City's Young Fry Healthy Except For Tooth Decay

Physical Exams for Second, Fifth Graders
Yield Good Results

Holland's children are in better condition physically than ever before, but examinations of 325 second and fifth graders in local schools this month revealed that many children are in need of dental care.

Why Holland, Mich., should have a higher incidence of tooth decay than elsewhere in the country has not been definitely determined. To carry on the fight to save children's teeth, schools are about to launch a new program in which fluoride treatment will be given second and fifth graders for a nominal consideration.

Of the 554 pupils in public and Christian schools, only 28 did not take advantage of the examinations, sponsored by the school health committee of which Bernice Bishop is chairman. Some children were examined by their own family physicians. Others were not examined because of illness or religious beliefs and three because of a misunderstanding.

Launched in 1947, the health program establishes a complete health record for each child in school. The program has been beneficial in many ways. Parents are becoming more alert to their children's health. Infected tonsils are being removed, more checkups are conducted and considerable attention is given to the proper diet. The school examinations generally are not so thorough as private examinations, but the program is a big step in curbing certain ills which heretofore have been going unnoticed. The examinations have revealed heart conditions, infected tonsils, hernia, anemia, malnutrition, slight deafness because of impaction of wax in ears, foot troubles and other defects.

Mothers have been prompt in arriving on schedule to be with their children at the examinations. In case the mothers could not be present, the teacher performs this duty.

At clinics Oct. 4 and 11 in the schools, Dr. W. C. Kools and Dr. Carl Cook were at Washington; Dr. H. Hamelink, Froebel; Dr. H. Harms and Dr. R. Schaefenaar, Lincoln; Dr. John and Dr. William Winter, Longfellow; Dr. Nelson Clark and Dr. Henry Tempas, Van Raalte; Dr. O. van der Velde and Dr. E. Vanderberg, Central Ave. Christian; Dr. Chester Van Apple-dorn and Dr. Joseph B. Kearney, South Side Christian.

The health program is sponsored by the Board of Education in the public schools and the PTA in the Christian schools. With Miss Bishop on the central committee are teachers representing all schools. Dr. Ralph Ten Have of the health department, Dr. van der Velde representing physicians, Mrs. M. H. Hamelink representing the parents and Mrs. William Eby representing public health nurses.

Each school has its own chairman, often a registered nurse, who lines up mothers to assist in the clinics. Chairmen are Mrs. Andries Steketee, Washington; Mrs. Wilma Reed, Froebel; Mrs. Marinus Meurer, Lincoln; Mrs. Robert Wilson, Longfellow; Mrs. Hamelink, Van Raalte; Mrs. George Schroyer and Mrs. Nathaniel Brower, Central Ave. Christian, and Mrs. Martin Mellema, South Side Christian.

Public health nurses assisting in the clinics were Nell Westervelt, Katherine Groeneveld, Mildred Stark and Jane Huiner.

Ottawa County Budget $60,000 Over Last Year

Grand Haven, Oct. 20 (Special)—A 1950 budget of $423,639.17 was adopted by the Ottawa county Board of Supervisors Tuesday. This represents an increase of $60,180.83 over last year's budget of $363,458.34.

With two dissenting votes, the board voted to spread 4½ mills which would give the county a surplus of $17,163 over the budget which normally would call for a 4.1-mill spread.

Henry Slaughter, chairman of the Ways and Means committee, pointed out the county has in its general fund at present $19,000, plus $107,000 in bonds, dog fund and building fund amounting to $16,000, plus $25,000 received so far this year in fees.

Dick Smalligan of Jamestown protested taxing the people to build up a surplus and felt the county was not justified in spreading beyond the required 4.1 mills. Prosecutor Wendell Miles ruled the board has a right to spread up to 4.50 mills.

Slaughter said the general fund has been depleted by $80,000 the last two years. Smalligan said a budget should cut down its surplus or leaders are tempted to be too liberal. Smalligan and Orien S. Cross of Holland voted against the 4.1 mill spread.

Supervisors approved salaries for $99,250. The county officers' committee recommended a $2,000 appropriation for patrolling highways. The budget also includes an $18,700 appropriation for the county Board of Education.

The agricultural committee recommended that Leo R. Arnold, county agent; Dean Troop, 4-H club agent, and Mrs. Grace Vander Kolk, home demonstration agent, be retained for 1950.

A communication from the Farmers' Educational and Co-operative Union of America, protesting erection of road signs for $25,000 when such funds could be spent for keeping roads passable at certain seasons of the year, was filed. The resolution also protested the board allocation for celebrations in connection with dedicating the new bridge over Petty's bayou.

The board adjourned until Friday.

Ten Industries Listed in Single Solicitation Plan

More 100 percenters were added today in the newly organized Single Solicitation Plan for Holland industries, designed to cover all charitable drives among employees in industrial plants.

Three new joiners, all of them 100 per cent participation, are the Wire Products Co., Scott-Lugers Lumber Co. and City Sign Co. Wire Products has 144 per cent of the assigned quota, Scott-Lugers has 166 per cent and City Sign Co. 143 per cent.

Spring-Air Co. has reported pledges amounting to 106 per cent of the assigned quota, although not 100 per cent participation. With the quota reached, it also joins the 100 per cent group.

This brings to 10 the number of local industries in the Single Solicitation plan, which authorizes payroll deduction for charities in the individual firm. The total is matched by management and distributed among Community Chest, United Health and Welfare, Red Cross and Polio and such other agencies which may be admitted only upon action by the joint committee representing benefitting agencies.

Red Cross and Polio are involved in the current drive only to the extent of the payroll deduction plan in local industries. Their campaigns will be held as usual next January and March, but there will be no industrial solicitation.

Local industries in the 100 per cent division in the SSP follow: Edwin Raphael Co., Inc. De Pree Co. George Mool Roofing Co. Charles R. Sligh Co. Essenburg Building and Lumber Co.

Duffy Manufacturing Co. Spring-Air Co. Wire Products Co. Scott-Lugers Lumber Co. City Sign Co.

Bench Quarterbacking Okayed for Van Voorst

No more football this season.

That was a physician's recommendation Tuesday for Bruce Van Voorst, quarterback on the Holland high football team, who received a concussion during the Ottawa Hills game Sept. 23.

Van Voorst was taken out of the Muskegon game last Friday night after only a few plays. A recurrence of the concussion was believed responsible.

For the remainder of the season, Van Voorst will occupy a spot on the bench and do a bit of quarterback coaching. He hopes to be allowed to participate in a few plays during the Grand Haven game.

Council Appoints Group to Decide Pine Court Fate

Only Few Apartments
Still in Use; Parking
Lot for City Suggested

What's to be done with Pine court after Public Housing administration relinquished all rights to the city of Holland will be determined by a joint committee, it was decided by Common Council Wednesday night.

Named to the committee were members of the building committee, the chairman of the ways and means committee, the city attorney, city engineer and the health inspector who has been serving as custodian of the temporary housing area.

It was pointed out that fewer than half of the 26 apartments are occupied at the present time. The public safety commission suggested removal of the units as soon as possible since the area would make a good city parking lot.

Some 30 persons attended council meeting. Most of them were from the 20th St. and Van Raalte Ave. to protest construction of an addition to a garage house owned by James Albert at 276 West 20th St. None, however, took part in any discussion since council ruled early in the meeting to refer the issue back to the Civic Improvements committee for further study and report back.

The three-man committee will be assisted by the two aldermen of the fourth ward, the city attorney and city engineer.

