Local Man Heads State Emergencies

The seven appointments made by Gov. John B. Swainson Tuesday for readiness in the event of a national emergency were largely made on recommendation of a Holland resident.

Ralph E. Richman, local Democrat who last May 7 was appointed Michigan director of the Office of Emergency Planning, returned to Lansing today for further conferences on appointments following an all-day session there Monday.

Richman's appointment, although made by the governor, derives from a federal law which sets up the Office of Emergency Planning under the direct supervision of the White House. Much of the work between state and federal government goes through the headquarters at Battle Creek.

Since his appointment last May, Richman has devoted approximately one-third of his time to a study of emergency problems, personally calling on persons he feels capable of getting the work done under great difficulty. He said the primary objective of Civil Defense is to keep people alive in the event of disaster and the primary objective of the Office of Emergency Planning is to provide leadership to restore the economy and government and keeping daily living as nearly normal as possible.

Richman's presence in Lansing today may result in further appointments of chairmen in the fields of economic stabilization, health and medicine, portable water, housing and construction, service trades, industrial preparedness and education.

L. R. Kampman, vice president and director of marketing for Leonard Refineries at Alma, appointed as chairman of the petroleum task force, was born in Zeeland.

S. Vander Heide, president of the Holland-American Wafer Co. of Grand Rapids, appointed to the head of the food task force, spends much of his summers at a summer home on Lake Michigan near the Grand Rapids water plant. He is president of the Grand Rapids Symphony Association.

Under federal statute, Civil Defense activities are placed under the direction of Defense Director McNamara.

Because Richman has been asked to devote as much time as possible to completing the organizational setup, he has only limited time to campaign in Ottawa county as a candidate for state representative.

EARLY, EARLY SNOW — Youngsters were delighted Wednesday with the first snowfall of the season, but adults were inclined to think of winterizing cars, shoveling walks and a few other tasks not calculated to make them particularly happy. The early snowfall which measured one inch is shown to advantage in this photo of Windmill Park, Holland's leading photogenic landmark. The low Wednesday was 31 degrees.

No Hearing In Van Meer Incorporation

GRAND HAVEN — Circuit Judge Raymond L. Smith has adjourned indefinitely a hearing in connection with an injunction sought by Mrs. Ella M. Zone of Holland Township seeking to restrain the Board of Supervisors and County Clerk Harris Nieuwma from scheduling an election on a proposal to incorporate the city of Van Meer.

Judge Smith said late Wednesday that the Van Meer hearing has been adjourned pending the outcome of an appeal of Holland city to the Michigan Supreme Court on a previous injunction issued out of Ottawa Circuit Court calling off the Nov. 6 election of the Federal district annexing to Holland city. Mrs. Zone is chairman of a citizens committee promoting annexation to the city. The injunction canceling the Federal election was sought by Charles Vande Water, also a Federal resident.

The Holland case appealing the injunction on the Nov. 6 Federal election was filed in Lansing Monday and was heard in the Supreme Court Wednesday morning. It might take two days to a week before a decision is made on whether the high court assumes jurisdiction in the matter.

The case postponed in Ottawa Circuit Court Wednesday was for the purpose of showing cause why an injunction should not be issued in the Van Meer case. These petitions were filed last July but the Board of Supervisors has not set a date for election.

Petitions for annexing Federal district to Holland city were filed with the Secretary of State in August and Nov. 6 was set for the election. Vande Water's petition to halt this election was granted in Ottawa Circuit Court and it is this move which is now before the Supreme Court.

Concert Goes Etiquette Told

The Holland Community Concert Association board has scheduled the concert in this year's series at 8:15 p.m. in the Civic Center instead of 8 p.m. as in previous years.

If there are late comers, they are to be seated quietly after the first number and ushers have been instructed to do this. The first concert this season is the ballet recital of Kovach and Rabovsky at the Civic Center Thursday.

It is disturbing to other patrons and embarrassing to the performers for patrons to leave during or between encores. Hard heels make a loud noise on stairways and balconies at the Civic Center which disturbs both patrons and performers.

Large hats are a source of irritation to patrons who are unfortunate enough to sit behind them. These various annoyances spoil a performance and members of the board of directors of the concert association are making an effort to correct them this season for the benefit of all patrons.

Supervisors End Stormy Session

GRAND HAVEN — The Ottawa county board of supervisors ended one of its stormiest sessions on record late Friday afternoon, after adopting a record budget for 1963 and approving an agreement with township and college boards in connection with the sewer and water services at the new Grand Valley State College being built near Allendale.

The record budget approved just before adjournment calls for total expenditures of $1,275,204.73, compared with a current budget for 1962 of $1,222,780.49. Millage sufficient to "cover" the expected expenses for the next year has been approved at 4.16 mills.

But before the board approved the big budget, supervisors from the cities and the rural members again squared off in an hour-long discussion on the manner of financing the $430,000 water and sanitation systems at the new college, which will be ready for 250 freshmen next fall.

H. E. Staifeth, engineer - manager of the county road commission, who has been advising the township boards from Allendale and Georgetown and the college board on the facilities, informed the board that these boards met Thursday and signed an agreement on the installation and operation of the systems.

The supervisors had been given copies of a resolution spelling out the manner in which the program is to be financed two weeks ago. Copies of the ordinance passed by the other groups were also distributed.

But Friday many of the city members objected to the method of financing. The work is to be financed through a bond issue, with the county pledging its full faith and credit behind the bonds.

