High School Enrollment Now at 1,175

For the first time in many years, enrollment at Holland High School has more resident than non-resident students this year, the Board of Education was informed at its monthly meeting Monday night in E. E. Fell Junior High School.

High School Principal Jay W. Formsa said the school has a total of 1,175, listing 595 resident students or 51 per cent of the student body, and 580 non-resident students, or 49 per cent of the total. This represents a 16 per cent increase in resident students and a decrease of 28 per cent in non-resident students. The board's policy in not accepting students outside the city of Holland in the 10th grade is reflected in the non-resident decrease.

Meanwhile, with the transfer of the seventh grade to E. E. Fell Junior High School from Washington and Thomas Jefferson Schools, the enrollment this year is 810, compared with 459 last year. The total enrollment of the two secondary schools is 1,985. Two years ago the total was 1,912 students and last year 1,763 students.

Formsa pointed out that because of the drop in the sophomore class enrollment, all students can not be accommodated in study halls. Last year seniors were dismissed from certain study halls. Five class rooms are being used again this year in Third Church for history, Latin and English. The Farm House has all classes in agriculture and one class in dramatics. There are five classes and two noon hours in Bosman's store. All science classes are now housed in science classrooms.

The high school is using 11 classrooms in Junior high school and the annex, but any room occupied by an expected drop in high school enrollment next year will be more than needed by junior high classes.

Principal Formsa said teachers and students have been most cooperative this year, reflecting a serious attitude toward non-academic subjects as well as academic subjects.

Supt. Walter W. Scott reported on a meeting of educators Monday in Lansing, called by Lt. Gov. John Swanson to consider possible passage by the legislature of enabling legislation where by Michigan would become eligible for funds from the National Defense Education act which was passed in September of 1958. Scott said Michigan, Wyoming and Arizona are the only states which have not passed enabling legislation but he feels confident that the acts will be passed.

He said the national act has 10 titles, some of which require matching funds.

Scott also reported that eighth grades of Maplewood and Montello Park Schools have been integrated into the E. E. Fell Junior High school and that the Montello Park system is being integrated into the Holland system. With moving the eighth grade into Junior high, the fifth grade which previously met in the basement now is in eighth grade quarters.

William P. De Long is making an audit of Montello Park finances and a meeting of the two boards will be scheduled soon to resolve this report. T. J. Pruis will serve as Montello Park principal over 10 teachers. Teach contracts are being rewritten as of Oct. 1 and art and other subjects are being introduced as rapidly as possible.

Scott particularly mentioned Montello Park's fine building and its good instructional program.

Secretary James Hallan reported a notice that $68,000 in state aid was transferred to Holland school district by the county treasurer Sept. 29. Monthly claims amounted to $132,506.31.

The board approved expenditure of approximately $1,500 to provide brochures to be used in teacher recruitment consisting of 10 lithographed pages with appropriate copy and pictures. It is expected this supply of 1,500 copies will be sufficient for three years.

The building and grounds committee informed the board that due to increased replacement costs, insurance coverage on school buildings is being raised 5 per cent and policies rewritten.

Letters have been sent to Boards of Education sending tuition students to city schools that the maximum legal charge for tuition for the coming year will be $238.05 per student. This refers to districts not yet annexed to the Holland school district.

Ray Allen, father of the Holland boy who was injured in a fracas between halves of the Grand Haven-Holland football game at Grand Haven Friday night, appeared before the board to tell his version of the study. No action was taken, but the cast was referred to the executive committee of the board and the administration with power to act.

President Carl C. Andreasen presided at the meeting which lasted an hour and 25 minutes. All board members were present. Vern Schipper gave the invocation.

Garden Club Projects Aid New Library Landscaping

Conferences between Dr. Carl S. Gerlach, professor of Urban Planning and Landscape Architecture at Michigan State University and the committee of the Holland Garden Club have combined in preliminary studies for the planning for the grounds of the new Herrick Public Library. The planning is to be a gift from the Garden Club to the city. Dr. Gerlach has been engaged by the club to design the landscaping.

The lawn has been seeded on the grounds. Dr. Gerlach hopes that some planting may be done this fall to soften the effect of the new building. The committee is waiting for Dr. Gerlach's completed designs.

From the files of The Sentinel have come some interesting facts concerning the activities of the Club that have made the gift possible.

Organized in 1945, the Garden Club had for its purpose the promoting of such knowledge and love of gardening as would result in a more beautiful community. Money is always a basic need in carrying out such an objective, so long no time, directly after the first meeting held at the home of Mrs. L. W. Lamb, Sr., gladioli were sold from door to door by the newly appointed Ways and Means Chairman, Mrs. Chester Van Tongeren and Mrs. Phyllis Watkins, the first president. This was the beginning of the fund that now will provide for the landscaping project.

The next year, complaints having been received from tourists that Holland advertised Tulip Time but had few tulips, the Garden Club through the efforts of Mrs. Van Tongeren sold 100,000 bulbs to the merchants, factories, banks and Hope College, who in turn donated them to the city. A suggestion made by her that the American Legion plant a cross of white tulips in Kollen Park as a war memorial was accepted and this planting has been continued over the years.

Because the Park Department was short of help, Mrs. J. H. Pitter, president of the Garden Club, J. H. Pitter, chairman of the Tulip Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, and Willard Wickers, chairman of Tulip Time, organized a planting bee. The 100,000 bulbs, plus 65,000 purchased by the city, were put into five miles of lanes on a cold windy November day in 1946 by some 400 volunteers, including school children, members of service clubs and other organizations. Industries provided workers and paid their wages for the afternoon.

This effort saved one-third of the cost of the bulbs. The Sentinel stated "This is the first time in the city's history that a bulb planting bee has been staged" and it may well be that it was the first concerted community effort made to beautify the city.

The sale of the Christmas greens, Fall flower shows, a County Fair, later bulb sales conducted by Miss Gertrude Steketee and Mrs. J. D. Jencks, a summer flower show at the Baker Furniture Museum, through the generosity of Hollis Baker, have made a contribution to the city as well as adding to the Club's treasury.

Imagination, thrift, foresight and hard work are the ingredients that have gone into all of these activities. In addition Mrs. P. T. Chelf's enthusiastic support and her generous contributions made possible the beginnings of a real savings fund.

As the amount in the treasury increased, the question of what to use it for was discussed from time to time. Three years ago the Past Presidents were formed into a committee for the purpose of formulating a long range policy. After serious consideration the committee felt that landscaping the library would fulfill the initial objective of the Club.

With the approval of the Board and the Club as a whole, the gift was offered to and accepted by the Library Board and the City Council. Mrs. J. H. Pitter, who was the first chairman, has been succeeded by Mrs. L. W. Lamb Sr. Mrs. W. A. Butler is president of the Garden Club while Mrs. Lamb and Mrs. Carl Cook are members of the committee for landscaping the library, with Mrs. J. J. Brower, chairman.

Dr. Gerlach is consulting with Carl Pirscher, the architect who designed the library, and with Ray Herrick, the donor, in order to correlate the landscape design with the site and their concept of the building.

Warn Drivers to Wait For Halted Schoolbuses

Ottawa County deputies reported today that they have received complaints from school bus drivers stating that many motorists do not stop for school buses loading and discharging passengers.

Deputies cautioned drivers that they must stop at least ten feet from school buses, whether following or meeting buses, when the driver of a bus signals a stop. Stopped school buses may be overtaken only upon signal from the bus driver or when the flashers on the bus no longer signal drivers to stop for children getting on or off the buses, deputies said.

Powell said as governing body of the county, the board of Supervisors has the authority to direct the program. He said the State Civil Defense Act directs each county and each city with 10,000 population to establish Civil Defense programs in accordance with the state plan, and each shall have a director appointed by the governing body or by the city.

While there is no means of enforcing this act, Powell felt that if government bodies did not accept these responsibilities they should certainly make their position known, particularly that they are not concerned with the welfare of the people. He also cited benefits allowed under matching funds, equipment available, etc.

On budget discussions, Howard Fant questioned the pay for clerical help, stating the half-time allowance is more than allowed some county employees. There was considerable discussion on the telephone item of $1,000.

land, new member of the board who has been assigned to the CD committee, said he has serious reservations on the whole program, feeling that CD should be a function of existing departments of local government rather than an organization set up just in event of a crisis. Lansing Bloodmobile Will Visit Overisel on Oct. 26

HAMILTON (Special)—The Red Cross bloodmobile from the Lansing Regional Blood Center will visit the Overisel Community Hall, three miles north of Hamilton, on October 26 from noon to 6:00 p.m., in an effort to continue the Allegan County Whole Blood program.

It is necessary for the bloodmobile to visit Allegan County at least ten times throughout the year in order that blood be available for Allegan county residents when needed but because of crowded conditions in the Hamilton School, the Community Hall is being used for classes, necessitating the use of the Overisel Community Hall.

A total of 1,080 pints of blood must be collected to meet the requirements of Allegan County patients during the year. The quota for the Overisel blood bank is 125 pints. At least 175 donors are necessary to reach this quota.

To maintain this program every healthy adult in the county between the ages of 18-59 should give at least once each year.

Any person not contacted and wishing to give blood should call either Mrs. George Lampen (3391) or Mrs. Jacob Haan (2962) for an appointment. If it is impossible to make an appointment, the donor may come as a "walk-in" anytime during the afternoon.

