Woman, 37, 'Fair' After Physicians Remove Bullet

Mrs. Fred Stoutemire Held in Jail Pending Victim's Recovery

A 37-year-old Holland woman who was shot in the stomach Monday night after an argument with a neighbor was in fair condition Tuesday at Holland Hospital.

Doctors operated on Mrs. Katherine Simpson, 37, of 5289 North 136th Ave. for removal of a .32 caliber bullet.

The bullet had pierced her left side and lodged just under the skin in her back. Doctors said the slug missed vital organs.

Ottawa County Sheriff Gerald Vanderbeek said Mrs. Margaret Stoutemire, 25, of 5311 North 136th Ave. admitted firing the bullet from a .32 revolver.

Mrs. Stoutemire told deputies the victim drove up alongside her as she walked to a store on 136th Ave. around 5 p.m. Monday and accused her of "running around" with her husband, Albert Simpson.

Mrs. Stoutemire said she went back home and told her husband, Fred, 51, about the argument with Mrs. Simpson.

The two decided to go next door to the Simpson home and "straighten things out." As they walked across an open field separating their homes, Mrs. Stoutemire said Mrs. Simpson came running out of her home with a big spoon in her hand.

In the struggle the gun was pulled by Mrs. Stoutemire and fired. The women continued fighting until Mrs. Stoutemire's husband and an uncle, Emmett Brown pulled them apart.

Brown rushed Mrs. Simpson to the hospital in his car. Deputies said neither of the husbands were involved in the fight and Albert Simpson didn't come out of the house at all during the scuffle.

Mrs. Stoutemire was being held in the Holland jail on an open charge pending the outcome of Mrs. Simpson's condition.

Simpson is out on bond awaiting trial on a felonious assault charge against his wife involving an attack with a gun last month.

COMMUNITY CHEST AND RED CROSS campaign Chairman Edwin Raphael (left) took time out briefly this morning before going hunting to receive a pledge of $27,600 from Mayo Hadden, treasurer of the Single Solicitation Plan, Inc. Hadden said 25 of the 57 firms enrolled in the SSP have reported 100 percent and he urges the others to hasten pledges. Recent 100 percenters include Steketee-Van Huis Printing Co., William J. Bradford Paper Co. and IXL Machine Co. Meanwhile, the house-to-house canvass is moving ahead. However, Raphael urges that folks take into consideration the fact that the $52,143 budget is some $12,000 more than last year because Red Cross is entering Community Chest for the first time. He has adopted the cry, "Give $1 More Than Ever Before."

Hope College Students Set to Welcome Alumni

Hope College students are all set to welcome "the old grads" this weekend in the 1955 version of Homecoming.

Activities actually get underway this evening with the opening performance of Palette and Masque's homecoming play, "The Late Christopher Bean." The play will be given in the Little Theatre, Science Building, at 8 p.m., and will be repeated Friday and Saturday evenings at 8.

A spirited Frosh-Soph pull is expected to attract a large crowd of students and townspeople at 4 p.m. Friday, at the traditional site on Black River. Teams of coeds will spur on the tugging teams until one is dragged through the chilly waters. For several years, the pull has been eliminated from Homecoming activities and held during Freshman initiation week.

Chairman Gord Hondorp reports committees have completed plans for all other events.

Judging of house decorations, all based on "Book Titles," will take place at 6:45 p.m. Friday. Fraternity Society has chosen "Westward, Ho!"; Cosmos, "The High and the Mighty"; Emersonians, "The Pilot"; Arcadians, "To the Light-house"; Knickerbockers, "The Wizard of Oz"; Van Vleck Hall, "The Little Engine That Could"; Voorhees, "Anchor of Hope"; Duffee, "Through the Looking Glass."

Judging is based on construction, appropriateness, originality, and primarily, general effectiveness. Judges are Bill Gargano of radio station WITC; Arthur Read, architect for the Holland Board of Education; and Mrs. Carl C. Van Raalte of The Sentinel.

Co-chairmen of the decorations committee, Ethel Smith and Ed Vander Kooy, will conduct the judges on two surveys of the houses. Loving cups will be awarded at the Saturday football game to the winning men's and women's residences.

Highlight of Friday evening events will be coronation of the homecoming queen, Isla Van Eenennaam, at a pep rally at 7:30 on the Athletic Field. The queen and her court will be escorted by eight senior members of the football team. Football captains John Adams and Lynn Post will present the queen her jeweled crown, gold

Speed Limits Boosted in Few Locations Here

City Council Wednesday night passed a resolution changing speed limits in some sections of the city.

Speed limit was raised to 30 miles an hour on North River Ave. from First St. north to the city limits and to 20 miles on 32nd St. from Michigan to Ottawa Ave.

Speed limit in Kollen park was set at 10 miles an hour. Council also made 32nd St. a through St. from Van Raalte to Ottawa Ave.

Besides that, City Manager Herb Holst presented a report outlining a survey available from the Automobile Club of Michigan as a public service covering parking, signing, traffic patterns, street traffic flow layouts, high and low points of enforcement and other matters. This service involves a staff of six to nine men working a six-day period at a cost to the club of $5,000 to $8,000.

Council also passed a resolution which would allow parking on the east side of Pile Ave. from 17th St. north to the alley line, in the vicinity of Wesleyan Methodist Church. Previously Council had limited parking in the entire block to allow school buses to pick up students there, but the school has let it be known a half block for this purpose would be sufficient.

After delaying action for two weeks, Council approved the city manager's recommendation to have Blue Cross and Blue Shield hospital and surgical insurance for city employees. Motion to adopt this service was made by Councilman John Van Eerden and seconded by Bernice Bishop.

Approval was given a Board of Public Works recommendation for a contract with Industrial Piping Service for $1,030 for furnishing and installing a gas-fired heating boiler complete with control and certain items in the existing boiler room of the pumping station at the sewage treatment plant, said expenditure having been included in the estimate of $77,500 previously approved by Council.

Council set Nov. 2 as date to review special assessment rolls and hear objections to laying sanitary sewers in 31st St., Maple to Michigan, 890, and Ottawa Ave., 24th to 26th, 810.

City Clerk Clarence Greengard reported that written comments had been received from Ernst and Ernst, independent auditors, relative to the audit of several city funds and practices and procedures to improve budgetary controls and to facilitate the handling of accounting records of the city.

A special meeting of Council, boards and administrative heads is scheduled Nov. 9.

The matter of installing sanitary sewers in Wildwood subdivision was referred to the city manager for report. Specifically, sewers were listed for 30th St., Van Raalte to Harrison; 31st St., Van Raalte west to end of Becker's subdivision; 32nd St., Van Raalte west to end of Becker's subdivision; Ottawa, 26th to 32nd; 28th, Ottawa to Cleveland; 31st, Ottawa to Cleveland; 32nd, Ottawa to Cleveland; Fairhill Dr., Cleveland to dead end; Cleveland, Fairhill Dr. to Wildwood.

The city manager also presented a report on a petition for paving West 29th St. between Van Raalte and Wildwood Dr. and paving Wildwood Dr. and recommended that the area be included in the 1956 program on a tentative basis due to the fact that the council is to install a culvert and paving is not possible until said culvert is completed. Paving East 29th St. from State to Lincoln also was placed on the 1956 program.

School Children Help Swell Crouds In Ottawa County

Opening Day Barrage Results in a Few Hunters Being Wounded

There's meat on the table to night—and chances are it's pheasant.

