Barns Flattened, Debris Scattered Over a Wide Area

Windows Knocked Out In Fillmore Area; Hailstones Are Big

Holland experienced just about every kind of weather in a 24-hour period Sunday and Monday. A beautiful golden autumn day dawned Sunday...just the kind made to order for a leisurely color tour. The temperature rose to 74.

Then in late afternoon, the skies darkened, the rains descended, hail beat down and Mother Nature displayed some of her most brilliant pyrotechnics in a big electrical storm that had just everything.

An area south of Holland got even more. A real twister hit about 5 p.m. and flattened two barns, tore off branches and scattered debris over a wide area.

Barns were hit on the Willard Brink farm five miles south of Holland near US-31 and on the neighboring Ben Sternberg farm. At both farms, branches were twisted off trees, and at the Sternberg farm a large bough fell on a car, causing considerable damage.

Many windows were broken all over the area, and considerable minor damage elsewhere. There was some damage at the Schreiner farm adjoining the two farms. All three farms are a quarter mile apart.

Hail stones in this section Sunday afternoon were the size of small golf balls. Many branches were down in the Saugatuck and Overisel sections.

The storm loosed quite a bit of fury on the Fillmore area where windows were knocked out at the Fillmore Creamery and a nearby hatchery and pieces of roofs chipped off. One resident said hailstones were the size of "golf balls" and in a couple of instances as big as "baseballs."

Damage is expected to reach the "thousands" at the Drive-In Theater south of Holland on US-31, according to owner Henry Carley of Holland. He said the storm ripped a good 150 feet of fence out and caused other damage.

Sunday's storm caused little or no damage to city power lines, but more than 250 telephones were knocked out. Telephone Manager A.G. Sall said the phone failures were scattered, inside the city and in all directions outside. Many wires were down and there was some cable trouble. It was believed most phones would be back in service by tonight.

The Coast Guard reported high seas but little or no damage from Sunday's storm. Only one boat, the J.B. John, came in Sunday night. Winds whipped up a fairly heavy sea again today, and it was believed the J.B. John would wait for calmer weather before leaving Holland.

Rain continued intermittently Monday with temperatures in the 30's and 40's. At times there appeared to be some snow fixed with the rain.

Rainfall measured 1.11 inches since it started about 4:20 p.m. Sunday.

About 50 cottages and a school buildings were damaged when a severe hail and wind storm lashed Green Lake area south of Grand Rapids late Sunday at a point where Allegan, Kent and Barry counties meet.

Most of the damage was to roofs and windows of the cottages. A school house at Dorr was closed Monday while workmen replaced broken windows. Allegan sheriff's officers said several big trees were uprooted in the storm which was described by a former Navy veteran as more severe than any typhoon he had seen in the South Pacific during World War II. "I thought we were going to have a tornado," said Dr. Roy A. Davis of Grand Rapids, who was at his cottage at Green Lake when the storm hit shortly before 5 p.m.

A small plane piloted by Robert Marek, 32, Saranac, crashed into a field 12 miles north of Ionia when he tried to make a force landing during the storm.

Shooting Hen Pheasants Costs Hunter $87 in Fine

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — Jimbo Robinson, 36, Muskegon Heights, paid $80 fine and $7.80 costs Thursday night on a charge of unlawful possession of two hen pheasants. He was arrested by Conservation Officer Harold Bowditch of Grand Haven and Harold Bonnett of Baldwin Thursday night in Olive township.

Virgil Chittenden, 28, route 2, Spring Lake, arrested by Bowditch Sunday night in Spring Lake township for hunting wild duck after the official closing hour of 5:32 p.m. EST, paid $10 fine and $7.80 costs Thursday night. Both were arraigned in Justice F.J. Workman's court.

Car, Truck Collide

A car driven by Don Berger, 45, Canton, Ohio, received damage estimated at $250 when it and a truck operated by Vernon Overway, 959 College Ave., collided at 16th St. and Columbia Ave. at 11 a.m. today. Damage to the truck was minor.

SUCCESS — Jay Vander Bie of 170 Hope Ave., (above, left) and Peter Schippo of 860 Paw Paw Dr., were two of the many Holland area hunters who reported a successful opening day Thursday. The two bagged their pheasants soon after the season opened at 10 a.m. Bottom photo shows Conservation Officer Harold Bowditch reporting to Mrs. Carl C. Van Raalte of The Sentinel staff, that violations were at a minimum in the heavily-hunted areas of the county. Mrs. Verne Hohl is in the background. (Sentinel photos)

Hunters Take To Fields Again

Hunters by the thousands took to the fields again today for a second day of small game hunting, but there weren't quite so many.

Thursday when opening day beckoned virtually every man who ever heeded the call of the wild.

Saturday is expected to be even heavier than today since few if any local industrial concerns operate.

Perhaps the luckiest hunter Thursday was City Auditor John W. Fonger who bagged his limit of pheasants only 10 minutes after the season opened at 10 a.m. It was a good day for the rest of the "cur-man" party too. By noon all had their limit. Others were Jack De Graaf and his son, Ivan, and Gerrit De Graaf. They hunted on property of relatives a few miles east of Holland.

Fonger said all last year he shot only one pheasant. Elsewhere in Michigan 34 hunters were injured in accidents on opening day. A 13-year-old youth, Fred Tiele, of Britton, was killed in shooting accident less than 200 yards from his farm house. The youth was watching his brother-in-law, Ronald Maschina, 23, and 48-year-old Michael George of Detroit when a pheasant flew up in front of the two hunters and they fired. The blast struck the youth in the back. Authorities ruled his death was accidental.

The only other fatality reported Thursday was Charles Cerny, 42-year-old Kalamazoo hunter who died of a heart attack near Holland.

Holland Group Attends Rites for Serviceman

Several Holland persons went to Grand Rapids today for funeral services for Airman 2-C John B. Hyink, 20, who died Oct. 15 in Germany of injuries received in a vehicle accident. Burial was to be in Pilgrim Home cemetery in Holland.

Surviving are the parents, the Rev. and Mrs. Joseph Hyink, formerly of Holland; a sister, Mrs. David Neitzel of Hinsdale, Ill.; a brother, Wendell J. at home, and the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Chambers of Skerston, Ont., and Mrs. Dena Hyink of Bozeman, Mont.

Services were scheduled in the Church of the Open Door of which the father is pastor. The Rev. John Laning of Lake Harbor near Muskegon was to officiate.

Zeeland Voters Approve Proposal For a New School

$590,000 Structure Will Embrace 40,000 Feet of Floor Space

ZEELAND (Special) — Zeeland school district electors Monday approved two proposals that will result in the construction of a new public school building.

Plans for the $590,000 structure include a junior high and office section, senior high class rooms, a new gymnasium and locker rooms.

The 520 votes cast by taxpayers on the bond issue, authorizing the Board of Education to borrow $590,000 and issue bonds for the building, were split at 385 yes and 134 no, with one blank ballot.

All school district residents were eligible to vote on the second proposal, a 17 year tax increase of eight mills.

Five hundred and thirty-eight votes were cast, 399 yes, 138 no, and one blank. The increase was proposed to pay principal and interest on the bonds.

The new building providing approximately 40,000 square feet of space, will be built on present school property, fronting on Main Ave.

Building plans for the new structure to be within five feet of the present Junior High building, which will eventually be razed.

Youth Instantly Killed in Freak Hunting Accident

ALLEGAN (Special) — Norman Lee Visser, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Visser of route 2, Hudsonville, was killed instantly in a freak hunting accident northwest of Burnips shortly before noon today.

Allegan County Sheriff Walter Runkel, who investigated, said Visser was driving a tractor on the Albert Brenner farm when a shotgun, which he was carrying on the seat of the tractor, slipped off and the butt of the gun became lodged in the spoke of a tractor wheel. The gun discharged and the full charge caught Visser in the stomach. He died instantly.