Bucs Register 26-18 Win To Keep Shoes

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — Holland High's football team ran up 401 yards for its best combined running and passing attack this season here Friday night but could not get the small yardage when it was needed and lost to Grand Haven, 26-18 before 5,000 fans at Green Hill Field.

The Dutch, led by senior fullback Scott Brouwer, made 215 yards on the ground and added 186 through the air on eight of 16 completions but a few times when crucial short yardage was needed the continue an attack, the yards weren't there.

Brouwer, who for the past two years has played an outstanding game against Grand Haven, scored all of Holland's touchdowns and ground out 161 yards in 23 carries for a seven yard per try average. His biggest gain was a 28-yard romp late in the fourth quarter.

The 185-pound fullback won his personal dual from Grand Haven fullback, 202-pound Bill Swingle, who made 62 yards in 13 carries for better than four yards a crack.

But then came the difference. While Swingle and Brouwer took care of the respective inside games, Grand Haven had 155-pound junior John Sluka, who provided the outside game, something Holland couldn't match.

Sluka, son of Grand Haven athletic director Steve Sluka, scored three of the Grand Haven touchdowns and broke the game open on the first play of the fourth quarter when he scooted around right end for 60 yards.

This touchdown came with the score tied 12-12 and gave Grand Haven the break. Six plays earlier Holland had tied the score on a 74-yard march and appeared on the way.

Paul Grant opened the scoring with 6:38 left in the first quarter when he shot inside the end for 29 yards. Sluka's try for extra point was blocked.

But Holland came right back. Rich Woltman took the kickoff on the two and returned to the 17 Chuck Klomparsen, playing his first game at halfback, looked good on a 17-yard scamper and following a couple more running plays and a 15-yard holding penalty, Rog Buurma threaded Jim De Vries with a 44-yard pass which the big end caught and raced 16 yards to the Buc six.

Brouwer dashed off tackle to tie the score at 2:46 of the first period and Woltman's kick failed. Swingle and Sluka then took over and in four plays were back to the Holland 30 where Dave Foutz hit Sluka on the seven for the go-ahead touchdown. He scored with 16 seconds left in the quarter. His extra point try was not good.

Holland then moved quickly to the Grand Haven 48 but failed by a few inches to make a first down and Grand Haven took over. Grand Haven couldn't move and punted and Holland drove from its own 22 to the Grand Haven 48 on two quick first downs. But then again after picking up nine yards in three plays, they failed on a fourth down shot. The half ended 12-6.

Steve Egger, who recovered two fumbles that set up touchdowns, snatched his first loose ball early in the second half on the Dutch 26 to stop a Buc move. Holland didn't relinquish the ball until the score was tied as they drove the 74 yards in 13 plays, highlighted again by a 16-yard dash by Klomparsen, a nine-yard pass from Klomparsen to Bruce Van Dyke, seven line smashes by Brouwer, including the final yard and a 10-yard run by Woltman. The TD came with 2:14 left and the extra point failed because of a high pass from center.

After Holland kicked off, Sluka fumbled on his own 37 and Wayne Root recovered. But Holland failed to make a first down and then came Sluka's run with 11:49 left in the game. He then converted.

Sluka recovered Rog Buurma's fumble on the Grand Haven 30 to set up the Buc's final tally. The nine-play drive was climaxed by Sluka's 14-yard dash around end on a pitchout play with 4:30 left in the game. He converted again.

But back came Holland and went storming up the field with three straight passes and Brouwer's 28 yard run and in 10 plays were to the Grand Haven 10-yard line where a fourth down draw play by Brouwer failed to gain a first down.

Egger came through three plays later with his second fumble recovery on the Buc six and in four plays Brouwer went over from the three. Brouwer failed on the run for extra point.

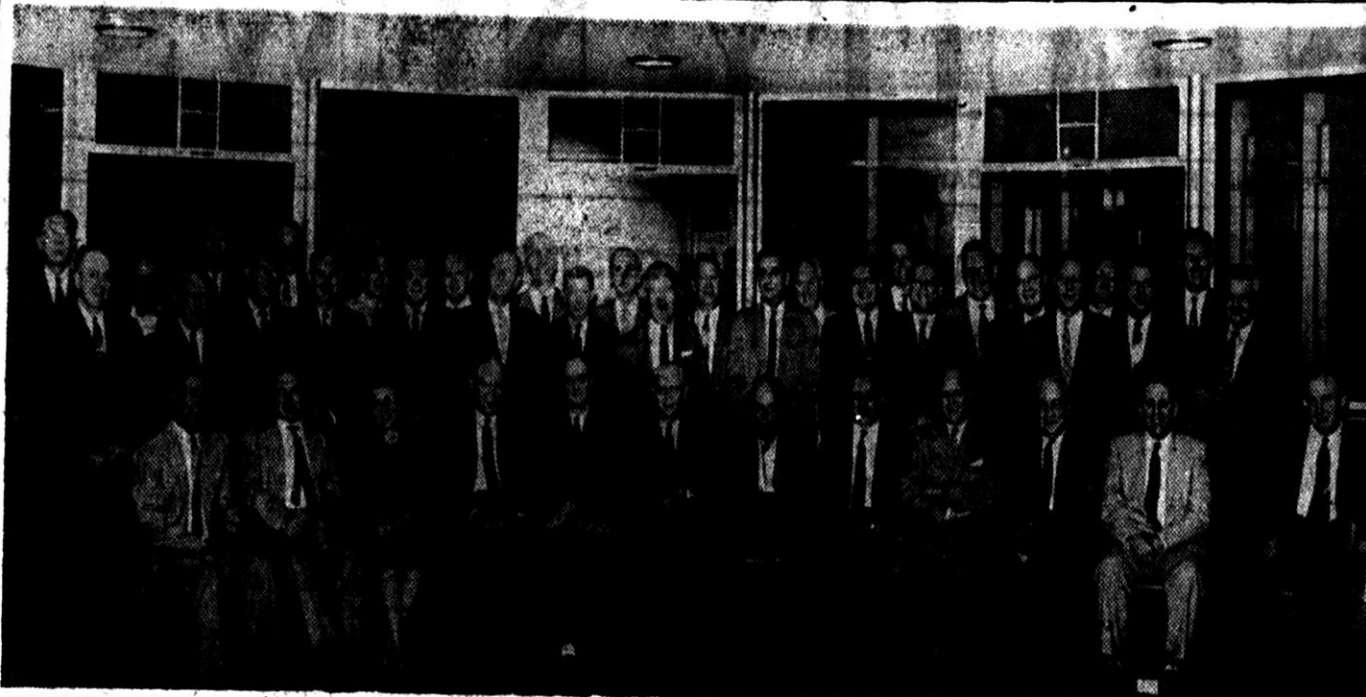

Grand Haven's running game was working because the Bucs were going around and through Holland's corner men. Harley Hill, who has done a good job at this spot, was ill and missed the game and Coach Bill Hinga felt he would have helped stop Sluka's runs.

Injuries to halfbacks slowed Van Dyke and Woltman and sent Klomparsen to half where he performed well and gave an added threat.

Holland entertains Grand Rapids Union next Friday night in the annual Football Festival. The Dutch are now 1-3 while Grand Haven is 2-2. The Wooden Shoes stay in Grand Haven and it was the Bucs 32nd win in the long series.

Allegan Law Group Slapped

ALLEGAN (Special) — The Otsego City Commission is expected to press a resolution protesting what they term a "lack of follow-through" on the part of the Allegan County Sheriff's Department and the office of the county Prosecuting Attorney.

The protest is presently in the form of a letter which the commission directed Otsego city manager, Donald Foster, to write.

Foster said the letter has been signed by all members of the commission, but he expected it to be worded as a resolution at the next meeting of the commission. Once in resolution form, it will be presented to the County Board of Supervisors.

Foster said the protest stems from local indignation over "several criminal cases" in which Otsego police made investigations and arrests but were later dropped when the prosecutor failed to authorize warrants.

In other cases cited, warrants were issued for a crime of a lesser degree than requested by the arresting officer.

The commission's protest is similar to complaints lodged by other municipal police officers and state troopers at the time of the recent attorney's general's investigation in Allegan County.

In the attorney's report it stated that all such complaints had been checked out and, in none of the cases, had the prosecutor exceeded his discretionary powers in refusing to authorize a warrant or in authorizing one for a lesser crime than recommended.

Fennville Runs Over Lawton For Fourth Straight Victory

FENNVILLE (Special) — Fennville High's strong, smooth-running football machine chalked up its fourth straight win of the season here Friday night with a 19-0 victory over Lawton.

It was Fennville's third straight Al-Van League victory and left the Blackhaws in undisputed first place in the league. Lawton is now second with a 2-1 mark. The victory was the 11th straight in the past two seasons for Fennville.

Following a scoreless first quarter, the Blackhaws rolled in the second quarter on a 65-yard drive with Joe Bedas going the final 17 yards. Ray Radloff converted.

Later in the same period Fennville took over on its own 35 and marched down to the Lawton 35 where Bedas skirted the end for the score. The final touchdown came in the fourth period on a 40-yard march, climaxed by Tom Gooding's six-yard run.