The resolution, through which the county takes this action, passed 21-11, with the more numerous township members winning over the city members, as they did on several other occasions during the session.

Supervisor William Kennedy of Allendale said he had refrained from taking part in the discussion but after the two votes were taken he complimented Staifeth and the road commission for their work in completing the negotiations for the bond issue, a pioneer procedure in west Michigan.

At the start of Friday's session City Manager Herb Holt of Holland was temporarily seated on the board to substitute for City Atty. Gordon Cunningham. Upon a motion of City Assessor William Koop of Holland, the board adopted the report of the taxes and apportionment committee for 1963.

Dr. C. C. Bloemendaal, Zeeland, reported that the social welfare committee of the board has met with the county welfare commission to discuss the need for a new medical care facility in Ottawa county. Neither group is ready to make a recommendation at this time, he said, but the board members were asked to visit county hospitals in Manistee and Berrien counties. Federal money is available, he said.

Before taking action on the budget the board increased the per diem paid to three members of the county soldiers and sailors relief commission to $10. They are now paid $8 and members feel they should be paid the same per diem as the supervisors. An increase in the county's share of the salary of Circuit Judge Raymond L. Smith was asked but was turned down. The salaries were set at Tuesday's meeting. He is now paid an annual salary of $2,300 by the county.

The highest single category in the 1963 budget is again the salaries, set at $332,417. The total is $19,000 higher than this year's total for salaries. The largest increase in any one category is a hike of $31,000 in the miscellaneous fund, which has reached $146,350. Another big hike was in the roads and parks budget, which went from $115,000 this year to $130,000.

The budget is based for 1963 on a total equalized figure of $306,539.629. The board went through the budget speedily this session as there was not much work for the board to do. Most of the cuts, to fit the income based on 4.16 mills, was done by the ways and means committee. A tentative budget was approved last April, set at $1,300,000, but this was trimmed by slashing $120,000 off the request by the road commission. The road body was allocated $15,000 more than last year in spite of the cut.

The sheriff's department again led all the rest in the size of the appropriation for 1963, even though it showed a drop of $3,600. The total for the sheriff's office includes $133,342 for salaries, $51,323 for expenses, $1,800 for marine enforcement and $8,850 for jail expenses. The grand total for the sheriff's department is $197,367.

Panthers Lose Fourth League Game

GRAND RAPIDS — West Ottawa was defeated here Friday night by Grand Rapids Godwin, 12-0, in a hard fought football game at Godwin's homecoming.

Godwin scored the first time they had the ball in the first quarter and the last time they had the ball late in the fourth quarter. The playing in between was fairly even.

The Panthers moved the ball to Godwin's 24 after the opening kickoff but lost it on downs on the 34-yard line.

The Wolverines wasted no time in marching 66 yards in only six plays for their first score. The Wolverine's fast and shifty halfbacks John Bazaire and Jim Harrison broke away for gains of 19 and 21 yards respectively. The touchdown play was a 16-yard pass from Mike Loucks to Larry Hollemans. Hollemans' kick was no good.

West Ottawa posed a serious threat in the second quarter when the Panthers started on Godwin's 39 after Dave Piet recovered a fumble and moved all the way to the seven yard line before a pass was intercepted on a fourth down play.

Neither team was able to get a first down in the third quarter as the teams traded punts around midfield.

Bob Kalkofen, sophomore fullback, did the damage to the Panthers in the fourth quarter as he gained 106 yards in ten plays for a better than ten yard average per carry. The last run was 39 yards when he outraced the weary West Ottawa team for the touchdown. Hollemans' kick was no good.

West Ottawa again moved the ball well except near paydirt where the going was tough. The Panthers depend on getting three or four yards each time on power plays.

Each time when the Panthers got near the goal line, a missed assignment resulted in a loss on the play and this was enough to stop the scoring.

West Ottawa did a good job of cutting off the long potential touchdowns runs of Bazaire and Harrison. West Ottawa lacks depth and it was a very tired squad that permitted the last touchdown run of Kalkofen.

George Donze was the loser's most effective runner as he gained 58 yards in ten carries and did a splendid job of punting the ball away from Godwin's fast backs, keeping them deep in their own territory.

West Ottawa is now 1-5 for the season and 0-4 in league play. Godwin is 3-1 in league play. The Panthers will host Wayland next Friday night at West Ottawa's first homecoming.

The West Ottawa reserves lost to Godwin, 6-0 in a thriller Thursday.

Dutch Drop 18-0 Game For 3rd Loss

St. Joseph's unbeaten football team surprised Holland Friday night with an 18-0 victory before 3,300 Homecoming fans in River-view Park for Holland's third loss in six starts this season.

The Bears tallied twice in the second quarter and then completely dominated play in the fourth period to push across a third touchdown.

It was St. Joseph's fourth win this season and second straight over the Dutch. The Bears, who have been tied twice, stopped Holland by an identical 18-0 score last year.

Holland never got an offensive drive really rolling in the game although the Dutch did penetrate to the Bears' 27 early in the third period and then to the St. Joseph 31 late in the same quarter.

But each time Holland lost the ball on downs. The second time, with the scrimmage on the 31, the Dutch tried a fourth down pass and end Darrell Schuurman and half-back Jim De Neff bumped into each other on the 10-yard line.

After Holland had held the Bears to eight yards rushing and 22 yards passing in the third quarter, St. Joseph took command in the fourth period and held Holland to three yards rushing.