Visser was working with Hollis Vander Kolk, who is a tenant on the farm. Visser was driving a tractor which was pushing a mechanical corn picker up a hill. Vander Kolk was on the other side of the hill and when he heard the shot, thought the youth had fired at a bird. However, when the tractor stalled, he ran to the other side of the hill and found Visser dead on the seat of the tractor.

The body was taken to Ynema Funeral Home in Zeeland.

The youth is survived by two brothers and a sister in addition to his parents.

Man Arraigned On Realty Count

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — Irving Mintzer, 44, of 6528 North Whipple St., Chicago, pleaded not guilty in Municipal Court Thursday afternoon to two separate charges of soliciting or dealing in real estate without a Michigan license. He furnished $500 bond on each charge for appearance at trial Nov. 16 at 10 a.m.

The alleged offenses occurred Oct. 18 and 19, the first involving Ralph Meyers who lives on M-50 in Allendale township, and the other John F. Cross, route 2, Marne, in Tallmadge township.

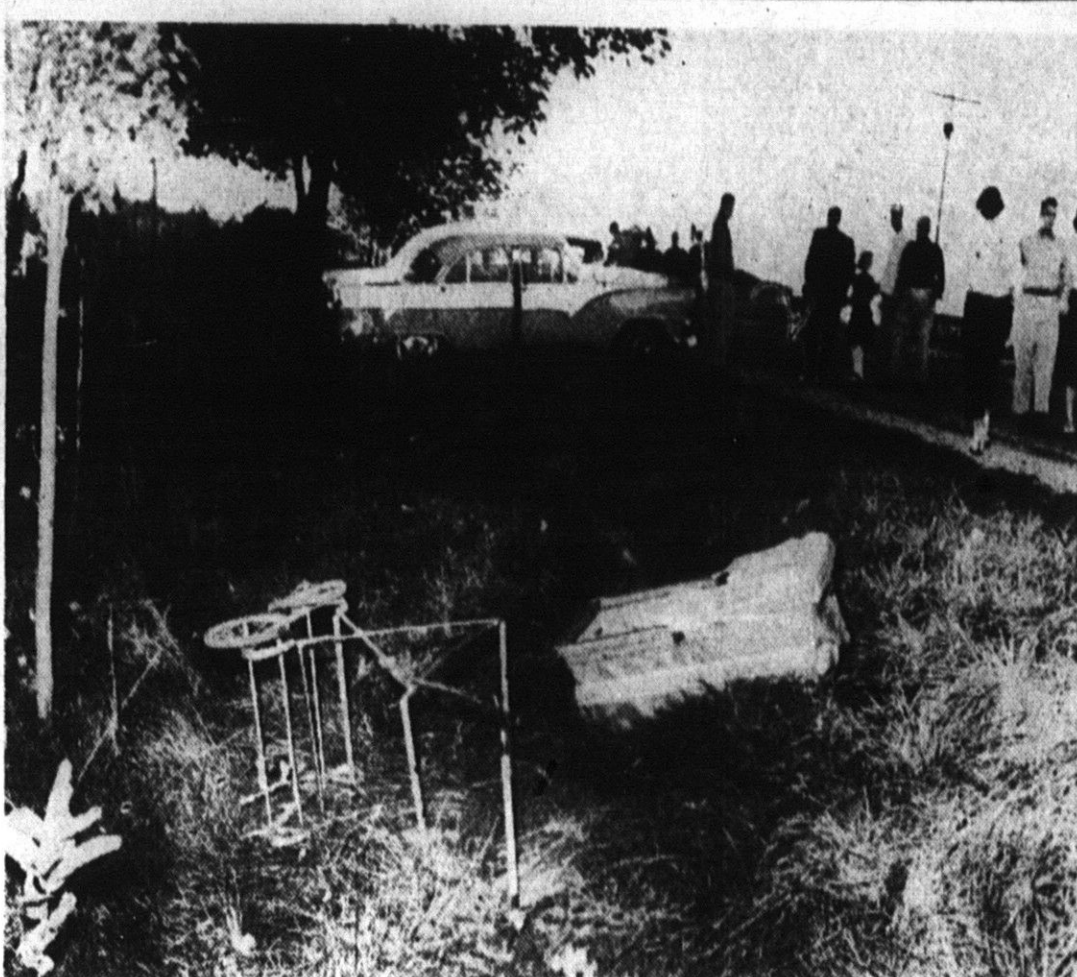

Prosecutor James W. Bussard said these two cases are among many in real estate "rackets" currently operating in some sections of Ottawa county and urged residents to be doubly cautious in dealing with outside firms in placing their properties for sale.

He said the practice usually involves a high pressure salesman who assures a property owner that he has far greater outlets for listing such places for sale than local realtors, and presents certain documentary evidence of such contacts. Some semblance of compliance is made by advertising such properties in Chicago publications, but mostly the operator is interested in the fee the property owner pays him. Fees during the current spell run from $200 to $500. The sales people usually go to greener pastures after a short time, Bussard said.

A year ago there was a similar case in county courts. Bussard said the defendant filed $500 bond but forfeited it by not returning for trial.

Case Dismissed

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — A charge of non-support against Joseph Campeau, 31, route 2, Sheboygan, was dismissed in Municipal Court upon examination Friday afternoon. Complaint against Campeau was made by his former wife, Roslean Richardson, alleging non-support of their eleven-year-old child. Mrs. Richardson now resides at route 2, Holland.

ALERT MOTHER SAVES CHILDREN — An overturned baby carriage lying in a ditch graphically reveals the impact of a car which knocked down a Holland woman, her 2½ year old son and the buggy containing a six-month-old child. The trio was hit by a car shortly before 5:15 p.m. Wednesday on 16th St., near the US-31 bypass. Mrs. LeRoy Brookhouse, 33, of 11055 Adams St., said she saw a car (background) start to skid and jerked the buggy off the shoulder toward the ditch. The car, driven by George Gebben, Jr., 25, of 37 South State St., Zeeland, rammed the rear end of one operated by Ed Folkert, 75, route 5, which in turn struck the family. Mother and baby received only minor bruises. Steven, 2½, was taken to Butterworth Hospital in Grand Rapids, suffering from a broken hip and other undetermined injuries. (Sentinel photo)

Skidding Car Strikes Mother And Baby Buggy

A quick thinking Holland mother saved her six-month-old son from serious injury late Wednesday afternoon as she pulled a baby carriage out of the path of a skidding car.

The car knocked Mrs. LeRoy Brookhouse, 33, of 11055 Adams St., her son, Steven, 2½, and the baby, Kirk, off the shoulder of the road into an open field on 16th St., a quarter of a mile east of US-31. Steven was rushed to Holland Hospital by ambulance and later transferred to Butterworth Hospital in Grand Rapids where he was immediately put into traction for treatment of a broken hip.

Mrs. Brookhouse and Kirk were treated for minor cuts and bruises at Holland Hospital and released. Ottawa County deputies said Mrs. Brookhouse was wheeling the carriage on the south side of 16th St. facing oncoming traffic and Steven was hanging onto the buggy.

A car driven by Ed Folkert, 75, route 5, slowed down as he approached the family. Another east-bound car, driven by George Gebben, Jr., 25, of 37 South State St., rammed the rear end of Folkert's car.

Mrs. Brookhouse said she saw a late model car later identified as Gebben's, start to skid, and knew he wasn't going to stop in time.

She jerked the carriage off the shoulder of the road heading towards the ditch when the Folkert car slammed into the trio throwing them all to the ground.

Mrs. Brookhouse said she and her children usually take a walk over the same route each day, when weather permits, to meet her husband coming from work at the Modern Products Co. on 16th St.

Deputies said no tickets have been issued pending the outcome of Steven's condition.

Bullet Wounds Holland Woman

A Holland woman who was accidentally shot Tuesday while working in her garden, was scheduled to undergo surgery at Holland Hospital later Tuesday for removal of the bullet.

The .22 caliber bullet penetrated the left hip of Miss Harriett Evink, 47, of 146 Clover Ave., and traveled on an upward course inside her body.

