CITY AND VICINITY.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. John Slighter,
East Eighteenth street—a daughter

Leo Wise has taken a position as clerk in G. Van Putten's grocery store on River street.

Articles of incorporation for the Holland Christian Reformed church and the First Reformed church of Zeeland have been filed with the secretary of state.

The W. C. T. U. and the saloonists of Kalamazoo have at last reached a point on which they can entirely agree. Both want the free-lunch system abolished. It costs the saloonists about $20,000 to continue the practice.

Monday afternoon from the church of Noordeloos took place the funeral of Edward Bramse who was accidentally killed by an interurban car at Boone's crossing. A large number attended. Rev. Jonkman of Zeeland was the officiating clergyman.

Mrs. Mary J. Lewis has been given a verdict for $2500 in her case against the Modern Woodmen. It was alleged that the husband of the plaintiff while being initiated into the Coopersville Woodmen camp received a leg wound which ultimately resulted in his death.

The coroner's jury impanelled to investigate the case of Edward Bramse of Noordeloos who was killed by an electric car on Boone's crossing Thursday evening of last week at its session Monday brought in a verdict of accidental death. No blame was attached to the railroad company.

Nothing like being candid and outspoken. Look at this from the Sebe-waing Review: "We suggest that when Charlie Montague gets that dam finished some one induce H. A. Heart to tie a stone around his neck and jump in the mill pond. A man that retards the progress of a town is better of dead.

An opportunity to test the metal of the new team of blacks in engine house No. 2 was furnished Tuesday morning when fire broke out in the chimney of A. J. Kleaver's house on West Twelfth street. Both departments turned out but it was not necessary to throw water. The blacks, driven by Frank Stansbury, behaved nicely and showed they were of the right stripe.

H. Boone, Sr., H. Boone, Jr. and Albert Boone arrived in the city the first of the week. The racing season is over and they will remain at home.
McKinley, the celebrated trotter, was shipped here Tuesday and will put in the winter here. His record on the tracks this season is the best of any of the horses on the circuit. Mr. Boone closes the books with a good many dollars on the right side of the balance sheet.

Sheriff Dykhuys and County Treasurer Frank Fox went to Holland Saturday to attend the Wm. Alden Smith meeting. They took the Holland interurban to Grand Rapids after the meeting and connected with the Grand Haven car, expecting to walk from the junction to this city. They were fortunate enough to meet Superintendent Webster of the "Third Rail Electric" and when they arrived at the junction, they found a special car awaiting them. Today the county officers are talking about the accommodating "Third Rail Electric" officers.—G. H. Tribune.

Judge Padgham held court Monday afternoon. The calendar for the November term was gone over and the court then adjourned until next Monday. The case of the people vs. Fred Gates was reported settled out of court. The case of the people vs. A.
Booth Packing Co. for violation of fish law, was put over term by consent: the people vs. Horling, et. al., violation of the fish laws, was disposed of in the same way. In cases of People against Leendert DeWitt and Adrian Waanroy charged with burglary, both plead guilty. James McCanney appeared and plead not guilty to the charge of burglary. The young man had no attorney nor means to employ one and the court appointed Chas. E. Soule to appear for him. The case will be taken up the first thing Monday morning. The case of the people vs. Geo. W. Nichols suborna-tion of perjury will come up for trial when court convenes next Monday.

John Fris has gone to Kalamazoo to take a position with the Daily Telegraph.

The new smokestack for the electric lighting station arrived yesterday from Arbuckle, Ryan Co., of Toledo.
It is 48 inches in diameter and 80 feet high.

Sam Mitchell, a wood-cutter and berry-picker, killed a 400-pound bear the other day in the woods near Grand Marais, and afterwards disposed of the hide for $25.

Derrick Overweg, 28 West Sixteenth street, was appointed constable of the Fifth ward by the council Wednesday night in place of Mr. Fredricks, resigned.

The Grand Rapids Herald says that Neil Ball, the Holland pitcher of last season, will probably sign with the Kansas City team of the American association and that Vander Hill, who caught him, will be with the same team.

Don't forget that on Thursday evening, Nov. 6, the Maccabees will give a pedro party and dance at their hall.
Party begins at 8:30 sharp. Come and help have a good time. You'll be glad you came when you leave the hall.
Come again.

Next Sunday morning will be held the quarterly meeting conference at the M. E. church in this city with love feast beginning at 9:30 followed by sacramental services. In the evening Rev. John Graham, D. D., presiding elder of the Grand Rapids district, will preach.

In the Auditorium annex in Chicago
Sunday afternoon an Ann Arbor student giving the name Everett H.
Scott created a sensation by jumping into a fountain and splashing around in three feet of water. He was hauled out and put to bed. He was celebrating the glorious football victory over Wisconsin.

The school district legal tangle involving Olive, Blendon and Zeeland townships has been settled by the supreme court. The case involved the formation of a fractional school district from parts of these three townships. The tax payers who opposed the formation employed Attorneys Diekema and Kollen to test the validity of the proceedings and the district was represented by Attorney P.
H. McBride. The supreme court held that the district was illegally organized.

The G. R. H. & L. M. railway company has on sale at the local office a number of tickets for the lecture to be given in Grand Rapids by the Grand Rapids Battalion. The course follows: Roney's Boys, Nov. 5; Father Francis C. Kelly, Nov. 14; Gov. Robert Taylor, Dec. 2; Durno (The Mysterious) & Co., Dec. 10; Mr. Melvin Robinson, comedian, Dec. 31; Bastlemann's String Quartette, Jan. 12;
Boston Symphony Ladies' Orchestra,
Jan. 30; Eugene V. Debs, Feb. 16; Wells Greenwalt, novelty entertainers, March 19; Col. H. W. J. Ham, humorous lectures, April 30.

The Union High school of Grand Rapids will come here Saturday afternoon with a view of annihilating the Holland team on the gridiron. The Union High school boys are a husky lot and are of the opinion that the locals will not have a look in. But it is expected that the game Saturday will show that they have another guess coming for the Holland team is strong and fast. It is made up of some of the stars of previous years and some promising new material and is capable of more than holding its own.
The game will be interesting and should attract a large crowd. It will be played at the base ball grounds.
Admission, 15 cents.

The Grand Rapids, Holland & Lake Michigan Rapid railway, has opened its new ticket office and waiting room in the Eagle hotel block on Market street, Grand Rapids. Its official designation is 71 North Market street and it is 200 feet south of Monroe street which fact the company wishes to make clear, as it has been in the habit of advertising its starting place as Market and Monroe streets. The new quarters are light and roomy and have been completely renovated.
The decorations of walls and ceilings are in green and cream, while the woodwork and fixtures are mahogany finish. Incandescent lamps with a twenty-four hour service will provide ample artificial light whenever it is needed. There are plenty of comfortable settees for the waiting passengers and lavatories, and the place is heated by steam. An innovation which will meet with favor in the establishment is a checking room for parcels. The freight office and warehouse will still be at 71 and 73 Ellsworth avenue.

church Monday evening, November 10.

In Zeeland township only one ballot was cast for the Prohibition ticket and only one for the Socialistic ticket.

Workmen have torn down the old restaurant building on River street and are breaking ground on the site for Anton Self's new building.

A meeting of the South Ottawa Teachers association will be held in the High school, Holland, Saturday, Nov. 15, 1902, at 10:30 a. m.

Miss Elizabeth Van Zwaluwenberg will move her millinery establishment in the course of a few weeks to the Kiekintveld block which will be fitted up for millinery purposes.

Joe Pino, who for the last two years has been day clerk at Van Drezer's restaurant, has resigned that position and will devote his time to the management of the Bristol hotel.

Dr. B. B. Godfrey, through his attorneys Diekema & Kollen, will bring mandamus proceedings against Ottawa county to collect his bill of $125 for services performed during the smallpox epidemic last spring.

Mrs. Jacob DeFrel of Filmore died last week Thursday at the age of 81 years. The funeral was held last Monday at 11 o'clock from the house and at 1 o'clock from the Christiam Reformed church at Graafschap.

The Crusade band under Col. Peck of Grand Rapids will hold services at the Wesleyan church on the Lake Shore for two weeks. The meeting last night was attended by a large crowd.

Rev. A. Oltmans, who for the past eight years has been in the mission field in Japan, with his family is here and will remain for about a year. On his return to Japan Rev. Oltmans will occupy a position in the seminary at Tokio.

At the initiation ceremonies in the local lodge, I. O. O. F. Thursday evening of last week visitors were present from Hamilton, Saugatuck, Grand Rapids, Fowlerville and Traverse City. The work done by the staff was pronounced by the visitors to be exceptionally good. So impressed were the Saugatuck visitors with the staff that they extended an invitation to perform the work on two candidates Friday evening at Saugatuck. After the initiation Thursday evening a banquet was spread. Art Drinkwater, Noble Grand, called Theron Metcalf to the chair and a program of toasts and responses was carried out.
Speeches were made by James Mc Laughlin and by visitors from the other lodges. Friday evening the staff and 25 others went to Saugatuck.
After the work of initiation elaborate refreshments were served.

