Heroin, Welfare Abuse, Bureaucracy

Kent Prosecutor Chamber Speaker

Seven months in the public sector have proved a big revelation for Harold S. Sawyer of Grand Rapids who became Kent County prosecuting attorney last March after 29 years in the private practice of law.

Addressing the Holland Chamber of Commerce at its annual dinner meeting Monday night at Point West, Sawyer spun stories of his "new life" in public service, the "wiggles" welfare frauds which are entirely legal, the drug traffic, the depth of alienation between minority groups and the white establishment, and the frustrations of dealing with government bureaucracy.

Since the prestigious law firm in which Sawyer had worked for 29 years never dealt with welfare clients, the "wonderful" world of welfare held fascination and horrors for the new prosecutor. Yet he aggressively prosecuted fathers who fail to support their children after divorce, with the result he collected some $4 million in support funds.

He spoke of the problems of funding his department through the Kent County Board of Commissioners which he described as a conservative group, and then spoke of huge amounts available in federal funds available for "special projects" but not for necessities such as having a larger staff.

"If somebody had asked me a year ago if there was any heroin traffic in Grand Rapids,

I would have said there probably was some, but not too much," he said. Then he blasted this simple belief with a string of facts on heroin traffic in western Michigan, stating that one of the two main sources of heroin was Ottawa county, through heroin received from Mexico.

He explained that it costs about $100 a day to support a full blown heroin habit. He said a kilo of pure heroin (2.2 pounds) costs from $16,000 to $24,000 but can be cut for street sales of $300,000. With a markup like this, the potential corruption from dealers all the way up to judges could be understandable. He shuddered to think raising Turkish poppies again was legal in that country.

As for organized crime, he said the Mafia was infiltrating private businesses and paying taxes on money received to beat the aggressive prosecution of the Internal Revenue Service.

Yet of all the revelations that have come with seven months of experiences, Sawyer is particularly concerned over the depth of alienation with minority groups in the inner city, and the strong attitudes among the minorities that white people do not care what happens to them. Even those blacks with fine education and good jobs feel this way, and it's frustrating when one conscientiously tries to help. Mostly, blacks are more terrified of their own "jungle" war than of police

Police, Fire Hold Tests With Mobs

Holland police and firemen tested their capabilities to operate under mob situations or fighting arson fires while under attack by a deranged gunman. The field training was held in the area of 24th St. and Lincoln Ave. Thursday from 6 to 9 p.m.

Included were tests and exercises of the two departments in getting fire equipment into the fire scene where a dispute was going on, protecting fire equipment from an unruly mob, fighting fire with unruly bystanders and fighting fire set by arson compounded by a deranged gunman shooting at police and firemen.

Details were arranged by police Lt. Burton Borr and deputy fire chief John DuMez. Police and fire department volunteers provided the manpower for the mob actions.

Damage Extensive In House Blaze

A fire believed started in the basement where paint brushes were being cleaned with a solvent caused extensive damage to a home at 5 North River Ave. Monday at 11:48 a.m. No injuries were reported.

Officials said flames spread from the basement through the partitions of the two story structure and burned the roof. An adjoining one-story section also was damaged by flames.

The building was owned by William Funches and included three apartments, two of which were occupied.

Firemen said a man cleaning paint brushes in the basement apparently tripped over an electrical cord, breaking a light bulb which ignited fumes from the cleaning solvent.

Firemen remained at the scene about 1½ hours. The damaged apartments were occupied by Mrs. Rita Ross, Marilyn Jeher and Mr. and Mrs. John Paredore, firemen said.

Two-Car Crash Injures Drivers

ZEELAND — Two persons were injured when their cars collided Friday at 1:30 p.m. at M-21 and Old Chicago Dr.

Treated in Zeeland Community Hospital and released were the drivers, Michael Phillip Lannan, 29, of South Lyons, and Glenn Allen Zeerip, 30, of route 3, 76th Ave. and Perry St., Zeeland.

Ottawa County deputies said the Lannan car was westbound on M-21 and was struck broadside by the Zeerip car which was northbound on old Chicago Dr. The drivers were alone in their cars.

Cars operated by Jeanne Marie Nyhuis, 20, of 45th St., Hamilton, and Lori Marie Eller, 18, of 134 Euna Vista, collided Monday at 9:51 p.m. at College Ave. and 13th St. Police said the Nyhuis car was eastbound on 13th while the Eller car was heading south of College.

Hiring Of Deputies Given Okay

GRAND HAVEN — The hiring of three members of the sheriff's department E-units was given tentative committee approval Tuesday while the legality of their hiring under affirmative action programs to meet federal guidelines was studied.

Members of the County Affairs Committee, Ottawa County Commissioners Kenneth Raak and Donald Williams of Holland and Jack Smant of Grand Haven, signed the hiring slips of the three following receipt of an opinion from Prosecutor Wesley J. Nykamp.

Nykamp said the three could be hired and paid by the county pending a determination whether the hiring practices conformed to affirmative action requirements of the federal grant.

Smant said the federal grants which put the E-units on the road in Holland-Park township and Georgetown township would be in jeopardy if hiring policies did not meet the affirmative action requirements.

He said a key question was whether the sheriff properly advertised the job availabilities with the E-unit and replacement personnel who were transferred to the E-units from the department.

Committee members said they were awaiting written opinion from Highway Trust Fund officials in Washington. The Trust Fund administrators the federal grants used for the E-units.

