United Fund Drive Hits $105,814

The third audit of pledges and contributions to the current United Fund-Red Cross campaign conducted Friday evening plus additional amounts received Monday has swelled the total thus far in the 168,424 drive to $105,814.39.

The public - civic division headed by Dr. Kenneth J. Weller, Hope College, is the first of the seven divisions in the campaign to pass quota with $12,512 received on its quota of $11,800, with approximately $3,000 in pledges and contributions still not reported.

Six of nine sections in the public-civic division have exceeded their sectional quotas. Sections, amounts reported and quotas follow: Section 5-A (Margaret Van Vyven - Donald Gebraad) Holland Public Schools $3,959 on $3,285; Section 5-B (Jack Bos) Christian Schools $750 on $370; Section 5-C (Mrs. David Conklin) Catholic Parochial School $93 on $90; Section 6 (Mrs. Norma Longstreet) West Ottawa Public Schools $2,112 on $1,545; Section 8 (Dr. Kenneth J. Weller) Hope College $4,333 on $2,250 and Section 8-A (Henry Kleinheksel) Western Theological Seminary $385 on $300.

An additional five areas in other divisions of the drive have also exceeded quota. They are Commercial, Section 5 (Harry Newhouse) $1,416 on $1,415; Residential, District 7 (Mrs. Frederick MacDonald) $865 on $630; District 10 (Mrs. William J. Lokker, Jr.) $1,055 on $964; Industrial, Section 1 (Oscar E. Alberta) $4,815 on $3,600 and Section 5 (Cecil M. Johnson) $3,993 on $3,750.

Considering the fact that all division, section and district quotas represent an increase of 12.8 per cent over the amounts raised in these same areas of the campaign last year it is quite obvious that these results represent an outstanding effort on the part of campaign volunteer workers and a most generous response by many firms, employee groups and individuals solicited in these areas of the drive, Charles Kupsky, campaign chairman observed.

'69 Allegan Budget Tops $2 Million

ALLEGAN — Despite substantial salary increases and the creation of a new district court system, Allegan county's Board of Supervisors has managed to come up with a 1969 budget which will hold the line as far as property tax levies are concerned.

A public hearing on the proposed budget — first to top $2 million in the county's history — will be held Monday at 11 a.m. in the Board of Supervisors room of the County Building.

Total budget requirements for 1969 are estimated at $2,080,310, an increase of $226,643 over the current year.

Largest single increase stems from the creation of a new district court system — required under the 1963 state constitution — which will eliminate justices of the peace. The new budget calls for a total outlay for the new court of $89,047, including capital expenditures of $15,000. Court operating costs were estimated at $52,306. The budget also included $17,285 for magistrates and $4,456 for a traffic bureau.

General fund expenditures in the 1969 budget were estimated at $1,534,381, an increase of $231,440 over general fund estimates for the current year.

The finance committee estimated that the county would begin 1969 with a surplus of $160,000, down $25,000 from the surplus with which it started on Jan. 1, this year.

The new budget calls for a general county tax levy of 4.6 mills, same as the 1968 rate. The county road operating levy also will remain at 4 of a mill. The basic county levy is expected to raise $940,948.43, an increase of $48,307 over the current year. An extra voted levy for bridge repairs, plus the 4-mill road operating tax will bring in an estimated $288,375. County taxpayers also will be coming up with $204,554 for the medical care facility sinking fund.

West Ottawa Adopts Budget

A 1968-69 budget for $2,489,582 was adopted by the West Ottawa Board of Education Monday night, an increase of $388,531.92 over the $2,101,050 spent last year.

Of the increase, some $296,000 goes for salaries. An increase in enrollment, 163 students more than the 3,847 last year, accounts for some of the increased figures.

Of the budget total, 83 per cent goes for salaries, with 67 per cent for teachers' salaries.

The board authorized Supp. Lloyd Van Raalte to borrow $200,000 to meet upcoming payrolls, after Treasurer Gordon Scheerhorn reported a balance on hand of $153,739.45, and an estimated $320,000 in payrolls coming due. No state aid or tax monies are anticipated before Dec. 1. The superintendent will seek bids from local banks.

The five-hour meeting also dealt with enrollment figures, transportation difficulties and Band Boosters' support. James Mool and Don Ladewig described the critical need for uniforms and instruments as well as athletic needs. Several means of financing including a special millage issue were suggested. The board referred the matter to a special committee for study and recommendation.

West Ottawa enrollment this year is 4,010. Van Raalte said the May census listed 304 for kindergarten but 37 more moved into the district during the summer, necessitating shifts from Beechwood to North Holland.

He said all elementary rooms are filled to capacity and beyond.

He said there are 1,786 students in the junior-senior building which was designed in 1959 for 1,500 and he pointed to a study committee of 60 citizens and staff members working since April and slated to report in two weeks. This meeting will be open to the public.

Thomas Reimink, transportation director, said many buses are overloaded. He reported a total of 3,295 children transported daily by a fleet of 21 school-owned buses and two leased from the Christian schools.

These buses have a combined capacity of 1,518 children which means double or triple trips for most buses. Reimink gave no recommendations, but the board asked for a thorough study with report at the next board meeting.