Birds were plentiful, the weather was fine and all in all, today was one of the grandest of all openings of the pheasant hunting season in Michigan.

Ottawa and Allegan counties, where pheasant population is at a peak, had hardly a field without a hunter throughout the day. Highways and by-ways were lined with cars and armies of sportsmen, guns in hand, opened up the tremendous barrage at 10 a.m.

Only one area in the entire state is said to be better than the Holland-Zeeland-Grandville area, according to the Conservation Department. Best in Michigan is the Thumb area. But, this area's excellent rating helps to attract hunters from all over the state and neighboring states. Add to that the

Kalamazoo Man Dies Hunting Pheasants

A Kalamazoo man was dead on arrival at Holland Hospital at 1 p.m. today—a short time after he complained of being tired while hunting pheasants near 124th and Van Buren Aves.

Charles C. Cerrony, 42, of 622 North Westside, Kalamazoo, was believed to have died of a heart attack.

Ottawa County deputies said his hunting companions said Cerrony had just finished chasing across a field to retrieve a fallen pheasant when he sat down exhausted.

TI companions, Lawrence Goff, Kalamazoo, and Robert Strong, route 1, Galesburg, said as Cerrony got to his feet his gun fell from his hand and he toppled over.

young sports enthusiasts, released from school for two days because of Teachers Institute, and you have an army which makes the Light Brigade look like a patrol.

Many hunters had at least one bird shortly after the opening guns. The majority bagged at least one bird. And even if they didn't—it was a beautiful day.

Conservation Officer Harold Bowditch and his five helpers who covered the area, were generally pleased with the nimrod's behavior. Bowditch said there were a few shots before 10 a.m., but on the whole, everyone behaved and everyone had a good time. Conditions were extremely favorable, and the only complaints came from some hunters with bird dogs who didn't like the brisk winds.

Bowditch said hunting "pressure" was about normal for the opening day, with most hunters again concentrated in the Zeeland-Borealis area.

Perfection of the day was somewhat marred by hunting accidents, which took their toll within a few hours after the season opened.

Clarence Nyenhuis, Zeeland, was hit in the right temple by pellets and Richard Van Der Lind, 19, Muskegon, was shot in the back and legs. Both were treated at Zeeland Hospital.

Three others were taken to Holland Hospital for treatment and discharged. Oliver Furlan, Benton Harbor, was hit in the neck; Richard Keen, Kalamazoo, suffered pellet wounds in both legs and the right arm, and John Wiseman, Muskegon, was struck in the nose by several pellets.

Starting tomorrow, hours for small game hunting, except migratory game birds, is 6 a.m. to 7 p.m. Pheasant limit is two birds per day, with eight roosters allowed for the season.

Although pheasants were the main target, today also marked the opening for squirrels, rabbits, grouse, raccoons, woodchucks and woodcock.

Appreciative Audience Grets First Concert

Many Arraigned On Traffic Counts In Municipal Court

A large appreciative audience gathered in Civic Center Thursday night for the first concert of the 1953-54 season of the Holland Civic Music Association, featuring Arthur Ferrante and Louis Teicher, duo pianists whose fusion of flawless effort provided a most satisfying performance.

Perhaps this flawless technique was best demonstrated in the earlier numbers by such composers as Mozart, Brahms, Liszt, Ravel and Rachmaninoff, but as expected the pair received heaviest applause for its lighter numbers at the close, particularly the enthusiastic encores.

The two musicians have had strangely parallel careers, both displaying talent almost in infancy and each starting to play by ear at the age of two. They met as children at the Juilliard School of Music in New York City and started playing together almost immediately. Early in 1946 they made their professional debut as duopianists.

Both artists introduced some numbers, usually with a pleasant surprise that amused the audience. Attracting the most attention was their own composition "African Echoes," in which they "prepared" their pianos with gadgets of their own invention to produce different and perhaps weird sound effects.

Another novelty was "Canons for Cats" referring to hecats instead of alley cats, written especially for Ferrante and Teicher by Alec Templeton. The duo's own "American Fantasy" based on "When Johnny Comes Marching Home" was particularly well received.

Among the welcome encores was their own arrangement of Ravel's "Bolero." Other encores included an arrangement of the tango "Jalousie," a Latin American selection, and the rousing march, "Stars and Stripes Forever," by John Philip Sousa.

The piece de resistance of Thursday's program included Mozart's "Sonata in D Major, K. 448," Brahms' "Variations on a Theme by Joseph Haydn" and Liszt's "Concerto Pathétique."

The second concert will be given on Nov. 18 featuring the Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra.

Dutch Teacher's Doing Fine at Holland High

By Herman Besselink

We went back to school the other day, not to learn about square roots and the like but to see a Dutchman with a British accent tackle the problem of teaching American youngsters.

Watching him for over an hour from behind a desk in a junior High Annex classroom, we found Dr. Jan W. Kievenaar of Rotterdam, the Netherlands, already has become popular with his students.

Of course, there're the whispered comments of the boys and girls when the exchange teacher pronounces a word the way it's done in the House of Lords in London. But their respect for Kievenaar's wide knowledge is genuine and their curiosity starts off some fine discussions on just about everything under the sun.

Kievenaar's favorite subject is Dutch literature though he feels equally at home with history and geography both of which he's teaching at Holland High.

The sturdy, 34-year-old Dutchman has been here since the beginning of this semester but he soon discovered that the American system of sending all children to the same high school entails some problems.

A child in the Netherlands can pick from several types of high school, his or her choice depending upon capacity as well as special interests. Also, the annual screening is rather thorough.

Here, Kievenaar says, one often finds youngsters of much more widely varying interests and abilities in the same classroom. That, he thinks is "pretty hard" on the teacher as well as the kids some of whom have nothing in common but their age.

There are lots of things that strike the numerous, quick-minded Dutch scholar as "typically American." The kids' passion for facts and statistics rather than meanings and ideas; their interest in football; the freedom they enjoy during class hours; their many social activities — and a thousand others.

After school, Kievenaar's learning about other aspects of American life as he gets along fine with his new colleagues and often visits their homes. However, even during the hours of leisure he can't always escape lecturing. Comments from local people prove his talks on his native country are highly appreciated.

Dr. Kievenaar got his degree in Dutch at the University of Utrecht. For several years he has been teaching at high schools in his home town Rotterdam. He attended the American Seminary at Salzburg, Germany before coming to the United States.

At Holland High School, the guest teacher has taken over the duties of Miss Barbara Lampen who is spending a year in the Netherlands, teaching history at a high school in Ede, province of Gelderland.

Library Adventures

What is "robust fiction?" The question is suggested by a phrase on which the reporters covering the Eisenhower illness in Denver agreed with a unanimity that was no less than astonishing. All of them assured the American people that the President is a lover of "robust fiction." That was apparently the only kind of fiction he allowed hospital attendants to read to him or that later he perused for himself.

That much the headlines told us. When we finally got down to the fine print, about a quarter of a column further on, "robust fiction" turned out to be the good old familiar detective story that "tired business men" and harassed statesmen and top-notch scientists are supposed to be partial to. The American people were given the assurance that their President is in no sense one of those goofy highbrows who read from choice the kind of novels that win Nobel prizes; he takes to the "Who done it" variety.

Why that kind of fiction should be classified as "robust" is not too easy to answer. But let that pass. After all, what is an adjective more or less among friends?