The discovery was made Monday afternoon that a ballot box used in the elections in the second ward at Grand Haven had been cut open and the ballots used at last spring's election were missing. Something of a sensation was created and the council has offered $100 reward for the arrest and conviction of the guilty person or persons. At last spring's election in the Second ward the vote for alderman was so close that James O'Connell, the defeated candidate, asked for a recount. There was a bitter fight on at the time over electric road matters and the council refused to grant a recount. George Jenner on the face of the returns was declared elected and installed. Now the mysterious theft of ballots occasions a sensation and last spring's contest is again being thrashed over. The mutilated box was kept in the city hall. It is known that the box was in perfect condition a week ago.

Disastrous Wrecks.

Carelessness is responsible for many a railway wreck and the same causes are making human wrecks of sufferers from Throat and Lung troubles. But since the advent of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, even the worst cases can be cured and hopeless resignation is no longer necessary. Mrs. Lois Cragg of Dorchester, Mass., is one of many whose life was saved by Dr. King's New Discovery. This great remedy is guaranteed for all Throat and Lung diseases by Heber Walsh, druggist. Price 50 cents and $1.00. Trial bottles free.

Doesn't Respect Old Age.

It's shameful when youth fails to show proper respect for old age, but just the contrary in the case of Dr. King's New Life Pills. They cut off maladies no matter how severe and irrespective of old age. Dyspepsia, Jaundice, Fever, Constipation all yield to this perfect Pill. 25c at Heber Walsh's drug store.

RAILROAD WRECK.

Black Diamond Express Runs Into Siding in New Jersey—Mrs. Nation Among Injured.

New York, Nov. 5.—The Black Diamond express of the Lehigh Valley railroad which left Jersey City westward bound at 12:12 p. m. Wednesday, was wrecked near the Jersey Meadows shops, east of Newark, about 12:20 p. m., and 15 people were more or less seriously hurt, one coach and the engine being overturned. The seriously injured were taken to a hospital. The express ran on a siding and collided with an engine standing there. One of the passengers hurt was Mrs. Carrie Nation, of Kansas. Her hand was slightly cut.

Stage Coach Rolls Down Mountain. Ouray, Col., Nov. 5.—The stage coach which runs between this place and Red Mountain met with an accident near here on one of the steepest grades of the road, and together with the 14 passengers rolled down the mountain-side for a distance of 300 feet. One of the horses was killed and the coach rolled over several times in its descent. All the passengers were injured more or less.

Quiet Elections in Porto Rico. San Juan, Porto Rico, Nov. 5.—There were no serious disorders anywhere in Porto Rico Tuesday. The election, which resulted in a sweeping republican party, passed off quietly.

Governor Still Delirious. Springfield, Ill., Nov. 5.—Gov. Yates Wednesday noon was still delirious. His temperature was 102 degrees and his pulse 98. The doctor does not apprehend danger, however.

Football Victim. New York, Nov. 5.—William B. Albrecht, of Bayonne, N. J., is dead from a broken spine, the result of a football game.

Wonderful Marksmanship. The most marvelous shot in the world is M. Gaston Bordenberry. Taking several repeating carbines, and standing ten yards from a piano, he "plays," or, to speak strictly, he shoots in very brilliant style, a complicated selection from "Cavalleria Rusticana." The piano is "armored" for its novel experience.

Don't forget the old man with the fish on his back. For nearly thirty years he has been traveling around the world, and is still traveling, bringing health and comfort wherever he goes.

To the consumptive he brings the strength and flesh he so much needs.

To all weak and sickly children he gives rich and strengthening food.

To thin and pale persons he gives new firm flesh and rich red blood.

Children who first saw the old man with the fish are now grown up and have children of their own.

He stands for Scott's Emulsion of pure cod liver oil—a delightful food and a natural tonic for children, for old folks and for all who need flesh and strength.

TREASURY FULL OF GOLD.

Annual Report of the United States Treasurer Presents Some Interesting Statistics.

AVAILABLE CASH BALANCE ENORMOUS.

Decrease in Revenues Due to the Repeal of the War Tax—Public Debt Greatly Decreased—Large Growth in the Volume of Money Kept in Circulation.

Washington, Nov. 4.—Ellis H. Roberts, treasurer of the United States, in his annual report, says the magnitude of the available cash balance and the unprecedented holdings of gross gold are the striking feature of the condition of the treasury at the close of the fiscal year 1902. The net ordinary revenues for the year were $562,478,233, and the expenditures $471,190,857, showing a surplus of $91,287,376. In comparison with the previous year there was a decrease of $25,207,104 in revenues and of $38,776,495 in expenditures. While there was an increase of $15,859,252 in the receipts from customs, the internal revenues, owing to repeal of war taxes, fell off $35,300,541.

The total receipts of the year from all sources, including the public debt, were $1,062,124,037, and the disbursements $969,627,041. United States notes and treasury notes were redeemed in gold to the amount of $17,488,535 acres, an increase of 3,925,738 acres over the previous year.

On October 1 last there were 54 forest reserves, embracing 60,175,765 acres, an increase of almost 14,000,000 acres since the last report. During the fiscal year there were 1,663 forest fires discovered, which burned over 87,799 acres. The constantly decreasing area burned over is said to demonstrate the efficiency of the government forestry force.

PUBLIC LANDS IN DEMAND.

Increase in Acreage Disposed of According to Annual Report of Land Office Commissioner.

Washington, Nov. 4.—The annual report of Binger Hermann, commissioner of the general land office, shows that the public land disposed of by the government during the year aggregated 19,488,535 acres, an increase of 3,925,738 acres over the previous year.

Of the aggregate 1,757,793 acres were sold for cash, 17,614,792 acres were embraced in miscellaneous entries and the remainder was Indian lands.

On October 1 last there were 54 forest reserves, embracing 60,175,765 acres, an increase of almost 14,000,000 acres since the last report. During the fiscal year there were 1,663 forest fires discovered, which burned over 87,799 acres. The constantly decreasing area burned over is said to demonstrate the efficiency of the government forestry force.

THE CIVIL SERVICE.

Nineteenth Annual Report of the Commission Presents Some Interesting Facts.

Washington, Nov. 1.—The nineteenth annual report of the United States civil service commission for the last fiscal year has been submitted to the president. It announces substantial progress in the competitive system and general observance of the civil service law and rules during the year. The inclusions in the competitive system during the year were the rural free delivery service, a VISIT THE COAL MINES.

Inspection of the Anthracite Mining Regions Started by the Arbitration Commission.

VIEW WEEK UNDER AND ABOVE GROUND

See Every Step Taken from the Blasting of Coal to the Point Where It Is Sent to Market—Taking of Testimony Will Begin in Scranton November 14.

Scranton, Pa., Oct. 31.—The seven commissioners appointed by President Roosevelt to adjust the differences existing between the anthracite mine workers and their employers on Thursday made a tour of the extreme upper coal field, and saw every step taken in the production of coal from the time it is blasted from the ground, hundreds of feet below the surface, up to the point where it is sent to market ready for the use of the consumer. The arbitrators had an interesting day, and returned to their hotel at 6:30 o'clock at night grimy from coal dust and tired after eight hours of observation and investigation.

Will Take No Testimony.

The commission is making this tour so that the members may gain a better idea of mining in order to more intelligently understand the testimony that will be given by experts on both sides of the controversy. No testimony will be taken during the inspection trips. The commission party consists of 14 persons.

Miners' Wages.

Scranton, Pa., Nov. 1.—The first important action by the anthracite coal strike commission, which is arbitrating the differences between the miners and their employers, was taken yesterday when it was announced by Carroll D. Wright, recorder of the commission, that if any award affecting the existing rate of wages is made it shall be effective from November 1.

Fix Date for Testimony.

Scranton, Pa., Nov. 3.—The strike arbitration commission have decided to begin the taking of testimony in the anthracite dispute Friday, November 14, in this city. The commission will adjourn from next Thursday until that date. The first four days of this week will be taken up with inspecting mines and mining towns in the Hazleton, Panther Creek, Shamokin and Pottsville districts. After the taking of testimony in the mining region the commission will go to Philadelphia and New York to hear the operators' side.

Continue Their Tour.

Hazleton, Pa., Nov. 4.—The anthracite strike commission spent the entire day in the Lehigh valley region, visiting one mine and several of the mining villages. While most of the commissioners were looking over the territory, Recorder Wright was kept busy on the train attending to the correspondence of the commission. Among the matters he disposed of was the filing of a copy of President Mitchell's statement of the miners' case.

Safeblowers Secure $6,000.

Greenwood, Wis., Nov. 5.—One of the most daring bank robberies ever known in this state took place here Monday night. The robbers were four in number and all wore masks. They effected an entrance to the State bank of Greenwood about midnight. Citizens who were aroused opened fire on the robbers, which was returned. No one was hurt, however, and the thieves escaped. An examination showed that the robbers had taken all the currency and gold in the vault, leaving the silver. It is said that they secured over $6,000.

On Historic Ground.

Brandy Station, Va., Nov. 3.—President Roosevelt passed seven hours Sunday afternoon on the battlefield of Cedar Mountain. Accompanied by Secretary Root, Secretary Cortelyou and Dr. Rixey, the president drove to the site of the sanguinary struggle and there received from Judge Grimsley, a participant, an account of the fight.

Universal Postage Stamp.

Washington, Nov. 4.—Assistant Postmaster General Shallenberger in his annual report recommends extension of the parcels posts to several European countries and the adoption of a universal postage stamp. The amount estimated for railroad transportation of mails for the next fiscal year is $38,242,000, an increase of over five per cent. from the current year.

