Questions Posed on Bus Use, Suit

Answers Sought On School Plan

The Holland Board of Education Monday was asked by citizen and attorney William Coupe to answer several questions concerning alleged changes in the plot plan for the new junior high school and a suit filed by the school district in connection with athletic field construction.

Former Local Couple Killed In Car Crash

NORTON SHORES — A former Holland area couple was killed and two Zeeland residents injured when their car slammed broadside into bridge abutment along US-31 Thursday at 4:50 p.m. after hitting the rear of another vehicle.

Norton Shores police said the dead couple was riding in the rear seat of the car and were pinned in the wreckage. They were pronounced dead at the scene.

Killed were Murrel Donald Greer Jr., 22, and his wife, Sandra Greer, 21, both of 301 Jackson St., Grand Haven.

Injured were Jessie Douglas Cates, 32, driver of the car and a brother-in-law of Mrs. Greer, and Gary Louks, 21, a passenger in the car and a brother of Mrs. Greer. Both lived at 16 East McKinley St., Zeeland and were treated in Muskegon's Mercy Hospital and released.

Officers said the Cates car was southbound on US-31 in the left lane and struck the rear of another vehicle southbound in the left lane of the divided highway.

The Cates car veered into the median and traveled 250 feet before slamming broadside into the abutment of the Shettler Rd. overpass. The car struck on the passenger's side.

Officers said the other vehicle was driven by Walter J. Dusen-dang, 29, of Comstock Park. He was not reported injured.

Police said witnesses told them the Cates car was traveling at an excessive rate of speed when the collision occurred.

Greer was born in California and moved to Holland as a child, attending West Ottawa Schools. He and his wife were married in 1975. He was formerly employed at Holland Hitch Co., and currently was working at Acme Pallet Co., Zeeland.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Murrell Greer Sr., of Searcy, Ark.; his grandparents in Popular Bluff, Ark.; two brothers, David and Tony Greer, both of Searcy and a sister, Mrs. Billy (Debbie) Lacey of Fennville.

Sandra Greer was born in Watervliet and lived in Holland most of her life. She attended E. E. Fell Junior High and had been employed at H.J. Heinz Co., Manpower, Inc., and the Fiesta Restaurant.

She is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Louks of Zeeland and Grand Haven; three sisters, Mrs. Jessie (Lola) Cates of Zeeland, Sherry and Judy Louks of Grand Haven; and five brothers, Ronald Louks of Birmingham, Ala., Gary and Dennis Louks of Zeeland, Homer of Butler, Pa., and Jimmy of Grand Haven.

Hospital Puts Limits On Smoking

Additional smoking restrictions in Holland City Hospital were adopted by the hospital board at its meeting Tuesday in compliance with state codes.

Fewer smoking areas have been allowed for employees and physicians and visitors may smoke only in the lobby, Hospitality Shop, ICU and fathers waiting rooms and Heritage room. Sale of tobacco products is prohibited in the Hospitality Shop.

Hospital director Frederick S. Burd said the restrictions would become effective as soon as possible.

A progress report was received on the new parking lot west of Maple Ave., between 24th and 25th Ss., and completion is expected by Thanksgiving Day.

The hospital auxiliary board has decided to organize as a separate nonprofit corporation to meet Internal Revenue requirements, it was announced.

West Ottawa Adopts New Budget

The 1976 - 77 West Ottawa School District budget was adopted at the regular meeting Monday night. Several board members expressed their concern about the budget either more reductions must be made or additional millage must be requested to maintain the current standard of programs.

Supt. Brad Henson expressed his concern that for the third year in a row state school aid may be cut forcing districts to again reevaluate their budgets.

"The 1975 situation (cut in state revenue) placed a burden on the 1976 budget year and future budget years," Henson said.

"I cannot recommend this budget as a desirable budget because it reflects curtailed programs which are not desirable. I do recommend this budget for adoption as a balanced budget that gets the best mileage out of a limited financial situation," Henson said.

Revenue sources include local, $2,963,895; state, $2,879,067; federal, $187,862; incoming transfers $298,745 and fund equity, $33,414; for a total revenue of $6,362,983.

Other expenditures include prefirst, $20,595; summer migrant, $62,954; C.E.T.A., $10,911; WIN, $22,426; administration, $237,043; operation and maintenance, $655,788; transportation (other vehicles), $16,136; transportation (small buses), $203,195; transportation (regular buses), $247,702; new beginning, $16,544; fixed charged, $705,395 and capital outlay, $103,147 for a total $6,362,983.

County Buys Land Near Holland

GRAND HAVEN — Ottawa County Commissioners Monday purchased six acres of land along James St. near US-31 north of Holland for a proposed county building but could not decide on which departments to house in the building.

By a unanimous 11 to nothing vote, commissioners agreed to spend up to $5,000 an acre for each of the six acres for the 300-foot frontage along the north side of James St. beginning about 570 feet east of James St. The county equalization department appraised the land at $4,500 an acre.

Commissioners said they intended to construct a building of 20,000 square feet to house the Social Service department and Mental Health Department in Holland.

But commissioner Marilyn Sherwood suggested the improvement committee study the possibility of putting the Health Department on the same site in a separate building and the county abandon the Branch Building on River Ave. and sell it.

Commissioners were concerned that Social Services and Mental Health both agree to use the proposed building should the county build one and that Mental Health rent facilities from the county as does Social Services.

Commissioners said should Mental Health be located in a building where a department pays no rent, such as the Health Department, then Mental Health would not have to pay rent. But should Mental Health and Social Services, which pays rent to the county, be in the same building, then Mental Health would pay rent also.

Commissioners Don Stoltz and Don Williams of Holland said the James St. and US-31 site was their second choice. Both said they favored a site at Waverly Rd. and 32nd St. as proposed earlier.

Commissioners authorized Buitendorp and Associates of Holland to proceed with preliminary plans for a 20,000 square foot building on the James St. site.

Commissioners have been studying expansion of county office facilities in the Holland area for several months. Both Mental Health and Social Services have found additional office space in the Holland area but commissioners are seeking to consolidate the scattered facilities.

Commissioners heard more equalization problems on the horizon as Tallmadge township supervisor Nick Nanninga questioned figures in his township for school district taxes.

Nanninga said assessments in his township were much higher than the four other governmental units in the Coopersville school district, including townships of Polkton, Chester and Wright and the city of Coopersville.

He asked for a meeting with the county board or tax committee and commissioners agreed.