Of greater interest than such semantic precision is the fact that the story of the President's fiction reading choices was so obviously political that it was almost funny. Not that the President himself had anything to do with the announcement. But a President, any President, has a public relations department. And it is the business of such people to throw the most favorable light on the boss that will eventually result in votes for the party.

Those public relations boys know full well that the American people are deeply suspicious of "highbrows." They also know that the American voter is firmly convinced that novel reading is frivolous, many of them even going so far as to feel that it is faintly wicked.

No statesman can afford to be known as a novel reader. But during the past half century or so the voters have agreed that if the novels are "mysteries" or "Who done it's" a regular he-man statesman may safely be addicted to them. He is merely resting his mind from really "serious" affairs, the way anyone may do a crossword puzzle between important political conferences.

Allegan City Hall Needs Repairing; Now Fire Hazard

Attendance Limited After Fire Marshal Inspects Building

ALLEGAN (Special) — Although Deputy Fire Marshal Walter Burns' order limiting attendance at meetings in city hall to 25 persons may serve to prevent Wednesday night's hearing into alleged irregularities in municipal affairs from becoming a three-ring circus, city officials realize it may prove expensive in the long run.

When he issued the order, Burns also indicated that he planned to appear before the city council soon regarding the overall condition of city hall which has long been under threat of condemnation as a fire and safety hazard.

Need for a new building to house fire apparatus has long been recognized by the fire department and city officials. As long as 10 years ago the city began a sinking fund for the purpose of building a new fire hall and chances are that fund will be reactivated as a result of Burns' action.

At Monday night's city council meeting, council members approved for first reading a change in the water works ordinance of 1943 which would raise the minimum water rate from 60 cents to $1. Increases in connection charges of 10 to 20 percent are also included in the proposed amendment. City Manager P. H. Beauvais indicated the increase in the minimum rate would bring in the minimum rate would not be affected.

Beauvais was directed to go to Lansing today to attend the opening of bids on the widening of Grand St. from North Main to the new M-118 bridge. The project also includes widening of about 70 feet of River St. at its intersection with Grand to provide for three lanes of traffic at that point.

Also on the agenda Monday night: Authorization of the mayor and clerk to negotiate a lease with the C&O Railroad to use the line's right of way for a new high voltage transmission line; authorization for Beauvais to obtain cost estimates for repairs to the Griswold building roof, and to purchase a second hand roller for the street department for $200.

The council also approved renewal of contracts between the city and Trowbridge and Allegan townships under which the city agrees to house township fire apparatus and to furnish drivers in exchange for a small annual rental plus the privilege of using the equipment at city fires.

Thieves 'Borrow' Tow Truck to Free Auto

Burglars who entered the service station on US-31 near 16th St. sometime Tuesday escaped without trouble even though their car was stuck in the mud.

The thieves used the gas station's tow truck to pull their car to freedom and left the truck sitting in the mud.

Ottawa County deputies said entrance was gained by smashing a panel in a rear window and then reaching through to unlock the catch.

Approximately $5 in change was taken plus a quantity of gum, candy and anti-freeze.

VNA Provides Nursing Care In The Home

Due to the acute lack of hospital beds or lack of money, almost four-fifths of the sick may be cared for in their homes. Going into the homes to instruct a member of the family how to carry on are the public health nurses.

In addition, in the United States are small group of nurses known as the Visiting Nurse Association and these nurses go directly into the homes to give bedside care to the patient.

One of these select few is Mrs. Angie Van Hoven, Holland's visiting nurse. Of Dutch descent, growing up with and knowing the people in the community she has a personal concern in the city's health.

A graduate registered nurse, she has had several years of training and experience. She left the profession for a short time when she married but returned to give service in the Visiting Nurse Association because of the great need for nursing care in the home.

"I can nurse rich and poor alike in the Visiting Nurse Association service," she says, "and give service to so many this way who might otherwise be deprived when they need it."

The Visiting Nurse Association is one of the agencies in Holland's Community Chest, and this year $3,600 is earmarked for it. When possible, the patients pay the association's $2.50 per hour fee. However, about an equal number of patients can and do pay only part of the fee, according to their ability. Organizations such as Old Age Assistance and direct relief, and this helps support the service. The rest comes under the Community Chest as it serves the entire city and Community Chest area. Many requests have come from the Zeeland area but it is with regret that these calls cannot be included.

Mrs. Van Hoven made 2,203 calls this year, averaging eight or nine calls a day. She stops at fashionable homes or modest homes. She may see a pneumonia patient or give a shot to an anemia case. Later she may visit a new baby and mother, and a couple of chronic invalids needing baths or general care. There were 200 more local calls than last year.

The first good neighbor helping the sick has grown into the Visiting Nurse Service, organized in 1859 in England and started in America in 1885. Holland is marking its sixth anniversary.

Working under doctor's orders, the Visiting Nurse gives bedside care, health instructions to all people unable to go to a hospital, and at the end of the year she has earned a much needed vacation. Mrs. Van Hoven and her husband are currently taking a trip, but she has arranged for two nurses to care for her patients while she is away.

Kickoff Coffee Kletz Opens Chest Campaign

Few Offensive Highlights Seen In 25-0 Victory

Holland High's gridders won their second straight game of the season at Riverview Park Friday night by stopping Dowagiac, 25-0.

But it was a couple of breaks, a long run and a successful pass game that gave the game the one-sided sound.

The Dutch, listless the entire first half, picked up somewhat in the second half but for the most part it was a "poorly played game."

Tom Klomparsen scored Holland's first touchdown with 4:37 remaining in the first half. He crashed over from the one after Dutch guard Terry Hofmeyer recovered a fumbled punt catch on the Dowagiac 29 nine plays earlier.

The 29-yard advance was aided by a fourth down 10-yard pass play from quarterback Tom Stoel to halfback Ron Van Dyke. Van Dyke missed the extra point.

Holland had the ball 22 scrimmage plays in the third period and pretty well controlled play.

Van Dyke scored on a 57-yard romp off tackle with 1:12 left in the third period. He shot off tackle and down the sidelines to score.

The Dutch downfield blocking on the play was good and the run was one of the few offensive highlights of Holland's game.

A fourth down "gamble" pass provided Holland with its third touchdown.

The Dutch, rather than "freeze" the ball with line plays in the late stages, chose to wing it all over the field.

Three times, with the ball on Dowagiac 43, Dutch backs threw to various corners.

Van Dyke caught end Norm Witteveen with a pass on the Chiefs' one on fourth down to set up the score.

Stoel sneaked through guard for the score and Van Dyke kicked the extra point. The score came with 8:50 remaining in the game.

Center Leroy Fogarty pounced on quarter back Neff's fumble on the Holland 44 to give Holland the ball prior to the long pass.

Neff was hit and the ball flew about four feet in the air and Fogarty fell on it as it hit the ground.

Rog Ramsey, defensive halfback, picked off a Dowagiac pass with six minutes left and scampered 37 yards for the final touchdown. Tom Aye's extra point attempt was missed.

Only in the third quarter did the Dutch resemble the team that beat Grand Haven last week and fought Muskegon Heights to a 7-6 loss.

The line failed to charge and the backs were not running hard. Tacklers were slipping off Dowagiac backs and blockers were glancing off foes.

Klomparsen, who was rewarded with the first touchdown, looked the best in the first half and Van Dyke's run was pleasing.

