Hope's Passing Brings Out Many Old Memories

PRINTING PLANT FIRST LOCATED ON SITE OF MEMORIAL CHAPEL BUILT BY POPULAR SUBSCRIPTION

Old Religious Newspaper Has Printed Its Last Number; Ends
an Unusual Career

The passing of a newspaper is always pathetic. No matter what the caliber of the newspaper is there is always something in it that appeals to some one and the older the newspaper, the more staunch the friends to whom it does appeal stand by it.

Last week De Hope, the first official organ published by Hope College, and printed in the Dutch language, has printed its last issue, never failing to appear each week since 1866 or a period of 67 years. During that time it has published 3478 issues. The greater part of this time, when the circulation was well into 6,000, it was a potent factor and a strong influence in the upbuilding of Hope College and the Western Theological Seminary as well as sustaining through its columns the Reformed Churches that were established during the emigration days and wherever Hollanders settled in the United States.

This newspaper was established when Hope College was far from flush with money and when the student body was a mere handful of young men and women. The first building, seen in this issue, was erected through popular subscriptions of citizens and college folks. The building occupied the site of the present Hope Memorial Chapel and was built by the late Jan Prakken with the late Peter Oosting, Holland's first mason contractor, doing the brick work. There were many venerable buildings in the earlier days, wood on the inside with brick around it—terrible fire traps but serviceable and warm. Hope College campus was little more than a commons filled with June grass with a crude fence around it.

The first publisher of De Hope was the late Otto Doesburg, uncle of Harry Doesburg, local druggist, and Miss Kittie Doesburg, living on East 10th St.

The second publisher was Rokus Kanters, head of the prominent Kanters family, who have left an indelible mark in the upbuilding of Holland during the pioneer days. Publishing a paper was only one of the vocations of Mr. Kanters. He owned sailing schooners in the lumber trade. He and his sons were harbor builders, using the old Dutch method of brush and stone, the way Holland harbor was first built. He also had contracts at Cleveland, Ohio; Lincoln Park, Chicago; and Galveston, Texas, and became wealthy as wealth was figured in the earlier days.

The large square house directly east of the Holland Theater was once the Kanters palatial home. The large rambling house to the east were the stables for horses and carriages. At one time Mr. Kanters was the builder of windmills when these first were in vogue and erected the Kanters building for a hardware store for his sons. (Pardon us for deviating from the newspaper story but it is a background that enters into it).

Mr. Kanters published De Hope until his death when Lane T. Kanters, a son, and Miss Jennie Kanters, an only daughter, took charge. Mr. Kanters for a long time was at the head of our fire department and Miss Jennie Kanters was librarian and social worker. Both passed away some 15 years ago.

During the first years when Mr. Rokus Kanters was publisher, the late Prof. G. J. Kollen, who later became president of Hope College, was business manager and Prof. Cornelius Doesburg, father of Miss Kittie Doesburg of this city, acted as editor. He was followed by Gerrit Van Schelven, who later became editor of the Holland City News until he became postmaster of Holland.

It was then decided to divide up the editorial work, delegating it to ministers and professors, who edited certain departments and contributed articles regularly to the newspapers. This in a measure held down expenses and at the same time gave a broader field of church work as well as a wider range of thought along Biblical lines. For many years Prof. A. Raap, now of Miami, Florida, was the subscription manager.

The later Dr. N. M. Steffens, who for a number of years was at the head of the Western Theological Seminary, was one of the leading contributors. Dr. Steffens was a potent factor in reorganizing the

"TOOTING OUR OWN HORN"

Within the next few days a slogan will be forthcoming something like this: "Buy Holland Sugar. It is a Home Product." And why not? Holland-made sugar is as good as any on the market. It is raised by Holland farmers, it is made by Holland labor, it is sold by Holland salesmen, and it is going to be carried by Holland merchants. Merchants can save freight rates by purchasing Holland sugar.

On the 50-50 plan between the mill and the farmer, both benefit because of this fact and that is going to make it mutually profitable to farm owners, millers, merchants and consumers aside from the immense amount of labor that will be paid in cash to Holland workmen.

It is about time Holland "toots its own horn." Holland made fur naces has put Holland on the map throughout the United States as has Heinz "57 varieties" with Holland made rusk a close third and Charles Karr's spring mattresses marching side by side with Holland shoes and San-Tox and others we might mention.

It is about time that Holland begins to find out just what it made in Holland and the crystallized sugar at the mill is a good one to start off with.

Let's boost Holland-made sugar as well as every other product made here.

First Reformed Church during those secessionary periods when the congregation that occupied the now Ninth Street Christian Reformed Church was torn in twain in the church fight on Masonry and after that the First Reformed Church at Central and Ninth was built. The organization took place in the old wooden college chapel on the site of the Carnegie gym.

As was stated before, this old Hope building was then located on College Avenue. Some 35 years ago the building was moved to the east side of the campus at the foot of the hill on Columbia Avenue and Eleventh Street. The brick veneer was taken down, the frame was moved and then the brick was put up again on the new location, leaving it practically the same as it was before the change in location was made.

Among the men who contributed to the success of De Hope from a literary standpoint as we remember them are Rev. James F. Zwemer, Rev. Dirk Broek, Rev. E. Winter, Rev. J. Meulendyke, Drs. William and Peter Moerdyke, Dr. John Vander Meulen, Dr. De Jonge, Mr. Matthew Koly, Mr. J. H. Karsten and Dr. De Pree. Most of these have passed away.

Rev. J. F. Hiemstra, Rev. J. Bovenkerk, Prof. Thomas Welmers, Rev. M. D. Vander Meer, Dr. S. C. Nettinga, president of the Western Theological Seminary, Dr. Wm. J. Van Kersen, Dr. E. J. Bleckink and Henry Geerlings were contributors up to the time of the discontinuance of De Hope.

During the past decade De Hope and Leader were printed in the building erected by Mr. Johannes and Lester Klaasen on East Eighth street. The Klaasens many years ago had taken the contract of printing De Hope and when no more use was found for the building on Columbia avenue it was razed and some of the material entered in another building now on the site used for class rooms and college societies by Hope College.

During its best days De Hope circulated largely where Hollanders had established settlements in the earlier days, especially Michigan, Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Nebraska.

The discontinuance of extensive emigration from the Netherlands and many other factors entered in the going back in influence, prestige and finance of De Hope. Other methods of reaching the Reformed denomination, more effective, and the establishing of The Leader, the official English paper, also added to its difficulties until those in charge felt that the old Hope, after 67 years of service, should be given a rest and last week the editorial staff, together with the printers marked their copy "30," which to the printers trade means only one thing, "It is the end—there will be no more copy."

Holland Theatre Undergoing A Transformation

AT LEAST $5,000 IS BEING SPENT FOR NEW EQUIP-MENT AND REDECORATIONS

To show just how this spirit of optimism works is evident since Holland has been assured of the Baker Furniture Company, a new road to Grand Haven along the beach, an open sugar mill teeming with business and other prospective manufacturing plants practically assured. The whole has brought a different and more hopeful spirit in the community and it will not be long before others start planning in our city.

Manager Carley of the local theaters has already started. A force of men has been working night and day between performances to put the Holland theater in shape, making it one of the best theaters in western Michigan.

The management is now spending more than $5,000 in a new seating arrangement on the main floor. Through the American Seating Company the latest type of upholstered theater seats, cushioned in maroon, are being installed. These "lean back" seats are surely cozy and comfortable and rich in appearance. These seats have leather spring cushions with automatic seat lifters and velvet backs. There is nothing finer and as Mr. Carley states, "The first object is to look after the comfort and the ease of the patrons who attend the theater."

The foyer, stairs and aisles have been carpeted with new carpet of beautiful modernistic design, harmonizing with the other furnishings in color scheme.

Considerable remodeling and redecorating are in the rejuvenation plans at the Holland.

However, it is all going on during intermissions from midnight until noon the next day, not interfering with any of the performances.

Manager Carley has been able for some years to give Holland the best pictures first and that surely is some accomplishment. It might be said that Holland theatergoers can be classed with the "first-nights," for no sooner are new plays exploited in radio and press from Hollywood when Holland has them.

Mr. Carley has had the good will of Holland citizens covering a period of many years. He has taken a decided interest in matters beyond the theater as far as Holland is concerned. He is often drafted by the civic clubs to carry a part of the civic load whenever called upon and is exceedingly liberal in using the screens of his theaters to exploit city enterprises gratuitously.

Anyway, it is just these things collectively that will make work and put Holland back in the running at full capacity.

VANDENBERG BOYS

SWEETENED UP

Both William C. and Vaudie Vandenberg were given unstinted praise by Arthur W. Wrieden, speaker before the Rotary club today. It was through their efforts that the sugar mill is the busy spot that it is today and "Bill" was well sweetened up when the first 100 pounds of sugar crystallized at the mill, was handed to him as a token of appreciation. It surely was a sweet gesture and well deserved. Later—Vaudie got 50 pounds of the 100.

CONDEMNNS HOGS IN HOLLAND SECTION

Veterinary Surgeon N. K. Prins of this city virtually has completed inspection of hogs on farms within an area of two to three miles around Holland for symptoms of cholera.

Out of approximately 300 hogs inspected about 50 per cent were condemned. One farmer lost about 60 hogs and others from 10 to 30. No recent outbreaks have been reported. The disease is largely ascribed to inoculations and garbage feeding.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Kardux have returned from Savannah, Missouri, where Mr. Kardux spent a month undergoing plastic treatment at Dr. Nichol's sanitarium.

This is the same building moved 35 years ago to Columbia avenue and Eleventh street. From left to right are the late Albert Kamferbeek, Ben Kamferbeek, who has been a printer in Holland for 59 years; William Klaasen and the late Rokus Kanters, editor in chief and one-time mayor of Holland. You will notice that Mr. Kanters is immaculately dressed. He generally wore his Prince Albert, carried a cane, wore gloves and often a tile. You will also notice the wooden sidewalk which has long since been replaced with concrete.

News Items Taken From the Files of Holland City News Fifty, Twenty-five and Fifteen Years Ago Today

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

The marriage of Dr. Thomas G. Huizinga and Miss Henrietta De Pree, both of Zeeland, took place at the home of John De Pree, brother of the bride. The news at that time devoted a half column to the event. Note: Zeeland Hospital, dedicated some years ago, is in memory of the late Dr. Huizinga, who had done so much for Zeeland and contributed so liberally in the establishing of a hospital there.

A report is going the rounds of the state papers that Hope College now has 50 students. Make it 150 and you will be nearer right, brother editors. Note: Today 550.

The young Holland men who take their stand on the corner of Main and River streets to leer at the ladies, especially on windy days, should be elevated on the toes of all decent men who chafe along. Note: Today they don't have to leer to see a little too peeping from under a dress, modestly dodging back like a timid little mouse seeking cover when self-conscious—that was yesterday. Today there is no cover and very few pages as an afternoon sun cannot help but expose. Nudity in Holland during the resort season has become so commonplace that young men don't leer, in fact they don't even look. Conversation at the Holland postoffice when a load of tourists, boys and girls of 18 or thereabouts, motored up, 90 per cent nude: "Jack, is my brassiere on straight?" "Yes, but your shorts have shrunk." Chorus of laughter.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY

Rev. Gerrit J. Pennings left today for Arabia appointed as missionary by the Foreign Board of the Reformed Church. He is a graduate of Hope and also from the local seminary. Note: Rev. Pennings and family are home now on a furlough after spending 25 years in the mission field.