The group had submitted a petition signed by 18 neighbors protesting the construction. The petition was accompanied by a long letter setting forth grievances.

At the close of the meeting, council approved Ald. Anthony Peerbolt's motion to have Clerk Clarence Greengrove instruct all contractors and builders that they cannot start any construction until the permit is in their possession. Ald. John H. Van Dyke pointed out that there is such a provision in the ordinance, but council decided further emphasis was in order. Violations are punishable, it was pointed out.

A request presented previously to close an alley between 21st and 22nd Sts. running from Cleveland to Ottawa was denied after the streets and crosswalks committee reported the area is zoned for industries and Fire Chief Andrew Klomprens discourages closing alleys in industrial territory.

The clerk presented a letter from the Michigan State Highway department enclosing a quit claim deed for two small pieces of land adjacent to River Ave. from First St. to the bridge. This part of the sidewalk already has been laid, and the street department has been requested to complete the walk north of the bridge for the township.

The public safety commission reported having investigated possibilities of installing a flasher at the railroad crossing at 15th St. and because of the study involved suggested the issue be referred back for further study.

Council, on recommendation of the safety commission, granted authority to advertise for bids for a small truck for the police department. It was expected a truck would cost about $1,000.

The license commission reported it had issued a license to George Bruschart to collect junk.

Council approved installation of combination storm windows and screens on the north side and part of the west side of the city hall and awarded the contract to B. J. Bazulin for $1,728.31.

The safety commission reported firemen had spent considerable time in improving and redecorating both engine houses. Councilmen are invited to Engine house No. 1 after next council meeting for coffee.

A request for paving 22nd St. between Washington and Van Raalte has been referred to the street committee for consideration in the next paving program.

Council granted authority to the Board of Public Works to order manhole covers, pipe and other equipment to cover sewer projects on West 25th and East 31st Sts.

Charter Group Sets Further BPS Talks

Further work on the new Board of Public Service under the proposed charter is on the agenda for tonight's weekly charter revision commission meeting.

Harris Glen Hoekje, 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. James Hoekje of Fillmore, died at 4 a.m. today at Holland hospital. He had been an invalid all his life.

Surviving besides the parents are a brother, Allen Jay, and the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit Boeve of East Holland.

The body is at the Langeland funeral chapel and will be taken to the residence Friday noon. Friends may call at the home Friday afternoon and evening.

Holland Furnace To Sift Carefully Detroit Complaints

The Holland Furnace Co., has won indefinite postponement of a hearing before the state corporation and securities commission on charges of improper business practices. The postponement was granted in Lansing.

The firm was faced with 25 complaints from Detroit area customers alleging unfair business tactics and failure to execute contracts as agreed.

Paul E. Cholleffe, Grand Rapids attorney for the company, filed a stipulation with the commission in which officers of the parent firm denied knowledge of any improper actions but agreed to discharge any agents or district representatives responsible.

Philip A. Hart, commission director, said that in view of the signed stipulation, the hearing would be postponed. Hart said several of the 25 complaints resulted from Detroit better business bureau investigations.

P. T. Cheff, company president, told The Sentinel today that his company takes a serious view of the charges, but that the branch office in Detroit has handled between 25,000 and 30,000 furnace jobs during which time the complaints were received.

An experienced engineer is being sent to Detroit to check each complaint.

"Should his investigation show any violation of company policies, you may be sure appropriate action will be taken," Cheff said. Cheff explained that under Holland Furnace operations all complaints against branches are filed in the parent company's name. In most other furnace companies such complaints would be brought against dealers under their own names.

In view of the volume of business handled in Detroit, Cheff indicated he felt the number of complaints was relatively slight, but he insisted each complaint would receive thorough consideration.

Ottawa Red Cross Approves Payroll Deduction Method

Chapter Nominates
Eight New Members;
New Budget Adopted

Nomination of eight board members, adoption of a budget and approval of a resolution permitting a payroll deduction method for raising funds formed the calendar of business at a regular quarterly meeting of the board of directors of the Ottawa county chapter of the American Red Cross Monday night in Grand Haven.

The new board nominees will be voted upon at the annual meeting of the county chapter Nov. 21 in the Woman's Literary club in Holland. All members of the Red Cross, which includes those who have made contributions of $1 or more during the past year, may attend.

Nominations include George Copeland, Henry S. Maentz and Mrs. Reemer Boersma of Holland; Mrs. Valentine Schaefer of Chester township; Miller Sherwood, Mrs. Glenn Olsen and Mrs. Fred Sherk of Grand Haven; Henry De Ridder of Fort Sheldon and Mrs. Martin Geerlings of Zeeland township.

The resolution on payroll deduction, which passed 16 to 1, reads as follows: "Resolved, that the board of directors of the Ottawa county chapter of the American Red Cross permit participation in any plan for raising charitable funds through payroll deduction method, providing said plan falls within the policy established by the board of governors of the American Red Cross."

In the lengthy discussion, it was pointed out that a few technicalities might have to be ironed out in the Industrial Employees' Single Solicitation plan for the Holland area in order to conform with the resolution.

The national policy provides that any payroll deduction must be made during the month of March, with additional deductions during February or April to the extent required. Red Cross contributions do not constitute memberships unless they are $1 or more.

The resolution and an explanation of the new policy were prepared by Robert Notley of Holland, vice chairman of the chapter. Additional explanation was given by W. A. Butler of Holland, vice chairman of the industrial solicitation plan in Holland and former campaign director for the Ottawa Red Cross chapter. Mrs. Ben Lowell presided.

The new budget calls for a total expenditure of $21,355 which does not include the share for National Red Cross. The budget is broken down as follows: Home service, $8,810; disaster, $100; home nursing, $150; water safety, $1,500; Junior Red Cross, $400; blood bank, $1,000; gray ladies, $200; production, $150; camp and hospital, $1,000; community service, $750; fund campaign, $200; public information, $100; administration and salaries, $4,020; rent and office expense, $1,800; meeting expense, $200; auto account, $350; mileage, $125; audit and insurance, $300.

County budget last year was $22,450.

Reports on the National convention in Atlantic City, N.J., were given by two Juniors, Susan Lowell and Richard Larsen of Grand Haven, and by the Junior Red Cross leader, Stephanie Yurick.

Admiralty Case In Appellate Court

Fred T. Miles, former circuit judge, is in Cincinnati, Ohio, where he is appearing before the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals on behalf of defendants in an admiralty case.

The case was brought by three young Chicago women who were injured in an explosion on the speed boat "Pearl Jack" July 30, 1945, at Saugatuck. Claiming the boat was operated negligently, they brought suit in U. S. district court in Grand Rapids for $75,000. Defendants are John Baron, Sr., president of the West Michigan Oil Co., of Fennville; his son John Baron, Jr.; and Frank Dennison of St. Joseph.

The case was tried before Judge Raymond Starr, federal district judge, over a period of 11 days in 1947 and 1948. Judge Starr discharged Baron, Sr., from liability, but held Baron, Jr., and Dennison were liable as partners, and awarded verdicts of approximately $12,000 to plaintiffs.

Plaintiffs are appealing to federal circuit court on the ground that verdicts should have been greater and that Baron, Sr., should have been held liable as partner.

Grand Haven, Oct. 20 (Special)—A car driven by Leo E. Smith, 20, of Muskegon, going west on US-16 near Coopersville at 3 a.m. today, left the road and rolled over in a field nearby. State police are investigating.

