New Ration Books To Be Distributed In City Next Week

Elementary Schools Selected as Centers; Must Submit Book 3

Distribution of war ration book No. 4, the use of which will begin Nov. 1 and which is designed to last approximately two years, will take place in Holland Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of next week, Oct. 27, 28 and 29, in the five elementary schools, it was announced here by Joe Moran, who has been appointed by Supt. E. E. Fell to direct the distribution here.

One book 4 will be issued for each book 3 presented or shown, unless and except in case a recipient has since become an inmate of an institution, a member of the armed services, or intends to reside in the country for not more than 60 days. Copies of book 3 will serve to establish eligibility and identification of the applicants.

One adult individual may obtain book 4 for all members of the same family if they reside at the same address. Each person's book 3 must be presented, however. Books 3, of course, will be returned.

No new ration books will be issued at the rationing office which will serve only as a distributing center for the schools. Individuals who do not yet have book 3 and desire book 4 should make immediate application to the rationing office, 25 West Eighth St.

Forty thousand books have been reserved for the area over which the local board has jurisdiction and 26,000 books have been reserved for the Grand Haven area.

There will be no tailoring in the new ration books and the general procedure will be much simpler. Application blanks on which names and other information is entered will be distributed among the school children prior to the distribution, Mr. Moran said.

Joe Moran, who is in charge of the distribution of ration book 4 through local elementary schools Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of next week, today announced that the five schools will be open for that purpose from 1 to 7 p.m. on all three days. Pupils will be dismissed from classes on Wednesday and Thursday afternoons but will meet Friday afternoon.

Elementary school teachers will serve as registrars and will be assisted by junior and senior high school teachers after school hours. In addition to this group each elementary school principal is responsible for securing additional registrars for her school from parents and the PTA.

Mr. Moran pointed out that persons living in the same household who are not related by blood, marriage or adoption must file separate applications. To secure book 4, book 3 must be presented to the registrar.

The local rationing office announced that rural schools will be closed all day Monday and on Tuesday afternoon. Rural residents are urged to secure the books on Monday whenever possible. The hours may vary slightly as each school was to determine its own schedule.

In Zeeland, the registration will be held Wednesday night and Thursday and Friday in Zeeland high school. The hours will be from 6 to 9 p.m. Wednesday, 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Thursday and 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Friday.

Local Man Will Serve as Lay Pastor in Detroit Area

George Schuiling, 78 East 20th St., a leading layman in the Reformed church and employee of the Holland post office for more than 30 years, has accepted a position to serve as lay pastor of the new Grace Park Reformed church in the Greater Detroit area and will leave Holland near the first of November, it was announced today by the Rev. George Douma, missionary for the particular synod of Chicago, Reformed Church in America.

According to Rev. Douma, Mr. Schuiling was the unanimous choice of the expansion committee of the Chicago synod for the Detroit position. A layman was selected for the work due to the acute shortage of ordained ministers in wartime. The expansion committee is composed of representatives of the eight classes of the synod which is made up of Reformed churches in Michigan, Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana and Ohio.

Mr. Schuiling has an enviable record in Christian service in local religious circles and his reputation as a capable worker extends throughout Ottawa county and Michigan. For 23 years he served as president of the Ottawa county Sunday school association and for 15 years has been a member of the state board of the Council of Churches and Religious Education. He has served as general chairman of the committee arranging the three-hour Good Friday service since the community event started six years ago.

For two years, Mr. Schuiling has headed the Social Agencies of Holland as president and served on the board for five or six years, ever since the organization was founded. He has been serving as president of the Holland City Rescue Mission for eight or nine years ever since the mission left its building on Central Ave. He also served as president of the Missionary Syndicate of the Holland classis which arranges the annual mission fest and a missionary banquet.

As vice-president of the consistory of Trinity Reformed church, Mr. Schuiling has been extremely active in lay work since the pastor, Dr. Henry D. Terkeurst, entered the navy as a chaplain. He made on an average 20 calls a week and took care of many matters in connection with the church. He served as elder in the consistory for six of the past eight years, being out two years because of the rotary system. He also served as teacher of the Young Men's Bible class for eight years. Before becoming affiliated with Trinity church nine years ago, he was active in First Reformed church.

