Board Okays County OEO Program

GRAND HAVEN—The Ottawa County Board of Supervisors Wednesday gave formal approval to the general aims and program of the county's new War on Poverty program.

Chairman Ralph Richman of Holland, representing the county's community action committee of the U.S. Office of Economic Opportunity, reported on his committee's progress.

Richman said the general aims of the program are to provide aid in keeping families in the county off welfare rolls and to assist persons on welfare to obtain jobs.

City Manager Herb Holt of Holland made the motion to adopt a resolution favoring the work of the committee and it was seconded by City Atty. Gordon Cunningham, also of Holland. The board thus recognizes Richman's 79-member committee and Gary Byker of Hudsonville, a director in the OEO program, was appointed the board's representative on the action committee. Tuesday's action by the board does not commit the county to any appropriation of funds as the program is operated on federal grants, Richman said.

The board adopted the millage rate to be levied in 1967 on the townships and cities at 4.10 mills, of which 3.71635 will be levied for county operations and the remainder for parks and roads.

The October session of the board will be concluded Friday at 1:30 p.m. with the adoption of the 1967 budget. The officers and employees committee asked for additional time to restudy the salary schedule for sheriff's deputies and other employees for next year. After a study is completed the board may be called to a special meeting to approve adjustments.

Much of Wednesday's meeting was spent in discussing pollution and solid waste disposal problems in the county. The cities and townships face a solid waste disposal problem as only two dumps are operating legally under new restrictions adopted by the state health department.

The board authorized the water and sanitation committee and the good roads committee to proceed with a study of a county-wide solid waste disposal program by an engineering firm. The cost of the study is not to exceed $15,000, according to a resolution adopted by the board.

The cost of the study will be paid out of the county's drain revolving fund and will be repaid through an appropriation in the 1967 budget or from the contingency fund. Walter Russell, director of the county's water and sanitation department, will direct the study. He told the board that the study will include a blueprint recommendation to each township and city.

City Manager Holt of Holland told the board Monday that Holland has problems at its land fill dump. The problem includes the disposal of garbage, refuse and rubbish. Fires are not permitted.

The board also authorized Drain Commissioner, Roscoe De Vries to coordinate the formation of an inter-municipal committee in the Holland area to study pollution of Lake Macatawa and rivers and streams connecting that lake. The Lake Macatawa watershed committee will be made up of residents of nine cities and townships in the area.

Three residents of the county, De Vries, Supervisor Robert Murray of Coopersville and former Supervisor William Kennedy of Allendale, were named Ottawa's representatives on the Grand River watershed citizens committee, now being formed.

James McCarthy Succumbs at 62

FENNIVILLE — James McCarthy, 62, died Monday noon at his home at Diamond Lake, White Cloud, route 4.

Surviving is the wife, Lulah; one daughter, Mrs. Marvin (Norma) Wosterhagen of Caledonia; one son, Leon, of Ravenna; 10 grandchildren; three sisters, Mrs. Bert (Esther) D'Allesandro of Rye, N.Y.; Mrs. Ruth Knoll of Fennville; Mrs. Joseph (Mabel) Goff of Port Chester, N.Y.; two brothers, Paul of Fennville and Daniel of Otisville.

He was a member of IOOF Lodge 338 and was retired.

Motorist Ticketed

Linda S. Sparks, 17, of 51 Manley Ave. was cited by Holland police for making an improper right turn after her car struck a car driven by Minnie Barlow, 50, of 327 West 22nd St. at Pine Ave. and 20th St. at 12:10 p.m. Sunday.

Threat of GE Strike Grows After Talks

The threat of a strike at General Electric Co. in Holland loomed larger today after union officials reported "no progress" in talks Wednesday between management and Local 931 of the International Union of Electrical Workers.

The union has scheduled a mass membership meeting at 2 p.m. Saturday in the Civic Center to vote whether local grievances will be presented to top GE management in New York.

No strike vote will be taken by Local 931, according to Al Wassink, vice president of the local, until local grievances have been formally presented to top GE officials to give them an opportunity to see and rule on the grievances.

Wassink said top level management at GE can either settle the local grievances or uphold the position of local management. Only after a determination has been made by the company's top echelon can the local union membership vote on the strike issue, Wassink said.

The main item at issue in local bargaining is what union officials termed "low local wages." Union officials said the average pay for a GE worker in Holland is about 50 cents per hour below the national average for GE employees.

Other items at issue in local negotiations include rehiring, instructor's pay and overtime. Local management had no comment today on Wednesday's negotiations with representatives of Local 931. The Holland local is bargaining representative for approximately 650 IUE members.

Other disputes over local issues plagued 10 diversified GE plants across the country as some 21,000 workers stayed off the job. Officials threatened to use the Taft-Hartley Act to get them back.

Workers at other plants drifted back to work after settlements were reached and ratified, including 6,300 at the Evendale, Ohio, jet engine plant.

A district court judge granted a government requested injunction ordering the Evendale workers back to work because of the strike's possible effect on the Viet Nam war.

The plant turns out Phantom jet fighter engines. Involved there were members of the United Auto Workers and International Association of Machinists.

Government officials said similar injunction may be sought in some of the other disputes if it feels the walkouts imperil national defense work.

Arraign Three For Thefts

Three Holland youths were arraigned in Municipal Court this morning in connection with thefts at the Clark Service Station, 195 East Eighth St. early Wednesday morning.

Holland police said a fourth Holland youth would be arraigned in Municipal Court this afternoon, and a warrant has been issued for a fifth man.

Richard Hardy, 19, of 3538 Lakeshore Dr. pleaded guilty to embezzlement and will return for sentencing Oct. 27. Jack E. Hunter, 17, of 100 East Eighth St. pleaded guilty to simple larceny, and will also return for sentencing Oct. 27.

William Bron, 19, of 280 East Eighth St. pleaded not guilty to charges of simple larceny and will return for trial Nov. 8.

County Budget Delayed for Salary Restudy

GRAND HAVEN — Ottawa County Board of Supervisors held a public hearing on its 1967 budget Tuesday afternoon, but delayed passage until later, possibly next week, to allow a restudy of salaries for all county employees.

The delay resulted from a protest from the sheriff's department, represented by Holland Atty. Ronald Dalman, on the proposed one-step increase.

Dalman told supervisors that the four-year schedule arranged by a personnel service is a good plan, but that 18 men in the department are not receiving pay as outlined, resulting in considerable irritation. "If their demands are not met, the next step will be organizing the department into a bargaining unit," he said.

A motion to restudy sheriff department salaries was rejected in favor of a motion to include all departments. Serving on the officers committee are R. V. Terrill of Grand Haven, Alvin De Haan and Lawrence

Ottawa Ave. Site Out for Apartments

Holland isn't likely to have any apartments in the vicinity of Ottawa Ave. and 33rd St. for quite a while.

A communication from the Holland Planning Commission recommended to City Council Wednesday night that the 16-acre site in question not be rezoned A-3 to permit garden apartments. The communication added that the commission soon would recommend other sites in the city for B-1 and A-3 rezoning in locations where there would be no question of spot zoning.

Council had referred the controversial zoning issue back to the Planning Commission two weeks ago after the subject was reopened. A month earlier, Council voted 6-2 to rezone the area, but the issue lost since the yes vote did not constitute 75 per cent of the nine-member total.

Most opposition to the rezoning had come from Providence Christian Reformed Church which owns a site nearby.

Council Chambers were crowded with some 65 persons in the audience, most of them youngsters from Dorothy Bradish's junior high citizenship classes. Mayor Pro Tem Bertal H. Slag presided in the absence of Mayor Nelson Bosman who has been ill for close to two months.

For the first time, Council used a new overhead projector to flash transparencies on the wall on zoning maps, etc.

Council approved a request from Holland and Inter-City Bus Line to increase fares in the city effective Oct. 24. New fares will be 25 cents for adults, 10 rides for $2.25, and 20 cents for students, 10 rides for $1.80.

Oaths of office were filed for Charles J. Cooper, Board of Public Works; Louis Hallacy II, Tulip Time board, and Albert James Prins, board of canvassers. Oaths also were filed for the following members of the Human Relations Commission: Wilma Bouman, Rev. David L. Clark, Donald L. Ihrman, Elsie Lamb, Lupita Reyes, Dr. Carlos Tapia Ruano and Dr. Miner Stegenga.

Council approved a formal request of the Holland Board of Education to conduct the special school millage election in conjunction with the general election Nov. 8, the board assuming its share of the cost involved.

A letter from Charles L. Bradford Jr., 258 East 24th St., commenting on the need of sidewalks or walkways for school children, was referred to the city manager who has the matter under study.

Requests from several persons for rezoning property on the north side of 40th St. west of Washington Ave. to C-1 neighborhood commercial and B-1 residential, were referred to the Planning Commission for recommendation. The petitioners, Dr. L. E. Schmidt, John William and Harriet Matthews and Oxford Realty Co., indicated plans call for developing a neighborhood shopping center with the west 150 feet to be used as a buffer strip for multiple housing units.

A Board of Public Works requests recommending adoption of the 1965 National Electrical Code with certain additions was referred to the city attorney for drafting the necessary ordinance amendment.

Council acknowledged with thanks the following gifts for Holland Hospital from the SIX PERSONS HURT—Six persons were treated at Holland Hospital and released after these three cars collided at Michigan Ave. and 32nd St. at 5:11 p.m. Wednesday. Mrs. Murvel Houting, 63, of 131 East 32nd St., driver of the car at left, was treated for a fractured rib and abrasions of the left leg. Five children of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Houting of 142 West 32nd St., passengers in the Houting auto, were treated for minor injuries. They are Mary, 15,

Tom, 13, Tim, 11, Dan, 9, and John, 1. Pedro Garcia, 45, of Fennville, driver of the car in the middle, was also treated for minor injuries. The third motorist, Arthur Postma, 55, of route 2, Hamilton, was not injured. Holland police cited Mrs. Houting for failing to yield the right of way and Arthur Postma for following too closely. Patrolman Richard Overkamp examines the damage. (Sentinel photo)

Housekeeping Guild: 25 straight chairs for maternity depart- ment patients' rooms, $250; four arm chairs and one settee for doctors' coffee room, $206; draperies for room 327, $68.60

Council also approved change orders in hospital construction calling for additional work in the boiler house area due to poor soil conditions, addition of $7,422.56; exterior wall bracing for addition of $325.84, and soil consolidation under old building at an addition of $2,827.37.

Council accepted a plat designated as Knollcrest Estates filed by William C. De Roo.

Approval was given affidavits from Councilman Slag in the purchase of two picture frames for $13.50 and from Councilman Peerbolt in the purchase of 12 galvanized water pans for $54.

Council accepted a grant of easement from the Society for Christian Education of the Holland Christian Schools for storm drainage across a portion of the new Christian High School site at 40th and Ottawa Ave.

City Manager Herb Holt will be absent from the city for the week of Oct. 24 and designated City Clerk D. W. Schipper to act as manager in his absence.