Dowagiac, with a roster of 28 men and three straight setbacks, ground out 49 yards to Holland's eight in the first quarter. The Dutch took the upper hand in the second period and made 37 yards while holding the Chiefs' to a minus one yard.

The 57-yard romp helped Holland's total of 80 yards rushing in the third quarter. Dowagiac handled the ball only eight times for six yards.

Coach Dale Shearer emptied the Holland bench in the final quarter and Dowagiac rolled up 73 yards to Holland's six.

The Dutch collected 133 yards rushing and the Chiefs had 127. Holland's big gain was in the passing department. This could well be the Dutch offense in future contests.

With Stoel, Van Dyke and right halfback Dick Den Uyl throwing 16 passes, Holland completed six, including two long ones of 42 and 28 yards, and totaled 111 yards through the air.

Holland managed 10 first downs and Dowagiac seven.

The Chiefs started the game by driving to the Holland 12, for the best march made by Dowagiac

More than 100 volunteer workers for the Community Chest and Red Cross campaign gathered in the Warm Friend Tavern Friday afternoon for a kickoff coffee kletz. In all, more than 400 persons are working on the campaign which opens officially Monday.

Campaign Chairman Edwin Raphael gave a pep talk, citing "selling" methods and the need of being enthusiastic about the product. He explained the background of Community Chest and said in comparison with other cities, Holland's quota is low.

Co-Chairman James Taylor told the volunteers what had been done in the way of advance preparation for the 1955 drive. He emphasized the necessity of getting the work done quickly and making prompt reports to the Community Chest office on the second floor of the Model Drug building.

The goal this year is $52,184, or some $12,000 more than last year's quota of $39,336.59. This increase is accounted mainly by a $12,277 entry for Red Cross which is joining the United Drive in Holland this year.

The breakdown follows: Visiting nurse, $3,600; Salvation Army, $5,500; Camp Fire Girls, $7,691; Muskegon Clinic, $2,675; Boy Scouts of America, $8,500; Exchange Club Goodfellows, $1,000; Council of Social Agencies, $650; United Health and Welfare, $9,600; Red Cross, $12,277; Mentally Retarded Children, $650.

Division chairmen this year are: Webb Van Dokkumburg, industrial outside SSP; William Venhuizen, business and professional; Mayor Robert Visser, non-local business; Ed Donivan, schools and college; Ray Riedsma, public employees; Mrs. Paul Jones and Mrs. Jay C. Pette, home solicitation.

Dates of this year's drive are Oct. 17 through 31, but it is hoped all solicitation and reports will be completed before the end of the month.

all season. The push started on the 10th but was halted by loss of the 39 on down.

Holland coaches were quick to criticize the local play. "It was a poorly played game and we were lucky to win it," Coach Shearer said following the game.

The way the tiring Chiefs pounded through Holland's reserves in the closing minutes didn't make it look too good for next year. Most of the Dutch players were juniors.

Holland takes on St. Joseph at Dickinson Field next Friday night. The Bears received their first loss Friday night, a 21-7 setback to Niles. St. Joe, coached by former Hope gridders Dick Higgs, stopped Dowagiac 14-12 on Oct. 7.

Holland Reserves Defeat Saugatuck

SAUGATUCK (Special) - Holland High's reserves scored their second straight win Friday afternoon by stopping Saugatuck, 25-0 at Hoerner Field.

The little Dutch scored in every period.

Halfback Bob Bolks tallied in the first quarter going off tackle to 25 yards. Larry Alderick caught a Paul Elenbaas pass in the second quarter to give Holland a 13-0 lead at halftime. Ron Kuipers kicked the extra point after the second touchdown.

Bolks again scored in the third quarter intercepting an Indian pass and returning 60 yards.

The final touchdown was on a 60-yard off-tackle smash by Kuipers who broke through the tiring Saugatuck eleven and rambled most of the way unopposed.

Holland now has a 2-3 record. This is Saugatuck's first year of football. The lads are coached by Joe Galbraith, and although they lack polish, are big and should make a good account next year. Most of the players are underclassmen.

Mrs. G. Babcock, 90, Dies in Pennsylvania

SAUGATUCK (Special) - Mrs. George Babcock, 90, formerly of Saugatuck, died Thursday afternoon at the home of her son, M. M. Babcock in State College, Pa.

She was born in Saugatuck June 5, 1865, and with her husband owned the tourist home, "The Elms." She lived in Saugatuck until 1941 when she moved to Pennsylvania to live with her son and daughter-in-law.

Surviving besides the son are three grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

Miss Nell Salm, Hope College student who served as Holland's Community Ambassador to England last summer, related some of her experiences at a meeting of the Elizabeth Schuyler Hamilton Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Henry Hopper at Saugatuck.

Speaking on the subject, "Incomparable Britain," Miss Salm described the modern mechanization of the 800-acre farm where she lived a month with a "jolly" English family, as well as the English art of living without "worrying about the morrow" and the beauty of the English countryside.

She also described the Edinburgh festival which she visited during her 10-day stay in Scotland and spoke feelingly of the lingering memory of the heather. In summing up her visit, Miss Salm felt that the English have time for each other and for their gardens.

Mrs. Eldon Dick led the pledge of allegiance and Mrs. Benjamin Van Lente led devotions. Mrs. C. C. Wood gave a short talk on civil defense and asked that members be vigilant in seeking out Communist infiltration. Mrs. John Kramer used a large map of the United States in her report on DAR schools. Pointing to the 14 approved schools, she said, "These are schools for the underprivileged, the Americans of foreign birth and the American Indian," she said.

Mrs. Earl Price, regent, presided at a short business meeting during which the chapter voted a contribution to the Michigan Indian Educational fund. The chapter also voted to send a Good Citizenship Pilgrim from Saugatuck High School to the state conference. Each member is to earn a dollar before the next meeting to help equip the newly built laundry at the Kate Duncan Smith school in Grant, Ala.

Refreshments were served by a committee of Saugatuck women consisting of Mrs. A. H. Crawford, Mrs. John T. Buckbee, Miss Louise Crawford and Miss Ruth Turner.

Annual Stewardship Conference Is Held

About 90 persons gathered in Trinity Reformed Church Friday night for the second annual Stewardship conference in which some 12 Reformed churches in the area were represented. Chairman James H. Klomparsen presided.

Emphasis this year was on church extension and the Rev. Donald Buteyn who has spent 18 months in Midland as minister of a newly organized Reformed Church there spoke on the subject, "A Glimpse of Reality."

On the realistic side, Rev. Buteyn said the Reformed Church through its 300 years of existence has too long been "geared for survival" and even in Michigan the denomination is little known outside the areas of Grand Rapids, Holland, Kalamazoo and Muskegon.

"If the colonization of America had been dependent on evangelistic effort of the Reformed Church, most of America would be pagan today," he said. And yet he felt that the gospel as presented by the denomination has one of the greatest potentials in the world today.

Then to counterbalance the picture, he spoke of the heart-warming experiences in Midland where 19 families representing 18 denominations have formed a Reformed Church and after one year of work, the members voted to borrow $80,000 for a building. "The average age of the adults is about 29 and the oldest child is 10 and we have a great nursery and toddlers' group," he said. The former background of members includes all major denominations plus Mormon, Christian Scientists, Jehovah's Witnesses and agnostics. "As stewards, we are in partnership with Jesus Christ," he said.

