FEARED BANK HEADS INTEND TO KILL

Says He Sent Bonds To Brother In Holland

Asserting that President William H. Anderson of the Fourth National bank of Grand Rapids was waiting outside police headquarters armed with a gatling gun which fires sixty shots per second and that Charles B. Kelsey of Kelsey, Brewer & Co., was also nearby, heavily armed with dangerous weapons, James Meyers, thirty-five years old, a resident of the city for four years, refused to leave Police court Friday until Nick Kik, accompanied him. Meyers told a harrowing story of having been robbed of $12.00. Clerk Kik took Meyers to Detention hospital.

Meyers first visited Mayor George E. Ellis, to whom he told the story. John Timmer, member of the board of Police and Fire commissioners, accompanied Meyers to police headquarters and introduced the man to Lieut. Thomas Howell. The officer listened to Meyers and then decided it was a case for Nick Kik. Meyers told Kik that he had purchased bonds in the interests of the brothers in Holland and that unknown to him the bonds had been sent to Holland. He feared that Anderson and Kelsey were determined to kill him and humped behind Nick Kik as much as he could. Meyers left the building.

GOVERNMENT ISSUES A NEW STAMP BOOK

Postmaster General Burleson is the author of what is expected to prove one of the six best sellers among the books of the coming season. Announcement was made today that it was off the press and soon could be had at thousands of the post offices throughout the country. The book its attractive title being "24: 1c-2c," is embellished with beautiful engravings and will sell for the nominal sum of seventy three cents.

The demand for such a book will be recognized by those who approved of that other sterling little volume issued by the government and which contained twelve two-cent stamps, the price of which was 25 cents. The new volume is to contain twenty four two cents and an equal number of one cent stamps.

The department today issued instructions to postmasters throughout the country concerning the issue of the new stamp book.

OTTAWA BEACH HOTEL IS TO BE REMODELED

Big Resort Hostelry Changes Will Aggregate Cost Of Some $25,000.

PANTLIND IS NEW MANAGER

The Ottawa Beach hotel is to be extensively remodeled, modernized and improved before the 1914 season opens. Plans for the changes have been made by Highland & Green, the Chicago architects who planned the remodeling of Ramona theatre. All that remains before awarding the contracts is the final approval.

According to the plans prepared the dining room will be enlarged to nearly double its present capacity by extending it to take in the porch; ornamental windows will be put in and alcoves created for small parties. The office is to be enlarged with the desk in the center of the building. The present offices will be converted into a lobby and a sun parlor made of the connecting porch. The parlors on the second floor will be converted into suites with bath. Additional rooms with baths will be put in on the third floor. The annex will be turned around to give the rooms frontage on one or the other of the lakes and porches will be put in.

Improve Water Front Much also will be done to improve the water front. The old freight house and dock where the Pere Marquette ferry used to land will be removed to clear the view of Black lake.

The lake front and channel dock will be put into better condition. A walk will be built to the bathing beach. Ornamental boulevard lights will be used for lighting the grounds at night, but these will not be put in this year.

The hotel next season will be under the management of J. Boyd Pantlind, who conducted it so successfully for several years, and he is already planning methods for popularizing the resort both for those who go there for the season and for transients. One of the new features will be the running of special cars from this city for parties that may be made up here for an afternoon or evening.

It is estimated the improvements to be made will cost about $25,000. The hotel property is still held by the syndicate that purchased it from the Pere Marquette, in which Ben S. Hanchett, J. Boyd Pantlind and President Morton of the Graham and Morton line are the principal factors. A company will be organized to take over the property and carry it on and these same parties will be largely interested in it.

WETS ARE AFTER THE BOARD

To Compel The Supervisors To Change Their Action Regarding Local Option Petitions Board Adjourns

Allegan county is now thrust into the lime light for a period promising to shine along with her sister counties in airing a legal squabble. Last Friday the board of supervisors refused to grant the petitions of the wets in this county for the submission of the local option question at next April's election on the grounds of technical errors found in the documents. As a result the petitioners, through their attorneys, appealed to Judge Cross, who, on the strength of the showing issued an alternative writ of mandamus, or show cause order. In other words, the board or rather the committee from the board, with the assistance of their lawyers, must prove to the court the correctness of their stand against allowing the petitions. If they succeed in doing this then Judge Cross will rule in their favor, and the only recourse for the opposition will be to appeal to the supreme court, or vice versa. The writ was served on Chairman Hennessee of the board yesterday morning and he brought the matter to the attention of the body.

The chief points at issue in the matter are: The notary made a clerical error in dating the affidavits to the petitions "September" rather than October, when they were made out. As soon as this was known permission was asked to correct these errors and refused by the committee. Now affidavits have been secured, showing that these were errors by the parties making the affidavits originally. The reasons the drafters of the petitions wish them allowed is that with the six defective lists thrown out they fell shy of the requisite number by about 40. If allowed to stand they will have more than enough. Another contention is that the basis of figuring should be on the last vote for state officers taken in this county, which was last fall, instead of figuring one third of the vote cast for secretary of state, as has been the procedure in the past in this county.

The writ was read to the board by Clerk Schumann requiring two and half hours, and at the close by a vote of 15 to 9, the board empowered the committee to employ extra help to assist Prosecutor Stone in handling the legal end of the proposition.

HENRY DE KRUIF IS MAKING HISTORIC COLLECTION

HAS MANY RELICS

H. De Kruij of Zeeland is a collector of antiquities pertaining to the immigration of our forefathers from the Netherlands to these parts in 1847, and all matters of interest in connection with their residence in the fatherland previous to that date when they made their flight to America primarily to secure religious freedom. Mr. De Kruij justly prides himself in the fact that his mother, the late Mrs. H. De Kruij, Sr., was a member of that grand old Van de Luyster family, at the head of which stood that loyal, whole-souled, big-hearted, sainted Janneke Van de Luyster, who led the colony of Hollanders from across the sea to this section, with the assistance of others, in the summer of 1847 and founded in the wilderness what is now our beautiful little city; paid transportation for many poverty-stricken families and spent a large portion of his fortune helping others, all of which adds great value and interest to the souvenirs and relics which Mr. De Kruij has gathered and now has in his possession.

The latest of Mr. De Kruij's collection is a water color painting which he received from the Netherlands last Monday representing the old homestead of his grandfather; and located on the same premises is the residence and large Dutch wind mill (meelmolen) operated in 1847 by the late John Van Eenennaam, when he left for this country. The farm constitutes 120 acres and is located about three-quarters of a mile from the city of Borsele. The large barn on the painting is of particular interest because in this building many religious services were held, and it was there where many arrests and persecutions followed—imprisonment, exorbitant fines exacted, property confiscated, etc.—because the doctrine expounded differed from that of the "Staats Kerk." Mr. Van de Luyster sold the place for something like $60,000 and although practically no changes or improvements have been made it is now valued at about double that amount. The old Van Eenennaam mill was erected by that family nearly 200 years ago and was only recently sold for $6,000. The painting was expressly made by an artist who went out to sketch the scene for Mr. De Kruij, and the historical value shows that the picture is worth the price no matter what he paid for it.

Among the relics which Mr. De Kruij owns is a "Staten" Bible which he recently received from the Netherlands. It was the family bible of his grandfather and at the time of the secession from the State Church some seventy-five or more years ago, Mr. Van de Luyster presented the same to the new church body of which he was one. A church was later erected by the seceders and on this pulpit the same bible was used until shipped to America recently. Some four or five years ago the book was re-bound and while in the binders hand the Van de Luyster family record written on the fly-leaf, as was customary in those days, was lost. The book is in fine state of preservation and valued highly by the new owners, who purchased it from the church in whose possession he found it for $27.