The transportation committee was authorized to purchase an additional vehicle to transport handicapped children in wheelchairs. Bids are requested for a vehicle that will accommodate four such wheelchairs. The school owns one vehicle that will accommodate two wheelchairs.

The board granted a request of Holland Community Theatre for use of the auditorium for presenting a play at a rental fee of $130 with the understanding at least two deputies would be on duty.

Supervisors Studying Salaries

GRAND HAVEN — The Ottawa County Board of Supervisors continued its study of the salary schedule for county employees Wednesday and adjourned until Monday before further action is taken on salaries in some departments. Negotiations with three different groups are still under way. R.V. Terrill, Grand Haven, chairman of the employees committee, reported.

Prosecutor James W. Bussard told the board that additional help will be necessary in his office after Jan. 1, when justice courts in the county will be eliminated and three district county courts will be established at Grand Haven, Holland and Hudsonville.

Operation of the courts will c.l for the presence of a prosecutor much of the time in all courts he said. The addition of a second circuit court judge in Ottawa last year also resulted in more work, he said.

An additional assistant was approved for his office at a salary of $4,500 a year, the same as recommended for Max Murphy, Holland attorney, his present assistant. Bussard's salary was recommended at $11,500. He is part-time prosecutor.

The board is scheduled to adopt its record proposed budget of $3,011,000 during the October session but this may not be possible because of negotiations with three groups, the Deputy Sheriff's Association, the County Nurses Association and the general office employees.

The board desires additional information on the operation of the new courts, as to the number of employees and other matters, and two of the candidates for the three positions will be asked to appear before the board Monday. They are Judge Jacob Ponstein of Grand Haven and Judge John Gallen, Jr., Holland, present municipal court judges.

It was announced that other counties are not supplementing district court judges' salaries with county funds and the Ottawa board voted to remove the $2,000 annual supplement for each of the three judges in the proposed 1969 budget. Judges are paid with state funds. Sheriff Bernard Gysen appeared before the board for information on additional requests for his department but he will return Monday as three court officers to be assigned to the district courts will not be members of his staff. The officers will be supervised by the county judges.

Chairman Gerrit Bottema, Spring Lake, of the ways and means committee reported several departments need additional funds to carry on their work in 1969 and the board voted to transfer $24,500 from the general fund and contingent fund to the justice courts account, insurance fund, election fund, the humane society and the buildings and grounds department.

Mental Health Directory Now Available in County

Ottawa county's first health publication, a directory on "Mental Health and Related Services" is now available to residents of the county, published by the Ottawa County Community Mental Health Services board.

The 24-page booklet lists services in the area available for adult counseling, handicapped adults, hospitals, adult self help, alcoholism, children's behavior problems, handicapped children's services and information on county health agencies, United Funds, and counseling for unwed parents.

The information was compiled by the Mental Health Services study group in response to a need long felt by lay and professional people in the county. The cover with the Ottawa county seal was designed by Mrs. Milford Morse of Spring Lake. Mrs. Robert Gould developed much of the mailing list which will result in doctors, lawyers, etc., having a better idea where to turn for information from alcoholism to unwed mothers.

Other members of the study group are Mrs. Robert White, secretary who collected and edited the information, and Mrs. Lewis Birchhead, group chairman.

At a meeting Oct. 17, several guidance clinic staff members appeared before the board. Although Ottawa county is gradually separating from the West Shore Mental Health Clinic, Dr. Wendell Rooks, director of the Muskegon program, attended the meeting and spoke of the variety of individuals of all ages served by both clinics.

Mrs. Ruth Van Duren of Holland, psychiatric social worker who started in the mental health program in 1955 when the department was housed in an attic in Grand Haven and in the county health clinic in Holland, described some of the work of her agency now housed in Holland. In 1963 there were 231 referrals, compared with 408 in 1967, four-fifths of them associated with children's behavior and adjustment, and one fifth adult problems.

Besides therapeutic work with individuals, Mrs. Van Duren and her staff offer consultation to various agencies although the confidence of the patient is never betrayed. For seven years Mrs. Van Duren has also supervised students working toward master's degrees in social work from Michigan State University and two other universities.

Donna Hartman, clinical psychologist and part time staff member, talked enthusiastically of the team approach and noted testing equipment the county will want as it takes over full operations of its own clinic.

Harold Lankheet, MSU graduate intern, Dr. Lawrence Stieglitz, Philip Margules and Mrs. Calvin Bosman also spend part of their time on the Ottawa county program.

Other board business included the appointment of Kenneth Heuvelman as the new program committee chairman. Dr. Peter MacArthur said the personnel committee is interviewing applicants for the position of administrator for the county mental health program which eventually will include services in addition to the present outpatient clinics. He said a psychiatrist is considering locating in the county and working with patients both in and out of the hospital setting.

Officers of the Mental Health Services Board are Raymond Vander Laan, chairman; Dr. MacArthur, vice chairman; Mrs. Robert White, secretary and Frank Hoogland, treasurer. Other board members are Joseph Brazda, Rev. Milton Doornbos, Kenneth Heuvelman, Laverne Lampen, Hannes Meyers Jr., Judge Frederick Miles, Dr. Ralph Ten Have and Mrs. Adrian Van Putten.

