UNITED FUND GOES OVER THE TOP

Local Gifts Exceed Goal By $6,600

$137,931 Total
Is 105 Per Cent
Of Assigned Goal

News that the Greater Holland United Fund-Red Cross campaign has gone over the top this year for the eighth consecutive year was greeted with enthusiasm at a Victory Breakfast this morning in Hotel Warm Friend.

Today's grand total of gifts and pledges amounted to $137,931.30 or 105 per cent of the $131,250 campaign goal. Some reports are yet to be received. Three of the seven divisions exceeded quotas.

Campaign Director Raymond J. Helder who marked his birthday anniversary today said it was the finest birthday present he could ask for. A birthday cake with lighted candles was brought into the room. The fact that three trick candles kept bursting into flame added a fine note to the candle blowing ceremony. Helder and his co-workers had chocolate cake for dessert.

In expressing thanks to the 1,000 volunteer workers and to the generosity of local citizens and business firms, Helder and his vice chairman, Carl J. Harrington, also recognized the efforts of campaign workers in previous years who helped set the stage for an efficient program.

"Without the fine work our predecessors have done through the years, we would not have been able to reach our goal in record time," Helder said.

He also extended special thanks to the newspaper and radio stations and to campaign auditors Simon Sybesma and Herman Vander Leek who were assisted by the Holland chapter of the American Society of Women Accountants. Red Cross Gray Ladies also were recognized for their aid in assembling supplies and distributing posters.

Gordon Van Putten, UF president, and Harold Langejans, chairman of the Ottawa Red Cross, expressed heartfelt thanks for this year's exceptional record.

through which is seen majestic Windmill De Zwaan, the towering imported mill brought here two years ago from Vinkel, the Netherlands. The framed bond will hang on the wall in the posthouse. Windmill Island closes this weekend for the season. (Sentinel photo)

Windmill Island Pays First Bonds

Windmill Island has paid off its first bonds amounting to $10,000.

And the first bond for $1,000 thus paid has been framed and now hangs on the wall in the posthouse. The other nine are held by the city auditor.

It was approximately two years ago that the City of Holland offered for sale $450,000 in revenue bonds which were sold to Goodbody and Co., a Detroit bond firm. Goodbody sold the bonds to various investors, insurance companies and people interested in tax exempt municipal bonds. No record is kept of individual buyers.

Union Bank and Trust Co. of Grand Rapids is the paying agent for the Windmill Island bonds, paying holders of the bonds the principal and interest. After payment, the bonds and coupons are returned to the issuer.

Windmill Island will close this weekend after a successful season which has seen several additions and improvements to this cultural development centered about the 200-year-old Windmill De Zwaan which was torn down near Vinkel in the Netherlands two years ago and brought to Holland, Mich.

Although late in the tourist season, this year's schedule was arranged so that parents of Hope College students attending Mom and Dad's Day on campus could visit Windmill Island. Hours on Saturday will be 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Sunday 11:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.

To date, attendance at the Island this year has brought in approximately $100,000 representing about 67,000 adults and 26,000 children. This revenue is about $3,000 less than last year, but operating expenses are lower, resulting in a higher net profit. After the closing, the books will be balanced and final inventory made, according to City Auditor John Fonger.

Capital improvements this year were the addition of Little Netherlands, a miniature Dutch village, and establishment of an animal kingdom with sheep, goats, fawns, peacocks, ducks, a swan and assorted birds. New floral plantings and new shrubbery and trees also were planted under the supervision of Jaap de Blecourt, manager and head gardener.

Troopers Undergo Extensive Police Training

Standards For Recruit Set High

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Sentinel reporter James De Pree recently spent a day going through a training at the Michigan State Police training school in East Lansing.)

By James De Pree
EAST LANSING — Men, are you between the ages of 21 and 30, looking for a challenging career? Then the Michigan State Police might be what you are looking for.

A State Trooper is a well trained law officer. At training school in East Lansing, the recruit undergoes extensive police training.

The day for the recruit starts at 5:15 a.m. with extensive physical training. This includes push-ups, squat thrusts, shoulder rolls, leg raises and is concluded with a run that varies from about one to two miles.

Following physical training the men are fed in the school's cafeteria. It isn't surprising to see trays piled high with food.

The morning activities consist of various classes. The recruits learn history and government of Michigan, psychology, motor vehicle laws, first aid and many other things.

Sgt. Robert Earhart of the training bureau said that two professors from Michigan State University's School of Police Administration assist in instructing the recruits. Sgt. Earhart has a B.A. degree in sociology and a masters in Police Administration.

The first two weeks of the school are concerned with theory and concept only. After the first two weeks, the mornings are used for the study of concepts and the afternoon for techniques.

Lt. W. W. Stevens, training division commanding officer, explained the state police looks for the following things in a recruit: Physical capabilities, his ability to understand people, mature judgement, control of temper, and his capability of receiving knowledge and retaining it.

Lt. Stevens said the men are trained as a unit so they can fit into any of the 56 posts in the state. The recruit must pass all examinations with a score of 80 or better. Lt. Stevens said that every man accepted is capable of passing the recruit school.

"The high standards are set because the police officer must be right," Lt. Stevens pointed out.

In the afternoons the recruit learns the techniques of water safety, firearms, report preparation, defensive tactics and patrol techniques.

Lt. Stevens said the school has recently been increased from eight weeks to eleven. He said a total change has been made in the school's concept. The law aspects have been lengthened, as well as police defensive driving. The main change however, has been the education aspect.

During the 11-week training period the men receive about 300 hours of training. They are then assigned to a post and placed on probation for six months. Upon completion of the probationary period the men return to school for five weeks of advanced training.

By the time a recruit is made a confirmed trooper he has had about 1,000 hours of training. The cost of training one man is about $3,800 according to Lt. Stevens.

Lt. Col. M. G. Kaufman stated the present strength of the State Police is 1,368 not including the present recruit school. Kaufman said anyone in the school is a dedicated officer. "They are in the work because they like it," he said.

Kaufman added the men being trained now are as good, if not better, than recruits of schools before them. He said married men usually have the hardest time adjusting.

