Upton Close Says That Nation Must Rediscover Soul

Chest Speaker Urges Thinking, Voting and Community Support

"America must rediscover her soul and her sense of direction," These were the words of Upton Close, world-famous news commentator, columnist and lecturer, who addressed several hundred Community Chest workers and interested citizens in Holland High school auditorium Tuesday night at the kick-off meeting which launched Holland's Chest and National War fund campaign to raise $34,200.

Gives Fee to Chest

Upton Close donated to the Chest fund the $200 he received for speaking here. Chest Publicity Chairman O. W. Lowry revealed today. The fee was paid by the Holland Furnace Co. Close came here for $250, half his usual fee. Fifty dollars went to his booking agency. The speaker told Lowry that he enjoyed his visit to Holland more than any of the trips to other cities on his current 30-city tour which is nearing an end.

who didn't talk out of both sides of their mouths or beat about the bush." Although he mentioned no political parties, his opposition to a fourth term was unmistakable.

Close listed three things which people can do:

"Think—think for yourself, think on the basis of true sound history that you can trust, think of the precepts left you by men you know were honored and principled, think of things absolutely essential in preserving the things you and I love, and think of the basic democracy which can exist only under a two-party government and not strangled under one party."

The second thing to do, Close said, is "exercise your right to march to the polls."

The third suggestion was "Do what you're doing tonight. Give your whole-hearted support to your community enterprises, the types that keep dictatorship down and keep democracy up."

Close related his experiences at the start of the war. He had completed plans for returning to China early in December and one of his last assignments in Washington was to interview Maxim Litvinov who had arrived to restore the long broken relations between Russia and the United States.

During an interview on Dec. 6, 1941, Close said, Litvinov declined to answer a question on Russia's reaction should Japan strike in the Pacific.

This led Close to predict the following day, 45 minutes before word of the Pearl harbor attack was received, that "if Japan should strike today or tomorrow, it will not be at Manila, and if Japan strikes, Russia will follow her own interests."

As for Pearl harbor, he said his suspicions are not yet quieted as details of the three-year-old charges against those responsible for the death of 3,000 service men remain undisclosed. For one thing, he said, he has yet to comprehend exactly why "somebody" wanted to remove from the studio during the Pearl harbor reports anyone who had an intimate knowledge of the Orient.

"Reports of both the army and the navy have been tucked away under the heading of 'top secrets' until certainly after election and I don't know how much longer," he said. "Not only the commander-in-chief but the cabinet have yet to satisfy the people for their unpreparedness in the worse disaster that ever befell America. Our share in the blame is that we simply lost the vision of basic statesmanship and direction of the United States."

Bosch, Former Mayor, Expires

Nicodemus Bosch, 81, who served Holland as mayor for ten years, died Sunday noon in Holland hospital where he had been taken Saturday.

The former mayor, who served as president and general manager of Western Machine Tool works for 40 years, had been in ill health for several months and was taken seriously ill Friday.

Mr. Bosch, an ardent Republican all his life, was born Sept. 3, 1863, in Vriesland. On Dec. 8, 1889, he married the former Emma Cherest in Grand Rapids and 40 years ago the family came to Holland where Mr. Bosch had previously founded the tool company. His campaigns for mayor of Holland were Mr. Bosch's only entry into active politics. He served two one-year terms from 1912 to 1914 and one two-year term from 1914 to 1916. The setup for city mayor changed in 1914 to two-year terms. He served another two-year term as mayor from 1918 to 1920 and two two-year terms from 1932 to 1936.

One of the last honors to come to Mr. Bosch was a citation from Industrial Press Publishers of New York city last month in recognition of his "contribution to the remarkable development of mechanical industry during the past half century, a development that has laid the foundation and produced the means for industrial progress and material prosperity."

The citation added that "now in the war emergency, he has risen to new heights in war production achievement."

The company, which was founded over 50 years ago, has been on total war production during both wars and was honored June 21, 1943, with the award of the Army-Navy "E" production pennant for "high achievement in the production of war materiel." Since then at six months' intervals, the company received two additional white stars in lieu of additional awards.

Mr. Bosch, active in civic and social circles here, was a long-time member of the Century club and of the Social Progress club. He attended Hope Reformed church.

Surviving are the widow; two daughters, Mrs. E. J. Yeomans of Holland and Mrs. Gunnar Heimbürger of Stockholm, Sweden; three sons, Dr. Leon C. Bosch of Grand Rapids, Gerald J. and Randall C. Bosch of Holland; 14 grandchildren; and a sister, Mrs. William Tarry of Grand Rapids.

Brightall Mum On New Guinea Fights With Japs

It is a well known fact that Mr. Average GI is a very tight-lipped fellow especially if he has been anywhere near the places where Mr. Jap and Mr. German are going about the business of "expansion." But few soldiers can say nothing in fewer words than S/Sgt. George Brightall, home on rotation furlough after being in the New Guinea campaigns of Buna, Milne Bay, Sador, Aitape and Sanananda.

"I guess the other boys have covered what we did over there," Brightall said and left a person reminiscing over the battle stories some vets of New Guinea campaigns have revealed.

He did say, however, that he was a trench mortar observer which is known to be a "hot spot" in battle.

Brightall, the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Markluyver, 267 West 18th St., was inducted into service April 21, 1944, and received training at Camp Livingston, La., and Fort Devens, Mass., before going to San Francisco and from there overseas.

