President Roosevelt has set apart Thursday, the twenty-ninth day of November, as a day of thanksgiving and supplication, on which the people shall meet in their homes or in their churches to devoutly acknowledge all that has been given them, and to pray that they may in addition receive the power to use those gifts aright.

Peter Arendsma, employed in a local factory, was stabbed in the face during a drunken brawl Saturday night. Arendsma got into a row with two Indians, one from Hamilton and one from St. Joe. Besides the cut in his face considerable damage was done to Arendsma's clothes. Strangely enough the man refuses to sign a complaint for the arrest of the Indians, and the officers have no evidence to go ahead with the case. The trouble occurred at Sixth and River streets.

You, who were elected to office think you are happy but you are not one, two, three with John Van Vyven, leader of the Citizens band. It is all because the band showed its appreciation of John by presenting him with a handsome clarinet case last Monday night in honor of his 29th birthday. Luke Sprietsma made the presentation speech.

The deal was closed this week by which the Old National Bank of Grand Rapids and the National Bank of Grand Haven, joint owners of the old Walden shoe factory building, sold it to H. G. Millman, Julius A. Board and Frederick M. Carter of Chicago. The consideration paid for the property was $3,000. The new owners will begin at once to put the building in good repair and remodel it, preparatory to establishing a new business. The plant will be turned into a wood working factory and devoted principally to the manufacture of fancy doors and sashes and such class of work. It is expected that from 25 to 30 hands will be employed at the start.

Circuit court has adjourned until next Monday in order that the court and the attorneys could go home and vote. Martin Van der Bie, Jacob Heisterkamp, Frank Mader, Herman C. Schmedtgen, pleaded guilty to violation of the liquor law. Esquire Longtime under the same charge, stood mute. The pleas of the greater number of the liquor men up will save the county considerable expense and will do away with trials. No time has been set for sentencing these men, but it is expected that Judge Padgham will take the matter up some time next week. Albert Meyer pleaded guilty to violation of the liquor law and sentence was suspended upon Olaf Ash, charged with breaking into cottages on Spring Lake last winter.

Mrs. Martha Shroeder was arraigned in Justice Post's court Monday afternoon on the charge of shoplifting from the store of John Vandersluis, and paid a fine and costs amounting to $9. Mrs. Shroeder entered the store and while the clerks were busy deftly rolled up a 50 cent scarf and concealed it under her coat. Unless there is a great deal of snow this work can be carried on all winter. Contractor Frank Oosting is building the concrete walk and drive on Griswold Walk from the interurban tracks to Lake Michigan, and there will also be a walk and drive built from Griswold walk along the car tracks to the Colby store building.

They were arrested yesterday by Deputy Sheriff Zanting on the charge of malicious construction of property. The offenders are Conrad Slagh, Edward Haan, Otto Meusen, Joseph Kouw and Ben Essenberg. The young men began celebrating Oct. 30, and their sport took the form of tearing down fences, and stands used by farmers to load milk cans into wagons. Considerable damage was done but the boys really meant no harm so they were not given hard sentences.

Interurban From Allegan to South Haven.

The first meeting of the stockholders of the Trans-Michigan Street Railroad company, incorporated under the laws of the state of Michigan, was held last week at Allegan. The following directors were elected for the ensuing year: John A. Hensel, John Klein, Tony Samp, Frank B. Kamarke, all of Chicago; John Merton, Bangor, Mich.; J. E. Warner, Chicago; Joseph F. Kamarke, Allegan, Mich.; August Koch, and A. A. Babcock, Jr., Chicago.

Officers who are going to manage the affair and push it to a finish are General Manager Frank B. Kamarke and Mr. A. A. Babcock, Jr., civil engineer. Mr. Babcock is at present in the employ of the city of Chicago and is the civil engineer who is building the great Lawrence avenue tunnel in that city.

Work on the road from Allegan to South Haven will be commenced within the next thirty days and will be pushed as fast as possible. Under the state charter at least one tenth of the capital stock, $100,000, must be spent on the construction of the road the first year, and as soon as the village grants the franchise, which calls that work on the road be begun within six months, ground will be broken for grading the road bed. There will be no delay. Mr. Kamarke, the general manager, says that there is only one way of getting the good-will of the public, and that is to do a thing as you promise, and he has the support of his Chicago friends who will back him, and he will do the rest.

Mr. Klein, who is the vice-president of the company, is a well-to-do business man of Chicago with plenty of good backing. Mr. Samp, who is the treasurer, is a hustling business man, and he will be in Allegan within the next two weeks to select a home for his family.

Mr. Kamarke says that those who are backing him are his personal friends and he will see that the money they put into this road will bring returns. The other directors are all prominent business men and will not leave a stone unturned to make this road a success.

The motive power to be used on the cars will be a combination of electricity and gasoline. The former will be applied to the cars by a storage battery.

The company will ask the council for a franchise, and as soon as that is granted work will be commenced and pushed from Allegan to South Haven.

Oil cloth binding for the stove, 10 cents, strong fleece lined hose 10 cents. The best working gloves 3 pairs for 25 cents, and last but not least the very best of pure andies 10 cents per pound at the 5nd 10 cent store, 56 East 8th St.

Death Came Suddenly.

Mrs. Ernest Childs Bergen died very suddenly last Friday evening at the home of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. N. M. Steffens, 133 West Eleventh street.

Mrs. Bergen retired about 10 o'clock and shortly afterwards she complained of feeling ill. She lifted her head from the pillow and saying to her husband, "I feel so badly," she fell back unconscious. Dr. J. J. Mersen was summoned and when he arrived Mrs. Bergen was dead, heart disease being the supposed cause of her death.

The friends of the young woman are greatly shocked over her death. Friday afternoon she attended a reception at the home of Mayor J. G. Van Putten and appeared to be in her usual good health. She mingled with the family Friday evening and gave no sign of her illness. Her death is a great blow to the family.

Jean Steffens Bergen was born in Zeeland October 27, 1879, and a week ago last Saturday celebrated her 27th birthday anniversary. She was married April 27, 1905, to Ernest Childs Bergen, of Brooklyn, N. Y. Last June they returned to Holland and have since resided with her parents.

Mrs. Bergen was a great favorite in musical and social circles. She was an accomplished musician, a brilliant pianist and possessed of a beautiful contralto voice which has many times charmed local audiences. She was a graduate of the Dubuque, Iowa high school and of the Dubuque School of Music.

Although the family had resided here previously, it is since their location here three years ago, when Dr. Steffens became a member of the faculty of the theological seminary, that Mrs. Bergen formed a wide acquaintance. She was for a time a member of Hope church choir.

Besides the sorrowing parents and husband, the following brothers and sisters survive: Mrs. P. W. Holleman, Chicago; Mrs. D. B. Gleystein, Alton, Iowa; the Misses Mary and Isabella G. Steffens, who are with their parents; John R. Omaha, Charles, Milwaukee; and Rev. C. B. Steffens of Dubuque.

The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 from the home, Rev. G. H. Dubbink conducting the service, and at 2 o'clock from Hope church, Dr. J. W. Beardslee officiating, assisted by Rev. E. J. Biekkink. An opportunity was given friends to view the remains between the hours of 9 and 12 Tuesday morning.

CORRESPONDENCE

Saugatuck.

The Lighthouse Board is getting material on the ground for the construction of a pier head light on the outer end of the south pier at the new harbor. It will be of steel, no action has yet been taken by the board with regard to a new residence for the light house keeper, but as the present residence is so remote from the new light it is probable it will be moved or a new residence built.

Last Thursday evening between 8:30 and 10:30, sneak thieves entered Leidecker's Inn and stole a diamond ring worth $150. Mrs. Leidecker on going to her room at about 10:30 to retire discovered all the doors opened, this being unusual, investigation showed that some person had been in the rooms and ransacked drawers, etc., but all that was found to be missing was the ring. The thief, whoever he was, was evidently acquainted with the house, for it was found that he gained entrance through a small stairway which is seldom used the door of which has been locked for some time.

Roger Reed has sold the old ice house which was located east of Hotel Butler to Geo. Goshorn who will use the material in building a new icehouse near the bridge.

The waves and wind have dealt roughly with the new harbor so that now both piers are completely surrounded with water for the constant beating of the waves against the once large sand banks has worn them away and the sand from them has for the most part been lodged in the channel on the land end of the piers beyond the structure. While the north pier which was damaged before and was considered to be the weakest besides being the most exposed was not damaged any more at this time the land end of the south pier for a distance of about 50 feet from the shore has been raised by the constant dashing of waves under it which is due to the fact that this end was not filled with stone. The channel is also narrow near the mouth although very swift. The work recently done by Van Anrooy on the land end of the north pier is uninjured.

Vinol Settles.

The Cod Liver Oil Question.

No one will dispute the curative and strength creating value of cod liver oil. For centuries it has been recognized as the grandest of all healing and body-building agents for wasted human strength and vitality.

Yet, owing to the heavy, greasy oil which envelopes the medicinal elements, and which has no value either as a food or medicine, many patients weakened by disease cannot digest it either in its raw form or an emulsion, and others will not take it on account of its disagreeable odor and taste—consequently its value is lost.

Now, the process discovered by two eminent French chemists—Morgues and Gautier—should interest every person in Holland, for all of the tonic, body-building and curative elements of cod liver oil are now separated from the greasy, useless oil, and given to the people in delicious Vinol. For this reason it is fast superseding old-fashioned cod liver oil and emulsions.

As a body-builder and strength creator for old people, weak women, delicate children, and after sickness and all pulmonary diseases, it is recommended by over 5,000 of the leading druggists of the United States as the best.

