Extensive Paving Program in 1948 Considered Here

Council Told New Oil Aggregate Economical And Satisfactory

Preliminary plans for an extensive paving plan in Holland in 1948 were explained briefly before Common Council at its regular meeting Wednesday night by Ald. L. C. Dalman, chairman of the Street committee and of the Civic Improvements committee.

Dalman said members of the Civic Improvements committee, Mayor Ben Steffens and City Engineer Jacob Zuidema had spent a profitable day visiting road construction projects and had agreed that a new type of oil aggregate paving would prove economical and satisfactory in Holland.

He pointed out that work could not be started this fall because of lateness of the season, shortage of cement and shortage of properly trained men. He said plans are in progress for proper preliminary work such as installation of storm sewers.

Dalman said the committee welcomes communications from residents giving reactions to the improvements in order that the committee may lay plans for a long-range program. All communications should be addressed to the city clerk.

In other business, Dalman begged for more time to replace the Tower clock. He said the Civic Improvements committee was working but it was difficult to obtain the bids.

Council approved a recommendation of the Public Lighting committee to appropriate $50 to install permanent sockets on the new boulevard light poles for use in Christmas decorations. Council will pay for installations on poles on River Ave. from 8th to 10th St. and on 8th St. from College to Columbia Aves. Merchants will pay for installations in the rest of the commercial section.

Ald. Fred Galien, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce contact committee, announced that John B. Dunton has transferred title to considerable acreage to the Chamber of Commerce for park purposes. The property is located in Holland township northeast of the Grand bridge.

Council referred to the Board of Public Works contact committee a recommendation from the board for a new rate for temporary electrical connections in new constructions. The new rate proposed a $10 fee plus $1 per month or fraction thereof. Ald. Raymond Holwerda argued that such a fee in the case of new homes would result in an extra cost to the home owner who already is burdened with high costs. The committee was instructed to report back to council.

The city is completing installation of a water main extension on Crescent Ave. in Montello park at a cost of $1,860 of which $1,225 will be paid by Holland township and 75 per cent of the remaining $635 will be assessed against the abutting property owners who live in Holland city.

Permission was granted to the DAV to sell forget-me-nots in Holland on the Saturday before Armistice day.

Council approved recommendation of the Public Buildings and Property committee to accept the bid of Glenn R. Gillespie of $21,600 for the Moes property at 220 East 12th St.

Council approved an application for a license by Thomas Kane, to operate a restaurant at 3 East Seventh St. at the bus depot, subject to approval by the health inspector. Approval also was given an application by Peter Kalkman, 341 West 19th St. for a license to construct and repair sidewalks.

An application by Gerrit and Martha Z. for permission to come under the Compulsory Sewer ordinance and have the premises at 268 Fairbanks Ave. connected with the sanitary sewer was referred to the Sewer committee.

Claims and accounts totaled $9,738.98. Other claims were hospital board, $12,510.40; library, $412.12; park and cemetery, $2,311.70; Board of Public Works payroll and claims, $16,085.64. The city treasurer reported BPW collections of $35,753.56, miscellaneous collections of $13,409.80, city tax collections of $386.65 and school tax collections of $443.96.

Old Poles Down

Board of Public Works employees today were taking the last of the old 12-foot boulevard light standards from the downtown section. The old ornamental system has been replaced by a new modern system with 26-foot poles and six-foot arms extending over the street. The new lights were put into operation with appropriate ceremonies Saturday night.

Supervisors Buy Camp for Ottawa Organizations

Grand Haven, Oct. 16 (Special)

—By a vote of 16 to 9, the Ottawa county Board of Supervisors voted Wednesday to purchase Camp Jac-O-Mega on Pottawatowic bayou at a cost of $12,000 as a camp to be used by such county groups as 4-H club, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and other organizations.

The camp will be under the supervision of Agricultural Agent L. R. Arnold and 4-H Director Harvey Elliott.

Dissenting votes were cast by Supervisors John Helder, Albert Stegenga, Henry De Ridder, Henry C. Slaughter, William Koop, John Galien, Simon De Boer, Nicholas Frankema and Nick Cook.

Buildings on the camp site include a ranch type lodge with dining room, kitchens and main lodge, sleeping barracks, and counselor's cabin. Other equipment includes 34 cots and mattresses, four canoes and a dock with diving board. There also is a suitable swimming beach. The property was owned by Clarence Jack of Glenn Elynn, III, who operated it as a boys' camp for about 12 years.

Elliott pointed out that upkeep would be paid out of fees charged the various organizations who use the camp.

In other business, the board granted permission to the Michigan Title Co. of Grand Rapids, operators of an abstract office in Grand Haven, to install a camera machine in the newly constructed vault in the Register of Deeds office. The request was made by Louis H. Osterhaus.

In the absence of Surveyor Carl T. Bowen, who is recovering from a serious illness, John H. Van Noord, chairman of the Road Commission, presented the proposed budget and program for 1948 calling for an outlay of $583,667.87.

Reports of County Agricultural Agent Arnold, Home Demonstration Agent Grace Vander Kolk and 4-H Agent Elliott also were received and placed on file. Arnold also gave an oral report.

World Traveler Speaks at Hope

Dr. Benjamin Masselink of Grand Rapids, world-wide traveler and commentator on foreign affairs, speaking on the United Nations, told Hope college students at an assembly this morning that the world has nothing to fear. "No war is coming," he said. "Russia wants peace, America wants peace, and the other nations don't count anymore."

Dr. Masselink, a dentist who attended the United Nations assembly as a delegate for one week, said there is great hope in the world for universal peace, although it will take many years. He showed how a world court is no new idea by tracing it to 1898 when President McKinley proposed an international court of justice. His plan failed, as did Teddy Roosevelt's and Wilson's, he said.