Ed Quiet, an assessor for the county, told commissioners that trial in the 1976 tax appeal case brought by Holland city and the township of Port Sheldon and

Maurice Wertenberger Addresses Chamber

Annual Banquet Held in Zeeland

ZEELAND — Five Zeeland buildings were honored as outstanding environmental achievements at the annual Zeeland Chamber of Commerce membership banquet Tuesday night.

Honored were Mead Johnson, Industrial; Haven Park Nursing Center, commercial; Superior Motors, retail; Middle School, civic and Ex-Cell-O, special John De Vries made the presentations of photo plaques.

Members of the selection committee were Mart Hietje, Case Karsten, Flosie Lampen and Pat Ruch.

Maurice Wertenberger, director of personnel at John T. Batts in Zeeland and speaker for the evening, spoke of his frustration with a society which fawns over "half wits who pass themselves off as entertainment, with politicians who promise everything, I'm tired and I'm speaking up."

"We must resolve to build up more rapidly than our enemies can tear down. We must continue to be devoted to basic virtues like honesty, respect for law and authority, higher patriotism and devotion to faith," Wertenberger said.

Wertenberger cited Zeeland as a prime example of what is right in the country. "I'm glad there is a Zeeland. The future is yours. It is as you will," he concluded.

Newly elected Chamber president Joe Dalman presented a plaque to past president Del Huisingsh for his work in the chamber.

Also acknowledged for their contributions were two retiring board members, Bob Fetter and Frank Smith.

Tom Folkert sang two religious selections and the invocation was given by the Rev. Gerit Sheeres, pastor of Bethel Christian Reformed Church.

Members of the planning committee were Kelly Yntema, chairman and James Lampen and Robert Kalmink.

A surprise announcement informed the more than 750 persons attending an appreciation banquet in Civic Center Friday night that the Build Hope fund had significantly exceeded the original goal of $8,850,000 set in Oct., 1972.

Gifts and pledges to the campaign now total $10,227,049.14, Hope College cheerleaders with assistance from Dr. Gordon J. Van Wylen, enumerated the final total with signs before the surprised audience.

Earlier in the week it had been announced that as of Oct. 1 more than $9.3 million had been collected.

The banquet was organized in appreciation of persons who contributed significantly to the fund raising which for the first time in the history of Hope College went over its goal.

In a retrospective of Hope's history, Dr. James J. Malcolm, dean for the Performing and Fine Arts, presented a highly unique look at the college through slides and taped interviews with some of Hope's most interesting personalities.

Of particular amusement was the interview with Dr. John Van Zoeren, 92, of Zeeland, benefactor of the college library, who recalled his days on the baseball team when spitballs were legal and Hope's pitcher was dry.

Also interviewed were Dr. Bernadine De Valois, medical missionary, Marion Stryker and Betty Becker recollecting their coed days in the 1930s, Al Vanderbush, football coach from 1945-54 and Dr. Lambert Ponstein, recently retired professor of religion.

Hugh De Pree, chairman of the Hope College Board of Trustees, presented special awards to James M. Ver Meulen, national chairman of the Build Hope Fund, and Dr. Van Wylen. Ver Meulen in reviewing the progress of the campaign cited Dr. Van Wylen as "the most effective promoter Hope College has seen."

In paying tribute to all the campaign workers present, Van Wylen stated his original perplexities with raising funds and his excitement as the grants, large and small, were received.

Also honored by De Pree for significant contributions were members of the Build Hope campaign including Clarence Becker, William Beeme, Ekdal Buys, Ruth N. Comstock, Simon Den Uyl, Hugh De Pree, Richard De Witt, Titus Hager, George Heeringa, Dr. Irwin Lubbers, Walter Reed Jr., Howard Shuter, Mrs. Ilona Smith, Henry Steffens, and Willard Wichers.

David D. Teater, president of the student congress, spoke of the appreciation of the students for the continued growth of Hope College.

The Rev. Albertus Bossenbroek, vice president of the General Synod, Reformed Church in America and a member of the Hope College Board of Trustees gave the invocation.

The Wind Ensemble under the direction of Prof. Robert Cecil and the Collegium Musicum under the direction of Prof. Stuart W. Sharp, performed several selections, James Taylor sang "The Impossible Dream." The balcony area was dotted with huge photographs of the events and persons involved in the fund raising kickoff. Blue and orange balloons were dropped on the audience at the conclusion of the program.

Several major projects of the Build Hope Fund have been completed including a new computer center and the renovation of the former science building into a center for the humanities and social sciences.

Build Hope funds have also been diverted into debt retirement of the De Witt Student and Cultural Center and the Peale Science Center.

Nearly $3 million has been pledged toward construction of a new physical education and health center. Groundbreaking ceremonies for the new center were held Saturday.

Christian Schools Celebrate 75 Years

Rally Is Held For Anniversary

Keynoting the Holland Christian Schools Diamond Jubilee celebration in the Civic Center Thursday night, Judge John Feikens stressed that Christian Schools make a most significant contribution to America today.

A judge with the United States District Court in Detroit, Feikens cited the numerous cases of civil disorder he deals with daily.

"Where there is continued religious and secular education, there is a well-ordered society. Where there is a lack of training, a flawed society results," he said.

Feikens indicated that a better system that Christian education could not be devised to improve the ills of society. "We possess the gift to lead others to a meaningful life," he said.

Aero Bratt, teacher of Bible in Christian High School for 35 years, addressed the large audience noting that "Faith in God is our story."

Following a brief and often humorous highlights of the development of the local Christian School system, Bratt stated that "we are a marvel to people in the community who want to know where all comes from."

"It comes out of the hearts of people who care," he said. Mrs. Thelma Huizenga Knel, a graduate of Calvin College and the University of Michigan played three piano selections from "Fantastic Pieces, Opus 12" by Robert Schumann.

William Boer, chairman of the Diamond Jubilee Committee, chaired the program acknowledging attendance of current teachers and staff as well as those retired. He also acknowledged the attendance of former superintendents, Bert Bos and Mark Vander Ark.

The alumni choir under the direction of Marvin Baas sang America the Beautiful, Psalm 33, "Gloria" from the "Twelfth Mass," and "Onward, Ye Peoples."

The Rev. Charles Steenstra gave the invocation and Dr. Martin Essenburg, the Prayer of Thanksgiving.

The audience also participated in community singing accompanied by the High School band under the direction of Henry Vander Linde.

South Haven Fisherman Drowns

ALLEGAN — Granville Merriweather, 49, of South Haven, drowned in the Kalamazoo River near the M-89 bridge Friday after the small boat in which he was riding capsized after hitting a stump.