He was in Australia for about six months before getting into the New Guinea fracas for about five months and served in the Buna fighting. He then went back to Australia for a six months rest and then again to New Guinea for the Milne Bay, Sador and Aitape campaigns. From New Guinea he was sent home on rotation furlough.

He recently married the former Miss Ella Monsma of Paterson, N. J.

He will return to Miami, Fla., for reassignment next month. His wife will go with him and will reside in Miami until he is reassigned.

High Spending Is Hit by Engel

He said assessed property valuation in America is now 150 billion dollars and that the national debt is expected to rise to 300 billion dollars by 1945.

"All unnecessary spending must stop," he declared, and cited as an example a company with $65,000 capital which, in one year, made $31,000,000,000 in war contracts, $23,000,000,000 of which was turned back to the treasury because of the renegotiation bill forced through congress by a minority group of Republicans and "disgruntled Democrats."

Bernard De Pree served as chairman at the meeting and Cornelius Vander Meulen introduced the speaker. Several county and state candidates were present.

Auction to Aid Wounded Vets to Be Held in City

Employees of the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. of the Holland area are sponsoring a public auction in the Arendshorst building, 29 East Eighth St. Saturday afternoon and evening, Nov. 11.

"This is part of a state-wide program on the part of telephone company employees," said G. K. New Assistant Is Appointed Here By Works Board

Millard Westrate, Son Of Local Couple, Will Start Duties in Month

Appointment of Millard C. Westrate of Oak Park, Ill., to assist Supt. A. Nauta of the board of public works has been announced by Joe Geerds president of the board. The new appointee will assume his duties here in about a month.

Westrate's title here has not been determined. Geerds said, but his work will be somewhat along the same lines as that of Assistant Supt. Charles Vos, now on leave of absence following a paralytic stroke early this year.

Westrate, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Westrate, route 1, was born Aug. 16, 1908, in Allegan, attended grade and high school there and studied at Hope college for two years before going to the University of Michigan where he received his bachelor of science degree in electrical engineering in 1930 after two years of study. For graduate work he took five hours in electronics at Michigan and two hours in networks at Northwestern university.

His wife is the former Mabel Eschburg of Holland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Eschburg, 480 Central Ave. They have two children. The family has purchased a home at 16 East 23rd St.

Westrate's present position is chief engineer and assistant manager for Communication Equipment and Engineering Co. in Chicago. This firm employs about 15 persons and manufactures electronic communication equipment for railroads and public utilities, although at present most of the output is for the signal corps. Westrate took this position in 1935 to be more directly connected with the war effort.

From 1930 to 1943, he was connected with Commonwealth and Southern Corp. and its associated operating company, Consumers Power Co. From 1930 to 1935 he worked in the plans section of the frequency change department in Grand Rapids which gave him experience in all the many applications of electricity by residential, commercial and industrial concerns.

In 1935 and 1936 he was power sales engineer in Muskegon which involved promotional effort, customer relations and a thorough knowledge of rates. From 1936 to 1943 he worked in the technical section of the electrical engineering department at Jackson involving system planning, load division studies, voltage studies, insulation coordination, inductive short circuit studies and many assignments such as communications, telemetering, insulating oil and how best to serve water heaters.

Westrate is a professional engineer of the state of Michigan and a member of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers. He has had three articles published in Electrical World.

Geerds pointed to the load of 7,700 kilowatts at the local plant, Sept. 27, a 30 per cent increase over the demand on the station in 1940, as an example of the increase in work here. Installation of the new diesel engine recently ordered will involve considerable work in engineering, he said.

Westrate's appointment

Five Autos, Truck Are Damaged in Three Accidents

City police investigated two accidents here Thursday afternoon and sheriff's officers investigated another Thursday night on Park road.

Conservation Officer Clayton W. Fory, 40, 134 East 17th St., received bruises and his auto was considerably damaged in a crash at 12:45 p.m. at College Ave. and 17th St., involving another car driven by Jack Glupker, 17, 45 East 21st St. which was also damaged.

Glupker, driving his father's car, was traveling south on College Ave. and the front of the car was damaged. Fory was traveling west on 17th St. His car was swung around facing the opposite direction 60 feet from the point of impact. The officer was thrown in the rear seat. Car damage was confined mostly to the right side.

In the second accident at 1:15 p.m. at River Ave. and 14th St., a car driven by Mrs. Everdine Nobel, 28, route 1, Grandville, collided with a delivery truck of the Holland Meat Co., driven by Alfred Wiggers, 36, route 3, Zeeland. Mrs. Nobel who said she did not see the signal light turn to red later paid fine and costs of $3 in municipal court on a charge of running a red light.

The Nobel car, traveling south on River, was damaged on the front and the truck, traveling east on 14th St., was damaged in a lesser degree on the left and front. Marinus J. Stoketee, 476 Michigan Ave., waiting for the red light, was listed by police as a witness.

Cars driven by Alfred Arendsen, 18, route 3, and Allen Drev Miles, 17, route 1, both received damaged left front fenders as the result of an accident on Park road just west of the curve at the L. W. Lamb home.

Sheriff's officers who investigated said Arendsen was traveling east and apparently became confused by an auto tire on the opposite lane and drove to that side of the road, Miles in rounding the curve saw the Arendsen car on the wrong side but planned to pass on the right shoulder. Appearance of several boys there kept Miles on the road. Arendsen is leaving shortly for military service.