Rev. Buteyn was introduced by the Rev. Joshua Hogenboom who has headed the church extension committee almost six years. For the first four years three new churches were organized each year. Last year there were five and this year possibly eight.

Rev. Hogenboom pointed to the shift in population, saying that in the years 1940 to 1947 half the population in the United States moved. And with predicted increases, the challenge is even greater.

Chairman Klomparsen said most people in the denomination are not aware of church needs elsewhere. "We work in our little area. When we learn of floods and hurricanes out east, we come through. And when we know the needs of the church, we must come through too," he said.

Music was provided by the Rev. John Hains of Trinity Church.

(Guest Editorial) THINK OF US DRIVES AND THEN DIG DEEP FOR COMMUNITY CHEST

Milwaukeeans who now feel harassed by the number and frequency of demands for their dollars to support philanthropic causes might well ponder this question: What if 50 more separate drives were conducted in the community?

Yet such a situation could result if the present Red Feather agencies were not banded together for a single, united fund raising campaign each year. The demands would be constant. The cost of fund raising would be fantastically high. Worst of all, money for these valuable community services would probably not be fairly shared. Some organizations with "heart throbs" appeals would get much; those serving as important but more prosaic needs would get little.

The Community Chest is now going to the Milwaukee public through 18,000 volunteer workers in its 40th annual appeal for funds to support the 50 Red Feather services.

The goal is $4,141,750. It is a sizable sum, yet modest because it will be shared 50 ways. The total is 6.5 percent higher than last year's goal which was successfully met. But the persons using the services—the young and old, the ill and handicapped the confused and poorly adjusted—have increased 11 percent in the intervening year.

What is important to understand is that the Community Chest goal is not a figure arrived at by lumping the requests of all 50 agencies together. The budget of each one has been minutely reviewed. Not only has any remaining fat been cut out but, unfortunately, some muscle, too. The resulting total is deemed both the absolute minimum needed and also one that is "reachable."

The appeal, naturally, is to give generously. And the satisfaction of giving will be enhanced by the realization that this intelligent giving—to not one but 50 services that make Milwaukee an infinitely better community for both the giver and the beneficiary.

—The Milwaukee Journal.

INVESTMENT, INC.

Ever hear of the Sadermiser Associates? The Pari-Mutuel Club? The Invest'n Worry Club? These light-hearted (but by no means lightheaded) groups have this in common, that they are dedicated to investing their members' money and getting a good return on it.

It is estimated that there are 650 such clubs in the country. Their 50,000 members invest more than half a million dollars monthly in common stocks. Many of them are prospering enough to make the idea well worth the attention of individuals who have a little money to invest but do not feel qualified to do so on their own.

The clubs get valuable advice from their brokers. But most of them find that investment ideas begin to come from members as they acquire experience and confidence. Generally the clubs seem to favor investing, not in popular giant companies, but in less well known firms with a big growth potential. And what is the value of all this, beyond immediate gain to members? People who participate in such clubs learn how to invest successfully by sharing in the ownership of productive enterprise, and thus they build toward their own security.

It sounds like it might be working. No doubt there are some people in our area who know about such things.

EXIT CURLEY

There is something pathetic about an old master who has lost his touch, like a star pitcher who can no longer strike out a batter, or a one-time vote-getter to whom no one listens any more.

The latter experience has befallen Boston's most famous politician, ex-Gov. and ex-Mayor James M. Curley. Elected mayor for the first time in 1914, he has been either a candidate or an issue in every mayoral election since then. His personal following was not daunted even by his sentence a few years ago to a federal prison, on the charge of using the mails to defraud. But in a recent primary to pick two candidates for the November mayoral election, Curley got only 24,000 votes out of 132,000, and finished third, out of the money. As Curley is 80, he is clearly no longer a serious political factor.

Brilliant in many ways, Curley was never a good mayor. He spent most of his time building up a political machine, and Boston suffered in the process. Henceforth Bostonians can consider city government problems without having a Curley candidacy before the issue.

Only he who can see the invisible can do the impossible. —Caine.

It's a disgrace to stumble against the same stone twice. —Proverb.

Common sense is seeing things as they are and doing things as they should be done.

You intend to make good somewhere; why not make good where you are?

A man cannot command greater respect from his neighbors than he accords himself.

Struggle in the Wilderness
Luke 4: 1-15

By Henry Geerlings

The wonderful message from the Father concerning Jesus when He was baptized was to be proved. If Jesus is really the Son of God the fact must be backed up. Satan was challenged to disprove the claim made for Jesus. When Satan had done all he could to find a flaw in Jesus, and show that He did not deserve to be worshipped as God's Son, he had to give it up and acknowledge defeat.

We are glad we have this account of the temptation, for it shows us how Jesus triumphed over Satan. When we think that Jesus is our helper, does it not lead us to go to Him when Satan tries to persuade us to sin? We must not suppose that Satan did not do his best to conquer Jesus. We must be convinced that the temptations were real and that it took real strength and courage to resist them. If we recognize that it cost Jesus much to overpower Satan, we will have more confidence in Him.

It was out in the wilderness and Jesus had been fasting for forty days. Naturally, He was hungry. Satan knew this and took advantage of the condition. He thought he could more easily persuade Jesus to yield to his offers if he made them along the line of something to eat.

There were flat stones on the ground that suggested the loaves of bread in common use. Satan wanted Jesus to think that it was not just for Him to be hungry if He was the Son of God, and had the power of God. All He would need to do was to work a miracle and turn the stones into bread. That would be proof that what God said about Him when John baptized Him was true. Certainly there was nothing wrong in the suggestion that Jesus eat bread.

But the scheme of Satan was to get Jesus to obey him and thus acknowledge his power. Jesus understood the plot and plainly told him that He had a bigger idea for life than to satisfy the appetite. Jesus met the temptation and did not give in to it. He went through the test unmarked and remained the true Son of God. That was a triumph, a real victory.

Satan did not get discouraged, but he must have been disappointed. He had another scheme. He was going to make it appear that if He was the Son of God, He ought to show how miraculously God would care for Him. Satan called the attention of Jesus to the promise that in Scriptures on which He could rely in time of danger. Then Satan asked Jesus to throw Himself from the top of the temple and make God prevent Him from being dashed to death.

It was a defiance of God's power that Satan seemed to hurl at Jesus. Satan might as well have told Jesus that God's promise was not dependable, and that God's power was unable to save Him if He should fall. But Jesus saw through this trickery. Satan might quote the Scriptures and seem to be sincere about it. He might arrange such a plan for Jesus as would seem perfectly proper for Him to use. But he could not delude Jesus. He knew His Father and understood that His promises of protection were intended for the unavoidable dangers. Besides, would Jesus let Satan play with His relation to God's power and make it seem such a trivial matter?

Jesus met Satan squarely and told him something else that was in the Scriptures. He declared that there was a command against tempting God. Back of this word of truth Jesus stood and Satan was helpless. Jesus was satisfied with the keeping power of God without trying it out. Satan had made a second trial of Jesus and had failed. Jesus had quietly resorted to the Word of God and again was victorious. His second triumph over Satan was as complete and satisfying as the first.

Satan might as well give up. He might as well acknowledge that Jesus is the Son of God. But he has one more plan to use. This time he tries to get Jesus to set aside the plan of His life. His mission, and follow the advice of Satan. It is remarkable how foolish Satan was. Did he suppose that the eternal purpose of God would be set aside by Jesus?

