Custodial Service Set For Court

An agreement whereby the city will provide all custodial services for Ottawa County's new District Court building, currently under construction in downtown Holland, was approved by City Council at its regular meeting Wednesday night.

Custodial services including service to landscaping, snow removal and routine maintenance of building and grounds will be provided at $12,000 per year for three years.

Council also agreed to sell city-owned court equipment to the county, consisting of law books, bookcases, filing cabinets and an adding machine, for $1,200.

Council accepted the offer of the Holland Association of Independent Insurance Agents of $650 toward the purchase of darkroom equipment for the new police building and earmarked $700 from the police department furniture account toward darkroom equipment, estimated at approximately $1,300. Council expressed its appreciation to the insurance agents for their donation and their continuing support of community activities.

Deputy City Attorney Jack Marquis on behalf of City Attorney Gordon Cunningham announced the appointment of Donald Hann as an additional deputy city attorney. Hann has been a member of the firm of Ten Cate, Townsend and Cunningham since Oct. 1. The appointment was confirmed by Council.

On request of the Liquor Control Commission, Council took action of the transfer of ownership of 1972 SDD-SDM licenses from May Kooyers and Sandra Warren located at 405 Columbia Ave. to Peter Botsis. The transfer was approved. Earlier action involved dropping May Kooyers as guardian for Sandra Warren, minor, and adding Sandra Warren as partner.

A previously tabled recommendation of the city manager on removing parking on the east side of Hope Ave. south from 12th St. for approximately 300 yards was approved.

A letter from Calvin J. Hulst submitting his resignation as a member of the Board of Appeals due to the fact he has moved from the city was accepted with regret. Mayor L. W. Lamb Jr. expressed thanks to Hulst and others like him who give unselfishly of their time and talents for the betterment of the city.

The Ottawa county chapter of the Muscular Dystrophy Association was granted permission to solicit funds from residences Nov. 4-11.

Special assessment rolls, drawn by the city assessor on a water main in 40th St., Waverly Rd. to a point 1,302 feet east, and a water main in Dartmouth Ave. from Harvard Dr. to Paw Paw Dr., were approved.

Certifications from Mayor Lamb, Inc., engineering, police and fire departments, $325.96, and Councilman Peerbolt, Peerbolts Inc., park department, $252.84 were confirmed.

Claims against the city from William A. Parkes, Castle Park; Greg Gibson, 24 West 17th St., and Dean R. Meeter, 94 East 13th St., were referred to the insurance carrier and the city attorney.

A city manager's recommendation that the position entitled civil engineer be increased by 5 per cent from range 32 step E to range 33 step E was unanimously approved.

A city manager's report on drainage in Westwood subdivision revealed that problems are due to an extremely high ground water table. Although the responsibility for ground water drainage does not rest with the municipality, the city manager recommended that a special assessment storm district could be developed for the area according to charter, on request of affected residents.

The meeting lasted an hour and 10 minutes. Absent were Councilmen Donald D. Oosterbaan and Hazen Van Kampen. The invocation was given by Prof. Albert Timmer of Hope College, retired.

Residential Goal Topped in Zeeland

ZEELAND — The residential division of the Zeeland United Fund has gone over the top of its goal of $3,431, it was reported Monday by campaign chairman Herbert C. Wybenga Jr. "The amount collected was $3,462.19 with more to be reported."

Wybenga said the division goal was 22 per cent higher than last year. Division cochairmen are Mrs. Ron Van Hoven and Mrs. Irvin Smith.

The overall campaign goal is $30,262.

444 Traffic Miscues In Traffic Patrol

Holland police found 444 traffic violations by motorists traveling the downtown business district streets during an educational program last week designated as Traffic Safety Week in Holland.

For six days, police concentrated their traffic patrols on the one-way streets and Eighth St. giving verbal warnings to errant motorists.

Nearly half the contacts — 209 — were for drivers making improper turns. Another 136 motorists were stopped for improper lane usage and 38 were traveling the wrong way on a one-way street.

Other violations noted were 25 for running a red light, 14 following too close and 11 each for disobeying a stop sign and failing to yield the right of way.

Traffic Safety Week, Oct. 9 to 14, was designed to dramatize the proper methods of traveling the one-way streets. Police were concerned that one year after the one-way streets were instituted in Holland, motorists were not familiar with the procedures in turning or changing lanes.

Fennville Schools Use Split Shifts

FENNVILLE — High school students are to begin split shifts with junior high students October 19 in the senior high building with classes running from 7 a.m. until 5:40 p.m. in the wake of the closing of the junior high building because of unsafe conditions.

In the meantime the board of education is taking steps for a Dec. 8 school district vote on a nearly $3 million bond issue for a new high school.

Schedules for the split shifts were decided by the school board Thursday. Parents are being notified of the new schedules in classes and bus runs.

A spokesman for superintendent James Thrall said the high school students in grades nine through 12 would begin classes at 7 a.m. and end at 12:25 p.m. while junior high students in grades seven and eight would begin at 12:40 p.m., ending at 5:40 p.m.

School bus runs would be tripled, allowing for separate pickup and delivery of senior high, junior high and elementary students.

Hot lunch programs for junior and senior high students would be terminated. Schedules for practice sessions in music and athletics are being studied for possible changes.

A public meeting with parents is scheduled Oct. 19 in the high school cafeteria to answer questions concerning the changes.

The school district has 1,881 students, 478 of them in senior high and 313 in junior high. The board voted earlier this month to close the junior high building because of unsafe conditions. Attempts during the past years to merge the Fennville and Saugatuck school districts have failed at the polls. Saugatuck voters Oct. 2 approved a $1,750,000 bond issue for a new high school.

United Fund Nears Third Of Its Goal

In its drive to raise $221,636, the Greater Holland United Fund Wednesday reported $60,110 received. Campaign chairman Don Hann said the figure represented about 27 per cent of the goal.

The report was made at the second report luncheon in the Hotel Warm Friend attended by divisional chairmen and advisors.

The industrial division reported $42,810 or 30 per cent of its goal of $135,036. The special gifts division was high in percentage return, reporting $4,744 or 63 per cent of the goal of $7,537.

The retail division reported $4,642 of a goal of $11,515; Commercial, $2,091 of $30,391; professional, $1,927 of $9,565; public-civic, $1,205 of $22,009, and construction, $1,196 of $5,537.

Hann said the percentage reported at the second report meeting today was nearly ten per cent above the figure turned in at the second report meeting last year.

"The public seems to be responding to the needs of the community," Hann said. "The response so far is better than last year, but the goal is larger this year," he added.

The United Fund in Holland supports the work of 11 local health and welfare agencies and 26 others through the Michigan United Fund.

West Ottawa To Dedicate New School

The West Ottawa Board of Education Monday night set open house at the new Middle School Nov. 4 and 5 with the dedication ceremony tentatively scheduled Nov. 4.

In connection with the opening of the planetarium at the new school, Principal Ed Roberts has made arrangements with NASA to have some moon rocks on exhibit for the occasion.

Official enrollment of the West Ottawa district is 4,389, an increase of 166 over last year. There has been a decrease in special education mainly because of integrating the students into regular grades.

West Ottawa has established an orthopedic program in secondary schools in which children are placed in the regular curriculum. Currently there are seven children, four in the middle school and three in high school. Younger children attend Thomas Jefferson School in Holland in a cooperative program with Holland district.

Carol Foisy is the orthopedic teacher working with other teachers in developing ways the handicapped child can participate in as near normal a fashion as possible.

The board authorized borrowing $365,000 to provide operating funds until taxes are collected. West Ottawa with midyear tax collections is in the position of borrowing and paying interest instead of collecting in the summer and receiving interest.

The board passed a resolution requesting that the state of Michigan authorize establishment of an enlarged Ottawa area as an intermediate district instead of becoming part of an enlarged Kent regional district.

The board spelled out clarification of policies on administrative procedures, establishment of an athletic council and transportation for field trips and other educational functions.

Handmade Dutch Dolls On Exhibit at Museum

Of interest to young and old is the fascinating exhibit of dolls and other Dutch articles made by Mrs. D. Van Schaik of Delft, Netherlands, which will be in the Netherlands Museum until the end of the month.

