Playgrounds Are Permanent City Asset

MR. HYMA GIVES REPORT TO CITY COUNCIL

Not so many years ago the matter of city playgrounds as being a success was looked upon with much doubt by the citizens of Holland. Those fostering it felt that Holland must have recreation spots as well as the larger cities and those folks put their shoulders to the wheel and today the playgrounds in Holland have become a fact and the project has been backed by the municipal authorities, including the mayor, common council and school board.

Alderman Andrew Hyma who is chairman of the recreation committee has asked an increase in the appropriation next year, raising the amount from $1600 to $2500.

This will be a matter for the budget committee to take up in the spring, and surely they will not fail to recommend extra money for this very meritorious cause so beneficial to the youth of our city. The playgrounds are open for eight weeks in the summer-time with the exception of Kollen Park which was open for four weeks only, since this was made the official bathing beach in the season. Undoubtedly, next season Kollen Park will be open the full length of the time.

During last summer there were all sorts of activities for the youngsters, including horse shoe pitching, volley and base ball, croquet, tennis and kindred out-door sports. Slides, trapezes and swings were also available for the younger ones.

Miss Zelma Fox, the report states, gave swimming instructions to a large class of girls, and 242 pupils were in her handcraft work class, which includes copying, sewing, making of doll clothes, basket weaving and mounting and framing of pictures.

Mrs. Henry Van Ark, always active in many things, as this relates to civic welfare work devoted considerable time each week delighting the children with story hours at intervals.

On Friday afternoons there were special features, such as a doll show, a pet show or baseball and horseshoe tournaments or kindred activities.

The different playgrounds were all provided with medical aid kits, in case of emergency. Weather reports were recorded, as well as accidents, number in attendance and other features.

Jasper Olendorf proved to be an excellent special man at Kollen Park during the summer since he has had considerable experience in playground work.

There is also a plan on foot to launch a program this winter for the young folks in the shops and factories. It may take the form of winter sports on Black Lake and possibly some indoor sports will also be introduced.

Leon M. Moody, head of the playground work, who introduced the report to the committee, feels elated over this summer's success. He believes there should also be a playground at the east-end, with Longfellow school in the center of the city and Kollen Park to the west. He believes these centers are paramount in playground work.

The record of attendance is as follows: Kollen Park, 283; Longfellow, 92; Van Raalte, 92; Washington, 90; Froebel, 89, thus making the average daily attendance for all the centers 121.

Raymond Stokete was in charge at Kollen Park and also Washington, Mrs. Olendorf, nee Miss Marthe Van Bunte, at Longfellow; Don Leenhouts at Van Raalte; Clarence Cook at Froebel. Mr. Herman Damson assisted Mr. Stokete, and Miss Zelma Fox had charge of swimming and handcrafts for girls.

The 20-foot pavement on M89 from Fenville west to US31 was finished Wednesday afternoon. The average daily run on this job was 547 feet. The complete job took 48 days running time. Fourteen days were lost on account of rain and other delays. The job started at the intersection with US31 and a new intersection 220 feet west was put in. This hardware will assure Fenville a hard road outlet at all times to other points of western Michigan.

Miss Elaine Vaupell of Allegan, granddaughter of Ed Vaupell of East 13th street, has become quite an artist on the stage. Her talent is recognized by the Community Players and she has played the title role in many productions. She will appear in "The Brat" shortly.

Her splendid portrayal of Seebly Olds in "The Wren," Emmy Todd in "Sun Up" and Pansy in "The Hiring Line" is proof of the talent and versatility of Miss Vaupell.

William M. Connelly of the Ottawa County Road Commission is listed as one of the speakers for the opening of the Shawmut boulevard in Grand Rapids, November 15. This leads directly to Bridge Street road, which has been completed but is not open to traffic yet. A local man recently made the trip from Grand Rapids in 48 minutes.

FUR REPRESENTATIVE TO BE HERE MONDAY

Charles Erickson, representing the Albrecht Fur Co., is to be in Holland all day Monday of next week, at the French Cloak store, where his wonderful line of furs will be displayed, from the popular priced line to the most expensive. It will be a fur display worth seeing. Manager John Van Tatenhove in a quarter page announcement on the last page of this section gives full particulars besides the pictures of some of the coats to be shown.

NEWS RIGHT ABOUT HOLLAND FIRE

The Holland City News in a short article chronicled the anniversary of the Holland fire in 1871, and incidentally mentioned that there was one life lost in that fire. There are a few old timers who disputed this fact stating that they had never heard of any loss of life in connection with the burning of Holland.

It is a fact nevertheless, the old lady burned was Mrs. Tolk who lived in a small house owned by E. Vander Veen, the veteran hardware man, and was located on the site now occupied by the old Van der Veen homestead on west 9th Street.

Not only did J. A. Vander Veen verify this, but Simon Kleyn whose father's home was across the street also confirmed the statement made in the News.

HOLLAND MAN STUMPS FOR G.O.P. IN WISCONSIN

Nicholas J. Whelan, who recently returned to Michigan from California, and has been a resident of Holland for about 35 years, is talking for the Republican party in the state of Wisconsin.

The Republican National committee enlisted Mr. Whelan's services, since he is an able and convincing speaker.

Wisconsin is considered a doubtful state for the Republicans and party heads are sending the spellbinders to every corner of that state. It has had telling effect, judging from the straw vote.

Mr. Whelan started to speak Tuesday night and will speak every afternoon and evening until the close of the campaign.

IT WOULD BE SOME JACK-O'-LANTERN

There is a pumpkin in Jenison Park grocery store weighing 110 pounds grown on the farm of Henry Voss Ott at Castle Park. The Holland Sentinel figures that 150 pies could be made out of this single pumpkin. In the manufacture of these pies, 75 pounds of sugar would be used, besides 200 eggs, and 75 quarts of milk. We might add that it would make one gigantic "Jack O' Lantern." Jack Frost would find considerable work covering it with frost and Jack Horner would get "tummy ache" in his corner if he ate the whole of the enormous pie this "punk" would make; at one sitting.

SOUTHERN HEN WINS EASILY IN ZEELAND EGG CONTEST

White Leghorn hens from the Avondale Poultry farms, Sylvauga, Ala., have had an easy time winning the first egg laying contest at the Grandview Poultry farm here. With the end of the race, less than a week off, this pen is leading its nearest competitor by more than 100 eggs.

Another out-of-date pen of Leghorns is in second place. It is owned by W. J. Delaplaine, Knox, Ind. The entry by Glenn Gitchell, Hudsonville, is a close third. Fourth place is held by a pen of Leghorns entered by Farrington Bros., Central Park, B. C. A pen of Michigan hens is fifth. These fowls are the property of R. Moll, Bruce's Crossing.

Michigan's Last Pigeon Shot at Holland

THIS PASSENGER PIGEON IN POSSESSION OF ACADEMY OF NATURAL SCIENCES PHILADELPHIA

BIRD WAS KILLED BY FORMER SHERIFF CORNELIUS DORNBOS OF THIS CITY

Large Nesting Place Near Port Sheldon where Millions of Pigeons Flocked

There is very little doubt but that Holland holds the distinction of having furnished the last wild passenger pigeon found alive in Michigan or possibly in the United States and this fact is recognized by no less an authority than the Academy of Natural Sciences of Philadelphia. This institution is in possession of the bird shot near this city in 1894 by the present patrolman of our city police force, Cornelius Dornbos. This fact was brought to light by Arthur Baumgartel of Grand Rapids who for many years was a resident of Holland and was the man who organized the first Holland Game and Fish Club here and planted the first English ringneck pheasants about 35 years ago.

Anyway the officials of the Academy of Natural Science being in possession of the bird now ask for its history and have written to the Holland City News for it. Mr. Dornbos this week related to the News how when and where the pigeon was secured. He stated that when he was a young man, 18 years old, and that was way back in 1894, he was hunting in the cedar swamp just east of the Dan Berthart farm on Macatawa road near Holland's present west limits. It was rather a wild spot then with a creek running through the low land. Mr. Dornbos was accompanied by another young chap by the name of Simon Verwey (later a carrier here) when he spied a strange bird overhead. With his shotgun he brought the bird down and because of its beauty and of a species he had never seen before, he brought it to Mr. Baumgartel who at that time conducted a barber shop on River avenue and did taxidermist work as a side line, in fact his shop was filled with stuffed birds and many of them can now be found in the Hope College museum.

Mr. Baumgartel was well up on bird life and said immediately that the bird young Dornbos had shot was a passenger pigeon, considered a bird that was extinct even then. The only missing feature that puzzled the Holland man was the fact that a carrier pigeon had two tail feathers with white spots and the bird had only one. He advised Mr. Dornbos of this fact and the young hunter remembered that one of the tail feathers came out when he picked up the bird. Mr. Baumgartel asked Dornbos to hasten back to see if he could find the missing tail feather near the spot where the bird had been shot. Dornbos complied and soon returned with the missing feather and the pigeon was then complete.

Since the Philadelphia Academy has taken such an interest in the carrier pigeon, U. of M. at Ann Arbor has heard of it and the authorities are asking for information and details. The News is co-operating with Mr. Baumgartel to furnish this. Information is also desired for the reason that a book on Michigan birds is soon to be published and the passenger pigeon as an extinct species is to come in for some considerable space.

There are people now living in Holland who remember the passenger pigeons that infested Michigan in such large numbers that they were a nuisance, in fact they were more numerous than English sparrows are today. When in the fall migration period was at hand, these pigeons would fly over during the day in such large flocks that the sun would be obscured at intervals. When darkness fell they would roost on house tops, barns and fill trees in such large numbers that in many instances limbs were broken down under their weight. Pigeon stew was a common delicacy and the birds were ruthlessly slaughtered by the millions all over Michigan.