The Dutch had the ball only 11 plays in the fourth quarter and threw eight incomplete passes. The Bears put together an 18-play 69-yard scoring drive in the final period for the final points.

St. Joseph's first two touchdowns came in the second quarter. Terry Palleschi drove one yard for the first tally with the second period 41 seconds old.

The touchdown climaxed an 18-play 95-yard drive that started with a downed punt on the Bears' five-yard line. A 20-yard pass play from Ron Clark to Paul Davis was the big gainer in the drive.

Curt Letz scored the second touchdown with 2:06 left on a one-yard off tackle smash after end Dale Brant had intercepted a Holland aerial on the Dutch 30. It took the Bears seven plays to score with a Clark to Brant 14-yard pass the longest play.

Rod Jones slid through center for a yard and the final touchdown with 4:39 left in the game. Quarterback Clark received a leg injury in the game and guard Bud Anton had a dislocated shoulder. Holland's Larry Dorgelo injured his ankle. Larry Evanoff did a good job of running the Bears in the second half following Clark's injury.

Leg injuries kept Holland's Tom Essenburg and Dan Hill sidelined while several Holland players were slowed with illness.

The Bears picked up 262 yards in the game, including 148 yards rushing while Holland had 184, split about evenly with 91 on the ground and 93 in the air.

Holland plays at Muskegon next Friday night in an LMAC game while St. Joseph plays at Portage in a Big Six contest.

Dr. L. De Koster Speaks to AAUW

Dr. Lester De Koster, director of libraries at Calvin College, was guest speaker at the meeting of the Holland branch of the American Association of University Women Thursday night at Durfee Hall on the Hope College Campus. His topic was "Das Kapital in Context."

He opened his talk with a quotation of the late French author, Albert Camus: "The essential of rebellion is that of replacing the reign of Grace by the reign of Justice." Dr. De Koster interprets this to mean that the rebellious group attempts to replace the rule of God by the rule of man, and this idea recurred throughout his talk.

The speaker said that "Marxism is a sophisticated philosophy, the ideas of which we shall not succeed in obliterating, even if we should defeat the Russians and the Chinese Communists."

Marx was after a philosophy of life. He sought to answer such questions as "Who is man?" and "Why must man alienate himself from man?" Man is a marvelous creature who can do any number of great things; but he is also a devastating creature who can destroy and take from others. Marx did not turn to the church for his answers, but Dr. De Koster says our world depends on which we decide to follow—the Christian humanist concept, or the Marxist concept.

Preceding the speaker, a business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Preston Luidens, president. Mrs. Judson Bradford, legislative chairman, explained the ballot for the coming election to members and reminded them about voting for special legislation and Supreme Court Justices.

Mrs. Kenneth O'Meara, fellowship chairman, announced that workers are needed for the Used Book Sale to be held in October. More books are needed also, as well as children's records and games.

Following the meeting refreshments were served by Miss Lorraine Hellenga and her committee, Mrs. John Winter, Mrs. Arthur Seddon, Miss Harriet Mulder, Mrs. Richard Hofferbert and Mrs. M. E. Bennett.

Tubergen-Deters Vows Exchanged

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Tubergen

Miss Glenda Mae Deters, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Deters of route 5, became the bride of Dick Tubergen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Tubergen, of Caledonia, on Oct. 5 in a double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Harry Vander Ark of Fremont.

Scene of the wedding was the Holland Heights Christian Reformed Church which for the occasion was decorated with an arch of white gladioli, gold tinted carnations, greenery and white paper bells. The pews also were decorated with bells.

Organ music was played by Clarence Walters and Charles Witteveen of Fremont was soloist.

The bride, escorted by her father, wore a floor-length gown of candlelight satin featuring an empire bodice of chantilly lace, delicately jeweled and ending in a satin cuff effect. The princess line extended to the bouffant skirt which terminated in a chapel train. Her portrait headpiece, fashioned of chantilly lace with a suspended center pearl, released an elbow-length veil of imported illusion. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations with gold and green tipped carnations in the center.

The bride's sister, Miss Janice Deters, as made of honor, was attired in a gold satin dress with matching crown and veil and matching accessories. She carried a bell-shaped bouquet of fall colored mums. In identical attire only in barberry green, were the bridesmaids, Mrs. Preston Mar-tinie and Mrs. Joe Stuve from Grandville.

Roger Tubergen assisted his brother as best man while Floyd Tubergen, another brother, and Paul Deters, the bride's brother, served as ushers.

A medium blue lace dress with black accessories was chosen by the bride's mother while the mother of the groom selected a brown sheath dress with brown and white accessories. They had carnation corsages.

About 165 guests were entertained in Fellowship Hall at a reception with Mr. and Mrs. Ted Martinie serving punch and Mr. and Mrs. Justin Deters assisting as master and mistress of ceremonies. Mrs. Roger Tubergen and Miss Vonnice Westerhof presided in the gift room and the guest book was in charge of Miss Shirley Tubergen.

The bride changed to a brown wool knit dress with beige jacket, complemented with brown and black accessories, for the wedding trip to the southern states. The newlyweds reside at 253 1/2 East Ninth St.