Committee members said Sheriff Bernard Gysen told them he posted the job openings with the Michigan Employment Security Commission but Smant said he probably should have advertised in county newspapers as well.

The hiring slips signed Tuesday were for members of the E-units who began their duties Oct. 1. Included were Bernard Loaf and Brad Gysen of Holland and Max Elenbaas of Jenison. Gysen is a nephew of the sheriff.

Hopes Third Century Less Complicated

Zeeland Chamber Hears Humorist

ZEELAND — A bicentennial motif dominated the 38th annual banquet of the Zeeland Chamber of Commerce Tuesday night in the Zeeland Christian School which attracted some 300 persons.

And Prof. Charles A. Smith of Western Michigan University, a humorist with an abundance of wry, witty stories expressed the hope that Americans could skip some of the complicated nonsense of modern life today, and start America's third 100 years without some of the superfluous baggage people insist on carrying.

Speaking on "Half Think and Double Talk," he spoke of the restiveness that confronts people today, the "weasel words" used in double talk, the pressures and the bosses that all add up to tensions.

He said the ability to communicate falls into four basic skills — reading, writing, speaking and listening, and then demonstrated a homespun wit in reading the ingredients (in fine print) on a can of sandwich spread and the double talk on an insurance policy.

His account of dealing with a modern camera compared with the Brownie box camera of his youth was nothing short of hilarious.

Chamber president Delvin Huisigh welcomed the guests and presented an award to Frank Smith, immediate past president, in appreciation of unselfish devotion to the welfare of Zeeland.

John De Vries presented environmental awards to five winners: Zeeland Library, First Michigan Bank and Trust east end division, Howard Miller Clock Co., Style Beauty Salon and First Christian Reformed Church. The handsome plaques highlighted color photos of the winning landscaping designs.

Longtime Executive Secretary Case Karsten presented a special plaque to Dr. G. J. Kemme in absentia, with the Zeeland Chamber highlighting Dr. Kemme's honor in being named "Physician of the Year" out of 1,200 physicians in the state.

At 72, Dr. Kemme is the oldest practicing physician in Ottawa County, Karsten said. He was attending a medical convention in the East.

Banquet programs bore old-time pictures of Zeeland dating back to 1885, provided by Nelson Van Koeveer. The Rev. Leon Rowland of First Baptist Church gave the invocation.

Music was provided by the Madrigals of Zeeland High School, directed by Charles Cnaan, singing selections from the J. C. Penney bicentennial collection.

Police Warn Children Against Playing in Curbs

Holland police today cautioned youngsters against playing in piles of leaves in the curbing along city streets and urged parents to explain the safety reason for not playing in the leaves.

Officers said youngsters in the leaves are not seen by passing motorists who might drive into the piles to park or avoid other traffic.

Police said they have received some complaints from motorists narrowly missing some youngsters partially hidden in piles of leaves.

As Flames Destroy Home

Woman Overcome By Fire, Smoke

Darlene Olspagh, 42, of 157 Burke St., was carried from her burning home Sunday at 10:09 p.m. and taken to Holland Hospital where she was treated for smoke inhalation and released.

Ottawa County deputies said she was one of several persons in the Holland township home when the fire was discovered and deputies were told all occupants had evacuated the burning building. But others said one subject might still be in the house.

Deputies said they found the Olspagh woman in a bedroom

Explosion Heard By Neighbors

Was Moored at MBYC; Damage Estimated At $75,000 to $100,000

A 46-foot Ericson racing sailboat, named Dragon, moored at the Macatawa Bay Yacht Club was destroyed by fire Tuesday night with a loss estimated at between $75,000 and $100,000.

Coast Guard and Ottawa County deputies said the cause of the blaze was under investigation but it was believed to have started in an amidships cabin area.

Coast Guard officials said it was believed the fire smoldered for some time before the blaze was reported at 10:06 p.m. Neighbors reported hearing an explosion which drew their attention to the burning sailboat.

Heat from the blaze apparently melted the aluminum main mast in the cabin area allowing it to collapse to the port side and fall on a houseboat moored nearby.

The Coast Guard remained at the scene about 2½ hours to pump water from fiberglass hull of the sailboat which remained moored at docks. Also at the fire scene were members of the Park township fire department.

The Class A racing vessel was purchased last fall in Maryland by members of the former Milena Syndicate. The owners include Dr. Edward Helbing of Holland and Paul Brown and O. W. Lowry Jr. of Grand Rapids and Charles Bissell of Eastmanville.

The vessel with black hull and blue deck known as Dragon took part in several races this summer including the Queens Cup, the Port Huron to Mackinac and the Chicago to Mackinac events.

The syndicate previously owned the 12-meter racing vessel Milena and the Windego, a 72-foot sailboat.

Fire officials said no one was believed aboard the Dragon at the time of the fire and no injuries were reported.

DART Statistics Are Released

Average daily ridership on Holland Dial-A-Ride system showed a slight decline in September, 1974, 235 from 245.

Total ridership for the 21 days of service in September reached 4,928 compared to 4,900 for 20 days in September, 1974.

Breakdown includes 2,019 regular, 2,539 half, 361 free and nine others. The number of riders per vehicle per hour was 5.9.

Social Services, Law Enforcement

County Delays Building Plans

GRAND HAVEN — Ottawa County Commissioners Tuesday tabled further action on three building projects including the controversial law enforcement building.

Commissioners wanted to see what the 1976 budget looks like before committing themselves to the law enforcement building.

Two buildings for the Department of Social Services were held up after the state decided it was going to plan building programs for its branches. The buildings would be located in Holland and Jenison.