Capitalist ...AMERICAN STYLE

He's in business for himself, this kid.

He invests his own money in his newspapers because he has confidence in his own ability to sell them at a profit.

He has learned by experience that business grows through hard work, salesmanship and thrift.

He gets plenty of hard knocks—but profits by them.

He knows what competition means—and has learned to meet it.

He uses his wits.

He gets ahead.

He is capitalist, laborer and consumer combined.

He is typically American.

Multiply this boy by millions—and you'll see what makes America tick.

We're all capitalists in America. We don't wear cut-away coats and plug hats. We wear overalls—work in our shirt sleeves.

We carry life insurance, or have savings accounts, or hold war bonds, or own farms, garages, fruit stands, drug stores, or other businesses—large and small. And as capitalists we are all interested in a fair return on our money.

All of us labor for a living. And as laborers we are all interested in making as much money as possible by producing more goods and services for more people.

At the same time we are all consumers. We buy food, clothing, shelter, luxuries. And as consumers we are interested in fair prices, honest values, good service.

Like the newsboy, each one of us is a combination of capitalist, laborer and consumer.

Each of us is free to take his own future in his own hands—and pull himself up by his bootstraps. That is the grand American privilege. It makes newsboys into business men—shop workers into industrial leaders and successful farmers out of chore boys.

There are no restrictions on ability in America—and there must be none.

For as business, industry and agriculture grow in this country, more jobs are created. More people benefit. More men, starting at the bottom, reach the top. New products are made. Production goes up. Prosperity follows. Higher standards of living are provided for more people. A desire for still better things is created.

That's progress. That's free enterprise. That's AMERICA.

Buy War Bonds and Stamps—and Keep Them!

Milkweed Pods Must Be Turned In This Month

Milkweed pods which have been harvested should be dried and ready for collection at the authorized buying stations this week, it was announced today by James A. Bennett, authorized buying agent for Holland and vicinity. The latest date the pods may be taken to the stations is Oct. 31 and empty sacks should be returned with the pods.

All sacks of pods hanging outside must be vigorously shaken and left hanging until the latter part of the week, he said. Mr. Bennett may be found in room 28 in the Junior High school building until 4:30 p.m. daily except Saturday and Sunday.

This area has collected more than 1,000 sacks this year, about seven times as much as was collected last year. This increase is due to a better crop and better organization by the government agency. The trucking agent for the War Hemp Industries is expected to be in Holland about Nov. 1. The "floss" goes into aviators' life jackets.

Says Peleliu Invasion Was Hell-Hole

Lt. Richard Schaftenaar, naval doctor attached to the marines in the invasion of the Peleliu islands recently, wrote his wife residing at 58 West 14th St. and described the experience in two simple words—"hell-hole"—adding he was glad to be out of that place.

He paid tribute to the hard fighting marines who were trained for anything and said the men could never be paid enough for the things they went through.

While picking up wounded men on the beaches, he said, many would say to him, "Doc, don't mind me. Help some other buddy who is worse off than I am." He said he has seen many boys and men lose a leg or an arm and has seen many die without a complaint.

The lieutenant, himself, was injured while on the island and was taken away for a few weeks for treatment of a concussion. He is back on duty now.

Schaftenaar also said he could not understand why some people were quitting their war jobs back in the states in an attempt to seek permanent jobs. The war is far from won, he declared.

Schaftenaar who was promoted to full lieutenant while on Peleliu islands enlisted with the navy June 17, 1943, and after working in the base hospital at San Diego, Cal., for four months was assigned to duty with the U. S. marines and left for overseas duty in December. He has seen service in New Guinea, New Britain

Accepted and filed.

Clerk presented petition from residents and property owners on East 20th Street and East 21st Street protesting against the enlargement of the parking lot in the block and vicinity of their homes. It is their contention that it is in violation of the Zoning Ordinance to use this property for a parking lot.

It is now zoned as residential for such a purpose. It is the contention of the petitioners that such use will make it a decided nuisance in the neighborhood and depreciate the value of their property.

Referred to the Civic Improvement Committee and City Attorney for immediate action.

Communications from Boards and City Officers

The claims approved by the following Boards were ordered certified to the Council for payment: Hospital Board $3,167.90 Library Board 300.63 Park and Cemetery Board 1,907.20 Board of Public Works 12,355.12

Allowed. (Said claims on file in Clerk's and Board of Public Works office for public inspection.) Board of Public Works reported the collection of $36,175.15; City Treasurer—$10,285.18.

Accepted and Treasurer ordered charged with the amounts.

Clerk presented Agreement between the City of Holland and the Townships of Laketown and Fillmore to furnish street lighting in the unincorporated Village of Graafschap. The Agreement provides for the installation of 7 street lamps at an annual cost of $35.00 per lamp. It further provides for the payment of the cost of installation by the said Townships. Such cost in no event to exceed the sum of $481.81.

Contract approved.

In connection with the furnishing of street lights for the Townships, Clerk reported that it has been customary for sometime for the Board of Public Works to bill the City for certain street lights in the townships and then the City rebill the townships. It was suggested that it would be more efficient for the Board to handle this direct in the future rather than through the City since now there are more and more street lights being erected outside the City.

After a brief discussion, it was moved by Alderman Damson, seconded by Mooi.

That after this year the matter be handled directly by the Board of Public Works.

