MAYOR SAYS HE WILL NOT MAKE THE RACE AGAIN

TELLS ALDERMEN HE WILL RETIRE FROM OFFICE AT CLOSE OF HIS TERM

City Officials Refuse To Accept the Statement of Chief Executive As Final

At a housewarming in his new home on East Ninth street, with the aldermen and a few other city officials and one or two friends present, Mayor E. P. Stephan made known the fact that he would not be a candidate to succeed himself at the spring election. "When I went into office three and a half years ago," said the mayor, "there were certain things that I wanted to do, and I promised myself that when they were done I would step out. I am a busy man and I feel that I should not be asked to keep on carrying the burden of the office. While I made a kind of vow to myself some years ago that I would always be ready to serve my community in any capacity in which I should be needed, I feel that there is no reason why some one else should not serve the city as mayor. I am making this announcement frankly so that you members of the council and others who are deeply and directly interested in the affairs of the city may have time to think of someone whom you may want to get back of as my successor."

There was immediately a chorus of dissent from those present. Several of the city officials declared that the city was in the midst of several problems which need the driving force of Mr. Stephan to carry them through successfully. One of these, the city attorney urged, is the revision of the charter. Mr. Stephan was very strongly urged to withdraw his decision and many complimentary things were said about what he had accomplished the past three and a half years for the city of Holland. It was urged that the city needed him now as never before. Mr. Stephan then repeated the statement that he was not trying to shirk and that if at any time it should appear that he could perform a service to the city that no one else could perform he would put aside personal considerations, but that he could conceive of no set of circumstances at this time that would make his candidacy necessary; that therefore nothing would please him more than to have his friends get behind a good man to follow him in office. But the aldermen were not satisfied and they refused to take Mr. Stephan's announcement as final.

ALLEGAN MAN DELIVERED MERE 1196 SERMONS

Years of His Charge There—He Gives Detailed Accounts of Service He's Performed

Allegan, Nov. 1.—Rev. B. J. Adcock, whose resignation from the pulpit of First Baptist church becomes effective January 1, has seen, in the six years he has been here, quite a bit of real service. The parishioners are proud to acknowledge that it is to him they owe their increased church membership. It is also added that thru his aid the church finances have been considerably increased.

Rev. Adcock himself has the "eye and no", as he refers to it, on his pastorate here. It consists of a numerical report of his work. He has, according to himself, married 36 couples since being here; preached 1,196 sermons; attended 334 religious meetings at which he did not preach, and sent messages of condolence to bereaved persons on 102 different occasions. Besides this, he has taught a Sunday school class, almost every Sunday since he came here from Moody Bible Institute, Chicago, from which he had just graduated. He is also a graduate of North End Baptist Theological seminary, Chicago.

ONLY ONE ARREST WILL RESULT FROM CELEBRATIONS IN HOLLAND

The city police department had rather a busy time of it Wednesday evening to prevent the Halloween celebration from developing into disorder. Some extra deputies were on the job to help the regular officers and all were kept pretty busy. In addition to a false fire alarm there were some grass fires to put out before they should endanger property, and one party of people in an auto made such a racket by dragging something over the pavement, making a hideous noise, that the police department said arrest would follow. The number of the car is known.

Although the police were kept quite busy no damage was done and in the main the celebrations were harmless.

GRAND HAVEN CLAIMS ANOTHER KEEPER

THIS TIME HOWEVER THE COAST GUARD KEEPER BELONGS TO HOLLAND

In a recently published article Gr. Haven, in its long list of keepers that have done duty among the coast guards working their way from surfmen up at Grand Haven Harbor, the name of Harry Vandenberg appears. The Grand Haven Tribune goes at some length in telling how Mr. Vandenberg started his surfman's career in Grand Haven and has now been promoted to the Beaver Island station, as keeper.

The fact of the matter is, Harry is a Holland boy, son of John Vandenberg, oldest brother of "Vaude", Ben and Bill, and started in as a lifesaving man under the late Captain Morton, many years ago.

The way Mr. Vandenberg was transferred to Grand Haven, it will be remembered, was at the time when the entire life saving crew under Capt. Poole was under fire.

It will be remembered that about twenty years ago when Holland's breakwaters were constructed, that three pier workers employed by Shorbeck & Co., were caught on one of the outer breakwaters when a squall and a following storm hit Lake Michigan in a twinkling and before the men could prepare to make for the shore, the snow generally used to take the men forth and back, broke away from its moorings, leaving the men isolated on the outer pier.

It is doubtful if Lake Michigan has to its credit a worse storm than that one. Within 15 minutes no ship could live in that seething, churning mass of water.

It is doubtful if the lifesavers could ever have gotten the three men off of great deal of doubt amongst the sailing crew would have returned had they made the attempt.

The writer with Mr. Whelan made the trip to the harbor and remained all night, and it was conceded by nautical men that nothing could live in the turbulent waters.

In the meantime the three men tied themselves to the heavy timbers, in fact one at least had crawled in under the stone-work.

The life-savers attempted time, and again to shot them a line from the pier, but the arrow fell far short, and attempts were abandoned.

In the morning when the storm had somewhat subsided, Capt. Poole and his men made for the breakwater. They simply had been overwhelmed vanced a cold northwestern set in which must have numbed them to such an extent that they abandoned fighting against the tons of water that surged with each repeating wave over the breakwater.

While Capt. Poole was a lovable man, in fact he was one of these "skippers" who everyone took to, the government investigation that followed, resulted in the discharge of every lifesaver from the service forever, except three men and Harry Vandenberg was one of the latter.

Harry had fought hard the entire night and was willing and ready to do or die in the life boat, even tho the chances were a thousand to one against him.

