Ottawa Board Okays Big Budget

GRAND HAVEN — Ottawa county's Board of Supervisors, which normally takes several days to study the proposed budget for county operations each year, Tuesday approved the tentative budget in record time, in a little more than an hour.

Veteran members of the board were amazed at the ease with which the record $1,368,500.26 budget for 1965 was approved, item by item, with Vice Chairman R. L. Cook of Grand Haven acting as chairman in place of Robert Murray, Coopersville.

The new budget is $93,195.53 more than this year's budget and the big reason for the increase is the boost in the appropriation for direct relief, from $30,000 to $165,000. Starting this year, the county must pay all of the direct relief, formerly carried by the individual municipalities.

General salary increases were also approved, with some of the elected officers receiving $1,000 increases. The total budget for salaries in 1965 will be $361,697, if the budget is approved, an increase of more than $16,000 over this year's salary budget.

The millage, to be asked from the tax allocation commission, is 4.05 mills and this will yield the necessary funds to meet the budget. Chairman Henry Slaughter, Lamont, of the ways and means committee, reported.

The committee pared all possible departments in order to keep the budget down, Slaughter said. An appropriation of $80,000 was approved for 1964 for county roads, but this was dropped in the new budget, Slaughter said. Supervisor Clarence Reenders of Grand Haven township, chairman of the roads committee, protested Tuesday and considered a plea for funds for roads from the improvement fund. "But," he said, "I hate to ask for improvement funds because a large amount will be needed next year to furnish the new county building, now under construction."

The new budget will be presented for final approval Oct. 22, at the concluding meeting of the October session, as a public hearing must be held by the ways and means committee. The new constitution calls for this hearing, which is scheduled for Oct. 21 in the supervisors room of the county building.

The following is a list of departments in the 1965 budget and the 1964 appropriations in parentheses:

Group Organized On Recreation

GRAND HAVEN — An organizational meeting of the Grand Haven Recreational Development Committee was held earlier this week and began carrying out the instructions of Mayor William Creason.

The committee has been asked to do three things according to Miller Sherwood, chairman of the Mayor's committee. First, the group must determine the need for various types of recreation in the city to include all age levels.

The group must come up with cost estimates for the development of an overall program, including the development as a recreational park, the Mul-

Goldwater Bandwagon Coming Here

A Goldwater Bandwagon tour which will stump Michigan on a 1,200-mile jaunt next week, headed by two sons of Barry Goldwater, Philip Crosby, son of Bing Crosby, and other political and show business personalities, will pay a brief visit to Holland Wednesday, Oct. 21.

The bandwagon caravan consisting of a chartered bus and about 12 cars is expected to roll into Holland at 8:50 a.m. and remain a half hour, greeting people informally on the streets and in the GOP headquarters just east of the hotel where coffee will be served.

The bandwagon crew will spend the preceding night in Muskegon, will have breakfast in Grand Haven and then come to Holland. Their week-long tour is studded with big rallies in larger cities.

The kickoff will be a huge GOP rally Saturday at 8 p.m. in Civic Auditorium in Grand Rapids. Among the speakers will be Dr. Nicholas Nyardi, former high Hungarian official who escaped when the Communists took over, Cong. August Johansen and Eddie Bracken of the movies.

Among others in the tour group will be Connie Bennett, the movie star; starlet Pat Priest, daughter of Ivy Baker Priest, former treasurer of the United States; Eddie Bracken of the movies, Barry Goldwater Jr., and his brother Mike.

The rallies are being arranged by Charles R. Sligh Jr., of Holland, assistant campaign manager of the Michigan Citizens for Goldwater-Miller committee. Red Brink of Grand Rapids is coordinator for the Michigan Goldwater bandwagon.

Rallies are scheduled in Grand Rapids, Traverse City, Muskegon, Bay City, Lansing and Flint.

Four-year-old Michael Brady was discouraged in his first attempt to play Santa Claus Tuesday afternoon when he was trapped in an eight by eight inch chimney for about 20 minutes.

Michael, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Brady, 109 West 26th St., was pulled out of a chimney in a playhouse at the Robert Schulz residence, 99 West 26th St., by Holland firemen and a Holland police officer. They worked for about 15 minutes knocking off layers of bricks before they could reach the boy trapped about five feet from the top of the chimney and two feet above the ground.

As firemen worked they shouted encouragement to the boy. Michael calmly suggested that they "knock the chimney all the way down."

Holland firemen Peter Beckman, Fred Pathuis, Gordon Hassevoort and Hubert Newhouse, Fire Inspector Marvin Mokma and Patrolman Ted Vanden Brink first tried to pull the boy out with a rope, but he was wedged in too tightly to hang on.

Michael was playing Santa Claus with Eric Schulz, 4, when he climbed first into the chimney. Michael was wedged in the chimney by a heavy jacket he was wearing. Eric ran and told Mrs. Schulz that Michael was trapped, and she phoned the fire department.

The chimney had been used for a small stove in the building by the former owners of the Schulz house. It has only a small circular opening for a stove pipe at the bottom.

Mrs. Brady explained that her son was quite adventurous, but that he had never tried anything like climbing down a chimney before. Michael, with only a couple of tears in his eyes told firemen that he wouldn't try it again.

Zeeland Drive Pledges Reach 35 Per Cent

ZEELAND — Gifts and pledges to the Zeeland United Fund campaign Thursday reached $6,741.48 or 5.5 per cent of the $123,991 goal, according to a tabulation compiled at a report meeting this morning at Bosch's Restaurant.

Kenneth J. Folkertsma, drive chairman, said that early returns reflect an enthusiastic response to the needs of the 45 local, state and national health and welfare agencies whose services will be financed through funds raised in the current campaign.

A meeting of volunteers in the residential division of the drive will be held at 10 a.m. next Wednesday at Bosch's Restaurant with the house-to-house canvass starting Monday, Oct. 26. The drive is scheduled to be completed Oct. 30.

Absentee Ballots Now Available

The city clerk's office in City Hall is processing applications for absentee ballots for the Nov. 3 election.

So far, 231 applications have been received and most of them have been mailed. This figure includes more than 100 in the armed services, 45 of them overseas.

Absentee ballots number four this year, one partisan ballot for national, state and county offices; a nonpartisan ballot for judges for the Court of Appeals and the Judge of Probate; a state proposition on the Massachusetts ballot (would eliminate straight party voting); and three charter amendments to the Holland charter.

The first charter proposition would limit service of members of the Board of Public Works, Hospital Board and Library Board to two consecutive five-year terms. The second proposition would increase the salary of mayor to $15,000 and councilmen to $500 a year. Currently the mayor is paid a maximum of $280 and councilmen $180.

The third charter amendment would remove the one-mill library limitation from the charter, and place library services under the general limitation.

Absent voter ballots are issued for those voters who will be out of town all day on election day and those physically unable to go to the polls. Such ballots may be requested in two ways: one by mail in which the specific reason is stated and the request is signed by the voter; and the other by obtaining an application blank from the city clerk's office.

Deadline for obtaining such ballots is 2 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 31.

Train Kills 17-Year-Old Local Youth

A 17-year-old Holland youth was killed late Sunday night or early Monday when he was struck by a train near his home.

Jerry Routsaw, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Routsaw, of 191 East Ninth St. was struck by a northbound Chesapeake and Ohio train near the 10th St. crossing. His body was dragged along the track almost to Ninth St.

The boy's body was found at 6:50 a.m. Monday by an employee of the American Aerosol Co. who was walking south along the tracks toward work. The boy was positively identified by his father at the Dykstra Funeral Home.

Holland police said the train's crew was apparently unaware of the accident. Railroad officials were checking to determine which train had struck the youth.

The youth had last been seen Sunday night and was reported missing by his father early today.

Jerry was a student at E. E. Fell Junior High School and was a member of the Church of God.

The family had moved to Holland from Hesperia a year ago. Surviving besides the parents are a brother, Tom, at home; grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Routsaw of Hesperia; grandfather, Leslie Morse of Marne; and grandmother Mrs. Irene Johnson of Lansing.