Coach Tom Miller was pleased with the work of Doug Billings at defensive end and Rog Tiffany as a defensive back. Tackles John Damanskas and Ray Modrak turned in strong games along with defensive guards Henry Barnes and Keith De Zwaan.

Bedas picked up 85 yards in 16 carries for better than five yards a try. Fennville gained 210 yards rushing and 52 in the air on two completions in nine tries.

Lawton made 85 yards against Fennville which is more than the combined total of the three previous foes.

Lack of Facilities Still Problem at Holland High

Although the enrollment in Holland High School is lower this year than last year's record high 1,304, lack of facilities still presents a serious problem, according to Principal Jay W. Formsa.

In the main building, originally designed for 450 students, close to 600 push their way through three crowded hallways every hour between class periods while about 600 other students walk to and from five other buildings providing classroom accommodations.

"This is not a desirable situation in terms of the students' health or disciplinary problems that arise from students who need to go distances outdoors and down the streets," Formsa said.

To help handle the present enrollment (1,178), several classrooms are rented in the Third Church educational building and one in Bosman's Store on River Ave. between 13th and 14th Sts., in addition to several classrooms in the Farm House on 16th St. between Junior and Senior High, the Junior High annex and the Junior High building.

Formsa said that a new machine shop was constructed this year to provide classroom space for the music department in the annex, where the old machine shop was located. Also one English class has been added to the four agriculture classes in the Farm House.

"Of particular interest to citizens has been the traffic movement on Pine Ave. when classes change each hour," Formsa said.

"Another related problem to the serious overcrowding is that there is no space for student parking on any school-owned property," he added.

Assistant Principal Dale Shearer said the school prefers that no student drive an automobile to school and "would appreciate the parents' cooperation in not allowing students to drive to school."

Shearer said, however, that the school does recognize exceptions for some students who drive to school, such as athletic participants, cooperative training students, etc.

Formsa has said on previous occasions that the overcrowding of school facilities has an effect on the students' education, especially when it is necessary to increase the size of classes.

"All in all, Holland High has been able to provide an excellent program of instruction, due to the devotion of its teachers and the cooperation of the students and parents," Formsa said.

"But the ultimate solution can only come with the construction of adequate high school facilities in the very near future," he said.

Garden Club Working On Landscaping New Library

The Holland Garden Club is working with Dr. Carl S. Gerlach, professor in the Department of Urban Planning and Landscape Architecture at Michigan State University, in designing ground planting at the new Herrick Public Library, currently under construction. The planting will be a gift to the city from the Garden Club.

Dr. Gerlach, who has had two conferences with the Garden Club committee, is consulting with Carl Pirscher, library architect, and with Ray Herrick the donor in order to correlate the landscape design with the site and the concept of the building.

The landscaping committee consists of Mrs. L. J. Brower, chairman, Mrs. L. W. Lamb, Sr., and Mrs. Carl Cook. Mrs. W. A. Butler is club president. Mrs. Jay H. Petteer had served as the first chairman of the committee when it was formed three years ago consisting of past club presidents. This committee formulates long-range policy for the club, and after serious consideration the committee felt that landscaping the library would fulfill the initial objective of the club.

Through the years, the club has engaged in many projects which make such gifts possible. The club was first organized in 1945 to promote knowledge and the love of gardening which would result in a more beautiful community. Following the first meeting held at the L. W. Lamb home, gladioli were sold door to door, the beginning of a fund which now provides the landscaping project.

In 1946, to promote more tulips for Tulip Time, the club sold 100,000 bulbs to merchants, factories, banks and Hope College, which in turn donated them to the city. That was the year a cross of white tulips was planted in Kollen Park by the American Legion, and the planting has been continued over the years.

Because the park department was short of help, the club aided in a planting bed involving 100,000 bulbs plus 65,000 purchased by the city. Some 400 volunteers including school children, service club members and other organizations gathered one cold windy November day in 1946 to plant five miles of tulip lane. This effort saved one-third of the cost of the bulbs.

Other projects have included the sale of Christmas greens, fall flower shows, a county fair and a summer flower show at Baker Furniture Museum. Generous private contributions also have boosted the club's efforts.

Allen-De Vries Vows Exchanged

Mr. and Mrs. Dee D. Allen

Miss Audrey De Vries was given in marriage by her oldest brother, Rienert, in the ceremony that united her in marriage with Dee D. Allen in the Drenthe Christian Reformed Church Oct. 1 at 8 p.m. The Rev. John F. Kenbeek read the rites at the double ring ceremony amid decorations of palms, spiral candelabra and bouquets of white gladioli and mums. The pews were trimmed with Oregon ferns and set off with white ribbons.

The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Clarence De Vries Sr. of route 3, Zeeland and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. George H. Allen also of route 3, Zeeland.

Miss De Vries chose a wedding gown of chantilly lace with a sweetheart neckline outlined with sequins and jewels. Her chantilly lace skirt fell over layers of net and satin skirts. Her waist-length veil was clasped in place with a crown of jewels and net. As she walked down the aisle she carried a bouquet of white mums centered around a pink corsage.

The bride's sisters, Mrs. Julius Kamphuis, Mrs. Ben Schreier and Mrs. Carl Bakker, the matron of honor and bridesmaids respectively, wore ballerina-length gowns of chiffon. The dresses featured sabrina necklines and flowing back panels and each wore matching headpieces trimmed with bows.

The matron of honor wore a dress of light blue shade and carried pink mums in her bouquet. The bridesmaids held blue mum bouquets.

ALLEGAN — Sheriff Walter Runkel agreed with the State Corrections Commission today that Allegan County should have a new jail, but said his "hands are tied" in launching such a project.

"Right now the county board of supervisors is busy getting a new court house built," the sheriff said, "and they are only thinking about the possibility of a new jail."

The State Corrections Commission has recommended that the Allegan County jail be closed, and Runkel goes along with most of the agency's nine-point "indictment" of the building's deficiencies which prompted the action.

However, Francis Brower, the chairman of the Allegan County Board of Supervisors, said the group's building committee has gone along as far as possible with commission recommendations to keep the 55-year-old structure up to standards and added that "we don't want to see the jail closed now."

State Jail Inspector William H. Nestle reported the jail:

—Usually is overcrowded.

—A fire in the living quarters or basement would block the exit.

—The condition and design of the jail make it a "poor security risk."

—There is no office or storage space.

—No segregation between first offenders and hardened criminals.

—Visiting facilities are poor.

—Sanitation is poor.

—The jail has inadequate ventilation.

Runkel said he has been worried about the fire hazard problem and had thought of a plan to use a truck to pull off cell bars if a blaze barred exit from cell blocks. He said any spark in the wooden rafters of the 2½ story building would set the place ablaze in a short time.

Brower said it would be very hard for the county to finance a new jail now because of its commitments to the new court house. He said he wouldn't comment further until the matter comes up officially, probably at the supervisors Oct. 12 meeting.

Closing the jail would be a hardship and be costly to the department, the sheriff said, because he probably would have to transport his prisoners to the new Kent County Jail at Grand Rapids. He said that was the only jail in the area that wasn't filled up now.

Brower said it would be very hard for the county to finance a new jail now because of its commitments to the new court house. He said he wouldn't comment further until the matter comes up officially, probably at the supervisors Oct. 12 meeting.

Closing the jail would be a hardship and be costly to the department, the sheriff said, because he probably would have to transport his prisoners to the new Kent County Jail at Grand Rapids. He said that was the only jail in the area that wasn't filled up now.

State Jail Inspector William H. Nestle reported the jail:

—Usually is overcrowded.

—A fire in the living quarters or basement would block the exit.

—The condition and design of the jail make it a "poor security risk."

—There is no office or storage space.

—No segregation between first offenders and hardened criminals.

—Visiting facilities are poor.

—Sanitation is poor.

—The jail has inadequate ventilation.

Runkel said he has been worried about the fire hazard problem and had thought of a plan to use a truck to pull off cell bars if a blaze barred exit from cell blocks. He said any spark in the wooden rafters of the 2½ story building would set the place ablaze in a short time.

SMALL AUTOMOBILES AND GASOLINE

With the tax up another cent on gasoline it is easy to understand the race by the large manufacturers for more small cars that they can offer for the domestic market.

We are not ready to say that we are sold on the new compact automobiles being manufactured by our major automobile companies. We do think that they could have had a smaller car before this time to compete with the small cars that have been appearing in increasing quantities from other parts of the world.

With the federal tax on gasoline up another cent a gallon, the American Petroleum Institute now reports that the combined federal-state levy beyond 50 per cent of the actual retail price of gasoline in some 20 states and the average up 47 per cent in all states.

We are well aware that the increasing number of motor vehicles wear out the roads in our country. We are also aware that thousands of miles of new roads are being built, and they are needed if we are going to continue to tie our economy to our motor vehicles.

There are many problems that we have to face when it comes to tax. Some way we are going to need hard study and research in trying to find the answer to reducing the government waste of our tax dollars.

We, the public, need to spend more time trying to find the answer to the increasing taxes and also the increasing waste of our tax dollars. With our congressman home campaigning it is a fine time to ask them just what they are doing about government waste.

While we are on the gasoline tax and highways, we have received a breakdown on the cost of snow removal and the report that 43 of the state's 83 counties will receive snow removal funds this winter. While only 22 received snow removal funds last year. These 22 will receive less money this year, 1959-60, with nearly twice as many counties sharing the fund.