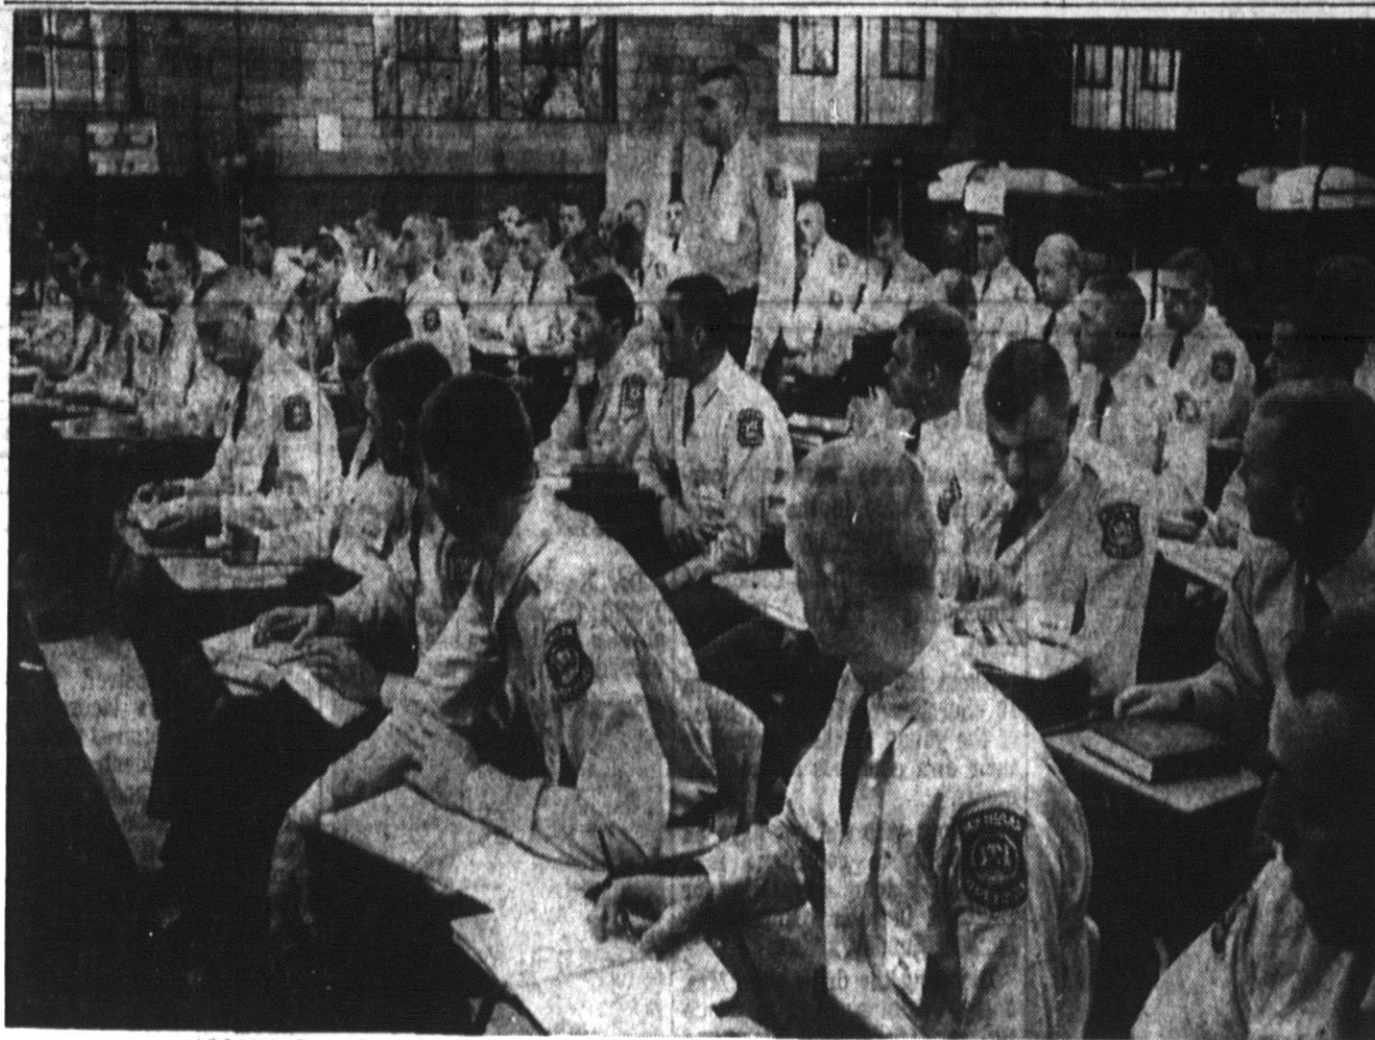

Wives are an important factor, Kaufman admitted, but if they have their husband's interest at heart, there is usually no problem.

Cpl. Raymond Cook of the training division said the following qualifications must be met to become eligible for recruit school: Age 21-30, height not under 5 feet 9 inches, weight proportional to height, graduate of high school, clean record and at least 20/30 vision in each eye without glasses, corrected to 20/20 with glasses.