No doubt to obviate unpleasantness Mr. Vandenberg was transferred to Grand Haven soon afterward, and he has been there such a long time that it is no wonder that the county seat claims him.

Mr. Vandenberg's promotion to the station at Beaver Island as a keeper is especially gratifying to Holland people.

Ward Bennett who has been the keeper at Beaver Island, has been transferred to South Haven to take the place of Captain Robinson, who is now on the retired list. That genial "skipper" who has been in the service as long as most of us can remember, is the father of Attorney Thomas N. Robinson, and Ed Robinson of Holland.

MAYOR DECLARES CITY PLANNING PROGRAM NEEDED

A CITY DOES NOT PLAN ITSELF ANYMORE THAN DOES A HOUSE

By Intelligent Planning Now Mistakes In the Future Can Be Prevented

The aldermen and other city officials gathered at the home of Mayor E. P. Stephan for a housewarming on Wednesday evening and were royally entertained by the chief executive and his wife. The meeting took the form of an informal council session, with a radio concert and some offhand speeches making up the program. The council members discussed various projects and did little city jobs such as usually come up at a council meeting, but it was all done without any ceremony, and a spirit of pleasant social friendliness prevailed.

The city officials inspected the new home of the mayor and one of them proposed a vote that they should accept the job, which was passed with a good deal of merriment.

Mayor Stephan took advantage of the question thus brought more or less humorously before the meeting to call attention to a problem that will face Holland in the not distant future, as it faces most cities.

"This house is an illustration," said the mayor, "of what confronts Holland. You men seem to think the house is well built and that you are justified in accepting the job. But it did not build itself. I planned for about nine months before I began building it. And a city is not different than a house in this respect. A city does not build itself, at least not if it is to be built well and intelligently. To get a well built city takes planning."

And that is what Holland will have to face soon—an intelligent city planning program. Cities like Grand Rapids, Chicago and others are now working out city planning projects at the cost of a great deal of money. Had they begun when as small as Holland it would have cost little or nothing. Now they have to rectify mistakes by having a definite city planning program that will lay out the city for future growth. I am bringing this matter up because I would like you to begin thinking about it now."

DE PREE OF HOLLAND IS PIONEER CHICKEN MAN, HE SAYS

PEDDLER'S INSISTENCE MADE OTTAWA CO. FAMOUS AS LARGEST CHICK REGION IN THE COUNTRY

Western Michigan is noted for its furniture industry throughout the world. But it will soon be rivaled by another industry that will be at its prime in a few years. This industry is chicken hatching of this vicinity.

Holland has the pioneer hatchery man of the state in Henry De Pree, who lives on the West Michigan pike, on Meadow Brook farm, southwest of Holland.

Mr. De Pree states that it was 20 years ago when he first began. In telling the story Mr. De Pree says, "I never would have started if the incubator was not forced upon me. I was raising chickens then for the resort trade, mostly broilers, when an incubator agent made me try one of his machines in order to increase my flocks. That one machine was the foundation for many more that we have now. The capacity of these incubators when running up to standard is 96,000 eggs, while the original had a capacity of 250 eggs."

Besides being the oldest hatchery in the state this is also operated by one of the best organized hatchery companies. It is conducted by the men of the family assisted by their mother and their sisters. Henry De Pree is president and general manager, Edward is superintendent of the hatchery and John is superintendent of shipping. The officers are also the workers.

"On the strength of our experiment," says Henry De Pree there have been hundreds of other hatcheries built in this part of the state. Chicken fanciers and others watched our experiment daily, all with the same doubtful faith, now some of these men have some of the largest hatcheries in the state.

Many Varieties

At the Meadow Brook farm there are White Wyandottes, Barred Plymouth Rocks, Rhode Island Reds, Brown, Buff and white Leghorn strains; the latter is the specialty, these having an average of 280 to 300 eggs per year. The hatchery will hatch 450,000 of the chicks this year. They also have a strain which they have developed and bred very carefully so that now they have a very high grade of chicken. The name of this strain is the "Holland (Netherlands) Brown Leghorn." The original eggs came directly from the Netherlands taken from there by one of Mr. De Pree's friends. This variety is larger than the American type and is a standard utility bird combined. It lays as many and larger eggs than the American Leghorn, declare the breeders. In other respects, such as color, type and standard qualifications the bird is the same as the American Brown Leghorn. Mr. De Pree and his sons are strong believers in cackling about. They have spent large sums for advertising, but they know that they get returns. This year they sent out thousands of circulars all over the United States and Canada.

Meadow Brook Farm is a well known stopping place for people on the Grand Rapids-Chicago pike, and the hatchery is always open for inspection.

Ottawa county of which Holland is the big center is the largest chick producing center in the United States or Canada. Millions of chicks of every variety are hatched yearly and sold all over the United States.

REVEALS PLANS FOR $360,000.00 HOTEL HERE

A. H. LANDWEHR TELLS PLANS TO THE EXCHANGE CLUB ON WEDNESDAY

Furnace Company Men To Furnish $180,000.00 and Rest To Be In 7 Per Cent Preferred Stock

Battered to earth to rise again is as truly true of a new concrete hotel for Holland as it is of that abstract generally known as Truth. And this time the hotel must rise, for warm air rises and Warm Friends are beneath this project, with backs and shoulders boosting upwards. This bit of encouraging news was brought out by A. H. Landwehr in his talk to the Exchange Club at their bi-weekly luncheon here Wednesday when he addressed the members on what to all our citizens is a vital subject, "The Outlook for Holland." A modern hotel is one of the prime requisites in the make-up of a growing city and the means whereby one could be secured for Holland was naturally one of the speaker's most important points.

