Common Council Pledges Support For New Charter

Common Council Wednesday night pledged wholehearted support to the proposed city charter which will be voted upon for a second time at the general election Nov. 7.

Decision to adopt such a resolution followed a communication from the charter study commission which reviewed briefly the history of the need for a new charter for Holland city and the subsequent lengthy study before such a proposed charter was drawn up.

The communication, signed by the nine charter commission members, pointed to a disappointingly small vote at the June 27 city election. In attempting a brief analysis of the situation, the commission said active opposition did not account for the indifference at that election. The communication asked specifically if council felt deficiencies in the old charter had been corrected. Motion for adoption was made by Ald. Bertal Slagh.

Four commission members were present at the meeting: Vernon D. Ten Cate, Mrs. Edward Donavan, Raymond T. Holwerda and John F. Donnelly.

A communication from School Supt. C. C. Crawford offering $880 for a city-owned lot in the vicinity of 24th and Van Raalte, the site sought for a new elementary school, was referred to the ways and means committee and city attorney to report back to council. City Clerk Clarence Greengood reported the city obtained the lot from the State Savings association in 1943 for payment of pavement taxes.

Council unanimously voted Ald. Lavern Rudolph to represent council on the board of directors for Tulip Time, Inc. He will serve a three-year term.

A communication from the Board of Public Works informed council J. H. Geerds and James H. Klomparsen will represent the BPW on the committee to study means for financing a master plan for Holland area. John F. Donnelly will represent the Chamber of Commerce in the study.

Council was informed the city had drawn up a lease in which Albert and Dora Speet will pay $50 a year for five years for the small portion of city-owned land in the vicinity of Holland hospital on which the Speets have built part of a building. The lease can be renewable after five years, and can be terminated at any time on 30-day notice on written notice.

A request from Albert E. Johnson, assistant engineer at Holland hospital, for a wage increase in keeping with other increases granted city employees retroactive to last May, was answered by John F. Donnelly, president of the hospital board, who said the board was conferring with the ways and means committee on the subject and was also attempting to reclassify hospital employees.

Get-Out-Vote Campaign Set

The Inter-Club Council is making plans for an extensive get-out-the-vote campaign in which Boy Scouts and Camp Fire Girls will deliver cards to each home in the city reminding persons to cast their vote Tuesday, Nov. 7. Some suburban sections will be covered too.

On the day before election, a second card will be distributed among all pupils for another reminder, emphasizing voting is not only a privilege but a duty.

Clubs in the council are Rotary, Lions, Optimist, Kiwanis, Exchange and the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

In keeping with the expected large vote at the Nov. 7 election, Walter Vander Haar, clerk of Holland township, reported an additional 250 persons had registered in Holland township.

Many persons also registered at the city hall in Holland, but the new registrations had not been compiled today.

Parent-Teacher Meetings Set

Acting on a suggestion by Carl Van Lente, the faculty of Holland Junior high school has arranged individual parent-teacher conferences for parents of each student.

Conferences will be held each school day beginning Oct. 23 through Nov. 3 from 2:30-4:30 p.m. Invitations are being issued to all parents, distribution being made in alphabetical arrangement. An alternate date is suggested if the first date is not convenient.

Teachers have been working on this plan since early last spring, believing that the education of the boys and girls will be improved by a better understanding between parents and teachers. The conferences will be private and unburied to allow the maximum opportunity for discussion. Replies so far have indicated that a great number of parents are taking advantage of the plan to promote co-operative planning between parents and teachers.

Chairman of the committee is Earl Borlace. Assisting him are Emily Shoup, Bernice Bishop, principal, Joan van der Werf, Jack Rombouts and Carl Van Lente.

Autos Entered as Five Hotel Guests Are Theft Victims

Unknown thieves made off with an estimated $500 loot taken from five automobiles parked at the rear of the Warm Friend tavern after forcing entrance into the cars Holland police reported Tuesday.

Among the missing items were clothing, cameras, billfolds and many personal belongings. All of the cars belonged to hotel guests.

"We're looking for someone with a cut hand," Police Chief Jacob Van Hoff said. "Two of the cars are spattered with blood and apparently the thief cut his hand after smashing the window on one of the cars."

Four of the five cars were locked and the windows were broken or locks forced, police said. The fifth was not locked and at noon today the owner had reported nothing missing.

"The cars were ransacked in general," said Officer Don Oosterbaan, making the investigation. "I would estimate about $100 worth of goods taken from each car."

The cars belonged to Charles John Holly, Manitowoc, Wis.; Martin Roth, Chicago; D. K. Bradley, Battle Creek; and Alice Soiberg, Geneva, Ill. The fifth owner was unknown by police.

The robberies occurred sometime between 12:30 and 7 a.m. Tuesday, police reported. The thief, or thieves, cleaned out the glove compartments and took anything of value.

One of the victims reported a briefcase containing valuable business paper missing. Another said the culprits tore open several wooden boxes he was carrying in his station wagon, but left the contents—wooden packing materials.

The windows were smashed with a white brick, which was found on the scene.

Victim of the freak accident was Dumont Lewis Cole, 67, of route 1, West Olive, Port Sheldon township. He left his home at 11:15 a.m. Wednesday to work in the field and the accident happened about 15 minutes later. It is believed his "doodle-bug" tractor stalled and he started the motor by cranking.