Your money back if it does not do all we claim. Con De Pree & Co. Druggists.

Note.—While we are sole agents for Vinol in Holland, it is now for sale at the leading drug store in nearly every town and city in the country. Look for the Vinol agency in your town.

A Hard Struggle.

Many a Holland Citizen Finds the Struggle Hard.

With a back constantly aching, with distressing urinary disorders, Daily existence is but a struggle. No need to keep it up. Doan's Kidney Pills will cure you. Holland people endorse this claim:

John Pilon, farmer near Ebenezer, says: "I had more or less trouble for years from my kidneys and whenever I worked hard or caught a cold it always affected me and caused a heavy aching pain through the small of my back. It was very painful to stoop or to lift anything and at times the aching was so persistent I could scarcely get about to do my work. I used different medicines and wore plasters but they did me no good. As I had seen Doan's Kidney Pills highly recommended for such troubles, I went to J. O. Doesburg's drug store in Holland and got a box. I used them but a short time when I felt better and continuing the treatment I was soon cured."

A Year of Blood.

The year 1903 will long be remembered in the home of F. N. Tacket, of Alliance, Ky., as a year of blood; which flowed so copiously from Mr. Tacket's lungs that death seemed very near. Guaranteed for Sore Lungs, Coughs and Colds, at the Walsh Drug Co. Price 50 cents.

WHY THE PASTOR RAN.

Wise Action That Greatly Astonished Congregation.

One of the traditional stories of the town of Fairchild, Conn., recounts a wild dash from the pulpit made by a worthy and beloved pastor of the Episcopal flock, Dr. Labarre.

It was on a Sunday more than a hundred years ago. The service had been read. The prayers said, the hymns sung and the parson began his sermon. As he proceeded his gestures become more energetic. He brought his right hand down with great force. Then he turned pale, cleared the pulpit stairs at a bound, dashed out the church door and ran toward the pond a short distance away.

The congregation followed in bewildered pursuit, and saw their venerable pastor with flying robe rush into the water until it came to his neck. Then turning round he faced his astonished audience and said:

"Dearly beloved brethren, I am not crazy, as no doubt many of you think, but yesterday at the drug store I bought a bottle of nitric acid and carelessly left it in my pocket to-day."

"My last gesture broke the bottle. I knew the suffering the acid would cause when it penetrated my clothing, and rushed for the water to save myself pain."

He drew several pieces of glass from his pocket in witness of the tale. Then he dismissed the company and hurried home.—Youth's Companion.

DOG JEALOUS OF A GANDER.

Goes to Extreme Lengths to Show His Animosity.

Martin Hannan, of Joy street, Orange, has a dog which has developed the supposedly human trait of jealousy to such a degree that he will eat grass to spite his enemy, says the New York Press. The dog, a big, 50-pound brindled bull terrier, is ordinarily chained in the back yard. Close beside him a peaceful old gander is penned in with wire fencing. The gander is the last of a flock, and has survived as a pet.

The dog is so inordinately jealous of the gander that if any one goes up and talks to it he will bark angrily. If the visitor adds to the insult by giving the poor old bird something to eat, the terrier will leap the fence like lightning, snatch the food and gobble it down. To such incredible lengths will his jealousy go in this respect that the neighbors have tested it by throwing grass to the gander. The dog will seize the grass and actually swallow it in his anxiety to keep it from the gander. The gander gives one lamentable squawk as he sees the dog leap the fence, and then retires shudderingly to a corner.

Bird Criminals.

A subject which has exercised me this summer has been as to what bird it is with a bill seemingly smaller than a Jay's which plunders other's nests, breaking and sucking the eggs, says a writer in Country Life.

In one small piece of hedge I found one blackbird and two thrushes' nests all treated in the same way, the three showing among them the wreckage of eleven eggs all similarly pierced and emptied. The missel thrush has been suspected of the offense and in this case I should suppose it to be the missel thrush if it were not that of a pair of butcher birds nested in the same hedge.

It is perhaps unjust to suspect the butcher bird on no better evidence than its mere proximity to the scene of the crime and it may be questioned if the thrush would dare to ride the nest of either a blackbird or a thrush. A suggestion which I have not seen made and which I throw out only as a possibility is that the culprit is no burglar but rather more than less than one of the parent birds themselves.

"Drowned Rivers."

In nearly every case these natural bottles are what the geographer calls "drowned rivers." That is to say, the coastal lands in the vicinity have subsided, allowing the sea to flow in and convert what was a lowland valley into a partly inclosed marine area.

Divers have gone to the bottom of New York bay and have found there the ancient bed of the Hudson river, as that stream flowed before the mouthward part of its valley subsided into the sea.

The old bed reaches through the narrows and well out into the floor of the Atlantic. Of course, as the sea water entered the sinking valley, any hills rising thereabout would become islands in the new order of things. And there we find them to this day, in almost any of these inclosed islets.—St. Nicholas.

Perforated Sails.

Although the assertion recently made by an Italian sea captain that the power of sails was increased by their being perforated was ridiculed, it has just been proved that he was right.

His theory was that the force of the wind cannot fairly take effect on an inflated sail because of the cushion of immovable air that fills up the hollows. To prevent the creation and presence of that cushion, he pierced his sails with many holes, through which the wind blew, the balance of the air pressure striking against the canvas and exercising its full effect.

Several experiments have been made on these lines, and the results are declared to have been eminently satisfactory.

The Sunday Editor and the Foolish Limerick
By S. E. KISER.

SHE entered with a swish and a smile. A faint, delicious perfume found its way to the Sunday editor's nostrils as she approached him, and he looked into her beautiful face, with glad anticipation.
"She has a society note she wants published," he thought. "How gracefully she carries that splendid little head of hers."
With a dainty, gloved hand she reached into a bag that she carried, and then hesitated, looking at him as if she were not quite sure that it would be safe to try his patience.
"Excuse me; is this the Sunday editor?" she asked.
Her tones were full of soft music. She was the most lovely creature the Sunday editor had ever seen. The realization of this came to him when she spoke. He forgot that he had an engagement with an artist in 20 minutes, forgot that he had to rewrite an article which he had depended upon as a principal feature; he forgot everything but that she was standing before him smiling coaxingly and that he was never before so glad to be the Sunday editor.
"Yes," he answered, hastily, tossing a pile of papers from a chair, "won't you sit down?"
"Thank you. I suppose it is awfully presumptuous of me to come here in this way," she replied, "drawing a roll of manuscripts from the bag in which the little hand had been hidden, "but I knew there is no use sending things in by mail. You always put such things in the waste basket without reading them, don't you?"

"No," he replied, "unless they are unsigned. But I'm glad you supposed we did."
She permitted her eyelids to droop, and then, ignoring his compliment, continued:
"Do you ever allow people to read things to you—that they bring in?"
"Sometimes, if they—"
"These are all very short," she interrupted, and I wouldn't want to read them to you, only I think you will be more likely to get their meaning if I do. Hm!
"There was once a sweet maiden named—"
"Excuse me," he broke in, with a sad sinking at the heart. "We have decided not to publish any more poetry that begins 'There was once a sweet maiden named—' Perhaps you have something else, that will be in our line."
"Well, see how you like this one: 'There was once a young fellow from—'"
"I hope you will pardon me for interrupting you again, but our rules bar out all poems beginning 'There was once a young fellow from—' I'm very sorry."
"Oh, it's all right," she answered with evident disappointment. "I really don't care very much for either of those, any way. This one many of my friends think is very good:"
"There was an old woman who—"
"I know you will think we have an absurd system here," he interposed, "but the fact is we don't print anything beginning 'There was an old woman who—'"
Her cheeks were very red now, and the hands which held up the manuscripts trembled. But she was as brave as she was beautiful, and, taking a long breath, she asked:
"Do you care to hear any of the others?"
"Yes, I would like to, very much."
"Well, then, this is one that I wrote in a letter to a friend. It is founded on fact: 'There was a fond wife who—'"
"But that has the same fault I have had to find with the others. Here, just a moment, please. I'll make a little list." As he wrote he spoke aloud the words that were jotted down.
"We don't print any poems that begin:
"There was a young man—"
"There was an old woman—"
"There was a sweet maiden—"
"There was a glad girl—"
"There was a gay dandy—"
"There was a proud father—"
"The fact is," he ended, "that we have shut out limericks altogether. But can't you write something else? I'm sure it would be good."
"No," she sadly answered, "I don't seem to be able to have any ideas when I try to write other kinds of poetry."
"Then why write poetry?"
"Well—you see, I don't really have to write. Only I hoped you might find at least one of these good enough to publish, because—because—"
"Because what?"
"Oh, it was awfully foolish, I know, and you will say that I have no right to think of such a thing, but there was a challenge in it."