Right here in Holland pigeons were clubbed at night, thrown in barrels and shipped to the Chicago market. During the day time the birds were often caught in nets as they flew over in large flocks never flying high from the ground. This seemed to be a characteristic of this kind of pigeon.

It is said that near Petoskey seemed to be the nesting place of the passenger pigeons and this present day resort town became a big center for pigeon shipping. The bird was a beauty, a little larger than the mourning dove of today, and not near as fat and clumsy as the barnyard dove.

In a letter received by Mr. Baumgartel there seems to be some dispute as to where the last live wild pigeon was seen in the United States. A news item was recently published giving the date of the last known living specimen of carrier pigeon as in 1901 in the Cincinnati zoo. Mr. Baumgartel disputes this date when he writes that a letter from the general manager of the Cincinnati Zoological Park Association gives some information relating to these birds.

This gentleman writes as follows: "Your letter was handed to me by your city clerk. I note you want some information on the last living passenger pigeon which was kept here at the zoo. The last pigeon hatched in the garden Sept. 12, 1895. It died Sept. 1, 1914. It was sent to the Smithsonian Institution, Washington, D. C., where they now have it mounted with a brief description of the bird. We had several of these birds hatched here in the garden, but they all died off of old age until finally we only had this one pigeon left, which, as stated above, died on Sept. 1, 1914. The original pigeons we had but $250 a pair, and now we are offering from $1,000 to $1,500 for a pair of them not injured, but to date have received no information in regard to any of them.

"Everyone says they are now extinct."

Mr. Baumgartel supplements this communication with the following: "It may be of interest to state that the last wild specimen taken in western Michigan was secured by C. J. Dornbos on the Berthart farm in Ottawa county, near Holland. Notes accompanying a letter written by me Sept. 4, 1907, to the late Prof. Barrows of Michigan State college give the year as 1894, but the exact date I am at this time unable to furnish. The specimen was mounted by me and is now in the Academy of Natural Sciences of Philadelphia."

A. G. BAUMGARTEL.

Frequently one hears that wild pigeons have been extinct in the United States since, 1880, or nearly fifty years.

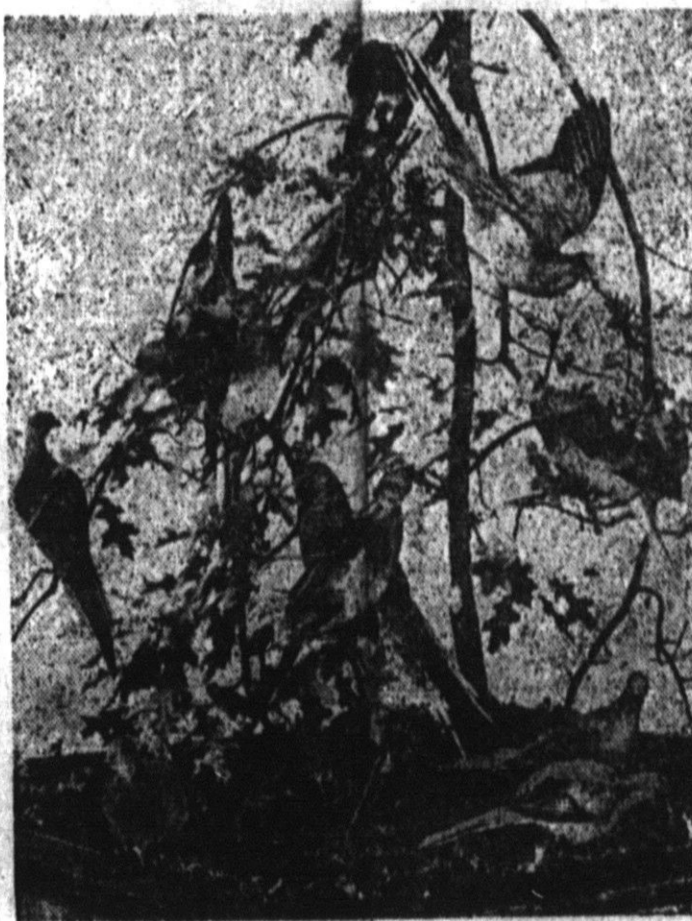

Such is not the case. A sports writer in the Detroit Times claims that as late as 1902, flocks of wild pigeons were numerous in Southwestern Washington, particularly in the vicinity of Copalis, on the Pacific shore.

The wild pigeon—the Washington state kind—were known as the warblers of birds, hard to stalk, and hard to bring down when on the wing. The species was not unlike the pigeons one sees in Grand Circus Park, Detroit, or in the public parks of other cities. They were swifter, however, and the flesh was "gamier."

There are few, if any, wild pigeon left in the United States. Washington and Oregon alone of the Pacific states claim to have a stray band or two. Ornithologists of note, however, refute the claims and say that these are different species and say that the mourning dove is often mistaken for a passenger pigeon. In a recent issue of the Grand Rapids Herald it appears that the Kent Museum will also put on a stuffed passenger pigeon display.

The Herald says as follows: "A passenger pigeon group is planned by the Kent Scientific museum. The group will be created by E. A. Hyer, preparator at the institution, who is now at work delving into the lore of this one time famous Michigan bird. "The museum will have seven or eight birds in its group. There are three mounted pigeons in the museum at the present time and seven or eight unmounted skins are museum property. It is the intention of Mr. Hyer to create a scene similar to those along Michigan's western shoreline where these pigeons nested there by the millions. "It is extremely probable there is not a carrier alive today. Reports of them come in now and then, but upon investigation it always develops that the mourning dove has been mistaken for the pigeon. "It appears now that while in Cincinnati the last tame pigeon was hatched in 1895 and died in 1914 the last wild pigeon known to exist was shot near Holland in October 1894, by Mr. Dornbos. Holland City News of Apr. 1, 1893, the following item relative to passenger pigeons found in this vicinity in earlier days appears: "The early residents far back in the 50's still remember the days of the wild pigeon and especially in the spring of 1850 when they located on a massive in the shrub pines north of Port Sheldon and made those low land passenger pigeons as they were called, covered an area of a mile square and every tree contained from one to six nests. Pigeons were plentiful on every family table in Holland and in the country, and the markets sold them at a very reasonable price. Catching and shipping pigeons during that time was a business of no mean importance and was kept up for weeks until the young ones were old enough to leave their nests when the entire flock migrated for their north. What has become of our pigeons? We believe that forest fires destroyed millions of them. And those not killed in that way were slaughtered by the thousands by those who call themselves sportsmen, but are not. These so-called sportsmen would send hirelings into Michigan to trap the birds alive and have them shipped to every state in the Union for trapezoids to kill on their ranges. Millions no doubt were clubbed, shot and trapped for market so you know where our pigeons have gone and where all our wild life will go if a stop is not put to selfish slaughter of game!

The Holland City News scrapbook of clippings contains an intensely interesting article written by G. E. Van Loon, prominent author and newspaper writer. The contribution throws still more light on the subject of passenger pigeons and why this species is extinct. The article follows.

By G. E. VAN LOON

What would you say if you thought you could look in upon the last of a race? Whether it were a large creature or small one it would certainly be a unique experience. To know that the living thing at which you were looking was absolutely the last survivor on earth, to know that in a few moments it would be gone, to know that no power on earth could change the course of events and save that life for the future, that would certainly be a unique experience. Yet this was the experience of a group of scientists and nature lovers not long ago. Let me tell you about it.

The time is Sept. 1, 1914. The place is the zoo in Cincinnati, one of the cages may be seen a pigeon. To the casual observer it resembles closely one of our common domestic pigeons, but we are told that the bird of soft colors is a passenger pigeon and the last of its race.

The Unmindful Throats

The crowd passes by with a glance, moves to another cage and then, restless, gayly moves on, again. They do not know the tragedy. Not so with the little group that remains there. They realize that they are witnessing the tragedy of the ages, for they have seen a dozen others, mates of this pigeon drop off, one by one in the sterility of captivity, during the preceding 10 years; they have looked on helplessly as the years passed and now they have come to witness the passing of the last representative of a species of birds that only a few years previously was counted by the millions all over our fair state. I know of no better way to make you realize how numerous wild pigeons once were than to quote from James Fenimore Cooper who took time to write about these birds as he knew them in Central New York about 75 years previous to that fatal Sept. 1, 1914.

"I scarcely know how to describe the remarkable scene. As we drew near to the summit of the hill, pigeons began to be seen fluttering among the branches over our heads, as individuals are met along the roads that lead into the suburbs of a large town. We had probably seen a thousand birds, glancing around among the trees, before we were in view of the roost itself. The numbers increased as we drew nearer and presently the forest was alive with them."

Paid No Attention

"The unnatural disregard of our persons manifested by the birds greatly heightened the effect and caused me to feel as if some unearthly influence reigned in the place. It was strange, indeed, to be in a mob of the feathered race, that scarce exhibited a consciousness of one's presence. The pigeons seemed a world of themselves, and were too much occupied with their own concerns to take heed of matters that lay beyond them."

From the very earliest days pigeons supplied a very delightful food, whether fresh, salted, dried or smoked, but often they were eaten, literally at nauseam; for stomachs rebelled at continued pigeon fare. Later when railroads and telegraph permitted, there came into existence pigeons who followed the flocks of pigeons hundreds of miles to their new roosts and nesting sites. These were men who were in the killing business for profit. They had discovered that there was a market for pigeons in the larger cities and especially in New York and Chicago, where prices ranged from 25 cents to $3 a

Pastor Accepts Call to Church in Illinois

REV. FORTUIN OF BORCULO GOES TO SOUTH HOLLAND, ILLINOIS

Rev. K. W. Fortuin, pastor of Christian Reformed church at Borculo six years, has accepted a call extended him by First church at South Holland, Ill.

