LOCAL GIRL GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER

MURDER TRIAL CONTINUES — The trial of Mrs. Helen Thomas went into its second and probably final day this morning at 9 a.m. The 17-year-old former Holland housewife faces a first degree murder charge in Ottawa Circuit Court as the result of the shotgun slaying of her 24-year-old husband, Emmerson, on Aug. 13 in their Jenison Park home. Mrs. Thomas (upper left) takes an oath from William Wilds before testifying late Wednesday afternoon. Her sister, 11-year-old Beulah (lower left) stands with Prosecutor James Bussard before taking the stand. At upper right Mrs. Thomas casts a questioning look at her attorney Randall Dekker during the initial questioning. Deputy Peter Meeuwse (lower right) swears to tell the truth before he describes the scene the night of Aug. 13 when he arrived at the Thomas home. The center photograph shows Mrs. Thomas and Dekker (back to camera) sitting exhausted after being on the stand for more than one hour. These are the first pictures ever taken during the course of a trial in Circuit Court. An Auto-Rolleiflex was used. All pictures were taken in natural light at f 3.5 at 1/25 second.

Decision Reached After Short While In Circuit Court

After deliberating 95 minutes, a Circuit Court jury of six men and six women found Mrs. Helen Thomas, 17, guilty of manslaughter in the shotgun slaying last Aug. 13 of her husband, Emmerson, 24. The jury returned for deliberations at 2 p.m. after being excused for lunch at 12:15 p.m. The young Mrs. Thomas will return for sentence Nov. 9 at 10 a.m.

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — The murder trial of 17-year-old Helen Thomas charged in the shotgun slaying of her 24-year-old husband, Emmerson, last Aug. 13, went to the jury at 11:40 a.m. today after attorneys' arguments took less than an hour.

Testimony and proofs were completed at 9:30 a.m. and the court recessed until 10:05 a.m. when Prosecutor James W. Bussard and Defense Attorney Randall Dekker presented their arguments.

Dekker, who spoke first, told the jury, "The sole responsibility of the future of this little girl rests with you," and he nodded to tiny 93-pound Mrs. Thomas. Dekker dwelt at length on the mistreatment the girl had suffered at the hands of her 200-pound husband, and said, "The third party in this marriage was King Alcohol." He described the last few days and the brutal developments ending with the shooting, whereupon Mrs. Thomas burst into audible tears for the first time in the two-day trial. Previously she had wept quietly.

"She was provoked into shooting her husband. This is not murder," Dekker said.

Prosecutor Bussard emphasized that people have not reached the stage when the life of a mate can be taken when violations of the marriage vows occur. "Mr. Dekker says the full responsibility of Mrs. Thomas' future rests with you, but this is not so. It is her responsibility. It is your responsibility to look at the facts. The defendant is entitled to mercy, yes, but did Mrs. Thomas show mercy when she faced her husband with a shotgun and pulled the trigger?" "Your verdict must be based on facts, not on sympathy. Justice will be done today when you return your verdict based upon the facts," Bussard said.

In charging the jury of six men and six women, Circuit Judge Raymond L. Smith said the jury has only three choices—first degree murder, second degree murder and manslaughter. He said there can be no acquittal since there has been no plea of self defense. Justifiable homicide, temporary insanity, or the like.

A first degree murder verdict automatically carries a life term. A second degree conviction carries any term, and manslaughter has up to a 15-year maximum.

When court convened at 9 a.m. today, Mrs. Thomas was wearing a high necked white blouse, dark skirt and pink cardigan sweater. She wore the familiar bobby sox and carried a small black purse. Defense Lawyer Dekker called as his first witness Mrs. Velva Howard of Holland who testified that on one occasion she had given Mrs. Thomas shelter after she had gone to the Howard home after being mistreated by her husband.

Prosecutor Bussard then called two rebuttal witnesses, Rufus Saylor and his wife. Saylor testified he and the deceased were close buddies. He also said he had known Mrs. Thomas before her marriage, and when the Thomases were married they lived with the Saylor family in their home for about six months.

Saylor testified on direct examination that he never saw the Thomases fight in the Saylor home, had never seen Emmerson strike his wife and said Mrs. Thomas never complained about any mistreatment. He said he had never observed any bruises she might have received from her husband's mistreatment.

Saylor explained he and Thomas played cards and drank together often. They would not drink together the week but would go out on Friday night and drink while their wives were shopping for groceries and after they took their wives home they would go out again to drink. He said the deceased never ran around with any other woman and added he had never heard Mrs. Thomas complain about her husband's drinking either in the Saylor home or in her own home. He reiterated he had never heard Mrs. Thomas accuse her husband of hitting her.

On cross examination, Saylor answered the defense attorney, "I would say he (Thomas) was a true man."