Mr. De Kruij made his second trip to the old home town of his ancestors when he was on his trip abroad with Mrs. De Kruij in 1912 and says his visits were very interesting. Practically no alterations have been made in the buildings and the general makeup of things. Many relatives and name-sakes of local families are still found in the old villages and surrounding country.

ASKS ALL POSTMASTERS TO HELP ALONG GOOD ROADS

Postmaster General Burleson has issued an order notifying all postmasters that it is the desire of the department that they co-operate with state and county authorities in the endeavor to improve the condition of the public roads. He says that the department's attention has been attracted to proclamations issued from time to time by the governors of states designating certain days as "Good Roads" days, and he adds that "postmasters, as representatives in their communities of the national government, are expected to manifest as active an interest in this movement as is consistent with the proper performance of their official duties."

HALLOWEEN FAVORS

If you have not already decided upon the favors to be given at your party on Halloween, you may find this suggestion easy and good.

You will need a number of ordinary underwear buttons the kind having two holes. These are to be glued to the head part of any festive Halloween figure and you can take the writer's word for it that very weird effects may thus be obtained. Round black spots should then be painted directly in the middle of each hole. The eyes will then seem to roll and follow your movements about the room.

If you are among those who cannot draw, cut out Halloween figures from advertisements, etc., paste them on pieces of pasteboard and glue the buttons on in place of faces, roughly indicating the features on the buttons. The crudest drawing the better for this primitive form of art. Individual hits make a great deal of fun for the place cards, and you will be surprised, as you work on the ludicrous designs, at the originality that you will develop.

Let the witching tribe of buttons lend their aid to your high jinks on Nutcrack night just once, and you will include them as a matter of course in all future affairs of the kind.

HENRY WINTER OFFERED FINE POSITION

Henry Winter, assistant cashier of the Peoples State Bank of Holland was offered a position as Bank Examiner in the State of Michigan, by E. H. Doyle, Commissioner of the Banking Department of the state, but the officers of the Peoples Bank managed to persuade Mr. Winter to remain with them.

The position is very desirable and shows with what honor and confidence Mr. Winter is regarded in state financial circles.

D'HULL N. TRAVIS TO SPEAK IN

M. E. CHURCH TOMORROW NIGHT.

Tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock D'Hull N. Travis will deliver his lecture, "The Man Without a Smile" (The Man in Prison) in the M. E. church. Major Travis was for a year private secretary of Governor Osborne. He gave up this position to accept a place on the State Pardon board. He has been very active in bringing about prison reform and is an authority in penology. Mr. Travis is a delegate to the American Prison association convention and Chairman of the Joint Penology Commission. He goes out from the Redpath Bureau.

Attention of the Redpath people was attracted to Mr. Travis' connection with the Michigan state pardon board through his work in writing the manuscript for a book entitled "The Man Without a Smile." This manuscript Mr. Travis had intended to publish soon. Instead he will defer the publication and use for the lecture the material which was to have been contained in the book.

In the manuscript originally intended for publication but which will now be used as lecture materials Mr. Travis deals with the prison conditions in Michigan and tells of the effort that is being made to reform the men who are sentenced to the various penal institutions. It deals with heredity, the detection of crime, the latest methods of prison reform, and many other points of interest in this all-absorbing topic which is today being discussed by many people who are interested in uplift work.

HUDSONVILLE

Hudsonville, Oct. 30.—Lemuel Striker, a farmer near Battle Creek was so badly injured last Monday that his physicians fear he will not recover. His automobile struck a cow, throwing Striker out, bruising his face and head and breaking a collar bone. It seems that one end of the broken bone penetrated the top of the lung. His family has been summoned and is at his bedside. Even if Mr. Striker survives the injuries it will be some time before he will be able to be moved to his home.

Hudsonville, Mich., Oct. 29.—Guy Mason, Olive township, 26 years old received serious injuries Sunday when he was thrown from his motorcycle on a bridge three miles west of Hudsonville. He received a broken nose and a gash in his scalp. Mason was unconscious several hours. A broken plank is supposed to have been the cause of the accident. The motorcycle fell into the stream after Mason was thrown against the railing.

SAUGATUCK

Besides the alfalfa plants that Frank Hayes brought in last week, we now have some plants raised by R. E. Reed on his farm east of town. They show a growth of root of over four feet. The Hayes plants were raised on heavy land, and the roots broke off when pulled. The plants raised by Mr. Reed grew on blow sand and three crops were cut from them this year, and another could have been cut. We are also showing some excellent potatoes grown on blow sand by R. E. Reed, after alfalfa has been plowed under. Every farmer should see this exhibit. Mr. Oswald caught two muskellunge each weighing 45 pounds in his net last week. Too bad he had to put them back in the water but that is law.

In Niles' Jewelry window is a complete working model of a bi-plane made entirely by Abbott Dav is without instructions or help. It actually flies quite a distance, the motive power being a strong rubber band twisted many times. The rubber and tail-plane are controlled from the pilot's seat. The machine is about 2x2 1/2 feet and weighs 3 ounces.

Its Surprising

That So Many Holland People Fall

To Recognize Kidney Weakness. Are you a bad back victim? Suffer twinges; headaches, dizzy spells?

Go to bed tired—get up tired? It's surprising how few suspect the kidneys.

It's surprising how few know what to do.

Kidney trouble needs kidney treatment.

Doan's Kidney Pills are for the kidneys only.

Have convinced Holland people of their merit.

Here's a Holland case; Holland testimony.

Kidney sufferers hereabouts should read it.

Mrs. M. Van Oort, 28 W. Third St. Holland, Mich., says "I had severe pains across the small of my back that greatly inconvenienced me in stooping or doing housework. Being told to try Doan's Kidney Pills, I did so. Less than one box cured me. I have had no trouble since."

"When your back is lame—Remember the Name." Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mrs. Van Oort had—the remedy backed by home testimony. 50c all stores. Foster-McBurn Co.

NORTH BLENDON

COURT CALENDAR HAS INTERESTING CASES

The Ottawa County court calendar for the November term contains 11 criminal cases of more than ordinary interest. The charges are varied and include everything from embezzlement to kidnapping.

The cases will be tried in the following order: Sam Fox, larceny from a dwelling in the daytime; John Ferris and Mary Hadad; adultery; Joseph Brown, embezzlement; Harry Mouw, assault with intent to do great bodily harm; John Hietje, burglary; Fritz Monck, assault with intent to kill; William Van Oort, resisting an officer; James Carlin and Thomas Flannigan; Chicago detectives, kidnapping; John VanderKolk violating a city ordinance, appeal; William Wentworth—violation of city ordinance, appeal.

In a number of the criminal cases Holland parties are involved. It is said that the kidnapping case may be put over until the next term of the court, although this has not been officially announced. The other cases that will doubtless create most interest are the ones in which Harry Mouw is involved, the John Hietje case and the one against William Wentworth.

MURDER OR SUICIDE?

Whether the death of Mrs. Zelma Atwood, whose body was found hanging to a tree at Hudsonville, was a case of murder or suicide has not yet been determined by the Ottawa County officers. The investigation into the mystery was resumed Monday by the sheriff's department and the department of the prosecuting attorney. The burial of the body was to have taken place Monday, but it was postponed until after the arrival of an expert from Ann Arbor who will aid in the investigation to determine whether the case is one of murder or suicide.