The law enforcement building at Allendale was recommended in a comprehensive study of jail rehabilitation programs to meet state standards. The original $1.6 program was cut to the present $750,000 proposal for a site near Allendale.

The law enforcement building would centralize record keeping and law enforcement aspects of the sheriff's department. The jail would remain in Grand Haven.

Rodney Miller, who coordinated the study by Community Corrections Resource Programs, Inc. in 1974, warned commissioners that failure to provide certain rehabilitative services in the jail could violate state codes and the county could be compelled to build a $3 million jail facility.

Miller said the original proposal of $1.6 million included funds for the new law enforcement building and about $100,000 to remodel the vacated facilities in the jail for rehabilitative programs.

Commissioner Marilyn Sherwood said the $100,000 to remodel the jail would have to be found some place which prompted commissioner Kenneth Northouse to say the matter should be tabled until after the budget is adopted.

Commissioners voted 7 to 4 to table the matter.

Earlier Zeeland Mayor Edward Nagelkirk told commissioners his city and area townships felt the centralized enforcement building would cut costs for area law enforcement agencies by providing central dispatch services.

Nagelkirk said several meetings were being held in the Zeeland area to discuss the need for such a building and agreed that additional millage to operate the building would still be cheaper than providing separate dispatch services.

Letters in support of the law enforcement building were received from Georgetown township, Grand Valley State College and the county Farm Bureau Services.

Regarding the proposed county buildings in Holland and Jenison, Northouse said the state Department of Social Services will provide its own office space and review and recommend proposed building sites in the county.

The change is effective Dec. 1. Northouse said under those terms, the state will tell the county what it wants to do about office space and will assume total cost for the offices.

Plans for the buildings will be halted pending a decision from the Department of Social Services on future office space in the Holland and Jenison areas, he said.

His committee was ready to recommend architects for the two buildings but the matter was tabled.

HOUSE DAMAGED — Fire believed started in the basement by someone cleaning paint brushes with gasoline swept through partitions of this home on North River Ave. at Madison Place at 11:48 Monday. No injuries were reported. Deputy Fire Chief John Du Mez said flames travelled through the wall partitions to the roof of the two-story section of the building, causing considerable damage. Du Mez said the two-story structure and the adjoining one-story structure housed three apartments but names of the occupants were not immediately determined. Firemen were still at the scene an hour after the alarm was received. (Sentinel photo)

Plane Crash at School

Mock Disaster Tests Agencies

An estimated 500 persons took part in a mock airplane disaster Thursday at Connell School in West Olive that involved emergency personnel from Ottawa, Kent and Muskegon counties.

Glen Timmer, Ottawa County Civil Defense director, said the mock disaster was designed to test the emergency capabilities of the hospitals and law enforcement agencies.

The mock disaster involved the crash of a military personnel plane at Casnovia with one of the engines crashing into the school. About 200 "casualties" were planned for the school.

The incident was reported at 7 p.m. and Timmer said the test exercise was completed by 10 p.m.

Problems developed in communicating with area hospitals and in sorting the "casualties" at the scene for transfer to the hospitals, Timmer said.

Holland Hospital received about 60 "patients" while 55 went to North Ottawa Community Hospital in Grand Haven and 50 to the Zeeland hospital. The remainder went to hospitals in Muskegon and Kent counties.

Among the agencies taking part in the exercise were Red Cross, CD, Citizen Band operators, Amateur Radio operators, National Campers and Hikers, National Guard, Coast Guard and E-Units as well as law enforcement agencies.

Cornies Corner

Holland's fame is reaching Pasadena, Calif., well ahead of the Rose Parade next Jan. 1. Holland is entering a float, you know.

Fire Chief Marv Mokma met the Pasadena fire chief at the International Fire Chiefs' Association convention in Las Vegas in September, and he presented him with a Windmill tie tack and two pictures of Windmill De Zwaan. (They're available on convenient tubes.)

The Pasadena chief says he'll frame the two pictures and hang one on the central fire station in Pasadena and the other in City Hall.

City Manager Terry Hofmeyer was presented with the customary pair of wooden shoes by the Chamber of Commerce after delivering a talk on city affairs at the Early Bird breakfast Oct. 7.

It's his first pair of wooden shoes in 37 years, he said. He's worn klompen before scrubbing streets, etc., and not not his own.

We goofed! On that picture of digging up railroad ties from the roadbed on Ottawa Beach Rd. Oct. 2, we learn it was not the old inter-urban line, but a Pere Marquette line which led to the old Ottawa Beach Hotel, destroyed by fire in 1924.

The old ties, timbers and old car parts were believed used to stabilize the road bed years ago. The county road commission has been busy removing muck near the Pine Creek bridge while widening the road to four lanes.

Lawns this year during August and September were in the best condition, Park Supt. Jake De Graaf can remember. Usually the turf which is not sprinkled has turned yellow and brown long before mid-August.

September had only 1.1 inches of precipitation, but the lawns continue to be beautiful. Of course, we had over five inches of rain the last three days of August, and that lasted a good long time!

It might make some difference to husbands who might get tired of mowing the lawn.

Sixteen-year-old Kirk Vande Paane, a ninth grader at Hamilton High School, has been identified as the youth who found a billfold of an Idaho resident in the Teton Mountains early in September. He had been camping in the area with an uncle, Dave Kromer, and his son of Jensen.

