Supervisors Reject Macatawa's Request

Grand Haven, Oct. 24 (Special)—The Good Roads committee of the Board of Supervisors, Wednesday turned down the request of the Macatawa Park Cottages Owners' association for $800 appropriation to remove sand from the lake-front.

After the board adopted the committee's report, Mayor Ben Steffens of Holland moved that the board allow the association $400 in view of the good work they have been doing in the vicinity, but Chairman Maynard Mohr asked legal advice from the prosecuting attorney.

Before Prosecutor Howard Fant could be heard, Supervisor John Ter Avest of Coopersville moved the meeting adjourn.

Police Hold Two in Theft-Kidnap Case

Grand Haven, Oct. 24 (Special)—State police are holding Pfc. Nathan Cummins, Jr., 21, Fruitport, and Martin Jankusky, 23-year-old discharged serviceman of Muskegon Heights, in Ottawa county jail in connection with the armed robbery and kidnapping of Michael Hornacek of Muskegon Heights Sunday morning.

Cummins was picked up by state police Tuesday night and Jankusky Wednesday morning. Officers said Cummins admitted his part in the offense but neither he nor Hornacek can definitely identify Jankusky. The two youths were not friends. They were standing on a corner in Muskegon Heights when Hornacek offered a lift.

Jankusky, out of $500 bail from Muskegon county on an auto larceny charge, told officers he was with an unknown person Saturday night and had gone home at 4:40 a.m. Sunday.

Whether the case will be prosecuted in Ottawa or Muskegon counties has not been determined. Hornacek was allegedly held up and robbed in Muskegon county but was forced from the car in Ottawa county. Theft of the car also took place in Ottawa.

Two Accidents Occur In Holland Wednesday

Two cars were damaged, including one that tipped over on its side, in an accident on Eighth St. near Buss Machine Works at 1:40 a.m. Wednesday when a car driven by Henry Terpstra, Jr., 17, Virginia park, hit a parked car owned by Theodore Dykema.

The Terpstra car was damaged on the right front and the Dykema car was tipped over. Terpstra told police the accident occurred when he bent over to pick up something from the floor of the car. He was given a summons for failure to stop within an assured clear distance ahead.

A car driven by Miss Gertrude Zonnebelt, 102 West 13th St., and a pickup truck driven by Harold J. De Fouw, 555 College Ave., collided at 8:10 a.m. yesterday at 20th St. and Washington. The front end of the Zonnebelt car and the right side of the truck were damaged.

Prosecutor Continues Questioning Into Crash

County Prosecutor Howard W. Fant said he would continue next week the investigation into the fatal accident in Holland Oct. 8 which took the life of Beatrice Jacobs, 18.

The prosecutor questioned two witnesses, Joe Rutman and Wallace Bradley, here Tuesday and said he would later question Betty Timmermans, 17, who is still in Holland hospital with serious injuries received when a car driven by Allen W. Shaw crashed into the rear of a parked trailer.

Fant also adjourned until next Tuesday questioning into the case in which Raymond Trevan, 23, Muskegon, allegedly stabbed his brother-in-law, Frank Williams, 33, also of Muskegon, in a street fight here Aug. 22. Trevan, held since then on failure to provide $1,500 bond, was released on his own recognizance.

Police were unable to locate the victim who is sought for further questioning.

He Tried To Be Helpful But Used Wrong Tactics

His ideas were all right but his tactics were wrong. That may describe the situation which resulted in a jail cell for Herman F. Wolf, 51, transient worker staying at White Village in Allegan county.

Wolf, who authorities say may have been stimulated by beer, tried to be helpful with the JCC "Chain of Dimes" Saturday and "got a little too familiar" with some of the feminine passersby. So he found himself in the city jail facing a disorderly conduct charge.

Monday, he was free after paying fine and costs of $15 on his arraignment before Municipal Judge Raymond L. Smith.

George Whitepigeon of Grand Rapids, jailed on a drunk charge, also was fined $15 or given the choice of 10 days in jail today. He was attempting to raise the fine.

Hope Dutchmen Battle to Move Back Into Race

Kazoo Loss Shoves Local Crew Far Down In MIAA Standings

	V	L	Pts.	OP
Alma	2	0	39	13
Hillsdale	2	1	59	19
Kalamazoo	2	1	33	20
Hope	1	1	26	13
Albion	2	2	53	46
Adrian	0	4	6	105

Hope college will be host to Alma college, currently MIAA leader, in a test of gridiron strength at Riverview park Saturday at 2 p.m. Hope will be primed to wipe out the memory of last week's humiliation at the hands of Kalamazoo's Hornets.

Some of the reasons why Hope will be out to win: it would give the Dutch a clear shot at the MIAA title should Albion knock off Kazoo. It would mean the first victorious homecoming in 10 years. (It was in 1935 that Milton (Bud) Hinga's griders hammered out a victory during homecoming against Hillsdale). It would be Hope's second MIAA crown should they win the race this year. (Hope won its first and only title in 1934). A victory would also mean a lot to Coach Al Vanderbush of Hope who will be after his first win against Alma.

Both Vanderbush of Hope and Coach Steve Sebo of the Alma Scots are in their first year of collegiate football coaching this season. Both coaches have been successful so far and both have but one loss charged against them. Kazoo being the spoiler for Vanderbush and Michigan Normal for Alma as the Teachers beat them 43-0.

Alma has been twice tried in the MIAA and won both contests. The Scots defeated Albion 14-13 and trounced Adrian 25-0. Both the Britons and the Bulldogs are resting in the basement of the standings. Alma still has to play Hillsdale and Kalamazoo as well as the Hope eleven.

Coach Sebo has seven letter-winners back from the 1942 squad to form the back-bone of his '46 outfit. The leading group is led by Vern (Buck) Walters, a 210-pound fullback who was a former Alma high and Scot star before he entered the Navy. Walters has been chosen captain and is by far their most valuable player.

In the line, Gayle Saxton, an aggressive guard, Harold Hart, another former guard, Murray Hanna a fast end and Chuck Kegal an expert center will be in the lineup against the locals. Milton Hinga said he remembers the work of Walters, Tullis and Saxton and they will probably be the men to watch. Tullis made both Alma tallies against Albion last week.

Alma will be packing a definite weight advantage both in the line and in the backfield. Sebo's line averages 200 pounds and his backs average 180 pounds. Hope has one of the lightest lines in the MIAA this year being out weighed by Kalamazoo, Albion and will be lighter than the Adrian 211 pound front wall. The Dutch play Adrian next week.

Coach Vanderbush has not yet posted his starting eleven largely because of the many injuries on his squad. Ernie Post, Bill Holwerda, Russ De Vette and Art Timmer, all from the Hope backfield are taking it easy this week as a result of injuries received in the Kazoo game last week. Chuck Davidson, of the forward wall, is still in bad shape with a dislocated arm. He resumed running for the first time today.

Hope has tangled with Alma 18 times since 1919 and have won only four contests since. The Scots have been victorious 11 times and three games have ended in ties. In 1936 the two teams played two games with the Hingmans taking the later in a round-robin playoff.

Klompers Dancers Will Perform in New York

Sixteen Klompen dancers were to leave Holland today for New York City to present the celebrated Klompen dance and Wedding fantasy Saturday in Rockefeller Center in connection with a special program on the opening of the United Nations general assembly.

Saturday's program, which will be staged in the plaza of Rockefeller Center, in addition to Holland's Klompen dance, will include many other Dutch features since Saturday will be known as Netherlands day.

The Hope college choir, singing from Grand Rapids, will provide three selections for the program. "The Wilhelmus," "Merk Toch Hoe Sterk" (Observe How Strongly) and "Prayer of Thanksgiving." The program will last about an hour.