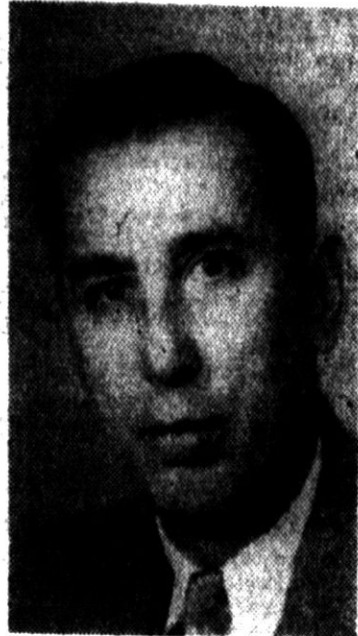

A born executive, Mr. Schuiling has directed most of his energies toward church work. He served as general chairman for two state Christian Endeavor conventions in Holland in 1930 and 1939 and also for the state convention of the Michigan Council of Churches and Christian Education here in 1940.

At present, Mr. Schuiling is conferring with Postmaster Harry Kramer and Assistant Postmaster John Greengard in regard to terminating his work at the local post office where he has been employed since Dec. 6, 1912. For a few years he served as substitute carrier but has been working at the stamp window ever since the present federal building was constructed in 1914. Since he has completed 30 years of service, he is eligible for retirement with a full pension would require another four years of service.

His work in the Grace Park section will be confined to an area of about 1,000 new homes on the Ecorse road between Detroit and Ypsilanti in the heart of the defense area. The Reformed church started work there in 1942 under the direction of Rev. Douma who worked in cooperation with student preachers of Western Theological seminary. For the past year the Rev. James Schut has been serving at Grace park and Inkster and he is being transferred to the Inkster field which is four miles west of Grace park.

Grace park has a new chapel which will accommodate the needs of the community, according to Rev. Douma. It has a Sunday school of well over 100 members. There is no other church of any denomination in the new field. Rev. Douma said consideration was given Mr. Schuiling because of his ability as displayed in his Sunday school and church work locally. Mr. and Mrs. Schuiling will occupy the new parsonage in which the Schuts have been living and the Schuts will move to Inkster.

Mr. Schuiling was born in Grand Rapids and received his elementary schooling there. In 1908 he came to Holland to enter the preparatory department of Hope college. The Schuiling have a daughter, Mrs. Kenneth Sandy, wife of a Flint physician, and two grandchildren, Mary Kay and Kenneth Sandy.

Won't Deliver on Saturday Nights

Dairymen to Continue New System Which Divides Their Routes

Following an announcement late Saturday that the ODT had granted temporary permission to 42 milk dealers in the Grand Rapids-Holland area to deliver milk Saturday night twice a month instead of on Sunday, Benjamin Speet, president of the Holland Milk Dealers' association, declared that local dealers probably will continue their new schedules of three deliveries a week, since making rounds on Saturday night would require deliveries past midnight in some cases.

According to the system worked out among local milk dealers last week, milkmen have divided their routes and deliver to half of their customers on Monday, Wednesday and Friday and to the other half on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. A two-day supply of milk is left at each delivery except on the Friday and Saturday routes when supplies for three days must be left, Speet explained.

The special permission as announced by the ODT allows a dealer to make seven deliveries to a customer within a two-week period on the basis of Mondays, Wednesdays, Fridays and Saturdays, but ODT officials are unwilling to concede this because it is contrary to the clause which prohibits deliveries two days in succession.

What the local milk dealers would like, Speet said, is permission to deliver four times a week, setting up a straight schedule of Mondays, Wednesdays, Fridays and Saturdays, but ODT officials are unwilling to concede this because it is contrary to the clause which prohibits deliveries two days in succession.