Allegan County deputies said Merriweather's body was found about 30 feet downstream in 12 feet of water. A companion in the boat, Eddie Coleman, of South Haven, swam to shore.

Deputies said the 15-foot aluminum boat the men were using for fishing struck a stump and Merriweather stood up and the boat capsized, pitching the two men into the river. Merriweather's wading boots apparently filled with water and pulled him under while Coleman swam to safety.

The incident was reported to deputies shortly after 3 p.m. and the body was recovered two hours later.

West Ottawa Leads East At Halftime

By Roger Kuiken

For one half, West Ottawa held off powerful East Grand Rapids, the No. 2 football team in the state but the Panthers came bouncing back with their great depth in the second half to defeat the Panthers Friday evening, 30-7.

The Panthers had upset on their mind and really took charge in the first half taking a 7-0 lead in the first period as Dave Conklin hit Brian Shaw on a nice pass play to the four-yard line. On the next play, Jamie Bloemendaal cracked over the right side for the TD with the PAT good for a 7-0 lead.

The rugged Pioneers were stopped cold for most of the first half by West Ottawa's strong defense of Brian Driesenga, Scott VanderMeulen, Rob Hunter, Bruce Patterson, Brian Essenburg, Bill Strauss, Greg Ferrell and Bill Monboilen. This is an East team that is usually free of mistakes but some devastating hits by Bloemendaal and VanderMeulen caused the Pioneers to fumble three times. The first was recovered by Essenburg but West Ottawa was unable to capitalize on it.

When East fumbled again the Panthers took the ball down to the 10. Just when it looked like West Ottawa was going to score again, just before the half, a sudden turn of events happened. Curt Matheny intercepted a Panther pass and ran it all the way for a Pioneer TD. The play covered 70 yards. The extra point was missed and West Ottawa still had a 7-6 halftime lead.

West Ottawa held East to only three first downs in the first half with the Panthers getting four.

But the second half... It's something else again... It's almost impossible to contain a team with the depth that East has. They had twice the players, about 60 in all. The Pioneers executed perfectly getting one TD in the third on a 24-yard pass play from Yeakey to Wade McKay and three more TDs in the final on a three-yard run by Doug Ver Meulen, a three yarder by Dave Nester and yet another on a pass play. All this time they held West Ottawa to minus yardage and no first downs which is what you would expect from the No. 2 team.

The Panthers record now stands at 2-3 for the season and 1-3 in the Big Red.

Dave Conklin did an excellent job of punting for West Ottawa, one going for 65 yards which kept the Pioneers in the hole for much of the first half. Next week West Ottawa travels to East Kentwood.

Indians Rally To Turn Back Hawks, 22-20

FENNIVILLE — In a wild and wooly comeback Fennville saw its dreams of a homecoming football victory slip away as Saugatuck came away spoiling 22-20.

The Blackhawks seemed to have it all under control as they took an early 20-0 lead, but Jack Lampen's Indians took advantage of a key fumble sheer courage to come away the victors in the traditional rivalry.

Down by three touchdowns, Saugatuck engineered a perfect drive capped by Bill Parson's nine-yard run. The starting fullback ran for the PAT to make it 22-8. Saugatuck struck again to make it 20-16 narrowing the gap considerably at the half.

The tension mounted as both sides played a see-saw battle throughout most of the second half. Kyle Burkett scored what proved to be the winning touchdown as the Indians hung on to win 22-20.

Saugatuck, now 4-1 will host Hopkins next week, while the Blackhawks 2-3 will travel to Allendale.

Swallow Seeks Better Court Uses

Circuit Court Judge Joseph P. Swallow of Alpena, a candidate for Supreme Court, said the high court needs to pay greater attention to the rights of individuals to live free from fear and less attention to the "unnecessary rights of criminal elements."

Swallow visited Holland Tuesday as part of his campaign for the Supreme Court in the Nov. 2 election.

He says crime and its effect on society, poor administration of the Supreme Court and lack of judicial innovation are key issues in his campaign.

As judge of the 26th Circuit in northern lower Michigan, Swallow helped establish an experimental family court using judicial personnel to counteract deterioration of the family.

Swallow is seeking an eight-year term on the Supreme Court and served as state Representative of the 105th District until 1972.

Bilingual Education Reviewed for AAUW

Guest speakers at the Thursday meeting of Holland Branch, American Association of University Women, were Christina Manker and Richard LeBlanc.

Ms. Manker is director of Holland Public Schools bilingual education program. From an historical perspective she reviewed how early immigrants arrived intending to relinquish their language. Today's immigrants however, desire to retain their native language while also learning English.

Economically, English is essential for entrance into the job market. Waiting for the next generation to learn the language brings an economic hardship. Ms. Manker noted that a relationship exists between language comprehension and self-concept. A child needs to understand what is being taught to maintain his sense of worth.

Mr. LeBlanc is principal of Washington School where bilingual teacher aides are used in the classrooms. The Trans-

Pheasant Pressure Is Down

A 12-year-old boy was reported treated in Holland Hospital for injuries suffered in the opening hours of the hunting season. Authorities said he suffered injuries to the nose and was treated in the hospital and released. His name was not released.

Jim Bowerman, local conservation officer said today that the pressure is not only light in pheasants but in hunters too for the opening of small game season.

Because of the lack of hunters, Bowerman said that pheasants will be more spread out this season.

"This is still a good area to hunt pheasants but it's not like in the 1950s," offered Bowerman. "However, it's still better than in most areas."

Bowerman indicated that the best pheasant population is in Vriesland and northern part of Ottawa County, near Coopersville.

"The kill ratio is one bird for every four hunters," Bowerman stated. "That's down half to what it was last year and half to what it was two years ago."

There are still plenty of rabbits and squirrels in the area and only a fair population of partridge, according to Bowerman.

Francis Browning Guild Celebrates 25th Year

Frances Browning Guild of the Holland Hospital Auxiliary will observe the Bicentennial by celebrating its 25th year with a Silver Anniversary coffee, mini bazaar and bake sale on Thursday, Oct. 28.

Mrs. William G. Winter, Jr., is chairman of the celebration, to be held in the Heritage Room of Holland Hospital from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

One of 14 guilds of the Auxiliary, Frances Browning was organized in April, 1952, by Rose Fehring, a member of the Hospital Board. Eleven Charter members elected Mrs. John K. Winter president; Mrs. Clarence Klaasen, secretary-treasurer; and Mrs. Adrian Klaasen, representative on the board of the Auxiliary, which was officially organized in June, 1953.

