A movement has been started at Ludington to erect a monument to the memory of the 28 sea men who went down on Car ferry No. 18 last month.

The Salvation Army Rescue home fund took a jump of $502, making the total on both old and new subscription lists a little over $10,000. Adjutant Maurer spent Tuesday at Holland at the request of some of the women there, headed by Judge Van der Meulen, and addressed them on the subject. It is thought that Holland will send a generous contribution.

Charles H. McBride of Holland, Republican candidate for the state legislature from the first district has been in the city this week in connection with his campaign. Mr. McBride has been for years one of the hardest working young Republicans in the county. He is an attorney and has been a member of the Ottawa county legal profession for a number of years. His father, P. H. McBride was for a number of years prosecuting attorney of the county. Charles McBride is well prepared for public life and is a graduate of Olivet College and the University of Michigan law school.—Grand Haven Tribune.

Andrew De Ryke a Grand Haven Haven celery raiser exhibits a bunch of celery twelve stalks which weighs 24 pounds and 10 ounces.

The beneficiary of the late Francis Andersen has received a check for $1,000 for insurance carried in Crescent Hive No. 374 of the L. O. T. M.

The annual meeting of the Michigan State Teachers' Association will be held at Bay City Thursday and Friday, October 27th and 28th. These meetings are wholly for the educational interests of the commonwealth and are attended by about five thousand people from all over the state.

A special excursion rate of 50 cents round trip has been secured from the Interurban company by the Adult Bible Class of the First Reformed church for Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, while the State Sunday school convention is in session at Grand Rapids. Tickets will be on sale at the store of H. Van Tongeren, Bert Slagh, H. R. Brink, Notier, Van Ark & Winter and Henry Nykerk.

Fred Heitje of Holland was before Justice Foote of Allegan last week and pleaded guilty to shooting red squirrel and mourning doves out of season. He paid a fine and costs of $27.90. Mourning doves are protected the year around, but it will be news to people in this section to know it is considered an offense to shoot red squirrel. Justice Foote says the game law specifies fox, black gray and American squirrel and red squirrel come under the latter class. The fine was imposed more for the shooting of the doves, however.

The name of the Consumers' Ice & Fuel company has been changed to the Consumers' Ice, Fuel and Metal company. Max Brown formerly of the Max Brown Iron & Metal company has gone into partnership with E. T. Bertsch and the new business at 125 East Eighth street will be continued under the management of the business partners. Many improvements will be made on the premises and the property will be improved and gradually enlarged, making it one of the best concerns of its kind.

Henry J. Dykhuys, of Holland, former sheriff of Ottawa county, and his wife, are visiting their son Jerry in this city. The former sheriff has gone back to his first love, the sea and has been sailing all summer on board of the Graham & Morton line steamers between Holland and Chicago and Benton Harbor and Chicago. Mr. Dykhuys was a sailor before he entered the sheriff's office here and for a time at the end of his term, he farmed it. The call of the sea was too much for him, however, and he sold out and moved to Holland where he could hear the wind whistle and the lake roar and catch the toot of a steamboat occasionally.—Grand Haven Tribune.

Upon his return trip from Mexico, recently, Sheriff Andre traveled with a Pinkerton detective from Chicago, who had also been in Mexico on a mission similar to that which took the sheriff across the border. Like the sheriff he was also coming home disappointed. He had been to Mexico to bring back a man who was held there by the Mexican authorities awaiting extradition. He was willing to waive all rights and return with the detective but the Mexicans refused to release him until his case had passed through the required channels. The sheriff and the Pinkerton man had a real chummy time coming back and neither of them had anything very complimentary to say about the way the Mexican penal business was transacted.

A prominent business man tells why he advertises, and why he uses newspapers for that purpose, as follows: "I advertise in the newspapers because I am not ashamed of my work, and to let people know about myself, my store and my stock. Because I cater to the intelligent class and they read the papers, and I believe in increasing my business. Because I can talk to more people through the newspapers at a greater distance in less time and at a more reasonable price than in any other way. Because my newspaper advertising has brought me greater returns for the least expenditure of any advertising I have done. Because when I write an ad. I am not too stingy to pay for placing it in the best possible medium or to have it inserted so it is attractive. Because I know my ad. is seen and read by everyone in the house where the paper goes."

Clarence Klassen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit Klassen living on West 15th street fell from the porch Monday and broke his leg. Dr. D. J. is attending the little sufferer.

The contract for putting the basement under the Cog'l Church at Saugatuck has been let to the Holland City Roofing Co., of Holland and includes the concrete work, steps, doors, windows, etc. They expect to begin work today.

Seventy-five years ago the Baptist church of Otsego was organized, and the event will be celebrated next month for three days, the 18th, 19th, and 20th. As many of the former pastors as can be present will attend and the people of Otsego intend to make the event notable.

Chestnuts were sold in the Allegan market this week, as in many former years, for $6 per bushel; and yet, though the crop of these nuts in the country is decreasing, there seems to be no disposition to plant chestnut trees in any of the many waste places where they would flourish and yield a profit both in nuts and timber.

At a session of the board of supervisors this week the salary of the county treasurer was raised to $1500 per year. In consideration of the raise in salary the committee which had the matter under consideration, recommended that all fees should be turned into the county treasury here after. Whether or not the new system will mean a decrease in the income of future county treasurers is yet to be determined.

The new postal savings bank system will soon be in partial operation at least. The government has on hand 5,000,000 of the stamps which can be sold at ten cents each, with the cards to which they are to be attached. The cards also cost ten cents each, so when a card has nine stamps affixed the whole may be turned in to represent a deposit of one dollar. Such an arrangement encourages small savings, the aggregate of which may become very large.

Hon. Chase S. Osborn, gubernatorial candidate on the Republican ticket, and George P. Codd of Detroit were in Grand Rapids a short time Friday. Both were in fine fettle and said they are receiving the most encouraging reports and enthusiastic crowds wherever they have been. In Coldwater early this week they packed 3,000 persons into the opera house on a sweltering hot night and the big crowd stuck through three hours of oratory. At Sturgis they had an enormous crowd for the size of the place and it has been that way throughout the tour. They are confining their efforts to central and lower Michigan.

The large steel dredge, which is being built by Johnston Brothers at Ferrysburg for shipment to an English company in India will be ready for shipment on its long journey to the gold fields of India by December 1. The dredge hull is 95 feet long; 68 feet beam and 9 6 feet deep. The total weight of the steel hull is 350 tons. This dredge will be used as a gold digger on the Indian rivers, and upon its arrival and completion, it will be turned over to the buyers, Mower & Company, a company of English capitalists, with headquarters at Rangoon, Burma. Rangoon is the largest city of Burma and has a population of over 200,000. It is in the centre of the gold digging operations, and it is for this section that the dredge now at Johnston Bros. is headed.

It will be recalled that when Mrs. Geo. Lowe died she made a request of her husband that he should give from her estate some sum toward the liquidation of the debt of the Methodist church. She relied upon this method of carrying out her wishes instead of making a will. This week Mr. Lowe fulfilled this request by giving the church his check for $750. This represents $250 each from Mrs. Lowe and her two sisters, the late Misses Field. The society is feeling much encouraged by this bequest and that of the late Chauncey Goodrich which will together reduce the debt nearly $2,000. They will still owe a little less than $4,000 upon their building, but this is so much less than the debt of a year ago that they feel greatly relieved and hopeful, the more so because they have been able to make reductions steadily from subscriptions within their membership.

The Holland Sugar factory started its three months' campaign Monday and will be operated day and night for a continuous run until about the middle of January. Prospects are favorable for an average crop, which annually amounts to about 30,000 tons of beets and which yields from 6,000,000 to 9,000,000 pounds of sugar.

Jake Jappings will be tried tomorrow for obtaining money by fraud. The case against him is brought by Marinus Hector who claims that he was shaking dice with Jappings and that the latter offered him a glass of lemonade which was doped and when he woke up he was shy $12.50. The case is before Justice Miles, and Attorney Van Duren is defending Jappings.

The officials of the city of Holland are confronted with a water famine problem. The present water works plant, established in 1882, is wholly inadequate to take care of the consumers, who have grown from less than 100 at the start to nearly 2,000 while the receipts have increased from $1,000 to almost $15,000. The original plant cost $22,000. It is probable that the city will find it necessary to go out into Lake Michigan for a further supply of water. Grand Rapids Herald.

The plan of the council of Grand Haven to turn over the Spring Lake bridge to the interurban company, to be made into a toll bridge, has been abandoned, for the time at least. The city has received legal advice that the railroad could not be made to take the bridge and operate it as a toll bridge, but that should the city decline to abide by its present contract, it might leave the city to keep the approaches in repair and sue the city for $1,000 a year according to the present contract, or that the company might take possession of the bridge and operate it as only a railroad bridge.