Reception Planned for Mill Experts

The entire community is invited to a public reception Friday night in Hotel Warm Friend to meet Jan Diederik Medendorp, the Dutch millwright who will supervise the restoration of the Windmill De Zwaan here, and Jaap de Blecourt, who will direct landscaping and plantings at the windmill site, and their wives.

Events will get under way at 8 p.m. in the Dutch Grill of the hotel. Mayor and Mrs. Nelson Bosman will greet the people, assisted by members of the Windmill committee and their wives. Coffee will be served.

"Our visitors have heard many nice things about Holland, Mich., and want to meet the people," said Willard C. Wichers, coordinator for the windmill project that has been three years in the making.

Mr. and Mrs. Medendorp arrived in Holland last weekend from the Netherlands. The de Blecourts moved here several weeks ago from Mackinac Island where de Blecourt had been head gardener at the 200-acre grounds of Grand Hotel.

Medendorp is from Zuidlaren in the province of Drente, and de Blecourt's home was Garneerde in Groningen.

Both emphasized, however, that they want to greet all the people of Holland and show their appreciation for being invited to share in the community activities. The Medendorps expect to be here only a few months but the de Blecourts plan permanent residence here.

Woman Injures Neck When Car Hits Signs

A Kalamazoo woman, Effia Katt, 47, was treated at Holland Hospital for neck injuries and released after a one-car mishap on M-40 at 48th St. Tuesday.

Mrs. Katt was riding in a car driven by Russell Van Strate, Jr., 58, of 11381 144th Ave., West Olive, when Van Strate's car went off M-40 and hit two roadside signs. Van Strate told Holland police that he missed the roadway in the heavy fog.

County Will Pay Share Of Pipeline

GRAND HAVEN — The Ottawa county Board of Supervisors, at its first meeting of the long October session Monday paved the way for financing Ottawa county's share of the cost of the $11.3 million Wyoming city — Ottawa county water supply authority. The first phase of the project is ready to begin and will be completed May 1, 1966. Walter Russett, water department director of the Ottawa road commission, told the board.

Two resolutions were passed, the first to place the secondary faith and credit of the county in back of the bonding program involving Hudsonville city and seven townships which have voted to purchase 15 per cent of the pipe line. The vote on this resolution was 26 yes and 5 no. The second resolution, authorizing the purchase of the bonds, passed, 30 to 1, with City Atty. Gordon Cunningham of Holland the only dissenter. Both resolutions were presented by Supervisor Gerrit Bottema of Spring Lake, chairman of the board's water and sanitation committee.

Cost of Ottawa's share in the pipeline is $1,810,000. Georgetown township's share of the cost is $844,666.67, Holland township's, $301,666.67; Hudsonville city, $241,333.33. Park and Port Sheldon townships will each pay $120,666.67 and Olive, Jamestown and Blendon will each pay $60,333.33, according to Russett.

Russett said that the county's share of the cost of the system was arrived at after great study and is based on the estimated amount the Ottawa communities will use at the end of stage one of the project.

Russett outlined the program by explaining that in 1961 the road commission was instructed by the board to establish and maintain a county-wide system of water and sewer improvements under the provisions of Act 342. The first such project was the water and sewer system at the new Grand Valley State college at Allendale, now in operation.

Motorist Cuts Face When Car Hits Pole

Clestino Reyes, 28, of 3445 Butternut Dr. was admitted at Holland Hospital early Saturday morning with severe lacerations of the face which he received in a one-car accident on Butternut Dr. at Riley St. at 3:58 a.m. Saturday.

Ottawa County sheriff's deputies said that Reyes' car went off the road, traveled 198 feet and hit a sign pole in front of a service station. Reyes told deputies he was trying to pick up his glasses which had fallen on the floor of his car when the accident occurred.

Deputies gave Reyes a ticket for reckless driving.

Layman's Group Holds Meet at Catholic Church

ATOMIC ENGINEER — Ronn J. Warrington, a long-time resident of the Saugatuck area and long-time resident of the Saugatuck area and consulting engineer to many car and truck firms, sits by a drawing board at his office on the Blue Star Highway near Saugatuck. In the office Warrington has done important work on the atomic engine which may one day power giant trucks across the United States. (Sentinel photo)

Man Foresees Atomic Trucks

The day that atomic energy may power trucks and trains across America may not be too far in the future according to Ronn J. Warrington, a long-time resident of this area and a semi-retired mechanical engineer who has worked with many car and truck manufacturers.

Warrington, a part-time member of the Stanford University engineering staff has done important work on developing an atomic engine at his offices on the Blue Star Highway just north of Saugatuck.

Warrington thinks that scientists could develop atomic-powered trucks in about five years. Converting America's trucking industry to atomic power, however, would involve more than a simple change of power plants. As Warrington says, it would take in a whole series of changes in the transportation system. He adds that these changes could plan an important part in national security, conservation of resources and traffic safety.

Warrington's office on the Blue Star Highway is a square two-story cement block building. He had the floors made especially level for the precise work that was done there. On the ground floor is heavy machinery on which he has built models of various parts for the atomic engines. Upstairs are several drawing boards and living quarters.

Warrington also stores part of his library of more than 5,000 books, pamphlets and articles on atomic energy there. As he put it, "I keep learning something new about this field every day from these sources." The atomic plant that Warrington has worked on is what scientists call a fast breeder reactor. Its fuel, a uranium alloy, is put in the core of the atomic reactor. Surrounding the active fuel is a blanket of inactive uranium which is made active during controlled nuclear reaction in the center of the reactor.

The term breeder reactor comes from the fact that new fuel is made from the inactive uranium as the other fuel is used. Warrington points out, however, that the breeder reactor is not a perpetual motion machine. The fuel in the center of the reactor would have to be replenished after about two trips across the continent by an atomic powered truck.

The atomic-powered truck will be propelled by a complicated process in which heat from the atomic reaction is converted into steam. The steam will be used to power high-voltage electric generators. An electric motor would be installed over each of the wheels of the truck, according to Warrington.

Atomic-powered trucks would have to be much larger than present models to give the necessary area for cooling the intense heat of the atomic reaction and for protection against radiation. Warrington says the semi-rig of the future would be about 10 or 11 feet wide, and would be long enough to carry a 70-ton load. It would run on ten tires four or five feet high.

These trucks, of course, couldn't run on conventional highways. Warrington says that special trucking highways with extra-wide lanes and heavy ballasting must be built to accommodate atomic trucks.

Besides the economical considerations there are many benefits in a program of atomic trucks and special trucking highways, Warrington says. In a series of articles which are quoted in this year's Congressional Record he points out that atomic trucking would aid America's national security. Atomic fuels could be stored underground and would be less vulnerable to attack than the big gasoline and oil storage tanks now in use.

Further, Warrington says, an atomic-truck highway from the

Combined PTA Hears Dr. Zwier

Dr. Paul Zwier of Calvin College was the guest speaker at a joint meeting of the Longfellow and Apple Avenue PTA groups Tuesday evening at the Longfellow school.

Dr. Zwier spoke on the subject "Modern Mathematics" and showed a film illustrating some of the new methods being used in schools. He explained the content of the new method is the same, the methods of teaching are different. A question and answer period followed.

Stephen Scott, newly-elected president, conducted the meeting and Paul Colenbrander led devotions. Introduced to the group were Mrs. Robert Kouw, vice president of the Longfellow PTA; Miss Esther Kooers, principal of Longfellow; Ivan Compagner, principal of Apple Avenue, and Don Ihrman, superintendent of schools.

Mrs. Paul Mc Ilwain was named social chairman for the year and Mrs. Morrette Rider, hospitality chairman. Greeters for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Vernon De Pree.

Holland's Great Fire Caused $900,000 Damage; Killed 1

Fire Prevention Week being observed this week brings recollections of the Holland fire which occurred 93 years ago Friday.

The fire which took only one life and caused some $900,000 damage broke out early on the morning of Oct. 9, 1871 and bankrupted the city leaving only charred ruins as the blueprint for the hearty Dutch who had been making plans to celebrate the 25th anniversary of the city's founding.