RUNNING AND WAITING — One of the largest runs of the largest perch to swim into Lake Macatawa from Lake Michigan in many years caused fishermen and women to grab poles and bait and return to the docks this week. The run was reported heaviest Monday and Tuesday, but by Wednesday both the size and number of fish had thinned, due, fishermen suppose, to the choppy water. One angler, though, couldn't figure it out. "Fish are funny," was all he could say. Pictured here are a number of those waiting for the run at the Macatawa T-dock.

Objection Heard At Appeals Meet

The Board of Appeals hearing Monday night listened to two requests for permission to build additions to commercial property contrary to the city building ordinance and a complaint was registered against each proposal.

The hearing was to determine whether Samuel and William Fabiano could add to their property at 26 West Eighth St. and whether Samuel Caruso could construct a like improvement to his building at 28 West Eighth St.

The city ordinance provides that a 25-foot rear yard whereas the proposed building would allow only 11 feet to the rear of the building. Marie Pieper objected to the building on the grounds that she wanted to abide by the code and felt it would be impossible for the fire department to fight a fire in the narrow alley.

Fire Chief Andrew Klompars told the board he would not object to the requests.

The Caruso and Fabiano plans call for building on a straight line with the rear of the J. C. Penney store, which now has an 11-foot rear yard. An application has also been received from Dale Fris to build out to the 11-foot line, but no date has been set for that hearing. Ward Hansen has received permission and has added to his structure until it now has a six and one-tenth foot alley.

Rear yards behind other buildings in the vicinity: Fris', 22 feet; Pieper's 23.8 feet. Fabiano's property now has a 29-foot rear yard while the Caruso building has a 34-foot rear yard.

Medical Facility Site Row Flares

ALLEGAN (Special) — Not since the early days of Michigan when communities actually resorted to physical combat to determine which town should be designated the county seat has a county been as sharply divided as Allegan finds itself split over the question of where the proposed $800,000 county medical care facility shall be located.

Members of the Board of Supervisors—or at least a majority of them—continue to claim that it was the "million-dollar price tag" that defeated the proposal when it was first put before the voters last spring.

While the arguments center around the site question, this will not even be on the ballot Nov. 6. Actually, the supervisors already have voted to place the medical facility in or near Otsego and, while their action is not irrevocable, the present sympathies of the board are such that re-opening the site question could only come about as a result of extreme pressure on a personal, constituent-to-supervisor basis.

What voters will be asked to decide Nov. 6 is whether the board will be authorized to issue $800,000 in bonds to finance the hospital and increase the tax limitation by 1.25 mills to pay off the bonds over a 20-year period.

But the rivalry between Otsego and Allegan that began on the football fields before the turn of the century has reached an all-time high in recent weeks over the medical facility site question.

Allegan argues that its site would be more economical and efficient because: Allegan Health Center facilities would be nearby and available; the social welfare department, administrators of the hospital, would not have to spend so much time on the road between the office in Allegan and the proposed hospital; dental and medical specialists are concentrated in Allegan; it is more centrally located in the county and thus it would be more convenient for friends and relatives to visit patients.

Otsego contends that: It, too, has doctors and dentists and that the facilities of Crispe Memorial Hospital, although smaller and located two miles away in Plainwell, are just as good as those of the Allegan Health Center; the proposed site would be on a main highway with public bus transportation available to those wishing to visit the hospital; and that Otsego is more centrally located as far as the county's population is concerned.

3 Cars Involved In Sunday Mishap

A power pole was nicked and a 1954 model car was practically demolished with $1,500 worth of damage in a three - car accident Sunday morning on Butternut Dr., near the James St. intersection.

The car suffering the worst damage was driven by Willis George Tucker of 257 East Ninth St., and was going north on Butternut Dr. The other cars were driven by George Dreyer of route 4, and David Dekker of route 4. Both were traveling south on Butternut Dr.

Deputies said the Dreyer car had just turned onto Butternut from James and did not see the Dekker car. Dekker, deputies said, passed to avoid hitting Dreyer and saw Tucker coming at him. Dekker rode the left shoulder and the Tucker car hit the shoulder and swerved back and struck the Dreyer car and then struck a power pole.

Tucker received jaw injuries and cuts and was treated at Holland Hospital.

RED CROSS VOLUNTEERS gave hundreds of hours of service in the Hudsonville tornado last April 3. Top picture shows the canteen corps at work in Unity Christian School providing mass feeding for some 1,300 persons plus providing 20,000 sandwiches and 50,000 cups of coffee for victims and workers in the field. Lower picture shows Red Cross Gray Ladies at clothing center in the same school. Besides providing five or six outfits for persons who lost their belongings, the Red Cross issued many purchase certificates for shoes, underwear and other articles not easily available at headquarters. In all, the National Red Cross spent $110,000 in Hudsonville area in connection with the disaster.