Every time the hotel question has bobbed up, it has been met with the curt query "Where is the money coming from?" This time we have a ready answer. Mr. Landwehr's plan calls for a $360,000 investment, but exactly one-half of that will be provided by Mr. Landwehr and his associates in the Holland Furnace Co., leaving but $180,000 to be raised by all the rest of Holland. The financial plan calls for the division of this $180,000 into seven per cent participating preferred stock. In that way all subscribers will be equally interested in the property as well as in the profits gained from the venture. All outside stock salesmen with their high financing and sometimes exorbitant commissions are eliminated and dollar for dollar goes into brick and mortar.

Mr. Diekema, Mr. DePree and Mr. Landwehr have been in conference with prominent hotel men and are assured that as soon as the new hotel is ready proper management can be secured. In fact, the completed structure can be turned over to experienced hotel men at a premium which will show the owners a good return on their investment. These hotel operators are not considering the proposition as a resort proposition in the least but have found that, with the completion of the new State Highway with the favorable geographical location of our city and with the ever expanding industrial and business interests it is not a question of time when a hotel will be built in Holland but that the present is the time. Things which are good for a city must come. Such is Mr. Landwehr's contention. So along with our improved streets, plans for beautifying Kollen Park and improving the shores of Black Lake, the hotel is an ever present necessity. All of these good things are before us, and our city made up of four-square men, stands ready to face the outlook, to meet the growing prosperity of the country more than half way, to keep up steam and be just a step in advance of the others.

HOLLAND TO BE CITY OF 25,000 IN SEVEN YEARS

THAT IS IDEA OF CITY ATTORNEY CHARLES H. MCBRIDE IN COUNCIL SPEECH

"Holland will have a population of 25,000 by 1930." That was a prediction made Wednesday evening at an informal meeting of the common council at the home of Mayor E. P. Stephan by City Attorney C. H. McBride. Mr. McBride made his prediction in a speech that he delivered in which he expressed the sentiments of the aldermen and other city officials in regard to Mayor Stephan's administration of city affairs.

Mr. McBride's contention was that Holland is on the very brink of a period of expansion. He told of a trip that he and others had taken across the state recently. They had come through many cities that had reached their period of highest development and were now standing still. But Holland has not reached that point. It is only just coming into its own. With a number of new projects in prospect Holland is just about ready for the greatest period of expansion in its history.

"A city has as much room and prospect for growth as the vision of its people," said Mr. McBride. "The city whose leading men have no wider vision than their own individual affairs is bound to stop growing. But in Holland a number of men have a vision for the city that is much wider than their own personal interests and the growth of such a city cannot be held back."

"And chief among these men is Mayor E. P. Stephan. In him are epitomized, in a way of speaking, the forces in Holland that stand for the advancement of the city, and he, by virtue of his personality as well as by virtue of his official position, is the one who makes these forces articulate and gives them direction."

Mr. McBride also paid a tribute to the aldermen, declaring that they are in a position to direct and help the growth of the city. Their work may seem one of detail, he declared, but the whole effect of it is advancement for Holland. All should keep in mind, he said, the fact that the city is on the verge of a great period of expansion and should always work to help this along.

GIVES DELIGHTFUL PORTRAIT OF A MODERN MIDAS

C. Vander Meulen won for himself the title of "a modern Jonathan Swift," or a "twentieth century Samuel Butler" at a meeting of the Century club Monday evening, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Mc Bride when he read a paper on the subject, "An Interview With a Modern Midas." The paper was something out of the common run of club addresses, a study in irony that was as successful as it was difficult.

Mr. Vander Meulen imagined a modern multi-millionaire auto manufacturer giving an interview on the secret of his success to a modern magazine in which he is a heavy advertiser. This twentieth century Midas does not at all hate himself and he is not at all backward about giving his ideas about the present-day systems of education, religion, industry, and so on. But in doing so he unconsciously paints a picture of himself as a smug, rather ignorant, pushing individual, who worships the god of practicality and who, like most ignorant men despises those things that he does not understand. The paper was a triumph of indirect portraiture. Mr. Vander Meulen's modern Midas apothecizes the practical man and thinks all dreamers and artists and inventors are of a secondary importance in the scheme of things and in building up of a civilization. He looks upon steam, steel and electricity as the greatest elements in civilization. Instead of the present-day system of education with its emphasis on the humanities, he would have boys and girls educated in practical things; instead of teaching them the lives of Washington and Lincoln, he would tell them of the lives of Pierpont Morgan and Rockefeller; instead of teaching them music and art, he would have them instructed in mathematics and other practical studies that would show them how to make money with which to buy their music and art. In religion the modern Midas is all for the old orthodox type because it keeps the common people from being discontented, making them think so much of heaven that they haven't time to worry about their life on earth.

All through it was a bit of irony of the most delicious kind. The music was furnished by a quartet composed of Mrs. Telling, Miss Anthony, Mr. Gerrit Ter Beek and Mr. John Ter Beek.

Edward Yoemans was elected a member of the club at Monday night's meeting.

CARL E. MAPES

IS LIKELY TO BE

UNOPPOSED

Under a Lansing dispatch John Fitzgibbon political writer for the Detroit News dopes out that Carl E. Mapes and seven other congressmen will be unopposed in the republican primaries next fall. Says the News:

"Reports are that eight of the present 12 republican representatives in congress from Michigan are likely to be unopposed for renomination in the primaries next August. They are Earl C. Michener, 2nd district; Arthur B. Williams, 3rd district; John C. Ketcham, 4th; Carl E. Mapes, 5th; Grant M. Hudson, 6th; Bird J. Vincent, 8th; Roy O. Woodruff, 10th; and Clarence J. McLeod, 11th.