Rev. Henry Mulder, who was just installed as a graduate pastor of the Christian Reformed Church at Plainfield, near Grand Rapids, was called upon to perform the marriage of George W. Duer of Holland and Miss Gertrude Vredevel of Fremont. Note: The newspapers of Grand Rapids the past week chronicled the silver anniversary of the dominie's pastorate in that denomination. A wedding anniversary also seems in order.

A nine-piece orchestra has been organized at Hope College under the leadership of George Damsen of Hope. The musical organization perfected to furnish music at college functions is a new departure at the local institution that is proving successful for the first time.

The Diekema for Congress Club has named a committee to perfect a permanent organization of such a club. Those named were Wm. Brusse, chairman, John Vanden Berg, Mortimer A. Sooy, Frank Congleton, Charles McBride, Geo. Huntley and Dan Ten Cate. A constitution and by-laws is being drafted.

The News chronicles the sad event of the death of Mrs. H. G. Birchby at Peabody, Kansas, who was burned to death while preparing to entertain a company of church ladies for tea. Her clothing catching fire from the explosion of a coal oil can. Rev. and Mrs. Birchby were much beloved by Holland folks when he was pastor serving Hope Church from 1892 to 1899. They were both from England and were married at Manchester. They first met on the "Hale of Man." They came to the United States and in this country at Union Theological Seminary Mr. Birchby prepared for the ministry.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO TODAY

At 7 o'clock Saturday night a $60,000 fire occurred at Hamilton when a blaze started in the three-story Kolvord mill on Rabbit River. Within a short time the wooden structures, composed of flour mill, saw mill and nearby houses, were all in flame, swept through by the heavy wind that was blowing. The fire soon spread to the hardware store of Gerrit Spruietsma, formerly with the firm of Van Dyke & Spruietsma, Holland.

In the absence of a fire department a bucket brigade was put into play but could not stem such a blaze. Holland sent its pumper down but the river banks were so steep and soft the heavy truck could not be sent down there. Then an attempt was made from the high 40 foot bridge but the suction hose fell far short of reaching the water. There was no other water available within the village limits near the fire. The boys did their best, however, and reached Hamilton in 24 minutes. The mill contained 10,000 bushels of wheat but through hard work 2000 bushels were saved. Most of the contents of the Spruietsma store were saved as was the furniture of the flat above where the Spruietsma family resides.

DROWNED DUCKS

Ross Barry tells in his humorous way how two live mallard decoys which he had spent all summer raising were drowned on the first day of the shooting season. That probably sounds foolish to a lot of folks who think that ducks are natural swimmers, and they can be left in the water all day without damage. But I've seen just that thing happen—decoys drown.

It seems that ducks which are reared on land and have very little opportunity to get in the water lack the body and feather oil necessary to sustain them for a long period in the water. If they swim around for a while they begin to get water-soaked. That happened to a decoy Don and I were using on an opening day three or four years ago, and many duck hunters have had the same experience. —G. R. Herald.

COURT OF HONOR TO BE HELD IN HUDSONVILLE

The court of honor of the east central district, which was to have been held October 23, was postponed until October 30. The court of honor will be held in Hudsonville High School. Plans and program are in charge of E. Hubbard, deputy commissioner. The court of honor will be in charge of the district chairman, Rev. J. Wolterink of Forest Grove. Commissioner W. H. Vandewater of Zeeland will assist.

DISMANTLE MARKET STANDS AT HOLLAND

Repeated opposition to making the vacant lot adjoining Colonial theater on River avenue and Tenth street a hub of industry has been quelled. The last vestige of the local fruit and vegetable market was removed Tuesday. Farmers sponsoring the open market now offer their produce for sale in a nearby store.

Ottawa County News

Miss Leah Gunneam of Coopersville has accepted a position as teacher of science in Ohio Valley general hospital at Wheeling, W. Va. She has been practicing nursing in Lansing since her graduation from Sparrow hospital training school.

Ottawa and Coopersville granges will help Conklin grange with its annual Halloween party Oct. 28 at Conklin. It will be a hard-time party.

Two Holland Plants Show Great Activity

EVERYTHING IS HUMMING AT THE OLD BUSH & LANE

The new Baker Furniture company that is to go into the old Bush & Lane plant has brought much activity in the southeast part of the city. George Mooi and his men are putting a roof on the large building. Frank Dyke, the contractor, is making several changes in the interior and exterior. Sam Habing is doing a great deal of necessary mason work and Aldermen Neil De Cook and Fritz Jonkman are also working and supervising some of the work and all these men have brought with them at least fifty men and everything is hustle and bustle across from Prospect park. The offices are being modernized, the paint brush is being liberally used and a force of men is also cleaning up around the plant. A month from now you will not know the old Bush & Lane for it will then be the new Baker Furniture Company.

Both Mr. Baker and Mr. De Wild, the superintendent, are there from time to time.

President Wrieden and Secretary Connolly of the Chamber of Commerce, besides several other business men, have been visiting the plant often this week and surely it is a pleasing sight to see so much activity in a shop that has been boarded up for so many years.

Down to the sugar mill there is also a great deal of activity. More than 4,000 tons of beets have been unloaded up to 4 o'clock this afternoon. Long lines of farmers' trucks are waiting for two blocks to be unloaded. This is still wonderful beet weather for the night frosts puts the sugar content into the beets.

Manager Allen states that sugar making is already going on and a sizable stack of well filled sugar bags are already being trucked into the warehouse.

There are three shifts over the 24-hour period and the pyramids of beets on the outside are rapidly going over conveyors to the slicers on the inside. It will not be long before Holland can stage a sugar week when the slogan will be "Buy Holland Sugar."

MAYOR GRANDPA AGAIN

Dr. and Mrs. Leon C. Bosch of Union avenue are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter, Nancy Carman, at Butterworth hospital on Sunday morning.—Grand Rapids Press.

Dr. Bosch is the son of Mayor and Mrs. Nichodemus Bosch.

NOTED MAGAZINE WRITER HERE

Mr. Daugherty, special writer for Liberty magazine, is in the city today, a guest of Mr. Connolly, industrial director of our Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Daugherty, it is expected, will give Holland and vicinity a special write-up. Liberty is extensively circulated throughout the United States and Holland will appreciate this publicity.

ALLEGAN FAIR EARNS $1,625.62 IN 1933

The 1933 Allegan county fair returned a net profit of $1,625.62 despite reduced admission prices, according to a report read at the annual meeting of the fair association Wednesday. In the last two years the institution's indebtedness has been reduced $3,320.44.

Directors elected were Thomas R. Ward, Glenn D. Gordon, George Horan, Charles Brand and A. D. Morley, all of Allegan; Perle Cochran, Allegan township; Mark Hutchinson, Fennville; Elmer Bargwell, Watson township. The directors will meet at a later date to elect officers and set the dates for the 1934 fair.

President Earl W. DeLano and other officials were highly commended for their efforts in providing such a successful exhibition.

MRS. MCLEAN TO SPEAK IN GRAND HAVEN

G. G. Groenewoud, county commissioner of schools, has called a meeting to be held this evening at Perry grade school here at 8 p. m. for school officers, officers of the Parent-Teacher association and all others interested in the financial condition of the schools of Ottawa county and of the state.

The purpose of the meeting, says the commissioner, is to obtain more information in regard to the present financial situation and what is to be done to obtain relief. This subject will be discussed by either Mrs. Dorion Russell of Grand Rapids, a member of the committee of seventeen, or Mrs. Sears McLean of Holland, chairman of a county committee, appointed by Mrs. Russell—Grand Haven Tribune.

Rev. C. Vander Schor will conduct both services next Sunday in the Reformed church at Atwood.

Attorney Arthur Van Duren is in Grand Rapids today on legal business.

Hyma High Lights By JOHNNY HYMA of New York and Holland

Am playing Pitt theater, Pittsburgh, this week in the good old state of Penn's Woods. (They say the Indians liked William Penn so much they carried him on their shoulders). Well I guess that made them all "Penn-Holders."

Next week I go to Akron, Ohio. I met Mr. Sieberling once at a bridge party there and played bridge with Mr. Goodyear. (He, of course, won the RUBBER.)

I hear that bridge was played in the Bible. Cain beat Able with "One Spade."

I hear that Scotsmen like to neck in the moonlight. (I heard one say "It's a brau brech moenlech nech to NECK.")

I remember when we had a gelatine factory here and a big livery stable on Central avenue. The difference was one had HORSES; B O N E S and the other had "Boones Horses"

GETZ MOVING FAST

Already several of the wilder animals from the Getz zoo have been moved to Chicago. The Citizens Transfer Co. of Holland has been given the contract and Park Superintendent Bean of Chicago is supervising the moving.

Two large vans left Monday night and three since that time, all loaded with the jungle tribe.

It may not be locally known that this new zoological park in Brookfield, Chicago, is the gift of Mrs. McCormick, oldest daughter of John D. Rockefeller, Sr., and that the custodian is Cartoonist John McCutcheon of the Chicago Tribune.

The animals will surely go to a wonderful park, said to be the finest in the world.

Superintendent "Andy" Petersen believes that everything will be moved over by the first of next week and there surely will be an emptiness at old Lakewood.

Elsewhere in this issue the Holland City News devotes nearly a page in cuts and descriptive matter to the history of Lakewood farm.

FARMERS' INSTITUTE AT HOLLAND DEC. 8

Managing Director William M. Connolly of the Holland Chamber of Commerce has set Friday, Dec. 8, as the tentative date for a farmers' institute in the Holland armory.

Several new features will be embodied in the program. Prominent speakers will be booked and band music and diversified forms of entertainment will be provided.

William C. Vandenberg has been named general chairman and Henry A. Geerts chairman of food. The affair will be sponsored by the commerce body. Judging from attendance at previous roundups between 1,500 and 2,000 persons will join in the festivities.

William C. Vandenberg will head the general committee in charge of arrangements for Farmers' Day. Henry Geerts, in the capacity of co-chairman will be in charge of preparing the luncheon.

The agricultural committee of the Chamber of Commerce, with Mr. Geerts as its chairman, will assist in the preparations. Committee members are Henry Vander Schel, Ben A. Mulder, Alex Van Zanten, James Bareman, Kenneth De Pree, H. M. Fleischer, Andrew Klomparsen and Marshall Allen.

The program will probably be held in the Armory.

DRYS TO START OVER AGAIN

A letter has been received from the Anti-Saloon League of Michigan at Lansing, stating that a mass meeting will be held in Holland on Wednesday evening, November 1, at 7:30 o'clock in the First Methodist Episcopal church when Bishop James Cannon, Jr. of Washington, D. C., will speak on the subject "The Wet Rebellion."

The letter states that Dr. D. L. McBride is launching an educational campaign in every county in the state, the objective being to place Michigan back in the dry column.

ATTORNEY CROSS ATTENDS ANN ARBOR MEETING

The Michigan Bar association held a very important meeting at Ann Arbor which was attended by Attorney Orien S. Cross of Holland, director of the association from the Fifth district. The meeting was held at the law building at the university and plans were made to start a campaign against crime and racketeering.

The Michigan Bar association is backing up Uncle Sam in this work and it is understood that they will ask the co-operation of the newspapers to help them in their efforts which undoubtedly will be fearlessly given.

