Colorful Ceremony Marks Inaugural of Hesselink

A return to basics as the logical trend, if not the answer to today's unstable situation, was advocated by Dr. I. John Hesselink in his inaugural address as president of Western Theological Seminary Sunday afternoon in Third Reformed Church.

Dr. Hesselink, who became the 11th president of the local seminary since it was founded in 1866, was inaugurated at ceremonies headed by a colorful procession which brought representatives of some 30 seminaries and colleges wearing vestments and colorful hoods, as well as representatives of the Reformed Church in America and other churches.

In his address, Dr. Hesselink, who came to Holland after 20 years as a missionary in Japan, 12 of them on the faculty of Tokyo Union Theological Seminary, said he regards the "basics" of his aims for the seminary as "catholic, evangelical and reformed."

And he regards the return to basics as a forward step, not a backward one. "We have been through a decade marked by radical curricular change, student unrest, faculty shakeups, financial crises, relocation and closing of seminaries and confusion. Hence it is time to re-examine our foundations and goals. For the future depends on how well we have plotted our course and on the clarity of our vision."

Dr. Hesselink said the word "catholic" which often is misunderstood is qualitative as well as quantitative, and means that a truly Catholic Church is one where the gospel of Jesus Christ is found and presented in its fullness or wholeness.

He spoke of the early aims of the seminary which was founded in the Dutch Reformed tradition to serve churches in the midwest, but now serves both coasts and Florida as well as missionaries and chaplains in the four corners of the globe.

He advocated closer ties not only with New Brunswick Seminary but with Calvin Seminary, and theological schools of other churches.

He termed his three words, catholic, evangelical and reformed, as correlative and independent concepts. "although 'reformed' is truly catholic and evangelical, there are certain accents especially characteristic of the Reformed tradition found not only in the Presbyterian background but in such other denominations as Anglican, Congregational and Baptist. He said at the local seminary every attempt will be made to hold word and spirit together, with the constant reminder: "We are not our own... we are God's."

Dr. Hesselink is a graduate of Central College in Pella, Iowa, attended New Brunswick Seminary and graduated from Western in 1953. He did graduate work at the International Christian University in Japan and at Basel University in Switzerland.

Dr. Harold J. Schut led the order for the inauguration. Dr. Marion de Velder led the litany and Dr. Gordon J. Van Yellen of Hope College read scripture. Greetings were given by Curry Pikkart of the student body, Dr. Elton Eenigenburg of the faculty, Dr. Elton J. Bruins of the alumni and the Rev. A. George Karunakaran of the Church of South India. Dr. Howard Hageman of New Brunswick Seminary gave the prayer.

Car-Truck Crash Kills Two Drivers

GRAND HAVEN — Sharyl Ringewold, 19, of 11325 New Holland St., Holland, and James Walter Harris, 53, of Gary, Ind., were killed at 1:15 a.m. today in a head-on car-truck collision along northbound US-31 just south of M-45 in Grand Haven township.

Their deaths raised the Ottawa County traffic toll to 32 for the year.

State Police said a passenger in the Ringewold car, Margaret Bauer, 19, of 897 Ottawa Beach Rd., escaped with minor bumps and bruises. She was treated in North Ottawa Community Hospital and released.

Troopers said the victims were pinned in the wreckage of their vehicles which had to be cut apart to free them.

Investigators said the Harris pickup truck was heading the wrong way south along the northbound traffic lane and collided head on with the Ringewold car heading north.

Miss Ringewold was a 1972 graduate of West Ottawa High School.

Harris had lived in Muskegon Heights until he moved to Gary about a month ago, authorities said.

Doctors In Country Urge Health Shots

Doctors in Ottawa County are cooperating in a program to assess the immunization records of children in order to urge completion of the child's immunization series against childhood diseases.

The state medical society and the Michigan Department of Public Health were concerned that the percentage of young children who have been vaccinated against such diseases as polio and measles is dangerously low, posing the potential threat of epidemics.

October has been designated as Immunization Action Month and Dr. Paul J. Christenson, medical director for the Ottawa County Health Department, said county physicians would assess the immunization status of their patients.

The County health department plans a series of polio clinics in the county schools during October and November, Christenson said.

A survey conducted recently in a nine-county area, including Ottawa County, showed fewer than half of the school children were adequately immunized against polio, 60 per cent against German measles and 85 per cent against measles.

In the preschool group about 90 per cent were immunized against diphtheria, pertussis, tetanus; 70 per cent against measles, 67 per cent against German measles and 78 per cent against polio.

Christenson said in Ottawa County, 61 per cent of the school children were immunized against polio, 82 per cent against German Measles and 88 per cent against measles.

In the preschool levels, 67 per cent had been immunized against polio, 65 per cent against German measles, 70 per cent against measles and 96 per cent against diphtheria, whooping cough and tetanus.