The Klomper dancers, who will be accompanied by their director, Mrs. Robert W. Cavanaugh, and others, will stay at the Sarah Lawrence college, a girls' school.

Sending the group to New York is in keeping with the policy of the Chamber of Commerce and Tulip Time committee to project Holland's Centennial publicity on a national basis.

With Saturday to be known as Netherlands day at the UN assembly, the Netherlands Information Bureau in New York got in touch with their midwestern representative in Holland, Willard C. Wichers, who paved the way for the dancers' appearance at the program.

The UN assembly will open officially on Wednesday, but Saturday's program will serve as a kickoff for observances of United Nations week at schools and colleges all over the country, since the Saturday program is arranged in cooperation with the National Education association, as well as the American Association for United Nations.

The program will include several trans-Atlantic features such as a Dutch housewife speaking from New York to a Dutch housewife in the Netherlands, and a Dutch student here speaking to a Dutch boy overseas. Amy Vanderbush will speak to the two adopted children whom she supports through the Foster Parents' association.

Dr. L. G. A. Schlichting, head of the press department in New York, who visited here a few weeks ago, will talk with a Dutch journalist, and Dr. Eelco Van Kieffens, former foreign minister heading the Dutch UN delegation, will speak on "What World Peace Means to the Homes of Holland."

Maj. Gen. James M. Gavin, who commanded airborne landings in the Netherlands, will pay a tribute to Holland's underground, and Mrs. Carol Sprague, mother of an American soldier buried in the Netherlands, will talk with a representative of Margraten War Graves committee in the Netherlands. Ambassador Alexander Landon of Washington will speak for the Netherlands and read a message from Princess Juliana.

The local party of 20 persons will leave Thursday noon by train and expect to arrive in New York Friday morning.

Friends may call at the home Friday from 3 to 5 and from 7 to 9 p.m. The family has requested that flowers be omitted.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 1:30 p.m. in the home on route 5, followed by services at 2 p.m. in the East Saugatuck Christian Reformed church, the Rev. S. Miersma officiating. Burial will be in East Saugatuck cemetery.

School Chest Collections Exceed Quota by $263

The schools and colleges division of the local Community Chest organization today exceeded their quota by $263.64 by raising $1,563.64 in student and faculty contributions.

This "over-the-top" contribution, Chairman Henry S. Maentz pointed out, is because of increased enrollment and larger numbers of teachers than have been included before. Quota for this division had been set at $1,300.

Total collections to date are $15,327.64, leaving a balance of $11,747.36 of the city quota of $27,075.

Mr. Maentz today emphasized the importance of having all workers come through with their individual quotas and finish their work in order to reach the city's goal. All chairmen should con-

Dutch Museum Authorities to Visit Holland

Three eminent museum authorities of the Netherlands were expected to arrive in Holland late this afternoon to visit the Netherlands Museum in connection with a six weeks' tour of museums in the United States under auspices of the Rockefeller foundation, according to M. C. Lindeman, president of the board of governors of the local museum.

Holland is the only small city included in the cross-country tour, and the visit here was arranged by the midwest division of the Netherlands Information Bureau of which Willard C. Wichers is director.

The visitors who will spend three days here are Toon Koot, secretary of Rijksmuseum at Amsterdam; D. Lunsingh Scheurleer, government advocate for provincial museums, and Dr. R. van Luttervelt, conservator of the Historical Department of the Rijksmuseum.

While here, the three specialists will study collections in the local museum and the extension work of the museum through local schools. They also will study historical material being compiled in connection with Holland's Centennial celebration in 1947.

They will visit Hope college and local schools as well as local industries, and also take a color tour through the area. They will be entertained by the museum's board of governors at a luncheon Friday noon.

While here, they also will visit museums in Grand Rapids. Other museums in their itinerary include the Chicago Art Institute, the Detroit Institute of Art, National Art Gallery in Washington, Metropolitan Museum in New York, Nelson Art Gallery in Kansas City, and Young Museum in San Francisco.

The petition was referred to the Public Health committee.

Grand Haven, Oct. 24 (Special)—Dr. C. Dale Barrett, head of the Ottawa County health department, outlined work of the new U. S. nutritional unit expected here Nov. 15, at a meeting of the Board of Supervisors Thursday Oct. 17.

The unit, consisting of a physician, nutritionist, bio-chemist, clerk, laboratory technician and statistician, will do research in vitamins in the county. They plan to check every fifth family.

The unit will be headed by Dr. Elton S. Osborne, Jr. Ottawa county was selected for the work because it is a typical county, having all the problems of other counties. The program will demonstrate how a similar nutritional study can be set up in any county health unit. It will be here two years.

Administrative offices will be in the post office in Grand Haven, but there will be small clinics throughout the county including Holland.

The health department also submitted its 15th annual report, most of which was compiled by Dr. Ralph Ten Have, former head of the department. Receipts for the year totaled $60,546.02 and disbursements, $49,351.33. The balance of $11,194.69 for the most part represents funds set aside for the purchase of dental and x-ray equipment order in 1945 expected to be delivered soon.

The break-down in disbursements includes $33,975 spent for health department functions, of which state and federal sources contributed $8,355. The county spent $25,620 for public health in 1945, amounting to 56 cents per capita in the state was 68 cents last year.

Woman Fined for Hitting Another With Milk Bottle

Mrs. Elfa Jones, 45, route 5, was assessed fine and costs of $28.90 Friday when she pleaded guilty to a disorderly conduct charge before Municipal Judge Raymond L. Smith.

Police said Mrs. Toney was slightly injured in the alleged assault. The empty milk bottle was inside a paper bag, police said.

Other fines in Municipal Court were paid by Seth Kalkman, 21, 240 West 23rd St., stop street, $5, and speeding, $5; Justin Sagers, 30, route 6, speeding $5; Enno Wolthuis, 35, route 4, speeding $5; Donald Winter, 27, of 57 West 21st St. stop street, $5; William M. Infant, Maternal Death Rates Are Decreasing

Of each 1,000 babies born in Ottawa county in the last five years 26.61 died before their first birthday, according to the records of the Michigan Department of Health.

For the same period the state average was 37.64 deaths per 1,000 live births. The progress which has been made in saving infant lives may be seen by comparing this figure with Michigan's 1920 infant rate of 96.84.

Both infant and maternal death rates in Michigan dropped to all-time lows in 1945. These rates are the number of deaths per 1,000 live births.

During the five years from 1941 through 1945 the maternal death rate in Ottawa county was 2.15 compared to the state average of 1.99. In 1920 Michigan's maternal death rate was 9.04.

Health authorities agree that the infant and maternal death rates are an accurate index of the health of the population. They believe that the decrease in deaths of infants and of women in child birth is due to improvement in general health protection as well as to the fact that increasingly more women are going to physicians early in pregnancy and receiving medical care during the entire period. Mothers are also having their babies immunized against whooping cough, diphtheria and smallpox.

Kazoo Tips Hope From Undeclared Column 13 to 0

Dutchmen Outplayed By Hornets in Game Dedication New Field

The law of averages caught up with Michigan's only undefeated football team Saturday and Hope dropped a lopsided decision to Kalamazoo college 13-0 at Angell field in a game that dedicated the field. The upset victory shoved Hope well down in MIAA standings.

Right from the word "go" it looked like K-college was off to a winning way although they didn't score in the first quarter. It also took but a few plays to convince the fans at Kazoo that this couldn't be the Hope team that was scored upon only once and unbeaten thus far in season play.

The game got off to a slow start as neither team looked too impressive before 5,500 homecoming spectators. After a kick and prayer game until the beginning of the second frame, Kazoo turned on the steam and began their touchdown bid.

The Hornets took possession of the ball on their own 19 and bucked and passed their way to five first downs and a long pass by Gene Flowers was received by Bob Walker as he broke past the Hope safety and fell on the 2 yard line. One play later Bob Reed, captain of the "K" eleven, went over to score. Bill Guthrie attempted the placement but failed and the Kazooks led 6-0.