Four Men Killed.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Nov. 1.—By a sudden rush of gas, supposed to have been sulphurated hydrogen, four men were killed and three seriously affected near the Twenty-fourth street heading of the big tunnel trunk sewer. The dead are: Lawrence Fisher, George Rhodes (colored), Hugo Swanson and William Brandish.

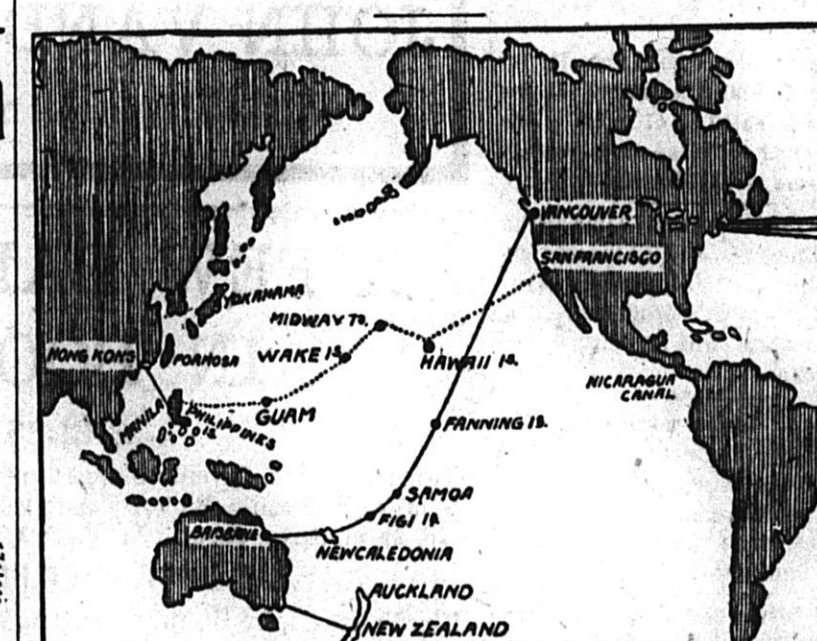

Burned at the Stake.

Sardis, Miss., Nov. 3.—An unidentified negro was burned at the stake at Darling, Miss., Friday night for the murder of E. O. Jackson and a mill owner named Roselle at Darling Wednesday night.

Act of a Coward.

Chicago, Nov. 3.—The explosion of a bomb under Joseph Cordeck's residence in Chicago Heights killed Cordeck and his two-year-old daughter and injured Mrs. Cordeck and seven children.

CABLES IN THE PACIFIC.

482,590 of the former and $1,274,590 of the latter without any impairment of the gold reserve of $150,000,000.

Purchases of Bonds.

Bonds of the face value of $56,071,230 were purchased during the fiscal year for the sinking fund, at a total cost of $70,410,230. In September purchases were made of $25,300 bonds of the loan of 1904 at 105, and in October four per cents of 1925 were bought to the amount of $15,675,250 for principal, involving the payment of $21,695,310.

Decrease of Public Debt.

While the accounts of the public debt on their face show an increase of $15,283,512, if allowance be made for the increase of $57,624,400 in gold certificates, the national obligations will be shown to have been diminished by $42,340,888 during the fiscal year.

The bonds held by the treasurer as security for notes of national banks decreased $9,080,700 during the year, but in the same time the securities held for deposits were $18,953,200 greater, so that the increase in bonds held for both purposes was $9,872,500. The bonds for circulation, which were on October 1, 1901, $330,693,180, fell to $315,754,630 on June 4, 1902, rising to $317,038,530 on June 30. On October 1 they were $326,023,270, and on November 1, $338,082,270. These changes show a measure of elasticity in notes based on bonds.

Added to Circulation.

To the general stock of money in the country an addition of $80,189,631 was made during the year. There was also an increase of $19,735,259 in standard dollars, and of $7,360,991 in subsidiary silver. The growth in the volume of money in circulation during the year was $74,082,589, carrying the per capita from 27.98 to 28.43.

The advance in circulation in the volume of gold, including certificates, within 12 years by $433,703,516 is the measure of the greater strength of our circulation. The increase in the future can hardly be less than $50,000,000 to $60,000,000 a year.

More Gold Certificates.

The gold in the treasury keeps in active circulation as currency the certificates issued against it, and more over, $346,681,018 in United States notes and $30,000,000 in treasury notes, or over $140,000,000 more than its own value. The question may well be considered whether the United States notes may not properly be turned by congress into gold certificates. They have much that quality already, and the change could be gradually made as the supply of yellow metal takes on greater proportions.

There was a net increase during the fiscal year of 368 banks, 437 charters having been granted and 69 surrendered. The total number of banks chartered to June 30, 1902, was 6,325, of which 4,546 were in operation and 1,779 out of existence.

The amount of subsidiary coin outstanding was increased by $3,114,852 to $82,814,940.

considerable portion of the field service of the war department, the census office permanent employees and the employees appointed because of increased work during the war with Spain. There were 62,029 persons examined for places and 14,983 persons appointed, reinstated or transferred, a large increase over any preceding year.

KILLED BY THE CARS.

Terrible Disaster to a Party of Runaway Boys at Lafayette, Ind.—One Beheaded.

Lafayette, Ind., Nov. 1.—Three runaway boys from Watseka, Ill., who are thought to have gone to sleep on the Big Four track in the south part of the city Friday, were run over by a freight train. Stanley Buford, aged 14, was beheaded; Don Neal's scalp was torn from his head and one arm and one leg was cut off, and William Raush was seriously injured. The injured were taken to a hospital. The boys left home Sunday night and were trying to beat their way to Kentucky.

The Public Debt.

Washington, Nov. 3.—The monthly statement of the public debt shows that at the close of business on October 31, 1902, the debt, less cash in the treasury, amounted to $958,507,721. The debt proper was increased through the purchase of bonds by $14,739,682 and the cash on hand also shows a decrease for the month of $14,831,515.

Money Missing.

Des Moines, Ia., Nov. 4.—Officers of the Des Moines national bank report the loss of $2,000 shipped by American express to the Bank of Irwin, Ia., on October 20. When the package was opened at Irwin the next day it contained brown paper.

Lowers World's Record.

Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 1.—Cresceus in his attempt to lower the two-mile trotting record here Friday afternoon made a wonderful performance, trotting two miles in 4:17 flat. The former record was 4:28½, and Cresceus lowered this time by 11½ seconds.

Victim of Pneumonia.

Elkhart Lake, Wis., Nov. 4.—M. Gottfried, the millionaire Chicago brewer, who had made his home here for the past 12 years, died at eight o'clock Monday night. He had been ill with pneumonia nearly three weeks.

Six Die During Voyage.

San Francisco, Nov. 1.—Six soldiers died during the homeward voyage of the transport Sheridan, which arrived here Friday with 1,011 troops from Manila.

Gen. Miles at Manila.

Republicans Sweep the County.

Here are the new officers elected in Ottawa county last Tuesday: Judge of Probate—E. P. KIRBY. Sheriff—H. J. DYKHUIS. Clerk—FREMONT BROWN. Treasurer—FRANK J. FOX. Register of Deeds—JOHN J. RUTGERS.

Prosecuting Attorney—PATRICK H. M'BRIDE.

Circuit Court Commissioners—GEORGE E. KOLLEN, CHARLES E. SOULE.

Coroners—THOMAS KIEHL, JNO. MASTENBROEK.

Surveyor—EMMET H. PECK.

Representatives—First district, N. J. WHELAN; second district, MIL-LARD DURHAM.

The election resulted in a clean republican sweep and every candidate was landed by a snug majority, the figures for the whole county ranging from 18,000 to 2400. In the legislative districts which are composed of the east and west halves of the county the majorities were 507 for Nicholas J. Whelan in the first district and 1200 for Millard Durham in the second. Henry J. Dykhuis, candidate for re-election to the office of sheriff, led the ticket by a majority lingering around the 2400 mark. He made a phenomenal run carrying Grand Haven by 508 and Holland by 497.

It is impossible to give the complete county returns at present as some of the townships have not sent in a full report.

In this city W. D. Kelly, state senator gets a plurality of 402; N. J. Whelan, representative, 28; Edward P. Kirby, judge of probate, 430; H. J. Dykhuis, sheriff, 497; Fremont Brown, clerk, 410; Frank J. Fox, treasurer, 408; John J. Rutgers, register of deeds, 382; P. H. McBride, prosecuting attorney, 365. Attorney Geo. E. Kollen and Charles E. Soule, for circuit court commissioners, Thomas Kiehl and Dr. Mastenbroek for coroners, and Emmet Peck for county surveyor carried the city by the usual majorities.

A tabulated report of the returns will appear in the next issue of the News.

Hon. G. J. Diekema, Chairman.

Majorities for the state ticket ranging from 59,458 for F. W. Warner, secretary of state, to 36,520 for Governor Bliss is the proud record of the Republican party in this state. To Hon. G. J. Diekema of this city, chairman of the republican state central committee, should be given the greatest share of the credit for this magnificent victory. This is an off year, and an off year is the most difficult time to bring out the vote. To the task of getting out the vote Mr. Diekema devoted himself with characteristic energy. He knew that the first thing to be done was to get a healthy republican sentiment in the air, and to do this he instituted a vigorous campaign of education. A literary bureau was established in the headquarters in Detroit and documents of an argumentative nature were spread broadcast. Arrangements were also made to bring republican doctrine into every corner of the state through the medium of the campaign orator. Speakers were sent to the villages and hamlets as well as to the larger cities with the result that the people were aroused from their apathetic state, republicans felt within them pride for their party and resolved that regardless of inconvenience they would go to the polls on election day and register their approval of that party. That they did their duty Tuesday is proved by the heavy off year majority.