The fund this year totals $349,652 compared to $545,000 for last year. You may ask where does this money come from. The Motor Vehicle fund. So the more severe Dame Nature is, the more it costs motor vehicle operators.

Our increasing tax dollar waste must be reduced. The time is now.

Sharing the Living Christ
Acts 3:1-7; 11-16
By C. P. Dame

(Based on copyrighted outlines produced by the Division of Christian Education, National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U. S. A. and used by permission.)

Before the Christian Church had any buildings of its own for worship, Christians gave to the needy, the handicapped and troubled. Christianity teaches people to share what they have with others. This fact is illustrated clearly in our lesson.

I. Needy people are ever confronting us. Peter and John, both apostles of Jesus, were close friends. Both had been fishermen and both left their work in order to follow Jesus who had called them. These two friends differed much in character but they both had one thing in common—they loved Jesus. The early Christians living in Jerusalem, still had the habit of going to the Temple to worship.

One day as these two apostles were on their way to the Temple they saw a lame man—he had been lame from birth—lying at the door of the Temple. In those days there were no hospitals or sanatoriums for sick and handicapped people, neither the church of that day or the state gave them help and hence begging was common. Beggars still have the habit of calling at parsonages and church offices for help. There is a certain compliment in the fact that beggars gravitate to parsonages and churches for help.

Peter and John stopped and looked at the beggar and Peter said, "Look on us." And the man looked eagerly expecting something. Two Christians and a beggar who could not walk looked at each other. The two men had something to give which the beggar did not realize but learned before they separated. They had something to give because they were Christians.

II. Christians can greatly bless others. The beggar received something which he had not expected. First Peter said that he had no money. "Silver and gold have I none." Hence he could not give what the man expected. There are other valuables in life besides gold and silver. Some of the finest things in life cannot be bought for money—happiness, holiness, health, heaven are not for sale.

Peter shared the living Christ with this man. The words, "but such as I have give I thee" show that Peter realized he had something to give. When the beggar heard the words, "In the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth rise up and walk" and saw Peter's hand reaching out to him he got on his feet and walked. Most every one can give money in these prosperous days.

Let us remember that there are other gifts to present—inspiration, enthusiasm, encouragement, comfort, aims, goals and words that keep people standing on their feet. Those who have the gospel can give something which surpasses all other gifts in value. The gospel enriches people with blessings that follow its acceptance.

III. Jesus makes people whole. A crowd gathered after the performance of the miracle. The beggar and Peter and John all stood together. Everyone looked at them. Peter saw an opportunity to preach to the people and so he took it and told them that the man had been healed through Jesus Christ whom they had delivered up and denied but whom God had raised from the dead.

In this second recorded sermon of Peter he summoned the people to repentance and urged them to obtain the forgiveness of their sins through Christ. Peter could point to the healed man who was walking and praising God as a living proof of what the gospel can do. People who have been changed by the gospel are most able to witness for the gospel. The congregation that can point to people whose lives have been changed can tell of the power of the gospel. The congregation that has the gospel can present it. And this world needs it much.

Chiefs of Police Warn Violators

The Michigan Association of Chiefs of Police, in connection with its current "Unwanted Drive" program presently featuring the "Stop Sign Drifter," has announced that in eight out of ten fatal traffic accidents, the violation of a traffic law was found to be one of the immediate contributing factors.

Those eight out of ten fatal accidents, which last year took the lives of a thousand people in Michigan, did not have to happen, the association said. They happened only because of an unreasonable driver—a driver who disobeyed a law which was made to protect him and others on the road.

That, according to the association, is the reason why the Michigan Association of Chiefs of Police has undertaken to call attention to this problem of traffic law violations. No one has to break a traffic law they reminded drivers. And when a serious accident results, those who die are not the victims of fate. Such accidents are avoidable, but it is up to the individual driver to take the preventive action, they said.

Vows Spoken in Bethel Church

Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Lee Berens (Prince photo)

Bethel Reformed Church was the scene of a double ring ceremony on Oct. 2 when Miss Patricia Lou Van Vuren became the bride of Irwin Lee Berens of route 1, Hamilton. Rites were read by the Rev. Henry Rozendal before an altar decked with ferns, white chrysanthemum bouquets and spiral candelabra. The pews were marked with white bows.

The bride daughter of Mrs. John Van Vuren, 238 West 19th St., and the late Mr. Van Vuren, was given in marriage by her mother. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Berens of route 1, Hamilton.

The bride's floor length taffeta gown featured a sabbina neckline with a large mid-bodice medallion of Venice lace embroidered in sequins and pearls. Her bouffant skirt had a graduated bustle formed by increasing tucks toward the back that fell to a chapel train. Her double elbow veil of imported illusion came from a half crown of re-embroidered Alencon lace delicately embroidered in sequins and pearls. Her bouquet included a white orchid surrounded by stephanotis.

As matron of honor, the bride chose her sister, Mrs. Alvern Woodwyk, and as bridesmaids she selected Mrs. Vernon Becksfort, Miss Beverly Berens, sister of the groom.

Their gowns were fashioned of oriental green organza with scoop necklines and shirred cap sleeves. They wore matching headpieces with noseveils and carried colonial bouquets of bronze and yellow pom-poms.

Nancy Kay Woodwyk, niece of the bride, was dressed similar to the bride in her role of miniature bride. Her dress was of white tulle.

The bride, a graduate of Holland High School, is employed at Michigan Bell Telephone Co. and the groom, a graduate of Zeeland High School, works at Holland Hitch.

County Faces Cash Shortage

ALLEGAN (Special)—Allegan county is heading for the same sort of financial trouble that has forced service cuts in many other Michigan counties.

According to Harold Monteith, Martin Township supervisor and chairman of the finance committee, it will be impossible for the county to approve the social welfare department's request for a supplemental appropriation of $85,000 for the last three months of the year.

Monteith warned the board last Tuesday that the county had only $77,600 in its general fund as of Oct. 1 and expected $18,500 in general fund receipts during the last quarter, for a total available during the period of $96,100. General fund expenses during the period were estimated at $85,500, leaving a balance of only $10,500 available to meet the social welfare department's request for $85,000.

Members of the board's social welfare committee revealed that the department's 31 employees already have $10,500 in salaries due at present and the department is without funds to meet this payroll.

Committee members told the board that increases in hospital and medical expenses had been a determining factor in putting this year's social welfare expenditures so far over budget estimates.

Hope Chalks Up 4th Straight Win

Dutch Defeat Wabash; Frosh Shine

Putting its offense into high gear for the first time this season, Hope College's football team chalked up its fourth straight victory here Saturday with a decisive 19-13 win over Wabash College before 2,500 fans in Riverview Park.

It was the second meeting in history between the two schools and the first Hope win. It marked the eighth straight home victory for the Flying Dutchmen.

Coach Russ De Vette was able to use 37 players, including 14 freshmen, in the contest, and felt the tough competition provided by the Little Giants put Hope in a good spot for its return to MIAA competition here Saturday against Kalamazoo College in the annual Homecoming game. Wabash stopped the Hornets, 27-7 in the season's opener.

Hope's offense, which had failed to roll with any degree of consistency in the first three victories, looked strong, particularly in the running game where the Dutch chose to center their emphasis.

Line plunges by the fullbacks and off tackle slants by the halfbacks were effective throughout along with the end runs, which produced two of the touchdowns.

Bob Teall, Ho, and freshman playing in his second college game, found right end vulnerable as he scrambled 14 yards for the initial Hope touchdown with 5:16 left in the second quarter.

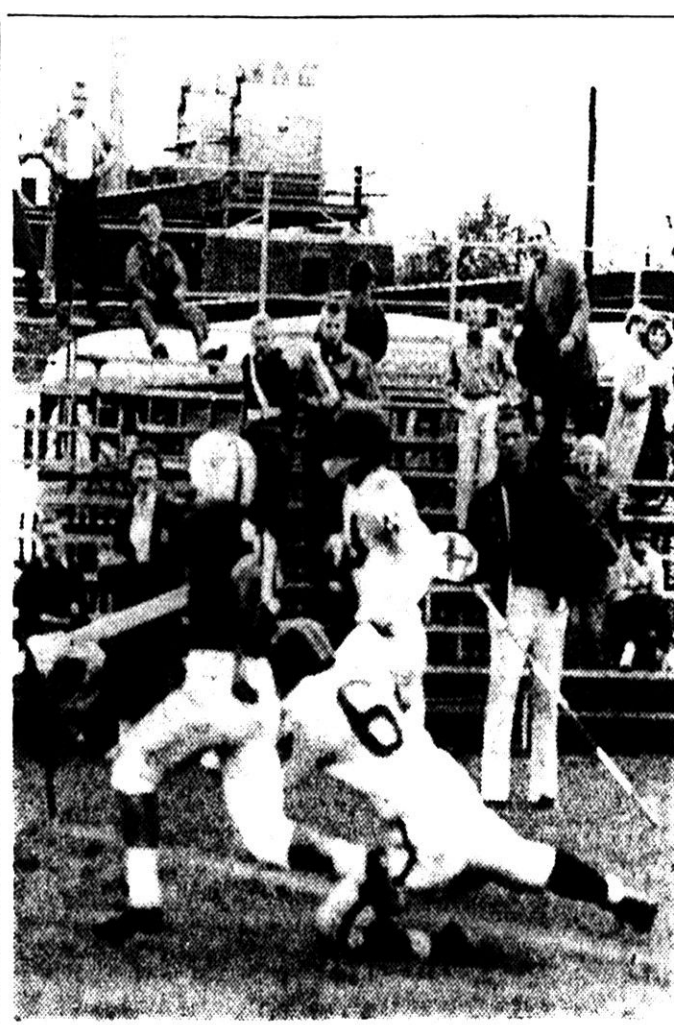

The touchdown was set up by Hope end Chuck Coulson's recovery of a fumble on a fake kick attempt on the Wabash 41. In five plays, all around end, the Dutch were home. Bill Huijbregt missed the conversion.