Christenson said to date Ottawa County has reported no cases of polio, four reported cases of measles and 15 reported cases of German measles.

He added that Michigan has had twice as many reported cases of measles this year as reported in 1972 and the state number represents 20 per cent of the total cases of measles reported in the nation.

Dr. John J. Witte, chief of the Public Health Service Immunization branch said about 60 per cent of the children one to four years of age have been vaccinated against measles. He said many parents wait until their children are approaching school age to get immunized.

The result, he said, was that many children under school age are susceptible to the diseases.

AT CHAMBER DINNER — A capacity crowd attended the Holland Chamber of Commerce annual meeting Monday night at Point West featuring U.S. Sen. Robert

P. Griffin as speaker. Left to right are Donald E. Stoltz, new Chamber president; Sen. Griffin, and Harvey J. Buter, master of ceremonies.

Keep It Cool... Griffin Urges

U.S. Sen. Robert P. Griffin reviewed "The Week That Was" for the Holland Chamber of Commerce at its annual meeting at Point West Monday night, describing Washington events the past two weeks as the most turbulent period he could recall, and urging people to "keep our heads a while longer even if others are losing theirs."

The annual dinner had a full house, plus a waiting list for tickets as it appeared the senator might reveal fresh developments from the nation's capital, or at least offer clarifying statements on the series of fast-breaking events that made Washington and most American citizens reel.

In rapid succession, Griffin ticked off the events:

1. The war in the Middle East.
2. The resignation of Vice President Agnew.
3. The implementation of the new 25th amendment which appointed Gerald R. Ford Jr. as vice president who after confirmation will be the first Michigan man in the post which is a heartbeat away from president.
4. The compromise move in offering a summary of the Watergate tapes to amend constitutional confrontation, a move approved by both Ervin and Baker.
5. Cox's denunciation of the offer, his release as prosecutor which led to the resignation of Richardson and the firing of Rickselhaus.
6. The Soviet Union and the United States for the first time since World War II cooperating in arranging a cease-fire in the Middle East War.

"If any fiction writer had concocted such a series of events, it almost certainly would be rejected by a publisher," Griffin said.

The senator said he was not with those advocating resignation or impeachment since there are sound reasons for protecting the confidentiality of presidential conversations. He said the president has gone quite a distance in making tapes available and urged the people to keep cool heads while final determination is made by the courts. It is altogether possible that the court will agree with the president, he said.

Then he pointed to the need for confirming the appointment of Jerry Ford as soon as possible. He described Ford as being able, experienced and personable and said it was unfortunate that partisan politics had entered the picture evoking the lowest form of political blackmail.

Then he outlined his new amendment providing a new system of selecting a vice president—one not calculated to balancing a ticket geographically or paying a political debt. Almost any system would serve the interests of the people better than the present system, he said.

He said President Eisenhower had done more to dignify the position of vice president than any other, yet much remains to be done.

He spoke of his pleasure at being in Holland, a place that is growing dynamically, yet preserving the oldtime virtues in that people care about each other.

Harvey Buter served as master of ceremonies and Donald Hann introduced the speaker. The retiring president, Floyd J. Folkert, and the incoming president, Donald E. Stoltz, spoke briefly. A framed resolution was presented by Mayor L. W. Lamb Jr., for outstanding service to the community and a past president's plaque went to Folkert. Dr. Gordon Van Wylen gave the invocation.

A film presentation on triple screens entitled "Your Chamber at Work Within a Changing Community" showed past and present scenes in the community, with emphasis on progress as reflected in new industry, schools, parks, utilities, Tulip Time and tourism.

Avoids Future Congestion By New Zoning

The Holland City Council recently approved two amendments to the Zoning Ordinance, creating two new city zone districts.

The D-2 industrial zoning, drafted to provide realistic criteria for industrial park development, is aimed at preventing congestion in the future.

The A-4 residential zoning recognizes the residential nature of mobile home parks within the city, and provides some protection to mobile home owners.

The new industrial zoning, according to Dale Wyngarden, is a result of months of study by the Ordinance Review Committee of the Holland Planning Commission. The Commission recommended the D-2 zoning as part of the updating of the master plan of the city, a task last undertaken about a decade ago.

One of the features of the D-2 zoning is the requirement of 75 feet of setback from the curb, as opposed to the 25-foot requirement of the D-1, the original industrial zoning. The D-1, of course, will remain in effect in most inner city locations where it presently exists. The D-2, on the other hand, is intended for new industrial areas, primarily the south side industrial parks.

Wyngarden credits HEDCOR, the Chamber of Commerce related group of businessmen, industrialists and civic leaders, with a lot of the original impetus in the direction of the D-2.

HEDCOR sponsored the creation of the south side industrial park in the '60's, planning ahead for just the type of restrictions which the planning commission expects in the D-2.