During its 25 years, the guild has managed money-making projects enabling them to buy $6,388 worth of equipment for the local hospital. Originally named Florence Nightingale Auxiliary, the group first raised money with a notions cart operated by members for hospital patients. With the success of this venture, the name was changed to United Nations Division. After two years of notions and $359 in gifts to the hospital, the name was changed again to the present Frances Browning Guild.

The Guild established a community name for itself with its 1953 project, Hospital Hostess Day, which involved downtown merchants, who donated a percentage of special sale items to the hospital. The project continued for four years, with annual net profits ranging from 700 to several thousand dollars each year. The project was the brainchild of Mrs. Vernon Ten Cate.

"Golf for Health" in 1964 and 1965 raised more funds for hospital equipment. From 1966-73, a variety of projects netted funds for a $1,280 electric bed and accessories totaling $522.

Money raised since 1973, plus proceeds from the silver anniversary event are tentatively earmarked for needed items in the proposed new hospital addition.

Prizes for games were won by Brenda Hoek and Tricia Longworthy. After cake and ice cream were served, pony and cart rides were featured.

The guest list included Lynn Covert, Debbie Dozeman, Brenda Hoek, Mary Hulst, Jill Jacobsen, Kelly Kalmink, Kathy Klomparsen, Tricia Longworthy, Shelly Nyland, Kristi Ten Harmisel, Lorle Van Der Berg, Denise Walters and Judy Westing.

Laura Ingalls Wilder Day Marked by Many

More than 400 young people and adults attended two talks by Laura Ingalls Wilder expert William Anderson at the Woman's Literary Club Tuesday afternoon and evening including a Holland woman who received two letters from Laura.

Anderson, who judged a poster contest at Baker Book House earlier in the day, brought with him hay twists mentioned in the book "The Long Winter."

When the blizzards came in the winter and the trains could not get through with supplies, townspeople and the Ingalls family ran out of coal and Pa taught Laura how to make hay twists from hay.

The hay twists would be burned in the cook stove for fuel to cook their food and to heat the room in which the family lived during the long winter.

The hay twists today are made by an elderly gentleman for the Laura Ingalls Wilder Society.

Among those in the audience during the afternoon lecture were Mr. and Mrs. Sib Bloemsmas of 183 West 17th St. Mrs. Bloemsmas had written Laura in the 1950s to tell her how much Mrs. Bloemsmas enjoyed the Wilder books.

Laura responded and Mrs. Bloemsmas has two letters written by the author. Anderson said since it was late in Laura's life he was surprised Mrs. Bloemsmas received a reply from her.

Anderson is considered an expert on the Wilder family and Laura's writings and spends summers in De Smet, S.D., where much of the Ingalls material is located. He is a native of Davison.

His visit to Holland was sponsored by the Holland Bicentennial Committee.

The fascinating and nostalgic story of Laura Ingalls Wilder was told by Anderson to members of the Woman's Literary Club at their regular meeting Tuesday afternoon in the club house.

His collection of slides translated into reality much of the Ingalls-Wilder mystique. Sites of this unique family's homes, restored buildings and interiors revealed much of Laura's background. Family portraits were especially appealing.

Although Anderson's audiences are generally youngsters who are avid and knowledgeable Laura fans, many in the all-adult audience indicated familiarity with her books.

Most know the television series, supposedly based on her books, but labeled by the Wilder expert as 100 per cent fabricated.

In his presentation, Anderson tells much of Laura's daughter, Rose Wilder Lane, a famous writer in the 1920s and 1930s. The story of these two remarkable women is a fitting Bicentennial message for all audiences.

Mrs. H. Sprick introduced the guest, Mrs. John Schutten presided at the meeting, which was followed by an informal coffee in the tea room, where Anderson chatted with club members and answered questions.

Hope Chalks Up Another Homecoming Victory, 23-8

Dutchmen Are Now 3-0 in MIAA

By Leo Martonasi
The Hope College football machine, chalked up another homecoming triumph Saturday afternoon at Riverview Park before 4,600 fans by defeating Alma College, 23-8.

Hope's fourth consecutive win and third without a loss in the MIAA, came against a strong Scot outfit. Alma is now 1-2 in the league.

The Dutchmen offense, ranked second in the nation in Division III, got fine support from their vastly improving defense.

Stan Izykowski, the league's leading pass catcher grabbed only one pass all day for 20 yards. Izykowski was averaging over five catches per outing. Steve Prediger was the man most responsible for containing the Alma star, although, the defense sacked Scot signal callers eight times.

Kurt Bennett, Hope's all-time leading ground gainer, showed little effect from his bruised shoulder by scooting for 138 yards in 25 tries. It was the 14th time in Bennett's career that he has rushed for more than 100 yards.

Quarterback Mark Boyce, closing in on Don Mitchell's single season record of 12 touchdown passes, hit his favorite target, Duff DeZwaan from seven yards out at the 10:16 mark of the fourth stanza. Boyce, who has now fired 11 TD passes, finished the game with 8 of 15 for 138 yards and two touchdowns. DeZwaan, probably the best end in the league, hauled in four passes for 67 yards. His eighth touchdown reception of the season, is one short of the mark set in 1963 by Bill Hultgren.

Alma voided a whitewash with 4:52 left when substitute quarterback Tony May netted a 16-yard scoring toss to Dave Cleary. Gerry Ellsworth made a diving snag from May for the two-point conversion.

Freshman Brian Leak of Kentwood snatched the fourth Dutchmen interception, as the reserves were knocking on touchdown door again, as time expired.

The 1951 Flying Dutchmen were honored earlier in the day at the annual homecoming luncheon.

The Scots were playing without the MIAA's leading ball carrier last week Bob Hamilton, who is out for the season with a broken collarbone.

On the chilly afternoon, the Dutchmen received the opening kickoff and had 16 punt after picking up one first down. However, Bennett, who missed most of practice the past week because of a bruised shoulder, looked strong as he rushed for 17 yards in the first two times he legged the ball.

A poor snap on fourth down gave Hope a running start at the Scots 28. Mike Skelton cracked up the middle for 10 yards later to the 12. Freshman Todd De Young made the college's vice-president (his father) happy by booting a 23-yard field goal with 7:53 left in the initial quarter.

Coach Ray Smith, wearing a hat and coat for the first time this season, had good reason to feel warm, as the Dutchmen came right back to pounce on a fumble. Tom Barkes recovered on the Scot's 45. However, Alma was able to stop Hope from penetrating on that series. Barkes also intercepted a pass in the period.