A request from Howard Hamberg of Hudsonville for a new article in the city's ordinance to provide for mobile home living was referred to the Planning Commission with instructions to report back to Council. Hamberg, who said mobile living is vastly different from trailers, said he had under option property at 48th St., Central Ave. and the bypass for such a development.

All Councilmen were present at the meeting which lasted an hour and 25 minutes. The invocation was given by the Rev. B. G. Ham of First Baptist Church.

4 More Firms Qualify for 'E' Awards

Four additional employee groups have qualified for the "E" award for outstanding citizenship, according to United Fund campaign chairman Raymond Helder. The additional Wire Products, Inc., Holland Cotton Products Co., Maihofer, Moore and De Long, and the Netherlands Information Service.

This brings to 18 the number of groups eligible for the award thus far in the drive. In qualifying for the award, the total pledged by each group exceeds 70 per cent of one day's average total payroll, exclusive of the firm or corporate gift.

Mrs. Joseph Borgman Jr. and Mrs. Richard L. Raymond, chairman of the residential division's house-to-house canvass, said over 500 volunteers have been ringing doorbells the past four days and that arrangements have been made for section majors and team captains to bring their completed reports to campaign headquarters in the Green Room, Civic Center, tonight from 7 to 10 p.m.

Other divisions of the campaign are asked to bring all completed reports to headquarters by 5 p.m. Friday since an audit under the direction of Simon Sybesma and Herman Vander Leek, assisted by members of the American Society of Women Accountants, will be conducted for the purpose of tabulating all reports received since the previous audit of Oct. 18.

Twin Sons Born Monday In Holland Hospital

Twin sons were born in Holland Hospital Monday to Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Mannes, 8430 Whispering Pines Ct., Zeeland. The babies have been named Rodney Jay and Richard Lee.

A son, Wayne Allen, was born on Friday to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Slocum, 25 East Seventh St.

Washington Ave. To Remain Open

No changes will be made immediately in traffic patterns at the five-corner intersection at 32nd St., Michigan Ave. and Washington Ave., City Council decided Wednesday night.

The action was contrary to a recommendation of the Traffic and Safety Commission to block off Washington Ave. at the intersection to be concurred with a similar recommendation from the Michigan State Highway Department suggesting the blocking several weeks ago.

However, Council did move to communicate its concern over the dangers of the intersection to the Highway Department.

The action was in the form of a substitute motion to two other motions, one calling for approving the closing, and the other calling for closing when the State Highway Department approves a traffic signal for a four-way intersection.

The traffic commission submitted statistics compiled by the highway commission during an eight-hour traffic count April 7 and 8, 1964, which revealed 5,272 cars used the intersection of US-31, 56 from the east leg of US-31, 213 or 4 per cent entered from the Washington Ave. leg, 3,252 or 61.7 per cent from US-31 BR legs, and 1,807 or 34.3 per cent from the 32nd St. legs.

The report also revealed that only 345 cars left the intersection northbound on the Washington Ave. leg. Of these 345 cars, 20 came from the north leg of US-31, 219 from the south leg of US-31, 56 from the east leg of 22nd St. and 50 from the west leg of 32nd St. Of the 213 cars coming from Washington Ave. leg, only 49 turned west on 32nd St. compared with 403 westbound on 32nd from Michigan Ave.

Several persons from the audience expressed opinions.

Jason Roels, of 322 West 33rd St. who operates a produce store near the intersection, did not regard the traffic problem as a dilemma and expressed concern for action now when the state department has postponed its 1967 plan another five years until 1962. He felt safety was not a great question at this intersection and quoted statistics on accidents, emphasizing that there are fewer accidents at five-corner intersections in Holland than at many other intersections.

Lowell Heneveld, of 963 Bluebell Dr., who crosses the intersection on east-west 32nd St. four, six and eight times a day, disagreed with Roels and regarded the intersection as very unsafe. He said statistics do not tell the whole story.

Ray Gemmen, of 134 West 31st St., who owns an interest in a building at 734 Washington Ave., expected that the value of his property would be depreciated by closing the street.

Dale Van Lente of the Traffic and Safety Commission said this five-corner intersection has been under discussion by the commission for several years.

The commission has sought a traffic signal on several occasions, but traffic counts have not justified such action. Without a five-leg traffic signal, the commission concluded the intersection would be safer with four lanes of traffic. He said in 1964 there were 14 accidents; in 1965 there were 21 accidents, 15 major and six minor; so far in 1966, eight accidents, five major and three minor.

Carroll Norlin, principal of Thomas Jefferson School nearby, expressed concern over heavier traffic in front of this elementary school and possible heavier traffic on Van Raalte Ave. in front of the high school.

Charles Rich of Washington Square suggested further study. Two petitions, one containing 25 signatures and the other 13 signatures, protested the proposed closing of Washington Ave.

During Council discussion, Councilman Richard Smith felt a traffic light would aid east-west traffic on 32nd St. Councilman Gene Vande Vuse felt closing Washington would relieve east-west traffic on 32nd St. and suggested a trial period of three or six months. Councilman Donald Oosterbaan was opposed to closing Washington unless a traffic light is provided.

Councilman Morris Peerbolt asked what further plans the state has for US-31 BR, and City Manager Herb Holt said the general plan calls for widening Michigan Ave. from 32nd St. to 24th St., thereafter branching into one-way traffic, northbound on Michigan and River Aves. and southbound on Pine Ave.

Mayor pro tem Bertal Slag asked about progress on traffic signals on US-31 bypass and was informed the Traffic and Safety Commission had sent telegrams to Gov. Romney, to the Highway Department and to Ralph Shoemaker, district engineer. City Manager Holt said the department material in making the installation.

Couple Exchanges Vows In Central Park Church

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Van Klompenberg

A gown of delustered bridal satin was chosen by Miss Elaine Ruth Van Huis for her marriage Friday evening to Larry Van Klompenberg in Central Park Reformed Church.

The gown featured a fitted bodice with a scooped neckline and tiny buttons down the back. The long sleeves were pointed and the full skirt with appliques of beaded embroidered lace ended in a chapel train. A large double bow at the back waistline completed the ensemble. Her elbow length veil of silk illusion was held in place by a headpiece of satin petals tipped with seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of three white roses.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Van Huis of 1171 West 32nd St. and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Van Klompenberg of 3245 104th Ave.

The Rev. Henry Van Raalte officiated at the 8 o'clock ceremony before an altar banked with two bouquets of white gladioli and delphinium blue mums, candelabra and ferns. Wedding music was provided by Mrs. Leon Sandy organist, and Mrs. Harve Brower, soloist. Mr. Van Huis gave his daughter in marriage.

A sister of the bride, Mrs. Lynn Folkert, as matron of honor, and Miss Shirley Van Raalte and Mrs. Bill Toms, sister of the groom, as bridesmaids, wore floor-length dresses of royal blue spun taffeta featuring fitted bodices and elbow-length sleeves. Their full skirts were complemented with long flowing panels down the back and their matching headpieces consisted of tiny petals tipped with pearls. They carried colonial bouquets of bronze and gold pompons.

Attending the groom were Jarvis Van Klompenberg, his brother, as best man; Jack Huizenga and Donald Mannes as groomsmen; Glen Van Huis, and Roger Van Klompenberg, brothers of the bride and groom, as ushers.

A reception for 125 guests was held in the church basement. At the punch bowl were Mr. and Mrs. Howard Van Huis and in charge of the gifts were Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Van Klompenberg and Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Van Klompenberg.

Master and mistress of ceremonies were Mr. and Mrs. Julius Van Huis and in charge of the guest book was Calvin Van Klompenberg. Pouring were Miss Joyce Van Klompenberg and Miss Ellen Van Huis. Miss Ellen Joy Knoll greeted the guests.

For a southern honeymoon the new Mrs. Van Klompenberg changed to a two-piece medium blue suit with black accessories. The couple will reside at 1103 West 32nd St. The bride is employed by Wolbrink Insurance Agency and the groom at Hart and Cooley.

Rites in Zion Lutheran

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth J. Meyers

Miss Jane Ann Grossnickle and Kenneth J. Meyers were married Friday, Sept. 30 in a candlelight ceremony officiated by the Rev. E. M. Ruhlig, pastor of Zion Lutheran Church.

Altar bouquets of white mums, candles at the pews and spiral candelabras and ferns enhanced the nuptial setting for the double-ring ceremony which united the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Grossnickle of Benton Harbor and the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Meyers of Jenison. Philip K. Fawley, organist, accompanied Norm Vredevelde who sang "Lord's Prayer" and "Wedding Prayer" and played traditional music as the bride was escorted to the altar by her father.

Her traditional gown of bouquet taffeta featured a court train accented with Alencon lace and seed pearls. A crown of lace, pearls and crystals held a elbow-length veil of silk illusion.

A reception was held in the parish hall immediately following the ceremony. The bride, graduate of Benton Harbor High School, is employed by General Electric Company and the groom who was graduated from Grandville High School is employed by Steelcase Company, Grand Rapids. They will reside in Jenison.

Columnist Puts Timely News Into Sharp Focus

Up-to-the-minute news in the world today was put into sharp focus by John Morley, news analyst and columnist of Pacific Palisades, Calif., at a regular meeting of the Woman's Literary Club Tuesday.

"The main reason America cannot understand the culture and problems of the world and the world cannot understand America is our wealth and plenty," the speaker said.

"All the countries in the world except for some in Europe are envious and jealous of our affluence. They do not hate us, but how can they understand us when two-thirds of the world is starving and we are dining? You just don't leave food on your plate over there. And no country on earth can match just the grooming of our American men and women!"

Even when foreigners visit America, they cannot believe what they see. Morley said one of the 40 Russian farmers who visited the United States in the 1950's confidentially told him the visitors believed America had deliberately parked all those cars at the big airports just to impress the Russians.

And Morley heard Krushchev in a radio broadcast tell the Russian people that only the Wall St. imperialists lived in individual cottages and all the other Americans live in tents — this, after Krushchev had flown America from coast to coast.

Morley recommended a firm approach in dealing with the Communists — a tough approach which is the only language they understand. Any courteous or conciliatory approach from Eisenhower, Kennedy or Johnson could lead only to derision. "and after 35 years, I have had it!" the speaker said.

As for Viet Nam, Morley said American aid to South Viet Nam had made that country successful, and that was the reason the north invaded it. But he added that the religious problem is probably greater than the Communist problem. With 10 Buddhists to one Christian, the butchery and savagery that goes on is unbelievable. "and we find we are dealing

WHO RULES THE ROOST?—Nona Penna as Vinnie in "Life With Father" convinces Father, Edwin Raphael, that she should have a charge account in the opening night performance of the Holland Community Theatre's presentation Thursday night in the Holland High School auditorium.

'Life With Father' Charms First Night Play Audience

"Life With Father" was hectic to say the least when the delightful family comedy opened Thursday night in the Holland High School auditorium.

Edwin Raphael as "Father" stormed his way through the routine of family living, convincingly severe with his four sons and surprisingly tender with his wife when she resorted to tears.