Nazi Reign Only Unites Norway, Rotarians Told

Woman Who Escaped Gestapo Vividly Tells Horror Under Hitler

A dramatic description of life in Nazi-dominated Norway today was told to members of the Holland Rotary club, their wives and guests by Else Margrete Roed, former prominent journalist of that country, Thursday night in the Tulip room of the Warm Friend tavern. The address, which was heard also by members of Holland branch, American Association of University Women, followed a dinner arranged by Rotarians for their guests.

Opening her remarks with a description of the 125 years of peace in Norway which was ruthlessly broken by the German invasion, she described the heroic 60-day resistance of the stolid Norwegian people and the sudden unity of heart and purpose that came to them under the impact of Nazi attack.

Miss Roed, referring several times to the "concentration camp" that is all of Norway today, found it difficult if not impossible to reconcile the foreign mind to the horror of living in constant fear and instability such as is felt by persons under the heel of the Gestapo. Further discussion revealed the Nazi methods of dealing with the press, schools, churches and the youth of the country whom they tried to educate to the concepts of the "new order" of the "master race."

A picture of her own introduction to the methods of the Norwegian underground system in which she was swept into the torrent that allowed no thought of turning back led, in order, to the intriguing story of her escape when her work finally had come to the attention of the Gestapo. Upon her arrival in England, she was assigned her task by the government of Norway in London, as are all Norwegians who escape. This speaking task she now performs tirelessly throughout the United States.

One interesting phase of German policy in Norway according to Miss Roed, is that which calls for imprisonment and forced labor of the natives to preserve their "pure Nordic strain" for further use in reinforcing the German nation in establishment of the "master race." Miss Roed emphasized the ultimate failure of any such plan because of the "burning hate" for Germans that gives to Norway her only pleasure and vitality today.

She closed by pointing out the hope that keeps the spirit of Norway alive today—a desire for an end to oppression, and an opportunity to continue on her way asking nothing of others but peace and freedom under her king. Miss Roed placed upon her listeners an awareness of Norway's unity and urged the German attack.

Miss Roed was introduced by Dr. Bruce M. Raymond of Hope college, who spent a few minutes paying tribute to the speaker for her intense patriotism as evidenced by her strenuous tour of the country in order to bring the story of her people's oppression to friends in the United States.

Duncan Weaver, Rotary president, presided.

27 Agencies Will Benefit by Chest, War Fund Drive

Budgets of Local Units Listed for Campaign Starting Next Week

Edgar Landwehr, chairman of the united community chest and War fund campaign scheduled to open Oct. 28, has announced the budgets that have been approved by the Holland Community chest for the 10 member agencies.

The combined total to be raised during the campaign is $14,500, of which $14,000 is for the National war fund covering 17 agencies on the military and united nations fronts. The balance of $1,500 is for local chest needs, allocated as follows:

Salvation army, $3,900; Boy Scouts, $3,600; City mission, $2,000; Civic Health committee, $725; Michigan Children's Aid society, $450; Goodfellows foundation, $300; Crippled Children fund, $800; Blind and sight conservation, $300; Underprivileged children, $500; Camp Fire girls, $200; contingent and unallocated funds, $2,725.

Each agency has appeared before the chest board of directors and individually presented its detailed program for the coming year and a careful appraisal has been made of the respective budgets. Most of the budgets are the same as last year, some even being lower. The increase in the total is largely accounted for by the larger amount called for by the contingencies which the chest board feels it may be faced with during the year, particularly in line of youth interest, and which cannot be accurately anticipated.

Officers of the Holland Community chest are Joe H. Goerds, president; Prof. Albert Lampen, vice-president; C. Neal Stieketeer, Jr., secretary; Corne Kragt, treasurer. These with Mrs. George Pelgrim, Earl Price, Ervin D. Hanson, Dick Miles and Phillips Brooks, comprise the chest board of directors.

