WILL PROHIBITION Cost You YOUR JOB?

What Will Michigan Do with Her Jobless Men if Prohibition Carries?

Without BOOZE which has kept them JOBLESS for years, they will go back to work in the factories, where they are needed, where they can earn a fair wage, where they can support the families with the money they have before passed over the bars, when they did have work.

Those made jobless by Prohibition will soon find jobs and not at reduced wages either. The men who are now earning their living in the breweries, must be good workman or they couldn't hold their jobs, even in a wet industry. GOOD MEN ARE IN DEMAND NOW IN LINES OF WORK WHICH PAY MORE MONEY IN WAGES THAN THE BREWERIES PAY.

No high class saloon will hire a BARTENDER WHO DRINKS. If a man can handle liquor six days a week and not be tempted to drink it, he has the first qualifications for a job which has responsibility behind it. He can find a job somewhere, which will pay him more money. He can find a place where he will work shorter hours, where he won't have to stand behind the polished mahogany all day, and take the nasty jibes, and hear the maudlin troubles of people he doesn't care about. He can quit his work at six o'clock, under Prohibition and go home with his head high, and his mind clear of revolting impressions of his day's work.

Did you ever notice a clean, clear-eyed young chap behind a bar, and did you ever consider what that chap's ability would get him in a REAL WORTH WHILE JOB.

Voting Men of Michigan, here's a question? Which has the longest list of Jobless Men,—Whiskey or Prohibition? WHISKEY, with the kick that has kicked more men out of good jobs than anything else on earth.

If you want to help somebody into a Job instead of out of it,

HOLLAND BOY GETS FINE EDITORIAL IN HERALD

IS SON OF THE LATE MARIUS MULDER, CALLED "COFFEE" BY PAIS.

Below is an editorial recently appearing in the Grand Rapids Herald and is of especial interest to Holland. The "Doc" Mulder mentioned is a son of the late Marius Mulder and brother to John Mulder, head carpenter at the Cappon-Bertsch Leather Co.

His pals always called him "Coffee" as a nickname. He formerly worked on the dredge "General Meade", when he was taken with appendicitis and was brought to a hospital in Chicago. While at the hospital he became interested in hospital work and the life of a physician. When he was relieved he began studying medicine. How he is getting along is shown plainly in the editorial and his stick-to-it-iveness could safely be emulated by many a Holland boy.

"DOC" MULDER
We are watching the foot ball scores of Northwestern University with unusual interest this season. Especially is our interest centered in a husky fellow who alternates at right guard on the Northwestern eleven. "Doc" Mulder they call him on the gridiron. This is his first year in foot ball. He couldn't play last season because his duties at the coast guard station where he was earning his way as a surfman kept him busy. Last spring the government discharged all the student life savers, and "Doc" was forced to hustle for new employment.

Here's his daily schedule now: Rises at 3 a. m. and shovels coal at the University heating plant until 6. Hustles over to the Phi Delta Theta house, where he is steward, and arranges for the meals and buying of the day. After breakfast he attends classes until 3:30 in the afternoon, when reports for football practice. After dinner he has another football practice in the gymnasium, shovels some more coal and then free to study.

Something tells us "Doc" Mulder is going to be a star in foot ball, and our guess is that when he is graduated from Northwestern into the melee of life he also will play a winning game, hitting hard and holding tight to the pigskin until he plants it safely behind the goal that is success.

LOST, STRAYED OR STOLEN—3 GUINEAS

NOT COIN, BUT FAR MORE PRECIOUS, MAINTAINS "LUTE" HOFFMAN.

At least one Hallowe'en prank as been brought to light in this vicinity. It may have been quiet for the majority but not for Louis Hoffman's experience. No sire-ree!

"Lute" had three of the prettiest, cunningest and most intelligent appearing guinea hens that ever laid an egg. They lived right with him, he tells his sympathetic listener, with his finger crooked in the sympathizer's button hole, and daily he conversed with them. They never failed to advise him in matters of importance.

Then somebody "got next" and, on Hallowe'en, got in. That's where Lute begins to stutter about it. They snatched his hens right from under his nose. "Jus" took 'em outright. Yes, sir! Took 'em outright, an' I hain't see'd 'em since." "Yes this happened on 'Hallelujah' night."

And he's been looking up and down River Avenue for the feathered pets ever since.

The report of the Chief of Police shows that an even 20 drunks were juggled for being too deeply in their cups. One deserted his wife, one man smite another and was arrested, fogs were disorderly, one was arrested for violating the vehicle ordinance, one for vagrancy and one for bastardy. Received from the Boards of Supervisors the sum of $421.75. This amount is heavy this month as it includes the expenses of Officer O'Connor on his trip to California to take back a wife deserter. There were six night lodgers this month, lights were out in two places of business, and six business men forgot to close their places of business making them easy prey to burglars.

PURGING BLACK LAKE TO COST $100,000

THEREFORE IMPRACTICABLE, DECIDES COMMITTEE, BUT WILL SEEK TO IMPROVE SITUATION

Friction Over Roof Drain for Thompson Manufacturing Company; Extend 24th Street Pavement.

A breezy little council meeting was held last night in the Council Chamber in true business style, the routine of the evening being gone thru with despatch. Two important matters occasioned sharp discussions,—the disposal of the Thompson factory's roof water and the purging of Tannery Creek, Black Lake and several other streams.

"I have been trying to convince Manager Louis Vanden Berg of the Thompson Manufacturing Company that the improvement as ordered by the Council, the installation of a roof drain on the plant, must be done at once. He is greatly disturbed whenever the subject is mentioned. The City Clerk has sent him a written notice of the Council's resolution four times. Nothing has been done," said City Attorney Charles Mc Bride, in introducing the friction.

"He claims the water that floods the neighbor's yard, whose complaint occasioned the resolution for the improvement, does not come from the factory roof. His argument is that water does not run up hill, and the yard is higher than the ground surrounding the plant."

Alderman Brink, as one of the investigators, was called on. "His argument that water doesn't run up hill is right, but against him. The sidewalk there blocks off the street and there is no other possible source for the flood than the factory roof."

The discussion became general till it was decided that in the pursuit of justice the same committee would again investigate and this time have Manager Vanden Berg present.

The cleansing and purifying of Tannery Creek and Black Lake, bordering the city, referred to a special committee when a petition was submitted some time ago with the signatures of every doctor in the city numbered among hundreds of private citizens, was reported upon by Ald. Congleton as chairman.

"Progress," was his message. Ald. Drinkwater, who has taken upon himself the championing of the improvement, became angered at this and demanded of Congleton whether this "progress" would go on forever with nothing done. "Why not report its impracticability or recommend it and be thru!" he shouted.

Congleton's reply was a soft answer that turned away wrath. "We, the committee, the Mayor, the City Attorney, the City Engineer and a half-dozen other interested individuals, had a strenuous meeting the other day that held a four-hour wrestling match with the problem. The proposed purging would involve a sum of from $75,000 to $100,000. But instead of dropping it entirely, we want to thrash it out and do something. This will take time. We want to improve the situation." That was enough.

John A. Vander Veen in a written communication asked the council for the reimbursement of $73.19 as a tax levied four years ago on money he had received from the sale of lots to the city for the site of a new high school. He claims that he did not have the proceeds of sale at the time it was assessed and that the City Assessor took advantage of the knowledge of the sale to tax him. This grievance is an old one and has appeared before the council before. With two dissenting votes, Ald. Prins and Wiersema, the communication was filed.

John Weersing, real estate dealer, as agent for the property owners at 400 and 404 Columbia Avenue, asked for an investigation of the order that these two homes be connected with the sewer under the compulsory sewer ordinance. No sewer on Columbia Avenue means that they must connect on 17th street, and as the property owner between them and the corner, H. Hidding, will not allow them to cut through his yard, they are helpless. The Committee on Sewers, Drains and Watercourses was told to investigate.

That 24th street, between Central and College Aves., past the residences of Prof. A. Raap and Henry Luidens and others, be paved with asphalt, the same as is being planned for east of College avenue, was the prayer of a petition of those property owners. The City Engineer was instructed to include this block in his plans and estimate of cost.

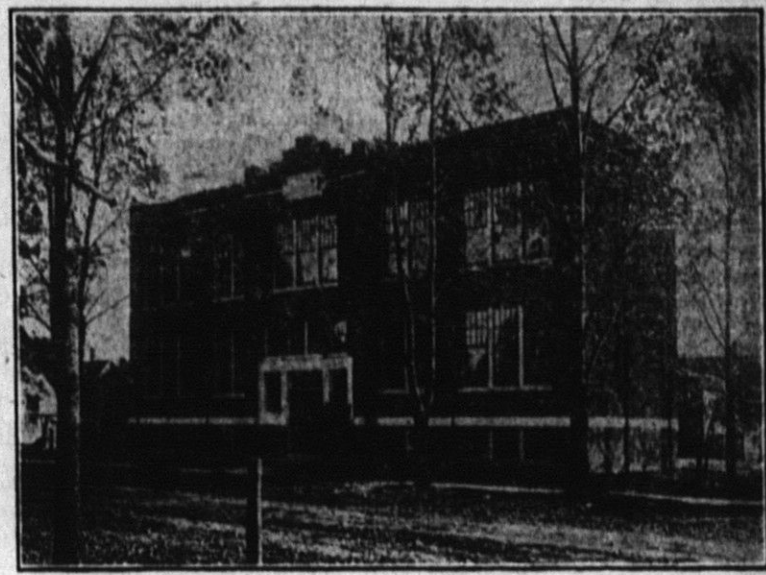

The appointment of election inspectors was as follows: 1st ward, M. A. Sooy; 2nd, Albert Curtis; 3rd, Gerrit De Vries; 4th, C. Van Dyke; 5th, John Luidens; 6th, Herman Steggerda.

A Fifth Ward property owner, living near Michigan Avenue and River avenue's junction, asked the council if the creek that drains that part of the town is not to be cleaned by the city as in the past. Up to the past two years it has been kept deep and free of obstructions. Now a storm means a flood for their basements. The Committees on Sewers, Drains and Water Courses will look into the matter.

A light for East 17th street near the Bolhuis Lumber and Manufacturing Co., was petitioned for by that firm. The committee will investigate.

Gerrit Vander Hill of West 19th St. asked to come under the compulsory sewer ordinance. The amount involved is $119. It was granted.

A meeting of the Street Committee with City Engineer and the Mayor present, as Mayor Vandersluijs could not be there, was asked by Ald. Congleton for immediately after the Council meeting.

The committee on Claims and Accounts reported $3,546.17 in certified claims. It was accepted.

The Poor Committee reported, via Ald. Prins, that $76 was spent in the past two weeks.

A light for 19th street near the old ball grounds between College and Columbia was asked from the council by Ald. Postma. The committee will investigate.

The Board bills were accepted without comment.

The removal of the telephone poles on West 18th street, discussed before, was reported as not necessary by Ald. Congleton after an investigation by Ald. Postma, the City Engineer and himself.

The mayor asked what had been done about getting gas in the Fifth and Sixth wards, a special committee having been appointed. He was then started to find that he was chairman and hastily reported progress. It is on the way for the south enders.

On motion of Ald. Wiersema, the action of the council some time ago in authorizing the sale of the Thornton lots on east Eighth street to the Holland Ladder company was rescinded. The company did not use these lots but built on 19th street near the Pere Marquette tracks.

FIND MAN IN EMPTY VINEGAR VAT AT BENTON HARBOR

BODY OF VETERAN EMPLOYEE OF ROBINSON PLANT FOUND AFTER SEARCH

Benton Harbor, Nov. 2.—Overcome from gas fumes arising from an empty vat at the Robinson cider and vinegar plant, John J. Ennis, 54 years old, a veteran employe, was found dead inside the giant tank after a search of 16 hours to locate him. Discovery was made by the police and friends on the part of the police and friends had failed to disclose his whereabouts. Ennis was foreman of the plant. He was last seen about to leave at 5:30 o'clock in the evening, but after all other employes had gone he is thought to have re-entered the factory. It is supposed he entered the empty vat and was in the act of inspecting it preparatory to use when overcome by the fumes.

WHO'S WHO AT DEMOCRATIC MEETING

A NEW CRIME—SOCIALIST STEAL CROWD OF LABORERS

The Socialistic platform is at least commendable in that it embraces "grab the opportunity." That is, the Republicans of Holland are gleefully relating its results to each other accompanied by playful "jibs in the ribs," but the Democrats of Holland are unalterably opposed to every plank in its platform more than ever.

"There's a reason." On his arrival in the city shortly after 12 o'clock this noon, Earl Moore, the candidate of the Socialists for the gubernatorial chair, found quite a crowd of laboring men assembled along the sidewalk near the Holland Furniture factory, opposite his party's headquarters. Asking no questions, he mounted the emblematic soap-box and waded in.

A few minutes later two active "Dummies" was astonished. Nelson Pyle of this city and Att. Misner of Grand Haven had arrived to hold the political meeting that had served to draw the crowd, but found an earlier bird had taken the worm.

At a respectable distance from the gesturing candidate of the Morning world, Mr. Pyle resorted to every known method of drawing a crowd, from clapping his hands down to staging a series of acrobatic stunts that today have rendered him inflexible. But the crowd stuck.

Manager E. P. Stephan of the Holland, when appealed to by the Dummies offered the office steps for a platform and would have invited them inside if the weather had been inclement. But the would-be speakers were not enjoying the weather.

Finally Att. Misner, introduced by Nelson Pyle as a curtain raiser, began a brilliant argument with the telephone pole on the other side of the walk. A few of the curious on the outskirts of the Socialist's crowd wandered over to see what was wrong with the world, and then went back with a smile to the saving of the country via the Earl Moore route.

That was the sight that was terminated by the 1 o'clock whistle. It offered a fine chance for comparison of the two platforms, both soap-box and cement steps and principles, the soap box proving the magnet. A thin stream of voters kept moving between the two elevated politicians. Then the whistle blew.

The two Democrats are satisfied that advertising pays—somebody.