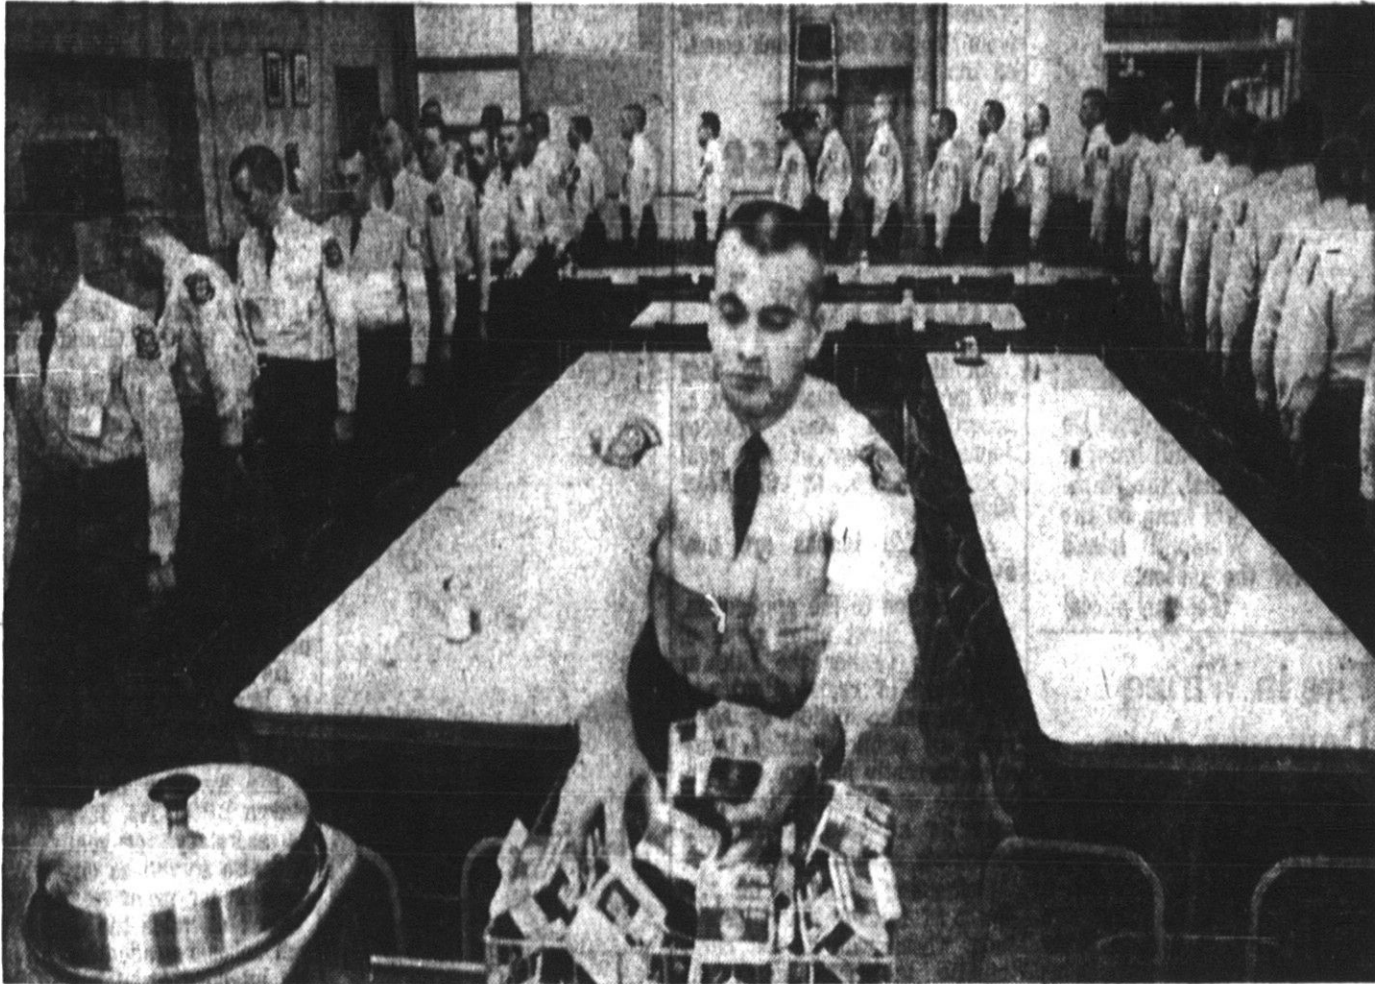

Men feeling they meet the qualifications and are interested in the State Police should contact their nearest State Police Post for further information.

Troopers pay starts at $6,368 and increases to $8,936 within six years.

The Michigan State Police areas are divided into eight districts with district headquarters at East Lansing, Detroit, Bay City, Jackson, Paw Paw, Rockford, Traverse City and Marquette. Frederick E. Davis is state police commissioner.

Couple Given Title In Court Opinion

GRAND HAVEN — George Lippinga and his wife, living in Port Sheldon township, were awarded a judgment in Ottawa Circuit Court Monday in their suit with the county road commissioners.

On May 11, 1965, the couple filed a suit in Circuit Court, seeking sole title to land on their farm in the plaintiffs' name and declaring that no public road exists at this location.

The Lippingas sought to enjoin the county from working on the alleged county road, along which is located blueberry bushes and an outbuilding. Monday an opinion was filed by Judge Raymond L. Smith, awarding the judgment for the plaintiffs.

Sunday School Lesson

Sunday, Oct. 30
Jeremiah the Reluctant Prophet
Jeremiah 1:1-10
By C. P. Dame

Oct. 30 is Reformation Day Sunday when we remember how Martin Luther nailed his ninety-five theses on the door of a church in Wittenberg and ushered in the Reformation era. On this Sunday we begin a series of five lessons on Jeremiah, an unpopular prophet, whose courage is an example to all lovers of the Lord and the gospel.

I. God prepares His workers. Jeremiah was born in Anathoth, a village located a few miles from Jerusalem where many priests lived. Jeremiah came from a priestly family, his father Hilkiah, meaning, "The Lord is my portion" was a priest.

Today we would say that Jeremiah was born in a parsonage. Jeremiah lived in troublesome times. He was born in 650 B. C. when the wicked reign of Manasseh was ending. Next Ammon ruled shortly and then the godly Josiah whose death in battle sorrowed the devout deeply. In 606 B. C. Babylon destroyed Nineveh and in 605 B. C. Babylon defeated Egypt and in 586 B. C. Babylon captured Jerusalem and exiled many Hebrews to Babylon, Jeremiah prophesied from 626 to 586 B. C.

Before Jeremiah was born he was ordained to the prophetic ministry. God told him four things: "I knew thee. I sanctified thee. I have appointed thee." God still prepares workers. Those whom He prepares will be made conscious of it.

II. God calls workers. "Then said I, Ah, Lord God! Behold I cannot speak; for I am a child, 'or only a youth. These words do not reveal unwillingness but weakness, a feeling of inadequacy. God told Jeremiah to go to all to whom He would send him and speak to them whatever He would command. And the young man did. He never forgot his call. God impressed upon his mind that He who had all authority and power gave the orders and hence he should fearlessly obey.

III. God qualifies the workers. He calls. "Then the Lord put forth His hand and touched my mouth." Note the words, "Behold, I have put My words into thy mouth. Jeremiah had an unforgettable religious experience. The prophet got a message from God and he gave that, not his own notions or opinions. The words, "See, I have set thee over nations and over kingdoms, to root out, and to pull down, and to destroy, and to throw down and build and to plant" set forth the principle that God's word has two results — it destroys and builds up.

Nations are judged by the word of God. Moral and spiritual principles determine the destiny of people and nations. The truths God's prophets proclaim save or crush nations. The gospel is a savor of death to death and life to life. God gave the Church the message of salvation and the principles for families, individuals, people and nations by which to live. When they are heeded life follows, when ignored, death comes. Why die?

It is true that when you tell a child to break a law, it is difficult to tell him not to break another. But isn't this dealing only with the symptoms and not the disease? Isn't it necessary to get beyond this to where the law has become less than honored in the hands of those who have been given the duty to uphold it?

Certainly the evasion of justice as practiced by Rep. Powell is no inspiration to honesty. The actions of members of the Michigan legislature will hardly insure regard for law. And a careless regard for the rights of all the people, including minority groups, will ultimately bring about a reaction.

We think Superintendent Phillips has a point, but we would want to get beyond the obvious to the root of the problem. And ultimately this will indict all of us. If we insist we are a nation under law, we certainly have a problem. We had better get at that business.

Speaker Accents U.N. Observance

"The United Nations has made the difference between an uneasy peace with which the world has lived and a third world war," Dr. Clark Eichelberger, vice president of the United Nations Association of the United States, said as he addressed an audience of college students and area residents Monday.

The address which was given in Dimmet Memorial Chapel was arranged in observance of United Nations Day Monday as one of Hope College's Cultural Affairs programs.

"Whether or not at any time some nations will ignore the United Nations charter, the majority has been held together through the United Nations and will continue to stand ready to prevent a third world war."

"The continued effectiveness of this unity," he said, "will be determined by public opinion."

In discussing the major items on the United Nations agenda, Dr. Eichelberger said one of the big questions deals with the effort of South Africa to examine its mandate of Southwest Africa which is a direct violation of the whole mandate. The upholding of such a violation is, to the African mind, a symbol of colonialism, he said. Other items include the question of the underprivileged peoples of the world — which represents a growing gap between the "haves" and the "have-nots" — and the question of United Nations financing.

"The United Nations suffers financial embarrassment because of its deficit because some nations have refused to pay for their peace-keeping expenses," the speaker said. Dr. Eichelberger also mentioned two items that are being considered by the United Nations.

ditions which are not formally included in the agenda.

The first is the question of Viet Nam and the second is whether or not U Thant will remain secretary general of the United Nations.

The U.N. is anxious to have U Thant stay on, the speaker said, and so refuses another candidate. U Thant will not stay on Eichelberger added, if he doesn't feel that the great powers are willing to be more flexible in policies that will permit him to advance the United Nations in its policy.

"The greatest tribute that can be said of the United Nations today," he concluded, "is that it helped the world meet great revolutionary forces and that it has been a deciding factor in preventing the crystallization of a third world war."