The following presidents favored a world court, too, Dr. Masselink averred, but not until Franklin Roosevelt's administration did Congress back it. That was in 1935, he said, and the plan was voted down a day after it was backed through fear of war, which came again and resulted in the present United Nations.

Today's Collegians More Mature Than Yesterday's Youth

Sons of Revolution Hear Former Teacher On Mentally Ailing

America is not going to the dogs—mentally at least, according to E. P. McLean, who delivered the major paper at the Holland chapter of the Sons of the Revolution Tuesday night in All Saints Episcopal parish hall in Saugatuck.

"American college students are more mature than their parents were at the same age. Modern youth is taking a realistic view of life. Today's young people are making their own decisions. They don't care what their parents think or what the college president thinks; they want to know whether their faith or their beliefs or their ideas have value. Because of this realistic attitude they are more mature," McLean, a former college teacher of psychology, said in the climax to his address.

McLean traced the development of studies of the abnormal mind from colonial times when those who exhibited abnormalities were burned because they were "instruments of the devil."

"It is my considered opinion that the burning of witches killed off some of the most potent leaders of the colonies, because the leaders of any generation will be found among the 'peculiar people,'" McLean said. "Insanity is really nothing to be ashamed of, because mental illness is no different from physical illness. Both respond to medical treatment."

McLean challenged the idea that mental illnesses are on the increase. More cases are being diagnosed correctly now, he explained. "There are more people now receiving mental treatment than there are people in our schools and colleges," he said.

"As for a determination of the difference between normal and abnormal behavior, we are no further along than we were in colonial times. Those who differ from accepted standards are regarded as abnormal. Who knows, maybe their behavior is more normal than that which is accepted?" he said.

Rex Chapman discussed the qualifications of presidential candidates in the next national election in a paper on "My Impressions."

Regent C. B. Hopkins presided. Secretary A. C. Van Raalte Gilmore reported on the essay contest conducted annually in Zeeland and Holland schools. Effort is being made to include the writings of Saugatuck pupils this year.

Dr. G. W. Van Vleet presented a resolution of memorial on the death of Patriot Charles McBride last July which he and the Rev. William C. Warner composed. It was unanimously adopted.

Hosts were Lee Leland and Harry Hutchins, both of Saugatuck. Leland reported on the proposed membership campaign. The chapter is anxious to enroll all men who are eligible. Membership in the organization is open to all men who are descended from men who are eligible. Member, the American revolution. The chapter meets monthly on the second Monday.

Purple Raspberry Bushes Yield Berries in Autumn

The latest phenomenon of an unusual season brought into the Sentinel office was a branch of a purple raspberry bush bearing many green and ripe berries.

Mrs. Albert Reinink, of 507 Lincoln Ave., who brought the berries said many of the bushes in her small garden are yielding fruit for a second time.

She said she had noticed a few berries in autumns of other years, but "nothing like this year."

Many of the bushes in the two small rows in the Reinink garden are yielding blossoms, green berries and ripe berries at the same time. Some of the berries have been touched by frost.

The bushes were in the garden when the Reininks moved there eight years ago. The berries ripen in July, but the crop was about two weeks late this summer.

Former Local Woman Dies at Rock Island

Mrs. Jennie Plummers Visscher, 65, who left Holland about 10 years ago for Rock Island, Ill., died at 7 a.m. today in a hospital in Rock Island following a major operation a week ago.

Surviving are the husband, Jake of Drenthe; three daughters, Mrs. Al Goulet and Mrs. Joe Streator of Rock Island, and Mrs. Mart Klompars of Holland; a son, Clarence Plummers of Holland, and many grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements had not been completed today. The body will be taken to Dykstra funeral chapel here. Burial will be in Overisel cemetery.

The Macatawa Association, during this fall season is busily improving the shore area in Macatawa Bay in an effort to keep the walk from washing away. A spokesman said that the concrete walk along the bay, which provides access to the Coast Guard station has been washed away for the last three years by winter storms. Workmen have driven piling into the water about 30 feet out, and are filling the enclosed area for reinforcement of the walk.

Street Markers Being Replaced In Many Places

More than 300 street markers have been changed in the last few weeks, according to Jacob Zuidema, city engineer. The signs were all part of a shipment in which the white lettering weathered badly. They were removed and returned to the factory for refinishing.

"We believe the signs were painted with a bad batch of paint, because this same manufacturer has supplied the country over and this is the only place where the paint weathered. But the firm is reputable and the signs were refinished at no expense to the city," Zuidema said.

In addition to the 300 plates already changed, Zuidema estimates that an additional 175 plates are needed to replace missing markers in the city. Shortage of two-inch pipe, used for poles, is delaying this operation. This same shortage is also delaying the marking of additional districts of town.

Four markers are required for each intersection, Zuidema said.

Meanwhile, the city police are continuing their program of changing stop signs on several Holland streets. As time and materials allow, the department is changing stop signs to conform to standards recommended by the Automobile Club of Michigan in its traffic survey. The present standard is for five-foot stop signs. The new standard places the target seven feet above ground. Since the U-shaped posts are 12 feet long, police are setting the post five feet in the ground, according to Chief Jacob Van Hoff. Each will be four feet from the crosswalk.

The state will replace signs on arterial highways, he said.

The replacement by the city is based on age of existing signs and condition. Van Raalte, where signs were placed most recently, will likely be the last street to be changed, Van Hoff said.

Dr. William Schrier, head of the speech department at Hope college will deliver an address on the subject "The Ideal Citizen" at the annual conference of the West Central district of the Michigan State Federation of Women's Clubs next Wednesday. Governor Accepts Bid to Hand Out Prizes in Farm-to-Prospers Contest

Gov. Sigler again will award the prizes at the West Michigan Farm-to-Prospers Round-Up.

In a telephone conversation with C. D. McNamee, of Muskegon, president of the contest association, the governor said without a moment's hesitation that he would attend. "My physician has cautioned me against speech-making," the governor said, "but, I'm going to disregard him for once, anyway, I shall be looking forward to this event."