Mr. Fortuin has been in the ministry since 1911 and besides his present charge has served churches at Harderwijk three years and Hope Avenue church at Passaic, N. J., eight years. He has served classis Zeeland, with which the Borculo church is affiliated, as stated clerk. Rev. Fortuin was unfortunate at Borculo in having his church burn about three years ago on a Sunday morning while services were being held. His fine library in his home next door was nearly ruined at the time by willful helpers, who endeavored to save the books from the flames, although the fire never reached the parsonage.

A new church was built soon afterward.

JURY INVESTIGATE AUTO ACCIDENT

A coroner's jury composed of John Van Beukering, John W. Verhees, John S. Lowe, Fred Ehrmann, Henry Van Woerkom and P. C. Kieft of Grand Haven convened Wednesday at that city to investigate the circumstances surrounding the automobile accident in which Mrs. Bertha Smalley of Fruitport was killed. Her car collided with a truck driven by Leo A. Shotwell of Grand Rapids, employed by the Abe Schefner Wholesale Fruit Co. of Grand Rapids, Monday night on US-31. The juryman viewed the remains, the scene of the accident and the wrecked car.

They adjourned and met again Thursday at 9:00 a. m. The driver of the truck is being held in the county jail pending an examination in justice court Monday as to his being intoxicated at the time of the accident. He was unable to make the $1000 bond under which he was placed.

Rev. Henry J. Pietenpol, veteran minister of the Reformed Church in America, has been granted his request to become emeritus minister by the Pella classis, owing to age and condition of health. Mr. Pietenpol has been in the ministry since his graduation from Western Theological seminary 35 years ago. His first charge was Ebenezer Reformed church, about four miles southeast of Holland.

The Junior Hop at M. S. C. to take place early in February is one of the outstanding social features at East Lansing. There is a Junior committee list of young men and young women numbering more than a hundred to put this over. On the committee of finance the name of Thomas Van Zanten of Holland is found; on reception, James Van Zyl of Grand Haven, also Francis Davis of South Haven. Other committee members come from different parts of the state.

Plans for a breakwater at Grand Haven were launched today at a meeting of the harbor commission at which Cong. Carl E. Mares of Grand Rapids was present. It was hoped at some time in the future to arrange a conference with Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg, when possibilities for a survey for the breakwater will be discussed. The commission authorized the airport committee to pass on a proposed lease for a site for a hangar for the Furniture City Airways company.

Listen to this description of the netting:

"On one side of the bed of a little creek was spread the net, a double one, covering an area when thrown out of about ten by twenty feet. Thru its meshes were stretched the heads of the fluttering captives, vainly struggling to escape. In the midst of them stood a stalwart pigeon up to his knees in the mire and bespattered with mud and blood from head to foot. Passing from bird to bird with a pair of blacksmith's pinches, he gave the neck of each a cruel grip with his remorseless weapon, causing the blood to burst from the eyes and trickles down the back of the helpless captive which slowly fluttered its life away. Its beautiful plumage besmeared with the filth and its bed dyed with its crimson blood. When all were dead, the net was raised, many still clinging to their death grip till they were shaken off. They were then gathered counted, deposited behind a log with many others and covered with bushes and the death trap set for another harvest."

The last big netting of which we have definite knowledge was in 1878 near Petoskey, Mich. It is described as being from 28 to 40 miles long by three to ten miles in width. Writers of that period claim that at least 100,000 acres were used as actual nesting sites, some trees having a few nests and others a hundred or more. For many weeks the railroad shipments from this country averaged 50 barrels of dead birds per day, 30 to 40 dozen old birds and about 50 squabs being packed in a barrel. Allowing 500 birds to a barrel and averaging the entire shipments for the season at 25 barrels per day, we find the railroad shipments to have been 12,500 dead birds daily or a million and a half for the summer. These were railroad shipments only and do not include cargoes by steamer from various lake ports.

Plans for A Better Holland Harbor

Nearly Third of a Million Would Be Necessary for Holland and Grand Haven

Improvement of the Holland and Grand Haven harbors and Grand river for the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence waterway to the ocean would cost $265,000, according to specifications made known Thursday.

The project, discussed and advocated by the great lakes states for two decades, will be investigated in detail by the national rivers and harbors congress at its twenty-fourth annual convention in Washington, D. C., Dec. 5 and 6.

The Grand Rapids city commission is so interested in the possible development of the waterway proposition that it has authorized Mayor Elvin Swarthout and ex-Mayor Edwin F. Sweet to attend the convention, as delegates. Other prominent men of western Michigan also will attend the congress.

Development of such a waterway would open Grand Rapids, as well as all other cities in the district to commercial and passenger use of a water route directly to the ocean.

It is believed such a route would be easily paid for in a short time, in addition to offering a direct commercial route between Michigan and Wisconsin and Canadian ports.

Tentative plans for the project reveal that development of Holland harbor and Black lake would cost about $189,000, while the Grand Haven port and the fitting of Grand river into a usable waterway would cost approximately $75,500. Improvement of the Saginaw river would cost something like $100,000.

Mayor Swarthout of Grand Rapids expressed his opinion that the waterways eventually will be developed and added that the time has come when it should be made a reality.

The Holland Common Council has already appointed a committee to attend the Great Lakes conference at Toledo and no doubt will appoint another to Washington, D. C., to attend the Rivers and Harbors Congress in session shortly before the National Congress convene at Washington.

MANY OIL WELLS NON-PRODUCERS

The general public, which is always thrilled by the advent of a 5,000-barrel oil well, probably has no conception of the amount of money the oil companies put back into the business in their search for new fields. In the 13 years dating forward from 1914, California operators spent close to $80,000,000 in exploratory work alone within the state.

During that period, according to yearly reports of California State Mining Bureau, 1461 wildcat wells were drilled, at an average cost of $55,000. Engineers estimate operators drilled more than 3,000,000 feet of hole out of which they did not get a single barrel of commercial production. The cost averaged about $20 a foot.

The ratio of field discoveries is exceedingly small compared with number of dry holes drilled. Of 1070 wildcat wells drilled in California between 1914 and 1924, only 15 new oil fields were discovered; and the drilling of 391 wells in 1925 and 1926 resulted in finding only two new fields.

HOLLAND HAS THE LARGEST REGISTRATION IN HISTORY

Holland has a tremendous registration — the largest in history in fact, which goes to show that there will be a big outpouring on Tuesday, November 6, when a president is to be elected. The total registration is 6346 men and women. After the re-registration there was a total of 5930. Saturday night, the last available hour to register before election, 416 names were added.

What is believed by Paramount studio executives and hundreds of reviewers to be one of the most pretentious screen products of the season will be offered to Colonial theatre patrons next week when Erich von Stroheim's production, "The Wedding March," will show for 8 days, starting Monday, Oct. 29th.

The filming of the picture consumed more than six months of concentrated effort and the result has been a picture of Vienna life in story and color.

The sequences laid in and before the great St. Stephen's cathedral in Vienna during the celebration of Corpus Christi required the assistance of more than 2,100 persons and resulted in scenes of the utmost magnificence. These sequences are reproduced on the screen in colors of rare beauty.

The hundreds of uniforms worn by the mounted soldiers were actually secured in Vienna and are the original costumes worn by members of the famous Mounted Guards regiment. In the Corpus Christi sequence, the carriage occupied by the late Emperor Franz Josef, imported from Austria in spite of united opposition on the part of loyal Austrians, is used.

RURAL SCHOOL CHILDREN ON HEALTHLAND JOURNEY

By Ruth Morley
Home Demonstration Agent
Rural school children in Ottawa County will start their Healthland Journey Nov. 1st. The Healthland Journey is a hygiene and nutrition project arranged by Madge Bresnahan, county nurse, and Ruth D. Morley, home demonstration agent, co-operating with the extension department of the M. S. C. The journey consists of the marking of daily record cards by each child enrolled as a "passenger" for twenty-four weeks. The aim of teaching positive health to school children is to arouse in each child such an interest in his own health that he will establish the practice of these growth rules and will take such pleasure in the performance of these rules that they will without effort on his part gradually become a part of his daily routine.

Realizing the value of a definitely outlined project in the schools, Mr. Gerrit Greenwood, county school commissioner, has asked that the project be carried in every school in the county.

The project is the culmination of a desire on the part of the county nurse, who is conducting a mouth hygiene program, and the home demonstration agent, who has a county wide nutrition project, to reach every boy and girl in the county without duplication of effort. To receive full credit on the journey passengers must stop at each of the following health stations.

Ten hours of sleep, two full baths a week, daily cleanliness, brushing teeth night and morning, natural bowel movement daily, correct posture, 4-6 glasses of water, 4 glasses of milk, two vegetables, besides potatoes, some fruit cooked or raw, no tea or coffee, no sweets between meals, good breakfast including whole cereal.

A co-operative program conducted in this manner is entirely new. As an inducement to the children in the schools to make this journey, prizes will be offered in each of the four sections of the county to the school doing the best work. The prizes will be given by clubs or business organizations in the county.

Mrs. H. Meyers, West 12th St., entertained at a miscellaneous shower Friday evening for her daughter, Miss Mae. The guests gathered at the home for this occasion were The Misses Alberta and Marie Kool, Julia Turpetra, Christian Bronkhorst, Ruth Meyers, Mrs. A. Johnson, Mrs. C. Turpetra, Mrs. J. Tik, Mrs. J. Laarman, Mrs. W. Boeve and Mrs. H. Meyers.