Nona Penna as Vinnie, really ran the family, her ridiculous reasoning in money matters delighted the audience. As a team of Father and Mother, the Holland Community Theatre veterans were in complete command of the situation.

Able support in the family comedy came from Larry Schipper as Clarence. In his role as the eldest son, he provided much of the humor. Behaving like typical children, and not at all ill at ease in their quaint clothes, were Dan Padnos as John; Christopher Johnson as Whitney, who had to learn his catechism and Dan Houting as Harlan, the tagalong.

Capable supporting characters were Mary Ellen Mrok as Margaret, the Irish cook and Dr. Hollis Clark Jr., as the stuffy clergyman, the Rev. Dr. Lloyd.

A succession of maids in all shapes and forms included Deborah Noe as Annie; Sally Van Deusen as Delia; Carleen Overholt as Nora and Cheryl Valkema as Maggie.

Sandy Hemple played the gushy cousin Cora and Beverly Johnson was most convincing as a love-struck Mary Skinner. Leslie Woltman was properly professional as Dr. Humphreys and George Johnson played Dr. Somers.

It is easy to understand why "Life With Father" had such a long successful run on Broadway. It is filled with family humor and situations that many families can fit themselves into.

Setting for the three-act play was the morning room of the Day house on Madison Ave., New York City in the 1880s. Quite authentic costumes lent atmosphere to the Howard Lindsay-Russell Crouse adaptation of Clarence Day's book.

Barbara Greenwood used good stage sense in her selection of the cast and in help of the production crew, who put together a fine set.

Honorary Degree Given Ekdal Buys

Ekdal J. Buys of Caledonia, Saturday night was awarded the honorary Doctor of Laws Degree at the Hope College Centennial Homecoming recognition dinner at the college.

Judge A. Dale Stoppels of the Board of Trustees cited Buys for his outstanding contributions to education in general and Hope College in particular during his 12 year's service as Trustee of the college. During the past seven years, Buys has served as board chairman.

The Holland college campus was the scene of a week-long celebration of the college's 100th anniversary. The degree award was unanimously voted by the Board of Trustees in its general assembly session on Friday.

Buys is a Hope College graduate, holding an A.B. from the Class of 1937. While at Hope he distinguished himself as co-captain of the 1936 football squad, All-MIAA Track, member of the Blue Key Honor Society and recipient of the Otto Vander Velde Award.

A World War II veteran, Buys also has served as Trustee for Camp Geneva, Past president of the Hope College Alumni Varsity Club, past-president of the Ottawa Hills Quarterback Club, past vice-president of the Ottawa Hills P.T.A., and is a member of the Finance Committee of the Western Seminary Board of Trustees.

Buys is married to the former Miss Mina Becker and they have two sons, Ek, Jr. and Chris.

Wed in Bethany Church

(Holland Photography)

Miss Jane Ann Schrottenboer became Mrs. Wayne E. Lampen Sept. 16 in an evening ceremony officiated by her uncle, the Rev. Arnold E. Dykhuizen of Detroit, in Bethany Christian Reformed Church.

Bouquets of gladioli and chrysanthemums and candelabra enhanced the setting for the double ring rites which united the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Schrottenboer of 837 West 26th St. and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Lampen of route 2, Hamilton. Mrs. Bruce Eding accompanied Mike Meyers who sang "Trust and Obey" and "Wedding Prayer."

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride was gown in white organza over taffeta designed with a fitted bodice, full skirt and chapel train edged with French lace medallion appliques. Her fingertip veil of French illusion fell from a crystal crown and she carried a cascade bouquet of yellow gladioli.

The bridal party included Elynn Schrottenboer, matron of honor; Verna Mae Lampen, bridesmaid; Jaclyn Sue Bosch and Laura Lee Schrottenboer, nieces of the bride; Austin Meiste, best man; Darwin Lampen, groomsmen; Gus Vander Veen and Ken Berens were ushers with Danny Schrottenboer and Douglas Hoffman, junior ushers.

The bridal attendants wore floor-length gowns of yellow taffeta featuring slim skirts and flower brocade bodices and back panels. Yellow crown headpieces held small nylon veils. The flower girls wore full-length white taffeta dresses with yellow bows and headpieces of yellow flowers and carried baskets of yellow petals.

The mothers of the bride and groom wore ensembles in royal blue and green, respectively, with accenting corsages of white roses and carnations. Before leaving on a wedding trip to Washington, D.C. and New York and Canada, the newlyweds greeted guests in Jack's Garden Room. Mr. and Mrs. James White attended the punch bowl and Ann Lampen and Jack Eding were in the gift room. For traveling the bride changed to a camel

Two Suits Filed In Ottawa Court

GRAND HAVEN — Damages totaling $50,000 are sought in Ottawa circuit court in a suit filed with the county clerk Friday by Vivian Branyan of Spring Lake against a Muskegon resident, Robert L. Fitch.

The plaintiff seeks damages for loss of earnings, hospital and doctor's expenses, and for injuries resulting from a traffic accident on M-104 at Krueger near Spring Lake Aug. 13, 1964. She claims she was driving west on M-104 and Fitch was headed east when he failed to stop for a third car, stopped for a left turn. She claims Fitch hit the rear of the third car, forcing it across the road into the Branyan vehicle.

Chris-Craft Corp. of Pompano Beach, Fla., started a suit Friday in the clerk's office against the big North Shore Marina on Grand river at Grand Haven. The Marina is a subsidiary of Bauman, Inc., of Spring Lake.

The Chris-Craft firm seeks to recover $5,679.88 from the local firm, claimed to be the balance due for goods furnished in 1964. The Florida firm also seeks interest and attorney fees.

the fitted bodice. The bell-shaped skirt was swept up in back to form a full chapel train. A crown of seed pearls and crystals held the silk illusion veil and she carried a cascade bouquet of white mums and lily of the valley. Her father gave her in marriage.

Floor-length gowns of gold taffeta with matching rose headpieces and silk illusion veils were worn by the bridal attendants who carried arrangements of bronze and gold mums.

Miss Evelyn Bultema, aunt of the bride, served as hostess at a buffet dinner held at Mac Arthur School.

At the guest book was Miss Janice Breuker and serving punch were Miss Janet Bultema and Miss Debbie Price. Mr. and Mrs. Howard Doornbos arranged the gifts.

The bride, a graduate of Blodgett Memorial Hospital School of Nursing in Grand Rapids, is on the nursing staff at Holland Hospital. The groom attended Davenport College of Business in Grand Rapids and is an accountant at Conrad, Inc.

Kletz Concert Has Lots Of Musical Surprises

The Hope College Band, in its biggest event of the year, gave an excellent performance Friday night before an enthusiastic audience in its Kletz Center. The event in Civic Center ended a full day of Centennial Homecoming events which began with four lectures by distinguished educational leaders, followed by the community Ox-roast, and coronation of the homecoming queen.

Mrs. Reisig delighted her audience with her exquisite presentation of the lovely Zueignung" by Richard Strauss and "Vissi d'arte" from Tosca by Puccini for her opening numbers, followed by "Loveliest of Trees" by C. S. Lewis and "Floods of Spring" by Rachmaninoff with Mrs. Larry Ter Molen, also a Hope graduate, assisting at the piano. She concluded with a medley of songs from Jerome Kern's "Show Boat," with band accompaniment.

DAR Hears Talk On 'Road Ahead'

The monthly meeting of the Elizabeth Schuyler Hamilton Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution was held at the home of Mrs. Joseph W. McKenna Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Merrick W. Hanchett, Mrs. Lawrence J. Geuder and Mrs. Harry F. Wetter serving as hostesses.

Following the business meeting Mrs. Harrison A. Lee reported on an address given by Lt. General Arthur G. Trudeau, USA, (Retired) to the 1966 Continental Congress of the DAR entitled "The Road Ahead."

In complimenting the DAR upon the patriotism which they so actively advocate, the general keyed his remarks with the statement: "The keys to our survival are still faith—not fear; firmness—not fuzziness; courage—not complacency; and they are patriotism and not patronage; they are sacrifice and not selfishness."

Kaniff-Beekman Rites

Mr. and Mrs. David Kaniff

Mr. and Mrs. David Kaniff are at home at 152 129th Ave. following a wedding trip through the Smoky Mountains. They were married Sept. 16 in a double ring ceremony performed in Maplewood Reformed Church by the Rev. Stuart Blaauw, pastor of Fourth Reformed Church.

The bride is the former Mary Ellen Beekman, daughter of Ray Beekman of 76 West 20th St., and the late Mrs. Beekman, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kaniff of 125 East 34th St.

The wedding party assembled before an altar setting of palms, brass tree candelabra and arrangements of yellow and bronze mums and the kissing candle.

Appropriate organ music was played by Mrs. Robert Bareman who also accompanied Martin Hardenberg Jr., soloist.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a floor-length A-line gown of peau de soie, featuring a panel of chantilly lace dusted with seed pearls which extended from the empire bodice to the hem. A panel train fell from the back waistline and her elbow-length veil of imported illusion was held by a cluster of lace and pearl flowers. She carried a cascade arrangement of white and yellow sweetheart roses.

Miss Judy Nyland, maid of honor, Mrs. William Ooms and Mrs. James Tyink, sisters of the bride, as bridesmaids, wore identical floor-length sheath gowns of mango with chun lace empire bodices, back waistline trains and chiffon skirts. They wore flowerette headpieces and carried crescent bouquets of yellow and white daisies, pompons and yellow sweetheart roses.

The flower girl, Lu Ann Beekman, niece of the bride, wore a floor-length dress of mango chiffon and carried a lace basket with gold petals. Russell Beekman, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer.

Bruce Driesenga assisted the groom as best man and William Beekman and Robert Kaniff, brothers of the bride and groom, were ushers.

A reception for 150 guests was held at Point West with Mr. and Mrs. George Jacob as master and mistress of ceremonies. Glenn Beekman and Miss Bonnie Bosma presided at the punch bowl and the Misses Marcia Daining and Jane Kruid were at the gift table. The Misses Diana and Jean Kaniff, sisters of the groom, passed the guest book.

Mrs. Beekman, the bride's stepmother, chose a teal blue sheath dress with matching hat and black and white accessories complemented with a white feathered carnation and sweetheart rose corsage. The groom's mother wore a two-piece suit dress of olive green with black accessories. Her corsage included yellow sweetheart roses and white feathered carnations.

The bride is employed at Michigan Bell Telephone Co. and the groom is a dental lab technician in Grand Rapids.

The groom's parents entertained at a rehearsal dinner. Pre-nuptial showers were given by the Mesdames W. Ooms, J. Tyink, R. Beekman, G. Jacob and C. Kaniff and the Misses Judy Nyland and Hazel Oelen.

AUTUMN COLORS IN MICHIGAN

October is the time people travel around the country enjoying the best show that Nature provides — autumn colors.

And when one drives through these canyons of flaming beauty, frustrations dissipate and pent-up emotions are released. The music of autumn truly nourishes the soul.