It was evident that the Scots missed Hamilton, as they only rushed for two yards in the first 15 minutes.

A few plays later Boyce threw a quick pass to DeZwaan that covered 37 yards to Alma's three-yard line. Three plays later, Skelton registered his MIAA-leading 30th-point. De Young's kick made it 10-0.

Bennett scampered 20 yards through a big hole to the 25 of Alma after Bob Coleman intercepted a Kem Riehl aerial. With Alma's veteran defensive end starter Doug Mast of Zealand leading the charge, Boyce was sacked for the third time.

The third Hope interception that by Tim Lont set up Boyce's 10th TD pass of the season. With the ball on the 33 of Alma, Boyce stepped back in the pocket and hit the speedy Kevin Clark for six big ones. De Young's PAT kick gave Hope a commanding 17-0 margin with 1:37 left in the half.

Hope's defense was tough on Riehl, as he was taken down five times in the first 30 minutes attempting to pass. Doing most of the damage were Dave Teater, Kurt Droppers, Tim Johnson, Paul Osborn, Bill Collins, Lewis Ten Have, Lont, Barkes, Todd Harburn, Prediger and Coleman.

Ross Nykamp, a freshman from Holland, replaced the injured Coleman at the outset of the second half.

Coleman had knee surgery Sunday and is out for the season.

Mast and Bennett, teammates in high school had praise for each other after the game. Said Bennett, "Doug rang my bell once out there." Mast countered, "Kurt just ran right through us."

The Dutchmen travel to Adrian Saturday.

CELEBRATES ANNIVERSARY — Robert Gosselar, owner of Holland's three IGA Food Baskets, is celebrating 37 years in the grocery business this month. Specials are being offered at each of the three stores during October. (Sentinel photo)

Gosselar Marks 37 Years as Grocer

By Ann Hungerford

As a young man he envisioned a career in funeral directing. Pondering his future retirement he anticipates missionary work.

During the interim, Robert Gosselar continues as one of Holland's most successful businessmen, this month celebrating 37 years as a local grocer.

Recalling that the 15th St. store purchased by him and his father, George, in October, 1939, as a small independent stressed service, Gosselar noted that they got everything from the back room. Even prunes came in bulk and had to be bagged.

Today Gosselar still stresses service but with a different style. Frequently he has opened up one of his stores after closing for forgetful customers including one married husband who forgot the entree on the eve of a major holiday.

Describing the early IGA business as "very small and shaky" Gosselar explained that competition was keen. Thirteen stores dotted the city east of Central Ave., from Eighth to 24th Sts.

The IGA food basket emerged as a leader due jointly to its service and constant improvement in merchandising.

Self service meats were originated in Western Michigan by Gosselar who had seen the system in California while he was in the Army.

In 1954 the Columbia Ave. store had reached saturation as far as expansion and Gosselar purchased the Michigan Ave. store.

And in June 1973 following continuous expansion Gosselar opened the north store.

From the beginning of his retailing career Evelyn Gosselar helped her husband.

But, he admits, she encourages his slowing down. He has. From the 70-plus hours he worked when he started, down to a mere 50.

Gosselar's sisters, Mrs. Marvin (Maxine) Mersman and Mrs. David (Joyce) Hyma have both helped in the store.

The Gosselar children have both chosen diverse careers: Barbara, 29, in high school teaching and Dave, 25, property management.

Evaluating the shopping style of his customers, Gosselar noted that "men buy on impulse, except ministers. Pastors are good shoppers."

Gosselar is particularly fond of Holland residents who he describes as extremely honest.

"Whether a price has been mismarked either too high or too low, they tell us," Gosselar remarked. "My friends in the grocery business elsewhere are really amazed at the stories of honesty."

But Gosselar himself returns the quality of honesty to his customers with trust.

"I have money loaned out to women all around town who were short of cash or forgot it."

Just one more service of IGA Food Baskets.

Council To Study Game Ordinance

Holland City Council Wednesday night delayed action on a proposed ordinance to regulate gaming devices such as pinball machines and voted to apply for funds under a public works employment act.

The proposed ordinance, scheduled for discussion and approval at the council meeting, was tabled by council for additional study and more information.

Councilmen said there were questions concerning the intent Harry Graham, operator of Von Ins Pizza Wagon, 102 River Ave., told council the ordinance could put business places such as his out of business and said he preferred to think that responsibility should be placed on the operators rather than take such places away from the young people.

The operator of the Golden Eight Ball, 254 River Ave., said he was concerned about the minimum age limit since he worked with E. E. Fell Junior High students during activity days at the school and many students visit his establishment during noon hours.

Council voted to apply for federal funds under a recently enacted Public Works Employment Act designed to aid areas with high unemployment. Projects for which application would be made include the Maplewood-Lela Drain, M-21/Waverly Rd. sewer project, a new central fire station, and South Side Industrial Park.

Councilman Ken Beelen asked whether approval of the applications meant spending additional money for preliminary plans for the proposed fire station. He was assured by city manager Terry Hofmeyer that the action did not commit the city to spending additional money for the plans.

Council adopted a Board of Public Works recommendation accepting a contract proposal from Local 586 representing workers in the water, waste water and electric departments.

The proposal, part of a wage reopening provision in a two-year contract which expires June 30, 1977, calls for an eight per cent hike in wages retroactive to July 4 and appointment of a wage study committee to review union wage levels and make comparisons with other municipal utilities of similar size and private industry. The study is to begin in November with completion by March 1.

Council also adopted a BPW recommendation for a time schedule for completion of an area wide wastewater study.

A request from Donnelly Mirrors for an industrial development district in Allegan County was referred to the city manager for study and report. The firm seeks creation of the district for construction of a 54,000 square foot facility for the manufacture of rear vision products, convex mirror processing and high rate continuous vacuum coating.

Facilities and equipment could cost up to $2.6 million.

PAPER FLOODS THE U.N.

The United Nations shares a problem with national governments: it is in danger of being inundated by paperwork. The means of surviving the flood exist. The question is whether those who generate the paperwork can be persuaded to make use of those means.

Bohdan Lewandowski, undersecretary general for conference services, knows what can be done about the problem. To underscore the point he carries in his wallet a complete Bible
reduced to a three-inch square of microfilm. He envisions putting more and more records on film, and says: "Eventually we could eliminate paper entirely by moving to computers for storing all our information." A dream yes — but one the U.N.
and governments alike may be forced to make real.