Deputy Sheriff Clayton Forry and Coroner Gilbert Vande Water who investigated, said the tractor evidently was in gear and started to move before the farmer could move out of its path.

Mrs. Cole looked for her husband after he didn't come home for lunch. She notified neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. William Ebels, who found Cole lying in the grass at 1:45 p.m. The tractor had traveled over him and stopped in some brush about 100 feet away.

Eager Hunters Stalk Small Game and Birds

Anxious nimrods continued to hit the dusty trail to the open spaces Tuesday as the 1950 hunting season was in its third day.

Reports by hunters of pheasant kills were mixed, with some reporting good catches and others telling of nothing but unshot shells.

But justice courts in the county reported the first cases of law violations.

Park township Justice C. C. Wood heard two cases Monday. Herman Van Kampen, 57 Anlene St., was found with four pheasants instead of the allotted two. He must pay $50 fine and $7.40 costs.

James B. MacKenzie came down from South Bend and hunted with a resident hunting license instead of the required non-resident permit. He paid $18 fine and $7.40 costs.

Both men were cited by conservation officers Elmer Boerman and Clarence Bowman.

In Grand Haven, Justice George V. Hoffer levied four fines. Thomas Mains, Spring Lake, paid $18 fine and costs for not buying a non-resident license. Ray Artibe and Leo P. Osborn, both from Muskegon, charged with hunting hen pheasants, each paid $25 fine and $8 costs. Myron E. Olson, Muskegon, charged with breaking, training and practicing dogs between sunset and sunrise during the closed season, paid $15 fine and $8 costs.

Conservation officer Harold Bowditch made the four arrests. He pointed out that Mains, who has been a county resident for three months, is not allowed a resident license until after six months' residence.

There are 10 officers patrolling the hunting lanes. In South Ottawa are Bowman, Boerman, Willis Copeland and Rex Joslin. Four more work North Ottawa, with the other two in a roving car.

Officer Boerman added that deer are having a tough time in the county. Two were killed Sunday. One was hit by a car two miles south of Port Sheldon on Butternut Dr., and the other was shot along Sand Creek in Tallmadge township. The deer, weighing about 130 pounds each, were taken to the county home at Eastmanville.

Four Persons Hurt In Ottawa County; One in Allegan

Four Hunters Die Throughout State On Opening Day

The lid was blown off the 1930 small game hunting season in Michigan and in Ottawa and Allegan counties Sunday, with pheasant kills reported running well over the 1929 figure.

On the south side of the picture, four persons were injured in Ottawa and Allegan counties. Elsewhere in the state, three other hunters were killed on opening day.

Injured in the area were: Louis Van Ingen, 48, of 308 West 19th St., received gunshot wounds in the left shoulder and arm. He was expected to be released from Holland hospital today.

Henry Baker, route 4, fell in the field and broke his leg. He was expected to be released from Holland hospital Tuesday.

Clyton Umlor, 36, of route 1, Conklin, received gunshot wounds in the face and was treated by a Coopersville physician before being taken to Butterworth hospital in Grand Rapids. The accident happened in Wright township, when Umlor was accidentally shot by his hunting partner, Larry Mich of Grand Rapids.

John De Young, 59, of Muskegon, was shot in the groin and both legs by his son-in-law, Lyman Blink, Muskegon. De Young is in Grand Haven hospital.

Gerald Thompson, 16, of Muskegon, was shot in the head by an unidentified hunter in North Dor Township. Thompson's two companions sought aid from four nearby hunters, but they reported that the other hunters fired a shotgun blast at them and fled through the underbrush.

All the accidents were reported Sunday.

The death list included Anis Cure, Vandercook Lake, who had a fatal heart attack while hunting in Jackson county; Millard E. Riley, 28, of Dearborn, shot in the head by a companion in Macomb county; and Elias Chasser, 32, Detroit, fatally wounded by his brother in Macomb county.

South Ottawa conservation officer Elmer Boerman reported that hunting success compares favorably with last year.

"So far we've checked 300 hunters," Boerman estimated, "and they've had about 400 pheasants. This is more than one per hunter. The rabbit kill is lighter due to heavy cover and the fact that there are few hunters out for rabbits. There also is relatively little duck hunting so far."

Boerman and Officer Clarence Bowman gave a hearty thanks to hunters for their "exemplary conduct" so far. They reported few complaints about trespassing on posted property and property damage.

Boerman said pheasants this year are in a different type of area than last year.

"In 1929, they seemed to be more plentiful in the low, flat areas, around Borculo and Zeeland," he said. "But our wet spring caused birds to seek a higher ground when hatching. So pheasants have been more plentiful in higher, drier ground, like in Port Sheldon, Olive and the northwest part of the county."

On Sunday, hunting was limited, Boerman said, but today they were out in droves. Pressure is heavy in the swamps around Vriesland, around Drenthe and Borculo, he added.

He also pointed out that citations for law violations have been very low compared with last year at this time.