Mrs. J. Tolk, an aged widow who lived in a house on Ninth St., was killed in the fire. Property loss included more than 353 buildings, 250 head of livestock and left 300 families homeless.

Legend likes to recall that the fire began from a spark from the Chicago fire started a day earlier when Mrs. O'Leary's cow kicked a lantern over but fact verifies the fire started sometime between 1 and 3 a.m. from smoldering forests southwest of the city.

In an account of the fire written by Gerrit Van Schelven in 1893 in "Historical and Business Compendium of Ottawa County," the city had experienced an uninterrupted drought for many weeks preceding the fire.

Fires had blazed through the woods and muckland and only by hard labor, the southeastern part of the city was saved from those forest fires a week before the conflagration.

The afternoon of Sunday, Oct. 8, presented a very oppressive and sultry atmosphere and at times fine ashes showered over the city. The ashes were subsequently explained as the first messenger of the great fire that swept Chicago that Sunday afternoon.

The wind turned southwesterly at 2 p.m. and the fire alarm was rung from the Third Church bell. The wind increased in force as the night advanced and hit hurricane proportions at midnight, sweeping fire from the woods with alarming velocity toward the city.

Among the first points attacked were the huge bark piles at the Cappon and Bertsch tannery in the western part of the city and Third Reformed Church in the then southern part of the city.

The fire was forced toward the center and eastern part of the town as the wind turned west. The entire devastation was accomplished within two hours. The grounds of Hope College, somewhat isolated as they were, appeared to be the only spot where one could escape with his life. Many took to the waters of Black Lake and escaped in small boats. (Population of Holland at the time was 2,400.)

Buildings destroyed included 210 dwellings, 75 stores, shops and offices, 15 manufacturing buildings, five churches, three hotels, 45 miscellaneous buildings and five docks and warehouses. One tug and several boats were also burned.

More than 250 dead horses, cattle and swine were found in the charred district. A cancelled bank check, partly burned, drawn by the firm of De Jonge, Van Schelven and Oggel, upon Nathan Kenyon, banker, was picked up the next day on a farm in Tallmadge township some 25 miles away.

All that remained was a strip of houses along the extreme western and southern part of the city, all south of 10th St. and east of Market St. Nearly the entire first ward at that time was untouched as well as Hope College, Plugger Mill, Heald's Planing Mill, Union School, First Reformed Church, Holland Christian Reformed Church on Market St., the railroad depot and the old town house.

Of the estimated $900,000 loss, only about $100,000 was covered by insurance and inasmuch as many insurance companies were rendered insolvent by the Chicago fire only part of the money was recovered.

Damage was also reported in Holland township as well as Fillmore and Laketown townships in Allegan county.

The bridge on the line of the then Lake Michigan Shore Railroad had been destroyed and no trains could enter the city. Grand Haven friends unloaded provision on the northern banks of Black River to be distributed among Holland's hungry people. Among the supplies were a partly cut loaf of bread, a single biscuit, doughnuts and part of a roast.

Fires not only occurred in Holland and Chicago on those memorable days of Oct. 8 and 9 but also hit Pestigo, Wis., Manistee, Port Sheldon and other areas in Michigan.

Aid and relief to the Holland area were liberally forwarded as news of the destruction was learned. The Board of Supervisors made ample provisions for a destitution feared during the approaching winter, but thanks to a generous public, it was never needed. A new assessment roll of Holland was ordered. Gov. Baldwin visited Holland and the other burned districts in the state to determine whether state aid would be needed. However, the abundance of voluntary relief made the aid unnecessary.

Dr. B. Ledebor was chairman of the local relief committee. Others on the committee were H. D. Post, secretary; K. Schaddelee, treasurer; Dr. A. C. Van Raalte, Philip Phelps, C. Scott, A. T. Stewart, R. K. Heald, Dr. S. L. Morris, H. Meengs, J. O. Doesburg, G. Wakker, E. Heald and G. Van Schelven.

On the committee in Holland township were W. Diekema, J. H. Boone and D. Miedema. A general relief committee appointed by Gov. Baldwin to distribute aid through the western part of the state was set up in Grand Rapids.

Laborers connected with the receiving and distributing of supplies were kept up during the greater part of the winter with the town house as headquarters. Lumber and building material, hardware, provisions, clothing and household goods and furniture were sent in large quantities. A very important item was the liberality of the railroad companies in furnishing free transportation.

Through Dr. John L. See of New York, treasurer of the board of education of the Reformed Church, a cash fund of about $40,000 was collected from friends in the east and the sister colony at Pella, Iowa. Aid was also received from relatives across the sea.

Although rebuilding in Chicago created a heavy demand for all kinds of building material and the corresponding increase in prices, the rebuilding of Holland continued uninterrupted through the winter.

With the panic of 1873 the shrinkage in values reduced the assets and valuation of the rebuilt city by a good 50 per cent without lessening liabilities and incumbrances that were drawing 10 per cent interest.

In spite of the calamity, the persevering Dutch rebuilt their city from the ashes with such firmness of purpose that it would be the city of their ambitions.

AT WINDMILL SITE — Jan D. Medendorp (left), the Dutch windmill expert who arrived in Holland Saturday to supervise construction of the windmill De Zwaan here, confers with Willard C. Wichers (center) and Jaap de Blecourt, Dutch gardener, checking plans for the Windmill Island Recreational Project which will be ready for Tulip Time in 1965. Initial work on the windmill base is seen at rear. Holland's windmill is one of the largest mills ever built in the Netherlands. When completed, it will rise some 85 feet from the ground to cap, plus another 40 feet when sails are up, the equivalent of a 12-story building. (Sentinel photo)

Millwright Set To Start Work

Jan D. (Diek) Medendorp of Guidaren, Drenthe, who is descended from a long line of millwrights and millers in the Netherlands, has arrived in Holland to supervise construction of the windmill De Zwaan which he helped dismantle at Vinkel a few months ago.

Medendorp, who is the No. 1 expert on building and restoring windmills in the Netherlands, accompanied by his wife, arrived at the Metropolitan airport in Detroit Saturday afternoon. The Medendorps were met by the Home Furnace Co. plane piloted by Tom Burgess who was accompanied by Jaap de Blecourt, the Dutch gardener who is designing the Windmill Island gardens here. De Blecourt served as interpreter, even though Medendorp is quite conversant with the English language.

On arriving in Holland the plane circled the windmill site, and Medendorp's first question was "How soon does it turn dark here?" He wanted to visit the site immediately . . . and he did after checking in at Hotel Warm Friend where he and his wife will occupy an apartment for the next four months. He also visited the city warehouse where the dismantled mill is stored.

Restoring windmills is "old hat" for Medendorp. This 43-year-old expert technician has been specializing in the work since 1946 when he graduated from technical college. He also attended a miller school. When Willard C. Wichers of Holland, coordinator for the windmill project here, visited the Netherlands two years ago, one of the first people he met was Medendorp who explained what is involved in moving a windmill.

Medendorp went to Aruba in Dutch Antilles a few years ago to supervise restoration of a Dutch windmill there. He also supervised the restoration of the windmill in the famous Keukenhof Gardens in the Netherlands. This mill has particular memories for Medendorp. His great grandfather built this mill many years ago in Groningen.

And in 1957 while supervising the work at Keukenhof, Medendorp was introduced to a pretty Dutch girl who later became Mrs. Medendorp. The introduction was made by Arie de Koning, another Dutch windmill expert who visited Holland, Mich., two years ago to select a site for the mill. De Koning met local citizens at a Jaycee-sponsored barbecue on the parking lot of Civic Center.

Medendorp explained that the work of restoring the mill here will be the reverse of the dismantling project in the Netherlands. The huge 80-foot wings which were taken down first will be the last to be put up here. All other structural members will be installed in reverse order.

The installation involves some wooden gears, seven of them in number ranging in size from 3 1/2 feet to 16 feet in diameter. In operating the mill, beeswax is used on the gears, not an oil lubricant.

Shipped over with the mill are eight large millstones weighing more than two tons apiece. Four will be installed for mill operations, and the other four "spares" will be on display in the lower part of the mill. Two of the stones are a special type made of granite from quarries near the Rhine river in Germany. The others are a manufactured stone much like the kind used in polishing by American industries.