"Smoke" Brings Hunter a Very Cold Bath

NIMROD GETS CARELESS WHILE OCCUPYING HIS DUCK BLIND

There is a certain gentleman possessed of duck-hunting proclivities who is thinking seriously of taking out special fire and accident insurance before again venturing after the wary quackers.

It all came about in this manner: Several days ago the said gentleman returned from the marshes very wet, very mad, and smelling slightly of smoke and ashes.

It seems that he had laboriously towed his newly constructed duck blind to a likely spot among the reeds, had settled nicely therein and, to pass the time between shots, lit a cigarette; and, incidentally, the dry grass and reeds comprising his blind caught fire. The flames mounted high, causing him to leave his place of concealment hurriedly; and, too hurriedly, for he overturned his duck boat, and himself, into some four feet of very wet and very chilly water.

By the time this gentleman had

CITY MISSION IN NEW HOME ONE YEAR

The City Rescue Mission celebrated its first anniversary in the new building on Central Avenue, Sunday. Rev. Butler who has charge of a mission at Lansing gave a talk at the afternoon service. The James Jubilee Singers, Albert James, Rev. Mary James, Mrs. Alta Clark, and Frank James, of Lansing furnished music at all three services during that day.

Miss Nellie Churchford, who has charge of the local mission, gave a short address, telling how thankful the mission was for its larger accommodations, and has had a continual growth. As many as 1000 have attended services there and since they have been in their new home the average Sunday school attendance is 175.

Miss Churchford also spoke of the sentiment attached to the old place of worship, at 35 East 8th street where the new Holland Wall Paper and Paint company is now located, which they had outgrown.

John A. Van der Veen is president of the mission board and Con De Pree, the secretary and treasurer.

The mission has been in this city for nearly a quarter of a century and has been active in caring for the poor, with special work at Christmas time.

managed to get organized and ashore it was evident from both his condition and his expressed opinion that "duck shooting" was out for that day, at least. In fact, to believe the bitter and sardonic remarks that sizzled around, all ducks could immediately migrate to a place reputed to be warm to the point of boiling—duck blinds, decoys and such, likewise.

ROEKSEMA-WEDEVEN NUPTIALS PERFORMED

Miss Edith Kathryn Hoeksema and John Henry Wedeven were united in marriage Thursday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Hoeksema. Rev. N. Gelderloo of Nieuwerkerk officiated at the ceremony under a beautifully decorated arch.

The bride looked charming in a poudre blue crepe romane dress and carried a bridal bouquet of sweet peas and carnations. The bridegroom wore a navy blue suit. Miss Anna Boeve played the wedding march.

A supper was served to the 40 guests present, following the ceremony.

The evening was spent in playing games and singing and music by a ukelele. The young couple will be at home to their friends after November 1st on Columbia avenue and 32nd street or Route 5.

Mrs. C. Van Dyke, Mrs. A. Kronmeyer and son Victor Kronmeyer were injured in an auto accident near Hamilton Tuesday morning when the car in which they were riding was wrecked. Victor Kronmeyer attempted to avoid a rat in the road and lost control of the machine, which turned over in the ditch. An unknown man gave them first aid and drove them to their homes in this city.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. P. Van Langevelde, a son.

JUNIORS DEDICATE MILESTONE TO REV. HINKAMP

Professor Paul E. Hinkamp was honored by the Junior Class who have dedicated this year's year book to him.

He has served Hope for ten years in the Bible and Education departments and has gained during this time the sincere respect and liking of all students. Not only does he give his best in the classroom but is ready at any time to support all college activities.

The plans for this year's Milestone are developing beautifully. Each member on the staff is striving to outdo his predecessor of last year — not the easiest thing to do.

The Home Volunteers had the pleasure of being entertained by Rev. Hager at his home Friday evening. The meeting was informal, giving every one the opportunity to become acquainted with each other. Choosing as his topic, "Personal Problems of the Prospective Pastor," Rev. Hager touched upon some of the problems which a preliminary student meets while at school. He gave solutions for the problems from his own experiences while at school. Questions were asked by the speaker and the young men about individual problems.

After the discussion Rev. Hager conducted small groups through his library, pointing out books which he considered especially valuable for the minister in his work. Mrs. Hager fulfilled the expectations of the young men by serving a most excellent meal. The remaining part of the evening was spent in talking and singing. A group of thirty was present.

Mildred De Pree of Zeeland and Grace Durkoph of Holland have been appointed accompanists for the Girls' Glee Club. The club will hold two practices a week with them.

The Hope College Chemistry Club held its first regular meeting of the year in the Emersonian Society hall, last Wednesday, October 17. The singing was led by Marvin Kuizenga. The following program was then rendered:

Reading of the Constitution—Secretary.

Geophysical Exploration—Chas. Rozema.

Com. Jacob Tigelaar (read by M. Kuizenga).

The club extends a hearty welcome to any persons on the campus interested in chemistry to visit any of the meetings.

Margaret Mann, the little mother, "Mutterchen," of the four noble sons in the title role of "Four Sons," at the Holland Theatre, Tues., Wed., Thurs., Fri. and Sat., gives one of the finest characterizations ever shown on the screen.

At the ripe old age of sixty, Margaret Mann reaches the pinnacle of film fame by her simple and unaffected portrayal of the grief-stricken mother who is left behind, all alone, when her four sons march off to war. Woven into this major theme is the brotherly love of the four sons and their devotion to their mother.

Aside from the many touching scenes of mother love, the film abounds in youthful romance, the sweethearts of two of the sons being played with great charm by June Collyer and Ruth Mix, daughter of Tom Mix, internationally famous screen star. The boys are superbly played by James Hall, Charles Francis, George Meeker and Francis X. Bushman, Jr.

The entire cast was carefully chosen by John Ford, who directed the picture with all the skill and genius that he put into his other great successes, "Mother Machree" and "The Iron Horse."

GRAND HAVEN YOUTH KILLED ACCIDENTLY; BULLET IN HIS BRAIN

William Kasperson, 20, was found dead in his boat house at Grand Haven Saturday, from a 22-caliber bullet in his brain. Coroner Henry J. Boer and Chief Pigra decided death was due to an accident. Apparently the youth had been cleaning a revolver. There will be no inquest.

Kasperson was supposed to have gone to Muskegon Saturday morning to join the crew of the Fred Green, gravel boat leased by the Construction Materials company, as second cook, when he did not arrive word was sent to his brother, Ernest, with whom he lived, Ernest went directly to the boat house, as William was in the habit of spending his spare time there. William Beebe, bridge tender, was the last person to see Kasperson alive. He said William borrowed his jack-knife at noon Friday, saying he was fixing up his hunting tackle. He did not return it.

FARM FIRES CAUSE HEAVY LOSS OF LIFE AND PROPERTY

Fires on farms and rural communities in the United States annually cause a loss of 3,500 lives, and a property damage of approximately one hundred and fifty million dollars, according to the Department of Agriculture. More than thirty millions of this amount is from fires caused by spontaneous combustion—fires due to self-ignition of hay and other agricultural commodities. A special study of this type of farm fires is now under investigation.

DEEP FALL PLOWING BRINGS TONS OF BEETS MORE TO ACRE

Although new ideas frequently increase the farmer's profits, farm crops specialists say that proved practices, such as fall plowing for sugar beets, should not be neglected as both experiments and farm trials have shown that the extra tonnage of beets from fall plowed land will pay the cost of plowing. A firm seed bed, which is needed by beets, is assured on fall plowed soil and less time is needed to get the beets planted in the busy spring season. Beet ground should be plowed deeply, according to crops specialists at Michigan State College. Ground plowed eight inches deep yielded two tons to the acre more beets than soil plowed to a depth of six inches. There was a corresponding increase in yield on land plowed deeper than eight inches.

PHEASANT SEASON OPENS TODAY, THURSDAY

Open season on the Chinese ring-neck pheasant starts throughout Michigan next Thursday, October 25, the season lasting for a week only, to October 31, inclusive. The fox squirrel and woodcock seasons open on the same date for the same length of time.

Rabbit and hare season, which opened in the upper peninsula October 1, is also open in the lower peninsula next Thursday. Limits are five one day. The season on game rabbits lasts until February 1, inclusive. The season on snowshoes or jackrabbits, opening Thursday, continues until February 15.

FINANCIAL RUIN OF ARMOUR, ONCE OWNER OF HOLLAND'S TANNERY UNPARALLELED

The last chapter of a tale of high finance in which one of the greatest fortunes in American history dwindled from more than $200,000,000 to $2,000,000 was written this week with the probating of the estate of the late Jonathan Ogden Armour, millionaire meat packer and once owner of many tanning interests including the Cappon Bertsch Leather Co. of Holland.

How the former head of the Armour company, who died in London, Aug. 16, 1927, had made unwise investments to forestall financial disaster is bare in the inventory of the estate.

But the investments instead of recouping for him the losses that had pared down his fortune to $60,000,000, including pledges to two banks, at the time of death, had instead been whittled down to $2,000,000.

The $2,000,000 shown by the inventory is in assets in Armour's own name and is clear and will be ample to provide for the widow and one daughter who by the way was married to a wealthy Chicago man.

Oct. 23 is not anywhere near the strawberry season, nevertheless it was our good fortune this year to enjoy a heaping dish of this fruit on that date. It happened to be our birthday and a kind friend had planned a real surprise. The fruit was of excellent quality, but it seems "that things out of season are appreciated more than in season." We wonder if this has not a wide application to human life, so that greater stress might advantageously be placed upon the things done out of season.