It was feared the bullet wound caused internal damage. Ottawa County Deputies and Probate Court officials are questioning a 15-year-old neighborhood boy who admitted firing the bullet.

Deputies said the youth was firing a rifle in his backyard when one or more of the bullets struck Mrs. Evink who was pruning a tree. The bullets were fired at a range of approximately 200 feet.

The youth told deputies he was trying out several rifles and didn't see Mrs. Evink until he heard her scream after a bullet struck her.

Taylor Hingston, in Chicago, who was awarded their custody in a divorce decree June 19, 1952. Both parents have remarried. The stepfather is a career Navy man stationed at Great Lakes.

Hoffman Slams Navy's Mistake

Inquiry into the ill-fated navy jet plane program was described by Rep. Clare Hoffman (R-Mich.) as "Monday morning quarterbacking."

Hoffman criticized the investigation by a Democratic controlled House Government Operations Subcommittee after the Navy made public its "gamble" that caused a multimillion-dollar loss in the building of McDonnell F3H Demon carrier fighter planes.

The House subcommittee has begun investigation and has called for testimony from the officials of the McDonnell Aircraft Corp., of St. Louis, Mo., builder of the F3H airframe and the Westinghouse Electric Corp. The Navy bought 174 Westinghouse jet engines but they were found not powerful enough for the F3H.

Hoffman, a subcommittee member, related the Navy knew it was taking a chance on the early model F3H and lost.

The Navy's error cost the taxpayers 200 million dollars in planes and jet engines and the lives of four pilots, committee investigators reported.

Motorist Strikes Deer Near Local Airport

Murray Mott, 118 West 17th St., struck a young buck deer at about 6:30 p.m. Tuesday as he was driving near Park Township Airport. A young fawn disappeared into the woods following the accident. Mott reported about $25 damage to his car.

Health Officials Recommend Polio Shots for Children

Cites Shortcomings; One to 14-Year-Olds Included on List

The Allegan County Health Department recommends that all parents of children from one to 14 years of age and pregnant women arrange with their family physicians to be protected against poliomyelitis by receiving Salk vaccine doses.

A.B. Mitchell, director of the Department Friday issued the following recommendation, addressed to parents of all Allegan County children in the one through 14 age bracket:

We now have a vaccine against polio which is both effective and safe. It is not 100 per cent effective, but then neither is anything else. With the limited use so far made of polio vaccine, many children have been prevented from contracting polio. With the supplies now available many more children can be protected. The State Health Commissioner has stated that as of Oct. 4, only seven cases of paralytic polio occurred among the 90 per cent of first and second grade children who received polio vaccine in 1955. Among the 10 per cent who did not receive the vaccine 18 paralytic polio cases occurred. This is in line with the results of the 1951 study and further emphasizes the fact that children can be protected against polio.

"Polio vaccine is now available in adequate amounts to protect all children from one through 14 years of age and pregnant women. This group includes more than half of those who might be expected to have polio next year. Immunization of this group may reasonably well be expected to result in a marked reduction in the incidence of polio next summer."

The state legislature last year, appropriated $2,000,000 for the purchase of polio vaccine. This vaccine is now available through the Allegan County Health Department to all physicians in the county.

Divorcee Seeks New Property Settlement

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — Mrs. Alice E. Parkhurst has opened suit in Ottawa Circuit Court against Mrs. Mary M. Parkhurst, both of Spring Lake, in which she is asking to have set aside deeds to property formerly owned by the late Claude E. Parkhurst, former husband of Mrs. Mary M. Parkhurst, who died earlier this month.

Mrs. Parkhurst who was divorced from her husband in 1952 seeks recognition of a property settlement agreement which included the making of a will and establishing of a $3,000 trust fund to carry out the terms of the agreement.

Parkhurst, who remarried, allegedly did not carry out the provisions of the agreement in that he failed to leave a will and disposed of his property before his death. The property in question is located in Spring Lake. The Parkhursts had no children.

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — A divorce was granted in Ottawa Circuit Court this morning to Genevieve Kueken from Earl Kueken, both of Grand Haven. There are no minor children.

Mrs. Jud Hohl, 68 West 14th St., is entertaining members of the Past Matrons Club of Eastern Star at a dessert meeting today.

Pancake Supper Earns $2,000 for Holland Hospital

Auxiliary Members Issue a Big Thanks For All Donations

Holland Hospital Auxiliary members today had only praise and a great big "thank you" for everyone who contributed to the tremendous success of their Pancake Supper Tuesday night at the Civic Center.

The Auxiliary netted $2,000 for Holland Hospital through the aid of Vans Supermarket, which helped sponsor the affair and footed all the expenses connected with it.

Well over 2,000 persons, counting the youngsters-under-four and others who were not "required to pay," were served during the two-hour affair. About 130 Auxiliary members and Horizon Club girls worked in shifts to wait on the huge crowd, some of whom waited in line 45 minutes or more because the pancake production just couldn't keep up with the appetites.

A colorful autumn atmosphere was created by decorations for the event. Pumpkins and fall leaves, with place mats in orange and white set a Halloween party mood.

Mrs. Clarence Klaassen and Mrs. Neal Tiesenga, general chairman, attributed the success of the venture to cooperation of everyone working "behind the scenes" from the ticket sellers to the waitresses. Horizon Club waitresses were members of Mrs. Joseph Fabiano, Mrs. Ed. Brondyke, Mrs. Bryan Athey and Mrs. Lester Schaap's groups.

Adding to the gaiety of the occasion was organ music played throughout the supper by Don Kroeze, a Hope College student.

Auxiliary women assisting the general chairman were Mrs. Andrew Sall and Mrs. E.D. Wade, chairmen of ticket sales; Mrs. J.D. Jencks, in charge of the dining room; Mrs. Vernon Boersma, in charge of waitresses, and Mrs. Henry Maentz and Mrs. Herman P. Harms, decorations chairman.

Pedestrian Runs Into Side of Car

A 76-year-old Holland woman was seriously injured Monday night when she apparently became confused and ran into the side of a car on Pine Ave. near 21st St. just below the Hospital Hill.

Mrs. Louise Tibbe, 76, route 1, was in "fair" condition Tuesday in Holland Hospital with a possible skull fracture, facial cuts and multiple bruises.

Holland police said the driver of the car, John DeWeerd, 70, of 123 West 14th St., told them he saw a woman standing on the sidewalk waiting to cross Pine Ave. as he turned off Michigan Ave. onto Pine.

DeWeerd said he slowed down and just as his car drew abreast of the woman she darted off the curb into the side of his car striking the vehicle between the front fender and door.

Witnesses bore out DeWeerd's statement. Mrs. Tibbe was on her way to the hospital to see her son, Harold.

Two Boys Apprehended In Stolen Automobile

Two boys, 13 and 14, were apprehended by an alert police officer Thursday afternoon driving a car they had appropriated from its parking place near the city light plant.

Investigation revealed the boys had driven the car about 50 miles in Holland area, spending a leisurely afternoon. There were some scratches from driving the car through brush, but otherwise no damage. The car was owned by Melbourne Barnaby, 295 West 20th St.

Officer Don Oosterbaan, sensing the youngsters were too young to be driving, stopped the car in Holland.

The boys were turned over to juvenile authorities. Juvenile agent Avery Baker said it was most fortunate nothing of a more serious nature developed. He said often well meaning parents believe there is nothing wrong in teaching a child to drive before he is eligible for a legal license, yet actually they are contributing to the problem.

Holland Students Named To Regional Association

Two Holland High School students were elected to office at the annual meeting of Region 9 and 13 of the Student Council Association held at Muskegon Heights High School Thursday.

About 50 schools are included in Regions 9 and 13 of the association which is a division of the Michigan Education Association.

Body of Hunter Found Near M-50

GRAND HAVEN (Special)—The sheriff's department Monday reported the discovery of the body of a 46-year-old hunter found about 50 yards into the woods from a road a mile east of Grand River on M-50.