The bride was entertained at pre-nuptial showers given by Mrs. Ted Martinie, Mrs. Preston Martinie, Miss Vonnice Westerhof, Mrs. Joe Stuve, Mrs. Floyd Tubergen, Mrs. James De Good, Mrs. Roger Tubergen, Miss Shirley Tubergen, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Van Liere, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Deters; Miss Janice Deters, Mrs. Steve Deters; Mrs. Ted Martinie, Janice Deters; girls from Russ' Drive-in where the bride is employed.

THE PRESIDENT HAS SPOKEN

Throughout the world the top news today is: What will be the answer from Mr. Khrushchev?

News travels fast today with the modern means of communication so that the answers from many persons throughout the world also are moving fast. There are different opinions.

We move on to the next problem. Our Defense Department has already been placed on alert and this is the time for hard and sober thinking by all. We can only hope this will be possible.

Many people no doubt think that the Cuban problem has been allowed to move along the Castro path for much too long a period. This is all past and we are now living in the present.

As the day moves into the night we hope that people who are charged with making the decisions will be firm. With the present day scientific methods and equipment for waging destruction, we wonder if people going their daily ways have stopped to think just how destructive a hot war would be. As the world seems smaller by use of fast transportation, poor judgment would set off serious incidents that could multiply very fast.

The Holy Spirit
John 16:4b-15

By C. P. Dame

On Reformation Day Sunday, we will study about the Holy Spirit. Some one said that the Holy Spirit is referred to in the New Testament almost 300 times.

You can study this lesson by trying to consider all that the New Testament teaches about the Holy Spirit or you can limit yourself to the lesson text. My purpose in this brief discussion is to stick to the lesson text which tells much about Him and His ministry.

I, Jesus promised the coming of the Holy Spirit. We believe in a Triune God—God, the Father, our Creator, God the Son our Redeemer, and God, the Holy Spirit our Sanctifier.

The Holy Spirit is mentioned in the Old Testament and in the New Testament. In our lesson text Jesus tells much about the Holy Spirit. These words were spoken by Jesus to His disciples in the Upper Room, on the Thursday evening before His crucifixion. Jesus told His disciples He would soon leave them and return to His Father.

His words which brought grief to the disciples were followed by the promise of the coming of the Holy Spirit. Jesus said, "It is expedient for you that I go away." The Lord knew what was best for them.

If the Holy Spirit has a work to do in this world. It is His mission to "reprove the world of sin, and of righteousness, and of judgment." The Holy Spirit is doing that right now.

The words "sin," "righteousness," and "judgment" belong together. If there is no righteousness, there is no sin either and if no one commits sin there will be no judgment.

Transgression deserves judgment. Today judgment is exercised constantly but there will be a final day of judgment.

The greatest of all sins is unbelief. "Of sin, because they believe not in Me," so said Jesus. The rejection of Christ shows one to be a sinner.

The Holy Spirit convicts men of righteousness. By His resurrection and ascension Christ proved to be a righteous person who makes people righteous. The Holy Spirit also convicts the world of judgment.

History has vindicated Jesus and condemned those who crucified Him. Satan prompted the crucifiers and both are judged guilty of wrongdoing.

III. The Holy Spirit guides the church. Jesus told His disciples that the Holy Spirit would guide them in all truth. He taught the early church the meaning of the death and resurrection and ascension of Jesus and the preachers proclaimed this and they recorded it for us and today we may read it.

As we read the story in the New Testament we may ask for and secure the guidance of the Holy Spirit. During all the centuries the Church has been guided. We know more about Jesus Christ today than the early disciples because of the guidance of the Holy Spirit.

The mission of the Holy Spirit is to glorify Jesus. "He shall glorify Me." The Holy Spirit inspires the Church to exalt Jesus. Whenever the Church has Spirit-filled men and women in its ranks Christ is glorified but when the Spirit is ignored Christ is not honored.

Every Christian has one supreme mission—to glorify Jesus Christ. The more the Holy Spirit controls church members the more Christ is extolled.

HYPNOSIS IN 'BLITHE SPIRIT' — Madame Arcati, the medium, played by Virginia Mortenson (standing) tells Dr. Bradman, played by John Versteeg (right) to "concentrate on a space or nondescript color" in a scene from Noel Coward's comedy-fantasy, "Blithe Spirit," to be presented in the Hope College Little Theatre

Drama's Dress Rehearsal Almost Free From Flaws

"Don't be surprised. Anything can happen!"

With a few last-minute orders to his cast, Hope College Drama Director Dave Karsten, wearing jeans and a well seasoned sweatshirt and armed with that indispensable clipboard, signalled the final rehearsal of Noel Coward's "Blithe Spirit."

And the cast proceeded to give a near flawless production with nary an interruption during the three acts and seven scenes from the director.

This happened Tuesday night. Members of Holland Community Theatre, fresh from their own highly successful production of the musical "South Pacific," were guests of Hope College's Palette and Masque for the dress rehearsal of the English comedy which opens Thursday at 8:30 p.m. in the Little Theatre on Hope campus and continues Friday and Saturday nights.

"Blithe Spirit" is an enchanting romp in which the spirit of a former wife is conjured at a seance designed to provide an English author with background for a new novel. The fact that only the husband could see or hear the spirit led to all sorts of funny situations.

In keeping with the department's aim to experiment with all types of drama, this sophisticated play, cast in an English setting, provided a new outlet for the talents of an engaging group of theatre workers. A well designed set provided just the right setting for the flow of movement and the stage, limited at best, at no time appeared cluttered.