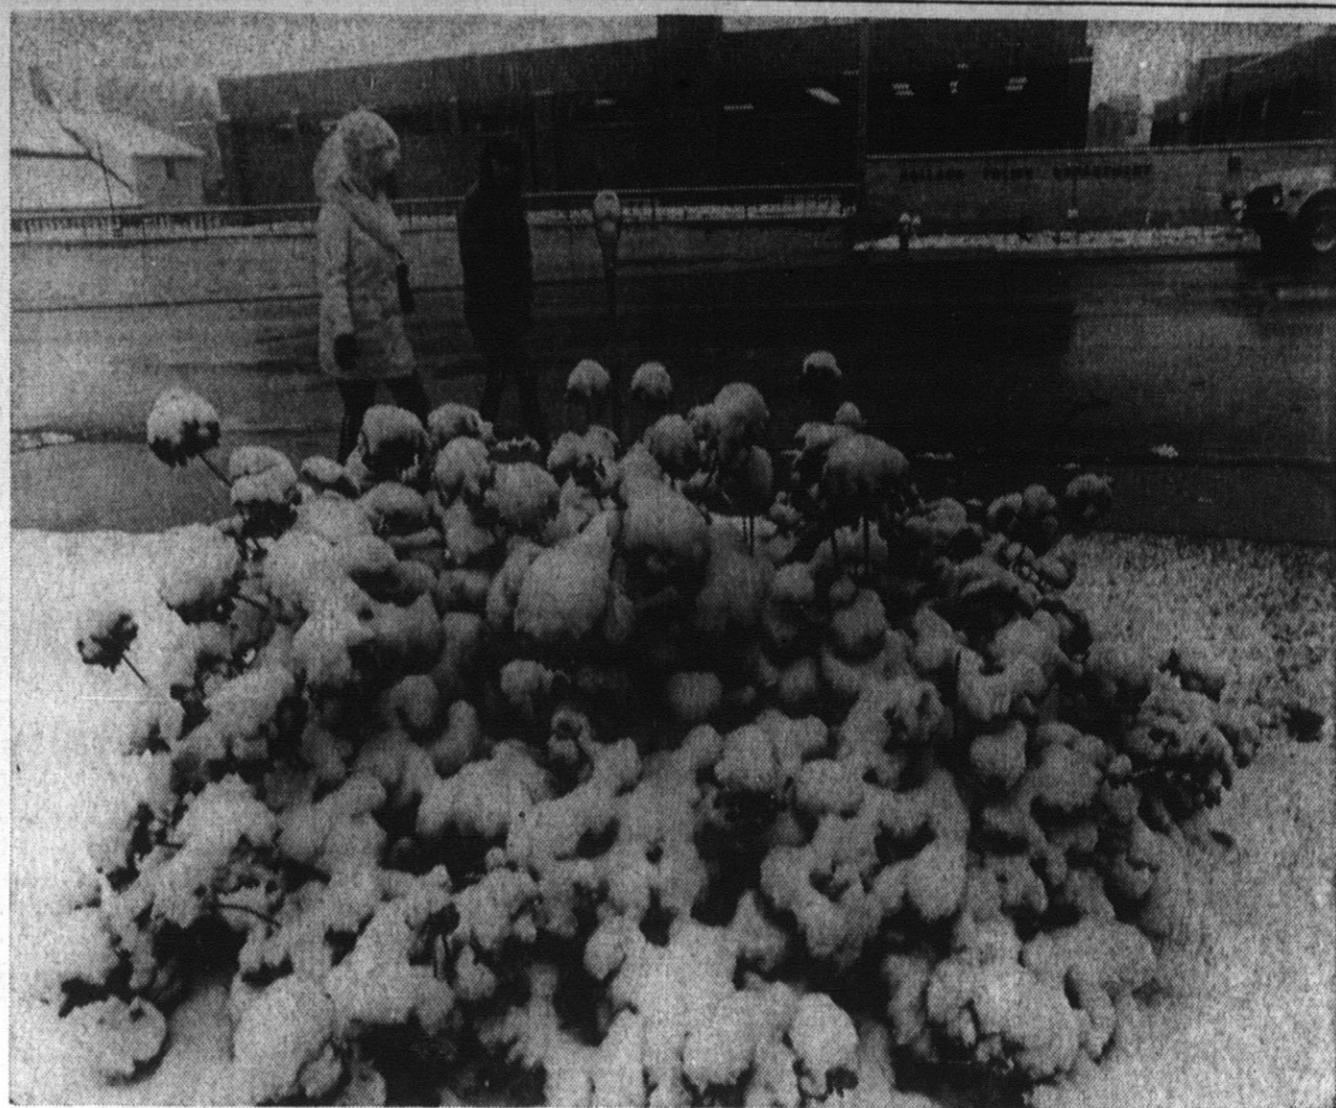

Mrs. Van Schaik's hand made dolls and other miniatures appear on all three floors of the museum, many in groupings and home settings. Accompanying the exhibit are Mrs. Van Schaik and her daughter, Mrs. Marian Gomez. Mrs. Van Schaik who has been totally deaf since the age of seven can lipread but only in Dutch. Her daughter speaks English fluently.

The exhibit is free to the public and museum hours are 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Saturday. A special open house is slated Thursday from 7 to 10 p.m. That is the evening that Willem Hendrik Zwart, organist and choirmaster of the Bovenkerk in Kampen, the Netherlands, will give an organ concert at 7:45 p.m. in Dimment Memorial Chapel and he will be at the museum after the concert. Coffee will be served.

Mrs. Van Schaik has pursued her doll making hobby for 15 years, turning out more than 200 home made dolls and over 30 room settings for them. She starts a doll with a skeleton of plastic covered wire, then forms a body of strips of cloth, usually from underwear or some knit material. She makes hands of thin plastic wire and heads of toilet paper in starch — sort of a papier mache.

Two Autos Collide

Autos operated by Randy Dean King, 17, of 1662 Virginia Place, and Dorothy Mae Brishin, 69, of 393 Maple Ave., collided Wednesday at 12:15 p.m. at Pine Ave. and 16th St. Police said the King auto was southbound on Pine while the Brishin car was heading west along 16th St.

Four Injured In Two-Car Collision

Four persons were injured, one critically, in a two-car collision at Eighth St. and the US-31 bypass Thursday at 3:42 p.m.

Admitted to Holland Hospital with head injuries and reported in "critical" condition Friday was Martha Weener, 75, of 3 North Van Dyke, a passenger in the car driven by her husband, Frank, 77.

Weener was admitted to the hospital with fractured ribs and was listed in "good" condition today.

Ottawa county deputies said the Weener auto was southbound along US-31 attempting a left turn onto eastbound Eighth St. and allegedly drove into the path of the other auto northbound on US-31.

The second car was driven by Piqueto Martinez, 22, of 3654 104th St. Martinez and a passenger, Judy McFarland, 19, of route 2, Holland, sustained lacerations and abrasions and were treated in Holland Hospital and released.

Two Inches of Snow on Ground

Early Snowfall Engulfs Holland

One of the earliest snowfalls ever to visit Holland descended early Wednesday.

And the large fluffy, white snowflakes continued, falling, falling, falling.

By 11 a.m. there was two inches on the ground and just about everywhere else except the streets where the snow melted quickly. No additional snow was predicted. Holland's snowfall was part of a cold pattern in the northern midwest where temperatures skidded and snow fell in many areas of the Great Lakes. The temperature was 31 at 6 a.m. in Holland and 33 at 11 a.m.

No temperature records were set locally although there were some freezes farther inland. Holland had a trace of snow Monday.

Holland usually has a good snowfall before the leaves are off the trees, but today's snow occurred as most trees were just turning color. Leaf pickups in Holland are scheduled later.

'Get Me to The Church on Time'.. Guy Made It

U. S. Sen. Robert P. Griffin has no exclusive claim to trouser trouble on the road.

U. S. Rep. Guy Vander Jagt has joined the club too.

Vander Jagt who was delivering the sermon at a Homecoming service at 11 a.m. Sunday in Dimment Memorial Chapel got "to the church on time" but it took the combined efforts of a number of persons to make him presentable.