The story of the tragedy as told by the several witnesses at the coroner's inquest Saturday and during the investigation Monday is as follows:

Last Tuesday, Zelma Hammond Atwood left her home and told her mother that she was going to Grand Rapids; that she would be gone for some time, and that the mother should not worry. That was the last that Mrs. Lowing saw of her daughter alive.

Maurice Atwood and the woman had been "keeping company" for a long time, and it was neighborly gossip that the time would come when they would marry. Monday it developed that they had been married in Grand Rapids in the juvenile court here, just previous to the woman becoming a mother. She accused Atwood of being the father of the child. He denied this, but consented to the marriage, it seems, rather than develop a scandal.

The victim of this tragedy was about 35 years of age, and Atwood was her second husband. More than a decade ago she was married to a man by the name of Hammond, under circumstances similar to those attendant upon her later union. The first ceremony took place in a jail, it was added. Her first child was adopted and is now living in Benton Harbor, it is understood, while the whereabouts of the second child is not known, but it too was adopted.

From her first husband, Zelma Hammond was divorced. On the witness stand Monday Atwood admitted being her husband, but denied parenthood to the child.

He also told of finding a note in the feed box of a stall in his barn. It was partially covered with oats and was written probably last Tuesday, though it was not discovered until Friday morning. The note read:

"I am going away tonight for good, so good bye. The fellow I want is here after me now. That little trouble I got you into was not you, but the other fellow. I am very thankful for the money that (here was an illegible word). Forget me and be happy."

"Zelma Hammond." Another note, written to her mother, and sealed, ready for mailing was found in her hand bag, and it too alluded to the "other fellow". It read:

"Dear Mother and All—I am off for good. You need not look for me as I will not be around here. And do not blame Maurice—that trouble we had a year or so. I am in same fix now with same fellow as before. Maurice is straight. You can't blame him that I take this course."

"Zelma." Dr. Maxfield performed a post mortem and told of the woman's condition. He also said that death was due to strangulation, and that the victim had probably been dead for 24 hours.

The rope with which the deed was consummated was identified as having been taken from the Atwood barn.

Mrs. Lowing was placed on the stand and told of the daughter's leaving the house last Tuesday and how when she failed to return, she (the mother) instituted a search which resulted in finding the body of the body and Agnes Frieswyk, a neighbor, told of a call Mrs. Hammond made on her on last Tuesday. The latter was returning some dishes to the Frieswyk home, and said she must hurry on, as "Maurice was waiting for her."

The jury after hearing the testimony returned rather an indefinite verdict, not determining in what manner she came to her death, and whether it was the opinion that the victim killed herself or was murdered.

The scene of the finding of the body is near the Atwood home, on the old Weatherwax road, about five rods from the highway. To reach the tree on which she was found it was necessary to go through a second growth of shrubbery. Her foot tracks were outlined in the soggy ground and it is said that the tracks of two men have been found in the vicinity.

The autopsy on the body of Zelma Lowing, Hammond Atwood, the woman found dead near Hudsonville last Friday afternoon, was performed Monday afternoon by Dr. A. S. Wartin of Ann Arbor. The operation took place in the presence of members of the coroner's jury, Coroner Campbell and Dr. W. A. Maxfield.

Dr. Wartin's findings are not yet known. He took portions of the woman's organs back to Ann Arbor with him for a further analysis and he will submit a report to Prosecutor Osterhaus within 10 days or two weeks. In the meantime further investigation will be held in abeyance. Dr. Wartin left Hudsonville soon after completing his task and left

ACTION ON DIVIDING HOLLAND TOWNSHIP NOT TO BE TAKEN TILL JANUARY

Whether or not Holland township will be divided into two separate townships will not be definitely decided until the January session of the Ottawa County Board of Supervisors. The matter has been carefully considered by the supervisors at the present session and there seems little doubt of the project being passed. But the special committee to whom the board referred the matter asked for more time in which to consider the proposition and further to investigate the need of the plan. In view of the fact that there is no urgent need for immediate action the supervisors decided to give them until January before taking the final action. In the intervening months the members of the committee will continue their work and then they expect to be ready with a report in January.

"Is Entitled To Our Trade"

"I believe the home merchants are entitled to our trade when the prices are as reasonable. I think it is a wrong principle to send away for the goods that can be bought as well at home," said a farmer to the editor the other day. It sounds good to hear men argue the justice of this matter. The local business man and the farmer's interests are mutual; neither one can succeed in the full sense without the other. The merchant must sell at honest margins of profit and when he does this he is entitled to the trade of his community.

THOMAS J. SYMMES CHARGED WITH BRIBERY BY DE- TECTIVE FLANNIGAN ASK GOVERNMENT TO TAKE ACTION

Came to Holland Monday to Answer Charge; Ottawa Officials Deny Charges

Attorney Thomas J. Symmes, who has been representing the Chicago Tribune in the case against the Chicago detectives, Thomas Flannigan and James Carlin, was in the city Monday to give the Ottawa county authorities an opportunity to serve on him a warrant issued by Justice D. J. Te Roller and sworn to by Flannigan. The warrant charges that Symmes attempted to bribe Prosecuting Attorney Louis H. Osterhaus to prosecute the detectives on the charge of kidnapping Charles Scharntberg at Macatawa Park several months ago.

Symmes was arraigned before Justice Te Roller as soon as he arrived in the city Monday. His hearing was set for next Friday at 1:30 p. m. in the court room in the city hall. He furnished bonds to the amount of $500, with Hermann Boone and H. J. Luidens sureties.

"Although as prosecuting attorney of the county" said Mr. Osterhaus, "it is my duty to represent the prosecution in this ridiculous farce, I will willingly withdraw from the prosecution in view of the fact that Mr. Hoynes mentions my name in connection with the charge. Mr. Hoynes shall not be able to say that he couldn't get justice because, I stood in his way."

"I will allow him to have any attorney he wishes, conduct the prosecution."

The application for the warrant followed a statement recently made by State's Attorney Hoynes, in which he said he had been informed that Prosecutor Osterhaus received a bribe of $150 from the Chicago Tribune, through Mr. Symmes, for instituting the prosecution against the Hoynes' two detectives. The bribe, Hoynes asserted, had been received in the presence of the sheriff.

Mr. Symmes emphatically denied the charge and exhibited letters received by him from Mr. Osterhaus and Sheriff Hans Dykhuis, both of whom brand as false the accusation made by Hoynes.

The letter from State's Attorney Osterhaus follows:—
Thomas J. Symmes,
1510 Title and Trust Bldg.,
Chicago, Ill.

Dear Sir:—I am informed that in at least one of the Chicago newspapers there was published yesterday a statement from, or an interview with State's Attorney Hoynes, of Cook county to the effect that you had bribed me to prosecute James Carlin and Thomas V. Flannigan, upon the complaint of Charles Scharntberg, paying me the sum of $150, and that Mr. Hoynes was informed of all this by Sheriff Dykhuis of our county.

I may not state the charges exactly, for I have not seen the article in question, but the foregoing is the substance and purpose of it, as I am informed. I am writing you this letter that you may use it as you see fit to refute the charges so made. Neither you nor any other person ever "bribed" me in any way at any time or for any purpose. Neither you nor any other person ever paid me or any one for me the sum of $150, or any other sum, to secure either the arrest or the prosecution of Carlin and Flannigan. If there has been a dollar of anybody's money wrongfully or illegally used by or for the prosecution in this case I have never heard of it.