Albert Hidding the popular River street grocer lost a valuable dog a few days ago. L. M. Stevenson a farmer living on the Lake Shore drive north of the city, either through meanness or excitement shot the dog for which Mr. Hidding had refused offers of $100 on several occasions. It seems that the dog of Hidding and Stevenson got into a scrap while Al and a few friends were hunting "Ho's an Teffers." Thinking no more about the incident after the dogs were parted the hunters left the vicinity when all of a sudden Stevenson raised his gun shot and killed the canine. Stevenson has repented over his rash act and was willing to make what amends he could and in Van Durens court he paid the sum of $57.50. John Kleis Deputy Sheriff had charge of the case.

The students of Hope College will be given a chance this year to compete for one or more prizes in addition to the numerous ones that have hitherto brought out keen competition. Dr. Kollen announces that a $25 prize has been founded to be known as the Mary Elizabeth V. Z. Riepma Prize. It will be in the interest of domestic missions and the purpose of the competition is to stimulate interest in that work and disseminate information about it. For a number of years there has been a foreign mission prize the competitors being compelled to write an essay on a given subject on missions, the best essay receiving the $25 reward. The same plan will be followed in this prize offer, and it will be open to all the students of the college.

Borculo

A meeting was held Saturday evening at the Christian Reformed church here when Rev. S. Folbeda of Grand Rapids made an address on "Christian Instruction." He was introduced by Rev. J. B. Jonkman, pastor of the church. The meeting was well attended. In the near future a school for Christian instruction will be established at the village of Borculo.

Wm. Jonkman who is a student of the John Calvin College at Grand Rapids was visiting his parents Rev. and Mrs. J. B. Jonkman.

East Saugatuck

Mr. and Mrs. George Kalmink of Holland visited his parents Sunday.

Messrs. A. DeVries of Grand Rapids and M. Vork of Holland were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. Vork Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit Glupker of Holland called on friends here Sunday.

Rev. Nagel preached here Sunday. Next Sunday a student from the Theological seminary of Grand Rapids is expected to hold services.

Miss Gertrude Lubbers of Allegan is the guest of her sister, Mrs. A. Bouman.

Mr. and Mrs. Casper Belt of Holland visited Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Vanden Berg Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Wolters of Fillmore visited C. P. Zwemer and family Sunday.

Crisp

Mrs. H. Garvelink and children of Holland have returned home after spending a few days with relatives in this vicinity.

Rev. Guikema, pastor of the Crisp church, has received a call from the Christian Reformed church at Lamont, Mich.

Miss Hattie Deur of Holland spent Sunday with her parents.

Miss Jennie Brat of Holland is visiting relatives in this vicinity.

Mrs. Harm Arnoldink is visiting relatives in Holland this week.

Gerrit Van Gelderen has sold his farm to Jacob L. Hop. Mr. Van Gelderen intends to move to Martin Township, Allegan county.

Graafschap

The court-room was filled with Graafschap and Fillmore people who came to hear the case of Tien, vs Reimink. Attorneys Smedley of Grand Rapids and Hoffman of Allegan are prosecuting for Tien, and Reimink is defended by Wilkes & Stone. This case is an outgrowth of the bad feeling which has existed in Fillmore township several years. Reimink is a township officer and has had much trouble on account of the bridge supplies he bought of his brother. That case was tried last year. In this affair Reimink is accused of saying that Tien stole $300 worth of butter from the creamery company, of which the latter is an officer.

More than twenty witnesses were sworn, including the defendant Reimink, who was in the witness chair most of Thursday. He was subjected to rigid examination by the prosecuting attorneys. The next day was given to the argument, which was finished shortly after four o'clock. The judge then charged the jury at length and they retired. The October calendar was finished with the Tien-Reimink suit, the other cases having been put over the term. The jury brought in a verdict finding Reimink guilty and ordered him to pay the sum of $50.

East Holland

After a long illness with tuberculosis Miss Jennie S. Bosch died at her home in East Holland at the age of 18 years. The deceased is survived by her mother, Mrs. S. Bosch and by several brothers. She was an only daughter. Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at 12:30 from the home and at 1:30 from the Christian Reformed church at Nykerk. Rev. E. J. Roberts pastor of the church officiating. Interment was in Nykerk cemetery.

Burnips Corners

While taking Frank Knapp of Burnips Corners to jail Deputy Sheriff William Moomey was stabbed in the left arm by Knapp. He finally, with help, overpowered Knapp and locked him up, and it is possible that a charge will be placed against the prisoner in connection with the stabbing. Knapp, who is a laborer, had made some purchases at a store in Burnips Corners and got into an altercation with the storekeeper because he refused to pay for the goods and the officer was called and arrested the obstreperous prisoner. Moomey did not think it necessary to handcuff his man and started with him in a rig for the jail. On the way the fellow jerked out a knife and attacked the officer. A struggle followed in which both fell from the buggy upon the ground. Some farmers near by saw the struggle and hurrying to the scene aided the officer in putting on the shackles.

Noordeloos.

Peter K. Vanden Bosch of Noordeloos who was accused of not sending his children to school had his trial before Justice Van Duren Saturday and found not guilty. D. Harris the teacher of the Noordeloos school testified that the children named were prompt in attending and the case was dismissed. Peter Wiersma however did not get off so easy. He pleaded guilty and was assessed the amount of $16.65 fine and costs.

New Holland.

It is thirty-one years ago that Dr. J. W. Vanden Berg started in practice in New Holland and he has been in that community continuously ever since. Previous to locating in New Holland, Dr. Vanden Berg practiced in Zeeland for five years which make a total of thirty-six years of continuous medical work. Twenty years ago the doctor built the beautiful home which he now occupies and for many years he has enjoyed one of the widest practices of any doctor in this part of the state.

Overisel

Rev. G. Kooiker, son of Henry Kooiker of Overisel was installed as pastor of the Bethel Reformed church of Grand Rapids last Thursday night. Rev. C. Kuiper read the formula upon which the pastor affirmed his desire to become pastor of the church. Rev. J. Alexander Brown preached the regular installation sermon and Rev. Dykstra and Rev. J. Wayer charged the pastor and congregation concerning their duty toward one another and toward Jesus Christ the head of the church. The Bethel church pulpit has been vacant for the past five months. Mr. Kooiker will preach his initial sermon Sunday.

South Blendon

William Witters, a resident of Blendon township, living in a dug-out in the most primitive style, though a few days ago he determined to sell off his stock and farming tools and take up his home for the balance of his life at the Soldiers home at Grand Rapids, has decided to spend the balance of his days in his little hole in the ground.

Witters arranged for a sale but when the day of sale came he had such an exaggerated idea of the value of the stock and whatever else he possessed of personal property that just as the auctioneer shouted "once, twice and fair warning" he made such a ridiculously high bid, that when the sale was over he had everything still in his possession. The straw which almost broke the camel's back, came however, when he settled with the auctioneers and found that he must pay a commission on everything he sold, whether he bought it or not, therefore his prohibitive bidding cost him a pretty penny.

Witters is indeed a character. He claims to have been in nearly every country in the world and to have fought in the Civil war, and tells many an interesting story of his experiences in his wanderings about the world. He knows the bible from "cover to cover," and it is said that no minister can hold his own in an argument on matters of theology. At one time an earnest advocate of the Christian religion, he says that he has now come to the conclusion that there is nothing in it, and defends his position with a great deal of warmth.

Witters holds the theory that his land is his own absolutely to such an extent that he has a right to take the law in his own hands when people trespass on it. He is a crack shot and a terror to hunters on his farm. He does not believe that public utilities should be given any quarter and some years ago is said to have held men away at the point of his gun who wanted to put through a thing of this kind. He finally was compelled to yield. Witters has been in trouble with the authorities several times and when cited to appear in Grand Haven for a hearing he always walks to that city and also returns on foot.

The young ladies of Saugatuck many years ago organized a club of their own numbers known as the Powel Club. This club has met from year to year ever since. Its organization consisted only of early settlers, of which, some forty or more girls joined it. At a recent meeting at the residence of Mrs. Cal. Whitney, some ten or more of the original members were present. All are now well advanced in life and some live in different parts of the country. From outside of town there were in attendance Mrs. Powell, Grand Rapids, Mrs. Nettie Houtcamp, Muskegon, Mrs. Benj. Croft and Mrs. Hanna Owens. A guessing contest was a feature of the meeting, the subject being "Trees." A fine dinner was served around which old memories were revived and a very enjoyable day was spent.

Mrs. Dell Crawford is moving into her new bungalow. Her new home is located on Allegan St. in the Saugatuck Improvement Co.'s new subdivision.

Mr. Charles Welch of Saugatuck, who is one of the jurors at this term of court, at Allegan, furnished a fine dish of strawberries for Judge Padgham's supper Monday. They were the Senator Dunlap variety of which many quarts have been picked this fall in the Lake Shore country. Mr. Welch has but a few rows of them. A neighbor, however, Charles Van Valkenburg, has a good-sized bed and has been gathering fruit six weeks. He picked a number of crates which he sold to the stores in Saugatuck. The berries are bright and smooth though not quite so large as the spring berries. In the matter flavor the fall berries of course do not compare well with those of spring.