Dial-A-Ride User Survey Scheduled

A survey among users of the Dial-A-Ride system will be conducted Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 26, 27 and 28 to learn more about the riders and how to more effectively serve them.

Survey forms will be distributed by drivers as passengers board the buses and riders are being asked to complete the forms and leave them with the driver before getting off the bus.

The survey hopes to identify the characteristics of the riders and determine primary reasons for using Dial-A-Ride, pinpointing areas and hours when the demand is greatest.

Small Group Hears Of Big Problems

A too-small group of interested citizens, mainly members of the Holland League of Women Voters, sponsors of the meeting, heard candidates for Ottawa county offices address themselves to the growing problems directly affecting the lives of citizens of the county in a meeting Tuesday in Herrick
Library auditorium.

Candidates for contested offices present were George A.
Livense and Jack A. Vande Bunte, candidates for judge of probate court; Frances L.
Johnson and James K. Dressel, who are vying for county treasurer and incumbent County
Clerk Harris Nieuwma. Wesley
J. Nykamp, prosecuting attorney and Bernard Grysen, incumbent sheriff, both unopposed, also attended.

After brief opening statements, the group answered questions from the floor, for the more than hour-long program.
Main discussion was on the county's court system, by both judicial candidates with Grysen
and Nykamp suggesting changes in the county's approach to criminal justice.

Nieuwma, Mrs. Johnson and Dressel, stressed that their offices are limited by law to specific duties, and therefore they cannot effect changes, but discussed their offices and revealed their current salaries, $17,869 a year, stressing that both the treasurer's and clerk's jobs are full time.

Both Livense and Vande
Bunte decried the present system of referring young offenders to the State Department of Social Services after local authorities have exhausted programs directly available to them, but Vande Bunte seemed to take the view that more can be done on the county level
to rehabilitate young offenders before "dumping" them into the state's hands. Both he and Livense expressed a need for programs to help strengthen family life and develop responsible attitudes in youngsters
in trouble.

The status offender problem,
which deals with youngsters
who are in trouble for offenses
which would not be considered criminal if they were older, (truancy, violation of curfew,
defiant and disobedient behavior) was viewed as a community problem which should not be turned over to state agencies, but handled locally. Vande Bunte made the point that if the juvenile justice system does not rehabilitate a child, he soon passes on into the criminal justice system, which doesn't seem to be working either.

Both Grysen and Nykamp expressed concern at the rate of crime which, while not as bad

in Ottawa county, is rising rapidly all over the nation. Gry-sen stressed the breakdown of discipline in state prisons and the plight of victims of serious crime, styling himself a "law and order" candidate.

Nykamp, who was assistant prosecutor for Kent county
prior to his appointment as Ottawa prosecutor, expressed his desire to try a work-release
program for county offenders,
rather than the two extremes of probation or sentencing to prison, which is all that is possible now. Work-release is a program in which persons serve jail sentence nights and weekends and continue to hold jobs
during the day so that their families are supported. In the county now, according to Ny-kamp, first-time offenders, especially, are a problem, as there is no alternative between a jail term which would be most fair to society, or probation,
which would save the county
having to support the man's family while he served a jail term, losing his job in the process.

At the request of one member of the audience, the group dictated the county's strengths in facing growing justice problems, the strong family and church ties which still remain,
the good county rehabilitation
and mental health programs
and an interested citizenry.

Completing the cast were Simon Disselkoe, a veteran actor or the Secretary of State,
and Dick Williams as the aging
butler of the senator.

Larry Fortney served as director and E. Dale Cooklin designed a simple but effective set for the senator's home.

The Zoning Board of Appeals
has scheduled three hearings
at its meeting Wednesday in City Hall at 7:30 p.m.

John K. Vander Broek seeks to purchase property at 46 East 12th St. and construct a single-family dwelling on the property.
The ordinance provides that no
lot or lots in common ownership shall be divided to make an area of less than the minimum required. A question of lot area is involved.

Inmont Corp. seeks permission to use property south of 48th St. east of the Christie System railroad tracks for paint manufacturing purposes in the D-2 industrial zone district.

A request from John Tjalma
for an addition to a building

is to be reconsidered.

Huskies Upend Zeeland, 28-7

ZEELAND — The Zeeland
Chix gave a valiant effort Friday, but fell short against a strong Forest Hills Northern football squad 28-7. It was a case of total domination by the Huskies as Zeeland was just unable to stop their powerful rushing attack throughout the evening.

Zeeland had many bright spots, however, as they drew first blood scoring on a 10 yard touchdown pass from Roger Elenbas to Todd Hoogland making it 7-0. Forest Hills kept pounding away with relentless fury as their awesome ground attack carried them to a 12-7
halftime lead.

The homecoming ceremony
didn't seem to help Zeeland
much, as Dave Van Keulen rushed for two more scores despite the efforts of Zeeland standouts Tom Busscher and Chuck Kraai as the valiant Chix went down to defeat before the homecoming crowd.

The Chix now 4 on the year
and 1-3 in league play, host Kelloggsville next week in a conference play.

Several Seek
Water, Sewer
Services

Several petitions were received by Holland City Council Wednesday night for water and sewer service and for bicycle paths.

Water service was requested
in west 27th St. from Goldenrod Ave. west and in Royce and Vassar Sts. and permission was requested from Labro Co. to construct a six-inch water main
in East End Dr. from South
Shore Dr. to the end.

A request was received for a temporary water service in east 40th St. and for permission to connect to a water main in Graafschap Rd. north of the cemetery.

A petition for sewer service in Lugers Rd. north of the interceptor and including Grandridge
Court also was received.

Council approved the water
connection in Graafschap Rd., the Labro Co. request and the temporary water service in east 40th St. and referred the other requests to the city manager
for study.

A hearing was set for the next council meeting on a request for water main extension in Lincoln Ave. from 34th to 40th Sts. with an estimated cost of $55,463.85.

Rudy Gulstrand of 176 Sorrento Court submitted petitions with 213 signatures of residents in the Holland Heights area asking for installation of a bicycle path adjacent to the south side of Eighth St. from Country Club Rd. to Cypress Ave. to provide safe access to a lot lot,
tennis courts, summer recreational programs, baseball park
and other youth activities in the Heights area.

Joe Rivas of 85 East 16th St., who said he was representing the Spanish speaking residents
along 16th St., objected to making 16th St. a truck route in the city and said 16th St. needed help but not a truck route.

Council purchased a tractor with a side mount mower for the street department for the low bid of $5,897 from Holland Tractor Sales and a hopper spreader
for the street department from Miller Equipment Co. for $8, 443.68.