The charges made in Mr. Hoynes' statement or interview are absolutely false, both as to the claimed "bribery" and the source of his information. I talked with Sheriff Dykhuis this morning and he tells me that he never made any such statement to any person, and he has today written you a letter at my suggestion making a complete denial of these charges. Yours very truly,

LOUIS H. OSTERHAUS.

Prosecuting Attorney.

Sheriff Calls Charge False

The letter from Sheriff Dykhuis, follows:—

Grand Haven, Mich., Oct. 24, 1913

—Thomas J. Symmes, Chicago, Ill.,

—Dear Sir:—I understand that in one or more of the Chicago daily newspapers there was published yesterday an interview with or a statement from State's Attorney Hoynes of Cook county to the effect that you had bribed State's Attorney Osterhaus of this county to secure the arrests of and to prosecute James Carlin and Thomas V. Flannigan, upon the complaint of Charles Scharntberg, and that you paid the sum of $150 to Mr. Osterhaus to that end and purpose. According to the newspapers, as I understand it, Mr. Hoynes claims that he was informed of all of the foregoing by Sheriff Dykhuis of Ottawa county.

I have not read the article in question for I have not been able to secure a copy of the paper, but the above is the substance and effect, as I am informed.

I take this means of advising you that I never told Mr. Hoynes or any person that you or any one else ever paid Mr. Osterhaus the sum of $150 or any other sum to prosecute either Carlin or Flannigan and that, so far as I know, neither Mr. Osterhaus nor any other person has been bribed by you or any one by any sum of money or by any other thing to either secure the arrest of Carlin and Flannigan or to prosecute them or either of them. The newspaper article in question was wholly a misstatement of the facts and the charges made in that interview or statement are absolutely untrue. Yours respectfully,

HANS DYKHUIS,
Sheriff of Ottawa County.

As soon as he was informed by a Chicago newspaper of the charges that had been lodged against him Mr. Symmes made preparations to come to Holland so that the warrant might be served without delay. He came voluntarily, making no effort to put the county of Ottawa to the trouble to secure his extradition. He arrived Monday morning and the warrant was served by a local officer.

Mr. Flannigan was in Holland Saturday in connection with the issuing of the warrant. There was a rumor a few days ago that the case against the detectives would be put over from the November term to the January term of court. "Not as far as we are concerned," said Mr. Flannigan, when asked about it. We want the case tried as soon as possible, the quicker the better."

The fight that originally started between the Chicago Tribune and State's Attorney Marclay Hoynes of Chicago has come to a stage at which charges have been filed with the Governor of Michigan asking that Prosecuting Attorney Louis H. Osterhaus be removed from office. Ottawa county was dragged into the Tribune-Hoynes fight when last July Charles Scharntberg, a Tribune employee, was arrested at Macatawa Park and taken to Chicago by Detectives Flannigan and Carlin. The detectives were charged with kidnapping Scharntberg and very naturally the prosecution of the case fell to Mr. Osterhaus, the alleged crime having been committed in Ottawa county. Mr. Osterhaus made a strenuous fight in Chicago for the extradition of the detectives.

Now Mr. Flannigan has come back with an attempt to have the governor remove Mr. Osterhaus from office. Last night Flannigan, through his attorney, Frank L. Dodge, of Lansing, filed the charges in the governor's office. The charges set forth that Osterhaus is "an unfit and unsuitable person to hold office."

Part of the charges filed by Flannigan are understood to relate to the matter in which Attorney Thomas J. Symmes is implicated and on which he will have a hearing in the city hall next Friday. In the warrant issued against Symmes, Mr. Osterhaus was also named, but in his case the Chicago detective went a step further and asked for the removal from office. Other matters are set forth in the charges filed with the governor.

If Mr. Ferris sees fit he can have the attorney general investigate the matter.

Mr. Osterhaus and his friends look upon the move as merely an alternate to discredit him so that he will not be able to handle the case against the Chicago detectives when it comes up for trial in November.

When the hearing of Attorney Thomas J. Symmes is held in the court room in the city hall tomorrow afternoon at 1:30 it is very likely that Attorney General, Grant Fellows will appear as the attorney for the prosecution in the place of Prosecuting Attorney Louis H. Osterhaus. This step was taken on the suggestion of Mr. Osterhaus himself, who was willing that some one else than himself should handle the prosecution in view of the fact that he was named in the warrant.

The case has aroused a great deal of interest and when it comes up tomorrow afternoon the chances are that there will be a large audience in the court room anxious to hear what there is to it. There is a disposition on the part of Mr. Symmes and Mr. Osterhaus not to throw any obstacles in the way. They declare that they are anxious to tell every little detail in regard to the whole affair, and that they are confident the warrant is absolutely absurd.

Mr. Symmes Monday related in detail his connection with the Scharntberg case, and related each step taken in the matter of the extradition of Carlin and Flannigan. In speaking of the payment of the expenses in the case Mr. Symmes said:

"Under the law there was no requirement that the state of Michigan should pay the expenses for procuring the return of these prisoners to that state, but the authorities there required that the expenses of the sheriff in coming to Illinois and bringing them back to Michigan should be advanced, and for the purpose of paying these expenses and for no other purpose, whatever, I advanced the sum of $50 to our Holland representatives and they out of this sum of $50 paid part of the expenses of the sheriff in the performance of his duties."

"I have an itemized statement for the expenses and services of the sheriff of Ottawa county, Michigan, in bringing back Carlin and Flannigan to that state and in that statement it appears that he charged for his services for his first trip to Chicago and Springfield with the requisition $15, and presented a bill of $29.70 for his expenses and a bill of $4 for fees paid the secretary of state; also for his trip to Chicago after the writs or habeas corpus were dismissed by Judge Brentano, for his services $6, or his expenses on that trip $12, also for an amount paid to Deputy Sheriff Morrison for his services and expenses in bringing the men from Chicago to Grand Haven, $29."

"I have paid no other amount of money nor have I left any money with any person, nor have I agreed to pay any money to Mr. Osterhaus or to any other person connected with the above matter in any way."

In speaking of the case Monday Prosecuting Attorney Osterhaus likewise absolutely denied the charges made in Detective Flannigan's complaint. He explained that Mr. Symmes' statement of the case was practically correct, concerning the payment of the expenses of the sheriff of Ottawa county, while working in Illinois, working on the extradition case. Mr. Osterhaus stated that he did not believe that the county of Ottawa should be required to pay the expense of the sheriff in serving in Illinois, and that it was perfectly legal and just for the clients of Mr. Symmes to pay this part of the expense.

There is no denial of any one's part of the willingness of the clients of Mr. Symmes to pay the expenses of the sheriff while in Illinois, acting as the agent of Ottawa county. Mr. Osterhaus refused to take the custody of the money for the expenses but informed the Chicago attorneys that he would send them an itemized bill of the expenses incurred when the case was completed, and the amount could be sent to the county treasurer of Ottawa county, from which fund the agents of the state could be paid by the board of supervisors.

BOY WAS LOCKED IN CITY HALL

A young boy whose name the police did not learn was locked in the city hall Friday night after nine o'clock. The boy had been a prisoner in the building for about three-quarters of an hour before he attracted the attention of passersby. The janitor had closed the building not knowing anyone was in it.

RACINE MAN LANDS JOB AS THE NEW MEMBERS TAKE CHARGE OF FRATERNAL SOCIETY PROGRAM.