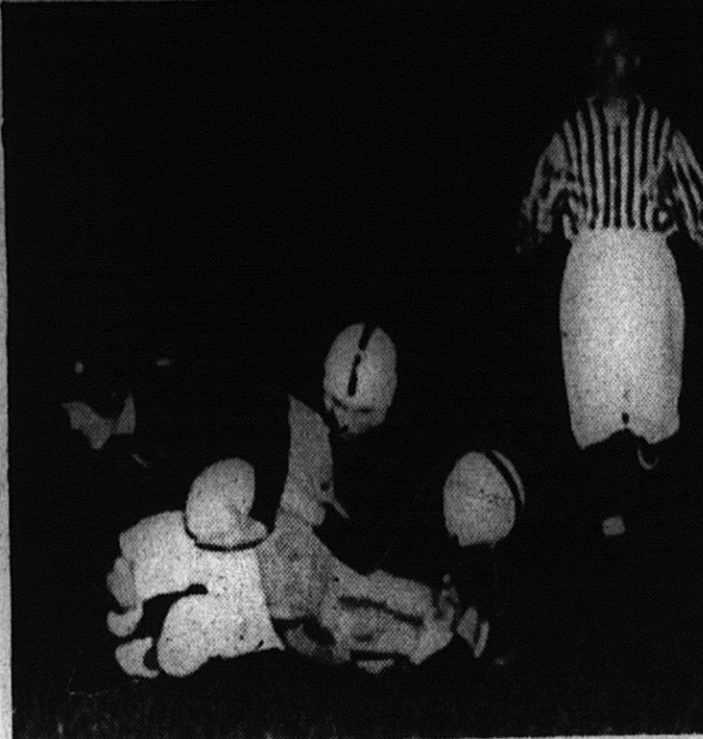

About 200 permits were issued Sunday at Swan Creek, with goose hunters reported holding back until the large flocks converge there later.

A third deer for the bow and arrow season was recorded by Edwin Williams, of Albion, who shot a small juvenile buck.

NO MORE HORSE TRADING

If Vice President Barkley is to be heeded, the American people might as well say goodbye to the national sport of political horse trading. By the same token they might as well abandon the two-party system, a system to which Barkley is always the first to give lip-service—when it suits his own ends.

The Veep is going up and down the country making speeches
in the current campaign, advising
the people to vote straight Democratic not because the Democrats are better than the Republicans but because it is dangerous to swap horses while crossing a stream. "Any evidence of lack of unity," opines Barkley, "will be regarded by our enemies in the Kremlin as a sign of our weakness." Since Truman is in Washington to stay until 1952, the election of a Republican congress will prove that we are disunited.
Hence don't elect any Republicans, because it will give comfort to Uncle Joe Stalin.

But if the Veep's logic is accepted the American people might as well become reconciled to living under a one-party system. And that is the system Russia is now enjoying. If we are not to elect a strong and vigorous opposition for fear that we will be considered disunited, then the logical answer is a single party.
And that party of course will have to be the Democratic New Deal or fair deal party.

For the Democrats New Deal
or fair deal are in power—have been since 1933. Since that historic day there never has been a campaign or a year when there was not a crisis. When world events did not oblige with one,
the government in Washington had difficulty manufacturing one. And there is no reason to believe that there won't be a good supply of crises in the future. Again, the world situation can be depended upon to furnish a fair share of them, but that supply failing the government can make up for the loss. Crises, as seen by Washington, are no more than a dime a dozen.

But we must keep the present government in power or the boogie-man in the Kremlin will get us. And we must do the same in 1952, and again in 1954, and then in 1956, and so on as far as the imagination can pierce the future.

If we are to elect our congress
through the dictation of Stalin or of any other foreign official or power we might as well throw in the sponge right away and admit that we are licked. Does Barkley really believe the American people are as dumb as his advice to them seems to suggest? If he thinks so, he's the dumb one, not the American voters. Remember to VOTE. Let's stop pouring our tax dollars down a rat hole. Write us your ideas about how we can stop government waste. Write your elected officials.

2 Fire Calls Result
In Only Minor Damage

City firemen answered two calls
Monday, with little damage resulting from either fire.

At 6:45 a.m., they were called to the Model Laundry on East Eighth St., where some rubbish in the building broke into flames.
"Not much damage," was the report.

At 10 a.m., an oil hot water heater at the Reuben Van Dam
home, 224 West 17th St., exploded, causing damage only to the water heater.

Lesson

October 22, 1950
Growing Through Prayer
Matthew 6:9-13; Luke 11:9-13;
Philippians 1:3-11

By Henry Geerlings

In this lesson we are to learn about prayer. And how much we need this! Prayer is one of the greatest of all things we can do.
Its potency has seldom ever been realized. Through Scripture we learn that men of faith turned to God in prayer in every age. The Old Testament pages are filled with incidents about prayer. In their need and in hours of crisis
men turned to God in earnest prayer and God heard and answered. The prophets of old repeatedly exhorted Israel to pray,
while they themselves were men of prayer. With them prayer was not simply a religious exercise,
but a means to receive help from God in time of need.

The New Testament as well
contains a great deal of reference to prayer. Our Lord lived a life of prayer and taught His disciples to pray. By example and precept
He not only taught the necessity of prayer, but that it should be given its rightful place as the greatest and most effective thing which His own can do. Our Lord allowed nothing to interfere with His prayer life, and if the hours of the day were too crowded with service to others He took time
at night to have communion with His Father.