The speaker was introduced by the Rev. William Hillegonds, chaplain at Hope College.

Captain Takes Command Aboard South American

Although the cruise season for the S.S. South American ended in September there's still plenty of work for her genial captain, Joseph Testyon.

After the Great Lakes cruise ship docked at the Georgian Bay Lines dock on 16th St. Sept. 24, Testyon and his 35-man crew began repairing, painting, cleaning and shaping up the ship. The main part of the fall maintenance work will be completed by early November, although a few men work and keep watch on the vessel through the winter.

When the repair work is completed Testyon still has another big task. He has a couple of hundred letters, cards, telegrams and notes of congratulations to answer which were sent him when he became captain of the ship on July 20.

The message came from former passengers, other seamen, company executives and public officials who Testyon had befriended in his 39 years with the Georgian Bay Lines. One card came from owners of a fudge shop on Mackinac Island where Testyon used to help out during layovers on the island. Another came from the mayor of Livonia, Mich.

Two nuns, Sister Geraldine and Sister Dorothea of the Ursulines of Youngstown, Ohio, whom the captain befriended on a trip this summer gathered all the messages together in a scrapbook.

Testyon, 52, who lives in Chicago and has a cottage in the Port Sheldon area took command in a "change of command ceremony in the harbor of Duluth, Minn. More than 300 persons lined the decks of the vessel and stood on the docks as J. E. Goebel, president of the Georgian Bay Lines, administered the oath of command.

Flags which flew over the United States Capitol Building were presented to the outgoing captain and the new captain at the ceremony. Testyon's flag was presented by Illinois Senator Everett M. Dirksen and the outgoing captain, Bernard T. Olson, received his flag from Senator William Proxmire of Wisconsin.

Testyon also was given a special Bible that was used in administering the oath of office. The Bible has covers of native olive wood from the hills of Judea. A mariner's cross is carved on the front cover of the Bible.

The former captain retired at his own request to the post

Red Cross Certificate Goes to UF

Harold Langejans, chairman of the Ottawa county chapter of the American Red Cross, presented a certificate of appreciation from National Red Cross to the Greater Holland United Fund at a meeting Thursday.

The certificate was in recognition of generous response and outstanding support of the special emergency Red Cross campaign last March. United Fund provided $2,051 representing Holland's fair share in a national emergency campaign for $9 million to provide aid for victims of Hurricane Betsy and other disasters, as well as expanded service requirements to the armed forces.

Gordon Van Putten, president of United Fund accepted the award and expressed sincere thanks to all United Fund contributors who made this special allocation possible.

of second mate on the ship.

Testyon's rise to captain is a "it could only happen in America" type story. The short, stocky captain started with the company as a cabin boy in 1917. He's worked for the firm ever since, and served aboard the old S. S. Alabama and the S. S. North American as well as working on the South American.

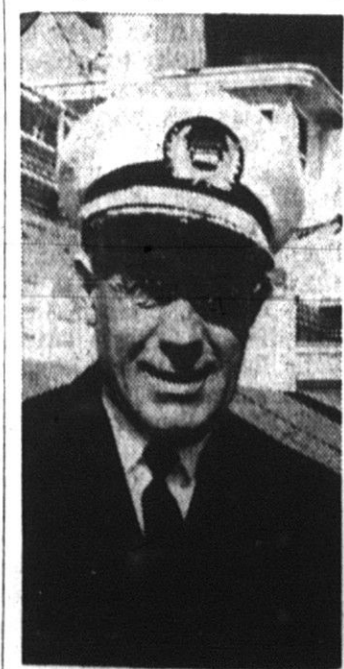

As captain he believes in "working with the men and making them feel they're a part of the ship." When you do this he said they take pride in the ship and do a better job.

Testyon is on a first name basis with most of the crew. Many crewman have worked on the South American for many years.

"There's a lot of responsibility in being captain," Testyon said.

"You have to look out for 700 persons (528 passengers and 170 crew members), and operate a $3,000,000 ship."

Testyon says he doesn't let the responsibilities get him down, however.

Unfortunately, his job as captain of the South American will be short-lived. The 50-year-old ship has only two more seasons before it is drydocked.

Because of new fire standards passed by Congress last November the cruise ship will not be allowed to operate as it is now after Nov. 1, 1968. Testyon said Goebel said it would cost too much to revamp the ship to meet the new federal standards.

The company, however, does hope to buy another cruise ship which meets the fire standards to continue the Great Lakes circle tours.

County Lists First Hunting Fatality

GRAND HAVEN — Ottawa county's first fatal hunting accident of the season was recorded late Saturday afternoon when Cletus Allen Peterson, 31, Wyoming, Mich., accidentally shot himself while hunting pheasant on an island in Grand River at the foot of 132nd Ave. in Robinson township.

Peterson had told his four hunting companions who remained on the mainland that he had seen some pheasants in the area of the island and got into a boat alone, putting his 12 gauge shotgun in the bottom of the boat.

It is believed in getting out of the boat he took the gun by the barrel and the hammer caught on a boat seat, discharging into the right side of his chest.

Sgt. Jack Rosema of the sheriff's department brought the victim's body ashore and Dr. John H. Kitchel of Grand Haven served as medical examiner.

The body was taken to Barbier funeral home in Spring Lake and later transferred to the Henry C. Spring funeral home, 814 Jefferson St. SE, Grand Rapids.

Peterson had moved just two weeks ago from Lake City to make his home at 3109 Longstreet SW, Wyoming.

Hart Expounds Academic Ideals

U.S. Sen. Philip A. Hart accented Hope College's Centennial observance Friday night and keynoted its Cultural Affairs series when he appeared in Dimnent Memorial Chapel and spoke on "The Importance of Academic Freedom in Higher Education."

The former Michigan lieutenant governor said "there might be a little lingering controversy about the subject . . . academic freedom is irritatingly difficult to circumscribe with precise, rigid rules. If there were inalterable conclusions to be made about academic freedom, they would have been cast in bronze on every campus years ago."

"If academic freedom is the ability to speak the truth without fear of retribution," Hart said, "I am for it. But if it is the means to turn our great citadels of learning into havens for those few wild-minded men who would corrupt the minds of our nation's potential leaders, I'm against it."

"The real danger to academic freedom is the anti-intellectual," he explained, "who tends to be suspicious of anyone who can read without moving his lips."

"Education," he went on, "is a tremendously stabilizing force and it is no secret that tolerance and understanding always thrive best in a stable environment."

Hart said he was optimistic about freedom because, "the colleges of America — and certainly Hope College among them — are doing a superb job of teaching and demonstrating the value of thoughtfulness, consideration and the balanced approach."

Hart concluded his remarks with a quote from the text of the late John F. Kennedy would have expressed in the Dallas Trade Mart: "We cannot expect that everyone, to use the phrase of a decade ago, will talk sense to the American people. But we can hope that fewer people will listen to nonsense."

Earlier Hart spoke briefly at a dinner in the VFW Hall sponsored by the executive committee of the Ottawa county Democratic party.