Fonger was presented with a historic souvenir medal, designed in Switzerland, and marking the 100th anniversary of Red Cross. Wilbur C. Cobb of Holland, former chapter chairman, made the presentation and Fonger presented a similar medal to Mrs. Danhof who has been a Red Cross worker for 48 years.

Executive director Mrs. J. G. Van Valkenburgh presented service awards. Dinner music was provided by the Grand Haven Junior high ensemble directed by Mike Miller. W. J. Karsten gave the invocation and closing prayer.

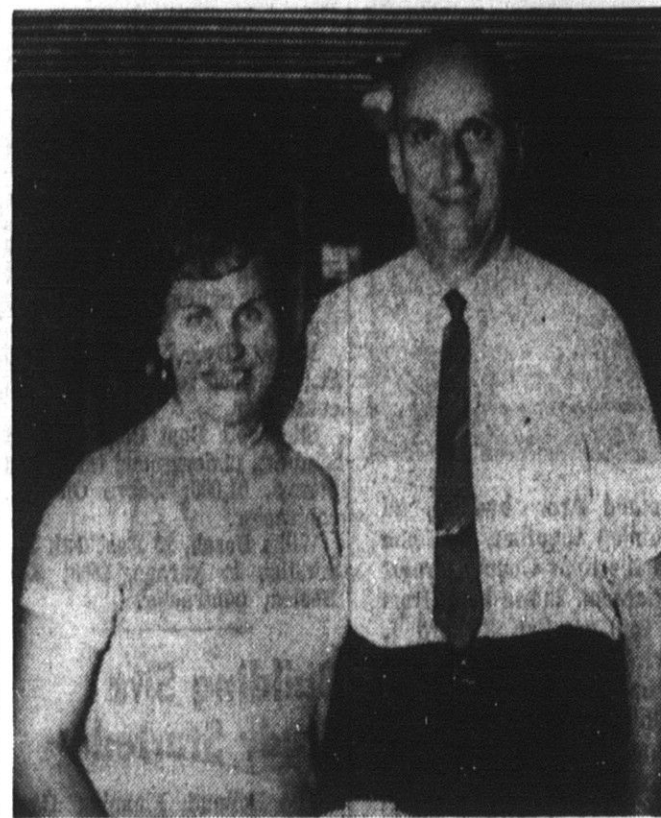

Daniel S. Vander Werf Jr., of Holland spoke on graphology. He said handwriting reflects mental habits and the "expressive movements of handwriting are as individualistic as fingerprints."

He demonstrated many types of handwriting and noted personality traits associated with the various forms. He pointed to slants, loops and how t's are crossed and i's dotted as to factors used in graphology.

In-Depth Look at Vietnam Given Chamber Members

An in-depth look at Vietnam—how it started, why U.S. forces are there and why it is not feasible to pull out—was given by Dick Cheverton, news director of WOOD television and radio stations in Grand Rapids, at the annual dinner meeting of the Holland Chamber of Commerce Tuesday night in Christian High School.

Cheverton, who visited five nations on the periphery of Vietnam on a Time-Life assignment last year, advocated no solutions to this world problem, but he sought to explain the "spheres of influence" which have great bearing on the issue.

In a talk titled "People, Rice and Time," he spoke of the necessity of intervening time to prove America's friendship and aims in Southeast Asia—to ally the suspicious and propaganda planted by other forces and to lead the people in the quest for their own determination.

Admitting that an equally strong case can be built by opponents of the U.S. government's program, he said nevertheless that serious thought must be given to the results of proposed withdrawal.

Should America leave Vietnam, it is reasonable to speculate Thailand, Laos, Malaya and Singapore will fall to the Communists, Cheverton said. Where then will our spheres of influence change? Do we wait for invasion on our own continent?

It is Cheverton's firm conviction that there is not enough awareness of America's spheres of influence in Southeast Asia and that parents have not communicated enough on the subject with their children who are likely to oversimplify just about everything.

He felt it would be folly to invade North Vietnam, since this could loose Red China troops in such profusions that could run American soldiers into the sea with sharpened bamboo sticks. Yet American bombers are only 30 minutes away from Chinese air installations, and both have nuclear power.

He spoke of some of the fine personal work done by Americans, often elderly, in working on a people-to-people basis with peasants in the villages of a well supervised by an American in one village providing water for all instead of walking two miles to a muddy river.

He could well understand the frustrations of the people at home and admitted "it's a heck of a way to fight a war." Yet withdrawal would leave the rice, the rubber and the tin to the enemy, to say nothing of Russia's role in such action.

Fred S. Bertsch Jr. served as toastmaster. Recognition was given to William De Long and Bernard Arendshorst, retiring directors, and a past president's certificate was given the outgoing president, William Venhuizen. Gardner J. Doieg, new executive assistant to Executive Vice President Roscoe J. Giles, was introduced as well as the new president, James Hallan, who pointed to Holland's many advantages and the Chamber's aims in community betterment.