The low bid of Van Gelderen
Builders of $2,000 for construction of curbing at Windmill Island was approved.

A petition from Russel Homkes asking that East 38th St. between Royce and Vassar be vacated was referred to the planning commission.

A claim against the city filed by Shirley J. Cavanagh was referred to the city's insurance carrier.

Former city councilman John Bloemendaal asked whether the city had received any reimbursements from the state for the loss in taxes since inventories were removed from tax assessments.

City manager Terry Hofmeyer
said the city had not.

Bloemendaal said he believed the cities had been short-changed by the state legislature
with the business activity tax enacted this year and appealed for support to put pressure on the legislature for reimbursements.

Council approved a name
change for the police community relations advisory council to the commission on police and community relations and accepted the resignation of Randall P. Vande Water from the council. William Gargano was named to the vacancy.

Mayor Louis Hallacy invited
citizens to an open house Friday and Saturday at the water filtration plant at Tunnel Park where a seven-million gallon a day
addition has been completed.

All councilmen except Hazen Van Kampen were present at the one-hour meeting. The Rev.
Stanley Schipper, retired, offered opening prayer.

Defense Is Name of Game For Knights

By Leo Martonosi

KALAMAZOO — Defense is the name of the game at Kalamazoo Loy Norrix. And Holland's football team found that out on a cold Friday night in drooping a 27-0 decision.

"They have one of the finest defenses in the state," stated
Coach Ray Backus.

The big, aggressive and highly ranked Knights have several people that could probably be starting for some college teams.

On offense, the Knights have the explosive Jo Jo Galloway, the best running back Holland has faced all season. Galloway rushed for 142 yards and tallied two touchdowns.

While the offensive backs
gain most of the glory, Coach Don Blanchard's defensive gang
resembled the Dallas Cowboys,
according to Holland's avid fan Sal Perez (not only in their uniform looks but on the field as well).

Loy Norrix has held two of five foes this fall to minus rushing yardage. The Dutch, who finished with 45 yards on the ground, would have had even more if quarterback Dan Molenaar wouldn't have been dumped behind the line attempting to pass a few times.

A nice interception by Hofland's Kurt Drooger gave the Dutch the ball on their own 42-yard line. Behind the running of Duane Berkompas, Holland moved down to the 35-yard line of the Knights. On a fourth and four, Berkompas was stopped two yards short of a first down.

McElrath's great one-handed catch on a fourth and seven from Holland's 12, resulted in the Knights third touchdown of the evening. Dave Artilla's third straight extra point upped
the lead to 21-0.

The point hungry Knights went for another score with only seconds left in the tilt. A pass interference play on Holland with seven seconds left set up Gene Wendling's three-yard TD run as time expired.

Holland's defensive front composed of ends Steve Van Tong-eren and Jim VanderJagt, tackles Brian Brunsell and Mike Gray, middle guard Rick Schutt and linebackers Dana Cyrus and Bill Atman did a fine job of stopping Galloway and Co. in the second half, especially in the third period which was scoreless. Holland's offense just couldn't sustain much yardage against the rugged Knights.

After holding the powerful Knights on downs on their first series, Galloway skirted around left end for 62 yards to give his club a 6-0 margin. Artilla's first kick at the 7-0 mark upped the count to 7-0.

Loy Norrix presented Holland
a great opportunity to score
when Kirk Emerson recovered
a fumbled punt on the Knights 33. After Mike Hernandez' field goal from 40 yards was short,
the top Big Seven outfit moved right down to score. Again, it was Galloway that carried the final four yards for the TD.
The score came on the first play of the second period.

Another fumble, this time scorped up by Brunsell put the ball on Loy Norrix' 45-yard line.
However, on the first play, the rugged McElrath picked off Molenaar's aerial.

With the aid of three Holland
penalties, it looked as if Loy Norrix would score again just minutes before the half. But Craig Kuipers made a fine crucial play as the Dutch defense came to life.

Just like last week, the Dutch trailed at the intermission, 14-0.

Holland, new 1-3 in the league
and 1-4 for the season, meets Grand Rapids Christian next Friday night at Riverview Park.

Mrs. Leo Loew, 61 Cherry St., has only two daughters but between them and the grandchildren she gets mail from many separated points.

Three grandchildren, Kathy, John and Joe Schutmaat, have just returned from a seven-week tour of Europe with the Venezuelan Youth Symphony. They are children of Dr. and Mrs. Alvin Schutmaat, active in missionary work in South America for more than 30 years. Mrs. Schutmaat is the former Pauline Loew.

The Venezuelan Youth Symphony, in which all seven Schutmaat children have been members during the 10 years of its existence, placed first in the eighth International Festival of Youth Orchestra and Performing Arts at a competition in Aberdeen, Scotland, in July. The orchestra toured England, Italy and Portugal. John and Joe both play the viola.

Kathy, cellist, was asked to participate in the International Youth Orchestra which played for Queen Elizabeth in London, England.

The children's mother, Pauline, is a skilled violinist.

Mrs. Loew's other daughter Gwen is the wife of Thomas Kleppe, U. S. Secretary of Commerce, in President Ford's cabinet. That branch of the family lives in Washington, D.C.

The latest publication of the Chamber of Commerce is a handsome pictorial on Holland, sponsored by the Greater Holland Board of Realtors and the Holland Area Chamber of Commerce. The "area" in the Chamber name is the result of recent accreditation. It is no empty honor since only 10 Michigan chambers hold that distinction. Dan Saul served as coordinator.

The booklets contain many color pictures of Tulip Time, Windmill Island and other festive attractions, local industries, schools and public buildings, and a great deal of emphasis on local homes.

Local church architecture, parks and beaches, recreation, a blend of cultures and progressive government are all represented in story and picture. Copies are available at Chamber headquarters for $2.

Women, want something to do?

The coffee shop at Holland Hospital could use a few more volunteers. Working there and meeting people can be a most pleasant experience.

Those interested may call two day chairmen, Gladys (Mrs. James) Woodward or Dolly (Mrs. S. W. Bud) Wybenga.

Or you may call Ruth Van Kampen, director of volunteers at the hospital.

There are more volunteers than ever before working at the hospital, covering dozens of different kinds of service. It's the coffee shop that is a bit short these days.

The September issue of Boat & Motor Dealer salutes Leon Slikkers of Holland as a boat-builder's boatbuilder.

As president of S2 Yachts Inc., the second boat manufacturing company he founded (Slickcraft was the first), Slikkers sees greater challenge and opportunity in boatbuilding today than at any time in history.