Nick Yonker Paces Dutchmen to Win Over Adrian Team

Nick Yonker played one of the best games of his college football career Saturday night as he steered Hope college to a 27-14 victory over the Adrian Bulldogs. The game was played at Island park field in Adrian.

Mr. T of Hope's attack completed eight out of 10 pitches for an amazing 800 per cent and for 98 yards, including one touchdown. His deft ball handling and deception off the T more than once fooled the hard-charging Adrian line. Yonker also scored a Hope six-pointer on a quarter-back sneak.

The partisan Adrian crowd went away from Island park singing praises of the great three-time all-MIAA Hope back.

The victory was Hope's fourth of the season and puts the local collegians in a two-way tie with Hillsdale for the MIAA lead going into the homecoming game against the Bearcats of Hillsdale Saturday at Riverview park. Both teams are atop the Michigan college heap with undefeated records. It also was the first time Hope has been scored on this season.

Going into Saturday's game, both Adrian and Hope boasted undefeated MIAA records. The Bulldogs had whipped Albion 26-7 the week before and were touted one of the better teams in the league.

However, the relentless Dutch attack, paced by Yonker, just drove, drove and drove to outdistance Adrian in every department except yards penalized. The Dutch were set back 110 yards during the game on penalties. Adrian scored its points in the fourth period against the Hope second and third stringers.

Ten plays after the opening kickoff, Hope scored. The Dutch had kicked off and after two plays from scrimmage, Adrian's Bill Binkster fumbled and Hope's Eddie Leverette, Ron Appledorn, Jim Pfingst and a Yonker to Clair DeMull pass put the ball on Adrian's nine-yard line. Appledorn took a handoff from Yonker and raced around right end to score. Holwerda's kick sailed through the uprights.

Before the end of the first quarter, Hope had a drive started from its own 31. The second period was just four plays old when Leverette climaxed the 69-yard play by scampering around left end from the 10 to tally. This time Holwerda's boot was wide.

Hope drove down to the Adrian 15 before giving the ball up on downs in the same period and the half ended with the locals out front 13-0.

Yonker returned the second half kickoff to Hope's 29. The Dutch took just eight plays to score. The key play in the series was a 24-yard aerial from Yonker to Holwerda. Yonker tallied the six points on a five-yard quarter-back sneak. Holwerda kicked the extra point through the middle of the posts.

The final Hope marker was a 65-yard drive climaxed by a 10-yard Yonker to DeMull pass. Holwerda's kick was good.

At this point of the game, Coach Al Vanderbush inserted an entire new team composed of second and third stringers.

Before the fourth quarter was very old, Adrian started a drive on its own 33 and marched down to the Hope 18. Forrest Schultz sparked the Bulldog offense with some nifty runs. With Adrian on the 18, the Hope regulars went back into the fray but the Bulldogs couldn't be denied and Jim Jackson won over for a score from the eight. Jerry Rice, a whale of a ball player, kicked the extra point.

The kickoff was muffed and Adrian recovered on Hope's 25. Five plays later, the Bulldogs had hit pay dirt. Schultz went through center from the two to score. Rice again booted the point.

The time fizzled away before Hope could score again. However, when the game ended, the Dutch were on Adrian's eight.

The entire Dutch forward wall was good, especially DeMull, Ripper Collins, and Bill Binkster on defense. Schultz was all that he had been cracked up to be. His open field running was a constant threat and more than once the shifty Adrian back had to be pulled down from behind. Versatile Rice was the other Adrian standout.

Seven Holland High Players Hurt As Team Prepares for St. Joseph

Holland high's physically beaten football team took it easy Monday afternoon as Coach Bob Stupka took inventory of the injuries from the 32-0 Muskegon drubbing.

The Dutch go to St. Joseph Friday night for a game against the class B St. Joe Bears.

A brief run down of the injury list shows seven players hurt and others bruised.

Bruce Van Voorst, quarterback, passer and signal caller, will not play. He did not attend school Monday and has been confined to his home since the game. Van Voorst was taken out of the game after the first Dutch play from scrimmage Friday night.

Bob Tasma is nursing a shoulder injury. He was first hurt in practice scrimmage last Wednesday night and the shoulder was hit again Friday night.

Jack Kuipers, guard who played 60 minutes against the Big Reds complained of a sore knee after the game and Dick Draper, defense left half, has a sore foot.

Roger Hill was taken out of the game because of a nose injury and a twisted ankle. John Kruid has a shin bruise.

Stupka will alternate Ron Bekius and Byron Aldrich at quarterback.

St. Joe, although beaten four out of five games so far this season, isn't being sold short by the Dutch. The Bears always seem to play their best games against Holland.

Coach Jay Eldred holds the St. Joe reins this season. His team lost a 32-6 decision to Niles last Friday. The Bears defeated State high of Kalamazoo 33-0 for their lone victory. The defeats were at the hands of Kalamazoo Central, Three Rivers and Dowagiac.

Eldred boasts one of the heaviest lines in the Big Seven conference. Big Tom Harrison leads the list. He plays guard and tips the scales at 200 pounds.

LeRoy Dorow handles quarterbacking duties of St. Joe's single-wing attack. Wally Yauch and Dave Clark are the halfbacks with Sam Bavidio and Big Frank Beckman share fullbacking. Beckman will be coming into his own against Holland. He was hurt in the opener against Kalamazoo Central and has been shelved until last week when he saw limited action.

It adds up to a pretty tough

Red foxes are coming to town—on mighty close anyway.

James Schurman, of 614 Lincoln Ave., shot a fox late Monday afternoon while hunting for pheasant in Russ Huyser's orchard nearby.

The place where he shot the fox is less than a quarter mile from the city limits. The orchard would be in line with 20th St. just east of the limits.

JC Officials Ask MIAA Colleges To Quit 'Raiding'

Palmer Kern, new president of the Michigan Junior college conference, has asked MIAA colleges to quit athletic talent raids on Junior colleges.

Since the war, the MIAA permits transfer students from Junior colleges to compete in athletics. Under the rule, Kern said, many athletes have been lured to MIAA campuses before they complete their junior college eligibility. He pointed to an example where Hillsdale college had "raided" the Benton Harbor Junior college basketball team of two players, "both going to Hillsdale under unusual circumstances."

Kern said he has asked the MUCC school deans to request the MIAA to change its eligibility rules so that Jaycee students become immediately eligible for athletics only after they have been graduated from junior college.

He said the Hillsdale "raid" was only one example.

Milton L. "Bud" Hinga, Hope college athletic director and dean of men, today explained Hope college couldn't be included in these charges because Hope hasn't had a junior college transfer athlete since before the war.

Hinga said the conference forbids transfers to compete in athletics until they were graduated from a junior college, or two years. However, the rule was dropped during the war.

"Raiding junior colleges is discouraged by Hope," Hinga said.

Perhaps it is a coincidence, but Jack Petoskey, new head football coach and director of athletics at Hillsdale, last year was head man at St. Joseph high school and knew most of the Benton Harbor players from their eighth grade days, on up.

Farm-to-Prosper May Be Renamed Some Day Soon

Trustees Pass Ideas To Competing Agencies For Vote of Majority

Muskegon, Oct. 20, (Special)—Three names will be submitted to a vote of participating organizations for choice as to the future designation of the West Michigan "Farm-to-Prosper" contest. This decision was reached at meeting in Muskegon Wednesday night of the five-county board of trustees which formulates contest policies.