Several punts were exchanged as the half ended.

Hope started off a possible touchdown drive after Art Timmer, Dutch halfback, fumbled the pigskin on his own 31 and a Hornet pounced on it. A host of Hope tacklers rushed in on Gene Flowers as he attempted to pass and threw him back to the Hollanders' 45 where Kazoo was forced to punt. After two pass plays and a line buck by Ernie Post, Dick Higgs kicked to the Kazoo 43.

The Hornets, with renewed spirit, tore threw the Hope line for four first downs all the way to the Hope 14.

Tom Shopoff, substitute halfback, took the ball on the venerable "statue of liberty" play, eluded half a dozen Hope tacklers and plunged over for the second K touchdown. Reed kicked the extra point to make the score 13-0.

Hope made a threat to score early in the fourth quarter as Bob Emery began busting his own holes in the Hornet line and plugged his way to the Kazoo 27 yard line. Bob Van Dia got through the opposing line to the 24 yard line where he fumbled as he was hit. Chuck Stanski fell on the ball and the Dutch threat died.

Hope made another frantic attempt to score shortly afterward when Higgs punted to the Kazoo 40 where the safety fumbled with Don Miller, Hope center, recovering. A pass from Nick Yonker to Jerry Formosa brought the ball to the 25 where Emery again cracked the line and was downed on the 17. Hope failed to make a first down and Kazoo took possession of the ball halting the Hollanders' second scoring drive.

Hope tried pass after pass in the closing minutes but with little success. The locals had possession of the pigskin on their own 30 as the game ended.

The Hornets were surprisingly well-balanced throughout the contest as the line opened up for their lumbering backs to slip through. Don Schriener, Hope end, and Emery led the locals on defense and offense respectively.

The Rev. Harold Colenbrander of Hudsonville, cousin of the bride, performed the double-ring ceremony in the presence of 150 guests before an altar banked with palms, ferns, and baskets of white chrysanthemums and pom-poms. Four seven-branched candelabra and a tall taper in each window completed the decorations. Aisles were marked with streamers and the pews with white flower clusters.

Miss Alma Vander Hill played an organ prelude, Bernard Sharpe sang "God Gave You Me," "I Love You Truly" and "The Lord's Prayer." The traditional wedding marches were played.

The bride approached the altar on the arm of her brother, Willard, who gave her in marriage. Her lovely gown of traditional white slipper satin featured a high round neck-line and net yoke. The drop shoulder effect was accentuated by two sequin trimmed folds of satin. The long fitted sleeves ended in points over the hands and tiny buttons extended below the waistline in back. The full skirt ended in a chapel-length train. Her only jewelry was a pair of gold earrings set with pearls, a gift of the groom. A beaded tiara held her finger-tip veil which was edged in rose point lace. She carried an arm bouquet of American beauty roses tied with matching ribbon.

Cartoonist and Pianist Entertain Century Club

Daniel Ten Cate and Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Ten Cate entertained Century Club members in their home Monday night for the second meeting of the year. Dr. John R. Mulder, president of the organization, introduced Miss Lila Vander Heuvel, who advised the members to contribute to the Community Chest.

The bulk of the entertainment was provided by Miss Lois Fisher, a Chicago cartoonist. Her program, entitled, "Chalk Views of Today's News," consisted of an explanation of the United Nations Organization, illustrated with amusing crayon sketches. Miss Fisher prepared the audience for her discussion of the UN with a few bits of moral advice.

"There is enough scolding in the world now, so I am not going to scold you," said Miss Fisher, "but we are thinking mentally like this," and she drew a globe-headed little man representing the Ptolemaic theory of the universe as she understood it.

She emphasized the need for group control over environment, saying, "Man cannot live alone. When man lives alone he gets thin and unhappy and can't get enough clothes," illustrating this with an appropriate cartoon. As a means of avoiding emotional repression she recommended drawing and suggested drawing happy faces to cheer oneself, quoting William James in support of this theory.

To achieve world harmony and co-operation she proposed reciting each day, as a sort of exercise: "I am responsible not only to myself, to my family, to my community, etc., but to the whole world!"

Miss Fisher, who does a great deal of work with Chicago children, was enthusiastically received.

School Committee Will Recommend Building Program

Citizens Prepare To Ask Election To Provide Funds

A building program covering several years and involving new schools, additions and improvements, will be recommended to the Board of Education as the result of a meeting Thursday night of the Citizens School committee which has been studying the needs of the public school system for several months.

The committee, headed by Dr. Lester J. Kuyper, also voted to recommend a special election to raise the tax limitation up to five mills in order to establish a sinking fund to finance the program.

The building program, as outlined by H. Frans, chairman of the building committee, follows:

1. A new elementary school for the combined Lincoln and Froebel districts.

2. An addition for Junior and Senior high schools, including auditorium and gymnasium, either combined or separate; industrial arts rooms, choral and instrumental rooms; laboratories for biology, chemistry and physics; and remodeling of Senior High for library and cafeteria facilities.

3. Remodeling of Longfellow and Van Raalte schools with additions containing combination auditoriums and gymnasiums, and four additional classrooms.

Preliminary estimates by architects list a total for the entire program of $1,300,000.

Peter Kromann, chairman of the finance committee, gave a concise outline of the financial status, and recommended the special election.

Under the present assessed valuation, $70,000 could be raised on a five-mill basis each year for this purpose in Holland. Kromann emphasized the value of obtaining the money first and then proceeding with the building program, since under the old bonding system covering long periods, costs of construction were often doubled.

An election to raise the tax limitation can be effective for only five years, hence a second election to extend the program into 10 years would be necessary. Under a 10-year plan $700,000 could be raised, which is considerably short of the $1,300,000 estimate. The school system is looking forward to state and federal aid to assist in the program.

The finance study committee consisted of Peter Kromann, chairman; Mrs. W. A. Butler, Clarence Klaasen, Elwood S. Johnson and Bernard De Pree.

About 25 were present. Dr. Kuyper presided and School Trustee C. J. De Koster gave the invocation. Clarence Becker resigned as secretary of the committee and Mrs. Becker was appointed to the position.

He said, "The work has indeed been blessed and we cannot help but recognize the fact that God does indeed never leave nor forsake us."