The A-4 residential zoning, directed at mobile home parks within the city, recognizes that these areas, now zoned commercially or agriculturally, are in fact residential areas.

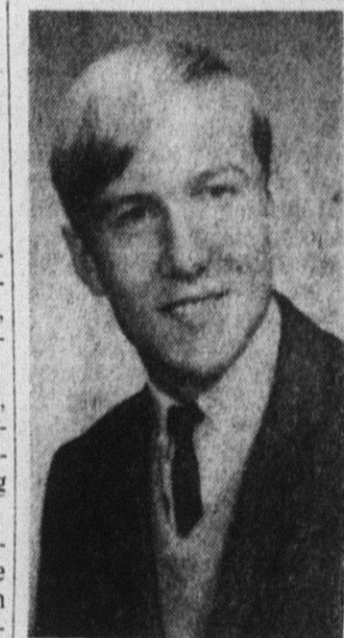

The mobile home parks, said Wyngarden, are no longer the temporary establishments of the '40's, which could be bulldozed over to create shopping centers. They are areas where curb and gutter improvements, and storm drainage developments, for example, have been asked for and made. The mobile home parks are here to stay, and the A-4 zoning recognizes that fact.

In effect, the A-4, according to Wyngarden, says that the mobile home parks deserve protection similar to that given other residential areas: it requires certain standards of development and maintenance, including underground utilities and open space for recreation.

Both of the rezoning ordinances are part of the second updating of the 1953 master plan. The Planning Commission's 15-page systematic revision is now in the hands of the council, and it is hoped that further action will be taken before the end of the year.

Body of Kleis Recovered Along Beach

GRAND HAVEN — The body of Rodney James Kleis, 24, of Holland, who drowned in Lake Michigan Oct. 13 when he fell from a sailboat south of the Grand Haven harbor, was found Sunday along the beach south of Grand Haven by area residents.

Rodney James Kleis

Ottawa County deputies said the body was reported found by James Koats and his son at 2:15 p.m. Sunday.

Kleis was among five persons on board the 30-foot boat "Tiki" heading for Grand Haven. Deputies said Kleis attempted to cross from one side of the cockpit to the other when the boat rolled and he was pitched overboard.

The Coast Guard, using boats and a helicopter, was joined in a search for Kleis by a State Police helicopter and sheriff's deputies. The search was suspended a day later because of rough seas.

A 1967 graduate of West Ottawa High School, Kleis lived at 676 Bosma Ave. and had attended Grand Valley State Colleges. He had been a seaman on the Great Lakes ore carrier George Gobel and was self employed and had planned to return to Grand Valley.

Survivors include the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Kleis; a brother, Charles, of Holland; two sisters at home, Marlene and Sharon; a grandmother, Mrs. Henry Kleis of Zeeland; a nephew, Chad Kleis and several uncles, aunts and cousins.

Sheriff's Deputy Injured in Crash

Ottawa County sheriff's deputy Llewellyn Edward De Vries, 28, of 2696 North 120th Ave., suffered minor injuries when the cruiser he was driving was involved in an accident Saturday at 12:10 p.m. at M-21 and 112th Ave.

De Vries was treated in Holland Hospital and released.

Holland police, who investigated the accident, said De Vries was southbound on 112th Ave. responding to an accident call while another car, driven by Isais Silva, 25, of 14 West 17th St., was westbound on M-21. A third car, whose driver was not identified, was in the median and struck by one of the other two cars.

Golden Days On the Wane In Local Area

The beautiful Indian summer weather that has blessed Holland this week is on the wane. Predictions call for somewhat cooler weather, possibly some rain but generally good weather, nothing like the snowfalls that often visit the area near Halloween.

Tuesday's maximum was 78 and Wednesday's maximum 77. The temperature at 11 a.m. today was 65.

Autumn colors are becoming more colorful in Holland every day, although a good deal of green still remains.

Astronaut James Irwin Shares Life

Astronaut James B. Irwin, who spent more than 18 hours on the moon in 1971, "felt God's presence on the moon more than I have ever felt it here on earth" and came back from the flight to find it had changed his life.

Irwin, who is making appearances in Western Michigan through the World Home Bible League, addressed more than

James B. Irwin

1,000 students at Holland Christian High School Monday afternoon and spoke in civic Center Tuesday.

The former astronaut is founder and chief spokesman for High Flight, a non-profit organization in which he shares his faith in God and serves humanity through speaking engagements, publications, retreats and training activities.

High Flight, he said, represents the mutual search between God and man and man's outreach to other men.

During an informal news conference in the library of the school Irwin spoke of the relationship between science and religion and believed that one supported the other.

Science, he indicated, was uncovering God's laws while religion was man's relationship to God. "For me there is no difference," he said.

Irwin retired from the space program in 1972. He earned an engineering degree from the University of Michigan in 1957 and he and his wife have five children.