Medendorp hails from Guidaren in Drenthe, one of the three northern provinces in the Netherlands where some 250 windmills remain standing. He explained that the De Zwaan originally was built about 200 years ago in the Zaan district northwest of Amsterdam. When it was moved to Vinkel about 80 years ago, the crosspieces of the huge sail were replaced with metal.

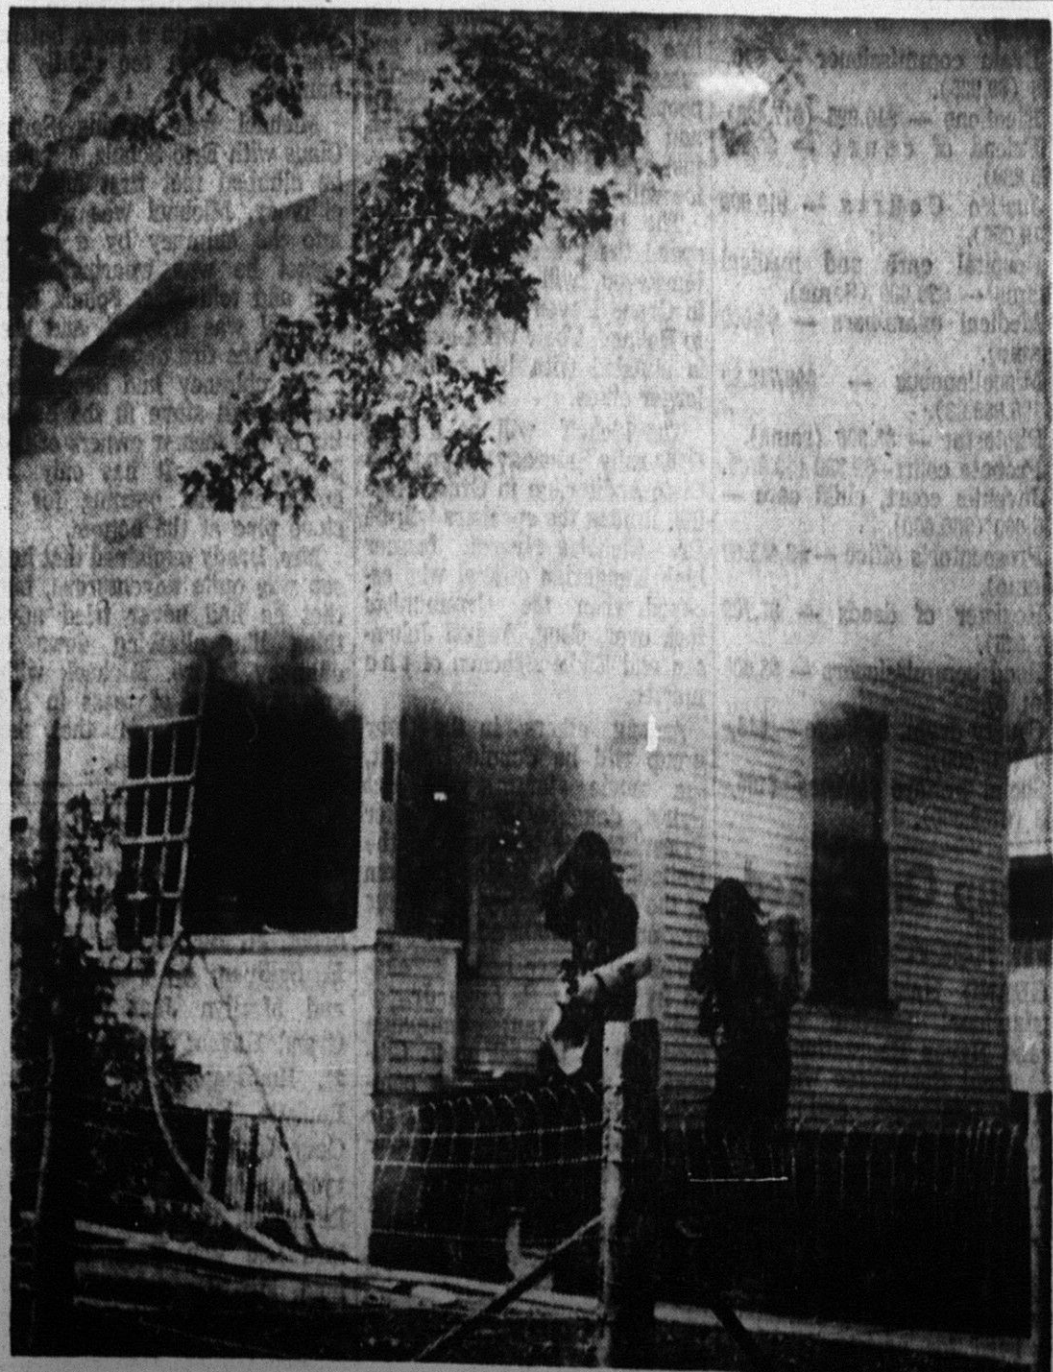

In dismantling the mill, most pieces were taken immediately to Rotterdam for storage before shipment on the Prins Willem van Oranje, but some pieces including the huge cap which had to be rebuilt were taken to Medendorp's workshop in Guidaren. The wooden crosspieces on the sails and the outside "skin" of the mill were not shipped. These parts of the mill as well as the large base will be made of native Michigan materials.

Elsewhere on the local windmill site on the banks of Black River, the land is being prepared for the planting of 100,000 to 150,000 tulip bulbs and other plantings designed by the Dutch gardener, Jaap de Blecourt, who formerly supervised the gardens at Grand Hotel on Mackinac Island.

Mrs. Medendorp knows less English than her husband. Mrs. de Blecourt, a native Michigander, knows less Dutch than her husband. The two women plan to spend a good deal of time together the next four months learning the two languages.

Donald Ihrman Exchange Club Guest Speaker

Speaker at the Monday noon luncheon of the Holland Exchange Club was Don Ihrman, the new Superintendent of the Holland Public Schools. His topic was "Some of Today's Challenges."

After stating that free public education is the basis of all progress he emphasized some of the conditions that threaten the entire educational setup. There are in the Michigan Public Schools today 1,975,000 pupils.

One of the greatest challenges today is literacy. He said 240,000 people in Michigan have less than five years of education. The cost of education is high but the cost of illiteracy is enormous. The schools of yesterday are totally inadequate for the needs of today.

New knowledge has doubled in the last eight years. New developments in science and other areas make radical changes in operations of schools and in the preparation of the teaching force an absolute necessity if the nation is to be at the front of industrial and cultural progress.

The outlook for jobs for the illiterate is getting dimmer rapidly. It is estimated that by 1970 only five per cent of the jobs will be of the unskilled variety.

Another challenge to the educational program is the large number of drop-outs. Many in the so-called gray areas of cities do not even see any use of continuing study for they expect to have no good life anyway. They have no hope for a good life. Many of these can be saved if the nation will provide them with the tools for working. He said 57 million of the people have not finished high school. Schools, at least the larger part of them were built for yesterday. We need more buildings, more highly skilled teachers, better equipped laboratories.

"Our greatest single cost in the future will be for education and the financing of it will be our greatest economical program," the speaker said.

President Charles Shidler presided. Exchangeite Russell Fredricks introduced the speaker. James Harvey, Dean of students at Hope College, inducted Carl Miller into the club.

M. Burdick, District Governor of Exchange, and Principal of Muskegon High School, visited the club. He brought greetings from the National Exchange and from the Muskegon chapter.

Neighbors Help Farmer Who Lost Arm in Corn Picker

When Gerald De Fouw of route 5 lost his right forearm in an accident last Wednesday there were still about 40 acres of corn and sorghum to be picked and loaded into the bunk silo at his farm on 5722 138th Ave.

De Fouw who is now in good condition at Holland Hospital can rest easily, however. A group of about ten friends gathered at his farm last Thursday and again on Monday to finish picking and unloading the crops. Women from the neighborhood prepared a lunch for the workers.