It makes one wonder how man can ever successfully live in big cities, shut off from sun and sky, from trees and creeks, from the sounds of the great outdoors.

People in Holland hardly need leave home. Just watch the busy squirrels on your front lawn or the birds scurrying about. Raking leaves can be pleasant on the right day.

Women Stage Annual Fall Conference

Church women of Holland met Thursday afternoon and evening in Hope Reformed Church for their annual Fall Conference of the Women's Classical Union of the Reformed Church of America.

Mrs. Gerald Reinink, president, presided at both sessions. Mrs. James Lamb and a women's ensemble from Hope Church provided the special music. Gregg Hulst was at the organ.

"Personal Glimpses of Our Missionaries," featured three missionaries who are presently home on furlough. They were Mrs. G. Van Engen from Chicago, Mex., Mrs. Harriet Bechtel from Taiwan, and Mrs. J. Heselink from Japan. They each told about their home life on the mission fields.

A business meeting was held at the 5 p.m. meeting. The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Gerald Reinink; vice president, Mrs. Albert Nuttle; treasurer, Mrs. Harold DeFouw; spiritual life secretary, Mrs. John W. Overbeck; service secretary, Mrs. William Van Dyke. Mrs. John Piet installed the newly elected officers.

A potluck supper was held with Mrs. Albert Nuttle, president of Hope Church Guild, offering the blessing.

The evening session featured two speakers. The Rev. Harold De Roo, co-director of youth work, and Mrs. Wilbur Wormuth, representative of North American missions.

Rev. De Roo said that there are 40,000 Junior and Senior high youth in the Reformed denomination. These young people are being reached through the Reformed Church Youth Fellowship. They study major Christian concerns by means of three groups: Faith, Outreach, and Fellowship. The Youth Department also reaches young people through retreats, work projects, caravanning, summer camps, and International Christian youth education.

Mrs. Wormuth took the women to three mission stations in Chiapas, Mexico via colored slides. She also demonstrated the Indian dress.

Offertory prayers were given by Miss Mary Geogh and Mrs. Ruth De Wolfe. The Rev. Glenn Peterman offered prayer and benediction.

Classical Union Workshop will be held on Oct. 24, from 7:30 to 9 p.m. at Hope Church.

God, Our Security
Isaiah 37: 14-21a, 33-35
By C. P. Dame

The word "security" is popular today. Many people are seeking for it but the majority do not find it. Nations look for it but try to get it in the wrong way. Our miracle working God is our security.

I. Prayer strengthens. "And Hezekiah received the letter" — threatening letter Sennacherib the Assyrian king wanted to control all the smaller surrounding nations. Judah was one of them. The Assyrian marched his army in Palestine and captured many cities and levied a heavy tribute upon Jerusalem which was thus saved for a time.

Hezekiah revolted and was attacked by the Assyrian army. Rabshakeh, the Assyrian king's officer was sent to capture Jerusalem. He tried to persuade Jerusalem to surrender. Psychological warfare was practiced then too. The officer was clever—read Isaiah 36.

The officer did not win over the city. This he reported to the king who thereupon sent a personal letter to Hezekiah. This letter disturbed him. The king went to the house of God and spread the letter before the Lord and prayed. The king did two sensible things—he went to church and he prayed. The Bible tells us of many men and women who prayed. Prayer is always helpful but especially in critical times.

II. Definite, specific prayer counts. The prayer of Hezekiah deserves study. He addressed God as, "Lord of hosts, God of Israel." He was more than the God of Israel — He was also the God of "all the kingdoms of the earth." "This great God is approachable, and He is concerned about His people."

Hezekiah had a problem. The Assyrian king boasted about his conquests. The gods of the conquered nations had failed and Israel's God would not help. Hezekiah was very definite in his petition: "Now therefore, O Lord, our God, save us from his hand that all the kingdoms of the earth may know that Thou art the Lord, even Thou only." Note that the king told God just what he wanted Him to do.

III. God answers prayers. The king was blessed with a godly and patriotic preacher named Isaiah who told the king that the Assyrians would not take Jerusalem. God had given this message to the prophet. Observe the two reasons why God would defend the city. The first reason was that He would defend it for His own sake. By defending the city God would make clear that He was not like the gods of the other nations.

The second reason is, that He would save the city for "my servant David's sake." God had made several promises to David and He intended to keep them. Today, God does things because of the prayers and services of parents, preachers, teachers and workers.

We all know how the Lord destroyed the Assyrian army. "And the angel of the Lord went forth, and slew a hundred and eighty-five thousand in the camp of the Assyrians, and when the men arose early in the morning; behold these were all dead bodies." A Greek historian says that a plague broke out in the army. God does not always work miracles in reply to His people's prayers but now and then He bares His mighty arm and performs a miracle to save a man or a nation or a community.

Distinguished Lecturers Give Stimulating Talks

A panel of four distinguished lecturers in the areas of fine arts, philosophy - education, science and economics at Hope College Friday afternoon provided stimulating thought for hundreds interested in this phase of the program for Hope College's centennial celebration.

Both Dr. Mortimer Adler, Great Books scholar, and Col. John Powers of NASA said basic skills of learning and communication have been neglected in schools when college graduates cannot express their ideas.

"In our space program, we have too many college grads who simply cannot communicate," Powers said.

As for science getting more money than the humanities, Dr. Adler said he always was disturbed by the idea that these two branches were opposed.

"The notion that liberal arts contains only the humanities is a false one," he said, adding that he also objected to the idea that if all children receive a liberal education, no one would go into manual skills.

"That's nonsense," he said. "Liberal education has little to do with the work a man does. It gives a man the training to live his life constructively in the best way possible on the highest plane possible."

Also participating were Dr. Yale Brozen of the University of Chicago and Lester Trimble, music critic of the New York Herald Tribune. Brozen's lecture was cancelled when his plane arrived late and he participated in the panel only.

Dr. Brozen, nationally known economist, said the major question facing society and its leaders in the next decade is to straighten out its welfare program, something which cannot be resolved entirely by law.

Since the minimum wage was set in 1956, he said non-white unemployment has almost doubled that of white unemployment. "We do want wages raised, but passing a law is not the way to accomplish it."

As for money, legal lenders will not lend if results are not compensatory, and lending then falls into the hands of less trustworthy agents. He added transportation regulations often prevent industry from moving, that union-supporting legislation restricts the poor from getting higher paying jobs and said responsible leadership is the one is the time to make new decisions about where to go beyond the moon.

Trimble discussed briefly the falseness of piped or canned music, and Brozen consistently reminded his audience that money moved away from local control costs up to 35 per cent to administer on a higher level.

"If it's your own money that's involved, you may look a bit more carefully when a new program is considered," he said.

Dean William Mathis moderated the panel. Dr. Adrian Klaassen, professor of business administration at Hope, introduced Dr. Brozen and Dr. Douglas Neckers, research professor of chemistry, introduced Col. Powers.

Piano Recital By Dr. Kooiker Well Received

The piano recital by Dr. Anthony Kooiker in Dimnent Memorial Chapel Sunday afternoon was an artistic climax to the Hope College Centennial Homecoming celebration.

Dr. Kooiker played his selections on the new Steinway concert grand piano, gift of an anonymous donor, and thereby dedicated the piano to the enjoyment of a large audience.

Dr. Kooiker, head of the piano faculty at Hope College, showed unusual depth of understanding and maturity in his well-controlled, yet apparently spontaneous performance of some of the most difficult literature in the entire concert repertoire.

The well-chosen program included three pieces by Franz List, a Prelude from Cantata No. 12, on a theme by J.S. Bach and Two Transcendental Etudes, Nos. 3 and 10. Here the "hand of steel, with velvet gloves" legendarily required for these works was evidenced.

"Visions and Prophecies" by the modern composer Ernest Bloch were also well received, the rhapsodic and declamatory pieces contained an overall unity; various echo, harp and orchestral effects were evocative and expressive.

Undoubtedly the most demanding work of the afternoon was the Beethoven Sonata, Op. 110, one of the last works of the composer. The extremely difficult fugue which ends the sonata received the intellectual depth and intense concentration which it demands while retaining a warmly musical quality.

An appreciative audience demanded an encore, in which Dr. Kooiker delighted by performing the familiar Prelude in D flat by Chopin.

Hope Graduate of 1903 To Assist in Campaign

The Rev. Corneilus Vander Mel, retired pastor from Delmar, N.Y., left today by plane to return to his home after attending the Hope College Centennial Celebration.

Rev. Vander Mel, a graduate of the class of 1903 at Hope and a member of the Fraternal Alumni, has offered his services to help raise funds for Hope's "For the Hope of the Future" campaign designated to raise $10 million in the next 10 years.

His services have been accepted and already plans were being made for him to speak at a dinner meeting of the Classis of Albany in New York which opens its fall session Tuesday.

Rev. Vander Mel's grandson, Tim Vander Mel, was graduated from Hope College in 1961.

Mrs. Rodger Allen Borgman

Miss Peggy Sue Heth and Rodger Allen Borgman were united in marriage on Friday, Sept. 23, in Second Congregational Church of Grand Rapids.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Jack B. Heth, Eastern Ave., Grand Rapids, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Borgman of Pinecrest Dr., Holland. The bride wore a crepe empire gown with a lace bodice and a floral and pearl headpiece. She carried a cascade of Amazon Lilies, stephanotis and ivy.

Mint green crepe gowns with moss green velvet empire bodices were worn by the honor attendant, Miss Cathryn Ingolf, and bridesmaids, Mrs. Robert E. Monaghan, of Grand Rapids, and the Misses Denise M. Borgman of Holland and Carole J. Heth of Grand Rapids. Velvet bow headpieces and a cascade of assorted foliage and blue pompons complemented their gowns.

Kathy S. VanderWall, niece of the groom, was flower girl. Gale Romine of Holland was best man. Seating the guests were Larry Wanrooy of Holland, Duane Overbeck and Thomas Heth, both of Grand Rapids.

The mother of the bride wore a beige brocade dress with matching accessories and a green cymbidium orchid. The groom's mother wore a turquoise blue knit suit with black accessories and wore an ivory cymbidium orchid.

The couple chose Niagara Falls for their honeymoon. They are now living at 1567 Ruth Lane N. E. in Grand Rapids. The bride is employed at Meijer Markets Inc. and the groom is a senior at Grand Valley State College.

Zeeland UF Campaign at 55 Per Cent

ZEELAND — Gifts and pledges to the Zeeland United Fund-Red Cross campaign have reached $10,718 or 55 per cent of the $19,400 goal, according to a tabulation of campaign progress made Friday.

Glenn J. Wyngarden, drive chairman, said reports received thus far in the campaign indicate continuous generous giving again this year in support of the 43 health, welfare, medical research and youth guidance sharing in the funds raised in this one 'single' campaign.

Division amounts pledged to date along with quotas follows: Commercial-Retail, Robert Kalmink, $2,901 on $4,200; Public-Civic, Leon D. Van Harn, $722 on $750; Professional, Dr. Marvin L. Goeman, $1,195 on $1,550; Industrial, Steven H. Snoey, $5,900 on $10,400.