Clerk presented communication from the Board of Public Works reporting an increase in salary for the Superintendent A. Nauta, from $5,400.00 to $6,000.00 per year, subject to the approval of the Common Council.

In regard to this matter, Alderman Mooi reported that the Board of Public Works Committee had discussed this salary increase with the Board.

Mr. Mooi further stated that the Board informed them that Mr. Nauta has never once requested such increase; however, the Board felt that inasmuch as Mr. Nauta's responsibility now has greatly increased that his salary should be increased to this figure. It was further reported that several years ago when Mr. Champion was Superintendent he had at that time received a salary of $6,000.00 and the Board took the position that it was unjust to continue Mr. Nauta at his present salary without giving him this increase.

Some of the Aldermen felt, however, that according to an understanding with the Board that such increase should be given at the beginning of each year when general salary and wage increases are considered.

After some further discussion, it was moved by Alderman Mooi, seconded by Damson, that this matter be referred back to the Board of Public Works Committee for further consideration.

Clerk presented communication from the State Administrative Board stating that the City's application for funds to assist up to 50% of the cost in the preparation of plans and specifications for a Municipal Recreation Building in the City of Holland has been approved and accepted. The total estimated cost of such developments being $18,000.00; a grant of not to exceed $9,000.00 was approved.

Motions and Resolutions

Mr. Henry Wilson, chairman of the Merchants Division of the Chamber of Commerce appeared before the Council and reported that their group has received a request from the Community Chest Board and also from Mr. Pettey who will have charge of the next bond drive, to erect 2 large billboards in Centennial Park on which to display advertising for the Community Chest Drive and also for the 6th War Loan Bond Drive which will follow shortly thereafter.

Mr. Wilson stated that it is not proposed that these boards remain there permanently but are just to be erected and used during these next two drives.

Some of the Aldermen felt that there would be other places to erect them where they would do just as much good as in the Park. Others took the position, however, that it would be a small sacrifice for the benefits that might be derived from them.

After quite some discussion, however, it was moved by Alderman Damson, seconded by Slagh, that this matter be referred to the Civic Improvement Committee together with the Board of Park and Cemetery Trustees with power to act.

THE BEGINNING OF
ENGLISH WISDOM

A careful examination of the newspapers of England, we are told, reveals a striking absence of partisan comment on the American presidential election. Here and there an unimportant paper is found that ventures to take sides.
But the papers that are influential enough to be noticed on this side of the Atlantic are reported as being as neutral on the subject
as the British government itself.

That censorship is of course self-imposed. No British law prevents the English newspapers from commenting on the American elections, any more than an American law prevents our newspapers from commenting on governmental affairs in England. But the British are quite naturally passionately interested in maintaining friendly relations with the American people in these tense times, and they now finally appear to have learned that the surest way to put a strain on those relations is taking sides in our internal affairs.

There is almost no doubt that nearly all the British papers are eager for the reelection of President Roosevelt. They are not concerned about our domestic economy, as many Americans naturally are, but they are intensely concerned about the war, and they have become used to Roosevelt.
They are convinced that another term for Roosevelt would be good for the British.

Some months ago even influential British newspapers were in the habit of saying so from time to time. Apparently it had not occurred to them that we might resent it, although if our papers had taken sides in England's internal affairs they would have been the first to resent it. Those early British comments on our election met with so much resentment that the British editors at long last learned to keep their mouths shut about what we believed was exclusively our own business.

That beginning of British wisdom is for the good of all concerned. For those British editors are not in position to comment intelligently on our election issues. They are not competent for the simple reason that they are emotionally incapacitated to take all the facts into consideration. They see our elections only from the angle of our foreign policy, from the angle
from which it affects England.
Americans know that that is only one side of the question. Our domestic issues, most of which the English do not even understand, are of great importance to us, as well as the foreign policies.

In any event, this self-restraint of the English is for the good of all parties concerned.

THE CHURCH INVITES YOU

Benjamin Franklin in the constitutional convention said: "We have been assured, sir, in the Sacred Writings, that 'except the Lord build the house, they labor in vain
that build it; I firmly believe this;
and I also believe that without his concurring aid, we shall succeed in this political building
no better than the builders of Babel. We shall be divided by our little partial local interests; and our projects will be confounded; and we ourselves shall become a reproach
and a byword down to the future ages. And what is worse, mankind may hereafter, from this unfortunate instance, despair of establishing governments by human wisdom, and leave it to chance, war, and conquest." Note the statement
'except the Lord build the house,
they labor in vain that build it.'
Why not accept the invitation and go to church next Sunday?

Our Heritage from the Reformation—Nehemiah 8:9; Psalm 138:
1-3; 1 Corinthians 14:18-19; 1
Peter 2:1-5

By Henry Geerlings

The Protestant Reformation
really began in the soul of a man.
Luther's soul was a sea of trouble.
He was troubled about his sins and his relation to God. He wanted to be as one with Him and he did not know how to bring it about. It was peace that he wanted, a new man, and he had a new outlook upon God and religion and the church and the world. There was an inner change in Luther, a deep and thorough-going change,
and the Reformation was inevitable. Though he did not foresee
how far this change within him was going to carry him, yet he would have been utterly untrue to himself had he not yielded to the logic of his growing convictions and to the mighty urge of his new soul, so to speak. The stream of the Reformation began as seemingly insignificantly as the mighty Mississippi, but it gathered momentum and depth and width as it flowed on.