Quotas for various townships include: Allendale, $1,400; Blenden, $1,400; Chester, $1,300; Crockery, $850; Georgetown, $2,475; Grand Haven township, $500; Jamestown, $2,100; Olive, $900; Polkton, $2,800; Port Sheldon, $450; Robinson, $500; Spring Lake township, $1,000; Talmadge, $1,550; Wright, $1,800.

Agencies which will benefit from the war chest, all of which have the approval of the U. S. War Relief Control Board, include: Belgian War Relief Society, British War Relief Society, French War Relief Fund, Friends of L'Esperance, Greek War Relief Association, Norwegian War Relief, Polish War Relief, Queen Wilhelmina Fund, Russian War Relief, United China Relief, United Czechoslovak Relief, United Yugoslav Relief, Refugee Relief Trustees, and U. Next to Van Tatenhove is A. Rowder, chairman of the campaign. A total of $338.10 was collected for the fifth annual Halloween party for kiddies Monday, Nov. 1, in Riverview park.

County Engineer Carl T. Bowen and Chairman William Ver Duen of the good roads committee met with the board in the morning and asked for an appropriation of $20,000. The supervisors were informed that the road commission has a balance as of Jan. 1 of $100,000, but if the number of trucks and other equipment which is now necessary could be purchased, there would not be much of that amount left.

Albert Stegenga, chairman of the good roads committee, said his committee was convinced that the road unit needed $20,000. Stegenga stated that at that time a resolution was passed by the committee giving the commission the $20,000. Bowen told the committee he believed the gas and weight tax will be much less, which would affect the amount of money available for use of the commission.

Stegenga in a motion before the board, asked that this amount be appropriated, instead of the $10,000 recommended by the finance and budget committee. There was much discussion and Henry C. Slaughter, of Tallmadge township, who is also a member of the good roads committee, stated he believed the $10,000 was enough. Peter Van Ark of Holland suggested that this amount be reduced to $5,000, and Charles Lowing of Georgetown thought the $20,000 was too low. By a vote of 11 to 15, the amount was set at $10,000.

Stegenga made another motion that the amount be changed to $20,000, which lost 7 to 20. All the Holland members, with the exception of Van Ark, voted in favor of the larger amount. Mayor Henry Geerlings stated that he felt the rural supervisors, in the interest of good roads, should be for the additional amount.

Several supervisors favored the lower sum on the second vote after Slaughter said he would favor the extra $10,000 in the spring if need for the amount were shown then.

Lokenberg and two 16-year-old youths were apprehended by police early Tuesday morning after they allegedly abandoned the car of Henry Kraker which, according to police record, they had stolen earlier Monday night.

Although several searches were carried on the past few days, the plumbing tools which the three youths allegedly threw out of the Kraker car in the Byron Center vicinity have not been located.

Rev. Beerthuis to Head Ministerial Association

The Rev. C. M. Beerthuis, pastor of the Immanuel church, was elected president of the Holland Ministerial association at its meeting in Third Reformed church Tuesday morning. The Rev. Charles Stoppels, retiring president, conducted a brief devotional service and presided at the meeting. Other officers chosen were the Rev. J. T. Hoogstra, D.D., vice-president and the Rev. W. J. Van Kersen, secretary-treasurer.

Rev. Stoppels introduced a suggestion, which had been made by Mayor Henry Geerlings, that Armistice day, Nov. 11, be observed by all the churches of the city as a day of prayer and humiliation. He also suggested that an evening union meeting be held in a large auditorium, preferably the Hope Memorial chapel. This proposition met with the approval of the association and was referred to the executive committee for further arrangements.

In view of the fact that there seem to be signs of an approaching termination of the war in Europe and that the end may come suddenly, the president suggested that arrangements be made for a religious observance of that greatly desired event. He mentioned the designation in advance of churches in which the people of Holland might "gather to pour out their hearts in thanksgiving to God." This idea was also commended and steps will be taken in that direction.

The matter of a religious canvass by the united effort of all the churches of Holland was also discussed. Its desirability was conceded. Further discussion was postponed until the next meeting.