HOPE-KALAMAZOO GAME IS TODAY, FRIDAY

In recognition of the fact that Kalamazoo Central and Western State Teachers college both play home games next Saturday, Coach Bud Hinga has agreed to change the date of the Hope-Kalamazoo college contest at Kalamazoo to Friday afternoon after the request for a night game had been rejected. Hinga believed that Kalamazoo would have the advantage in a night battle.

Hope never has defeated Kalamazoo on the grid field, but succeeding in holding the Hornets to a scoreless last year. Two years ago Kalamazoo won by the narrow margin of 30 to 19.

Ottawa Farmers Know Coming Wheat Prices

FARMERS WHO SIGNED
WHEAT CONTRACTS WILL BE PAID 27 CENTS PER BUSHEL

Ottawa farmers who signed wheat contracts will receive 27 cents a bushel for their allotment of approximately one-half of their average production over the past three-year period. At a meeting of committeemen and directors held Tuesday in Allendale officers were elected, constitution adopted, budget set and plans made to publish lists of wheat co-operators in five newspapers.

Officers elected and qualified are President Everett Collar from Conklin; Vice President Sam Rymer, Spring Lake; Secretary C. P. Milham, Grand Haven; Treasurer W. B. Easton, Allendale; directors, John Kemme, Olive; Ed Baron, Zeeland; Charles Lowing, Jenison; Al Reisbig, Robinson, and John Poits, Coopersville.

As soon as the list of signers is published meetings will be held to sign the final contracts. It is expected that allotment checks will be received about Christmas time amounting to twenty cents a bushel for the allotment and the balance will be paid after local inspectors make their reports next summer.

It is understood that a similar program will be applied to corn acreage and hog production as has been applied to wheat.

TUBERCULIN TESTS TO BE MADE SOON IN OTTAWA COUNTY

The tuberculin testing survey, which was to have been conducted last summer and postponed, is to begin on November 13. Dr. Aronson of the Rockefeller Foundation in conjunction with the health unit and health departments of Holland and Grand Haven, is to be in charge of the survey.

Entire families are urged to take the test regardless of whether or not, to their knowledge they have been in contact with a known case of tuberculosis. It is expected that everyone interested in taking the tuberculin test will have an opportunity to do so in the tuberculin testing survey which is to begin November 13. The recent survey which included the high school students was received with a great deal of interest. The tuberculin test has been found to be very valuable, as proven by the experience of the health department during the past year. It is expected that the tuberculin testing survey which was conducted last year will have acquainted the people with the test sufficiently to cause them to be interested in taking the test when it is given.

The health department is to furnish the teachers of the county with information regarding tuberculosis prevention. The teachers have been asked to make the subject for study during the next few weeks so that as many as possible may be informed of the value of the test.

A series of clinics is to be arranged so as to make it possible to cover the county in about two weeks. A complete schedule of clinics to be held will appear in next week's column.

The physicians and health department are ready to furnish information to those who are not acquainted with the test.

Ring-Necks in Michigan

Remember back a few years ago, when the pheasant was first being introduced to Michigan hunters as a game bird, how the old-timers used to laugh? Game bird? Why, they'd as soon shoot a Plymouth Rock hen. You don't hear that ridicule any more. The ring-neck has established itself in the popularity of Michigan sportsmen.

It's by no means the equal of the ruffed grouse or woodcock. But it's a gamester, nevertheless.

The pheasant is a mighty crafty fellow and has more stamina than any other upland bird we know anything about. Wounded, it carries away a lot of shot, and if a wing is broken it runs like a flash, with head down and body close to the ground.

True, a year-old cock looks as big as a horse when it flushes into the air, but it's a hard bird to bring down regardless.

Another thing about the ring-neck is that most hunters have become thoroughly familiar with the markings and the call of the male bird. During the first shooting seasons many hens were killed unintentionally by honest hunters who were a bit quick on the trigger. Now few such mistakes are made. Most hens that are shot are sacrificed to the greed of outlaw hunters who have no consideration for the law.

Why Men Come Home

(Chicago American)

An odd aspect of depression and prosperity periods is that in the former, fewer men desert their wives and families than in the latter.

In fact, the National Deserter Bureau is authority for the statement that the recovery of the last few months already has been reflected by the increased number of desertions throughout the country.

The bureau says:

"Adversity often binds a family group closer together for protective purposes. The year of the largest number of new cases in our bureau coincided with the most prosperous year in America's industrial history — 1928. In the depression years that followed we noted a steady decrease in the number of such cases. Only in the last two or three months has this downward trend been checked.

"In a number of instances, deserters who had been away from home for a number of years found it expedient to return because of unemployment and bad times. In bad times 'other women' are expensive, while the 'old' wife often has a home and credit from local tradesmen to tide over a bad economic spell."

That sounds logical enough, and probably explains why divorce falls off in depression times also.

But it is a sad commentary on human nature — or at least on masculine nature — that prosperity should mean more broken homes.

Perhaps the NRA can do something about it.

A code for husbands seems to be needed, as in any other basic industry.

Secretary of State a Political "Noah" Who Survived the Deluges of Ballots

FRANK'S PET "BOSSY"

Michigan has seen many outstanding public men within the last 100 years. It has also done up with many mediocre men in public office and has been harmfully beset with very inferior men, who do not even reflect in a minute way the character, the enterprise and the integrity of our people. It is really a sad commentary that so many very fine people, and they are far, far, in the majority, do elect to office office-seekers of such common clay or rather let us say, dross, when the "woods is full" (pardon the phrase) of so many fine upstanding men and women of high character, reflecting the intelligence, ability and talents with which our citizenry on the whole is so abundantly endowed. All parties have given to the state a number of such high minded men and women and by the same token all parties have foisted upon the state plenty of the other kind.

Michigan has just recently gone through the most tremendous landslide bringing an upheaval and a reversal such as this rock-ribbed Republican state has never experienced before—a change-over of nearly a half million votes to the Democratic party, which had up to this time always been unthinkable from a Republican viewpoint. The flood of ballots swept every office holder before it. High minded men, common clay and dross were swept to political oblivion in a downpour of Rooseveltian ballots. In this flood, however, there was one Noah and he had as his Ark the love, respect and the confidence of the people of the state. On this large and mighty ballot only one lone Republican survived from the Maclstrom of pent-up public opposition. When the ballots were counted last November one lone Republican, namely Frank D. Fitzgerald, candidate for Secretary of State, was the choice of the Michigan voters. It is folly to say that this is just an accident. In reality it conclusively meant that Mr. Fitzgerald was selected because during his quarter of a century of public service in his city, in his county and in his state the rank and file knew Mr. Fitzgerald as a type that instills friendship, confidence and honesty of purpose. One meeting with Mr. Fitzgerald immediately reflects the fact that he is a politician conforming with Webster's definition.

Webster says a politician is a person who familiarizes himself with the science or art of government or men who expound or direct public policy as this relates to public office or people.

A politician to the man in the street in the common accepted sense of the word means ward-healer, grafter, wire-puller and many other appellations entirely foreign to Webster's definition.

Mr. Fitzgerald is of the former type and there is no mistake in that fact when one becomes acquainted with him.

The Secretary of State has been a frequent visitor in Holland and while he is not an orator of flowery speech and pyramiding platitudes, his message is to the point filled with common "horse sense" and generally informative, reflecting such matters as pertain to his work at the state capital and the workings of other departments of our state government.

Mr. Fitzgerald has been connected with the state capital for so many years, starting as a committee clerk in the state senate in 1913, that he has at his fingers ends anything that is worth knowing in practically every department. It has become a common phrase at Lansing when information is needed quickly, "Go ask Fitzgerald."

Mr. Fitzgerald is much of a home body. He is a great gardener and a lover of the farm and espe-

Frank D. Fitzgerald's Life's Highlights

Born in Grand Lodge, Michigan (present residence), January 27, 1885.

Educated in the public schools of Grand Lodge and the Ferris Institute at Big Rapids, Michigan.

Public service:

First Republican to ever represent the city of Grand Lodge on Eaton County Board of Supervisors.

1912 Committee Clerk — Michigan State Senate.

1915 Prosefunder — House of Representatives.

1917 Bill Clerk — House of Representatives.

Between sessions of 1915 and 1917, clerk in the office of Secretary of State.

Between sessions of 1917 and 1919, executive secretary, Michigan Food Administration.

January, 1919, appointed Deputy Secretary of State by Hon. Coleman C. Vaughan.

July, 1923, appointed Business Manager, Michigan State Highway Department, by Gov. Alex. J. Groesbeck.

January 1, 1921, took office as Secretary of State.

Life-long Republican — Member, Eaton County Republican Committee 28 years; Chairman, Eaton County Republican Committee, 1924-1929; Delegate, Republican National Convention, 1924; Member, Republican State Central Committee, 1925-26.

Secretary, Michigan State Central Committee 1929-1930; Honorary Secretary, Republican State Central Committee, 1931-32-33; Delegate-at-large, Republican National Committee, 1932.

Lodge affiliations: Knights of Pythias, Eagles, 32° Mason, I.O.O.F., Macabees.

Hobbies: Home, friends and work.

Recreation: Farming, lover of live stock.

Specialty of blooded cattle, in fact his recreation is farming and he spends much time with live stock. The accompanying picture shows him with his pet Jersey.

Michigan has had 43 governors since 1835. The outstanding farmers were Cyrus G. Luce in 1887 and John T. Rich in 1895. Gov. Fred M. Warner had much in common with the farmer because of his cheese factory operations. Hazen S. Pingree was a city farmer for at one time he turned all of Detroit into a potato patch, so he had some of the farmer smack, but Gov. Luce and Rich were real farmers and came to Holland repeatedly to speak to their fellow-farmers at the Holland Fair and they "knew their stuff."

Fitzgerald, too, knows all the rudiments of the farm since he has been closely allied with agriculture, dairy and other farm departures both in public and private life. Frank D. Fitzgerald is known from the Indiana line to the south to the Lake Superior shores to the north. A volume could be written on why Michigan people love and respect this man. In a few words — he is different from the common clay and dross, he is helpful, he is thoughtful, he is considerate, he is accommodating, he gives friendly advice, not grudgingly but willingly, he has a school master's complex on first acquaintance but intimately his power is shown in the fact that he is for a square deal in matters large or small.

When Mr. Fitzgerald was asked what his hobbies were, he said, "I have three: My home, my friends and my work." Surely a wholesome trinity that cannot help but inculcate right thinking and right doing.

This is not a political document. We do not even know whether Mr. Fitzgerald is to be acceptable or promoted to a higher position at the hands of the voters but it is simply a political happening that answers the question, "How do you attribute the fact that this man Fitzgerald could have lived through and succeeded in a campaign portrayed above?" The answer is that on this particular instance Frank Fitzgerald was well and favorably known by the peoples of the state, which brought about a political miracle such as has never been chronicled in Michigan before.

MRS. NICKOLAS HOFSTEE

DIES AT JAMESTOWN

Mrs. Nickolas Hofstee, 57, died suddenly Monday evening at her home, four miles south of Jamestown. Mrs. Hofstee has been a resident of Holland for many years, residing at 413 Columbia avenue.

She is survived by her husband; two sons, Edward Hofstee of Holland and Joe Hofstee of Jamestown; two grandchildren; her aged stepmother, Mrs. G. Schreuer of Grand Rapids; and three sisters, Mrs. Frank Rhoda of Holland, Mrs. John De Weerd of Zeeland and Mrs. George Meengs of Rusk.