The House was in session in Washington until 1 a.m. Sunday, and he took a plane to Chicago and boarded a private LSI plane there, arriving at Tulip City Airport at 10:30 a.m., just a half hour before the service was to begin. With chagrin, he said the zipper had broken on his trousers.

Where to find a tailor in Holland, Mich., who is not in church on Sunday morning.

One enterprising member of the party thought of Olive Vande Poel and thither to the Vande Poels the Vander Jagt party wended. Mrs. Vande Poel was in the car leaving for church, but she returned to the house, the Congressman ducked into a bedroom and his pants got the proper repairs.

And the 11 a.m. service at the chapel went smoothly.

Sen. Griffin had pant seam trouble when he was visiting Camp Kirk in Ottawa county a couple of weeks ago. Tailor Claude Dykema made repairs while tv cameras recorded the tailoring bit for posterity.

Police Make 37 Contacts Along Business Streets

Holland police made 37 vehicle contacts Saturday along the one-way streets and the business districts as they continued their educational program for motorists.

Commitment To Truth Emphasized

Dimment Memorial Chapel Crowded For Colorful Ceremonies

"The added dimension of a Christian liberal arts education is more necessary today than ever before so that young men and women can work in this world with a heightened sense of responsibility and compassion."

That was the statement of Dr. Gordon J. Van Wylen upon his inauguration as the ninth president of Hope College Friday afternoon in Dimment Memorial Chapel in ceremonies attended by 1,200 persons.

"The basic characteristic of Hope College is our commitment to truth—its discovery, its transmission and its application," Dr. Van Wylen said.

He probed two dimensions of truth, discursive truth on the broad spectrum of fact and truth as revealed in the New Testament and added, "The important question is how we at Hope College, committed as we are to Christianity and to the liberal arts, perceive our essential being."

President Van Wylen expressed a conviction "that at Hope College, our basic character and commitment gives us an invaluable opportunity to contribute to two of the most pressing problems in higher education today — value and relevance."

"Food and possession cannot be dismissed as mere bourgeois obsessions; yet they must be placed in the larger context of life—the context of life as viewed from God's perspective. That, I submit, makes for genuine relevance in a liberal arts education."

"In all of this, we must be realistic, admitting that the world harbors evil and sin that would lead us to degrade and misuse our endowments. Culture is an integral part of the redemptive work of God in Jesus Christ and this provides a powerful incentive to insure that our cultural activities promote that which is honorable and just and pure," he said.

He encouraged the college community to maintain its academic programs at a level that would achieve a sense of self-fulfillment in relationship to God, to our fellow man, and to the world around us.

"Although we do not train students in medicine, for example, we do expect our graduates who go on to study medicine to bring a special something to their professional studies and later to their professional exercise."

Hope College has a unique opportunity, Dr. Van Wylen said, "to assume major responsibilities in special areas and to function compassionately within these areas, striving to meet human needs and to improve the quality of life for all persons whom they encounter."

The colorful academic procession was headed by flag bearers and the Chapel Choir wearing new robes based on the distinctive design of Charles Eames. Others in the procession were delegates of universities and colleges, delegates of learned societies and educational associations, representatives of the alumni board, officers of the Reformed Church in America, board of trustees, student representatives, the faculty, and ceremony participants.

Music was provided by the choir under the direction of Dr. Robert Cavanaugh, the brass choir under the direction of Dr. Robert M. Cecil and by Dr. Roger J. Rietberg, organist. The invocation was given by Harry E. De Bruyn, president of General Synod of the Reformed Church. Greetings were given by Gregory Pontier, president of the Student Congress, for the students, and Dr. Arthur H. Jentz, for the faculty.

Hugh De Pree, president of the Hope College board of trustees, gave the charge to the president and Dr. Lester J. Kuyper, president of Theological Seminaries of the Reformed Church, gave the benediction.

Police said both cars were eastbound along M-21 when the Perales car attempted a left turn and the two collided.

Board Ends Study Of '73 Budget

GRAND HAVEN — The Ottawa County Board of Commissioners will end its long October session at 4 p.m. today after completing a study of its proposed budget for 1973, which is estimated at $4,449,735, about $800,000 more than the present budget.

The board sat as a committee Tuesday to go over its new budget and hear a request for a revision by the health department. Today a hearing on the budget will be held and the board plans to visit the county infirmary, Community Haven, Eastmanville, at 4 p.m. for its annual inspection.

The budget will be adopted after the contracts with various departments, including the employees' group, the sheriff's department and the health department employees, are finalized.

The sheriff's department may get a paddy wagon to transfer prisoners between Holland and Grand Haven and other points. Commissioner Robert Visscher of Holland suggested that such a van type vehicle would be safer in transportation of the many offenders arrested over weekends and then transferred to the jail at Grand Haven from other points. The vehicle could be used for other purposes also, he said. The suggestion was to be discussed when the sheriff's budget is reviewed.

Portia Mummert of the West Shore Line planning office outlined a proposed booklet which would list the accomplishments of the board since it was formed in 1969. About 1,000 copies would be printed and the board voted to spend up to $1,000 to cover the costs.

Dormitory Fire Burns Out Room Of Local Pair

Two Holland girls, Lynn Kobes and Dawn Kapenga, escaped injuries but all their belongings were destroyed in a fire early Tuesday in Bishop Hall at Ferris State College in Big Rapids.

The two roommates, both freshmen, were among 300 persons safely evacuated after fire broke out, presumably caused by a faulty electrical appliance in a room next to their room.

Lynn is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ron Kobes and Dawn is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvern Kapenga of Holland. Kobes left for Big Rapids at midmorning with clothing for the pair.

No estimate of damage was immediately available. The fire started about 4 a.m. and was contained three hours later. One fireman received minor injuries and was released after treatment in a local hospital.

Fire officials theorize the blaze was caused by a defective electrical appliance in the fourth floor of the dormitory. An investigation has started.

Local LWV Has Panel Discussion

An informational panel was a feature of the meeting of the League of Women Voters of the Holland Area on Monday. Mrs. Maurice VerHelst was moderator of the panel.

In her introduction she recalled that the League has studied taxation for about four years and specifically the distribution of money for education for two years. The outgrowth of this state-wide education study is a strong support by the League for tax reform and the abolishing of the constitutional ban on a graduated income tax.

These are covered in Proposals "C" and "D" on the November ballot. The League feels this will be a start toward equal education opportunity for all children in the public schools. Michigan is judged below average in the list of states in equality of education.

On the panel Mrs. Paul de Kruij spoke on a theoretical proposal called the Voucher system, in which the parents have the opportunity to choose the school their child will attend. There is just one school in San Jose Calif., that is trying this method.

Mrs. Ray Swank spoke on the educational idea of accountability, in which a school and its teachers are judged on what they produce not what they promise. Here the districts must clearly identify their goals beforehand.

Mrs. Swank also spoke about performance contracting which has been used in Grand Rapids in some measure. In this system private business makes a contract with a school district to bring certain students up to an agreed level of achievement or they do not get paid.

Mrs. G. S. MacKenzie announced that the Holland School Board was meeting and presenting its budget for the coming year on Monday night, and she hoped a number of people would attend the meeting. She said there were many facets or equal education, whether one is looking for dollar per pupil equality or dollar per classroom unit or other considerations, also when one speaks of a school one must include administrators and maintenance personnel as well as students and teachers. Almost no money for capital outlay, that is school buildings or renovation of buildings, comes from federal or state money; 82 per cent of capital outlay is locally financed.

Unit meetings were announced for Oct. 24 at 9:30 a.m. at the home of Mrs. Mel Timmer and at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. James Fitch.

Oct. 25 at 7:30 p.m. in the Herrick Library, the League will sponsor a Candidates meeting in cooperation with AAUW. All candidates have been invited and those who attend will be given equal time and there will be an opportunity to meet the candidates. This is a public meeting.

GRAND HAVEN — It was Betty Broman Night at the 55th annual meeting of the Ottawa County chapter of the American Red Cross in the Presbyterian Church Tuesday in recognition of the 28 years Mrs. Broman has spent as Red Cross secretary in the Grand Haven office.