Dale Van Dort, chairman of the Vanguards or membership committee, was made a colonel for his efforts at obtaining the greatest number of new members.

The dinner was served in the school's cafeteria and the program followed in the school auditorium. Printed annual reports were distributed.

The meeting concluded with Toastmaster Bertsch presenting a pair of wooden shoes to the speaker.

Recommend Personnel Aide for Ottawa County

GRAND HAVEN — The hiring of a personnel director to assist the employees and officers committee of the Ottawa county Board of Supervisors was recommended to the board Thursday, when the board met as a committee to study proposed salary schedules of county workers for 1969.

R. V. Terrill, Grand Haven, chairman of the officers and employees committee, said the task of setting salaries is becoming more and more difficult and a personnel director to work on the salary schedule and to take care of other employee problems is needed. Asked if the same officer could serve as a purchasing agent, Terrill said it was a possibility. Cost of such an office, including a clerk, would be about $16,500 a year, Terrill said. No action was taken by the board on the proposal.

At the end of Thursday's session, the board appropriated $3,000 to retain a special labor negotiations attorney from Grand Rapids to aid Terrill's committee in negotiating with three groups of county workers on salaries and fringe benefits. The deputy sheriffs, the nurses in the health department and general office workers are now negotiating with the committee, Terrill said. Another $700 has already been spent for assistance from the special labor counsel for this purpose.

Chairman George Wessel of the board reported at the opening of Thursday's session that City Clerk D. W. Schipper of Holland, elected to a special elections commission Wednesday, cannot serve on the group as he resides in Allegan county. City Clerk Henry Van Noord of Hudsonville, a member of the county board, was then appointed to the committee.

Before the board went into a committee of the whole to study the salary budget for 1969, compensation for members of several county boards and commissions was approved. Members will receive $15 a half day and $20 a day, plus 10 cents a mile for use of cars. The Boards are the mental health services board, the canvassing board, the plat board, the tax allocation board, the jury commission and the new election commission.

The board adjourned until Oct. 23 and will also meet on Oct. 24 to complete the October session.

Disregard That Offer of 'Free Wig'

Any women receiving postcards in the mail informing them they are lucky winners of a beautiful $89 value human hair wig had best ignore them.

Postmaster Louis A. Haight said today he had received at least two reports of such cards received in the local area, and said William Coupe of the Ten Cate, Townsend and Cunningham law firm had investigated the alleged fraud and had received considerable information from the Better Business Bureau of Greater Philadelphia, Pa.

According to Philadelphia sources, Elliott Nathaniel Scott, the "free wig" merchant who was convicted on 10 counts of mail fraud March 13, was sentenced Sept. 9 by Judge John P. Fullam, U.S. district court in Philadelphia, to a year and a day in prison on count 1, and to four years' probation to run concurrently on the remaining nine counts. Scott indicated his intention to appeal and was freed on $5,000 bail.

Complaints about Scott's operation started rolling into the Better Business Bureau early in 1966. Thousands of postal cards sent to women offered a "free wig" provided the recipient paid for "styling" in advance, running from $5 to $30. Complaints received by the bureau from women all over the United States indicated either that the women had received nothing or that the wigs were just so much junk. Later appraisals of the wigs gave them an approximate value of less than $1.

In October, 1967, at the time Scott was indicted for mail fraud the bureau had received over 250 complaints. From then until March 13, 1968, the date of his conviction, he had sent out an additional 7,000 wigs. By the time he was sentenced, the post office department had received more than 5,500 complaints and the Better Business Bureau more than 1,000. It is estimated that Scott collected from the public more than $300,000.

The secret ballot method of voting originated in Australia.

Sociology Professor Talks On Changes at AAUW Meet

Donald Bouma, Ph.D., professor of sociology at Western Michigan University, opened his talk to a large group of American Association of University Women and guests Thursday night in Durfee Hall, by emphasizing the many powers in our society. Women, he said, were one of the great powers because they are a large majority group. He spoke also on some of the forces changing society, specifically on the unrest and revolt seen in the black militancy movement (not black power) and student groups like the Student Democratic Society (SDS).

Dr. Bouma sees possible explanations of the movements as reflections of the American society and its basic attitude of taking care of things oneself.

"We are a gun culture with a tradition of violence and belief in action," he said. The younger generation is even less willing to wait for the specific defects they see to be righted, as the older generation has been. Such great gains have been made that the narrowed gap has become less bearable. People in complete downtrodden conditions do not rise up, only those who are very close. These are legitimate reasons for unrest and action, he pointed out.

He continued by saying there is a plot to destroy the American society — whether foreign or not — and the black militancy leaders openly say that through an international movement they will destroy the fabric of society.

There is no longer the option of arbitration with these movements, they are out to bring down what they call a phony system. Their grievances are not specific, they believe that a new plan will evolve after they destroy the system.

"We must believe their serious intentions for they have power," he said.

Dr. Bouma feels that we have the problem of unrest partly because there are so many opportunities for success and no excuse for lack of opportunity.

These opportunities either can be taken or the validity of the system and opportunities denied which SDS does. There is also the unwillingness to go to where the opportunities are. He added that many groups of people are just looking for something to do — something to be about. There is also the fact of social contagion. A question and answer discussion followed his talk.