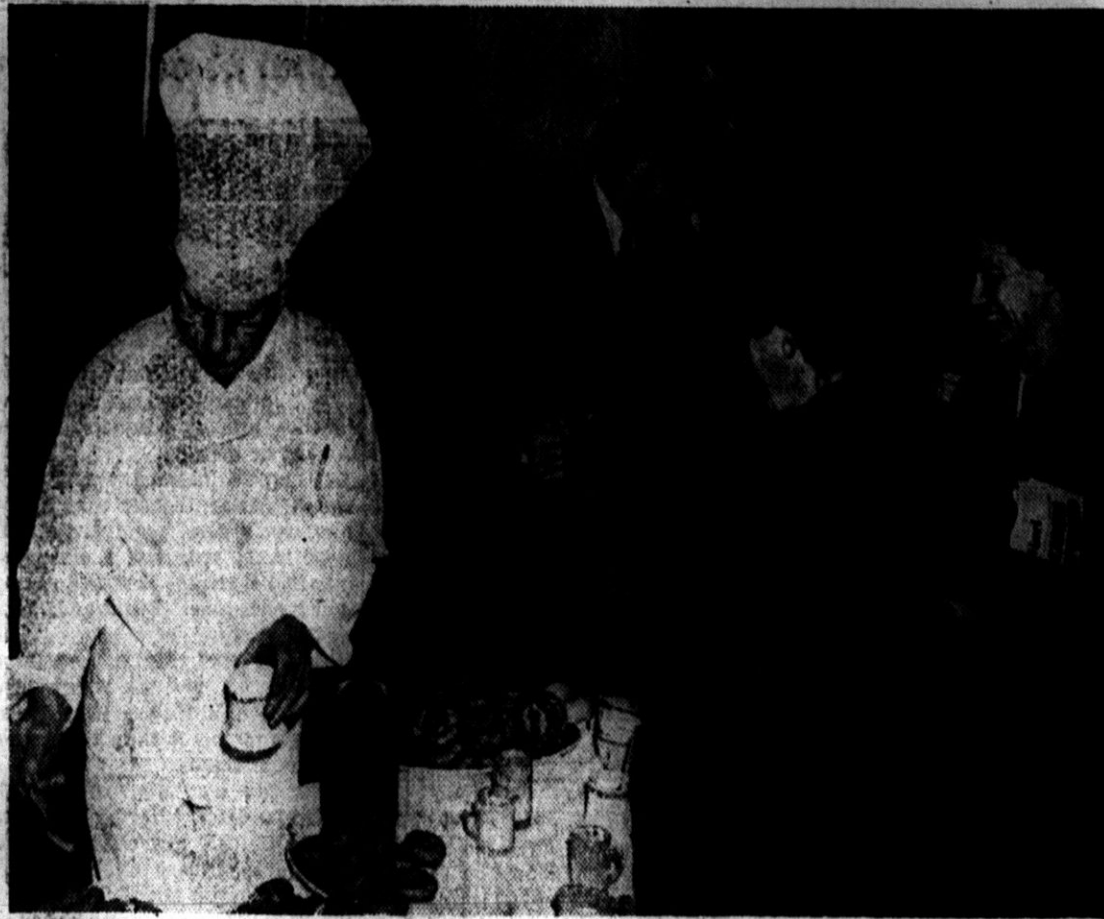

Miss Nellie De Waard of the China Inland Mission, related how the work in China is going forward even though the workers are few. "China presents open doors everywhere, especially among the young students, college and university alike," she said. Chest Campaign Is Launched at 'Koffee Kletz'

Close to 200 volunteer workers gathered in the Tulip room of the Warm Friend Tavern Thursday afternoon to launch Holland's 1946 Community Chest campaign at a kickoff "koffee kletz" which replaced the usual kickoff dinner. Campaign dates are Oct. 21 through 26.

Considerable enthusiasm in the annual campaign was displayed as plans were outlined and supplies distributed.

Dr. Lester J. Kuyper, president of the chest board, presided and introduced Campaign Director Henry S. Maentz who explained procedure of the city canvass.

Maentz said home solicitors were not to make calls if the Red Feather sticker appeared in windows. He said the factory, business and professional canvass already had begun.

Holland's quota this year is 30 per cent less than the 1945 quota, with the elimination of the war chest and foreign relief. The quota calls for $27,075 covering 13 local agencies and two national agencies.

Maentz announced a final report meeting in the form of another "koffee kletz" next Friday at 4 p.m. At that time three new directors will be elected to three-year terms to replace L. C. Dalman, E. S. Johnson and Edgar Landwehr, not eligible for re-election. The nominating committee consists of E. D. Hanson, chairman, C. Neal Steketee and Harry Kramer. The chest board will elect officers in November.

Workers were instructed to turn in reports and contributions at one of four depositories designated by committee leaders. These are First National bank, Peoples State bank, Chamber of Commerce, or chest headquarters on the second floor of the city hall.

Supplies were distributed by a group of Camp Fire girls in uniform. Doughnuts for the kletz were provided by the Doughnut Corporation of America and coffee was provided by the hotel management. Opening prayer was given by the Rev. George Trotter of the City Mission.

About four million children are transported to school by bus.

Volley From Ambush - -

THE AMBUSER helped Kalamazoo dedicate Angell field Saturday. By the way, anyone driving between here and Kalamazoo can have his choice of detours. The state-designated one is the better route, although a little longer, but the other way, turning left a little way out of Hamilton isn't bad at all.

Incidentally, the Ambusher would like to pay high compliment to Hamilton. It certainly looked neat and inviting in the glory of a golden autumn day. Fields, yards and houses next as a new $100 bill.

In the press box at Kalamazoo, the Ambusher sat next to the man who laid out the football field. If any of you want to know what is wrong with it drop around any time. While the rest of the newshawks watched the play with field glasses and hurriedly scratched notes play-by-play, the Ambusher was occupied with missing expansion joints, faulty engineering and poor drainage.

But despite all the defects our friend pointed out, Kalamazoo has a pretty good layout. And it is just the beginning of an athletic plant of which they can be proud.

One thing I did notice, though, from my second row spot: Too many obstructions in the window arrangements. I would spot a player, attempt to follow to see how he performed on a play, only to have him disappear behind a piece of reinforcing steel.

The official timer was a handsome little man in about his 50's. During a break in the game, he solemnly reached into his pocket, brought out a tiny cap like freshmen wear and perched it on his totally bald head. On the front was the inscription, "1908."

There will be a lot of stories about how and why the game was lost, so the Ambusher's version won't complicate things too much. My impression is that the Kazoo quarterback called a smart game. He discovered Hope's line leaked and poured it on, content to take short gains where necessary and longer when he could. The march down the field to touchdown territory was a good piece of football generalship. Hope's tackling wasn't too good. Too many tackles from the waist up.

I've got a good hunting story for you, Bill Winstrom is a man as likes the out-of-doors and he looked forward with eagerness to the opening of the pheasant hunting season. He even bought a dog.

Then Saturday, before the season opened, he came down with the mumps. And since mumps in an adult isn't exactly a laughing matter, he took to his bed.

He was sadly musing on the twist of fate when a cock pheasant strolled into his front yard on the lake. This was too much, so Winstrom leaped from bed, grabbed his bird gun and quickly assumed firing position.

I'd like to be able to tell you he ate pheasant that night, but I can't. Bill missed his shot!

Alfred C. Block of Cleveland, O., has asked the Chamber of Commerce to assist him in getting a pair of wooden shoes. It seems his wife washes her clothes in the basement, as who doesn't, and wants a pair of wooden shoes to keep her feet dry!

One of the Sentinel's roving reporters had to retrace steps through six offices in the city hall to locate an overdue library book. The missing book was finally located in a coffee house. The title, "So Well Remembered."

The action was taken in accordance with state law and should the issue be voted down, could not be voted on again until 1950.

The purpose of the meeting is to receive reports and to elect an executive committee and directors.

Clerk presented a communication from L. C. Van Panhuys of the Hague, Holland suggesting the Council extend an official invitation to a group of Dutch singers to come to Holland, Michigan in 1947 as guests of the City sometime during its Centennial Celebration. Referred to Centennial Celebration Commission.

Reports of Standing Committee Committee on Ways and Means presented a proposal from Elzinga and Volkers in which they agree to erect the proposed entrance to Kollen Park as per plans and specifications on a cost plus basis with the provision, however, that the total amount involved will not exceed $2400. It was the recommendation of the Committee that this proposal be accepted.

Adopted. Committee on Claims and Accounts reported claims in the amount of $9,636.38 and recommended payment thereof.

Adopted. Street Committee reported recommending the purchase of a Vacuum Leaf Loading Machine. The Committee stated that this machine can be made available within about two weeks time and that the cost of such a machine is $2,572.75. The Committee reported that in their estimation this would be a very good investment for the City since it would greatly reduce the expense involved in picking up leaves.

Adopted. The Commission on Public Safety reported that the price of fire hose is about to be increased and since the City will soon be in need of an additional amount of hose, it was recommended that the Fire Chief be authorized to place an order for one thousand feet of this hose immediately.