Handling a multitude of tasks through the years, Mrs. Broman saw the file numbers of persons served grow from 537 to 4,697. In serving the public through the years she gave that extra dimension of unselfish service that characterize organizations like the Red Cross.

While honoring Mrs. Broman, the chapter also recognized 4,295 volunteers who helped in many ways during the past year. These services included military and veterans, nursing, safety, blood programs, youth, production volunteers, board and committee work, staff and clerical aides.

The blood program stands out as the greatest achievement.

Committee Visits Finished School

Five years after the planning and construction committee for the new Holland Christian High School was discontinued in 1967, the members returned this week to inspect the building.

The committee was formed several years before construction was started to plan and coordinate the building efforts. One purpose of the visit was to check on the sturdiness of the building and its maintenance characteristics.

Architects James K. Haveman and Cornelius Van Zweden, school administrators Paul Mulder and Raymond Holwerda and head maintenance man Andrew De Kam made the inspection.

The sprawling school complex with 102,000 square feet of space was constructed for $1,292,590 or $12,000 a square foot.

Furnishings, equipment and landscaping brought the total costs to $1,582,400.

When the school opened in 1967, 801 students were in grades 10 through 12. Today the school houses 1,071 in grades 9 through 12. The ninth grade was added this year.

After the tour the committee ate lunch in the cafeteria which serves nearly 900 dinners daily at 35 cents each. A new oven, stove and 80 gallon steam kettle have been added to meet the needs of the increased attendance. Mrs. Esther Brouwer and five assistants have been with the program since the school opened.

Supt. Mark Vander Ark said the tour was a "Telling of the Towers," referring to the Old Testament Psalms that call on the people of God to consider his mighty works as though they were counting towers so they can tell of them to the next generation.

The planet Uranus was discovered in 1781 by Sir William Herschel.

Dr. Snyder at Pre-Inaugural

Gospel, Not Scientism, Spells Hope for Future

An open willingness to listen to the gospel on college campuses today, plus the fact that enrollments are up in evangelical schools and down in non-evangelical schools, spells great hope for the future, Dr. John W. Snyder, executive vice chancellor of the University of California at Santa Barbara, said in a pre-inaugural convocation in Dimmet Memorial Chapel Thursday night.

Dr. Gordon J. Van Wylen, who is being inaugurated today as the ninth president of Hope College, introduced Dr. Snyder as a friend who has been a source of wisdom, encouragement and inspiration ever since their close relationship developed at Indiana University in the tense times around 1966.

Dr. Snyder whose topic was "Christian Higher Education in a Post Christian World" said despite such popular book titles as "Flight From Reason" and "Beyond Freedom and Dignity" that Christianity is gaining a fair amount of attention on campuses with the gospel giving strength and purpose to higher education today.

He referred to a relatively new phenomenon which he chose to call scientism, not science—the fact that science has left discovery for invention.

"The laser beam was not discovered but deliberately created," he said. "So was the space program's trip to the moon. The result is that we are now told that man is limited only by his ability to imagine."

But speaking of another limitation which reared up — pollution, he asked, "Cannot intellects today program themselves for imagining clean cities, no war, and work equity like a trip to the moon?"

Then he spoke of many things in today's scientism that go awry — how California sought to remove hydrocarbon emissions to eliminate smog and produced nitrogen oxide which was much worse.

"Can the world operate on a 60 per cent obsolescence rate, leaving countless space engineers without jobs in California? Can we keep up an intellectual excitement, verve and imagination in our colleges? Can we instill permanent responsibilities?"

Can today's students solve pollution, warfare, employment, maybe even morality under conditioned behavior?"

He referred to the Apostle Paul who advised not setting the mind on the rudiments of the world since God is not in those things, but be a servant of all.

"The wisest guy of all is one who knows his own weaknesses, putting himself in the Holy Spirit and in humility to God, a striking discovery despite our scientism, opening a new field bigger than all outdoors."

"Education can change minds but the gospel changes natures, and Christianity is uniquely qualified to deal with oldtime tradition and new radical insights that can offer hope, faith and love to our students. If we do this, Hope College is good for another century," he concluded.

The Rev. William C. Hillebonds, college chaplain, read scripture and gave the invocation. Judy Lookhouse, a senior, played an organ solo, "Thou Art the Rock," Henri Mulet.

Vikings Are in First After Smashing Zeeland

WYOMING — The Wyoming Park Vikings thrilled their hometown fans Friday night as they routed the Zeeland Chix by the score of 40-8.

The victory by the highly rated Vikings puts them in undisputed first place spot in the O-K White division with a 4-0 league record followed by Zeeland's 3-1 mark.

Zeeland's fans received their only excitement of the night as Bruce DeJonge dove over from the one with 6:12 left in the first quarter. Kurt Bennett scored the extra point putting the Chix out in front 8-0.

Then the Vikings moved in for the kill as Ed Steenbergen threw a 35 yard touchdown pass with 2:15 left in the quarter. Jim Griffen followed with the extra point, thus tying the count at 8-8. Shortly after with :41 left in the quarter Steenbergen again connected with DeZwaan for another 35 yard TD.

During second quarter action

Wyoming's Griffen ran over from two yards out with 8:06 left in the half. The PAT was good by Marty Cloin, putting Wyoming out in front with a 21-8 lead.

With 4:22 left in the half Ron Scott scored from 61 yards out after a Zeeland turnover. Cloin once again kicked the extra point through the crossbars putting Wyoming ahead by 28-8 margin.

The second half continued to be in the hands of the Vikings as the Chix faltered throughout the final half allowing the Vikings to score two more times in the final half.

Wyoming's first score of the second half occurred when Craig Veenendall recovered a Zeeland fumble and scampered 30 yards for a Viking TD.

With 4:40 left in the quarter Scott ran in from two yards out to cap the Viking scoring and ruin Zeeland's hope for an unbeaten season.

Zeeland with a 4-1 overall record will come home for a homecoming game against Forest Hills Central next Friday while Wyoming will also have a Friday night affair against South Christian.

Exploitation of Persons:
Race Relations
Luke 10:25-28; Colossians 3:11;
James 2:1-9
By C. P. Dame

The race problem is troubling people in all parts of the world. It is not the only problem as some people seem to think. Our lesson gives us God's teachings regarding human relationships. I. God makes great demands. Three passages of the New Testament comprise the lesson text. One was written by Luke, a Gentile doctor; the other by Paul, who once was a narrow-minded and proud Jew but became a Christian, and the third by James, a strict Jew who became a follower of Jesus.

One day a lawyer asked Jesus, "Teacher, what shall I do to inherit eternal life?" The man was concerned about the future. Jesus referred the lawyer to the law and gave it in a nutshell — love God with the whole self, and thy neighbor as one's self. Jesus complimented the lawyer and told him to do it and live. The lawyer should have realized that he could not keep the law which Christ has kept for sinners. It is hard to love all kinds of people regardless of color, class, education, training or character.

II. Jesus removes distinctions. In Paul's day there were national, religious and racial distinctions. The Bible teaches that physical, psychological, cultural, economic and social distinctions should not exist among Christian people. Christ unites people. He came to save Asiatics, Africans, Latin Americans, black and white, poor and rich, and Christians should recognize this fact.

III. Partialities do not belong in the Christian Church. James objected to the way class distinctions were made in the church. Some people judged by appearances and in some instances the rich in the church were getting special attention. The Christian Church should welcome all kinds of people and treat all in the best possible manner.

Today there is much discussion about racial problems. A person living among blacks who throw stones and break windows for no reason at all has one view; the person who lives in a white neighborhood where peace reigns sees things differently. The use of force to improve race relationships eventually fails. To put all the blame for the racial tensions upon one race is foolish — the blacks have their shortcomings and the whites have theirs. A new heart is what's needed.

Inaugural Sidelights

State Rep. James Fransworth presented a framed resolution from the Michigan Legislature to Hope President Gordon Van Wylen at the inaugural luncheon in Phelps Hall Friday noon, recognizing his 20 years with "a public institution," the school of Engineering at the University of Michigan, as well as congratulating him as college president.

In response, Dr. Van Wylen recalled several appearances before the appropriations committee of which both Fransworth and Sen. Gary Byker were members on behalf of the school of Engineering of which he was dean.