Today if prayer is an index to the growth of the professing Christian church then its growth is slow. A church with a praying people is a rarity at the present time. The midweek prayer meeting which used to be a necessary integral part of the life of the church has been given up by a large percentage of the churches.
The number of people who will willingly engage in public prayer
is getting smaller all the time.

Also in our churches there is a strong trend toward the use of liturgical prayers read from a prayer book. Spontaneous, extemporaneous prayer is falling off.
All students of religion hold
that the distinguishing characteristic of religion is faith in God.
Closely allied to this is communication with God. Whatever other marks religion may have these two rank foremost. In the observance of the prayer life we vary in our experience from the intense personal attitude of the mystic to the extreme formal attitude of the one who prays that he might be seen of men and to whom the exercise of prayer has lost much of its vitality.

In our growth in the Christian life we should gradually get away from the thought of prayer as asking and the effort to secure from God only things of a material nature. While this is not always wrong, it is not the essential meaning of prayer. Prayer should come to mean to us communion and fellowship with God.
It should mean an effort to find out God's will for ourselves responding to the changing of God's will for our benefit. To the one who objects to prayer because he does not believe that we should seek to change God's will, let us point out that prayer is more properly the changing of our will to conform to the will of God. All prayer should be made submissively-willing to surrender to God and His will.

Those who have sounded the depths of prayer most profoundly have been the most humble of the ages. They have not presumed to dictate to God. They have willingly placed their requests in His hands. They have concluded every prayer in the spirit "Thy will be done."

Prayer is not a performance.
It is the human soul in vital contact with God. Prayer is the soul's sincere desire. Only as it is sincere and vital can we anticipate the answers we long for. We are not heard for our much speaking.
We are to avoid vain repetitions.
A study of the Lord's Prayer reveals its simplicity and yet its completeness. There is no repetition of thought or idea. All human needs are covered.

Many Christians have ceased to pray for material things and confine their requests to matters concerning the moral and spiritual life. In general this no doubt should be true, but we should not conclude too readily that God is not interested in our material
well being and especially the well being of his church and kingdom
in material matters.

Sincerity is the rock-bottom essential in all effective of Christian activity. Jesus had much to say about it. Hypocrisy seems to have been a very prevalent fault in His day. He condemned their attitude unsparingly and in order that the Christian might cultivate the proper attitude He recommended the secret quiet place of retirement as the ideal place for prayer. He sought such places Himself, a mountain top in the twilight or dawn, the shadow of a tree bathed in moonlight. All the world's radiant personalities
have followed the same practice.
They have had such places. It may have been a chair and shelf
where the Bible and prayer book are kept. It may have been a bedside or a corner in a busy office.

The Lord's Prayer is a model for all Christian praying. It keeps first things in the first place. Our human needs are postponed while we pray first of all for the great things of God, His name, His kingdom and His will. After we have set ourselves right in relation to these realities we are taught to come to God with our own needs, and the things we are to pray for are the simple, fundamental needs of life. All our praying should be in the spirit of this perfect prayer.

Holland's Top Horse, Rider
Entered in Oak Brook Races

Jerry Helder and Friars Melody,
the top rider and steeplechase horse in the Midwest circuit, will be out to retain their laurels when the cream of the horses and horsing fraternity converge on Chicago's Oak Brook course for one of the country's top fall timber races Saturday.

Helder, who tied former Hollander Austin Brown, with the most wins in the circuit last year, will be out to add further glint to the Oak Brook challenge cup which he won at the summer meeting.

Friars Melody owned by P. T.
Cheff, is rated one of the best timber topping horses in this sector. It has been entered in the Oakes race which is a three-mile race over timber. Cheff also has entered a green three-year-old filly, Moot, in the Kivu race, a 11
mile grind over hurdles.

Top challenge is expected from
Some Gold, owned by Chicagoan
Paul Butler, who is back after a year's retirement. Some Gold was given the top rating in 1948.

The racing program is the fourth Oak Brook race meeting and steeplechase and the first ever to be held in the fall in the Midwest.

Many of the nation's leading thoroughbreds, which compete in steeplechase and other barrier clearing races, will be in action.

Helder, in winning eight of 13 races last year, was rated the sixth top amateur rider in the country. Besides his eight firsts, he finished second twice and third
a like number of times.

Only One Salary Increase Granted By Allegan Board

Allegan (Special) — Allegan county supervisors made an increase of $400 in the county roll Friday where $10,000 had been requested.

The gain was given County Clerk Esther W. Hettinger. Other officers' salaries remained the same while no action was taken on the requested increases for deputies and employees.

Drain Commissioner William Teed lost a $200 raise by one vote after the board decided to ballot on each officer's salary separately. As finally set up, the elective officers' salaries are: Sheriff, $6,000; clerk, $4,000; treasurer, $3,600; prosecutor, $3,300; register of deeds, $3,000 and drain commissioner, $2,400.

The clerk's increase was in line with the board's policy that more work flows through that office than any others in the court house.

Earlier, a report allowing increases of $600 for the sheriff, $200 for the treasurer, and $200 for the drain commissioner was tabled for the noon recess. The new schedule was offered when the meeting resumed.

The board approved by an 18 to 8 vote the $30,000 budget asked by the health department, which represents $5,000 above last year. It decided not to enter into a lease on the county farm for oil prospecting until it is assured a "company is ready and willing to move right in and go to work."