Zeeland.

A few of our citizens went to Grand Rapids to attend a very pretty wedding which took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Van Malsem, near Alexander avenue, when their daughter, Anna, was united in marriage to Martin Vander Stel. Many relatives and friends witnessed the ceremony which was performed by Rev. R. Bloemendaal, pastor of the Emanuel Reformed church. The young couple will make their future home at the groom's farm east of Grand Rapids.

Mrs. J. Masselink went to Grand Rapids, Whitehall, Muskegon and Kalamazoo to visit friends and relatives. She will be away for a week.

Mrs. Rev. Reedyke of Chicago is in the city visiting friends and relatives. Her husband was formerly pastor of the First Christian Reformed church of this city.

M. Heyboer of Noordeloos moved to this city and occupies a house on McKinley street belonging to John Rookus, which has been vacant for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Van Haisma who were recently married at Zutphen moved into town and occupy the residence on Maple street formerly occupied by F. Van den Berg.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. M. De Jonge—a daughter; to Mr. and Mrs. A. Compagner—a daughter.

Miss Mary Brower, a clerk in the store of the Wolverine Tea company, lost one of her fingers when it was caught in a coffee mill which she was operating.

Rev. Wm. D. Vander Werp has received a call from the Second Christian Reformed church of Englewood, Chicago. It is an English speaking denomination.

Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Kamps have taken up their residence with Mayor Kamps. They have been staying at Macatawa Park for the past six months.

Rev. H. J. Mulder of Paufield, Mich., has received a call from the Christian Reformed church at Muskegon. He has also received a call from Kelloggville and Ada, Mich.

Zeeland boasts a number of improvements made during the past summer. Several houses have been built, repairs have been made in many instances and a liberal amount of paint has been used about town.

East Central avenue has been opened for traffic. This improvement has been long needed. The Wichers house has been moved and the street now opens into East Park and Highland park additions.

Several business changes have been made here recently. D. Bolier, who has been a milkman here for 17 years, has sold his No. 1 route to C. G. Sharp of New Groningen. Some of Mr. Bolier's customers have patronized him continuously for 14 years.

R. Manning has exchanged his property, consisting of a store and dwelling house, for the residence of Stephen Buter. Mr. Buter will conduct the store and Mr. Manning will probably purchase a farm.

A branch of the Wolverine Tea company of Holland has been opened here by Bert Wiersma of Zeeland and Roy Green of Holland.

Mrs. S. Gauw of Grand Rapids has opened a bazaar on Main street. She has a very attractive store.

Zeeland's store buildings are all occupied and merchants say that trade is very good.

Rev. C. Kuiper of Grand Rapids conducted the three services at the First Reformed church Sunday.

J. Van Mameren of Holland was in the city visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. Van Tongeren on Central avenue.

Rev. J. Smitter conducted the two services Sunday at the North St. Christian Reformed church.

Mr. and Mrs. J. De Rode of South Haven were in the city Monday visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Brouwer.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Mulder moved Monday to Grand Rapids where Mr. Mulder has accepted an excellent position.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Cole have purchased the old Vander Meer farm in Vriesland. Mr. Wm. Cole the former's father has also bought 2 acres of the Vander estate at Vriesland.

A republican rally took place Tuesday evening at Vriesland in the township hall, when the issues of the campaign were discussed by C. Vander Meulso and Henry Geerlings both of Holland. The Drenthe band furnished the music.

Mrs. A. Bredeweg is in Grand Rapids to see her daughter Mrs. A. Van Dyke who is in the hospital and will undergo an operation.

Mrs. R. Rynbrandt of Kalamazoo is visiting friends and relatives in the city.

George Densmore, son of L. P. Densmore of Hudsonville, was run over by a train about six o'clock on Monday evening. He had both legs cut off and died a short time after being taken to a house nearby. He was 15 years of age.

D. C. Ver Hage of Vriesland has made another deal with the Advance Co., of Battle Creek by trading his engine for a better and more improved one. He now has a compound engine which has a greater horse power and is a great fuel saver. He took his former to Grand Rapids Monday by road.

A surprise was sprung on Henry P. Wyngaarden last Tuesday evening by several of his friends. The evening was spent with music and games.

N. Dykema of Holland spent Sunday with his son E. J. Dykema.

Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Underhill and family of Grand Rapids are in the city visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. DeKruif on Church street.

REAPING BENEFIT

From the Experience of Holland People.

We are fortunate indeed to be able to profit by the experience of our neighbors. The public utterances of Holland residents on the following subject will interest and benefit thousands of our readers. Read this statement. No better proof can be had.

Mrs. W. Lawrence, 268 Van Raalte Ave., Holland, Mich., says: "I have taken Doan's Kidney Pills and my experience has been so satisfactory that I can recommend them. I was troubled greatly by dull pains in my kidneys and a constant backache made me miserable. The kidney secretions were also unnatural. Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Geo. L. Lage's Drug Store gave me prompt and lasting relief and improved my condition in every way. You are at liberty to continue the publication of the testimonial I gave in December, 1900 in favor of this remedy."

Accepted and the treasurer ordered charged with the amount.

The clerk presented the following communication from the Board of Public Works:

At a meeting of the board, held Oct. 17, 1910, the clerk reported that all of the property owners had signed the petition for the construction of sewer in West Fifteenth street, between Harrison and Cleveland avenues, that were liable for assessment to pay the cost of same.

Adopted.

At a meeting of the board, held Oct. 17, 1910, the contract for furnishing the material for the construction of the West Fifteenth street sewer was awarded to T. Keppel's Sons, they being the lowest bidders, subject to the approval of the Common Council.

Action approved.

The clerk reported the collection of $12,730.08 from the sales of the East Eighteenth street paving, East Eighteenth street grading and the construction of combined curb and gutter bonds, and the East Twentieth and West Eighth street sewer bonds.

Accepted and the treasurer ordered charged with the amount.

Justice Van der Meulen reported the collection of $1.50 ordinance fines, $11 state fines and $25 officers fees, and presented treasurer's receipt for the amounts.

Accepted and the treasurer ordered charged with the amounts.

The Board of Building Inspectors reported having examined the building at No. 182 River street, and reported that said building should be kept in such a condition of repairs that it could be occupied, and if this is not done it should be removed, and recommended that the owners be notified that unless the building be repaired within thirty days it will be condemned and ordered removed.

Adopted.

Said committee recommended that the owner of the ruins of the buildings situated at the northwest corner of Tenth and River streets be notified to complete the work of removing the remains at once.

Adopted.

The city engineer reported estimate of the amount due Contractor C. Marseman on the West Eighteenth street paving contract, $5,773.30.

Accepted and warrant ordered issued on the city treasurer in payment thereof.

The Board of Assessors reported the Special Street Assessment District Roll No. 2 for the grading of East Fourteenth street, between the east line of Marslij's subdivision and the west line of Fairbanks avenue.

On motion of Ald. Van Tongeren:

Resolved, that the foregoing Special Assessment Roll be and is hereby confirmed.

Moves into Larger Quarters

Preparations are in progress for the occupancy of the DeMerrell building on Eighth street by the W. H. Hardie Jewelry firm that has been doing business at the corner of Central avenue and Eighth street for the past eleven years. There will be much more room in the new place and greater opportunity for displaying the stock of jewelry as well as for the express business that Mr. Hardie has been conducting for several years. A new front is being put into the building and the interior will be completely renovated so as to make it one of the most up-to-date business places in the city.

Mr. Hardie came to Holland from Allegan in 1896 and started in the jewelry business here. From an extremely small beginning he has built up a trade that is one of the best in his line in the city. When first starting in he occupied the store now occupied by Schouten's Drug store, and later for about eight months he was in company with Will Breyman and occupied the building in which the Gerber Drug Co., now does business. After having bought Mr. Breyman's interest in the business Mr. Hardie moved to his present location and has occupied that store for eleven years.

The stock will be moved into the De Merrell building as soon as arrangements have been completed and the transfer will have been completed about November 15. There will be much more room and Mr. Hardie expects to increase his stock and pay more attention to the display of jewelry in the show windows and in the show cases. Greater attention will be given to the express business on account of the better accommodation. In every way the move will give opportunity for the branching out of the entire business.

Lawton T. Hemans' Record

It is worthy of note in this campaign that Lawton T. Hemans, the democratic candidate for governor, is making no reference to his own official record. Not a word has he uttered touching his official performances or attempted accomplishments.

Yet Mr. Hemans was on the salary list through two full terms as a legislator. He was not present at more than half the sessions of the body to which he belonged, but he drew pay for full time.

He introduced a bill to provide for an additional state board. But as a candidate for governor he is now denouncing the existence of so many state boards.