No matter what Satan thought, he at least made the attempt to get Jesus to believe that He could have all the power and glory of the world, becoming the absolute Lord over all things, for the simple act of falling before Satan as a worshipper. That seemed an easier way than to go to the cross, and it seemed to have all the assurance of success.

But Jesus had another blow to give Satan. It was the final knockout. Once more Jesus used the sword of the Spirit, a quotation from the Bible and in addition definitely denounced Satan. He was defeated again. The third and final triumph belonged to Jesus.

Ambassador Tells Club Of Summer in Britain

Holland's Community Ambassador entertained members of the Woman's Literary Club at their regular meeting Tuesday afternoon. Miss Nell Salm, Hope College senior who spent the summer in Britain under the Experiment in International Living, conveyed her impressions and experiences in England and showed slides of places she had visited.

She told the background of the Experiment, which was founded on the idea that the only way to understand peoples in foreign countries is to live with them. The appropriate motto for the plan is "Expect the Unexpected."

Miss Salm sailed for England from Quebec aboard a Greek liner with other young people in the Experiment setup. She said that most experimenters are not young people who are paying their own way.

In telling of her warm welcome in England, her lovely, fun-seeking "family" on a large farm near Norwich and her meeting of new friends, Miss Salm exploded the usually accepted idea that the English are reserved and unfriendly.

Miss Salm's hosts, the Dean family, live on an 800-acre farm. Twenty-three men and their families live on the farm in homes provided by the Deans. They earn about $18 per week. Miss Salm emphasized that English farms are scientifically run — they have to be, she said, because the country is small and they must get the most from their land.

The Deans' home, she said, was charmingly old-fashioned, and although the family is in an upper income bracket, they have few of the luxuries which American housewives consider as standard equipment — electric washers, vacuum cleaners, irons and ranges. The grounds about their large home, however, are comparable to the loveliest of American estates.

Miss Salm described a difference in the "tempo of life" there, where the people take time to do the things they want to do and don't worry about the morrow.

Miss Salm's colored pictures included country scenes, views of the cities, her "family," her traveling companions and the colorful National Festival in Edinburgh.

Next week, Sen. Charles E. Potter will speak to a Public Affairs meeting preceding the regular club meeting.

HERE IS SOME OF THE 24-inch pipe being laid in Holland these days to improve the local distribution system in preparation for a new water supply system via pipeline from Lake Michigan. This picture was taken at Ninth and Pine, looking north toward Eighth St. Big 36-inch pipe is being laid along the route to Tunnel park, with most activity currently in the Pine Creek area. (Sentinel photo)

Lots of Pipe Being Laid For New Water System

There's lots of activity these days on Holland's new water supply system which involves a pipeline to Lake Michigan.

Supt. George Rendleman of the Board of Public Works said that 83 to 90 persons are working on the various projects. The greatest number is engaged at the filtration plant east of Lakeshore Dr. at Tunnel Park where main foundations have been completed and men are working on concrete work for settling basins and filters.

Across the road on the shore of Lake Michigan, workers are driving sheet piling for the low service pumping station. Installation of the big 42-inch water intake pipe far into Lake Michigan is virtually completed.

Most of the activity on the main transmission line is confined to the Pine Creek area at present. Here the big 36-inch pipe must be laid deeper than in some other areas. Specifications call for heavier pipe at lower levels — that's to bear the weight of the ground.

Inside Holland city, there seems to be heavy black pipe strewn around. Alongside more than a few streets. This part of the program is to improve the distribution system in the city, and the work carries with it a completion date of Dec. 18.

This particular contract calls for 24-inch pipe along Pine Ave.

from Seventh St. to 12th St., 18-inch pipe to 16th St. and 16-inch pipe to 19th St. and River Ave. It also includes a 12-inch pipe on 16th St. from Pine to Van Raalte. Other improvements on the city's distribution system includes a 12-inch line on Columbia Ave. from 19th to 25th Sts., and south on Lincoln to 30th St., thence west on 30th St.

In all, the $3,000,000 water supply system involves 14 contracts, some for equipment and others for installation. The BPW hopes to have the new system in operation by October, 1956.

Lake Michigan Dropped .85 Foot Last Month

Lowest level was 577.81 in 1934 and highest level was 583.43 feet in 1876. The September, 1955, level is 2.10 feet above low water datum, the plane to which lake survey chart and federal navigation improvement depths are referred.

Lake Michigan dropped 51 foot from August to September compared with an average drop of 18 foot for the entire period. Average drop from September to October is 22 foot. The probable October level will be 580.3 feet.

Lake Superior established a summer high in August and is now receding. Lake Michigan declined at a much greater than average rate from August to September due to below normal precipitation. Lake Ontario continued the seasonal decline at about average rate.

Big Second Half Rewards Bulldogs With MIAA Win

ADRIAN (Special) — Now mired in the MIAA cellar with Olivet, following an 18-13 defeat to Adrian College here Saturday afternoon, Hope College's gridders are faced with a tough survival fight for the rest of the season.

An alert defensive move — a blocked kick — and an equally alert offensive maneuver — a deceptive pass catch — were the bugs that ruined Hope's chances Saturday.

The pass, a 43-yard play, came first and overcame Hope's 7-6 half-time lead. Fullback Brian Graffia got behind Hope fullback Jim Stout and took quarterback Norm Carlson's pass over his shoulder on the Hope 17 and stepped away from the Hope defender. Gene Melin kicked the extra point with 3:47 remaining in the third period.

Following an exchange of downs, Hope took an Adrian punt on the Dutch 23. Quarterback John Holmlund fumbled and recovered on the Dutch 12. Halfback John Adams was cracked by end Leon Harper on the next play and smashed down on the Hope three as the quarter ended.

Harper came crashing through on the first four period play and blocked Adams' punt and then fell on it for the Adrian safety and the 15-7 margin.

Adrian picked up its last three points at 7:25. John Zupko, whose only job is kickoffs and placements, booted a 26-yard field goal from a slight left angle from the goal post. The line of scrimmage was the Hope 12.

Tom Hodge, a pain in Hope's neck all afternoon, set up the play. Three plays before he dashed 48 yards on a quick opener to the Hope 12. The Dutch line held causing the field goal attempt.

Hodge had intercepted a Del Grissen pass on the Adrian 42 to give the Bulldogs the ball.

Hope scored first at 9:09 of the second quarter on a 10-yard pass play from Holmlund to end and co-captain Lynn Post to climax an 80-yard touchdown march.

Post plucked the ball out of the Adrian defender's arms in the end zone. It was the first touchdown Post scored in his football career that has stretched over a 10-year period and includes high school military and collegiate competition.

Don Van Hoeven kicked the extra point.

Highlighting the 80-yard march was a 22-yard end run by co-captain Adams and a 16-yard pass play from Holmlund to end Paul Wiegier.

Wiegier was injured later in the game and early reports showed torn leg ligaments. It is feared he will be lost for a couple of weeks.

Adrian countered in the second quarter with a touchdown with 3:47 left.

It was Hodge, who introduced his speed and shiftness, to the Hope defense.

Hodge took a Fred Hobart pass near the sidelines on the Hope 36 yard line, and the entire Bulldog team conveyed him in his race to score. Zupko's kick was blocked by center Ron De Graw.