It Works From the Inside Out

All health that is of any permanent value comes from inside. It is not to be gained by medicines from the outside. Health is the normal functioning of the organs of the body.

Spinal adjustments put the diseased or weakened organ of the body that is causing ill health in position to receive its normal quota of life impulses over spinal nerve lines. Health returns as naturally as light in a bulb when the current is switched on.

By my health method I correct diseases of the eyes, ears, nose, throat, lungs, heart, stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels and lower organs.

Supervisors Have Spread Tax Portions

STATE AND ROAD LEVIES LESS BUT COUNTY COSTS SHOW AN INCREASE

The final session of the Ottawa Board of Supervisors approved the annual tax apportionments. The state tax is cut this year from $216,221.32, last year's figures, to $173,919.95. County taxes on the other hand have increased from $388,784.16 to $421,135.14. The road tax is cut from $100,000 to $89,500.

State and road reductions proved sufficient to offset the county boost and show a total levy of only about $684,000 compared with $705,000 odd last year. The net reduction runs slightly over $21,000.

Some of the last reports approved were the Grand avenue and Highland Park road project to be constructed under the Cover act with the county participating five per cent instead of ten per cent as recommended by the road committee and commission.

Mrs. Eleanor G. McNett appeared before the board in behalf of the Red Cross. She was given $200 to be divided between North and South Ottawa.

The following table of taxes to be assessed in the several townships and cities of the county was approved:

Only 7 Lone Vets of 1,600 in Reunion

OLDEST IS 99 YEARS. ONE COMES FROM GRAND HAVEN. NEXT CAMP FIRE AT COUNTY SEAT

Of the 1,000 men in the Twenty-first Michigan Volunteer Infantry who were engaged in battle within three weeks after they left Ionia, September 19, 1862, to participate in the Civil War, there are only three survivors.

Of the 600 men who were used as replacements in the regiment there are but 19 left.

When the fifty-sixth annual reunion of the infantry regiment was held at Grand Rapids only seven of the veterans were able to attend, but they were greeted by Major Fenton R. McCreery, of Flint, son of Colonel William C. McCreery, commander of their regiment. Undaunted by age and their rapidly diminishing numbers, the veterans planned for their next reunion in Grand Haven next fall.

The survivors of the original regiment are Charles N. Dickinson, of Company G, Grand Haven, life president of the regiment; Captain Charles E. Belknap, of Grand Rapids, who has been seriously ill, and John Lowe, Company K, Lake Odessa.

William Noah, of McBrides, 99 years old, the oldest of the survivors and Dick Blumrich, Grand Rapids, 84, the youngest. William E. Rice, Grand Rapids, son of a veteran of the regiment, is life secretary.

DAIRY HERDS IN OTTAWA TO BE TESTED AGAIN

The second complete test of dairy herds in Ottawa county for tuberculosis will begin about Nov. 1st according to information received by agricultural agent Milham. The testing this year will be done by certain local accredited veterinarians and one sent by the State and will be carried through by to completion as rapidly as possible. The testing has been authorized by the county Board of Supervisors and funds appropriated to carry on the work. The test is compulsory and anyone obstructing the test will be dealt with accordingly.

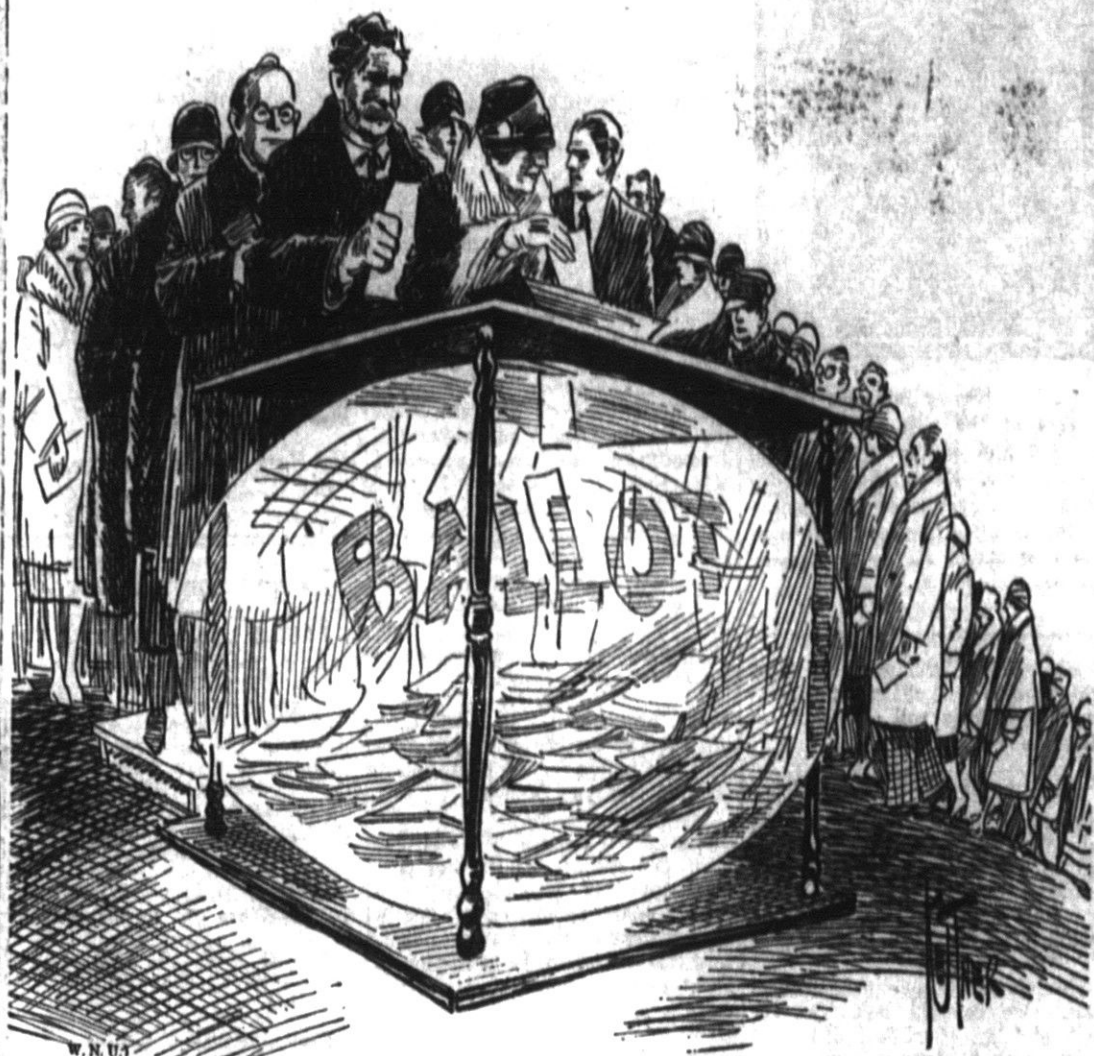

Indemnities will be paid to owners of reactors on the same basis as the former test. In addition to the carcass value minus shipping and slaughtering charges, dairymen will be paid indemnities from the state a maximum of $30.00 on grade and $60.00 on a purebred and from the Federal government one third of the difference between the salvage and appraised value but the Federal will in no case pay where the salvage and state indemnity equals or exceeds the appraised value. Federal appraisers make the appraisal at stockyards just previous to slaughter. Most dairymen welcome the testing of their cattle and no trouble is anticipated.

The Duty of Every Citizen

New and Old Honor Codes Voted Down

THE IDEA OF A NEW "HONOR CODE" FAILS TO "GO OVER"

Hope College Atch'or

In the minds of many, a calamitous thing happened last Friday in the Student Body Meeting directly after chapel. That is to say, two brain-children, one aged eleven years, and the other hardly two months, kicked up the heels, gasped and turned over to the wall. The old and the new Honor Systems were unable to withstand a plurality of student sentiment against them.

The Student Council, in recognition of the wishes of many of the student body for such an action, and realizing the patent failure of the old Honor Code to function properly, drew up after a careful going over of all the important "Honor" systems of Middle Western schools, and numerous faculty consultations, a new Honor Code, designed to eliminate the chief faults of the old system.

The three questions asked were: 1. Are you in favor of the Old Code? 2. Are you in favor of having any kind of a code? 3. Are you in favor of having the code submitted by the Student Council?

Of a total vote of 360, all were "no" for the old Honor system. The second question, for "any kind" of a code, drew 204 "nays" to 156 "yeas."

The last, for the new code polled a vote of 200 against, and 160 for the new system.

It is interesting to note that, in 18 votes the first question was drawn unanimously, the second also a unanimous "no," for any kind wish, but under faculty supervision of system, then the entire eighteen voted for the new code.

As it stands now, all students are on their own honor if they regard.

HOLLAND BANK GETS SOME OF COUNTY MONEY

Grand Haven Tribune—Seven banks in Ottawa County bid as depositories for the county funds, which this year are to be divided instead of being placed in one bank. The awards were made by the board of supervisors to the three highest: State Bank, Coopersville, No. 1, 3 3-4 per cent; Peoples Bank, Grand Haven, No. 2, 2 3-4 per cent; First State Bank, Holland, No. 3, 2 1-2 per cent.

The county monies will be divided between the first two named with the overflow kept at Holland. The division was made necessary because the bonding companies are unable to place bonds for more than $150,000. The county deposits often exceed $300,000.

The board are in session today, which is expected will wind up the business for the October session. It has been a quiet session with little but routine business.

Have you ever in your life seen so much beautiful furniture at such low prices??