Board Awards Bids on Pool

The Holland Board of Education at a special meeting Friday afternoon in the school superintendent's office awarded four contracts totaling $522,407 for construction of the community swimming pool.

The general construction contract for $331,749 went to Dell Construction Company. The contract for mechanical work went to Reimink Plumbing and Heating for $151,446. The electrical contract went to De Pree Electric Co. for $36,427, and the contract for sound work went to West Michigan Sound Company for $2,785.

The total does not include architect's fees.

School Superintendent Donald Ihrman said construction on the pool will begin within 10 days. The pool will be built at 22nd St. and Maple Ave.

The board went ahead with the pool project after an anonymous donor offered to pay the costs above the $500,000 bond issue which voters approved for the project.

The project had been stalled when bids were above the architect's original estimates.

Adler Lecture Fills Chapel

So great was the crowd in Phelps Hall Friday for the Dr. Mortimer Adler lecture that the event was moved to Dimnent Memorial Chapel which filled rapidly with more than 1,000 persons.

Dr. Adler, Great Books scholar appearing with three other distinguished lecturers in connection with Hope College's centennial, said schools cannot really educate, they can only give schooling, adding that learning is a lifelong promise and true education is attained only in maturity.

"We are on the wrong track on leisure. It is not free time. The Greek definition means schooling or learning. We should use free time constructively to raise man's moral, ethical and esthetic way of living," he said.

"In providing liberal schooling, we must give the children the skills of learning that include reading, writing, thinking, speaking, listening, observing, measuring and judgment. We must also point to the treasures that exist in the world, and we must stretch and challenge the mind, leaving the mind actively dissatisfied."

In looking to the next century, he envisions a classless society with people starting to work at 25 and then work only half time until they retire at 50. "This means liberal schooling for all children and liberal education for all adults all their lives," he said.

Earlier, Prof. Lester Trimble of the University of Maryland, a music critic for the Washington Star, said mass production of art in America has defeated its own purpose of true art appreciation, and the genuine artist today finds himself in an environment that is blunted by cheap and shabby art.

Trimble who is working on a symphony similar to the type of Bartok said artists today are trying to boost esthetic quality to the highest level but face a sociological problem rearing the results of a poor environment which was not established by true artists.

Treat Chemical Operator For Second Degree Burns

James W. Bosman of 286 Dartmouth Rd., a chemical operator at Park Davis and Co., was reported in good condition at Holland Hospital today where he is being treated for second degree burns of the face and chest.

West Ottawa Okays Tech School Plan

West Ottawa Board of Education Monday night adopted a resolution calling for implementation of a program for the Ottawa County Area School District to provide a vocational-technical school on the community college level.

The resolution was similar to one passed last week by the Holland Board of Education. The same resolution is under consideration by other Boards of Education in Ottawa county, as well as Hamilton and Saugatuck districts in Allegan county.

The program was explained by Gene Roth of Grand Haven, co-director with Don Gebraad of Holland in the extensive technical education study of which Ab Martin of Holland and Paul Johnson of Grand Haven were general co-chairmen.

The recommendation of this study committee as encompassed in a 17-page report drawn up Sept. 19, 1966, points to a new vocational-technical school of $2½ million on a 100-acre site to serve the entire district. It would serve high school students, post high school students and adults.

Supt. Lloyd Van Raalte announced the official enrollment as of the last Friday in September at 3,828 students, an increase over last year of 296 students. Of the latter, 109 moved into the district during the summer months.

High School Principal Duane Hooker presented a traffic survey on the use of cars at the high school. He said during one day in September, 97 cars left the parking lot at school closing and 30 still remained in the north lot. The total leaving school that day was 1,675 by bus, car or on foot.

Hooker said state police have recommended more sheriff patrols on 136th Ave. and also have suggested sidewalk installations. "We do not have the final answer, we are presenting the problem and suggestions are welcome," Hooker said.

Reports on federal programs last summer in West Ottawa district were given by Peter Roon who said programs cost $19,000 and of this figure, $6,000 remains in equipment for further use. In the Headstart program alone, children advanced a half-grade in reading ability in a six-week period.

Mrs. Lydia Stillwell and Sue Mooy explained the adult reading program in Woodside elementary school for adult non-readers, most of whom speak little or no English. This program serves a wide area, some coming from as far away as Fennville. Supt. Van Raalte said this program will continue as long as there is a need for it and the enrollment justifies the class.

Mrs. Velda Van Hartesveldt, high school librarian, was named central librarian for the school district. She will establish a central processing center for books and catalogues and work with librarians in the school district. This program will be put into operation at a cost of $1,613.17, sponsored in part by NDEA funds.

Supt. Van Raalte said all teachers will be attending the regional institute Thursday and Friday. He said attendance is a state requirement and no one will be excused except on official business for the school district.

A kindergarten policy was adopted whereby a teacher will be provided with an aide when enrollment reaches 30. Aides will be hired immediately for North Holland and Sheldon Woods schools.

Among the visitors were Joy Muehlenbeck, president of the West Ottawa MEA, Ken Leggett, Jerry Hackbarth and Bruce Pearson. Board Member Neal Kalkman was absent.

Graveside Rites Held For De Jonge Infant Son

ZEELAND — Graveside services were held Monday at Zeeland cemetery for Philip Ray De Jonge, one-day-old infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond De Jonge of route 1, Zeeland, who died at Zeeland Community Hospital Saturday morning.

Pastor Arnold Weaver and the Rev. S. G. Tebow officiated at the services.

Surviving besides the parents are two sisters, Penny Ann and Cindy Joy, both at home; the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Martin De Jonge of Zeeland and Mr. and Mrs. George Nyenbrink of Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

"Nothing to Fear But Ourselves" was his subject and he skipped briskly from education and its exploding needs, to the history of past and present wars, the anxieties of the new generation, social justice and civil rights, technological skills, the threat of Red China, the Viet Nam crisis, de Gaulle's French situation, 1968 presidential choices, space, satellites and many others.

The address followed a Chamber of Commerce banquet in Phelps Hall attended by 380 persons. The annual meeting was geared to the Hope College centennial celebration with its week-long series of events, and the address was open to the public. About 900 gathered in the chapel.

On education, Mueller said one-fourth of America's population is in school today, or 55 million out of a population of just under 200 million. Moreover, one-fourth of all the college students in the world are in the United States, making an increase in college attendance 10 times the population growth. Fifty years ago, only 6 out of 1,000 attended college and today 400 out of 1,000.

He mentioned earning $600 a year when he got out of college in the depression more than 30 years ago, in a day when important top editors had a top salary of $8,000 a year.

"Today, there are more jobs for technological skills than there are people to fill them, and more jobs for service skills than can be filled. As for today's student beset with anxieties, tensions and whatnot, I say it's bunk! We may have moved from an industrial to a technological and then to a scientific society, but today's college student faces no more problems than those of 30 years ago, or 30 years before that," he said.

"Red China is the greatest threat in the world today. It already is at odds with Russia on the Siberian border, but I don't think they will engage in full-scale war. China is a country of 800 million with only food enough for 200 million. I think she will head south and make trouble with India and involve us that way. Red China has committed the U.S. to a war in Asia at no cost to herself. As for the other people in Southeast Asia, they may want to become Communists, but not Chinese Communists.

"The Red Guards are the storm troopers of the 60's, the same kind who did the dirty jobs for the Nazis in World War II. As for Red China negotiating on Viet Nam, Red China is interested in no plan but her own, and, unfortunately, we are labeled as aggressors.

"We now have 325,000 troops in Viet Nam or 12,000 more than South Viet Nam has in its armies. There is some hope for the Manila conference but perhaps the best that can be accomplished will be to set guidelines and set up another conference. It may be a truce conference, but not a peace conference.

"On local politics, Republicans hope to gain 40 per cent in the November election. I think it will be closer to 25 or 27 per cent, with a net gain of 35 in House, Senate and governor seats.

"Many people agree with Martin Luther King that Black Power is no better than White Power. It's Citizen Power that counts, and this won't come from cutting 10 per cent of everything and turning it over to the Negroes.

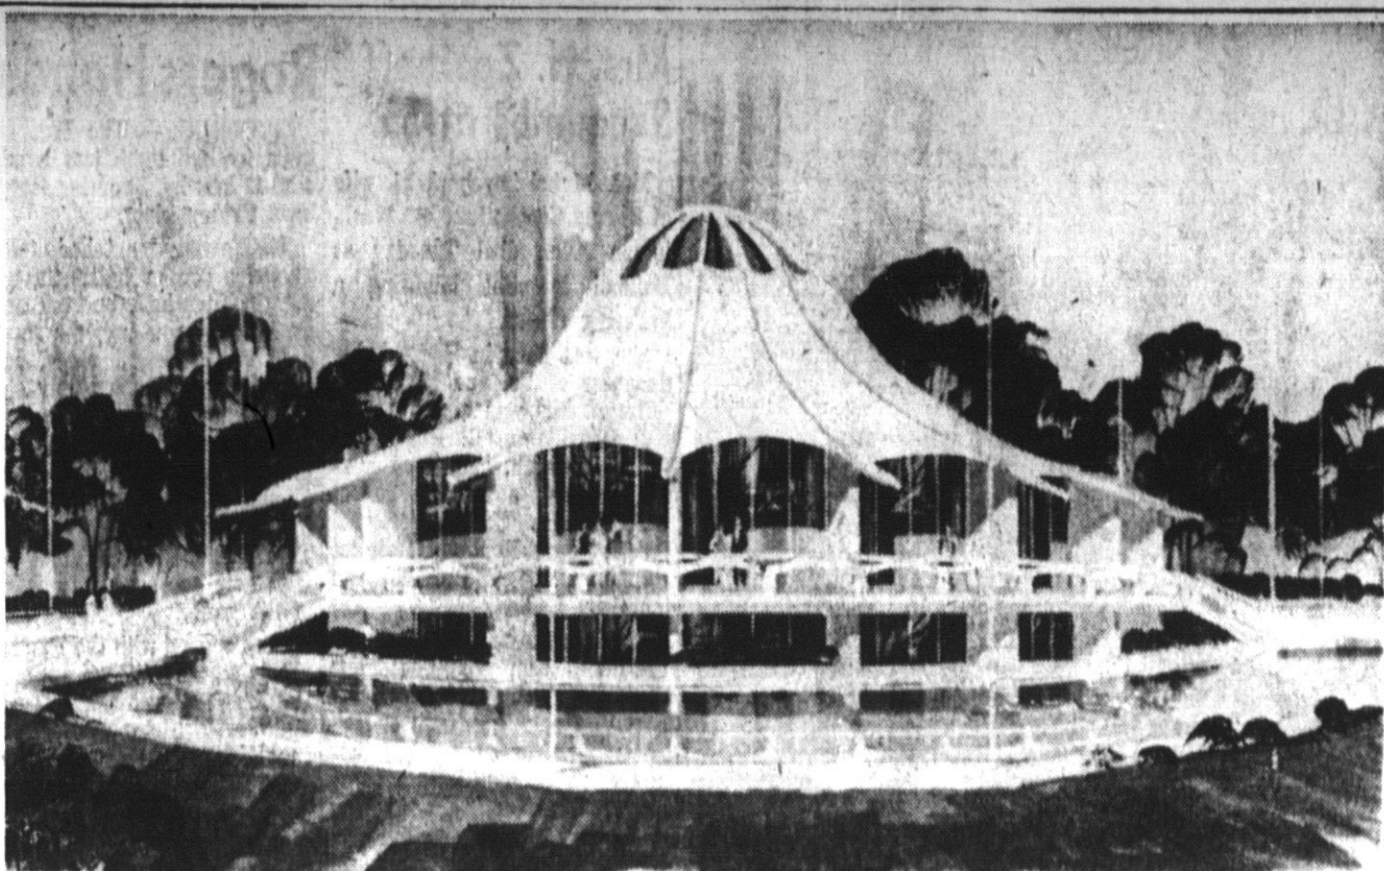

"As for inflation, if consumers would just appreciate what they have and what they can do, they wouldn't have to worry. There are enough savings in this country to pay off all debts and still run the country for two years. There is no reason for economic panic.