Most of the friends are members of the East Saugatuck Christian Reformed Church where the De Fouws are members. The group of workers was organized by Ed Brink whose farm is located across 138th Ave. from the De Fouw farm.

The job of taking care of the De Fouw's 29 milk cows is being handled by Mrs. De Fouw and their six children. Leslie, 16, the oldest son, has to get up about an hour earlier than usual to get all the milking and other chores done before going to school. He is helped by the other De Fouw children, Everett, 15, Ward, 12, Debra, 10, Penny, 7, and Jody, 4.

The De Fouws have raised dairy cattle ever since they bought their farm in 1951. Their dairy herd was started with two calves given by De Fouw's father as a wedding gift in 1947. The De Fouws have also raised some chickens, geese and ducks on their farm.

Before he was married De Fouw was a paratrooper with the 101st airborne division in World War II. He jumped into Normandy and the Netherlands, and saw considerable action at the Battle of the Bulge. He received the Purple Heart medal.

Mrs. De Fouw said that her husband's war training was valuable at the time of his accident last week. After his arm was injured in a corn picking machine he cut the sleeves of his shirt with a knife to free himself from the machine. He then walked about an eighth of a mile, and phoned the ambulance which took him to the hospital.

PETER VAN DOMELLEN

Peter Van Domellen Jr., who died Friday at the age of 64, was the kind of responsible citizen every community holds in high esteem.

A successful businessman, he took deep pride in his community and devoted a good share of time to civic endeavor. He usually worked quietly behind the scenes but occasionally accepted appointments of "front man" such as directing a Community Chest campaign or heading the county chapter of the Red Cross.

His interests covered a wide range. Active in church and consistory, he had a particular interest through the years in his alma mater, the University of Michigan, and was one of the mainstays of the alumni association. His love of the water which has made Michigan envied throughout the nation led to a home on Lake Macatawa, plus a good deal of work on the harbor committee of the Chamber of Commerce and in the Macatawa Bay Yacht Club which he served as commodore at one time.

Painters Face Cleanup Job

GRAND HAVEN — Several 17-year-old Holland High School students reported to Grand Haven police headquarters at 10 a.m. Saturday ready for a work session at Grand Haven High School removing HHS signs which they painted on buildings and on the grass Thursday night.

The cleanup detail was ordered following a thorough investigation Friday in which High School Principal Fred Bertsch and Holland Detective Dennis Ende assisted. Ten Holland students were questioned and it was determined that at least seven, all 17 years old, engaged in the questionable sport.

Grand Haven police indicated that if all paint were removed to the satisfaction of authorities there would be no charges.

Police said four carloads of Holland students descended on Grand Haven between 9 and 10 p.m. Thursday. One car left "because too many officers were around." Culprits were traced through a Holland license number given to police.

The board also authorized up to $100 for the purchase of a typewriter to be used jointly by Tulip Time and the United Fund, replacing one that was damaged in moving operations.

Attending the meeting were Clarence Klaassen, Mrs. Robert Horner, Max Kiernan, Chester Harmsen, Corrine Pool, the Rev. E. M. Ruhlig, D. G. Cochran, Kenneth Kleis, Leonard Zick, David Hanson, Jack Plewes, Carol Van Putten, Ruth Athey, Robert L. Sligh, Ivan Bonsall, W. A. Butler and O. W. Lowry.

Driver Gets Ticket

Holland police gave Joseph McCollion, 33, of Grand Rapids a ticket for failing to yield the right of way after his car collided with a car driven by Sally Cooper, 31, of 740 Van Raalte Ave. at Maple Ave., and 18th St. Friday. Mike Overbeek, 12, of 263 West 30th St., a passenger in the Cooper car, was treated for minor injuries by his family doctor after the collision.

Sunday School Lesson

Church Officers
1 Timothy 3:1-13
By C.P. Dame
Leadership in church and state is very important. Paul realized that elders and deacons in the church should be men of high principles. And that is the reason he gave instructions to Timothy relative to the kind of men that should be selected.

I. Church leaders should be above reproach. Acts 6 tells about the appointment of deacons. Paul saw to it that elders were appointed in the congregations he organized.

Today various denominations have different types of church government. In our time a bishop is a church leader who is in charge of several congregations. In the early church the word bishop, meaning overseer, and the word elder, were applied to the same person. The word elder refers to the person—he was an older man—and the word bishop speaks of his work. In the course of time the elders needed a leader and he was called bishop.

To hold an office in the church is an honor. A leader should be "the husband of one wife". Most likely the meaning is that he should be faithful to one wife. Of course he should be blameless, vigilant, sober of good behavior, given to hospitality, apt to teach.

The warning against wine and money should not be overlooked. Liquor does much harm today. Wise is the church worker who does not touch it.

Some church workers have harmed themselves much by showing a strong love for money. Church leaders should show by the behavior of their children that they have taught them wisely. Church workers ought have the respect of those outside of the church. This is a real asset.

II. Church leaders must have high principles. Several of the qualifications of the deacons are like those of the elders. They ought to have them.—be blameless and tested men.

Paul mentions the families of the deacons. The word "wives" may refer to deaconesses or to the wives of the deacons. We all know that some wives disqualify their husbands from membership in the consistory because they talk too much and can't keep a secret. The importance of the homes of the leaders should not be overlooked. Deacons should be men who rule their own children and their own houses well.

The reason why Paul put so much stress upon leadership in the church is because he appreciated the greatness and grandeur of this eternal institution. It is an honor to be a member and worker in the Lord's Church. Let us rejoice in the honor.

Outline Plans For MDAA Drive In Holland Area

Plans for the organization of the muscular dystrophy fund campaign to be held the entire month of November were outlined at a meeting of the Ottawa County Chapter, Muscular Dystrophy Association of America, Inc., Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Ben Van Dis, Jr., 543 College Ave., who is president of the local group.

MDAA which is a national organization has arranged three specific phases in the drive; the first, the house - to - house campaign, which this year is under the capable leadership of Sy Van Asperen as general chairman with Ray Derry and Jack De Roo assisting on the campaign steering committee.

The second is the placement of canisters in local business places by volunteer workers headed by Mr. and Mrs. De Roo, beginning the first week in November. Canisters will be picked up the middle of December.

Commerce and industry solicitations will be conducted by a group with Mrs. Van Dis serving as chairman and Mrs. John Ver Meulen as co-chairman.

Home Canvass to Start Oct. 19 for United Fund

Mrs. Robert N. Mills and Mrs. James A. Hallan will head an army of over 500 volunteer workers in a house-to-house solicitation in the October campaign of the Greater Holland United Fund-Red Cross drive.

Campaign Chairman Robert L. Sligh said this division exceeds all other campaign divisions in the degree of organizational work required to cover all homes in the Greater Holland area. The house-to-house solicitation is limited to a four-day period starting Oct. 19 with the scheduled conclusion of the over-all campaign taking place at a breakfast victory report meeting Oct. 23.

With emphasis placed on pledging at place of employment, solicitation in the residential division is conducted to provide those not actively employed and housewives who may wish to give an additional contribution an opportunity to do so.

A 'kickoff' meeting of the residential division will be held at 10 a.m. Tuesday in the Tulip Room, Hotel Warm Friend.

Mrs. Mills and Mrs. J. Hallan said the meeting has been planned to provide district majors, team captains and other volunteers with information relative to the participating agencies and the method of carrying out the house-to-house canvass.

Harold E. Denig, president of group in the nation as a volunteer health association.

Mrs. Van Dis announced that many volunteers are needed for the house to house campaign and those interested are asked to call her at her home, 543 College Ave. Many students from Hope College already have volunteered to work.

Hitch Builds New Plant In Southeast

Formation of a new affiliated company and the construction of a new plant in the Southeast have been announced by Holland Hitch Company, manufacturers of fifth wheels and allied equipment with headquarters in Holland, Michigan.

President William Beebe disclosed that Holland Atlantic Hitch Co. has been incorporated expressly to serve the eastern seaboard and to give the parent firm more direct access to export facilities for the overseas market.

Holland Atlantic Hitch Co. is located at Denmark, South Carolina. Construction was completed in October on a 14,000 sq. ft. building. Beebe said full production will be reached by January 1.