"In those days it always seemed to me the appropriations were small. Now after three months on Hope campus, they appear much larger," Van Wylen said.

As Dr. Van Wylen spoke at the luncheon, the sun broke through for the first time on an otherwise cloudy day... and remained out the rest of the afternoon, casting colored reflections in Dimnent Memorial Chapel from the magnificent stained glass windows.

This, together with the colorful robes of the Chapel Choir, the many hued hoods of representatives in the procession and banners on the chapel walls, provided a colorful atmosphere seldom seen in Holland's state-liest building.

And all on Friday the 13th, yet!

Among the guests for the Van Wylen inaugural were Mr. and Mrs. Stanley S. Kresge, longtime friends of Hope College and donors of many gifts to the institution.

"Our aims on campus are three-dimensional," Dr. Van Wylen told representatives of the media at a press conference Friday afternoon. "These are our physical facilities, our curriculum which must prepare our purpose in serving God and the our obligation to the college community in desires for high standards, noble goals and high purposes."

He added that old goals for increasing material comforts seems to have passed somewhat, and there is a great difference among students amounting to almost a generation gap between seniors and freshmen. "There is a significant change from freshman idealism to senior aims, and we strive for a value-oriented education and an effective mission in life. Personal satisfaction is more important today than financial rewards."

In bringing greetings from Hope's sister college, Central College at Pella, Iowa, President Kenneth Weller told guests at the luncheon that the great strength of any college lies in unity and diversity that individuality give strength to unity, in turn providing integrity of purpose in serving God and the world.

Greetings also were brought by Dr. Lars Gransberg, president of Northwestern College at Orange City, Iowa, another sister college of Hope. Mayor L. W. Lamb, Jr., John Schrier of the Alumni Association and by Harry E. De Bruyn, president of General Synod, Reformed Church in America, Wanda Rider, representing faculty wives, welcomed Mrs. Van Wylen. Dr. Morrette Rider, academic dean, presided at the luncheon.

Hugh De Pree of Zeeland, president of the Hope College Board of Trustees, gave the following charge to President Van Wylen at chapel ceremonies:

"Dr. Van Wylen, we the Board of Trustees invited you to become our ninth president. That invitation was a promise — a promise which we now clearly state. We will serve you as we have asked you to serve others. We support and help you. We will continue to be responsible to you and Hope's community of people, for the financial health of Hope. We expect that with us, too, you will be surprised by the quality of our performance.

"With these promises we formally charge you with our future at Hope and we now inaugurate you, Dr. Gordon Van Wylen, as the ninth president of Hope College."

De Pree said the appointment of Dr. Van Wylen as Hope president brought many letters, one asking the question, "Why did you have to select a graduate of Calvin College, a member of the Christian Reformed Church? Were there no Hope alumni who qualified?"

De Pree said, "Our answer to him came from the criteria we used in our search for a President. Hope needed a President whose Christian experience was vital and personal. Hope needed someone with a record of leadership of people and with executive ability in the field of education. We could tell this writer that we had selected the best man we could find for Hope College."

One comment in Dr. Van Wylen's inaugural speech brought a laugh from the audience. He said, "My misspent academic youth was devoted to the pursuit of such trivialities as entropy, the absolute zero of temperature, and the solubility of helium in liquid hydrogen."

"During my errant academic maturity, such erudite administrative concerns as 'cost per student credit hour,' 'square feet of classroom space per student credit hour taught' and 'fiscal-year-equated students per fulltime equivalent faculty member' were totally foreign to me.

"But now, in the perhaps unnatural course of events, all this has changed, and my main responsibilities have become administrative. I hope, however, that even as these administrative matters consume much time and energy, I may always be able to relate these concerns to the purposes and goals of the college, and to the individuals through whom these goals are achieved."

The proposed new physical building which is the number 1 goal of the Build Hope campaign will replace the present Carnegie gymnasium which was built in 1903 when Hope College boasted 300 students.

Incidentally, Carnegie gymnasium is the only college gym that Philanthropist Andrew Carnegie financed. He always gave libraries. The gym was renamed Carnegie-Schouten in 1949 in honor of Jack Schouten, former athletic coach.

Hope College always excels in good music and the various groups outdid themselves in beautiful music Friday. There was the Chapel Choir under Bob Cavanaugh in their new wash-and-wear robes (otherwise they had to be drycleaned) singing glorious hymns and anthems; the brass choir under Bob Cecil in spirited fanfares and other selections; Roger J. Rietberg at the Skinner organ, and at the inaugural luncheon the Collegium Musicum, an a cappella group, singing grace and other selections.

The kletz area in De Witt Center is bright with old banners this weekend. The banners were unearthed in the fourth floor attic of Van Raalte Hall, one of the oldest buildings on campus, and were drycleaned. Some date back to 1866.

Also for the homecoming weekend, displays of old yearbooks and memorabilia of the past have been placed in the kletz area. This was the work of a new Traditional Events committee, headed by Molly Gates, a senior of Litchfield, Mich.

At the Build Hope dinner Friday night, President Van Wylen mused about the change in his life in the last months. "Nine months ago, I probably knew 5 per cent of the people here tonight. It's amazing how many I knew now."

Dr. Wylen said when he was asked about what he wanted for the inauguration, he said the emphasis was to be on Hope College, not him. "After all, it's the impact on the community and the world in which we live that is important. It's been a humbling exciting experience."

BUILD HOPE FUND — James M. Ver Meulen (left), national chairman of the Hope College Build Hope fund, shows progress so far in the $8.8 million campaign to Dr. Gordon J. Van Wylen, new president of Hope College, and Hugh De Pree, chairman of the Board of Trustees. The fund

Development Goal Is $8,850,000

New 'Build Hope' Fund Campaign Launched Here

Hope College Saturday launched an $8,850,000 fund-raising program for capital, endowment and academic program development.

Announcement of the program was made by College President Gordon J. Van Wylen, Board of Trustees chairman Hugh De Pree of Zeeland and James M. VerMeulen of Grand Rapids, national chairman of the program that will be known as the Build Hope Fund.

"Throughout Hope's first century her liberal arts education has had powerful intellectual and spiritual effects on her graduates, making their careers vital and inspiring, making their home lives rich and happy, making their civic lives clean and efficient. In her second century Hope seeks, increasingly, to spread these fruits of intellectual and spiritual growth," said VerMeulen.

"To accomplish this, the College must deploy academic resources, physical resources and financial resources to a degree not before dreamed of. Accordingly, Hope projects a vision—a realistic, practical, achievable vision."

VerMeulen announced that gifts and pledges to the Build Hope Fund already total $2,723,000 or 31 per cent of the goal.

Members of the College's Board of Trustees have pledged $2.2 million while faculty, students and administrative staff members have contributed $120,000. More than 95 per cent of the college's 148 member faculty gave an total of $46,000, the 2,124 students contributed $50,000, and the administrative staff $24,000. Another $403,000 has been received from friends of the college.

"In its commitment to the Build Hope fund, the college family had demonstrated clearly the spirit which makes Hope unique," VerMeulen said. "The sense of community which exists on the campus reflects the Christian tradition of Hope which has characterized the college since its founding."

Among the major goals of the Build Hope Fund will be the construction of a $2.5 million physical education center. The new facility, which would replace the 70-year-old Carnegie-Schouten gymnasium, will be activity-oriented, for maximum student participation according to Dr. Van Wylen.

The building which is in preliminary design stages, would contain a gymnasium, Olympic-size swimming pool, handball courts, wrestling area, training room, lockers, classrooms and faculty offices.

Another $2 million will be used to complete financing of the new $4 million academic science center that is under construction with completion scheduled for next fall.

Other projects to be undertaken include conversion of the present science building for use in the social sciences and humanities programs, completion of the art education center, additional student housing, environmental and ecological science programs and retirement of a debt on the recently completed DeWitt Student and Cultural Center.

Two other major objectives include a $520,000 scholarship fund to allow qualified young men and women to attend Hope and a $1,950,000 fund for faculty development and endowment of faculty salaries.

The Build Hope Fund was conceived by the Board of Trustees in the spring of 1971. Since members of a Campaign Cabinet, chaired by VerMeulen, have developed a nationwide network of volunteers, who will be seeking financial support for the College over the next two or three years.