In view of the fact that the democrats turned their heaviest guns on Governor Bliss and let the rest of the ticket go by default, the Governor naturally ran behind his ticket. That he succeeded in piling up a plurality of over 86,000 is cause for congratulation. The party leaders in the state are more than pleased with the work of Mr. Diekema. They appreciate the mastery way in which he managed the republican forces and made the great triumph a possibility.

Judge Kirby, Chairman of the County Committee.

One of the best campaigns ever conducted in Ottawa county closed when the polls closed last Tuesday night with an overwhelming republican victory.

The excellence of this campaign is largely due to Edward P. Kirby. He was backed by a county committee that trusted the whole matter to him and told him to go ahead and run the campaign. He ran it like a veteran. Two things had to be done. Republican sentiment had to be aroused and spread and the vote had to be brought out on election day. Both of these objects he accomplished in the most approved manner as the grand republican victory proves. Every ward and township member of the committee stood by him to a man and enabled him to run a campaign that caused the old timers to gasp in astonishment.

The compliments of the campaign to Judge Kirby and the members of the county committee.

Graham & Morton Will Add Sidewheelers To Holland Route.

J. H. Graham, president of the Graham & Morton Transportation company, in a letter to the Grand Rapids Press writes as follows regarding the future plans of the company:

"Will you kindly state that the articles about steamboat merging in the various papers are unauthorized so far as this company is concerned and without our knowledge.

The Holland and Grand Rapids route, steamers Puritan and Soo City, are not for sale at any reasonable price so long as I am in the steamboat business and the Graham & Morton Transportation company's route or steamers can not be bought.

Within one or two years this company will add a large sidewheel steamer of 3,000 passenger capacity, with speed of 22 miles per hour, to operate with the steamer Puritan.

We are now adding an upper cabin to the steamer Puritan, about doubling her capacity, which will give her 132 state rooms for first-class passengers, which is more than any other steamer on Lake Michigan except one.

This company expects to maintain two first-class, large, fast, up-to-date steamers on the Grand Rapids and Holland route as long as the Graham & Morton Transportation company or myself are in the business."

A Letter From Riverside, Cal.

Charles L. Mulder, who with his family has gone to California for the winter writes as follows regarding his western trip:

"I suppose all the postal cards along the line reached their destination. We reached here on time, 8:30 Wednesday a. m. and can say we had a fine trip. The first night on the sleeper was a little inconvenient and we felt pretty blue but things were better after that, besides we had such a jolly crowd in our car, just like one large family and every one trying to make things pleasant.

The sights along the line were grand, especially for us, never having travelled through any mountainous country. Our trip from Chicago to Newton, Kan., was the same country we went through before but the scenery is pretty much the same until you reach La Junta, Col., where we arrived early on Monday morning. If it had been a bright morning we could have seen Pike's Peak which is some 50 miles distance from Santa Fe at this point. Some time during the forenoon we passed the Spanish Peaks. During the night our time changed one hour, this was at Dodge City, so when we got up in the morning we had to wait an extra hour for breakfast, besides having to wait an extra hour we were not due at the breakfast station until 8:20 so by our time we did not get breakfast until 9:00. Just before breakfast we passed the highest point in our trip, Roton Pass, which is 7608 feet above sea level. At this point we pass through a long tunnel under one of the mountains, this tunnel is right on the line between Colorado and New Mexico. After leaving the tunnel we go down steep grade. How glad we were it was a down grade because they went a flying to our breakfast, I had such a big hollow place in my stomach I was afraid I might fall in it. The trip the rest of the forenoon was interesting mostly through a barren desert, strewn with carcasses of horses and cattle. We did see some live cattle grazing but what they found to eat was a mystery to me. I saw one horse on the side of a small mountain near the track which looked more like a big heap of crushed stone than anything else, and he could hardly stand on his feet on account of the stone but still he was eating, don't know what but I suppose it was the mountain.

We had our dinner at Las Vegas, one of the principal New Mexico resorts. During the afternoon the trip was not much more interesting than the forenoon until towards evening when we got back among the mountains. We passed Starvation Peak about 4 o'clock. This is where the Mexicans were driven during the war and starved, hence the name. The best eating house on the road we struck at Albuquerque. It is in a large hotel owned by the Santa Fe, covering blocks of ground, built entirely on the old Mission style. We had an hour here so had lots of time to look around. They had a large museum of Mexican curios and Indian relics. A large court with fountain and flowers. The first thing you hear when you get off the train is the beautiful chime bells. It's a wonderful change from the little old mud houses we were accustomed to seeing all along the line during the day and small towns made up completely of box cars, which were discarded by the railroad.

Tuesday our last day was one of the most interesting as far as beauty is concerned. We traveled by rocky passes, high cliffs and mountains of all shapes imaginable. We crossed the Canyon Diablo at 8:30 in the forenoon, the scenery was grand. We stopped a short time at Williams where they change cars for a stop over to see the Grand Canyon. After leaving Williams we pass the most picturesque part of the trip. For miles we run on the very edge of a deep canyon and circle around the mountains, on one side a deep canyon and on the other you look up the side of the mountains. The track winds its way through like a snake and sometimes you can look way down between the mountains and see the track over which the train has travelled. At this point we keep on a steady down grade until we reach Ash Fork where we had dinner at about 1:40. The trip all afternoon is down grade, dropping from an altitude of 6733 ft. to 461 ft. which is at the Needles. Here we had our supper, after losing another hour on account of change from Mountain time to Pacific time. The station here is crowded with Indians selling relics and asking for silver to "see Papoose." The squaws have their papooses on their back all covered up and you can't see them unless you give them silver. They meet every train that passes through and live on the proceeds. The remainder of the trip was uninteresting because we had our ears in the pillows, getting all the sleep we could before 5:30 a. m., the time for changing cars at San Bernardino for Riverside which is but ten miles distant. We were met at the depot by a bus sent by Dr. Van Zwaluwenburg and taken directly to his home and had a good wash up and a special breakfast prepared for us. Dr. and Mrs. Van Zwaluwenburg and her sister, Mrs. Wabeke were as kind as they or any one could possibly be. Riverside is the most beautiful place I ever saw but is spread out over a great deal of country.

You remember when I left what I said about rain. Well it rained yesterday, the first rain they had since last April. They ought to pay me a bonus for coming here. I have an appointment with Dr. Van at 2 o'clock.

General Items.

Niles boasts of a barber who, instead of entertaining his patrons with the gossip of the town, gives them copious quotations from Shakespeare and the English classics, says a correspondent. The barber's name is Louis Augustine. He is a native of the fatherland, but he has lived in America so many years, since he was quite a youth, that, like most men of the same nativity, he has no attachment except for the land of his adoption. Mr. Augustine's weakness is the study of Shakespeare. He has committed to memory nearly all the works of this great bard, and while he spreads the foaming lather on the faces of customers he pours into their ears quotations from his tragic plays and tender verse. As a matter of course, the student of classical literature is a man of refined tastes and lofty ideals, although of modest ambitions. His greatest happiness and pleasure is to hasten home from his shop and renew the study of his beloved Shakespeare, which with every reading reveals some new beauty of thought or expression.

Battle Creek doesn't know whether to drink water from its hydrants or not. People bathe in Lake Goguan, the source of the water supply, and the supreme court says they have a right to do so. Wells were drilled and a new supply obtained. As an after thought a sample of the water from the two wells was sent to the University of Michigan to be analyzed. The analysis was returned with the statement that a guinea pig which was given the water to drink died in 24 hours, but the professors thought that Battle Creek people were so tough that the water would not hurt them.

A business firm advertised a bargain sale. Before 8 o'clock a long line of women formed in front of the store, and when it opened made a rush. The women quarreled, fought and pulled hair and some climbed on top of the counters and broke china. Three women swooned and a panic was narrowly averted. After the affair was over a quantity of women's belts, brooches and other jewelry of considerable value was picked up as souvenirs of the struggle. The articles were valued at 10 cents each.

The meanest man in Lexington hypnotizes his wife, places the handle of the lawn mower in her hands and makes her believe she is riding a bicycle. He sits on the porch and smokes a cigar, while she prances up and down the yard until the grass is cut—Lexington News.

Earl Rising, a young man residing in Flint, Mich., and employed in the country called at police headquarters last night and told a sensational story of how, while passing through an alley last Saturday night his attention was attracted by the voices of two unknown men in conversation and on stopping to listen overheard them discussing a plot to assassinate President Roosevelt on Oct. 28, on the occasion of his visit to some place in Ohio, which Rising says was mentioned by one of the alleged plotters, but which he cannot now remember. The young man told his story in a straightforward manner, but after subjecting him to a cross examination Chief Carlson came to the conclusion that he had either been made the subject of a practical joke or was the victim of an hallucination.

The past year has been a very successful one for the grape-growers of Van Buren county. For example, the proceeds from four acres of this luscious fruit netted one grower near Paw Paw $1,000.