HIGH SCORES AT SHOOT WERE COMMON

All Rebekas are requested to attend the special meeting Friday, November 3, at 3 p. m. at the Hall by order of the Noble Grand, Georgia Yore.

The third shoot of the Rifle club showed still greater improvement in scores, those who have previously shown but small counts to their credit working up on the heels of the one-time leaders.

M. Vander Bie, master of the range, could not be denied this time, however. With a total of 48 points made from the 200 and 300 yard stakes, he heads the list. Charles Van Zylene with 47 presses him hard. Dick Homkes, also with 47, is at his side. The next runner is C. J. Dornbos with 43.

The weather was favorable for a record shoot and the results were made under conditions about as well as can be realized on the present range.

The practice of holding elections in the different wards of the city will be discontinued. A new ordinance calling for one centrally located polling station will go into effect at the regular fall election. The city hall on Main street has been selected by the council as the place where elections will be held hereafter. Formerly the second floor of Butler's store on the corner of Main St. and Elm street was the place where the elections were held in the second ward. CRISP

The Record is pleased to note that Mrs. Frank Brouwer of Crisp is able to walk about her house and door yard again without assistance and her condition is improving rapidly. Mrs. Brouwer had the misfortune of falling down a flight of steps into the cellar at her home one day in September of last year, slightly injuring her back but gave it little concern. About two weeks later paralysis of the limbs set in and within a few days she was paralyzed from the hips down. She was not able to stand up on her feet at all and it became necessary to carry her about from bed to chair, being completely helpless in walking. She sought relief from a doctor, but her condition gradually became more serious and the attending physician pronounced her case a hopeless one. She finally concluded to resort to spinal adjustments and summoned John De Jonge, the local chiropractor, for treatments. His adjustments commenced last February and from the beginning the patient began to improve. The adjustments were continued regularly to this time with the result as above stated. Mrs. Brouwer ascribes her improved condition entirely to chiropractic adjustments as administered by Mr. De Jonge and is overjoyed at the results, informing us that she will be pleased to have us refer those interested in this work to her directly so they can procure the information at first hand. Mrs. Brouwer and her relatives and friends are anticipating her complete recovery, and the time when she will again have the full use of her limbs is believed to be not far distant.

ANNUAL MEETING OF FAIR POSTPONED

WILL BE HELD FRIDAY AFTERNOON, NOVEMBER 10, AT 2 O'CLOCK SHARP

There is so much doing to divide the citizens of Holland at this time, owing to the great election to be held on November 7, that the Fair directors have decided to postpone the annual fair meeting from Saturday, November 4, to Friday afternoon, Nov. 10 at two o'clock sharp in the City Hall.

The men back of the fair feel that they want the undivided attention of every business man in Holland and in fact every citizen in Holland, and for that reason the fair meeting will be held when the decks are clear of all other things that are now holding their attention.

Keep this day in mind—Friday, Nov. 10, at 2 o'clock sharp in the afternoon at the city hall, with every one interested in the fair invited.

By attending the meeting the directors will not alone be benefited by your suggestions but you can also become a member of the Fair association. This membership has been depleted through lack of interest taken by individuals whose support the fair association deserves.

THREE PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATES CAME TO HOLLAND

HUGHES IS FOURTH PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATE TO COME TO MICHIGAN.

Justice Hughes is the fourth candidate of one or the other of the two leading political parties for president in 44 years who delivered speeches in Michigan after their nomination. Horace Greeley spoke in Michigan when he was the nominee of the democrats and liberal republicans in 1872. James G. Blaine toured Michigan with a special train in 1884, and William Jennings Bryan did likewise in 1896. William McKinley spoke in Michigan shortly prior to his nomination the same year, but when nominated delivered his addresses in his home Ohio city of Canton only. His addresses were many and were to delegations from all parts of the country that the national campaign managers arranged to go to Canton. Col. Roosevelt, when the nominee for vice president in 1900 toured Michigan in a special train.

Of these candidates, three visited in Holland. William Jennings Bryan spoke from head of Twelfth street where left his special train and stepped on George P. Hummer's big furniture van, decorated for the occasion. This was early in the morning.

James G. Blaine spoke from the rear end of his special at the C. & W. M. depot on East Eighth street and at that time all the republican marching clubs of Zeeland, Grand Haven and Holland, with bands were at the depot to meet him. This was at 10 o'clock in the morning.

Col. Roosevelt, as candidate for vice president spoke at Centennial Park in the afternoon and the whole town turned loose to hear him. He delighted the Hollanders by giving a selection in the Dutch language as follows:

Trippje Trippje Troontjes
De Varkens in de boontjes
De koetjes in de klaver
De Paardjes in de Haver.

This showed conclusively that he was a Hollander and the Dutch were satisfied and hurraed for "Teddy" until they were black in the face.

LOCAL BOY HAS NARROW ESCAPE FROM WATERY GRAVE

HARRY ORR, THE YOUNG SAILOR, WAS NEAR FILER WHEN IT WENT DOWN.

Harry Orr, son of William H. Orr of the Citizens Telephone Co., has had some narrow escapes in his short career as a sailor lad. Harry takes to the lakes as a "duck does to water".

Some years ago his first adventure came when he, with his father, took the "Idella" down the Mississippi as far as New Orleans. While on the trip the young man was left alone with the boat for a short time along the way, when a ras explosion occurred and in his attempt to quell the flames, was severely burned. The "Idella" was burned to the water's edge on the Mississippi and the crew came home by rail.

When the old "Soo City" of the Graham & Morton line, was sold to Eastern parties, Harry Orr had made arrangements with the chief engineer to go East with her and sail on salt water for the season. For some unaccountable reason he wired the ship authorities a few hours before the boat sailed that he would not ship with her.

The old "Soo" left by way of the St. Lawrence river and on its first trip disappeared and nothing has ever been heard of ship and her crew to this day.

Last week the "Mecosta" on which Harry Orr is sailing at the present time left the Soo Locks at the same time with the Merida, in fact they were locked together thru the Soo. They sailed all that day and the next day close together down Lake Huron to Lake Erie, when the great storm came, and the boats got separated.

The "Mecosta" sailed for Toledo after riding a 24-hour blow in one of the most severe storms ever weathered by that ship and reached that port in a dilapidated condition with a great deal of her upper works gone. When they arrived in Toledo they heard that the "Merida" had gone down, with all on board.

The "Mecosta" crew also sighted the Filer two hours before it went down. The Filer was bound for Saugatuck with a load of coal and the Captain, Mr. John Mattison, was saved from the rigging after hanging on for twelve hours.

The parents of Harry are bound to get him from the lakes, back to Holland, and most likely next season the young man will be found in the garage on Seventh street in which Mr. Orr is interested.

DIZZY, FALLS FROM CAR; BADLY GASHED

M. SCHIPPERS SWAYS FROM STEP OF MOVING INTERURBAN WITH SERIOUS RESULTS

Falling from a moving interurban car late Monday afternoon resulted in a badly gashed head and bruised shoulder for Mr. M. Schippers of 144 West 13th street. His condition is not considered serious today.

Schippers was returning from the business district on the car when he suddenly noticed that he was passing his corner, Maple and 13th street. He rushed to the rear platform and as the car slowed up for him, he was taken with a dizzy spell and fell from the steps.

The injured man recently left the Edgewater hospital where he underwent an operation. His weakened condition is thought to have caused the accident.

CONCRETE ROAD FROM CITY TO MACATAWA

MAY PUSH ROAD THRU TO LIFE SAVING STATION IF POSSIBLE

It has just come to light that the Lake Shore drive on the south side of the bay will be extended from George Heneveld's store at Central Park where the beautiful stone road, half way to Macatawa ends, with either a cement or a macadam drive 16 feet wide.

The drive from Central Park to Macatawa has been in a deplorable condition, in fact nearly impassable at times. The township road master has made repairs after repairs; the county has aided time and again but the auto traffic is so heavy to the resorts that nothing but a substantial road that can withstand the heaviest wear has now been thought of.

County Road Commissioner Austin Harrington, Dr. Preston Scott and several others including many of the property owners along the Park Road are pushing the new project, that has every indication of succeeding.

The road will be secured by means of the Covert act, a federal law which demands that a road be built provided the signatures of 51 per cent of property owners owning frontage along the road sign in favor of it.

It is said that Dr. Scott who is now around with a petition has already secured owners on the list. Part of the expense is borne by the property owners whose property abutts the road, but also those whose property adjoin for a certain distance and are benefitted by virtue of the road.

Twenty-five per cent is also borne by the county. It is estimated that the road will cost between $8,000 and $10,000 per mile and the state will give an award of a certain sum, possibly about $1,800 per mile when the road is completed and found up to the standard.

It is said that with 25% being paid by the county and the award from the state, and the special assessment being borne by several property owners abutting and adjoining, that the amount on the individual will be rather small and besides the property owners will have ten years to pay it in which will more than be paid back to them owing to the improvement to their property and the convenience of getting to it.

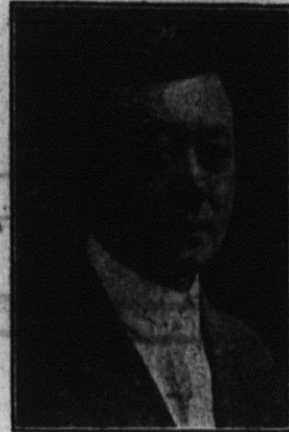

The plans are to put the road thru Macatawa Park as far as the Coast Guards' station.

One thing is certain, and that is, that a road commensurate to the fast growing automobile service is highly necessary and it is only a matter of a short time that the present road will become so cut up that it will be a "forced put" when the road will have to be built.

Judging from the enthusiasm of the property owners along the unimproved part of the Park road, and those back of the project it seems that the enterprise is a sure go.

DIRECTOR JOHN VANDERSLUIS THANKS CROWD OF SINGERS TO MAKE NAME FOR HOLLAND

Greatest Gathering of Voices Ever Attempted in City is Ready for "Best Ever" State Meet

The most impressive chorus ever heard in the city was listened to by a large audience Monday night when the State Sunday school convention singers practiced Monday night in the Methodist Episcopal church under the direction of Mayor Vandersluis. Holland people have no estimation of the greatness of it all that will overwhelm them at the very first meeting on the evening of Wednesday, November 15. At that time, however, the chorus will have been divided and not heard in the full assembly that can be enjoyed in the rehearsals.

Taking advantage of the Mayor's invitation to attend the rehearsals, many citizens not in the chorus applauded the singing of the mighty four hundred Monday night. The final opportunity to hear the entire number will be next Monday night, the last big rehearsal.

Two weeks from last Monday night the singers will appear at either the Knickerbocker Theater or Carnegie hall at 7:30 o'clock to take their seats for the convention. Each singer is numbered. The odd numbers will take their places at the Theater and the even numbers on the campus.

On Wednesday Nov. 15, the first meeting of the convention will be opened at 7 o'clock with a song service by the chorus, each member of which must be in his or her place by five minutes to seven, without an exception.

Director John Vandersluis thanked the four hundred members of the largest chorus ever attempted in Holland for their response to the call and for the co-operation in making the 1916 meet in this city the best in the state's history. "You have done it for a higher cause," His words were met with a long round of applause. Co-operation on the best of terms between the leader and chorus was very evident.

An announcement made by Mayor Vandersluis Monday night told of the musical conference to be held in the M. E. church each afternoon of the three convention days, to be held by Prof. E. O. Sellers, Chicago. It will be an attraction not only for church choirs but for congregations, discussing and taking part in the hymn and anthem singing. It is to be a valuable educational advantage for those who will find it possible to attend in the afternoon.

HOLLAND POLICE FIND ANOTHER HUMAN FLEA

The following account of a fireman's activities has been submitted by the "Gum-Shod Nightstick" mentioned in the narrative:

An owl-eyed night Police of Holland, while patrolling his lonely beat at a late hour recently noticed the queer antics of a single chauffeur with a "Tin Lizzie" (Ford) and thinking he might be in trouble and need assistance, he (this night-stick) gumshoed his way nearer and saw at a single glance, that it was a well-known city fireman trying to make his old "Tin Liz" climb a telephone pole with only plain smooth tires. After failing in the attempt, he stopped, scratched his head and suddenly started for the engine house. After putting "Liz" in her little red garage he turns on the lights and gets a catalog of Sears Roebuck, a small concern recently organized and located in Cincinnati, who deal exclusively in specialties used by inventors and others with "lofty ideas". He turned to page 2104 in their small catalog and found tires for "Tin Lizzies" listed as "suction tires guaranteed not to slip on the smoothest surface" and as their price was very reasonable he ordered two full sets costing a total of $1,224 and with old "Lizzie" thus equipped he says that no hill is too steep nor sand too deep and to prove it he will attempt to climb the water works tower some day between now and election day, plant a prohibition flag on the top and make a "Dry" speech. He will also carry his rusty pump gun up with him and accidentally watch for ducks on the marsh.

Press agents will suddenly appear among you to announce the date the same as former "Homan Flea" Jack Williams only this is a free act and nobody will get stung.

Sears-Roebuck have very generously agreed to donate the prohibition banner used on the occasion as they figure it will be a great "Adv." for their suction tires.

The educational value of a picturization of these countries should appeal especially to parents as a very fine thing for the school children and to this end there will be a matinee performance at 3:30. Scenes of great interest and wonderful beauty such as will appeal to every one will be presented together with a generous amount of cartoon and comedy.

STATE FEDERATION REPORTS AT W. L. C.

DESCRIPTION OF THE OFFICERS' GOWNS TAKES FIRST PLACE; HOLLAND CLUB NOTED

The meeting of the Woman's Literary club on Tuesday afternoon was given over chiefly to reports from the State Federation. Mrs. Blekkink and Mrs. George Van Duren were the club's delegates and by their full and vivid reports brought the meetings at Jackson home to the club in fullness of detail. Mrs. Blekkink mentioned especially the royal welcome to the city whose slogan is "The world takes what Jackson makes;" the beautiful banquet, the addresses by Mrs. Perkins, known to the club personally, and Mrs. Upson Clark, known here by reputation; the address of Mr. Neilson, member of the English parliament.