Members of the campaign cabinet are Clarence J. Becker, William F. Beebe, Ruth N. Comstock, Richard A. DeWitt, George D. Heeringa, Henry J. Steffens, Willard C. Wichers, all of Holland; Ekdal J. Buys of Caledonia, Simon D. Den Uyl of Grosse Point, Hugh De Pree of Zeeland, Titus J. Hager of Grand Rapids, Irwin J. Lubbers of Des Moines, Iowa, Walter A. Reed, Jr. of Lake Odessa, Howard R. Sluyter of Dallas, Tex., Lynn S. Smith of Greenwich, Conn., and Fredrick F. Yonkman of Marion, Mass.

The Build Hope Fund is the third major fund raising campaign undertaken by Hope since the end of World War II. The "Looking Ahead with Hope" campaign, under the leadership of President Emeritus Irwin J. Lubbers, raised funds toward the construction of the Van Zoeren library, the Nykerk Hall of Music, the physics-mathematics building and several residence halls.

On its 100 birthday in 1966 Hope launched the Centennial Decade Master Plan under former President Calvin A. Vander Werf. That campaign realized the construction of the DeWitt Student and Cultural Center, the start of funding for the new academic science center, the Wynand Wichers addition to the Nykerk Hall of Music and two residence halls.

DEFENSE AT ITS BEST — A team couldn't play any tougher defense than did Hope College Saturday in blanking Olivet College, 19-0 at Riverview Park. The Comet backs went backward instead of forward during most of the game, as they had negative 44 yards rushing. Here Gerrit Crandall (67) and Dave Johnson (88) throw this Olivet back for another loss. Other Hope players in the picture are Jeff Stewart (66), Dave Yeiter (61), Paul Cornell (74), Jim Bosscher (44) and Mark Bolthouse (83).

Defense Stars For Dutchmen

"The defense was just super out there today." Those were the pleasant words of Coach Ray Smith of Hope College after the Flying Dutchmen remained tied for first place in the MIAA by blanking Olivet College, 19-0 in its Homecoming game at Riverview Park Saturday before a large crowd.

The Dutchmen win was sweet revenge from last year when Olivet stunned them, 28-7.

Hope is now tied for first place in the conference with Alma, a 18-13 winner over Kalamazoo Saturday. Both teams are 2-0 in the league while the Comets are 1-1. The Dutchmen are 4-1 for the season.

The rugged Hope defense which had Olivet going backward instead of forward throughout most of the game, was led by senior co-captain Dave Johnson of Watervliet, who not only recovered two Olivet fumbles but had one interception.

It's hard to believe but Olivet was negative 44 yards in rushing compared to 96 passing for a poor 52-yard total offense for the day. On the other hand, the Dutchmen mustered 291 yards rushing with Bob Lamer of Zeeland fighting his way for 227 of them on 42 carries.

Only seems a matter of time before Lamer breaks the Hope single game rushing and attempts record. Ironically, the man he replaced, injured Greg Voss, holds both of those marks. Lamer was only five carries and some 25 yards shy of Voss' two records, as the Zeeland graduate continues to impress outsiders with his brilliant play.

Hope took advantage of several Olivet miscues in the first quarter to score the only points of the half. Johnson recovered the first of his two fumbles at the outset of the game on the Comet 15 yard line.

After Lamer went one-yard, quarterback Bob Carlson threw a sharp 14-yard touchdown strike to back Gary Constant of Grand Haven to put Hope up by a 6-0 count. Darryl Brown's extra point kick was no good.

On the following series, Jim Wojicki of Chelsea picked off a Bill Ziem pass, on the Olivet 42 as the Comets gave the Flying Dutchmen another big break. However, the Comets stopped the Dutchmen bid for their second TD.

After a poor Olivet kick, Hope took over on the Comets 23. Three plays later, Lamer went eight yards on a counter play for the score to boost Hope's lead to 12-0.

Thanks to the outstanding defensive team play of Hope, Olivet was deep in the hole the entire first half and only managed one first down against the Dutchmen during that span.

Middle guard Dave Yeiter, tackles Paul Cornell and Craig Van Tuinen and ends Ted Albrecht and Jeff Stewart along with linebackers Gerrit Crandall and Mark Bolthouse shut off the Olivet run completely while the secondary composed of Johnson, Doug Smith, Wojicki and Jim Bosscher also did a bang-up job.

The Dutchmen rushed for 172 yards in the first half compared to only 13 for the Comets and had 42 yards passing to 16 for the losers.

Hope's final TD was scored on a beautiful 16-yard option play run by Carlson. Smith and Bosscher had a pass interception and fumble recovery respectively for the Dutchmen.

The Dutchmen will travel to Kalamazoo Saturday.

Holland Christian finished with 17 points, one ahead of Grand Rapids Christian with 16. East Grand Rapids finished with 14, followed by Ottawa Hills, 9, Rockford 8, Creston, and Kentwood 5. Union, Allegan and Rogers 4. The remaining 11 schools had three or less points.

OCTOBER STORM — This is an artist's conception of the sinking of the old Goodrich sidewheeler, the S.S. Alpena, which foundered in a terrific storm on Lake Michigan, 92 years ago Monday, in 1880. No one determined just where the ship sank but most of the wreckage washed ashore north of Holland harbor, and for many years the resort area there was known as Alpena beach.

Recall Wreck of Alpena In 1880 Storm on Lake

By Bill Vande Water

Many of the older present residents of the lakeshore, residing between Lakewood Blvd., and Riley St., along Lake Michigan, in Park township, when learning the damage to the lake freighter Algorail in the Holland channel on Oct. 6, which caused it to sink to the bottom of the channel, were reminded of the shipwreck from which their beach was named Alpena Beach.

The area was without a name for several years, until almost the 1900s. It was then due to the shipwreck in Lake Michigan of the Alpena on Oct. 16, 1880, 92 years ago, that the section received the name Alpena Beach.

The name was fitting, as this beach was the first to have debris from the wrecked Alpena tossed upon it. This was three days after the ship had been wrecked. The debris from the ill-fated craft told the first story to the world of the storm - wrecked Alpena. Scattered along the beach were bodies, wreckage of all types, including five ship buckets with the name Alpena stenciled on them, a lidless piano, parts of the steamers inside stairway, cabin doors and many apples bobbing in the water and washed ashore.

The wreck of the Alpena is rated 11th on the list of the worst disasters on Lake Michigan in the loss of life. One hundred and one persons lost their lives when the ship broke up and sank.

The Alpena, 170-foot cargo and passenger ship, left Muskegon Harbor on Oct. 15 with nearly a full load of passengers and cargo. The beautiful fall day, with its Indian summer and trees all in color on the shore line made the day perfect. Near sunset the ship steamed into the Grand Haven Harbor to take on its two carloads of apples and several passengers.

Following the loading, the ship immediately left the Grand Haven harbor in the beautiful weather. Her destination was Chicago, 108 miles across Lake Michigan. The steamer was in command of Captain Nelson Napier, a veteran sailing and steam master of the Great Lakes. As an experienced sailor, Capt. Napier figured his ship could cross the lake before any serious trouble would arise, although the wind had shifted and the barometric pressure had gone down, both sure indications of an oncoming storm.

He would take his chances of being across the lake before the worst of the storm hit.

En route over the course charted by Captain Napier, the Alpena was sighted by several ships on the lake, before midnight. It was in no trouble, although the masters of these ships reported that the large waves and high seas had begun, in a real serious manner.

At midnight a violent southwesterly gale came up, almost like a cyclone, with such great force. The temperatures dropped below freezing. Snow squalls were seen along the southern coast of the lake and in the towns in that area.

No one will ever know, but sometime between midnight and dawn, the Alpena broke up and went to the bottom of Lake Michigan carrying all 101 passengers and crew with it. The storm that wrecked the Alpena also wrecked or badly damaged some 90 other vessels that early morning of Oct. 16 on Lake Michigan.