UTES AND TROOPS REACH AGREEMENT
DISSATISFIED INDIANS WILL GO TO FORT MEADE WHILE CHIEFS SEE PRESIDENT.
Reds Hold Council and Discuss the Situation Before Going to Conference—Ask Powder River Country for Hunting Grounds in Spring.
Sheridan, Wyo., Nov. 3.—A conference of the Indians and the troops has resulted in an agreement on the part of the Utes to return with Col. Rogers to Fort Meade, S. D., to be cared for there by the government while Chiefs Red Cap and Black Whiskers go to Washington to talk the matter over with President Roosevelt.
The Utes will go overland with troops of the Sixth cavalry. The Indians have not been disarmed and will not be as long as they make no threatening move.
The conference was held between the soldiers and the Ute camp, 15 miles northeast of Moorhead. The chiefs in attendance, who were sent by the band with power to act, are Red Cap, Unkahkin and Ponnapp. Chief Black Whiskers stayed with the Ute band.
Offer Made to Indians.
Before leaving for the council the Indians had a dance in the open and solemnly discussed the situation. At the conference the chiefs were offered transportation for the tribe and its ponies back to Utah and rations during the winter. A promise to consider the matter of giving them a new hunting ground next spring also was made. The chiefs hesitated over the matter of hunting grounds, and demanded a definite promise that they would be allowed to return to Powder river in the spring.
During the council the three chiefs frequently would leave the circle and talk among themselves.
Colored Troops in Fear of Lives.
It is stated on the authority of white residents living at Sheridan, now with Maj. Grierson on Buffalo creek, that for two nights and one day the second squadron of the Tenth cavalry, under Capt. Johnson, was secreted in the hills eight miles north of Moorhead, the colored troops being in fear of their lives. No fire or lights were permitted during this time, and the horses and mules were taken to water under cover of darkness. They remained there until the arrival of Col. Rogers with the Sixth, when their forces were considered strong enough to meet the Indians near by in case of attack. The hurried trip of the Sixth from Fort Meade established a record in the movement of such bodies, 135 miles being covered in 22 hours.

HERING ADMITS HIS GUILT
CHICAGO CASHIER GIVEN INDETERMINATE SENTENCE.
Will Serve From One to Fourteen Years for Part in Looting Stensland Bank.
Chicago, Nov. 6.—Henry W. Hering, former cashier of the Milwaukee Avenue State bank, pleaded guilty to forgery and embezzlement in Judge Pinckney's court Monday afternoon and was sentenced to the penitentiary.
His term for forgery will be from one to 14 years under the indeterminate sentence act, and for embezzlement from one to ten years. The court announced the sentence would run concurrently.
Hering will not be sent to Joliet at once, State's Attorney Healy announced. He will be held to become a witness before the next grand jury.
This is believed to mean more indictments in connection with the looting of the bank.
He will also be a witness against Walter Frantzen, who, as teller of the savings department, stole $68,000, and against the directors who are under indictment.
His sentence to prison came at the end of dramatic stories of the wrecking of the bank told by both Paul O. Stensland, former president, and by Hering.
At the same time, it was said about the criminal court building that Mrs. Hering had decided to obtain a divorce, declaring that she would not stand by her husband unless he established his innocence.

PLANT TO RIVAL WEATHER MAN
Bureau of "Twigs and Leaves" to Be Established on Coast.
Pacific Grove, Cal., Nov. 6.—Information has been received here of the intended establishment of a rival weather bureau in San Francisco. In Cuba and Mexico there has been found a "weather plant" said to have extraordinary powers in forecasting not only atmospheric, but seismic disturbances. Its botanical name is abrus preatorius nobilis.
Prof. Josef Norvack, an Austrian, recently arrived in England with 20 cases of these remarkable plants. They have been found peculiarly sensitive to magnetic and electric influences. When charges in these occur its twigs and leaves perform peculiar and abnormal movements, each of these having its definite significance. By its aid weather forecasts can be made from two to seven days ahead of rain or fog, and earthquake forecasts as much as 26 days in advance over an area of 300 square miles. It also predicts volcanic eruptions and accumulations of fire damp in mines.
Norvack will establish bureaus in San Francisco, Bombay and Tokyo.

BANK AT LA SALLE, ILL., ROBBED
Two Bandits Secure $7,000 From Cashier and Escape.
La Salle, Ill., Nov. 6.—The Farmers and Miners' bank, of Ladd, a mining town, was held up and robbed Monday afternoon.
The assistant cashier, J. J. Hurley, was alone in the bank when two men entered and asked for some pennies. The next moment, covering Mr. Hurley with revolvers, they ordered him to throw up his hands.
The robbers then marched Hurley to a back room, where they bound him hand and foot.
The robbers then helped themselves to cash and escaped. They left $130 in gold besides a quantity of silver on the bank counter and disturbed little in the vault.
The amount of their booty will be about $7,000 as near as the bank officers were able to estimate the loss.

NOTED THEOSOPHIST INJURED
Col. Olcott Sustains Serious Hurts in Italian Railway Wreck.
Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 5.—Col. Henry Steele Olcott, of Adyar, India, the president-founder of the theosophical society and coworker in his lifetime of the late Helen F. Blavatsky, has been seriously injured in a railway wreck in Italy, according to private advices received Sunday by a member of the society in this city.
Beyond stating that he had been placed in a hospital and is "in a bad way," no details are given.
Because of his advanced age fears for his recovery are entertained.
Col. Olcott at the time was on his way home to India from Chicago where he had presided at the annual convention of the American section of the Theosophical society, held in that city in September.

Falls to His Death.
Racine, Wis., Nov. 6.—Hugh R. Edwards, a prominent contractor of this city and well known throughout the state, fell from a roof of the Racine high school building Monday morning, dying before he could be placed on the operating table. Mr. Edwards was a born in 1849 and has been a contractor since the age of 15.

Candidate for Office Drops Dead.
Marquette, Wis., Nov. 6.—D. Trotter, Democratic candidate for county treasurer, dropped dead Monday at his home in this city. He was about 65 years of age and leaves a large family. R. C. Havling, the Republican candidate for the same office, is in a very critical condition and is not expected to live.

Widow of Dr. Green Dies.
Louisville, Ky., Nov. 6.—Mrs. Martha Green, widow of Dr. Norman Green, formerly president of the Western Union Telegraph company, died at the family residence here Tuesday.

PROSECUTOR WILL SEEK NEW BILLS
INDICTMENT OF WELL-KNOWN CHICAGOANS MAY BE ASKED IN STENSLAND CASE.

HERING IS GIVEN PRISON SENTENCE
Former Cashier Pleads Guilty to Charges of Forgery and Embezzlement—Former Chief Teller of Flight from City.
Chicago, Nov. 6.—Indictments against several well-known persons in connection with the looting of the Milwaukee Avenue State bank probably will be sought by States Attorney Healy when the next grand jury convenes. In addition to minor officials of the wrecked institution who have been shown in an unsatisfactory light, depositors of the bank who are said to have denied genuine notes after Paul O. Stensland fled from the country are being mentioned about the criminal court buildings, and indictments against these persons may be asked.

Sensational Disclosures Hinted.
That former depositors of the defunct bank had guilty knowledge of the illegal transactions of Stensland and Hering is suspected by Assistant States Attorney Harry Olson, and sensational disclosures are hinted at within a few days.
State's Attorney Healy says he will hold Stensland and Hering in the county jail for a few days, and it is believed that he intends to have them go before the next grand jury, with additional evidence against persons who have not yet been mentioned in connection with the bank failure.
Stensland is in a serious condition, and his collapse is feared. Hering is enjoying the best of health, and is showing no signs of nervousness. He has agreed to aid the state in any future actions.
Olson Talks of Case.
Assistant State's Attorney Olson said Tuesday: "I believe that $200,000 of the stolen money was paid into the bank as interest on the forged notes, and that much of the balance went for wine and race horses. I believe that Stensland would have extricated himself from this difficulty had he not fallen into the clutches of Hering. He was a business man, and had a faculty of making good speculations. Stensland, however, as president of the bank, was the first to fall and the stealing of Hering and Frantzen was made possible by their knowledge that their chief was juggling the assets of the bank."
Hering Sentenced to Joliet.
Another chapter in the history of the wrecked bank closed Monday, when sentence of 1 to 14 years in the penitentiary at Joliet was passed on Hering, who pleaded guilty and confessed to forgery and embezzlement in Judge Pinckney's court. Hering also was sentenced to one to ten years on the embezzlement charge, but the terms are concurrent. Four years were added to Stensland's term by his pleading guilty to forgery, making the longest of his three sentences, which also are concurrent, 1 to 14 years.
No new facts were adduced. Stensland told how his downfall was due to "unfortunate investments. He said that when he finally found he was carrying too heavy a financial burden, it was Hering who suggested that he tide over his difficulty by the use of forged notes. He said that he secured only $400,000 from all the spurious documents.
The principal feature of the hearing and one that absorbed every one's attention to such an extent that Stensland's voice was the only sound, however slight, in that crowded room, was when the former bank president asked permission to speak in his own excuse and told the story of his flight from Chicago.
He said that he hung on as long as he could, "hoping against hope," that he would be able to straighten out his affairs. When he left he said that in his mind it was only a question of suicide or flight. He told of sleepless nights and a long faint after he had boarded the train. He told of how he had left all his property and available assets to protect as far as possible the depositors he left behind. Then he spoke of his return.
His "Greatest Punishment."
"It does not make any difference how long or how short a time I shall serve in the penitentiary," he said. "The horrors, the confinement, the humiliation and shame are awful. But this is not my greatest punishment, your honor. My greatest punishment is the knowledge of the thousands and thousands who trusted me implicitly and are losing a percentage of their deposits. No matter how long I stay in the penitentiary, I shall not feel that my sins in connection with this have been atoned till these depositors get 100 cents on the dollar."
"If I get out, and if there is any life in me, my aim, my sole ambition, will be to do something for those that have lost, and lost on account of their confidence in me. Of course this promise may not amount to much. It is meant well enough."