The three names are, continuation of the name "Farm-to-Prosper," or "Plan-for-Progress contest" or "Planning Community Progress" contest.

The membership of each organization will decide its preference, then cast a unit vote.

It was recognized that the name "Farm-to-Prosper contest" does not accurately describe the purposes of the contest, which is community advancement through competition among community organizations. Contest has been conducted and the present name has acquired a publicity value in the minds of the public.

The five counties covered in the contest are Mason, Muskegon, Newaygo, Oceana and Ottawa.

Reports indicated four new organizations would be turning in reports in Mason county this fall; seven in Muskegon; four in Newaygo; four in Oceana, and four in Ottawa.

Business organizations of the five counties again will be asked to provide the $125 each for the cash prizes to be awarded winning organizations at the round-up in Muskegon, Dec. 29. Winners of certificates of award also get cash prizes of $50, $30, $10 and $5. The Muskegon Chamber of Commerce provides an additional $100 award for the sweepstakes winner.

At the meeting Wednesday were President C. D. McNamee, Muskegon; John A. Butz, Mason; Hull Yeager, Arthur Norton, Harvey J. Elliott, Lyle E. Thompson, Edwin O. Bankert, E. G. Van Sickle, Henry Johnson, Dan Reed, Oceana; Annie Laurie Becker, Clarence C. Mullett, Arden Peterson, Merrill Eady, Newaygo; W. A. Butler, Orle Bishop, Ottawa; Carl H. Knopf, Dale F. Hansman, E. All together now, "Yea Holland!" and this team of Holland high yell leaders goes into gymnastic contortions to add color to pep meetings and football games. Regarded as a good idea to boost morale in high school sports, the new pep club of 88 members has attracted more attention than any other new activity in several

New Pep Club Adds Color To Holland High Games

Rah! Rah! Rah! Anybody attending Holland high school football games this year is immediately impressed by the vigorous school spirit which prevails in the yells, singing and general atmosphere.

This is due largely to the newly organized Pep club which is trained by Mrs. Joseph Borgman, Jr., girls' physical education instructor. Instead of the usual squad of four to six yell leaders, Holland high now boasts an up and coming club of 88 members, 22 of whom are yell leaders.

And the uniformed squads form a colorful picture with their precision gestures. Besides, they're all decked out in maroon slacks, maroon and orange jackets with "Holland" across the front, white collars and white tennis shoes. On cold days they will add large white mitts.

To add further color, the Pep club has a mascot, the big St. Bernard dog owned by Jack Lamb, one of the cheer leaders. Good natured "Ruffles" wears a maroon and orange blanket and ribbons with a large bow at the neck.

Not long after organizing, the club decided on original placards to illustrate the yells—an aid to the rooters who can't always hear the leader above the normal racket.

The new Pep club was largely the idea of Mayor Bruce Van Voorst, quarterback on the team, who was seeking some way to improve school spirit. He called a few council meetings during the summer and out of the investigations and research evolved the Pep club.

General purposes are to raise the school spirit at home and out-of-town games, to show the coach and team the student body supports them, to teach new yells and songs, to present well prepared programs at pep meetings, to perform activities to create more interest in the entire school program, to co-operate with the band in a co-ordinated program, and to make the homecoming celebration the best possible.

Don Jacobusse is president of the club, Mickey Hop is secretary and Delene Barr is treasurer. For out-of-town games, the club is accompanied by a 17-piece pep band under the direction of Ron Smeenge, student under Arthur C. Hills of the faculty.

Final plans were made for a public card party which will take place Thursday at the hall. Mrs. Joe Overway is chairman.

The National Home, completely supported by the VFW and its auxiliaries, is for widows and children of disabled or deceased veterans. At present there are 15 widows and more than 200 children at the home. Several homes make up the complete project. An average of 10 children and a housemother live in each house.

She described these buildings and also the hospital wing, telling of the "cheerful rooms with colorful drapes and spreads." The wing is complete with all facilities including an x-ray room, she said.

It was announced that on Monday local officers will go to Douglas to assist that auxiliary organization in its ritualistic work.

Isaiah Teaches Trust in God
Isaiah 12:2; 26:1-7; 30:1, 2;
Isaiah 30:15-17

By Henry Geerlings

Trust in God was needed in ancient times and it is needed still. The history of God's faithful dealings with His people for over 26 centuries since the days of the prophet, plus the teachings of Jesus and of the apostles should be enough to inspire faith and increase our trust. But there are conditions that must be met if trust is to be a vital factor in our lives.

If God is to be our strength and our song, our lives must be fully yielded into His hands. There must be a desire to know His will and a willingness to do it. All known sin of heart and life must be utterly renounced. Then we can pray with a confidence that we could not otherwise have.

In the day of Isaiah two great nations battled for world supremacy—Egypt and Assyria. Palestine was situated between them. It looked impossible to keep out of this struggle. Some wanted to become a vassal of Assyria. Others wanted to run to Egypt. The prophet urged neutrality and independence. He urged absolute confidence in God. He would be in their walls and bulwarks. The matter of alliances is always perplexing. The apostle Paul said that Christians were not to be yoked with unbelievers.

War creates a great economic confusion and a great economic inflation. After the war is over things must deflate. This is painful. If things come down evenly, all is well. But the situation is like a house jacked up to move. If it sags at one point it is apt to tumble to destruction.

There are always violent solutions for the economic problems created by war. Some want to solve the problem to the advantage of the nobility and financial aristocracy and we have the pattern of Italy and Germany. Others want to solve from the standpoint of abject poverty, and we have communism. Can we avoid the two extremes? The approach of the prophet is helpful here. Many larger social problems have been solved by a religious revival that led people to new moral living.

When the situation was bad the Lord sent His prophet to king Ahas with a message of hope and encouragement. It is worthwhile to notice the aids this king had to encourage him to put his faith in God. He was favored above many. He was the son of a godly king. He had the past history of his people to instruct him. And that history was filled with the records of deliverances that God had wrought for the nation as a whole and for many individuals.

The nation's deliverance, preservation and prosperity could only be accounted for on the ground of divine care and providence. And now in the time of crisis he had a special message direct from the Lord through an accredited prophet. And yet he would not put his trust in God. He turned his back on the prophet and on God and did things which he knew were contrary to the will of God. He became an open and active idolater. He burned incense to idols and practiced cruel and abominable rites. He stripped the temple of its valuables and closed its doors. He impoverished his people both physically and spiritually. He died as he lived, an unbeliever.

It is sad to relate that the case of Ahas is not an isolated case in the history of the Israelites. There were others before him who were like him and there have been many after him. The nation as a whole has exhibited more unbelief in God than faith in Him. One has but to read the messages of the prophets from the days of Moses down to the end of Old Testament times. They declared that the disasters had come because the people had ceased to put their trust in God.

Isaiah reminds us that the final foundations of any state are moral and spiritual foundations. Not until a people has decayed from within it is possible for that people to be destroyed from without. God is the final determiner of the destiny of nations. Nations can only survive when they trust God and continue to do His will.

God's protection of a nation must never be separated from obedience to His demands. The contemporaries of the prophet made this mistake. They sought the protection of the sanctuary apart from any obedience to the will of God. But Isaiah's fundamental principle stands. We will best preserve our democracy as we make it stand for justice both at home and abroad.

A committee of faculty members and students will choose the queen, who will preside over homecoming festivities at the college the week-end of Oct. 22, it was announced by Edward Dunning of Jackson Heights, N. Y. Dunning and Dona Sluiter of Holland are co-chairmen of the event.