Mrs. Van Duren first delighted the "eternal feminine" by describing the artistic gowns worn by the officers of the federation. She spoke at length on the industries of Jackson and the cordial way in which the delegates were taken through the various institutions. In the report of the proceedings proper, Mrs. Van Duren laid especial emphasis on the work the clubs of Michigan are doing for general uplift and betterment, the resolutions and reports supporting the preservation of birds, the promoting of good roads, the more effective observance of Arbor Day, the support of Prohibition and the opposition to Child Labor. Among these reports the Holland club had very special mention for its work along philanthropic, civil and moral lines.

The music was furnished by Miss Warnshuis, who played one of Beethoven's most beautiful sonatas, and Miss Anthony who sang "If I Were a Bird" and "Little House of Dreams."

At the close of the program, in a moment of solemn stillness, the president mentioned that one of the members, loved for her gracious willingness to serve, and admired for her great talents, was lingering on the edge of the dark brink between this world and the fuller life.

CHAMPION GETS POSTER OF HOLLAND PLANT

MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP FIGHT IN MINN. USES HOLLAND'S PLANT AS EXAMPLE

Former Holland Man Gives Information on a Municipal Ownership Fight.

C. H. Farnsworth, formerly of Holland and now of Albert Lea, Minn., sent to R. B. Champion, Supt. of the Board of Public Works an interesting poster that is being distributed for campaign purposes in the Minnesota city.

The voters of Albert Lea are trying to put over a municipal electric light plant and are using the municipal plant of Holland as an example. They state that they have received a report of the board of public works and the showing there given shows that Holland pays only one-half as much for light and power as do the citizens of Albert Lea.

The poster explains in detail the advantages that the city of Holland has through its joint municipal water, light and power plant. In fact the whole argument is based on Holland and its plant, which again goes to show that this city has received a great deal of favorable advertising thru this department of our city government.

This can be attributed to two things, namely, the efficiency of its superintendent and its Board of Public Works and the fact that this department has been kept out of politics, and woe to the man who would attempt to use this department of our city government for political purposes.

JUDGE EVERETT OF WAUKAZOO TELLS ABOUT SUGAR STOCK

ALSO SENDS CLIPPING TAKEN FROM CHICAGO EVENING POST.

Editor, City News:

Dear Sir:—Here is a statement from the Chicago Evening Post. It is a correct resume of the sugar situation. Sugar will sell at the factory @8c within the near future, as its rise is based on its food value. It will go up with wheat. Holland-St. Louis stock should reach 20 within a week, and as soon as the stock dividend is ordered it will climb to $25 per share, and be cheap at that.

Yours,
John C. Everett.

The clipping:
Jump in Sugar Price
Ordinarily the price of sugar goes down in the fall at the time the domestic beet crop goes on the market. This year, however, sugar declined late in the summer and started advancing again in the fall. The last few days beet sugar has gone to $7.45, New York basis, with cane quoted at $7.60 to $7.75. As it will cost the various domestic beet sugar companies under 1c a lb to make sugar this year, it will readily be seen that their profits will be large.

A few examples of the prospects of the beet sugar companies will illustrate the point. The Utah-Idaho Beet Sugar Company's output will be around 200,000,000 lbs. The net profit is expected to be 3 1/2c a lb, or $7,000,000 on a capitalization of $9,000,000. Its stock, par value $10, has recently advanced from 21 to 25. Holland-St. Louis, par $10 has gone up from 15 to 18 1/2, and German-American from 21 to 23. Great Western Sugar advanced yesterday to 425 bid and 450 asked. Of the larger companies like the America Beet and Cuban Cane, the advances have been from 20 to 30 points, and the sugar stocks are just now the most active and strongest on the New York Stock Exchange.

For next year, however, there may be a change. Farmers who raise the beets will probably insist on having a share in the prosperity, and the profits of the refiners may shrink in proportion to the extent to which they do not control their raw product.

TEMPORARY SIDE TRACK BEING LAID FOR VEIT CO.

HOLLAND INTERURBAN ENGINEER HERE TO GO OVER GROUND.

General Superintendent Morgan of the Holland Interurban, and H. D. Sanderson, the company's engineer, were in the city Wednesday morning to go over the side-track proposition that will be laid to the old Veneer Plant on 16th street.

The company is having great difficulty in getting material but intend to lay some old steel to the factory so that the company can move their machinery from Grand Rapids to Holland as soon as possible. This is only a temporary make-shift, said Mr. Morgan, in order to accommodate the Veit people so that they can get started.

The steel for the side-track has already been ordered and the side-track will be relaid when it arrives.

Abel Postma has the contract for remodeling the building and he says that the company will be ready to run not later than the first of December. It is commendable, on the part of the interurban officials to lay a temporary side-track to accommodate one of Holland's latest manufacturing institutions.

EDWIN F. SWEET CHANGES HIS MIND

WILL BE IN HOLLAND NEXT SATURDAY AFTERNOON

Edwin F. Sweet, democratic candidate for governor, has changed his mind about coming to Holland. The Democratic City Committee has been so insistent that a meeting has been scheduled in the Knickerbocker Theater for Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock when he will meet the voters.

A parade has been arranged for and the band has been hired for the occasion. This makes two parades in one day. The democrats will start promptly at 3 o'clock, while the "drys" will have a line of march going at 3:30.

Who says Holland is not waking up politically.

BOTH PARTIES ARE WARMING UP NOW

TODAY AND FRIDAY MEETINGS WILL ALSO BE HELD.

There is some "pep" being instilled into the otherwise quiet campaign in Holland. The "wet" and "dry" issue has so far over-shadowed all other issues it seems that the voters are not over excited over the great national issue. However the democrats start today on a speaking campaign thru the factory district, which up to this time is unusual, such campaigning never having been tried out here.

Yesterday noon P. J. Danhof and Mr. Jarvis, Chas. Misner and Herman Van Tongeren spoke at Lumberts, the Ottawa and the Holland Furniture factories. This noon these same men spoke at the West Michigan and the C. & B. Tannery and Friday noon the Bush & Lane Piano Co. and the Holland Furnace Co. will be the places of meeting. The Adamson eight-hour law will be the main topic of discussion.

Letter Under 250 Feet Of Water for Four Months

Thomas Wareham, aged and well known gardener of this city, has in his possession a relic that undoubtedly is not duplicated in Michigan and very possibly the Central states. It is a black-bordered envelope that went down on the wrecked "Oregon" off Fire Island in '86 with the rest of the mail and then was rescued after four months of submergence as a part of the only article saved—a single mail pouch.

On March 4, 1886, this letter was mailed to him from Parkstone, England, informing him of the death of his father. It left Queenstown on March 7 and on the 14th the steamer sunk in 250 feet of water. There the ship and its contents rested for almost four months before a diver came to the scene and started salvage work.

One trip down those 250 feet was all the diver could stand. He came up with the single mail pouch and never again attempted the rescue work. The postmaster at New York sorted out the mail from this pouch and sent it on to the marked destinations with a small label attached, telling the reason for the delay. In the meanwhile Mr. Wareham received several other communications from Parkstone and the letter no longer was of news value.

The envelope and its contents are still remarkably preserved after their long bath and are treasured by their owner, both as a reminder of his deceased father and of their unparalleled journey.

In his chapel talk Monday morning, President Vennema said there seemed to be some confusion in the minds of certain students and townspeople, and especially of people outside, as to who is responsible for the rules that have been published governing the conduct of the Freshmen at Hope.

To make the matter clear, he stated that these were rules passed by the student council and not by the Council of Hope College, and that neither President, Faculty or College Council could approve of the same.

He reminded the student body and their council of the excellent constitution under which they are supposed to operate, the preamble of which reads as follows: "We the students of Hope College, to foster the growth of a healthy College spirit, to facilitate united action and to encourage honorable conduct, do organize a student Council."

Do You Have Sour Stomach?

If you are troubled with sour stomach you should eat slowly and masticate your food thoroughly, then take one of Chamberlain's Tablets immediately after supper. Obtainable everywhere.

Since the Fifth Ward Improvement company has taken up the matter of securing gas, for that ward and also the Sixth ward, some progress has been made towards an amicable settlement with the Holland City Gas company.

Mayor Vandersluis has appointed a committee consisting of three aldermen, namely, Nick Kammeraad, Frank J. Congleton, Abel Postma with three citizens, Otto P. Kramer, A. Visscher and Rudolph H. Habermann, with the Mayor and City Attorney Mc Bride ex-officio members.

This committee has met with Joseph H. Brewer, Blaine Gavitt and Emory P. Davis of the Holland Company. Before meeting these men they had well formulated plans to lay before them. For five hours this committee and the company's officials thrashed out the question from beginning to end.

When the meeting broke up the committee left a proposition with the officials, which they are now taking under advisement and will report to the committee in the very near future if the plan is feasible from the company's standpoint.

The committee is a good one, consisting of all classes of men who have nothing-but the interests of the city of Holland at heart and any proposition they may make is sure to be sane, fair and intelligent.

Should the proposition be acceptable to both the company and the committee it will then be brought up to a vote of the people asking for their approval and when that time comes the whole project will be made plain so that the voter can vote intelligently upon the matter.

An election for this proposition should be decided on as soon as possible, for two reasons. One reason is that the matter should come up alone without any other questions or other offices to be voted for at the same time. There are always men unscrupulous enough to use vital questions to further their own interests, and ride into office on a hue and a cry to which they themselves will never be a party and will never have to act upon.

The second reason is that if the people by their vote showing their desire, to follow out the suggestions of the committee, named by the mayor, this desire should be made known at the earliest possible moment so that the company can order material and go ahead with the work.

From what we are able to find out, the company seems to want to be fair, judging from the fact that they are entertaining the suggestion of an extension in two wards while material of all kinds is up from 50 to 100 per cent and it takes months to get a delivery even at those prices.

For just that reason the question should be disposed of quickly and not drag along until next spring, for if the question was decided at that time the material would still have to be ordered.

Then at best the material for building, at the present rate of speed of shipment, would not reach here until July or August and it would practically be another year before the Fifth or Sixth Wards would get gas. However if the question were decided this fall the material could be ordered immediately and be here in time for construction work early in the spring.

It matters little to us fellows who have gas, but those citizens to the south of us are entitled to consideration.

Mrs. A. Harris of this city returned Friday evening from Saginaw and Detroit. While in Saginaw she attended the Rebekah assembly. In Detroit she was the guest of Dr. and Mrs. G. Ashford and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Nixon.

DON'T THEY REMEMBER

It is being said that a few of the laboring classes in the city of Holland are inclined to support the Democratic party in this national campaign. We do not know whether the statement is true or not. But why should laboring men support the Democratic party in national politics?

The memory must be very short that does not hold recollections of the conditions Holland went through only two years ago—aye, less than two years ago.

Who does not remember the depression that prevailed all over this land in 1914 and in the early part of 1915? Who does not remember the gloomy days when the employment offices in Detroit and Grand Rapids and in the big cities of the country were besieged by men seeking jobs in vain, the days when factories were running part time if they were running at all, the days when the country's business, stricken down by the Democratic tariff, lay prostrate and hopeless, when men could not provide decently for their families because they could not find labor that would yield them wages to do so.

Is there a workman in Holland who does not recollect that time of gloom and despair? If so, he must be a workman of arrival since 1911. Those who were here then have not forgotten. They cannot forget. They may bury the memories, but the memories are in their minds.

They know that although Holland passed through that critical time better than many other cities in the United States right here in Holland our people suffered sadly. They know that New York, Detroit, Chicago and even Grand Rapids had its breadlines and its soup kitchens, that only the philanthropy of the benevolent sustained life for thousands. They know that the unemployed of even the city of Detroit, then as now the most prosperous city in the United States, in October of that year tried to have a parade to demonstrate to the public their condition and that the police forbade them to hold it. They know that the situation became so acute as to cause the city officials to deliberate seriously upon the necessity for renting unused buildings for municipal lodging houses, where the unemployed might be housed. They know all these things, and more. Many of them were never printed in the Detroit papers, for reasons of patriotism and prudence; but the men who went through the experience needed no printed word to tell of what they knew.

It was the Democratic tariff that precipitated that condition on the country and on Holland. The same Democratic tariff is still in effect. It influence has been counteracted by the European war, but only temporarily.

What about the end of the war? Does any workman want to return to those days?

The man who talks of supporting the Democratic party in national politics this year must be afflicted with what the doctors call amnesia, a loss of memory.

OH, YES, CANADA FAVORS WILSON.

There is one section of the business world that is strongly for the re-election of Mr. Wilson. It is comprised of the producers of Canada. The Underwood tariff is exceedingly popular in Canada. Every Canadian congratulates himself on voting down the Taft reciprocity plan. Under that Canada would have been compelled to give as well as take. Under the Underwood tariff the United States does all the giving. During 1913, $142,127,932 worth of Canadian merchandise came into the United States. Bankers and business men expect the 1916 Canadian exports to the United States to reach $400,000,000. But the future will be still more attractive if the present tariff remains in force. The large ammunition factories in Canada will be diverted to industrial uses as soon as the war ends. Every British trade secret is now being used in Canada. No doubt many daring soldiers, who have acquired a spirit of adventure, will rush to Canada at the close of the war and throw themselves into the industrial battle with the same vigor with which they have fought the Germans.

It should be recalled that Canada has the power to tax exports as well as imports. The Underwood tariff put logs and lumber both on the free list. But Canada, while permitting lumber to be exported free of duty, levied an export tax on sawlogs. The consequence was that American mills moved across the border. They employed their labor there. The laborers bought in the Canadian markets. They paid taxes in Canada. The same was true as to unfinished and finished steel products, and the U. S. Steel Corporation found it advantageous to build a $10,000,000 steel plant on the Canadian side. Consular reports early in 1914 told of the first great steel contract Canadians had ever taken away from Americans.