Adopted. Board of Public Works Committee to whom was referred quite sometime ago the matter of a proposed increase in the salary for the Superintendent and Clerk of the Board of Public Works, reported recommending that this be referred back to their Committee with power to act.

erman Galien raised the question as to the advisability of increasing prices at this time under the present inflated conditions. It was Mr. Galien's contention that these prices should be fixed on a basis of a long range view point and he felt that this was not the proper time to fix rates.

After some discussion, however, a motion by Mr. Harrington prevailed that the increases as recommended by the Park and Cemetery Board be approved.

Reports of Special Committees

Alderman Meengs reported on behalf of the Special Committee that was appointed to consider a proposal to renumber all buildings in the City, that a meeting was held a few evenings ago with interested parties who would mostly be affected by such a change, namely the Board of Public Works Post Office Department and representatives from the adjacent Townships. Mr. Meengs stated that the Committee had not come to a decision in regard to the proposed recommendation and suggested that the matter be tabled until the next regular Council meeting. Others who spoke on this subject were Aldermen Dalman, Te Roller, Mr. Boyce, Supervisor of Laketown Township, the City Attorney and Mr. Joe Geerds, Chairman of the Board of Public Works. After a considerable amount of discussion, the motion of Mr. Meengs that the matter be tabled until the next meeting was adopted.

Board of Public Works reports the collection of $7,465.06. City Treasurer reports the collection of 10,350.85. Accepted and Treasurer ordered charged with the amounts. Clerk presented a communication from the Library Board calling attention to the need of improving the walls and ceiling in the Library.

Referred to the Committee on Public Buildings and property.

Clerk presented a communication from the Board of Public Works reporting that bids were recently opened for the construction of three new wells and recommended that the contract be awarded to the Layne Northern Company who is the lowest bidder who bid according to specifications; their price being $39,270.00. Recommendation of the Board was approved.

In this connection Mr. Joe Geerds stated that this was the first tangible evidence of three years of planning and studying the water problem. Mr. Geerds stated that these three proposed wells will about double the present pumping capacity.

Motion and Resolutions On motion of Alderman Slagh, supported by De Pree, the following election inspectors were appointed for the November 5th election.

Alderman Slagh called attention to the heavy registration and because of the seemingly heavy vote which will come out, the most efficient help on the election board should be secured and suggested it might be necessary to make an adjustment in the wages that have been previously paid to election inspectors. It was the suggestion of Mr. Slagh that this matter be referred to the Ways and Means Committee with power to act.

Adopted. Alderman Slagh also called attention to the fact that a long time ago a Charter Revision Commission was appointed and seemingly there is no progress being made along this line at the present time.

Clerk was requested to ask the Chairman of the Commission for a report on progress that has been made to date.

Alderman Slagh also reported having received complaints from residents on West 22nd street in regard to the inadequate street lighting in this neighborhood and on motion of Alderman Slagh supported by De Pree, the matter was referred to the Public Lighting Committee.

City Attorney Ten Cate called attention to the fact that Ordinance Number 395 which is an Ordinance relative to the Management and Control of the Public Utilities in the City of Holland, had been read three times as required by the Charter but for some reason or other the ordinance had not been passed at the previous meeting as scheduled. The City Attorney stated that it was entirely up to the Council whether or not they wish to pass this ordinance. However, if it was their intention to pass this ordinance proper action should be taken at this meeting so that it would not become invalidated and the work be done all over again. After some discussion and in view of the fact that the ordinance had been considered in detail at the previous meeting, it was moved by Alderman Meengs, supported by Alderman Harrington that the Ordinance Committee report to the Council its recommendation. Ald. Slighter, Chairman of the Ordinance Committee then reported that the ordinance had been considered and recommended that it now pass. This ordinance was adopted by Ayes and Nays as follows:

Ayes: The Roller, Harrington, Bontekoe, Van Tatenhove, Slagh, De Pree, Mooi, Slighter, Prins, Meengs, Dalman, Nays: None.

Adopted. The Roller, Harrington, Bontekoe, Van Tatenhove, Slagh, De Pree, Mooi, Slighter, Prins, Meengs, Dalman, Nays: None.

GOOD FOR GOVERNOR

WARREN

Governor Earl Warren of California has made the announcement that he will answer every speech delivered by Henry A. Wallace in that state during the political campaign. The California governor issued the ultimatum as soon as the speakers' bureau of the national Democratic committee publicized the scheduled appearance of the former secretary of commerce in the state. Wallace was assigned a number of speaking dates to try to defeat the Republican ticket in California. Warren announced himself as the defender of the party.

Neither Governor Warren nor anyone else would deny Wallace or anyone else the right to make speeches for the Democratic party and to defeat the Republicans. No state belongs to any party, and any speaker has a right to make it as hot for the opposition as he may desire. The way to deal with such speakers is to meet them on their own ground, in the good old American way of making challenges stand up and fight. That is all Warren is doing, and that is what ought to be done with all the ultra-radicals such as Wallace and Claude Pepper and all the others who are injecting themselves into local campaigns throughout the nation.

The conservative forces in various states, Michigan included, have been too much inclined to let the radicals scream without screaming back. When radicals like Wallace and Pepper shout loud enough and often enough that they and their kind are the only hope of the nation, people are bound to be impressed after a time. The plain citizen finally gets the impression that there is something to the loud voices, because no one on the other side lets out a peep in rebuttal. Too often the conservatives give the impression that they don't have a case.

As a matter of reality they have, and there is no reason why they should be ashamed or keep still about their political doctrine. The conservative is just as thoughtful, just as patriotic, just as sound in his political thinking as the radical, and there is no reason why he should not say so with all the force of language he can command. The way to meet the screams of the radicals is to scream right back at them.

That is what Governor Warren had in mind, and some others have come to the same conclusion. Force the Wallaces and the Peppers and their kind to bring proof. Answer them in their own way. Don't let them get away with pretending that they are the only true patriots, the only sound economists, the only safe statesmen.

Paul's Widening Field of Service
Acts 13:1-4, 44-49; 14:26-19:20

By Henry Geerlings

When the members of the church at Antioch designated Paul and Barnabas for the work of inaugurating the missionary enterprise, they laid their very best upon the altar of the Lord. They sent away these men not because they had not succeeded, or because they could be the most easily spared, but rather because they had been so conspicuously wise and energetic in the services which they had already rendered. It was sacrifice on their part, and yet they were at the same time glad of an opportunity of showing their love for Christ, and their interest in their fellowmen, even at such a cost to themselves.

This was as it always ought to be. When on the battlefield, a movement requiring the highest strategic skill and attended with unusual danger is to be made, the general selects for its leader the most competent and courageous officer at his disposal, and he who is so chosen reckons that he has received a mark of distinction. The church will never rise to the true ideal of aggressive excellence until she is willing to give up her best men to the prosecution of the work of missions, and until they are willing to regard a call to such work as the highest honor that can be conferred upon them.

These two men were the first foreign missionaries. They left Antioch with no flourish of trumpets, but with the calm earnestness of thoughtful men, who knew that they were hazarding their lives. They were going into foreign cities where they would meet with great opposition.

Important events connected with the journey included the conversion of Sergius Paulus, governor of the important island dominating the eastern shore of the sea. He was a man of intelligence. But how did he come to allow such a man as Bar-Jesus, the sorcerer and false prophet to have any fellowship with him or influence over him. Yet a very slight acquaintance with the state of religious opinion at this time throughout the Roman Empire explains the situation. The great mass of the ignorant population were wedded to idolatry. The consul had cast off the old beliefs, but he had not found anything better to take their place. His soul was in a state of blank bewilderment. When he heard of the preaching of the two missionaries he sent for them. He wanted to hear what they had to say, if by any means he might attain to certainty on religious subjects.