Red Cross Is Included In Community Chest

The service groups of the Ottawa County Chapter of the American Red Cross, have assisted in meeting the needs of the community in many ways, with the main office at 6 East 8th St. in Holland and a branch office in the Masonic Temple Building in Grand Haven.

The most extensive task performed by the local Red Cross during the past year was aiding the victims of the April 3 tornado at Hudsonville. Many volunteers gave hundreds of hours of service in the emergency, under the direction of the Red Cross. One of the major duties in connection with the disaster was answering endless inquiries regarding persons in the stricken area from friends and relatives all over the United States as well as from overseas.

It is estimated that over 100 telegrams were received and answered from the local office, involving much telephoning and assistance by ham radio operators.

Many long distance calls came in as well, with the same type of inquiry. A total of 1,300 persons were mass fed besides 20,000 sandwiches and 50,000 cups of coffee were given out to victims and workers alike in the area during a two-week period. Up to and including April 23, 1956, the National American Red Cross had spent $110,200 in meeting the needs of the April 3 disaster victims in the Hudsonville area.

The Home Service Department of the Red Cross gives service to the servicemen and their families by way of helping obtain emergency leaves for persons in service in case of extreme illness or death of close relatives, and in securing health and welfare reports on both servicemen and their families.

The blood program is another factor of service to the community. Any resident of Ottawa County may receive blood free when needed. The blood donor clinic is held every other Monday, and involves the volunteer services of at least 26 persons for each clinic. There have been an average of 40-45 donors at these clinics.

The Gray Lady organization is wholly voluntary and their services are invaluable. They now have four assignments at the Veterans' Facility Hospital in Grand Rapids besides their schedule at the Veterans Administration Hospital at Fort Custer. The Gray Ladies assisted in the clothing center at Hudsonville following the tornado disaster, and there are always three of them to help at every blood donor clinic, besides other activities in which they take part from time to time in the community. The Gray Ladies have given almost 6,000 hours of volunteer service from July, 1955, to July, 1956.

The Canteen Service, another branch of Red Cross volunteers, prepare food to be served at the blood donor clinics, and they were in charge of the mass feedings which took place at the time of the tornado disaster.

The annual summer swimming instruction classes are an important part of the Red Cross activities. During the past year 3,611 children and adults received free swimming instruction under the tutorship of Red Cross swimming programs.

The Red Cross has a nursing service which includes the volunteer services of registered nurses at the blood donor clinic and instruct in home nursing classes.

In connection with the blood donor clinic, a group of nurses aides give many hours of service.

First aid courses are held at different times during the year, with instruction which will further prepare the people of Ottawa County to give assistance in time of need or disaster.

The Fort Custer Council and Supply committee assist in various ways at VA hospitals and the Vocational Training School at Pine Lake, besides providing Christmas gifts for servicemen on the high seas.

Red Cross also maintains a production department which supplies clothing and bedding to people in need, or in times of emergency.

The 1956-57 Community Chest has earmarked $19,994 for Red Cross services.

Two Fourth Quarter TD's Give Zeeland Second Win

ZEELAND (Special) — Pounding over two touchdowns in the fourth quarter, Zeeland High's gridders blanked Sparta, 13-0 Friday night before 2,500 Homecoming alumni and fans at Zeeland Athletic Field.

A Sparta fumble on their own two midway in the final frame set up the first touchdown. Dave Baron, doing a fine job throughout the game, hopped on the bobble and two plays later Ron Bekins crashed through center for the touchdown. Ron Komejan failed to make the kick as the ball hit the left upright.

Twenty yards in penalties plus some strong Chix defensive work had put the Spartans deep in the hole.

Zeeland got control of the ball at midfield with about a minute to go. Moving on the ground the Chix pushed to the 27 quickly.

Here, with the clock showing 11 seconds, Bekins slashed over right tackle and was away to the races. Komejan converted.

The Chix, who picked up a total of 299 yards including 208 on the ground, couldn't get home in the first three quarters. Most of the time they were between the 20's. One time in the second quarter, the Chix got to the eight but Ron Beyer was thrown for a loss on the next play.

For Sparta, which has now lost six straight games, Neil Andrus was the big gun. He carried the ball three out of four downs and starred on defense.

Rog Yntema, Junior De Jonge and Baron were Zeeland defensive standouts.

The Chix are now third in the Kenewa League with a 2-1 record. Fremont and Coopersville are tied for first with 3-0 marks. Sparta has a 0-3 league record.

PICKER-UPPER — City crews and the big vacuum cleaner for leaves are busy all day and half the night sucking up the leaf-piles Holland rakers have been sweeping from their yards all fall. The machine will be in operation until the leaves are gone or until a heavy rain prevents the work. Lawn caretakers have been advised not to burn the leaves but rake them up the gutters where the loader can pick them up. (Sentinel photo)

Just Rake 'em Over Curb; City Will Do the Rest

Just rake 'em over the curb and don't worry about them any more.