Holland Atlantic Hitch Co. will manufacture a complete line of standard Holland fifth wheel equipment, including fifth wheels, landing gear, and pintle hooks. The plant will be headed by C. R. (Jeff) Runyon, for 30 years a prominent figure in East Coast trucking circles, and will employ 100 persons.

The other Holland Hitch plants will not be affected by the establishment of the new facility, Beebe said. The parent firm in Holland, Mich., Holland Pacific Hitch Co. in Milpitas, Calif., and Holland Hitch of Canada, Ltd., Woodstock, Ontario, will continue to produce their allocations of the company's complete line, with emphasis on the equipment most widely used in their individual marketing and service areas.

Beebe also said the company is continuing its program of developing new products for the trucking industry, and has two new "Mov-On" fifth wheels ready for marketing. These are elevating fifth wheels for spotting and similar use in yards and for cross-town hauling. One is hydraulically operated, and the other an air-lift type.

ball team last spring. Kaat was an all-MIAA pitcher before signing a professional baseball contract. The 6'4", 227-pound Kaat has been in professional baseball for eight years and has pitched four complete seasons in the majors. His lifetime record is 55-59. Kaat is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Kaat of Zeeland.

Kaat to Be Sports Announcer

Jim Kaat left Wednesday for Minnesota to begin an off-season radio job and to do some talking with Minnesota Twins officials about his 1965 contract.

Kaat, his wife Julie and three-year-old son Jim, have been visiting Kaat's parents, relatives and friends in the Holland-Zeeland area for the past week.

The 25-year-old lefthander was "fairly well satisfied" with his 17-11 record this past season and has some strong talking points for next year's contract. He hopes to sign for $30,000 next year which he said is a good sized boost over last season.

Kaat pointed out he was the winningest pitcher of any of the second division clubs. His 3.22 earned run average was the best among the Twin regular pitchers. His 17 wins were seven more than in 1963.

He completed 13 games and appeared in 36. He hurled 243 innings and allowed 231 hits, 59 walks and struck out 172. The Twins gave Kaat three chances in the last week to win 20 games but in each case he backed out and Kaat got three losses.

The Zeeland native held the opposition to two runs or less 10 times in his last 12 starts, winning five. Kaat noted the Twins lost "close to 30 games on unearned runs this season compared to Baltimore's four."

Looking at reasons for Minnesota's demise this season, Kaat felt the first of the season the Twins lacked relief pitching with Bill Daley and Bill Fischer both injured. The pair had been strong in 1963.

Then after the Twins secured Al Worthington and Johnny Klippstein for relief work, the defense fell apart. After that, the hitting tapered off at the end of the season and the combination of troubles left the Twins tied for sixth, 20 games behind the winners.

Kaat felt the key to a winning club is a "good defensive infield." To prove the point he pointed to the Yankees and Cardinals and their fine infields.

As for trades, he hasn't heard or read his own name in the trades but he is sure the Twins will make some deals. He thought Bob Allison, Earl Battey and Rich Rollins might be traded and he thought the club wanted more lefthanded pitching.

Kaat is high on manager Sam Mele and said "he's the type of manager you put out for 200 percent." "His door is always open to talk over problems."

He indicated club owner Cal Griffith depends on baseball for his living and "keeps the manager under his thumb." Kaat was glad to see Mele retained as manager.

Completing his fourth full season in the majors, Kaat felt one of the big things he has learned in professional baseball "is how to pitch on the days when you don't have your stuff."

Kaat starts an off season sports announcing job next week on a radio station in Shakopee, Minn. He will handle high school football play-by-play and will have a daily sports program. He also plans to sell radio advertising.

During the past season he has had a baseball commentary program following each game. Kaat did the program from his home in Bloomington, Minn.

Called the "Jim Kaat network," the program was aired to several Minnesota stations. A veteran of the banquet circuit, Kaat also has several speaking engagements lined up this winter.

Kaat, who wants to enter radio after his baseball days are over, said "I'm starting in the minor leagues of radio like I started in the minors in baseball and hope to work up into the majors of broadcasting."

Rep. Griffin's Mobile Office Here Oct. 22

Cong. Robert P. Griffin of Traverse City will bring his mobile office into Ottawa county for the first time this year. This county was added to Griffin's district (Michigan 9th) during a reapportionment earlier this year.

The mobile office, similar to one Cong. Jerry Ford operated for several years, will be in Holland Thursday, Oct. 22, from 2 to 7 p.m. at Central Ave. and Eighth St. Earlier that day it will be in Zeeland at Main and Elm Sts. from 9 a.m. to noon.

Rep. Griffin has been touring other counties of the 9th district in his mobile office since 1957, his first year in office. The trailer is specially equipped with office facilities.

"A great many people can't get to Washington to see me," the congressman explained. "When the people I represent have problems, I want to know about them. Too, I want personally to learn their views on important issues before Congress."

He added Cong. Jerry Ford has represented the people of Ottawa county extremely well in past years and Griffin wants to continue his policy of bringing a mobile office into the county when Congress adjourns.

Ford will not be visiting Ottawa county this year.

The county visit will start Monday, Oct. 19, when the mobile office will be in Marne near the corner of State and 16th Ave. from 9 a.m. to noon. The same day it will be in Coopersville near Main and Eastmanville Sts. from 2 p.m. to 7 p.m.

On Tuesday, Oct. 20, the mobile office will be in a prominent location in Hudsonville from 9 a.m. to noon, and in Allendale from 2 to 7 p.m.

On Wednesday, Oct. 21, the unit will be in Spring Lake at the corner of Savage and Buchanan Sts. (village hall) from 9 a.m. to noon, and in Grand Haven near the corner of Washington and Third Sts. from 2 to 7 p.m.

LONESOME DUTCHMAN — Rog Kroodsmas (84), Hope College end, caught a pass but was surrounded by Alma football players in this Saturday action in Riverview Park. Kroodsmas also caught a touchdown pass from Harlan Hyink in the game as Hope stopped the Scots, 21-8 for its first win this year. (Sentinel photo)

Dutch Win 21-8; Strong On Defense

Hope College's football team, rallying behind an impressive defense, Saturday scored their first win of the season by downing the Alma Scots 21-8 before 3,000 fans in Riverview Park.

The Flying Dutchmen, now 1-1 in MIAA competition, stopped the Scots to give them an 0-2 MIAA record.

The Hope defense, described as "impressive" by Coach Russ De Vette, held the Scots to 19 yards rushing, while the Hope ground attack netted 72 yards.

The Flying Dutchmen shot to a 7-0 lead late in the first quarter and never surrendered the advantage to the Scots.

After taking an Alma punt on the Hope 43, Hope ground to the Alma 31 on a series of six plays, including a 12-yard gallop by Jim Bekkering. A Harlan Hyink-Rog Kroodsmas pass play took the Dutchmen into the Alma end zone with 4:24 left in the period. Steve Wessling's boot was good for the extra point.

Hope threatened again early in the second quarter when a Hyink-Bruce Menning pass took them 25 yards to the Alma one-yard line. An illegal procedure penalty set Hope back to the Alma six, where a Hyink fumble was recovered by Gray of Alma to squelch the drive.

Hope's second touchdown came near the end of the first half when a pass by Alma's Mike Knowlton was intercepted on the Alma 41 and returned to the eight-yard line by Vern Plagenhoef. With 48 seconds remaining, Harlan Hyink passed to Rog Kroodsmas in the end zone to put the Dutchmen ahead 13-0 at the half.

In the third quarter once again it was Hope all the way as the Scots ran out of downs on a fourth and two situation on the Hope 23 with nine minutes left in the period.

Hope then drove 87 yards on a combined ground-aerial attack of 13 plays, climaxed by a quarterback sneak into the end zone by Hyink with 3:42 remaining in the quarter. The two-point conversion (a pass) from Hyink to Bill Hultgren was good to give the Dutchmen a 21-0 lead.

Hope maintained its 21-point lead until the fourth quarter when Knowlton of Alma passed from the Alma 11 to Schaitberger on the 50-yard line, who scampered into the end zone untouched. The attempt for a two point conversion was no good and the score remained 21-6 with 13:39 remaining.