The man was identified as Norman Johnson, 46, living at the YMCA in Grand Rapids.

Officers believe Johnson apparently tripped over a stick and the charge from a double barrel 12-gauge shotgun hit him in the stomach and penetrated the heart and lung. Death was believed to be instantaneous. Johnson had been hunting alone Thursday afternoon.

A party of 10 officers came upon the body about 9 a.m. Sunday. They had been investigating since Johnson's car was found on the road late Thursday.

Discovery of the body pushed Michigan's list of small game hunting season fatalities to eight, while searching parties continued combing an area between Caseville and Port Austin in Huron County for three young hunters believed to have drowned.

Among the latest victims was Thomas Woodwaski, 63-year-old Uica farmer, who was found dead near his farm home by his wife, Josephine, 60, Sunday. He had been missing since Friday but his absence was not immediately reported because his wife was visiting relatives in Detroit. Joseph Lee Davis, 14, of Vermontville, was found dead Saturday on an uncle's farm near his home. State police said the youth apparently was shot in the chest when he tripped over his rifle.

DR. KARL GRUBER, Austrian ambassador to the United States, spoke to some 800 persons assembled at Holland Civic Center Monday night to celebrate the 10th anniversary of the United Nations. Behind Dr. Gruber on the stage is the Rev. George B. Hilson, who served as chairman of the committee on UN Day arrangements. (Sentinel photo)

Austrian Ambassador Calls UN Great Hope

"The United Nations represents a great hope for the world but it is not strong enough at this time to take charge of many of our great problems."

Dr. Karl Gruber, Austrian Ambassador to the United States, and his country's delegate to the UN emphasized this point in a talk to about 800 persons in the Civic Center Monday night.

The group, meeting in observance of the 10th anniversary of the UN, heard Dr. Gruber say it was too early to judge what the UN had achieved in the last 10 years.

"Great things ripen slowly," he said, "and the entire world must keep confidence in the organization. It will have its ups and downs just as an ordinary person does."

While not touching directly on Russia's new "soft policy" in the cold war Dr. Gruber warned that the USSR is still very much a dictatorship.

He said even Russia is sensitive to world opinion although a favorable reaction for the West takes longer because of a lack of communication within the country.

Using his own country as an example, Dr. Gruber said it was through world opinion that the UN favored the re-establishment of Austria as a free country.

Dr. Gruber said that before the world can have peace again each country in Europe must first be restored to its normal frontiers with its own state of affairs and government.

All this must be backed by the determination of people everywhere and a military balance of power, he said.

Paper promises in themselves are no good unless safeguarded in this manner, Dr. Gruber said.

Dr. Gruber was the second lecturer on international relations who has appeared in Holland in tribute to the memory of Dr. Ella A. Hawkins who was head of the Department of History and Political Science at Hope College from 1948 to 1952.

Dr. Marion de Velder, pastor of Hope Church, gave the invocation. He was followed by Mayor Robert Visscher, who welcomed Dr. Gruber to the city.

Hope College President Dr. Irwin J. Lubbers introduced the speaker. Music was furnished by the Holland Senior High Orchestra conducted by Arthur C. Hills.

Contours Helped Boost Corn Yield

Les and Bob VandeBunte of Forest Grove informed Soil Conservation Service technicians this week that their contouring and improved rotation really paid off in increased corn yields this year.

The check plots taken through the field showed an average yield of 110 bushels of shelled corn per acre. VandeBunte said, "The contouring of my corn was especially important this year because of the dry growing season. There was little if any runoff, each rain-drop stayed where it would do the most good."

The several sod waterways running through the sloping field also did their part in preventing the soil and water loss.

Les plowed down a two-year-old alfalfa sod for corn. He used no fertilizer on the corn. He said he would no doubt have had an even higher yield if fertilizer had been applied.

VandeBunte has his farm planned in two rotations. He uses corn followed by clover and two years of alfalfa-brome on the sloping area and corn, oats and one-year of clover on the flat more fertile portion of the farm.

Soil technicians have just completed extending the same series of contour lines to an adjoining 40-acre farm up the hill which VandeBunte farms.

Another part of his plan called for one-half mile of multiflora rose fence to serve as a lane. This was planted in 1952 and will be stock proof in about two more years at which time the wire fence will be removed. The tile drainage in the flat area has also just been completed.

Library Adventures

Arnold Mulder

News comes from Stockholm that Russia has proposed three of its authors for the 1937 Nobel prize. If true, this will be unusual; it is widely understood that the Swedish Academy never accepts nominations for the honor but insists on doing its own screening.

Two of the Russians named in the dispatch, Boris Pasternak and Leonid Leonov, are probably wholly unknown to the western world. A third, significantly named first, Michail Sholochov, has for 15 or 20 years been widely known in English translation. Two of his books are to be found in most libraries that claim to keep up with the best in world literature.

The two novels are: "And Quiet Flows the Don" and "The Don Flows Down to the Sea." Actually they are one novel; most of the characters in the first volume reappear in the second. Together they form one of the truly great novels of the twentieth century, in terms of world literature.

I don't know what other books their author may have written; they appear to be the only ones that have won translation into English; at least I have not come across any others. The Don books are unquestionably of Nobel prize quality, and I have often wondered in the past why their author was not recognized by the Swedish Academy.

The reason could hardly be political. The Swedish Academy is supposed to be about politics, as it should be. If a Russian writer produces novels of outstanding quality, he should of course be considered as well as writers from other countries. Literature, like science, is non-political.

Moreover, the Don Books are in no sense political propaganda. They tell the story of a group of characters caught in the turmoils of the revolution after the first World war who lived in the Don equally symbolic: "The Don Flows Down to the Sea." How revolution swept over them, how they met the crisis, how it destroyed many innocent people and raised others to power — such is the material of the two novels. Through all this human turmoil, with its death and murder and rapine and debauchery, flows the quiet river Don. It is the single stabilizing force in the scene. It does not hurry because men are fighting on its banks; it quietly disregards the blood and the crime and the pain and the shame; it is the symbol of the stability of nature in a world of turmoil.

The title of the second novel is "The Don Flows Down to the Sea." Man cannot arrest nature; even world wars leave no permanent scars on the face of the earth; what is to be, comes to pass. Systems change, civilizations come and go; "the earth endureth forever," to use the idiom of the Bible.

So far as I could make out when I read the Don novels some 10 years ago, they were not what has since come to be known as "Communist." They appeared to be a sincere attempt on the part of a truly great novelist to capture in a truly great novel the spirit of the greatest social upheaval of the twentieth century. Nothing anywhere nearly as great has appeared on this subject in any other literature, so far as I know.

The Don books are what is commonly known as "realistic." That is, they do not hesitate to call spades by their right names. No one should read them who has a weak stomach. But it is a realism that is completely honest. It deserves the respect of those who believe that great fiction is as important as any other form of literary expression.

Visitors Limited To Husbands Only In Maternity Ward

But New Restriction Extends Night Visiting Hours for New Fathers

Effective Monday, visitors to patients in the maternity department at Holland Hospital are limited to husbands in keeping with a recommendation of the State Health department. Only persons with the new "Maternity Visitor's permit" will be allowed in that section of the hospital. Many hospitals have similar rules.

While the new regulation curtails traffic in the department, the husbands will be permitted to stay until 8:30 p.m. instead of 8 p.m. in the maternity wards. Afternoon visiting hours of 2 to 3:30 p.m. are unchanged.

The new rules were adopted by the Hospital Board at its last meeting on recommendation of Dr. Fanny H. Kenyon, associate chief maternal and child health section, State Health Department. Dr. Kenyon in a letter to Hospital Director Fred Burd said:

"Our consultants have called our attention to the fact that until you are able to move into your expanded hospital quarters, your facility is overcrowded. It is when hospitals are overcrowded that frequently infection in the newborn nursery occurs."

"Until you are in your new quarters, we strongly recommend that visitors be cut to a minimum. Another important reason is to conserve the strength of the patient. A constant stream of friends is very tiring when limited to short visiting hours."