Mr. Hemans introduced a bill to license bucketshops in Michigan. His bill sought to make the pretended sales and purchases through bucketshops "legitimate legal transactions." What the people of Michigan think of the bucketshop business which would have been licensed and legalized if the democratic candidate for governor had secured the passage of his bill is shown by the fact that at the next session of the legislature following his effort a bill entirely prohibiting the existence of bucketshops in Michigan became a law.

Mr. Hemans is now seemingly distressed over state expenditures, but he voted for more appropriation bills than any other member of the legislature during his terms of service, and afterwards made an address in the constitutional convention, declaring that it was not true that Michigan legislators had ever made extravagant appropriations.

As a member of the constitutional convention Mr. Hemans opposed the proposition that the legislature of Michigan should have power to enact laws relative to the hours and conditions under which men and women may be employed.

This proposition was especially urged by the labor organizations of Michigan. They petitioned that the constitution should give this power to the legislature. And the justice of the request was recognized by the majority of the members of the constitutional convention. It was adopted by the constitutional convention and later on was approved by the people and is now a part of our state constitution.

But Lawton T. Hemans made a speech against it, sneeringly referring to it as "a little piece of sentiment." Why is Mr. Hemans not referring to this feature of official record?

It will be observed that Mr. Hemans has an official record. He was a member of the legislature through four years. Why does he entirely fail to base any claim to favor from the people of Michigan on the work he performed or attempted to perform as a supposed representative of the people?

Adopt the County Road System

Ottawa county, one of the best and richest counties in the commonwealth; is lagging in the matter of county roads. Other counties not nearly as rich or as prosperous as Ottawa have adopted the county road system and have roads that are models. Muskegon, to the north of us, has many miles of fine stone roads running into the country which have been built under the supervision of the state and a county road commission. Mason county adopted the system a number of years ago and has good roads running from Ludington and Scottville to various parts of the county. Many other counties throughout the state have adopted the system and as a result have roads that have built up entire counties and have greatly enhanced the value of property.

Ottawa county with an equalized valuation of about twenty five million dollars, has scarcely a mile of stone country road. This county could well afford to put fifty thousand dollars into the building of good roads and should do it and at once. Built under the supervision of the state good roads commission the state will help the county the extent of one thousand dollars per mile for every mile of road built. The roads cost from $2500 to $3000 per mile it is said, and fifty thousand would build a good many miles with the state's assistance further helping.

A stone road between this city and Holland for instance, would open up a country that is now largely sand road, in many places practically impassable at certain seasons of the year. Roads could be built in various sections of the county so that all would benefit from the system.

Ottawa county should adopt the county road system.

"Never Again"

Two years of democratic administration, 1891-1892 cost the state of Michigan $400,000 more than the whole total state expenditures in the previous 24 years.

That simple statement was placed in paragraph form where it will be easy to clip and paste in your hat. There is nothing verbose about it and it is not thick with the underbrush of palate-tickling platitudes but it is the most illuminating little gem that could possibly be found for practical reference purpose in these the closing days of the state campaign.

Remember it when you consider the coming election in November; remember it when you are contemplating the promises that the democratic party in Michigan is making today; and remember it when you mark your ballots.

The last time republican voters allowed their opponents to creep in to the seat of government, this state experienced two years of mal-administration such as has never been equaled in its history. Extravagance ruled and Michigan was plunged into a riot of political dissipation that weakened every department of the state government, and left the treasury stripped of its wealth. The spree over, the people handed the state back to the republican party administered the bromo-quinine, applied the ice bags and brought the patient back to a state where it was able to look on the future with some degree of pleasure again. The republican party has been the consulting physician ever since, and during the past few years has discovered political symptoms which prove that the patient is ready for advanced treatment. The medicine has been measured out, the dose which the system needs is ready, the patient himself is not only willing but eager to take it and has so declared himself when there is an interruption. Here comes Dr. Democracy, with a lot of quack dope, fairly crowding into the consultation room with a patent preparation that is "just as good" as the republican doctrine of "clean house" and behind him tip-toe the undertaker and his next door neighbor, the tomb stone maker, who was cheated out of their victim by a timely dose of republicanism once before. Glance at the bottle in the doctor's hand. Read the label. What does it say? "Two years of democratic administration, 1891-1892, cost the state of Michigan $400,000 more than the total state expenditures in the previous 24 years." This is the dose Michigan swallowed only a few years ago and if the aching head, the brown taste and the empty pocket-book are still within the memory of the people, the answer to the importunings of the democratic party will be—Never Again.

From the way newspaper correspondents report Mr. Osborn's speeches, the republican candidate must have taken pretty near all the hide of Mr. Hemans. Day after day we notice that Chase "flayed" him. Lansing Republican.

If Postmaster General Hitchcock succeeds in making the postoffice department self-sustaining, and in giving the public a 1-cent letter rate, nobody will ever pause to inquire whether he was a progressive or a standpatter.

Make Extensive Improvements

The popular firm of Bos & Bolhuis of which Alderman Jellema is secretary has made extensive improvements to their plant, the addition to the planing mill has been built and is 96x32 feet making the dimensions of the entire mill 96x80 feet. The entire lumber yard covers about five acres and the two store houses are 90x50 feet and 24x120. The yards are located on the Pere Marquette tracks near the Bush & Lane Piano company.

New machinery has been added which enables the firm to do all kinds of interior finishing not only but also manufacture doors of every kind. Some of the big jobs that the company has been engaged on lately are the job of the Hope church parsonage, of the addition to the Holland Shoe factory and the barn of James Kleinhessel in Overisel reputed to be the largest barn in the county. The company employs about 20 men.

Earl Blood of Otsego disappeared last Monday afternoon and has not been heard of since. It is thought by some that he committed suicide by drowning in the river there as he was broken hearted over the death of his wife which occurred about two weeks ago.

Allegan Fair Make Money, Clear $1,000

The Allegan fair association has about settled matters pertaining to the recent exhibition. The total receipts this year were in the neighborhood of $3,800. $2,000 was received at the gate, $100 in entrance fees, $160 at baseball games, $700 from concessions, $250 from advertising, $530 at the grandstand, and $200 from the board of trade of Allegan. The premiums have all been paid, the exhibitors have received checks. Among the expenses were $120 for improvements to the buildings and the further construction of the water system. The fair debt will be lowered by about $500 so that but a small debt will remain. The officers are very grateful to the people for their liberal support and to the business men of the city. Tom Cook president of the fair says that the fair will clear between $700 and $1,000.

$10,000 Note Wraps Roll

A man whose clothes looked shabby and dirty, went to Purser Schnell, of the Kaiser Wilhelm II., just before sailing time and said he wanted passage to Europe.

His appearance was such that the purser asked rather dubiously, "Do you want a first cabin room?" "I do," replied the man.

"An inside room will cost you $122.50," the purser said.

"I don't want an inside room," the man answered, with just a touch of feeling, "I want an outside room with a bath."

Whereupon he reached inside his vest and pulled out a roll of bills that compared well in size with his dingy derby. Around the outside was wrapped a $10,000 note, and from the inside he extracted a bill or two to pay the $425 his accommodations cost him.

The purser suggested that so much money should be left in the vault for safekeeping, but the owner thrust it back into his pocket.

The man was found in his cabin. He said he was Wilhelm Cassel, but wouldn't tell any more about himself.

"I'm from the woods," he said, "but I've got the stuff and that's all you need, you know."

An Egg-Laying Cock

A news item of October 4 from York, Pa., says: "Consternation reigns among the 1200 or more hens in the poultry department of the York County Fair, for an egg-laying rooster has appeared and threatens to defeat them at their particular vocation. This rooster, which is labeled 'Laying Buff Leghorn Cock,' appears in a pen in the poultry house and as undisputed proof of his accomplishment laid an egg this week in the presence of a throng of spectators. As though this were not enough disgrace to the outraged hens, his owner, Mrs. F. D. Lauer of Dover Township, has entered a dozen of his eggs in the table-egg competition. They are brown in color, and as they are of good size and shape, there is a possibility that he may carry off a premium in this department.

As for the judges, they simply don't know what to do, the feathered marvel has them so perplexed. They want to be sure that the wonder is not merely a hen with masculine resemblance derived from its father, and they know that they can solve their doubts by anything less than the dictum of an expert. It is therefore proposed to make a biological investigation with X ray before awarding the laying leghorn a prize.

DEATHS

After a lingering illness of about six months, Mrs. L. Assendorp died at her home on West 10th street Monday morning. The deceased had suffered for a long time of a cancer of the stomach. She was 82 years old and is survived by a husband and five children. The funeral will be held this afternoon at one o'clock from the home and two o'clock from the Ninth street Christian Reformed church. The Rev. R. L. Haan will officiate at the services. Deceased is survived by five children Mrs. H. Ter Beek of this city; Mrs. Vliek of South Boardman; J. VandenBerg of Hastings; A. E. Vanden Berg of Dowagiac and Mrs. Klinkers of South Boardman.