Cars Stopped, Four Arrested

Four persons, including a 16-year-old juvenile boy, were arrested by Holland police in two separate and unrelated incidents Wednesday night and early today and faced charges involving possession of marijuana.

A car operated by Ron Sebasta, 29, of 40th West Apartments, was stopped by police at 1:23 a.m. today for an alleged traffic violation near 32nd St. and Ottawa Ave. and an uncased shotgun, an opened can of beer and a quantity of marijuana in the car.

At 11:57 p.m. Wednesday a car operated by Lawrence Alan Lalo, 18, of 1143 Harvard Dr., was stopped near 40th St. and Ottawa Ave. after an officer observed the tail light on the car was not functioning.

Officers said they found a quantity of marijuana in the car and took Lalo and two companions into custody. The other two in the car were the juvenile and William J. Barnaby, 18, of 295 West 20th St. The adults faced arraignment today in District Court.

Chamber Hears 'Grand Old Man'

ZEELAND — In many ways, the 36th annual banquet of the Zeeland Chamber of Commerce Tuesday night was a tribute to 82-year-old D. J. De Pree, Zeeland's grand old man, who addressed the assemblage on "Our Community" with all the vigor of a gung-ho youthful Chamber executive.

Currently chairman emeritus of the board of Herman Miller Inc. after more than a half century in the furniture business, De Pree covered past, present and future of his beloved city in a well researched paper that covered faults as well as the great assets which are a source of pride to all Zeelanders.

De Pree, long active in the Gideon movement serving as international president 1950-53, said Zeeland is a good place to live and bring up a family, that it has good industry, an above-average pride, and an aggressive and positive spirit overlaid by diligent and prudent oversight.

He spoke of religion, education, industry and agriculture, commercial functions, merchandising, banking, health care and wellbeing, transit, recreation and leisure time, suburban and rural living, social distresses, law and order, safety, and communications.

While recognizing Zeeland's many blessings, he zeroed in on improvements to be assessed: the lack of interest in foreign languages, the possibility of a junior college, possibility of a clinic to reduce mounting hospital costs, a transit system that might reduce street traffic and ease the energy crisis, a swimming pool, walks for pedestrians and bike paths for cycling.

He suggested a new campaign for the "greening of Zeeland," stating that most rural properties have better lawns than the city. He encouraged hiring

Mrs. Dorothy Cecil, Day Care Center director, described the many services given by volunteers throughout the year such as help in the kitchen, washing sheets, blankets and bibs, sewing aprons, sheets and blankets, building of playground equipment and toys for the classroom, aiding with holiday parties and field trips.

Much professional help is also given in the fields of medical, dental and psychological care and career development and counseling with the staff and interested parents. Volunteer hours contributed total more than $11,000 in monetary worth. This, along with the donated facilities of both Hope and Third Reformed Churches educational rooms, totals a very large part of the total Day Care Center budget.

Mrs. Jo Anne Brooks, volunteer chairman, spoke about why Christians should be involved in the program and the special ingredient — God's love — which they have to offer.

NO ADMISSION OF FAULT

Sen. Charles Percy of Illinois, together with Sen. Sam Ervin, is sponsoring a bill in the Senate that will set up proper budget procedures that will give Congress some notion of what it should spend and where the money ought to be spent.

Sen. Percy says that he had a better budget program at Bell and Howell, a company he once headed, than Congress has. We quote all this to make the point that some, if not most, of our financial problems are related to Congress working in almost total ignorance of good budget procedures.

Sen. Percy admits that the situation is bad. This, of course, raises the question why the individual members of Congress haven't been busy doing something about the situation. And ought members of Congress who haven't done anything about the situation be blameless? Of course they shouldn't. We can only hope that at the polls the voters show they mean business.

Maybe there is some hope when Senators have finally come to the conclusion that much of the mess in government is to be found in their own laps. And it might be well for voters to let members of Congress know that they are aware that this is the case.

Meeting Held By Leprosy Federation

Delegates to the Federation of Women's Societies in the interest of Leprosy Missions met Friday at Jay's Restaurant in Zeeland to hear the Rev. Robert Bradburn who is currently associated with American Leprosy Missions.

Rev. Bradburn, while a missionary in Thailand for 14 years, took a course in leprosy detection and cure at Mc Kane Hospital. Of the 15 million lepers in the world, only a small percentage receive treatment. Those undergoing treatment no longer infect others. Free medication through leprosy clinics are now made available to 30 nations.

Recently at Teles, there is a need for an additional ward at the general hospital to upgrade the treatment for active patients who will eventually return to their homes. Leprosy is caused by bacillus and can be transmitted by mosquitoes.

New medications have helped check the spread of this dreadful disease if detected in the early stage.

Victory in Suffering
Romans 8: 31-39
By C. P. Dame

A retired preacher said to me some time ago that he had preached from every text in Romans 8 from which the lesson text is taken. Our lesson teaches the truth that absolutely nothing can separate a Christian from his God.