Mrs. William Rocker offered a few comments on the changing structure of the family, how youth no longer finds identity or values there. The family is busy, dispersed in community activity.

The social committee for the meeting were Mrs. Tunis Baker, Miss Virginia De Witt and Miss Althea Raffenaud.

TAXES AND MORE TAXES

When the 10 per cent surtax law was passed, coupled with a congressional mandate calling for a $6 billion reduction in government spending, a lot of persons assumed the reduction would take place as a matter of course, since it was called for by law, but runaway government spending makes a budget cut hard to come by. The federal payroll has risen instead of declined, and every spending cut is met by an equal or greater increase somewhere else.

After noting the failure of the budget cutters, The National Observer comments, "What will make the cutting job tougher is the fundamental reluctance of the men on Capitol Hill to cut into their own pet projects, even though it is they who insisted on the spending ceiling of $180.1 billion for the current year. . . it is a good bet that by this time next year . . . that ceiling will have been lost in a dream. Meanwhile . . . Our taxes have been raised."

We should stop talking about reducing the size of government and concentrate on halting its growth. That alone would be a considerable victory.

God's Own People
I Peter 1:13-21
By C. P. Dame

The epistle of James, Jude, those of John and Peter, belong to the group called the General Epistles. This lesson is from I Peter, which was written about 64 A. D. to the Christians who were scattered abroad. God has a people here to make known His wonderful deeds.

1. A holy God wants His people to live holy lives. "Wherefore gird up the loins of your mind" so wrote Peter. The word "Wherefore" points to all that has been written before about the riches of the gospel. Peter summons people to use their minds. The word "sober" means on the one hand to avoid drunkenness and in addition to be alert and exercise self-control. Christians are to live in hope, mindful of a great future, and be obedient as God's children. Most of these believers had been pagans, who had lived according to their own will and wishes, and passions, but now they were charged to heed God's will. And that meant holy living.

When the word holy is applied to people or things it means consecrated, that is set apart for the service of God. In the Old Testament the people of Israel, the temple, the things in the temple, were called holy. Holy living is godly living in every area of life, which is not easy but well worth while.

II. Redemption is costly. Peter reminds believers that they had been redeemed by the precious blood of Christ. The word "blood" refers to the sacrificial, atoning death of Christ. Jesus is the spotless Lamb of God who takes away the sin of the world (John 1:29). The sacrificial animals in the Old Testament times were without blemish, free from all handicaps. Christ is the Passover Lamb, sinless, undeserving of death, who willingly laid down his life for the sins of the people.

The Lord's death was foreordained "before the foundation of the world." Salvation cannot be bought by precious things, it is given, because of what Christ has done for his people. Hence all who have received salvation ought to show gratitude by serving.

III. God has a people whom He calls his own. In Old Testament times Israel belonged to God in a special way, today believers in Christ are God's in a particular way. The Lord has but one people, some lived in Old Testament times others in New Testament times. "But ye are a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, a holy nation, a peculiar people"—that is "a people for His own possession." Believers are priests who are called to offer up praise and thanks-giving and to intercede for others.

The mission of God's people is to "show forth the praises of Him, who hath called you out of darkness into His marvelous light." Believers have something to talk about. Are we doing it or are we forgetting our high mission?

Dutchmen Hand Olivet 33-28 Loss

Hope College unveiled a heretofore unheralded member of its cast here Saturday and emerged with a 33-28 victory before 4,300 homecoming fans.

With no score in the game and 8:30 remaining in the first quarter Hope's quarterback Groy Kaper injured his ankle and was forced to leave the game.

In trotted Jon Constant, freshman from Grand Haven, who had run only two plays from scrimmage all year, but who today completed 12 of 18 passes, rushed for 60 yards, scored one touchdown and passed for two more.

Four plays later Constant opened up the scoring on a one yard plunge and after Bill Bekker's conversion was blocked, Hope led 6-0.

The lead was short lived when Karl Wilson returned the kick-off 85 yards behind a wall of blockers for a touchdown. Hal Hooks converted his first of four successful attempts and Olivet led for the last time 7-6. Hope completely dominated the rest of the half as Olivet was able to muster only five first downs and 71 total yards.

After neither team was able to move the ball for almost a quarter Hope was forced into a punting situation from their own 44-yard line. Gary Frens got off a good kick aided by the wind and Glenn Johnson misjudged the ball on his own ten-yard line. The ball brushed his uniform and bounded into the end zone where Hope's Ken Otte fell on it for a touchdown. Bekker converted and Hope led 13-6 with 5:27 left in the half.

Frens' kickoff went into the end zone and Olivet had a first down on their 20. On the second play from scrimmage Eric Witzke was thrown for a seven-yard loss attempting to pass. He fumbled and Keith Van Tubergen recovered for Hope.

Six plays later Constant tossed to Tom Thomas for a seven-yard score giving Hope a 19-7 lead which they carried into halftime.

Hope was displaying the type of a rushing game they had not shown since the first two games of the year. This coupled with an outstanding performance from Constant was most responsible for the two touchdown lead at halftime.