Clerks will Organize

Much enthusiasm is being stirred up among the clerks of this city in regard to the organization of the Clerks' association that will take place next Monday evening. Nelson Pyle who launched the whole movement at the last meeting of the Merchants' association has been hard at work getting the clerks of the various stores interested and enlisting their support of the project.

"There is a feeling among the girl clerks," said Pyle, "that it will be an organization of men and boys only. But this is a mistake. The lady

A Story of Lincoln

The following story of Lincoln is told by Prof. James McCleary of Mankato, Minn., and is here published for the first time.

"A friend of mine out west, who is now a man of about 60, told me that when a boy he attended, with his father, one of the famous Lincoln-Douglas debates in Illinois," said Prof. McCleary. "My friend's father was a Lincoln man, but the place in which this particular debate took place was a Douglas stronghold. 'Douglas spoke first, and he was frequently interrupted by vociferous applause. The cheering and the handclapping at the end lasted four or five minutes. When Lincoln was introduced the crowd broke out into cheers for Douglas, and kept it up for several minutes, Lincoln meanwhile waiting patiently.

"When at length the enthusiasm had subsided Lincoln extended his long right arm for silence. When he had partly got this he said in an impressive tone, 'What an orator Judge Douglas is!'"

"This unexpected tribute to their friend set the audience wild with enthusiasm. When this applause had run its course, Lincoln, extending his hand again, this time obtained silence more easily."

"What a fine presence. Judge Douglas has!" exclaimed the speaker earnestly. Again tumultuous applause followed tribute. More and more easily the tall, gaunt lawyer got silence as he went on with admiring exclamations.

"How well rounded his sentences are! How well chosen his language is! How apt his illustrations are! Ending up with 'What a splendid man Judge Douglas is!'"

"Then when the audience had again become silent, at his call, Lincoln leaned forward and said:

"And now, my countrymen, how many of you can tell me one thing Judge Douglas said?"

"My friend told me he searched his own heart for an answer and found none. Afterwards he asked his father if he could remember anything Judge Douglas had said, and the latter remembered practically nothing. 'But,' my friend said to me impressively, 'even now, half a century later, I can recall practically all that Lincoln said.'"

Mr. Clark's Reply to Mr. Wilde's Second Tirade

MR. JOHN F. WILDE,
Coopersville, Michigan

Dear Sir—

Replying to yours of the 24th inst. in which you suggest that my communication be directed to Mr. Voter, will first call your attention to the fact that Mr. Wilde admits that he can not understand the Democratic platform, by saying that the Statements of either party platform might be construed a dozen different ways and so he forsakes the party under whose flag he sails and launches out upon the political wave in what he chooses to call "His Platform," made up principally, of republican and democratic planks but put together with Socialistic nails.

He sacrifices Mr. Winship by pledging his support to Mr. Townsend and after having been put on a Slate made up at Grand Rapids by a few of the leading democrats of the county (whose friendship, I by the way value most highly) and thereby having evaded competition, the prime feature of the Primary law, declares himself in favor of Direct Nomination and the extending of the present law. Perhaps he can explain to you how it happened that the same signatures appear upon each and all of the democratic petitions, practically without a slate having been made.

Mr. Voter can you understand the reason for both Mr. Wilde and Mr. Brusse, pledging their support to Mr. Townsend, and being so emphatic about it unless it is a ruse on the part of the Democratic party to catch Republican votes and thereby get control of the State Legislature?

Mr. Wilde gives as his reason for sacrificing Mr. Winship, that Mr. Townsend received the majority of all the votes cast at the primaries and therefore should be elected. If that is the case why should not the same rule apply in my case as I was nominated by a majority of more than 50 votes over those received by all other candidates?

Ask Mr. Wilde and Mr. Brusse, if they did not advocate the "Free Coinage of Silver at the Ratio of Sixteen to One," the principle of Government Ownership of Railroads etc.; The principle of "Free Trade or Tariff for Revenue, only" if they have not always stood for everything that was contrary to Republican Principles and if so why do they merit the support of the Republican voters.

I wish to take advantage of this opportunity to request of my friends that may not be in position to watch the political moves that are being made, that you be on your guard against the "Grand Stand Plays" that are being made, more particularly during this campaign than there has been for years past.

I will make you no rash promises, but if elected will endeavor to look after our mutual interests, as best I can, and assure you that I am not tied in any way to a political faction more than to support the republican principles and candidates so far as it is at all times consistent with honest convictions to do so.

Hoping that you will not find the dozen or more ways of construing the above, that you do the democratic Platform, I am very sincerely, clerks will be just as welcome to the meeting next Monday evening as the men and in fact we are figuring on them to help make the movement a success. In many of the stores there are more girl clerks than men and the organization would not be a representative one if the ladies were not allowed to become members. Every clerk in any store in this city can join, and all should take an interest in the movement."

Walter H. Clark, Republican candidate for Representative, 2nd District, Ottawa County.

It is proposed to make preliminary plans next Monday evening and to appoint the necessary committees to draw up a constitution and by-laws by which the new body will be governed. If there are a sufficient number of clerks present to warrant an organization officers will be elected and such other business will be transacted as those present may deem necessary.

Some of the Merchants are reported to be opposed to the movement, fearing that the organization will be in the nature of a union and that when they have once completed their organization there may be an aftermath in the nature of requests for higher wages. One merchant is said to have accosted one of the clerks who is working enthusiastically for the clerk's association and to have called him a blankety-blank fool for stirring in such an affair.

"If you are looking for higher wages," he is reported to have said, "why don't you go to your boss on the quiet and hit him for it without stirring up such a fuss about it and getting all of us other merchants into trouble?"

"The question of more pay," answered the clerk, "never entered my mind. I am perfectly satisfied, but if your conscience bothers you why don't you raise your own clerk's right now and then the organization will have no terrors for you."

Previous to this conversation the question of combination for higher wages had never been thought of by the clerks and the movement was not begun with this purpose.

He resigned that position last September to take a much better position with the Michigan Power Co. of Owosso, Mr. and Mrs. De Young left Friday noon for a short visit to Detroit, from whence they go to Owosso, to make their future home.

Hope Church Notes

A Men's Meeting tonight will plan for definite work along the lines of social Christianity to which all men are invited.

The Catechumens' first gathering was so large that two classes will be formed, the younger children meeting next Wednesday and the young people on Thursday at 4 in the afternoon.

Next week Thursday the Christian Endeavor Society extend an invitation to all to a sociable at the Church Parlors.

The topics for the Sunday sermons are, in the morning, "Church Unity? or Church Comity?", suggested by J. Pierpont Morgan's $100,000 gift for making all denominations one.

The evening subject is "The Heresy of Heafay."

Interesting Program Rendered

The Woman's Literary club met yesterday afternoon in the club rooms in the Visscher building and carried out a very interesting program. Mrs. Vanderveen, president of the club gave a report of the State Federation of Women's Clubs that was held in Battle Creek last week and to which Mrs. Vanderveen was the delegate from the local organization. One of the most interesting things about the stay in Battle Creek was a banquet given to the 800 delegates by Mr. Kellogg of toasted corn fame. Meat in every form was tabooed at the banquet and the menu was made up entirely of health foods such as has made Battle Creek famous.

Mrs. Vanderveen reported that the gathering at Battle Creek voted in favor of woman suffrage by a small majority. The local club is not in favor of giving the ballot to the women. They took a vote on it some time ago and downed it by a vote of 30 to 13. Their delegate was therefore instructed to vote against the measure but the suffragettes landed a small majority.

Helene Keppel sang a solo at the meeting yesterday afternoon after which Dr. J. J. Mersen gave a talk on "The White Plague." The talk of the doctor was instructive and interesting. The fight against tuberculosis is being carried on with a great deal of vigor, and clubs like the W. L. C. all over the country are deeply interested in the movement. Mr. Mersen spoke chiefly on the cause and the cure of the dread disease.

A Case of Mystery

Hardly rested out after his long journey to Mexico it is possible that Sheriff Andre may have to make another long journey in the near future in an entirely different direction. Last week William J. Bailey a Grand Haven man died in his room in a hotel in Denver, Colo., and now there is a strong suspicion that the unfortunate man met with foul play although when news first came home there was a general impression that it was a case of suicide.

After the arrival of the body in Grand Haven Dr. William De Kliene made an examination of the remains and from what he found he decided that it was not a gun shot wound at all, which caused death. There was practically nothing about the wound which would indicate suicide and it is not believed that William Bailey came to his death by his own hand.

There is but one wound to be found upon the body of the unfortunate man and that is directly on the top of the head in a position as to make it impossible for a self-inflicted wound. It has none of the appearances of a bullet wound. There are no signs of powder burns on the scalp and the hair is not singed in the least as would be the case if a shot were fired at close range.