Funeral services will be conducted Friday afternoon at 12:45 o'clock at the home and at 1:30 o'clock at Jamestown Christian Reformed church. Rev. H. Dykhuysen will officiate. Burial will be in Forest Grove cemetery.

SUPT. FELL SPEAKS AT WASHINGTON P-T. A. MEET

The first meeting of the season of the Washington school Parent-Teacher association was held Tuesday evening. The president, Jay H. Den Herder, presided. Rev. Thomas G. R. Brownlow, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, was in charge of devotions. Community singing was led by Leon Moody, after which a short business session was held.

Superintendent E. E. Fell, who was recently appointed chairman of the character education committee of the state Parent-Teacher association, gave an address on home responsibility for character development.

Mrs. D. B. K. Van Raalte sang "The Psalmist," accompanied by Mrs. Martha Robbins.

A dramatic reading, "Robert of Sicily" was presented by Miss Ethelyn Metz with musical accompaniment by Mrs. Robbins. "In the Garden of Tomorrow" and "In the Shadow" were sung by the high school girls' sextet, under the direction of Miss Trixie Moore.

Mrs. Sears R. McLean gave an address on "Education and the Problems Interfering with Education."

At the conclusion of her address E. V. Hartman presented a resolution to the governor, asking that proceeds from the sales tax be allocated as they come in, instead of waiting until the end of the fiscal year, thus relieving the educational situation.

The committee in charge of the program consisted of Mrs. J. J. Brower, chairman; Miss Gertrude Sprietsma, Mrs. Jake Zuidema and Mrs. C. W. Meredith.

REV. DANHOFF OF DRENTHE

SPEAKS TO YOUNG MEN

A meeting of the Holland League of Young Men's societies was held Monday evening in Ninth Street Christian Reformed church.

Prof. Garrett Heyns, superintendent of the Holland Christian schools, opened the meeting and offered prayer. This was followed with a skit by members of the Ninth street society, including John Bouwman, Gerald Klaasen and Harold Dekker. Marvin Vander Ploeg, accompanied by John Van Appledorn, played a violin solo.

Rev. B. J. Danhof, pastor of the Christian Reformed church of Drenthe, gave a splendid address, offering the challenge to young men as to what they could have been, what they should be and what they shall be.

The business meeting dealt mainly with the organizing of a basketball and a volleyball league and the discussion of the program for the Reformation Day celebration to be observed in Central Avenue Christian Reformed church on next Tuesday.

The trophy for the indoor league which played last summer again was awarded to the Maple Avenue Young Men's society, who will retain it permanently, as they have won it two consecutive years.

Refreshments were served. Prof. C. De Graaf closed the meeting.

PROF. W. CURTIS SNOW

TO OFFER VESPER RECITAL ON SUNDAY

Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock at Hope Memorial chapel, Prof. W. Curtis Snow will present a program of organ music.

The program follows: Carillon recital, McLean memorial chimes; hymn 70, "There's a Wideness," Faber-Tourjee; prayer, Rev. Paul E. Hinkamp, B.D.; "O Gott, du frommer Gott," Bach (chorale and variations I, II, III, VI, VIII); chorale in B Minor, Cesar Franck; English Folk Song, Robin Milford; Rondo Franciscan, Boellmann; "The Bells of St. Anne de Beaupre," Russell; offertory; toccata "Thou Art the Rock," Mulet.

WEST OLIVE

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Northquist and family attended a Century of Progress in Chicago last week.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Stinson were at their cottage at Port Sheldon Sunday.

Mrs. Harry Guiles had as her week-end guests Mr. and Mrs. Teddy Roberts of Grand Rapids.

The W. O. Ladies' club will give a chicken dinner October 24 at the M. E. church. Every one welcome.

Mr. Theodore Northquist and Miss Marjory Peck of Grand Rapids spent Sunday with Mr. H. F. Northquist.

Frank Peck and daughter, Ethel Jane, of Muskegon, were the week-end visitors of Mrs. Joe Werine.

Miss Henrietta Schumaker is at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Theron Stone.

Mr. and Mrs. Heird West of Holland visited his brother, Rylie West, Sunday.

VIRGINIA PARK

Grace Teusink entertained her friends with a Halloween party at her home Wednesday evening. The guests which were seventeen in number, were all dressed in elaborate costumes and games were played and a very mysterious treasure hunt in which all took part added to the enjoyment of the evening. Delicious refreshments were served.

Georgiana Heneveld sang a solo at the Ebenezer Reformed church Sunday morning. Augusta and Geneva Heneveld accompanied her to the church.

The Friendly Circle of the aid society met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Simon Harkema. Mrs. Dick Miles assisted the hostess substituting for Mrs. John L. Van Huis who mourns the death of her father, Mr. Benjamin Neerken of Zeeland.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Davenport and Alfred Berkompas and Miss Betty Nieusma were in Niles, Michigan, over the week-end visiting at the home of Albert Berkompas who formerly resided here.

Mr. and Mrs. George E. Heneveld were in Hamilton this week visiting Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Schutmaat.

The finance committee of the Virginia Park Woman's club sponsored a skating party at the local rink Tuesday evening. Mrs. George Heneveld was chairman of the arrangements and there was a good attendance.

HOLLAND WINS GAME OVER BENTON HARBOR

Holland High school defeated Benton Harbor, 12 to 2, here Saturday on a muddy gridiron in an afternoon of sloppy football.

Holland scored soon after the game started when Irvin made an end run of 18 yards across the Benton Harbor goal.

The second and third periods were hard fought with Benton Harbor taking the ball to the Holland 1-yard line late in the third period only to lose it. A line play that went wrong gave Benton Harbor a safety.

In the fourth period Holland scored again when after a steady march down the field Irvin crashed over the line.

ALLEGAN COUNTY NEWS

Miss Lyda De Groot, 57, died Tuesday noon at her home in Fillmore. She leaves one brother, Albert De Groot, of Holland. Funeral services were held this Thursday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the home with Rev. G. J. Vande Riet, pastor of the Christian Reformed church at Overisel, officiating. Burial took place in Overisel cemetery.

Women of First Methodist Episcopal church will hold a rummage sale Saturday beginning at 9 o'clock in the building formerly occupied by the John J. Rutgers Clothing company at 19 West Eighth street.

TO INSTALL OVENS IN FURNACES

A year ago George Lemmen, route 3, Holland, perfected what is known as a special bake oven in all makes of furnaces. It is a furnace oven located just above the radiator of the furnace hot air through a specially constructed chamber. The oven is accessible through a circular welded grate which can be exposed to terrific heat without loosening up. This heat without the bottom of the oven is constructed of steel bars and is placed two inches apart so it will not interfere with the heat passing through for heating purposes.

An oven thermometer is a part of the equipment. It is stated that the oven can bake to perfection bread, roasts, vegetables, in fact most anything in the culinary line, having a temperature range from 225 to 325 degrees Fahrenheit.

The inventor's idea is to make one heat serve two purposes. Mr. Lemmen is associated with Henry Beckfort, 67 West Eighteenth street and together they are organizing a company called the Furnace Oven Company. At first castings will be locally made and will be assimilated here and will require four men to handle the product from the start.

Mr. Beckfort states the oven has already been installed in four homes in Holland and says the casting and installation will be done locally and that it is 100 per cent a Holland product.

Patents have already been applied for and the local men are thus protected against infringement.

Summer homes must be abandoned. Left on their own, they must buck the elements until a warmer season rolls around, says a dispatch from Washington, D. C.

A little time spent on reconditioning summertime shacks now, according to officials of the American Paint, Varnish and Lacquer industries, will see them through the murky months and guard against the inevitable deterioration that comes when unprotected surfaces are exposed to the weather.

Before the vacation cottage is deserted it should be prepared for occupancy next year—ready for your family or for rental. Check it over and see if the roof will survive snow and storms. Does it need new shingles or stain? Do the metal flashings and drain pipes need re-coating? How about the screens on windows and doors? Give the wire a coat of black screen enamel now and you have only to dust the The youngsters will enjoy wild-screens off when they are put up next spring. Porch floors and steps as well as on that old attic furniture paint—and it is a good idea which you brought down to check the lattice work around the camp. A small investment now is foundations to see if a fresh coat of much more economical than a heavy color is in order.

Summer refrigerators often need the lack of proper paint protection. Give both interior and exterior a coat of quick-drying enamel and leave the door wide open. Black stove enamel will protect the frame and legs of your stove from rust, but grease should be applied to tins and movable parts. If possible, drain off all the water in pipes.

Mrs. William Vermeulen celebrated her eightieth birthday Tuesday at her home, 131 West Seventeenth street. The day also marked her marriage 61 years ago. She received numerous flowers and plants. About twenty guests were present.

During the past week Dr. Nykerk received a copy of a newly-published book, The Slighted Guest, by Rev. Marion G. Gosselink, M.A., who graduated from Hope College in 1915. The book is very well published by the National Publishing Company of Philadelphia, and appears in an excellent format. Dr. Nykerk praises this work very highly and recommends that every student read it. Rev. Gosselink, who is now pastor of a Philadelphia Reformed Church, is also the author of The Child in the Temple and Teen Age Talks.

Burn Winter Homes of Insect Enemies

One of the cheapest methods of controlling insect pests of field, garden and orchard crops is to collect and destroy the trash which furnishes a winter home for many insects, according to the entomology department at Michigan State College. Weeds, leaves, crop residues, wood taken from orchards in thinning or pruning, and many other materials furnish hiding places and protection to beetles and moths that cause serious damage to crops. Some of the insects pass the winter as adults and some as immature forms but all that live until the next spring start multiplying. One insect in the spring may mean thousands during the crop season.

Dead or dying trees near orchards are breeding places for some of the borers which attack fruit trees. Wild cherry harbors a serious pest of fruit trees may be breeding places for fruit insects or for diseases of fruits. All such possible sources of trouble should be destroyed during seasons when work is not pressing. Fall plowing increases the chances of destroying insects which pass the winter just beneath the surface of the ground. Several enemies of field and garden crops suffer severe losses from winter and spring plowing. Weeds, stubble and leaves can be collected and burned if they are not to be plowed down. The value of the humus in such material if returned to the soil does not compensate for the added expense of summer control measures for the insect they harbor.

ZUTPHEN

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Elders and family were visitors at the home of their brother and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Heyboer of Grand Rapids Thursday evening.

Zeeland

Coach John Damoth's boys from Allegan turned on the power with a vengeance in the late stages of their annual engagement with Zeeland's gridirons at Legion field, Zeeland, and sent the local prides down to a stinging 18 to 0 defeat in an action-filled final quarter. All three touchdowns were pushed across in the last period of play. Starting in a manner that surprised even their staunchest supporters, the charges of Coach Tom Dewey turned back every goalward drive of their reputedly powerful opponents without great difficulty throughout the entire first half. But with the start of the third quarter the representatives of the neighboring county seat showed real tenacity of strength and gathered momentum steadily and progressed to catastrophic proportions as far as the Zeeland hopes were concerned.