An opposition republican candidate to Louis C. Cramton in the 7th is promised. In the 3th J. C. McLaughlin, who has been elected nine times, will be opposed for renomination by former State Senator A. J. Engle, of Lake City. Two years ago Senator Engle was a candidate, polling 11,576 votes out of 12,178 for Rep. McLaughlin.

In the 11th, Rep. Frank D. Scott will have to fight for a renomination, for F. B. Aldrich of Cheboygan county, who gave him a close race two years ago, will again be a candidate, and Herbert F. Baker may also enter.

As far as Cong. Carl E. Mapes is concerned, he not only ran far ahead of the other candidates on the republican ticket at the primaries in 1922, but received the largest vote on election day ever given to any man, his district, his majority being more than 38,000.

FRUIT CROP MAKES NAVIGATION YEAR SUCCESSFUL ONE

Because of the big fruit crop the Graham & Morton Company expect to finish the present year with a fairly good year's business to its credit. It was the fruit of this section of Michigan that has helped to redeem what would otherwise have been a somewhat quiet navigating season.

During the last two weeks in August cold weather struck this section of the country, interfering materially with resort passenger traffic. That cut down the business of the company materially and cut a large hole into the year's profits. Moreover, in some lines like furniture the shipping of freight has also been lighter than for some time, and that means a loss of business for the boat line.

But it was the fruit and truck farms of this section that helped the situation materially. The fruit crop was a bumper one and an enormous amount of fruit was shipped from the Holland and Saugatuck ports. Crops like celery and other farm products of that kind that finds a market in Chicago also were large.

TO HOLD OTTAWA PEP MEETING FOR SEAL SALE

Members of anti-tuberculosis committees and county and district Christian seal directors from four counties will meet in Grand Haven at a luncheon at the Glider Hotel on Monday, November 12, to discuss ways and means of raising an anti-tuberculosis fund of five cents per capita, the goal that has been set for the 1923 Christmas Seal Sale.

Meeting with the local representatives from Muskegon, Montcalm, Ionia and Ottawa counties will be members of the staff of the Michigan Tuberculosis Association which is in charge of the sale in Michigan and is the parent body of all other anti-tuberculosis organizations.

For the benefit of those attending the meeting the Seal Sale will be thoroughly discussed by T. J. Werle, executive secretary of the Michigan Tuberculosis Association; Vernon H. Brewster, Michigan Seal Sale director, and Miss Louise Getty, who will aid in the sale in the four counties. Members of the local organization will join in the discussion to decide on ways and means to push the 1923 Seal Sale.

STATE STARTS SURVEY ON M-11 IN MANISTEE COUNTY

That the state means business in the project for the permanent paving of highway M-11 near Manistee was indicated when a group of surveyors began to lay out the road for its new top coat.

The engineers started their work at the top of Pete Olsen's hill, about six miles north of Manistee where the permanent pavement already laid ends south of the city. M-11 is paved practically to the Mason county border and the short piece still to be finished will be handled by engineers who are surveying the highway thru the southern county.

With only two dissenting votes, the Grand Traverse county board of supervisors voted to pay $1,000 for the county's quota of $2750 for the Michigan Tourist and Resort bureau. The matter will next be presented to the Traverse city commission, which is expected to appropriate several hundred dollars toward the fund, leaving a comparatively small amount to be raised by popular subscription.

MUSKEGON LANDS

MISKE-LOHMAN GO.

Elly Miske of St. Paul, one of the most prominent heavyweights of the country, has been matched to battle 10 rounds with Joe Lohman of Toledo in Muskegon on the night of November 18, according to an announcement made by Joseph Gudelsky, a matchmaker for the Greater Muskegon Athletic club, who was one of the ring-side spectators at the Wiggins-Farmer Lodge battle in Muskegon on Friday night.

Gudelsky said the Miske-Lohman fight was framed up after more than five weeks of negotiating. Lohman is now in the south meeting the best promoters there can offer and will make a special trip to this state to take on Miske, the big St. Paul man. Mickey Brennan of Kalamazoo, Gudelsky says, will be one of the principals in the semi-windup.

THIRD WARD RESULTS REPORTED IN THIRTY SECONDS

In less than thirty seconds after the polls closed Monday afternoon in the special storm sewer bonds election the result in the third ward was known and in the office of the local papers. It was in the third ward that the voting machine was used, and it was because of this that the returns were in so quickly from that ward. The election was a simple one with only one matter to vote on, but even if it had been complicated, with a number of questions to be decided, the result could have been known just as early. Getting the results in an election where a voting machine is used is merely a case of reading the figures. There is no adding to be done, no tally sheets to check up. The machine does all that during the day while the election is in progress. As soon as the election is over the back of the machine is opened and the figures are there before the election officials, all nicely added up and ready to be reported.

NEW ALLEGAN POSTOFFICE

Charles Wery, who is erecting Allegan's new postoffice, has the building almost completed. The new postoffice, located on Chestnut-st., opposite the court house is a one story affair. It contains more than 2,500 square feet of floor space. The specifications called for a building 46x60 feet, but it is a trifle less than 40 ft. in width and more than 60 feet long. Numerous windows furnish plenty of light. All the equipment will be new including the letter boxes, lock boxes, desks, chairs, lockers for the clerks and carriers, burglarproof safe and postmasters room and furnishings.

WILD TIME WAS "HAD BY ALL" IN ALLEGAN FAMILY

The case against John Wolbert for assault and battery which was the first to be tried at the present session of the Allegan County Circuit court, was an unusual and interesting one.