CHICAGO CASHIER GIVEN INDETERMINATE SENTENCE.
Will Serve From One to Fourteen Years for Part in Looting Stensland Bank.
Chicago, Nov. 6.—Henry W. Hering, former cashier of the Milwaukee Avenue State bank, pleaded guilty to forgery and embezzlement in Judge Pinckney's court Monday afternoon and was sentenced to the penitentiary.
His term for forgery will be from one to 14 years under the indeterminate sentence act, and for embezzlement from one to ten years. The court announced the sentence would run concurrently.
Hering will not be sent to Joliet at once, State's Attorney Healy announced. He will be held to become a witness before the next grand jury.
This is believed to mean more indictments in connection with the looting of the bank.
He will also be a witness against Walter Frantzen, who, as teller of the savings department, stole $68,000, and against the directors who are under indictment.
His sentence to prison came at the end of dramatic stories of the wrecking of the bank told by both Paul O. Stensland, former president, and by Hering.
At the same time, it was said about the criminal court building that Mrs. Hering had decided to obtain a divorce, declaring that she would not stand by her husband unless he established his innocence.

PLANT TO RIVAL WEATHER MAN
Bureau of "Twigs and Leaves" to Be Established on Coast.
Pacific Grove, Cal., Nov. 6.—Information has been received here of the intended establishment of a rival weather bureau in San Francisco. In Cuba and Mexico there has been found a "weather plant" said to have extraordinary powers in forecasting not only atmospheric, but seismic disturbances. Its botanical name is abrus preatorius nobilis.
Prof. Josef Norvack, an Austrian, recently arrived in England with 20 cases of these remarkable plants. They have been found peculiarly sensitive to magnetic and electric influences. When charges in these occur its twigs and leaves perform peculiar and abnormal movements, each of these having its definite significance. By its aid weather forecasts can be made from two to seven days ahead of rain or fog, and earthquake forecasts as much as 26 days in advance over an area of 300 square miles. It also predicts volcanic eruptions and accumulations of fire damp in mines.
Norvack will establish bureaus in San Francisco, Bombay and Tokyo.

BANK AT LA SALLE, ILL., ROBBED
Two Bandits Secure $7,000 From Cashier and Escape.
La Salle, Ill., Nov. 6.—The Farmers and Miners' bank, of Ladd, a mining town, was held up and robbed Monday afternoon.
The assistant cashier, J. J. Hurley, was alone in the bank when two men entered and asked for some pennies. The next moment, covering Mr. Hurley with revolvers, they ordered him to throw up his hands.
The robbers then marched Hurley to a back room, where they bound him hand and foot.
The robbers then helped themselves to cash and escaped. They left $130 in gold besides a quantity of silver on the bank counter and disturbed little in the vault.
The amount of their booty will be about $7,000 as near as the bank officers were able to estimate the loss.

NOTED THEOSOPHIST INJURED
Col. Olcott Sustains Serious Hurts in Italian Railway Wreck.
Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 5.—Col. Henry Steele Olcott, of Adyar, India, the president-founder of the theosophical society and coworker in his lifetime of the late Helen F. Blavatsky, has been seriously injured in a railway wreck in Italy, according to private advices received Sunday by a member of the society in this city.
Beyond stating that he had been placed in a hospital and is "in a bad way," no details are given.
Because of his advanced age fears for his recovery are entertained.
Col. Olcott at the time was on his way home to India from Chicago where he had presided at the annual convention of the American section of the Theosophical society, held in that city in September.

Holland's Great Political Contest.

In Ottawa county the Republicans won a sweeping victory. The main fight was for the office of representative for the first district and Rep. N. J. Whelan was the nominee on the Republican ticket and City Clerk Wm. O. Van Eyck on the Democratic ticket.

False political friends of Rep. Whelan led Mr. Van Eyck's friends to believe that Grand Haven would go against Whelan on account of a difference of opinion regarding a bill that pertained to the gas company in Grand Haven. As Van Eyck had always swept the boards in Holland and in Holland township it was figured that the expected Grand Haven defection would give Van Eyck a chance to win, especially when it was considered that Spring Lake with its 225 Republican majority had been taken from the first legislative district.

Both men were nominated and then the fight was on. But of the battle there will be probably more told anon. Suffice to say at this time that it was one of the fiercest ever waged in this part of the state.

Senator Luke Lugers.

and that it resulted in the decisive defeat of Van Eyck by a plurality of 528. Whelan carried Holland city by 184, Holland township by 87, Olive township by 70, Grand Haven township by 40, and Grand Haven City by 147. Four years ago when Whelan had the same kind of contest with Van Eyck he defeated him by 506, but nearly 200 of this plurality was received in Spring Lake.

Governor Fred M. Warner.

Ottawa county rolled up good stiff majorities for the G. O. P. and considering that it is an off year the republicans are elated at the showing.

The full returns will undoubtedly give Warner 2000 in the county, the balance of the state ticket 150 more, Lugers 1500, Whelan 525, Lahuis 600, Woodbury 1400, McEachron and balance county ticket 2200 and more. The figures are compiled from Chairman E. P. Kirby's figures and are conservative and fair.

The county ticket successful is: Sheriff, Jesse G. Woodbury, Allendale; Clerk, Fred F. McEachron, Grand Haven; Register, Andrew J. Ward, Holland; Treasurer, Walter H. Clark, Robinson; Prosecuting Attorney, Corie C. Coburn, Grand Haven; Court Commissioners, Arthur Van Duren, Holland, Charles E. Soule, Grand Haven; Coroners, Dr. Mabbs, Holland, Dr. W. S. Walkley, Grand Haven; Surveyor, Emmett H. Peck, Polkton.

Congressman Wm. Alden Smith.

Grand Haven City gave all Republican candidates but two, tremendous pluralities. Warner carried the town by 248. Prescott, Republican candidate for Secretary of State, whose vote comes close to representing the normal party majority, had 316 plurality. Congressman Smith was given a fitting testimonial in the shape of 731 Grand Haven ballots.

Representative Whelan was cut to some extent simply because of misrepresentation regarding his attitude on certain bills, but he was strong in other quarters and the fishermen and life savers whooped it up for him. He carried the city by 147.

William Heap, carried the town which will soon be his home despite the fact that he was on the Democratic ticket. He defeated Lugers there for state senator by the handsome majority of 155.

Second to Mr. Heap on the Democratic ticket was City Clerk Lewis A. Gorham, running for Register, who was defeated by Mr. Ward in Grand Haven by only 20. Sheriff Woodbury carried the town by 365.

Fred McEachron's majority in Grand Haven was the highest of all, 386, and Fred will undoubtedly top the ticket throughout the county. Walter Clark, for treasurer carried Grand Haven by 223 and Corie C. Coburn, for prosecuting attorney had 277.

The vote in Grand Haven was about two thirds of the total. In the first ward 162 were cast for governor; in the 2nd 165; in the 3rd 398 and in the 4th 166, a total of 891 in the city.

The first ward vote gave Warner a plurality of 38, Prescott for secretary of state 50, Heap 61, Whelan 26,

Woodbury 74, McEachron 68, Clark 20, Ward and Gorham even up, Coburn 49.

In the second ward Warner led Kimmerle by 1, Prescott had 6, Heap 60, Van Eyck 6, Woodbury 42, McEachron 57, Van Tol over Clark for treasurer 24, Gorham 28, Coburn 4.

The big third ward gave Warner a plurality of 140 over Kimmerle, Prescott for secretary of state had 182, Heap 22, Whelan 73, Woodbury 164, McEachron 188, Clark 106, Ward 14, Coburn 155.

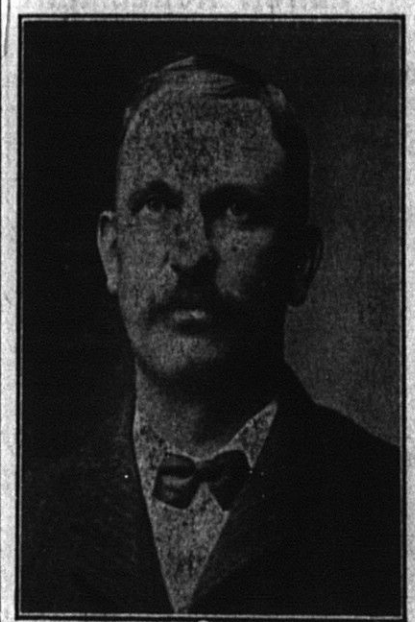

The fourth ward showed up as strongly Republican as ever with pluralities of 69 for Warner, 78 for Prescott, 54 for Whelan, 85 for Woodbury, 83 for McEachron, 73 for Clark, 34 for Ward and 69 for Coburn. Heap was the only exception and he carried the fourth on the Democratic side by a lead of 12.

Following are the pluralities in the different townships heard from: Allendale—Warner, 119; Smith vote, 131; Lugers, 119; Lahuis, 112; Woodbury, 129; McEachron, 119; in complete.

Abel Kuizenga Dies from Injuries Received from being Run Over by Switch Engine.

Abel Kuizenga, aged 22 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Kuizenga, living on Eighth street, near the town house of Holland township, was struck by a switch engine last evening a little after 6 o'clock while he was attempting to cross the railroad tracks at what is known as the Allegan siding, near the Little Wonder Mills, and he received injuries which resulted in his death about 9 o'clock last night.

Mr. Kuizenga had been at the home of a fellow student of Hope College studying, and was returning to the home of his parents. At this time it is very difficult to tell just how the accident happened, but it is thought that he tried to cross back of the switch engine and miscalculating the distance, was struck down.

Cornelius C. Bontekoe saw the engine pass over him and pulled him off the tracks. Dr. H. Kremers took him to the home of his parents in his automobile and it was found that his legs were so badly injured that amputation was necessary. His head also was bruised and one arm was broken. One of his legs was amputated above the knee and the other below, and for a short time he seemed to stand the shock well, but death came about 9 o'clock. The operation was performed by Drs. H. and E. D. Kremers.