A homecoming queen was chosen for the first time last year, when Toni Fredericks of Muskegon reigned over festivities. Miss Contant, the senior candidate, was on the queen's court last fall. Both senior candidates were members of the May Day queen's court.

Coronation of the queen will take place Friday, Oct. 21, at a big pep rally scheduled for 7 p.m. on the campus athletic field. Students and alumni are expected to take part in the rally at which members of the football team and coaches will be introduced.

Following the rally will be the second performance of "The Show Off," Palette and Masque dramatic society production, in the theater in the Science building.

MOTHER NATURE'S MISPLAY

Good old Mother Nature must be wondering these days what has made the sons of men so hard to please. Time was when everybody was in the mood of praising the good old dame and patting her on the back when she came through with big crops. Today the tables are turned. "Don't give us big crops," these sons of men petition, "they'll bring the prices down."

In the old days men prayed, "Give us this day our daily bread," and they were thinking when they said it of Mother Nature through whom large crops must come. Today they may still use the words, but if actions mean anything, they don't really want their prayers answered.

All along the line this fall, with the exception perhaps of the celery crop, the yields have been so big that the growers are in despair. Thus the chairman of the Michigan apple commission calls on everybody to eat at least an apple a day, not so much to keep the doctor away but to keep the wolf away from the door of the apple growers of western Michigan. "Packing, labor, and machinery costs are triple what they were in the pre-war days," he complains. The enormous crop is not only breaking the branches of the trees, it is breaking the growers' economic backs. Anyone who had lately visited a typical orchard knows that "thousands upon thousands of bushels are going to remain unpicked," as this same authority declares. Paying for picking the excess volume of fruit would ruin the growers.

The story was the same with peaches when that fruit was in season. Mother Nature was so generous that she overplayed her hand with that fruit as well as with apples. In one respect that was still more serious. Peaches are a short-lived fruit. Unlike the apple, which can wait a reasonably long time before it reaches the mouth of the consumer, the peach has a brief life expectancy from tree to public. Mother Nature disregarded even this fact and virtually buried the orchardists under their own product, driving them to near-despair.

Mother Nature certainly meant well. She tried her best to give the sons and daughters of men enough to eat and to spare, not merely daily bread but plenty of jam besides. In former times and under a simpler economy this would have been an unmitigated blessing. Among primitive peoples the crops just couldn't be too good. When nature was generous all got fat. The blessings of civilization have changed all this. Today an abundant crop makes no one fat. The consumers get little more than usual because of the high costs of getting the crops to them. The growers get poor because they can't afford to harvest the big yields.

Mother Nature must think: "A cockeyed world" or better perhaps "A cockeyed people."

Another Holland Firm Joins Unit Fund Drive

George Mool Roofing Co. is the latest industrial firm in Holland to report 100 per cent participation in the Single Solicitation plan. Community Chest leaders reported today.

Meanwhile, workers in the Business and Professional division were canvassing business sections and industries were continuing to enroll employees.

Holland's campaign to raise $37,533 to support 36 charitable agencies was officially launched Monday. Leaders hoped to compile first results this afternoon in order to show progress on the huge Red Feather outside campaign headquarters in the Chamber of Commerce building.

Quotas for divisions follow: Industrial, $22,100; business and professional, $7,285; national corporations, $490; schools and colleges, $1,500; public employees, $545; individual gifts, $2,943; suburban, $1,970.

Charter Revision Commission Votes On BPW Question

Sewer, Water Systems Switched to Control Of Proposed Manager

A Board of Public Works, stripped of control of water and sewer departments, will be included in Holland's proposed new charter.

The charter revision commission made the vital decision at a meeting Thursday night.

Under the proposed new city law, the board would be left with the electrical utility. And its name would be changed from Board of Public Works to Board of Public Service.

The water and sewer departments would be under the city manager's thumb, with advice coming from the city engineer's department.

Members of the BPS would be appointed by council for five-year terms. Present members would continue in office until their terms expire. Under the present city law, members of the BPS are elected by voters.

The city manager would be a member of the board of public service, entitled to a say-so, but without voting power.

A motion by Raymond Holwerda, supported by Mrs. Lucille Donivan, to do away with the BPS under the proposed new charter, was defeated by a surprisingly close 5-4 vote. Isaac Kouw and Bruce Raymond supported Holwerda's stand. Chairman Vernon Ten Cate, John Fenlon Donnelly, Alfred Joldersma, Daniel VanderWerf and Raymond Mooi voted against.

Voting on all issues came after almost two hours of discussion in which Ten Cate asked individual opinions. The resolutions as passed with minor changes, had been re-

High Quality Assured at Modern Triumph Bakery

The modern Triumph Bake shop is located at 384 Central Ave., and is owned and operated by William Du Mond. Motto of the bakery is "You Specify, We Comply."

A refrigerated case in the shop assures freshness and guarantees quality to the consumer. Cakes, pastries, pies and breads are fresh daily and a wide selection is offered. Store hours are daily except Monday, from 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

Du Mond has been in the baking business for 22 years and has operated the shop since July, 1937.

commended by a special charter commission committee that attended BPW meetings, quizzed personnel and the city engineer. Mooi, Donnelly and Joldersma were on the committee and Ten Cate also attended meetings.

In making the report, the committee said it believed greater efficiency could be obtained by common planning of street, sewer and water improvements and that there should be common engineering records, co-ordinated labor management and co-ordinated equipment use. The head of this department should be responsible to, and work with the city manager.

Ten Cate explained that the functions of the present BPW have been divorced too far from council, and commission members are of the unanimous opinion that this separation must be curbed. He said the present BPW has over-stepped its charter rights.

Holwerda, in a fiery speech to elaborate on his motion, said that a city manager, in order to do an effective job, should have control of the utilities. He further said council and BPW have been allowed to drift in different directions under the present charter.

Ten Cate said the matter would be discussed further at next week's meeting.

Lennox Produces New Gas Burner

Lennox gas furnaces with the superb new "Blue Magic" burner are featured by Harry Koop Heating. The "Blue Magic" burner was developed during and immediately after the war.

This new burner makes it possible to entrain sufficient primary air for complete flame and pilot stability without getting into operating and extinction noise. It ignites quietly and smoothly, operates quietly and goes out like a match.

The new burner is highly efficient with any type of gas. There are no primary air shutters to restrict the air inlet and collect lint and dust and eventually cause a dirty flame. You can turn this burner on and off rapidly whether the furnace is hot or cold, without noise and without affecting the pilot flame in any way.

The furnace stands on high legs which allow for the free inlet for cold air. The observation part is a 3-inch Pyrex glass. To light the pilot you remove this and reach a match through this opening on the special Lennox igniter. A generous cleanout is located at the front of the radiator. Through this and through the flue collar at the rear, all parts of the radiator can be reached for cleaning.

Harry Koop Heating sells a complete line of Lennox warm air heating equipment including gas, oil and coal furnaces, blowers and other accessories. The Lennox Furnace Co. makes equipment in size ranges from the small 20-inch coal furnace to the large industrial unit 1,000,000 BTU size. Mr. Koop's office is at 116 East 14th St. The warehouses are located at 120 River Ave. and 133 Fairbanks Ave.

Holland Travels For Friday Tilt

The physically spent Holland high football team travels to St. Joseph Friday night for a non-league game.