This procedure was bitterly resented by the magician. He saw that his position and occupation would be gone if the new doctrines were accepted by Paulus. Paul denounces him as a child of the devil and denounces him as full of subtlety, perverting the right ways of the Lord and declares that he should be blind. He had scarcely spoken when a mist and a darkness fell upon the deceiver, who went about seeking some one to lead him by the hand. The effect was not merely to break the spell of his influence over Paulus, but also to secure his faith.

A short sail brought the missionaries to Parga, the capital of the district of Pamphylia. As they landed they saw crowning the hill behind the city the temple of Diana, to whose worship the inhabitants were devoted. It does not appear, however, that they made any evangelistic efforts here on their first visit. This may have been due to the fact that there was no Jewish synagogue in the place, or to the eagerness of the apostles to press forward into the inland region behind Mount Taurus; but it was more probably occasioned by the defection of John Mark, who at this point left the missionary band and returned to Jerusalem. Paul had an exceedingly sensitive temperament and would be greatly disturbed by Mark's desertion.

How shall we explain his departure? Perhaps he had not entered on the work in the right spirit, and so, having had a pleasant trip through his mother's native land, he withdrew from the dangers which he feared would beset them to Pamphylia and Pisidia. Perhaps, through his Jewish prejudices, he was not yet in full sympathy with the movement for the conversion of the Gentiles, and their reception into the church. He may have been displeased at the preeminence into which Paul had advanced. Probably he was a little homesick, and longed for a sight of the friends he had left behind. Probably there was a mingling of all these in the motives by which he was actuated and though his conduct may have been natural in a young man, it was cowardly in its character, and painful in its results.

There is a lesson here for all of us. When one puts his hands to the plow he ought not to look back. He who enlists in the army of Christ does so for life. Nothing should move him to desert his colors. Mark was the occasion of a quarrel between Paul and Barnabas. We are glad that the young man later redeemed himself, but, of course, he could never make up for what he might have done on that first journey.

Holland Garden Club Hears Noted Lecturer

Mrs. Dorothy Biddle, noted garden lecturer and garden club editor of a leading magazine, addressed members of the Holland Tulip Garden club at their meeting Monday afternoon in the Tulip room, Warm Friend Tavern. Mrs. Biddle, who has a national reputation for flower and table arrangements, presented in her charming way many unusual creations.

She said tables have changed in style along with the change in the style of clothes. In her search for character and theme that was different she originated the colored cloths that carry the same color theme from cloth to finished setting.

She suggested seating guests at the side of tables leaving the ends free for arrangements. She emphasized that for styling a good workman must have good tools and the flower arrangements must express the individual creative sense.

In commenting on the urgent need for new housing, Klomprens pointed out the complicated American economy, citing as an example the meat shortage which slowed production of plaster, which requires by-products from slaughtering.

He suggested relaxing government controls, increase in worker productivity, reduction of government non-productive workers, and possibly a longer work week as remedies for combatting shortages.

Trappers Looking Ahead to Opening Of State Season

Drought Dries Ponds And May Adversely Affect Trap Harvest

Lansing, Oct. 22—Farmers and farm boys now collecting and cleaning their traps for the three-month trapping season that starts Nov. 1 are again concerned about the weather.

With two years of adverse trapping conditions fresh in their memory, muskrat trappers are wondering what this summer's drought has done to the 1946 "rat" population. Since southern Michigan ponds and potholes began drying up in midsummer, migrating muskrats have been turning up in odd places—killed by cars on country roads and caught by dogs near suburban homes. On Great Lakes marshes, changing water levels have killed cattails and other marsh vegetation on which muskrats feed.

Conservation department records show last year's muskrat take to be less than 500,000 pelts, where the harvest in peak years is more than a million, and worth more than a million dollars.

Mink, which are trapped during the muskrat season and hunted over a longer period, were more plentiful last season than in the year before, and good prices were paid for the 1945 crop of 53,400 pelts.

Raccoon hunters and trappers have the best prospects, as "coon

Muskegon Reds Smash Holland Football Hopes

Dutchmen Unable To Solve Offensive Of Big Red Raiders

The bottom fell out of Holland High school's hopes Friday as the Muskegon Big Reds crushed them 32-0, in a gridiron tilt at Hackley Field. With the exception of the third quarter, the Dutchmen were unable to stop the Muskies. The Reds drove to two touchdowns in the first quarter, one in the second and two more in the final frame.

The Reds came onto the field hotter than a mail order pistol and it took them just two minutes and five plays to make the score 6-0. A Muskegon lad, namely, Lintjer, was responsible for this tally as he raced from the Holland 30-yard line to the 16 and one play later scored.

Another Musky, Barrett, sprinted from the Holland 40 to the 25 and on the next play tore through left tackle on a quick-opening play, broke into the clear to score the second first quarter counter. Carr, who had previously missed one placekick booted another one wide to keep the score at 12-0.

In the second quarter, Barrett and Lintjer combined their efforts to drive from the Muskegon 45 to the Dutch end zone with Lintjer again having the final word as he plumed over from the Holland 2. Carr, Musky quarterback again failed the conversion, score 18-0.

On the last play of the first half, Vanderwier, center for Leo Redmond's Muskies, intercepted a pass on the Holland 42 and broke away for what would have been six more points. The play was called back and the Muskies were penalized 15 yards for clipping.

As the second half opened it was Leo Vander Kuy who everyone was talking about as he set the Reds back for losses time after time. In two plays Vander Kuy set the Muskies back 13 yards. Van Voorst and Slager teamed up with Vander Kuy and held the Muskies scoreless in the third stanza.

A drive that started late in the third frame netted a touchdown on the third play of the last quarter as McCarthy plumed over from the 2 yard line, Carr then converted to make the score 25-0.

After Holland failed to make yardage they punted to the Muskegon 37 and one play later Ward broke away from a small dozen Dutch would-be tacklers for a colorful 60 yard jaunt for the final score. Carr's kick was good and the locals found themselves on the short end of a 32-0 score.

The game ended with Holland's quarterback Hinga and Van Dore trying vainly to get off a few long passes and get the Dutch in the scoring column. The final gun went off with Holland in possession of the pigskin on the Red's 34.

Coach Leo (Tiny) Redmond's gridders gave Holland their second conference loss mainly through fundamental play. The Reds were no bigger than the locals but opened up the right hole at the right times to get down into pay dirt.

The outstanding players were undoubtedly Barret and Lintjer. Vanderwier played a fine defensive game for the Reds.

Big Four for the Dutch were Leverette, Van Voorst, Vander Kuy and Slager. Leverette carried the bulk of the offense while the three linemen starred on defense.

Manting-Van Meeteren Vows Spoken in Church

Palms, ferns, gold and various colored chrysanthemums and pom-poms and four seven-branch candelabra attractively decorated the altar of Fourteenth Street Christian Reformed church Friday for the marriage of Miss Hilda Van Meeteren and Harold Manting.

The single ring service was read at 8:30 p.m. by the Rev. William Van Peursem. Clusters of autumn leaves and berries, tied with streamers, decorated the pews.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Van Meeteren, 47 East 16th St. and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Preston Manting, 17 West 26th St.

Miss Gertrude Beckman, organist, played the traditional wedding marches and accompanied Douwe Lam who sang "Oh Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer" as the couple knelt following the exchange of vows.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was beautiful in a Martha Washington gown of mist white silk marquisette, fashioned with high neckline, fitted bodice and long sleeves. The gown was scalloped from shoulder to shoulder and her full skirt terminated in a floating train. Her three-quarter length veil was held in place by a Duchess cap and orange blossoms and she carried a white Bible topped with gardenias and baby breath streamers. A strand of pearls, gift of the groom, completed her wedding ensemble.