Cloyd Hall of Rigby, Ida., owner of the wallet, figured the billfold was lost forever and immediately began to replace his driver's license, etc. A week later he received a long distance call from the post office at Driggs that the wallet had been turned in there by a 16-year-old youth of Holland, Mich. His name and address were included.

But a letter containing a reward was returned to Hall a week later, marked insufficient address and he sought aid from the Post-Register of Idaho Falls, Ida. A letter also was mailed to the Sentinel which located the youth.

Kirk is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Vande Panne, of 5388 146th Ave.

Jan Meinel, who has served as an administrative officer in the city manager's office for two or three years, has left Holland to become an administrative aide to the city manager of Norton Shores and also serve as city clerk.

Jan is remembered best for her work in organizing the Dial-a-Ride program in Holland, and handling details of the float for the Tournament of Roses parade in Pasadena next Jan. 1. She also did a lot of work on federal grants.

The fame of Windmill Island is far-reaching. A former local resident found picture puzzles of Windmill De Zwaan at a K-Mart in Tampa, Fla., recently.

Robert A. De Young, local native who attended local public schools and Hope College, is the new assistant superintendent for employee relations for Kalamazoo public schools.

Bob remembers serving as caddy to President Ford when Ford played golf at the Holland Country Club. Any clubs that Ford broke he would give to Bob and some of the sticks are still in his possession.

In his new job, De Young is chief negotiator for 11 bargaining groups.

George F. Getz Jr., who spent summers of his early youth at the Getz estate here known as Lakewood Farm, is an international authority on firefighting equipment, all because his wife give him an old fire truck as a Christmas gift 20 years ago.

Getz, now 66, and living in Phoenix, Ariz., reportedly has the largest collection of firefighting memorabilia in existence. It is stored in barns and warehouses in Wisconsin, Illinois and Arizona. Last year he opened a $500,000 firefighting museum called "Hall of Flame" in Phoenix. It contains a 4,000-volume library on firefighting houses.

He currently is senior member of the board of directors of Santa Fe Railway and a director of other large corporations.

Robert D. Nienhuis, a son-in-law of Mrs. Stan Breuker of Holland, had an exciting few days in St. Louis, Mo., (where he lives) serving on a staff researching local issues for President Ford's visit there in September. Nienhuis was a special guest at a White House Conference there.

Nienhuis is a graduate of Holland Christian High School (his parents now live in Grand Rapids) and he studied law at Washington University in St. Louis. His wife is the former Janice Breuker of Holland, now working with the deaf in St. Louis public schools.

Some choice philosophy: What this country needs most are family trees that produce more lumber and fewer nuts.

It is said that Rembrandt painted 700 pictures, and Americans have all 5,000 of them.

The more you listen to political speeches, the more you realize why America is called the Land of Promise.

The minutemen of today are those who can make it to the refrigerator and back with a sandwich while the commercial is on.

Hosta Dives Over Knights For Lone TD

By Leo Martonosi

It wasn't a replay of Monday night's encounter between the Detroit Lions and Dallas Cowboys Friday, even though the hitting was just as fierce and this time, the local team won.

The Holland High Dutch of Coach Ray Backus made the homecoming crowd happy, as they turned back Kalamazoo Loy Norrix, 6-0 at Riverview Park in a physical battle.

Loy Norrix wore uniforms that were almost identical of those worn by the Cowboys. While the Dutch didn't have Honolulu blue, their red and white might have looked like the Washington Redskins to the Knights.

Holland scored the game's only touchdown in the third period by moving 63 yards in 11 plays. Fullback John Hosta dove into the end zone from the one-yard line. The touchdown came with 4:58 showing on the scoreboard. Todd De Young's extra point kick was no good.

The Dutch came back in the fourth quarter to stop Loy Norrix on downs at their own three-yard line. Dan Molenaar and Brad Kuipers teamed up to stop Barry Harris from reaching pay dirt.

"That was one of the best defensive goal line stands the fans have ever seen at Riverview Park," said a jubilant Backus.

Some of the Knights' players were upset by the way things were going, as Holland marched within seven yards of scoring with time running out in the game. Loy Norrix was hit with three personal foul calls.

The Knights managed to keep Holland out of their end zone and even ran one play, before time expired.

With Hosta and Rick Elzinga running with power, the Dutch moved deep into Knight territory late in the first period. Eventually De Young was stopped short of downs on the 10-yard stripe.

Loy Norrix had a wonderful opportunity to take the lead in the second stanza, as Tom Barr caused De Young to fumble while attempting to pass and teammate James Caper fell on the ball on Holland's 29-yard line.

But instead of gaining any ground, the Knights ended up going backwards, as Loren Schrottenboer, Dennis Lawson, Steve Van Tongeren, Brian Bouwens, John Miller, Ross Nykamp and others were more than holding their own.

The talented Elzinga rushed for over 100 yards for the fifth consecutive game. When Elzinga wasn't doing his thing, Hosta was then some.

Mike Bos, head reserve mentor and former Dutch flash said, "Hosta is the only guy I know that can make eight yards while running in mid-air." Bos was referring to the way Hosta runs at times.

Hosta, like Nykamp, is more than just a runner, they're both fine blockers.

Loy Norrix, now 2-3 for the season, the same as Holland, played the contest without their leading rusher Jo Jo Galloway and Big Seven 100-yard track champ Daryl Pruitt.

Galloway was suspended for one game while Pruitt was injured.

Backus had high praise for linebacker-offensive back Mike McElrath after the game, as he said, "That kid can play big time college football."