Doug McCullough played the urbane English writer much as Playwright Coward might have wished. There was just a hint of English accent but never overdone. Nancy Rees as his present wife and Suzan Atkinson as the ghost wife displayed pleasing contrasts in characterizations, and Virginia Mortenson all but stole the show with her hearty role as the lady medium. Jennifer McGilvray appeared as the jumpy housemaid and John Versteeg and Billie Chain as the doctor and his wife.

After the play, Community Theatre members were invited backstage to see at first hand the technical layout and visit the prop room as well as chat with the cast. Technical Director James De Young shared plaudits with Director Karsten.

Ottawa County Farm News

By Richard Machiele
Extension Agent, Agriculture

Carl Hoyt, district marketing agent in poultry, had some interesting figures this past week regarding the size of laying flocks in the Western Michigan area when he compared 1954 and 1959 figures on number of farms with flocks of less than 800 layers.

This number has been cut almost in half over a five year period. The same is true with egg sales from farms with 800 or less hens. In 1959 half as many eggs were produced from small laying flocks as in 1954.

Comparing total eggs sold, in 1959 we find the smaller farms only produced one-third of the eggs produced nationally. This indicates that there are fewer small flocks contributing fewer eggs to the national sales figure. Another important factor was that egg consumption has decreased.

In 1955 the per capita egg consumption was 371, while in 1960 it had dropped to 334. However, there is a bright spot in the picture—that consumption of poultry meat has been rising steadily, and when the gains made are compared to other meats, poultry by far exceeds all others.

Recently we had opportunity to look at several lawns in the Holland-Zeeland area where homeowners are concerned about a grass that has entered their lawns some time in the past several years.

This particular grass is called Rough Creeping Bent. This grass is one either contained in some of the cheaper seed mixtures, or it is blown in from other areas. It does give lawns a rough appearance and in most cases has serious matting of dead grass below, also it will crowd out better grass.

Nothing much can be done except to remove it if it is confined to small areas, and reseeding with better grass. This grass has an appeal in name only in that golf greens are a kind of bent grass but of an entirely different type.

In a note from E. C. Rossman of Michigan State University, he warns farmers to harvest corn as soon as possible because of conditions showing up in Michigan cornfields. This condition is a disease called stalk rot. He claims that this condition is brought about by dry summer weather, early frost and leaf blights. Early drying of corn makes it very susceptible to stalk rot fungi.

We would like to call attention once again to the 4-H Club livestock project which is being carried on this winter in Ottawa County. This is a swine and beef feeding project. We would be interested in hearing from any 4-H member or prospective member who would like to enter this project. Rules and regulations are available in either of our offices, and we will send them to anyone requesting them.

In checking the quarantined herds in the county we find there are still six herds quarantined with brucellosis, and at the present time two herds quarantined with TB. It seems that can't narrow it down here in the county to less than 6.

I'm sure farmers with quarantined herds are making every effort to eliminate brucellosis. In regard to TB, I think many of our people know that Ottawa County is again being tested and most likely there will be a few more quarantined herds when the testing is completed.

We have just received the bill of sale forms for Christmas trees and boughs from the Michigan Department of Agriculture, Division of Plant Industry, for any Ottawa County growers who need this form. Willard A. Heckendorf of the First National Bank of Chicago was the speaker at the meeting of the Exchange Club Monday noon.

Heckendorf's talk dealt primarily with the European Common Market and its effect on the United States economy. When the European Common Market was formed many economists thought it would not succeed but it has become the world's third most important economic community, with a population of 170,000,000. The United Kingdom has decided it can no longer stay out of it and has sought membership in it.

The members of the Common Market have removed the trade barriers with member nations. Duties and tariffs were cut by 40 per cent by 1962 with the result that since 1958 foreign trade has increased 42 per cent. For some time this increase in trade caused an increase in the flow of gold from the United States. This has been checked until it no longer poses any great threat to the national economy, although we must still reduce the outward flow of gold and balance our international payments, he said.

George Swieringa introduced the speaker. The Rev. Russell Van Bunde inducted into the club a new member, Gerald L. Tillema. President Ed Lindgren presided.

Passes Help Dutch Take 26-7 Victory

CHARLESTON, Ill. — Snapping a four-game losing streak with a potent display of aerial power, Hope College's football team whipped Eastern Illinois University, 26-7 before 5,000 fans here Saturday.

The Flying Dutchmen struck three times through the air on the passing arm of senior Don Mitchell and the pass receiving of freshman Bill Hultgren.

Hope's other touchdown was also set up on two passes covering 49 yards from Mitchell to senior end Jon Schoon, presently 16th in the nation among small college pass receivers.

Eastern Illinois pleased is Homecoming through by scoring first early in the second quarter after a scoreless first period. But after the touchdown, Hope dominated the play the rest of the game.

Rod Butler slashed the line for three yards for Eastern's touchdown. The extra point was kicked. The touchdown climaxed a drive that started around midfield when the Panthers intercepted a Hope pass.

The winners scored twice in the second quarter, taking the lead after the first touchdown. Mitchell hit Hultgren on a five-yard pass for the tying touchdown and Gary Teall put Hope ahead as he ran for the two points.

Eastern fumbled the kickoff and end Tom Cousineau recovered on the Panthers' 40. On the second scrimmage play Mitchell threw to Hultgren on a 40-yard play and a touchdown. A pass attempt on the extra point failed and Hope led 14-7 at the half.

Teall scored from a yard out for Hope's third tally after the score had been set up on two consecutive passes from Mitchell to Schoon on the one-yard line. The extra point was missed.