Following the third quarter Adrian touchdown and the fourth period safety, Hope scored its final touchdown with 1:39 left in the game. Again, Holmlund hit on a 39-yard pass, this one to Adams, who completely faked defender Bob-Ohrman on the goal line and scored.

Van Hoeven's kick was missed. Hope again led in the statistics department, grinding out a total of 264 yards to the Bulldogs 207. The Dutch had 137 yards on the ground, 103 of which was gained in the first half. Adrian, on the other hand netted only 14 yards in the first half but ended with 103 yards total. The Dutch passing totaled 127 yards and Adrian's 104. Hope picked up 16 first downs, nine in the

CPH Hears Talk By Avery Baker

More than 100 members and visitors of CPH circle No. 10 heard Avery D. Baker, Ottawa County Agent for the Juvenile court, speak on "Clay in Your Hands" at a regular meeting of the group Monday evening in Maple Avenue Christian Reformed Church.

Stating that the juvenile court was instituted about 55 years ago, Baker said that the primary concern of the court is the rehabilitation of the delinquent child.

The largest percentage of delinquent acts is stealing, he said, and he traced the early life of a child resulting from a broken home. He put a great part of the blame for delinquency on the automobile.

As a solution to some of the problems he suggested that parents take more interest and be more aware of what is going on in the community, that to cope with such problems parents should consult the proper counseling services and that an attractive church and Sunday School program would influence young people toward a more wholesome life. In closing he mentioned the need for more boarding homes for children who are subjects of the juvenile court.

Special music included two selections by the Bethelites, Mrs. Jack Essenburg, Mrs. Dave Rhoda and Mrs. Willis Van Vuren, accompanied by Mrs. Alvin Dirksen. The business meeting was conducted by Mrs. D. Zwier, president. Guests were present from circles from Grand Rapids, Hudsonville and Grandville.

The 13 CPH circles have paid a total of $198,876 to the Nurses Home on Cuterville leaving a balance of $96,000.

Refreshment were served by members of Montello Park Christian Reformed Church including the Mesdames G. Plasman, William Lubbers, James Bruzeman, John Jansen and John Jurries.

Rev. England Speaks To Mr. and Mrs. Club

The Rev. Harold England of Zeeland spoke at a meeting of the Mr. and Mrs. Club at Hope Church Wednesday evening. His subject was "Building Bridges of Fellowship in the Christian Church."

Rev. England bought a small car in England and drove over 20,000 miles in the British Isles and on the continent. He commented on British excellence in radio and TV and various aspects of life in Britain, including the Anglican Church, which is being strengthened. There is too little practical help in universities for pastors who are poorly paid, he said.

In the continent, Scandinavia is the darkest spot, Rev. England said. In Sweden, the people are materialistic and the churches are forsaken. In Switzerland, Netherlands and Germany, the people have a lot of vitality in their religion, he said.

The program followed business session and devotion. Refreshments were served following a discussion period. Food chairman were Mr. and Mrs. William Hinga, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. John De Haan, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Derk Van Raalte.

The double ring service was read by the Rev. A. Rozendal in a setting of ferns, candelabra bouquets of white gladioli. Music was provided by Dale Ver Meer, soloist, and Mrs. Al Kamps, organist.

A gown of chantilly lace and nylon tulle over satin was chosen by the bride. The basque bodice featured an illusion V-neckline with applied sequin embroidery. A pearl-trimmed tiara held her fingertip veil of illusion and she carried a cascade bouquet of white mums and pompons.

Grandstanding...

By Randy Vande Water

Letters were postmarked today that might put Holland High in a conference next year.

Acting on the sanction of the Holland High athletic council, athletic director Joe Moran has come out "point blank" and asked three Western Michigan high schools to join Holland in a four-team conference.

The schools are Grand Haven, Niles and St. Joseph. All are comparable to Holland in size and have similar growing pains.

"Holland is definitely making the bid," Moran said, "to get us back into a conference."

The locals dropped out of the Southwestern Michigan conference in 1951 and since then have played an independent schedule.

"We aren't after a large conference at present," Moran said, "but another one or two schools may join in a few years."

Grand Haven, under athletic director, Steve Sluka, made overtures for a conference last spring and a meeting was held in Holland. However the enrollment range in the schools attending prevented any of the schools from getting together on a league.

Of the previously named schools, all but St. Joe attended the meeting which included several Grand Valley league schools.

"We've given up on rejoining the Southwestern conference, although we still play all the schools in basketball and all but Muskegon and Kalamazoo Central in football," Moran said.

Holland, Grand Haven, Kalamazoo Central, Muskegon, Muskegon Heights and Benton Harbor were members of the Southwestern Michigan conference.

The latter three are still playing each other with the Bennie Oosterbaan trophy awarded the champion. Kalamazoo Central is in the Six-A league.

If the three schools contacted come through, football competition could probably be started next fall. Holland and Grand Haven both play St. Joseph next year and Niles and St. Joseph meet.

Only a Niles-Grand Haven clash would have to be arranged. Basketball games, unlike football, are scheduled on a one-year basis and could be worked out among the four schools, Moran indicated.

Spring sports action would probably be on a tournament basis. The four teams could meet in a quadrangular track meet and stage one-day tournaments in baseball, golf and track.

Football contracts are made up a couple years in advance. Moran has all of the 1956 schedule completed. It will be the same as this year with game sites switched.

A few contracts for the 1957 and 1958 season have also been signed. Grand Haven and St. Joe are in the fold for '57 with St. Joe planning again in 1958.

Holland has open dates on Oct. 18 and Oct. 17 in 1957 and 1958 for possible scheduling of the Niles contest.

Moran hopes to have response to the requests by early next week.

Maps of Ottawa county were distributed among supervisors by June Kanutz of the Western State Publishing Co. Copies will be available free of charge through Chambers of Commerce or through advertisers.

The board adjourned until 10 a.m. Friday instead of 1:30 p.m. to allow Henry Slaughter to be present. Slaughter, who has missed only one meeting in the 27 years he has been on the board, is leaving on a vacation Friday afternoon.

State regulations are that each Christmas tree buyer must have a bill of sale to accompany his purchase of trees. Last year we made available these official sheets in triplicate. Those who requested sheets last year will receive them from the extension office as soon as they arrive from the Michigan Department of Agriculture. However, if you are not on our mailing list and wish to receive such "bill of sale," drop us a card designating the number you wish. We will add your name to our list and in future years you will continue to receive them.

Last spring we discovered trees dying in many Christmas tree plantations under mystifying circumstances. The trees had resin oozing out particularly on the lower trunk and branches and the tips of some branches were dying. We had Ray Jones, Michigan State University entomologist, investigate. He now has a start on the answer. He is interested in seeing more of the damage so the trouble can be solved. If you see such injury next spring, we would like to hear about it.

Word has come from S.C. Hildebrand, of the Michigan Crop Improvement Association, that the new forage seeds were being added to the Michigan Certified seed list. These are Pennscot Medium Red Clover and Vernal Alfalfa.

Farmers who are interested in producing certified seed for these two crops must make application before Nov. 1, 1955. The basic requirements for production of Alfalfa and Red Clover are: 1. Alfalfa seed fields must be at least 20 rods from other Alfalfa fields and Red Clover at 20 rods from other Red Clover fields. 2. The seed fields should not have been in Alfalfa or Red Clover for the previous three years, one of which should have been a row crop or summer fallow.