Deceased was a member of D class of Hope College, and previous to entering college he was employed at the Holland Furniture factory. Besides his parents he is survived by four brothers and one sister. Deceased is also a cousin of Prof. J. E. Kuizenga of this city.

This morning a coroner's jury was impaneled by Coroner Dykstra consisting of John Kramer, sr., John Klies, R. Averts, Luke Sprietsma, H. Van Tongeren and Arthur Van Duren. They viewed the remains and the scene of the accident this morning and then adjourned until tomorrow morning.

After the Battle.

"Laugh and the World Laughs With You; Weep, and You Weep Alone."

The foregoing expression came to me after the smoke of battle cleared away and I found the political condition of affairs in their true colors, and being fond of company, I chose the first part and "laughed."

After the result of the different wards of our city were coming in I really felt happy, and "laughed" a hearty laugh; but when the result of our rural districts and our county seat were coming in this "laugh" formed into a "broad" smile, and the thought came to me "The Philistines be upon thee Samson" and the cords around me were being drawn tight and they held me and the broad changed to a lean and lanky one, but I smiled.

But now that the battle is over it simply is to "The Victor belongs the Spoils" and I would say let us hurry for the winners and also: "We have endeavored" but FAILED.

My hearty congratulations I extend to all the victors and may they be successful and their services be a credit to all concerned as my sincere wish.

I also herewith desire to publicly thank my friends for their loyal support tendered me during the battle and would say:

"Let us laugh, and laugh hearty."
Very Respectfully,
FRED KAMFERBEEK,
Defeated Dem. cand. for Sheriff.

N. J. Whelan Thanks His Friends for Their Support.

Friends and neighbors of Ottawa county's first legislative district: I cannot reach all of you to shake hands with you much as I desire to do so, for if I had the time and opportunity my desire is that I should see each and every one of my staunch friends and express to them my sincere appreciation of the way they stood by me and worked for me and voted for me in the face of the bitter fight waged against me by the leaders of the opposition, not by the members of the opposition.

Without such friends I could do nothing and it is gratifying indeed to discover that they cannot be misled by political roboracks. With sincere thanks I remain, Respectfully,
N. J. Whelan.

James F. Bush, who recently celebrated his 89th birthday at the home of his son, Clinton Bush, despite his advanced age delights in taking his daily walks, covering a distance of several miles without fatigue.

His memory is clear and he recalls interesting anecdotes of the early days of Jackson and Van Buren. Mr. Bush has always been an advocate of Democratic doctrines and cast his first presidential vote for James K. Polk. At the age of 17 he met with a serious accident while serenading a wedding at Fort Plains, N. Y., by the premature explosion of a cannon, and he sustained a broken hip which has crippled him up to the present day.

At an early age he became a tailor and he can cut a suit today as quickly as any one.

He tilled a farm for 38 years in Olive township. Nine years ago he came to this city upon the death of his wife. He has been father of nine children, seven of whom are living.

He was drafted as a soldier in the late civil war but was rejected on account of his disabled thigh.

Tooth Troubles.

Cause—Prevention—Cure

A Tooth Talk Worth Remembering.

The food left on and between the teeth, decomposing, form an acid. The acid cuts the enamel and roughens it. Once roughened, the food can hardly be cleaned from the tooth and decay sets in rapidly.

Sweets, sour, hot and cold now hurt the tooth until the nerve dies. Even now, with the nerve dead, the trouble is not over. Take a slight cold your tooth aches, jaw gets sore, face swells, puss forms and finally works to the surface and a "gum boil" results.

To prevent all this suffering consult us frequently—at least twice a year—consultation and advice is free.

Let us talk the matter over; a little filling may save you much pain and annoyance. Perhaps some teeth may require treatment. Whatever you need we will help you, giving you the best possible service—the least possible pain.

The most sensitive teeth are easily treated by our method. An exposed nerve (that which all people dread most) is dried up or killed, without pain, in twenty-four hours.

It seems too good to be true, but we are doing just what we claim. Our patients place great reliance in us and we warrant their confidence. We always give good honest work. In every department of our profession we keep up-to-date, studying every appliance that is made to help us do good work, studying all the latest methods for lessening pain and saving teeth. Such faith have we in our work that we make this standing offer:

ARCTIC EXPLORER NEAR NORTH POLE

ROBERT E. PEARY AND HIS PARTY REACH BEYOND 87
DEGREES.

Compelled to Subsist on Dog Meat and Musk Oxen When Caches Are Swept Away by Ice Thrown Up by Gale.

New York, Nov. 3.—The United States now holds the record of "furthest north," 87 degrees six minutes.

This feat was accomplished by Commander Robert E. Peary, of the United States navy.

The intrepid arctic explorer failed to reach the north pole, as he had confidently hoped to do with his specially constructed vessel, the Roosevelt, but he penetrated nearer to the pole than the duke of the Abruzzi's expedition, which had held the arctic record, 86 degrees 34 minutes. What Commander Peary did and his experiences during the past year in the frozen north are rather briefly, but certainly vividly, summarized in a communication received Friday night from Peary by Herbert L. Bridgeman, secretary of the Peary Arctic club. This communication follows:

Peary's Dispatch.
Hopedale, Labrador, via Twillingate, N. E., Nov. 2.—Roosevelt wintered north coast Grant Land somewhat north of Alert winter quarters. Went north with sledges February via Hecla and Columbia. Delayed by open water between 84 and 85 degrees. Beyond 85 six days. Gale disrupted ice destroyed caches, cut off communication with supporting bodies and drifted due east. Reach 87 degrees six minutes, north latitude over ice, drifting steadily eastward. Returning at eight dogs. Drifted eastward delayed by open water, reached north coast Greenland in straightened conditions. Killed musk oxen and returned along Greenland coast to ship. Two supporting parties driven on north coast Greenland. One rescued by me in starving condition. After one week recuperation on Roosevelt sledged west, completing north coast Grant Land and reached other land, near one hundredth meridian. Homeward voyage incessant battle with ice, storms and headwinds. Roosevelt magnificent ice fighter and sea boat. No deaths or illness on expedition.

Receipt of News Surprises.
After furnishing press the contents of Commander Peary's report, Mr. Bridgeman said that the receipt of any news from the explorer now was quite a surprise to him, because he had supposed it had become too late in the season for Commander Peary to send news of his venture. Mr. Bridgeman added that the message spoke for itself and that since he did not know more of the results of Commander Peary's effort to reach the pole than the public did, he could hardly comment upon the dispatch. There was little doubt, however, he said, that Commander Peary was coming home. This seems to be borne out by the routing of the dispatch. Hopedale or Hoffenthal is a Moravian mission station on the east coast of Labrador. Twillingate is a port on the east coast of Newfoundland. Mr. Bridgeman said the message was probably mailed by Commander Peary from Hopedale to the most accessible cable point.

MONOPOLY IN NATIONAL PARK Boat Company Charges High Fare for Trip on Yellowstone Lake.

Washington, Nov. 5.—According to the annual report of Maj. John Pitcher, acting superintendent of the Yellowstone National park, the monopoly enjoyed by the Yellowstone Lake Boat company for the transportation of tourists from Upper Geyser basin to the Thumb is becoming a serious problem.

Maj. Pitcher has recommended that competition be established in some way or that the stage lines be permitted to operate their own boats in order to give their patrons the choice of boat or land transportation to the Thumb.

The Yellowstone Lake Boat company charges three dollars a head for the trip, which is 18 miles distance. Its franchise expires July 21 next.

Maj. Pitcher emphasizes his recommendation of last year that the garrison at Fort Yellowstone be increased to a four-troop squadron post.

DIDN'T STOP TO FIGURE.

Possibilities of Apparently Simple Bet
Staggered Frenchman.

A curious bet that partakes of the nature of a practical joke went to the courts in the town of Dole, France, in 1834. A citizen of the district offered to pay one of his countrymen 24 francs in advance if he would agree to furnish him with a number of grains of millet in proportion to the number of children born in the town within a year. One grain of millet was to be given for the first, two for the second, four for the third, eight for the fourth, and so on, doubling the number for each child.

Accepting the apparently generous offer, the unlucky Frenchman attempted to carry out the provisions; but 66 children were born within the specified time. He was astonished at the enormous quantities of grain required to fulfill the contract, and appealed to the courts for annulment of the wager, on the ground that it was founded on an impossible condition.

The judges granted his appeal; but ordered him to return the 25 francs he had received and pay 24 in addition.—The Sunday Magazine.

Women Can't Cut Diamonds.

"A lot of women seem to be possessed these days of an ambition to learn the trade of diamond cutting," said a well-known jeweler. "Every little while applicants for situations as apprentices call. But we can't afford to give them a trial. They can never master the art. In other branches of the jewelry trade women have made some unqualified successes. There is not one of Eve's daughters, from royalty down, I should say, that isn't an artist in the wearing of diamonds. Many are well versed in the art of buying and selling them, while others give excellent satisfaction in polishing and repairing them for the market. But when it comes to the real cutting of the stones they lack the patience, judgment and steadiness of nerve which constitute the expert's stock in trade."

Damascus Being Modernized.

Damascus, said to be the oldest of living cities, is losing its character. A Belgian company is cutting through it with an electric street railway and is sprinkling electric lights in its ancient streets. The motive power for these installments is derived from the harnessing of the river falls 22 miles off. Three and a half miles of the street railway are already being laid. Traffic on the Hajaz railway, which some day may reach Mecca, finds a convenient entrepot in the old time emporium of the slow-moving caravan.

Origin of Word "Canteen."