Hart, who was introduced at both functions by Jay Wabeke, candidate for State Senator, arrived on Hope College campus late Friday afternoon and held an informal question-and-answer session with history and sociology students in Winant's Chapel. He was later honored at a public reception held in Phelps Hall after his talk in Dimnent Chapel.

Guyer Speaks At Zeeland Chamber

ZEELAND — About 250 people attended the 29th annual banquet of the Zeeland Chamber of Commerce here Thursday night and heard Ohio's "Ambassador of Good Will," Dr. Tennyson Guyer.

Newly elected chamber president George Allen presided over the banquet as the local businessmen's organization commemorated its founding.

Allen presented departing president Julius F. Schipper with a plaque from the group in recognition of his service. Schipper is leaving as the president of the organization and has also announced his resignation as expressed the appreciation of the chamber toward Schipper's achievements while serving as the group's president.

Guyer, a Republican senator from Ohio, who has held that position for 16 years, gave the main address of the evening. In addition to politics, Guyer is also involved in business and serves as a public relations director for the Cooper Tire and Rubber company. A native of Findlay, Ohio, Guyer received his BA from Findlay College, an MA from Ohio State, and holds five honorary doctorates.

In addressing the group, Guyer stressed the importance of finding happiness in the simple things of life and said that the only happy people are "people who get things done."

In referring to the speed with which today's society is moving, Guyer warned that speed does not always denote progress. He said that it is better to go slowly on the right path than rapidly on the wrong path.

Guyer also warned that creeds should not be confused with character, stressing that what a person does is more important than what he says he will do.

Guyer made particular reference to the importance of the home in establishing a healthy society. He said, "a house should not be confused with a home." He pictured the home as a place where people should learn to enjoy and respect each other. Guyer said that high values were needed so that the home could be a place where love could find a place for people to come and go.

Volleys

Edward T. Wieland of Holland hit the news with a bang Friday when a UPI story out of Philadelphia, Pa., speculated he might collect on a $2,000 bond issued by Philadelphia back in 1868. Interest at 6 per cent semi-annually over 98 years could result in a pretty piece of change . . . $13,760 as Wieland figures it.

It was an old bond which Wieland acquired from a mailing house in the east in connection with his stamp collection. He said he has had business with about 15 such firms, but this offer dealt with old documents rather than stamps.

About a year ago he received a large envelope with assorted documents . . . in his words a conglomeration of papers which included notes on a Florida bank and some bonds on a national bank in Atlanta, Ga. The Philadelphia bond seemed more impressive, and he pasted it on the wall. Only recently he forwarded it to the City of Philadelphia.

It wasn't the first time Wieland had been in the news.

Some 10 years ago he provided a unique bit of interest when he listed his cat Melvin Q. in the Holland telephone book. He had to withdraw the designation after being plagued with calls from wags, usually calling from some bar at 2 a.m., asking to speak with Melvin.

Melvin Q. is still alive. Now 18 years old, this black cat with flecks of yellow isn't quite so frisky as in the early years. Moreover, Melvin Q. is a female. Wieland never got around to rename her, and she has remained Melvin Q. to this day.

More recently, Wieland was photographed by The Sentinel in connection with an appeal in Public Opinion letters to Holland residents to fly the American flag every day, not just on holidays. He was pictured with a new flag he obtained through Sen. Dirksen which had flown over the U.S. capitol July 4, 1966.

This flag flies every day on a special flag pole in front of 88 West 12th St. where he and Mrs. Wieland, a nurse at Holland Hospital, occupy an apartment at the rear of the house.

Ed Brolin of Holland had a special interest in the big debate on Viet Nam policy Oct. 11 at Hope College.

Ed had been a classmate back in 1921 at Beloit College in Wisconsin of Kenneth Crawford, Newsweek Washington correspondent who upheld the government's action in Viet Nam policy.

The two men hadn't seen each other for 45 years, but after the debate, which proved to be a stimulating exchange of ideas between Crawford and 84-year-old Norman Thomas who protested America's participation in Viet Nam, Brolin made his way to the front of the auditorium. Crawford recognized him instantly.

Crawford went along to the Brolin home and spent a few hours in a gabfest. Back at Beloit, Crawford had been editor of the college paper and Brolin was cartoonist. The final year, Crawford was editor of the year book and Brolin was art editor.

Crawford has two children and both went to Beloit.

Brolin said he had taken his son to Beloit for a look-see but the son chose DePauw where he is taking a pre-med course.

The Brolins are now invited to visit the Crawfords in Washington.

Crawford admitted debating Norman Thomas was not his easiest assignment and that he was more at ease in a straight lecture. He had debated the old

Socialist on Viet Nam on one previous occasion.

Gert Verhoef just couldn't resist it.

Riding in San Diego, Calif., on vacation a few weeks ago she came across this sign on a really office:

KEEP AMERICA BEAUTIFUL

Get a Haircut!

She snapped it, and got the picture in color.

Her teenage son didn't take the hint.

Jay W. Formsma, a former principal of Holland High School, was quoted in a Reader's Digest article in the October issue entitled "Little Red Schoolhouse Goes Modern."

Formsma, in commenting on modern designs of classrooms in which traditional patterns have been changed to round, hexagonal, clustered and amoeba-like free forms, said:

"The educational results are striking. Because of the more stimulating environment, discipline problems all but disappeared and attendance improved. We sometimes had to shoo students out at the end of the day."

Formsma now is a high school principal in Livonia, Mich.

Laif for the day:

Label on a fish box in Boston post office: "If not delivered in five days, never mind."

Haven't you noticed that the folks who know the least seem to know it fluently.

Overheard, two small children discussing their bedtime. One said to the other, "I have to go to bed at 8 o'clock. My mother is a half hour meaner than yours."

Bumper sticker: "Go to college—learn to read and riot."

Sign on an appliance store: "Don't kill your wife. Let our washing machines do the dirty work."

Motorist Injured When Auto Rolls

William Seyfarth, 25, of 569 Myrtle Ave. was treated at Holland Hospital for lacerations of the chin and injuries to the right shoulder after he was pinned under his car on M-21 west of 12th Ave. at 1:10 a.m. Friday.

Seyfarth's car was headed west on M-21, and went off the road into the median, Ottawa County sheriff's deputies said. The car rolled twice, and Seyfarth was thrown from the vehicle. The auto rolled on its top pinning Seyfarth underneath.

Deputies said Seyfarth was protected from more serious injury because he landed in an indentation in the ground, and the full weight of the auto did not come down on him.

Seyfarth was cited for careless driving.

Old Bond May Pay Off For Resident

A Holland man may possibly collect a good sum of money from the City of Philadelphia, Pa., if his claim on a 98-year-old bond proves valid.

Edward T. Wieland, 54, of 88 West 12th St., acquired a $2,000 bond issued in Philadelphia in 1868, about a year ago when he sent for some old documents from an eastern mailing house in connection with his hobby of collecting stamps.

Because the document was too large for mounting in his collection, he pasted it on the wall and it became a conversation piece. On reflection, he figured the bond looked genuine. He added his name to a list of endorsements and forwarded the document to the city of Philadelphia together with a request for $13,760 which he figured was due on the basis of 6 per cent.

The matter came up before Philadelphia's City Council Thursday night. No decision was made immediately.