Coach Bob Stupka is taking inventory of his injuries from the Muskegon game today to determine what replacements must be made. At least one thing is certain, Bruce Van Voort will not play.

St. Joe's class B outfit, is in the football doldrums this year, winning just one out of five.

In other games this week, Benton Harbor entertains Grand Rapids Union and Grand Haven hosts Muskegon Heights. The title bound Muskegon Reds play at home against Liberty of Toledo and Kalamazoo goes to Jackson.

District Governor At Rotary Meeting

"Education and vocational service are the two main ways of combating intolerance and strong false opinions, and because of this, Rotary International is spending $250,000 yearly to educate students of this and other lands." Gordon Laughead of Grand Haven, Rotary district governor, made this statement to members of the Rotary club during his annual visit here Thursday. The luncheon meeting was held at the Warm Friend Tavern.

"Main purpose of this extensive program is to encourage tolerance and understanding of other peoples, philosophies and countries," Laughead said. Going on to cite other service programs of Rotary, the district governor said that the motto of Rotary, "Service Above Self," brought gifts to the members both tangible and spiritual. In his talk, Gov. Laughead enumerated cases in which members of Rotary clubs had given more than they were asked, and as a result, were repaid in seeing the good they had accomplished.

"We must work hard together to cause our principles to grow and through them, maintain our American philosophy and way of life. I'd hate to think of the future if we don't," he admonished.

President John Fenlon Donnelly presided at the meeting, which was preceded by a meeting of all committee chairmen with the district governor.

Muskegon Reds Romp Over Dutch At Riverview Park

Largest Football Crowd
Witnesses Classic Game
In History of City

Muskegon's Big Red powerhouse was generating at its peak Friday night as it easily burned out Holland 32-0.

The terrific Big Red onslaught at Riverview park was witnessed by the largest crowd in the history of local football. Estimates have been between 6,000 and 7,000.

Although Coach Bob Stupka's charges were yelling words of encouragement to each other to the bitter end, the locals were no match for the title-bound Muskegon juggernaut. The Big Reds just rolled, rolled and rolled up yardage.

To give an idea of the exclusive Muskegon show, Holland had the ball for just 30 plays in the game, including five punt plays. The Dutch didn't get their hands on the ball for a play from scrimmage in the fourth quarter, until six minutes were gone. They had just three plays in that fourth quarter.

Holland fought for every inch to Muskegon's 40-yard line in the first half, but that's as far as the Dutch went. In the second half Holland didn't get past its own 39.

Muskegon rolled up 329 yards rushing to 56 for the locals. First downs were 11 to two.

However, it must be said the breaks were anti-Holland. A blocked kick and three fumbles led to four out of the five Muskegon six-pointers.

Halfway through the first quarter, Holland had the ball on its own 29. Paul Vander Meer faded to punt. Jim Neal partially blocked the ball and Bruce Bosma downed it on Holland's 36.

It took Bosma, Wayne Smith and Wayne Mosler four plays to get a first down on Holland's 24. A 15-yard roughing penalty against the Dutch moved the ball down to the six. On the next play, Warren just went through a big hole in the right side of the line to score. Carl Lipton's boot was no good.

In the second quarter, with the ball on Holland's 16 and second down coming up, the handoff in Holland's backfield was juggled and Muskegon's Clem Poort landed on the ball on the 17. The play went over because of an offside penalty against Muskegon. The same thing happened and Erickson recovered for Muskegon on Holland's 18. Warren sliced through right tackle, cut back and crossed the double stripe. Lipton faked a place kick and passed to Harold Scarff for the extra point.

The halftime whistle cut off another Muskegon threat on Holland's four-yard line.

Neither team scored in the third quarter. However, just before the end of the period, Vander Meer punted and Smith returned the ball to his own 49. An offside penalty against Muskegon brought the ball back and Vander Meer punted again. This time Smith took it on his own 23 and raced 42 yards to Holland's 34 before he was caught from behind by Bob Tasma. Nine plays later Bosma went through center for score from the Dutch four-yard line. The kick was no good.

Muskegon kicked off and Bob Armstrong fumbled the pick-up. Muskegon recovered on Holland's 33. The Reds couldn't gain on three plays and a 15-yard roughing penalty moved the ball back to Holland's 45. Scarff went back in punt formation and ran with the ball. Behind perfect blocking, Muskegon's 220-yard dash man went all the way to score. The kick was wide. Again the Reds kicked off and Tasma dropped the ball. Muskegon recovered on Holland's 30. A play at center was stopped. On the following play, Chuck Eberbach zipped through a wide hole in the center of the Holland line and outraced the secondary to score. Russ Kelly kicked the point.

For the Dutch, Joe Fendt on offense and defense was a stand-out. The few times he carried the ball, he also carried two and three tacklers with him for a few yards. Capt. John Kruid and his co-joint at the other end, Ivan Immink, were outstanding on the Dutch defensive line. Little Tom Carvey also was excellent on defense from the safety position.

Muskegon's entire forward wall was brilliant as it wedged gaping holes in the Holland line. Erickson and Kelly were the best. The entire parade of Muskegon backs was good.

Hurricanes Launch Offensive Attack To Tally 27-0 Win

Local Defense Limits
Ionia Independents
To Mere 12 Yards

The up till now dormant Holland Hurricane offense woke up Saturday night and clicked off a decisive 27-0 win over a scrappy Ionia Independent outfit.

A total of 505 paid admissions watched the local team outclass the Ionia gridders at Riverview park.

The stingy Cane defense held the visitors to a mere 12 yards rushing for the entire game.

It wasn't until the last period that the local offense really got rolling. Up until that time the score was 7-0.

The first quarter was a defensive battle featured by a punting duel between Don Hulst of the Canes and Bud Raab of Ionia. Neither team could get much of an offense underway.

After a see-saw nine minutes of the second quarter, Jack Westerhof went high into the air and snagged an Ionia pass on the visitor's 39. He ran the ball back to the 24. With time running out, the locals kept punching goalward. Don Moeller shouldered the brunt of the attack to the one-yard line.

With fourth down and one yard to go for a score in the final 15 seconds of the first half, Westerhof flipped a neat pass to Ted Bos in the end zone. Red Hulst pitched to Ed Boeve for the extra point and the half ended with the score 7-0.

The third quarter was a repeat of the first half defensive battle with both lines breaking through to spill ball carriers for losses.

However, the Canes exploded in the final period and scored 20 points.

The quarter was a few seconds old when Westerhof intercepted a pass on the Canes 45 and returned to the Ionia 33. The three Downs of the Canes backfield, Hulst, Onts and Leeuw moved the pigskin to the one before Hulst scooted around end for the tally. A Hulst to Leeuw aerial clicked for the extra point.

On the first play after the kick-off, Raab fumbled and Loren Cook recovered on the Independent 22. Three plays later the Canes were on the five-yard line to Bos pass. Hulst booted the extra point this time.

During the waning minutes of the game, the air was filled with passes. Ron Klampert intercepted an Ionia pass in the end zone and the ball was brought out to the 20.

On the first play from scrimmage, Westerhof heaved to Klampert who caught the ball on the local 40, tucked it under his arm and sidestepped his way to the goal. He used broken-field running to race the 60 yards.

Raab in the backfield and Hodson on the line were the Ionia standouts.

For the Hurricanes, Don Hulst, Westerhof, Klampert and Leeuw were good backs. Ted Bos and the other flanker, Ed Boeve, along with Jason DeVries and Jim Schurman were front line stars for the Hurricanes.