Burd said the move has been under consideration for some time because of present crowded conditions with as many as five patients in a room designed for three. He said Holland Hospital has been extremely fortunate in that no serious outbreak of infection has occurred in the past.

If husbands are not available, such as servicemen overseas, the maternity patient may designate another person as visitor.

Maternity patients and members in an expectant mothers class were queried last week on the new regulation, and the reaction was overwhelmingly in favor of the husbands-only restriction. Of 17 new mothers queried, 15 favored the "husbands only" restriction while only two preferred the husband-and-mother combination which also was considered.

THE UNITED DRIVE

The "give once for all" campaign has opened again in Adrian. A goal of $89,783 is sought for 40 local, state and national groups sharing in the fund raising effort. It is the largest United Community Chest goal ever requested here.

Why is the chest budget higher in a period of unprecedented prosperity? The answers are readily available. The Adrian community is growing. More boys and girls are seeking the advantages of such character building agencies as the Boy Scouts, the Camp Fire Girls and the Y.M.C.A. At the same time, the demands on the Salvation Army, the Associated Charities and the Lenawee Red Cross chapter are never ending. The cost of operating these agencies also continues to increase along with the cost of automobiles and the over-all cost of living.

On the state and national level, some of the Adrian funds will go for medical and scientific research, for the treatment of mental disorders where much more should be done to provide proper care. Medical research requires vast amounts of money to fight the disease that still are attacking mankind. Much progress has been made in the last decade. More will be made in the future through the united way.

The united plan for giving proved itself in Michigan in 1949 when Detroit made the plan work and became known as the "city with a heart." Since then more than 700 communities in the nation have adopted the united way of giving. In Adrian it means that 39 separate district fund raising efforts have been eliminated. The 320 volunteers who are giving their services in the drive this year will be called upon just once instead of 40 times. They will do a better job and they approach the task with a more kindly spirit, because it is a "once for all" effort instead of the first of 40 campaigns. Would you like to be asked for funds 40 different times during the year? Or would you prefer to give once for all in the United way?

The united way of giving is not quite "one for all," of course. Five or six big, national fund raising groups insist on conducting separate campaigns. Some of them feel they won't get as much money the united way. Some of them probably are reluctant to have their budgets scrutinized, and possibly curtailed, by united fund raising committees. Some of them are getting more than their just share of the charity, research and disease fighting dollar. But the forces of public opinion gradually are building up against them. In Detroit, for instance, solicitation is permitted inside industrial plants for only one fund raising campaign, the United Torch Drive. Other communities have raised funds for groups outside the drive with an ultimatum of "take it or else."

The public and the civic leaders called upon as volunteers in the fund drives are sold on the practical values of the united plan. The only questions that need to be asked are: "Will we have one drive or 40?" Or "Will we have one drive or seven?" The vote will be overwhelming for the one.

But with the adoption of this philosophy, and with agreement on the united plan, the public shoulders a grave responsibility. The support of the united drive must be in proportion to the manifold services of the many agencies. A dollar or two, such as might be contributed in a single one-purpose fund effort, isn't enough. The individual, and also the business concern, must give just the once for the 40 different organizations sharing in the united campaign.

A contribution of a dollar or two will be the death verdict for the united way of giving. If we're to have the one campaign then all of the agencies must be supported in the one effort, not just one or two of them. Unless Adrian wants to battle through another epidemic of fund campaigns, this is the year to truly give once for all — and mean it.

Jesus Proclaims His Mission
Luke 4:16-24, 28-30
By Henry Geerlings

We face Jesus as a preacher in this lesson. He had a great and appealing theme. It was the same as that with which John the forerunner, appealed to the multitudes. But Jesus had the advantage of John in that He was the very embodiment and King of the kingdom. The kingdom had its beginning and its consummation in Jesus. It therefore was very close at hand.

Truth and power are always greater and more effective when they are clothed with flesh and blood. To speak after the manner of a preacher we would say that we are not told how Jesus developed His theme, but we can easily imagine that He unfolded many of its meanings and challenged His hearers to apply them to their lives.

Repent is a big and important word in Christianity. It suggests a first necessary step as we turn to face the kingdom of heaven. It has to do with a marked internal change amounting almost to an inner revolution. At least it amounts to a revolution in thought.

When one repents one really changes his mind as to that concerning which he repents. He has been giving the consent of his mind to a certain way of life and he has been holding to certain standards and now he is called to change his mind with respect to this program of life. It may have been unworthy of him. It may have been destructive of the best that life holds for him, and now he is called upon to change his mind about the way of life and face about toward a better and more worthy and a more challenging way.

Jesus saw how pitifully narrow and contracted His hearers' thinking and their living were. He saw that they were missing life's highest aims and the possibilities of life's noblest achievements. He saw how low their standards of goodness and of values were. He now challenges them with the biggest thing they have ever heard about, with a program that will demand the very best that is in them, with an adventure that will require all the daring and all the romance and all the consecration of which their souls are capable.

He was not scolding them and telling them that they were very bad and that they were very small and inconsequential and therefore insisting upon repentance and leaving them with that. That would be the equivalent of saying, quit what you are doing, but not challenging them to do something better.

Jesus did not make that mistake. He called them to repentance that they might leave the lower and poorer and meaner ways of life to face the greatest challenge with which a soul can be confronted. He opened to them a path that leads through the storm of life to the very glory and perfection of eternity. He challenged His hearers with a state of being to reach which would require God and man working together on an endless program. He challenged His hearers with the task of helping through their changed minds and consecrated lives and devoted energies to bring heaven down upon the earth. So His message was at once an appeal and a challenge.

But now this preacher wanted helpers to aid Him in the building of this kingdom upon the earth. He did not propose to aid Him in the building of this kingdom upon the earth. He did not propose to be the only preacher of the kingdom. He wanted men whom He could train and commission for the purpose of challenging their fellows with the kingdom. He wanted the world to know how great and wonderful and blessed and essential this kingdom is. He wanted men to know that the kingdom of heaven's being at hand meant that a new order for the ages was at hand.