That's all it takes to get rid of leaves in Holland this fall. With the leaf-picker and three or four crews of two men each working as much as 18 hours a day, it won't take long for the bright-colored varmits to be sucked away by the city's king-sized vacuum cleaner for leaves.

The machine isn't new. It has been cleaning this year since the last week in September, and has cruised the Holland streets since 1947. City engineer Laverne Serne says it'll be on the job this fall "until 'the snow' flies or the leaves stop falling."

After the leaves are whisked into the truck, there're taken to the cemetery department, mixed with black dirt and used as mulch.

Serne and the leaf crews are one of the few groups in the area that are happy about the long spell without rain. The loader isn't any good for picking up wet leaves—they're too heavy to be sucked up and blown around.

In case it rains and drenches the piles along Holland's curbs, a tractor with a plow will have to roam the streets and push the leaves into piles. Then a swinging end loader will dump them into the waiting truck. This process works, but takes longer and costs more than the vacuum cleaner system.

Although the men and the machine are busy from 6 a.m. to sometimes as late as 1 a.m., Serne has asked rakers not to try to give the city a helping hand by burning the piles they have accumulated. If the leaves are burned, the asphalt pavement will be burned, too, and then the street repair crew will have to be called upon to fix the damage—at the taxpayer's expense.

Speaker Explains Social Security

William E. Kirchgesner, manager of the Grand Rapids office of the Social Security Administration, spoke at the regular meeting of the Holland Exchange Club Monday noon.

He gave an overall picture of the working of the Social Security laws but placed emphasis on the most recent changes. Probably the most important was the dropping of the age limit for women to 62 years. Another one that would affect another people is the provision for paying monthly payments to the disabled regardless of age.

A disabled child can get Social Security payments at any age. Kirchgesner advised that once one reaches the age of 65 to contact the Social Security office to find out just what rights one has. Then too, husbands should tell wives about survivor payments. He also stated that at present this agency has 22 billion dollars in reserve all backed up by guaranteed federal bonds.

Preceding the speech, Vern Schippers was inducted into the club by Exchangeite Lester Kuipers. President Ray Smith presided. Vice President Melvin VanTatenhove introduced the speaker. He also announced that at the next meeting the club would be addressed by a man from the Mackinac Bridge Authority.

Chain Reaction Damages 5 Cars

A trucker pulling a car from a ditch on M-21 six miles east of Zeeland at 6:30 Monday set off a chain reaction that resulted in damage to five vehicles.

George Simmons, 39, of 2247 Ottawa Beach Rd., was hauling the car from a ditch. A car driven by Gerald Bonzelaar, 48, of 319 West 19th St. slowed down to go ahead.

A car following, operated by Nicholas Woodwyk, 44, of 247 Alpine St., Zeeland, piled into the two cars and truck resulting in $375 damage, Ottawa County deputies said.

Ten minutes later, as deputies cleared up the mess, a vehicle driven by Gladys Kotman, 21, route 6, collided with the rear of a car driven by John Vander Werf, 43, route 3, Zeeland, who had slowed down as he approached the first accident.

Deputies said damage to the last two cars was minor.

Olive Center

The hunting season opened Saturday in spite of protest from many farmers because of the drought. A fine observance of the rules was shown by the hunters and no fires or accidents occurred. A fine drizzle later in the day cut down the fire hazard, but did not dampen the high spirits of both hunters and their dogs. The catch was considered below normal.

Oldest Hope Graduate Dies In City at 96

Mrs. John A. Otte, who celebrated her 96th birthday anniversary less than a month ago, died at 9:50 a.m. Monday in Mulder's Convalescent Home after a brief illness.

Mrs. Otte, oldest alumna of Hope College, was born Sept. 26, 1860, in Albany, N.Y., but came to Holland at the age of three months when her father, Dr. Philip Phelps, was called here to become the first president of Hope College.

Some years later Dr. Phelps admitted his daughter and another girl as college students as an experiment because he was having a hard time selling the Dutch settlers on education for women. Thus in 1882, Frances Phelps and Gertrude Alcott became Hope's first women graduates. Miss Alcott later married Prof. A.E. White-nack.

Just a little over a week ago, Mrs. Otte was honored at the Hope College Homecoming as the oldest living graduate of the institution. She was invited to ride on a float but was unable to do so because of a cold which later developed into bronchitis.

Mrs. Otte spent many years in China as the wife of Dr. John A. Otte, a medical missionary. After his death, she returned home to Holland where she lived for many years. She was the oldest member of Hope Church which had been founded by her father. He had organized the church in 1862 for early settlers who did not speak Dutch.

Mrs. Otte's memory of the early days was remarkably complete. She had distinct recollections of the assassination of President Lincoln when she was only five years old. She remembered the great fire of 1871 when she was only 11 and recalled details of the death and funeral of Dr. A. C. Van Raalte, Holland's founder, when she was 15.