Gov. Sigler was keenly interested in the contest as a means of promoting civic betterment through friendly rivalry among rural community organizations when he attended the Round-Up last winter.

Date for the Round-Up has been set for Dec. 30 at Central Campus auditorium, Muskegon.

Some 1,200 are expected to attend, due to the increased number of rural organizations participating this year in Muskegon, Zeeland, Oceana, Newaygo, and Mason counties. A total of 48 organizations are participating—14 each in Muskegon and Oceana counties, seven each in Ottawa and Newaygo, and six in Mason. Eight were enrolled in Newaygo, but two, the North Dayton and South Dayton Farm bureaus, since have merged. However, this leaves the same number of individuals.

A total of 33 participated in 1946. John A. Christolm, executive secretary of the contest association says he has found marked interest in all counties as he has visited them this fall, making tours of the competing organizations in company with the respective county agricultural agents.

Due to the larger number expected and the difficulty in getting caterers at current high prices of food, the committee on arrangements for the Round-Up felt forced to forego the noon dinner this year. However, refreshments will be served following the afternoon program. Dale F. Hansman, assistant secretary of the Greater Muskegon Chamber of Commerce, is working on an outstanding program of entertainment.

The afternoon will open with a half hour's concert by the massed bands of the Muskegon county 4-H clubs, starting at 1 p.m. The program proper will begin at 1:30, with refreshments at the close at 3:30.

Holland Factory Suspends Work; Blames Prices

A promising Holland industry is, apparently, a casualty of high prices.

International Minerals & Chemical corporation announced today that its Holland plant will remain inoperative until the termination of its lease at the end of the year, according to Louis Ware, president. James F. Walsh is local manager.

The Holland plant was leased originally to produce wheat gluten temporarily for International's amino products plant in Toledo, Ohio. The current high price for wheat has made it uneconomical to maintain production of wheat gluten for that purpose, Ware said.

At the same time, the corporation's new plant in San Jose, Calif., which has recently come into production, is able to manufacture the amino products from other sources of supply at much lower costs, making it unnecessary to depend upon wheat gluten for that purpose. Amino products are used in treating dietary deficiency diseases.

The company will maintain a small housekeeping force until it vacates the property.

The Doughnut Corporation of America held a lease on the property, but this was later assumed by International. What the future of the property will be is unknown, local company officials said. The property is owned by Lakeshore Sugar Co.

De Pree New Director Of Financial Society

Bernard De Pree, assistant secretary and treasurer of the Holland Color and Chemical Co., has been elected a director for a three-year term of the Ottawa County Building and Loan association. The vote was unanimous by the Board of Directors at the regular October meeting.

Proposed plans call for decorations on Eighth St. from Columbia to River Aves. and on River Ave. from Eighth to 10th Sts.

Earl Price, Tony Last and James Borr were appointed a committee to meet with the Public Safety commission to discuss use of parking meters and acquisition of municipal parking lots.

Mayor to Name Food Committee In Holland City

Request Comes From Charles Luckman, Head Of Citizens Group

Mayor Ben Steffens today had under consideration appointment of a local citizens food committee, following a request for such a committee in a telegram early today from Charles Luckman, chairman of the President's Citizens Food committee.

In the telegram, Luckman urged immediate appointment of a committee for the duration of the emergency including representatives from all organized groups in the community such as churches, Red Cross, schools, women's groups, labor, business, civic, veterans and fraternal organizations.

He said additional information would be received shortly to enable the new committee to "formulate an effective campaign patterned to your community."

Mayor Steffens expects to complete the appointments by Wednesday.

The telegram reads in part: "Of course, you fully realize the grave emergency confronting the hungry people of Europe and the responsibility this places on us as a free people. The deluge of inquiries we have already received from individuals and organizations offering every cooperation requires immediate establishment of a local citizens food committee in your community."

"The President and the Citizens Food committee request most earnestly, therefore, your full support in organizing your community. As a basic move in organizing your community, may we respectfully suggest that you issue a proclamation in support of the program with special emphasis on the four basic points, use no meat on Tuesday, use no poultry or eggs on Thursday, save a slice of bread every day, restaurants to serve bread and butter only on request."

Kromann Heads Food Committee

Peter Kromann has been appointed chairman of the local Citizens Food committee, Mayor Ben Steffens announced today.

Other members of the committee, according to Steffens, are C. E. Young, Paul Van Raalte, Rein Visscher, Mrs. Clyde Geerlings, Mrs. Ben Velman and Ald. Melvin Van Tatenhove.

The mayor pointed out that the appointments represent industry, a food company, restaurants, caterers, women's groups and Common Council.

The committee was named on request of Charles Luckman, chairman of the President's Citizens Food committee, who sent a telegram to the mayor Tuesday.

The federal program is based on four points, no meat on Tuesday, no poultry or eggs on Thursday, save a slice of bread every day, restaurants to serve bread and butter only on request.

Thousands See New Boulevard Lights Turned On

Music and Speeches Mark Ceremonies in Downtown Section

Holland's new 26-foot boulevard lights were put in operation at public ceremonies Saturday night in the presence of thousands of townsfolk and shoppers.

Traffic was diverted from Eighth St. between College and River Aves. while the crowds, estimated at 12,000 by BPW Chairman Joseph H. Geerds, converged in front of the Warm Friend Tavern.

The Tulip City Four, leading quartet of the Holland chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America, Inc., sang favorite selections including "Old MacDonald" ending with a new version, "Old MacDonald Came to Town and Saw the Lights." As the new lights were turned on, George F. Herr, president of the Holland chapter, accompanied by the quartet, sang "Shine On Me."

Ceremonies opened with the Holland high band under the direction of Everett Kisinger marching to the reviewing stand. At the Hurricane-Montague game following the ceremonies, the band formed two boulevard light poles and played "Our Town Will Shine Tonight."