The Dutch seek their third win in a row next Friday when

NOW to Study By-law Changes

The Holland Area Chapter of the National Organization for Women held its October business meeting Monday evening with primary discussion centering around proposed by-law changes for the NOW national board.

Sarah Schenkman, Peg Krouse, and Carla Ver Schure will study proposals set forth in the report from the national by-laws committee and will formulate a chapter policy statement for submission to the NOW national convention in Philadelphia later this month.

Women's Strike Day, proposed by the National Organization for Women and scheduled Oct. 29, was discussed. NOW has suggested that all women who can should participate and those who cannot because of employer reprisals should observe the event by wearing black armbands. The secondary thrust of the day's activities is that women spend no money.

A nominating committee will present a slate of prospective officers at the next regular meeting. Members of the committee are Chris Lohman, Jayme Kladder, Lin Klunder, and Linda Viischer. Elections will be held in January for the 1976 chapter year.

The legislative report included information on Senate Bill 399 which is again under consideration. The chapter has expressed its support of the bill to Sen. Gary Byker.

The next regular chapter meeting will be held Oct. 20 and will include suggestions and proposals from the board of directors. Meetings are held at 6 p.m. in the Red Cross office, 89 West 11th St., and are open to the public.

Panthers Lose Second League Game

By Roger Kuiken

WYOMING — West Ottawa made a desperate comeback in the closing moments, but fell short to a scrappy Rogers team Friday night by a 20-15 score. A penalty against the Panthers in the final minute of play was the difference.

West Ottawa had the ball on Rogers 10-yard line with a fourth down and nine for a first down. Quarterback Jamie Bloemendaal couldn't find anyone open and scrambled to the one-yard line, which would have given the Panthers a first and goal, but a holding penalty took the ball all the way back to the 25 and West Ottawa ran out of downs.

The Panthers made a tremendous comeback considering they were behind 20-3 very late in the game. It wasn't until the end of the third quarter that West Ottawa scored their first TD that coming with only 35 seconds to go.

The Panthers scored on a 32-yard field goal by Sam Angell the first time they had the ball shortly after the kickoff, but Rogers came right back on a sustained drive with Larry Pagnelli scoring from the one. The kick by Bazan was good and the Golden Hawks held a first quarter lead of 7-3.

Rogers got a good break in the second period when West Ottawa fumbled on their 46 however Scott VanderMeulen intercepted a pass. West Ottawa couldn't move the ball and after Tubergan punted, the Hawks put a good drive together and Pagnelli scored from the four with only 28 seconds to go before the half giving Rogers a 14-3 halftime advantage.

The Hawks took the kickoff in the third period and came on like gangbusters, knifing through the Panther defense for several nice gains before Frank Sharad scored from the two-yard line. Rogers controlled the ball well throughout most of the third quarter but then Scott Tubergan went to work and after several nice gains, scored from the five making it 20-9.

The final period saw West Ottawa come to life. John Wilkowski electrified the crowd when he took a handoff through the left side and beautifully ran 72 yards for a TD making it 20-15. With still plenty of time left, the Panther defense got tough and West Ottawa quickly got the ball back. Greg Ferrell through a nice block on a screen pass to Bloemendaal that gave W.O. a first down in Rogers territory. Then a pass interference play on Dave Beckman gave the Panthers the ball on the 12-yard line with 2:26 left to play but W.O. couldn't score and it ended 20-15.

West Ottawa has won five and lost four in the overall series with Rogers. Although this was the Hawks first league win, they lost two very close games to Kentwood and Northview.

Both West Ottawa and Rogers have identical 3-2 records. Next week the Panthers have another tough game as they travel to Kentwood.

5 TD Passes For Dutchmen Quarterbacks

By Leo Martonosi

GI Joe and his soldiers, they never lose. That's what Coach Ray Smith's Hope College football team continues to perform like against the opposition.

The Flying Dutchmen remained undefeated in the MIAA at 2-0 and registered their fifth consecutive victory of the season Saturday at Riverview Park by destroying Kalamazoo College, 48-0.

Tim Van Heest, Hope's fine quarterback, threw for three touchdowns while substitute signal caller Mark Boyce chipped in with two TD aerials.

"I naturally had to be pleased with the performances of my quarterbacks but I was pleased with almost everyone," stated Smith.

Coach Smith's wife's parents from California picked a good game to watch the NCAA's Division III fifth ranked scoring offense in action.

Van Heest went to the air early, as he hit fullback Bill Blacquire from 11 yards out for a touchdown. The kick was blocked but the Dutchmen showed who was boss, by grabbing a 6-0 lead with 8:14 left in the first period.

The Dutchmen came back at the 3:55 mark of the quarter on Van Heest's 19-yard TD strike to Duff DeZwaan. Jim Miller added the first of his five straight extra point kicks. With only 28 seconds left in the stanza, Van Heest found DeZwaan for six more points, this time the TD play covered four yards. Kalamazoo's Coach Ed Baker thought the period would never end as Hope held a commanding 20-0 bulge.

Blacquire's eight-yard touchdown run was the only scoring of the third period.

The Dutchmen defense spearheaded by Dave Yeiter, Craig Van Tuinen and Bob Lees, were chewing up "K" ball players like Rice Krispies.

Kurt Bennett, Hope's leading rusher with 106 yards for the day, ran four yards for Hope's first score of the second half. The TD came at the outset of the fourth quarter.

John Bonnette of Holland, was the next to notch six markers for Hope. His TD pass from Boyce came at the 6:09 mark and covered four yards.