IN THE SAME BOAT

There was one point too often forgotten in the statement made by Andrew H. Green, Jr., in last Saturday's Free Press. The manager of the great Solvay plant in Detroit was telling why he, a Democrat, intends this year to vote against his party in the national election, and his interview showed that his reason was his distrust of the Democratic party's ability to protect the United States against the commercial assault that will be made upon it by its foreign rivals after the war.

The point that seems to us to deserve special attention in his remarks was that "the men who own factories and the men who work in factories are in the same boat," that their interests are alike in the matter of protecting the industry that gives both their livelihood. They may disagree about the proper division of the profits the factories yield, but it is certain that if the factories are closed they will yield no profits and there will be nothing to divide.

The interest of the workman in the question of what will follow the European war is as great as the interest of the employer. And the question is, after all, the most serious one of the present campaign. People may argue about other issues, but this underlies them all. They dispute a good deal over eight-hour laws—mostly without fully understanding one another's point of view—but an eight-hour working day, whatever one means by the phrase, presupposes that there is and will be work to be done. What will it profit an employee to have an eight-hour law on the statute books if he is not able to find employment? Keeping our industries going is the first of all requirements. Will our industries be kept running when the war is ended?

If there is one maxim of recent politics that is generally accepted it is that the war has acted as a protective tariff. The war has shut off foreign competition. When the war ends this bar to foreign competition will be lifted. What will happen?

The situation will return to where it was two years ago last July, the last month of peace. Who does not remember the conditions of that time? Unemployment suffering was widespread. The country had never before had so many business failures. Men were out of work everywhere. Bread lines and municipal lodging houses were the order of the day in all cities.

What is to prevent the return of that condition after the war? If the Democratic party continues in power there will be nothing to prevent it. The same tariff that was letting in foreign goods in July, 1914, is still in effect. The foreign goods will come in; they will drive our own goods out of our markets; the factories and the mills that are making our goods must close down; the men who derive their livelihood from the factories and the mills will be deprived of their incomes, whether in wages or dividends they are in the same boat.

Nothing but a high protective tariff can save the United States from ruinous depression after the war. Workmen and employers are alike concerned in assuring a high protective tariff. The Republican party is by all its traditions the party of protection; the Democratic party is by all its traditions opposed to protection. A vote for the Republican party in national matters is a vote for safety; a vote for the Democratic party in national matters is a vote for danger.—Detroit Free Press.

The following editorial was taken from the Grand Rapids News, a paper supporting all the rest of the democratic candidates, including Wilson, but makes an exception to Carl Mapes, our present congressman.

About Carl E. Mapes

Two years ago The News said that if the voters in the Fifth congressional district returned Carl E. Mapes to Washington they would not have occasion to regret it.

Mr. Mapes soon will have served his second term, during which, as during his first term, he established a record for being on the job. A more indefatigable toiler in the interest of his constituency has never been sent to Washington from this district.

The last session of congress was not an interesting one for the republicans. It seems to become more and more the custom for the minority members of both the senate and the house to remain absent during a large part of the congressional year. They are on the outside looking in, in fact as well as in spirit. They take the view that their position is a sort of a hope-lost one, in which their principal obligation is to draw their salaries. That goes for both parties.

But Mr. Mapes has not taken that view of his work. With the exception of a few days which he spent with his family during the summer, he has answered practically every roll call since congress opened. He has studied the problems and questions before the house, regardless of party lines, and voted according to his best conception of what was just and right.

Mr. Mapes is not a vote getter. We wouldn't even call him a good politician. He doesn't kiss the babies to get the father's vote and he doesn't say what he will do until the work is to be done. There is no chicanery about either man or his methods. He is the plainest kind of an American and holds some pretty sound American views.

Our congressman is not an orator, as Mr. Bryan is. Neither has he reached that judicial stage where he would endanger himself in understanding his constituents. He is, in our humble opinion, the best man the republicans hereabouts have trotted out for any office in many a day, and we are frank to say we would like to see him go back and stay in Washington as long as he is willing to give the people of Michigan the same earnest and honest representation he has given in the past.

The News cannot get away from the salient qualities that makes the man so far as his relation to public service is concerned.

That is why we are in duty bound to know the man before we consider party or politics.

During his incumbency of the office he now holds, Mr. Mapes voted as follows on questions before the house:

Voted against bill carrying $42,000,000 appropriation for rivers and harbors.

Voted for program to increase army and navy and fortifications.

Voted for federal reserve act.

Voted for rural credits or farm loan act.

Voted against Underwood tariff law.

Voted for bill prohibiting the shipment in interstate commerce of goods produced in whole or in part by the labor of children—the so-called child labor law.

Voted for workmen's compensation for federal employees.

Voted for bill to provide federal aid in building good roads.

There are few men who go to congress who depart from the party vote. Mr. Mapes is one of them. He votes according to the dictates of his conscience. He should be sent to Washington, not as Mapes the republican, but as Mapes the man. We would say the same of him were he a democrat. A man who is fundamentally right can't do much damage, no matter what party he belongs to.

When Mr. Mapes was a candidate for congress his political opponents classed him as a representative of "the interests." His record shows quite to the contrary. His vote for constructive legislation shows him to be broad-minded and earnestly seeking for the public good.

Two years ago, at the conclusion of his first term in congress Collier's Weekly, which keeps close tab on the representatives, gave Mr. Mapes credit for being present at as many sessions of the house as any member of it.

Wednesday of this week, the National Voters' League of Washington, which made a cold analysis of the members of congress through its official organ, The Searchlight on Congress, classified the Michigan men along with the rest. In order to express its opinion of those members which it declared "might as well stay home," it coined the word "mawsh." Here is the National Voters' League estimates of the Michigan representatives:

Samuel W. Beakes, mawsh; Louis C. Cramton, mawsh; Frank E. Doremus, machine member; Joseph W. Fordney, machine member; Edward L. Hamilton, mawsh; W. Frank James, independent, strongly anti-pork; Patrick H. Kelley, mawsh; George A. Loud, machine member; James C. McLaughlin, machine member, conferee on agriculture bills; Carl E. Mapes, independent, good record; Charles A. Nichols, mawsh; Frank D. Scott, mawsh; J. M. C. Smith, fair machine member record.

"Independent, good record." Few members of congress have earned stronger commendation than can be expressed in those three meaty words. Place "Independent, good record" against "Mawsh" for Messrs. Beakes, Cramton, Hamilton, Kelley, Nichols and Scott, and "Machine member" for Messrs. Doremus, Fordney, Loud and McLaughlin, and the "Fair machine record" of J. M. C. Smith. Doesn't it make you rather proud of Mr. Mapes?

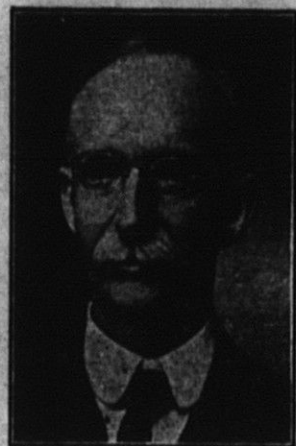

We repeat, it is our belief that if you send Mr. Mapes back to Washington for a third term, you will have no occasion to regret your action.

RE-ELECT CARL MAPES

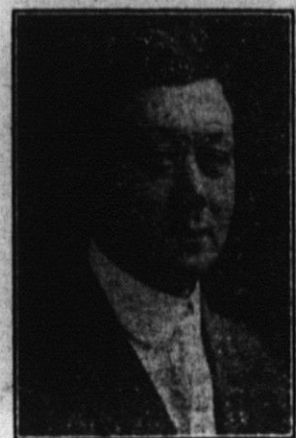

Congressman Carl Mapes is just coming into his own down at Washington. In the house of representatives appointments go in order of precedence so that a man cannot leap all at once from the cellar of anonymity to the pinnacle of fame. But in four years Mr. Mapes has established a reputation for four-square independence, plus ability which should enable him to go far in the future.

Observing the congressman and his works through these four years, The Press has been able to find precious little fault with the man who seeks a deserved re-election at the polls next Tuesday. His views on some matters have not coincided with those of this newspaper, but in general the congressman's course has commended itself to his constituents as well as to the men who are on the ground at Washington. It is a pleasure as well as a duty to recommend Carl Mapes for re-election to congress from the Fifth district.—Grand Rapids Press.

Do you read the label to know whether your baking powder is made from cream of tartar or, on the other hand, from alum or phosphate?

Royal Baking Powder is made from cream of tartar, derived from grapes, and adds to the food only wholesome qualities.

Other baking powders contain alum or phosphate, both of mineral origin, and used as substitutes for cream of tartar because of their cheapness.

Never sacrifice quality and healthfulness for low price.

For some unknown reason the prohibition and Home Rule ballots are not headed with a distinguishing mark, stating "this is the Home Rule" and "this is the Prohibition ballot." In fact the ballots look very much alike and no doubt will create considerable confusion. In order to make no mistake let this be your guide. The ballot that contains the word "Section 30" that is the Home Rule ballot and the ballot that contains the word "Section 11" is the Prohibition ballot. Keep this in mind when you enter the ballot box as these sections appear in the respective ballots mentioned only. Then if you still get mixed up and are in doubt, ask the election inspectors. They are hired for that purpose. Use your tongue. It's no disgrace to ask for information.

Announcement has been made of the engagement of Miss Anna Margaret Monteth of Kalamazoo and Henry A. Bilkert, a senior student in the Western Theological seminary.

Miss Anna Whitvliet Tuesday evening entertained the choir of the First church at her home on River Avenue. Halloween games and magic were on the evening's program. Miss Gertrude Wabeke assisted the hostess.

Twelve of Miss Alice Raap's friends enjoyed a Halloween party Monday evening at the home of Prof. and Mrs. Albert Raap. The evening was spent in telling wild stories and in playing old time Halloween games. Appropriate refreshments were served.

A Halloween party was given by Master Vernon Ten Cate and Miss Myra Ten Cate, at their home on 14th street and Maple avenue to twenty of their juvenile friends. A Halloween program was arranged and ghosts and goblins were everywhere in evidence, giving the home a spooky appearance. All the Halloween games were on the program and a sumptuous supper was served between four and eight o'clock.

I Am for the 8-Hour Day

If the Republic is to endure, the life, health and happiness of the toiling masses must be safeguarded and conserved by legislation. Peace with honor and prosperity for the masses are the fruits of the Wilson policies. The needle is not truer to the pole than Wilson to the principals and ideals of Democracy.

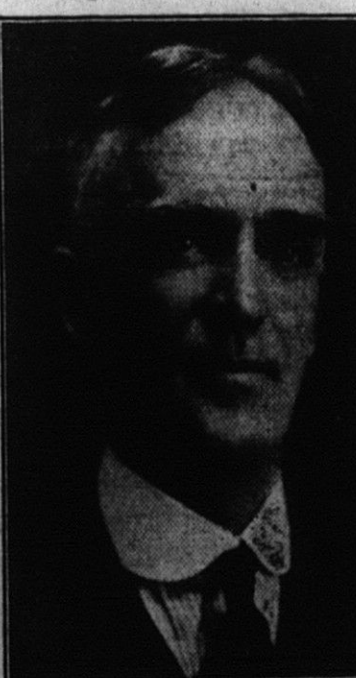

Wm. Jennings Bryan said—

"President Wilson needs Mr. Danhof in Washington and I recommend him to your support."

SOCIALISTS CLAIM
THEY WILL HAVE
2,000,000 VOTES

Ernest Calvin Moore, author and lecturer, and candidate for governor of Michigan on the Socialist ticket will speak in the court room of the city hall Wednesday evening, Nov. 1 at 8 p. m. Mr. Moore is the first gubernatorial candidate of any party scheduled to speak in this city.

The Socialists say that he is a forceful speaker and has toured the state in the interest of the Socialist Party several times. He is the author of several books on Socialism that have attained nationwide circulation. The local socialists are very enthusiastic over the coming election and predict a great increase in votes that will astound the nation. Allen L. Benson, the presidential candidate, predicts that the vote will reach two millions. Mr. Benson has spoken in every city of any size in the country and will campaign up to the day of election his last date being in Pittsburg, Pa. Several congressional districts will be carried by the Socialists among them are the 4th and 5th Wisconsin, 5th and 21st New York, 5th Indiana, (where Eugene V. Debs is the candidate). The whole state of Oklahoma, including the presidential electors. One U. S. senator from Nevada and several minor offices including the mayor and council of Minneapolis, Minnesota, where Thomas Van Lear, a Hollander, is the mayoralty candidate. The local Socialists have contributed a considerable amount of money through the National Office of their party, to carry on an aggressive fight in the districts.

NEW DIMES ARE RIVE IN HOLLAND

DR. PRESTON SCOTT AND ED VAN DREZER
EACH RECEIVE ONE FROM SUB-TREASURY.

Dr. Preston Scott and Ed Van Drezer each received one of the new dimes fresh from the mint. Charles A. Rankens of the sub-treasury at Chicago is a friend of the doctor and mailed him two of the new mintage.

The dimes were coined at the San Francisco mint. The design is simple. Liberty with a winged cap is shown on the fore side and on the reverse is a fasces. A spray of leaves entwines the fasces, aside of which is printed "E Pluribus Unum." The time was designed by Adolph A. Weinman. The initial "W." is printed on the face of the coin. It is remembered that when the new pennies were circulated the initial of the designer was on the front of the coin, and on account of this the coins were ordered recalled.

SCHUILING SELLS OUT
AFTER 22 YEARS WORK

After being in the grocery business for twenty-two years, James Schuiling, proprietor of the North Side grocery, has sold his stand to James Van Dyke of the north side, son of Mr. and Mrs. Teunis Van Dyke, who has been connected with the Cook Feed store. The new head of the grocery business took possession Saturday and is ready to take care of the growing trade and to give his patrons first class service.