It appeared that Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Belden, living in southwest Montcalm, separated last March and Mrs. Belden took with her their daughter, Alice, aged three years. Belden, on one of his visits to see his daughter, in August, took the child home with him. Two days afterward, the night of August 8, Mrs. Belden with her sister, Mrs. Dorothy Wolbert, and her husband, Mrs. Moore, her mother, and another sister and her fiancé, went from their homes near Saugatuck to the Belden home. Mrs. Eva Moon, aunt and Mrs. Cora Richardson, cousin, were keeping house for Belden.

At about 9 o'clock Standard time the party arrived at the Belden home and reconnoitered it. Wolbert rapped and in answer to Cora Richardson, said he had a warrant for Belden. It was denied that he said that he was sheriff. Mrs. Richardson ordered them to leave, gave them to understand Belden and the baby were not at home, and told them to come back by daylight. All the party went to Allegan, could not find Judge Cross nor Judge Stratton, the other daughter and her fiancé left for home, and Mrs. John Belden, the Wolberts and Mrs. Moore returned to the Belden home and waited in ambush for the morning. They observed Belden leave the house on his way to get the cows and as Mrs. Belden put it, "stormed the house." It was disputed whether respondent or Mrs. Belden broke in the window with a hammer, but it was agreed that Mrs. Belden entered that way, followed by Mrs. Wolbert and Wolbert.

A fracas took place in which the people claimed Wolbert grasped Mrs. Moon and threatened her with the hammer, and assaulted Mrs. Richardson, striking her with the hammer, and aiding Mrs. Wolbert, who is claimed to have pulled Mrs. Richardson's hair and slapped her. A revolver was fired, the people claiming that it was fired by Mrs. Belden and the defense by Mrs. Richardson. Wolbert testified that he came to the assistance of his wife who was, as he said, "entertaining" Mrs. Richardson that he did not strike her but simply took the revolver from her. The jury were unable to agree on which story to believe, standing 10 to 2 for acquittal.

SMALL POX AMONG CHILDREN HAS BEEN CHECKED

If any more proof were needed to show that vaccination prevents small pox it would be found in the situation in Holland just now. While the epidemic is well in hand and there are not as many cases now as there were at one time, new cases are constantly being added, one of them being added since Saturday. The outstanding fact about the new cases that are being quarantined is that they are almost exclusively adults. Nearly all the children in the city have been vaccinated and as a result small pox among them has been almost completely wiped out. Children are not getting the disease in Holland, but there are many adults in the city who have not been vaccinated and they are the ones who are open to attack.

There are at present six cases of scarlet fever in the city and two cases of diphtheria. Health Officer Godfrey issued a warning Monday that he is afraid there will be more cases of diphtheria. The disease is prevalent in many places and it is likely that it will increase in Holland, so citizens are asked to take all possible precautions.

PETITION ASKS BUS LINE BE KEPT IN OPERATION

With the approach of the time when M-11 will be open in a direct line between Grand Haven and Muskegon commuters from Spring Lake, Fruitport and wayside points are wondering what they will do for bus service after Langlois Bros. shift their buses back on the M-11 route.

M-11 should be open in about four weeks. A petition has been signed by many Spring Lake and Fruitport residents requesting that a bus be kept on the circuit run. This has been taken under consideration.

HOLLAND TO BE ALL-YEAR PORT THIS WINTER

Local Agent Johnson of the Graham & Morton company made one of the most popular announcements on Tuesday that he has issued since becoming connected with that firm. He informed the merchants and shippers that for the first time in the history of the Graham & Morton line there will be an all-winter navigation season out of Holland. The company has chartered one of the most powerful ice-breakers on Lake Michigan and that vessel will be put into the service as soon as ice conditions make that necessary. It will make tri-weekly trips out of Holland and will give the local shippers an opportunity to keep on shipping by water all winter. The vessel will be one of large capacity that will be amply able to take care of all the freight that can be fed to it at the local dock. The name of the boat has not been announced.

The all-winter service will be an experiment and the success of it will depend largely on local shippers. If they co-operate with the company, as it is fully expected they will and if they give freight enough to let the line break even, the system will be continued. Winter navigation from an ice-locked port like Holland is not as a rule a very profitable venture, but the Graham & Morton line hopes that it will be able to make expenses. If that can be done the service will be considered a success.

Navigation from Holland is harder than from ports like Muskegon and even Grand Haven. Contrary to the opinion of most people, it is not the ice in Black Lake that is worrying the boat officials, but the slush ice in Lake Michigan. The ice in Black Lake can easily be broken. Ports like Muskegon have less floating ice in Lake Michigan because the shoreline extends out at that point, while at Muskegon the shoreline forms a point a bowl and hence collects large fields of ice.

Daily boat service will continue until about the middle of December, after which the tri-weekly schedule will be put on.

BONAR LAW IS TAKEN AFTER A LONG ILLNESS

London, Oct. 30.—Andrew Bonar Law, prime minister of Great Britain from October 1922 to May, 1923, died at his residence in London at 2:30 a. Tuesday. He had been ill for many months. The cause of death was given as septic pneumonia.

Death followed a long but fruitless fight in England and on the continent in an effort to regain health, shattered by his duties as chief of the British state during one of the most trying periods in its history.

DIEKEMA TRIBUTE

TO T. R. MARKS NATAL
DAY HERE

In an eloquent address before the students and faculty members of Hope College Friday morning, Hon. S. J. Diekema called the late Theodore Roosevelt the ideal American. "The ideal," said Mr. Diekema, "is only appreciated in the human being. Just as divinity was not understood until it was incarnated in Jesus, so idealism is not understood until it is incarnated in a person."