The West Michigan Angus Breeders Association is holding its annual show and sale at Lowell on Saturday, Oct. 22. This association is offering 18 cows and heifers, 4 bulls and 20 4-H club steers.

Michigan farmers may find it profitable to seal their 1955 corn crop and buy feed corn on the open market. Richard Machiele, county agricultural agent, passes along this suggestion from Dale Butz, farm economist at Michigan State University.

Butz makes this recommendation if the farmer can qualify for a loan and has storage space for buying corn.

Butz says recent reports on the corn crop served to strengthen prices. The reports indicated that the crop would not be as large as predicted earlier and Butz thinks prices may not be much lower at harvest than they are now. He expects a low of $1.15 to $1.20 per bushel.

New corn is high in moisture and what may seem to be a good buy actually is not because of extra weight of the water. Buy high moisture corn at a discount, he advises.

Two Cars Roll Over In Separate Crashes

GRAND HAVEN (Special)—Lawrence Spears, 46, of 1101 Sheldon S.E., Grand Rapids, was treated in Municipal Hospital for scalp lacerations Tuesday after his car went out of control and rolled over at 6:45 p.m. on M-50.

Spears told sheriff's officers a tire blew out and he was unable to control the car. Damage to the 1955 vehicle was estimated at $1,300. No ticket was issued.

Cars driven by Herman Ryenga, 23, route 2, Grand Haven, and Elizabeth Madak, route 1, Grand Haven, were damaged in a crash at 6:40 a.m. Tuesday on Mercury Dr. in Crockery township. State police charged Mrs. Madak with failure to signal for a left turn. The impact caused Ryenga's 1955 convertible to roll over, landing in a ditch.

Muskegon Coed Named Homecoming Queen

A Hope College coed from Muskegon who has worn regal crowns before, was named Hope Homecoming Queen in an impressive pageant Monday evening in the campus Pine Grove.

Proclaimed queen was Isla Van Eenennaam, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon F. Van Eenennaam of Muskegon. She will receive her crown in coronation rites Friday at 7 p.m. and will reign at all the traditional homecoming festivities throughout the weekend.

Queen Isla, whose parents are both graduates of Hope College, class of 1924, reigned as homecoming queen last year at Muskegon High School.

An Old World flavor was injected into the royal proclamation by English dialogue, costumed court pages and heralding trumpeters. Class presidents escorted the court members to their places of honor with the queen, who was escorted by Student Council President John Adams.

Homecoming officially begins on Friday, when the traditional freshman-sophomore tug-of-war over Black River is scheduled at 4 p.m. and the coronation at 7.

The queen and her court will appear in formal attire on the "queen's float" in Saturday morning's parade at 10 over Eighth St. They also will appear at the football game at 2 p.m. and the queen will announce winners of home decorations and float competition during half time.

The International Farm Youth Program will be explained in detail.

Many astronomers feel sure the large dark areas on Mars represent vegetation. A canal-like network could reflect 50-mile-wide bands of plant life growing in old river valleys. However, the lines do not meander; some shoot out like arrows for 1,500 miles. Unlike true rivers, they sometimes intersect.

Hope Drama Group Plans Homecoming Production

Palette and Masque Society of Hope College will present as its Homecoming production this year Sidney Howard's "The Late Christopher Bean." The play will be given Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Oct. 20, 21, and 22, in the Little Theatre of the Science Building. Curtain time is 8 p.m.

"The Late Christopher Bean" is the story of a situation developing after the death of a painter, Christopher Bean, who leaves only a few dirty canvases to pay the doctor bills. Dr. Haggitt and his family are mildly surprised when an old friend of Bean's drops in, pays the painter's bill and takes a couple of pictures as mementoes. It's a bigger surprise when another friend turns up on a similar errand and even more so when a great New York art critic arrives to pay his respects.

The overwhelming fact that Christopher's daubs are worth a fortune sends the family scurrying to find the paintings—from the chicken coop to the room of Abby, the servant. Abby is in the thick of the scramble and the effect on all the characters is involved and tense.

Appearing in the role of Dr. Haggitt is Pete Kelly, junior from Flushing, N.Y. Ann De Pree, Zeeland freshman, appears as Abby. Other roles are played by Pete De Moya, junior from North Swamzy, N.Y., as Rosen; Jan Van Peursem, Zeeland freshman, as Mrs. Haggitt; Marlin Vandervilt, junior, Orange City, Iowa, as Wassen Kramer; Gerrit Hoeck, Grand Rapids junior, as Tanlant; John Ewing, senior, Riverdale, Ill., as Davenport; Aileen McGoldrick, Fennville sophomore, as Ada Haggitt; and Jane Gowans, sophomore, South Holland, Ill., as Susan Haggitt.

The play is directed by Miss Elva Van Hattma, assisted by Tom Ten Hoeve and Nelvie Meerman. Backstage will be Al Hill and Clarence Huizenga, co-stage managers; Zoe Gideon and Marie Cossin, in charge of properties; Evelyn Bolks, heading the makeup crew; Ricky Volkenborn, painting and decorating; Mike Brummel, house manager, and Chuck Roelofs, lighting.

Dog Notes

Dog Has Mysterious Squeak

By Peter Boggs

James Wilson's dog was causing a lot of concern around North Anson, Maine. Every time the dog would lie down a strange squeak, like that made by a rusty gate, would come from the animal. If anyone picked him up the same strange squeak resulted—and yet no one noticed his mouth move when the sound was heard.

Wilson took the dog, a pointer, to Dr. J. F. Boswell, a veterinarian in Portland. At first the doctor couldn't quite comprehend the malady from which Wilson's dog was suffering. He had never run across such a canine trouble before, but then the dog lay down in the doctor's office and the squeaky sound was clearly heard.

A thorough examination was made including a series of X-rays, then an operation was performed and the squeak was removed.

As the "squeak" was laid on the table Wilson exclaimed, "Why, that's a contraption my daughter plays with!" It was a small rubber ball with a whistle in it which the dog had swallowed. The mystery of the pointer with the squeak had been solved.

Court Order Needed

An officer of the law cannot enter your property and seize your dog without having a warrant for the arrest of the animal or being in the actual pursuit of the animal after the latter has done some particular damage.

Unless there has been an order to hie effect that rabies is prevalent and that dogs off their owners' premises during a period of quarantine will be killed immediately, no dog can be killed without a proper court order in advance, directing that this be done. If some enforcement officer should shoot your dog without a court order, you can bring action against him.

No one can come onto your premises and take your dog away on the grounds that he is a nuisance unless there has been a court trial and a decision has been arrived at by the court decreeing the removal of your dog.

When Iodine is Used
If your household is anything like mine, you have the habit of applying tincture of iodine to any little cuts or abrasions members of the family may suffer. In many homes the same treatment is given the dogs under like circumstances.

Often, besides treating a dog's cut or injury with iodine, the owner deems it necessary to add some sort of bandage after the application of the iodine. This is a very dangerous thing to do.

Never cover a wound that has been treated with iodine until the surrounding area which has been stained by the medication is thoroughly dry. If you apply a bandage or dressing before the stained surface has dried, there is great chance a severe burn will result.

The Question Box
Question: What information could you give me about a hunting dog that I could use for both pheasants and rabbits?

Answer: A Springer Spaniel is the dog. These dogs when broken to hunt close to the gun are excellent for all kinds of game. They are also capable retrievers on both land and water.