The wound itself is not a gun shot wound. The hole in the scalp is not a clean one, such as might be expected were it made by a bullet. It is rather a three cornered break as though made by a sharp instrument. The hole is deep and the doctor was able to probe two inches or more.

Another strange feature, is the fact that the top of the skull was somewhat crushed as though by a heavy blow. The circumstances would leave hardly more than one theory and that is that the Grand Haven man was struck on the head by some heavy object to which may have been attached a sharp instrument of some sort.

From recent developments Mr. Bailey's friends in Grand Haven are almost certain that he was the victim of foul play and perhaps murdered in cold blood for the little money he had with him.

Steps will be taken to have a complete investigation made into the matter. Bailey left Grand Haven three weeks ago being a tuberculosis sufferer. The report of his death came as a great surprise to his relatives and they could not accept the suicide theory from the very start.

The Martyrdom of Fools

Few lectures have appeared in Holland who made such an impression on their audience as Thos. Brooks Fletcher did last Friday at Carnegie gymnasium. Original, cool, fearless yet at all times tender, the masterful orator drove home his mighty truths with the rapidity of a fast firing gun. His capture of the audience was a complete surprise to all, before they knew it they were his. During the early part of his speech he rushed them from one pleasurable emotion to another, caught them before they had time to give vent to it and rushed them on until the climax that lifted the whole audience from their seats. It was a wonderful masterful, feat of oratory.

The content of the lecture was not less satisfactory than his powerful delivery. Fletcher is a man with a message. Every word of his lecture was a dymonic. Every thought was alive with truth. Every sentence was an electric current that charged us with the resolve to live better. His words pictures were intensely dramatic. Each of them conveyed a grand lesson that will not soon be forgotten. Mr. Fletcher is not a coming man, he is a man already. In the words of the president of his college "Fletcher has made it famous". Such expressions from business men on the morning after the lecture "Best ever", "a mighty good thing", "a wonder of thought and action" are a proof of the excellence of the first number of the College Lecture Course. If the aim of a lecture is to impress, entertain and uplift then the "Martyrdom of Fools" has attained its end for it inspired every one with the resolve to become wiser and better men.

Osborn in Allegan County

Renewing their attacks upon the general campaigning methods of Lawton T. Hemans, Chase S. Osborn, Republican candidate for governor, and ex-Mayor George P. Codd of Detroit, opened the fall campaign in Allegan county, when they spoke to 1,000 persons last week in Streeter's Opera house.

Mr. Osborn called the attention to the distorted statistics on general state issues that are being passed out with a liberal hand by the Democratic nominee and repeated his former charges that such methods were not only unfair, but were entirely uncalled for.

The speaker also returned to his general criticism of the "drowsy and uninterested" legislative record of Mr. Hemans. In this connection, he declared that the Democratic nominee had been absent from the sessions a total of 45 times without leave.

"But Mr. Hemans never refused to accept pay from the state for the times he was absent," said the speaker. "Does it seem a good qualification for a man running for governor to carry such a record as that?"

"Mr. Hemans admits his connection with the buck-shop bill as I pointed out. When he declared that he introduced this bill for a constituent and did not thoroughly understand its importance, do you think he makes a wise admission for a man running for governor of your state and my state?"

TOLD FOR A MEMORIAL OF HER
Matthew 26:1-16—October 30

"She hath done what she could."—Mark 14:9.
In a previous study we considered the Great Teacher's triumphal entry into Jerusalem on the ass, and his tender of himself to the Nation of Israel as their King, in fulfillment of the prophecy of Zechariah 9:9-12. That was five days before the Passover. For several days Jesus taught in the temple, going at night to the home of Lazarus, Martha and Mary at Bethany. He knew what to expect—that his hour was come. He knew that even then the chief priests and elders of the people were considering his destruction and hesitating only lest it should cause tumult. Their indignation against the Great Teacher was that he did not teach as they taught and that his teachings had much more power with the masses than all their teachings combined. Anger, envy, hatred, united in branding him as an impostor and in sending him to his death, "for the good of the cause."

The feast at Bethany referred to in this study may have been on the night before our Lord's betrayal, two days before the feast of Passover. But the consensus of opinion seems to be that it occurred on the Sabbath evening preceding the triumphal ride to Jerusalem. It matters not, however. There was such a feast. Jesus and his disciples were present. During the feast a woman approached with an alabaster flask of very precious perfume. She poured it upon his head and the entire room was sweet with the odor. The woman was Mary, the sister of Lazarus and Martha.

Another account shows that the protest made by the disciples against this as a waste was instigated by Judas, the treasurer of the little company of the Lord's disciples. John remarked that he was a thief and carried the bag and intimated that he was more interested in the money than in the poor and that his mention of the poor was merely a subterfuge. But the Great Teacher rebuked his disciples, saying, "Why trouble ye the woman; for she hath wrought a good work upon me; in that she hath poured this ointment upon my body she did it to prepare me for burial. Truly I say unto you, Whosoever this Gospel shall be preached in the whole world, there shall also this which this woman hath done be told for a memorial of her" (Matthew xxvi, 10-13). How considerate was the Great Teacher! How sympathetic! How appreciative of everything done for him!

"She Hath Done What She Could"
The Lord, in line with all the Scripture teachings and usages, declines to recognize woman as a teacher of religion in the Church amongst his followers. No woman was given a place amongst the twelve Apostles—nor even when the seventy evangelists were sent forth with the simple message, which any woman could have given, surely as glibly as any man, or more so; even on this mission he did not send women, nor even a representative of the sex. The man, in Scriptural usage, is the figure of the Lord; the woman, the figure of the Church. It would be out of harmony with the figure that the Church should be the instructor and the Lord the pupil. Consistently, therefore, it would have been improper for woman to have been commissioned to represent the Lord. Hence, women as teachers in the Church have no authority in the Bible for the position. We read that the serpent beguiled Mother Eve and made of her a teacher of error.

ror to her husband. We read that the evil spirits used a certain young woman as a medium to announce the Apostles. But we find no Divine sanction of woman as a teacher in the Church, but that the young woman who acted under the spirit of divination and attempted to preach Christ and the Apostles was rebuked by the Apostle Paul and the spirit of divination dispossessed. All this, however, does not indicate that either Jesus or the Apostles were either rude toward women or unappreciative of their qualities of heart and mind. Quite the contrary. Amongst the Lord's followers were many "honorable women" and his special love for this Mary and her sister Martha is particularly recorded. Let us learn the lesson from the Book and not attempt to teach the Book.

"The Poor Always With You"
Our Lord, in reply to the argument of Judas, that the ointment should have been sold for a large sum for the benefit of the poor, answered, The poor ye have always with you. Whosoever ye will ye may do them good; but me ye have not always. Poverty is sure to be a factor in the social order during the present time, because, in our fallen condition as a race, some are more brilliant of mind than others and selfishness is the general rule. Hence until the end of the reign of sin and death the poor will be here. And there is a blessing attached to every good deed, every noble endeavor to help any member of the race to higher and better conditions, mentally, morally, physically. By and by there will be no poor, for, under the Kingdom condition, love will be the ruling principle, instead of selfishness.

"But Me Ye Have Not Always"
This was true of the Master. A little while and he was gone from them, ascended to the Father's right hand. The same principle prevails in respect to the Lord's followers styled, "The members of his Body." Whatever we can do for these members, the great Head will consider as though done unto himself. While, therefore, it will always be in order to do good unto all men as we have opportunity, it will always be in order also to do good "especially unto the household of faith."

The spirit of selfishness in Judas led on from one degree to another of covetousness until he was willing to sell his Master to his enemies. Alas, what a terrible power for evil is selfishness! How many are willing to barter the Truth for the sake of worldly ease or prosperity! Such as have the spirit of the Truth to a considerable extent should beware of where selfishness leads if followed—to the Second Death.

35 Years ago To-day.

Ald. Sipp has in his possession an old copy of a newspaper. It is No. 34, of Vol. II, of The Sentinel of Freedom, published at Newark, New Jersey, and dated May 22, 1798. Among its contents we notice part of President Adam's message with the proceedings of the "Federal Legislature." Also the arrival of a schooner from Bordeaux with newspapers from Paris to the 20th of March.

The coal agitation, on the "Vis-sers" farm has reached the following situation: They have bored to a depth of thirty-nine feet. After they were down about ten feet they struck a dark clay, said to be soap-stone and fire-proof. Mr. Laitel of Grand Rapids, visited that locality and took a sample with him to have it tested. It is said that there is every indication thus far of finding coal below the clay. They have suspended further operations until the quality of this clay and its indications have been further ascertained.

Mr. E. J. Harrington has broken the monotony of that unoccupied corner in the west part of the city, by fencing in his lots in the "tannery addition."

Rev. M. Clapper preached to quite a large crowd in Robert Graham's saloon, at Coopersville, Monday evening. If religious interest die out in Coopersville it will not be the fault of Mr. Clapper.—Heard.