Not so bad for a joke of 50 years ago: A young lady hesitating for a word in describing the character of a rejected suitor said: "He is not a tyrant, not exactly domineering, but—" "Dogmatic," suggested a friend. An eleven inning game of ball had to be played between the Holland Juniors and the Hamilton Giants. The score was 5 to 5 until the eleventh when the Hamiltonians put over the winning run. It appears that the Hamilton boys gave our boys the stage fright. Hamilton fans say it was the most interesting game ever played in Hamilton. Here is the Holland lineup: Captain Holland Club, Jack DeFeyer; umpire, Jessie Keefe; Sim (Swede) Vos, pitcher; Bud Betts, s. s.; Bill Kulte, 1 b.; Harry Bush, 2 b.; P. Henrichs, 3 b.; John Betts, r. f.; Harry Englericht, c. f.; "Humple" Beckman, 1. f.; Art (Legs) Van den Berg, catcher. Jack Merrill, a Holland artist and an excellent sign painter has gone further afield in his work. He painted a large picture of "Indian Bill" a lake captain well known in Holland, owning a schooner by that name and quite a character. The picture was exhibited in the Occidental hotel in Muskegon and was purchased by an attorney named Arthur Jones of Detroit.

The hardware of Martin C. Verhage of Zeeland, was burglarized Saturday night and $50 in goods taken besides $200 cash. Watches, shears, knives, revolvers, cartridges and dynamite were the articles taken. Mr. DeFeyer living near saw two men leave at daybreak Sunday.

Dr. C. M. Cook of Grand Rapids is pushing his project of a hotel on top of Bald Head at Saugatuck. He proposes to build a 300 room

It was no disgrace for Holland to lose a game with Muskegon Heights high, since it was one of the most thrilling games played for some time, the score being 13-12.

Japings and Tanis, Holland's pair of indomitable backs, swept everything before them throughout the greater part of the contest. They work together well, these two gridders so widely divergent physically. Tanis, with his sheer bulk and force, worked havoc upon the Heights line as he drove through with the irresistible battering of a pile-driver. Japings, diminutive quarterback, demonstrated an elusive, dazzling speed that ripped off repeated long gains.

Grim Reaper Takes Life Of Mrs. Cloetingh

WAS ONE OF HOLLAND'S MOST BELOVED GIRLS; OLDEST DAUGHTER OF MR. AND MRS. ALBERT KEPPEL

Holland was shocked Friday to hear of the death of Mrs. Arthur Cloetingh, oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Keppel of East Tenth street, whose death took place at her home in State College, Pennsylvania.

Holland will never forget Miss Evelyn Keppel, as a wonderful girl with a fine voice which was an asset to the community, and what is more, she used that wonderful talent to make others happy. The call upon her time while she was still living in this city before her marriage to Mr. Cloetingh, was tremendous. There was scarcely a program in which she was not called upon to take part.

Small and large church congregations alike received her untiring aid whenever she was asked. She made no discrimination in distributing this talent, and for that reason Holland loved her.

Miss Keppel was a popular student and a graduate of Holland high school and also of Western State Normal at Kalamazoo. She was a member of the Hope Church choir and did much of the solo work in this organization.

She was a favorite in musical circles here as well as in other cities.

For some time she was on the teaching staff of the Holland Public Schools, in charge of the kindergarten pupils.

She has been very prominently featured in Hope College musical programs, oratorical and religious captains. She also had taken an active part in dramatic and musical work at State college, where her husband is head of the department of dramatics.

Mrs. Keppel Cloetingh was the granddaughter of the late Teunis Keppel who in the earlier days was an outstanding figure in the community and an early pioneer.

Some six years ago Miss Keppel was married to Mr. Arthur Cloetingh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Cloetingh of Muskegon, and had made their home in Pennsylvania where Mr. Cloetingh was on the faculty of State College.

Death came Friday morning when a son was born, and while the child lived the mother passed on. The body was taken to Holland by the sorrowing husband, and arrived here late Sunday night.

The funeral of Mrs. Evelyn Keppel Cloetingh took place at the home on east Tenth street Monday afternoon, with Dr. T. W. Davidson, pastor of the First Reformed church, officiating. Rev. James Weyer, pastor of the First Reformed church of Holland, assisted, while Dr. E. J. Blekkink of the Western Theological Seminary took charge at the grave in the family lot in the Pilgrim Home Cemetery where interment took place.

The pall bearers were three cousins, Clarence, James and Russell Cloetingh, also Theodore Elferdink, George Peigrim and John Vander Broek.

The funeral was held at the home instead of at the Hope Church where she had been a member for many years. The reason for this change of plans was because of illness of members of the family who would have been unable to attend the services.

Accompanying the husband with the body to Holland from the east was a friend Dr. William Dye, also a member of the faculty of Pennsylvania State College.

Many friends from out of town attended the funeral including Mr. and Mrs. Peter Cloetingh and family of Muskegon, Mr. and Mrs. J. Stouthamer and Mrs. Frank Herbst of Milwaukee and Mr. and Mrs. John Van Dommelen and children Ruth and John, also Mr. Thomas Kennedy of Stewardville, Mo., and Attorney and Mrs. Theodore Elferdink of Grand Rapids.

Mrs. Cloetingh is survived by her husband and a son recently born, her parents Mr. and Mrs. Albert Keppel and four sisters, Miss Ruth, Miss Katherine, Miss Vera Jane, and Miss Lois Keppel.

"OLD PARSONAGE" AT ZEELAND GIVES WAY TO CEMENTERY TRACT

The last of Zeeland's landmarks passed out of existence Saturday when the house known to all residents in this city and vicinity as "the old parsonage" was razed. The old house was torn down in order to make way for an entrance to the local cemetery.

The "old parsonage" was the oldest house in the city, having been built by Rev. Cornelius Vander Muelen, the first pastor of the local settlement, in 1847.

The old house served as a church and hospital and as a meeting place of all kinds.

Work has been started on leveling the property and it is hoped to have the entire cemetery addition ready before spring. Then a memorial is to be planned for the religious leader of the colony, who is buried on the land he once owned.

ALMA ENDS HOPE'S STRING OF TIES

Hope gridders suffered their first defeat of the season here Saturday, 12 to 0, by Alma college.

Both touchdowns were made by Lamb, Alma halfback, Wagner failed to add the extra points.

Hope played a good game against Alma's superior squad. Cook and Vanderbush starring on defense. Alma repeatedly broke through Hope's line, while Alma's line checked Hope on downs. Hope tried the forward pass and made some gains. Erickson, Alma's fullback, was the chief ground gainer.

Hope frustrated Alma's attempt for the third touchdown in the

Dr. T. W. Davidson, pastor of Hope Church, entertained the members of the Longfellow Parent-Teachers Club giving a resume of his trip thru Europe this summer. Leon Moody, president, presided and introduced Charles Dykstra who led the scripture lesson and prayer. Dr. Davidson states that Paris has 700 hotels awaiting American tourists. The spot where the shooting of Edith Cavell took place was also an impressive place, he said. The picture "Dawn" leaves out the actual shooting and another point that many do not know, he said, that one of the six Germans in the firing squad refused to shoot a woman and was also shot down by the squad. There was also a musical program. Ruth Van Appledorn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Van Appledorn, played two piano solos, and Mrs. H. L. Dunwoody sang two solos, accompanied by Miss Dorothy Mead. Superintendent E. E. Fell gave a short talk about the new music classes and Dick Van Kolken of the entertainment committee explained the four course lyceum that the Longfellow school is sponsoring.

O. E. Szekely reported at the Rotary Club luncheon last Thursday that the Holland airport was inadequate and that there are many hazards around the boundaries such as trees that cannot be cut down. A committee is to be appointed to see what can be done to remedy matters.

The West Michigan Laundry has installed a new automatic stoker at their plant. It is set in a depression in the floor so the coal is dumped directly into it from a wheel barrow and operates by an electrical device which feeds or holds back the coal so as to maintain the desired temperature in the boilers. It also completely eliminates smoke.

The Standard Grocery and Milling Company, was broken into Friday night and the three unknown young men had about $500 worth of articles loaded ready to leave. John Weighmink, night matchman at the canning factory, was a witness and when he asked them what they were doing, they fled. Mr. Weighmink notified police as quickly as possible but no trace of the men could be found.

PAUL'S LAST JOURNEY TO JERUSALEM

LESSON TEXT—Acts 20:1-31:17. GOLDEN TEXT—Remember the words of the Lord Jesus how He said, It is more blessed to give than to receive. PRIMARY TOPIC—Paul Tells His Friends Good-by.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—What Our Pastor Does for Us.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Paul, Shepherd of the Churches.

1.—Paul's Visit to Greece and Asia (20:1-18).

Two incidents marked this trip:

1. The Jews laid wait for him (vv. 1-5). This plot obliged him to retrace his steps through Macedonia instead of choosing a more rapid sea voyage.

2. Fellowshiping with the disciples at Troas (vv. 6-10). He met with them around the table of the Lord and spoke words of encouragement. While preaching here, Eutychus in a deep sleep, fell from a window and was killed. Paul restored his life, thus giving to the disciples a sign of divine power which was greatly needed at that time.

11. Paul's Farewell to the Ephesian Elders (20:17-38).

1. Review of his three years' ministry (vv. 18-21). (1) The spirit of his ministry (v. 19). He was humble, tender and faithful in spite of the many trials which befell him. (2) The faithfulness of his ministry (vv. 20-21). He made known unto them everything which was of profit, taught them both in public and in private. He neglected no class, Jews or Greeks. He was impartial to all in his ministry. (3) The theme of his ministry (v. 21). Repentance and faith. Men and women need to repent of their sins and believe on the Lord Jesus Christ.