Alma began to march four minutes later on a pass interception by Dana on the Hope 24. The Scots drove to the Hope 10, were driven back to the 15, and threatened on a Knowlton pass broken up in the end zone by Roger Abel. A complete but short pass cost Alma possession on downs, and Hope took over on their own two.

With 5:44 remaining, Abel was tackled trying to escape from the end zone, giving the Scots a safety, the last score of the game.

Hope made one last attempt to add on another touchdown, as a pass interception by Rog Abel on the Hope 22 sparked a drive that took them to the 31 yard line of Alma, where the clock ran out.

Abel's pass interception was one of four made by the Flying Dutchmen, while the Scots sagged three passes from Hope.

Bekkering, just returned to the Hope lineup after being sidelined with injuries, was the leading ground gainer with 49

Views From The Campus

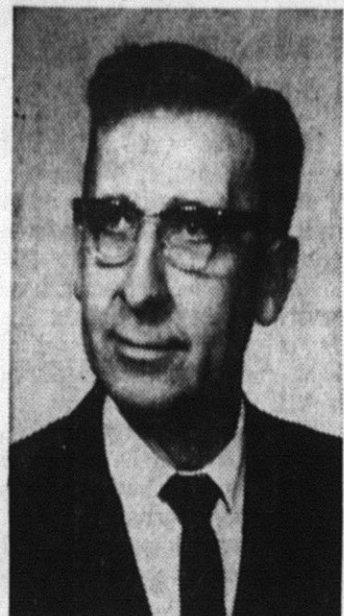

John J. Ver Beek is acting chairman of the Education Department and director of Student Teaching. An alumnus of Hope, Ver Beek received his M.A. from the University of Michigan.

Prior to joining the Hope faculty in 1950, he was superintendent of the Henry St. and Glenside Schools in Muskegon. Ver Beek has also been superintendent of the Byron Center Public Schools and has taught science in the Hudsonville High School.

Ver Beek is a life member of the Michigan Education Association; also holds memberships in the National Education Association, American Association of School Administrators, and Michigan and National Association for Student Teaching.

By John J. Ver Beek

Teacher education has long been a major function of Hope College. A program in secondary education was initiated early in its history, elementary education was introduced about a generation ago, and most recently a program for recruitment of college teachers has emerged. Over the last fifteen years, from 48 to 50 per cent of Hope's graduates have been certified for either elementary or secondary teaching.

John J. Ver Beek

It is important to remember that these teachers are products of the total college, not of the Education Department alone, because the college student spends only a small fraction of his time in the professional courses in Education and most of his time in various academic departments. Neither can we minimize the significant contribution that comes from the schools in the community, where the student obtains his so-called laboratory experience in observation and student teaching. The inspiration received from a truly professional supervising teacher is immeasurable.

What does it take to become a good teacher? The list of attributes is long. Let me mention a few. First of all, a teacher exhibits scholarship — an attitude of continuing search for truth, and the ability to comprehend it. A teacher obviously needs an adequate foundation in his area of concentration. In addition, a teacher needs to develop an understanding of the learner. Teachers need reminders that the whole child comes to the classroom — that learning is not something which concerns the mind alone. The emotional segment of a pupil has too often been neglected. The well-known Judge Ben Cooper is quoted as saying, "If a school teacher in St. Joseph, Missouri, hadn't put a comforting arm around me one day and made me welcome in my little world, I might well have done something foolish or desperate." The good teacher needs an understanding heart.

Skill in methods of teaching is another prime requisite. Research has shown that motivation for learning can be developed, and that no pupil will learn much without self-motivation. Real excellence in teaching is not demonstrated only in the encouragement of those who have unusual intelligence and strong academic interests, but is exhibited best when a teacher promotes growth in every member of his class, including those who are not so well endowed. If basic to these qualifications a teacher thinks of his work as a service to God and man, we have a real quality indeed.

Some prevailing situations in the recruitment of teachers give us concern: (1) Members of the profession from the university, colleges, and public schools are not united. Status has sometimes become a barrier to understanding and appreciation of one another. (2) There seems to be an over-emphasis on scholastic aptitude in determining the level of teaching one should enter — elementary, secondary, or college. The age group of the student which challenges a person should be considered, as well as subject matter appeal. (3) There is a dearth of good men teachers in the elementary field. Part of the drop-out problem in high school may well have its origin here. (4) Industry is attracting too many of our better science and mathematics students. Where is the

Rotary Hears Talk Thursday By Rev. E. Hall

Negroes today consider themselves a chosen people with a mission in support of all human beings, black and white, who are victims of discrimination and indignities.

This was the message brought to members of Holland Rotary Club Thursday noon by the Rev. Earl Hall, chairman of the sociology department at Hope College.

A close friend of the Rev. Martin Luther King, Rev. Hall described himself as an "honorary Negro" in his discussion of the attitudes and aspirations of Negroes in the United States.

"To really know a people you must study their literature and other forms of expression," he said. "Listen to the Negro today and you no longer hear the spirituals which were his refuge a few years ago. You hear 'We Shall Overcome.' This, as much as anything, symbolizes his determination to be recognized as 100 per cent human, with skills and capabilities and rights."

Touching upon the riots that occurred this summer in several northern cities, Rev. Hall said there will probably be similar outbreaks in other populous centers where ghettos exist. "These are spontaneous, unorganized protests against the indignities inflicted not just upon Negroes but upon the economically and socially deprived people everywhere," he said.

Rev. Hall related the national problem to Holland, and urged formation of a Human Relations Council with a paid professional director. "This Negro movement is not revolution, but it is sending forth an evangel, and the evangel will appear in Holland. In the next ten years we will see great changes in our community as new people come in. We will do our community a service by preparing now."

Tell of Work At Missionary Union Meeting

Faith Christian Reformed Church was filled to capacity for the annual fall meeting of the Women's Missionary Union of the Christian Reformed Church Thursday.

"Why did you come today?" With this question Gordon Kuik, the first epaker of the afternoon, began his talk. "Did you come to see the new church?, or because it's the Missionary Union, and I usually go?, or because we are motivated by a desire to learn more about our mission work." We are fellow workers with the missionaries on the field, he said, and pointed out that methods of mission work are changing. There are not the hardships of former days and much more efficient methods of travel.

In 1945 the Takum church in Nigeria decided to send three Nigerian evangelists into the Baissa field. This covers 45 square miles. In 1950 when Rev. Recker went to work, there were only 25 confessing Christians, today there are eight organized churches and 1,600 confessing members. The Moslems are the most antagonistic to the Christians, the speaker said. An evangelical group has organized with the motto, "Nigeria for Christ."

Miss Winabelle Gritter began by clarifying the use of the names Formosa and Taiwan for the island where she works. Formosa was the name given by the explorers meaning "Beautiful Island."

Since the coming of the Chinese Nationalists it has been given a Chinese name, Taiwan. The church began work there 12 years ago when Miss Lillian Bode, who could not return to China, began work among the Nationalists there. There are three chapels, one in the city of Taipei with Rev. Isaac Jen in charge, the second near an air force base which consists of young air force men with Miss Bode in charge, and the third among the refugees from the mainland, who are very poor. They have no work and clothing is given to them through relief.

She also spoke of the increased interest in Christianity after the typhoon, when relief was given to non-Christians as well as Christians. Many are asking for baptism after realizing Buddha could not help, but relief was given to them by Christian missionaries.

The evening meeting began with a rousing song service led by John Sharp. The speaker was Mrs. Elsie Feimster, a graduate from Shaw University, now doing youth work in the Manhattan Christian Reformed Church in Harlem, New York. From 123rd St. to 144th St., there are 3,000 people in the church area, she said. The Negroes congregate there because it is cheap living in Harlem. They have organized several choirs, cadet groups for the boys, and Calvinette groups for the girls.

They also conduct Bible school for children and take them on outings away from the crowded city. They have a program for narcotic addicts, and James Allen, himself at one time an addict, works with these people. The church also works with alcoholics anonymously.