Leading 20-7 in the third quarter, Hope's defense clamped Eastern's final scoring threat. The Panthers drove to the Hope 19 where the Dutchmen held.

The fourth down pass was completed but the receiver was stopped short of the first down and Hope took over and moved the ball out of its own territory.

With 10 seconds remaining in the game Hope scored again. This aerial covered 23 yards from Mitchell to Hultgren, a Dearborn Edsel Ford 440-yard champion. The extra point failed.

Mitchell, who started his first game last week against Olivet after shining in a losing effort as a reserve quarterback against Kalamazoo, again had a fine day and pleased with his passing accuracy.

The West New York, N. J. senior completed 11 of 25 passes for 185 yards. Hultgren grabbed four of the tosses for 89 yards while Schoon had two for 49 yards. Schoon has now caught 19 passes for 354 yards.

Defensive standout Capt. Jim Bultman pushed into offensive service because of an injury to freshman halfback Bill Keur, was the leading groundgainer. He picked up 68 yards in 17 carries.

Coach Russ De Vette reported his team "was tough defensively" and "continued to improve." "I think we've jelled," De Vette said after the win.

The Flying Dutchmen face three MIAs today to conclude the season. Hope plays at Adrian next Saturday at 2 p.m., then hosts Alma and concludes at Albion. The Dutchmen have a 2-4 record. Eastern is 1-4.

Local Woman Returns From CBE Session

Mrs. John L. Bouman, of 2499 Lakeshore Dr., has returned from Washington, D. C., where she attended the annual meeting of the Council for Basic Education in Willard Hotel Saturday.

Mrs. Bouman, who was appointed to a three-year term on the CBE senate, was recognized for having prepared a seven-year index of CBE bulletins.

An address on "Our Schools and the Federal Government" by Dr. Sterling McMurrin, head of the U. S. Office of Education this year, said historically America has never had a monolithic structure of education and such a creation, regardless of success elsewhere, would be disastrous for it would destroy the kind of independence both public and private schools now have.

Dr. McMurrin said many people worry about federal control but fail to remember that even more disastrous would be a monolithic structure which could come about quite separate from federal control through national organizations which can and do exert tremendous influence on legislatures and on schools.

In discussing problems facing American schools, Dr. McMurrin said superficial remedies will do little to help the situation. "Basically, we must work to change the cultural framework which is anti-intellectual. The problem is one of defining the purpose of the human intellect. To set class standards at an average or median level is not democratic and is quite the contrary."

"In the past this idea that equality counts for everything has produced a tendency to bring about a leveling and a mediocrity that we must now correct. A genuine democracy is a society in which the intellectual qualities and abilities of a people may be developed to the highest degree possible," he said.

Mortimer Smith, executive director of the Council for Basic Education, said there is a growing awareness in many schools that changes must be made in the method of teaching reading if this country is to shrug off a growing illiteracy.

Elected to the board of directors were Paxton Blair, solicitor general of New York State; Mrs. Barry Bingham, vice president of the Louisville Courier-Journal and Times, and John F. Latimer, associate dean of faculties at George Washington University.

Alaska's tremendous geographic area contains vast potential resources. While gold mining, the state's best known industry, has nearly died out, huge oil reserves are believed present and just beginning to be tapped.

A prevalent image of Alaska is that this is a land of ice and snow. "Actually," Mr. Exo states, "the southeastern panhandle and most of the southern coastal area has a climate little different from that of Holland, except for a heavier rainfall." Juneau's record low temperature is -41 degrees. In summer it rarely goes above 75 degrees. This temperate climate is caused by the Japanese current, which flows easterly along the Gulf of Alaska and then down toward Washington and Oregon.

Mr. Exo and his wife and three year old son drove over the Alaska Highway from Madison, Wis., late in July, after visiting his mother in Holland. This 3,600 mile trip, made in a camper bus, took two weeks on a leisurely itinerary through some of North America's most beautiful parks—Glacier National Park in Montana, Banff and Lake Louise in Alberta, and Jasper National Park in Alberta, also. The only mishap was one flat tire.

Muskegon Man Held In Allegan

Sheriff Captures Man Following Shooting Of Taxi Cab Driver

ALLEGAN — A 22-year-old Muskegon man, identified as Thomas McCann, was held in Allegan county jail Saturday following a series of wild incidents which included shooting a taxi driver, ditching his cab and eluding officers in a search in the rain.

Sheriff Harry Smith and four Allegan deputies closed in on the man at 9:15 a.m. in a woods between Hamilton and Overisel only a short distance from where the cab was found. The man had stashed his 30-30 rifle behind a stump 30 feet away and was springing for it when Deputies Don Forster and John Atkins apprehended him. Others in the sheriff's party were Roy Ashley and Howard Mahikian. State police also had been alerted.

Events started at 5 a.m. Saturday when a cab driver, Thorton Sweet, about 36, Muskegon, was hailed by McCann and asked to drive him to Hamilton for some hunting.

About three miles from Hamilton on 47th St., McCann told Sweet to stop the cab and fired at his face twice, one shot missing him and another making an 1/8 inch crease in the left cheek.

Sweet quickly fled the scene and the other man took the cab and drove it for about a block, ending in a ditch. He then took to the woods and was apprehended about a quarter mile from the ditched car.