A strange etymological history is that possessed by the word "canteen"—which has caused so much talk in temperance and army circles—if its origin is correctly assigned to the old Latin "quintana," which literally means "of the fifth rank," or "fifth in order." The "quintana (via)" was a street in the Roman camp so called because it came between the fifth maniples, or company, and the sixth. Here all the business and marketing of the camp was done and "quintana" eventually came to mean a market.

ALFALFA FOR WILD ANIMALS

Raised in Yellowstone Park to Serve as Winter Feed for Deer and Sheep.

Raising alfalfa to furnish winter feed for wild animals is proving a great success in the Yellowstone national park, according to Superintendent Pitcher in a report just issued. One hundred tons of fine hay were raised in the government field near the Gardner arch and stacked near the soldiers' quarters.

Superintendent Pitcher says that three years ago a deer was seldom seen in the vicinity of Mammoth hot springs and as an experiment a few bales of alfalfa hay were scattered around near the parade ground. The next day a dozen blacktail deer made their appearance, the number steadily increased and now comprises over 100. The animals quickly lost all fear of human beings, and are not even startled by the firing of the evening gun within 100 yards of them, but show much more interest in the lowering of the flag from the staff in the center of their feeding ground.

Mountain sheep, considered the wildest of western animals, also became more friendly, and now number about 100 within the confines of the park. These animals are rapidly disappearing in the west, and this fact makes it the more important to preserve those in the park. Antelope, also, are becoming rare. About 1,500 of these little animals make their home in the park and seem to be increasing rapidly.

Dark Continent Magic.

Here is a tale of twentieth century magic on the dark continent. Says a South African correspondent: "A remarkable story has reached Durban from Manderson concerning the finding of a purse by alleged magic means. A European lost a purse containing coin, and a native was accused of its theft. The owner applied to a certain old woman to whom are ascribed supernatural powers, and received a reply to look under such and such a tree, and he would find the purse. Search was made under the tree indicated, and there was the purse."

Keep Your Nerve

It is nerve energy that runs the organs of your body. The storage battery is the nerve cells in the brain and spinal cord, and from this battery nerve force is sent out through the system of nerves. To keep the body healthy you must have plenty of nerve force; if you have not, the organs work imperfectly, the circulation is sluggish, digestion bad, appetite poor, kidneys inactive, and aches, pains and misery are the penalty.

You can keep the system strong with Dr. Miles' Nerve. It assists in generating nerve energy; it strengthens the nerves and makes the whole system strong and vigorous.

"I take pleasure in recommending Dr. Miles' Nerve to those suffering from nervous prostration, insomnia and melancholy. After several months suffering from above diseases I tried this medicine and found immediate relief. It soothes and strengthens the nerves, chases away the gloomy and depressing thoughts and gives the sufferer renewed strength and hope. It is a superb nerve restorer."

A MUSICAL ATTACHMENT

By GERTIE De S. WEBSTER
(Told in Two Soliloquies, a Conversation and Two Letters.)
(Copyright, 1905, by Joseph B. Bowles.)

She (to her needle)—There's nothing more annoying than being a woman, unless it is the fact that leap year comes so seldom, and you've been too well brought up to make use of it when it does turn up.

It seems so absurd for me to be living in one flat with a chaperon, while Mark inhabits another below with an elderly housekeeper. What a saving of expense it would be to dismiss the chaperon and the housekeeper, and to have one flat between us!—not to mention the advantages of companionship he would gain by such an arrangement.

I can't understand why he doesn't propose to me. I am sure he loves me—I can see it in his eyes, and you can never mistake a man's eyes—that is if they are dark ones like Mark's, with two rings round the pupil.

He's got plenty of money, for, besides his profession, which must bring him in an awful lot (he is singing somewhere every night), I know he has a private income. We are so well suited to each other in every way except one, of course, but of my deficiency in that respect he knows nothing, for that (pointing to something near the piano) keeps up my little deception for me.

However, that piece of pretense, of which I am heartily ashamed now, seems no good. . . . It serves me right for spending $250 just for the purpose of making a man in a flat below think that I was a desirable wife for a professional singer. Bah! I'll sell it. It must strike him as very strange that, calling so often as he does, he is never shown into my boudoir—I always tell him it's too untidy to be seen.

Oh, dear, if, as Cornelle says: "Deceit is a game played only by small minds," how very infinitesimal my brain must be! Well, it's no good stopping at home doing needlework that is absolutely useless, just with the hope that a laggard wooer may call. I'm going out, and I'll put an advertisement in the Exchange columns of Woman's Wisdom, and see if any misguided person will take that (pointing near piano) and give me a Persian kitten and a sealskin cape for it. (Exit.)

He (to his pipe)—Blow it! I don't allude to my sentiments regarding circumstances and fate. How much sweeter you would taste, my friend, if you had been filled by her dainty fingers and if she were sitting opposite to me there ready to re-light if you went out—a contretemps which I fancy might often occur if she and I were together alone.

Pah! What's the good of day-dreaming? It can never be. How could I marry a woman who would be always using the piano when I wanted to practice? I could not ask her to give it up, because playing like hers could have only been acquired by years of indefatigable study. It's true I've only heard it through a ceiling and a floor, but those seem merely to act as resonators and to accentuate the marvelous distinctness and liquid purity of each run and trill.

Paula's practicing is of a very unusual order, and her repertoire peculiarly circumscribed. She never attacks scales or any technical exercises, but only plays seven pieces, which strikes me as being a strange and heterogeneous selection. "Rhapsodie," of Liszt; the "Jolly Monk Polka," Beethoven's "Funeral March," "La Carline," a "Ballade" of Chopin's, "Maisie is a Daisy," and a Bach "Fugue." I can't understand it, but all I know is that this accomplishment of hers must stand between us and our happiness.

I may be a conceited fool to say "our," but I can't help thinking somehow that she cares—there is a certain curve at the corner of her mouth when she smiles, and you can never mistake the meaning of a woman's smile when she has dimples.

Perhaps she would give it up? Ah! no, I couldn't be such a brute as to ask her, and even if she did, I should know that after we were married her little heart and fingers were yearning after the "Polka" or the "Fugue," and that she was thinking of all she had renounced for the sake of being tied to a long-haired professional singer.

And then, again, she might want to accompany me, which would inevitably lead to quarrels (I have never yet been friendly with an accompanist for more than a month), so I must renounce my dream of woman's love, and art must forever be my mistress. I'll just go and call at No. 2 for the last time, though as the infernal piano is quiet it is probable she may be out. However, I'll try my luck, and after that, my friend, you and I must grow old and seasoned alone together (puts down pipe and exits).

He (to the maid who opened the door at No. 2)—Is Miss Penlyn at home?
Maid—No, sir; she is out.
He—Oh—er—I'm sorry. . . . At what time do you expect her to return?
Maid—She didn't say, sir.
He—Thanks. You might mention I called, and—(sounds of a Bach "Fugue" steal on the air)—why, Mary, I fear you have made an error in saying that Miss Penlyn is out.
Maid—No, I've not, sir.
He—But I can hear her playing.
Maid—Beg pardon, sir, but you can't.

SOLDIERS IN CUBA TO TRAMP COUNTRY

PRACTICE MARCHES PLANNED FOR AMERICAN TROOPS IN THE ISLAND.

Officers and Men Are Warned of the Necessity of Manifesting Courtesy Toward Cubans Irrespective of Their Political Affiliations.

Havana, Nov. 5.—It is the intention of the provisional government to have the American troops here make extensive practice marches throughout the country. This should not be interpreted as a threatening demonstration; the step is taken for its moral effect on the restoration of confidence. In a general order Gen. J. Franklin Bell enjoins all officers and enlisted men of the American army of occupation to manifest all possible courtesy towards Cubans of all parties, and to take no active part in the suppression of disorder, except in extreme emergencies rendering interference for the protection of life, and property necessary. The duties of the American forces are, generally speaking, limited to the tending of good offices for the prevention of friction between conflicting elements.

To Move Leper Hospital.

Upon the recommendation of Carlos Garcia y Velez, inspector of public institutions, San Lazaro hospital, in which there are several hundred lepers, probably will be shortly removed to an island off the northern coast of Mantanzas province. The removal of this hospital has long been desired, but the project has been opposed by the wealthy private corporation by which it is controlled.

American is Imprisoned.

Americans on the Isle of Pines are excited over the arrest and imprisonment of a countryman named Holmesburg, on the charge of cutting down a tree, on the boundary line of his own property. A committee has come from the island to request Gov. Magoon to depose the present mayor and appoint as acting mayor Second Lieut. Robert Tittoni of the marine corps.

There have been rumors for some days past of a projected uprising of moderates in Santiago province, but no importance is attached to them.

Lieutenant Has Yellow Fever.

Second Lieut. Noble J. Wiley, of the Fifth Infantry, whose discovery on board the transport Sumner Saturday with yellow fever caused five hours' delay in the departure of the vessel, has been removed to Animas hospital. His illness was diagnosed as yellow fever of a mild type. Lieut. Wiley boarded the Sumner to go home on leave of absence. He arrived here recently on the transport Tarnholm, and lodged in Havana. He did not visit Camp Columbia.

MINE BOSSES IN FATAL FIGHT

Drunken Men Kill Companion and Escape Being Lynched.

Barboursville, W. Va., Nov. 6.—At Stone Branch, 20 miles south of here, Sunday night G. W. Wright and Andrew Childers, mine bosses, both intoxicated, became enraged at John Kelley, another boss, assaulted him with clubs and beat him into insensibility. Kelley died 30 minutes later.

Wright and Childers secured mules and escaped, but were later captured and safely locked up in the Logan county jail.