But Olivet, possessing the league's leading quarterback took to the airways at the start of the second half.

Witzke led the Comets 80 yards in six plays with the score coming on a four-yard sweep by Wilson. Hooks converted and the score was 19-14.

Witzke completed three successive passes in the drive good for 59 yards.

Hope came right back, going 67 yards in nine plays with the score coming on a Constant to Nate Bowles pass good for 36 yards.

Hope went for the two point conversion but failed and led 25-14.

The defenses took over until late in the third quarter when Hope took advantage of William Pechotas short 25-yard punt into the wind and drove 56 yards in three plays to up the lead to 31-14. The score came on a two-yard run by Frens who totaled 70 yards in eight carries following a 48-yard burst off tackle by Bowles who led the Hope rushers with 156 yards in 38 carries.

Hope again went for the two point conversion and was successful when Dick Bont swept right end. With 2:35 remaining in the third quarter Hope had a 33-14 lead.

Olivet came right back driving 80 yards, 66 in the air, with Wilson scoring his third touchdown at 14:30 of the last quarter on a four-yard run. Hooks converted and the lead was cut to 33-21.

Hope got a break with 7:00 minutes left when Frens' punt was blocked by Jess Bobo on Hope's 35. However, the ball bounced right back to Frens who ran 17 yards for a first down. Although Hope didn't score this kept Olivet out of good scoring position and also allowed Hope to eat up more of the clock.

Olivet ended the scoring late in the game with a touchdown by Witzke and Hope had its first league win.

Hope's offensive line did a fine job as Constant was thrown for a loss only once compared to Witzke who was hit six times for losses totaling 58 yards. This statistic gives due credit to the Hope defensive line led by Ted Rycenga who coach Russ De Vette felt was the "outstanding lineman" of the game.

Hope now 3-3 on the year and 1-2 in the league travels to Kalamazoo Saturday for a 2:15 p.m. game.

West Ottawa Wins On Field Goal

The West Ottawa football team nipped Kentwood on the West Ottawa field Friday night, 23-21.

Showing the amazing ability to come back when things were against them, the Panthers snatched the victory from Kentwood on a 19-yard field goal by Darryl (The Toe) Mitchell in the final 11 seconds of the game.

The Panthers kicked off to open the game. Norm Byram returned the ball to Kentwood's own 42 yard line. Following two straight penalties against them, the Falcons stunned West Ottawa on a 63-yard touchdown pass to Byram. The extra point was good.

Kentwood marched 41 yards in 10 plays for its second touchdown. Halfback Jordan Bosma scored on a one yard plunge. Again the conversion was good.

For the remainder of the first quarter, the Panthers controlled the ball. With less than one minute left in the quarter, halfback Greg Dalman took a pitch out from quarterback Jim Visser and scampered 13 yards to score. Darryl Mitchell booted the extra point making the score 14-7.

The second quarter saw neither team able to score. The Panthers drove down deep into Falcon territory but were stopped on a fumble.

West Ottawa received to open the second half. With Visser leading the way on a 32-yard run and a 34-yard pass to end Greg Van Wieren, the Panthers threatened to tie the score. A touchdown was called back and Kentwood's defense threw the Panthers back for a five yard loss to stop the drive.

Kentwood made a quick first down but were forced to punt from their own 18-yard line. However, Dean Achterhof crashed through the Falcon line, blocked the punt, and recovered the ball in the end zone for the touchdown. The conversion failed.

Kentwood took the following kick off and marched 59 yards in seven plays. Mark Gathercole threw a touchdown pass to a Norm Byram to put the Falcons ahead 20-13. The extra point was good.

At this point, the Panthers refused to play dead. Visser ran for 12 yards and threw for two straight completions putting the ball on Kentwood's 27-yard line. From here, Les Sommermaand ran for the touchdown. Mitchell kicked the extra point leaving the Panthers behind, 21-20.

The Panthers appeared to have lost the game when with just 1:40 left in the game, a Visser pass was picked off on Kentwood's 20-yard line. Using its time outs after every play, West Ottawa forced the Falcons into a fourth-and-one situation.

With the crowd yelling "Block that punt," Kentwood's center got off a high snap and the punter missed the ball giving West Ottawa a first down on the Falcons 22-yard line.

With 18 seconds left on the clock, a Kentwood offside penalty gave the Panthers a first down on the 13 yard line.

With 11 seconds left, coach Ron Wetherbee called in his kicking specialist Mitchell who calmly kicked the winning field goal. After being mobbed by his teammates, Mitchell kicked off to Kentwood who managed one play before time ran out.

Coach Wetherbee commented "The kids just never gave up. I told our tackles (Achterhof and Mike De Vree) before the game that they would either make or break us." He also praised the defensive work of Rodney Berkompas.

The win lifted West Ottawa, 3-1 in league action, into a tie for first place in the OK League Division with Forest Hills. Next Friday the Panthers travel to Wyoming.

Lound Paces Dutch Attack In 18-6 Win

MUSKEGON — Before a sparse homecoming crowd here Friday night Holland High's football team showed just enough gusto to emerge with an 18-6 victory over Orchard View. Holland was not the same team that had defeated Grand Haven and Mona Shores the previous two weeks. As Coach Dave Kempker said after the game this lockdown was to be expected and the important aspect of the game was that the Dutch escaped with a win to keep them on top of the Valley Coast Conference.