Teall, who turned in a fine game, led the Hope backs with 54 yards in seven tries and was followed by another freshman, Jim Shuck of Hudsonville, who picked up 44 yards in six carries, including a 13-yard dash during the first touchdown drive.

Hope scored its other touchdowns in the third quarter. After taking a Wabash kick on the Wabash 43, the Flying Dutchmen stayed on the ground for nine plays and quarterback Paul Mack sneaked the final yard. Shuck paced the drive with a 19-yard gain on a pitchout and added 11 on two tries, while sophomore Steve Slag of Saranac, smashed the center of the line twice for 11 yards. Throughout the game, Slag found yardage through the center as center Gene Van Dongen and guards Chuck Truby and Huijbregt were opening holes. He picked up 45 yards in 11 tries.

Duane Voskuil, who gained the other yardage in the drive, tumbled on the one but tackle George Peelen recovered one play prior to Mack's sneak with 8:26 left. Huijbregt missed the conversion.

Jerry Hendrickson, Grand Rapids senior halfback, scooted around right end for 36 yards and the final Hope touchdown late in the third

FIRST HOPE TOUCHDOWN — Bob Teall (40), Holland freshman, scored Hope College's first touchdown Saturday on a 14-yard end run in the second quarter. Co-capt. quarter. He took the ball on a double reverse, stayed near the sidelines, and then cut diagonally toward the center of the end zone for the final 15 yards. Huijbregt converted.

With Hope using its reserves in the final quarter, Wabash took the kickoff on its own two and returned to the 24 and in 15 plays, including two Hope penalties, had scored with 9:51 left. Dick White ran the final yard and then made the kick for extra point.

Late in the game, Hope freshman, Howie Glupker, fumbled on the Little Giant 46 and Wabash recovered. White ran 14 yards and then caught a pass good for 36 yards from Scott Polizotto with 19 seconds remaining. Jack McHenry scored from four yards out with one second left. White's kick failed.

Peelen just missed getting another Hope touchdown on the final kickoff. Wabash tried an onside kick and the 205-pound tackle picked it up on the Wabash 48 and lumbered down the field to the one-foot line where he was tackled to end the game.

Hope lost another chance at a touchdown when Voskuil fumbled just short of the goal line early in the first quarter and Wabash recovered for a touchdown. The fumble ended a 33-yard 10-play drive that started when Huijbregt recovered a Wabash punt that bounced away from Shuck. Included in the drive was a 14-yard pass from Mack to end Ron Bronson, one of Hope's three completions in the game and the longest aerial.

Sharky Vander Woude, Hope's leading runner in the last two games, played just one play. He is recovering from an arm injury and is expected to play against Kalamazoo. Jim Mohr returned for his first game since spraining an ankle against De Pauw, and played a fine defensive game, intercepting a Wabash pass.

Fire Losses Soar During Fiscal Year

Fire losses in Holland for the past three months have been nearly double the losses of the entire fiscal year ending June 30, 1959, according to figures from the files of the City Clerk's Office and the Holland Fire Department.

For the year ending June 30, 1959, firemen reported 129 alarms. The three most common types of fire were dwellings, of which there were 42, 40 grass and rubbish fires, and 22 fires in commercial buildings.

Thus far in the year beginning July 1, 1959, there have been 25 grass and rubbish fires, nine fires in commercial buildings and five dwellings, out of a total of 57 alarms for the first three months of the fiscal year, firemen said.

The rate of fires is running well ahead of the rate for the last fiscal year. During the twelve months ending June 30, firemen answered an average of just under 11 calls per month. For the first three months of this fiscal year the rate has averaged 19 calls per month, according to Fire Chief Dick Brandt.

Property damage resulting from a fire at the Veterans of Foreign Building on September 27, has boosted the total property damage resulting from fires during the first quarter of the present fiscal year to $105,090 or nearly $45,000 above the $60,915 total property damage for the entire year ending June 30.

Although most of the loss suffered during the first three months of the present fiscal year has been due to one fire, Brandt said that the losses in Holland due to small fires in the home total was in the neighborhood of $10,000 per year. It is a $10,000 needlessly spent, he said.

GRANDSTANDING . . Series Sidelights

By Randy Vande Water

CHICAGO (Special) — Comiskey Park, despite 40 years of stored up energy and a band playing "Look for the Silver Lining," was an extra chilly structure Thursday as the 47,653 fans departed realizing "there was no tomorrow."

The go-go Chicago White Sox had gone and all that remained for the loyal Sox fans was a memory, a hope for next year and a fear that it might take another 40 years to repeat.

Many of the sports writers covering the World Series on its final day were quite sure that they would see the Los Angeles Dodgers again next year but most of them doubted the White Sox would return.

Several of the writers we talked to thought the Detroit Tigers, if their pitching comes through, or the Cleveland Indians might replace the White Sox while the Pittsburgh Pirates will battle the Dodgers.

While chatting with the scribes we shook hands with Red Smith, who in our book is the best of the trade. Smith recalled his visit to Holland during Rocky Marciano's training for a title fight and of having lunch at the Hotel Warm Friend.

Doc and Sam Greene of the Detroit News team, filled us in on Watson Spoelstra, who has been in the hospital for the past couple of weeks for an operation. They expected the former Sentinel sports editor to be out of the hospital this week.

Walter O'Malley, the president of the Los Angeles club, picked up a habit from Bill Veck and appeared at the game in open-collared sport shirt without a coat.

Checking with one of Veck's aides prior to the game, we found that the White Sox batboy will get about $500 for his Series services. The batboys are paid about $40 a week during the regular season plus the tips they may get from the players. The White Sox also furnish the visiting team batboy and he is paid the same way.

The aids expected that Ted Kluszewski would be voted a half share by the club since he played just three weeks. His 10 RBI's set a new series record for six games and tied Yogi Berra's seven-game total.

Following the game the two managers (Walt Alston and Al Lopez) went to the Bards Room, a room for writers under the stands where they were interviewed. A closed-circuit TV was set up in the Bards room during the game for those writers assigned to the clubhouse, but who wanted to watch the progress of the game. The Bards room and clubhouse adjoin.

Duke Snider, who started the Dodger scoring, checks gum rather than tobacco. His homer, hit on a 1-1 pitch into the lower deck in right field, was a solid smash and left no question as to its fate.

It was his 11th World Series homer and tied him with Mickey Mantle for second place. Babe Ruth leads with 15.

Snider also set a new National League RBI record with 26. The World Series overall RBI record is 35 held by the late Lou Gehrig.

Wally Moon's homer was 375 feet away in the lower deck in right center seven rows up while Big Klu's homer was in the first few rows of the second deck. On Moon's next time at bat he hit a roller to Gerry Staley and Staley chased him to the bag. From our vantage point it looked like Staley missed Moon as the Dodger left fielder went by but umpire Ed Hurley signaled him out.

Hurley threw Dodger coach Chuck Dressen out of the game for bench jockeying and it marked the first time since 1933 that a team member has been ejected from a Series game. Henrie Manush was ejected by Henry Moran in 1933 while playing with the Washington Senators according to Joe Cronin. Dressen came storming out of the dugout and ran up to Hurley and began arguing after Hurley had signaled the Dodger dugout to "quiet down."

Johnny Podres' double was against the canvas in center field while Charley Neal's double was in the corner of center field near the Dodger bullpen. Larry Sherry,

County Hams Hold Drill

Ottawa County amateur radio operators Saturday set up an emergency field communications station in Kollen Park and sent out ten radio operators in cars to patrol a simulated disaster area in the south end of Holland.

The exercise was part of a national test alert held in conjunction with Red Cross and Civil Defense units throughout the country.

The simulated disaster area, bounded by 16th and 20th Sts. and Van Raalte and Thomas Aves., was patrolled by radio vehicles reporting to the emergency field station which in turn relayed the calls to Red Cross and Civil Defense teams participating in the drill.

In addition, amateur radio operators at base stations in Grand Haven, Allendale, Coopersville, Hudsonville, and Zeeland participated. Contact was maintained with Red Cross units in each state and Red Cross Headquarters in Washington, D. C.

The test alert is held by RACES, Radio Amateur Civil Emergency Service, each year in preparation for possible future disasters by maintaining effective communications with rescue teams and acquiring aid from distant points.

Holland to Vote Oct. 19 on Sewer Improvements

Heavy Lines and Solid Dots Illustrate Area Covered in Oct. 19 bond issue. Broken Lines and Open Dots Show Future Extension to Be Made as Needed.