Whenever Kevin Clark of Hope (Kalamazoo had a Kevin Clark too) gets near the ball, it usually means six points. And that was just the case, as the ex-Lake City all-star gathered Boyce's 13-yard TD with 3:28 left.

Dave Teater hauled in two passes for 37 yards while Jim Holwerda had one of 36, Clark two for 33 and DeZwaan two for 23 yards.

Lees, Brian Guth and Ten Have recovered fumbles for Hope. Defensive tackle Craig Van Tuinen intercepted a pass but fumbled in his slim chance for glory. However, luckily, Ten Have pounced on the pigskin.

It was a long afternoon for the Hornets, who came into the game unbeaten at 3-0. Offensive tackle Fred Nelis, an ex-West Ottawa standout, had his hands full against the rugged Hope defense.

Whoever said Yeiter has slowed down from a gain of weight, doesn't have to block this giant of a man, who shot out at the "K" quarterbacks, like a shark does at a man's legs.

The Dutchmen travel to Alma College Saturday.

HIROHITO'S VISIT

In a world that pretty much at sixes and sevens most of the time it is refreshing to be reminded that in at least one respect the world has improved
a great deal in the last 30 years. This reminder came to us in the visit of the Emperor and Empress of Japan. For many of us the memory of that fatal Dec. 7 when the Japanese launched their attack on Pearl Harbor is still vivid. Many remember the harrowing days of the island hopping and the jungle fighting that preceded the victory over the Japanese war machine. Many of us remember the image of the Japanese which was current during the war, the image of the bloodthirsty savage for whom no treatment was too bad.

Now comes this gentle man
who presided over that interlude of savagery and shows us that nations can live together in cooperation and that nations
can change if given the opportunity and the proper incentives. Never in modern history has a nation undergone so complete and thorough a metamorphosis as has Japan since WWII. She has become a thriving and inventive nation,
a genuine democracy, a constructive rather than destructive member of the family of nations. Such a change is pleasant to see.

The more so because this country has played a great part in changing Japan from a warlike, aristocracy-ridden nation to responsible democracy.
Had it not been for our humane treatment of our defeated enemy and the establishment in Japan of an American-style government, there is no telling what kind of nation Japan would be today. As a nation we have made many mistakes, domestic and international, but our treatment of Japan after WWII was not one of them. We can take pride and pleasure in that part of our history. It is this that made possible our cordial entertainment of Hirohito and his Empress.

Sunday School Lesson

"Giving What God Asks"
Genesis 22: 1-13
By C. P. Dame

The Bible contains the names of many people of whom it is said that they were born and died. It also gives the names of a number of people whose lives were marked by outstanding events. Abraham belongs to that group and that is one reason why he is named so often in the Bible. This lesson recorded in the lesson.
Abraham's faith and teaches that God rates high a person's faith in Him and in His promises.

I. Tests hurt. The words,
"after those things" refer to the events recorded previously in Genesis 18-21. These events prepared him for the final test recorded in this lesson.
Abraham is called the friend of God. One friend tested another when God told him to offer Isaac, his son, as a sacrifice. This was the seventh test. "Take now thy son, thine
only son, whom thou lovest, even Isaac." The last one pained most for the covenant
promises centered in Isaac, who was the son for whom he had looked for years.

II. Obedience is costly. Some one said recently that obedience is one of the last words of modern society. Some church members have also lost this word. Early on the next morning, Abraham left home with two servants and Isaac and material for the offering. For three days they travelled until they came to the right spot.
One of the most touching scenes is told in the words of Isaac asking his father about the offering and the father said, "God will provide himself a lamb for a burnt offering my son." The servants were left behind and father and son walked on together with the material.
Abraham built the offering and bound Isaac on it and was about to slay his son when God called him and the son was not offered, but a ram caught in the bushes caught Abraham's eye and he offered this instead of his son.

This story teaches that obedience to God may be costly and difficult. Many Christians have paid a high price obeying
a command of God. Today God tests his people — some more than others. Every believer reading this story thinks of God who sacrificed his only Son so that we might be saved and obtain life. Today's Christians need the faith of Abraham who believed that God was able to raise up his son even from the dead. (Hebrews 11:19)

Slow Improvement Seen For U.S. Economy in '76

Cautious optimism for economic conditions in 1976 was expressed by C. Reed Parker, a Chicago economist who grew up in South Haven, at a luncheon meeting of some 250 business leaders of Holland-Zeeland
area Monday at Point West, hosted by First Michigan Bank
and Trust Co. of Zeeland.

Parker, who addressed a similar gathering last December with predictions for 1975, quoted statistics and causes of the present economic situation, citing government controls, the costs and effects of fighting pollution, rising costs of safety measures, devaluation of the dollar, price controls and lifting of controls, crop failures, Middle East petroleum crises, and the overall effect of inflation.

He said America saw the beginning of recovery last April and the economic situation has improved each month, although slowly, and that record inventories have been reduced.

But he was guarded in his predictions for overall recovery, pointing to many problems of crisis proportions, particularly the problems of New York City
which he said was of grave importance in the total field of economy. He said the Federal Reserve System is much more cautious in its dealings but he figured the U. S. government might "do something" eventually to help New York City, but not a wholesale bailing out of its debts. He felt the Federal Reserve might provide some kind of liquidity to banks dealing with New York City bonds.

He said America was not alone in its economic problems,
in fact the same problems exist
in Europe, Japan and elsewhere,
many of the places having far more severe problems of inflation.