Mrs. Larry Van Meeteren, matron of honor, wore a sky blue satin gown. She carried a bouquet of pink roses and white baby mums and wore pink roses in her hair. Misses Shirley Vander Werf and Barbara Brunelle and Mrs. Robert Vegter were bridesmaids. Miss Vander Werf wore a yellow silk net gown and carried a bouquet of red roses and baby mums. She also wore roses in her hair. Miss Brunelle and Mrs. Vegter wore identical gowns of blue silk net. Both carried bouquets of yellow roses and white mums and wore roses in their hair. Janice Palmbo, flower girl, wore a yellow silk net gown fashioned like the bridesmaids' and carried a basket of pink rose petals.

Donald Poppema assisted the groom. Ushers were George Manting, Larry Van Meeteren and Alvin Van Meeteren. Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Weaver, uncle and aunt of the groom, were master and mistress of ceremonies. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Manting served at the punch bowl and Mrs. Donald Poppema was in charge of gifts.

A reception for 110 guests followed in the church parlors. Tables were decorated with fall flowers and berries and a three-tier wedding cake decorated the bride's table. Serving the guests were the Misses Betty Bareman, Alma Tinscholt, Helene and Kathryn Selles and Ruth Hoffmeyer.

At the reception, John Swieringa played cornet and piano solos and presented vocal solos dedicated to the bride and groom.

Guests were present from Grand Haven, Grand Rapids, Chicago and Traverse City.

Mr. and Mrs. Manting were graduated from Holland High school. Mr. Manting is a discharged Army veteran with four years of service.

The couple left on a wedding trip through the South and will be at home on West 38th St. after Oct. 25. For traveling, Mrs. Manting wore a gray suit with black accessories and a corsage of gardenias.

School Leader Nixes Proposal

Earl Babcock, superintendent of the Grand Haven Public schools and a Rotarian, took the negative side of proposed Amendment 2 to be voted on at the Nov. 5 election, when he addressed members of the Holland Rotary club at their weekly noon luncheon in Warm Friend Tavern Thursday. He was introduced by Rotarian Henry Geerlings.

In his talk, Supt. Babcock used facts and figures to illustrate his position. He covered all the several ways of raising money for the schools and included the re-assessment of counties by the state, the amount of money that would be available this way and also the possibility of increasing the millage by a vote of the people.

He said Grand Haven, which recently voted to raise its millage to five mills, was running in the red now by $17,000 and that Holland also was running in the red $5,000. As an example of rising costs everywhere he cited the increase in the cost of coal from $4.90 per ton to $7.80 per ton. As they used 500 tons at Grand Haven this would amount to some $1,950 and this is only one of the many increases. Sales tax collections and other amounts collected also seem to increase each year. The potential is from 120 millions to 165 millions and the schools need some way to secure more money for operations and maintenance as well as a building fund and money for teachers' salaries, he pointed out.

There are 20 training colleges in the state and a great shortage of teacher exists, the speaker added. The Michigan Education association (MEA) he described as being necessarily a pressure group in order to secure a part of the appropriation of state tax money they asked when appearing before the state.

Tom Malewitz of Holland High school discussed the local Community Chest drive. Guests present were Rotarians Adrian de Boom, Owosso; Armen Kurkjian, Grand Rapids; Joe Ver Plank, Zeeland and Ralph Litscher, Winchester, Ind. C. C. Andreasen presided.

IT ALL ADDS UP TO MORE

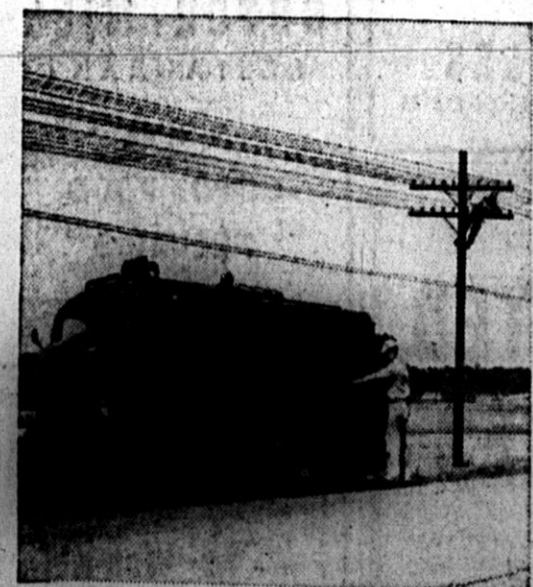

RURAL TELEPHONE SERVICE

1 In Michigan Bell central offices, men are busy installing enough telephone equipment this year to serve 100,000 additional lines, many of them for new customers in rural areas.

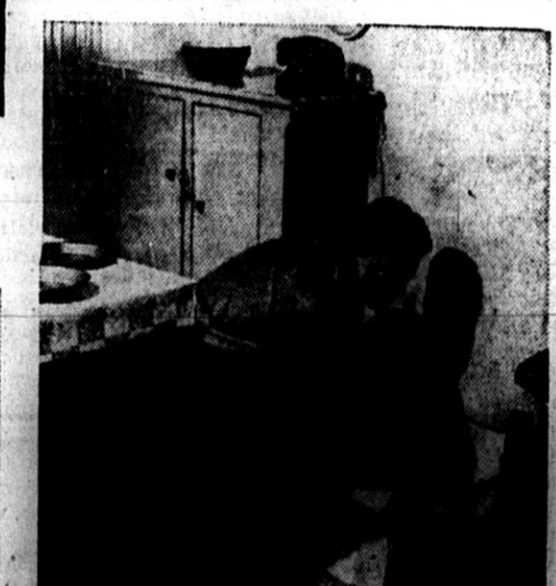

2 More than 6,000 miles of wire have been added in rural sections this year. These wires join with cable leading to the nearest central office and must be spliced carefully in order that your telephone will work properly.

3 After a rural telephone line leaves the cable, it travels on big crossarms bolted to the poles. With the rural lines it's building, Michigan Bell will use about 100,000 crossarms on some 60,000 new poles this year.

4 Bringing wires from the road to the house is one of the last steps in the telephone installation job. It's a commonplace scene throughout Michigan today. Michigan Bell is now installing telephones in the rural areas it serves at a rate of about 2,000 a month.

5 Serving about 98,000 customers in rural areas now—more than twice as many as in 1941—Michigan Bell is making real progress in extending and improving its rural telephone service, particularly in view of the many material shortages which hamper the job.

Registrations Indicate Heavy Vote in November

Expectations of a heavy vote at the Nov. 5 election were expressed today by political leaders as they viewed registration figures in townships and cities.

To date, figures for Ottawa county total 24,195 excepting Holland and Park townships, unreported. This compares favorably with the 1944 November election when 24,884 votes were cast.

New registrations were required for the entire county with the exception of Holland and Grand Haven cities and Holland and Park townships.

Emphasis placed on the necessity for re-registration, however, brought heavy registrations everywhere in the county.

Holland city has on file registration cards for 7,500 qualified voters and Grand Haven city has 4,934 voters registered.

Leaf Compost Is Good Soil Builder

There's an abundance of good soil improving organic material in leaves usually raked and burned each fall. Dr. L. M. Turk, soil science specialist at Michigan State college, advises that leaves be put into a compost pile for use next summer and fall.

Experienced gardeners appreciate the importance of humus in the soil of flower or vegetable gardens. Tree leaves, vegetation from the flower or vegetable garden and lawn clippings can be made into valuable fertilizer by the addition of certain chemicals and water, Turk explains.

The chemicals which are used to hasten the decomposition consist of nitrogen, phosphorus and lime. A 10-6-4 fertilizer may be used to supply the nitrogen and phosphorus. Ground limestone, marl or wood ashes may be used to supply the lime. Do not use hydrated lime.

It's best to keep the pile of leaves and waste plant material with vertical sides by the use of woven wire or picket fence. Every foot or so, apply the chemicals after they have been mixed together. For each 100 pounds of compost use about 8 pounds of 10-6-4 fertilizer and 5 pounds of ground limestone.

