store located on the site directly east of Zeeland hospital. The business was later moved to Main St. and the late William and Cornelius De Pree were employes in this store and took over the business when the Bolks brothers moved to Iowa. The Rev. S. Bolks moved from Zeeland to Orange City, Ia., in 1872.

John Huizenga, also a Zeeland resident and a graduate of Hope college in 1867, entered service as a minister of the Reformed denomination in 1870.

Albert F. Huizenga resided in New Groningen in 1867 when he received his A. B. degree from Hope college.

And thus almost every year since then, one or more Zeeland persons has received an A. B. degree from Hope college.

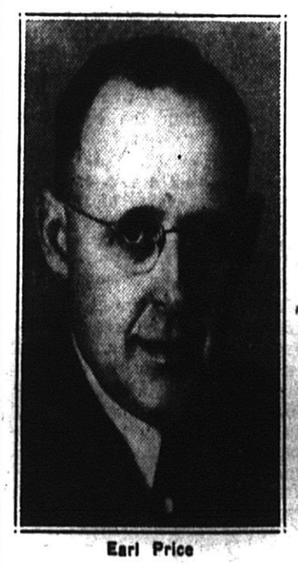
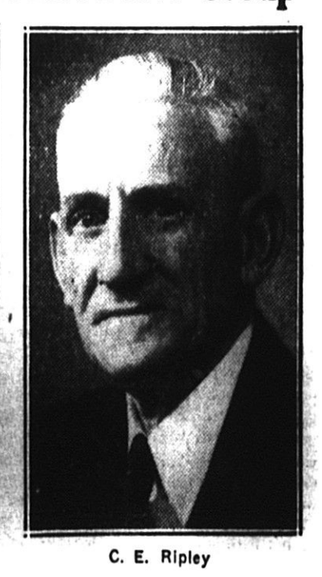
Co-Chairmen of Chest Drive Group



Earl Price



C. E. Ripley

Earl Prince and C. E. Ripley will head the national corporations division of the Community Chest drive this year, Joseph Geerds, campaign chairman, announced

This division has already started to work by contacting the local offices of those companies whose principal offices are located out of town. This includes chain stores, branch factories and other similar units.

Other members of this division are Russell Barnard, R. S. Friday, Harry Gahagen, Earl Goon, J. A. Hoover, J. F. Lucas, F. D. Miller, B. J. Paschal, Ray Smith, W. H. Stolp and James Verhey.

A special letter has been prepared by Mayor Henry Geerlings which is being sent to all of the home offices of these companies pointing out their equal responsibility with purely local companies in assuming the responsibility for this community work. The mayor's letter follows:

"We greatly appreciate your last year's contribution to our Community chest. We believe that it manifests a wonderful civic spirit. You know the purpose of the chest. All our social service, charitable and character-building agencies are united in one annual appeal. This prevents duplication.

"We are happy to have a branch of your business located in our city and we believe that you will gladly do your share. We are joined to human beings everywhere, if for no other reason than because we are all just men and women, and have been given the opportunity to help one another.

"No other appeal for funds will be made to you. You are cordially invited to join with us and be one with us in this community enterprise. We have a worthy program."

Mr. Geerds reported that he has almost completed his selection of chairmen of the various divisions of the drive who in turn are making their selections for team captains.

"I am certainly pleased with the way everyone has shown a willingness to give their wholehearted support to this campaign for human needs. No one whom I have approached to take a part in this work has turned me down but on the other hand, has accepted his responsibility enthusiastically. This should be a banner year," Mr. Geerds said.

COUNCIL NAMES INSPECTORS OF VARIOUS WARDS

Opening, Closing Hours of Polls for November Election Set

Preliminary arrangements for the presidential election Tuesday, Nov. 5, were made Tuesday night by common council with the appointment of the election inspectors for the various wards in the city.

First ward, Alvin Brandt; second, John Woltman, third, Arthur Van Duren; fourth, William Lawrence; fifth, first precinct, Carl Zickler, second, Gerrit W. Kooyers; sixth, Herman Steggerda.

The applications were those of Ed De Feyter, 295 Washington Blvd., to remodel four-room apartment upstairs, $150; Dick Versendaal, 317 Central Ave., to build 3 by 15-foot addition to building, $50.

Upon motion of Ald William C. Vandenberg, the matter was referred back to Modders with a request that he contact neighbors who had objected to the temporary commercial building and if agreeable to them, council will grant the extension of time. Modders was asked to report to council at its meeting Nov. 6.