The successor to Captain Charles Morton, of the 12th Life Saving district, who died a few months ago in Grand Haven, has been appointed in the person of Gus B. Lufberg, of the Racine, Wis., Live Saving Station. The Twelfth Life Saving District comprises all the stations on Lake Michigan.

All the captains of the life saving stations along Lake Michigan were eligible to take the examination that was required before a superintendent could be appointed. However, only six captains took the examination. For some time it seemed as though Captain Jensen of the Evans station might have a very good chance to land the job, but the plum was finally awarded to Lufberg.

There is a good sized salary connected with the position. The superintendent's duties are to inspect from time to time the stations in his district. He also has a voice in the appointment of the captains to the various stations.

The new superintendent will go to Grand Haven where he will make his home since headquarters are there.

LAST SESSION OF BOARD OF SUPERVISORS IS QUIET

At their final session in the court house in Grand Haven Saturday the board of supervisors passed on the tax apportionment. The total which the city of Holland will have to pay is $174,798.67. The taxes as passed by the board this morning are divided as follows: State tax, $34,492.35; county, $10,395.63; city, $91,032.67; school, $34,000.00 county roads, $4,681.09; rejected taxes, $62.44; Poor, $134.49.

Last year the total was $158,860.36, or an increase of this year over last year of $15,938.31. The increase is $1.74 a thousand higher this year than last year, the rate this year being $24.97 per thousand as over against $23.23 per thousand last year.

Last year the city's share in the state tax was $21,977.65 as over against $34,492.35 this year. The county tax last year was higher than this year, namely $12,433.91, while this year it is only $10,395.63. In all other cases this year's tax is higher than that of last year. The city tax last year was $90,052.50, while this year it is $91,032.67. The school tax this year is just four thousand dollars higher than last year. The county road tax last year was $4,256.88, while this year it is a little higher, namely $4,681.09. The amount of the rejected taxes last year was $32.07, this year $62.44. The taxes for the poor last year amounted to $97.35, this year to $134.49.

That the rate would be higher this year than last year was not at all unexpected. The fact is however that the bulk of the increase is due to the increase in state taxes. Of the $15,938.31 which the people of Holland will have to pay this year over and above the sum paid last year, $12,524.70 is due to the increase in state taxes. This was what is known as a legislative year. The legislature was in session from January till about May and that in part accounts for the large increase in state taxes. The session of the legislature every other year cost a great deal of money. In all the other departments the increase amounts only to $3,413.61.

OSTERHOUS NOT HURT BY STORY

Ottawa Prosecutor Making Friends Through Attempted Injury

Grand Haven, Oct. 29.—Contrary to the expectations of the defense, the story launched by Detective Flannigan here, the adherents of the prosecuting attorney are stronger than ever. The story was nothing new locally, it having been known here for years; but in view of Osterhaus record and the struggles he endured to work his way first to the Michigan bar and then to the office of prosecuting attorney, they have forgotten the incident and given credit for his ability to come back.

Men who have opposed him politically came out and said if an election were held tomorrow they would vote for Osterhaus. They say it is a dirty deal all the way through, and lay it more to the efforts of one of the Chicago papers than the detective who sprung the story.

The body was brought here Tuesday afternoon and brought to the home of William Lawrence, corner of Van Raalte Avenue and Eleventh street. Funeral was held from there at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The Rev. Mr. Flipse officiated.

Mr. Simpson was formerly of this city but for the past sixteen years he has resided in South Chicago, where he was employed as shipping clerk at the Illinois Steel Mills until last September, when on account of ill health he resigned his position. He is survived by a widow, who is a daughter of the late sheriff, A. Waltman, a son, Norman and a mother, Mrs. Merrifield of Chicago.

CHIEF OF POLICE SAYS WHEELS MUST BE EQUIPPED WITH LIGHTS.

Chief of Police Dykhuis Tuesday issued another warning relative to lights on bicycles. He declared that owners of wheels must have lights if they want to ride their wheels at night. The new law that was passed by the council last summer is quite generally being disregarded. It is said that the other night some one standing on a corner counted more than a hundred wheels passing the spot, not equipped with lights. The chief believes however that since the law is on the statute books of the city it will have to be observed.

SUPERINTENDENT E. E. FELL READS PAPER

Tells of Present Day Tendencies in Education and of the Schools of the Future

"Instinct in its Relation to Some Educational Problems" was the title of a paper read Monday by Supt. E. E. Fell before the Social Progress club. Mr. Fell first gave the psychological principles in regard to instinct and then applied these principles to the present day problems that the teacher meets with in the schools. He spoke of the school of the future as an institution in which more attention will be paid to the natural tendencies of the pupils, in which education will be less a cut-and-dried affair but in which the teacher will study the individual characteristics and capabilities of the child and seek to develop them. He said the real distinction between the high school grades and the so-called lower grades was largely an artificial one, that has been established because of the necessities attendant on educational conditions.

WHAT YOU SAW IN THIS PAPER THIRTY FIVE YEARS AGO

Prince Henry of the Netherlands is described as one of the richest princes in the world. He is said to derive a royal income from a large silver mine in this country, to own a large quantity of public securities of various nations, and to hold ninety-nine "properties" in Holland, the king alone being permitted to have one hundred.

In driving through Overisel, and gathering up news items we were somewhat astonished to learn that during a Republican meeting held in the red school house on Friday evening of last week, Prof. Kollen, of Hope College, had made a speech of over an hour's duration. Mr. Latta of Allegan, Republican candidate for Prosecuting Attorney, also addressed the meeting. Whereas Overisel is known to the almost "solid Democratic," we cannot help but congratulate Mr. Latta in procuring so able an assistant in trying to break into the rock rooted Democratic ranks of that township.

The Board of Supervisors of the County of Ottawa commenced their annual meeting on Monday last, and organized with the appointment of G. Van Schelven as temporary chairman, and the election of O. A. Whitney as permanent chairman. The following standing committees for the fiscal year were appointed: Finance—Bliz, Walter and Maloy, Claims and Accounts—Weatherwax, Van Hees, Hall, Parks and Sage. Equalization—Porter, Van Schelven, Brouwer, Diekema and Pelton. Drains—Stegenga, Parks and Brown, Building—Safford, Bliz and Schaddelee. Poor Farm—Brown Mastenbroek and Murray.

Roads and Bridges—Hall, Safford and Stegenga.

Insane Persons—Schaddelee, Safford, and Walters.

After the lecture he was assaulted by a crowd and he is now in Grand Haven recuperating from the many kicks and bad usage he received.

TWENTY FIVE YEARS AGO

Our Local Candidates. The Republicans have been very generous this year in giving to this part of the county, prominent places on their ticket.

The State Convention placed the name of Hon. Isaac Cappon upon the national ticket, beside that of Gen. R. A. Alger, as an elector at large for Michigan. Mr. Cappon is the representative of the benefits of the system of Protection to American Industries, for which the Republican party is battling in this campaign. Coming to this country a poor boy, he has by his industry and perseverance acquired a competence, and in doing this, built up a manufacturing business which gives steady employment to hundreds of men. His employees have always found a true friend in Mr. Cappon, and their regard for him should cause the Harrison and Morton ticket, on which his name appears, to receive hundreds of Democratic votes in this county.

For State Senator the Republicans present the name of Jacob Den Herder of Zeeland. He is well and favorably known to our readers, and will add very much to the Republican vote in Ottawa County.

Hon. G. J. Diekema of Holland, has been renominated for legislature. Mr. Diekema has made a host of friends throughout the state by his excellent record at Lansing. His election is a certainty.