A story is recorded that the lighthouse keeper at Pilot Island stated that the waters of Lake Michigan were white for a week following the Oct. 16 storm, as it was blowing itself out. The theory he had was that so many of the limestone rocks on the bottom of Lake Michigan had been pulverized in rolling around hitting each other that they coated the water with a white lime powder. No one has given a better answer.

The first sign of the wreckage of the Alpena was the debris that came ashore at the present Alpena Beach area, three days following the storm date. Later the evidence was more dramatic and overwhelming as the storm-torn vessel was so badly ripped apart that bodies and wreckage were found over a seventy mile length of shore line, with Alpena beach about in the center.

A little north of the beach, a piece of molding in a part of the cabin that washed ashore had tightly wedged behind the molding and against the wood of the cabin a note "This is terrible. The steamer is breaking up fast. I am aboard from Grand Haven to Chicago." The signature was so badly water-soaked it could not be made out. The mystery of the writer's identity has never been cleared up.

Caledonia Continues Hex Over Hawks; Wins, 24-14

CALEDONIA — Friday the 13th, it had to be that or maybe Caledonia really does have a hex over Hamilton in football.

Whatever the reason, the Scotties stunned the Hawkeys, 24-14 for their first win of the season in the O-K Blue Division in four games while Hamilton went down to its first defeat.

"It's hard to explain," said a disappointed Coach Ron Apple-dorn. "Their long runs just beat us."

If Hamilton could take away those three long runs that Apple-dorn is talking about, the Hawks would have been victorious instead of the Scotties. But unfortunately it can't be done.

Caledonia scored on option runs of 81, 71 and 76 yards in picking up 317 yards on the ground against the Hawks. The fourth touchdown was a "cheapie", as it only went 19 yards.

Hamilton scored all of its points in the final period while the winners tallied six markers in the first quarter and 18 in the second before the Hawks came to life in the second half to make a game of it.

Mrs. M.S. Dolnik Succumbs at 84

Mrs. Mary S. Dolnik, 84, of 82 East 13th St., died in Holland Hospital Friday afternoon. She was born in Czechoslovakia and came to the United States in 1910, and lived in Chicago. Seventeen years later she moved to a farm in East Saugatuck and in 1945 moved to Holland.

She was employed at the Holland Hospital in the housekeeping department until her retirement 14 years ago.

Surviving are one daughter, Mrs. Valencia Katz of Long Island, N.Y., two sons, Paul Malus of Holland and Joseph Dolnik of Kalamazoo; six grandchildren, six great-grandchildren and six great-great-grandchildren and one sister-in-law, Mrs. Dominicka Spornia of Czechoslovakia.

"We played pretty decent ball in the second half but they just blew us out of the stadium in that first half," Apple-dorn cracked.

"However, we aren't out of it yet," he snapped. "The race is a long way from over."

Bruce Peters scooted seven yards for the first Hamilton touchdown while Randy Haverdink ran the PAT.

Haverdink ran in the second Hamilton TD from the five moments later to cut the final gap to 24-14. Quarterback Denny Ellens set up that score with a 40-yard pass to Haverdink.

The speedy Haverdink managed to tread 162 yards on the ground for Hamilton to up his season total to an outstanding 770 in only five games.

Hamilton will host Wayland next Friday.

Rep. Vander Jagt At Ladies Night Of Rotary Club

At the Annual Ladies Night of the Holland Rotary Club held at Point West Thursday night, Rep. Guy Vander Jagt told how every American should realign his perspectives about the United States.

Vander Jagt said people often hear about the bad things about America but rarely the good things that happen for the good that is done by America for its people and for millions of other people around the world.

He pointed out that during the riots and unrest from 1963 to 1968, less than two-tenths of one percent or only 400,000 people were involved in riots and student unrest. And many of those were professional agitators who went from one locality to another, so in reality, fewer than 400,000 persons were involved.

He said the other 99.8 percent of Americans were not participants in the unrest.

He also talked of the adverse comments by Americans and others about the Vietnam War and acts committed by the United States against the North Vietnamese. But never are the North Vietnamese condemned for their acts of atrocity and violence against the South.

He ended his talk with an incident of a flag raising in Prague, Czechoslovakia, and how the people of Prague rejoiced when once again the American Flag was raised over the U. S. Embassy after it was barred from doing so for several years.

President Harvey Butler presided over the meeting and Fred Bertsch was master of ceremonies for the Annual Ladies Night.

Anne Voskuil, a Hope student, provided musical entertainment.

America's uniformed police system started in New York.

Ninth Street Christian Reformed Choir about 1916, Charles Van Hemert Director

Here's an Oldtime Choir Of Ninth Street Church

This old picture of the Ninth Street Christian Reformed Church choir taken in about 1916 was turned in to the Sentinel by Albertha Bratt, director of the Singing Boys of the Christian schools.

Miss Bratt made many but not all identifications.

All persons in the front row were identified as Hattie Plaggemars, Mousse, Henry Topp, Minnie Kalmink Gerritsen, Henrietta Tripp Dyke, Charles Van Hemert, director, Jennie Zoet Hoppers, Jennie Lanting, Neal Wiersema, Sadie Lanting Ten Brink, John Ter Beck, Jennie (or Gertrude) Van Dyke and John Van Appledorn.

Fewer are identified in the second row, among them Peter Cook, Anna Breen Cook, Henry Bareman (skip three) Minnie Reich Huissen, Gerrit Van Dyke and Catherine Meeusen Van Dyke.

In the third row: skip two, Lizzie Rotman Pasma, skip two, Jeanette Lam Vande Bunte, Dean Rotman, skip one, Henrieta Lam Maatman, Cornelius Vryhof, Gertrude Holkeboer, Henry Tuurling and Bertha Vlieg.

In fourth row are William

Por, Mary Jipping, Van Tatenhove (first name unknown), Dora Por Vryhof, Frances Tripp Van Melle, (unidentified), Tena Holkeboer (?), Fannie Brouwer, Gertrude Holtgeerts and Gertrude Brower Hamelink.

Miss Bratt also had pictures taken around the turn of the century of the church, exterior and interior, emphasizing again that the congregation has done an admirable job of keeping the imposing building. Holland's most historical landmark, virtually unchanged.

An early picture shows the auditorium much like it is today except for hanging gas lamps and collection bags on poles. The latter were used at the historical Dutch service at the opening of Tulip Time this year in keeping with the city's 125th anniversary.

One old picture shows the first church parsonage on East 10th St., near Columbia Ave., long since moved from the site. On the front veranda were three members of the Van Goor family in dignified pose.

Big Reds Are Too Much For Holland

MUSKEGON—The Big Reds of Muskegon showed Holland High's football team why they are rated the top Class A team in the state Saturday night at Hackley Stadium by crushing the Dutch, 50-14.

Muskegon's win was its fifth success in as many tries while the Dutch of new Coach Dan Porretta are still searching for their first win after five starts.

"Even though we lost, I'm very pleased with the kids because they didn't quit out there," said Porretta.

"We thought that Steve Bonnette did a fine job at quarterback when he took over for Dick Wood, who was just marvelous himself when you consider what we were up against," Porretta added.

The Dutch played inspired ball even though the score doesn't indicate that as they had numerous chances to score, thanks to three Muskegon fumbles and a couple of high snaps from center on fourth down punt situations.

"You have to give Muskegon credit," stated Porretta. "They aren't No. 1 for anything and I'm just glad that we don't play another team like them this year."

Holland took to the air at the outset of the game as Wood hit Ron Israels for two nice gains to the 43 of Muskegon but the Dutch decided to punt on a third and 12 from that spot and after that it seemed like it was all Muskegon.

Quarterback Rock Kesteloot electrified the home town crowd by jaunting 57 yards on an option play for the first Big Red touchdown with 5:25 left in the opening period as the race was on.

Fred Kenny, a speedster for Muskegon who averaged over 10 yards a carry coming into the game, dashed 77 yards for the second Big Red TD moments later as Muskegon led at the end of the first quarter, 12-0.

Shasaguy recovered a high Muskegon snap from center on fourth down on the four-yard line of the Big Reds.

The well built Shasaguy went three-yards to the one and on the following play Wood went in for the score. Mike Windisch's kick cut the deficit to 12-7.