The 5th and 6th grade girls of Jamestown school gave a little farewell surprise party on the Deur girls last Friday afternoon at 2:15 o'clock. The Deur family plan to move to Holland, Wednesday. Arlene, Genevieve and Delores were the honored guests. There were 43 guests in all. A program was given and games were played. Refreshments were served. Each of the girls was presented with beads and a bracelet to match. The teachers were also invited. The teachers and children all had a fine time. George Deur, who with his family moved to Jamestown four years ago, has returned. He was formerly in the shoe business in the Harrington building and continued the vocation in Jamestown.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Kromendyke celebrated their thirty-fourth wedding anniversary Monday evening at their home, 422 Rich street, Zeeland. The children and grandchildren were present. A social hour was enjoyed and refreshments were served. Mr. and Mrs. Kromendyke have resided in Zeeland practically all their married lives.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS

By ANN PAGE

AN Indian summer salad season seems to be in order as iceberg lettuce is more plentiful, of better quality and cheaper than it has been in six months. A salad with plenty of good salad dressings, served by the most family every day in the year. There is also plenty of excellent celery at reasonable cost.

Spinach is back in the markets in abundance and the price is low. Cauliflower offers unusually good value even for October.

Greens are available in generous supply. Oranges are slightly more expensive than they have been and lemons and limes less so. Bosc and Anjou pears are replacing Bartlett and Tokay grapes the Concord.

With pumpkin, squash and sweet potatoes all very plentiful, pie season indicated. A very rich, smooth pumpkin pie can be made with evaporated milk.

Here are the menus from the Quaker Maid Kitchen.

Low Cost Dinner
Swiss Steak Stuffed Potatoes
Mashed Potatoes
Bread and Butter
Apple Betty

Medium Cost Dinner
Chicken Potatoes
Baked Rice
Gland Onions
Bread and Butter

Very Special Dinner
Chicken Pie
Candied Sweet Potatoes
Buttered Cauliflower
Tomato Apple
Sautéed Dressing
Rolls and Butter
Snow Pudding
Custard Sauce
Coffee

Give the latter a few days trial. You will enjoy its fine flavor.

Start Tomorrow

A. & P. CHAIN CELEBRATES SEVENTY-FOUR BIRTHDAYS

FOUNDER BEGAN WITH ONE SMALL STORE; 15,200 DOT U. S.; EMPLOYEES 85,000

It is not often a man leaves behind him more than one monument. George H. Hartford led 15,200.

Hartford founded the far-flung empire of the A. & P. stores. This week the 15,200 retail branches that dot the states from coast to coast observe the seventy-fourth anniversary of the giant chain. The "ceremonies," appropriate to the memory of the merchant whose policy was a constant striving for increased quality and lower price, take the form of a special sales drive which co-ordinates with the "Buy Now" movement sweeping the country.

The storekeeper, Hartford, originated the business in a small shop in Vessey street in New York City in 1859. He was his own buyer and his own sales staff. He bought tea, coffee and spice from importers at the docks a few blocks away. He measured the goods for customers on a crude scale. At the end of the day he balanced his own books.

In the spare time from his manifold duties, Hartford envisioned a chain of stores. He first figured on two, then three, all in New York. The creation of the vast enterprise employing 85,000 people, and doing almost a billion dollars in retail sales a year, could not be foreseen. This development did not come until the efficient system of distribution and sales grew into a model of its time.

Nationally, the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company, with its retail outlets, its hundreds of offices, factories and warehouses and its buyers in all parts of the world, buys as a Titan of business; local it is a potent force. Holland has two of these red front stores out of the 15,200.

PROPOSED LATERAL SEWER
Fairbanks Avenue between Eleventh and Fourth Streets, Holland, Mich., Oct. 21, 1933.
CITY CLERK'S OFFICE

Notice is hereby given that the Common Council of the City of Holland at a session held Wednesday, October 18, 1933, adopted the following resolutions:

RESOLVED, that a lateral sewer be constructed in Fairbanks avenue, between Eleventh and Fourth streets, that said lateral sewer be laid at the depth and grade and of the dimensions prescribed in the diagram, plan and profile and in the manner required by the specifications for same provisionally adopted by the Common Council of the City of Holland.

October 18, 1933, and now on file in the office of the Clerk, that the cost and expense of constructing such lateral sewer be paid partly by the General Sewer Fund of said City, and partly by special assessment upon the lands, lots and premises of private property owners abutting upon said part of Fairbanks avenue, and being adjacent to said lateral sewer, and such other lands, lots and premises as hereinafter required and specified, assessed according to the estimated benefits thereto determined as follows:

Total estimated cost of lateral sewer, $6,236.89.

Amount to be raised by special assessment on private property according to estimated benefits received, $2,575.10.

Amount to be paid from the General Sewer Fund, $3,661.79.

That the lands, lots and premises upon which said special assessment shall be levied shall include all the private lands, lots and premises lying within the special assessment district designated by a red line in the diagram and plat of said district by the Common Council in connection with the construction of the sewer, all of which private lots, lands and premises are hereby designated and declared to constitute a special sewer district for the purpose of special assessment, to defray that part of the cost and expense of constructing a lateral sewer in said part of Fairbanks avenue in the manner hereinbefore determined by the Common Council, said district to be known and designated "Fairbanks Avenue Special Sewer Assessment District."

RESOLVED, further, that the City Clerk be instructed to give notice of the proposed construction of said

Sixty pupils in Holland High school are writing 800-word orations on "Bible Teachings About Temperance," as their semester theme for the annual local contest sponsored by the Ottawa County Sunday School association. Five will be selected for the contest November 3, the winner to participate in the county contest November 14.

If half the world doesn't know how the other half lives, it hasn't been keeping up with government appropriations.

Holland High school annual will be published as usual near the close of the school year by the class of 1934. The volume was assured when the captains of the two teams announced $291.50 as the amount raised in magazine sales. The team coached by Prof. Hanson, led the competitive team, coached by Miss Lucile Lindsey by a margin of $3.50. Miss Adelaide Koolker and Mayo Hadden were the victorious and losing captains.

Johnny Hyma, who wrote for the Holland City News in the Hyma Highlights, is now at the Pitt theater, Pittsburgh, Pa., where he has a two weeks' vaudeville engagement. From there he will go to Akron, Ohio, and then to Montreal, Canada, playing several cities in the Dominion.

Although college rules at Hope prescribe the "green" for freshmen, the entire faculty and student body made no secret in displaying that color Wednesday at the noon hour. The reason lay in the fact that the Anchor issue this week was fostered by the freshmen and the paper appeared in green with black print. The features cover a message from Calvin VanderWerf, class president; congratulations to the sophomores as winners in the annual frosh-soph games and full appreciation of the friendly spirit shown by upper classmen and a general well-written display of college activities.

Several proteges of Coach Bud Hinga during his high school career at Holland have developed into coaches in other schools. ## Indians Engaged Catching Sharks

The average daily catch of sharks in the Gulf of California these days ranges between 100 and 150 and gives employment to approximately 100 Indian fishermen who go out in small canoes to seek their prey. The sharks taken range in length from 12 to 20 feet, and apparently not many of these fish are wasted. The meat is ground up for fertilizer and as cattle and poultry food; the skin is made into leather goods; the fins are shipped to China where they are used in soup; the teeth are manufactured into advertising novelties and the oil is sold as a cod liver oil substitute.

HOLLAND SCOUTS TO HOLD HOBO REUNION

Holland Boy Scouts will feature a court of honor with a hobo reunion next Monday in the American Legion cabin near Waukazoo. Clad in the garb of roddiers, the boys will hit the trail and assemble for stunts around the fire. Prizes will be awarded the "the best and bummiest dressed gums." A banner will be given the troop for highest rating of advancement, inspection, attendance and activity. About 200 Scouts will attend.

HOLLAND RESIDENT IS VICTOR IN GAG CONTEST HELD

Grand Rapids Herald—Vernon W. Roelofs, 280 River Ave., Holland, has been awarded first prize of $5 in the recent "Too Much Harmony Gag" contest, which was held in connection with the musical motion picture, "Too Much Harmony," at the Regent theater.

All prizes are obtainable at the office of the cashier of the Grand Rapids Herald.

Winner's Answers

The ancient questions, with Mr. Roelofs' answers, follow:
"How can I cure my horse from frothing at the mouth?"
"Try turning him around."
"Why does a chicken lay an egg?"
"That's her only way to win a race."

"What side of a dog has the most hair on it?"
"The side that encircles the bark."

"What's the best way of raising corn beef and cabbage?"
"Take it up yourself to make certain."

REV. EVERINGTON TO APPEAR IN HOLLAND

Rev. John Everington of Grand Rapids, preacher and artist, will show colored pictures at the Christian high school Thursday evening, November 2, at 8 o'clock, under the auspices of the Eunice Aid society. The program will include pictures of upper Michigan, which will prove to be most interesting. Rev. Everington has appeared before local audiences several times and Holland folks are well pleased with his pictures.

No admission will be charged but an offering will be taken.

PARODY ON WLS

A company of local talent in a cast of eighteen players is to give a parody on WLS radio station at the Masonic Temple Thursday evening, November 2, at 8 o'clock. It will be an evening filled with a thousand laughs. Singing, dancing and old-time music will feature the program.

The local cast will portray the well-known WLS characters—the three "Lumber Jacks," "Uncle Barney," the "Three Maids," the "Two Hawaiians," our "Little Cowboy," and other stars of radio land.

FORMER HOLLAND MAN DIES AT ZEELAND

Mr. Benjamin Neerken, a resident of Zeeland for 30 years and one time a citizen of Holland, died suddenly Tuesday morning of this week after a brief illness. Mr. Neerken had attained the age of nearly 81 years and had been in ill health for several months and took to his bed ten days ago.

Mr. Neerken was born at Graafschap, Michigan, the son of the late pioneers, Mr. and Mrs. Adrian J. Neerken, where he was reared and spent his boyhood days.

On August 21, 1878, he was united in marriage with Miss Nellie Zwemer at Graafschap, when he entered the teaching profession and taught school at New Groningen, Laketown and Fillmore. Following this he accepted a position as teller at the First State bank, Holland, which position he held for five years. About 27 years ago he accepted the position of cashier of the State Commercial & Savings bank of this city and remained in that capacity until he resigned about five years ago when he retired from active work.

Last August he, together with his family and other relatives, celebrated his fifty-fifth wedding anniversary in a fitting manner. He was highly respected and loved by all who now mourn his passing.

The funeral services were held this Thursday afternoon, privately, at 1:30 o'clock at the home and at 2 o'clock at the Second Reformed church of Zeeland. Interment took place in Zeeland cemetery.

Surviving are his widow; one son, Adrian J. Neerken of Birmingham, Michigan; four daughters, Miss Anna Neerken at home, Mrs. Kate Steketee of Holland, Mrs. Gertrude Van Huis of Virginia Park, and Mrs. Henrietta Potts of Oak Park, Illinois. He also leaves twelve grandchildren and one brother, Gerrit Neerken of Holland.

FORMER HOLLAND RESIDENT DIES AT ALLENDALE

Mrs. T. Wiersma, 75, formerly a resident of Holland, died early this Thursday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. L. Vickery of Allendale.

Surviving are one son, John T. Wiersma of Holland, and two daughters, Mrs. Nicholas Piersma of Holland and Mrs. Vickery. Two brothers in The Netherlands, 17 grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren also survive.

Funeral services will be held on Saturday at 2 o'clock from the home of the son, 91 East Fifteenth street. Burial will be in Holland Township cemetery.

VAPOR POWER UNIT STARTING ORGANIZATION IN HOLLAND

The Vapor Power Unit company, well-known in Grand Haven and Grand Rapids, is starting a branch office in this city. The company claims that through the installation of a device in the gasoline tank of the car, it makes a more volatile gas. It prevents waste of gasoline through vaporization which always takes place and increases gas mileage from 10 to 20 per cent, according to representatives of the Vapor Power Unit Company.