Surviving are two sons, Frank Otte of University Heights, Ohio, and John Otte of Hempstead, Long Island; a daughter, Mrs. Edward Kraft of New York City; two sons-in-law, the Rev. George Scholten of Neshaun, N.J., and the Rev. Walter de Velder of Hong Kong; seven grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Memorial services will be held at 3 p.m. Thursday in Hope Church. According to Mrs. Otte's expressed wishes, Dr. I. J. Lubbers of Hope College and Dr. Marion de Velder of Hope Church will officiate and Mrs. de Velder will sing. Burial will be in Albany, N.Y.

Friends may call at the Dykstra Funeral Home Tuesday from 2 to 4 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m. Friends are asked to omit flowers but may make contributions for a memorial to Mrs. Otte on Hope College campus.

North Dakota is one of five states where farm-stored 1955-crop oats now under federal price control may be released, upon approval of the agriculture stabilization committee or county committee.

Dutch Are First MIAA Grid Team To Score on Dales

HILLSDALE (Special) — Hope College's football squad became the first MIAA team to score a touchdown against league-leading Hillsdale here Saturday. Then after the Dales had sewed up their 22nd consecutive win, the Dutch scored a second one.

When all the points had been counted, Hillsdale had turned in a 34-14 win for the 4,500 alumni and fans who had attended the annual Homecoming at Hillsdale Athletic Field.

Hillsdale racked up two quick touchdowns in the opening period without bothering to get a first down. The first came in the first six minutes of play on a 46-yard pass from Bill Allinder to Walt Poe. Poe waited for the ball on the 23 and romped alone into the end zone. John Moffat converted.

Three minutes later, Nate Clark, Little All-American halfback, ram-bled 64 yards for a touchdown after being hemmed in on several occasions during his downfield flight. Sticking near the sidelines with three-man interference, Clark ran around, through and under the Dutch for the second tally. Bill Dillbone converted.

Outside of Clark's run, the Dales gained only two yards rushing in the first quarter while Hope was picking up 24.

And that Hope yardage was chewed out practically yard-for-yard as the Dutch drove 73 yards for their first touchdown.

Scratching on the ground, (the longest gain of the drive was five yards), Hope added four passes in the drive for a total of 30 yards and after 22 plays crossed the Dales' goal line with two minutes gone in the second quarter.

Jerry Hendrickson crashed over from the two and Pete Watt converted.

The Dales got their only first down in the first half with a four-play running series after receiving a Hope punt and then were also forced to punt. After another punt exchange, Howard Rodgers, former Benton Harbor halfback, raced a boot back 45 yards to the Hope 10 to set up the third first half touchdown.

On fourth down Allinder passed to all-MIAA end Andy Kincannon for seven yards and the touchdown. Moffat kicked the extra point to make it 21-7 at halftime.

Nate Clark scored his second touchdown of the game and his seventh of the season with a one yard plunge off tackle midway in the third quarter.

A fumbled Jerry Hendrickson punt attempt on the Hope 27 had set up the Dales fourth scoring opportunity. It took the winners six plays to grind out the yardage. Moffat again converted. For the record, the kick traveled two yards.

Another Hope punt (they booted 10 times in the game) was blocked on the Dutch 18 with the fourth quarter four minutes old. Warren Spragg and Lee Jones, a couple of seasoned MIAA warriors got in the way of the kick and Kincannon pounced on the bobbling ball just before it went out of the end zone for the final Dales touchdown. Moffat made the extra point.

A 52-yard pass play with two minutes remaining gave the Dutch their final score. The play went from Jack Faber to Hendrickson, who got behind the defense, caught the ball on the 15 and pulled away. Watt converted.

Hope out-first-downed the winners, 9-6 and the Dales were held to 190 yards rushing, their smallest total of the season.

The Dutch had nine men leave the game with various bumps. It appears that center Gene Van Dongen and Earl De Witt, both with hurt legs early in the game may miss Hope's home contest against Olivet here Saturday night at Riverview Park.

The Dales have now won six straight games this season and have a 4-0 MIAA mark while the Dutch have a 1-2 MIAA record and 14 overall.

Talk Compares Women On Three Continents

Lots of Hunters, Not So Many Birds, As Season Opens

The number of hunters was up and the number of birds was down, but the kill was "pretty fair," in the Ottawa area during the weekend, Conservation Officer Loren Houghton reported Monday.

The slight rain Saturday and the heavy fog in many areas dampened woods and fields helping dogs' noses and cutting fire danger. Houghton said today, however, that conditions are quite dry again and that he had received no word from Lansing lifting the ban on smoking and camp fires.

The number of arrests for hunting violations was "lighter than anticipated," Houghton said, even though four officers from the Traverse City area were added to the enforcement staff.