Therefore, studying the soul of Luther carefully one sees that the Bible could not be kept out of the Reformation. It could no more be ignored in this mighty movement than the sun can be ignored by the growing harvest fields and the blooming orchards of the land. The Bible for the most part was a lost or a sealed book in the pre-Reformation days. The people were strangers to it. It was as much a curiosity to them as some Chinese books are to us today. Of course every convent had a Bible and the monks knew what it was, but they faithfully kept it away from the people of the church. It was not a book that they should possess and read. They were to get their religious truth from the priests.

Now Luther was led to the Bible in his monastery, and was encouraged to read it. This he did with eagerness and painstaking care.
He read it with growing wonder and delight. He read it as new food for his soul. He read it with the growing consciousness that his soul was being liberated. He read it with the feeling that a vast inspiration was coming into his heart. He read it with the assurance that floodlight of divine light was pouring into his mind. He read it with the feeling that new windows were being built in his soul-house and out through which his world was looking upon God and his world. At last he had found the book which was to be his authority for religion, his guide to the truth of religion and his final court of appeal. It was to have the supreme place in his thinking. If his religion could not be supported by the Bible, then there was something wrong with his religion and his business was to examine it to find out just where it lacked Bible support.

The Bible gives up our foundation for individual and social righteousness. Both in the Old Testament era and in the New,
neglect of the Word of God has led inevitably to the decay of morals.
Of course it is impossible for us to say what would happen in our national life if we would suddenly deprive our people of the privilege of hearing and reading the Bible.
But judging from history which under conditions are the same, repeats itself, we can imagine what would come to pass.

We are told that a crime wave is sweeping over our country today. There may be many contributing causes, but we may reasonably conclude that the Word of God is being neglected. Take it from us and there could be nothing more sure than the collapse of moral integrity. Our hope, now that the blemishes of our boasted civilization are so conspicuous, is the Bible. We do not need statemen any less, but we do need the strength, the wisdom, the pardon
and the peace the Scriptures afford. And as long as we cherish that truth we cannot deny the precious fruits of the Reformation.

It is easy to lose one's Bible. I do not mean we shall mislay it, or throw it out with rubbish, or cover
it over with something and forget where it is. That may happen, but it is not likely. If we have a Bible we perhaps know where it is. There are other ways of losing it. If we have it laid away in a trunk for safe-keeping, or place it on the table and allow it to gather dust, or fail to read it, or, reading
it, take no account of its precepts, or speak slightly of it, or doubt the message it conveys; in any and all of these ways the book is lost to us as though it were lost.

Strange how we would not think of being without a copy, while we scarcely turn its pages to find what it has to say to us. If Josiah had not read the book of the law for himself and then proclaimed it in the ears of all the people it could as well have remained hidden among the debris. There is nothing to be gained in making a fetish of the Bible. Pick it up, thank God for it, read it and then
live by it.

There may be created within us a great love for the Bible. There is no reason why this should not be so. Once it begins to open up its treasures to us we know how rich
we are in possessing it. Something has happened, or has not happened, when we have to force ourselves to pick up the Bible and read it. We do not have that feeling toward the letters we receive.
We are eager to know what our friends have to say. The Bible is God's good news to us. It tells a story that should cheer our hearts.

War Output in Local Area High

Kent, Muskegon and Ottawa counties together have produced a cumulative total of $653,629,000 in war supply and facility contracts since Pearl harbor, it was revealed today by the Detroit regional office of the war production board.

This represents 3 per cent of the total war production of $21,925,777,000 of the state of Michigan and is 3 per cent of the cumulative national total of $203,218,121,000.

This contribution represents $804,281,000 in war supply contracts, through August, and $19,348,000 in facility contracts through July.

The war supply contracts include $278,373,000 in aircraft, $12,476,000 in ships, $222,417,000 in ordnance and $91,015,000 for all other types of war production.

The facilities contracts represent $48,746,000 in industrial building and $602,000 in military construction.

The part which Kent, Muskegon and Ottawa counties has played in the war picture has been of inestimable value," Carlsten Tiedeman, regional WPB director said. "We are proud of this accomplishment and know that this vicinity will see the war through to its conclusion."

While the amounts represent contracts placed, the work involved goes far into the future. The figures do not represent the amount of war work completed, but the war supply and facility contracts placed in this area."

Announce Marriage of Miss Arnold, W. Zeerip

In a ceremony performed in the Third Reformed church parsonage Saturday at 4:30 p.m., Miss Yvonne B. Arnold, daughter of Mrs. Marie Arnold of Holland, became the bride of Willard H. Zeerip, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Zeerip, West 13th St.

Rev. William Van't Hof officiated at the ceremony and Mr. and Mrs. Willard F. De Jonge of Zeeland, brother-in-law and sister of the groom, attended the couple.

Following the ceremony a reception for 50 guests was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Zeerip after which the couple left on a short wedding trip.

It is estimated that 12,000 long tons of tin cans be recovered annually from used tin cans and containers in the U.S.

Ensign Glenn Quist, who has just completed an eight weeks' indoctrination course at Princeton university, arrived in Holland last Friday for a visit with his wife and son, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Quist, 166 West 15th St., before reporting Oct. 30 to Hollywood, Fla.

The naval officer who received his commission June 1 reported to Princeton Aug. 21. His wife, the former Louise Clark of Darling, Miss., and their son, Lynn Clark, four months old, have been staying in Holland since that time. They probably will join the ensign later in Florida.