Schuiling is leaving the store to take up farming. His experience as a grocer has been formed by 22 years in the business. Two years ago he built a fine new store on a site at the corner of the West Michigan Pike and the Pine Lodge drive, just across the Grand Haven bridge, moving from a mile up on the latter drive.

In all those 22 years, Mr. Schuiling enjoyed but five days of vacation, they being taken when he started his voyage in matrimony.

HERE IS THAT HU-MAN FLEA AGAIN

Jack Williams, who called himself a "human fly" scaled the Miner building in Owasso one night last week before a large crowd, which contributed $60. The stunt while requiring considerable nerve, did not look particularly hard to the majority of those who witnessed the feat. He used the windows to a great extent, taking the sashes out or lowering them in such a way as to form a ladder. At no time was he entirely dependent on the crevices between the bricks, and one time when he made his most daring feat another man was holding him by the leg on the inside of the window. A rope fastened on the roof aided him in climbing over the crevice.

LITTLE CECIL SMITH,
TWO, DROWNS IN TUB

PARENTS' PLANS FOR BIRTHDAY
TUESDAY STOPPED BY GRIM HAND OF DEATH

While playing in a neighbor's yard Monday afternoon, little Cecil Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Smith of 274 East Eleventh street, met death by drowning in a small tub of water.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith were planning a pretty little celebration for Cecil, as next Tuesday is his second birthday. Fate has stepped in and the plans are broken. He left his mother to toddle about with his 4-year-old sister, Leona, and the neighbor's children. He was brought back home to her dead.

In an unexplainable way, the child lost his balance while peering into the tub and splashed in. Before he could be rescued by sister Leona he had strangled to death. It will be a sad birthday anniversary next Tuesday in the Smith home on east Eleventh street with their child in a newly made grave. The funeral was held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at their home.

CENTURY CLUBS IN VOTE NAMES HUGHES

An "election" on the presidential and prohibition questions was held by the Century club Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Oggel. Their decision shows a difference of opinion from the high school students. Hughes received 43 votes, Wilson 14, and Benson, the Socialistic candidate 2.

"Home Rule" received 2 votes with 57 against it. The election was in charge of Mr. J. L. Garret. G. W. Van Vleet, the musician, evening was in charge of Miss Van Vleet.

A feature of the evening was a paper by Att. George E. Kollen on "Former Nation-Wide Temperance Movements."

WILSON WINS IN SCHOOL
STRAW VOTE ELECTION

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS HAVE PRACTICAL EXPERIENCE; HEAR
SPEAKERS; USE BALLOTS

The straw vote taken in the high school Tuesday morning on the presidential and prohibition election held a neat surprise package for those who had freely forecasted the result. Wilson received the "election" with a vote of 234 to 127. The Socialists received nine votes and the Prohibition party two.

How President Wilson drew his votes is shown by the ballots. Only 111 of his credits were straight tickets, showing that so many Democrats are registered in the high school. But the other 123 of his votes were on split tickets, Republicans crossing over to credit the present head of the nation and then going back to the rest of their party. Hughes received 95 straight tickets and 32 split.

The Prohibition issue was not in doubt for a moment. Educated people know what they want. The result was 346 in favor of the state-wide dry movement and 19 against it. The so-called "Home Rule" amendment received 23 for and 345 against. The differences in total of some of the results is explained by the fact that some students, in doubt, did not register a choice.

Preceding the voting, the real election surroundings were made. Each presidential candidate had an earnest supporter in Robert Dutton for the "Dummies" and Peter Van Dommelen for the Republicans. Principal Drew called them before the assembly directly after the chapel exercises and they drew for places on the speaking list. Dutton was declared first with the privilege of a three-minute rebuttal after Van Dommelen's praise of Hughes.

In Dutton Mr. Wilson could find no better backer in the actual campaign. His talk was rapid and to the point, making the best out of his case that he possibly could in the ten minutes allotted. Preserving the nation's peace, good legislation, national prosperity and a disappointment in Hughes' campaign, even ringing in the Republican candidate's aid in Theodore Roosevelt as an objection, this political speaker won votes at every word.

Van Dommelen, in a shorter address, declared to the attentive high school students that Wilson had not kept the nation from war but that we are at war with Mexico today, tho it has not been declared; that his notes to Germany were "a waste of paper," that America is no longer respected abroad and that Wilson had broken his word to the nation when on entering his office he vowed he would only take one term and now is seeking a second. Preparedness has not been followed in the past administration, as had been called for at its beginning.

In his rebuttal, Dutton termed the broken promise of Wilson in trying for a second term as a "change of mind", saying that a man who would not change his mind was too stubborn to be practical. The Adamson Eight-Hour law was passed, stated he, in a time when a national strike was feared, answering a charge of weakness made by Van Dommelen. The two stump speakers then resumed their seats.

Miss Katharine Post of the faculty and Principal Drew explained the manner of voting on the official ballots used. In several cases the women, whispered to be members of the Equal Suffrage Club, demonstrated their knowledge of political affairs by correcting some of the masculine statements.

A novel and clear manner of discrimination between the two treacherous ballots for the Prohibition vote was made when Prin. Drew compared Sec. 30, the Home Rule Amendment, as "Sec. 30—dirty," and the other, "Sec. 11—heaven."

Four years ago a similar straw vote was taken with totals that in the same proportion were followed out by the city voters a few days later in the election. Will the city this year give Wilson an almost 2 to 1 vote? The high school straw vote has been a safe guide in the past but its infallibility is threatened now.

REGISTRATION UNUSUAL-LY LARGE SATURDAY

TOTAL REGISTRATION IN 2358 IN THE CITY; CAN STILL REGISTER

The registration Saturday was unusually heavy as a total of 2358 voters came to their respective wards and registered their names and are now entitled to vote on November 7. The registration by wards are as follows:

1st ward, 532; 2nd ward, 205; 3rd ward, 331; 4th ward, 493; 5th ward, 483; 6th ward, 264; a total of 2358.

If you have not registered there is still an opportunity as the law gives the voter the privilege to register with city clerk from now until and including November 6.

If you have not registered go to City Clerk Overweg's office in the city hall and ask to be registered and you will be accommodated and then can vote for president or "wet" or "dry" as the case may be, on election day, Nov. 7.

Remember however you cannot register on election day, unless you have been ill or out of the city during the time designated to register.

This morning already ten belated registrations were recorded with the city clerk.

Holland township registered 11 voters Saturday and now has an even 600 voters on the registration list. Park township registered an even dozen. The voters in townships do not have to register as that applies to cities only.

MOEKE FACTORY AT ZEELAND TO BE REBUILT SOON

The large manufacturing plant and planing mill of G. Moeke & Sons, destroyed by fire last week Wednesday night at Zeeland, will be rebuilt as soon as possible and the new firm will be known as G. Moeke's Sons, who will resume the business. This decision on the part of the proprietors is a very lucky thing for Zeeland as the firm does a very extensive business in that community and is one of high standing. The manager of the business is John H. Moeke, the mayor of Zeeland.

C. Blom, jr. was in Grand Rapids on business Monday.

H. Pelgrim, sr., was in Grand Rapids on business Monday evening.

OHIO SUGAR CO. ORGANIZ-ED BY LOCAL MEN

TAKE OVER PLANT OF OTTAWA
SUGAR COMPANY; CAPITAL
OF $400,000

The Ohio Sugar Company has been organized in the office of Dickema, Kollen & Ten Cate of this city with a number of Holland people interested. Its capital stock is $400,000 with $375,000 in cash paid in.

The officers of the company are John W. Pfeiffer of Edmore, Mich., president; Cass T. Wright, Greenville, vice-president; F. W. Hubbard, Decatur, Indiana, secretary; J. J. Cappon, of this city, treasurer and chairman of the executive committee.

This company was organized to purchase a plant belonging to the Ottawa Sugar Company of Ottawa, Ohio. The factory was built in 1912 and was successfully operated till the crisis in the sugar world when the product was placed on the free list. Then it was forced to close its doors.

Mr. Hubbard, now employed with the Holland-St. Louis Sugar Company, will sever that connection as soon as his place can be filled, to take up work with the new company in Ottawa.

The Ohio Sugar Company is located in a fine beet-growing district and prospects for making the business venture a success are very bright.

HOPE DRY SQUAD CONTINUES WORK

Squad No. 2 of the Hope College Dry Campaigners, composed of Messrs. C. Wierenga, Wm. Ten Haken, Fred Mulder and Bernie Mulder, and ably assisted in music by the Misses Della Hospers, Margaret Thomasma, Marie Welling and Elda Van Putten, went to West Olive Monday evening and held a meeting in the Methodist church there. It is needless to say that the church was filled to the doors with an appreciative audience. Messrs. Broekema and Rutgers kindly furnished the automobiles for the trip.

The campaign as carried out by the Hope College Students is, from all indications, bringing results. Speakers and singers are going out every night in the week and often meetings are held in the afternoon. The result will be a dry Michigan after April 18, 1918.

FLOCK OF 25 PIGEONS
FOUND; WORTH $2000 PAIR

MICHIGAN ABOUNDED IN THEM
YEARS AGO; SUN WAS DARK-
ENED WHEN THEY FLEW

A flock of 25 passenger pigeons, a species long thought extinct, has been feasting in the buckwheat patch on the farm of Jesse J. Gerber, in Watson township, near Warren, Pa., for the past week. Garber an old-time sportsman, identified the birds as the species for which the government has been searching for several years and for a pair of which the Smithsonian Institute offered a reward of $2,000. An effort will be made to trap the birds.

The passenger pigeon disappeared following a terrific storm twenty years ago, and until recently the only one of the species known to be alive was in the zoological gardens at Cincinnati. This bird died some time ago.

Some years ago these pigeons were so plentiful in Michigan that when the flock flew they were so thick that the sun was darkened as they passed, which sometimes lasted for hours.

Many Holland people killed these pigeons with sticks and the roosting places in the woods were broken many times owing to the thousands of birds in the limbs of the trees.

"DOPE" PAVES WAY FOR HOLLAND WIN

KALAMAZOO DEFEATS UNION BUT IS DOWNED BY DREW MEN;
UNION-HOLLAND NEXT

Holland's chances of victory this Saturday over Coach Lichtner's men of Grand Rapids Union High are very strong, according to dope. Altho' the Kalamazoo squad was fighting on home territory, Union was expected to give a better showing than a 6-9 loss. That is what happened.

A week ago Holland defeated Kalamazoo 37-0. Something is radically wrong or the Drewmen are going to have a walkaway with Union, say the dopesters. But Union will be playing home Saturday and was playing on a strange battlefield with Kalamazoo. A large crowd of fans will accompany the team.

The Holland reserves went down to defeat at Fennville, playing their first team to a 14-0 game. Fennville comes here to play the reserves in two weeks.

DANCING SCHOOL TO OPEN NEXT MONDAY

MISS WATSON OF TRAVIS SCHOOL
TO HOLD AESTHETIC AND SO-CIAL CLASSES.

Miss Margaret E. Watson of the Travis School of Dancing of Grand Rapids will open dancing classes in the Woman's Literary Club rooms next Monday, October 30. The course of work will embrace aesthetic and folk dancing, standard dancing for beginners and the dances of the moment for advanced pupils.

A Misses Aesthetic Class will convene at 3:30 in the afternoon. A Juvenile Social Class will follow at 4:30. In the evening a High school Social Class will open at 7:30 for an hour of instruction. At 8:30 a General Assembly will be held.

The classes are open to the public, but private lessons may be arranged by special appointment. Miss Watson is giving special terms to pupils entering both the aesthetic and social classes. For terms, prospective students are directed to Mrs. J. Boyd, 77 West Ninth street, phone 1275 as admission is gained by this ticket.

Praying With the Feet.

A number of years ago, at Rochester, New York, we had the great privilege of being introduced to Frederick Douglass, the famous colored orator. He was at that time one of the most conspicuous men in the nation. He was in great demand on the lyceum platform and as an editor.

He was once a slave but escaped to Massachusetts by the underground railroad. Referring to the days of his bondage he said that he prayed much for deliverance but that his prayers were only heard when he began to pray with his feet.

In our great struggle just now against the run traffic Christian people need to do some praying with the feet, if we are going to win. The opposition is putting in some hard work by going from man to man. This kind of effort is the most telling and I am confident will in the end win out. Great gatherings alone will not do it. Individuals must be seen and many can be persuaded. One man may be able to do more alone in an hour by going from home to home than a thousand in a big gathering for the same length of time. Let us get busy on foot.

E. J. BLEKKINK.

DID GIRL OF ZEELAND PARENTS JUMP IN OCEAN

WAS SHE ABDUCTED? OR WHAT HAS BECOME OF HER. PAR-ENTS ARE BOWED IN GRIEF

The joy which in anticipation reigned in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Hardenberg of Zeeland upon the reunion of the family, was blighted to a great degree when the wife and children arrived here from Europe Friday to greet the husband and father who had preceded them to this country. The mysterious disappearance of the eldest daughter, while enroute was what marred their happiness.

During the trip to this country on the Netherlands line the young lady, aged 19 years, suddenly disappeared. She had just left her mother and brothers and sisters to go to her state room and while in the act of ascending the steps fell, injuring her head, but nevertheless proceeded on her way. She was almost immediately followed. The search for her proved in vain. The girl is reported as pretty, and it is feared that some one on board the boat abducted her, kept her captive and is taking her away as is very often done with pretty young emigrants. It may also be possible that the injury to her head caused a temporary derangement of mind and while in that condition she fell or jumped overboard. A thorough search of the boat by the officer of the vessel did not reveal a trace of her.

The mother and the remainder of the family arrived last Friday to join Mr. Hardenberg, who has been here since last spring and saved all his money to bring his family over to this country. The family's joy over being reunited is wrecked by the disappearance of the girl. The New York police have started a thorough investigation and developments are anxiously awaited. The family resides near East Central Avenue, beyond the city limits of Zeeland.

CHRIS COOK OF COLOR- ADO WRITES THE EDITOR

GIVE STATUS OF A DRY COLOR-
ADO; CHRIS WAS THE NEWS CORRESPONDENT AT PORT SHELTON.