Capt. Herbert Jensen of the local Salvation army was the speaker of the morning. His address was interesting and profitable and threw considerable light on the workings of the Salvation army and its relation to the church. He also referred to the moral condition in the city particularly the matter of delinquency among the youth.

Christian Reformed Pastors Support Milkmen, Fighting Sunday Deliveries

At a meeting of the Ministers' conference of the Christian Reformed church last week in the home of the Rev. P. Jonker, two ministers, the Rev. Jacob T. Hoogstra and the Rev. Lawrence Veltkamp were appointed to draw up suitable resolutions encouraging local milk dealers in their fight against Sunday deliveries every other week following an ODT regulation prohibiting milk deliveries any two days in succession.

At the conference, all ministers felt that the government "was traveling upon exceptionally slippery ground in what seems to be an evident intrusion upon the religious rights and convictions of a given community." The discussion also brought out the "dangerous consequences of forgetting about the sanctity of the Lord's day" pointing out it was "incompatible to ask the Lord to bless our nation at war and at the same time ignore the will of God regarding the Sunday."

The resolution also stated that "it is our deep conviction that Sunday delivery in this community is a flagrant sin against the requirements of the Lord's day. It painfully regrets to note that the evident teachings concerning the Lord's day have either been ignored or trampled upon."

The resolution also pointed out that it was "unfair to insist upon loss of sales resulting from religious scruples" and asked the cooperation of all members of the denomination and the Holland public to cooperate with the milkmen who "try to uphold the sanctity of the Lord's day, and the American principle of freedom of conscience, so that these milkmen will not experience any hardships or be victims of a loss of trade going to other milkmen."

Roll call response was made by naming an orchestra and its director. The program topic for the evening, "The Little Symphony," was in charge of Mrs. George Schutmaat, Mrs. Justine Sale and Mrs. Vernon Reidsma. Through the courtesy of a music house in Holland, several records, the sounds of the various instruments of the symphony orchestra, were heard in pleasing selections. Choral work under the direction of Mrs. Earle Tellman and Mrs. H. W. Tempas was another feature of the program. The club has 25 members and meets the third Monday evening of each month.

SAUERKRAUT: AN ELEGY

Pluck a spray of laurel and in-tune a mournful dirge over the mortal remains of the late lamented, but never to be forgotten, sauerkraut. For the luscious dish that blends so well with spareribs —at least in the Jiggs comics—is no more, for all practical purposes. Its funeral has been announced by the government, the last sad services have been held over it, and from now on all civilians addicted to this delightful habit-forming drug that once was cabbage will have to be content with the vegetable in the unfermented state.

For the government has "frozen" sauerkraut. That is, orders have been issued to all wholesale and retail dealers, and to all processing plants where the appropriate shot of fermentation is given to cabbage that turns it into sauerkraut, to withdraw this delectable article of food from the market "until military requirements have been met."

Uncle Sam's soldiers are at last going to get a break. They are to have a corner on sauerkraut, and we of the common herd of civilians will not so much as have a chance to wrap a single strand of it around our tonsils until the soldiers have had their fill to their stomachs' content. That is of course as it should be. Nothing is too good for the men who do the fighting for us—not even sauerkraut. We civilians all have to make sacrifices in this war—even to the extent of going without sauerkraut for the duration.

The world will not seem the same without sauerkraut, but war is war. For the true sauerkraut addict there are tough times ahead. When you see that wistful, far-away look in his eyes you will know that he is dreaming of the days when he could still have all the sauerkraut with his spare-ribs he wanted. Now he can't have it reasonably well reconciled; but to have to go without the sauerkraut also, that's something else again.
Sherman said a mouthful about war.

There is of course one faction in the population that knows not sauerkraut. Such people are so ignorant and so narrow-minded that they make fun of sauerkraut and even sneer at it. Simply because they don't know any better. They are laughing up their sleeves now, looking upon the government's "freezing" order as a huge joke.
But to all others the order is no laughing matter; life is just a little drabber since the news was flashed across the nation.