Quist is a graduate of Holland high school and Hope college and received his master's degree in bio-chemistry at the University of Tennessee. He was employed by Campbell Taggart Research Corp. at Kansas City, Mo., at the time he was commissioned.

Buyer and Seller Must Sign in Car Transfer

The local rationing board today reminded persons buying or selling used cars that both the purchaser and the seller of a used car must fill out and sign a certificate of transfer. Rationing regulations also determine ceiling prices on used cars besides having "strong teeth" for overcharges.

An estimated 1,556,000 hired workers were employed on U.S. farms as of January 1, 1943.

Photostats of Diekema's Phone Message Received

The Netherlands museum has received photostatic copies of the talk which the late Hon. Gerrit J. Diekema, American minister to the Netherlands, delivered from The Hague via trans-Atlantic telephone August 2, 1930, to the residents of Holland, Mich., at the time the new dial equipment was inaugurated.

At the time, the call was made from the then new Holland office by President Burch Foraker of the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. and Diekema's words were heard by more than 200 local residents by means of 70 special receivers and loud speaker equipment which were attached to the 4,200-mile circuit.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Vander Veen, Mr. and Mrs. John De Gloppe, Judge O. S. Cross, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Cappon, Dr. and Mrs. G. W. Van Verst, George A. Pelgrim, L. J. Vanderburg and Prosecuting Attorney C. A. Lokker.

Construction of the new Holland building was begun early in the summer of 1929, and in the fall fall work was started on a new telephone system at Macatawa park. Equipment installation began in February, 1930. The two buildings with sites, equipment, new outside plant and subscribers' instrument changes, cost approximately $750,000.

Telephone service was introduced into Holland in the spring of 1882 when a long distance connection was established with Grand Rapids. The first Holland central office was opened Nov. 4, 1883, with 12 local subscribers.

In his transatlantic call, Diekema complimented the people of his home city on their new telephone equipment and service, and the Bell Telephone Co. for the continuing program of expansion and development that had made possible the high standard of service enjoyed in Holland and throughout Michigan.

Diekema, voicing appreciation for the privilege of "talking home" to many friends, said it gave him one of the greatest thrills he had ever known. He paid especially high tribute to President Foraker, declaring him a splendid type of progressive businessman and citizen.

Among those present when the call was made at midnight were Dr. E. D. Dimmett, president of Hope college, and his guest, Prof. T. C. Sleswyg of The Hague, a friend of Diekema; Chamber of Commerce President Dick Boter and Mrs. Boter; Mayor and Mrs. E. C. Brooks; Albert Diekema, brother of the Netherlands minister, and his wife; C. A. French, editor and manager of The Sentinel; Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce and Mrs. Charles A. Gross; City Attorney Charles McBride and daughter; Prof. J. B. Nykerk of Hope college; J. P. Ogel, former telephone manager, and Mrs. Ogel.

County Conservation Officer Clayton W. Forry today asked the cooperation of hunters to refrain from a current popular habit in looking for pheasants while riding down country roads and shooting them without receiving permission of the farm owners.

Forry who points out that this is a violation of the trespass law said he had received many calls from farmers on this subject.

Farmers generally want to cooperate with hunters and usually grant permission to hunt on their lands when hunters request it. Forry said farmers have a right to know who is hunting on their land and if hunters fail to cooperate, they likely will find restrictions "tougher" next year since many farmers are thinking of posting their lands and joining farm clubs restricting hunting.

Forry also said the fields are extremely dry this season and cautioned hunters to be careful in the use of cigarettes and matches.

Clothing Collected by St. Francis Church

In response to the plea of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation administration for help in collecting clothing for distribution in liberated areas of Europe, and the cooperation of the National Catholic Welfare conference and the support of Catholic bishops, clergy and laity of the United States, Rev. J. M. Westdorp, pastor of St. Francis de Sales church of Holland, announces the successful completion of the emergency drive for clothing in his parish.

Shipment to the UNRRA warehouse at Grand Rapids has already been made of 35 cartons containing 1,826 articles, or a total of 1,300 pounds in actual weight of usable clothing for distribution to the war stricken peoples of Europe.

Wholehearted support of the project was pledged by Archbishop Mooney, chairman of the board of trustees of War Relief Services.

DEWEY

BRING BOYS HOME SOON!

"THIS BASIC ISSUE was clearly revealed in the recent announcement by the Director of Selective Service in Washington. He said that when Germany and Japan have been defeated it will still be necessary to demobilize the armed forces very gradually. And why? Because, he said, 'We can keep people in the Army about as cheaply as we could create an agency for them when they are out.'"

"For six months we have been hearing statements from the New Deal underlings in Washington that this was the plan. Now it is out in the open. They have been working up to it. Because they are afraid of peace. They are afraid of a continuance of their own failures to get this country going again. They are afraid of America."

"I do not share that fear. I believe that our members of the armed forces should be transported home and released at the earliest practical moment after victory. I believe that the occupation of Germany and Japan should very soon be confined to those who voluntarily choose to remain in the Army when peace comes. I am not afraid of the future of America—either immediate or distant. I am sure of our future, if we get a national administration which believes in our country."

—THOMAS E. DEWEY

VOTE FOR DEWEY AND BRICKER ON NOV. 7 (OTTAWA COUNTY REPUBLICAN COMMITTEE)

Big Reds Pound Out 39-0 Victory Over Dutchmen

The Muskegon Reds ran wild around Holland's ends Friday night in Muskegon on Hackley field to chalk up their fifth straight win of the season by snowing the Dutchmen under 39-0. It was Holland High's second conference loss and Muskegon's third conference win.