In announcement elsewhere the representatives give more details.

In spite of her advanced age, Mrs. De Bruyn is still in possession of all her faculties and able to care for her own personal needs.

The 2½-year-old daughter of Charles Haak of Zeeland died Wednesday in University hospital, Ann Arbor, shortly after surgeons had performed an operation on her lung to save her life. The youngster was playing with neighbor children Saturday and in some manner a small nut became lodged in her windpipe. The nut could not be removed and the child's condition became serious and she was removed to Ann Arbor. There it was found the nut had lodged in the lung. Survivors are the parents, one brother, Bernard, at home, and a grandfather.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 2 p. m. at First Christian Reformed church. Burial will be in Zeeland cemetery.

Elaine Haak, 2-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Haak of this city, died early Wednesday morning at the University hospital at Ann Arbor. ## Don't Drug Your Eyes!

Dr. T. Harrison Butler, one of the leading eye specialists in the United Kingdom, said:

"I was encouraged to give up cycloplegics (eye drops) because I regard them as unnecessary. The amount of confusion caused by a dilated pupil, where there is an error of refraction is extraordinary. I can be more accurate with a moderate sized pupil than with a dilated one. Many children are frightened by the installation of drops, and the cycloplegic defeats its own end.

"There is one vital objection to cycloplegic, one has to guess how much to allow for the drug in ordering glasses. An examination without drops is as accurate as that with them if only correct methods are employed and if sufficient experience and skill are at the command of the refractician."

If you have eye strain have your eyes examined now without drops while the eye is in a normal condition, and be SURE of the RIGHT GLASSES. We have the latest refracting equipment and can assure you of comfortable vision.

FINDS HIS SUMMER HOME NEAR HOLLAND RANSACKED

Thieves ransacked the summer home of John Vaupell at Buchanan Beach, seven miles northwest of here some time since last Wednesday and removed blankets, silverware and all other goods of value, Vaupell reported to local authorities Tuesday.

Entrance was effected by breaking a window pane and removing catches.

$18,000 TO BE PAID FARMERS OF ALLEGAN

Approximately $18,000, Allegan's estimated share of federal money to be given farmers for signing wheat adjustment contracts, is to arrive and be distributed some time after December 1 of this year, A. D. Morley, Allegan County Farm Bureau agent announced today.

Three hundred and twenty applications for wheat adjustment contracts have been received by Mr. Morley and it is estimated that about 300 of these will be signed bringing in $18,000 to local farmers during December.

If all wheat producing farms in the county were signed on the wheat adjustment contracts there would be a total of $95,000 sent to local farmers in December.

George Getz Very Much In Public Eye These Days

HOLLAND AND VICINITY WILL NOT FARE SO WELL BECAUSE OF DISCONTINUANCE OF ZOO.

MR. GETZ ALSO HAS BEEN NAMED TREASURER OF THE REPUBLICAN NATIONAL COMMITTEE

Holland was stunned to learn a few days ago that George Getz intended to discontinue his zoo at Lakewood farm and only retain his summer home there.

The animals have been presented to the zoological park in Brookfield, Chicago, which has been under construction for eight years, and which will be the most wonderful park of that kind in the world. It has been known to your editor for some then for the sake of the children of other folks.

Animals were a hobby with him. He crawled under a tent when only a poor kid, worked with a circus for a while, and came in close contact with a menagerie. George is one of those fellows who can say: "I carried water to the elephants," but little did he realize that he would be the owner of elephants and the rest of the jungle tribes besides, someday.

Anyway, George knew children loved animals, and furthermore George loved children, and gradually he built up in that beautiful garden of his a private zoo said to be the largest in this country today, and for more than fifteen years George Getz was the host, first to thousands and then to millions, and up to two years ago he alone bore that tremendous expense annually, solely to gladden the hearts, especially of the young folks, and incidentally, the adults, who were young again for a day during their visit.

The beauty of this garden at Lakewood is its extraordinary planning, with the setting on the shores of Lake Michigan together with the forest trees, the horticultural and floral features, and the time that Mr. Getz was eventually to make this move.

Covering a score of years, George F. Getz has given this vicinity possibly the largest attraction in the entire state. Sentiment and hobby brought this about.

Sentiment because it was the desire of the late dear Mrs. Getz to live on that beautiful bluff overlooking Lake Michigan, selected when they were on a tour to look for just such a place. No money was spared to turn it into an earthly paradise. Mrs. Getz wished her boys to be brought up in just such surroundings. Everything was furnished, from play animals, top automobiles to a little red schoolhouse with a bell on it, where a private lady instructor taught George, Jr., and Jim their A B C's. It was a complete school in miniature with globes and maps, blackboards and seats all in accord.

wonderful greenhouse propagations.

All have a place, separate and apart, but still grouped in the whole. The zoological garden naturally is the center of attraction. Here, too, there was a place for everything and everything was in its place. The arrangement of the animals must have been patterned from Old Noah's groupings, for they were arranged kind by kind.

George, Sr., and George, Jr., bringing home the African Bacon or was it a Hippo.

The pathetic side came when this beloved woman passed on just as the whole was completed.

It was a sad event, but George F. Getz, complying with the wishes of his beloved wife, stayed on first for his children's sake, and

Chanticleer Crows Lustily At Hamilton

AT LEAST 2,500 POULTRY MEN GATHER IN THE NEIGHBORING TOWN

Last Thursday Hamilton was the host to the poultry men of five states and at least 2,500 gathered at our neighboring town to attend the annual Michigan poultry men round-up and field day. Delegates were present from Wisconsin, Illinois, Ohio, Indiana and, of course, a large number from Michigan.

The affair was arranged by the Michigan Improvement association of the poultry department of Michigan State college and the Hamilton farm bureau jointly. Featured on the program was inspection of the Hamilton Farm bureau plant in the morning and a public meeting in Community hall in the afternoon.

President John Poppen of the farm bureau gave the address of welcome. Mr. Andrew Lohman, bureau manager, spoke on the subject, "How and Why we handle eggs and poultry." Mr. S. Curtin of New York City gave a very informative discourse relative to "distribution of quality eggs in New York."

"What Makes Quality Eggs," was the theme of the address by Prof. J. M. Moore of Michigan State college. A round-table talk discussing poultry production problems followed in which the following speakers took part: Prof. C. G. Card, Dr. H. J. Stafsch and J. A. Hanna, all of East Lansing.

At 4 o'clock rather a unique contest was staged when a turkey killing and picking was pulled off. This demonstration was held in the new poultry killing and dressing building.

The radio also played an important part on the program when at 7:30 in the evening the star performers in person from radio station WLS, Chicago, were featured. This innovation brought out such a large crowd that the radio stars had to give a second performance, the large Community hall being packed long before the opening and an overflow meeting of 1,000 people was held in the farm bureau garage.

The program put on by the "Three Little Maids" (Lucile, Evelyn and Eva); "Hank and Hiram" and "Tom Owen" and others of the WLS station was "one of the best ever." The winsomeness of the Little Maids, the wit of Hank and Hiram, and the worrisome pranks of Tom brought gales of laughter and splendid entertainment to this tremendous audience. The program was over all too soon but without doubt large numbers around Hamilton will tune in on future WLS programs.

The program was sponsored by Curtin and Curtin of New York City and the National Farm bureau.

The staging of this outstanding feature in the village of Hamilton shows how far-reaching the advertising value of the Hamilton Farm bureau has become. On this occasion it attracted large numbers from many states. Trade papers as well as the metropolitan press have given this event a great deal of space.

The bureau is under the able leadership of John Poppen and under the management of Andrew Lohman, who has shown great directorial ability. These men have been backed by an able staff of workers, have received the co-operation of the farmers and the friends in that community. They have established a diversified market for the farmers which is so essentially necessary these days. A farm bureau is primarily to organize and improve the industry of farming. In this the local bureau has been eminently successful, enabling farmers to receive a higher price for his produce and by the same token giving him the advantage of a lower buying price for the things a farmer needs.

Many farmers, it is said, are receiving on quality eggs from $2.50 to $3.00 more per case than some time ago simply because they have been educated how to produce eggs of real quality at no greater expense, and are advantageously marketed in the East while wise quality and quantity buying by the organization offers feed and other far necessities at a much lower price than before.

For these and other reasons Hamilton and vicinity has become one of the most prosperous farming communities in the state. However, all the benefits have not gone to the farmer alone. The village of Hamilton is one of the busiest and most thrifty communities in Michigan for its size. More than 50 families are finding the farm bureau a very convenient help, especially during this stressful period. As one of the visitors put it: "Your farm bureau has put our community and town on the map. It has done more than that. It has created a community spirit which has made co-operation and progress possible and noticeable in the little town on 'Rabbit river'."

The Hamilton Farm bureau as well as the citizens of the community wish to publicly thank the participants from Michigan State college for their continual co-operation and helpful advice given over a period of years. It has set the bureau as well as the farmers who participate on the right track as this relates to methods and policies of farming.

A wife confesses her past because she covets forgiveness; a husband does it because he doesn't give a darn.

Mrs. Sears McLean Signally Honored

A Holland woman, Mrs. Sears R. McLean, was signally honored in Detroit last week when she was unanimously elected president of the Michigan Federation of Women's clubs when the annual convention was held in the metropolis of this state.

Mrs. McLean is one of Holland's most brilliant women, who has taken not only an intense interest in club work, but lends her aid to any civic duty that alleviates want, that helps our community, that elevates and educates those who seek knowledge.

The Michigan State Federation of Women's clubs has a tremendous influence in this state and during the next year this force for good will undoubtedly be felt. The election of Mrs. McLean to that office makes Holland the headquarters for this large organization.

HOLLAND DIVINE AND GR. HAVEN GIRL ARE WED

(Grand Haven Tribune)

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fisher of South Seventh street, Grand Haven, was the scene of a beautiful wedding on Monday evening at 8 o'clock when their oldest daughter, Jeannette Margaret, became the bride of the Rev. L. J. VanderHill of West Nyack, New York, son of Mr. and Mrs. James VanderHill of Holland.

Rev. Henry Schipper of the First Reformed church read the service in the living room before an improvised altar of palms and baskets of chrysanthemums. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore an iris blue velvet dress made on princess lines and draped at the neckline. She carried a bouquet of white lilies and white roses.

Miss Winifred Fisher, sister of the bride who was maid of honor, chose a bittersweet colored crepe dress, made on princess lines with high neckline and ornamented by a rhinestone buckle. Melvin Van Tatenhorst of Holland was best man.

Before the ceremony Miss Berdean Huttenga sang "O Promise Me" and during the reception sang Cadman's "At Dawning." Those who served at the reception were the Misses Dolores Wieringer, Dorothy Miner, Clara Meusen and Jane Bosch. The wedding march from Lohengrin was played by Miss Edna Sluiter of this city.

Mrs. VanderHill is very well known in this city. She graduated from the local high school and from Ferris Institute at Big Rapids, and has been employed at the Eagle-Ottawa Leather Co. offices. Rev. VanderHill, who has recently taken a charge at West Nyack, New York, is a graduate of Holland High school, Hope college at Holland and New Brunswick seminary. He was a prominent member of the Cosmopolitan fraternity at Hope college. The couple will be at home in West Nyack, New York, after November 1.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. James VanderHill and daughter, Julia; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Van Lente, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Van Lente, Mr. and Mrs. John Overbeek, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Van Ry, Mr. and Mrs. John VanderHill, Sr., Miss Esther VanderHill, Miss Alice De Tuel and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Levisse of Holland, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Evans of Grand Rapids and Percy Sikkenga of Muskegon.