Other music at the downtown ceremonies was provided by the Dutch street organ, a gift from the people of Amsterdam to Holland during Centennial year.

Willis A. Diekema served as master of ceremonies and Mayor Ben Steffens threw the switches turning off the old lights and turning on the new lights.

BPW Chairman Geerds, in a presentation speech, called attention to the services of the Board of Public Works and of its contributions to city life. He addressed his audience as "fellow stockholders" and said half of the annual net earnings is paid to the general fund of the city as an annual dividend. The other half is held in reserve for maintenance and expansion of "your property."

He said the board is planning further expansion in the water department and electric generating plants. He paid tribute to past workers on the board and to present members.

Dutch Influence Highlights Papers At Historical Meet

Ten Hoor, Lindeman Speak Objectively of Dutch Contributions

Michigan historians have received a challenge to properly evaluate the contribution of Calvinist Dutch to democracy.

This appeal for sound scholarship keyed the address of Dr. Marten ten Hoor of the University of Alabama before the annual dinner meeting of the Michigan Historical society Friday night in the parlors of Hope church.

Dr. ten Hoor drew analogies between the government of Dutch Calvinist churches and political democracy. The principles of church citizenship, equality of members, election of a representative consistory, organization of classis and synod were shown to parallel political democracy. Dutch colonists found this side of democracy suited to their development.

Then he drew some contrasts. While both sexes in Dutch Reformed bodies were required to make the same confession of faith and both sexes were required to take the same church training, it was a government of males. The consistory was not responsible to the membership, but to God. In these ways Dutch Calvinists did not reconcile their ideas to democracy.

The Calvinist church "Quickly developed a suspicion of professional politics as they saw it in action...in the late part of the nineteenth and early part of the twentieth centuries...Love of and devotion to amusement, absorption in business, lighthearted and sentimental attitude toward religion...caused a struggle, especially on the part of the older generation, against Americanization," Dr. ten Hoor said.

"The accurate interpretation and evaluation of early Dutch life and particularly of influence of the church and religious dogma is a difficult and involved task that will require co-operative effort of many scholars," he said.

"The Dutch are experts at polemics and documentary materials will need careful interpretation," he said.

Dr. ten Hoor was introduced by Dr. Willis Dunbar of Kalamazoo, retiring president of the state historical society.

Cornelius vander Meulen welcomed delegates to Holland on behalf of the Centennial commission.

Earlier sessions Friday brought thought-provoking papers of historical significance.

Of challenging interest to local persons was a paper read by Marvin C. Lindeman of Holland, president of the board of governors of the Netherlands museum.

Speaking on the subject, "A Non-Hollander Looks at Holland, Mich.," he gave a resume of the history of the city with emphasis on the type of pioneer who came here and the traits of character they brought with them. He said it was the Dutch who settled Holland but it has been the outsiders that provided the yeast that made the city a leavened entity.

"The Dutch had the industriousness, self reliance, thrift and dependability that are so highly regarded in an economic society, but they lacked the capital, commercial and professional resources which an industrious community must build upon," he said.

He said Holland is one of the best known cities of its size, but this fact is due to the vision and imagination of the non-Dutch. Using Tulip Time as an example, he pointed out that the people who gave the idea were not Dutch, but foreigners, all.

He said the city was one of tempered qualities because to the self-reliant, self-willed, self-composed Dutch has been added the expansive, imaginative, progressive impact of the outsider. Some of each of the two parts has been transferred into the other allowing neither of the two extremes to dominate. The fusion has been harmonious, with the synthesis showing a solidly nicely animated in the right proportion to provide congenial living without monotony.

He concluded his paper with "I can't think of anything better to ask of one's town, can you?" Prof. Otto Yntema of Western Michigan college, speaking on "Social Life of the Students of Hope College," pointed out that the social practices at Hope were closely allied with the religious character of the school and the background of the students, most of whom were Dutch coming from families of moderate means. Outstanding influences in the social life were YMCA, WYCA, and the various literary clubs that were organized. He pointed out that the social development closely approximates that of most other colleges of the same size.

Dr. William Schrier of Hope college, speaking on "Gerrit J. Diekema - Orator," outlined the career of the former U. S. Minister to the Netherlands, and brought out the influence of Holland on this character and his influence on the city. He said Diekema's Dutch ancestry and environment accounted in a large measure for his personal traits, his views on public questions, the theme on which he usually spoke, and his literary style. Politically, he was the community spokesman and contributed greatly toward the Americanization of this com-

Halloween Party Plans Progress

Plans are progressing for the annual Junior Chamber of Commerce Halloween party Oct. 31 at Riverview Park, according to the party chairman, Pete Welling. Something new in entertainment is being planned and a giant fireworks display will conclude the annual event. Candy will be distributed to all the children attending. The Holland Police department will again furnish and serve cider and doughnuts.

The poster contest, which began Oct. 1, will close Oct. 17 when judging by Mrs. Fred Bulford, Mrs. Lester De Ridder and Mrs. Howard Kooiker will be completed. Prize-winning posters will be displayed in the Chamber of Commerce window and those receiving honorable mention will be placed in other downtown windows.

The posters must be on stiff paper, 14 by 22 inches, and must deal with the Halloween theme with reference to "Jaycee" and "Party."

Highest point in Florida is only 274 feet above sea level.

Flight Training Issues Argued

W. B. Blain, owner of the Holland Air Service, is home after attending an important veterans flight training meeting in Washington. The Michigan American Legion's Aeronautics committee asked Gen. Omar Bradley to "clear up" the emergency created by a recent VA directive making it difficult for veteran college students to take flight training. Thomas G. Walsh of Grand Rapids is chairman of the committee. Blain served in an advisory capacity because he is a member of the Michigan Aeronautic Board of Control, appointed by Dr. Eugene Elliot, superintendent of public instruction.