Chris Cook the old correspondent for the Holland City News at Port Sheldon some years ago moved to Colorado for his health and spasmodically "takes his pen in hand" by force of habit and writes the editor a letter for old times sake. Generally the letters are of a personal nature, however the one received this time is of special interest in so far that it throws some light on dry conditions in Colorado. Chris has no particular reason for writing these thoughts any more than that he wishes to impart some news in the locality where he now resides. The letter from Mr. Cook follows:

Loretta Heights Academy, Colo.
From your old friend and reader of the Holland City News:

I was just reading about the Wets and Drys. Well this is supposed to be a dry climate and when Denver and this state went dry, it was dry indeed. All saloons were closed and all kind of road houses were no more.

Why we all thought we would all dry up and no more good time, but instead it is a God's blessing to many a man and more so to all the women and children that had to suffer. I had the chance to be in close touch with many engineers and I have got to find one today that is a bit sorry he can't go in a saloon and have his drink and treat his neighbors and hang on the bar until it is closed.

The closed saloon and the autos are a blessing to this state of Colorado.

Miss Susana Hamelink played the wedding march to which the bridal party entered. Miss Gertrude Hietje, sister of the bride, acted as maid of honor while Marshall Irvin attended the groom. The Misses Mabel Te Roller of Grand Rapids and Anna Van Putten of this city were bridesmaids. The ring was carried by little Miss Esther Hietje of Zeeland. Miss Ardith Langland of Grand Rapids acted as flower girl.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Baker of Mansfield, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Van Domelen, Dr. John Vork, Mrs. A. Langland and daughter Ardith of Grand Rapids; Jacob and Louis Hietje of Grand Haven.

REPUB. LANS WILL WIND UP CAMPAIGN ON MONDAY

TWO PROBATE JUDGES TO SPEAK AT CITY HALL.

Two probate judges will speak at the city hall Monday evening for the republicans. Both are retiring judges of probate.

Edward P. Kirby of Grand Haven and L. L. Thompson of Allegan.

Judge Kirby has become a very forceful speaker and is a surprise even to his friends. It is said that Judge Thompson is a second Hamilton considered by Holland republicans as one of the best stump speakers in the business. There will also be a program of music besides the speaking and all are welcome.

MIGHT HAVE BEEN BURNED TO DEATH

Miss Cecil De Pree, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas De Pree at Zeeland, suffered quite severe burns on her right hand when an explosion occurred while she was in the act of starting a fire in a drum stove at their home on Lincoln street. The flames also slightly singed her hair, but luckily her clothing did not catch fire. Her parents were absent at the time and neighbors responded to her screams and came to her assistance. The case is not at all serious.

MAY INSTALL LIGHT PLANT AT COUNTY POOR FARM

County Superintendent of Poor C. N. Dickinson and Mr. Clark of Shuitems & Clark left for the county infirmary. Mr. Clark will give the supervisor estimates on installing an electric plant. The buildings are now lighted with acetylene gas and there has been danger from fire at various times. With the installation of an electric system this danger will be overcome and it will make it much more convenient.

HOLD FAMILY REUNION

Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Dalman, 46 E. 13th street, a family reunion was held in honor of Mr. Dalman's 63rd birthday. A very happy evening was spent in conversation and games, while the hostess served delicious refreshments. There were nineteen present. Those from out of town were Mrs. George W. Gee from Madison, Mo., and Mrs. J. Van Zomeren and little daughter, Lois from Grand Rapids, Michigan.

WEBSTER DAVIS MAKES A HIT IN SPEECH

Despite the fact that Carnegie hall was filled with a large audience for the first number of the lecture course; and that Rev. Drukker spoke to 500 at a wet and dry meeting at Ninth Street Christian Reformed church; and 150 K. of P's held a large demonstration in their hall; Webster Davis, of Los Angeles, Cal., spoke to 250 voters at the City Hall Thursday evening.

Judging from reports a more enthusiastic bunch never left a political meeting in Holland. The fact of the matter is that it was not generally known who the man was that was to speak, and his caliber as a public orator and a statesman.

It has just come to light that Webster Davis was the orator that swayed an audience of 3,000 that gathered together in the Central Avenue church to hear him deliver an address when the Boer war was at its height and when this conflict played quite an important part in American politics. That speech will long be remembered by the Hollanders in this city and when he got up to speak Thursday evening he was instantly recognized as the man of the hour on that occasion. It is only deplorable that Mr. Davis did not have an audience of 3,000 instead of 300, as his addresses are instructive no matter what side of the political question his listeners may be.

Those present immediately saw that they were to hear a man of more than ordinary ability as a speaker and their enthusiasm is unbounded judging from the comments made this morning.

Mr. Davis was the former assistant secretary of William McKinley, in fact he was a personal friend of the martyred president.

In his speech Mr. Davis discussed the tariff law proclaiming it as the best friend to the laboring man that has ever been enacted by any legislature. He also cited where eighteen months ago the laboring men were working four days a week, seven and six hours a day, under democratic rule and the Underwood tariff bill passed by the present administration.

He then said "the war broke out and 10,000,000 men in Europe were taken from the bench and put in the trench. American labor has been working for these men and countries, not alone for the goods they need in every day life and which they formerly made themselves, but also munitions of war, such as powder, cannon, automobiles, steel, copper, coal and products from the farm and an endless amount of other material and merchandise."

"This has brought temporary prosperity to this country. But after the war what then?"

"That is the time for the enactment of a tariff law that will protect American labor, when cheap labor in Europe goes back from the trench to the bench to make and ship their cheaply made goods to all parts of the world, and especially to the United States."

Mr. Davis also dwelt at length on "Wilson keeping us out of war," practically stating that the United States could not fight if it wanted to as the European countries had their hands full fighting amongst themselves, and in order to keep on fighting we had to make the sinews of war for them and for that reason it would be poor policy for any European country to pick a quarrel with the United States at this time.

Mr. Davis called the Adamson law a "gold brick" to which the laboring and railroad men were getting their eyes open.

Allegan Gazette—The board of supervisors of Van Buren county last week voted to raise in the state tax $63,440.16 in county tax $60,000, for highways $61,357.51. Allegan county's state tax is $84,844.77, county tax $59,041.77, and highway tax $41,001.22.

Van Buren's officers receive the following salaries, none of them being paid by fees as are several of Allegan county's officers: Prosecuting attorney $1,500, sheriff $2,000, under-sheriff $1,500, deputy sheriff $80, clerk $1,500, deputy clerk $550, register of deeds $1,500, deputy register, $550, treasurer $1,500, school commissioner $1,500, drain commissioner $800, janitor $720.

Our prosecuting attorney gets $1400 per year, the clerk $1,200 and fees, the sheriff fees entirely, the register of deeds fees entirely, the treasurer $1,400 and a few small fees of about $150, our school commissioner $2,000, drain commissioner $1,000, janitor $700. The sheriff's office is worth probably on an average of about $2,000, much less of late, since the county has been dry, and the register of deeds' place returns remuneration of probably about $1,500 on an average.

WIND FORCES GEESE TO LAND; WAKE TOM

HENDERSON, CARETAKER AT THE FAIRGROUNDS, HAS A REST-LESS NIGHT.

Here's the latest. Tom Henderson tells this to make the mouth of the hunters water and to see the nimrods oil their guns.

Tom sleeps out at the fair grounds where he takes care of the Boone Bros. horses. Last night the strong gale tired a large flock of geese and they were forced to land on the fairgrounds. The spot they chose for a hangar was along the building where he slept.

The rest of the night was very wakeful for Tom. The quacking never ceased for a moment till they flew away at dawn. Tom then dressed, came up town and told his story to the first pedestrian on the street. He has not stopped yet and the size of the flock does not matter.

PROHIBITION AND HOME RULE AS IT APPLIES TO HOLLAND.

There are really four propositions involved in that part of the forthcoming election which concerns prohibition. They are: The continuance of the present license system; the inauguration of state-wide prohibition; the continuance of the present county local option law; the inauguration of "home rule."

Some misconceptions are abroad as to what these varying propositions mean. There is especially a confusion as to what constitutes "home rule". It may be worth while, therefore, to consider the four matters each under its own head.

1. A vote "No" on prohibition affects no other proposition than prohibition. It simply stands for a retention of the present license system. It simply means that the liquor laws and regulations shall remain as they are. It is nothing more or less than a vote against state-wide prohibition.

2. A vote "Yes" on prohibition signifies that the person casting the vote wishes... to abolish the present system of liquor license, thus abolishing the legalized liquor traffic in Michigan. It is a vote designed to wipe out license, "home rule," county option and all other devices in one blanket prohibition affecting the entire state.

3. A vote "No" on so-called "home rule" is a vote that favors leaving the present county-option unit as it is. That is to say, under the present law each county is made the arbiter of its own liquor matters. If it wants saloons it can have them. If it does not want them, it can vote them out. The advocates of "home rule" want to break up this county-option unit. They want to reduce the voting unit to the township, so that instead of an entire county being "wet" or "dry," the various townships and villages in the county will be "wet" or "dry" as they choose.

4. A vote "yes" on "home rule" means the breaking down of the present county option unit; it means a reduction of the territory involved in a vote—so that instead of one county being "dry" and another "wet" as now, one village in the county may be "wet" and the next village in the same county be "dry."

Observe, that a vote on "home rule" is a separate thing from a vote on prohibition. The two propositions are distinct. A voter may vote against prohibition and at the same time against "home rule." But if he should vote for prohibition AND for home rule, the two votes would nullify each other. A vote for "home rule" represents a weakening of the prohibitory powers of the counties. It represents a step down from the present prohibitory status of many places in the state.

The term "home rule" itself is misleading. County rule is "home rule". So would state-wide rule be "home rule." "Home rule" is the power of the unit asking for it, to rule itself. Counties asked for that power, and got it; they now have it; they have used it wisely. Now the people of the state by petition, have asked that a vote be taken on state-wide rule as regards the liquor prohibition.

"Home rule" is, of course, the liquor interests' own proposition. They are behind it. But the voter is not in a dilemma. If he does not approve prohibition, he is not thereby compelled to approve "home rule." If he cannot vote to change matters as the prohibitionists would like them to be changed, he is not therefore under the necessity of voting to change matters as the liquor interests would like them to be changed.

If a man votes "No" both on prohibition and "home rule" he votes to retain the present system.

If a man votes "Yes" on prohibition, he votes to change the present system on the side of abolition.

If a man votes "Yes" on "home rule," he votes to change the present system on the side of destroying the present county power to regulate, on a county basis, its own saloon problems.

Finally, as it applies to Holland:—Should "home rule" carry this city would be compelled to decide for itself whether it wished to remain in the "wet column" or go "dry."

It would mean a continuous liquor battle from one year's end to another, with one year one side winning and the next the other side becoming victorious.

Should "home rule" carry, no doubt legislation will be enacted embodying still a smaller unit. The voters of wards and precincts may be called upon to decide for themselves as to the liquor question, and then what? Should the second ward, for example,

PRESIDENT OF HOPE COLLEGE COUNCIL GETS CALL TO WASH.

REV. VANDEN BERG WAS FORMERLY A PASTOR AT OVERISEL.

Rev. A. VandenBerg of the Third Reformed church at Grand Rapids has received word from Lynden, Wash., that he has been called to the pastorate of the Reformed church there. The church is bi-lingual using the Holland and English languages for its services, and is one of the largest Reformed churches in the west.

Mr. Vanden Berg is very popular with his present charge; last year he was given a three months' vacation and a large gift of money by his members. He has been with the church ten years. He has been president of the Hope College council for several years and is a member of the board of superintendents of Western Theological Seminary, Holland.

Mr. Vanden Berg was a former pastor at Overisel, Michigan.

MASKED FRIENDS SURPRISE.

Birthday Party is Halloween Event for Kathryn Van Nul

A Halloween birthday surprise party was given Miss Kathryn Van Nul by her masked friends, Tuesday night at her home, 240 East Fifteenth street. Kathryn was taken to Zeeland Tuesday afternoon by her cousin, Mrs. B. Groters, while the decorating and preparing of the rooms for the party were going on.

When she returned about 8 P. M. she was surprised by the friends who represented witches, clowns and all sorts of spooks.

They presented her with a beautiful opal ring, hid in a peanut shell. A dainty table supper was served and games followed.

The Young Voter

In another city, a number of years ago, we met an old gentleman who related to us the circumstance under which he cast his first ballot. He had reached the age of twenty-one when the agitation for the freedom of the slaves was becoming intense. Men declared themselves openly for or against it. He had to make his choice. In a great struggle for the right against deeply rooted prejudice he won out and voted with the abolitionists. The cause triumphed, and it was in his judgment the greatest ballot he ever cast. He anxiously hoped for another great opportunity, namely to vote for state-wide and national prohibition.

But what has that to do with the young voter? Much in every day. No young voter will be willing to cast his ballot for an unrighteous cause, one which, in the near future, will be a disgrace to have owned. Before the mighty forward movement of the prohibition and the anti-saloon forces every one can readily see that the rum traffic is doomed. This destroyer of human happiness and murderer of souls has been tried, found guilty and condemned.

The people in the state are lingering. The young voter will be for the first time at the polls. How will he stand? What cause will he favor? We believe that he will vote so that he will never be ashamed of the act. The time is coming when men will wonder that they ever tolerated the saloon. The cause an institution could continue to exist in a civilized community as long as it did will be a surprise to those who come after us.

We want every young voter, whoever others may do, to line up right on this question, so that fifty years from now, when the Stars and Stripes shall wave over a saloonless nation, he may be able to say, "I had a share in driving it out of Michigan, My Michigan." E. J. Blekkink.

GRIEF SPREADS OVER CITY AT DEATH NEWS

MRS. HELENE PARDEE SUCCUMBED TO SUDDEN ILLNESS AT 7:45 YESTERDAY MORNING

Most Popular Woman in City Taken By Early Death; Was Society Leader.