Grand Haven State Police reported two hunting accidents Saturday. In the morning, Nelson Nagelkirk, Jr., 18, route 2, West Olive, received about 25 pellets in both legs and was admitted to Zeeland Hospital. He was allegedly shot by Gerald Kooyers, 38, of 330 North River Ave., Holland, while hunting in Olive township.

In the afternoon, 13-year-old John Margo, route 2, Grand Haven was treated by a Grand Haven physician for a shot wound in his right foot. The accident occurred while the boy was hunting with his father, Frank, in Grand Haven township.

Appeals Board Approves Eighth St. Additions

The Board of Appeals Monday night approved applications for additions to two Eighth St. commercial buildings.

The appeal of Samuel and William Fabiano for a 20 by 20 foot addition at the rear of their store at 26 West Eighth St. was granted, as was a similar application submitted by Samuel Caruso at 28 West Eighth St.

Both applicants intend to build on a line with the J. C. Penney store, and the fire chief has made no objection to the proposals.

It was Mrs. Marquis' conviction that Asian women choose America over Russia because they feel their new found independence might be curtailed or restricted under the Kremlin — therefore the strong Nationalist feeling.

Criticism of America does exist, but Mrs. Marquis feels that it is based more on envy and jealousy than on any real deeply felt wrongdoing on America's part. "Many dark-skinned people feel they have been exploited by the white race and they do not separate Americans from the people who were their white masters."

She explained the work of the United States Information Service which spends $2 million compared with Russia's $2 billion for propaganda purposes. She said the aim of the United States is to do the little things on the grassroots level with a long-range view to the future.

"Helping Asia is helping ourselves. Such aid creates a potential for the future and a potential for trade. We need export business and we must help the people of Asia to help themselves," she said.

Mrs. Marquis spoke highly of the American women overseas and the simplicity with which they live showing the essence of good taste and behavior. Yet the influence of American films has its effect, and the question asked most often concerns such screen stars as Marilyn Monroe and Lana Turner whom many European women regard as the average American woman.

Mrs. Alvin D. Bos, president, presided at the meeting. Mrs. Bruce M. Raymond called attention to a public affairs meeting next Tuesday at 1 p.m. which will be in the form of a political rally. Participating in the discussion will be the candidates for state senate and house — incumbents Clyde Geerlings and George Van Peursem and their Democratic opponents, Jan B. Vander Ploeg and Malcolm Ferguson. Mary Emma Young will be the moderator. All club members are invited.

NEW ALLEGAN CITY HALL — Here's the scene that greeted visitors to Allegan's new city hall Tuesday, first day city departments were open for business in their new quarters in the former First State Bank building on Locust St. The main room, on the street floor, houses departments dealing directly with the public and the council chamber. Executive offices are located on the balcony floor in the rear. The new city building, purchased for $16,000 and refurbished for $6,000, was financed from a building and site fund established for that purpose by the administration of Mayor W. L. McClelland, nearly 15 years ago. It replaces a building constructed in 1886 which was recently partially condemned by the state fire marshal's department.

Student Tells of Work Among Mescalero Indians

Charles Johnson, student at Western Theological Seminary was speaker at a meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of Fourth Reformed Church Thursday afternoon in the church parlors. He told about his summer work among the Mescalero Indians and showed slides of that work.

Johnson said the Mescaleros are the fastest progressing Indians in the United States. Their main industry is cattle raising, he said. They retain many primitive customs, he said, and told how many mothers would still carry their babies in carriers which may be strapped on the mother's back or propped against a tree while the mother does her work.

Mrs. J. Prins conducted the business meeting. Devotions were in charge of Mrs. L. Garvelink, Mrs. H. Koeman and Mrs. B. Speet. Two solos were sung by Mrs. R. Ryzena, accompanied by Mrs. Kleinheksel. Miss Jennie Boer closed the meeting with a stewardship thought and prayer. Hostess was Mrs. J. Van Zoeren.

Indians Score, But Lose, 21-7

SAUGATUCK (Special) — Lawton won the football game, but the joy was Saugatuck's as the Indians scored their first touchdown of the year while dropping a 21-7 decision to the Blue Devils Friday afternoon.

Saugatuck had two other scoring opportunities but were prevented from capitalizing on them by the clock. An intercepted pass gave them a first down on the Lawton 35, seconds before the first half ended. A recovered fumble gave them the ball on the Lawton three-yard line as the game ended.

Three touchdowns behind in the fourth quarter, the Indians hit paydirt for the first time in the varsity history on a five-yard pass from halfback Victor Mayer to quarterback Stanley Goshorn.

Lawton had only a 7-0 lead at the half and a crowd of 125 students and alumni attending Saugatuck's first Homecoming thought an upset might perfect the day. But the Blue Devils dominated the bill after the third period kickoff and broke through a stubborn defense to make their second score.