THE CHURCH INVITES YOU

A survey of church attendance as affected by war conditions made by the Rhode Island Ministers' Union showed that with the exception of a small percentage of neighborhood churches, attendance has fallen off sharply. Enlistment in the army and industrial work were the main causes.
In the Midwest, however, the Milwaukee Council of Churches found that church going was on the increase. They attribute this uprising to the fact that people are seeking solace in these days of stress and an anchor to cling to in times of uncertainty and change.
The church is the world stabilizer.
Why not accept the invitation and go to church next Sunday?

Honoring Our Parents—Exodus
20: 12, Luke 2:48-51; Mark 7:9-13; John 19:25-27

By Henry Geertlings
There are different ways of grouping the commandments. It is important to remember that the Bible does not number them.
The Lutherans and the Roman Catholics follow the method that was accepted by St. Augustine, who lived some fifteen hundred years ago.

There is another way of grouping, which divides our first one into two, making the first and the second, while it combines our ninth and tenth into one, making the tenth. This method is accepted by the Reformed and the Greek churches, and many of the later Jews.

But after all it makes very little difference for all these denominations accept all Ten Commandments, and it is only the numbering of them that differs.
The only regret is that there is often great confusion created by the two numberings when the different groups attempt to recite them together, just as there is in the Lord's Prayer with some using the words trespasses while others use the word debts. There is so little difference that there is no use quibbling over them.

Every student of the commandments considers the fourth one the most important of them all.
Next to our duties to God are our duties to parents, for to them we owe our very being. They have done more for us than we can ever repay. Luther tells us that they are the representatives of God to us. Honor here means more than obey, for a child may obey through fear of punishment, like a slave. His interpretation of the commandment tells us that the word means not only to honor, but also to serve, obey, love and esteem.

Negatively he says that we are not to despise our parents and superiors, nor provoke them to anger. The high place given this commandment among pagan moralists and pagan religions would go to show that it must occupy a most important place among the Jews and the Christians. It is the first of the commandments with a promise.

The aim of this lesson is to think of what our parents have done for us and to show gratitude and respect for them by doing what is right under all circumstances.

Respects for parents has always been considered a duty of the highest importance. Here it is placed before the command which forbids murder. The Romans used the same word dutifulness to the gods and dutifulness to parents. It is clear from this commandment, and from the promise that is attached to it, that we are guilty of something more than undutiful-ness to parents when we do not obey them. We are guilty of a sin against God. We are to obey our parents in the Lord, which means not only when their commands are in harmony with God's will, but also because such obedience is God's commandment. When there is mutual respect in the home that family has something that is not to be found anywhere under the sun.

Parents must be worthy of the honor which is here commanded of children. Let it be admitted from the very outset that it would be very difficult for children to respect and obey some parents. Let it be said further that if children are to obey their parents in the Lord, parents are to rule over their children in the Lord. The family is to be the social unit in which the will of the Lord is to be done by each individual.

Parents are not to take the place of the children and yield obedience, nor are children to take the place of their parents and assume authority. Parents are parents and children are children, and each is to observe the laws of love, consideration and respect. Children are to obey their parents in the Lord, and parents are to bring their children up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord. The whole atmosphere of the family is to be permeated with the spirit of the Lord.

We must learn the lesson and live the lesson. Every one of us must know that it is comparatively easy to learn what these commandments mean, but that it is awfully hard for us to put that meaning into practice. The selfishness that is in our hearts keeps us from observing them the way we should. All of us ought to be concerned about how much carryover there is of what we know into what we do.

Varied Program Is Given

met at the home of Miss Deleores Nieboer, route 2, Friday night.

inspirational message and led the prayer service. A short pro-

The attendance at the meeting solves the question as to whether fathers are as interested in the welfare of their children as are the mothers. Nearly 100 attended and over half the number were fathers.