At 7:45 a. m. yesterday, Mrs. Helene Pardee, the most popular woman in Holland and possibly Ottawa county, passed away in her apartment in Hotel Holland.

Her death is a very sudden and severe blow to the city and hundreds of friends are bowed in deep grief. Her leadership, friendliness and eagerness to assist in any way when called upon won for her a place in the heart of society that cannot be filled.

She is survived by one son, George Francis, aged 15. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Boone, Sr., of 100 West 11th street, and four brothers, Fred, Hub, Albert and John, and two sisters, Mrs. Philip Soulen of Moscow, Idaho, and Mrs. J. A. Pieters of Kalamazoo, also survive her.

Mrs. Pardee had reached the age of thirty-five years when this sudden illness terminated her career in its prime. Less than a week ago a cold grew into tonsillitis and then developed into pleurisy that could not be controlled by the best medical aid that could be secured. Dr. J. B. Whitney of Grand Rapids, a specialist, continually traveled back and forth, aiding Drs. W. G. Winter and J. J. Mersen of this city in their consultations.

From Monday night till yesterday morning Mrs. Pardee wavered on the brink of death, physicians holding no hope for her recovery but friends about her being cheered by an apparent improvement Tuesday morning. Tuesday evening a noticeable relapse took place and she steadily failed until at 7:45 yesterday morning she passed away.

Mrs. Helene Pardee was born in this city and, with the exception of four years spent in Grand Haven, has lived here all her life. Sixteen years ago she married Captain George W. Pardee. In 1904 he was appointed Inspector of Hulls at Grand Haven and there they made their home for four years, after which they returned to Holland. Captain Pardee's death occurred four years ago.

For the past two and a half years, Mrs. Pardee has been the manager of Hotel Holland, of which her father, H. Boone, Sr., is the proprietor. Prior to her work in this capacity she owned a millinery business on west Eighth street that was considered the foremost in the city.

As a lover of out-door life she was often seen motoring about in the country or, on horseback, swinging along the many picturesque drives near the city.

In society of both Holland and Grand Haven, Mrs. Pardee was an acknowledged leader. Her ability as a singer created a popular demand for her presence in the churches and all social activities and whenever it was possible she willingly aided. In both the Century Club and Woman's Literary Club of this city she was an active member.

Funeral service will be held on Saturday afternoon from the home at 1:30 and at 2 o'clock from Hope church. At the home Rev. J. W. Beardslee, Sr., will officiate and Rev. M. Flipse will have charge of the services at Hope church.

YOUNGSTERS MADE GOOD

Grand Haven Boys and Girls Stouck To Promise to Take "Low" Out of Halloween

Grand Haven Tribune—A rising vote of thanks was offered the children of Grand Haven by the merchants and business men thru the Members Council of the Chamber of Commerce last night. The vote was an expression of appreciation for the wonderful conduct displayed by the children in eliminating every destructive phase of the Halloween custom.

Although the children enjoyed themselves immensely by parading up and down the streets in hideous costumes making all sorts of unearthly noises with the aid of tin cans, dish pans, horns and drums and etc., still not a sign of destruction followed their line of march and this morning finds all signs, bicycle racks, barber poles and other side walk decorations in the same place that have been used for them in the past. Not a sign of a window soaped, no displaced stairways, no ruined screen doors, in all the city presents the same appearance Wednesday morning as it did Tuesday morning or Sunday morning.

The Chamber of Commerce was busy Wednesday accepting appreciation of the movement and Grand Haven today proudly goes on record as taking the initiative in celebrating Halloween without the usual vandalism, boisterousness and destruction of property. As a mark of appreciation for the good work of the children the Members Council Tuesday night in regular session heartily recommended a Halloween Carnival for next year, same to be conducted on a gigantic scale in the Armory or some other suitable building, will follow a gorgeous pageant in which all of the children of Grand Haven will be invited to take part. The Carnival as anticipated will conclude with folk lore dances, civic and health playlets and other forms of entertainment by the children, themselves.

Now Lookout.

When a cold hangs on as often happens or when you have hardly gotten over one cold before you contract another, lookout for you are liable to contract some very serious disease. This succession of colds weakens the system and lowers the vitality so that you are much more liable to contract chronic catarrh, pneumonia or consumption. Cure your cold while you can. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has a great reputation. It is relied upon by thousands of people and never disappoints them. Try it. It only costs a quarter. Obtainable everywhere. Adv.

FALL TAX RATE IS LOWER THAN LAST YEAR

RATE PER THOUSAND DOLLARS FOR DECEMBER TAXES IS $5.54.

The fall tax-paying period is again rolling around. Holland taxpayers are anxiously waiting the announcement of City Assessor C. W. Nibbelink as to the rate for the December payments.

Here it is. The rate per thousand dollars on the fall tax is $5.54. The summer rate was higher but this amount has all been paid and the fall rate is the only one that is of interest now.

The total to be collected this December is $63,292.18. This includes state, county and county roads. The table submitted by the City Assessor is as follows:

1916
State Tax	$23,123.38
County Tax	$17,959.26
County Roads	$22,209.54

Total	$63,292.18
State Tax Rate per $1,000	$2.03
County Tax Rate per $1,000	$1.57
County Roads Tax rate per $1,000	$1.91

Total $5.54

Rate per $1,000 in 1915 was $5.83.

All special taxes are paid in December, such as the paving, sewer and sprinkling tax.

Payments will start on the first Monday in December, on the 4th. The days of grace will last till New Years, January 1, 1917, when interest of 5 per cent will be added.

There is an appreciable difference in the fall rate of this year and that of 1915, being 29 cents per thousand dollars.

In the total apportionment of the entire year Holland leads the county and Grand Haven is next. The Ottawa County total for the whole year is $865,817.92. Most of that has already been paid, falling due during the past summer.

ZEELAND FIRE BELL A RELIC IS ON EXHIBITION

WAS PUT UP IN 1885 WHEN DR. BAERT WAS PRESIDENT OF THE VILLAGE

The fire bell, which was formerly in use in Zeeland, has been placed in a conspicuous place on the first floor of the city hall. The bell which is highly esteemed as a relic, is well preserved. It bears the following inscription: "Zeeland Village Board, Feb. 10, 1885; president, Daniel Baert, trustees, Johannes De Pree, Jan. D. Everhardt and W. Westhof; clerk, Berend Kamps."

LINCOLN SCHOOL RECEIPT OF BEAUTIFUL GIFT

W. R. C. PRESENTS SILK AMERICAN FLAG WITH STANDARD

Friday afternoon will long be remembered by the children of the Lincoln school as a special day in their school history.

After singing "The Star Spangled Banner," Mrs. Bell, in behalf of the Women's Relief Corps presented the school with a beautiful silk American flag and standard, a much desired and therefore a highly prized gift. The school gave a rising vote of thanks to the W. R. C. and a hearty salute to the flag. Supt. E. E. Fell gave a very impressive talk to the boys and girls emphasizing the meaning of our national colors, "purity," "bravery" and "loyalty." After an enthusiastic Rahl Rahl Rahl for the ladies of the W. R. C. and the singing of our national hymn, the school was dismissed. Each boy and girl proud to have been classed among the future loyal citizens of America.

CAN'T GET INSURANCE WHEN YOU DRINK

GRAND RAPIDS MAN SAYS "HIS AGENTS MUST GIVE SALOON WIDE BERTH."

That all Western Michigan would go dry on November 7 was the opinion of Manager Lamereaux of the Preferred Life Insurance Company of Grand Rapids as expressed in conversation with Attorney Dean Swift Face of Coopersville, candidate for Register of Deeds on the Democratic ticket, one day this week.

"We tell all our agents," continued Mr. Lamereaux, "to give every saloon keeper and bartender a wide berth. Neither do we accept risks on the lives of habitual drunkards. It isn't good business."

SAUGATUCK LOSES A BOAT LOAD OF COAL

The barge Robert Filer was sunk near Detroit with a load of hard coal intended for the W. D. Hamilton Lumber & Coal company at Saugatuck. Last Friday the steamer Tempest which had the Filer in tow left it anchored while it went to Toledo for another barge. Before it returned a heavy gale came up and the Filer was sunk, all on board being lost except the Captain who was taken out of the rigging. The Tempest which also had a load of coal for the Saugatuck coal yard is continuing on its journey and will be in soon. Arrangements have been made to get another boat to bring coal in place of the coal that was lost and a boat is expected about Nov. 5th. Saugatuck is liable to have a coal famine owing to the loss of the boat load of coal.

S. R. C. WORKING ON BIG MARCONI OUTFIT

THIRTY-FIVE GATHER FOR FIRST REAL MEETING; ELECT THIS WEEK

The Scientific Research Club of the High school met for its first real meeting in the school with 35 prospective members present. This organization has been dormant for two years but now plans are being made to have it do something that the whole city will notice.

A committee was appointed to draw up a constitution. The election of officers was postponed until next week.

Work on the wireless station, to be erected on the roof of the high school as the largest ever attempted in western Michigan, is fast progressing. The instruments are to be made by the club under the supervision of physics instructor Alfred Sirrine. The aerial, to reach the entire length of the building and be twenty feet above it, is almost finished. The operator's room will be located on the third floor in the physics department.

PINE CREEK IS CONVERTED TO NURSE WORK

MISS BLANCHE POST REMOVES OBJECTIONS AND LEAVES LARGE CROWD IN FAVOR

In spite of the bad weather a very large crowd turned out to hear Miss Post, Ottawa County Nurse, at the Pine Creek School House Wednesday night. Her talk consisted largely on the necessity of the care of children's mouths and especially the teeth.

She termed the mouth as the gateway of the whole body, and therefore the most important factor in determining the future health of the child.

She said many people do not realize the importance of this work and tell us they never thought or heard of a nurse coming into a school years ago and advising the children on the care of their teeth and so on, and yet some of these same children lived to be very old.

"But," said she, "years ago you never heard of San Jose Scale and many other insects that are now here destroying your fruit, vegetables, etc., for which you are now compelled to spray."

"As these insects originate that destroy your trees, which you are compelled to fight in order to save them, so it is with conditions that arise to undermine the health of your children which should demand your immediate attention even more so than the tree-destroying scale."

She also said that the notes she had sent home with the children, showing the subnormal condition of the child's teeth and advising the parents to have the child taken to the family dentist were not compulsory, as many parents thought, but that she was just advising them as a guard for the future health of their children. She touched briefly on the good work that can be done by the Parent-Teachers clubs.

Many, who had heretofore placed very little value in the work of the County Nurse, expressed a very favorable opinion on the necessity of the continuance of her work after hearing her address.

When a short program had been given by the children, Miss Strowenjan, principal of the Beachwood school, read a very interesting paper on the work being accomplished by the Beachwood P.T. club in the way of social, educational and other matters. She also said that the regular studies of the children did in no way interfere with arranging programs for the P.T. meetings, but that this work was mostly taken up by the parents, and that the talent for this program can be gotten without any expense, only in the way of conveyance to and from the school.

After the address of Miss Strowenjan, a request was made to have all present who were in favor of organizing a Parents-Teachers' club raise their hands, with the result that every hand went up. The Pine Creek school will soon join the ranks of the majority of schools who have these clubs.

Light refreshments were served. The next meeting will be held November 8 when the club will be organized and every resident of the district will be invited to join.

NEW FURNACE CO. HAS ORDERS FOR 75 FURNACES

CASTING PLANT WILL BE READY NEXT WEEK. TINNING DEPARTMENT READY.

Although the New Home Furnace Co. has not even their building complete and all the machinery installed orders for 75 furnaces have already been secured. The casting is now being done by the Superior Foundry, but within two weeks the "Home" Foundry will be ready to start its own castings. The tinning department is already running and machinery is being installed as fast as it arrived.

It is thought that before the middle of next month the new plant will be running full time on advance orders in its completed plant.

SAYS HOTEL HOLLAND WILL NOT BUILD IF TOWN GOES DRY

GRAND RAPIDS PRESS PULSER GIVES HOTEL HISTORY DURING DRY AND WET SEASONS

A. E. Antisdell in a public pulse article in the Grand Rapids Press writes among other things in a wet public pulse, the history as he describes it of Hotel Holland and the results of a drought upon the hotel's business.

Says Mr. Outsider—Several years ago Holland, Mich., was voted dry. The Holland business men and the Holland hotel commenced to have dull business. Mr. Burke bought the hotel furniture and lost $9,000 inside of two years. He sold to Frank Wentworth who lost $12,000 to $15,000 inside of four years and Mr. Boone, the hotel property owner, got his furniture from unpaid hotel rent.

About two years ago the Holland merchants awoke and finding all their business getting away from them voted Holland wet. The Holland hotel was completely refurbished and has not only been a credit to the city of Holland, but has shown sufficient profit so that if prohibition falls to carry a new one hundred thousand dollar hotel will be built at Holland. The merchants of Holland are doing double the amount of business they did when Holland was dry. And it's a positive fact that any hotel in dry territory in the state of Michigan can be bought at your own price.

TRIO AND LOUIS KREIDLER CAPTURE CROWD

MUSICIANS AND SOLOIST OF FAME RESPOND TO MANY CALLS AT HOPE

One of the most enjoyable concerts ever listened to by patrons of the Hope College Lecture Course was heard Thursday night at Carnegie Hall. From the moment that the Tollefsen Trio struck harmony from piano, violin and cello, to the last chords which brought the concert to a close, the audience did not cease to express unqualified delight in each and every number.

Genuine artistic excellence in visiting artists has seldom been more evident in Holland than was seen in the artists Thursday night. It is no less true that few audiences in Holland have greeted visiting artists more enthusiastically than the Tollefsen Trio and Mr. Kreidler were greeted at Carnegie hall. Their first class artistry received the generous applause it merited, and their response to repeated encores was ungrudgingly given.

The Tollefsen Trio played with a finish, a precision, and a beauty of interpretation which were charmingly illustrated in the "Elegie" by Arensky and in the Reubenstein "Trio in B flat minor." If the charm of music well-written and well-performed is often to be found in the oneness of impression that underlies a seemingly infinite variety of harmony and manner then the Tollefsen trio were artists in the varied, yet consistent excellence of every number they rendered.