New $2,900,000 System Would Serve Until 1975

City voters will go to the polls in a special election Oct. 19 to decide whether Holland will install new sewer treatment facilities at a cost of $2,900,000.

Although this program calls for general obligation bonds, the cost of operating the system and paying some 38 per cent of the bonds will be borne by service charges which go into effect soon.

The proposed program is designed to care for a city of 30,000 and engineers estimate first units will be sufficient until 1975. The system is so designed that other units can be added.

The Board of Public Works has been studying Holland's sewer needs since 1953 when the present plant began experiencing overload conditions. At that time Black and Veatch, consulting engineers of Kansas City, Mo., was engaged to study treatment facilities as well as the collection system and report its findings to the city.

The Black and Veatch report, presented in October of 1954, gave two alternate plans, one for the corporate limits at that time, and the other a more elaborate plan for providing collecting services beyond the corporate limits. The report emphasized immediate action on treatment facilities, and a three-year limit on the collecting system. At that time the Board of Public Works and City Council favored the long range plan which included services for outlying areas for a greater Holland.

The BPW believed that the expansion of the system would be on a slow rate which would be easily handled financially. But expansion developed much more rapidly than expected, and health conditions in some areas prompted immediate action. Today the treatment plant built in 1926 is overtaxed and obsolete. Serving only the original city of Holland and very few outside customers, it would have to be replaced, even without the annexation program which more than quadrupled the size of Holland in just a little over a year.

The present plant was designed to handle a maximum flow of 2.6 million gallons per day. The daily average at present is 2.4 million gallons, and Holland has peak days when more than 4 million gallons flow through the old facilities.

Many of the present trunkline sewers are nearly loaded to capacity and some are overloaded, causing basement flooding in some areas during high rates of flow or slight stoppages. The Central Ave. sewer is now heavily loaded and no more can be added to it. The proposed Pine Ave. sewer would pick up part of this load and allow for additional load beyond 32nd St.

Plans also call for the Pine Ave. sewer line to pick up sewage from the west half of Holland to Ottawa Ave. that is now coming through the overloaded Central Ave. sewer. The 16th St. sewer also is overloaded and the lift station is constantly giving trouble. The sewer to the east is only 12 inches in size and is now overloaded. This new extension as far as Fairbanks Ave. is to help relieve this condition as well as some extra from Holland Heights area.

New System Cost Figures

How would the $2,900,000 be spent for a new sewage disposal plant?

Treatment facilities would be replaced at a cost of $845,000 plus $27,150 for connection to outfall sewer.

A Pine Ave. interceptor sewer, Ninth and Pine to 40th and Columbia, 32nd and Central to 40th and Central; Ninth Street and Pine to treatment plant, $454,200.

Plasman Ave. sewer, $27,710. South Shore sewer, lift stations 1 to 5 force mains and gravity mains, and lateral sewers to 32nd St., $327,440.

Lift station No. 6 including pump, force main and 30-inch gravity sewer, $402,770.

Northeast sewer, $174,590. Lift station No. 8 including pump and force main, $42,350.

Land, $75,000. Miscellaneous contingencies, $24,290. Total, $2,900,000.

Holland City Has Two Sewer Systems

Holland has two separate systems of sewers, one a drainage system for storm water and the other a sanitary sewage system. The drainage system is under direct supervision of City Council through the city engineer, and the sanitary sewage system is under the management and control of the Board of Public Works.

The present sewer plant on Third St. has been in operation since 1927 when it was built at a cost of $143,382. It is now obsolete.

A property owner is defined as a registered voter who has property in the city assessed for taxes or the husband or wife of such a taxpayer.

Polls will be open in the city's 16 voting precincts from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

What About Septic Tanks? Here Are Some Answers

By Sam Stevenson
City Sanitarian

If your home is one of the many in Holland not connected to a municipal sewer system, you may be using a septic tank to get rid of household wastes. This system works by channeling wastes into a watertight, underground tank, where they are partially decomposed and then dispersed, through a series of tile pipes, into the ground. Here are some questions that may have puzzled you about these do-it-at-home sewer plants.

What is the principle of a septic-tank system? It's based on the fact that organic wastes from the home can be reduced, by certain bacteria, to liquids and then gases. Such wastes contain these bacteria, which are able to multiply and work rapidly in the tank and pipes.

Is all waste matter digested? No. About 40 per cent of the material entering the tank settles on the bottom as sludge (which periodically must be removed from the tank) because it can't be consumed by the bacteria. In most instances tank pumping should be done about every 2 1/2 to 3 years. Most of the remaining material is converted into gas and escapes from the tank. Liquid and finely divided organic and inorganic matter are then dispersed through the tile pipes.

Can septic tanks be used everywhere? No. Zoning and health laws prohibit them in many areas. They can't be used successfully in swampy soils or in certain types of soil, such as clay, where good drainage would be extremely difficult. Nor should they be installed where underground water level is close to the ground surface.

Before putting in a septic system, find out from the Holland City Health Department authorities whether the soil is suitable and whether use of a system is legal. Beware of so-called soil conditioners that supposedly make installation possible where the soil originally was not usable. These conditioners don't have permanent effect.

What are the main parts of a system? The tank and a series of perforated and loosely jointed tile pipes, which form what is known as the "tile field." The tank, which can be of steel or precast or poured concrete, has inlet and outlet pipes. The outlet pipe connects to the tile pipes, through which liquids and digested wastes are dispersed. Available in variety of sizes and shapes, the tank should be sunk just below ground level, at least five feet from the house and at least 50 feet from any water-supply source.

How big a tank does a home need? It depends on the number of people in the house, the number of bedrooms and on such factors as whether you use a garbage disposer, auto washing machine or other water using appliances. One rule of thumb is that the tank's capacity should provide at least 150 gallons for each member of the household, and if a disposer or washer is used, the volume should be increased by 50 per cent. Minimum tank size required by the Holland City Ordinance 443 is 750 gallons.

What's the cost? The average cost for a properly designed system including only an automatic clothes washer in the Holland area provided the contractor has excellent soil conditions and encounters no other problems is about $225 plus the regular, nominal, pumping cost.

How long can your private system be expected to last? This is difficult to predict, however, remember that the septic tank will remove about 40 per cent of the solids with a portion of the balance entering the drainage area. In high clogging-rate soils this means that the individual system could properly function for only a short time and the owner is again faced with the expense of an additional drainage area. This is fine if sufficient property is available for this installation.

What does this information mean? It means that, 1. according to today's standard of living and the personal desire for "Something Better," the age of the privy is just about over. 2. With the privy going or gone, the septic tank is the next best for treatment of domestic wastes until a municipal system is available.

Oct. 19 is the late the home owner could guard against the pitfalls of septic tank ownership and provide himself with the services and advantages of municipal sewage treatment.

Sytem Dates Back to '26, Obsolete

Holland's present sewage treatment plant, now obsolete, was installed in 1926 and first put into operation March 2, 1927. It was built at a cost of $143,382. Complaints on odor were received with in a year and while the city has done what it could to alleviate the situation, this phase of the operation has not been too successful.

In 1934, a gas collecting and ventilating system was added at a cost of $13,342 and minor changes have been made from time to time, but essentially the plant today is much the same as it was in 1927.