A Lake Shore railway official recently wrote H. W. Ashley of the Ann Arbor road to procure him 20 bushels of potatoes. Of course, Ashley promptly called in his stenographer. He dictated a letter to the local freight agent at Sherman, Mich., instructing him to pick up some choice potatoes. In a day or so the agent at Toledo asked for billing instructions for that car of potatoes. Car of what? Potatoes. Didn't order a car. That was queer. There was a car in Toledo, two on the road, two at Sherman and five more loading. Then the wires became red hot. The stenographer had made the order read "cars" instead of "bushels." Fortunately, the Ann Arbor man unloaded his potatoes at a profit.

Additional Local.

The proposition to bond the city for $50,000 to establish a municipal gas plant was defeated by 67 votes. The total number of votes cast was 714 years, 624 days and 167 blanks.

Tickets for the football game are on sale at Damsen & Calkins confectionary store, B. J. Reynolds' cigar store and Schouten's drug store. A crowd of rooters will accompany the visiting team.

Louis Tuttle pleaded guilty to the charge of larceny in Justice McBride's court last Monday and was sentenced to the county jail for 40 days. He entered the room of Ben Mulder in a boarding house in the second ward and took $4.25 from his trousers pocket. Mr. Mulder is 70 years of age.

The steam yacht Arthur S. owned by C. Blom, Sr., and Dave Blom sank at the dock near the Ottawa furniture factory a couple of days ago. It is expected that some maliciously inclined person opened the sea cocks and scuttled the boat. Captain Frank VanRy and a force of men are trying to raise the boat with the aid of derricks and a big scow.

I. Plagaman, who came here from Dakota Monday to visit his sister, Mrs. J. Niewold, 54 East Twelfth street, is ill with smallpox and the house of his sister is quarantined. Dr. B. B. Godfrey, the health officer, is hopeful that further spread of the disease may be prevented. It is thought that Mr. Plagaman contracted the disease while on his way here.

The ladies of the Missionary society of the M. E. church will hold their annual chicken pie dinner, Saturday evening, Nov. 15th in the church parlors. Dinner will be served from 5 o'clock until all are served. An excellent program has been arranged and will be rendered beginning at 8 o'clock. Price 25 cents, children 15 cents. Come and enjoy a good dinner and be entertained by some of the best local talent.

The Chicago Tribune has the following about Miss Amy Elizabeth Floyd of this city who is attending the University of Chicago: "The prize of $10 offered by Miss Marion Talbot, dean of women at the University of Chicago, to the co-ed division devising the best musical cheer has been awarded to Miss Amy Elizabeth Floyd. The award was made Wednesday night and the girls of Green hall, the dormitory where Miss Floyd resides, spent the evening practicing the new cheer which met with universal favor. Miss Floyd is the accompanist of the university choir. Her name, her friends say, will be remembered in college history as the composer of the first 'segregated' yell."

Miss Sena Lubbers and Mr. Ben Lugers of Holland were married last Thursday by Rev. C. Kulper of Graafschap. The young couple have the best wishes of their many friends.

Mrs. A. D. Goodrich, Dr. U. F. De Vries and Henry Winters went to Saugatuck Monday evening to attend the wedding of Miss Pearl Phelps of Saugatuck and Howard Brown of Chicago.

A crowd of young people from Zeeland came here last evening on the interurban to surprise Miss Rena Doctor at her home on Columbia avenue. They were the members of Grade 2, room 6 of the Zeeland school where Miss Doctor teaches. All spent a pleasant evening. Dainty refreshments were served and a literary and musical program was carried out.

Miss Frances Schaafsma and Frank Van Etta were united in marriage last Tuesday evening at the home of the bride's parents, 67 West Eighth street. The ceremony was performed by Rev. S. VanderWerf in the presence of relatives and intimate friends. The bride was attended by Mrs. Mark Noble, and Mark Noble was best man. Mr. and Mrs. Van Etta will live at 65 West Eighth street.

Floyd Taylor was four years old Wednesday and a number of his little friends gathered at the home of his parents on West Fifteenth street in honor of the day. A delightful time was enjoyed. During the evening dainty refreshments were served. Those present were Helen Cramer, Bertha Cramer, Annie Olgers, Katie Olgers, Emma Grate, Ida Grate, Hattie Clara, Jeannette and Cornelia Bouwman, Leonard Cramer, Henry Cramer, Louis Taylor.

Miss Addie Huntley at her home on Central avenue yesterday afternoon entertained about forty young ladies at a miscellaneous shower given in honor of Miss Mable Allen who in a couple of weeks will become the bride of Alfred Huntley, Jr. Presents of every description were "showered" on Miss Allen. The afternoon was passed playing progressive pedro, Miss Edna Allen winning the head prize and Miss Christine Van Duren the booby. The decorations and the programs were arranged in hearts. At 6 o'clock elaborate refreshments were served.

One of the most delightful meetings of the Century club was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. N. De Merrill on Eighth street last Tuesday evening. The refreshment committee consisting of Mesdames Yates, P. H. McBride, P. E. Boone and Miss Kate Pfanstiehl took good care of the duty assigned them and the banquet portion of the program was excellent. So was the literary and musical portion. The Mesdames Hazel Wing and Grace Browning were the first and their piano duet won an enthusiastic encore. John W. Beardslee, Jr., read a very interesting paper on "Some Indian Myths" and Dr. A. C. V. R. Gilmore gave a vocal solo. Mrs. Charles H. McBride read a number of letters from the mail bag and Mrs. G. J. Diekema gave a pleasing vocal solo. The next meeting of the club will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Beach Monday evening, November 17.

Boney's Boys took captive a large audience at Winant's chapel last Monday night by the charm of their wonderful singing. Their performance was an auspicious opening of the lecture course. It was almost perfect from an artistic standpoint and greatly pleased those present.

Others say "you can't do it," we say "we do it." We sell the best books at such a price that people will buy them. Good books are companions, instructors, entertainers and comforters. In this week's issue the Michigan Publishing House is offering some real bargains in the finest line of books for the entire family ever shown in the city. The sale will last only one month until Dec. 15. The best bargains always go first so come early.

TAKING SPORT SERIOUSLY.

Recreations Indulged In with Scientific Interest Lose Much of Their Pleasure.

One of the evils of the day is thoroughness as applied to sports and recreations. There is no game, however difficult or however simple, but it is hedged about by difficulties which actually turn pleasure into pain. Time was when a game at whist, for example, was a genuine diversion; now it has become so scientific that it is distinctly hard work to play a good game. So as to bicycling, golf, ping-pong—everything, in a word. We have got so into the habit of taking our pleasures seriously that those pleasures are no longer recreations, or at least not the recreations they might be were perfection not so persistently insisted upon, says a writer in the Boston Transcript. In these days no sooner is a game invented or imported from other lands than somebody has to go to work to make it playing a science, and to this end a newspaper or magazine devoted to that particular game is indispensable and inevitable. So that the drain upon the mental faculties produced by the playing of the game is rendered more drastic by the reading one has to do to keep up with the times. Oh, for a game that cannot be made scientific, that will forever escape a literary organ, and which will always and forever be just good fun and nothing more!

Where He Finished. It is not generally known that the body of Fred Archer, the famous English jockey, is buried within 200 yards of the winning post for the Cambridge-shire.

A beautiful line of hand made Mexican drawn work will be on sale for one week at John Vandersluis. Also a full line of Ingrain and Brussels carpets have been added to his dry goods stock. Mr. Vandersluis is ready to quote some very low prices on carpets and lace curtains.

The large furniture store on River street conducted by James A. Brouwer is the headquarters these days for everything good in carpets, draperies, comforters, blankets and linoleum. You will need something extra in the line of bed coverings, for the chilling blasts of winter will soon be here. To Brouwer's is the place to go for the goods. There is where you can get everything right and for the right kind of prices. It is money in your pocket if you walk to the River street establishment and make a purchase.

WHAT THE NEW YORK WORLD OF SUNDAY, SEPT. 7, SAYS ABOUT "MALTA-PURA."

MALA-PURA.

The recent output of the Battle Creek Health Beverage company is expected to attract general attention throughout this country. The medical department has prepared from the formula furnished by the celebrated German chemist, Prof. Kurtz, a tonic with malt as the basic stimulant. It is in liquid form, is sold for medicinal as well as family purposes and besides being exceedingly agreeable to the taste, affords an invigorating tonic to the system. As a medicinal tonic equally as a pleasant drink it is sure to become very popular. It has been found to be successful in all pulmonary troubles, as an aid to digestion and in cases of consumption, la grippe and pneumonia. A great point in favor of this tonic is that it possesses none of the deleterious effects usually found in stimulants. Malta-Pura has only been on the market a few months, but it has entered at once into wide popularity, making an enlarging of the plant necessary. As it is absolutely unique as a tonic, it is sure to occupy a place all its own and has already found great favor upon the social buffet as well as the sick room. The city of health foods is a fitting place for the manufacture of this unusual health drink. The company is now prepared to fill orders throughout the entire country. It is unusual for any tonic to receive such unanimous endorsement from medical as well as social circles as has Malta-Pura. For sale by druggists. 37-1f.

Energy all gone? Headache? Stomach out of order? Simply a case of torpid liver. Burdock Blood Bitters will make a new man or woman of you.

Highest Praise.

SOME HOLLAND CITIZENS GROW ENTHUSIASTIC ON THE SUBJECT.