Court Levies Sentences

Cross, of 229 West Ninth St., careless driving, $22.

Safety Program Presented At Van Raalte Assembly

Patrolman Martin Hardenberg of the Holland Police Department was featured guest at a safety program presented Friday afternoon in a school assembly at Van Raalte School.

Arrangements were made by Mrs. Joy Sicard, sponsor of the safety program at the school. The speaker was introduced by his daughter, Marti Hardenberg, member of the safety patrol.

Patrolman Hardenberg used safety songs, tricks of magic, and interesting comments for impressing the children with the importance of always practicing safety. Mrs. Hardenberg accompanied her husband on the piano.

Jaycees Will Sponsor Junior Miss Program

The Holland Jaycees have decided to sponsor a Junior Miss program for Holland some time this year.

The decision by the Jaycee board of directors to sponsor the pageant was announced at the Jaycee dinner meeting at Point West Tuesday.

William Buis is chairman of the event.

The Jaycees have also decided to discontinue sponsoring a Miss Holland pageant. The decision to stop sponsoring the contest came as a result of this year's Miss Michigan pageant.

The Jaycees were dissatisfied with the manner in which the pageant was run, and requested several changes in procedures. Only one of the changes has been made, Jaycees reported.

The club has sponsored a Miss Holland pageant for the last five years.

President Larry Overbeek presented two scholarship checks to the current Miss Holland, Sue Dampman, at the meeting. The checks were from the Jaycees for $100, and from the Chamber of Commerce for $50.

Jaycee Auxiliary President Mrs. Roger Johnson and Auxiliary Vice-President Mrs. William Keizer were on hand to present Miss Dampman with a check for $100 from the Auxiliary.

It was announced that John Duquette has been selected as chairman of the committee organizing a Christmas party for needy children.

Roger Vander Meulen was selected as Jaycee of the Month for September.

Self-Denial Meetings Continue

Yisu Jiwan Nirdosh, district superintendent of the Methodist Church in Budaun, India, will be the guest speaker at the last of a series of meetings on "Call to Prayer and Self-Denial" in the First Methodist Church tonight at 7:30. The meeting will be held in the church chapel under auspices of the Woman's Society of Christian Service.

Mrs. James Chamness will conduct devotions and the Peter Circle will furnish refreshments with Mrs. Hugh Rowell as chairman.

The "Call to Prayer and Self-Denial" summons all Methodist women to join in prayer, study and sacrificial giving for community centers around the world and the Deaconess Pension Fund.

The Methodist Church supports, either entirely or in part, 118 community centers in 24 countries overseas. The self-denial offering will help to build and modernize buildings, train teams to serve in their own lands, such as Chile, Japan, Korea, Philippines, India, Mozambique and Algeria.

Methodist deaconesses are college-trained women who have taken special courses in Bible, theology and missions and in development of special fields such as teaching, nursing and social work dealing in specialized education.

These women serve American Indians in South Dakota, Mississippi, Louisiana, North Carolina, New Mexico and northern Wisconsin. Service to Spanish-speaking people in New York City has become an integral part. Methodist deaconesses operate a home for unwed mothers in Brooklyn and also work with adoption agencies. They are even called to serve as supply pastors in rural communities.

Taking part in the Tuesday morning program were Mrs. Peter Hoving, Mrs. E. T. Holmen, Mrs. Harold Boles, Mrs. Allen Veldhuis with Mrs. Peter Houtman at the organ.

Taking part in Wednesday's program which was held on the third floor of the Methodist Church education building, were Mrs. Arthur Keane, Mrs. William Orr, Mrs. Lawrence Martin and Mrs. Budd Eastman. This program emphasized the work done in community centers.

Audience Fascinated With Oriental Drama

Ancient Japanese theatre, a type of classic oriental drama dating back to the 15th century, proved to be an interesting experience for Holland residents Wednesday night when the Hosho School of Noh of Tokyo presented two plays in Dimment Memorial Chapel on Hope College campus.

The language of Noh, even to an educated Japanese, is virtually incomprehensible and the curious rhythms of the half-music, half-speech in measured cadences and the controlled gestures produced audience reaction ranging from fascination to bewilderment.

A program conveniently listed the action in the 13 scenes of "Sumidagawa," the story of a woman in Kyoto whose only son is kidnapped. Her search for her son becomes an obsession and she is regarded as mad. Aboard a ferry she learns a boy died just a year earlier and is buried where shadows of passersby would fall on his grave. The play ends with the mother praying to Buddha and the sound of a child's voice before the apparition fades away.

The second presentation was the last half of "Ehira," which is the quiver containing a spray of flowering plum carried by a warrior who reenacts a violent battle while beseeching a priest to pray for his salvation.

Action in the first play was severely controlled, the slightest gesture becoming highly meaningful. The second drama was considerably more active with reenactment of the battle and the warrior's quest to be delivered from the tortures of hell and the agonies of battle.

Accompanying oriental music was a seemingly formless song with howling sounds, grunts and sometimes sharp cries. The strange tones came from a flute like instrument and two drums.

This ancient oriental art cannot be understood easily in a single performance before an occidental audience, but Holland's audience was most attentive and sincerely interested in the age-old drama which seemingly spun a web of doom-like unreality. A good share of the audience moved to seats nearer the stage during the intermission.

The stage setting followed the line of oriental simplicity, colorful and highly effective. The combination of simple scenery, unfamiliar music forms and stylized classic gestures commanded a high degree of imagination on the part of the audience.