2. The present state of things (vv. 22-27). Having reviewed his ministry, he now points out clearly, (1) His immediate purpose was to go to Jerusalem (v. 22). (2) Bonds and afflictions were lying across his path (v. 23). Despite these he went forward with undaunted courage, knowing that God was leading him. (3) His fixed purpose (v. 24). He was determined to complete his ministry at whatever cost—even giving up his life. (4) His consciousness of obligation discharged (vv. 25-27). Knowing that they should see his face no more, he called them to record that he had not shunned to declare the whole counsel of God, therefore was free from the blood of all men.

3. His charge to the elders (vv. 28-35). (1) The ground of (v. 28). The flock for which they must care was purchased by the precious blood of Jesus and they received their commission from the Lord. (2) The impending evils (vv. 29, 30). False teachers would arise from their own number. Grievous wolves would devour the flock. The most deadly foes of the church are those ministers and Sunday school teachers who are unfaithful to their trust. (3) Incentives to faithfulness (vv. 31-35). His own example of watching night and day for three years is held up before them; his unselfish services, laboring with his own hands night and day that he might be free from suspicion of selfishness.

III. Paul Tarrying Seven Days at Tyre (21:1-6).

The destination was Jerusalem. He was pressing thitherward with all speed, but on account of the unloading of the ship—he was obliged to wait at Tyre for seven days. During this delay he searched out the disciples who lived in that city. While here certain disciples said Paul should not go to Jerusalem. The information which these disciples received by the Spirit was doubtless the same as that given to Agabus (vv. 10, 11). Agabus told exactly what the Spirit said, which sets right what the Tyrian disciples seemed to say. We should give heed to prophesying, but should prove their utterances. Let all who claim to speak with the Holy Spirit give the exact word so that they can be subjected to legitimate tests. The same Spirit which showed to these disciples that suffering awaited Paul revealed unto him the same suffering and sent him forward into it.

IV. Paul Tarrying in Phillip's House (vv. 7-14).

The O. G. S. Club was entertained Friday evening by Miss Anna Heinecke. Miss Alyce Kraker was a guest of the evening. A two-course luncheon was served following a musical program which proved to be very interesting.

A. Van Zanten of Muskegon, and Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit Van Zanten Mrs. Herman Tien and Mr. and Mrs. Nick Van Zanten, Mr. and Mrs. John Van Zanten all of Holland.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter G. Lehmen, 480 Michigan avenue, Holland were pleasantly surprised Thursday evening, the occasion being Mrs. Lehmen's seventy-second birthday. A two-course luncheon was served and Mrs. Lehmen was presented with a purse as a birthday present. Those present were brothers and sisters, Mr. and Mrs.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. A. Brouwer, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. J. Brouwer, Mrs. Gertrude Boer and Mrs. Jay C. Oom returned last week from St. Paul, Minn., where they spent several days with Herman Brouwer. The trip was made by auto, covering 1500 miles all over concrete or improved roads and on one day the clouds were so low that they drove in them when going over the mountain tops.

Prof. and Mrs. J. Vander Meulen entertained the Seminary faculty at a six o'clock dinner Wednesday evening, of last week.

RINGNECK PHEASANT SUPPLY IS NORMAL

When the ringneck pheasant season opens October 25 there should be a normal supply of birds, according to P. S. Lovejoy, head of the game division of the Michigan conservation department. The output of chicks from the state farm was below average this summer, but there is indication the increase in the wild state is up to the mark of former years.

Janet Holkeboer and Albert Jipping were united in marriage last week, the ceremony taking place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Holkeboer. They were attended by Miss Hazel Witteveen and John Jipping. The bride was charming in a white georgette dress and carrying a bridal bouquet of roses and sweet peas. The bridesmaid wore an orchid georgette dress with a bouquet of sweet peas and carnations. The guests witnessing the ceremony were: Rev. and Mrs. J. De Haan, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. MRS. J. E. TELLING

ENTERTAINS MUSIC CLUBS

AT HER HOME

The Grand Rapids Federation of Music Clubs held its annual conference here Thursday, in the ball room of the Warm Friend Tavern. Mrs. John Vander Veen and Mrs. Ludders furnished the flowers to decorate the room. Reports were received from the various clubs, and an excellent spirit of co-operation was shown.

The morning closed with election which resulted in all officers being re-elected, as follows: Mrs. Jeanette H. Brumaugh of Holland and Grand Rapids, president; Mrs. B. F. Elliot of Fennville, vice president and Mrs. R. B. Champion of Holland, secretary.

Mrs. J. E. Telling invited the guests of the conference to her home at Sunset Terrace for an afternoon recital. The two artists, Mrs. Dorothy Pelek McGraw and Mrs. Kathryn Gutekunst, of the St. Cecilia club, Grand Rapids sang beautifully and fulfilled to the utmost the expectations of their audience.

STATE COLLEGE

GIVES WAY TO FIGHT BOOK LICE

If you visit the bookcase and notice some of the best books deteriorating, it may mean that it is time to chase the troublesome book louse to his out-of-door haunt, where he can do no more harm, Michigan State college experts warn.

Book lice—for they really exist—usually are found in hay mows, old strawstacks, corncribs and other places in the open. When in the house they usually live among old books or papers in attics or basements, and infrequently in kitchens. They may be brought to the home in old mattresses stuffed with straw or corn shucks, furniture upholstered with excelsior or hair, straw matting, or rugs. Once they are found in the home they are difficult to eradicate.

Cereals, glue, paste and starch food in kitchens are their best food. They will often rid a room of its wallpaper by eating out the paste. Light, dry and well ventilated rooms constitute the best control measure against book lice. If there are a quantity, rooms should be heated to 140 degrees Fahrenheit for eradication. Kerosene sprays also are effective, but fumigation is not satisfactory.

BUTTERFIELD LEASES GRAND HAVEN THEATER

The Butterfield interests have leased the Robinhood theater at Grand Haven, to take effect Oct. 1, and will continue to run it on a part-time schedule. The plan, announced by M. F. Gruelwald, manager of the Grand theater here, has been pending for some time.

Churches Offer Student Classes

Sunday School Classes and Organizations Welcome Students

Many of the churches of the city are conducting Sunday gatherings for the young people of college age, which are reopening with renewed vigor for the new school year.

Hope Church has two gatherings of special interest to the college people. Mr. Hinge, of the High School faculty, leads a young men's class at twelve every Sunday. At times last year the attendance was over forty. The Young People's Forum, at 6:30, is conducted by Prof. Irwin Lubbers. At these meetings pertinent questions on religion and living are discussed.

Trinity Church has Senior C. E. at 6:30 Sunday evenings. The young men's and young women's Sunday School classes will combine next week, to be led by Professor J. R. Mulder of the Western Theological Seminary, who has consented to take charge.

The Students' Class at Third Church is conducted by Mr. Geritt Vandenberg, meeting at 11:30. Christian Endeavor meets at 6:30. First Church has a number of organizations for the collegiate age. The Christian Endeavor, of which Van Leeuwen is president, meets at 6:30; the Young Women's League for Service meets the third Tuesday of every month. Dick Boter teaches a young men's class, while there are two classes for the young women.

All the churches have offered, and continue to extend, most cordial invitations to all the students to take advantage of these gatherings, where tired minds may be refreshed with spiritual help to take them through the week.

PICTORIAL LIFE OF HERBERT HOOVER

No. 10

By Satterfield

1. After their romantic years in China, the Hoovers settled down in America with their two boys.

2. During this period, Hoover made extensive contributions to the scientific literature of engineering.

3. His leisure time was spent in scientific experiment in his own private laboratory.

4. Camp life was his vacation hobby. He is the only man who can poach an egg on the end of a stick.

1. In Europe on an official mission in 1914, Hoover was alarmed at the international hatreds that he saw.

2. War came with 200,000 Americans stranded in Europe. Hoover took over the emergency job of helping them.

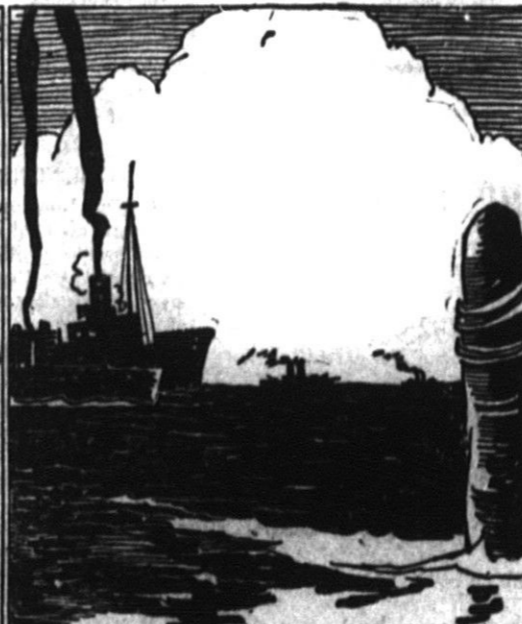

3. Then arose the call of the refugees. Hoover stepped into the breach.

4. The invasion of Belgium stirred his sympathy and imagination. He felt that fate had called him.

1. As director of Belgian relief, Hoover became the center of great diplomatic and financial questions.

2. At his command food and supplies were safely conveyed through a blockade made bitter by hate.

3. Despite almost insuperable obstacles, the Hoover food got through to the people of little Belgium.

4. His first meeting with King Albert of Belgium was on the battle field.

HAWK HITS VICTIM LIKE THUNDERBOLT

Mrs. John C. Taylor writes from East Lansing as follows: "The vicious force with which a hawk strikes was demonstrated when one of the birds swooped down into our flock of sturdy Plymouth Rock broilers, dealt one a savage blow, then flew swiftly off, leaving one apparently stunned and helpless on the ground. Before the thief could return for its prey, as we knew it very soon would, we ran out and rescued the chicken. To our amazement, it was not only dead, but so badly beaten up as to be literally smashed."