The pile needs watering occasionally as moisture tends to hasten the decomposition. A few shovels of good garden soil may be added to each layer of leaves and chemicals as the pile is being built. Forking the compost pile over three times during the following spring and summer will also hasten the rotting process.

When the material has lost its original structure and is decomposed, it is ready for use in flower or vegetable gardens or around shrubbery.

Supervisor Slaughter Grows Huge Potato

Grand Haven, Oct. 24 (Special)—County Agricultural Agent L. R. Arnold has on display a Pontiac potato brought into his office Tuesday by Supervisor Henry Slaughter of Tallmadge township. The potato, grown on the Slaughter farm, weighs one and a half pounds, is six inches long, 4 1/2 inches wide and 3 1/2 inches deep.

Arnold said the potato is well shaped with shallow eyes and of good quality.

Although Ottawa county once raised a large crop of potatoes, planting in recent years has been giving way to other cash crops such as cucumbers, celery, onions, string beans, field beans and sugar beets.

G. P. Carmody of Marne is one of the largest potato growers in the county. This year, he has raised 10 acres of the Pontiac potato.

Clothing Need Desperate In Netherlands-Visschers

Desperate need for clothing of all kinds in the Netherlands was emphasized today by Mr. and Mrs. Rein Visscher, 262 College Ave., who have just returned after spending a month in that country.

Their description of the heroic Dutch in their postwar plight comes at a time when city-wide clothing drives are being planned by the Kiwanis club and the Christian Reformed churches. The two drives are arranged to complement one another and appeal to a wider cross section.

Scarcity of apparel in the Netherlands has made the most stringent rationing necessary, the Visschers said. Each person is allowed 20 ration points for clothing a year, but one can see how desperate is the Dutchman's plight when a suit of clothing takes 60 points. This would mean his entire ration for three years, or would mean robbing other members of the family of their points.

In addition to clothing, all linens and blankets are rationed. A towel takes two or three points and a sheet eight.

Shoes are rationed on another basis, and the Netherlands government is endeavoring to provide supplies so that every citizen will be able to obtain one pair of shoes this year. The local couple said shoe linings in the Netherlands are worse than stocking lines in this country. Eligibility for shoe purchases is determined by serial numbers on the ration card. Meanwhile, many Dutchmen resort to wooden shoes.

The Visschers, who visited relief centers and talked with officials in charge of distribution, said the greatest need in the Netherlands is for shoes and clothing, although such things as thread, buttons and the like are virtually non-existent and greatly appreciated.

Foods of high protein content such as peanut butter, spreads and canned meat, also are scarce and greatly appreciated, the Visschers said.

Mr. and Mrs. Visscher, armed with letters of introduction provided by the local office of the Netherlands Information Bureau, visited several warehouses including a large one sponsored by HARK in Rotterdam where they learned 62 per cent of all relief goods received in the Netherlands comes from the United States. At this large central warehouse, shoes, pajamas and blankets were being distributed to smaller warehouses in other districts. HARK is a Dutch relief organization.

At another center in the Hague, the Visschers were given a personal message to carry home to the American people thanking them for their contributions. One of the officials pointed out that even though local donors do not receive personal thanks they should never doubt Dutch appreciation since many persons receiving the contributions were of a semi-literate class and would be at a loss to know how to express their thanks.

The Visschers were gone from Holland 33 days, 31 of which were spent in the Netherlands since they made the trip by air. Mr. Visscher was born there and came here 41 years ago when he was eight years old. This was his first visit back, but he recognized many landmarks.

Mrs. Visscher was born here but has many relatives in the Netherlands including three aunts, some uncles and several cousins. This was her first visit to the motherland.

They found the Netherlands recovering slowly from the ravages of five years of war, with the government following a fixed plan which includes stabilization of money, re-establishment of world trade, transportation repair and development, replacement of homes and buildings, and a rationing program in which attempts are made to distribute fairly such necessities as food and clothing.

During the war, 80,000 homes were completely destroyed, 240,000 were heavily damaged and 270,000 were damaged to a lesser degree. In the first three months of the liberation, 180,000 homes were made habitable. Of 31 million bicycles before the war, 3 million were confiscated by Germans. Of the 200,000 automobiles before the war, only 20,000 remain in the country, the Visschers learned. Travel by car was especially expensive with gasoline costing 75 cents a gallon.

One day, Mr. Visscher thought he'd like to rent a car but changed his mind when he learned rental of a '38 model American car would cost $40 a day. Taxi fare was almost prohibitive and rail transportation was outmoded and uncomfortable. In all, the Visschers received a new appreciation of America.

The Visschers learned that Americans need not be apologetic in giving any type of clothing for Dutch relief, no matter how badly worn or outmoded. The thrifty Dutch are adept at removing the good parts and using them in other garments.

This is how Eighth St. is expected to look at night when the new 26-ft. boulevard lights are installed. Note this Connorsville street

New Boulevard Lights Slated for Installation Soon

New Lights Designed To Illuminate Streets, Not Store Windows

Holland will soon have new boulevard lights on Eighth St. and River Ave.

Most of the new 26-foot poles have been received here and the Board of Public Works is awaiting the arrival of lights and wire before installing the new system.

The new poles with six-foot arms extending high overhead into the streets will replace the present 12 foot ornamental lights which were installed in August, 1921.

The new boulevard lights are designed to give maximum light on the street and eliminate the glare. In other words, the modern lights will illuminate the street instead of the sidewalks and store windows.

The new lights will resemble those used in Connorsville, Ind., shown in the accompanying photographs along with day and night views of Holland's main street with its present boulevard lights.

New poles are of spun concrete in a pre-cast base which will eliminate bolts used at the base of the present poles. The new poles will be put 3½ feet into the ground and will be much stronger than the present cast iron poles.

The new system will require a complete new wiring job. There will be 74 new poles replacing 109 old poles on Eighth St. from Lincoln to River Aves, and on River Ave from Eighth to 12th Sts. New lights will be 6,000 lumens instead of the present 4,000 lumens for each pole, but there will be little change in the use of power because there will be fewer poles. A lumen is a measure of light intensity.

The new system will replace the first installation of boulevard lights in the city. Additional systems on East Eighth St. from Lincoln to Fairbanks Aves.; on West Eighth St. from River to Washington and on River Ave. from Eighth St. to the bridge were installed several years later.

The Board of Public Works hopes to complete installation this season.

They're Really Scout Minded

In fact, they're so scout-minded they have us going in circles wondering if they're just an unusual family of parents and four sons, or a menagerie of three eagles, a bobcat (who is fast becoming a wolf and that's a rank, son) and two den keepers.

The three older sons Kenneth, Donald and Rodger, all have Eagle badges, the highest earned honor in the scout program. Dog and Rodger received their badges in special ceremonies Oct. 14 in First Reformed church and Ken who received his Eagle less than two years ago received a Silver Palm for his badge in another ceremony.

Nine-year-old Paul is a Cub scout with the Froebel school group. He is now a bobcat, working toward the rank of wolf. His father is a committeeman of the Froebel cub pack and a Den Dad. Mrs. Northuis is a Den Mother.

The family attends Wesleyan Methodist church but the three elder sons are members of troop 6 sponsored by First Reformed church.

Talents of the three older boys are not limited to scout work. They also sing, and with Bill Vander Yacht form a quartet. Their rendition of "Where Have You Been, Billy Boy" with the Northuis trio asking the questions and Vander Yacht giving the answers was a highlight at the central district Court of Honor where Donald and Rodger received their badges.

In addition to whatever Den Mother identification she may have, Mrs. Northuis is able to sport three Eagle mothers' pins, presented to her by her sons in special ceremonies.