At first belligerent, the man then calmed down and later refused to talk. Before he "calmed up" he told deputies he had been in an auto accident last February and was wearing a heavy back brace. Deputies got in touch with a Muskegon neurologist whose card McCann had on his person. The neurologist said he had been treating him for a back injury.

Besides the new 30-30 rifle, McCann had two new small hunting axes in holsters and three boxes of shells. There was a bundle of receipts and cash register tapes from a Muskegon Heights hardware store leading deputies to speculate whether the hunting gear might have been stolen.

Sheriff Smith said attempts to learn more from the sullen man would be made this afternoon. The Allegan prosecutor will be consulted before charges are made.

The cab driver, who identified McCann as the man who shot him, was treated for facial wounds in Allegan Health Center.

Allegan Attorney Leo Hoffman Blasts Water Pollution Work

ALLEGAN — Abolition of the state Water Resources Commission was suggested as one answer to Kalamazoo River pollution problems by Leo W. Hoffman, Allegan attorney and long-time leader in the fight against industrial pollution of the stream, as he testified before the senate conservation committee here Monday afternoon.

Hoffman said that replacement of the commission by "one man — someone like Milton Adams (retired WRC director) —" might bring a halt to "all these delays on the part of the paper mills."

Hoffman presented the committee with petitions urging immediate action on river clean-up signed by nearly 1,800 Allegan area residents at a hearing conducted under the chairmanship of Senator Frederic Hilbert (R-Wayland) in the meeting room of the Allegan County Building.

Other members of the senate conservation committee on hand were Senators Harry Litowich, of Benton Harbor, and Perry Green of Grand Rapids. Sitting in was Representative Martin Buth, also of Grand Rapids, a member of the House conservation committee.

Hilbert said the purpose of the hearing was "information seeking — we aren't interested in putting anyone on the pan."

River pollution, use of Pittman-Roberts Funds and condition of Allegan State Forest Campgrounds were the three main concerns of the committee in its visit to the Allegan area, Hilbert said.

But as far as the more than 50 Allegan county residents who attended the hearing was concerned, river pollution was the main topic.

Guy Teed, Allegan, former county sheriff and a leader since the 1920's in the fight against river pollution, told the committee that "the old Stream Control Commission and its successor, the Water Resources Commission, have held 58 different meetings regarding the condition of the Kalamazoo river since 1929 — and the stream is more seriously polluted now than it was then."

Teed, who said he made his first trip to Lansing in 1930 to urge that pollution be halted, told the committee that "the cities on the river have done their part — the industries have not."

Pointing out that Allegan county has 120 miles of Kalamazoo river shoreline within its borders, Teed said "there hasn't been a home built on the banks of this stream for 20 years. Thousands of people have been deprived of a great natural resource, a place to swim, to fish and to build their homes. The Kalamazoo river is now and has been for a quarter of a century an 'open sewer', a hazard to our health. Our people have been robbed of a great potential for attracting other industries which require clean water, of a share of the expanding tourist and resort industry and of a virtually unlimited area for new home development," he charged.

Jack Howes, representing District 5 of the Michigan United Conservation Clubs, said he felt the Water Resources Commission was "doing its best with a limited staff and the funds it had available."

Senator Litowich expressed the opinion that "it's up to the residents of this area to decide between the possible loss of the paper industry or the utilization of this great resource."

Senator Green said he felt "there are plenty of laws on the books to control the problem — but there has been too much interference from local interests."

Hoffman said that "it is the WRC — not its staff — which has consistently failed to take the drastic action required to eliminate pollution. The paper mills would not have to leave," he said, "in fact, there isn't any state they could move to where they wouldn't be required to treat their waste as well or better than we are asking them to do here."

Hoffman recalled that in 1953 he had decided to test the anti-pollution laws and attempted to obtain a warrant from then Prosecuting Attorney Dwight Cheever who refused to authorize the warrant, citing the president of the Otsego Falls Paper Company. Hoffman said that when he obtained the warrant, the prosecutor refused to prosecute the case. And when he appealed to the state attorney general, "they took no action and the issue died."

Ralph Purdy, WRC staff member, testified that present anti-pollution laws were "enforceable," adding that delays had resulted because the commission had given the paper mills "every opportunity for voluntary action."

"On the Kalamazoo river we have the highest concentration of deinking mills anywhere in the world — and we have been slow in finding the answers to some highly technical problems," he said.

He said the commission envisioned the time when Kalamazoo river pollution would be reduced to "well below the nuisance level down as far as Plainwell and to a much better point from the Trowbridge dam on down."

The committee spent the morning touring the Allegan State Forest and the river valley area in company with Guy Teed, State Forester Paul Schroeder and Charles Friley, biologist in charge of the Swan Creek Wildlife Experimental Station.

Doug McCullough plays the lead role as novelist Charles Condomine, who has invited to his country home a lady medium, Virginia Mortensen, in order to learn the language of the occult.

Little do Charles and his second wife, Ruth, Nancy Rees, realize, however, that Charles' first wife, Elvira, Susan Atkinson, will return in "spirit." But having a first wife at the country home is not the biggest problem — Charles is the only one who can see or hear her.

When Elvira decides that she would be happier in the spirit world than in the flesh, she is resurrected.

Drama to Open Allegan Season

ALLEGAN — Audiences will be encouraged to hiss the villain and cheer the hero when the Allegan Community Players begin their 1962-63 season with an old-fashioned melodrama "A Fate Worse Than Death" or "Adrift on Life's Sea." Three performances are scheduled for Thursday afternoon and Friday and Saturday evenings.