Hunter Is Shot On Opening Day

G.H. Resident, 20, Is Fatally Injured While Hunting in Polkton

Grand Haven, Oct. 21 (Special) —Leonard C. Westra, 20, 532 Washington St., was accidentally killed at 7:30 a.m. Friday while hunting pheasants about a mile south of Coopersville in Polkton township. Westra, who was hunting with his father-in-law, brother-in-law and his brother, Daniel, was going after a wounded pheasant and his gun accidentally discharged, the bullet lodging in his stomach, when he tried to kill the bird with the butt of the gun. He lived for about five minutes but died before medical assistance could be summoned.

Westra was born in Grand Haven Sept. 27, 1923, and lived here all his life. He attended local schools and was a former member of the Michigan State troops. He was a member of First Reformed church of Coopersville. He was employed on the assembly line at Continental Motors in Muskegon.

Surviving are the widow, the former Jeanne Gunneman, and a son, Leon Charles, four months; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Westra; two sisters, Charlotte and Dorothy; and his brother, Daniel, all of Grand Haven.

There is a long distance between some people's tongue and their heart.

No one has a right to do as he pleases unless he pleases to do right.

Maybe time flies because there are so many persons trying to kill it.

Van Faasen Will Coach And Teach at Christian

Herman Van Faasen, Jr., of this city, has been named basketball coach and mathematics instructor at Holland Christian high school, according to announcement by Supt. Walter De Kock of the Christian school system. He will take over the work of former Coach John Tuls who resigned recently to accept a position with the A. S. T. P. at Hope college.

Van Faasen, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Van Faasen, 227 West 20th St., was graduated from Christian high where he participated in basketball for four years, and Calvin college, where he also was a star on Calvin's strong quintet. He recently received the degree of Master of Business Administration at the University of Michigan where he was a member of Phi Alpha Kappa fraternity.

It is not enough simply not to lie; one must be positively truthful.

Triumph Offers Quality Goods

The Triumph Bake Shop, 384 Central Ave., has been owned and operated since 1938 by William Du Mond. The building was gutted by fire several months ago, but was reopened June 26, at which time it was completely remodeled and new equipment installed.

The bakery specializes in the making of wedding cakes and other fine baked goods for all special occasions. They also carry a complete line of pastries, cookies, bread and rolls and picnic supplies.

Mr. Du Mond has been in the baking business for 15 years and has been in this location for the past five or six years.

Because of labor and material shortages the bakery will not be able to offer its customers as large a variety or as great a quantity of baked goods for the duration, Mr. Du Mond stated recently, but the usual high quality of the goods will be maintained. The firm will continue to live up to its motto, "You Specify, We Comply."

Commends Public For Cooperation

Mrs. George Pelgrim who was appointed by the local Red Cross chapter to direct arrangements for the blood plasma clinic which concluded a four-day series here Friday, today expressed her appreciation to the public for the excellent response shown in donating blood, to all the Red Cross workers who assisted with arrangements, and to The Sentinel for its cooperation in advertising the clinic.

The Red Cross office said that about 188 persons donated blood in the drive, which is considerably over the average of 40 per day expected. Many appointments were canceled because there were few rejections, although the rejections ran higher Friday than any other day.

Mrs. Pelgrim said the cooperation shown in this program is another indication of the efficiency of the Red Cross in cooperating with other agencies. She said another blood donor's clinic will be held again after the local supplies run low, possibly in six months. The greater percentage of the processed plasma is returned to hospitals in Holland and Zeeland.

Added Property At Park Airport Is Considered

Raymond Reports to Supervisors; New Fund Appropriated

Grand Haven, Oct. 21 (Special)—A sum of $300 was appropriated by the board of supervisors Monday for carrying on the program at the Park township airport, following a motion by Mayor Henry Geerlings of Holland.

Dr. Bruce Raymond of Hope college explained how the airport was used for the war training service as carried on by Hope college the past year and thanked the board for its cooperation. He said 98 boys, many of whom are now in active service in the air force, had been trained here.