The Reds seldom failed to score when they got hold of the ball and only once were they forced to punt. Muskegon ran up 18 first downs to three for Holland.

The Hollanders did not get their hands on the ball until about midway in the second quarter. After Muskegon's first touchdown, Holland failed to pick up the kick-off and a Muskegon lineman pounced on the ball on Holland's 33-yard line and they then started their second touchdown drive.

Muskegon did not give the Holland line much of a battering but rather took to the ends and crashed around the Dutch line and into the secondary with two or three-man interference nearly every time. Bagdadi came in from the safety position on almost every play, either to make a tackle unassisted or with a couple of other boys from the secondary to help him. He was knocked colder than a pickled herring on one play but remained in the game and continued to give a good account of himself.

The main Muskegon offensive centered around Bob Dutton, husky fullback, and Bill Barrett, speedy left half. However, blocking paved the way for all their long runs while the runners themselves were stopped cold on the few times the Dutchmen managed to push the blockers out of the way.

Coach Leo Redmond's reserve runners were more elusive. Speedy Bob McNitt and Don Ohs got away for long gains after their blocking had run out on several occasions.

Prof. Kraus Addresses Rotary, AAUW Groups

Dr. Wolfgang Kraus of the political science department of the University of Michigan addressed two meetings in the city Thursday, discussing some of the problems of post-Hitler Germany. At a noon luncheon in the Warm Friend tavern, Dr. Kraus talked to members of the Holland Rotary club, and in the evening he addressed members and guests of Holland branch, American Association of University Women, in the home of Mrs. J. D. French, Park road.

Dr. Kraus frankly claimed to have no patent solutions for the problems which will occur with the collapse of the Nazi philosophy because of their very nature.

In his appraisal of the present state of affairs in Germany, Dr. Kraus pointed out three things which must be taken into consideration in any plans for the post-war period and especially for a re-organized Germany.

The first of these factors, he said, is that Nazi Germany has been in every sense of the term a dictatorship since 1933 and especially since 1939. A comparatively small group has held absolute authority maintained by armed might and a large, completely equipped police force reliably estimated at 1,500,000 men.

A second factor, frequently underestimated but growing out of the first, is that the German people have been made to conform to the Nazi pattern by every means possible, by strict government control of propaganda and education, as well as by outright force. Thus, he explained, has produced a standardized people living in cold isolation from the rest of the world. The third factor, frequently overestimated, is the extent to which the Germans have spontaneously followed Hitler. The majority of them, believes the speaker, are comparatively indifferent, giving lip service because it is too expensive not to do so.

With that as a basis, Dr. Kraus went on to say that the question of Germany's collapse is not purely a military one. That collapse can come only when the immediate Nazi leadership decides to give up, because they hold the generals themselves in a stranglehold. It is inherent in the system itself to fight on as long as possible even in the face of imminent defeat.

The question of Germany's future is not a local but an international one, the speaker declared. Those who are to make the peace are faced with the task of completely eradicating the whole Nazi system and philosophy, because no program can ultimately succeed without the support of the people of the area in question.

Neal Stekette presided at the Rotary club meeting, and Dr. Edward D. Dimment introduced the speaker.

Miss Bernice Bishop, program chairman, introduced Dr. Kraus to the A. A. U. W. group following a brief business meeting conducted by Mrs. John D. White, president. Several prospective members and other guests attended the program. Refreshments were served by Misses Anna Boot, Lida Rogers, Linnea Nelson and Mrs. Andries Stekette.

Speaker at Club Scores Imperialism of Nations

In a forceful and outspoken address before members of the Woman's Literary club Tuesday afternoon, Dean E. Smith, for many years foreign manager for the Standard Oil company in the far east, emphasized that in order to win the war against the Japanese "we must have leaders who are willing to listen and learn."

"We must judge all postwar plans by these principles, that we are fighting for freedom—freedom from empire and imperialistic desires."

Mr. Smith, who saw the fall of Hong-Kong, Singapore and Rangoon, in no uncertain terms scored the communistic and imperial desires of the nations who are now allies of the United States. "After this war the empires of the world will look upon a trusting United States as a problem child," he declared. The United States is "too free" for those others believe in world government based not on the good of the people, but on the good of the government.

"We must have unity," he said, "for we are a nation of principles, not adroitness. We are willing to meet and confer, but we must not trust our sovereignty to others. Our sovereignty does not belong to us—we are merely the guardians of it."

The speaker told in graphic terms the story of the Japanese invasion of Burma and stated that the British made the greatest single mistake of the war when she refused to let the Chinese take over the defense of Burma.

"Why don't we help China?" he asked. "How much longer are we going to obey the rule of Britain and Russia who do not want China to come out of this war too strong? They want Japan defeated, but they do not want a strong China to carry her republican ideas to other countries of Asia."

The Chinese are more like the American people than any other nation, he declared, and a strong China and a strong America would lead the world towards lasting peace.

Mrs. John R. Dethmers presided. Miss Joyce Brandhorst of Holland high school made a plea for support of the Chest drive. Members were urged to bring their rummage to the club house Wednesday and Thursday of this week. An appeal for a blackboard was made by the civic health committee.