Essenburg Sells Gas Heating Units

Essenburg Electric Co., 51 West Eighth St., sells a full line of gas heating equipment. The Timken silent automatic conversion gas burner and Janitrol gas heating equipment are handled by Mike Essenburg, owner and manager.

The Timken silent automatic improved principle of burning gas has been tested and proved through several heating seasons in thousands of homes throughout the country. The burner has only a single port through which the gas-air mixture is introduced into the heating plant. The blue-hot flame is scientifically deflected to all sides of the combustion chamber by a chrome-iron deflector. For this reason, the burner is described as a wall-flame burner.

The Janitrol heating equipment line includes winter air conditioners, forced air units, gravity furnaces, boilers—steam and hot water, triple service hot water system and unit heaters.

Essenburg Electric Co., which has been in the heating business for 20 years, also handles Duo-Therm and Temco heating units. Other items sold at the store include gas stoves and refrigerators and all electrical appliances.

Milk Producers Plan Meetings

All farmers that ship milk to Grand Rapids, Grand Haven, Holland, Muskegon and Zeeland are invited to attend a meeting scheduled at Holland town hall on Waverly Rd. Oct. 31 to discuss application for a federal milk marketing order.

A series of 11 meetings of milk producers in the area is scheduled beginning Oct. 23.

It was pointed out that conditions in the markets have deteriorated to a point nearing chaos and a federal order appears to be the only solution to the farmers' problem.

The Michigan Milk Producers association made application for a federal order in the Detroit market last spring and producers in the area now are awaiting final consideration by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

H. H. Varney, market analyst and Ted Laursen, director of the Michigan association, will attend the series of meetings to explain operation of federal orders as they now are effective in 38 large city markets throughout the United States.

Spring Lake Man New Member on Road Commission

Neal Van Leeuwen Wins
Out of Field of Nine;
Unanimous Vote Cast

Grand Haven (Special)—Out of a field of nine candidates, Neal Van Leeuwen, route 2, Spring Lake, was elected member of the Ottawa County Road commission at a meeting of the Board of Supervisors Friday afternoon.

Van Leeuwen, 51, is in the produce business and is in a position to devote considerable time to county interests. He is a member of Spring Lake Reformed church and recently visited the Netherlands where he had formerly lived. He is a member of the Spring Lake township board. He was named to a six-year term succeeding the late William Verduin.

Other candidates were Asa Kelly of Coopersville, Harry Sutter of Tallmadge township, Charles Lowing of Allendale township, Jack Lachman of Chester township, Peter J. Rycenga of Grand Haven, James De Spelder and Jacob Smith of Grand Haven and Eugene Batema of Holland.

On the first ballot Van Leeuwen received 10 votes, Rycenga 5, Kelly and Sutter 4 each, Lowing 2, and Lachman and Batema one each. The second ballot gave Van Leeuwen 17, a majority vote, and later a unanimous vote was cast in his behalf.

A report from the auditor general's office was submitted after the audit of the county books. It pointed out that "as noted in previous reports, we found some supervisors were employed by the sheriff and for other county services and received compensation, something which appears to be in violation and therefore should be discontinued."

The audit okayed reports by the treasurer, clerk, register of deeds, probate judge, sheriff, school superintendent, probation officer, social welfare board, and road commission, but as in 1927 again challenged the practice of the health department of paying mileage allowances for travel to and from work. It referred specifically to Sanitarian John H. Wyman, who has been attending University of Michigan since Oct. 1, 1929, who is paid half mileage from Ann Arbor to Grand Haven for part-time work in the county unit.

The building and grounds committee denied a claim entered by Mrs. Esther Lannin Gehrke of Grand Haven for injuries received in a fall down a court house stairs. The committee felt there were no defects in the building structure and no negligence on the part of the county.

Philip Rosbach, chairman of the building and grounds committee, reported on committee findings on a request from Probate Judge Frederick T. Miles for a padded cell for mental patients. Rosbach quoted Sheriff Jerry Vanderbeek that no county jail in Michigan has a padded cell. He said pads were taken out of the one cell in Grand Haven several years ago and the cell was turned into an office to issue drivers' licenses.

The sheriff said he would be willing to vacate the office should it be necessary to have another padded cell. The subject will be further discussed Tuesday afternoon when the sheriff will appear on matters pertaining to moving the kitchen from the basement to the first floor and improve the wiring.

Henry Slaughter suggested mental patients could be removed to the county infirmary pending hearings and transfers, although it would inconvenience the probate judge.

James Van Valkenburgh of Zeeland was reappointed director of the Social Welfare commission for a three-year term. Peter G. Damstra of Holland, James Scott of Coopersville and John Wichers of Zeeland were reappointed to the canvassing board.

The board adjourned until 1:30 p.m. Tuesday, allowing the taxes and apportionment committee to meet Monday besides, allowing some members to take advantage of the opening of the hunting season.

Girls' League Meets At Overisel Church

Members of the Girl's League societies of Holland classes, met Wednesday night in Overisel Reformed church for the annual fall rally. Eighteen churches were represented.