"I, God is for us. And why? Because He loves us. Romans 8 begins with the words, 'No condemnation' and ends with the words, 'no separation.' Suffering is real. It is here due to sin. God created a sinless world. Man's disobedience brought about his suffering. God often uses it to promote man's spiritual growth."

It is a privilege to be a Christian. After stating this fact Paul asks four questions. God exists. He is personally concerned, and He has done something for us in sending His Son to redeem us. Seeing that He has given us His best, and has ministered to us in our greatest need—deliverance from sin—we can be sure that He will meet all other needs. A man who gives clothes to a needy person will surely not let him go hungry. God will freely give us all things which are essential. This does not mean that Christians are free from all troubles and trials, but it does mean that He will not desert us, for He loves us. How bountiful God has been to us in these days.

II. God is a Christian's defender. "Who shall lay anything to the charge of God's elect?" Satan and his agents continually make charges against believers. Christians are a watched people. Slanderous words were spoken about Christians in the first century. God justified those Christians—reckoned them to be right in His sight. "Who is he that condemneth?" A holy Judge acquitted due to what Jesus did. Jesus died, rose again, is at God's right hand, where he makes intercession for His own. Some day He will return to judge. Now we are in good standing due to Christ for whose coming we are waiting.

III. God gives us continual confidence. And confident living is a great need in view of the confusion of our times. The challenging question, "Who shall separate us from the love of Christ?" Paul answers with firmness, after citing perils. We are more than conquerors "through Him that loved us." The word "conquerors" implies a contest. It is not possible to have a victory without a battle. The person who is more than a conqueror changes perils into possibilities, he is on top of troubles, trials, temptations, is triumphant and gives the credit to his Lord, from whom nothing can separate him—no not any peril, power of the present or the future.

Communications Media Panel Guest of AAUW

A panel of professionals in the communications media discussed current issues of the day at the Oct. 18 Branch meeting of the American Association of University Women. Mrs. James Skripka, chairman for the program, presented the speakers.

Randall Vande Water, city editor of The Holland Evening Sentinel, stated that news reporters are often responsible for bringing out the facts, as in the Watergate affair, and that the right of freedom of the press must be preserved.

He also said that there have been attempts by the government to restrict large categories of information to reporters by stating that release of such materials would constitute a threat to the national security. At present there is legislation pending that would prohibit the forced disclosure of confidential sources. The importance of strict accuracy in reporting the news was stressed.

Mr. Vande Water also discussed the various aspects of publishing a small daily newspaper. It must assume responsibility for covering local news not published in the larger papers. He said that a great deal of reliance is placed upon the United Press International and Associated Press wire service for national and international news coverage.

Alex Taylor, assistant news director for WOTV, said that reporters must pursue what information and data they feel is necessary for the public's information. He stressed that freedom of the press is essential. In discussing ways of obtaining better programming, he said the best method for citizens to make their voices heard is to write or telephone the stations.

Reed Brown, news director of WHTC radio, said that the responsibility for preserving the guarantees of the first amendment fell into four areas. The government has the responsibility to disclose information to the citizens. However, at times, fear of criticism may tend to limit what is released.

Mr. Brown noted that the public also has the responsibility to actively seek knowledge. He said citizens do have the right to know, and that they must work to preserve and maintain that right. Also the news media must strive to maintain a balance between fairness to all points of view, and discretion in presenting the various viewpoints. The courts also share the responsibility of interpreting the legal aspects with as much perception as possible.

Mrs. Donald Rohlick, membership chairman, introduced the following new members: Mrs. R. Baar, Margaret Van Vyven, Mrs. D. Goodwin, Mrs. W. McIntyre, Mrs. J. Howard, Mrs. Don Williams, Mrs. Verne

Dutchmen All Alone in First

ALBION — Hope College climbed into the MIAA driver's seat Saturday as the Dutchmen gained sole possession of first place behind an 18-3 victory over Albion.

Coach Ray Smith's Dutchmen, seeking their first outright MIAA football crown since 1953, are 3-0 against league opponents, one game ahead of Kalamazoo and Olivet. The Hornets of Kazoo lost their first league game Saturday bowing to Alma 24-10 while Olivet coasted past Adrian 28-7.

The championship is far from won, however, as Hope must play the two leading contenders. The Dutchmen entertain Kalamazoo Saturday in a homecoming tussle at Riverview Park and the following week travel to Olivet.

The Flying Dutchmen overcame six first-half fumbles to record their third straight victory, the longest winning streak for a Hope football team since 1964.

Hope, ranked fourth in the nation in rushing offense entering the game, ground out 264 yards behind the running of tailback Ed Sanders and fullback Chuck Brooks and added 124 yards passing as quarterback Bob Carlson completed seven of 16 aerial attempts.