He celebrated his 18th birthday in 1946 by starting work at the local Chris - Craft plant as a joiner helper, and then began building boats on his own at his home shop . . . 14-foot runabouts with plywood hulls and mahogany decks.

He registered the "Slickcraft" name in 1954, resigned from Chris - Craft the following year and formed the Slickcraft Boat Co. In 1956 he started experimental work on fiberglass hulls construction and by 1961 all wood models were discontinued.

In 1969 he sold the company to AMF, but as an independent accustomed to setting his own pace, he was soon chafing under conglomerate rule, and formed S2 to build sailboats and built a new plant to produce them.

He introduced his new line of 20 and 25-foot powerboats and a new 30-foot cruising sailboat series at the Chicago Trade Show last month.

The Michigan Council for the Arts and Western Michigan University are producing the first comprehensive directory of Michigan composers in over 30 years, aimed at identifying the serious composer and his major compositions in the areas of orchestral, chamber and choral music, music for band or wind ensemble, jazz, opera or ballet, music, and electronic computer or multi-media works.

Further information may be obtained from Dr. Robert Fink, Department of Music, Western Michigan University, Kalamazoo, 49009, or Rosemary Twomey, music liaison, Michigan Council for the Arts, Detroit, 48226.

Windmills are not limited to Holland, Mich., by a long shot.

Marion Hoekstra, a former Hope College student, sends a clipping from the Sentinel in Laurel, Md., with a picture of Thomas Weber, a Laurel carpenter and native of Holland, Mich., and the Windmill he displays in his yard.

In all, he has made 50 or 60 handmade windmills the last 15 years and given most of them away. A few are scattered in his own neighborhood and one is said to be in Holland, Mich.

Weber was born in Holland but left here when he was 11 months old.

One small plaque on the message bulletin board still brings a laugh now and then. It reads: "People who think they know everything are particularly aggravating to those of us who do."

A few more laffs . . . A bachelor is a fellow who never finds out how many faults he has.

There's plenty of room at the top, but no place to sit down.

Decline In Enrollment Said Slowing

The rate of decline in enrollment in Holland Public Schools appeared to be slowing, according to official membership figures on the fourth Friday after Labor Day.

The Holland Board of Education Monday night was presented with the official list of enrollment in the schools which showed a total enrollment in elementary and junior and senior high school of 4,931 students or 78 fewer than the 5,009 in 1975. Figures for 1974 were 5,133 and 1973 were 5,290.

Enrollment increases were noted in the first grade, fourth, ninth, eleventh and 12th grades. Overall enrollment in elementary grades was down from 2,646 last year to the 2,500 this year. Junior high was up 11 from the 1,230 last year while senior high was down 23 from last year's 1,133.

The board set the maximum non-resident tuition charges for elementary students at $450.13 and for secondary students at $506.31.

School business manager Lee Van Aelst reviewed the three-year millage levy which expires this year and said the multi-year levy allowed the board to plan its finances without having to devote time each year to gain voter approval of millage.

He said the school district lived within its millage levy and cut the levy .5 mill from the voted maximum in 1975-76 only to find the state cut its appropriation months later.

Van Aelst said voters will be asked next spring to approve school millage but the figures have not been set.

The board granted leave to Mrs. Gail Wright, a fifth grade teacher at Van Raalte school and accepted the resignation of Mrs. Linda Stowe, a teacher at E. E. Fell Junior High.

Mrs. Karla Schuett Spence, a graduate of Rosary College, River Forest, Ill., was hired to teach high school chemistry.

The board agreed to hold regular meetings in district schools beginning after the first of the year and to publish a list of the meeting places in advance.

Completion Set For Early 1978

Hope College alumni and friends Saturday bridged the old with the new during homecoming festivities on campus.

Van Vleck Hall, located in the core of the Hope campus since 1957, was designated an official Michigan historic site during a marker unveiling ceremony attended by approximately 200 persons.

The Hope College band, under the direction of Robert Cecil, then led the unveiling participants to 14th Street near Columbia Avenue where they joined another 200 to 300 people in breaking ground for the college's new physical education and health center.

Dr. Paul G. Fried, professor of history at Hope, paid tribute to the contributions of Rev. John Van Vleck who served as principal of the Holland Academy, forerunner of Hope College.

Rev. Van Vleck gave formal organization to the curriculum of the academy and erected the first permanent building of the school.

"More importantly, he served as teacher and inspiration for a considerable number of young men who were able to carry forward his faith in the future of the struggling colony which God had called him to serve," said Dr. Fried.

Participating in the unveiling ceremony were Dr. Elton J. Bruins, professor of religion at Hope and chairman of the college's archives council; Willard C. Wichers, member of the Michigan Historical Commission and secretary of the Hope College board of trustees; and Hope College President Gordon J. Van Wylene.

The plaque was unveiled by Hope juniors Lois Crouse of Albany, N.Y. and Rachel Hesselink of Grandville, both residents of Van Vleck Hall. The students were selected because relatives had previously been residents of Van Vleck.

The groundbreaking for the new physical education center culminates several years of fund raising efforts for the facility which is estimated to cost $3.2 million.

College officials said they expect to advertise for bids from contractors within the next month. Construction should begin during December. Completion is scheduled for early 1978.

The new center will replace Carnegie - Schouten gymnasium which was constructed in 1906 when Hope had an enrollment of 400 students. The student body this year numbers 2,290.

The ceremony offered an opportunity to pay tribute to several people who have made significant contributions to the college's physical education program over the years.

A special guest at the ceremony was 95-year-old Jack Schouten, director emeritus of physical education. Schouten served on the Hope physical education staff from 1918-52. He was joined at the ceremony by his daughter, Miss Elizabeth Schouten.

Others honored were Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Vanderbush and Robert Marcus, president of the college's alumni H-Club. Representing the late Milton L. Hinga were Mrs. Randall C.

Bosch of Holland, the former Mrs. Milton L. Hinga, and Mr. and Mrs. Max D. Boersma of Grand Rapids.

Master of ceremonies was Ekkel J. Buys, honorary member of the Hope College board of trustees. The invocation was offered by college Chaplain William C. Hillegonds.

Offering remarks were Van Wylene, Mayor Louis J. Hallacy and student congress president David Teater of Columbus, Ohio.

President Van Wylene turned the first ceremonial shovel of dirt, followed by Mayor Hallacy. Each of the honored guests were invited to break ground, followed by all the members of the college's physical education department.