Mr. Diekema drew a picture of the life of Roosevelt, public and private, which bore the touch of intimate acquaintance with the man. He spoke of Roosevelt as a man of unquestioned physical courage. "I despise," he said, "the physical coward. Such a man is not only a physical weakling but from him there can never come the thought and the power and the influence of intellect and of genius. As a lad Roosevelt fought disease and weakness and made himself a man of wonderful strength and endurance. He loved the life of the cowpuncher, the big game hunter, to match strength with courage."

Mr. Diekema told the story of how as a young Sunday School teacher Roosevelt rewarded with a dollar a boy who had fought to defend a lady, how as a cowpuncher he had laid low with his fist the Western bully who tried to intimidate the crowd in a bar, and how in Milwaukee he spoke for an hour with the bullet of a would-be assassin in his body.

"His moral courage was as great," said Mr. Diekema, "and no man can. He knew no fear of men or nations. Unflinching in his convictions he would allow no man or group of men to discourage him. When Venezuela was threatened by Germany and Britain and Italy and German marines were under orders to land and collect payment of dues, Roosevelt called the German ambassador and demanded arbitration under penalty of American intervention. The Kaiser refused flatly, whereupon Roosevelt intimated to the German ambassador that Dewey would get orders to enter Venezuelan waters immediately. That courageous stand, taken without hesitation, settled the matter."

"He was a man of wonderful intellectual ability who loved and studied great literature. He was a great lover of nature. Not a bird but he knew its call, and he at one time expected to devote himself to a life career in nature study."

"He was a common man. He never played president but was always one of the people. His messages to congress—and he never sent a message to congress but to the American people through congress—were read and appreciated by all classes in America. He loved his people and as a great leader he gave them guidance and vision as one of them. How often have I seen the grimy sons of toil sitting in street cars with their newspapers and reading those messages as tears dimmed their eyes or smiles broke over their faces. They knew him as the president of the common people, their president, and they believed in him. He came into the closest touch with them and on Sundays or weekdays he met them in hearty handclasp in the little old Dutch church which he loved so well."

"In vision he saw a crust forming upon the national life, a crust of insidious meaning that would separate our nation into classes—wealth and power and prestige into classes and he stood with all his wonderful physical courage backed by his marvelous moral courage and would allow no favoritisms, no growth of class arraignment against the masses, spirit, nothing that was not ideal and not American. These were the qualities of that great man evident to the very end. He foresaw at the very beginning of the World war that we should be drawn into it and he went everywhere over this country preaching the doctrine of preparation. And if we had heeded his warnings, the lives of thousands of brave American sons would have been saved."

"I may seem to be overenthusiastic and I want to read to you a couple of stanzas from Kipling about Roosevelt:

"Concerning brave captains
Our age hath made known
For all men in honor,
One standeth alone,
Of whom our best boys' oceans
Both peoples may say—
'Our realm is diminished
With Great Heart away.'
Let those who can handle
Make sure they can wield
His far-cracking sword
And his close-guarding shield;
For those who must journey
Henceforward alone
Have need of stout convoy
Now Great-Heart is gone."

"Men and nations have their mecas. We go from shrine to shrine to find our ideals, and America in the long years to come will make her pilgrimages to Mt. Vernon, to Springfield, to Oyster Bay, for there sleep her mighty sons, the incarnate ideals of American liberty and American life. Lloyd George uttered no truer saying than his words at Lincoln's tomb a few days ago, 'No greater soul ever grew on American soil and he is still growing.' Theodore Roosevelt, ideal American, lover of justice, of man, and of God, though his body lies buried amidst the scenes of his home that he loved so well, for all future time the Mecca of ideal Americanism, Theodore Roosevelt is still growing as the ideal citizen."

BREEDERS OF SILVER

FOX WILL EXHIBIT

ANIMALS AT SHOW

The annual Live Silver Fox exhibit will be held in Milwaukee, Nov. 22-26, according to J. E. Smith, Muskegon, secretary of the National Silver Fox Breeders' association of America.

At the last show one breeder refused $50,000.00 for three live silver foxes Mr. Smith says. Another breeder sold a cub for $10,000 and a Wisconsin breeder refused $27,500 for three animals.

Wisconsin is the leading state in the industry, which embraces a number of northern commonwealths and Canada and Alaska.

Twenty classes of exhibits will be before judges selected to pass on the merits of animals at the coming show. These in turn are divided into classes designated as adult and pup, with other classes arranged according to color of the exhibit. Four prizes will be awarded in each general class. In addition, two sweepstakes trophies will be offered, one to the highest scoring silver fox and one to the highest scoring Alaskan silver fox.

A call has been extended by the Christian Reformed church of Pater-son, N. J. to Rev. D. R. Drukker of Zeeland.

FORMER HOLLAND

MAN WANTS TO SAVE
USE CITY MONEY

A former citizen of Holland, Jacob Boerman, now a citizen of Denver, Colorado, noticed in the News the other day that Holland is to try out a voting machine in the coming special election and that there is some talk of buying machines for all the wards here. Being still interested in Holland, he sent a clipping from the Denver Post of Oct. 13 in which 188 machines are offered for sale at almost nothing. "If Holland could use them and should want them," he writes, "they could sure save some money. So I send the clipping for what it is worth. I do not know anything about voting machines myself."

The clipping recounts the fact that owing to litigation over Denver's voting machines, the machines have not been used since 1907, the year they were purchased, and that now the city is contemplating disposing of them. It is intimated in the story that the machines can be had for a song. There is no suggestion in the story that the machines are defective or that there is anything the matter with them.