Sanders, the fourth leading small college rusher going into the contest, enjoyed his sixth straight 100-yard plus performance collecting 175 yards in 33 carries.

The Brewton, Ala. senior is on track to threaten both the Hope and MIAA single season rushing records. In all games Sanders has 904 yards compared to the school record of 1,310 set a year ago by Bob Lamer. In the league Sanders has 500 yards and with two games left could threaten the all-time mark of 816 set in 1970 by former Hope standout Greg Voss.

Hope scored late in the first quarter when Sanders climaxed a short drive with a six-yard touchdown run. The Dutchmen had been stalled on two previous drives, one by a lost fumble and the other on downs, but gained good field position when Carlson returned an Albion punt 26 yards to the Britons' 22. Sanders' touchdown run came three plays later after Brooks had run 14 yards for a first down. Jeff Stewart kicked the extra point.

Neither team could generate an offense in the next 30 minutes as Hope was stymied by fumbles and the Britons stopped by the Dutch defense. Albion recovered four of Hope's six first half bobbles.

Albion trimmed the Hope lead to 7-3 at halftime when Jesse White kicked a 29-yard field goal.

The Dutchmen tried to regain the seven point lead in the closing seconds of the half but a 21-yard field goal try by Stewart was thwarted by a bad snap from center.

Stewart collected his first field goal of the season late in the third quarter, however, kicking a 22-yarder for a 10-3 Hope lead.

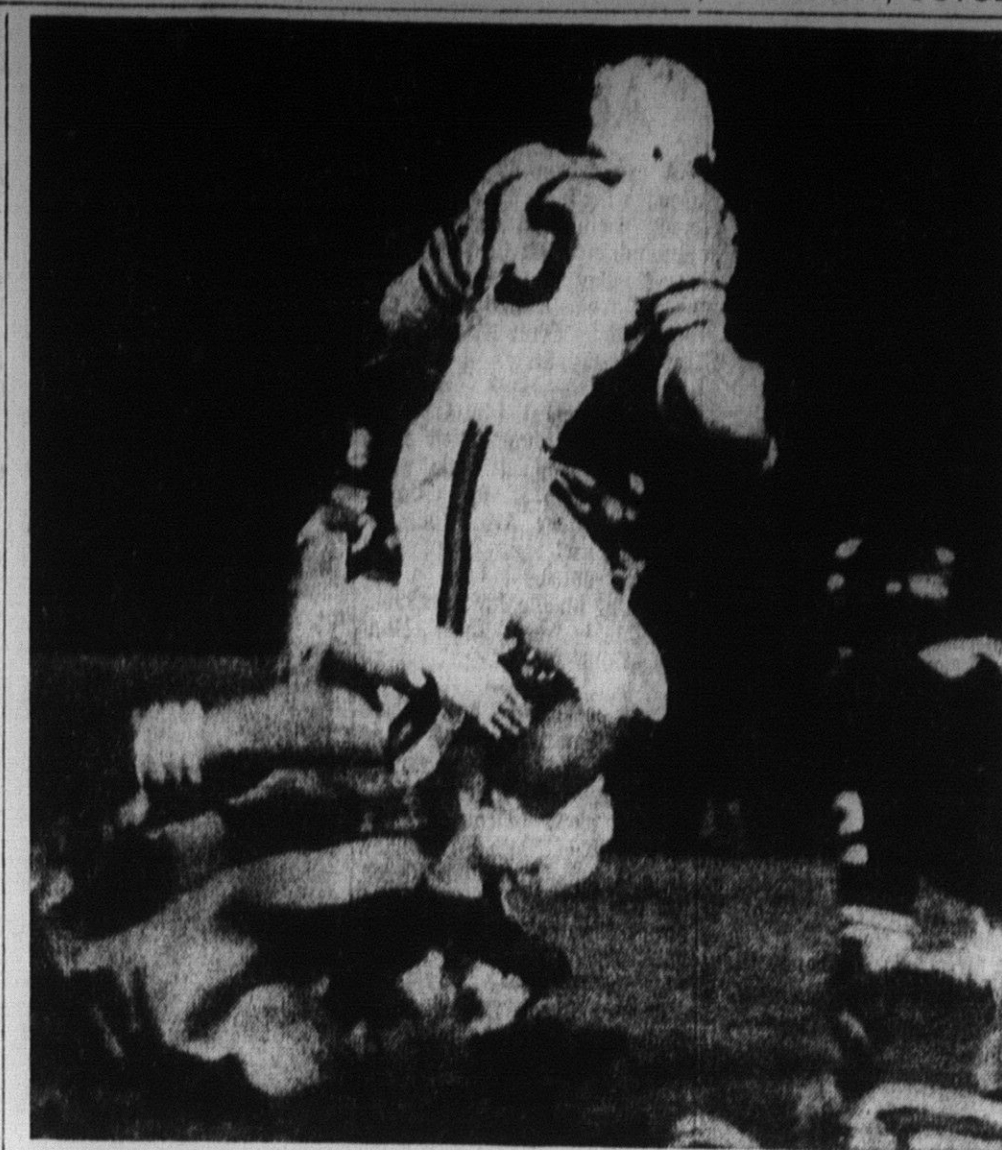

The Dutch went to the airways to score their last touchdown after an aroused young Briton defense held the Hope running attack to short gains.