Walsh told Gen. Bradley the new order was "a direct denial of the veterans' rights guaranteed by Congress." By law veterans were awarded education aid training "not to exceed $500 annually." Before the new VA directive was issued, veterans were permitted to use for flight training that portion of the $500 left over from academic costs. Now if they want such training in flying, they must take it exclusively or draw their next year's $500 allotment for education. Walsh explained.

The directive issued Sept. 10 did not arrive at Michigan colleges until Sept. 23, Walsh said. Inasmuch as many of the veteran had already enrolled, it created great confusion, Walsh reported to the VA.

Working closely with Walsh on the issue is Mario Fontana of the governor's commission on aviation.

Drunk Driving Count Heads Fines

James Timmer, 54, route 6, Holland, was assessed fine and costs of $108.90 Friday when he pleaded guilty before Municipal Judge Raymond L. Smith to a charge of drunk driving.

Timmer was arrested by Holland police following a three-car collision at 12:10 p.m. Friday at 17th St. and Van Raalte Ave. Other cars were driven by Ben H. Weller, of 254 Pine Ave., and George Vander Bie, of 334 West 16th St.

The accident occurred when Weller, traveling east on 17th, pulled to the middle of the road and slowed down for a left turn. The Weller car was hit in the rear by the Timmer car, sending it in turn into the Vander Bie car, traveling in the opposite direction.

Lloyd Essing, 23, route 2, Hudsonville, paid fine and costs of $28.90 on a reckless driving charge.

Forrest L. Roberts, 23, of 195 West 13th St., paid fine and costs of $10 on a charge of having no chauffeur's license.

Other fines were paid by Ernest Bridges, 28, Muskegon, assured clear distance ahead, $5; Gerrit F. Visser, Montello park, stop street, $5; Stanley Voss, of 84 East 21st St., double parking, $1; Mildred Roelofs, 21, of 655 Douglas Ave., stop street, $5; Harmon Jones, of 231 West Ninth St., parking, $1.

WINSTON CHURCHILL
LOOKS AHEAD

Winston Churchill is probably correct in his diagnosis of the political drift in Britain. He thinks, and has said so, that the Conservatives will come back to power within a matter of months,
forcing out the Labor Party.

At the moment that seems a big order. The Labor Party majority in the British parliament is so overwhelming that nothing short of what in American politics is called a "landslide" can force the party into retirement. On the face of things it is almost as unreasonable to expect a political turnover in England at the present time as it would have been to expect the American electorate to vote the New Deal government into retirement in 1936 or 1940. More unreasonable in fact. In America there seemed at that time to be at least a fighting chance. In England just now that chance is very small indeed.

But Winston Churchill is a shrewd politician. He understands that conservatism is in the very blood of the English people. They did not turn to state Socialism for the same reason that people in many other countries have turned to the political Left. They want Socialism because trouble and hunger and homelessness and near-despair had temporarily affected their minds to such an extent that they let themselves be led in Utopia.

At the psychological moment
the Labor Party came along and in a siren voice promised them something very near to a new heaven and a new earth. "Vote us into power," the Labor people urged,
"and we will see to it that you get plenty to eat, that you have a place to live, that you can live happily forever after." Of course they were not so crude as to say these things outright. There was a lot of talk about nationalization
of banks and railroads and coal mines. The mere fact that all those public services were taken from private owners and turned over to the people was supposed to solve all the problems of the people.

No doubt the Labor Party leaders themselves believed those things. Such people are sometimes very naïve; they have sold their very souls to theories, and on paper they can always seem to make them work.

Unfortunately for them, in actual practice they are less successful. At least in England the process of nationalization has not brought in the millennium. Quite the contrary, the result has been a kind of national purgatory.

It has taken some time for that fact to sink in. But the shrewd Winston Churchill knows that the innate British conservatism will presently open British eyes. He is probably not too far wrong in guessing that the Labor Party is on the brink of a decline.

Jaycees Seek Methods
Of Paying Plane Claim

Handed the task of raising funds to pay $1500 damages for an airplane wrecked in a Holland
Junior Chamber of Commerce
airshow a year ago, an Airplane Fund committee was pondering fund-raising projects today.

Willis Welling was named chairman of the committee at the last meeting of the board of directors.
Other members are Irv De Weerd,
Bert Selles, Homer Barber, Bob Gordon and Charles Cooper. The committee will have full power to act for the Jaycees.

"The fact that we must pay off
this debt will not halt any normal Jaycee activity. We expect to stage a bigger and better Halloween party for Holland youngsters Oct. 31. And no club funds will be used to pay off the airplane damage, unless they are raised specifically for that purpose," Welling said.

Pete Welling has been directing activities of the Halloween party.

The throwing of rice at weddings, an old custom, is symbolical of the wish that the union may be fruitful.

The Creative Power of Faith
Hebrews 11:1-8, 39, 40

By Henry Gerlings

The Christians of the apostolic age were inspired with the thought that they were fellow laborers with the great host of faith described in the Old Testament. The apostle Paul did not think of the church as a new organism cut off from the great stream of holy living that had developed since Abraham. Not only did the church have Christ as its corner stone, but it was built upon the foundation of the apostles and prophets. Similarly, it was said that the saints of old, though well attested by their faith, did not receive the promise but were allowed to wait until the great

Christian host should join them.

It was a part of the age-old warning against discarding the Old Testament as though God had made a great mistake under the old dispensation and was trying to correct it through the New Testament church. The writer of the epistle to the Hebrews, in summing up the main current of thought in the early church,

brought out the idea that Christianity is an outgrowth of Judaism and an integral part of it.

Christianity fulfills or completes Judaism. Jesus considered his ministry as a part of Jewish history and its ultimate conquest of the world through the church as the fulfillment of God's promise that Abraham's seed should be a blessing to all families of the earth.