The highest praise for Holland public. Is hearty expression from Holland people. Doan's Kidney Pills are endorsed in Holland. No better proof of merit can be had. Here's a case of it. We have plenty more like it.

Mr. John Pilon, farmer near Ebenezer, says: "I had more or less trouble for years from my kidneys and whenever I worked hard or caught cold it always affected me and caused a heavy aching pain through the small of my back. It was very painful to stoop or to lift anything and at times the aching was so persistent I could scarcely get about to my work. I used different medicines and wore plasters but they did me no good. As I had seen Doan's Kidney Pills highly recommended for such troubles I went to J. O. Doesburg's drug store in Holland and got a box. I used them but a short time when I felt better and continuing the treatment I was soon cured."

The Senate.

The next United States senate will be republican by at least 16 majority, against the present majority of 20.

The present senate contains 54 republicans and 34 democrats, in a total of 90 seats, there being two vacancies from Delaware, where the republican legislature failed to elect. The terms of 30 senators expire with the present congress. There is also a vacancy from Michigan, caused by the death of Senator McMillan. Seven states have already elected senators to take their seats March 4, 1903. These are Maryland, Kentucky, Iowa, Ohio, Louisiana, Vermont and Georgia. Oregon has already elected a republican legislature which will choose a successor to Senator Simon. Twenty-five senators will be elected by legislatures chosen at Tuesday's elections, as follows: Indiana, Delaware (two seats), New Hampshire, North Dakota, Nevada, South Dakota, Illinois, Pennsylvania, California, Connecticut, New York, North Carolina, Wisconsin, Kansas, Michigan, Idaho, Arkansas, South Carolina, Florida, Alabama, Utah, Colorado, Washington and Missouri. Of these the republicans have surely carried 13. This insures 52 republicans and 34 democrats in the next senate. The result of the contests, owing to the meager returns received at this hour, is still in doubt in Nevada, Idaho, Utah and Colorado, with the chances favoring the election of democratic legislatures in Colorado, Idaho and Nevada, and a republican legislature in Utah. If these probabilities should be realized, the senate will stand 55 republicans and 37 democrats, with a loss of four majority to the republicans, compared with the present political division.

Claims House for Democrats.

Washington, Nov. 5.—Chairman Griggs Wednesday morning still claims the election of a democratic house by 12 majority. He claims the election of two democrats in Rhode Island.

The Latest Returns.

New York, Nov. 5.—Elections were held Tuesday in 42 states and the latest returns indicate that the control of the national congress remains with the republican party. While official returns may make the working majority of the republican party in the house a close one, there is no doubt that it will be sufficient for all party purposes. From a national standpoint, the control of the lower branch of congress was the real contest. Many of the states elected legislatures which will choose United States senators, but the result of these elections has in no way imperiled the republican majority of the upper body. In those states which elected governors there was no state in which the party in power was not continued in that position. In some of the states, however, there was a decided change from the vote cast two years ago.

New York.

In the east the main interest centered in the two great states of New York and Pennsylvania, in the latter because of the conditions brought about by the recent coal strike and in New York because of its bearing on the future of his party of the republican candidate for governor.

New York reelected Gov. B. B. Odell and the entire state ticket, though the falling off in the republican plurality as compared to 1900 was enormous. At a late hour Tuesday night Odell's plurality was placed at about 10,000. The democrats made a very slight gain in the legislature, but not enough to injure the election of a republican successor to Senator Platt. The democrats also made slight gains in the congressional elections. Wednesday's estimates were that the new state senate would stand 28 republicans and 21 democrats, with one district in doubt.

Pennsylvania.

In Pennsylvania, Samuel W. Pennypacker, republican, was elected governor by a plurality estimated at more than 150,000, while the legislature is overwhelmingly republican. The democrats elected two and possibly three of the 32 congressmen. The indications in New Hampshire are that Nahem S. Batchelder, republican candidate for governor, was elected over Henry F. Hollis, democrat, by a plurality of at least 10,000. There was a heavy shrinkage from the vote of two years ago. The legislature is republican in both branches by large majorities, insuring republican successor to Senator Gallinger, who will probably succeed himself.

In the west, Kansas, Idaho and Utah were storm centers because of the fight for United States senators, while in Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and several other states close congressional districts attracted much interest.

Illinois.

In Illinois, while official figures are lacking, there is every indication that the republican ticket has been elected by a good majority, and that the next legislature, which will elect a successor to United States Senator Mason, will be safely republican.

Indiana.

Indiana is estimated to have given the republican candidates from 25,000 to 40,000. The delegation to congress remains unchanged, nine republicans and four democrats, while the legislature probably will be republican by 25 on joint ballot, insuring the reelection of United States Senator Fairbanks.

Ohio.

Ohio is claimed by the republicans by a plurality of more than 100,000 and possibly 18 of the 21 congressmen, although the democrats decline to concede three of the congressional districts claimed.

Michigan.

In Michigan the republicans elected Gov. Bliss and the entire state ticket, besides securing 11 of the 12 congressmen. The legislature is strongly republican, thus assuring the election of ex-Secretary of War Alger to the United States senate.

Wisconsin.

Ten republican congressmen and one democrat, with the reelection of Gov. La Follette, was indicated by late returns from Wisconsin.

Iowa.

Late returns received from Iowa go to show that the republicans have elected their state ticket by 75,000 majority. Reports from congressional districts are meager.

Other Western States.

Missouri elected nine state officials. Returns show the election of 15 democratic congressmen and one republican.

North and South Dakota are again in the republican column.

In Minnesota a plurality of 30,000 is claimed for Van Sant, republican, for governor. The democrats, while giving no figures, say that the returns are not flattering.

Indications in Kansas are that the republican state ticket has been elected with eight congressmen. The legislature will be safely republican, possibly with a reduced majority.

Returns from Nevada point to a fusion victory in the state.

Heavy republican gains are conceded throughout the state of Colorado, although returns are so meager that it is impossible to give reliable estimates of the result.

Returns from Nebraska show the vote to be exceedingly close for governor, with the remainder of the republican state ticket probably elected.

A small plurality for Morrison, republican, for governor is indicated at an early hour in Idaho.

Washington and Wyoming appear to be safely in the republican column.

Indications from Utah point to a republican majority in the legislature on joint ballot.

In California the returns indicate that the governorship is in doubt. The legislature probably will be republican.

The latest report from Montana give the state to the republicans. However, the democrats do not yet concede their defeat.

Eastern States.

In New Jersey there was no change in the present situation. The democrats may have gained, but the control of the state and legislature remains with the republican party.

Massachusetts went strongly republican, the entire state ticket of that party being elected, the plurality for the head of the ticket being 37,479. The state legislature remains republican.

No state election was held in Vermont.

In Rhode Island the democrats elected Hon. L. E. Garvin for governor, but with this exception the republican state ticket will go through. The legislature is republican.

The results from the legislature in Delaware seem to be in doubt, and a deadlock, as was the case two years ago, is a possibility.

The republicans in Connecticut elected their entire ticket by a plurality estimated to be at least 15,000, with the general assembly safely republican on joint ballot.

Southern States.

The southern tier of states, as usual, show a solid democratic front.

In Maryland the election was only for congressmen, the republicans electing four of the six members.

Virginia's election was confined to congressmen, and the returns indicate that the democrats have elected nine of the ten, with one district doubtful.

The democratic majority in North Carolina is estimated to be about 63,000, with a solid democratic delegation in congress and a democratic legislature.

Tennessee rolled up a democratic majority for governor and the entire state ticket, estimated at about 37,000. The legislature is also democratic.

In West Virginia there is little change.

Coler May Contest in Courts.

New York, Nov. 5.—Although the unofficial reports from the state apparently showed Odell's reelection by about 10,000 plurality, Mr. Coler, his democratic opponent, refused Wednesday to concede defeat, declaring that he wished to wait for the official count of the vote. Mr. Coler's statement, which indicated that he was not satisfied with the returns as received so far, contained the following:

"Suppose the democratic ticket had received say in the neighborhood of 150,000 majority in Greater New York, there was nothing to stop the republicans from claiming the upper section of the state by at least $200,000."

This declaration by Mr. Coler was followed by a rather sensational announcement from Secretary Mason, of the state democratic committee, that heretofore he had refused to concede Odell's election, that fraud had robbed Coler of many votes up the state and that Senator Hill and Chairman Campbell, of the state committee, would come to New York to decide on a plan of action. About the time these statements appeared a rumor was circulated that Coler intended to make a contest in the courts and simultaneously the Evening Journal issued an extra edition, declaring that former Senator Hill, Charles F. Murray and Hugh McLaughlin claimed Coler's election.

This report, together with the statements made by Mr. Coler and Secretary Mason, caused considerable excitement in this city.

New York, Nov. 5.—The revised figures for governor are as follows: Odell, 133,836; Coler, 123,038. Odell's plurality, 10,798.

Ohio Returns.

Columbus, O., Nov. 5.—With more complete returns the republicans say their plurality on the state ticket will approximate 100,000 and that the Ohio congressmen stand 17 republicans to 4 democrats, as in the last congress.

The pluralities in all of the four democratic districts were greatly reduced and in the republican districts increased. The only changes were in the Twelfth and Thirteenth districts and they offset each other.