The win was the second of the season for the Canes and marked what coaches hope will be the birth of an offense.

Miss Mary Jane Dykstra and Robert H. Smit were married in a double ring ceremony Friday night at Fourteenth Street Christian Reformed church. News of Interest to Western Michigan Farm Operators

Allegan Land Use Inventory Phase Gets Underway

Farmers to Find Out How Much Income Derived from Land

The land use inventory phase of the Allegan county Planning Organization was started recently with meetings in Trowbridge and Otsego townships. A group of farmers in each township met with F. Earl Haas, assistant county agent in Land Use Planning, to plan on township maps the present land use and also whether residents were deriving their income entirely, partially or not at all from the farm.

After a brief explanation of the land use planning program by Haas, the farmers marked each piece of land in colors according to its use. Rural homes also were classified as to source of income with four classifications being used; full time farmers, part time farmers, rural residents or non-farmer and vacant.

Some of the information was rather surprising to the people who live in the areas. In the southern half of Trowbridge township which is an area generally considered agricultural, only about one-half of the residents derived their income from the farm, there being 71 full time farmers, 22 part-time and 42 rural residences with 11 vacant homes in various stages of condition. These figures do not include the resort area and year round homes in the platted area in the vicinity of Baseline lake.

In the southwest section of Otsego township including only six sections the proportion of farmers was much lower. The survey showed 24 full time farmers, nine part time, 26 rural residences and three vacant houses.

These figures show that in planning for agricultural areas, many other residents must also be considered. The inventory of land use and the people will be continued in other townships until the entire county is covered. This information and other that will be included on the survey will be available for planning in various phases of rural life.

Choose Feeders By Market Time

There is no "best method" for finishing feeder steers or calves for the market, Michigan livestock feeders learned in a recent session at Michigan State college. Specialists advised the feeders, however, to have a good idea about the time they expect to sell; their fattened beef animals and how they expect to feed them before they start.

From J. C. Cash, Kansas City, stockyard commission man and former Michigan resident, came this advice on planning feeding operations. Plain, heavy cattle sell best from January through March. From April through June, the light, plain cattle seem to be in highest demand. During the third quarter of the year—July through September—the light, good cattle draw the highest prices.

Cash thinks farmers and feeders should determine what type of cattle they will have to market and plan the feeding program to get them ready for sale during the period which is normally best for that kind.

George Brannaman, animal husbandry specialist at Michigan State college, stressed the fact that the feeder should analyze his feed and pasture situation and plan his program and his purchases to fit. Some like to feed only a short time during fall and winter months when farm work is light. Others have adequate pasture to carry animals over two winters and a summer.

Experienced feeders agreed that returns are usually greater when the feeder plans his feeding and marketing program before he buys his calves or steers.

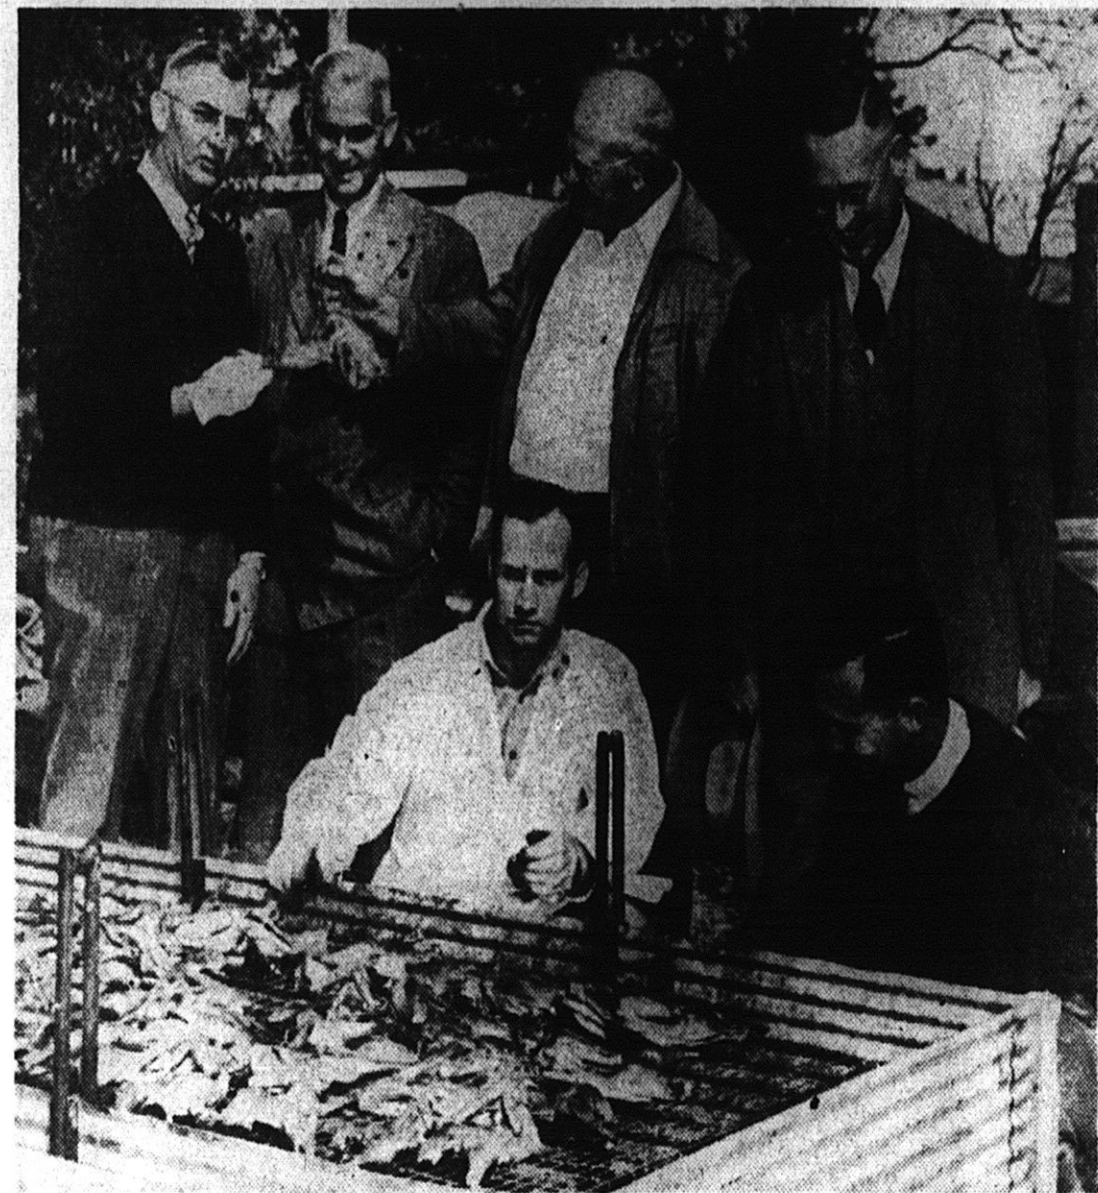

Booklet Is Published on Farm Transfer Methods

To present information on the best ways for parents to provide for their future security and also treat heirs fairly, the Michigan Agricultural Experiment station has issued special bulletin 357, "How to Keep Your Farm in the Family." It is now available at county agricultural agents' offices.

The bulletin compares various transfer arrangements such as sales agreements and contracts, wills, inheritance, and gifts. The bulletin presents methods of attaining the goals of security for the parents; security for the farm-operating son; equitable treatment for other heirs; and keeping the farm a going concern.