Through faith we understand.

Every great adventure starts in faith. The scientist must have faith as a foundation for his experiments. He understands the great mysteries of science because he has faith in the integrity of nature's laws. Mathematics, the most exact of sciences, is based on faith in the uniformity of nature. The mathe-matician believes that two plus

two equals four, a million years ago and a million years ahead,

on this planet and in the farthest

star. This faith gives him a basis for his calculations. It is faith that makes us reasonable creatures, and not children of chance.

Faith in the spiritual realm asks no more than faith in other spheres. It is not a stultifying process but rather the only basis for a reasonable life. Christianity is the most reasonable religion in all the universe. The only sensible life is a life based upon faith in the God whom Jesus reveals.

Faith offers. It was not in the offering but in the heart that the virtue of Abel and the rejection of Cain lay. The same lesson is taught concerning the gift of Ananias and in the gift of the widow's mite. Faith makes the soul right with God, and such souls offer the right gifts. They may seem large or small—the life

on the mission field or in some place of humble service, the gift of a million dollars or of a nickel.

It is faith alone which offers the acceptable gift to God.

Faith translates. Enoch met

God and decided to walk with him and so he did not see death.

He walked right through it with

God. When a man walks with God

he is translated toward all of life,

THIS IS THE first time since the Ambusher started this weekly

roundup of the odds and ends of the news that writing it has been a chore. Usually there is an abundance of material in the folder to be processed, but this week there isn't a great deal of anything.

In fact, if it were not for Cub-

by Drew—who has had his name more in the paper this week

than Cubby—this column might not have been written. It is written faithfully each Friday, although it sometimes doesn't ap-

The Ambusher must wait until there is a little extra room. Of course, nearly everybody has to do that nowadays. It isn't very heartening to newsmen to know that newspaper seems scarce and more expensive all the time.

But to get back to Cubby Drew—

Hope Homecoming Plans Detailed By Committeemen

Two-Day Celebration Planned to Welcome Alumni and Friends

Hope college will celebrate its homecoming week-end without a campus queen, it was announced today by Marjorie Lucking of Kalamazoo, president of the Women's Activity league. This absence is due to the non-return of Betty Christie, North Bergen, N.J., who was elected this year's queen at the annual May Day celebration held last spring. The W.A.L. Board in conjunction with the Hope college administration committee decided that since last year was the first Homecoming over which a queen presided, the election of a student to take her place would be postponed to a later date. Hope college has had a queen for 10 years to rule over May Day festivities.

Homecoming this year will take place Oct. 24 and 25 with William Bennett, Weehawken, N.J., as General Chairman. Activities will begin at 4 p.m. on Friday, Oct. 24, with the historic tug-of-war between the Freshman and Sophomore classes. Plans are that this event, which dates back to 1898, will take place on the Boone and Vrieling farms on either side of Black river, just east of Holland. At 7:30 there will be a parade featuring floats entered by fraternities and sororities as well as other campus organizations.

At 8:30 a pep rally will take place on the athletic field. Saturday morning breakfasts will be served the fraternity and sorority alumni by the active Thesaurian, Emersonian, Knickerbocker, Sibley, Dorian and Delphi Societies. At 10 a.m. a tennis tournament will be held on the college courts. At noon will be the annual Sorosis luncheon. The featured event of homecoming will be the football game between Kalamazoo college and Hope college at River-view Park, which is called for 2 p.m. Special sections have been set apart for visiting alumni.

After the game the Cosmopolitan fraternity will hold a koffee kletz at the Warm Friend Tavern. At 6 p.m. an alumni buffet supper will be served in the Hope church parlors. The Saturday evening entertainment will consist of a recital in the Hope Memorial chapel, scheduled at 8 p.m. and an open house at all campus buildings at 9 p.m. The Fraters have scheduled a party at the Legion Memorial park at 9 p.m. for alumni and friends.

Other members of the general committee are Marion Hanna, Jersey City, N.J., and James Cook, Grand Rapids, co-chairmen in charge of house decorations; Iris Seamehorn, Taylorville, Ill., and Clayton Van Hall, Grand Haven, field decorations; Ruth DeGraaf, Holland, publicity chairman; Gordon Brewer, Plainwell, Mich.; Don Walchenbach, Hawthorne, N.J., parade; Irene Heemstra, Fenton, Mich. pep rally; tennis tournament, Prof. Harold Haverkamp.

Members of a committee representing campus organizations participating in homecoming are Alice Van Kampen, Selkirk, N.Y., Thesaurian; Casey Oegema, Grand Rapids, Emersonian; Ruth Bartholomew, Chicago, Sibley; Betty Brinkman, Holland, Dorian; Arkie Wieten, Holland, Delphi; Gwen Lemmen, Holland, Sorosis; Allison Van Zyl, Cosmopolitan; Robert Koop, Holland, Fraternal; Alma Vander Hill, Holland, is in charge of the chapel recital.

Mooi Roofing Co. Well-Known Firm

Known throughout the state is the Mooi Roofing Co., 29 East Sixth St., which stands as a leader in the roofing industry today. Although its beginning was small many years ago, a large spacious warehouse and office building now covers more than 15,000 square feet of floor space.

Men with long experience in roofing craft head this company. The experience they have enables them to satisfy the needs of every customer.

All necessary and desirable materials have not been available for some time but it is hoped that these materials will soon be back for customers' consumption.

Titeon shingles, manufactured by the Rubberoid Co., is one of the most popular types of storm-proof shingles on the market. These are particularly designed for easy application over other roofing materials.

The Mooi Roofing Co. has in stock aluminum .027 gauge 1 1/4 inch corrugated sheets for immediate delivery. This item makes an excellent roofing and siding for farm buildings and commercial uses.

N.J. parade; Irene Heemstra, Fenton, Mich. pep rally; tennis tournament, Prof. Harold Haverkamp.