Funds are being raised for a halfway house where these addicts can receive mental, physical and spiritual help, the speaker said. The church also sponsors a weekly evangelism broadcast. The New York police close off the streets for playtime for the children, and for programs for the parents. The fire hydrants are turned on in the summer time to give the children relief from the heat. The offerings of the day amounted to $1,006.92. They were distributed as follows: $150 for Mexican student fund; $200, Taiwan Chapels; $200, for "TELL" literature; $150, for soldiers fund; $150 for Good Samaritan Christian Reformed Church, Miami, and $150 for Indian missions.

Dutch Drop 20-6 Game; Third Loss

Grand Haven's football team regained the wooden shoes here Friday night as they took advantage of three Holland defensive mistakes to score a 20-6 win before 3,100 Homecoming fans in Riverview Park.

Since 1947, the winner of the game has been rewarded with wooden shoes. Holland had won the shoes with a 20-19 win here in 1962 and last year's game was a 12-12 tie.

It was Holland's third loss in four games and also the third straight LMCA setback. The Bucs are now 3-1 and 1-1 in the league.

Although only scoring one time, and that the first touchdown in three games, Holland was able to move the ball against the Bucs.

But Holland lacks a consistent passing game and an outside running threat and although the Dutch did push the ball up and down the field, they bogged when they got into scoring territory.

Five times the Dutch were inside the Grand Haven 26. The first time came midway in the second quarter when the Dutch drove to the Grand Haven 11 but lost the ball on downs. Brian Hill and Rog Woltman were the big gainers in the drive.

This 11-play drive came after the Bucs had scored their second touchdown when the Dutch let halfback Donn Meyers sneak outside tackle and scamper 41 yards to score. Two blocks made his run easier and Paul Hettiga converted with 1:17 left in the first quarter.

After Holland failed on the 11, Grand Haven didn't go anywhere and punted to its own 41. This gave the Dutch a chance and quarterback Paul Prins hit end Pete Rector for 13 yards. Woltman ran to the 23 but Mark Niemec intercepted Prins' pass on the Bucs 15. With 13 seconds left in the half, the Dutch recovered a fumble on the Grand Haven 20 but an intercepted pass squelched a score.

Grand Haven opened the scoring with the game two minutes old. Hettiga flipped a pass to Dave Meints on his own 35 and Meints ran around Holland players until he got loose and at the end of his 72-yard scamper he escaped a tackle. Hettiga converted. The touchdown came on the game's third scrimmage play.

On the second play of the second half and Grand Haven leading, 14-0, Hettiga picked off a Prins pass on the Dutch 37. In five plays Grand Haven was home with Niemec going off tackle for the final four yards. The kick was blocked with 8:25 left in the third period.

Holland took the kickoff and marched 64 yards in 15 plays. They were aided by two 15-yard Grand Haven face mask penalties. Perry Cornelissen ripped off tackle for the final 26 yards as he fooled the Bucs on a fourth and 15 situation.

With 56 seconds left in the game Holland's final drive was stopped. This time they failed to get a first down on the Bucs 25 after starting on their own 35 following a punt. Another 15-yard face mask penalty helped. Holland rushed 198 yards and had 12 first downs. They tried 11 passes and completed three but also had three intercepted. The Bucs rushed 130 yards with Dave Meints getting 55 yards in 10 carries.

Despite the soggy field the teams each fumbled only once and lost it. The Dutch played without defensive end John Driedzie and defensive back Rob Zylman, both out with injuries. Rob Meints, Grand Haven back, received a head injury early in the game and didn't return.

Holland plays at Traverse City in an LMCA game next Friday night. The Trojans play Muskegon Heights this afternoon at the Heights at 2 p.m.

Panthers Win, 13-0; 2nd Victory

The West Ottawa Panthers spent Friday night giving Allegan cause for thought as they defeated the Tigers 13-0 at the West Ottawa Athletic Field.

The Panthers, who have lost two games in a row, turned in a powerful well-rounded performance that made a chilly Homecoming crowd of 2,344 jubilant. West Ottawa is now 2-2.

West Ottawa's attack worked with devastating efficiency from the start. Such stalwarts as Dave Farabee, Lynn Bakker and Dave Vitzthum pierced the Allegan defense for substantial gains.

The Panther ball-toters received considerable help from mates up front. The line led by Bob Houting, Bob Rozeboom and Sonny Hamilton held fast as the backs romped as if enjoying a holiday.

Vitzthum and Craig Van Dyke alternating as signal callers for the Panthers used the pass judiciously, but completed four out of six for a total of 86 yards. One of the passes attempted was for 43 yards, setting up the first Panther score. The pass by Van Dyke was fired to Bakker who carried down to the three-yard line. On the next play the Panthers jumped on top as Bakker drove off tackle for the score with 2:30 left in the second quarter.

Van Dyke held as John Oonk kicked the extra point. Allegan, picked as one of the teams most likely to succeed by being ranked in honorable mention in class B schools, could only get their yard-gaining machine going good to a certain point. That point was about the Panther 30-yard line.

However, the Panther defense then held the Tigers as Allegan halfback Wilcox faked a kick on fourth down and completed a pass inches short of a first down. The third quarter became a defensive struggle as both teams rocked back and forth across the field.

The Panthers began the fourth quarter with Van Dyke passing to Visser for a gain of 21 yards down to the Tiger 34-yard line. It appeared as if West Ottawa was again on its way to paydirt.

Jim Wilcox of Allegan broke up the scoring threat by intercepting a Van Dyke pass on the five-yard line. The hard driving Panther defense with Houting and Rozeboom dropped Allegan runners for no gain and Wilcox had to kick. His kick only traveled to the 22 of Allegan and West Ottawa again had an opportunity.

Vitzthum, finding his receivers covered, ran around end to the 14. A 15-yard penalty put the ball back on the 29 where the Panthers dusted off the old statue of liberty play with Bakker carrying down to the 17. With fourth down now facing the Panthers, Van Dyke fired a jump pass to A. J. Visser who smashed down to the two picking up a first down.

With a five-yard penalty placing the ball back on the seven, halfback Farabee swept around end and went untouched for the second Panther tally.

Oonk attempting to boot the extra point received a bad pass from center and was forced to run with the ball and was driven out of bounds.

Coach Ron Wetherbee said that he was "pleased with the defensive work of Houting. Every player participated in the game. Our offensive blocking was a little slow in the first half," he said, "but it picked up in the second."

Wetherbee said that the Panthers planned to go wide against Allegan because of the size of the Tiger line and their strategy was successful. He was very pleased with Van Dyke's passing.

Blind Organist Appearing at Hope Oct. 20

Jean Langlais

Jean Langlais, world-famous blind organist and composer from France, will appear in recital on the Hope College campus on Tuesday, Oct. 20, at 8:15 p.m. in Dimment Memorial Chapel.

During the past decade, Langlais, organist of Ste. Clothilde Church in Paris, has become widely known through his compositions and six extensive concert tours in the United States and Canada.

For Langlais' Holland appearance, the recently refurbished four-manual Skinner organ console in Dimment Chapel will be moved to the center of the auditorium and elevated into concert position, making it possible for the audience to see all of the technique of the performer on both keyboards and pedals.

Born in Brittany, France, Jean Langlais attended the National Institute for the Young Blind in Paris, where Andre Marchal was his teacher. Later he attended the Paris Conservatory of Music, where he worked with Marcel Dupre and studied orchestration with Paul Dukas.

One of Langlais' greatest friends is Olivier Messiaen who, during all the years that Langlais studied with Dukas, helped him faithfully by reading the details of orchestra scores to him.

The organ in the Ste. Clothilde Church in Paris, was made famous by such of his predecessors as Cesar Franck, Gabriel Pierne and Charles Tournemire. It was the dying wish of the latter that Langlais succeeded him to this important position in Paris.

In addition to his position there, Mr. Langlais teaches organ, composition and counterpoint at the National Institute of Young Blind, where he is also director of the chorus and conductor.

His numerous recordings made in this country and abroad, include many of his own organ and choral works.

Mr. Langlais' Holland appearance is being sponsored by the Hope College Cultural Affairs Committee and will be the only appearance he will make in Western Michigan during his current concert tour.