Miss Ann Foerster, domestic missionary of New York, took the girls on an imaginary tour of Brooklyn, describing the need for churches in that city. Mrs. A. E. Resch, representative of the women's board of domestic missions, was in charge of the devotions. Organist for the evening was Miss Evelyn Folkert and Mrs. George Poppen led the song service. Two solos were sung by Miss Mary Veldhuis, accompanied by Miss Marion Zwijhuizen.

Mrs. Joe Vander Wege, co-sponsor, gave offertory prayer. Miss Fannie De Kline, also a co-sponsor, led the group in closing with the Girls' League benediction.

Hunting season opened Sunday at 10 a.m. in the Lower Peninsula. And scores of hunters were out to bang away at opening time. As a rule, hunters stayed away from many Ottawa and Allegan county areas where no Sunday hunting signs were posted. Two nimrods from Colon, Mich., who came to the Holland area to do their hunting Sunday didn't notice the "No Hunting" signs on a farmer's property and returned to find the air let out of the tires on their car. An especially popular hunting area was the thick growths in the Hudsonville area. Arthur Dean (left) of Grand Rapids, had his limit of pheasants at 5 p.m. He used a 410 gauge single barrel shotgun. Others in his party who bagged birds were Curtis Ducherols (center) and Carl Andrews, both of Grand Rapids. The group was hunting a mile east of Hudsonville in a clearing about 100 yards from M-21.

"Puerto Ricans are thirsty for knowledge; they try hard and pick up basic skills with unbelievable speed. They react marvelously to responsibility," the speaker said.

Color sound-films of the island were shown following Mrs. Keeler's discussion.

Mrs. Bruce Mikula, regent, presided at the meeting which opened with the customary patriotic service. Mrs. W. C. Vandenberg, Mrs. Milton L. Hinga and Mrs. F. E. De Weese.

Tulip Garden Club Hears First Plant Pathologist

"Anyone can grow Roses," Dr. Cynthia Westcott, of Glen Ridge, N. J., told members of the Holland Tulip Garden club Thursday afternoon at their meeting in Hope church parish hall. Dr. Westcott, the first professional plant pathologist, is known as "the plant doctor" in New Jersey and New York where she diagnoses plant ailments, prescribes and administers treatments. She published a book, "The Plant Doctor," and contributes to a New York newspaper garden section and a gardening magazine.

At an average of only one hour per week, Dr. Westcott said, one can care for up to 400 roses. And by using various types one can have roses six months of the year. Pruning in the spring, feeding three times a year, spraying weekly from May first to mid-October, watering when necessary, and hilling plants for the winter in mid-November are the essential things to do. April and Oct. 15 to Nov. 15 are the best months for planting, she said.

The speaker gave the procedure for correct preparation for soil, with pointers for insuring long life of the rose bed. She described common rose enemies and suggested controls. In this connection, she spoke of lady beetles as the gardener's friend because they destroy aphids.

Monochromatic arrangements of chrysanthemums were made by Mrs. Fred Pickel and Mrs. Thaddeus Taft.

Mrs. J. J. Brower presided. Mrs. T. F. Coleman, program chairman, assisted in showing slides of Dr. Westcott's rose garden.

During the meeting, the club's first year book was distributed to members. The 34-page booklet with an attractive cover, designed by Mrs. Paul Fredrickson, Jr., was edited by Mrs. L. W. Lamé, Sr., and Mrs. A. W. Tahaney.

Allegan Ranks 10th in Retailing

Allegan (Special)—Allegan county ranked 10th in the state during August for merchandise retailing, a large share of which represented tourist trade, the board of supervisors was told Wednesday.

A total of $1,186,305 in business was done in August, resulting in a sales payment of $90,981, a gain of $35,000 over a non-tourist month such as March. The information came from Rolfin T. White, representing the Michigan Tourist and Resort Association, in seeking its annual $300 appropriation from the county for advertising.

The grant was made, along with $300 for Michigan Children's Aid Society; $300 to the Salvation Army, and $400 for apiaary inspection service.

The board planned to meet this morning to elect a county election canvassing board.

It agreed to appropriate $97 for a new tile floor in the jail kitchen after hearing a commendation from W. H. Nestle, state jail inspector, on the condition and supervision of the county jail.

Friday the 13th Doesn't Bother Zeeland Gridders

Zeeland (Special)—The fact that it was Friday the 13th didn't phase Zeeland high school Friday night for its annual homecoming festivities and football encounter against Otsego.

The high-powered Chix defeated their Tri-County league rivals by the appropriate score of 13-0. It was Zeeland's 12th straight victory and put the Chix on the top run of the league standings.

In pre-game ceremonies, Jack Kole crowned Shirley Walters queen of the homecoming before 2,000 fans.

As for the game, it was rough and the Chix dominated offensive play all the way. Zeeland outdistanced the visitors in the first down department 13-3.

Many penalties against both teams slowed the game considerably. At one junction during the fourth quarter, there were three penalties on as many plays. One Zeeland player and two from Otsego were sidelined because of personal fouls during the fourth stanza.

Zeeland looked as though it was headed for a rout in the opening minutes. The Chix took the kick-off and moved down the field all the way to Otsego's 14-yard line before losing the ball on a fumble.

It wasn't until the second quarter that the home team broke into the scoring column. The payoff drive covered 64 yards in nine plays. Mike Myard went over for the climax on an off tackle play from the four-yard line. He missed the attempted conversion.