The Common Council has ordered the purchase of Mr. Morse of thirty copies of his Bird's-Eye View of our city, being a balance he had left on hand after supplying his regular subscribers. As the artist on Tuesday morning walked into the City Clerk's office to get his order on the Treasurer for the amount, he made the casual remark that this completed his Holland job. And as bad luck would have it, it was only a little while thereafter that he lost his wallet containing about two hundred and fifty dollars, and has failed to hear about it since.—Several people still have this birds-eye view on their walls, it having been sketched on the north side of the bay.

Our city narrowly escaped a large conflagration on Thursday evening. As the Cornet Band were leaving their rooms above Kroon's hardware store, they discovered a fire in the adjoining building, said to be owned by Wilson & Lawrence, of Saugatuck, formerly occupied by the later as a saloon, but which for several months has been vacant. The alarm was given and the department was promptly on the ground, and succeeded to check the further spreading of the flames. Upon examination it was at once evident to have been a case of incendiarism. The building was set on fire from the inside; two holds had been made in the wall, stuffed with shavings and saturated with kerosene. The fire broke out on the west side of the building, under the outside staircase. Damage about $100. Several rumors are afloat and suspicions entertained.

The steamer Alpena was one of the finest, and she was certainly the fastest boat of the Goodrick Transportation Company. She left Grand Haven for Chicago on Friday evening about 9:30. The steamer left Grand Haven while the weather was beautiful, but the barometer predicted a violent storm, and the storm signals were out. She was met on her way by the steamer Muskegon at about one o'clock in the morning, all right steering her course. Perhaps the worst gale that ever swept over Lake Michigan, struck her at about 3 o'clock on Saturday morning, or a few minutes thereafter. Subsequent events showed that she, nor anything else could keep her course in the face of such a hurricane. She was seen at six, seven and eight o'clock by the schooner Irish, and by Capt. George Boomsliuter of the barge city of Grand Haven, off Kenosha, at an estimated distance of about 35 miles from the west shore, laboring heavily to crawl to the windward.

She was seen later in the same locality by other vessel captains one of whom reported that she was lying on one side, with one of her paddles out of the water. This would indicate that her cargo had shifted, and thus become unmanageable.

She must have drifted the rest of that day, and perhaps until Sunday morning, at the mercy of the wind and waves, well over to this shore—say 15 or 20 miles—when the wind shifted to the westward, or nearly northward, and brought the debris of the wreck on our beach near our harbor.

The waves were so powerful during the late gale that our south pier has settled down in bad shape, and the lighthouse was moved out of place. The Government is now having the pier light moved further in. Mr. C. Blom took the job to do it.

The damage by the gale on Saturday and Sunday last in this city was inconsiderable. The smoke stack of the Butter Tub factory was blown down, the cornice of the City Hotel damaged, a cap off the west chimney of the new school house, and other small mishaps.

The schooner Joses, Capt. Schaddelee, rode out the gale, at an anchor before Lincoln Park, and after the gale was over went about her business to Muskegon. The schr. Plugger, Capt. B. Van Rij, was out in all of the gale, weathered it nobly and reached Michigan City on Tuesday morning, minus her deck load. The staunch new schooner of Messrs. Cutler & Savidge—the Hunter Savidge—on which Messrs. Gerrit S. Doesburg and Al. Fisher of this city, are sailing, weathered out the whole storm and arrived in Michigan City on Tuesday morning. All report, however, that it was the hardest blow they had ever experienced.

The Alpena disaster has thrown a profound gloom over this community, as several of the lost parties were either citizens here, or at least, well known.

Married:—Saturday, Oct. 24, by Rev. H. D. Jordan, Mr. Thomas F. Howe, of Grand Haven, to Miss Carrie Aussieker, of Holland.

Mrs. L. Schaddelee, the mother of Mayor R. Kanters and ex-Mayor K. Schaddelee, died last Wednesday at the home of her son Rijk Schaddelee who moved to Grand Rapids last summer from this place.

The most auspicious social event that has occurred in this city this season was the marriage of Hon. Gerrit J. Diekema, member of the State Legislature from the First District of Ottawa county, and a prominent member of the bar of this city, and in fact of this section of the state, to Miss Mary E. Alcott, one of Holland's fairest maidens, and a daughter of Mrs. S. G. Alcott, who resides on Tenth street. The bride and groom have lived here from childhood, are both graduates of Hope College, and have hosts of friends in this community. The high social position occupied by both bride and groom in this community, enlisted an unusual interest on the part of the public, and was undoubtedly the cause of the large attendance to witness the ceremony. The event took place in Hope church last Tuesday evening, October 27, and was witnessed by fully five hundred of our best people. Rev. R. H. Joldersma, of Spring Lake, a classmate and friend of the groom, officiating, assisted by Rev. Dr. Scott. The chancel of the church was handsomely decorated with plants, flowers, floral designs, and autumn leaves the perspective of which was very beautiful. At eight o'clock the rich and mellow tones of the organ as it pealed forth a wedding march, announced to the vast audience that the wedding party were there. The service of the Reformed church was read by the officiating clergyman, who added a few brief and appropriate remarks of congratulation, and the happy couple were pronounced man and wife. Between the hours of 8:30 and 10:30 Mr. and Mrs. Diekema were "at home" at the residence of the mother of the bride, to receive the congratulations of their many friends. Nearly two hundred called and extended greetings to the happy couple who start on life's journey with the brightest prospects and with the kind wishes for their future happiness of the people of this city. Many very beautiful and costly as well as useful presents were given them. The 11:30 Chicago train bore the newly wedded pair who intend making a short visit to the bride's relatives in Illinois.

The Muskegon liquor-smuggling case will be tried at this term of the U. S. court, at Grand Rapids, the respondent, Capt. Wm C. Smith, having plead "not guilty." Smith was arrested at Muskegon, in July, while in command of the schooner Elgin. When the vessel, which had sailed from Canada, arrived in Muskegon the peculiar actions of the crew attracted the attention of an officer, who examined the boat and found an assorted quantity of liquor stored in bottles and jugs. An U. S. officer caught one of the crew making for a saloon with a covered basket which he said contained chickens; the fowls, however, were six bottles of whiskey. Collector McBride seized the vessel and turned it over to the United States marshal.

The village of Zeeland is happy in the arrival of its steam fire engine. A test trial the other day demonstrated that it could do very effective work with two streams. The attention of the board of trustees will next be devoted to an increase of water supply.

J. C. Dunton and wife nee Marion Howard came up from Grand Rapids on their bicycles, Tuesday, their object being to look after their business interests here. Mr. Dunton is one of the leading real estate men of the Valley City and is thinking of platting out a portion of the Howard estate, providing he can obtain a controlling interest in the property. There has been quite a demand and a decided upward tendency in north side property of late. The latest rumor is that well known Wisconsin capitalists are figuring on establishing a large boiler making plant that will employ in the neighborhood of 800 men on the lake front this side of Pine areek. Nothing definite in the way of information can as yet be given out.

Mortgage Sale

Default having been made in the payment of a mortgage given by Lammert Ter Beek of Holland, Mich. to Tobias Koffers of said city, which mortgage is dated December 20th
A. D. 1905 and recorded on Jan. 3,
1906 in Liber 78 of mortgages page
592 in the Ottawa County Register of Deeds Office, on which mortgage there is now due and unpaid the sum of $462.53 and no proceedings having been taken at law or in equity to recover said debt, or any part thereof;

Therefore notice is hereby given that said mortgage will be foreclosed by sale of the mortgaged premises at public auction to the highest bidder at the north front door of the courthouse in the City of Grand Haven, that being the place at which the Circuit Court for the County of Ottawa is held, on Monday, the 12th day of December, A. D., 1910, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon of said day.

The mortgaged premises to be sold are described as follows.

A parcel of land situated in the City of Holland, Ottawa County, Michigan, described as follows: All that part of lot seven (7) block fifty-one (51) in the City of Holland which is bounded on the west side by the east margin line of Columbia Ave.; on the south side by the north margin line of 12th St.; on the east side

Mortgage Sale

Default having been made in the payment of a certain mortgage given by Lammert Ter Beek of Holland, Mich., to the First State Bank of Holland, a corporation of said city, which mortgage is dated January 9, 1905 and is recorded in the office of the register of deeds of Ottawa County, Michigan on Jan. 12,
1905 in liber 78 of mortgages page 275; and which mortgage was assigned by said First State Bank of Holland to Thomas H. Marsilje of Holland, Michigan, on Sept. 6, 1910 and which assignment was recorded on Sept. 9th 1910 in liber 105 of mortgages on page 3, on which said mortgage there is due the sum of $104.64 and no proceeding having been taken at law or in equity to recover said debt or any part thereof;

Now therefore notice is hereby given that the premises described in said mortgage and hereinafter described will be sold at public auction to the highest bidder at the north front door of the courthouse in the City of Grand Haven, that being the place where the Circuit Court of Ottawa County is held, on

Peter Hilarides living at 180 West Sixteenth Street has grown a second crop of strawberries. The berries are large and juicy and in no respect inferior to the variety grown in the spring of the year.