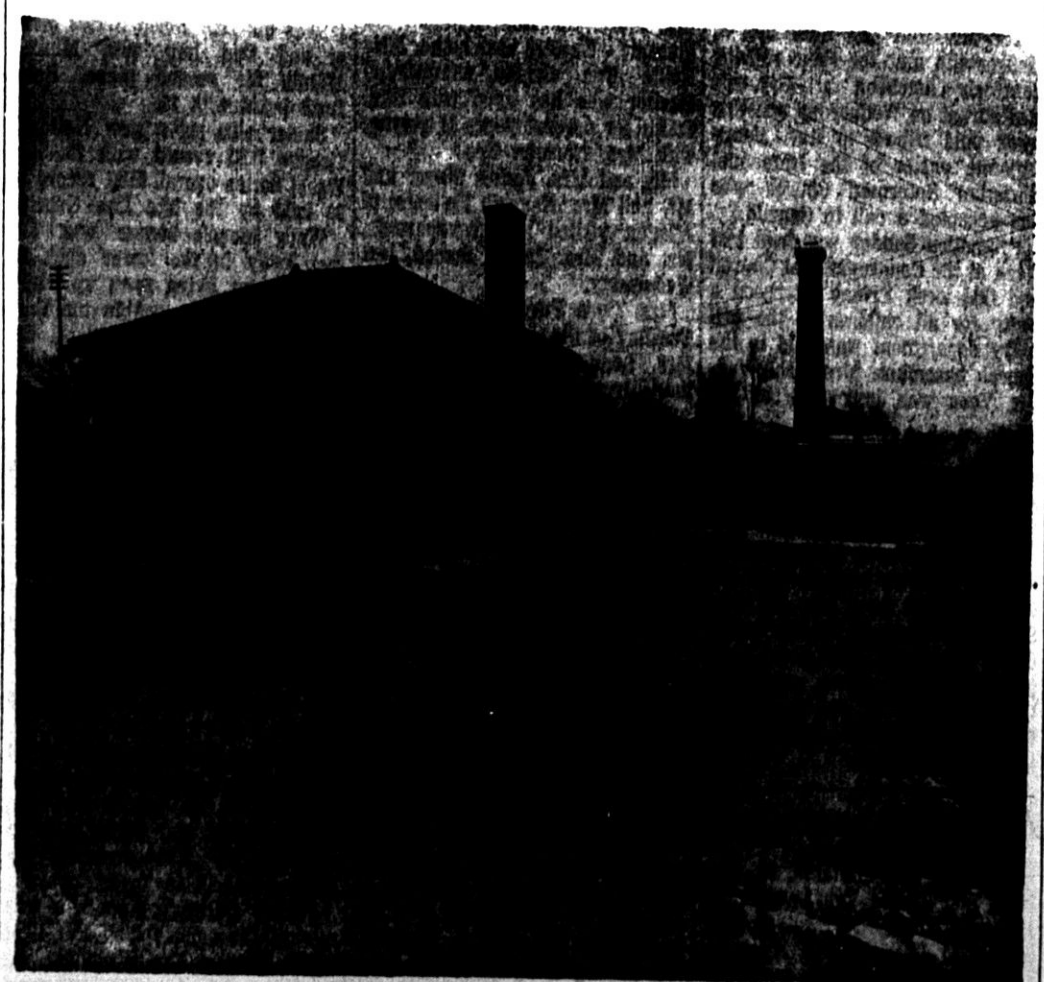

The present plant was authorized April 15, 1925, when Common Council ordered construction of a sewage disposal plant on Third St. between River and Central Aves.

As early as 1900, a firm of engineers was engaged to design a complete sewage collection system for the city north of 17th St. As a result the following trunk line sewers were built. West 12th St. discharging into Black River; Central Ave., discharging into Black River; Third St. discharging into Tannery Creek where it crossed Eighth St.

Septic tanks were built at ends of 12th St. and Central Ave., but were removed in 1912. In 1908 the city engineer completed the design of the collection system to cover the southern half of the city.

Latest improvements at the present plant involved a $45,000 program completed in 1957 to improve treatment facilities, but these improvements, temporary in nature, were done only until Black and Veatch completed its study and plans for a new system, now under consideration.

The proposed plant is designed so that further units can be added as the need for additional service continues. The plant which people are voting on Oct. 19 is designed for a population of 30,000 and should be sufficient until 1975.

ZEELAND (Special) — Zeeland and Hudsonville each scored twice in the first half and battled to a 13-13 tie here Friday night before 3,000 Homecoming fans at the Zeeland Athletic Field.

The tie left Zeeland with a 2-1-1 mark while Hudsonville is now 1-1-2.

Zeeland opened the scoring with a 36-yard drive in the first quarter that was climaxed by a 15-yard pass play from Chuck Ter Haar to Bob Elenbaas. Chuck Ter Haar's kick attempt was wide.

Early in the second quarter, the Eagles exploded Ken Visser for 49 yards for a touchdown to conclude a 64-yard drive and tie the score. Garth Nienhuis was stopped in his try for the extra point. Later in the same period, Cliff Ter Haar raced 15 yards around end to put Zeeland in the lead. The score ended a 63-yard drive. This time Chuck Ter Haar converted.

With a couple of minutes left in the first half, Visser again was sprung loose and raced 63 yards to the Zeeland one-yard line where he was hit by Bob Elenbaas.

Rog Abel went over on a quarterback sneak on the next play and Bill Brandt converted to tie the score. The drive started on the Eagle 30-yard line.

Neither team threatened in the third quarter but midway in the final quarter Zeeland end Ron Bouwman recovered a Hudsonville fumble on the Eagles' 30. Two passes and a good run by Ron Glass brought the ball to first down on the four.

But the Hudsonville defensive team dug in and stopped the Chix on the six-inch line.

With three minutes to go in the game, Hudsonville moved to the Zeeland 20, and the Chix held on fourth down and left the Eagles six inches short of a first down. Visser hit the center and was nailed by Dave Arendsen.

Zeeland took over on the 20 and ran up the middle until forced to punt on fourth down. The Eagles got the ball at midfield and with 10 seconds remaining completed a long pass to end the game on the Chix 30.

Visser led both teams in yards rushing as he picked up 189 of the 274 yards gained by the Eagles. He carried 20 times for nine yards a try. Lynn Allen of Hudsonville gained 50 yards in 13 carries.

Chuck Ter Haar shined for Zeeland with nine completions in 11 pass attempts including the touchdown. Glass led Zeeland rushing with 97 yards in 13 carries while Hudsonville held fullback Bob Elenbaas to 17 yards in eight tries. But Elenbaas stood out on defense, making 16 tackles.

Art Vredevelt was strong for the Eagles on defense and Bruce Strunk played a good game as linebacker. Sophomore Clarence Rohart turned in a strong game at defensive tackle.

Zeeland entertains Lee next Friday night while Hudsonville hosts Byron Center in the annual Homecoming and OK League game.

DAR Hears Talk By Miss Gordon

Mrs. John Mikula of Waukegan was hostess at the October meeting of the Elizabeth Schuyler Hamilton Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution Thursday afternoon.

Miss Linda Gordon, Holland's 1959 Community Ambassador, gave an interesting account of her experiences this summer in Brazil as a participant in the experiment in international living.

Comparing life in Brazil with life in the United States, Miss Gordon said she had been greatly surprised at the lack of modern conveniences in even the most modern homes of the more affluent Brazilians. On the other hand, there are many servants in the homes and their meals are elaborate and formally served.

While a large number of children in Brazil are receiving little or no education because school attendance laws are not enforced, those who do attend school receive a good education. The study of foreign languages is emphasized and begun in the elementary grades. English is taught in all schools.

Miss Gordon said that Brazilians are avidly interested in the United States and know much more about us than we do about Brazil.

She feels that the lack of community organizations and interest in community service is a handicap to the progress of the country.

She told of her visit to Brazil, a city which is being built to replace Rio de Janeiro as capital of Brazil. She said that many Brazilians are strongly opposed to the spending of so much government money on this project that there is fear that the city may never be finished.

Miss Laura Boyd, regent, presided and Mrs. Benjamin Van Lente led devotions. In the business meeting chairmen of committees told of their plans for the year.

Refreshments were served by the hostess committee consisting of Mrs. John Rozeboom, Mrs. Richard Martin, Miss Ruth Turner, Mrs. Bruce Mikula, Mrs. Edward Slooter, and Myrtle Beech.

Miss Boyd announced that the November meeting would be at the home of Mrs. Donald Winter and that Hans Suzenaar would speak on National Civil Defense.

The now divided city of Berlin was formed in 1432 by the merger of two settlements across from each other on the Spree River. They had been founded in 1237.

Court Busy Processing Many Cases

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — Several cases were processed in Ottawa Circuit Court Friday.

Robert Erickson, 24, of 1400 Sheldon Rd., Grand Haven, who pleaded guilty Sept. 9 to two counts, felonious assault and nighttime breaking and entering received prison sentences on both counts.

On the felonious assault charge, he was sentenced to serve three to four years at Southern Michigan Prison with no recommendation, and for nighttime breaking and entering, he must serve 10 to 15 years, also no recommendation.

Charges resulted from an episode Aug. 24 when Erickson broke into a tavern in Grand Haven and hit an upstairs tenant over the head with two full beer bottles necessitating 18 stitches to close the wound. Erickson currently is on parole after he was sentenced in 1953 to serve 18 months to 15 years in prison on another nighttime breaking and entering charge.

Albert Thompson, 43, Spring Lake, appeared on two counts, nonsupport and adultery, and he was remanded back to Municipal Court for examination on both counts. The nonsupport charge involves desertion of his wife, Alice, and three minor children dating back to May 10. The adultery charge dates back to Sept. 29. Bond of $1,000 had not been furnished.

Raymond Frank LaFrance, 19, route 1, West Olive, who pleaded guilty Sept. 9 to charges of larceny from a building was sentenced to serve six months in the county jail, receiving credit for the 10 weeks already served awaiting sentence.

Howard Dean Gibson, 22, and Paul Gibson, 25, both of 99 West 10th St., both pleaded not guilty to charges of nighttime breaking and entering and asked the court to appoint an attorney to represent them. The pair allegedly broke into Val Hall in Holland Sept. 11 and were surprised by a patrolman in the act of burglarizing. Bond in each case had been set for $2,500 and had not been furnished.

John H. Herrema, 46, Jensen, who pleaded guilty Sept. 9 to arson, was put on probation for 18 months with $100 costs to be paid on monthly installments. He also must make restitution of $30.28. He was charged with willfully burning his 1953 car mortgaged to a finance company for the above amount but valued at only $250.

Virgil A. Lough, 66, Holland, appeared on petition of his former wife, Martha, route 1, Morgan town, W. Va., who claims he has not supported her since last May 1 when he sent her $40. The couple was married in 1915 and was divorced in 1954. The matter was referred to the Friend of Court for further investigation and was adjourned until Nov. 2.

Frederick Raymond Bom, 19, route 1, Conklin, who pleaded guilty Sept. 9 to larceny from a motor vehicle, was put on probation for 18 months. One condition is that he refrain from drinking. He allegedly took a tire and wheel from a car in Chester township July 19.