The democrats gained the former by electing Judge DeWitt C. Badger, over Cyrus Huling and lost the latter by the defeat of Dr. James A. Norton, who has been in congress many years. The plurality of A. H. Jackson over Norton was less than 400, but the result was not close in other districts.

The statement of Henry C. Garber, chairman of the democratic state committee, and congressman-elect, charging John R. McLean and his followers, headed by Lewis G. Bernard, of Cincinnati, with the democratic defeat has caused sensational agitation, since Chairman Garber follows up his charges by stating that Mayor Johnson and his friends had the organization of the democratic party everywhere in the state except at Cincinnati and that they would seek to secure the control of Hamilton county committee this year. The declarations of Garber are accepted as meaning that the friends of Johnson will contend for supremacy in the organization at least until after the next democratic national convention.

Indiana.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 5.—The returns from Indiana show that the delegation in congress will remain as at present, nine republicans and four democrats. The republicans have carried this (Marion) county by a safe plurality, though Ensley (rep.), for treasurer, may lose to Kuhn (dem.), and the legislature will be safely republican, but probably by a slightly reduced majority. This means the reelection of Senator Fairbanks.

Republicans claim the state by at least 30,000.

The republican state committee at noon claimed 100 of the 150 members of the Indiana legislature and said that Senator Fairbanks would be re-elected by the largest majority Indiana has given any senator since the civil war. Unexpected gains were made and the legislative committee said they got every vote for Fairbanks that the committee had hoped for except Charles B. Rogers, of Shoals, for joint senator for Orange, Martin and Lawrence counties, where factional fights lost him every one of these three counties.

Democratic Congressman in Iowa.

Des Moines, Ia., Nov. 5.—The democrats succeeded in electing one congressman in the state of Iowa for the first time in eight years, Judge Martin J. Wade defeating the repub-

Shot-Gun Prescriptions.

We suppose we are not revealing any trade secret when we say that many medicines are made up on the principle of the so-called "shot-gun prescriptions," which were formerly somewhat in vogue.

The idea of the shot-gun prescription was to put in a large number of different drugs, each useful for different purposes, in the hope that some of them might hit the case.

Vinol, the medicine we sell over our name and guarantee, is not a scattering "shot-gun prescription," but goes straight to the mark.

It is the best thing we know for a run-down condition, for a listless feeling, nerve troubles, for lung troubles—in fact, it is a safe, pleasant, reliable tonic and retractor.

It has cured so many people right here in town we offer money back if it fails to benefit.

DRUGGIST.

lican candidate, Hoffman, by 800 plurality. Birdsall (rep.), in Speaker Henderson's district, received 5,000 plurality. The republican plurality for the state ticket will exceed 70,000. Returns are coming in slowly.

Latest Returns from Michigan.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 5.—Revised returns received show a total vote for Bliss of 47,414, and for Durand (dem.), 14,650, giving Gov. Bliss a plurality of 32,764. Gov. Bliss ran 11,870 behind Frank M. Warner (rep.), candidate for secretary of state, according to the returns, which, when completed, will lower Gov. Bliss' plurality a trifle more, it is expected. Durand made a particularly strong run in Wayne county, where he carried by nearly 10,000. The legislature will be made as follows:

House—Republicans, 90; democrats, 9, one district still in doubt. Senate—Republicans, 29; democrats, 2, one district still in doubt.

In Detroit Mayor William C. Maybury (dem.) polled at total vote of 23,507. Dr. J. H. Carstens, his republican opponent, getting 21,812, a plurality for Maybury of 165.

In the First congressional district Alfred Lucking, the only democratic congressman elected from Michigan, has a plurality of 3,523 with 11 precincts still to be heard from.

La Follette's Majority.

Milwaukee, Nov. 5.—Complete returns from the city of Milwaukee gave La Follette (rep.) a plurality over Mayor Rose (dem.), for governor of 2,653. Gov. La Follette carried Milwaukee county by 4,507. The social democrats polled about 12,000 votes in Milwaukee county. The latest returns from the state while far from being complete show that Gov. La Follette carried the state by at least 40,000 plurality and some estimates gave him 45,000. The congressional delegation complete is made up of ten republicans and one democrat. The returns from legislative districts indicate an overwhelming majority for the republicans which means the probable reelection of United States Senator John C. Spooner.

Illinois.

Chicago, Nov. 5.—Illinois remains in the republican column, notwithstanding the mixed result in Cook county. Although the returns from the country towns are not all in, it is apparent that Fred Busse, republican candidate for state treasurer, carried Cook by about 12,000, which makes the republican plurality for the entire state not far from 73,000. Busse ran ahead of his ticket in Cook. Chris Mamer ran nearly 14,000 behind him, as John L. Pickering, democratic candidate for supreme court clerk, carried the city by nearly 20,000.

The legislature is republican in both branches, the party majority on joint ballot being estimated at 28, which insures the election of a republican senator.

Missouri.

St. Louis, Nov. 5.—While complete returns from all parts of the state have not been received there is nothing to indicate a change from Tuesday night's figures, which show the election of the democratic state ticket, a safe democratic majority in the legislature that will select a successor to United States Senator G. G. Vest, and the election of 15 democrats out of 16 congressmen. Hon. Richard Bartholdt, who was reelected to congress from the Eleventh district, was the only successful republican candidate. The most substantial democratic gains were made in Jackson county and Kansas City, St. Joseph and Buchanan county, and in Cape Girardeau. It is not believed that complete returns will change the result in any manner.

NO COFFEE HOUSES HERE.

Plan Which Worked Readily in England Is Not Taken Up in the United States.

The coffee house is a temperance substitute for the inn in England, says Gunton's Magazine. It furnishes, minus the intoxicating stimulants, similar social features, but it is tacked on to the same social habits that the inn developed. In this country those habits were not formed by the saloon experience, and the attempt to establish the coffee house as a substitute for the saloon necessarily lacks that social incentive which exists in England. The coffee house here takes on the feature of the restaurant rather than either the German beer garden or the English inn. The Americans have never learned to go to these places for their leisurely intercourse and amusements and hence do not find it when coffee is substituted for beer. They have gone to the theaters or to the clubs for this social outlet.

It is, therefore, not surprising to the careful student of European and American traditions that the coffee-house plan does not work in this country, though it worked well in England. To be successful, social and economic as well as political institutions must largely grow out of the habits, customs and desires of the people. They cannot to any considerable extent be transplanted from one country to another.

THE NATURE OF COWS.

Have Their Likes and Dislikes and Act at Times Very Much Like Human Beings.

"Cows have their likes and their dislikes," said the milkmaid to the summer boarder who was curious to see every part of the farm, according to the New York Tribune.

"For instance, a cow admires a horse, and will stand and watch one for a long time. She is sort of timid about him, but she admires him just the same. She has a contempt for a mule, and seems to be amused by his antics. Hogs she tolerates, that's all. And sheep, she hates. She will not eat grass where sheep have been. She hates dogs, too, but will tolerate the shepherd dog, because she knows she simply has to, and that the shepherd dog will not bite her.

"Cattle go wild at being let into a fresh pasture," added the milkmaid. "It seems to go to their heads. Each is afraid that the other has got a better feeding place than herself, and tries to drive her neighbor away."

"Then there is a good deal of human nature in the cow, after all," mused the summer boarder, who had studied a year or two at a university, and was given to philosophical reflections. "Well, I should smile," answered the milkmaid. "A single cow, with a calf will boss a whole herd of steers," and, swinging her pail over her arm, she went down to the milking pens.

DESCENT OF KING EDWARD.

The Family Tree of the Sovereign of Great Britain Has Many Branches.

The following genealogy of the kings and queens of England was written during the reign of Queen Victoria, and by prefacing it with "Edward VII., who was the son of Victoria," says a London paper, the reader will have the genealogy complete to William the Conqueror: Victoria, who was the niece of William IV., who was the brother of George IV., who was the son of George III., who was the grandson of George II., who was the son of George I., who was the cousin of Anne, who was the sister-in-law of William III., who was the son-in-law of James II., who was the brother of Charles II., who was the son of Charles I., who was the son of James I., who was the cousin of Elizabeth, who was the half-sister of Mary, who was the half-sister of Edward VI., who was the son of Henry VIII., who was the son of Henry VII., who was the cousin of Richard III., who was the uncle of Edward V., who was the son of Edward IV., who was the cousin of Henry VI., who was the son of Henry V., who was the son of Henry IV., who was the cousin of Richard II., who was the grandson of Edward III., who was the son of Edward I., who was the son of John, who was the brother of Richard I., who was the son of Henry II.,

who was the cousin of Stephen, who was the cousin of Henry I., who was the brother of William Rufus, who was the son of William the Conqueror, who was the son of his mother.

There is a practical joker in Chicago who deserves to be classed with the doctor in Mark Twain's "Innocents Abroad." The doctor's conversation with the guide in relation to the mummy is hardly more amusing than this man's conversation with a guide in relation to Niagara falls, says the Brooklyn Eagle. He recently made his first trip to the falls, and a guide that he hired was trying to impress him with their magnitude.

"Great!" suggested the guide. "Great!" acquiesced the Chicagoan, stolidly. "Magnificent!" persisted the guide, disappointed at the lack of enthusiasm.

"Finer than the bear trap dam in the drainage canal," admitted the Chicagoan.

The guide looked to see if he was joking, but there was never a smile. The Chicagoan seemed to be interested, but not at all impressed.

"Millions of gallons a minute," explained the guide.