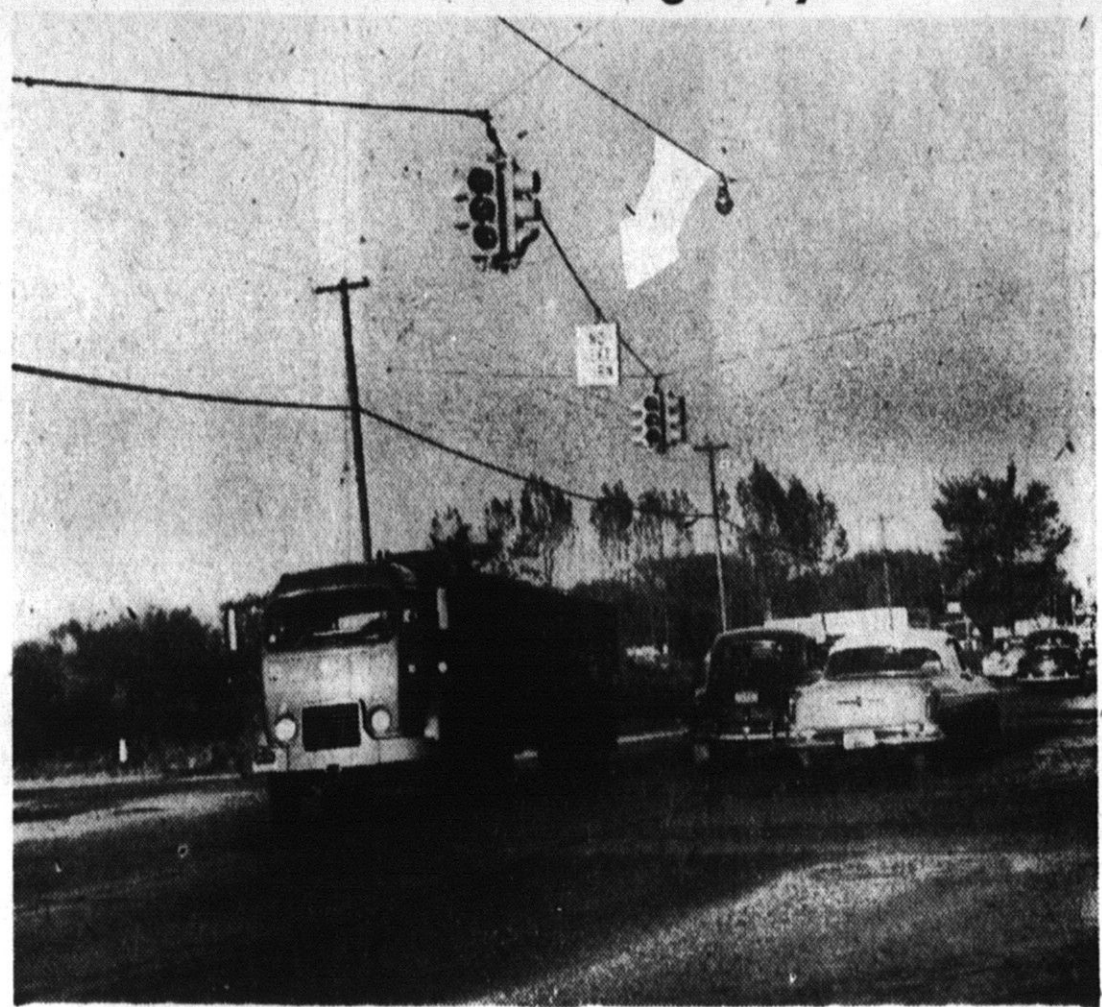

The coming of Jesus did mark the beginning of a new era for the world and as the kingdom of heaven comes more and more upon the earth there will be more like heaven. He was proposing a staggering program for men. He was forecasting a coming order of things that swept far beyond the vision of men and still sweeps far beyond the vision of the most spiritually minded men of the present. The kingdom of heaven! Who can begin to climb to its heights and who can plumb its depths and who can measure its power and who can reckon its possibilities?

What insignificant beginnings for a world empire! What seeming feebleness for a new era in the history of the world! What a strange way to start out bringing heaven down to the earth—a process for which Jesus taught us to pray in what we call His power. No thrones, no implications of warfare, no money, no social influence, no blazing nobility. But an acorn seems so little and so insignificant but God knew that it held in potentiality a great oak when He made the acorn, and so Jesus knew that He held the conquest of the world in His hand when He said to the fishermen to follow Him.

Doctors Remove Bullet

Holland Hospital authorities said today Miss Harriet Evink, 47, of 146 Clover Ave. was in "good" condition after undergoing surgery for the removal of a .22 caliber bullet from her left hip late Monday. She was accidentally shot Monday morning while working in her garden.

Motorists Take Heed! Highways Rerouted

THE 'NO LEFT TURN' sign that state highway men put up Monday at the junction of US-31 and M-21 just east of Holland threw many motorists for a loop. The change in traffic patterns now calls for all northbound business route US-31 traffic to head east on Eighth St. to the by-pass and turn left there. The sign is illuminated at night.

THERE ARE A LOT OF SIGNS just east of the city limits these days. This photo facing east on Eighth St. shows the series of signs directing motorists on the proper routes. Traffic headed for Zeeland and Grand Rapids continues on M-21 but motorists headed from Holland to Grand Haven and Muskegon go east on Eighth St. and turn left at the bypass.

THIS PICTURE TAKEN on Eighth St. facing east near the bypass shows signs pointing to the bypass which now is "regular" US-31 and also marking the termination of business route US-31. The second sign designates a left turn for Muskegon bound traffic. Use of East Eighth St. as a state route is expected to relieve congestion at the junction of US-31 and M-21. (Sentinel photos)

Report From Washington Given by U.S. Sen. Potter

Reviewing three years of accomplishment in the nation during the present administration, U.S. Senator Charles E. Potter of Michigan told the Woman's Literary Club Tuesday afternoon that the United States today is on the verge of the greatest era this country has ever known.

"When times are good, we fail to appreciate what has happened in three years, but the two greatest things that happened were the end of the Korean War and a new prosperity based on peace," he said.

"Many persons geared to a wartime prosperity were fearful of peace because they felt peace would bring an economic depression. We often forget that wartime prosperity is synthetic, that it is based on the diversion of manpower and materials to war production."

To bring his point nearer home, Sen. Potter said the average laborer in Flint was earning about $4,000 in 1952, and today he averages $5,100. This means in three years his pay increased $1,100 but the cost of living went up less than $100.

"It isn't only the Korean war or its termination that set the pace for today's prosperity, but sound reasoning on the part of government leaders," the senator said. He pointed to trouble spots in Iran, Trieste and other places, and the solutions.

He said government expenses

As for the President's illness, he said a great deal of credit should go to the Vice President who stepped in and assumed many responsibilities without taking authority. He said Congress very soon may effect some changes in laws to relieve many routine burdens from the President. The attorney general could easily sign commissions for U.S. marshals and the postmaster general could easily sign commissions for new postmasters, he said. He added no U.S. President had ever resigned because of ill health.

Mrs. A. C. Yost, chairman of the public affairs group, presided at the meeting which preceded the regular club meeting. Sen. Potter had been scheduled to speak at club meeting two weeks ago, but was subpoenaed to appear as witness at a federal case in Boston.

At the regular meeting of the club, Thomas J. Corgan, biologist, lecturer and photographer, presented a unique film, "Our Changing World" which told the story of the development of the earth since the beginning of time.

The film, largely geological, showed that when something was needed in nature, nature always seemed to be able to produce it. According to Corgan, the first single celled life was found in the ocean. Then came the lichens with algae and fungus along shore, producing the first land plant. The lichens penetrated the rocks, starting a disintegration process which together with wind and water produced ferns and plant life growing 100 feet or more. Terrific pressure made this into coal, and Corgan said the first upheaval was

Holland Racks Up Third Straight In 32-14 Triumph

ST. JOSEPH (Special)—An alert Holland High School football team scored once in the first quarter and twice in both the second and third quarters here Friday night to pound out a 32-14 victory over St. Joseph before 2,500 in Dickinson Stadium.

It was Holland's third straight win this season, against two losses and one tie.

Co-captain Ron Van Dyke scored twice, and Ron Bronson, Rog Ramsey and Tom Klomparsen each scored once.

The touchdown parade looked like this:

1. Ramsey, Dutch defensive halfback, picked off a St. Joseph pass with 5:15 left in the first quarter and ran 65 yards behind good Dutch blocking for the score. Van Dyke missed the extra point. Ramsey had taken Les Knuth's pass on the Holland 35.

2. The second quarter was only 42 seconds old and the Dutch had their second touchdown. Big Ron Bronson recovered a fumbled punt return by halfback Allen Ross on the Bears 20, to set up the score.

He was rewarded on the next play. Van Dyke hit Bronson, who was alone in the end zone, with a wobbly cross-field pass. Bronson caught the ball in the breadbasket. Van Dyke converted.

3. With 31 seconds left in the third TD climaxed a 69-yard Holland drive, longest of the game. Tom Aye kicked point No. 20.

4. Quarterback Tom Stoel threw a seven-yard screen pass to Van Dyke with 5:45 remaining in the third period for the fourth touchdown. The play resembled the pass used for the Holland touchdown against Grand Haven. Aye's point attempt was no good.

5. Van Dyke made the final touchdown on an 81-yard kickoff return. The senior halfback grabbed the ball on his 19 near the sidelines and played tag with the chalk as he sped downfield. He lost the defenders at midfield and continued the rest of the way unopposed. Aye's kick was no good.

St. Joseph scored late in both the third and fourth periods.

George Walters, a 180-pound sophomore fullback, brushed through center for five yards and the first score with 1:02 of the third quarter remaining. Tackle Gil Migala had set the play up by recovering a Klomparsen fumble on the Holland 25. It took the Bears four plays and five yard passes to score.