"I think the 1968 Republican presidential candidates will narrow to Nixon and Romney. Of course, anything can happen in the November elections.

"Yes, I think you are getting pretty much the true story on Viet Nam. There is a bit of censorship, but 10 per cent of our correspondents have been killed. That's a much bigger percentage than regular military losses. They're really in there ferreting out the news.

"On nuclear weapons, we have all kinds from the size of a hand grenade to the big things. There is one the size of a Cadillac which if dropped on New York would kill all the people there and all the way to Boston. We have relative power that in 45 minutes could wipe out one-third of the people in the world. We're sweating it out, and all the other countries are too. Nobody wants to use it.

"But on the other hand, England has developed a hydrogen bomb. It doesn't explode. It just shoots a beam. Six people have served as guinea pigs for that beam, and we believe they have been cured of cancer. It will take three years to make sure, but if it pans out, plans already are in the making to design a device that could be installed in every doctor's office. That's the good side of nuclear power."

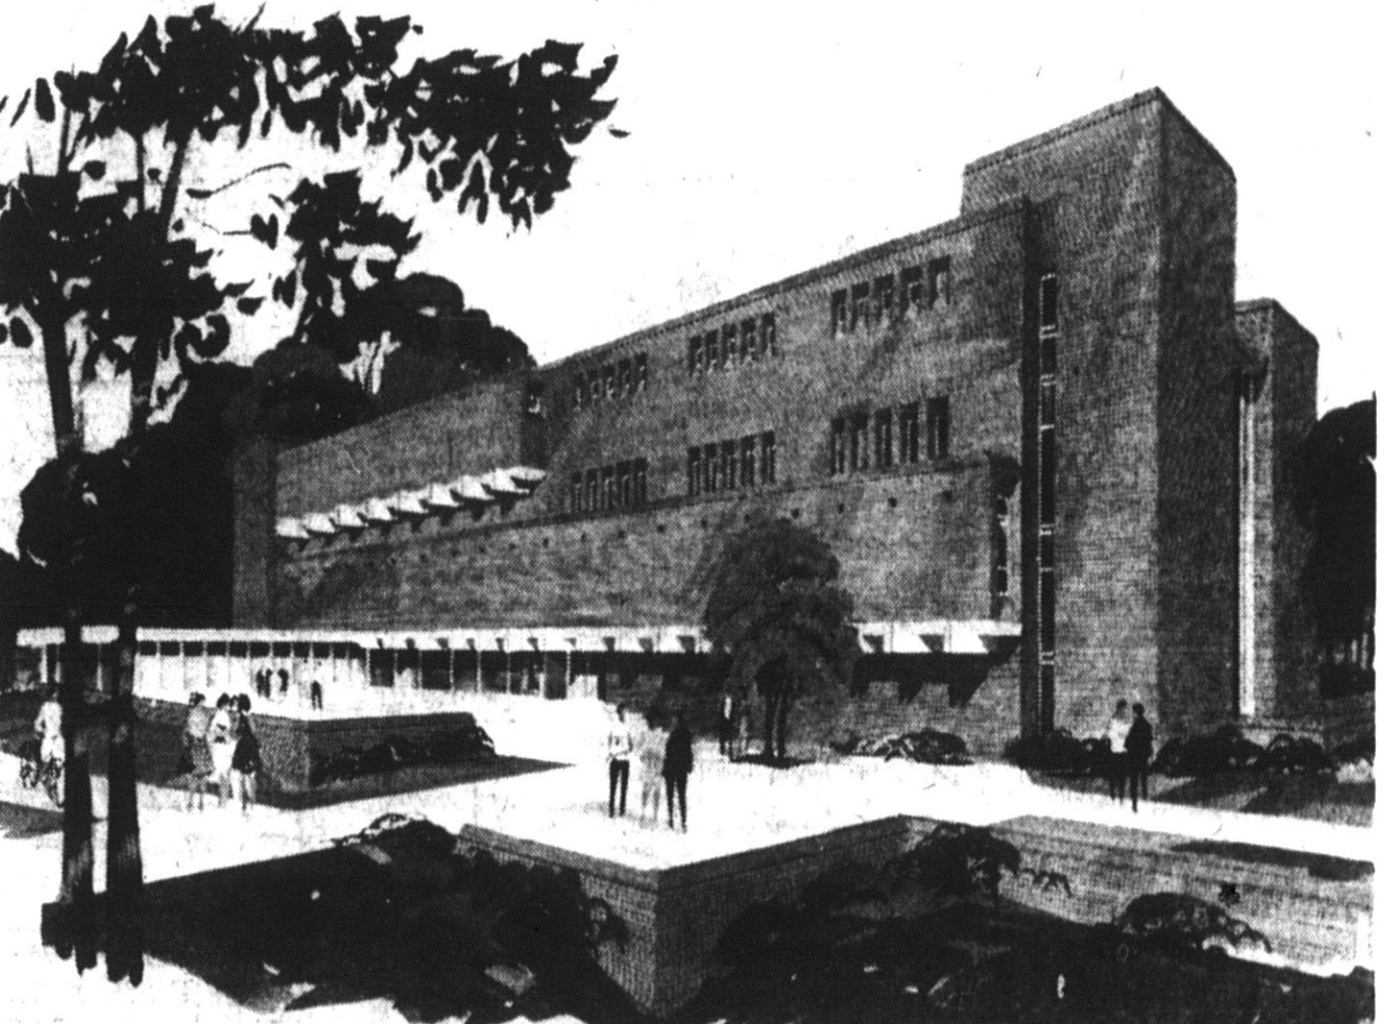

INTERNATIONAL CENTER — As a leader among Michigan's liberal arts colleges in international education, Hope College has recognized the need for an international center. In its proposed International Education Center to be located directly east of Van national Education Center to be located directly east of Van Raalte Hall, Hope will have a unique home for its international student body. The building will provide office space, library, lounge and seminar rooms where the needs of the Center can be met. The building will be surrounded by a pool of water and flags of nations represented at Hope.

CULTURAL-SOCIAL CENTER — The Hope College Board of Trustees, impressed by the spirit of the Hope student body, who have raised more than $100,000 toward the construction of a cultural-social center on campus, has authorized the planning and construction of this Cultural Center and Student Union. A major area of the building will be devoted to integrated facilities for art and drama, including studios for painting and sculpture, exhibition areas for permanent and special art collections, art library and a theater with flexible staging for various types of presentations and a seating capacity of about 500. It will also provide reading and study rooms, game rooms, lounges and music listening rooms.

SCIENCE HALL — The Hope College Board of Trustees, having a deep commitment to excellence in scientific education, has authorized the design and construction of the Science Building to house Chemistry, Biology and the new Geology Department. A landscaped plaza will front the building along Graves Place, tying in with the plazas of the Physics-Mathematics Hall and the Van Zoeren Library.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION BUILDING — Hope College's proposed men's physical education facility shown above will be constructed at the new Van Raalte campus. The building will include a gymnasium with seating for 4,000 spectators, hand ball and squash courts, indoor track, wrestling and weight training rooms, Olympic size swimming pool and locker and office space. The present Carnegie-Schouten gymnasium will house the women's physical education program.

List Duplicate Bridge Club Friday Winners

The Duplicate Bridge Club welcomed 44 players Friday many of whom never had played before. They met in the conference room of the Wooden Shoe Motel.

Placing first for north-south were Mrs. George Manting and Mrs. Harold Niles with Mrs. James Den Herder and Mrs. J. K. Ward placing first for east-west.

Second place winners were Mrs. Gene Worrell and Mrs. Edgar Gallmier, north-south and Mrs. Ivan Bonzalla and Mrs. Lawrence Williams, east-west.

Winning third and fourth place honors were Mrs. E. C. Brooks, Mrs. Frank Kleinhessel, Mrs. C. A. Hintz, Mrs. Kenneth Campbell, Mrs. William Tripp of Allegan, Mrs. Herbert Marsille, Mrs. L. W. Schoon and Mrs. Donald Crawford.

All area women are welcome to attend the Friday games which are sanctioned by the American Contract Bridge League.

Russia's two largest space centers — comparable to Cape Kennedy — are located at Kapustin Yar near Volgograd (Stalingrad) and Baykonur in the Aral Sea region.

Development Plan Revealed at Hope

The master plan calling for $10 million for the development of Hope College in the Centennial Decade, 1966-76, was revealed at the Centennial Recognition Dinner Saturday night in Phelps Hall on the Hope campus.

The plan calls for five completely new buildings, additions to three present buildings totaling $9,392,000 and the remodeling of other campus facilities. Architect Charles E. Stade of St. Louis, Mo., drew up the plans, which allow for a projected enrollment increase from the present 1,818 to 2,500 students.

The new buildings planned are: Science building, $3.3 million; student cultural center, $2 million; men's physical education building, $1.34 million; new women's dormitory, $900,000; and an international education center, $480,000. In addition, new wings are planned for the library, $632,000; Gilmore Hall (women's dormitory), $550,000; and the Nykerk Hall of Music, $190,000.

Also, Van Raalte Hall would be renovated completely for administration use; the present science building would be converted to classroom space; and Van Vleck Hall would be converted into a Hope College museum.

The Carnegie-Schouten Gymnasium would be altered for use in women's physical education programs.

The master plan was unveiled by Hugh DePree, president of the Herman Miller Company of Zeeland, newly-elected chairman of the Board of Trustees.

Sketches were shown of the proposed new buildings and their facilities were detailed. The science building, planned for the corner of 12th St. and College Ave., would contain facilities for the chemistry and biology departments, as well as the new geology department, in a four-story structure.

The new women's dormitory would be constructed on the site now occupied by Voorhees Hall, and would house 290 women in suite-type accommodations.

The International Education Center would be located between Van Raalte Hall and the Nykerk Hall of Music and would contain offices, seminar rooms and a library for the international programs carried on by Hope.