The report of Ald. Ben Steffens, chairman of the ways and means committee, was accepted in which he recommended that the park and cemetery board be authorized to lay water mains this winter in Pilgrim Home cemetery and that $2,500 be included in next year's budget to pay for the work. HOPE GRIDDERS BEAT KAZOO, 7-0; TO FACE DALES

Dutch Hope to Break Up Another Homecoming in Two Weeks

MIAA STANDINGS

	Won	Lost	Pct.
Albion	2	0	1.000
Alma	2	0	1.000
Hope	2	1	.666
Hillsdale	1	1	.500
Adrian	0	2	.000
Kalamazoo	0	3	.000

Hope college gridders who this week have an open date, have had a few days of rest before intense rehearsals get under way for the game at Hillsdale's Homecoming Saturday, Oct. 26.

Last year the Dales spoiled the Hope homecoming and this year they will get no sympathy from the local eleven whose latest homecoming engagement meant a 7-0 victory over Kalamazoo Saturday.

Completely overpowering the Kazoo team before a capacity homecoming crowd which included several hundred from Holland, the Dutch gave the Hornets their third MIAA loss and their fourth straight setback. The victory was the second to be taken over Kalamazoo since Coach Bud Hinga, a graduate of the college, began coaching here. He says that "the jinx has now been broken." In 1938 the score was 7-7 and in the past two years it has been 7-0 in favor of the Dutch.

Outstanding besides Art Timmer and Bob Montgomery, who did most of the ball carrying, was Capt. George Heneveld who made nearly two-thirds of the tackles, recovered many of Kazoo's fumbles and played probably the best game of his career.

The tie and victories in the past three years mean that Heneveld and his senior teammates have never been part of a loss to Kalamazoo.

The final score this year did not indicate how much Hope had bottled up their opponents. They did not, for instance, allow Kazoo within their 40-yard line and scored ten first downs as compared with their five.

Hope drew first blood after about six minutes of the first quarter but had other chances to score later both on touchdowns and field goals. Twice they were within Kazoo's ten-yard line. The last time was in the last few minutes of play when they did mostly killing time to avoid possibility of a fumble or other fatality. Montgomery attempted two field goals, one of which was outside and the other, partially blocked. One was from the 16-yard line and the other from the 20-yard line.

Whitey Riemersma who did not play much of the time, scored the winning touchdown. Montgomery completed a short pass to Timmer who ran 30 yards before being out of bounds on the Kalamazoo 20-yard stripe. De Fouw, Montgomery and Timmer carried the ball from there down to the seven where on a fake plunge, Montgomery lateralled to Riemersma who streaked around right end. Montgomery place-kicked the extra point.

Kalamazoo looked best on offense in the third quarter. In all others, Hope was in their territory. Outstanding for the Hornets were Steve Dalla, fullback and former all-MIAA honor team man and Capt. Paul Van Kuren, left tackle.

Score by quarters:

Judge Explains Election Issues at WCTU Meeting

The Holland unit of the Woman's Christian Temperance union opened its new year with a Christian Citizenship program in charge of Mrs. F. T. Miles, director of the Christian Citizenship department. The meeting was held in the Paul E. Hinkamp home.

The newly-elected president, Mrs. Carl Dressel, opened the meeting with a special prayer for guidance for officers and members in the ensuing year.

Mrs. G. H. Dubbink led devotions, reading Romans 12 and an excerpt from the Christian Herald, "The Captain Speaks."

In introducing the program and speaker for the afternoon, Mrs. F. T. Miles spoke briefly of temperance work quoting one of its slogans, "It is fine to man a lifeboat, but far better to build a lighthouse."

Municipal Judge Raymond Smith of the city court was the speaker and instructor. The theme of his speech concerned the election issues which he illustrated with sample copies of the 1940 ballots and the four proposals of amendments and referendums to be voted upon.

Though the speaker was proudly sporting a campaign button his address was nonpartisan. He briefly explained the ballot and answered the questions asked by some of the group. The philosophy of the "third term" issue was explained to mean an unlimited term—a president good enough for a third term could as well serve a sixth term.

In explaining the first proposal, the speaker pointed out the danger of putting rigid laws in the constitution. Ceding the constitution as the basic foundation and backbone of all the laws, the actual lawmaking should be left to the legislatures and legislators.

The discussion of proposal No. 1 aroused great interest among the group. The speaker cited the Pine Creek school incident as an example of how the 15-mill limitation can handicap the electors of school districts.

The other three proposals were more lightly treated. The third proposal is of little concern to the city of Holland, but of more interest to larger cities where there is a competition between privately owned and city governed bus lines.

The fourth proposal is intended to prevent the chain system of dental offices where cut-rate prices prevail and illegal advertising is used. The subject was ably handled and many questions were answered in a satisfactory manner by Judge Smith.

The meeting was closed with the WCTU benediction. The social hour was in charge of Mrs. Frank Dyke and Mrs. Ela Arnold. The officers and vice presidents met in the library of the Hinkamp home where the president, Mrs. Dressel, gave a brief outline of the duties of the church vice-presidents.