79-Yard Pass Provides Only Hope Scoring

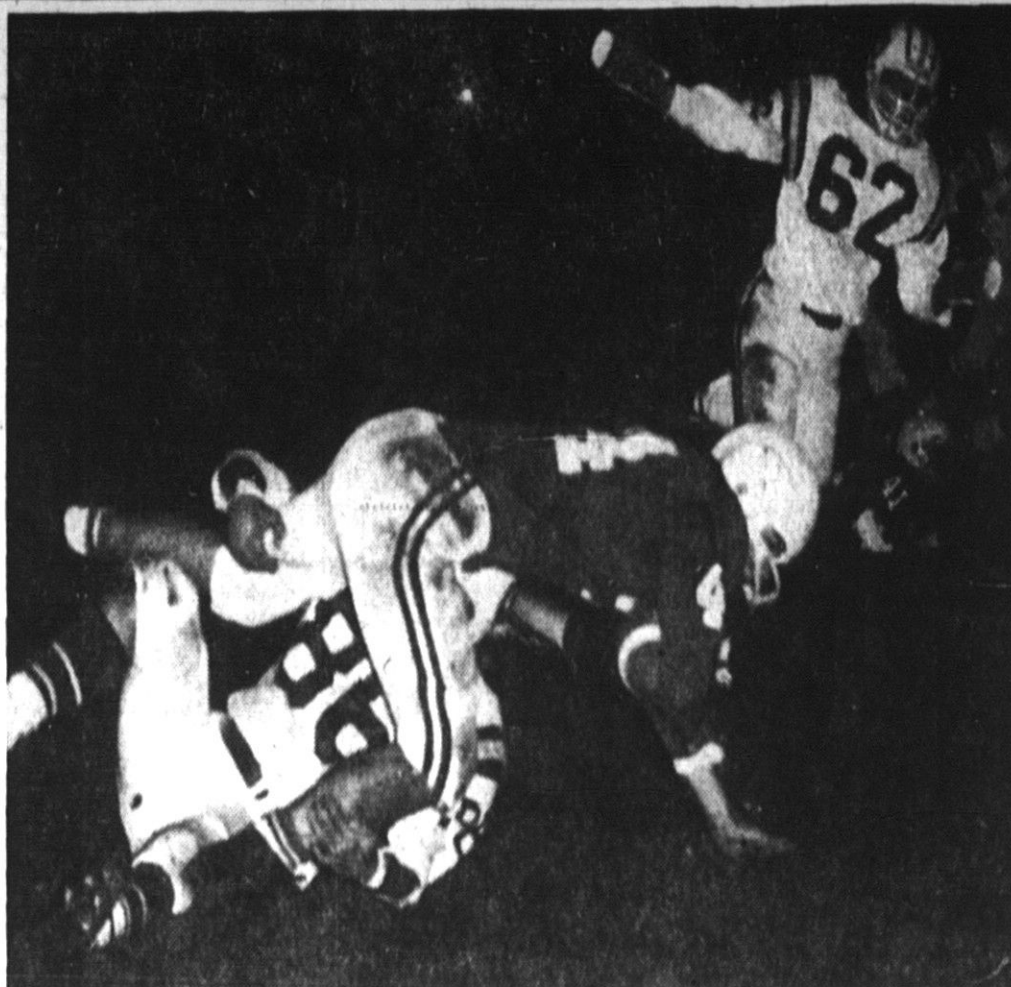

ALMA — Hope College's slim chances of an MIAA football title were reduced to a mathematical impossibility when the Flying Dutchmen dropped a 13-6 decision to Alma College at Bahlke Field.

The Scots' homecoming victory not only eliminated Hope from title contention, but also dropped the Dutch into last place in the league standings. In other conference games Saturday, Albion blanked Kalamazoo, 23-0, and Olivet routed Adrian, 43-0.

Alma freshman quarterback Tom Jakovac scored on runs of 27 and 10 yards to pace the Scots' win, along with a stingy defensive forward wall.

There were 11 fumbles during the game—six by Alma and five by Hope—and all but one by each team was lost to the opposition.

As a matter of fact, there were three fumbles during the first two minutes of play. The Scots' Jeff Blough kicked off to Walt Reed at the two and he returned to the Hope 30, but

VEENHOVEN INTERCEPTS—Holland High end and defensive halfback Randy Veenhoven returns intercepted pass deep into Orchard View territory in the first half of Holland's 17-14 Friday night. Veenhoven intercepted three passes, caught one touchdown pass and set up both other Holland scores with receptions, all from Chip Millard. He's tackled here by Cardinal end Mike Grevel (86).

fumbled Freshmen lineman Fred Anderson fell on the ball for Alma.

Dennis Bongard, junior halfback, carried for Alma on the first play from scrimmage, but he too fumbled and Hope once again had possession.

After Keith Abel had gained two yards and Charlie Langeland five through the rugged Alma defensive line, a backfield mixup gave the Scots the ball at the Hope 34.

Mike Mitchell, another Scot freshman, gained four yards, Bongard three to set up Jakovac's first scoring run. The Lansing freshman rolled out around his left end and romped untouched into the end zone.

Blough converted to give the Scots a 7-0 lead with 11:44 remaining in the opening period.

Hope moved into Alma territory just twice in the entire first half, both times on fumble recoveries.

West Ottawa freshman John Onk recovered at the Alma 34 with one minute left in the first quarter, but two rushing attempts and a pair of incomplete passes netted only three yards and gave the Scots the ball again.

Mitchell fumbled on the next play after picking up 13 yards to his own 44 and Reed recovered there in the final minutes of play.

After stopping Alma in the first series of downs in the third quarter, Hope fumbled Jim Goodrich's punt at the Hope 48. The Scots took over and drove to the 15 before losing the ball on downs.

Hope moved just seven yards in three plays, but took over at the 50 when Jakovac fumbled Gary Frens' fourth-down punt. Abel and Langeland then carried to Alma 17 before a pair of incomplete passes to Rick Frank and Langeland gave Alma possession on downs.

Bongard rushed for 33 yards in five carries and Jakovac got four before a 15-yard personal foul moved the Scots to the Hope 31. Jakovac then hit senior end John Wooten at the 10 and one play later, ran the final 10 yards around left end Blough's kick failed with 13:40 left in the game.

Hope hit the scoreboard with 1:11 remaining after Bill Bauer recovered a fumble at the Hope 20. Two rushing plays netted just one yard.

Sub quarterback Clint Schilstra then passed to Ray Cooper at midfield, and Cooper, the MIAA sprint champ, outraced Alma linebacker John Milks for a 79-yard touchdown. After three penalties, Hope's try for a two-point conversion failed.

Hope tried an onside kickoff, but Alma lineman Jim Ceceri smothered the ball at the 50, ending any Hope chances of victory.

Langeland wound up with 59 of Hope's 91 yards rushing, and the scoring pass play accounted for all but 40 of Hope's passing yards.

Jakovac, MIAA player of the week two weeks ago, finished with 78 yards rushing in 11 carries and Bongard had 72 yards in 19 carries.

Winds of more than 30 miles per hour hampered passing and punting efforts throughout the game, but it's hard to blame the wind for 11 fumbles.

Reed suffered a right knee injury in the third quarter and spent the weekend on crutches. The extent of the injury was to be learned today.

Holland High struck early and held on for a 17-14 Valley Coast Conference football victory over previously unbeaten Muskegon Orchard View in River-view Park Friday night.

The senior passing combination of Chip Millard and Randy Veenhoven connected for gains of 20 and 29 yards to set up a touchdown and a field goal and then scored what proved to be the winning touchdown in the second period.

The margin of victory for coach Dave Kempker's Dutch was provided by senior halfback-kicker Randy Rogers who booted a 30-yard field goal in the second quarter.

Rogers also scored his sixth touchdown of the season and kicked his 10th and 11th extra points in 14 attempts. The field goal was Rogers' first in two tries.

The win was the fourth in six games for Holland and the Dutch handed the Cardinals their first loss since the two clubs met last year. Orchard View, coached by Jack Van Schelven, was rated seventh in the state in Class B going into Friday night's contest.

Holland's season victory total—four—is the highest by a Holland High team since 1963's 5-2-1 record squad, and the Dutch still have three games remaining.

Holland rolled to a 17-0 half-time lead and retained the same margin after a scoreless third period before Orchard View rallied in the final minutes of play.

After Mark Bonette returned the opening kickoff 17 yards to the Holland 35, the Dutch moved 65 yards in 13 plays for their first touchdown.

Key play in the series was a 20-yard second-down pass from Millard to Veenhoven, which put Holland on the Cardinal 18. Five plays later Rogers bulled his way through the middle for two yards and six points. His conversion attempt was also good, giving the Dutch a 7-0 lead less than six minutes into the game.

Neither team threatened again until midway through the second period when Holland moved 60 yards in 10 plays—aided by a 15-yard pass interference penalty—to the Orchard View 11.