Muskegon came right back as sub running back Rick George bulled his way 17-yards into pay dirt and Kesteloot passed to Mike Cross, despite a five-yard motion penalty for the PAT with a little over two minutes to go in the half with the Big Reds holding a 20-7 lead.

The Big Reds coughed up the ensuing kickoff on the Dutch 46 and marched right down for their fourth touchdown on a Kesteloot pass to George that covered 20 yards. Tony Love took a pass from the Muskegon quarterback for the extra points to give his team a comfortable 28-7 halftime bulge.

Holland played outstanding defense in the third stanza, as Windisch led the way by holding the Big Reds scoreless.

The Dutch even had a couple of shots at the Muskegon goal-line but when they got close, Coach Larry Hart's team got tougher.

Muskegon broke open the game in the fourth period as Monroe Watts, Eddie Spann and Percy Scott all tallied touchdowns. Scott's was especially damaging, as he picked up a punt with Holland people all around him and sprinted 50 yards for the score.

S. Bonnette directed the Dutch to a fine 60-yard TD march in that fourth period which ended with a three-yard pass to Israels in the end zone. Windisch's kick gave the Dutch 14 points which were more points scored against Muskegon in their first four games combined.

Holland will host another tough cookie in Portage Northern in its homecoming game Friday at Riverview Park while Muskegon will battle highly rated Midland.

West Ottawa Records 1st League Win

West Ottawa's football team pleased a capacity homecoming crowd Friday evening by downing Northview, 14-8. It was the second win for new coach Deb Nolan and first in league action.

The Panthers sputtered in the first half but in the second half took advantage of a Wildcat mistake and scored on a spectacular catch by Joe Gaskill.

It was in the third period that things didn't seem to jell too well for the Panthers until Gaskill pulled in a Jeff Haltenhoff pass in the end zone and Scott Tolliver ran for the two point conversion to tie the score at eight all. This really put a shot of adrenalin in the Panthers and a sudden turn of events started in West Ottawa's favor.

After the kickoff to the Wildcats they were forced to punt and the punter's knee hit the ground on the one-yard line where the Panthers got the ball. Tolliver promptly plunged into the end zone on the first play from scrimmage but failed to convert the PAT and led 14-8.

After the score, West Ottawa had another opportunity as Scott VandenBrink recovered a loose ball on the kickoff and ran it to the Wildcats 30-yard-line. But the Panthers fumbled with Northview coming up with it in the end zone.

It was another fine night for the Panther defense who kept them in the game. This was evident when Northview could only put together four first downs in the game, one in the last half and none in the fourth quarter.

Brent DeVries, Terry Craycraft, and Dave Belink were tigers on defense and the whole interior wall did a fine job in containing Northview's offense.

The Wildcats drew first blood as halfback Dan Gritter raced around end for 27 yards and the TD after West Ottawa had fumbled from the point. Altogether the Panthers fumbled four time, losing the ball on three occasions.

The first half belonged to the Wildcats as West Ottawa was guilty of too many mistakes but Northview could only get eight points. It was Gaskill's great one handed catch that really got the Panthers doblers up.

From that point on, the Wildcats couldn't put it all together. The game ended with Gaskill intercepting a Northview pass and the Panthers ran out the clock.

The Panthers meet Grandville next Friday at Grandville.

Suit Over Lottery Share Dismissed

GRAND HAVEN — A lottery suit filed by Lewis F. Miller against Ronald J. Radikopf for half of a $489,733.97 Irish Sweepstakes prize has been dismissed by Circuit Judge Raymond L. Smith.

Miller had claimed that he and Radikopf, both working at the same place of employment, agreed verbally that should either of them win a prize it should be split evenly between them.

In his opinion filed Tuesday, Judge Smith said "Plaintiff appeals to conscience of equity. But equity will not be enlisted to enforce an agreement spawned in violation of statute. Equity will leave the parties to such an agreement where it finds them."

Irish Sweepstakes lottery is illegal in Michigan. A hearing was held Oct. 11 to show cause why a preliminary injunction should not be continued restraining Radikopf from spending or dispersing any of the prize money. The injunction was amended so that it covered only half of the winnings.

Miller contended that he and Radikopf sold sweepstakes tickets to fellow workers and that for every 20 tickets they sold they got two free ones and that if either one won, they would divide the big prize.

Two Held In Driving On School Track

Two youths, one a 16-year-old juvenile boy, were in police custody in connection with an alleged reckless driving incident early today at the Holland Christian High School parking lot and running track at the athletic field.

Police said John Earl Adams, 17, of 159 Highland Ave., was identified as the driver of the car. He was arraigned on reckless driving charges. His juvenile companion was referred to the Ottawa County youth home and police said he was being questioned about stealing the car from the Robert De Nooyer auto agency.

Officers were notified at 12:25 a.m. today that a car was racing on school property. Officers observed a car on the oval track at the north end of the school property and watched as it left the track through an exit area and entered the parking lot.

Police stopped the car. Rubber tire marks were found on the asphalt and yards of sod were torn up in a grassy area off the track. School officials estimated damage at $200.

Ottawa County deputies said the car was believed taken from the De Nooyer property at Eighth St. and the US-31 bypass Sunday night at about 9 p.m. License plates on the car were also believed stolen from the De Nooyer agency.

Police were investigating a possible link with an incident earlier this month when glass doors of the school were shattered and chunks of asphalt were found in the doorway.

Careful Planning Saves $160,000 In General Fund

A City Manager report to City Council Wednesday night revealed that the various departments under the General City completed their fiscal year under the General Fund budget with a positive balance of $160,000.

This balance was made possible because some programs could not be implemented due to other projects or because department heads conceived of better ways of accomplishing aims. In some cases authorized personnel were not hired and the existing staff put forth extended effort on assigned tasks. Careful review of purchases also effected some savings.

This record, the city manager said, was even more difficult to attain when one realizes that each department's budget must be initiated approximately six months in advance of the fiscal year in which the money will be expended, sometimes projecting a period of 18 months.

Department heads were assured that the mere existence of a positive balance in their fund would not result in a cut-back in departmental allocations, thus eliminating a frantic rush to spend remaining allocations as the fiscal year draws to a close.

City Manager William L. Bopf said this is the third consecutive year that this record has been accomplished in the city and has made possible the forwarding of cash balances into the following year, resulting in a reduction of tax rates the past two years.

Planning for the 1973-74 budget will start in December.

Energy Spent on Worry Is Wasted, Club Is Told

"About 92 per cent of worrying is unnecessary and the other 8 per cent should call for healthy concern and a positive attitude," Alexander C. Carmichael told a guest meeting of the Woman's Literary Club Tuesday night.

Choosing "The Worry Go Round" as his subject, he told the filled clubhouse that a survey of 50,000 Americans showed that 40 per cent of worries are figments of the imagination and the next 30 per cent are things that have already happened and cannot be undone, that 10 per cent are unnecessary worries about health and 12 per cent are geared to what other people will think.

As pastor of the De Witt Community Church in suburban Syracuse, N.Y., since 1937, Rev. Carmichael drew on his vast store of experiences for illustrations on the stresses and strains of Americans, their frustrations and "the worry that dissipates the wonder that God puts in us."

"When you goof, admit it," he said. "It's the greatest way of building rapport with your children. And don't be worried about what other people think. We're all individuals; no two of us are alike and so long as we remain in the realm of good taste, don't let our decisions and relationships rob us of the wonder of individuality and drive the sparkle from the eye. "We can't keep everybody happy all the time. Some people are happiest when they are unhappy. Fretting over unhappy people can dissipate positive action and rob us of our creativity."

"That 8 per cent of healthy concern must have a positive attitude since 90 per cent of life is determined by the attitude of the person. It's only natural that feelings are hurt at times, but cynicism, darkness and drabness in life can drain off the positive attitude we all need," he said.

He pointed to the need of sensitive understanding, "putting yourself in the other person's place until the pain is dissipated and the poisons drained off" and accepting a personal responsibility of building Christ's kingdom on earth.

Mrs. Tom De Pree, club president, welcomed the husbands and guests, pointing out that much of the success of the club which originated in 1898 was due to the encouragement and financial aid given by the husbands. Mrs. John Schutten, vice president, introduced the speaker. Dinner in the tea room preceded the program.