Mme. Schnabel-Tollefsen requires a word of special commendation. Her work as accompanist was unexceptionable, and marked both by sympathy and intelligence. In her solo numbers she displayed an even and remarkably flexible technique. She called out of the old Chickering grand more music than anyone thought it capable of containing.

Mr. Kreidler was received with unusual enthusiasm. His singing of French and German was acceptable for the music of his voice's sake; but when he sang English, he really captivated the audience and held them in rapt attention. He was forced to respond to a double encore—a phenomenon not witnessed very often in Carnegie hall.

What music Mr. Tollefsen might have evoked in solo work from his Stradivarius violin and Mr. Dureux from his Amati cello, can only be conjectured. No one who heard Thursday night's concert will forget the harmonious ensemble of the Tollefsen Trio, the brilliant piano work of Mme. Schnabel-Tollefsen, nor the rich and resonant voice of Mr. Kreidler.

CANDIDATES SEE OTTAWA COUNTY BALLOT

WILSON'S PICTURE IS ON THE NATIONAL BALLOT THIS YEAR.

Candidates for office on all tickets in Ottawa county are being given the satisfaction of seeing their names in official print. Proof ballots for the National, State, Congressional, Legislative and county tickets have been sent by County Clerk Jacob Glerum to all candidates that they may have a chance to study them carefully for misspelling of names or other defects which may be remedied by the printers before the final run of the ballots is made.

But five parties are represented on the ballot this year. The progressive vignette does not appear at all and the smiling countenance of Roosevelt the Bull Moose Leader is missing in this year's election. The Democratic party vignette this year is a flag with a picture of Woodrow Wilson, the Democratic standard bearer, on it. The familiar face of Abraham Lincoln, the first Republican president to occupy the white house, appears on the Republican vignette as it has for many years. The Republicans have also moved up a column and again hold the first place on the ballot.

The party tickets are arranged in the following order on the ballot. Republican, Democratic, Socialist party, Prohibition party and Socialist Labor party. The last three named parties have not complete tickets in the field, their candidates being missing from the prohibition county ticket.

The first four party tickets include a full set of presidential electors, while the Socialist labor party has but two men named for the electoral college.

A. BOEVE, FARMER, DEAD; ILL TEN DAYS

HAD NOT BEEN SICK FOR THIRTY YEARS; WIFE AND CHILDREN SURVIVE

After having enjoyed thirty years of the best of health, during which he had not found it necessary to consult a doctor once, Albert Boeve, aged 47, a farmer living two and one-half miles south of the city, ten days ago contracted pleural pneumonia and died Friday morning.

He is survived by his wife, to whom he had been married for 21 years and ten children, the oldest of whom is 20 years of age and the youngest two years. Mrs. Boeve was formerly Miss Sena Wolters of Fillmore township.

The funeral was held Monday noon at the home and at 4:30 at the Ebenezer church, Rev. Albert Strabbing officiating.

Rivalry Between Sunday Schools and Classes Growing Keen Over Convention Parade

(By C. V. A.) The chief topic in the Sunday schools of Holland tomorrow—besides the lesson, of course, will be the parade that the city, within a month, will look 6,000 in the march, with numerous floats, each Sunday school trying to outdo the other, with the high school band at the head and the drum corps in the rear, the State Sunday School parade in pageant with some original idea, and many of the senior classes, and juvenile too, will build a float of their own to make an especially strong showing for themselves. The accompanying cuts, taken from the Adrian parade, give an idea of what the schools did there. Bigger plans still are to be carried out in Holland. Rivalry is already growing keen. To be able to be pointed out as having the most original and prettiest float in the state parade will be an honor hitherto unattained by a school of Holland and that will make a name for the school or the head. A complete tour of Holland's main streets will be made and the grand finale will be a surrounding of Centennial park and the singing of "Onward Christian Soldier" by every marcher group to be weakly represented in the stirring vocal ending of the greatest demonstration of the convention. Not alone will Holland be represented in the parade with floats. Nearby cities, Grand Haven, Muskegon, Zeeland, Saugatuck, Allegan, and others, will place their floats in the march and compete for honors, increasing the rivalry. Holland, being the host, must certainly have the most original idea and carry the prize.

When Michigan State Sunday school convention meets in Holland on Nov. 15, 16, and 17, the largest crowd that ever gathered here will be housed and fed by the citizens of Holland. About 1800 delegates will come as registered guests. About 1200 will come as unregistered guests, paying their own expenses from a radius of 100 miles. Thus the city will have fully 3,000 visitors. These figures are taken from past conventions, omitting the fact that every year is a bigger year.

The parade, to be staged on the last day, will have 6,000 in the line of march, as estimated by the committee in charge of the arrangements. The 3,000 visitors will be in the line without an omission. Fully 3,000 more can be expected from the combined Sunday School population of Holland. With Holland will be an event long to be remembered.

Now why will the Sunday School start to plan tomorrow? Because each school is to have its own representative class far more distinguished than a triumph in athletics or attendance. At about 10:30 on Friday morning the line of march will be begun with the prominent speakers of the State near of the 6,000 and the spectators. The schools are already spreading the word that all the stanzas of the song should be learned if not known at present. It would be a dilemma for a certain

The entire state of Michigan will hear of the Holland convention at its close. Will its delegates be able to report that it was the largest and most stirring disclosure of Sunday school and civic pride that they have ever witnessed? It rests entirely with each Sunday School. Holland can if it will. The chorus of 450 voices practicing weekly is going to make that name or itself. Will the parade, too, be added to list of events that in Holland were the most thorough and enthusiastic of the State Sunday School's history? Let's make Michigan ring with the news of Holland's entertainment of the Sunday Schools in 1916.

VOTE NOV. 7
MICHIGAN DRY
"YES" FOR PROHIBITION
"NO" ON HOME RULE

On Nov. 7 every voter will receive ballots for four Constitutional Amendments. Two of these relate to the liquor traffic and two do not. Your special attention is called to the two amendments relating to the liquor traffic.

Every voter must vote twice on the liquor traffic. Every enemy of the saloon must vote "YES" on the Dry State-wide Amendment to Article XVI, Section 11, for prohibition. Every voter, wet or dry, who believes in the square deal, will vote "NO" on the "wet" or so-called "Home Rule" Amendment to Article VIII, Section 30.

What is the so-called "home rule" amendment? It is a plan to change the Michigan Local Option Law so that the voting unit will be the city, village or township instead of the county, as at present. It is distinctly a wet measure, advocated by the Michigan Home Rule League, which is the anti-prohibition organization of the Michigan saloons who are backed by the brewers and distillers in many other states than Michigan.

Who wants the so-called "home rule" amendment? The saloon crowd, brewers and distillers. Who are fighting the "home rule" amendment? The United Dry Federation of Michigan, including the Michigan Anti-Saloon League, Michigan Grange, Michigan Gleaners, Michigan State Sunday School Association, The Trade Union Dry League, W. C. T. U., and other great organizations, both Catholic and Protestant.

Section 11. The manufacture, sale, keeping for sale, giving away, bartering or furnishing of any vinous, malt brewed, fermented, spirituous or intoxicating liquors, except for medicinal, mechanical, chemical, scientific or sacramental purposes shall be after April 30th, 1918, prohibited in the state forever. The legislature shall by law provide regulations for the sale of such liquors for medicinal, mechanical, chemical, scientific and sacramental purposes.

To vote Dry put a cross after YES

What the "wets" want in Michigan is to defeat state-wide prohibition and nullify county local option—and to do this they hope to deceive enough dry voters so as to get a majority, November 7.

If the state-wide dry amendment is defeated and the wet "home rule" amendment is adopted, the county local option law of Michigan will be destroyed and the state will be as wet legally as it was before Van Buren County went dry in 1890.

FIRE PROTECTION OF HOLLAND
DEMANDS STORAGE RESER-

Supt. of Public Works Explains Improvement for City to Avoid River Water in Mains.

(By R. B. CHAMPION)

The question of water supply in Holland has always been a troublesome one, especially in recent years. It has been particularly noticeable during dry periods when practically 80 per cent of the water consumers would demand service at the same time for lawn sprinkling.

During the summer of 1913, before the 21st street station was placed in operation, great difficulty was encountered in maintaining pressure. In fact, there were five days when the pressure dropped below thirty pounds and three days when it was below twenty pounds for short periods. In ordinary operation forty pounds is the minimum to which the pressure is allowed to fall. Practically no trouble was had during the summers of 1914 and 1915, due in some measure, to the abundant rainfall.

In spite of the very severe and prolonged drought of this past summer, proper pressure was maintained, except for two or three days. A broken tee, caused by the settling of one of the 6-inch wells at the 28th street station, cut out half the capacity of that station. Much time was lost in locating the break and, meanwhile there was not sufficient water to maintain pressure to the normal minimum.

At such time as those mentioned it is very apparent to every one that things are not as they should be and constant effort is being made to make their recurrence as infrequent as possible.

One of the purposes of the water works department and which might possibly be said to be the primary purpose, is that of furnishing fire protection to the city.

Fire protection to be adequate requires a distribution system, high grade fire hydrants, sufficient pumping capacity and finally great quantity of water instantly available.

The distribution system, several of the fire hydrants and the fire pumps may be used several times a year, but a very large quantity of water may not be required more than once in ten years.

Holland has been well equipped in every way except that the large amount of water available would have been that in Black river, some three or four hundred feet above the outlet of the Central Avenue sewer. Fortunately for the inhabitants of Holland, a situation requiring the use of Black River water has not arisen since 1901, although connections have been and are now such that all that would be required to use it would be the opening of a valve. It might be well to state, however, that it is not possible to open this valve accidentally.

A town of the size of Holland should have instantly available for fire protection, sufficient water and pumping capacity to furnish twelve fire streams of 220 gallons per minute or at a rate of 3,800,000 gallons per 24 hours. The fire might require the entire twelve streams for a matter of a couple of hours after which time a gradually reducing number would be required.

At the present time the 19th and 28th street stations can each supply about one and one half millions gallons each at fire service pressure and the fire pump at the Fifth street station can furnish water at the rate of 2.7 million gallons for about two hours, or at the rate of 800,000 gallons for about six hours, assuming the standpipe to be full at the time of the fire. If everything worked according to the latter schedule it is probable that the present equipment would be sufficient for the emergency, except for the domestic consumption which would continue during a fire, and the plant might even with that, meet all requirements.

The fire pump at the present time, takes its supply from a well twelve feet in diameter and twenty-four feet deep, but which would supply the pump at full capacity for only about twenty to thirty minutes. The standpipe is so connected that, by opening a valve all the water stored therein can be released into the suction well and pumped into the mains under fire pressure.

It is easy to conceive a combination of circumstances, as with standpipe nearly emptied, one of the pumping stations out of commission temporarily, and a large fire starting, which would be very unfortunate.

To remedy this condition and to do away with the remotest necessity of having to pump raw river water into the mains, plans are being prepared for the construction of a concrete storage reservoir of one million gallons capacity. The reservoir will be approximately fifty feet wide, two-hundred feet long and fifteen feet deep.

It will be located on Sixth street, south of the Fifth street station. It will have a concrete roof over which will be a layer of earth and will be deep enough so that the top will not be above the present grade.

The capacity of the reservoir would be sufficient to supply eight streams of water for eight hours or twelve streams for five hours.

The estimated cost of the improvement, including piping, etc., is approximately $14,000. The plans will be presented to the Common Council at their next meeting by the Board of Public Works. While, as has been said before, the general public is apt to know the shortcomings of the water supply so far as lawn sprinkling is concerned, comparatively few people give any attention to the fire protection available, and would be aware of it only when it is too late, at a big fire.

John J. Rutgers, the clothier, has purchased a house and lot on 21st street formerly owned by Henry Wolters.

PROPOSED PAVING OF EIGH- TEENTH STREET.

Notice is hereby given, that at a meeting of the Common Council of the City of Holland, held Friday, October 20, 1916, the following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, that Eighteenth street between the west line of Pine Avenue and the west line of Maple Avenue be surfaced with a two-inch wearing course of asphalt and stone, said improvement being considered a necessary public improvement; that such improvement be made in accordance with the plans, diagrams and profile of the work, prepared by the City Engineer and now on file in the office of the City Clerk; that the cost and expense of making such improvement be paid partly from the general street fund of the city and partly by special assessment upon the lands, lots and premises abutting upon that part of Eighteenth street, between the west line of Pine Avenue and the west line of Maple Avenue, as follows:

Total estimated cost of improvement including cost of plans, assessment and cost of construction, $1,900.00, as determined and stated by the City Engineer; that the entire amount be defrayed by special assessment upon the lots and lands or parts of lots and lands, abutting upon said part of 18th street, according to the provisions of the city charter; provided however, that the cost of improving the street intersections where said part of 18th street intersects other street, be paid from the general street fund of the city; that the lands, lots and premises upon which said special assessment shall be levied shall include all the lands, lots and premises abutting on said part of said street in the city of Holland; also the street intersections where said part of 18th St. intersects other streets; all of which lots, lands and premises, as herein set forth, to be designated and declared to constitute a special assessment district, to defray that part of the cost of improving part of Eighteenth street in the manner hereinbefore set forth, said district to be known and designated as the "Eighteenth Street Paving Special Assessment District No. 2" in the city of Holland.

Resolved, that the profile, diagram, plans, plans and estimate of cost of the proposed improving of 18th street between the west line of Pine Avenue, and the west line of Maple Avenue be deposited in the office of the Clerk for public examination, and that the Clerk be instructed to give notice thereof, of the proposed improvement, and of the district to be assessed therefore, by publishing notice of the same for two weeks, and that Wednesday, the 15th day of November, 1916, at 7:30 o'clock p. m., be and is hereby determined as the time when the council will meet at the council room to consider any suggestions or objection that may be made to said assessment district, improvement diagram and estimate of cost.