Once again it was a Millard to Veenhoven pass—this time for 29 yards to the 11—that set up the scoring play. Two rushing efforts failed to gain yardage and an incomplete pass gave the Dutch a fourth down situation.

Rogers rose to the occasion by kicking his first field goal of the season—a 30-yarder—with 4:43 remaining in the first half.

Holland failed to move after Veenhoven intercepted his second pass of the evening and was forced to punt, but, moments later, Veenhoven struck again, intercepting at the Orchard View 40 and returning to the 20.

Three plays later a 12-yard pass to Rogers put the Dutch at the eight and Millard then rolled out around his left end to the two.

A personal foul against the Cardinals put Holland at the one, but an illegal procedure walkoff against the Dutch moved them back to the six. Millard then fired to Veenhoven at the goal line. Veenhoven and an Orchard View defender both caught the ball and fell into the end zone.

The official ruling was that the offensive team receives credit for a completion when both an offensive player and a defender catch the ball—thus a Holland touchdown with three seconds left in the half. Rogers converted.

Neither team penetrated its opponent's territory in the third period, but the Cardinals had some surprises in store for the Dutch in the final frame.

Junior fullback Dan Kulikowski returned Mark Slen's punt 15 yards to the Dutch 47 and scored three plays later on a 10-yard end run in which he bowled over three Holland defenders.

Junior lefthander Tim Waggoner hit Greg Freeland, another junior, for eight yards, then fired a 29-yard bootleg pass to clever senior end Terry Grevel for 29 yards to set up the score. Ron Vanover added the first of two conversions.

Vanover's ensuing kickoff was an onside attempt and Orchard View retained possession even though the ball traveled only nine yards, as a Holland player had touched the ball.

Wagoner then engineered a drive for a touchdown which saw Kulikowski carry three straight yards from the ten, scoring from the one on the third try with 1:20 left in the game.

Another onside kickoff attempt was foiled by Rod Klingenberg, who smothered the ball at his own 49-yard line. Holland stayed on the ground and used up the remaining time.

Kempker said Orchard View is the "hardest hitting team we've met all season—including Grand Haven." He also called

Ottawa Draft Call at 27

LANSING — Ottawa County will induct 27 men into the service during December, the month boasting the smallest draft call since May 1965.

The State Selective Service Board today announced 896 men will be drafted for the first half of December. Col. Arthur A. Holmes, state selective service director, said the call is through Dec. 16 because of an Army policy of not drafting men during the holiday season.

Holmes said those drafted in December will be allowed to request Christmas leave.

Allegan county is among the 33 counties that have no quota to fill in December.

The largest draft call for the month is in Wayne county where 295 youths have been ordered to report for military duty. Saginaw will provide 91 men and Kent 66.

Macomb county, which usually has a high draft call, will induct only three men.

Holmes said draftees entering the service the first five days in December will go through some training before receiving a Christmas leave.

Youths inducted between Dec. 6 to 16 will receive holiday leaves upon arriving at Army reception stations.

Nearly 7,000 men have been ordered for preinduction physical examinations during December.

Holland's defense, paced by co-captains Bob Venhuizen and Bill Wich, limited the Cardinals to 14 yards rushing in the first half, including an amazing minus two yards in the second quarter.

Two-way line starter Dave Bauman suffered a broken nose in the game, but returned to action after incurring the injury.

Fire in Basement Does $600 Damage

Fire believed to have been caused by a short in wiring did some $600 damage at a house at 691 Anderson Ave. shortly after 9 a.m. Monday.

Firemen from Park township No. 1 extinguished the blaze confined to the basement of the house occupied by Howard Ossewaarde. Jack Zwiers Jr., fire chief, said in addition to smoke damage, clothing in the basement, wiring and the meter box were damaged.

Zwiers said the fire was thought to have started around the area of the meter box. Firemen were at the scene for about one hour.

West Ottawa 26-13 Loser In O-K Game

WYOMING — The West Ottawa Panthers played "cold" football again Friday night as they dropped their third O-K League contest of the season to Wyoming Park, 26-13, before 1,130 chilly fans here.

The Panthers outgained their opponents in rushing and in attaining first downs, but were unable to pass successfully. Three of the Wyoming touchdowns were made on passes, two by Roy Wierenga and one by Jim Wicht.

The Panthers lost two fumbles while the winners lost only one, and the losers fumbled seven times to the Vikings two. The West Ottawa squad was also forced to punt more often than their opponents, and earned more penalties.

The contest opened with the Vikings receiving, and they immediately turned the ball over to the Panthers. The next three minutes were plagued with penalties and other errors on the field. Each team picked up three penalties in that period, causing one Wyoming punt to be executed three times, and one Panther punt to be executed twice.

An injury to Steve Tucker and another penalty against West Ottawa gave the ball to the winners. Quarterback Wierenga carried to gain some yardage, and then tossed a 45-yard pass to Randy Baker, who received on the five and went easily into the end zone. The point after touchdown was good on a kick by Fred Stalsonburg.

On the kickoff following the tally, the Panthers received and fumbled with Wyoming recovering. Bob Ranson and Wicht carried for two consecutive first downs, and, on the third play, Wierenga made another spectacular pass to Baker at the goal line, who again scored for the winners. The kick was good but was called back on a penalty. The second try was wide to the left.

The Panthers didn't roll over and play dead though, for the remainder of the quarter was all theirs.

West Ottawa dominated the second quarter with a continuing drive as four first downs were recorded by Tucker, Jerry Klomparsen, and Dan Bauer. Setting up in an I-formation on the Wyoming Park four, Bauer handed off to Tucker, who scurried into the end zone on a "second man through," following Klomparsen. The kick for the extra point by Darryle Mitchell was good, giving the Panthers a 13-7 deficit with 7:25 remaining in the half.

After taking turns with the ball for six minutes of play, the Panthers again controlled in the second quarter, making two quick first downs before a twenty-yard fourth-down penalty.

The half ended with two penalty markers in the final two seconds of play, but the Vikings declined the walkoffs against the Panthers.

Looking much as the first quarter, the third period opened slowly, until the Vikings took the ball with 9:15 on the clock. After plays by Wicht and Ranson, Wicht made a beautiful 55-yard pass to Larry Steenbergen for another Wyoming tally. Another penalty on a good kick nullified the point after touchdown, and the second kick was no good.

West Ottawa looked good again as the close of the period drew nearer, picking up two first downs before fumbling. Bob Elshof recovered for the Vikings with :37 remaining, and with two quick rushes Ranson collected six more points. The touchdown was made on a 56-yard run with :04 on the clock. The conversion was good.

The fourth quarter was a battle of punts and penalties.

With a minute left in the game, the losers finally took their game to the air. Bauer made several passes, completing one to Steve Kuna, and the final one to Klomparsen, who brought the ball to the Wyoming 2. A handoff from Bauer to Klomparsen with :04 left scored. The pass from center was fumbled before Mitchell could kick and Bauer recovered, but could not make it into the end zone, leaving the score 26-13.

The Panthers, now 2-3-1, host Hamilton in a non-league encounter next Friday at 7:30 p.m. at the West Ottawa field.