The workhorse for Holland was senior co-captain Gary Lound who rushed for 150 yards in 29 carries and scored Holland's first two touchdowns.

Orchard View received the opening kickoff and tried three plays without a huddle. However, on the third play Mike Fraam picked off a Ron Anderegg pass on the Dutch 46.

Holland moved to the Cardinals 13 where they were stopped on fourth down.

On the second play from scrimmage Anderegg had his second pass intercepted by Rick Munson on the Cardinal 14 and Munson ran it to the four.

On the first play from scrimmage Lound busted off left tackle at 4:44 of the first quarter to give the Dutch a lead they never relinquished. Bernie Rosendahl missed his first of three unsuccessful conversion attempts.

Following the kickoff the Cardinals were forced to punt and Dave Gosselaar broke through to block the kick and recover on Orchard View's 41 yard line.

Five plays later Lound went 26 yards on a deep reverse around left end giving Holland a 12-0 lead.

Holland appeared to be in complete control of the game but lightning was soon to strike. After Holland regained control of the ball Lound pounded into the end zone from 10 yards out for what appeared to be his third touchdown of the game.

However, Holland was penalized 15 yards, their first of seven costly penalties which totaled 88 yards.

Coach Kempker later remarked, "There's no doubt about it, the key to the game was Lound's touchdown that was called back."

Remarkings on the penalties Kempker noted, "That's the whole thing, the penalties, they killed us."

Holland was unable to score following the penalty and the gates were left open to Orchard View for an 85 yard touchdown run by Craig Charland at 8:24 of the second period.

The run accounted for 85 of the Cardinals 96 total yards. Holland was beset by penalties; time and again in the second half but so completely dominated the game, running 71 plays to the Cardinals 39 in the game, and 35 plays to 16 in the second half, that the only difference it made in the game was the margin of victory.

Holland's final score came at 0:27 of the final quarter when Max Glupker snuck over from the one yard line following Fritz Steininger's interception of an Anderegg pass at 1:50. Kempker noted after the game

Part of Avant Garde Movie Shot in Old Allegan Jail

ALLEGAN — When the producers of "Ciao! Manhattan" put together the plot for an underground film depicting a couple of young New Yorkers caught in the "morass of the pop-op-drug-love-sex theme," they didn't know how much realism they would have before the final scene.

They expected to get it released early this month, but one of the stars is awaiting trial on narcotics charges in Allegan county. Another is undergoing treatment in a New York State mental hospital.

It took some doing, but the producers rewrote the script and completed filming in the old Allegan county jail with Paul Johnson, 24, who gives his address as route 2, Hamilton, as underground "superstar" of the avant garde movie. Johnson, who was arrested Aug. 18 during a raid on a farm near New Richmond owned by his brother, Theodore, was renamed Paul America for the film.

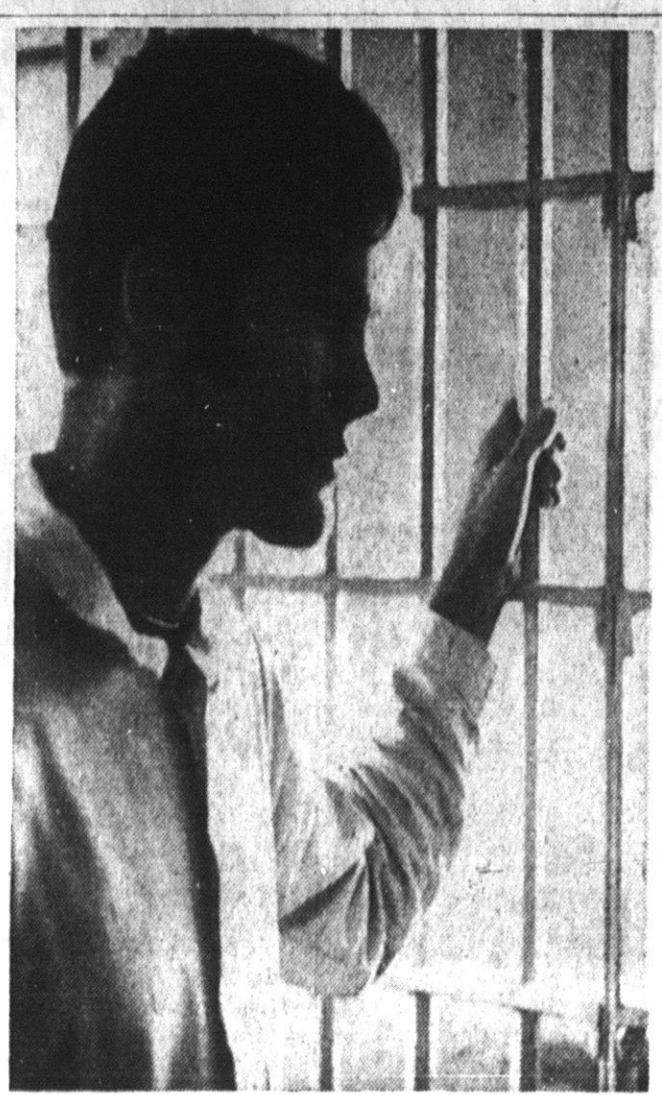

Johnson, who is awaiting preliminary examination on charges of sale and possession of narcotic drugs, finally was let out on $1,500 bond over the weekend, but that was after a few thousand feet of film was shot in the old jail, now in use as an historical museum for Allegan county.