After their apprehension by deputy sheriffs they were hidden on a train by Conductor Cowherd and, though 100 men surrounded the cars, the prisoners were buried by trunks so well that they escaped the committee that went through the cars.

CHEROKEE DEFEAT WHITE MEN

Latter Cannot Lay Claim to Share in Tribal Wealth.

Washington, Nov. 6.—The supreme court of the United States Monday affirmed the decision of the court of claims in the case of Daniel Red Bird, the Cherokee nation and others, vs. the United States, known as "the White Man's Case." The cases involved the long pending claims of 2,000 and 3,000 white persons to participate in the distribution of the lands and the funds of the Cherokee nation because of marriage with members of the tribe. There are over 4,000,000 acres of land and the tribal funds are extensive. The decision was favorable to the Indians.

There is one flowing well on the property, and to handle the product a complete pumping station, a pipe line and storage tanks will be erected.

It is the intention of the Standard Oil company to ship the crude oil to its refinery at Beaumont until the field is fully developed, when a refinery will be erected in Shreveport.

LINER RAMS A BATTLESHIP

THE VIRGINIA AND MONROE COLLIDE IN HAMPTON ROADS.

Steering Gear of Fighting Craft Becomes Deranged, Causing Her to Sheer From Her Course.

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 5.—The battleship Virginia was rammed Saturday in Hampton Roads by the Old Dominion liner Monroe. Both vessels came afterward to this port. The Monroe inward bound from New York, landed her passengers at her pier, while the battleship following shortly under her own steam proceeded to the Norfolk navy yard.

The Virginia sailed from Old Point about nine o'clock, bound for Norfolk. Shortly afterward the Monroe came in, following the battleship through Hampton Roads. Off Sewells Point the Virginia slowed down, apparently, and the Monroe immediately rang down.

The Virginia's steering gear seemed to become deranged, and she sheered out of her course. The Monroe could not stop nor could she change her course in time, so she struck the battleship on the after part of her armor belt and raked her starboard quarter. One set of the battleship's davits were turned in board while two of the battleship 6-inch and one of her 3-inch guns were raked and probably materially damaged.

The Monroe sustained a bad twist of her steel prow and the damage to her may prove more serious than now apparent. A survey will be made of both vessels.

There were many immigrants aboard the Monroe, and when the ships crashed the women set up a loud outcry. They were soon calmed.

It is stated that the battleship had no Virginia pilot aboard at the time of the collision.

The Old Dominion officials here state that the Monroe is not seriously damaged.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 3.—Five indictments for peonage against well-known manufacturers were returned by the federal grand jury here Friday as the result of a special investigation by Assistant Attorney General Charles Russell, of the department of justice in Washington.

Those indicted are: F. B. Cole, one bill; Jean Reinhold, two bills, and H. L. Ziegler, two bills, all of Newman, Ga.

The investigation was instigated by the complaints of a number of German immigrants who were induced to come south by the southern immigration bureau of New York under promise of employment in a furniture factory at Newman.

Auto Leaps 40 Feet to River.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Nov. 5.—An automobile driven by Frederick Williams of Scranton, who took the machine out of a local garage Friday night, was found Saturday in the Susquehanna river at the foot of a 40-foot bank. Williams is missing and it is believed he was drowned. It is not known whether any other persons were in the automobile with Williams.

Plumbers' Trust Gets Postponement.

Lima, O., Nov. 3.—Surprise was created in legal and business circles here Friday, when the first of the 15 or more indictments against the alleged plumbers' trust in this county, set for trial, was postponed indefinitely. Prosecutor Welty says the cases will all be pushed to trial at the next term of court.

PRESIDENT VOTES AT OYSTER BAY

CABINET MEMBERS FOLLOW CHIEF'S EXAMPLE AND GO HOME TO CAST BALLOT.

GREAT INTEREST IN NEW YORK ELECTION

Ideal Weather Conditions in City and State Result in Heavy, Early Vote.—Over 200 Arrests Made in Gotham.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Nov. 6.—President Roosevelt arrived here at 9:10 a. m. Tuesday and was greeted by a crowd of men, women and children. He stopped at the railroad station long enough to shake hands with most of those present and then was driven in a carriage to the polling place of the fifth district over a Chinese laundry on East Main street. After shaking hands with each of the election officers he received ballot No. 94 and soon cast it.

While Secretary Loeb was voting the president chatted with some of the villagers. He then shook hands with nearly everyone present and was taken for a drive toward Sagamore Hill in Mrs. J. West Roosevelt's carriage.

President Roosevelt left Jersey City for Washington at 1:20 p. m., his car being attached to the Washington express on the Pennsylvania road. Postmaster General Cortelyou, Secretary Root and Mrs. Douglas Robinson joined the president at Jersey City and departed on his train.

Cabinet Members Vote.

Washington, Nov. 6.—Following the example of President Roosevelt, nearly all the members of his cabinet voted in their respective states at Tuesday's election. Secretary Root voted in New York city, Secretary Bonaparte in Baltimore county, Maryland; Assistant Secretary Oliver in Albany, N. Y., and Assistant Secretary Newberry at Detroit, Mich.

Secretary Taft and Assistant Secretary Bacon, who were in Cuba on a peace mission during the days allotted to registration, did not vote. Secretary Taft is in Nebraska inspecting military posts and Mr. Bacon is in this city.

Postmaster General Cortelyou voted at Hempstead, Long Island; Secretary Shaw at Denison, Ia.; Secretary Wilson at Tama, Ia., and Attorney General Moody at Haverhill, Mass. Secretary Hitchcock was unable to leave the interior department owing to the absence of the assistant secretaries. Secretary Metcalf is at his home town, Oakland, Cal.

Big Vote in New York.

New York, Nov. 6.—Weather conditions which could not be improved, together with an unusual interest in the contest between Charles E. Hughes and William R. Hearst, leading candidates for governor, brought out an unprecedentedly large early vote in all sections of the state Tuesday. Advice from widely scattered districts detail without exception a flood of ballots during the morning hours, and in many places nearly the full vote had been polled by noon. New York city was no exception, and except in scattered districts the forenoon voting was remarkably heavy.

The fine weather which favored the voters seemed to please all the party leaders. The Hughes managers called it "good Republican weather," and declared that every hour made the prospect of their candidate more bright. On the other hand the Hearst managers professed to be fully as well satisfied as the Republicans. They were sure that the farmer vote would help their cause, they said. Both the candidates claimed victory by approximately 200,000 plurality each.

Polling Places Watched.

One of the features of the election was the extreme vigilance of watchers at the thousands of polling places throughout the state. In many towns and villages hordes of private detectives guarded every ballot box to prevent illegal voting.

In New York city more than 200 arrests had been made before noon, but in nearly every case the prisoners were able to prove their right to vote and were released. Among those arrested were well known men whose winter homes were found closed when the police sought to verify their registration. All of these were permitted to vote after proving their residence.

Charles E. Hughes, the Republican candidate for governor, was one of the early voters, depositing his ballot about eight o'clock. It was nearly five hours later when William R. Hearst went to the polls.

Bursting Flywheel Wrecks Iron Mill.

Wheeling, W. Va., Nov. 6.—A 30-foot flywheel weighing 80 tons of the Whitaker Iron works, burst Tuesday, scattering heavy metal in every direction. A great section of the roof of the mill was blown off, heavy pieces flying 500 feet against neighboring plants and on the hillside, while the floor of the engine-room was driven through the ground. Fortunately the workmen had sufficient warning to make their escape.

Lord Curzon and Leiters Sail.

New York, Nov. 6.—A London special says Lord Curzon, ex-viceroy of India, who married Mary Leiter, the earl and countess of Suffolk (Margaret Hyde Leiter) and Mrs. Leiter are sailing on the Baltic for New York.

There will be a meeting of the Holland Merchants' association this evening at 7:30 o'clock in the baul hall in the Van Ark building.

The government dredge General Gillespie arrived here Monday and will remain here until the shoal places found in the channel have been removed. The channel is being dredged the entire length and it will take about two weeks to complete the work.

The lighthouse board is getting material on the ground for the construction of a pier head light on the outer end of the south pier at the new harbor. It will be of steel. No action has yet been taken by the board with regard to a new residence for the light house keeper, but as the present residence is so remote from the new light it is probable it will be moved or a new residence built.

Judge D. F. Hunton of Grand Haven is not in the best of health this fall. The judge visited Muskegon on July 12 which was one of the hot days of the past summer, and while there suffered a light sunstroke. Since that time the judge has been greatly troubled with vertigo and dizziness, and because of this fact Mr. and Mrs. Hunton have postponed their proposed trip to New Hampshire, the judge's old home state.

Centennial park will be a pretty spot next spring, with its numerous beds of tulips, daintest of early spring flowers. Superintendent Kooyers is now planting bulbs and when the work is completed there will be 10,000 tulip bulbs in the park. It is also planned to have a bed of tulips in Lincoln park, and further improvements there are contemplated by the park board.

The Sunday law-breakers among the saloon keepers were visited by the officers a month ago and advised that they would be summarily dealt with if they did not obey the law and this threat has had the desired effect. The proposed new saloon ordinance that will soon come before the council is also believed to be responsible for the good deportment of the liquor dealers. This ordinance makes some sweeping changes in the present regulations, changes that disastrously affect the saloon men, and the latter are trembling in their shoes.