The new men's gym would be located on the Van Raalte campus east of the main campus. The gym would include an Olympic size pool, indoor track, basketball seating for 4,000 and convocation seating for 3,000.

The cultural and social center would be constructed on the field at the corner of 12th and Columbia, and would include a theater seating 459, a dining hall and snack bar seating 600, art department facilities, recreation rooms, offices and a faculty lounge.

The college feels that the completion of the plan "will set a standard of architectural excellence for colleges throughout the United States."

At the dinner it was revealed that the Board of Trustees has given the go-ahead for the student cultural center and has named a committee to meet with the architect to draw up final plans. As soon as these plans are prepared, construction will begin. Hope students have raised over $100,000 toward this building by part-time work and on-campus fund drives.

After the dinner, planned as the highlight of the Centennial Homecoming program, Hope College was honored by the Board of Trustees of Northwestern College and the Holland Chamber of Commerce. Acting President of Northwest:

Area Families Visit Culver

Five families from Holland were in Culver, Ind., over the weekend to visit their cadet sons and participate in the activities of the annual Fall Festival and homecoming at Culver Military Academy.

The cadets include Cadet David Wiggins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sligh Jr. of 1621 South Shore Dr.; Cadet Mitch Padnos, son of Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Padnos of 115 East 26th St.; Cadet Steve Brooks, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Brooks of 721 South Shore Dr.; Cadet Alan Bonzelaar, son of Dr. and Mrs. Alvin Bonzelaar of 833 Allen Dr.; and Cadet Michael W. Westrate, son of Dr. and Mrs. William Westrate Jr. of 55 West 14th St.

Also accompanying the Brooks were Miss Drindy Gier and Miss Jamie Petter, both of Holland, who attended the formal dance as guests of Cadet Brooks and his roommate, Cadet Roger Bird of Birmingham.

The families attended the chapel services on Sunday and viewed the garrison parade.

Deputies Give Summons

Ottawa County sheriff's deputies gave Dennis W. Wilson, 16, of 1704 Washington Ave. a summons for failing to yield the right of way after his car and a car driven by John Risselada, 60, of 351 West 20th St., collided at Lakeshore Dr. and New Holland St. at 7:20 p.m. Saturday.

tern, Dr. Thomas Ten Hoeve, presented a distinguished service citation from the Board, and L. C. Dalman, of the Chamber, presented a certificate in recognition of Hope's cultural and economic contribution to the city.

Rev. Raymond Beckering, president, General Synod of the Reformed Church in America, pastor of Second Reformed Church in Zeeland, and Rev. Howard Tiesink, executive Secretary of the stewardship department, revealed a capital funds drive to be held by the R.C.A. in the next year.

The goal of the drive is $6 million, of which $2 million is slated for Hope College.

Dr. Calvin VanderWerf, president of Hope, announced contributions made to the school in the last few months: in business and economics, and John Dykema Scholarship Fund, the William J. Westervelt Scholarship Fund, and the George and Anna Dalman Scholarship Fund have been established. Also, the Christian E. Becker Fund would provide for a special chair in business and economics.

The school has also received a 35-acre biology research center near Castle Park, donated by the Holland Hitch Co.; a $25,000 grant from the Loutit Foundation of Grand Haven for capital improvement; a grant of $25,000 for a faculty lounge in the new cultural center from the Class of 1925; a anonymous $40,000 gift for the cultural center; and the Matthew J. Wilson faculty benefit fund, and rare coin collection, donated by Mrs. Matthew J. Wilson.

United Fund Gifts Now at 48 Per Cent

A total of $63,068.03 in contributions and pledges was reported at the third "Dutch Treat" progress report breakfast of the Greater Holland United Fund - Red Cross campaign Tuesday at Hotel Warm Friend. This represents 48 per cent of the $131,250 goal.

Raymond J. Helder, drive chairman, had praise for the response received thus far from individuals and companies in support of this year's drive.

In order to provide additional time for the completion of assignments, campaign leaders scheduled the final report breakfast Thursday morning, Oct. 27.

The report breakfast scheduled for Friday of this week will not be held. Campaign leaders are, however, asked to bring completed reports to campaign headquarters in the Civic Center on Friday. Reports will be tabulated Friday evening by the auditing committee and an up to date progress report will be issued on Saturday.

Four additional employee groups were announced as qualifying for the "E" Award for Outstanding Citizenship at this morning's report meeting. They are employees of Northern Fibre Products Co., Edwin Raphael Co., First National Bank and Mooi Roofing Co.

Two sections in the campaign reported "over the top" amounts at this morning's breakfast. They are Richard Boyd, Section 5 Commercial, $611.50 on a quota of $550, and Charles Kupsky, Industrial Division, $7,453.11 on a quota of $6,950.

Division amounts pledged to date along with quotas follow: Commercial, Louis Hallacy, $9,841.95 on $12,890; Retail, James Vande Poel, $4,010.45 on $7,850; Construction, Paul Elzinga, $1,128.60 on $3,150; Professional, Dr. Harold C. Fairbanks, $1,246.50 on $4,350; Public-Civic, C.J. Westenbroek, $3,551.50 on $9,100; Special Gifts, Kenneth B. Peirce, $990 on $1,400; Industrial, Arthur C. Becker, $42,299.03 on $87,000.

WCTU Group Has Luncheon At 6th Church

The Rev. Henry A. Mouw addressed the Women's Christian Temperance Union Friday following a luncheon in Sixth Reformed Church parlors. He spoke on the topic "Deal Courageously."

Special music was given by Mrs. Erwin Ter Haar who sang "It Took a Miracle" and "Some One," accompanied by Mrs. Henry Slager. Mrs. A. Kooyers, president, was in charge of the business meeting.

The Wesleyan Methodist Church will host the Ottawa County Women's Christian Temperance Convention at an all day meeting on Oct. 25.

Seven members of the local group attended the 89th annual convention of the Ninth District held in the Methodist Church in Whitehall on Sept. 30. They were Mrs. A. V. Kooyers, Mrs. Bert Drooger, Mrs. Benjamin Lemmen, Mrs. A. Schipper, Mrs. L. Regnerus, Mrs. F. Weener and Mrs. J. Boerman.

Mrs. Benjamin Ter Haar and Mrs. B. De Boer served on the tea committee.

Hand Britons 1st MIAA Loss Since 1963

Hope College climaxed its centennial homecoming celebration Saturday afternoon with the biggest MIAA football upset in several seasons, unending defending champion Albion, 12-9.

The win was not easily achieved for Coach Russ DeVette's Flying Dutchmen, but it was decisive — Albion was clearly outplayed. The loss was Albion's first in the MIAA since 1963.

Hope's victory, combined with Kalamazoo's surprise 12-2 win over Adrian, and Olivet's 9-0 victory over Alma, shook up the standings.

Some 4,500 fans left River-view Park after Hope had put down two Albion scoring opportunities in the final five minutes.

Hope dominated the first half of play and led 12-3 at halftime before the Britons attempted to rally for the win.

A 41-yard pass from substitute quarterback Clint Schilstra to veteran end Gary Holvick and guard Al Kinney's alert fumble recovery in the Albion end zone provided Hope with all the points it needed.

Albion closed the gap to 12-9 in the fourth quarter after tackle Bill Wentworth fell on Schilstra's fumble at the Hope 38.

Freshman fullback Jim Bell — MIAA back of the week two weeks ago — was stopped cold several times by Hope's fired up defense, but Chuck Scarletta and Terry Carmine ground out 35 yards rushing before Scarletta scored from four yards out.

Bill Scheuler's conversion attempt was short and Hope led 12-9 with 6:54 remaining in the game. In the first period, Scheuler had booted a 27-yard field goal to give the Britons a 3-0 lead.

Hope failed to move the ball after the ensuing kickoff and Schilstra fumbled at his own 22. Scarletta swept right end for five yards before Hope's defense, led by Charlie Langeland, Bill Beebe and Lee Berens stopped Bell for two yards gained in as many carries.

Scarletta was stopped for a small gain on fourth down by Perens, Feit, Beebe and John Oonk. Hope took over at its own 14, but once again was unable to move the ball.

Gary Frens' fourth-down punt traveled just 14 yards into the strong wind and the Britons were given another scoring opportunity.

Regular quarterback Dick Vanderlinde, who had missed two games because of injury, hit end Lloyd Harper for 11 yards to the Hope 20, but three incomplete passes and a seven-yard screen pass to Bell failed to produce the necessary yardage for a first down.

With 1:16 left in the game, Schilstra attempted to run out the clock with three quarterback sneaks for a total of four yards.

With fourth down and six to go at their own 17, the Flying Dutchmen tried to run out the clock with a long huddle, but were penalized five yards for taking too much time and were faced with a punting situation with 12 seconds to go.

Albion jumped offense twice as Frens attempted to tail down in his own end zone for a safety and then attempted to punt. The safety would have given Hope 12-11 lead and a free kick from its own 20.

With just two seconds remaining on the clock, Schilstra once again tried a quarterback and the game ended with the frustration of Britons attempting to steal the ball from the Hope quarterback.

trated Britons attempting to steal the ball from the Hope quarterback.

Hope's defense limited Albion to just six yards in the first quarter, but the Dutchmen trailed 3-0 after the period.

Aided by a 15-yard personal foul penalty against Albion, Hope drove 63 yards in five plays for a touchdown with 10:09 left in the first half. Schilstra's pass to Holvick accounted for 41 yards and the six points. A bad pass from center forced the injured Frens, who was holding for kicker Steve Wessling, to run the ball. Frens was stopped, but was not seriously injured.

Hope regained possession two minutes later when Doug Falan's punt into the wind traveled just three yards beyond the line of scrimmage to the Albion 33.

Keith Abel carried three times for 14 yards, Langeland once for nine and Walt Reed and Harry Rumohr combined for seven in two attempts to the Albion three. Abel drove to the goal line, but fumbled. Kinney recovered in the end zone and Hope led 12-3 at the half when Wessling's conversion attempt failed.

Neither team got into its opponent's territory in the third quarter.

Trojans Halt Holland Drive In 4th Quarter

TRAVERSE CITY — A brilliant fourth-quarter goal-line stand enabled Traverse City to escape with a 7-6 victory here Friday night despite giving Holland numerous scoring opportunities.

Coach Dave Kempker's Dutch were unable to capitalize on 74 yards in Traverse City penalties in the final period and found themselves strapped with their second straight loss after opening with three consecutive victories.

A partisan standing room only crowd of 5,000 at Thrifty Field withstood intermittent rain showers and remained until the final gun to watch their Trojans post the homecoming victory, their second against two losses and a tie.

On the first play of the game's third series of downs, Traverse City halfback Bill Leisner raced 85 yards for a touchdown only to have it called back for an offensive holding penalty. It was the only scoring threat of the opening period.

Holland was limited to eight offensive plays and the Dutch didn't manage a first down in the period.