SAYS SMALLPOX

IS A DISGRACE

TO CIVILIZATION

LANSING, Oct. 27.—Small pox has been referred to most aptly as a "disgrace to civilization." This caption becomes increasingly justified when reports from the Michigan Department of Health show the scourge of yore to be on the increase. A gain in smallpox at this time is quite natural, for it is a winter disease. But the increase now is more pronounced, especially when compared with 1922. Then the first three weeks of October saw 34 cases reported. This year the figure is 127. This is in excess of the average for the past ten years which is 72. Holland and Owasco have major epidemics reported and the spotted horror is seriously threatening other localities.

There is more smallpox in Michigan than there ought to be. Smallpox is almost unknown in the states having compulsory vaccination and cases that break out in New York state are regarded as real curiosities. Little more could be said to emphasize the importance of vaccination as a sterilizing preventative against this plague of medieval times. To the intelligent in Michigan, those to whom a wealth of medical knowledge is something more than a passing by-word wholly detached arm yourselves against the threats of smallpox! Vaccinate at once and let's eliminate the disease forever!

RE-ROUTING OF P. M. AT GRAND RAPIDS IS AP-
PROVED BY LYNCH

Gratification of the planning department relative to the announcement of Frank H. Alfred, president of the Pere Marquette Railroad company that his road will shorten the distance between Detroit and Chicago on through freight by building a link south of Grand Rapids diverting this freight around this city, was expressed yesterday by Hugh E. Lynch, secretary of the department.

"This is only a part of the belt line plan we proposed," Lynch said. "When we presented our proposals to the railroad men, they became immediately enthusiastic and said it suggested good railroading as it will eliminate many long hauls through Grand Rapids. The diversion of the traffic not necessary to the city decreases the noise, smoke and congestion and makes Grand Rapids a better city."

Under the plan the P. M. will build a belt line from Fox station west thru the picnic acid plant property and the planners' program contemplates the abandoning of the Lake Shore trains at that point, bringing the Lake Shore trains into Grand Rapids over the Pere Marquette railroad.

The belt line plan, which provides for double track, will cause other roads to utilize trackage jointly. Lynch said, and would eventually require a new railroad bridge over the Grand river near the Michigan R'y company's bridge at Godfrey ave., S. W.

CONGRESSMAN'S DAUGHTER

MARRIES GRAND HAVEN MAN

ST. CLAIR, Oct. 29.—The marriage of Emily Frances Whiting, daughter of the late Justin R. Whiting of St. Clair, former congressman from the 7th Michigan district to William Hatton, prominent in the business life of Grand Haven, was solemnized at St. Paul's Episcopal church here at noon Saturday. Following a wedding reception at the home of the bride's brother, Justin R. Whiting, Mr. and Mrs. Hatton left on a wedding trip to Hot Springs, Ark.

GRAND HAVEN HARBOR
PREPARED FOR WINTER

The government docking facilities are being put in shape for the winter season and several of the engineering department tugs have been hauled out of the water.

NOT MUCH CHANGE IN
ALLEGAN MILK SITUATION

Conditions of the milk situation in Allegan do not show a marked change from last week. There has been a constantly increasing return of milk so that the condensary is in a position to continue operation. Payment of back accounts was made to a large number of patrons last Saturday whose return of milk brought them under the conditions of the guaranty. Payments for milk now being delivered are being made in the regular way, these being taken care of by reason of the fairly normal volume of milk delivered.

ZEELAND SERVICE STA-TION MEN INDULGE IN WORDY BATTLE

Apparently a sort of private war is being waged in Zeeland among the different service stations. Last week Jacob Poest of the Zeeland Service station, advertised in the Record: "We do not pump two kinds of gas from one and the same tank; nor do we pump four kinds of oil from the same barrel."

In this week's issue some one who signs himself "Buyer of Gas" indignantly protests against the innuendo of the advertisement and asks Mr. Poest to tell out in plain print which service station in Zeeland does that kind of thing.

In the same issue another service station owner contributes an article headed, "What We Do and What We Do Not Do." The article sets forth exactly what kinds and brands of oil are sold at that particular station, every word being obviously aimed at the advertisement of the previous week, and at the end comes this rather tart counter-accusation: "We don't hang out a Mobile oil sign and then not handle it, so we don't get orders of the Vacuum Oil Co. to take the Mobile oil signs down."

STATE'S OSTEOPATHS MEET IN GRAND RAPIDS IN 1924

The Grand Rapids osteopaths who represented the city at the Michigan State Osteopathic association's convention last week in Battle Creek, have returned, among them being Dr. J. C. and L. Verna Simons, Dr. Margaret Thompson, Dr. H. C. Willis, Dr. R. L. Hobart and Dr. R. M. Corcoran. Through their efforts Grand Rapids is to have the next annual convention, the last week in October, 1924.

CANNING COMPANY TO END ITS RUN
COMING WEEK

The Holland Canning Co. has come almost to the end of its canning season and it is expected that by the middle of next week the pear canning will close, which will mean the end of the year's work. A few apples will also still be canned but the volume of these is not large.

The Canning Co. has done a business the present year of about $500,000.00. It has paid out $219,000.00 to growers and for merchandise, such as cans, sugar, and other material. The volume of the plant's business can be estimated from the fact that the company has already shipped 49 carloads of goods, besides the local shipments in small lots. The large amount of green and wax beans canned can be gathered from the fact that the firm has shipped 16 carloads of them, or 16,000 cases.

Cherries head the list of fruits for volume. Of cherries, 1,558,012 pounds were canned during the present season by far the largest amount of cherries ever canned in Holland. The amounts canned of other fruits and vegetables were as follows: raspberries, 5000 crates; strawberries, 15,000 crates; gooseberries, two tons green and wax beans, forty tons; tomatoes, 15,000 bushels; rhubarb, ten tons; peaches, 13,000 bushels; pears, 15,000 bushels.