Elaborate preparations have been made to create the right atmosphere for this period show. Local attics have been raided for costumes and furnishings and the asbestos curtain once used in Streeter's Opera House here at the turn of the century, has been renovated to provide an authentic backdrop.

The old-time aura will be enhanced by player piano music, hawkers selling candy with "a prize in every package," and "olios" (special numbers between the acts).

Veterans of the Allegan stage, Andra Schelhas and Walter Keyes have prominent roles in the current production. Mrs. Schelhas as director and Keyes who as "Rodney Ramagato," heads a cast of 11.

Nora Kovach and Istvan Rabovsky

Dance Team Will Perform Thursday in Civic Center

The Holland Community Concert series will open its 1962-63 season Thursday with a dance recital at 8:15 p.m. in Civic Center by Nora Kovach and Istvan Rabovsky, two of the world's most exciting ballet dancers who will display their spectacular technique learned behind the Iron Curtain in the famous schools of Leningrad, Moscow and Budapest. With their small company, they will be seen in excerpts from the classics.

Kovach and Rabovsky, who appeared in Holland about six years ago, recently returned from New Zealand where they guest starred with the New Zealand Ballet company. Married since 1952, they left Communist land where they were stars by taking a voluntary subway ride back in 1953 from East Berlin to West Berlin.

Acclaimed in the west as well as the east, they co-authored a book, "Leap Through the Curtain," and appeared in a U.S. State department documentary film highlighting their flight from east to west.

Since they have left East Berlin with only the clothes on their back, time and money was needed to acquire new costumes and to establish their dance reputation. They had finally attained this goal upon departing Europe for the United States aboard the Andrea Doria heading for a concert series on these shores.

However, the Andrea Doria's fatal crash, losing all but its passengers, changed their plans. With all their newly acquired possessions aboard the ship and insurance still an unknown word to them, the two had to begin again. They soon became familiar sights of the nightclub circuit as they recouped their losses in order to reembar on a concert tour.

Budapest was the birth city of both and the Budapest State Opera Ballet provided their meeting and courting opportunities. Nora came from a well-to-do family and entered ballet school of the Budapest Opera Ballet at the age of eight. Istvan, on the other hand, came from the wrong side of the tracks, and earned his own living as a boy. At 11, he won a scholarship to ballet school but had to continue selling his newspapers in order to eat.

The one great regret of Nora Kovach in fleeing to the West was leaving her mother behind in Budapest. This was solved during a 1958 South American tour when the invalid daughter of the President of Brazil pleaded with her father to intercede with Khrushchev to permit Nora's mother to come to the U.S.A. Six weeks later, Mrs. Kovach arrived at Idlewild airport in New York City.

The dance team appears with two assisting dancers and pianist in their concert.

Admission is by membership card only.

Also participating in the program will be a brass quartet from Central Michigan University and the Chancel Choir of the Central Reformed Church. Dr. Cyril E. Barker, the church's Minister of Music, will be the organist.

Numbers which the Hope group will perform along with Dr. Barker, include "Wonderful Love" by Albert J. Fillmore, and two compositions by Gustav Holst based on Psalms 86 and 148.

The first number, composed especially for the festival, features the organ and is a variation of an American folk hymn of 1835. Performing with the ensemble in the second number will be Sarah Stopples, soprano, and Jack De Vos, tenor.

All of the Hope musicians are students of Dr. Morrette L. Rider, professor of music, and members of the Symphonette which Dr. Rider directs.

Work Starts in Spring On New Hope Building

Progress toward a new $850,000 physics-mathematics building at Hope College was accelerated today with the announcement that the Hope Board of Trustees last Friday gave the go-ahead on the new building.

Board members instructed the administration to proceed with the building as "rapidly as possible," Dr. Irwin J. Lubbers, Hope president, said today.

Working drawings of the plans will be completed by Ralph Calder and Associates, Detroit architectural firm. Bids will then be sought for construction on the building.

Dr. Lubbers said construction would begin in the spring of 1963 and the building will be ready for occupancy in September, 1964. It will be erected directly west of the Van Zoeren Library on Graves Place, between College and Central Aves.

The physics-mathematics building is part of a $1 million project that included the enlargement of the main heating plant. The heating plant, located east of Carnegie-Schouten gym, will be enlarged to include four boilers. It presently houses two boilers.

The new building is the third in the college's "Looking Ahead With Hope" $2,000,000 development campaign. It will be similar in architecture to the Van Zoeren library completed in 1961.

The library was the first project followed by the acquisition and development of 25 acres of land two blocks east of the campus for athletic purposes.

The new facility will be L-shaped, the east-west section of the building having three levels. The north-south portion will extend toward Graves Place on the extreme west end of the property. This part of the structure will house two lecture halls.

The two sections of the building will be joined by a glass-enclosed lobby. The ground floor will house a mechanical drawing room, radiation lab, dark room, lavatory facilities, storage rooms and mechanical equipment rooms.

A receiving room, reading room, storage room, two general physics labs, one advanced physics lab, four project rooms and lavatory facilities will be included on the first floor.

A total of 12 faculty offices, a conference room, electronics lab, five classrooms, four smaller labs and lavatory facilities will be on the second floor.

The exterior will see the use of solar screening, light yellow brick and glass walls with stone trim. The physics department is presently housed in the science building and the room vacated will be taken over by the chemistry and biology departments.