In the slow recovery Parker envisioned, he felt that the government or "body politic" is more concerned with inflation than unemployment, yet even with good crops, stabilization of the dollar, fighting pollution, the increasing price of oil, and the appearance of slow recovery,
the fate of the economy in 1976
is far from certain.

The speaker was introduced by Robert J. Den Herder, president of First Michigan Bank Corp.

Two Dates Are Changed In Local Concert Series

Two date changes in the 1975-
76 schedule for the Holland Concert Association series were announced at a meeting of the board of directors Thursday afternoon in the northside branch of People's State Bank.
The Preservation Hall Jazz Band, an original Dixieland jazz organization with some 40-year veterans, will appear in Civic Center Nov. 5 instead of previously listed dates of Oct.
27 and 31. A recent change in agent representatives led to a complete revamping of schedules.

The Lotti Goslar Pantomime
Circus will appear in Civic Center on its originally listed date of March 19. The date had been changed to the 15th
but is now back to March 19.
The March 19 appearance will climax a five-day in-residence
for the entire company in Holland.

Plans also were made for next year's membership campaign which will coincide with the Lotti Goslar visit March 15-19. Concert President Frances Siems appointed Mrs. Del Van Dyke as membership
chairman. Mrs. Dora Russcher will staff the headquarters of the office.

Mike Grindstaff of Hope College explained operations in lining up talent for the local concert series, sponsored jointly by the Holland Concert Association and the Great Performance series of Hope College.
Events begin early in the year
with distribution of materials on artists, later evaluated by a central organization, followed by negotiations and contracts.
Scheduling must be fitted into the Hope College calendar
and the Civic Center schedule.
Technical needs of performances must be considered. Oftentimes the price goes down in the summer, providing a certain advantage price-wise.

New board members elected to three-year terms were introduced. They are Mrs. Everett Hart, Mrs. Norm Japlinga, Mrs. L. D. Jungblut,
Mrs. Myron Van Ark, Mrs.
Holmes Linn, Calvin Langejans
and Jerome Hurtgen.

The same ballot also listed concert preferences which ran:
symphony, choral group, drama, dance attraction and piano for the first five choices.
These preferences are considered in scheduling concerts,
along with financing, available
talent, etc.

German Visitors Find America Fascinating

By Cornelia Van Voorst

Two visitors to Holland from Germany this week appear to be far more interested in American people than in the usual tourist attractions America offers.

Two sisters, Gesine Borgman of Nord Horn and Hermine Klinge of Hoogstede, both in the county of Bentheim near the Dutch border, have been guests of the Rev. and Mrs. Henry A. Mouw for the past week. County Bentheim is a small bulge in the German map in the vicinity of the Dutch provinces of Drenthe and Overijssel.

"We're sort of third cousins," Mrs. Mouw said. Her father and the mother of the two women were first cousins who had played together in Germany in the long ago. Correspondence was renewed during the difficult period following World War II and the American relatives aided immeasurably with food parcels and clothing.

Gesine and Hermine (both pronounced in three syllables) soon learned they cannot get full scope of the United States in four weeks, but their association with friends and relatives in Ohio, in western Michigan and Toronto, Canada, probably teach them more about America than the usual trek of big city visits and tourist attractions.

Gesine who is secretary to the export manager of a large textile firm is familiar with the English language through correspondence and business dealings, but it has all been reading and writing, not speaking. Hermine and her husband operate a dry goods and ready-to-wear shop is not quite so conversant with English, but she took special evening courses in English while planning for a year for the American trip. Both have a bit of a problem with the American idiom, but not for long.

The association with the relatives came about last year when the Mouws and the Rev. and Mrs. Harold De Roo (Mrs. Mouw's sister) of Columbus, Ohio, visited Germany, thereby setting the stage for return hospitality. The American trip was scheduled in October coinciding with autumn colors, something not nearly so vivid in the Bentheim area of Germany. Colors are much better in the southern German forest area.

The sisters, who left Friday for Toronto, are intensely interested in learning how everything operates in America, its school systems, government control, the geography of the land, expansive lawns, white painted homes, wooded areas and "empty" land, a situation almost unknown in that area of Europe.

Planning the trip for a full year, they brought with them gifts for all the relatives and friends, some of them hand made and selected with great care. There was a special book of photographs (all inscriptions in English) of the neighborhood Mrs. Mouw's father lived in before coming to America, old maps and documents, and price-less tiles.

They also brought with them hand made pot holders from a niece for Mrs. Mouw and Mrs. De Roo, embroidered in bicentennial colors. The niece in school might select an American name in a class project, and she chose two, Emily Dorothy, after the two American relatives.

The pair has been particularly impressed by American restaurants and the generous portion of well prepared food served at reasonable prices. "And everybody has been so kind and helpful," they said.

They are making one concession on the tourist front. They plan to visit Niagara Falls while in Canada.

A HOLDING POND? NOT REALLY! — At Prince Corp. in Holland's Southside Industrial Park, a water detention area has been skillfully blended into the landscape design at the building which manufactures machines and equipment for the meat packing industry. The inlet pipe left center siphons storm water from parking lots and other drains into this area and a smaller pipe drains storm water into regular drains at a slower pace. The entire area is covered with wood chips.

Storm Detention Pond Blended Into Landscaping

Imaginative landscape design in the storm water detention area of Prince Corp. in Holland's Southside Industrial Park has been singled out by the Holland Environmental Health Department as an example of exemplary standards for building design.