Bulbs will be planted in curbs to form additional lanes, in parks and boulevards. Two new lanes, each a mile long, have been planned. Every avenue into the city will be converted into a lane formation and bulbs will be set in the new park on US-31.

THOUSANDS BUY FISH LICENSES

More than a quarter million Michigan people bought licenses to fish in the inland lakes and streams of the state so far this year, the Department of Conservation reported today. The Department estimated that about 275,000 resident general rod licenses have been sold since the rod license law was adopted by the legislature last spring. The license, required for fishing at all seasons for any species in the inland waters, is issued at a cost of 50c. While it is believed that a decrease in the fee resulted in an increase sale, no figures will be available on the number of non-residents fishing in Michigan, for several months.

SAUGATUCK MAN BECOMES MICHIGAN LAWYER

Mr. William Paul Wright of Saugatuck appeared before the Supreme court of Michigan and was admitted to practice law in this state. Mr. Wright was born at Cincinnati, Ohio, and received his early education there. On April 13, 1917, he enlisted in the United States army and served until January, 1919, when he was honorably discharged. At the present time he holds a first lieutenant's commission and is attached to the 341st Infantry, 86th Division.

Mr. Wright graduated from the Valparaiso University Law School in 1925, going from there to Chicago where he took the Illinois bar examination and was admitted to practice. He took a position with the Chicago Title and Trust Company and became an examiner of titles and later connected with the trust department as legal advisor.

In 1929 he was appointed an assistant state's attorney by John A. Swanson and served in that capacity for four years. He has been in private practice in Chicago since that time.

GRAND HAVEN HAS 71 PER CENT TAXES IN

A total of $73,126.72 or 71.4 per cent of the entire summer taxes for this city have been paid to the city treasurer. The tax collections without penalty closed last night. From now until Oct. 30 taxpayers will have to pay an added four per cent. After Oct. 30 the unpaid taxes will be spread on the winter tax rolls. The above amount is considered a fair amount to be paid considering general conditions. The total city tax, collected in the summer time is $102,365.12.

Consignment of 250,000 tulip bulbs recently received here from the Netherlands will soon be placed in the earth to bloom for the annual May tulip festival, when more than 3,000,000 plants will brighten the landscape, according to John Van Bragt, superintendent of city parks.

A 15-inch garter snake was found in a ruffed grouse, killed near the Muskegon State Park in Chippewa county, according to the Department of Conservation. The grouse had swallowed the snake head first and the head was being digested in the gizzard at the time the bird was shot. Apparently the grouse was feeling no ill effects from its wriggling meal.

Couple Leap From Steamer Into "Big Lake"

WALK ARM IN ARM TO RAIL OF BOAT AND SO JUMP IN WATER FIVE MILES OUT

A man and woman, identified by the passenger list as Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Snyder of Milwaukee jumped into Lake Michigan from the railing of the Steamer Virginia on its way to Grand Haven Saturday afternoon and sank before a lifeboat could be put out to rescue them.

Capt. Frank Coleman reported the death leap when the steamer reached harbor at Muskegon at 1:15 p.m. He told Coast Guards the Virginia was about five miles out from Milwaukee when the couple, arm in arm, walked from their stateroom and leaped overboard clasped in each others arms. He ordered the boat around but no trace of the couple was found. Coast Guardsmen said no boats would be ordered out to search for the bodies, because of the depth of the water.

The couple came aboard at Milwaukee Saturday morning and occupied a room selected and reserved a week ago for the trip to Muskegon. Snyder then told Capt. Coleman that he planned to bring his wife to Michigan for her health and because of her condition, wished a room close to the rail.

Capt. Coleman said the couple had breakfast on the boat but were not seen again until they emerged from the room without hats or coats, and plunged overboard.

Search of their baggage failed to reveal their address or to further establish their identity. They registered at the Milwaukee. Capt. Coleman, who said they appeared to be about 50 years old and believed the death leap had been planned more than a week.

LIGHTNING DESTROYS BARN AT HARLEM SATURDAY

A large barn belonging to Henry Wassink, one and one-half miles west and one-half mile south of Harlem, was burned to the ground Saturday morning. The fire was caused by a bolt of lightning which struck about 10:30 a.m. The barn was filled with hay and grain and is a complete loss. The loss is partially covered by insurance.

The barn was about 70 by 60 feet, two stories and hip-roofed. The other buildings nearby were blistered but in no immediate danger. The fire was seen by passengers on the Greyhound bus coming into this city about 11:30 a.m. and reported in Holland. Holland does not remember of ever having such a continuous deluge of rain, covering nearly 24 hours straight. Business was at a standstill.

HAMILTON BUSINESS MEN PLAY HALLOWEEN

The business men of town are planning a Halloween party for the boys of the community next Tuesday evening at the Community hall at 7:30 o'clock. A short program will be given—special music, games and contests and a treasure hunt will be features. Prizes will be given for the best costumes. A big free lunch will climax the festivities. All the boys, little and big, are invited.

NEW TIME SCHEDULE FOR PUBLIC SCHOOLS TO START MONDAY

Next Monday morning will mark the beginning for the new schedule for morning sessions of public schools.

Beginning Monday kindergarten classes will begin at 9 a. m. instead of 8:30 o'clock. First grade classes will begin at 8:45, and both departments will be dismissed at 11:15 o'clock.

Second through sixth grades will begin at 8:45 and close at 11:45. The senior and junior high schools will begin sessions at 8:15 o'clock starting Monday, instead of 8 o'clock. Dismissal will be at 11:55.

HOLLAND GIRL WINS W. C. T. U. DIAMOND METAL

Helen Gieblich, Holland High school student, won the diamond medal conferred by the state W. C. T. U. on the winner of the annual declamation contest held in connection with the state convention. Clarence Klaver, also of Holland, finished second.

The annual banquet was held tonight and the convention closes tomorrow noon when selection of a meeting place for 1934 will be made.

Annual reports today revealed that the organization had $2,000 on hand, most of which is pledged to meet various expenses.

"Too gruesome for consideration," Mrs. Dora Whitney, state president, characterized the news report that Dailan Egan, condemned California murderer, is being fed whisky to lighten his last hours. Mrs. Whitney, who is an attorney, was shown the story just before taking the platform for the afternoon session.

"I'm going to pass this up; it's too gruesome to be presented to the convention. However, I'll give it to the resolutions committee for its consideration," she said.

Mrs. Whitney, Benton Harbor attorney, was re-elected president without opposition.

The office of vice president at large brought out a contest between Mrs. Emma Pearce of Detroit, incumbent, and Mrs. Grant M. Hudson of Lansing. Mrs. Pearce was selected by a small majority and Mrs. Hudson then was chosen corresponding secretary.

When George Getz, under auspices of American Legion, brought Jack Dempsey to Holland two years ago in November. No, the second person from the left is not Jack. The fellow with the white coat is Sport Writer "Dick" of the Herald. Bernard Keefe must have lost his disposition—so sober. Henry Oosting at the end seems happy because Santa Claus will soon be here.

George Getz Very Much In Public Eye These Days

surroundings wherever that has been possible. Lakewood farm is well protected by up-to-date fire apparatus and manned by special firemen selected from among the employees and trained for that work.

The nucleus for this big zoo was a few Shetland ponies, Arabian horses, honey bears and camels. Holland and the countryside then thought we had a real show place in the vicinity, and George capped the climax when he staged a camel of the many publications, writes the following:

Lakewood zoo, owned by George F. Getz, and valued at upwards of $60,000, will be dismantled within a week. The collection of animals, reptiles and birds, known as one of the largest private zoos in the country, will be moved to Chicago, to be placed in the new zoological park in Brookfield. Transfer of the zoo began Monday and likely will be completed before November.

The collection of animals includes 141 mammals, 201 birds and 15 reptiles. There are lions, tigers, bears, pythons, elephants, hippopotamuses, rhinoceros and a large variety of monkeys. The zoo has been viewed by millions of persons from all parts of the country and foreign lands since it was started with imals on the farm have been disposed of by Mr. Getz. The first time the United States government took a hand in the removing of the animals. It was during the war and the government refused feed for the animals and Getz was forced to give up his hobby.

From 46 States. Jack Petersen, head animal man, will leave with his charges, as will his assistant, Morris Ryzenga.

Manager Petersen kept a registered list of visitors this year. These represented 46 states of the Union, many points in Canada, Nova Scotia, Belgium, Scotland, Denmark, The Netherlands, Alaska and Mexico. Petersen, who has known Getz since 1906, has been in charge since 1927.

Getz conceived the idea of owning a lot of wild animals during his boyhood years and when he had the means to collect his coveted menagerie he never hesitated to share his happiness with the world. He made his trips to Africa and several trips around the world for general education and building of his zoo.

Getz also was a booster for the Holland fair, now extinct. Some years ago he erected a building on the grounds and annually exhibited part of his zoo for the entertainment of fair visitors. Many years ago he dispatched a commission to Arabia when the notion seized him to have a herd of pure-blood Arabian horses. When they arrived he gave them to his friends.

To Keep Farm. Getz plans to retain Lakewood farm as his summer home. The farm consists of about 300 acres on Lake Michigan and comprises one of the most beautiful tracts adjacent to Holland. The greenhouses and flower beds are beautiful features, while the verdure of the orchards and wide lawns are in striking contrast to the shining yellow sands of the beach.

Holland citizens regret the moving of the zoo, but the generous privileges accorded them by Getz in viewing the beauties of the place never will be forgotten.

Undoubtedly something that hastened the breaking up of the zoo was the fact that George F. Getz was chosen as the new treasurer for the Republican national committee.

The announcement was made by Everett Sanders, chairman of the committee, who said the members of the executive committee had been unanimous in their choice of Getz.

Joseph R. Nutt of Cleveland, who led the financing of Herbert Hoover's two campaigns for the presidency, resigned as treasurer, declaring that "the responsibilities ought to be passed on to another."

As the new treasurer, Getz's first task will be the providing of funds for the 1934 congressional elections.

To show how far publicity goes, Mr. Iss Altman, formerly the proprietor of the French Cloak store of Holland and very popular in this city, sent a column clipping from the Cleveland Plain Dealer telling all about the changes to be made in the Republican organization.

Mr. Altman today is a large furniture dealer in Cleveland, but remains intensely interested in this city.

Mr. Getz is going to have a big job in assuming this treasurership. Getting money for a political party is no easy task even under the best of conditions, but in times like these it is a tremendous undertaking, but if there is any man who can put it over, George Getz can do it.

Friendly Republicans and Democrats alike are twitting the congenial George because he backed Al Smith four years ago. But that was purely friendship for in their younger days they were business partners together in the city of New York.

It will be remembered that when the "Happy Warrior" was running for the presidency, he was a guest at Lakewood farm with Mrs. Smith and attended services in Holland at St. Francis de Sales church.

When Al Smith and Mrs. Smith arrived at the Century of Progress at Chicago the other day the political play in a jocular vein, was already noticeable. The Chicago American says:

Ten minutes after the train reached the station, while Al and "Katie" sat in the Pullman lounge talking with their Chicago host, George Getz, a terrific rainstorm broke. With the rain came a string of local Democratic politicians, all of them to shake the hand of the man who ran for President in 1928.