PROTECT LAND

Soil conservationists at Michigan State college advise leaving crop residues on the surface of the land as much as possible over winter. Straw stubble, sod, and even weeds offer good winter protection for the land.

Ummmm, barbecued chicken! This new way of preparing tender succulent broilers was demonstrated for a group of western Michigan farm editors who toured Allegan county co-ops early this month. Climax of the day-long tour was the chicken barbecue in Hamilton, prepared by Michigan State college specialists. The group brought its own portable barbecue pit from East Lansing. Standing, left to right, are Andrew Lohman, manager of Hamilton Farm Bureau; C. G. Card, head of the poultry department at Michigan State; Fred Billett, Hamilton Poultry farms; A. D. Morley, Allegan agricultural agent. In white coat is William Aho, state college extension specialist, and at right James Curtis, secretary of the Allegan County Farm bureau.

DISASTER INVITATION

Having a home-made electric fence controller is an invitation to disaster, say agricultural engineers at Michigan State college. The toll of dead animals each year is testimony to the fact that home-made controllers often turn into "booby traps."

Allegan County Taxes for Year Set at $322,000

Allegan, Oct. 20 (Special)—Allegan county tax, spread on a $46 million valuation, will be $322,914 next year, it was revealed when supervisors spread the tax poll over townships and cities Thursday. It gives the county an additional $46,236 over last year's income due to a half-mill tax raise, greater valuation, and eliminating the county road from a share entirely.

County roads last year were allotted a half mill. Schools get eight mills of the 15-mill tax.

Ted Hicks, director of social welfare, asked the board for $130,000 for next year, an increase over last year's $100,000, but a cut from his original $140,000 request. The department operated on a deficit this year.

Seeking to relieve the department's burden of employables to some extent, Hicks proposed the board approve a township plan, whereby relief clients could be put to work at 60 cents an hour paid by the township to the highway department, which in turn would repay the county.

He said some counties are taking away car license plates from welfare clients and suggested the board consider the plan here.

The tax spread as adopted by the board is as follows: Allegan city, $30,068; Otsego city, $22,328; Plainwell, $22,156; Townships: Allegan, $9,297; Casco, $14,825; Cheshire, $6,910; Clyde, $6,729; Dorr, $10,907; Fillmore, $16,516; Ganges, $10,461; Gunplum, $9,303; Heath, $6,198; Hopkins, $13,478; Laketown, $8,929; Lee, $6,411; Leighton, $12,306; Manlius, $7,603; Martin, $13,752; Monterey, $7,524; Otsego, $11,812; Overisel, $11,293; Salem, $9,321; Saugatuck, $18,970; Trowbridge, $10,782; Valley, $1,695; Watson, $8,124; and Wayland, $15,203.

Ottawa Road Budget Submitted To Supervisors

Grand Haven, Oct. 20 (Special)—A $570,867.87 county road budget for 1950 is under consideration by the Ottawa Board of Supervisors.

Road Commissioner Carl T. Bowen also called attention to the low balance in the department amounting to $8,000, and asked the county to cover this amount if necessary until funds are received from various projects which have been completed. He said payroll and claims total $20,000 to $25,000 every two weeks.

The proposed budget lists gas and weight tax as $425,000, McMillan receipts at $67,867.87, and supervisors' appropriations at $60,000.

Bowen also announced an offer to exchange four county-owned lots on North Shore beach for four lots south of the park. He said the lots involved have the same lake frontage and it would be desirable for the county to have the lots nearer the highway. No money will be exchanged in the transaction. Prosecutor Wendell Miles was instructed to prepare a resolution for the exchange to be presented to the board for adoption.

Bowen also said he has received inquiries for a lot and a half on the north shore of Lake Macatawa for which the county has no use. He suggested authority be given to advertise for bids.

The buildings and grounds committee recommended installation of an additional toilet in the ladies' rest room on the third floor of the county building, following complaint by women employees that toilet facilities in the building were inadequate.

Supervisors spent considerable time discussing the advisability of disclosing facts such as were published regarding the Muskegon TB sanitarium complaints in The Sentinel Wednesday. After considerable argument, supervisors agreed a newspaper has a right to publish news as it happens and it is the right of the people to know what goes on at supervisors' meetings. A motion to expunge the letters from the record was denied.

BUY GOOD RAM

The ram you buy should be better than most of the ewes in your flock—he can do much for the average flock in stepping up quality of lambs. Look for a ram that is large for his age, showing good growth characteristics, and one that is active, vigorous and free from any defects.

The U. S. produced 1,832,000 tons of beet sugar in 1948.

Floyd Kraai of North Holland displays two of his prize dahlias—no, there are three. That tiny "bulge" on the stem of the light bloom is the smallest of his 70 varieties, one called "Clover" and it looks just like a clover blossom. The large light bloom is the Yellow Commodore, about 10 inches across, and the dark one is the Red Stellate, Kraai's favorite.

Looking for a Hobby? Dahlias Are 'Purty'

Floyd Kraai's hobby is growing dahlias.

In fact, he'd rather fuss around in his garden in North Holland tending his 70 varieties of dahlias than go hunting, fishing, monkeying with model trains or collecting stamps.

He says he gets a big kick out of his garden. Besides, the flowers are mighty pretty.

Kraai began his hobby of growing dahlias 15 years ago with just a few varieties. Since then, he has made a careful study of this botanical species and branched out into varieties from the tiniest pompons the size of a clover to the large beautiful ragged types which measure more than a foot across.

Dahlias are his first love on the garden front. He isn't interested in tulips or roses, although he does grow a few zinnias. He isn't interested in sun flowers either.

There's a lot of work in growing dahlias. They are grown from roots or tubers, most of them coming from commercial houses, state inspected and all varieties certified. The tubers are planted during the first 15 days of June. In Michigan it's the frost which usually ends the dahlia season. After that they have to be dug up, separated and labeled. Kraai says it's a lot of work but he has three sons to help him and they're all interested in dahlias too.

The Kraai garden, the size of a city lot, is located on Waverly road near North Holland Reformed church. The elevation there is slightly higher than some other parts of this area, and the dahlias are seldom hit by first frosts. That allows the Kraai household to provide choice dahlias for the church for several weeks.

Kraai's favorite are the Stellate, Deep Velvet (they look just like velvet) and the Michigan Whites (they have nice stems). Then there's the Sherwood's Peach, the tawny ragged kind that grows up to 14 inches in diameter.

If you happen to be riding in North Holland and see the Kraai dahlia garden, don't just ride slowly by. Stop and walk around. The flowers are much prettier close by, and the Kraais will be glad to have you.

Egg Producers Get Better Prices by Watching Trends

Consumers of Michigan-produced eggs have gained some benefits from the educational campaign for higher quality production in recent years. A recent study by the Michigan Agricultural Experiment station shows that farmers are marketing cleaner eggs and more high quality eggs since 1942.

The study was a research project of L. E. Dawson and J. A. Davidson of the Michigan State college poultry department which dealt primarily with eggs marketed through grading stations. The report is based on a survey of records of Michigan's first federal-state egg grading station started in 1937 at Hamilton.

The most important trend in the study shows that producers in the Hamilton area are taking advantage of the seasonal trend which has resulted in higher egg prices in the fall and winter. Throughout the United States, production in the months of October through January is not adequate to fill the demand. Producers in the Hamilton area, as a result of the grading and educational program, plan production to get more eggs during these months of improved prices.