Archery Apparatus Sent for By Coach

GIRLS WILL HAVE CHANCE TO PLAY ANCIENT SPORT

Swimming, track meets, basketball, and archery for girls! Yes, at Hope College! This year! Mr. Schouten is planning a full program of athletics to be carried out this year by all the girls—Fresh, Soph, Juniors, Seniors.

If enough girls interested in swimming will come out, Mr. Schouten will arrange for a course of six lessons to be given at the Y. W. pool in Grand Rapids. Then swimming teams will be organized and inter-class meets arranged. Mr. Schouten hopes to be able to get the pool for Hope girls only, at least once every week.

On Thursday evenings from seven-thirty until nine-thirty, Carnegie Gym will be open to the girls for basketball practice. Mr. Schouten expects to organize a basketball league composed of several teams, and to run off a tournament perhaps in the early spring. Also there will be inter-class track meets in the spring, as well as archery. The equipment for archery has already been ordered and Mr. Schouten hopes that there will be large numbers of girls out for archery. Is there any doubt?

So here is your chance girls! Come out for athletics and show the fellows that you can do a few things too. Watch the Anchor for more announcements.

Hope Graduate Reaches China

Miss Nettie De Jong reached Shanghai on September 11th, and was commissioned by the Presbyterian Mission to Changsha, Hunan, with a view to re-entering Changsha as soon as the Mission property will be evacuated by the soldiers. The Chinese are inviting Miss De Jong to make visits to the Changsha field, if permanent residence is at yet impossible. Only one middle school is to be opened in the province, so the work will be all evangelistic for the present.

A total of 52 farms were covered in the study, distributed as follows: Emmet, 4; Charlevoix, 9; Grand Traverse, 11; Benzie, 10; Antrim, 8; and Manistee, 7.

"THE COTTERS' SATURDAY NIGHT"

IS O. K.

Some duck hunters have reported the killing of black ducks with lice infested bodies this year which has given rise to the question as to whether these birds are due for some parasitic epidemic.

As is the case with most all wild duck species, it is not at all unusual at this time of year, shortly after the molt, to find birds with a large number of biting lice or Mallophaga. This in no manner impairs their flesh or makes the fowl unfit for table use.

Wild ducks, like domestic fowl, are subject to parasitic attack but later in the season when cold weather sets in they become almost free of these pests.

Guns have no reason to become alarmed at this condition in wild ducks, which is merely aggravated when the birds are in weak plumage.

HEN DEPOSITS 116 EGGS IN 116 DAYS

All previous individual egg laying records are being smashed this year in the sixth international contest at Michigan State college.

Approximately 20 hens have a fighting chance to finish in the select 300-egg class. All hens with 300 eggs will be held the full 52 weeks.

This has been a banner year for individual records. An ambitious White Leghorn owned by the Lafayette Poultry farm, Lafayette, Ind., has created the longest cycle ever made in a Michigan contest. The hen laid an egg daily for 116 consecutive days. The contest covering a year closes November 1.

BIG PLANS IN PROGRESS FOR HOPE HOME-COMING

SATURDAY, NOV. 10 IS DATE SET FOR BIG DAY

Plans are being made for a big Home-coming celebration on Saturday, November 10. Although the details are still somewhat hazy, various organizations on the campus are preparing to entertain the large number of alumni and alumnae who are expected to attend.

Of course, the main feature on the program is the football game against Kalamazoo, which is to be held in the afternoon. There is some talk of having a parade, following the example of the Home-coming three years ago. In the procession floats would represent various societies and organizations of the college.

The Knicks and the Fraters, having society houses all their own, are planning special celebrations. A house-warming, with their new home thrown open to the public, is contemplated by the Fraters for the afternoon and early evening of Home-coming Day. Their usual Armistice Day party for members,

Farm Rents Net Owners Average Of 8 Cents Acre

Statistics from Eight North Michigan Counties Give This Result

Through a period of seven years rented farms brought their owners an average income of eight cents an acre each year in eight of Michigan's northwest counties, according to figures by R. Wayne Newton, research associate in economics at Michigan State college.

The figures are furnished by owners of rented farms from 1919 to 1925 in Emmet, Charlevoix, Antrim, Grand Traverse, Leelanau, Benzie, Wexford and Manistee counties.

The figures, Mr. Newton says, should not be taken as conclusive. They represent as low as 14 and as high as 44 of the more than 700 farms in the eight counties. Government statistics of 1924 show that 715 farms in the territory were rented.

"Owners reporting in the eight counties received an average rental of $2.42 an acre through the seven-year period," says Mr. Newton in discussing the returns. "Repairs depreciation and operating expenses reduced the yield to an average of $1.00 an acre with a tax of 92 cents per acre to be paid."

"Taxes were highest, and rents highest in 1919. In that year 24 farmers reported gross rents of $3.63 per acre, and a net return of $2 per acre before paying taxes, which in 1919 averaged 75 cents an acre, or 92 cents—95 per cent of the net rent."

"The most unfavorable years were 1920 and 1923, inclusive. In these years the farms reporting did not yield sufficient rent to pay taxes. In 1922, 33 farms were taxed an average of 87 cents per acre, while the net returns from operations was only 57 cents, leaving a deficit of 30 cents per acre to be made up from sources outside of the farm."

"In 1925, the last year covered by the study, average gross rents from 44 farms were $2.42 per acre, while net rents before the payment of taxes were 93 cents per acre. Taxes in 1925 amounted to 88 cents per acre, or 95 per cent of the rents."

"Fifteen farms which reported for each of the three years 1919, 1922 and 1925 showed approximately the same results as did the entire group. Taxes on the 15 farms were 26 per cent of rents in 1919. In 1922, taxes were 23 per cent greater than the rental returns. Rents were just enough to pay the taxes on these farms in 1925."

"The Cotters' Saturday Night" is an inimitable combination of music, fun and laughter. During the play, some of the greatest of Burns' immortal songs are beautifully rendered, and also there is a wealth of droll stories and Scottish character delineations.

The Scottish Musical Comedy Company, which will present "The Cotters' Saturday Night" here, comes to this city fresh from triumphs throughout New York and New England.

They recently had the honor of giving a performance in Washington, which was attended by President and Mrs. Coolidge, both of whom were highly enthusiastic over the play.

The characters in the play are a bit of old Scotland itself, and there is a beautiful love story running through the whole production, which adds greatly to the interest of the plot.

This number is the first of a series of five unequalled entertainments to be presented by the College Lyceum Course management. Tickets at Huizinga's.

The season for trapping muskrats has been set by the Conservation Commission this year to run from Nov. 15 to Dec. 15. This also automatically opens the season for trapping mink, at the same time.

Relative to Fixing legislative territory and districts.
Amendments to Section 3 of Article V of the Constitution relative to fixing legislative territory and districts.

Sec. 3. The house of representatives shall consist of not less than sixty-four nor more than one hundred members. Representatives shall be chosen for two years and by single districts, which shall contain as nearly as may be an equal number of inhabitants and shall consist of convenient and contiguous territory; but no township or city shall be divided in the formation of a representative district, except that when a city is composed of territory in more than one county, it may be divided at the county line or lines: And provided, That in the case of cities hereafter organized or created or territory annexed to an existing city, the territory thereof shall remain in its present representative district until the next apportionment. When any township or city shall contain a population which entitles it to more than one representative, then such township or city shall elect by general ticket the number of representatives to which it is entitled. Each county, with such territory as may be attached thereto, shall be entitled to a separate representative when it has attained a population equal to a moiety of the ratio of representation. In every county entitled to more than one representative, the board of supervisors shall assemble at such time and place as shall be prescribed by law, divide the same into representative districts equal to the number of representatives to which such county is entitled by law, and shall cause to be filed in the offices of the secretary of state and clerk of such county a description of such representative districts, specifying the number of each district and population thereof according to the last preceding enumeration.

Relative to Acquiring land and property for boulevards, streets and alleys.

Sec. 5. In exercising the powers of eminent domain and in taking the fee of land and property that is needed for the acquiring, opening and widening of boulevards, streets and alleys, municipalities shall not be limited to the acquisition of the land to be covered by the proposed improvement, but may take such other land and property adjacent to the proposed improvement as may be appropriate to secure the greatest degree of public advantage from such improvement. After so much of the land and property has been appropriated for any such needed public purpose, the remainder may be sold or leased with or without such restrictions as may be appropriate to the improvement made. Bonds may be issued to supply the funds to pay in whole or in part for the property so appropriated, but such bonds shall be a lien only on the property so acquired and they shall not be included in any limitation of the bonded indebtedness of such municipality.

Relative to Compensation of members of the legislature.
Amendment to Section 9 of Article V of the Constitution relative to compensation of members of the legislature.

Sec. 9. The compensation of the members of the legislature shall be three dollars per diem during the term for which they are elected, and they shall receive no further compensation than as specified in this section for service when the legislature is convened in extra session. Members shall be entitled to ten cents per mile and no more for one round trip to each regular and special session of the legislature by the usually traveled route. Each member shall be entitled to one copy of the laws, journals and documents of the legislature of which he is a member, but shall not receive, at the expense of the state, books, newspapers or perquisites of the office not expressly authorized by this constitution.

NOTICE is further hereby given that the place for voting upon the above Amendments to the Constitution in each of the several Wards and Precincts of the City will be the same as for the General November Election, and the hours for voting upon said Amendments will be the same as for voting upon all other matters at said election.