"How many in a day?" asked the Chicagoan.

"Oh, billions and billions," said the guide.

The Chicagoan looked across and down and up, as if gauging the flow, and then turned away disinterestedly.

"Runs all night, too, I suppose," he remarked, nonchalantly.

The guide was dazed and he had not recovered when the Chicagoan left.

LOVE IN THE FIELD.

BY COSMO HAMILTON.

In the hat there were poppies, poppies that were false. The hat was white, crumpled straw, floppy on one side. The dress was something of starched white, which stuck out from the sky-blue sashed waist in uncompromising panels. The stockings, seen as far as where the stout ankle widened into stouter calf, were, like the rough made shoes, white. On the instep of one foot was a neat darn. When the dress was rustled it gave forth the pleasant noise of a firm tread on a loose board.

The girl's face was young, plump, shiny. Her hair—russet hair—had been drawn tightly away from the face with a damp brush. It culminated in a tight knob under the hat. There were freckles in groups on each side of her nose, and in semi-circles under her blue eyes—steady eyes. Her humorous mouth was slightly open—expectant; her teeth dazzled. Her brows above her white cotton gloves were brown, brown or than her face.

The shadows, unevenly fringing the stubbly field, were solid and unmoving, except when a thrush, with half-frightened, half-defiant chuck chuck, skimmed out of the hedge and cast a running shadow across the field.

The girl's eyes were fixed upon the stile in the far corner. About her mouth there played impatience, anticipation, a little nervousness, lots of self-satisfaction. She had waited for him on this haystack every Sunday evening for two months. Every Sunday evening he had come, walked round the field without looking at her, and followed her home without a word.

This evening silence must end. She had put her purse on the path by the gate, where he could not fail to see it. Her Sunday frock was new.

She ran the thumb and forefinger of her left hand firmly down each consecutive finger of her right hand, pressing the tip of her first finger finally between each. Her eyes never left the stile. Then, with more firmness—with some spite—she changed thumb and first finger, and proceeded down each consecutive finger of her left hand.

The world was full of flower whispers, the stirring of leaves, the chattering of birds and insects.

Then the girl's mouth closed, and turned quickly up at each corner. A gleam of delight flew up to her eyes.

A head appeared the other side of the gate. A head with a cap on the back of it, a lathered lock shining in the distance.

Then brown, broad shoulders, which dipped slowly, left—right. A great leg was swung over the top bar, and a heavy boot scunched on the step. Another followed it. Then the simultaneous wump on the dry field, of both. The head bent slightly forward, the left—right of the dipping shoulders came slowly up the path.

The girl opened her first sunshade—white. Her heart swung without beating.

The man stopped, stooped eagerly, picked up the purse, and glanced under his eyelashes toward the haystack. The girl's heart resumed beating, like a stick stuck, allegro, upon a carpet. She moved more to the end of the ledge of the haystack, crossing one hanging white foot over the other. There would be ample room for two—uncomfortably. A green insect dropped on her white knee. She flipped it carefully off.

The left—right crunch, crunch was on the stubble. She lowered her head, and watched him under the big brim of her poppy crowned hat. He was coming slowly towards the haystack.

If he saw her watching he would certainly stop. She lowered the white sunshade to cover her face. She would see him much closer soon. Besides, she could dab her face with her handkerchief.

Her smile faded. The steps were passing. Imperceptibly, as the corners of her mouth drooped, she peeped out this side of the sunshade. He had once come within ten yards of the stack and had then turned off to go around it.

Oh! if God had but made her a man! He trudged once round—and passed. Twice, whistling the air of a hymn—and passed. The third time he stopped.

She held her breath. All her senses were amalgamated into one—hearing. The sunshade longed to rise. A chaffinch chirped in its sleep. The rich notes of the organ swayed by. Another green insect dropped on her knee. Neither moved.

"Hey!" The sunshade fell.

"You've dropped something!" Her purse fell with a thud into her lap. She stammered something he could not hear. Their eyes met.

He opened his lips, shuffled, shut them, dropped his eyes, and turned on his heel.

Oh! if God had but made her a man! His broad brown shoulders dipped left—right till they came to the faint track his heavy boots had made round the fringe of the field.

The sun sank, taking the tree's shadows away. The glow across the field turned to red, turned to gold, and followed them. The click of the crickets, the scunch of slow, steady, circular treads, were mixed with the murmur of the shaking grass.

Waiting till he was in front of the stack she dropped her sunshade, and slipped to the ground. She was stiff and angry. She was stiff and pleased. She had only thought before. Now she knew.

Without looking to right or left, with quick tread she crossed the field to the gate, turned sharp to the right, dashed along the sunpath till the slow scunching came round the corner, left the five-barred gate open for him, and came to the road leading to the village—home.

She entered the gate, shut it, and putting her sunshade carefully against its clearest bar, leant over it, listening. The scent of honeysuckle and sweet briar hung upon the silent air.

As he came up he looked at her and smiled. She answered it with one that told him that she knew.—Chicago Tribune.

His Naturalization Oath.
A Yorkshirer who has been a citizen these 20 years of the United States took a fellow countryman to Judge Gildersleeve's court the other day to have him naturalized. The foreigner entered the courtroom with a sign, and kept the smoking butt between the fingers of his uplifted hand as the clerk perfunctorily recited the oath. Without rising or falling inflection the official read it off thus: "I swear that I will support the constitution of the United States, and that I absolutely and entirely renounce and abjure all allegiance and fidelity to every foreign prince, potentate, state or sovereign, particularly to Edward VII, king of England, of which country I have been a subject"—and just then noticing the cigar in his hand he took it and said: "I don't take that smoking cheroot out of your hand before his honor happens to look this way he will have you deported, and help me God." The butt dropped with an exploding, and the man became a citizen.—N. Y. Press.

Additional Local.

If sheriff Dykhuys keeps on he will have the majority of the young men of Jamestown in this city. He has already brought seven of them here for arraignment in Justice McBride's court on the charge of destroying property Halloween eve and has gone after two more. The case against the boys will be heard next Wednesday.

John Poppen died Tuesday evening at his home in Drenthe at the age of 74 years. Mr. Poppen was well known by the early settlers of this locality and a large circle of friends mourn his death. He is survived by his wife, two daughters and five sons. The funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon. Rev. Klaas Poppen of Muncie, N. Y., Rev. Jacob Poppen of Woutendyke, N. Y. and Albert Poppen of Sioux Center, Iowa, are here to attend the funeral.

Marshal Fred Kamferbeek was pretty busy this week. A tailor stole a fifteen dollar pair of shears from John Bosman and sold them to Wm. Bourton. Mr. Bosman valued the shears greatly because they were formerly used by his father and he did not rest easy until the marshal recovered them. The tailor has not been recovered. He has gone. Halloween night five boys broke the thills of Drayman Pathuis' dray. The boys were apprehended and after paying for the damages and promising to be good were allowed to go in peace.

COLOR-MAKING BACTERIA.

Large Numbers of the Micro-Organisms That Produce Various-Hued Matters.

The micro-organisms are interesting out of all proportion to their size, and not the least interesting phase of their existence is that described in an article in La Nature by Henri Coupin. M. Coupin treats especially of the coloring matters produced by bacteria, some of which are noteworthy for their brilliancy and others for their chemical or physiological peculiarities. Says M. Coupin:

"A large number of bacteria produce coloring matter, sometimes very vivid."

There are two cases. In one, the most numerous, the pigment remains inside the elements that manufacture it; thus the bacteria themselves are colored. In the other the pigment spreads, as it is produced, into the surrounding medium, and this has the characteristic color, while the bacteria themselves are pale or even colorless. Thus the bacillus fluorescens and others are nearly white, while they color the culture medium green."

Every species, we are told, has its particular color; one is citron yellow, another golden, many are brilliant red, one at least is pink, the bacillus of blue milk is sky blue; others are respectively greenish blue, violet and brown. The characteristic discharges of many diseases owe their color to the microbes that produce them.

HUNTING FAMILY HISTORY.

A Member of the Penn Family Wants to Know If He Is Related to Sir William.

The search for ancestors is not entirely confined to the new rich and socially ambitious, says the New York Tribune. Witness this letter to the Historical society of Philadelphia: "I am trying to find out all the information I can about Sir William Penn and his descendants. I want to be writing in my fathers family but the have been lost by some means. I want to prove my relationship to the Penn if it can be done. I was told if I would write to you I could find out all I wanted to know so if I can get any information of his sons or grandsons I should like very much to learn of them and if you could tell me if you new of any of his money or real estate that hasnt ben clamed by his descendants or his sons descendants and so on. Kamferbeek Congratulates Dykhuys.

To the Holland City News: Please allow me through your paper to extend to Henry J. Dykhuys, who was re-elected to the office of sheriff, my sincere congratulations. His magnificent majority is a strong endorsement of his record in office the past two years and shows that the people appreciate his faithful performance of the duties of his office. Respectfully, FRED KAMFERBEEK, Democratic candidate for Sheriff.

A Letter of Thanks.

West Olive, Mich.
Holland City News, Dear Sir: Can you give us a small space in your paper to express to Mr. Martin Kerkhof our sincere thanks for his gift of a new pump for the M. E. church of West Olive.

May the giver never want for the water whereof if a man drink he shall never thirst, and surely his place of business will have an increasing attraction to us when wanting a pump for personal use.