The Trojans struck early in the second period when little halfback Loren Hoxsie carried over the Holland goal line from the two to cap a 69-yard drive. The yardage was all on the ground, and Traverse City quarterback Scott Bacon didn't have to take to the air all evening. The all-important extra point came on a fake kick attempt with halfback-quarterback Paul Jacobs passing to halfback Tom Kamratt, who was alone in the end zone.

Holland managed to keep possession of the ball for the next seven minutes, driving from its own 25-yard line to the Trojan 10 before being stalled. Chip Millard's fourth down screen pass to halfback Randy Rogers failed to gain the necessary yards to the Trojan two.

Following a meager 16-yard punt by the Trojans' Jim Van Stratt one minute, 31 seconds later, Millard rolled out to his right and gained 12 yards to the Traverse City 15. Leisner intercepted for the Trojans two plays later.

With one minute remaining in the half, Van Stratt boomed a 51-yard punt to the Holland 27. Holland didn't threaten in the remaining time.

After receiving the kickoff to open the rainy second half, Holland stalled in its own territory, but was granted another chance when Randy Veenhoven fell on Mark Slenk's fumbled 38-yard punt at the Traverse City 18.

Halfback Phil Schaap raced nine yards to the nine and Rogers gained three more before Millard was dropped for a two-yard loss. Millard came back with a five-yard gain on a quarterback sneak to the three, but the Dutch found themselves faced with a fourth down situation when huge junior tackle John Naymick (6'4", 240 pounds) dropped Schaap for a one-yard loss.

Millard's end zone pass was just out of the reach of end Jay Fris.

Linebackers Dave Dick and Bill Wich held the Trojans to no gain in three rushing attempts and Van Stratt's fourth-down punt went just 25 yards to his own 29.

With a third down and six-to-go situation, Millard hit Schaap with a 10-yard pass at the 11. Dick carried for two, Schaap for six before Millard carried over from the one on the second of two straight quarterback sneaks.

The important extra point attempt never came off. Slippery field conditions forced a bad pass from center and place-kicker Rogers was forced to run with the ball and found no hole. The Dutch trailed, 7-6, with 1:06 remaining in the third quarter.

Rogers' ensuing kickoff traveled only to the Traverse City 30, but was bobbed momentarily by Kamratt, and alert end Steve Wessenaar pounded on it at the Trojan 32.

Millard hit Rogers with a first down pass at the 21 and Rogers followed with an eight-yard run around right end. Schaap gained five to the eight and the Dutch were aided by a four-yard (half the distance to the goal) holding penalty.

Rogers gained two to the two and Schaap carried to the one-foot line before Naymick stopped Millard for no gain on a quarterback sneak. On fourth down, defensive end Tom Dymers dropped Schaap the moment he received the handoff from Millard.

Three 15-yard penalties enabled the Dutch to move to the Trojan 42 twice in the closing minutes, but pass interceptions by Jacobs and Leisner squelched any serious Holland hopes of victory.

ANXIOUS FOR HALLOWEEN — With pumpkins like these for jack-o-lanterns, who wouldn't be a little excited about Halloween? Renee Kortman, 3, (left) and her sister Laila, 5, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Harris Kortman of 3913 14th Ave., appear eager to start carving these giant pumpkins which were grown by their grandfather, Henry De Ridder of 12903 Quincy St. The larger pumpkin (right) weighs 100 pounds, while the small one on the left is a mere 95 pounds. If they are not used for jack-o-lanterns, the pumpkins should make a lot of delicious pumpkin pie. (Sentinel photo)

Mrs. H. Zoerhoff Succumbs at 55

Mrs. Mabel Zoerhoff, 55, wife of Harvin Zoerhoff, of 611 Washington Ave., died Tuesday at Holland Hospital following a lingering illness.

She was born in Holland, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Ortmann. She was a member of the Providence Christian Reformed Church, and the Ladies Aid Society, a Sunday School teacher, the Christian School Circle, the Holland Hospital Auxiliary, the Red Cross, and the Grey Ladies.

Surviving beside the husband are one son, Laverne; one daughter, Mrs. Laverne (Roselyn) Vander Ploeg, both of Holland; nine grandchildren; her mother, Mrs. John Ortmann; one sister, Mrs. Henry (Sena) Kalmink, of Holland; one brother, Harold Ortmann, of Hamilton.

Fraters, Sorosis Win Top Prizes for Floats

Sigma Sigma sorority and Fraternal fraternity captured the prizes in the homecoming parade float contest Saturday.

There were 12 floats from each of the six fraternities and six sororities at Hope featured in the parade and judged on originality, aptness of parade theme and workmanship.

The Sigma Sigma float accentuated "Turning into a New Century" and featured an 1866 coffee grinder churning an Albion player along with a 20th century pot that "perks up" Hope.

Theme of the Frater float was "Hope's Key. Passing into a New Century." Shown was a Hope football player passing the key to a Hope victory over Albion and the key of knowledge for victory in the future of Hope.

Chix, Wyoming Deadlock, 0-0

WYOMING — Zeeland's defense kept intact its strong record Friday night of having only one touchdown scored against them all year, but the Chix themselves could not muster a scoring drive and had to settle for a scoreless tie against a strong Wyoming Park team.

Both teams had several scoring opportunities, but whenever the score seemed near, the other's defense choked off the threat.

In the first quarter, Zeeland moved the ball to the 21-yard line and then missed a first down by inches when Jim Lamer handed to Steve Nagelkirk. Also in the first quarter, Zeeland team had moved to the 25-yard line but missed with a pass on a third down and nine yard situation and again had to relinquish the ball on downs.

The defensive series of the game arose when in the third quarter Wyoming had penetrated to Zeeland's four-yard line.

In three plays Zeeland moved the Vikings back to the 22-yard line and ended the threat of a score.

Again in the fourth quarter Wyoming threatened to score, but the Zeeland defense once again arose to the occasion and killed drives on the 25 and 28-yard lines.

The offensive play of the game came with 1:36 left in the fourth quarter and with Wyoming's back to the wall. Wyoming had the ball on their own four-yard line with a fourth down and punted. A 25 or 30 yard kick would have left Zeeland in good field position with another opportunity to score.

Instead, Wyoming's Al Blaaker boomed a punt for 60 yards and finished any hopes Zeeland may have had for pulling out a victory.

Jim Wicht, Wyoming's back who made a good showing in previous games with punt returns of 60 and 80 yards was held to a total of eight yards rushing the entire evening.

Jack Elenbaas and Jim Lamer turned in good performances for the Chix with totals of 59 and 44 yards rushing respectively. The tie left Zeeland with a record of 3-0-2 for the season.

Rogers Hands West Ottawa 26-12 Defeat

WYOMING — The West Ottawa football team was handed a 26-12 loss by Wyoming Rogers here Friday night.

The evenly matched teams played a seesaw battle throughout the first half, but the Golden Hawks came into the second half with renewed vigor, scoring a key touchdown only eight seconds into the third quarter.

Pacing the offense for Rogers was quarterback Al Beemer who made two of the Hawks four touchdowns and passed to Tom Vincent for the final tally with only one second remaining in the game.

Play opened with the Panthers receiving, and after three plays, run by halfback Steve Tucker and Jerry Klompars, and a first down, Tucker scored the West Ottawa opener. The touchdown, scored on a pass from quarterback Dan Bauer to Tucker, covered 46 yards and came with 10:06 left on the clock in the first period.

The Panthers continued to rally in the opening period by recovering a Golden Hawk fumble on the first play after the touchdown.

With 7:36 remaining in the quarter, the Hawks first penetrated Panther territory, as Art Lilly toted the ball down to the West Ottawa 48, chalking up a Rogers first down.

Plagued with penalties, Rogers fought to maintain possession, but gave up the ball to West Ottawa on the 50-yard line. Bauer, aided by Panther backs Greg Dalman, Tucker, and Klompars, moved the ball well, but also ran into penalty difficulties.

After a quick exchange of punts, the Panthers found themselves in control with 2:31 remaining in the period. But the determined Hawks wanted yardage, whether they carried themselves or forced their opponents backwards. In three plays, the Panthers were forced back 40 yards to their own 6, before they punted, and gave the Hawks the ball on the Panther 18.

This change of hands of the ball also changed the tide of the game.

The Panthers' attack was well held by Rogers in the opening plays of the second quarter, as each time the losers made a substantial gain, they were checked by the swooping Hawks.

The game was all Rogers' in the final two minutes of play in the first half, as agile halfback Bill Beckwith gave the Hawks a first down and their first opportunity to score. Beemer passed to Chet Lancaster, who carried down to the West Ottawa ten.

Momentarily rocked by an illegal procedure penalty, the Golden Hawks bounced back with a pass from Beemer to Dave Bishop. The potential touchdown pass failed, as Bishop stumbled on the West Ottawa 35.

Not to be denied a first half score, Beemer manipulated the ball for Rogers, making two key passes to Dan Shine and Jack Dalley, and scoring from the two-yard line on a quarterback sneak with :42 left on the clock. The conversion kick by Vincent failed, leaving the half-time score tied 6-6.

The initial blow for the Panthers was administered by the Hawks' Paul Dahlberg with :08 off the clock in the second half. Dahlberg picked up the ball on the kickoff for the half and, shaking off several potential Panther tacklers, made his way down the field to give the Golden Hawks a 12-6 lead.

The quarter ended with another Hawk rally, as Beckwith took a Panther punt on Rogers' 20 and maneuvered his way 40 yards down the field to the losers' 40. Beckwith also took the next two plays gaining 15 more yards for the winners, setting up another touchdown play.

Beemer scored for Wyoming Rogers on a quarterback sneak just before the third quarter buzzer. The kick by Vincent was good, giving the Golden Hawks a 19-6 lead.

The Panthers received the ball to open the final quarter of play, and maintained control for four minutes before Bauer made an easy 24 yard pass to end and captain Dale Lubbers, who received the ball on Rogers' 7, eluded a tackler, and scored for West Ottawa. The kick for the point after touchdown by Darlyle Mitchell failed, leaving the score 19-12.

With 6:20 remaining in the game, the losers made a key play as Rogers fumbled on the Wyoming 18, and Frank Sawitzky recovered for the Panthers. With Bauer in control, West Ottawa moved to the Rogers' five-yard line, but the tying tally was unsuccessful as a pass from Bauer to Lubbers on a fourth down situation failed.

Exchanging punts once again, the winners took over with 16 seconds remaining on the clock, as Tim Moore intercepted one of Bauer's passes on the West Ottawa 20 and brought the ball to the 10. With seven seconds to utilize, Beemer made a pass to Velthouse, bringing the ball to the Panther four, and a second pass from Beemer to Dalley gave the Hawks a score with :01 remaining in the game.

Velthouse's point after touchdown kick was good, giving the Golden Hawks of Wyoming Rogers' a 26-12 victory.

Tucker again led his teammates rushing, as he picked up 105 of the Panthers' 165 yards on the ground, and was a key figure in both of the Panther touchdowns.

The Panthers are now 2-2 overall and 0-2-1 in the O-K League. Next Friday West Ottawa will travel to Wyoming Park for another conference encounter.