Because of limited capacity in older inner-city drainage systems, the city of Holland has been requiring on-site storm water controls, and these requirements have most frequently affected industrial developers. As an example of blending a holding pond into the industrial landscape design, Prince Corp., along with Holland's downtown mall are among winners in the "Keep Michigan Beautiful" competition. Mrs. William Milliken, wife of Michigan's governor, will present awards in Lansing Oct. 27.

The storm water detention concept involves the temporary holding of surface water during periods of peak runoff for later release into a drainage system at a controlled rate. Key elements are a drainage inlet, a holding area and a controlled outlet, which in Prince's case is an outlet sized smaller than the inlet.

During flood hazard storms, runoff is detained temporarily to protect flooding due to an overload drainage system. Recent large-scale developments in the city have resulted in drainage problems caused by buildings, parking lots and other impervious cover.

At Prince Corp., the water retention design is a part of a third building program which in part houses the U.S. division of Sefelaar and Looyen, an international specialist in machines and equipment for the meat packing industry with home offices in the Netherlands.

This building of 20,000 square feet was begun and completed for occupancy in 1974. It was designed to be architecturally compatible with two other buildings in the Prince complex.

Plans for additional expansion are being made for this growing diversified company.

Details on drainage were worked out with the engineering department in City Hall.

ing to terms in the contract with the State Highway Department.

Council granted preliminary approval to a plat for proposed development of additional single family lots in Plymouth Acres subdivision in the vicinity of 40th St. and Washington Ave. The plat does not require a holding pond, although ponds are required for industrial and commercial development and for multi-housing development.

Accepted as information was a city manager report on signing a crosswalk on Michigan Ave. in the vicinity of the hospital. The report stated that an overpass would be given further consideration when Michigan Ave. is widened in 1980, according to plans.

Four Bicentennial signs, designating Holland as a bicentennial community, will be placed at city limit signs on state trunklines, costs to be charged to the bicentennial committee's budget.

Council is considering a no-parking zone for 40 feet on the west side of South Lincoln Ave. in the vicinity of 916 Lincoln Ave., following a number of complaints that restaurant parking was blocking a group of mailboxes. Action was tabled until Nov. 5.

H. J. Heinz Co. was granted permission to erect a number of removable posts approximately four feet high in the vicinity of its personnel office at 16th St. and Ottawa Ave. in an effort to control parking and increase pedestrian safety. Permission was granted under the council's revokable license plan.

Copies of an independent audit prepared by Touche Ross and Co. for fiscal year ended June 30, 1975, were distributed and the city clerk was instructed to publish a summary.

Following a city manager report, Council approved a transfer of ownership of a 1975 tavern and SDM licensed business at 934 South Washington Ave. from VIP Inc. to Village Pizza Parlor of Holland, Inc.

Approval was given a plan to provide Dial-A-Ride service free of charge to shoppers at a moonlight sale downtown Oct. 23, with the Holland Downtown Merchants Association reimbursing DART for each passenger. Hours will be from 7 to 10 p.m.

A city manager report revealed that as a result of heavy rains the latter part of August, several areas in Ottawa county including Holland sustained storm damage. Lt. Zane Gray of the Michigan State Police has been designated as liaison contact agent for the project which is coordinated by Ottawa County Civil Defense.

An appeal from Marlene Miller, 987 South Shore Dr., for striping a bicycle lane or lanes on the newly improved South Shore Dr., spurred some discussion for such need in the area. It was referred to the city manager for report.

Certifications were confirmed for Councilman Kleis for purchases from Holland Rendering Works for the Park department for $110, and Councilman Vande Poel for purchases from Superior Sport Store of $75 for community promotion.

Tight Budget Sounds Felt By County

GRAND HAVEN — Rumblings of a tight financial year in the county were heard at the Board of Commissioners meeting Tuesday.

Finance committee chairman Eunice Bareham presented a preliminary report on budget work by her committee and said a working budget would be presented Oct. 28 to commissioners with a public hearing scheduled Oct. 30.

She attempted to indicate the county budget figures but was discouraged by other commissioners who suggested it would be better to wait for the presentation of the working budget.

But commissioner Marilyn Sherwood asked whether it was true that income for 1976 "was up $85,000 while expenditures could be up more than $100,000?"

Mrs. Bareham replied quickly, "We will have a more difficult time this year but all will work out and we will have a balanced budget."

Commissioners are bound by state statutes to adopt the 1976 budget during the October session but Commission Chairman William Kennedy said the October session could be continued until December if budget work was not completed.

A request for copies of the minutes of commission meetings by a representative of the League of Women Voters in eastern Ottawa county opened debate on providing copies of minutes to other persons in the county.

Some commissioners wanted to include all township supervisors and others wanted to send minutes to all governmental units in the county as well as the League representative.

But commissioners voted all the ideas down and decided each commissioner should make copies of the minutes available to persons in his district wanting them.

Commissioners adopted working drafts of affirmative action plans for the Mental Health Department and CETA to meet requirements for federal aid.

In other action, commissioners decided to place a two-year limit for anyone hired under the CETA program. After two years working in a CETA funded job, the person would be let go but the position continued and another applicant sought for the position.

Commissioners felt the object of the CETA program was to train a person for employment in the job market and after two years the training should be completed.

Cars operated by Yvonne Wind, 55, of 142nd Ave., and Ilda Ruiz, 24, of 255 Norcrest Pl., collided along northbound River Ave., at Eighth St. Thursday at 12:10 p.m. Police said the Wind car was in the center lane and attempted a left turn while the Ruiz car was in the left lane.