Edward Vaupell of Holland, who is the choice of the Republicans for sheriff, is just the man for the office. He will make an excellent sheriff and the people of Southern Ottawa, whom he has served so well as an officer of the law, owe it to themselves to see that he receives every vote that can be honestly secured for him.

As we have before stated, the entire Republican ticket is a good one, and every man upon it is deserving the vote of all good and earnest citizens. The persons we have known to the majority of our readers than the others, and we earnestly hope our people will appreciate the honor conferred upon this locality, by making the vote for the ticket as large as possible.

THE WOMAN'S LITERARY CLUB WANTS TO SERVE THE COMMUNITY

Prof. E. D. Dimment Gives Interesting Address on Settlement Work in Chicago

If it had been necessary to give one word as a subject for Tuesday's Woman's Club meeting that word would have been "Service."

Mrs. Wentworth and Mrs. Van Duren by their helpful accounts of the State Federation meetings made the women feel that they too should take their part in the work to be done. Mrs. Wentworth summed up the whole idea when she said, "The club house is our opportunity for service to the womanhood of the community."

Mrs. Keppel then played very expressively Chopin's "Nocturne" Op. 9.

Mr. Dimment's most interesting talk, "Social Settlements of Chicago," showed how the other people are solving their problem of how to serve. It was an eye-opener to many of those who are wont to consider Chicago as the City of Unrighteousness.

The speaker mentioned the names of many social settlements of Chicago but told of Hull House, as that is the most famous.

Toynbee Hall in London was the first social settlement and is the largest in the world. This was in part a pattern for Hull House but it has had many helpful suggestions from the younger settlement.

Hull House is located on the famous Halsted street, about one and a half miles from the shipping district. It is the center of an area populated chiefly by Jews, Poles and Italians. Formerly Hollanders and English lived in the neighborhood. As these gave up their houses to move farther west and south factories replaced dwellings.

The people who worked in the factories wished to live near them and soon there was great congestion of population. As an example of this in one room 96 Italians slept in the course of a day.

Jane Addams is the guiding spirit of Hull House. Her coming to Chicago was an accident. She was driving in the neighborhood of Hull House with some friends when the thought came to her that this would be a good place to work. For she had proposed to do some sort of social work.

She rented two rooms and started out to teach girls domestic science. Realizing that much could not be done with girls if they did not have comfortable rooms, she rented a house across the street. So in 1889 was started a girls' club which exists today under the name, "The Jane Club."

As the young people became Americanized they looked down upon their parents. A club was started for older women. Their knowledge of weaving and lace making was revived. And so the young people were compelled to admire the skill of their mothers. In a similar manner a club for older men was begun. From these small efforts grew out the many activities that mean—Hull House.

As Mrs. Oggel is still indisposed, Mrs. Kollen again presided in her usual gracious manner.

A rising vote of thanks was given to Mr. Dimment for his address.

HON. G. J. DIEKEMA ASKED TO HELP SETTLE RAILROAD DIFFERENCES

Is Notified of Appointment By Telegram; Will Begin Work November Third.

Hon. G. J. Diekema has been appointed as a member of a board of arbitration to settle the differences between the conductors' and Trainmen's organization and the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad. The appointment was made Tuesday in a lengthy telegram from W. L. Chambers, commissioner of mediation. Mr. Diekema has accepted the appointment. The telegram, which gives the details of the work expected of the Holland man, is as follows: Washington, D. C., Oct. 28 Hon. G. J. Diekema, Holland, Michigan.

A controversy concerning wages, hours of labor and conditions of employment between the conductors, and trainmen's organization and the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railway has been pending for several months. Services of the Board of Mediation were requested and I spent two weeks in Chicago and succeeded in bringing about an agreement as to a majority of the points in dispute but failing to reach an agreement regarding the most material differences, the parties upon my advice entered into an agreement of arbitration, each of the parties has selected two arbitrators and under the law it now devolves upon the Board of Mediation to select the remaining two. Hon. Henry S. Boutelle formerly member of congress from Illinois, and Minister to Switzerland, has agreed to serve and Judge Napp joins me in requesting your services beginning next Monday Nov. third, in Chicago.

A strike vote has already been taken and the situation threatens to interrupt the business of the railroad to the serious detriment of the public interest and you can therefore render the public as well as the parties great services as an arbitrator. Under the agreement, the arbitration must be concluded and the award filed in the court within 30 days from the first meeting of the board. Personally I shall be greatly pleased by your acceptance. The situation is serious and I know of no one better fitted than yourself for this responsible work. If practicable please answer today.

Commissioner of Mediation.

Hon. Gerrit J. Diekema, will make the closing address on the subject of prominent Hollanders in public life.

All the addresses will be given in the Holland language. The program is of especial interest because of the themes which the speakers will discuss. These themes are specially appropriate moreover because of the fact that this is the year when the Hollanders of America are calling attention to the history and achievements of the Dutch race.

Tickets for the banquet can be secured at the Holland City State bank until Wednesday evening, Nov. 5. After that date no tickets will be sold.

PRESIDENT OF GRAHAM & MORTON COMPANY THINKS PASS- AGE OF BILL WILL WORK HARDSHIP

Contains Stringent Provisions for the Safety of Passengers

On Vessels

The passage of the seaman's bill in the senate is regarded in some quarters as a death blow to the passenger excursion business on the Great Lakes.

J. S. Morton, president of the Graham & Morton Transportation Co., asked for his opinion stated that he was not prepared to make a statement regarding the effect of the measure.

"I can say that it is drastic legislation," he declared, "and may work untold hardships on lake transportation companies," he declared.

It is the belief of Mr. Morton that much will depend upon the interpretation given the provisions of the bill if it becomes a law. If the department of commerce tempers its rulings so that steamers plying their course not many miles from shore are not brought under the full effect of the act, then a company such as the Graham & Morton may not suffer greatly.

Mr. Morton, however, has great apprehensions regarding the effect the proposed law may have on lake excursion traffic.

The effect of the measure on the passenger traffic of the lakes is far-reaching. For instance, the bill providing that "no vessel carrying passengers shall be permitted to depart from any port of the United States unless she is provided and equipped with a sufficient number of seaworthy lifeboats to carry and transport at one time every passenger and every member of the crew."

And further: "Unless she shall have a sufficient crew to man each lifeboat with not less than two men of the rating of able seamen or higher," and further: "All passengers on going aboard shall be assigned places in lifeboats."

This means that a passenger excursion boat on the lakes with a capacity of 2,000 people must carry not less than 67 lifeboats—taking a lifeboat with capacity of 30 people as the basis of reckoning.

That the law will be carried speed

DR. WM. DE KLEINE SAYS GIRL CAME TO HIS OFFICE FOUR DAYS BEFORE TRAGEDY

She Worked as Domestic for Munger Family of Kansas City; Allegan Authorities May Investigate

"I feel sure that I know the identity of the girl who was found dead on the beach near Castle Park last summer," said Dr. William DeKleine of Grand Haven Monday. "I cannot recall her name but I am sure that if the Allegan authorities will get into communication with the Munger family in Kansas City, they can easily learn the name of the girl, where she came from, etc."

Dr. De Kleine and family spent Sunday with relatives in Holland. During the course of the visit the subject of the mystery that surrounds the death of the girl was brought up. That recalled to the Grand Haven's mind that a girl who somewhat answered to the description of the dead girl had visited his office four days before the body was found. As a matter of curiosity he called at police headquarters Monday and had the chief show him the photograph of the girl taken at the undertaking establishment in Graafschap. As soon as he saw the picture, Dr. De Kleine made up his mind that the dead girl was the same one who had visited his office shortly before the tragedy and who had for some time been engaged as domestic in the family of the Mungers at their summer home in Grand Haven. He had often seen her as he had visited the Munger family and when she came to his office he had an opportunity to get a good impression of what she looked like.