Members of a committee representing campus organizations participating in homecoming are Alice Van Kampen, Selkirk, N.Y., Thesaurian; Casey Oegema, Grand Rapids, Emersonian; Ruth Bartholomew, Chicago, Sibley; Betty Brinkman, Holland, Dorian; Arkie Wieten, Holland, Delphi; Gwen Lemmen, Holland, Sorosis; Allison Van Zyl, Cosmopolitan; Robert Koop, Holland, Fraternal; Alma Vander Hill, Holland, is in charge of the chapel recital.

Holland Loses Third Straight To Hilltoppers

Grand Rapids Central Wins in Second Half; Locals Fail in Clutch

A rejuvenated Grand Rapids Central eleven came back strong in the second half Friday night to whip the Dutchmen from Holland High 14-0 at Riverview Park. The Hilltoppers from the Furniture City pushed across a six pointer in each of the last two quarters to break a first half scoreless deadlock. It was Central's fourth straight win of the year while it was Holland's third defeat in four starts.

The Hollanders played the Central on even terms throughout the first half, with neither team offering any serious scoring threat. An intercepted Holland pass did, however, give the visitors the ball on the Dutch 20-yard line in the waning moments of the first half. The first quarter was a listless affair with frequent off-side and man in motion penalties marring play. Both teams played cautious football, punting out of danger several times throughout the period. Holland was on their own 46-yard line when the first period ended.

Second quarter play was nearly a repetition of the first with long gains scarce. Shortly after the second period opened, a pass from Dave Kemper to Don Van Hecken carried the ball to the Central 24-yard marker. The locals muffed the scoring opportunity, however, as Kemper stumbled on fourth down. A short time later, another pass, this time by Central, carried the ball to the Holland 20. Tom Steele, on this occasion threw a 3-yard pass to teammate Gallow. He raced 20 more yards before he was stopped. Central also failed when Van Hecken intercepted another Steele pass on the eight just before the half ended.

Working exclusively from the T-formation in the second half, Coach Chuck Irwin's fighting Hilltoppers put on a 66-yard scoring drive after receiving the kickoff. Steele and Quarterback Van Dam combined on long gains moving the ball to the Holland 25-yard line. Steele then broke into the clear off tackle and streaked to the six-yard stripe before he was downed. Van Dam went through center for three yards before Halfback Holden scored standing up. Tom Verhake came in and converted making the score 7-0.

Holland started a scoring march of their own after receiving the Central kickoff on their own 37-yard line. Kemper, Van Hecken and Malchow displayed Holland's best running attack of the evening when they garnered three successive first downs, moving the ball to the Central 17. Three plays failed to gain before Kemper passed to Van Hecken on the Central three. The locals failed to crack the sturdy Grand Rapids forward wall on four plays, finally relinquishing the ball on the 12-yard stripe, with a net loss of nine yards.

Holland recovered a Central fumble on the Grand Rapids 32 on the third play of the final period. But again, they failed to capitalize on a scoring chance when Central Van Loo intercepted a local pass on his own 30 and raced 33 yards to the Holland 37. On the next play Steele streaked to the Holland six. He was slightly injured on a play. Three plays failed to gain the end zone before Van Dam sneaked over from the one foot line. Verhake again converted making the score 14-0.

Holland's all-around play was a far cry from their superb performance against Muskegon Heights last week. Although Central's attack was stalled in the first half, they did show a smooth clicking offense throughout the second half. Speedy Tom Steele proved to be an excellent runner, several times breaking into the Holland secondary. Also not to be forgotten was the work of Quarterback Van Dam, who gained a great deal of yardage through the center of the Holland line. Holland's aerial attack functioned well on occasions, the locals completing eight passes to a pair for Central. In the first down department Holland also led with eight, with Central getting six.

Holland meets Muskegon here in a Southwest Conference tilt next Friday.

Holland's reserves bowed in their third straight defeat of the season Friday afternoon, 7-6, to the Grand Rapids Central seconds. Coach Carroll Norlin's crew was seriously handicapped by injuries for the tilt, and might have been able to stage a better fight had the injured been able to play, he said.

Neither team could score in a dull first period, but Central opened strong in the second quarter. A Central pass from the Holland 42 to the 25 set up the scoring play. Then after moving the ball to the Holland five, Ralph went over for the score. Fred Thompson's all-important conversion was good making the score 7-0.

The local's only score came in the final quarter when the Hollanders blocked a Central punt and recovered on the Grand Rapids 10-yard stripe. Roy Morris then passed to Jim Slagh for the score. Dale Van Dorpe's kick from placement was not good leaving the final score 7-6.

Pheasants Raised By Ottawa Club

The propagation committee of the North Ottawa Rod and Gun club reports that 140 pheasants were raised this season and will be released this year. Eight hundred eggs were received by the club, 400 of which were secured by the 4-H office to be hatched for 4-H club members in the Grand Haven area. There were 325 birds hatched from the 800 eggs with only 168 surviving the brooding stage.

The committee announces the results of the 4-H pheasant raising contest as follows: Eight 4-H club members received 15 birds each to pen raise. Feed and cash awards of $10 were provided by the Rod and Gun club. The contest was judged on the interest and attitude of the club members, the rearing practices followed and the number of birds raised for release.

Don Van Doorn and Barbara Ruiter of Ferrysburg tied for first place and received $4 each. Sharon Young, route 1, Grand Haven, received third place of $2. The other 4-Hers who participated were Donald and Marlene Khodl of route 1, Grand Haven; Charles Ruiter, Robert Deiter and Dick Groenevelt of Ferrysburg; George Van Doorn of Ferrysburg was the 4-H club leader. He said the eight members raised 92 of the 120 birds.