William T. Riley, 30, Spring Lake, who pleaded guilty Sept. 9 to daytime breaking and entering, was sentenced to serve 1 to 15 years at Southern Michigan Prison with minimum required. On Aug. 15 he had been sentenced out of Kent County to a similar term, but since that day has been in the Ottawa jail. He allegedly broke into Pettit's dress shop in Spring Lake Oct. 22, 1958, and took a quantity of clothing. Judge Raymond L. Smith recommended that Riley be given all advantages of psychiatric facilities available at the prison.

Plans are being made for a second stage to the annual party that will be geared to teenage youth after the smaller children

They were chosen district champions two years ago and were not eligible for that place this year. Named as the next district champions for the 1959-60 season are the Dearborn Chord-O-Matics with Roger Craig as director.

Northwest Detroit were scored as the novice quartet champs.

Others taking part in the finals were the Key Knights of Pontiac, the Stateliners of Niles-Buchanan and the Metro-Chords of Detroit.

Judges were Tom Grove of Dowagiac on harmony accuracy; Joe Harnsen of Madison, Wis., on stage presence; Bob Fraser of LeMout, Ill. on balance and blend; Art Patterson of Willowdale, Ont., on arrangements; and Howard Tubbs on voice expression. Lawrence Beukema and Matt Wilson of Holland were timekeepers and Paul Kernan of Ithaca served as secretary.

Three former District Champion quartets also sang. They were the Extension Chords of Grand Rapids, champions in 1952-53; the Sharpkeepers of Detroit, 1957-58 and the Staff Sergeants of Detroit, winners last year. Clarence Jalving who is serving his first term as International President of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America, Inc., spoke briefly.

The Michigan district includes all of Michigan and a part of Canada. Sixteen quartets and 11 choruses participated in the eliminations held in the afternoon at the Civic Center.

The Hotel Warm Friend as well as the club rooms of the local chapter located on the third floor of the Woolworth Building were turned over to the conventioners which brought to Holland more than 2,000 barbershoppers.

Annual Halloween Party Again Planned by JCCs

Holland area young people will be treated to a bigger and better Halloween party, according to Avery D. Baker, general chairman of the annual event sponsored by the Holland Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The party will again be held at the Civic Center and take place on Halloween night, Saturday, Oct. 31. On the Wednesday preceding Halloween nearly 200 school children are expected to paint local merchant's windows in competition for several prizes. Supervisors Hit Rural Appraisal Program

GRAND HAVEN (Special)—County-wide Clemenishaw appraisals were rehearsed at the first meeting of the October session of the Ottawa County board of Supervisors Monday afternoon in Grand Haven.

Several township supervisors expressed dissatisfaction with progress on rural appraisals to date, and attempts are being made to have William Clemenishaw, company president, appear in person for a final review of the program which started in 1957.

James E. Townsend, Holland city attorney, said it should be emphasized that the current problem affects only some rural areas, not the county as a whole. George Swart of Grand Haven has been serving as chairman of the special appraisals committee.

Holland City Manager H. Herbert Holt was welcomed as a new supervisor representing Holland city. He replaces Mayor Robert Visscher who had requested he be relieved of his duties on the county board. Holt was introduced by Townsend who felt members would find Holt an able individual and one who could make a real contribution to the board. Chairman Robert Murray assigned to Holt the committee appointments previously held by Visscher.

Roland T. White, representing the Western Michigan Tourist and Resort Association, thanked the board for previous support. He said 1959 has been a good year for Michigan which ranks fourth in tourist trade in the nation, preceded only by New York, California and Florida.

Kenneth Bosman, representing Michigan Children's Aid Society covering Ottawa, Kent, Ionia and Muskegon counties, reported on the Society's activities for the year ending June 30, 1959. During that period, three children were cared for in boarding homes in the county; seven were placed in supervised and adopted homes, four unmarried mothers were given assistance and two additional foster homes were studied at a total cost of $2,422.45 for which the Society was reimbursed in the amount of $1,300. The board granted a $250 allocation as in the past. Bosman previously had served as county juvenile agent.

Case Szopinski, chairman of the buildings and grounds committee reported that fire escapes are being erected at the court house and a fire alarm system completed in accordance with orders from the state. The board approved a $1,000 allocation for parking lot changes at the court house necessitated by the new jail.

Board members were informed of a 5th district meeting of the Supervisors Association in Hart Oct. 29. There will be tours of the new county building and an address by Cong. Griffin.

A request from Boy Scout troop 6 of Holland for use of county-owned property as a camp was referred to the conservation department for recommendation to the board. The present camp is no longer available and the troop must move its cabins. A site of 35 acres in Park Township in section 9 is sought for a new camp site and reforestation.

Nick Cook of Zeeland and James Brouwer of Holland Township were appointed to investigate whether the state would pay rental on quarters for welfare offices in Grand Haven city hall.

Strict Watch Set for Dogs

GRAND HAVEN (Special)—An Ottawa County dog quarantine was ruled impractical by county and civic officials here Thursday in the Health Department office but recommendations for dog control and prevention of rabies were made.

Sheriff Bernard Grysen said the group agreed on "discriminate enforcement" of the dog law which means all dogs found running loose in unincorporated areas will be picked up by deputies and brought to the Ottawa County Animal Shelter.

Should another outbreak of rabies occur dogs found running loose will be immediately destroyed, Grysen said. A plan for voluntary vaccination of all dogs in the county and for stricter control of dogs was approved by the group. Dogs must be tied at all times except when a person is present to supervise their running loose.

The meeting was called following the discovery of rabies in a dog which had bitten a two-year-old Holland girl early in September. The sheriff's department reported the dog was given to the girl's brother by a woman at an auction between Holland and Zeeland on Labor Day.

Deputies reported the puppy was one of a litter of seven. They wish to contact the woman to learn information about the other puppies. Anyone with information is asked to contact the sheriff's department.

Small Audiences Witness Two Fine Operas in City

What the audience lacked in numbers, it made up in enthusiasm for an exceptionally fine presentation of the Italian opera "Rigoletto" presented by the Wagner Opera Co. Thursday night in Civic Center.

A limited audience also witnessed the afternoon performance of "The Barber of Seville" which despite language barriers was enjoyed by the younger set. But in big Civic Center, an audience of 1,000 appears lost in a place which seats more than 2,200. Severe rainstorms and tornado alerts at night presumably reduced the crowd.

Both operas had been produced by the Wagner company for the New York Opera Festival. Its current tour has a company of 70 including 25 in the orchestra, and the 20th season this year has been lengthened to 10 weeks covering some 12,000 miles in the United States and Canada.

Quality of performance was unquestioned as the company put on "Rigoletto," a well staged production with a profusion of show costumes and stage settings, some elaborate and some plain, but all of them highly effective.

Exchange Club Hears Talk by Miss Gordon

Holland's Community Ambassador to Brazil, Miss Linda Gordon, addressed the Holland Exchange Club at its regular meeting Monday noon. She lived in Brazil seven weeks and in her talk gave several outstanding differences between that nation and ours.

For one thing, Brazil has vast undeveloped areas. Most of development has taken place along the Atlantic coast and large jungle areas back from the coast remain in the primitive state. The present president of Brazil is making an effort to develop some of the interior where living and working conditions can be bettered. He has had the new capitol located in the city of Brasilia. Brasilia is an entirely new city and he hopes to have the work completed by 1962 when his term of office expires. The work is far enough advanced that the date for moving the government to Brasilia has been set for April 1960.

Another contrast Miss Gordon found was the attitude of the Brazilian people to common labor. They have adopted a rather patronizing attitude toward it. She said, by way of illustration, that a middle class girl of Brazil would be insulted if asked to babysit. Miss Gordon also found a very high rate of illiteracy there in the city where she spent the greatest amount of time, only one-third of the children were in school. She found nearly everyone very much interested in the United States and very friendly. They seemed to know much more about the United States than we here know about Brazil.

State President of Exchange, Roger Hewitt, was present and talked briefly on the work of Exchange on both state and national levels. He was introduced by the president, John Ver Beek. Miss Gordon was introduced by the vice president, Dwight Ferris.

DESOLATE SUMMER PLAY AREA—Wintry winds and overcast skies of the past weekend have turned Ottawa Beach, a favorite summer playground of thousands, into a dismal and barren wasteland. The sandy beach, only a short time ago echoing the laughter and shouts of children, is now deserted except for a few scattered pieces of driftwood. The drifting sand is held in check by flimsy-looking wooden fences as the favorite summer recreation area lies dormant in anticipation of another busy season next year.

GRAND HAVEN (Special) —

Two cars, driven by separate employees of Gardner-Denver Co. who were headed for work, collided at the intersection of Franklin and Griffin Sts. Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Rosso received a bump at the base of the skull toward the right. She was to remain in the hospital for observation.

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — Erasmo Munoz, 39, of 275 N. Division St., Holland, was brought before Circuit Judge Raymond L. Smith Monday afternoon under the Uniform Reciprocal Enforcement of Support Act, upon complaint of his common-law wife, Della Munoz, Austin, Texas, whom, she claims, Munoz has failed to support, together with their five minor children.

Mrs. Munoz claims she has not lived with Munoz since May 2, 1959, when he deserted his family and came to Holland to live with his mother, Helen Calvo. She claimed she had received no support from him since he left on May 2.