The last of the film will be shot at a New York mental hospital where the other star, Edie Sedgwick, is a patient. Miss Sedgwick also is a former "superstar."

Allegan jail scenes were shot by a skeleton crew. Co-producers Robert Margoulef and David Weissman, both of New York City, are helping with the actual production work. The director is 23-year-old John Palmer who at 16 served as cameraman on one of the original Andy Warhol "epics" titled "Empire" which consisted of eight solid hours of a single view of the Empire State building.

The cameraman is Kjell Rostad, a young Norwegian, and the other professional was Tom Fly, a rock band drummer whose long flowing hair and beard have caused the producers some nervous moments. Until actual shooting started late last week, Fly stayed in his motel room lest his appearance upset Allegan people.

The Allegan County Historical Society which operates a museum in the old 1910 jail building cooperated with the producers in allowing a second floor cell block for jail scenes. And Museum Curator John Pahl was signed to play a bit part — as jail turnkey. Johnson's court-appointed attorney, John Nahan, also appears in a scene.

Paul Johnson was living in New Jersey when he met Andy Warhol, the underground movie maker, in a New York discotheque and he volunteered to help him assemble a motorcycle the next day. Warhol signed him to appear in the picture.

Weissman insists "Ciao! Manhattan" is not an underground movie. He said it has a six-figure budget and is shot in 35 mm. wide screen color, running about 90 minutes.

Johnson, who insists he is innocent in the drug case, was one of four arrested in the Aug. 18 raid where Allegan sheriff's officers found two rows of marijuana plants growing on Johnson's brother's farm. The older brother, Theodore, and Melvin J. Andringa, 25, Holland, have both pleaded guilty to reduced charges, and charges against Theodore's wife, were dismissed.

Officers estimated the marijuana could have been sold for an estimated $5,000 through illegal channels.

Paul Johnson, the superstar, says he returned to Holland to "straighten myself out" and said he had regular employment as a house painter at the time of his arrest. Back in New York he had won a fame of sorts as one of the few actors who ever managed to induce Warhol to part with actual cash, collecting a reported $1,000 for his role as Paul America in Warhol's "My Hustler."

Allegan Sheriff Robert Whitcomb wasn't a bit enthusiastic about the idea of letting one of his prisoners out during the day to make a movie — even if it did have a six-figure budget. In fact, it wasn't until Michigan Attorney General Frank J. Kelley ruled that it would be all right that Whitcomb gave the idea his approval.

Whitcomb's deputies weren't overly impressed with the proceedings either. Shooting ground to a halt every day at 5 p.m. — supper time for all county prisoners...including Paul America, "superstar."

Melodrama 'Gaslight' Opens Hope Season

"Under the Gaslight" Augustin Daly's popular melodrama of a century ago, will open the 1968-69 Hope College theatre season.

The play will run two weeks, Oct. 25-26 and Nov. 1-2, in the college's Little Theatre. Curtain time will be 8 p.m.

All of the elements associated with early melodrama are to be found in "Under the Gaslight," and many of the conventions of melodrama were in fact established and made popular by this play. These include the now familiar scene of the villain tying the heroine to the railroad tracks, and the rescue-in-the-nick-of-time.

The theatrical history of the play is almost as sensational as its contents. Originally performed in New York under the full title "Under the Gaslight; a Totally Original and Pictorial Drama of Life and Love in These Times," it received rave reviews and was an immediate box-office success. Although Daly originally adapted the play from a British melodrama, his version now has an important place in the history of the American stage.

Among the characters to be seen in this entertainment spectacular are the somewhat bumbling hero Ray Trafford, the lovely and virtuous heroine Laura Cortland, Pearl Cortland ("pretty, but with No Heart"), Peach Blossom (a girl who was never Brought Up"), and the returned veteran and adventurer Snorky ("established as a Soldier Messenger but open to Anything Else") who is on hand at the right moment to save the day. Villainy in abundance is supplied by Byke ("one of the men whom the Law is always Reaching for but never touches") and his consort Old Judas.

The production is under the direction of Donald Finn, a member of the theatre faculty. The role of the villain Byke will be played by John Tammi, a new member of the theatre faculty this year.

Students in the production are Robert Kieft, Jacqueline Spaeth, John Heinsuis, Rudy Howard, Jessica Sirrine, Dave Breen, Carol White and Maggie Beretz.

Also Betsey Noice, Autumn Peters, Christine Currey, Linda Dalton, Charles Schoeneck, Susan Buckman and Dayne Lamb.

Also Mike Onk, Mike Boonstra, Joe de Ily, Kay Hubbard, Douglas Levine, Dominic DeFazio and Deborah Noe.