"Mr. Munger is a prominent dry goods merchant in Kansas City," said Dr. De Kleine in telling the story that morning. "I know the family well. The girl was employed there as a domestic, but for some reason or other, which I did not take the trouble to learn, she lost her position. Since I had visited the family often, the girl came to my office and asked me to help her find another position. She said she was without a cent and she needed work of some kind. I did what I could for her and directed her to several places where she would be liable to find employment. She gave me her name but it has slipped my mind. She was downhearted and cried considerably while in my office. She said she was as good as alone in the world, for although her parents were living the yid not know where she was. I received the impression that she had left home and was not anxious to have her relatives know of her whereabouts."

"This was four days before the body of a girl was found on the beach at the Castle. When I read of it in the papers it struck me that that might be the same girl. But other matters intervened and I did not get an opportunity to see the photograph till Sunday. But now I am convinced the dead girl and the girl who came to my office were the same."

Dr. De Kleine is willing to give the Allegan county officials all the information he has in regard to the matter if they wish to make an effort to establish the identity of the girl.

MAN WHO WILL SPEAK HERE TURNS DOWN $125,000 OFFER

The star number of the Hope College Lecture course this year is an address by former Gov. Herbert S. Hadley. He will appear here some time during the winter, the date not yet having been decided upon. Mr. Hadley has just been offered a position carrying with it a salary of $125,000, but rather than leave the state of Missouri, he has declined it. The story of the offer is told in the following dispatch:

Jefferson City, Mo., Oct. 27.—Rather than give up his residence in Missouri and become a citizen of Chicago, ex-Gov. Herbert S. Hadley will not accept a $125,000 offer. This sum has been offered to him to represent the railway system of the Mississippi for the next five years, before the interstate commerce commission in the commission's work of fixing a physical valuation upon railroads.

"I do not intend to give up my citizenship in Missouri," Mr. Hadley says. "If it comes to the point where I must either surrender my citizenship in Missouri or the offer from the railroads, I will forego the latter and still live in Missouri."

HAD A GOOD TIME SATURDAY AT VIRGINIA PARK

The members and friends of class "Loyalty" of the M. E. Sunday School held their monthly social and business meeting at Virginia Park, Saturday afternoon and evening. Two adjoining cottages were used. A six o'clock dinner was served in one; covers were laid for 37. The tables were appropriately decorated for the Halloween season. The business session was held immediately after dinner. At the close of the session two ghosts led the guests to the adjoining cottage where a very enjoyable evening was spent. These rooms were artistically decorated with autumn leaves, cornstalks and jack-o'-lanterns.

STATE SUPERINTENDENT WRITES LETTER OF WARNING TO SCHOOL COMMISSIONERS

County School Commissioner N. R. Stanton has received the following letter from State Superintendent L. L. Wright, written just before Mr. Wright left that office:

Lansing, Oct. 1913.

To County Commissioners of Schools:

We have several letters from different counties in regard to a man by the name of H. T. Sherritt of Syracuse, N. Y., and his representations about a set of books called "The Book of Knowledge." It appears that this man claims to represent this Department, saying in one place that we have placed the books on our approved library list and again, that the boards must buy the books because they include required work in agriculture. I want to warn commissioners against this man and his representations, and suggest that district officers be warned also against him. He has secured orders in a number of places upon the false representations he has made.

Very truly yours,

L. L. WRIGHT.

RECEIPTS OF DEPARTMENT AT HOLLAND BID FAIR TO RAISE CLASSIFICATION TO FIRST

Holland has good prospects of becoming a first class city when the present year in the postoffice department closes on March 31. The gross receipts in the postoffice during the preceding year exceeded $37,000 and if the rate of increase during the first six months over the corresponding period of the preceding year is maintained the gross receipts at the close of the present year will have exceeded the required $40,000.

The Holland postoffice has shown a remarkable growth since the inauguration of the free delivery service here nearly sixteen years ago. At that time the gross receipts were a little more than $10,000 and if the $40,000 goal is reached by April 1, 1914, the total receipts will have nearly quadrupled.

Sixteen years ago the working force numbered two clerks and four city carriers. This number has since been increased to seven clerks, eight city carriers, twelve rural carriers, one parcel post carrier, one special delivery and three substitutes.

ALLEGAN MAN WAS IMPATIENT AND TRIED TO WAKE UP SON

A very well known farmer living near Allegan, one seen often here and who has lots of friends, had a painful experience one day last week which was not related until several days afterward. He has a son who is suspected of being lazy, and when called in the morning usually answers "Yes, Sir," and goes back to sleep. Last week Wednesday, the father had special need of the help of the young man and called him. The "Yes, sir" came back all right, but there was no sound like hurried dressing, so daddy slipped up the stairs, quietly went into the son's room, hurriedly threw back the bedding at the foot and proceeded to give the person in the bed a good spanking. It happened that the night before the hired girl had been given the boy's room. The tumult was frightful while it lasted, and daddy hid in the barn two hours until order was restored. Then he apologized, explained, begged pardon, giggled a little, scolded the boy, etc. Several of his friends hastened to offer condolence.—Allegan Gazette.

VAUDIE VANDEN BERG ENJOYS FAREWELL FISHING PARTY SO MUCH HE DECIDED TO REMAIN.

What is thought to be by far the largest catch of perch of the season was brought in Thursday by Java Verschure, Vaudie Vanden Berg, Harry (Parker) Nies and Ed Fischer. They went out near the channel at Macatawa Park early in the morning, fishing from Fischer's boat and returned in the afternoon with close to six hundred good sized Lake Michigan perch.

Although the story sounds fishie they brought home enough fish to supply all their friends and the people who saw the fish when first brot in were willing to swear to it that there was 1000 of them.

This was to have been a farewell fishing party for Mr. Vanden Berg who expected to return to his winter quarters in Texas, Saturday. But now he has decided to stay here a little longer so he can participate in another fishing party.

THE TEACHER MARKET

They have just discovered what a teacher is worth down south. In one state where they rent out convicts to contractors, they charge $400 a year for a convict. In the same state they pay teachers on an average $300. In one southern city that thinks it is very progressive, certain primary teachers get less than the elevator boy in the city hall, and even in New York the street sweepers are better paid than some of the teachers. And yet the public is constantly giving teachers more and more of the responsibility of parents. If we are going to make the teacher an instructor in hygiene, a moral overseer, an example of manners and conduct, and a few other things, we should not expect too much for our money.

BOTTLE EXPLODES IN CLASS

Gases Mix, Teacher Strikes Match, Bang! Three Are Injured

Grand Haven, Oct. 29.—While instructing the class in chemistry, Dwight C. Carpenter allowed some oxygen to get into a bottle which had been used in the hydrogen experiments and still contained a quantity of the gas. The mixture of the two is highly explosive, and when he struck a match to the opening of the bottle, an explosion occurred, which threw the glass all over the room and could be heard all through the school.

Fragments of the flying glass struck Carpenter, Florence Cleveland and Mainland Robinson, but inflicted only slight incisions, which were easily repaired with court plaster. The hydrogen gas had been left in the tube by some students who were using it a short time before.