A break set up Zeeland's second TD. An Otsego punt was low and hit the Zeeland forward wall. Gerald Kiekover pounced on the ball on Otsego's 15. It took Bern Raterink just two plays to cross the double stripe. This time Myard made his boot good and the Chix had their 13 points.

For the Chix, Wagner, Raterink and Myard were offensive standouts. Wagner and Barry Van Koeveering were the defensive stars. Warfield and Senese were the Otsego highlights.

Blocking and tackling was sloppy for both sides, coaches conceded after the game.

Big Reds Continue To Hold Sway Over Dutch Teams

Contest Lacks Usual Sparkle; 8,500 Turn Out to See the Game

Muskegon—The Big Reds from Muskegon high school continued their stranglehold on the football fortunes of Holland high Friday night, with an unimpressive 14-0 victory over the invaders before 8,500 fans at Muskegon.

In a game that lacked the usual sparkle of high school encounters, the two teams found themselves battling for the most part in the middle section of huge Hackley field, with neither team offering many real scoring threats.

Coach Harry Potter's charges scored both touchdowns at unexpected moments. The first came early in the second quarter on a beautiful 30-yard pass play from Bruce Bosma to Red Scarff. The second marker crossed in the third stanza when Bosma picked up some nice blocking and ran 54 yards for the score.

Only once did the Dutchmen knock on Muskegon's door. In the first period after the Reds had taken a Tom Maentz punt on their own 43, Potter's pupils failed to move, with three plays netting three yards. Scarff dropped back to boot, and end Bob Armstrong broke through, blocking the punt which rolled back to the 20 where Roger Hill gathered it in.

With 20 to go for a touchdown, battering Bob Tasma went over tackle for nine and Ron Bekius sneaked through to the ten for a first down. On the next set, Tasma got the Dutch off right with a five yard effort to the five-yard stripe. Ron Dalman was stopped for no gain, and Tasma took a pitchout from Bekius on the next play. But Bob slipped in trying to skirt the end, and ended up losing three yards. From the eight, Bekius tried to hit Armstrong in the end zone with a pass which fell incomplete. The home boys took over on their own eight.

On second down, Scarff—who proved the thorn in coach Bob Stupka's side all evening—got off a beautiful kick which went to Tom Carey on the Holland 27 for distance totaling 64 yards. When three plays failed to gain for the Dutch, Maentz punted out of bounds on the Muskegon 20 for another beautiful boot covering 45 yards.

It was at this point that the Reds started their first touchdown drive.

With Bosma and Scarff alternating on handoffs from quarterback Earl Morrill, and Bill Butterfield battering the line in the middle, Muskegon moved for four first downs in a row to the Holland 35. Butterfield smashed for four off tackle. Then Bosma threw a perfect strike to Scarff in the end zone for a 31 yard gain and a Big Red touchdown. Morrill's kick from placement was good.

With 22 seconds to play in the first half, Potter's charges again threatened when Morrill opened a pass barrage to take the pigskin to the Holland 10. Then a pass on the flat intended for Scarff was snatched by Tasma on the five, and Scarff in desperation reached for Big Bob, snagging his shoe and bringing him down. No other Red player stood between Bob and the goal line 55 yards away.

Muskegon received the kickoff opening the third period, and proceeded to march for their second score, after Armstrong's boot went into the end zone. Assignments by Bosma, Scarff, Morrill and Dick Fett netted two first downs and found the skin on the Muskegon 46. Then Bosma took a handoff from Morrill, swept his left end, cut back in, picked up nice blocking and galloped 54 yards for a score. Morrill passed to end Dave Cook in the end zone for the point.

Both Muskegon and Holland played conservative games, with much punting resulting. Statistics gave a wide range in offense to the victors, with 278 total offense as compared with Holland's 55 yards. The Dutch failed to complete a pass.

Red quarterback Earl Morrill kept the plays mixed up, and sent Bosma, Scarff, Butterfield and Fett through the line and around ends at what seemed to be the exactly right moment. Bosma and Scarff, with their passing and punting, kept the Dutch second-off balance much of the evening.

For Holland, Tasma played his usual all-state caliber game, both on offense and defense. Carey picked up the same trouble he had against South last week, and was consistently thrown for losses. Glenn Eensenburg was a standout at his linebacker position, and Doug Hazebrook helped matters out with a couple of good blocks. Bekius, too, looked good on defense.

Play on both sides was uninspired. Tackling, especially for the Dutch, was often lackadaisical, and frequently tried end sweeps gained practically nothing.

Carey, Eensenburg and Paul Klomparsen were each forced out of action due to temporary injuries, but all three were in the contest at the end.

The second half was played in a light drizzle.

Are You Superstitious? Skip It on Friday, 13th

It's Friday the 13th today, but superstitious persons were assured er day.

Besides, the sun shone beautifully and it was just the right kind of a day to take a motor trip—a color tour no less—driving carefully, of course.

In Chicago, members of the national safety council managers conference—the people who direct accident prevention work in hundreds of U.S. communities—held a business meeting today, Friday the 13th.

In Dayton, O., William B. Collins and his wife took pride in their "13" record. Today was their 13th wedding anniversary. Next month, Collins will celebrate his birthday—on the 13th. The Collins have 13 nieces and nephews. Collins lived in Spring Valley, O., 13 years before moving to Dayton.