Jason Harness, St. Joe's all-state candidate, tallied the last touchdown on a 10-yard end-around with 1:26 left in the game. The score came after a 79-yard drive, aided by another 25-yard end around by Harness and Bruce Berndt's three runs totaling 35 yards.

Holland inserted the third stringers late in the third period and the group picked up more "under-fire" experience in the final quarter.

The Bears, besides scoring twice, managed to grind out 86 yards in the fourth period to bring their first half, Holland scored its third touchdown. Fullback Tom Klomparsen caught an 18-yard cross-field pass from Dick Den Uyl. Klomparsen caught the ball in the end zone and dropped it but the touchdown was ruled legal.

The Dutch gained only nine yards in the first period.

However, Holland got rolling for 59 yards and 63 yards in the next two quarters and 28 in the final minutes for a 159 yard total. St. Joe had 39, 17 and one in the first three quarters.

The Dutch threw four passes and completed all of them for a total of 64 yards and three touchdowns. Holland battles Grand Rapids South at South Field next Friday night.

The field is patterned after Western Michigan College's Waldo Stadium—Four Holland linemen, Bob Bernecker, Al Hill, Leroy Fogarty and Co-captain Bill Buis, formed the Dutch backfield on one play. Fogarty carried for no gain. Holland has scored 57 points in the last two games.

Fogarty, a little under the weather, threw a key block for Van Dyke's touchdown pass catch. Holland waited a quarter to get a first down and then got two in one minute in the second period, one by Stoel and the other a 20 yard end run by Den Uyl. Seconds before, following a penalty, Den Uyl had sneaked for 24 yards but fell one yard short of a first down. The Dutch were penalized 120 yards in the game.

The St. Joseph band, under the direction of John Howard, entertained at halftime with a salute to TV entertainer, Liberace. Holland's Ramsey plucked off another pass a few plays prior to his TD interception but a penalty nullified it. The Harness lads are brothers.

Allegan, Ottawa Draft Quotas for December 17

Allegan and Ottawa counties each must furnish 17 men for the December draft, according to state selective service headquarters.

They will be part of the 1,015 state quota and half will be assigned to the Navy and the remainder to the Army. The entire December quota will be filled during the first nine days of the month so there will be no encroachment on the holiday season.

Because of the increased size of the call and the approaching holidays, it was expected that local boards will have to deliver more non-volunteers than at any previous time this year.

Zeeland Squeaks Past Sparta; Tied For League Lead

SPARTA (Special) — Ron Komejan's extra point midway in the first period got bigger and bigger as the game progressed and finally proved to be the margin that gave Zeeland a 7-6 win over Sparta and a tie for first place in the Ken-New-Wa league conference here Friday night.

Art Klamt smashed off tackle for 87 yards midway in the first period for Zeeland's only touchdown. The Spartans scored in the second quarter on a 68 yard sustained drive, helped by a 15-yard penalty. Ron Rolston went over from the one yard line.

His all-important conversion, also a run, fell six inches short of the goal line.

Zeeland dominated play throughout the first half and threatened near the end of the second quarter. The Chix advanced to the Sparta six but lost the ball on downs.

Sparta controlled play in the second half and continued to threaten with passes. The Spartans had the ball most of the last half. Intended receivers were clear but the ball fell short.

Chet Leetsma and Ron Beyer were standouts on defense for Zeeland and Ron Bekins, playing with an injured shoulder, stood out offensively. Rolston was the Sparta spark.

The Chix are tied with Coopersville for the league lead with a 2-1 record.

Drivers Escape Injury in Crash

Four vehicles were involved in a spectacular accident early Wednesday on M-21 just west of Zeeland. The crash was notable in that two vehicles were demolished but no occupants were injured.

The chain of events started when a school bus from Zeeland headed west slowed down and signaled properly to pull off the road to pick up some students. Two cars behind the bus also slowed down, but a milk truck at the end of the line "clipped" the right rear of the car ahead causing it to go over the centerline and crash into an oncoming panel truck.

The impact caused the panel truck to turn over on its side on the highway just east of 104th Ave., and sent the car skidding in a semi-circle into the yard of a home on the southeast corner of the intersection, crashing into a picturesque fence.

Roger Smeenge, 17, route 6, was the driver of the milk truck which was only slightly damaged. However, cans of milk spilled over and the young truck driver received something of a milk bath.

Charles Middlestead, 69, Chicago, was the driver of the car which the milk truck clipped. His '49 model which ended up in a yard nearby was a total loss.

Melvin E. Lauderdale, 26, Groesbeck, Tex., was the driver of the oncoming panel truck. His vehicle which turned over on its side also was considered a total loss.

Johanna Vander Kolk, route 2, Zeeland, was the driver of the car immediately behind the school bus. Her vehicle was damaged to the extent of $50.

Sheriff's officers responded and routed westbound traffic conveniently around the James St. triangle.

Zeeland Eyes Unbeaten Season, Conference Title

That dampened crying towel at Zeeland High School disappeared in the hamper early this year.

At least, the Chix and head coach Jarold Groters shouldn't have much to cry about.

Groters reported before the season started that the "Chix are in for it" this year with only three regulars returning.

But five games later, Zeeland is still undefeated and now tied for the Ken-New-Wa league lead.

Zeeland has a good chance to cop the crown, or at least tie for it.

Right now the Chix and Coopersville are tied for the league lead with 2-0-1 records.

The teams battled to a 0-0 tie. Overall, Zeeland holds decisions over Grandville and Otsego.

Fremont and Comstock Park are right behind with 2-1 records and both have a chance to grab a title share. Zeeland meets the respective teams the next two Friday nights.

Co-leader Coopersville has not been scored on in conference play while racking up 51 points. The Broncos tied Zeeland and still must face Comstock Park and Fremont. Sparta and Hudsonville have been eliminated.

"The ability on our 1953 and 54 teams was better," Groters said, "but the determination and spirit of these boys show on the practice field and in games has made the difference so far."

In winning four games, the Chix have scored 70 points and had 30 scored on them. A total of 45 points were made in league play.

Zeeland has rushed 682 yards and passed 286 yards more as compared with 286 and 166 through the air for the opponents, according to team statistician Jim Kaat.

Art Klamt, the Ken-New-Wa league's top scorer, leads the Chix offense. Zeeland's bread-and-butter player, Klamt has scored 48 points on 59 tries for 551 yards or a 9.3 average per carry.

He made an 87-yard gallop against Sparta and a 60-yard run against Hudsonville. Klamt caught two TD passes in the Hudsonville game for 60 and 75 yards.

Ron Bekins, carrying a painful shoulder bruise, is next in the offensive department with 167 yards in 39 carries for a 4.3 yard average. Zeeland has completed 14 out of Speaker for the evening was L. F. Kinsman, credit manager of William Iselin and Co., Inc., of Grand Rapids. Associated with the factoring business for 15 years, he used "Factoring" as his subject.

He explained that a factoring company differs from a finance company in that it purchases a company's accounts receivables for cash and assumes the total risk of collecting those accounts. For the businessman - client it means he has the advantage of avoiding credit losses, is relieved of many bookkeeping details, reduces his overhead expense, can operate on a cash basis and has working capital without liability.

Minnie Haan presided at the business meeting. A study group on the analysis of financial statements is tentatively planned for November. Chapter yearbooks were distributed by yearbook chairman, Esther Bareman. A guest at the meeting was Miss Delia De Pree of Zeeland.

County Board Winds up Session At Morning Meet

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — At the closing meeting of the October session of the Board of Supervisors Friday, the board authorized the buildings and grounds committee to make a study of the needs for expanding county facilities, to employ necessary consulting service and report back at the January session.

This specific move is in connection with plans to provide facilities in Holland for existing offices here such as the health department, welfare department and Bureau of Social Aid. The board appropriated $75,000 to a new building and site fund in its 1956 budget, but it was generally understood that Holland facilities would use only part of the total.