An attempted pass which was stolen from thrower Goshorn's fingertips gave Lawton a 35-yard touchdown and clinched the game. Saugatuck Coach Harley Henderson, who doubles as superintendent of schools, felt his 18-man squad really got going after their score. "We haven't anything to complain about," he said.

Queen Diana Meyer was crowned by Captain Goshorn at the half. The proceedings as well as play-by-play commentary were announced by a public address system atop an automobile along the sidelines. The loudspeaker was another first in Saugatuck's grid history.

Friday evening students and a good sprinkling of alumni and townspeople attended the "Harvest Ball" in the school gymnasium.

SECOND HALF STORY — With his blockers opening this mammoth hole and pushing away would-be Holland tacklers, George Walters, St. Joseph fullback, crashed over the Dutch goal line for two yards in the fourth quarter for the game's final tally to give St. Joe a 27-13 win.

Friday night at Riverview Park. Holes like this allowed the Bears to score three times in the second half and once in the last minute of the first half to overcome a 13-0 deficit. On this play following his handoff, quarterback Les Knuth stands relaxed watching the play.

Bears Come Back In Second Half From 13-0 Deficit

Holland High's football team fell apart in the second half Friday night and St. Joseph capitalized on the lapse, scoring three times in the final two periods to defeat the Dutch, 27-13 before 3,500 fans at Riverview Park.

It was only the second time in eight years St. Joe had beaten Holland. The other defeat was a 20-6 loss in 1954 which coaches blamed partially on "pigeon season."

A similar circumstance might have prevailed Friday night as the Dutch had no school for the last two days because of teachers' institute.

Holland had its worst quarter of the season in the fourth period with a minus 30 yard net. In fact, the Dutch didn't get into Bear territory the entire second half. Since their net rushing in the third quarter was zero for nine plays they finished 30 yards in the red for the half. They didn't make a first down.

Holland scored first with the game only 2:15 old and it looked like the game might be a repeat of last year's 32-14 rout.

The Dutch held a 7-0 first quarter lead and then added another six in the second quarter to lead 13-0 before St. Joe retaliated.

Wes Kuylers cracked through the center for 10 yards and the first TD on the fifth Dutch scrimmage play. His 13-yard center smash earlier and a 16-yard end run by Vern Teske had been the big plays of the drive which started on the Bear 44 when guard Jack Scully recovered a fumble on the initial kickoff.

The second Dutch touchdown came in the second quarter with six minutes to go. Tom Stoel, on a keep, swept the end for 24 yards, sneaking under a couple of tacklers and sprinting into the corner of the end zone. Aye's kick was wide.

But from then on it was Bears. The kickoff was returned from the St. Joe 15 to the Bear 35 and then constant pounding of the line and running the ends moved to the Dutch 12 in 10 plays.

A five-yard penalty, one of the two the Bears had in the game, put them on the Holland 24 where Les Knuth passed to end Jason Harness, who made a one-handed diving catch on the Holland six. The play shook Holland and the Bears were home in three plays with Frank Callendar going over from the one. Knuth passed to Harness for the extra point.

This score, which came with one minute to go in the first half, served to be the first turning point according to St. Joe coach Dick Higgs. Prior to this point this season the Bears had never been held scoreless that length of time in recording a 3-1 record.

Then came the second half. A crisscross on-side kick by tackle Ron Harness from the 15 yards out hit Holland guard Ted Van Zanden on the Holland 45 and Jason Harness recovered.

The Bears advanced quickly to the Dutch 13 but were stopped. Holland's Ken Hill kicked to the Dutch 28 and Ron Harness returned to the Holland 17 and the Bears started again.

This time they were home in four plays as quarterback Knuth shot off tackle for two yards with 5:40 left in the third period. Sub halfback Larry Klett busted tackle for the extra point and the Bears took the lead 14-13.

From then on, everytime Holland got the ball, which wasn't often in the game, senior guard Jerry Neidlinger would break through and break up the plays. And those he missed, Jason Harness, an end, who had been moved to linebacker in the second half, got.

Neidlinger broke through and partially blocked a Ken Hill punt on the Holland 19 and Jason Harness recovered. Four line smashes ate up the yardage and Klett crashed through center for two with 50 seconds left for the tally. His run into the center for conversion was no good.

The final St. Joe touchdown was set up when Ken Hill dropped a fourth down pass from center and was downed by fullback George Walters on the Dutch 14.

Walters was rewarded three plays later by crashing through center for two yards and the TD with 9:15 left.

Dick Kesterke made the extra point.

St. Joe's record is now 4-1 with the lone loss being 19-6 to Grand Haven in the opener. Holland has a 2-2-2 mark. The Dutch meet Grand Rapids South, also holders of a 2-2-2 record next Friday night at Riverview Park.