The circuit court opened Monday afternoon for the November term but on account of the election no business will be done until next week. The schedule Monday included merely the calling of the calendar and the arrangement of the cases. The jury was notified not to appear until the opening of the adjourned session next week. Monday afternoon Lendert Duinker pleaded guilty to larceny of hides and John Verhoeks pleaded not guilty to receiving stolen property. Ernest Rose pleaded guilty of horse stealing. James Correll pleaded not guilty to larceny from a dwelling. A number of other minor arraignments were taken before the court.

John McCoy of Georgetown was brought to Grand Haven last Friday by Sheriff Woodbury, charged by Fred Vander Veen, a neighboring young farmer, with using indecent language in the presence of women. Justice Waahs heard McCoy's plea of guilty and the sentence of the justice with the costs in the case aggregated over $35 which McCoy paid. John McCoy is a brother of States McCoy, and at the celebrated trial of Bert Tibbits for the murder of Humphrey Jackman it was John McCoy's testimony that largely convicted the young man. John McCoy's home was directly across the road from States McCoy's barn where the murder occurred that December morning six years ago. Fred Vander Veen, the complaining witness in this case was also an important witness in the Tibbits case.

Simon DeBoer has received the appointment of carrier on route No. 11, with Wm. Bourton substitute.

All persons holding bills against the republican county committee are requested to present them at once to A. J. Ward.

Smeenge & Bomers have been awarded the contract for a new house on the north side of the bay for R. Tillroe.

The Holland Merchants Association will meet this evening at 7:30 o'clock in the hall over Van Ark's furniture store and all merchants are urged to be present.

The other members of the party will be Levi Fellows, James and John Bosch, James Nichols, Fred Graham and Chas. Jones. All of the party are old time deer hunters and there will be no buck ague there.

Mrs. Bartje Harkema has brought suit in Justice Post's court against John Looman to recover $20 which it is alleged she paid Mr. Looman on the contract to move her house on Eleventh street which was damaged by fire and which was torn down by order of the city council because it was not moved outside of the fire limits as ordered. Looman worked on the contract a few days before the house was torn down. The case will be heard in Justice Post's court Friday, Nov. 16. Sooy & Heck represent Mrs. Harkema, and Diekema & Kollen will appear for Looman.

Coach James DeFree of the University of Tennessee, in a letter to a friend in the Michigan University, says that he has resigned and will return at once to his home in Holland, Mich. The present season at Tennessee has been a sad disappointment because of the ineligibility of three of the star players. Word and Belmont, two of the barred players, will act as coaches for the remainder of the season. De Free won his "M" at Ann Arbor in baseball in 1904 and 1905 being one of the best first basemen Michigan ever had. He was kept off the foot ball team by injuries.

Grand Haven has secured another new industry. For several weeks a deal has been pending whereby the old shoe factory building, which has been idle for two years, has been sold to outside parties and will be converted into a sash and door factory and planing mill. While the deal has not been entirely closed, it has practically been settled and papers will undoubtedly change hands in a day or two. Since the failure of the Walden Shoe Co. the factory building has been owned jointly by the National Bank of Grand Haven and the Old National Bank of Grand Rapids. Those two banking institutions are the ones that are making the sale. The factory building will thus be put to its third different use. Commencing as a glass factory in the days of Rufus K. Stallings it was succeeded by the Walden Shoe Co. and now will become a wood working factory.

B. Riksen is experimenting with feeding cattle on sugar beet pulp to fit them for market. He now has twenty head feeding on the pulp and expects to increase the number to 200 if they can be bought. Mr. Riksen has the contract to haul away all the sugar beet pulp from the sugar factory. He has in past years had considerable difficulty in disposing of it. There are not many stock raisers in the county, and those who have dairy herds do not use the pulp for feed for the reason that like any strong vegetable it taints the milk. While it has been demonstrated that sugar beet pulp is a good fertilizer, not many of the farmers care to bother with it, so Riksen has trouble in disposing of the immense amount thrown out at the plant. Riksen's cattle are stabled in the sugar beet sheds on Fifteenth street, and it is safe to say that the Holland plant is the only factory in the state where cattle are kept on the premises and fed with pulp. Mr. Riksen expects the experiment to be profitable. Beet growers who haul beets to the factory are allowed a ton of pulp for every ton of beets they deliver, but few of them care to cart it away and are slow to recognize its value as a fertilizer.

Adrian Van Putten has started a jewelry and jewelry repair shop, his temporary headquarters being in Hubbard's Repair Shop, front window. Call and see him. Citizens Phone 636 or 156.

The cause of the death last week of Miss Jeannette Klomparsen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Klomparsen, South Land street, was peritonitis and not tuberculosis of the lungs as stated in last week's News.

Cornelius Vette of Grand Haven, who was badly injured some weeks ago, is doing as well as can be expected. The young man was cutting the hair from a horse's hoof. He was using a long shears and the animal suddenly moved its foot, driving the shears into the boy's leg, cutting an artery and driving it down under the knee. Eleven stitches were taken to close the wound, and although for a time his chance looked dark, he is now getting along very well.

H. L. Slosson, charged with selling diseased meat, appeared in Justice Post's court yesterday morning and his examination was set for Nov. 30 at 1 p. m. He was released on his own recognizance. His attorney, J. C. Montague of Allegan, was unable to be present and Judge W. A. Lamma appeared for him.

Mrs. Angelina Catherine Broek died last Tuesday night at the home of her uncle, Wm. Broek, two miles east of the city. She was 29 years of age and died of dropsy. The surviving relatives are her parents, Rev. and Mrs. John Broek of Muskegon, and the following brothers and one sister: Herman J. Broek, principal of schools, LaGrange, Ill.; Bernard W. Broek, principal of schools, Homestead, Ill.; Christian A. and Gerard A. Broek. The funeral will be held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the First Reformed church.

Notes of Sport.

Grand Haven won from Holland by a score of 8 to 4 in an exciting game of football on the Nineteenth street grounds. Grand Haven scored by a drop kick once in each half and Holland scored by a place kick by Olsen in the second half. The teams were evenly matched, neither side being able to gain their ten yards consistently. Holland excelled in the kicking game and always gained on an exchange of punts. The Holland boys play a very good game when they get their plays to working smoothly. However they did not play up to form Saturday except in the latter part of the second half when they give an exhibition of fast team work. Oleson and Hanson were the principal ground gainers for Holland, William's brilliant work at center being also a feature of the game. Following is the line up:

Oleson, r e; Stroop, r t; Blum, r g; Williams, c; Wiersma, Price, l g; Nies, l t; Poole, l e; Teffoller, q b; Deto, r h b; McLean, Wiersma, f b; Hansen, l h b.

The Holland interurban and Graham & Morton line will make a special run to Chicago on Friday evening, because of the football game between Chicago and Minnesota. As this will be the biggest game in the west this season a large number will probably take advantage of the special price to attend the game.

The Holland interurban indoor baseball team was organized Tuesday night by Capt. John H. Schouten and Manager Oscar Petersen. The members were selected from a wide field of experienced players and it is believed that even a stronger nine has been formed than the one which was maintained last year.

The players and their respective positions are as follows: John H. Schouten, catcher; B. Milliger, pitcher; Oscar Petersen, first base; L. Jarvis, second base; James Kelly or L. Labadie, third base; C. Alexander, left shortstop; J. Deto, right shortstop; A. Van den Berg, left field; Stuart, right field. The pitcher staff consists of Milliger, Petersen and Stuart.

A second team will be maintained, the members of which are working for positions on the regulars and every member on the team will be compelled to make a strong showing in order to hold his place.

The first game will be played on Wednesday evening, November 14, with the Ideals of Grand Rapids, and in order to introduce the sport, no admission will be charged, and ladies are especially invited. A band has been secured for the opening game and considerable enthusiasm is manifested.

All the games will be played in the pavilion at Jensen Park, which has been recently placed in first-class condition and will accommodate about 300. The place will be properly heated.

Dates will be arranged with any leading respectable team in the state, and no rowdism will be tolerated.

Hope College.

Prof. J. E. Kuizenga delivered an address at the Sunday school convention which was held at Grand Rapids last Tuesday on the subject "The Relation of Pedagogy to Sunday-School Work."

M. C. Ruusaard was called home last night on account of the critical illness of his mother.

The Basket ball team of Hope has joined the Interurban League which is now represented by the teams of the following cities: Zeeland, Grand Haven, Grand Rapids, Muskegon and Hope College. A silk pennant will be the prize, and a close contest is expected as the teams are almost evenly matched. The Hope College League, which has been formed, is progressing nicely and enthusiasm runs high. At present the Monarch leads the league. Games have been scheduled with the following teams: Y. M. C. A. of Evanston, Ill.; Grand Rapids Y. M. C. A.; Olivet College, M. A. C.; and also with the Interurban League.

The annual week of Prayer will commence next Sunday evening. The general topic is "Pray Without Ceasing." The leaders for the week beginning Sunday are Profs. E. Dimment, J. E. Kuizenga, J. W. Beardslee, Jr., Rev. G. A. Watermuller of Kalamazoo, Prof. J. M. Vander Meulen and J. Sizoo, Pres. of Y. M. C. A.

Pleaded Guilty.

In circuit court Martin Vander Bie, Jacob Heisterkamp, Frank Mader and Herman C. Schmedtgan, pleaded guilty to violation of the liquor law. Esemire Longtime under the same charge, stood mute. The pleas of the greater number of the liquor men up will save the county considerable expense and will do away with trials. No time has been set for sentencing these men but it is expected that Judge Padgham will take the matter up some time next week.

Some of the minor matters in the chancery calendar were heard by Judge Padgham before court adjourned Monday, and court starts in with a clean slate next Monday. Prosecutor Pagelsen will be kept very busy during the early part of the season and he hopes to clear up his calendar completely.