Avery Baker of Holland was appointed traffic safety director for a two-year term starting Jan. 1. Supervisor William L. Kennedy of Allendale, chairman of the committee, explained that the work would mainly be in the evening, and an appropriation in the 1956 budget would compensate Baker on a per meeting basis, plus mileage and outside clerical work.

The board voted 10 to 7 to have supervisors come under the Social Security act with other employees of the county. Several did not vote.

Appointments were okayed for Richard Machiele, county agriculture agent; Mrs. Grace Vander Kolk, home demonstration agent, and Willis Boss, 4-H club agent for 1956.

Supervisor Larry Wade of Holland recommended a restudy of the classification plan at a cost of $950. The plan has been in force for two years without adjustment.

Prosecutor James W. Bussard ruled that the question of transferring all property on which the road commission has buildings was not a legal question, but rather a practical one and he felt it should remain entirely in the hands of the supervisors. The matter was referred to the ways and means committee to report back at the January session.

A report from Henrik Stafseth, county engineer, stated that there would be little gain in acquiring property south of Tunnel Park for $20,000.

The board adjourned subject to call of the chair. A meeting possibly may be held in December for reclassification of county employees to be made Nov. 1.

The Newcomers Club will entertain members and guests at a square dance Saturday night from 9 to midnight at the North Shore Community center. Claude Ketchum will provide music and call the dances. Hosts for the evening will be chairmen Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Raith, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Carl Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Branders, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stewart and Mr. and Mrs. Casey Nebbelink.

'Be Prepared' Should Be Their Motto Too

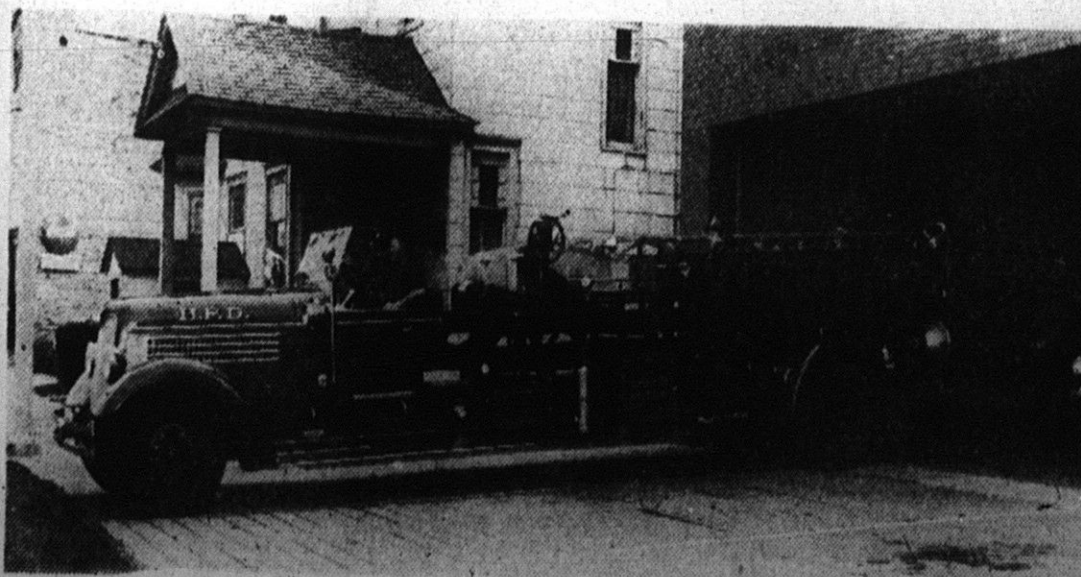

ALL THROUGH THE NIGHT, OUR FIREMEN ARE READY

THE AERIAL LADDER — ONE OF THREE TRUCKS AT STATION NO. 2

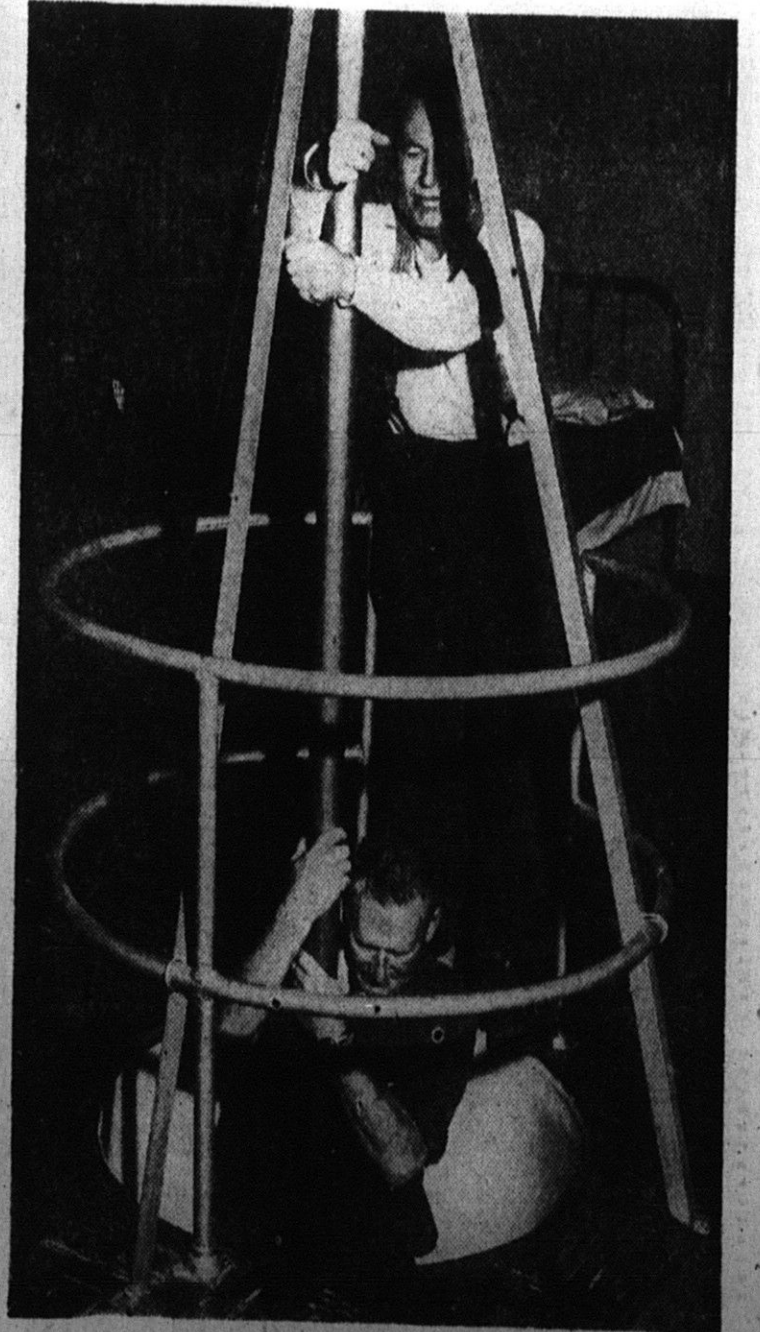

When the alarm bell rings at midnight, a Holland fireman can be out of his cot, into his "bunker pants" and night boots, down the pole and on the way to a fire in 20 seconds.

This kind of service makes a householder feel mighty safe.

Our fire stations are always ready. Six men sleep there every night, and three are on duty during the day. In case of a daytime alarm, other fire fighters are notified at their jobs, and often arrive before the fire trucks.

Pictures on this page were taken at Fire Station No. 2, on East Eighth St. Equipment there includes two pumpers, each capable of pumping 1,000 gallons of water a minute, and an aerial ladder truck. The ladder truck is also a light plant, carrying equipment for generating power to operate huge spotlights, sometimes needed at the scene of a fire. Other standard equipment here is gas masks, often necessary in smoky buildings.

Modern fire fighting methods and equipment, and well-trained firemen play an important part in the protection of Holland residents.