T. Nyhof Poel, chairman of the committee, said this was the poorest hatch ever secured by the local club. This was due to poor fertility of the eggs secured in the late laying season. Other members of the propagation committee besides Van Doorn and Poel are Harvey Elliott, Clifford Norcross, Bob Sonrel, Frank Sanders and William Kraijl.

Hope Trounces Albion in First MIAA Victory

Locals Score Early On Emery's Long Run; Dutch Defense Good

An inspired Hope college football eleven climbed back into the MIAA football race Saturday afternoon when they handed the Albion Britons a 20-0 lashing under a burning sun at Alumni field in Albion. The local collegians now have a record of a win and one loss in MIAA play. The season's second against all opponents is two won and two lost.

It didn't take long for Coach Al Vanderbush's crew to ring up their first touchdown when Bob Emery, full-back, twisted his way through tackle and sprinted 66 yards for a touchdown on the seventh play of the game. Hope received the kickoff but lost the ball when Hornbrook of Albion intercepted a Dutch pass on his own 40-yard marker. But Yonker came back to intercept a Briton pass on the next play on his own 34-yard line. On the next play Emery took the ball and with beautiful blocking jogged the distance to the Briton end zone. Higgs attempted the point-after-touchdown but booted the pignisk wide.

The Britons didn't get into Hope territory once in the first quarter. Emery booted a quick kick after Albion tried several unsuccessful tries at the line. Jim Pfingstel of Hope then snatched a Briton pass on his opponents 28-yard line. Hope took a 15-yard penalty for illegal use of the hands but on the next play Pfingstel faded back a long pass to Nick Yonker, who scored. Higgs' conversion was good making the count 13-0.

On the sixth play of the third period, Jim Pfingstel plowed over from the seven-yard line to make the count 19-0. Hope took possession of the ball after kicking to Albion and an alert Don Lagewig fell on a fumble on the Briton 20-yard line. Emery went 13 yards on two plays and Pfingstel covered the remaining seven yards on a quick-opening play. Higgs converted to give the locals a 20-0 lead.

At the end of the third quarter and the beginning of the fourth, Albion made their only serious drive for Dutch pay dirt. They took over on their own 32 and on three first downs got down to the local six-yard line where they were finally stopped, they lost the ball on downs. It was the first time in the ball game that Albion had set foot in Hope territory.

Every Hope player who made the trip got into Saturday's ball game. Russ Norden, Hope tackle, received a shoulder injury and was treated when he arrived in Holland.

Credit for the victory must go to the strong driving legs of Bob Emery and the strong defensive line of the Dutchmen. Jim Pfingstel and Bill Hinga both turned in commendable performances in the backfield.

Hope made 10 first downs with Albion getting five.

Body of Navy Man Is Returned From Grave in Hawaii

The casketed remains of Photographers Mate 2/C Howard C. Ringold, the first World War II deceased member of the Navy from Spring Lake to be returned from overseas for final burial, will arrive in Spring Lake in the next few weeks, accompanied by a uniformed Navy escort from the Chicago distribution center of the American Graves Registration division.

The body of Photographers Mate Ringold was interred in the Oahu Schofield Barracks, Mausoleum No. 2, temporary military cemetery in Hawaii, but has been returned to this country for final interment at the request of his next of kin, Gerald A. Ringold, 116 W. Savigde Ave., Spring Lake, Mich.

A nation-wide poll of a representative group of the 300,000 Gold Star families, who lost members overseas during World War II indicated that 70 per cent desired to have their deceased warriors brought back to their homeland for final interment. Thus, over 11,000 of Michigan fallen dead will be returned through the Chicago Distribution Center the next two years from their temporary resting places now scattered throughout the world.

Lt. Col. Carroll J. Grinnell, chief of the Chicago center, said that our honored dead will be returned to the United States in a progressive, planned operation depending on climatic conditions, shipping facilities and other factors. Four to six months before actual evacuation of each of our 128 overseas temporary cemeteries automatically all qualified next of kin of those interred will be asked by the War department to make their decision as to final interment. Their wishes will be complied with and no priority of return will be granted because of rank, race, creed or color.

Col. Grinnell pointed out that although the Government provides the casket, transportation from overseas, a commemorative flag, a headstone, reimbursement of up to $75 towards burial expenses, and a military escort, that the decisions as to the nature and extent of funeral services rest solely with the next of kin. Many veterans groups are voluntarily offering their services for military burial ceremonies.

History of DAR Chapter Reviewed by Mrs. Cross

A review of the history of Elizabeth Schuyler Hamilton chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, was presented by Mrs. O. S. Cross at the chapter meeting Thursday in Hospitality House, Fennville. The local chapter was entertained by Mrs. L. H. Bourne who lives in Fennville.

The chapter, nearly 40 years of age, was organized here in 1907, following a meeting at the home of the late Mrs. C. M. McLean. Granting of the title took place in the spring of 1908. There were 18 charter members, Mrs. Cross explained. The name Elizabeth Schuyler Hamilton who was the wife of Alexander Hamilton, was chosen by the chapter because of the Dutch name of Schuyler, she said.

Listed as projects of the local DAR through the years were contributions to Ellis Island work, contributions and support to the City Mission, the first lighting of a Christmas tree and carol singing in Centennial park. Red Cross knitting during both world wars, supplying magazines to the USO and Youth Center, opening of the library on Sunday afternoons, genealogical research and copying of Ottawa county cemetery records, contributions to Constitution hall in Washington, D.C., and the carillon at Gettysburg, gifts to DAR approved schools and sponsoring of the Good Citizenship program in local schools. It has been a working organization rather than a social society, Mrs. Cross explained.

Mrs. John Rozeboom, regent, presided at the meeting and conducted the usual patriotic ceremony. Mrs. Martha Robbins was at the piano. Mrs. M. L. Hinga conducted devotions. The regent commented that the recent district meeting held in Holland was a success. Mrs. John Kramer asked for contributions for the Tamassie school to be brought to her home or to the next meeting.