He said Holland is considering the feasibility of getting additional property near the airport and suggested that the committee of the board work with the committee of Park township and possibly a committee of Holland "to make some kind of deal to terminate this maximum interest in the airport so that someone will come out of this with the whole airport as a going airport." He also urged continued support financially from the supervisors.

Last April the board entered into a contract with Park township whereby Ottawa county took over the airport for the duration with certain reservations. Raymond stated that in that agreement the county agreed to maintain the airport until such time as the contract was terminated by the county. Most of the board members feel that the program has not functioned in the manner it was supposed to and Raymond said his committee would render a financial report with recommendations at a later date.

The war training program closed last July when 250 summer schools were terminated. Raymond also appeared on behalf of the members of the civil air patrol. There are at present five planes at the airport and each is paying $10 a month rent. Two girls are completing pilot training and are just about ready for ferrying planes, he said.

Peter Van Ark, city assessor of Holland, moved that the board instruct the taxes and apportionment committee, of which he is chairman, to spread the county tax at four mills, which was fixed at the April session. The motion carried.

Mayor Nicholas Frankena of Zeeland, chairman of the social welfare committee, said the term of Gerrit Zaagman, one of the members of the welfare commission, will terminate this year. He requested the board to recommend to the state welfare board that Zaagman succeed himself. The motion carried.

Louis H. Osterhaus, chairman of the public health committee, reported that the three-year contract with the Muskegon sanitarium for the care of tubercular patients expired Aug. 31. The committee has agreed with the sanitarium upon a new one-year contract dated as of Sept. 1, 1943, which provides for hospitalizing a limit of 10 patients at a cost of $350 per day. The board approved the action.

Louis H. Osterhaus, who was recently appointed assistant prosecuting attorney by Howard W. Fant, who entered military service, stated he intended to resign as Grand Haven city attorney to avoid any conflict.

The good roads committee recommended rejection of the pension plan for county road commission employees. The report was adopted.

A communication from the Ottawa county defense council asked that a county coordinator be employed on a basis of four hours or more per day for a three-month period, with a maximum mileage cost of not over $3 per week, or a maximum of $60 the entire cost for the three months to be $360. The communication was filed.

This man was taught not to drink water

WATER... just plain drinking water... is a mighty scarce item to American soldiers now in the North African deserts. And what little water they can find, often isn't fit to drink.

So before our soldiers were landed in Africa, they were put through a stiff course of training to wean them away from drinking water! They were taught to dip water from streams in cups, and add a dash of iodine before drinking. This served the double purpose of disinfecting the water, and of making it taste pretty terrible.

Each time, a heavier dash of iodine was added (but never enough to be dangerous), until finally the soldiers lost all desire for drinking water except in prepared drinks.

An American soldier's favorite drink

The favorite prepared drink of the American soldier is good, old-fashioned lemonade! But how were our boys to carry lemonade around with them?

The Desert Warfare Board found the answer to that one... in what they call Field Ration K. This provides three meals for one man, each in a separate box, with a total weight of 33 ounces, and a total value of 3,700 calories.

Field Ration K provides meat three times a day... veal luncheon meat for breakfast, pork luncheon meat for dinner at noon, and cervelat sausage at supper time. It provides coffee for breakfast, bouillon for dinner, and a package of lemon juice powder to make lemonade for supper. Ration K also included malted milk tablets, biscuits, a bar of chocolate, and three sticks of chewing gum.

Sounds like "good eatin'" for those American boys in Africa, doesn't it? Makes you feel mighty good to know they're so well cared for! We'll all agree that the best of everything is none too good for our boys!

The things our fighting men need and deserve, cost money. They cost so much money that if we are to provide them, it will mean that each of us will have to invest at least 10 percent of his or her income in War Bonds and Stamps.

Perhaps you are already putting 10 percent of your pay in War Bonds every payday. But can't you boost that 10 percent... just a little? You can if you'll try... and you'll try all right, if you'll just stop and think how badly that money is needed!

Think, too, about what a swell investment War Bonds are. Safest investment in the world... and, for every $3 you invest in War Bonds today, you get back $4 ten years from now!