What's more, he recalled he had just 13 cents in change in his pocket the day he was married.

The fear of Friday, and the number 13, goes back many hundreds of years. Originally, Friday was considered a day of good luck, devoted to Venus, goddess of love.

In the days before Christianity, the day Friday was reserved for important events, and some educators believe the change in opinion may have taken place because Christ was crucified on Friday.

The number 13 is a bit more difficult to explain. At one time the number 3 was regarded as a "powerful" force, it is believed placing the numeral 1 in front of it supposedly interfered with the 3, thus making the number 13 an unlucky one.

Meanwhile, safety promotion agencies suggested the worst thing about a broken mirror is not seven years of bad luck, but the danger of cutting one's fingers on the broken pieces. "Sweep it up carefully with a broom and dustpan," is their advice.

Wed in Saugatuck Church

Miss Joyce Marie Hacklander and Harvey J. Busscher spoke their marriage vows Saturday at 8 p.m. in a candlelight service in Saugatuck Congregational church. The Rev. H. E. Maycroft officiated at the double ring service.

Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. Johnson Fox sang "My Hero" and Mr. Fox sang "Because." They were accompanied by Miss Cornelia Koning, organist. She also played the wedding marches as the altar following the exchange of vows. Mr. Fox sang "The Lord's Prayer."

Bridal attendants were Miss Peggy Anderson, maid of honor, and Mrs. Gerald Bekken and Mrs. Leonard Krueger, sisters of the bride, bridesmaids. John Diepenhorst attended the groom as best man. Ushers were Bill Hacklander and Henry Busscher, brothers of the bride and groom.

The bride wore a gown of white slipper satin fashioned with fitted bodice, sweetheart neckline and a bustle back skirt ending in a long train. She wore a fingertip nylon illusion veil held in place by a braided white satin tiara. Her pinnacle bouquet was made up of white roses, carnations and mums and ivy.

The maid of honor wore a bitersweet gown with a bertha type collar, fitted bodice and floor length skirt gathered in the back. Mrs. Bekken wore an identical chartruese gown and Mrs. Krueger, a light grey in the same style. They all wore matching mitts and wore tiaras of bronze mums and yellow daisies. Their pinnacle bouquets included white carnations, rust and bronze mums and yellow daisies.

About 160 guests attended the reception in the church parlors. Out-of-town guests came from Chicago, Holland, Hamilton, Grand Haven and Lansing. Mrs. Lloyd Engle served at the punch bowl and Mrs. Charles Davis cut the wedding cake. Others assisting at the reception were Mrs. Jack Wicks, Miss Mary Webster, Mrs. Clem Jorgensen and Miss Jessie Viets.

A visit to the Hamilton Farm Bureau easily winds up at the retail poultry and egg counter. Clark Brody, executive secretary of the Michigan Farm Bureau, Dean E. L. Anthony of Michigan State college, and Waldo Phillips of the Michigan Association of Farm Co-operatives, examine the Hamilton products with the co-op's top salesman, Manager Andrew Lohman, behind counter.

Prosperous Hamilton Farm Bureau Attracts Nationwide Attention

Hamilton (Special) — Foreseeing a more prosperous era for farmers now they are at last realizing they are businessmen, Dean E. L. Anthony of Michigan State college told visitors to the Hamilton Farm Bureau Tuesday that better organized, better operated, and better financed co-operatives are coming into Michigan's agriculture picture.

The occasion was Michigan's annual co-op day which brought about 200 visitors from co-operatives all over the state to the Allegan county village, known coast to coast for its successful cooperative.

Sharing the speaker's platform with Anthony was C. L. Brody, executive secretary of the Michigan Association of Farmers Co-operatives and the Michigan Farm Bureau; Waldo Phillips of the state association; Andrew Lohman, manager of the Hamilton co-op, and Allegan county agent A. D. Morley. Tours of the co-operative's extensive farm service and marketing facilities were made morning and afternoon, while the visitors learned how 41 million dollars worth of business was done here last year.

Announcing the approach of the co-op's 30th anniversary, Lohman said the 1,500 stockholders and patrons would gather for a birthday celebration next Tuesday. Jack Yeager, assistant secretary of the Michigan Farm Bureau, and Brody will be the speakers on that program.

Brody lauded the Hamilton co-op in particular and all co-operatives in general in being the biggest voice.

"Organization has become the farmer's biggest asset," he said. "Farm co-operatives are not a movement, not an institution of socialism, but is merely an extension of farm operations."

Brody said some interests are still out to "get the co-operatives," and that each farm bureau must get its own house in order and under good management to survive.

The story of the Hamilton co-op was outlined by Lohman and Morley to show how it grew from a membership of less than 100 men to the state's biggest and most diversified farmer's co-op. An original investment of $13,820 has turned into a business with assets of a half-million dollars that Lohman said had "developed itself" with the loyalty and support of its farmers.

The day's speakers and many of the visitors, however, were apt to give a lion's share of the credit to Lohman himself, who has been manager of the co-op almost since its inception. Tagged the "Wizard of Hamilton," Lohman was lauded by Phillips as the kind of leader few co-operatives were fortunate enough to secure.