Scheerhorn Is At English Base To Teach Pilots

An Air Service Command Station in England—After more than two years of flying, during which time he has traveled thousands of miles over the United Kingdom, Europe and Africa, 1st Lt. Donald Scheerhorn of Holland, Mich., has been "grounded" somewhere, in England in order that his experience might be employed in the training of new pilots. He has been made group training officer for a unit of Air Service command's air transport wing.

Fellow pilots of Lt. Scheerhorn's base estimate that the 28-year-old veteran airman has flown more than 225,000 miles on his aerial jaunts in the European theater without an accident. This would be the approximate equivalent of nine trips around the world at the equator.

Scheerhorn flew one of the first Douglas C-47 transports in the European theater. He crossed the Atlantic in the summer of 1942, landing in England July 6. He and a group of fellow airmen formed the nucleus of the first aerial transport organization in the United Kingdom.

During his more than two years overseas, Scheerhorn has flown hundreds of high-priority passengers, tons of vital cargo and thousands of bags of all-important mail to points throughout the United Kingdom and to the battle fronts on two continents.

1st Lt. Donald Scheerhorn

In November, 1942, Scheerhorn was the pilot of an unarmed transport plane that carried paratroopers to North Africa. As he brought the big aircraft into the landing strip, which was presumably in Allied hands, the enemy unexpectedly opened fire, wounding several of the men. Scheerhorn himself received a broken arm and painful chest wounds.

After a few months in the hospital, he was released and permitted to resume his former flying job. He was later decorated with the Air Medal for his part in the invasion and awarded the Purple Heart.

Don is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Scheerhorn of 451 College Ave. He is a graduate of Holland high school and later studied engineering at Hope college and at Michigan State. While in high school he was prominent in football and basketball.

He entered the service in September, 1941, and was trained at Hicks, Goodfellow and Kelly fields in Texas. In his present duty assignment Don accompanies new pilots on check flights to train them for instrument flying through the difficult and changeable weather in the European theater of operations.

He recently met another pilot from Holland, 2nd Lt. Dale Fris, who has been assigned to one of the transport squadrons in Don's group.

Another member of the Scheerhorn family, a brother, Bernie, is serving Uncle Sam in the United States navy.

Tax Analyst Talks To Exchange Club

Contemplated changes in the income tax law and effects of the withholding tax on wages were discussed with local Exchange Club members Monday noon in the Warm Friend tavern by Russell D. Beadle, tax analyst of Grand Rapids. Beadle, who addressed Exchange Club last February, presented a second lecture by request.

Major changes as outlined by the speaker are repeal of the victory tax, using adjusted gross income as a basis for deriving the amount of tax, a personal exemption of $500, a new definition of dependency involving anyone of certain relatives regardless of age if more than one-half the dependent's support is provided by the person taxed. This includes children in college, the speaker emphasized.

Child income will now be considered as such and will not be included in the income of the family head, he added. Former tax-free securities are now subject to normal and surtax rates and optional standard deductions will be allowed for further simplification.

Those who under-estimated their income will not be penalized if they pay their whole balance by Jan. 15, 1945, Mr. Beadle said. He pointed out that the new tax law will apply to anything paid on or after Jan. 1, 1945, whether or not it has been earned prior to that date.

E. V. Hartman gave the opening prayer and President William J. Brouwer presided. Miss Kathleen Essenburg of Holland High School spoke on behalf of Chest campaign and Ervin Hanson explained the organization of the campaign.

Aviation Student John Kleis, recently of the Santa Ana pre-flight band, played two trombone selections, accompanied by his sister, Miss Myra Kleis. The speaker was introduced by Clarence J. Scholten, Cornelius Brewer, Cornelius Westbroek and Lt. Don Van Arck, all of Holland, and Bill Millington and K. Brown of Grand Rapids.

The Prins Service station, located at 160 East Eighth St., was organized in 1908 by Herman Prins and is now managed by his sons, Bud and Don Prins. The station has given service to the automobile owners of the community since its organization and in 1930 a super service station was added to the original business giving more complete service for the car owners.

Texaco products were obtained some years ago by the station and today these products are sold in addition to Seiberline and Kelly-Springfield tires and accessories.

An internal motor cleaner is available at the station which flushes crank cases and cleans rings and cylinder walls of sludge. For a smoother running motor, this cleaner machine should be used at least twice a year preferably in the spring and fall when changing to heavier and lighter oils. The station also repairs generators, starters, electrical equipment, ignitions, carburetors and fuel pump replacing.

In the years the Prins station has been operating and serving the public it has acquired many friends and has given continuous satisfactory service to a great many automobile owners.

Triumph Bakery Is Modern Shop

The motto of the Triumph Bakery Shop, 384 Central Ave., is "You Specify, We Comply." The owner and manager of this modern bakery shop, the home of a complete line of baked goods and pastries, is William Du Mond.

Because of labor and material shortages the bakery is not able to offer its customers as large a variety or as great a quantity of baked goods for the duration but nevertheless, the high quality and service of the goods is maintained.

The bakery was partially destroyed by fire a year and a half ago and since that time has been completely remodeled and redecorated. The machinery and counters in the bakery are modern in every respect.

Mr. Du Mond has been in the baking business for more than 15 years and has been in this location for a period of about seven years.

Industrial plant fire losses in the U.S. in 1943 were estimated at about $145 million.

An estimated 2 million passenger cars and trucks disappeared from U. S. highways in 1942.