CURTAIN OF MYSTERY

SHROUDS FACTS
Puzzling Circumstances Make Solution of Puzzle Seem Far Away
Every Effort Will Be Made To Clear Up Mystery

While all indications in the circumstances connected with the death of Zelma Atwood at Georgetown, there are still a number of unexplained points in the stories of the witnesses at the inquest. Mrs. Atwood left the home of her mother, Mrs. Lowing, Tuesday night was stormy and pitch dark. The darkness of the night throws a shadow of doubt over the whole affair.

In the first place, Zelma's note to Maurice Atwood, the husband to whom she had been married for two years, and had never told anyone of the fact, was found in the feed box in the Atwood barn. The rope with which her body was suspended from the tree in the woods, was taken from the Atwood barn. Both of the Atwood boys declared that there was no question about it being their rope. Both of the Atwoods testified that Zelma had never to their knowledge been in their barn, and did not know anything about the interior.

Now the proposition which the officers would like to clear up, is the manner in which Zelma Atwood found her way into the barn, how she knew where to find the rope, which lay over a cutter near the feed box, in which the note was found. They would also like to find an explanation as to how Zelma Atwood found her way through the woods in the inky blackness of the night, to a tree which was most perfectly suited for the hanging. They would like to know further, how Zelma Atwood, could have possibly tied the knots in the rope about the limbs of the tree and about her neck. They were knots which no one on the jury or present at the inquest could tie, and it seemed impossible that they were tied by a woman and especially in the darkness.

The circumstances very naturally threw the burden of suspicion toward the Atwoods but both of these men were so absolutely frank in their statements as to rather set at naught any belief of their guilt. They claimed the rope with which the woman was suspended, and they declared that the piece of wood found under the tree on which she was hung had come from their wood pile. They seemed to be hiding nothing and were apparently willing to throw all of the light possible upon the mystery.

There was only one point upon which the Atwoods seemed to be in the hole at all according to the understanding of the testimony at the inquest gained by the officers, and that was the claim that Maurice Atwood's brother had told people in Bauer, on the day the body had been found, that Zelma's body had been hanging to the tree by one of their ropes. Upon questioning Atwood, the man replied that he didn't know why he had made that remark as he wasn't at all sure at that time about the rope.

The inquest brought out the fact that Zelma and Maurice Atwood had been married two years ago, but neither the woman nor her husband had told anyone about it with the exception of Zelma's mother. Tuesday according to the mother's story, Zelma has informed her that she and Maurice were going to Grand Rapids, to have another marriage ceremony performed, one that could be made public, and after which she could live with Atwood. She put on her best clothing and packed her trunk. When she was found hanging in the woods she wore her hat and the clothing which she wore when she left the house Tuesday night. Her hands were covered by black gloves.

According to Maurice Atwood's story there was no such arrangement between himself and Zelma.

The notes which were found, were without doubt in the girl's handwriting, and this only adds to the mystery.

BLUE AND GOLD CRUSHED

HOLLAND
Grand Haven High School Battle To Victory In Big Game Saturday
Straight Foot Ball Won For The Locals

Grand Haven Tribune.—With a crushing and determined attack in the latter part of the game Saturday, the Grand Haven high school team battered down the game defense of Holland high, and won the annual game by the score of 19 to 3. Holland's only score came in the second quarter, when through a failure to punt at the right time, Holland secured the ball inside of the locals' twenty-five yard line. After several unsuccessful attempts to negotiate territory, Holland formed for a kick and Bosman put the pigskin just over the bar, by a lucky kick. Grand Haven scored her three touchdowns on straight football, with an attack, which fairly crumpled the Holland line at times.

The biggest crowd that has attended a high school foot ball game in years, were lined up along the field when time was called. The new grid iron, which had been rolled shortly before the game, was in fine shape, without a rough spot in it. There was no breeze and the playing conditions were equal. Grand Haven won the toss, and chose the south goal. Holland kicked off, and Grand Haven received the ball and the play swept back and forth over the field furiously. Holland had slightly the best of the argument at the beginning, and made desperate efforts to get the jump on the locals. The blue and gold got into several tight places, but was able to hold the straight foot ball attack of the Hollanders, and the forward passes for which the visitors are famed, went wrong. Early in the game, with the ball on the local fifteen yard line, the blue and gold made a bad mistake in generalship. Instead of punting out of danger, the locals tried line plunges, and disaster followed. Holland secured the ball on fumble, almost under the shadow of the local goal.

The blue and gold line held, and by hard gruelling work and good luck, the locals worked the ball out, when a forward pass, Robinson to Miller sent the battle far down into Holland's territory. The first quarter ended, with neither side scoring. The first score came in the second quarter, when Grand Haven again failed to take advantage of the opportunity to punt out of danger. When the attempt was made, the ball went outside hardly twenty-five yards away from the goal line. It was Holland's only chance in that quarter, and after desperately trying to break through, Bosman negotiated a goal scoring the first score of the game. Holland 3, Grand Haven 0.

Then began one of most desperate attacks ever seen on a local field. All attempts at the new game was abandoned by the locals, and only straight foot ball was used. McKay, Miller, Robinson, Colson and Nyland pounded into the Holland defense, with a desperation which threatened to tear the visiting defense to pieces. Holland replied in kind, and just as desperately fought back the onslaught. Captain Robinson, bruised and exhausted from the attack, was taken out.

This made shift necessary in the local line calling in Glerum from end to quarter, where the little player put up a star game the rest of the contest. With the lineup badly shot to pieces, the hopes of the Grand Haven rooters went down. Not so with the team, however, for handicapped as they were, they settled down to an even more desperate battle. Near the end of the second quarter Grand Haven had pounded its way bit by bit to within five yards of the Holland goal. Time was nearly up and Mackay was given the ball. With the Holland men falling before him he burst across the line for Grand Haven's first score. Grand Haven, 6; Holland 3. No goal was kicked.

The battle was resumed at the very start off of the third quarter, but Grand Haven's superiority was becoming evident. The second blue and gold score came in a most sensational manner. Miller took the ball around the end, twisting and wriggling away from his tacklers, and beautifully protected through the first line of defense, sprinted forty yards through the broken field for the second touch down of the game. Grand Haven 12, Holland 3. Miller negotiated the next touch down also by piling through the line in the fourth quarter, and added one more by kicking the goal. Grand Haven 19; Holland 3. The blue and gold came within a narrow margin of securing another touchdown toward the end of the quarter, when McKay heaved a forward pass to Miller, behind the line. So fiercely was the tackle, however, that the local back lost the ball. Holland attempted to open up some of the famous passes which were so much feared by the locals but while a number of them succeeded in negotiating territory, many of them were failures being blocked.

Grand Haven tried but three passes, only one of them being successful. Straight foot ball was the most telling line of attack used, and had a little more generalship been used in the early moments of the game, when punting would have saved a lot of hard work for the locals, the score might have been larger.

The game finished in the darkness with the ball in Holland's possession. It was a fast, clean contest, full of fire and ginger, and free from wrangling or unsportsmanlike conduct.

Holland sent down a big bunch of local rooters who occupied the east side of the field. Grand Haven's blue and gold bedecked followers, lined the west side, and the cheers were exchanged with real school spirit. One of the features of the rooting section was the presence of about thirty members of Company F who gave the local high school players the heartiest support, from first to last.

Summary of the game:

Grand Haven: Morton, center; Holtrop and Lock, guards; Nyland and Colson, tackles; Gordon and Glerum ends; Cook, quarter; Miller and Robinson, half backs; McKay full back.