Tonight, Oct. 27, the Hope College Choral Union will hold its first session in Van Raalte Hall at 2 o'clock. All old members as well as the new are requested to be present.

The state railroad commission has compiled statistics which show that the Pere Marquette railway killed 45 persons and injured 314 during the fiscal year ending June 30th; the Michigan Central killed 84 and injured 170; the Lake Shore killed 19 and injured 231.

News has been received here that Rev. Dr. Albert Oltmans and son have arrived at Tokio, Japan. The doctor again assumes the chair of theology in the Tokio seminary, and the son, Harvey, is physical director in the gymnasium of the Tokio Y. M. C. A.

A number of Sunday school meetings previous to the Sunday school convention at Grand Rapids were held this week in West Olive, Alledale, Eastmanville, Lamont and Hudsonville. The officers of the association are: President, Henry Geerlings, Holland; secretary-treasurer, J. C. Lehman, Grand Haven.

The Boone Bros. have been notified by Almer S. Deysher of Philadelphia that Shutsworthy, a four-year-old colt owned by him and sired by Axworthy, a recent production of the Boone stables has taken a mark of 2:17 2/5 trotting at Lexington, Ky. Axworthy is probably the bluest-blooded horse in Michigan today. He is comparatively a young sire but his colts are already showing the form of the Great Maxworthy strain.

As was stated in the News before the people of Holland, under the direction of the churches, are circulating forty petitions for signatures asking the postmaster general not to have the postoffice open at this place on Sunday. The petitions declare that few people patronize the postoffice on Sunday and that the custom deprives the postoffice officials and clerks of a day of rest. These petitions follow a general attack from the pulpits in which the members were scored for rushing from the house of worship to the postoffice to get their papers and business letters.

But for the presence of mind of Miss Margaret Armstrong, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Armstrong, the beautiful Armstrong cottage at Waukoozoo might have been completely destroyed by fire last week. Margaret and her mother were staying at the cottage later than the rest of the family. Mr. Armstrong having returned to Chicago. The girl discovered fire under the house and grabbing a hatchet and the lawn hose she started to fight the flames singlehanded. Though almost suffocated by the smoke the girl fought courageously until the fire had been put out. The entire floor in one of the rooms was burned.

The monthly report of State Game Warden Pierce shows that out of 69 cases started during September for violation of the game and fish laws, 69 convictions were secured and $1,035.35 in fines and costs were collected. There were 123 complaints of violations investigated by the department during the month. With about 1,000 railway, express, telegraph and telephone corporations which are required to report to the state tax commission annually, and many of them not reporting up to September 15, the state may reap a harvest. The law provides a penalty of $500 daily for failure to report after this date. The matter has been reported to the attorney general and there may be something happening to some of them.

Chase S. Osborn, the republican candidate for governor, received seven out of every eight votes cast at the primary election in Chippewa county. No better testimonial could possibly be given as to Mr. Osborn's standing in his home city and his home county than the almost unanimous vote cast for him at the primary election provides. Mr. Osborn is an active and aggressive man, one who does things and seeks to have others perform their part. It is not usually true that such men are popular. They do not seek for popularity, but for helpful accomplishment. In Chase Osborn's case, however, he has secured accomplishment without creating antagonism, and the fact that he received the almost unanimous endorsement of his home people for governor shows what is thought of Mr. Osborn and his ability and his value by those who have known him longest and known him best.

Eight Hundred Greet Osborn

An audience that filled Price's Rink last evening greeted our republican candidate for governor, Chase Osborn. In the afternoon a special Interurban car was chartered and was in charge of Manager Charles A. Floyd who has been a life long friend of Mr. Osborn, when Mr. Floyd lived at the "Soo" as Mr. Osborn expressed it. "I knew him from babyhood." Aboard the car were Con De Pree, Henry Luideus, John Van Wieren, John Rutgers, Wm. Stephan, Peter Brusse, John VanderBerg, Henry Geerlings, Mr. Wiedenfelder, Frank Congleton, Nick Kameraad, Gerrard Cook, Edward Westveer, Louis Oosterhous, Edward P. Kirby, Walter Lane, Ben Brower, Dana Ten Cate, Jerry Leaplie, Henry Pelgrim, Ben Van Raalte, Frank Brieve, John B. Mulder and Ben Mulder.

The run was made to Grand Rapids in fifty minutes where Mr. Osborn and Mr. Codd, ex-mayor of Detroit and the representatives of the state press were taken on and the return trip began. The car was decorated with pictures of the candidate for governor in every window. The special reached Holland at 4 o'clock, where the autos of Walter Lane and Con De Pree took the guests for a ride about the city and the resorts. On their return Abe Stephan had dinner ready to serve at Hotel Holland which had been arranged for by Mr. Stephan with the genial manager Mr. Wentworth of Hotel Holland. A fine spread was given the guests and a neatly printed menu card with Mr. Osborn's picture in the center at each plate. Cover was laid for about thirty guests. After the repast the Holland Martial band was on hand to escort the speakers to Price's Rink at least one hundred including Mr. Osborn fell in behind the drum corps, and to the time of "the girl I left behind me", and "marching through Georgia" they all marched to the place of meeting. It reminded one of the old fashioned campaigns with the bitter feeling left out and friendly batonage remaining. Con De Pree acted as chairman of the meeting and he handled the part like a veteran.

Mr. Cobb of Detroit was the first speaker and was well received. After he attacked the public record of Lawton T. Hemans, and offering proof of his charges especially dwelling upon the time that Heman's voted for and fostered a bucketshop bill when he was a member of the legislature upon which the News comments editorially in another column. In fact several of Codd's arguments will be found in this issue. He made a general plea for the success of the entire Republican state ticket on November 8.

Mr. Osborn was then introduced, and it was fully three minutes before he could proceed with his speech so enthusiastically was he received. The republican candidate for governor was tendered one of the most inspiring ovations ever offered a political candidate.

His eloquently delivered plea for a higher plane of political office seekers, a personnel in the Republican party that its members might be justly proud of and his kindly criticism of the record of the Democratic party and its candidates, not alone in Michigan but the entire country as well, won loud and prolonged applause for him.

"Mr. Hemans has said that in his opinion there are too many idle and worthless state employees. Permit me to recall that that was my contention all through the primary campaign and also allow me to repeat my promise that, if elected governor I will remove every unworthy and inefficient officeholder in the state's employ.

Mr. Osborn especially paid a high tribute to our Congressman Diekema, in fact he was unselfish in that regard as is his nature. The greater part of his speech was devoted to the interest of our townsmen. Among the things he said about Diekema was, "that they are proud of him at the Soo, and they feel there Diekema measures shoulder to shoulder with the biggest men in congress and able to cope with most any emergency that presents itself. He related an incident showing how Diekema is always ready when called upon. It happened says Mr. Osborn that Mr. Diekema was speaking at the Soo on a Saturday night to a large audience and was my guest over Sunday. In the morning I took him to the Presbyterian church for worship. It so happened that the minister there was Mr. Kennedy formerly of Grand Haven a fine gentleman and a thorough christian worker. He spied Mr. Diekema in his audience coming from the pulpit over where we sat he greeted us. Knowing the present congressmen well, he invited him to give the sermon that morning. It certainly placed Mr. Diekema in a very embarrassing position not being prepared for such an occasion, but pulling himself together he marched obediently to the platform and extemporaneously gave one of the best moral lessons I have ever heard. It simple goes to show that wherever or whenever he is called upon he is not found wanting." The recalling of the incident provoked long and hearty applause. Around the meeting was a rousing success, and the citizens of Holland have a warm spot in their hearts for Mr. Osborn.

Judge Padgham Deals out Prison Sentences

Judge Padgham does not spare liquor violators in Allegan county as the penalties doled out in the Allegan circuit court shows.

Friday, Frank Richardson of Otsego changed his plea to guilty in a case where violation of the local option law was charged. Sentence was deferred until the December term. The other case pending against Richardson was put over the term.

Clovis Libbe was given the following for his boot-legging antics; fined $50 and costs of $7.90, and also remanded to jail for 20 days. Failure to pay will mean 40 additional days for Libbe to serve.

Clarence Baldwin of Otsego, another local option law violator was sentenced to jail for 20 days and fined $50 which with the costs amounts to $220.40. The penalty for failure to pay the fine and costs is the addition of 70 days to the jail sentence.

Frank Randall of Otsego drew as his punishment for violating the local option law a fine of $100 and costs of $162.95, with 90 days at Detroit house of correction in addition. The term at Detroit will be increased to six months if the $262.95 is not paid.