Carlson connected with a 33-yard pass to wingback Gary Constant to put the ball on the Briton 11 and on the next play threw a touchdown aerial to sophomore end Frank Gucker who was standing unattended in the end zone. Carlson rounded out the scoring on a PAT.

Brooks ended with 85 yards rushing in 17 tries while Carlson had 11 yards in six carries. Brooks, Constant and Gucker each caught two passes.

Panthers Suffer 5th Loss, 33-18

Grandville's Bulldogs easily romped to victory by handing the West Ottawa Panthers their fifth football loss of the season by a 33-18 score here Friday.

Except for an early touchdown by the Panthers on a Bulldog fumble on the 11-yard line, there was very little for West Ottawa fans to cheer for. And that was probably the shortest lead the Panthers ever held on to as on the very next play, that being the kickoff, speedy Steve Cappon scampered 85 yards to put Grandville in the lead 7-6. Less than two minutes later it was Doug Roseman's turn over left tackle for thirty-five yards and another TD.

West Ottawa showed very little hustle in the first half and had it not been for a couple mistakes by Grandville it would have been out of reach very early. Cappon is the fastest runner the Panthers have seen all season. He scored two TD's in the second period alone, once from the five and then from the 15-yard line. This gave the Bulldogs a big 27-6 halftime lead and they were never challenged after that.

What really gave the fans new life was a great halftime show put on by all the West Ottawa bands of Tom Undegraff.

The Panthers played much more aggressive ball in the second half holding the Bulldogs to only one score, as Coach Dick Cook was able to use his reserves.

The big bright spot for the Panthers was in the last period when substitute quarterback Gord Vander Yacht came on the scene and threw a beautiful touchdown pass to Chuck Veldheer. Veldheer made a great catch and outran the secondary for the score. In fact Veldheer made several nice catches to set up another TD. Ken Hamstra also snagged a couple passes as well as intercepting another.

Several Panther fans have wondered why Vander Yacht, a senior has not seen more action in the past few games. He looked cool in the pocket on several nice pass receptions and played well on defense.

The Panthers also had a TD called back in the final period when Vander Yacht handed off to Matt Johnson as he went 40 yards to the end zone, only to have it called back on a clipping penalty.

West Ottawa outscored the Bulldogs in the second half but it was the big first half that broke the Panthers back.

West Ottawa travels to Rockford next week.

Holland's Season Mark Is Now 3-3

GRAND RAPIDS — Whoever said Christian schools could only play basketball ought to have been at Holland's football game with Grand Rapids Christian Friday evening, as the rugged Eagles handcuffed the Dutch, 6-0.

The win was the Eagles of Coach Bill Holwerda's fourth compared to one loss and one tie. The Dutch of Coach Dan Porretta are now 3-3 for the season.

It was the first time that Holland had ever competed on the gridiron against a Christian eleven and even though its many fans that traveled to Grand Rapids, probably wished it was Holland Christian the Dutch were playing at Riverview Park instead of the Eagles.

Holwerda, an ex - Hope College All - MIAA player said after the contest, "I'm just sorry that we didn't score more because we sure had the chances. Sure I felt we played well but we just didn't push it over enough."

Christian's only touchdown came when Coach Holwerda's huge son Jim hauled in a seven - yard score from quarterback Scott Van Dyken with 6:19 left in the third quarter. Christian's try for the PAT was unsuccessful.

The game's only score took the Eagles 12 plays to make 63 yards after the second half kickoff. Christian used 10 running and two passing plays to beat the Dutch.

In the fourth period, the Dutch were faced with a fourth down and two situation at the Eagles' 44. John Bonnette, Holland's hard running tailback made a first down by inches as time was running out.

Moments later Holland again was fourth and six on the 27 of Christian. Steve Bonnette's intended pass to Tom Barkel fell incomplete.

When time ran out, the Eagles were on Holland's 20 - yard line and moving.

Bill De Witt, filling in for the injured Chuck Modders at defensive end fell on an Eagle fumble on Holland's 20 in the first quarter. Barkel picked off a Van Dyken pass on his own 15 to stop another Eagle scoring attempt. Dave Mulder intercepted a S. Bonnette pass with 3:03 left in the tilt.

Holland had a great chance to take the lead in the first half, as they reached the Eagles' five - yard line but missed making a first down on a fourth and one when S. Bonnette had trouble hanging onto the pigskin.