NOTES—Holland wore their new white helmets, purchased since the gymnasium fire two weeks ago... Line coach Ernie Post was back on the job after missing the Dowagiac game because of illness... St. Joe coach Dick Higgs calls his great end Jason Harness the greatest athlete he's ever coached. "Jumping Jason," also a basketball and track star, has been contacted by several colleges.... Speaking of the crisscross kickoff which set up the Bears' second score, Higgs said he uses the maneuver only rarely... Dutch tackle Allan Hill, who usually paces the Holland linemen, failed to spearhead the attack in the first two quarters and was benched the most of the second half... Holland's passing, their offensive standby all season wasn't working. Quarterback Tom Stoel got off only five tosses and only one was completed... Contrasting Holland's minus 30 yards rushing total in the second half was a 134 net in the opening two quarters. Ron and Jason Harness are brothers. Fortunately for Holland, both Harnesses are seniors.

Fathers, Sons Have Banquet

"Sports" was the theme for the annual Father and Son banquet Thursday evening at First Methodist Church. About 130 fathers and sons were present.

George Zuverink, Holland's contribution to big league baseball, spoke on his life in baseball and answered questions. His answer to how to pitch to Mickey Mantle was "letter high and inside." His most exciting event in baseball he considered was hitting a home run for the Flying Dutchmen in the ninth inning with two on, winning the game; also his first day reporting to the Detroit Tigers.

A baseball glove and American league official baseball were presented to Bobby Wolbrink and Stanley Tague, whose names were drawn from a barrel by Zuverink. Raymond L. Smith made the introductions.

Dinner was served by the Women's Society at tables decorated by the Young Methodist Men and Women under supervision of Mrs. Claude Lamoreaux.

Bear Band Late, But Makes Show

A blowout on US-31 between St. Joseph and Holland forced the Holland High School band to depart from usual courtesy and perform ahead of the visitors.

St. Joe's band was ready, but the instruments didn't arrive until midway in the halftime ceremonies, after Holland's musicians had taken the field.

The Dutch put on a show based on toys, starting with a train formation. A bow formation which shot an arrow to the "William Tell Overture" depicted another toy. The marching, the song and the sound effects worked together to set up the "Parade of the Wooden Soldiers."

A spinning record on an old-time gramophone blared out "Hound Dog," but none of the members were detected in the famous gyrations that usually accompany the rendition.

The show concluded with a salute to Holland, and St. Joe took its cold instruments onto the field for presentation of a hot political battle.

The Bears started with large "R" and "D" formations, standing for the big political parties. The initials began to fight and wound up in a question mark.

The music answered a few political questions from a box formation after the fight. Asked if income tax was to be abolished "Sen. Geerlings" replied with "Beautiful Dreamer." The next tax legislation was described as "Sweet and Low," and "Nobody Knows the Trouble" caused by political mud-slinging opponents.

The real trouble with crowded schools is "Rock-a-bye Baby," according to the band. The box alignment concluded with "The biggest vote on record," a ribbon "X" stretched by the drum majorettes.

The Democratic donkey head played "Happy Days Are Here Again" and the Republican elephant swung to "Elephant's Tango" before the band put aside political rivalries to form the Capitol dome and play "God Bless America."

These Folks Didn't Have To Go After a Pheasant

The Sidney Gunns of 1333 Lakewood Blvd., didn't have to go out hunting for pheasants Saturday. One came to them. When the Gunns returned from a shopping tour downtown Friday night, Mrs. Gunn noticed two sections of a living room window were shattered.

At first she thought it might be kids with a football, or something else.

However, closer examination showed there was a dead cock pheasant on the living room floor amid the shattered particles of glass.

Hawaii is sometimes called the "crossroads of the Pacific."

GOOD HUNTING—Lee Jousma, 114 East 38th St. and Ken Michmerhuizen, Holland Heights, were out at the opening of hunting season Saturday and had good luck. The youths had knocked down their limits before an hour had passed. The pair was hunting near Eighth St. and the Country Club Rd.

Holland in 1918

(Following is another in a series of articles taken from news of the Holland Daily Sentinel published more than 38 years ago.)

Arrangements are being made for the appearance in Holland of Dr. A. S. Warthin of the University of Michigan who will deliver an address here on the subject, "Hygiene and Morality," began a story in the Wednesday, Feb. 6, issue of the Holland Daily Sentinel published in 1918.

Hope College has received notice that the wills of the late Annie Ayerick Fuller of Passaic, N.J., and that of the late Mary E. Marvin of Port Jervis, N.Y., have been admitted to probate. In each of these wills a bequest of $1,000 is made to the endowment fund of the local institution. Both Mrs. Fuller and Miss Marvin were members of the Reformed churches of which Dr. Vennema was pastor. The college has also received a letter from Corpus Christi, Tex., dated Dec. 25, 1917, containing a check of $1,000 from E. C. and Florence E. Westervelt "to be loaned to worthy girls to help them get an education."