Glad to see you."

Outside the car, Al's friends, the people of Chicago, who know a real guy when they see one, milled around, pushing, ducking and craning to get just a look at the Happy Warrior.

When the newspaper photographers show up at the station at a morning, the "redcaps" generally flock around them and ask:

"Who's the big shot coming in today?"

But the redcaps weren't asking any questions this morning. They were all in a phalanx at the head of track No. 24, waiting for the Pennsylvania to come in. They KNEW who the big shot was today, and about 200 of them were going to carry his luggage or know the reason why.

"Few Dollars for G. O. P."

When newspapermen broke into his car—knowing they wouldn't be thrown out—Al was talking to Mr. Getz, who, although he supported the Smith candidacy in 1928, is a life-long Republican and only recently became treasurer of the Republican national committee. Al was saying to Mr. Getz:

"No, George, I don't think we'd be adverse to lending the Republicans a few dollars."

As Getz laughed, Al went on: "I'll tell you what I'll do, George. You deposit the Republican funds in the Lawyers County Trust Company in New York City—that's my bank—and I'll watch 'em personally for you."

Costume All A's.

Al's brown derby was missing. It was back in the drawing room of the car. But the rest of the Smith costume was intact—high button shoes, blue suit, blue tie, stiff white collar attached to a blue shirt, and an open vest indicating that the former governor of New York had eaten a big breakfast and didn't care who knew it.

HOLLAND CHRISTIAN WILL DISPLAY TALL BASKETBALL TEAM

Holland Christian High school will enter the basketball season next winter with a team of giants coached by A. H. Muyskens.

Christian has four veterans in Robert, Visser, Zwier, all well above 6 feet, and Alderink, another veteran; Karsten and Trip, last season reserves, even 6 feet tall. Other candidates are Everett, Jonker and Brat.

Christian has a record of 90 per cent victories for nine years. The schedule comprises 16 games, including Grand Haven, Benton Harbor, Grand Rapids Christian, Chicago Christian, Zeeland, Grandville, East Grand Rapids, Allegan and St. Augustine and Western State of Kalamazoo.

A Halloween Frolic will be given by the Young Ladies' Sodality of St. Francis de Sales church. It takes place Friday evening, October 27, from 9 until 12 o'clock at the Ladies' Literary club. Jack Vander Meulen and his Dutch Masters, are to furnish the music, sparkling new jazz numbers. Everyone is cordially invited. Admission 25c per person.

The Holland public schools will be closed today, Friday, to allow teachers to attend the annual convention of the fourth district of the Michigan Education association, which is being held in Grand Rapids this week, Friday and Saturday.

Allegan County News

The meeting of the depositors of the Fruit Growers State bank, held at Saugatuck, was very satisfactory to the officers and personnel of the bank. The attitude and support signified by the depositors is highly gratifying and is a real inspiration. Many have been in to sign the "Waiver and Consent Agreement" and if this same cooperation will be given by those that haven't been in, considerable time and expense will be saved. The necessary routine is being rushed as rapidly as possible. If there is anything regarding the plan not fully understood it will be considered a real favor if you will kindly call at the bank and seek an explanation. The only aim of the conservator and depositors' committee is to do the very best that is possible to be done for you.

At the annual meeting of the First Congregational church of Douglas last Tuesday evening, the following officers were elected to succeed themselves: Clerk, Arthur Welch; treasurer, John Scarlett; deacon, Frank Wade; trustees, Mabel Zeitsch and John Scarlett; chorister, Mr. Liddell; pianist, Mrs. Reuben Scott; assistant pianist, Mrs. P. D. Konold.

A special service for the public will be held Sunday evening, Nov. 5, for installation of officers. While this is not a new ceremony it has never been observed in this church and promises to be very interesting and impressive. Special music will also be furnished. The committee appointed at a special meeting of the church several weeks ago to solicit funds for church maintenance has been remarkably successful.

Among Ganges folks who have attended the Century of Progress exposition recently are Mr. and Mrs. Ed Wolters, Miss Hazel Mosier, Gertrude and Frank Warren, Ellsworth and Harold Bartholomew, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kiernan, Mrs. Lewis Knox, Mrs. Emma Trumble, Mrs. George Kurz, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Thorsen, Mrs. Leon French, Abner Miller, daughter Etta May, and son Neil.

Allegan supervisors upon recommendation of the finance committee, adopted the following budget: Board of supervisors, $2,000; contagious diseases, $1,200; damages by dogs, $2,000; circuit court, $6,000; justice courts, $600; coroners, $300; county clerk's office, $3,000; treasurer's office, $2,800; drain commissioner, $1,200; poor commission office, $2,000; prosecutor's office, $3,000; road commission office, $600; register of deeds, $300; school commissioner's office, $3,500; sheriff's office, $9,000; surveyor, $50; transient officer, $50; probate and juvenile court, $10,000; moth-eaten pensions, $20,000; state hospital and institutions, $25,000; elections $1,500; jail, courthouse and grounds, $3,000; miscellaneous items, $2,025; county road tax, $28,000; general fund deficit, $4,000; total, $178,000. Real and personal property were equalized at $35,000,000. The state tax is $21,723.69, and the county tax, $175,000. A resolution was passed that the judge of probate make contracts with a hospital for the care of crippled children. It was voted to have fines paid by liquor violators transferred to the general fund. A resolution was adopted to have the city of Allegan pay cost of jury trials in connection with the municipal dam project by Jan. 10, 1934, or deduct the amount to be paid the city due on tax collections. It was decided that when promised money is received by the road and bridge committee from the state it shall be applied on Covert road bonds, several of which are in default.

Miss Aileen Stilwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Stilwell, and Mr. Claude Yates, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Yates of Watervliet, were united in marriage at 10:30 Saturday morning at the Methodist Episcopal parsonage in Allegan, by Rev. H. E. Weston. The couple were attended by Miss Alice Pratt of Fennville and Mr. Willard Renny of Watervliet. The bride was charmingly gowned in blue crepe and wore a corsage of sweet peas. The bridesmaid wore a gown of grey crepe. After spending their honeymoon in Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Yates will reside near Watervliet. Hamilton Bond & Mortgage Co. of Ohio is seeking in Allegan circuit court to collect a judgment of $3,500 from Joseph A. and Grace P. O'Brien which, it claims, has been allowed in another court. The company states the O'Briens have continually refused to pay any part of the judgment.

The fall all-day meeting of the Allegan County Federation of Women's Clubs was held in Griswold auditorium, Allegan, Wednesday. Women's history class was hostess. Following the business session Mrs. J. B. Zwemer of Saugatuck made a report of the state federation meeting in Detroit last week. Mrs. L. H. Cone of Allegan gave a vocal solo and Mrs. C. A. Hler of Hopkins entertained with musical readings. The North Side circle of the Federated church served luncheon in the church parlors at noon. Twenty-three clubs in the county are members of the federation.

Allegan county experienced one of its most severe storms in years. Washouts were reported on many Harry Denoyella, age 20, Pullman, who pleaded guilty Friday when arraigned before Judge Fred T. Miles in circuit court on a liquor charge, was sentenced Saturday afternoon to serve six months to two years at Ionia reformatory.

Mr. and Mrs. Joshua J. Brown have the distinction of being the oldest married couple in Saugatuck for Tuesday they celebrated the fifty-ninth anniversary of their wedding. There will be a family reunion at their home. Joshua J. Brown was united in marriage with Miss Eudora Morgan, daughter of the late Captain James Morgan, in Chicago in 1874, moving to Saugatuck in the early eighties, and here they have since lived. Four children were born to this couple, all of whom are living here, James, Edith, Ella and Mabel, and there are two grandchildren, Mrs. Beatrice Finch and Richard Brown.

Mr. Brown, although 89 years old, walks as upright and fast as a man of 21 and enjoys his daily walks of a mile or two and his exercise at garden and woodpile. He is one of the oldest living members of the G. A. R., having joined the Post in Chicago in 1866. He has just received a badge of aide-de-camp to the commander-in-chief of the national G. A. R. in appreciation of long and zealous work for that order. He is the only living veteran of the Civil war in Saugatuck township.

The people of the community of Ganges have been generous in donating fresh fruit, canned fruit and vegetables to Bronson hospital, Kalamazoo, and Clark Memorial Home, Grand Rapids. There were 70 bushels of apples (40 from Fennville M. E. church), 125 quarts of canned goods and large quantities of vegetables and grapes were taken to the hospital, 86 quarts of fruit to Clark Memorial home, besides a barrel of 61 quarts sent to roads, including M40 south of the city, M89 west of here, M118 near Martin and many of the county highways. It will require two days to repair the trunks and longer on the county roads. Hooker road, east of Allegan, has been closed for several days, because of the storm's damage. Washouts occurred on all five of Allegan's unpaved hills. Street Commissioner Oscar Lemon estimated the cost to the city to repair the damage would be $2,000.

Two accidents in a few days is a record for blacksmiths at Fennville. Last week Frank Duell lost the ends of three fingers in a jointer at the blacksmith shop here owned by Alex Blanc. He was released from Holland hospital Friday. Saturday afternoon Blanc was called to shoe some horses for Dr. W. G. Winter at his farm near Holland and while there cut his wrist through to the cords. Dr. Winter arrived at the scene and took care of his cut. Duell was with him at the time but, with only one hand to use, could give very little help.

Headaches are often due to a defective eye, usually astigmatism or far-sightedness, unrecognized by patient and is never due to nearsightedness. The gillary muscle in constant effort at correction gets tired out and headache develops. Often extreme nervousness results. Have your eyes examined by a real ophthalmologist and find out and also receive some benefit.

race at the Holland fair, which was given nation-wide publicity. From this unpretentious zoo, his wonderful collection was brought into being and Holland not only enjoyed these attractions, but entertained their guests there for years and years.

Holland has taken Lakewood farm as a matter of course just as it has its beautiful lakes and the rest of its resort environs. It is the outsider who points out the beauties and the advantages of all this and it is through their elation that we begin to realize that we have something here that is really worth while.

Lakewood farm has not only been a source of entertainment for us, but it has been a tremendous source of revenue both directly and indirectly. And furthermore, it has brought to this city such extensive publicity, the value of which it would be difficult to estimate.

The animals will leave by truck. The pythons, the largest in captivity in this country, will be placed in large boxes which will be heated in case they travel in cold weather, later this week. The pythons are 28 and 30 feet long.

The moving of Nancy, the elephant, will not cause as much trouble as some of the smaller animals, as Manager A. M. Petersen already has figured out the transportation method for the four-ton giant. A large tractor moving truck will be hired to take her to her new home.

George Getz doesn't owe Holland and Ottawa much a thin dime, but we are indebted to George Getz and Lakewood farm more than we could ever repay.

The national press has always given George Getz and his zoo a tremendous lot of publicity, and now that the zoo is to leave, it has also proved good copy for the state and national metropolitan papers.

shot of ether. The lion was raised on a bottle in the Chicago hospital until it was old enough to be taken care of on the local farm. Manager Petersen weaned it from the bottle by using a brass door handle with a hole drilled in it. This was encased in rubber. It now eats meat.

Four other lion cubs were raised on the farm by Daisy, a Spaniel. The dog had to allow a cat to adopt her litter while Daisy took care of the four cubs. The dog was their mother for two months. This is the second time the ani-