Holland travels to Ottawa County rival Grand Haven next Friday while Christian meets powerful Grand Rapids Creston in a battle of City League foes.

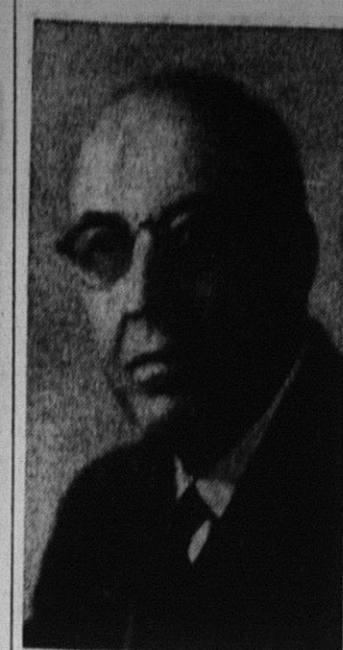

Holland's bagged delighted the large crowd that attended the game at Christian's beautiful field at the intermission.

Goldoni's 'Servant' Delights Hope Audience

By Joe Lane
Carlos Goldoni's "The Servant of Two Masters" flashed to raucous life Thursday evening in the DeWitt Cultural Center. This latest theatre offering of Hope College delighted the audience with the masterful direction of John Tammi, supported by Richard Smith's inspired technical work and an enthusiastic cast led by Steve Evans as Truffaldino.

Perhaps the most difficult task facing director Tammi is the vitalizing of the 18th century convention of farce. The plot is far too simple to intrigue the audience on its own: a servant who seeks a double salary winds up trying to avoid a double thrashing. The challenge met squarely by this fine cast and technical crew is making the endless "situation comedy" stand up to a full-length production.

Despite the rare first act moments that drag a bit, Tammi's actors tumble and bow wildly across a light, colorful set. Typical of the wild slapstick are the waiters and porters, played by Jack Hill and Don Smit, who do little else but tumble.

Richard Smith's technical crews provide fine support. The set is light and floppy, as flexible as the actors themselves. The bright masks and costumes, especially the provocative cod pieces worn by the old men, make the verbal bawdy visual.

The Hope actors are equal to the difficult challenge of the old Italian farce. James O'Connell gives us a lusty old Dr. Lombardi, one of the standard comic characters. Another of the Italian stereotypes, the artful maid who is smarter than her mistress, is played convincingly by Nancy Sigworth.

For low comedy belly-laughs, William Te Winkle's portrayal of the inept lover Silvio fills the bill.

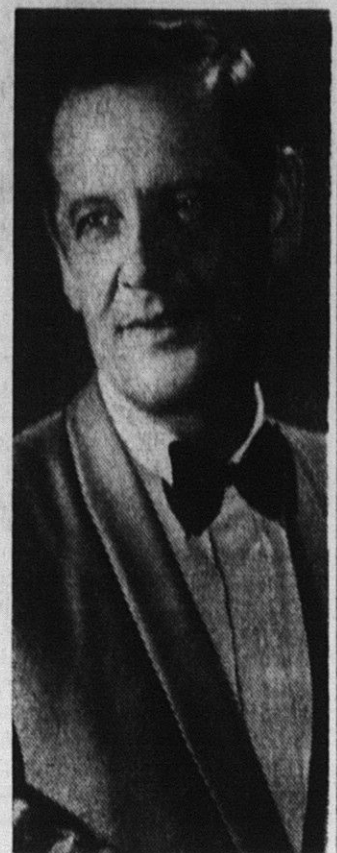

But the center of the show is the zany servant Truffaldino, and Steve Evans' portrayal is strong. The talented senior from Caledonia maintains a high emotional pitch in a

Spirit High Central Blanks Zeeland, 18-0

FOREST HILLS — With the combination of the homecoming spirit and the ruggedness of the Forest Hills Central football squad beat the Zeeland Chix, 18-0 in O-K White deviation action here Friday night.

Central's Jim Hulbert quickly showed Zeeland that they meant business, as he galloped 92 yards for Central's first score, on the initial kickoff. The PAT failed so with just seconds gone in the first quarter Central was out in front by a 6-0 margin.

Central, who dominated the ground game with 253 yards drove out another drive in the second quarter as Jack Sherry tepped the cake diving in from a yard out. The PAT failed making the final score at the end of the first half, 12-0 in favor of Forest Hills Central.

The only bright point in the ball game for Zeeland was in the statistics department where it showed Zeeland with only five yards in penalties but Central still dominated that area as they came up with a clean slate.

Central scored its final tally in the final quarter with Shawn Gary trotting in from four yards out.

Zeeland with a 2-4 record will host Hudsonville as the chix will celebrate with homecoming festivities Friday, in hopes of beating Hudsonville, with a 0-6 record.