The company is already making plans for the coming season of 1924 when the acreage of fruits and vegetables is expected to be increased all along the line, and it is expected that the 1924 business will be larger than that of 1923 provided the weather is favorable and the crops are good.

VAN BUREN COUNTY FOLLOWS
EXAMPLE OF ALLEGAN CO.

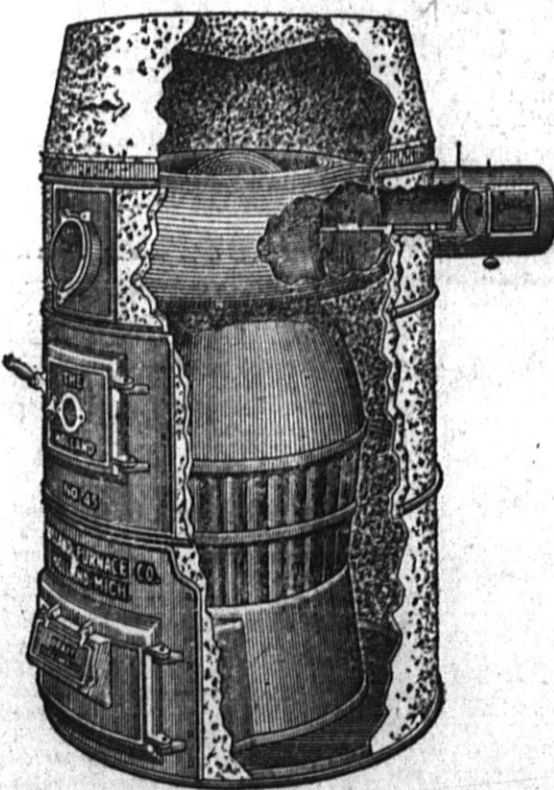

Following the good example of Allegan county, the supervisors of Van Buren county voted to pay $2500 for a seventeen acre tract of land bordering on Lake Michigan south of South Haven for a county park. They will never be sorry after they see how many people from miles about will flock there for pleasure. In Van Buren as in Allegan, it had become impossible for the public to get to the lake beach because of objection private owners.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Simon Holkeboer, 129 W. 28th Street, Sunday, October 21, a boy.

Suit has been started in Justice Turner's court, Muskegon, by Grace Cornell against Monday, proprietor of the Vanity hair shop for $100 damages. The suit involves the death of a dog, whose owner asserts found and ate rat poison in the Monday establishment while its owner was having her hair marcelled. The suit is being contested.

Quite a good deal of excitement was witnessed Wednesday morning at Hope college when the Frosh class came out with a statement that they would not wear their green caps on Oct. 31, and that also the Sophs should obey some of the laws that they laid down. The Frosh are supposed to wear their green caps until the Thanksgiving vacation period and when they appeared Wednesday with other head pieces there was a general battle. It was all done in a good spirit and there was no damage to property.

After the packing had been finished the members spent an enjoyable hour dressing dolls which are to make up part of a Xmas box which is to be sent to the Indian children at Tohatchie Mission, N. M. Music and refreshments were also part of the evening's entertainment.

ROAD WORK SOON FINISHED IN OTTAWA COUNTY

Road work in the county will soon be all cleaned up and with the expiration of the customary three weeks seasoning, the new concrete will be ready to have their smooth surface polished by traffic.

Work which formerly was measured in time by weeks until its completion, is now but a matter of days while even the new Crockery Creek bridge is nearly ready to have concrete poured for its supports.

George Borch contractor has now slightly over half a mile of road widening to do between Holland and Grand Haven. This will be completed within five days if the weather is favorable and from then on it will only be a matter of time needed for seasoning of the work before a full width stretch of concrete will connect the two most important communities of Ottawa county.

Cline & Coelens poured the last mixer full of concrete on their two miles of pavement between Grand Haven and Muskegon on Mill Friday and will be ready to open the Ottawa Co. stretch of the road in three weeks.

J. P. Schart hindered by a supply of cement and shortage of labor, has been unable to maintain the usual record and has still one mile to do which will take between eight and nine days.

MAYOR INVITES THE PEOPLE TO ATTEND RECEPTION

Mayor Stephan extended a public invitation to the people of Holland to attend the reception that is to be given for Mrs. G. E. Kollen in the Masonic Temple Friday evening. The invitation reads as follows:

The city of Holland has been the recipient of a valuable piece of property to be used for park purposes. It is the last and only piece of lake frontage available for public use, located on a most desirable part of our beautiful lake, it was covered by a great many of our citizens and is an ideal spot for a city park.

However, the city being confronted with so many projects, necessary and compulsory public improvements in the near future, that would run into the hundreds of thousands of dollars the city officials did not dare to go to the expense of buying this property.

It was then that a good woman and true, came to the city's rescue; always a good and loyal citizen ever ready to do her part to make this city a worthwhile place to live in; and ever thoughtful and interested in the great mass of our own people, Mrs. Geo. E. Kollen had a vision of what it meant to the happiness and comfort of this and the future generations to have a place of this kind where the young and old, rich and poor might go to enjoy nature and fresh air abundantly. She bought the property and christened it in honor of her beloved husband and then gave to the city of Holland George E. Kollen's Memorial Park.

The Common Council accepted the bountiful gift with thanks, but we believe that the people to whom the park was given are desirous to give expression to their appreciation, and arrangements have therefore been made to give them this opportunity. On Friday evening, November 2, a public reception will be given to the donor, Mrs. Geo. E. Kollen, in the Masonic Temple from 7:30 to 10 P. M. and we sincerely trust that our people will show that they are worthy of this magnificent gift by coming out in large numbers. There is nothing that is more discouraging when doing good deeds in life than an unappreciative spirit. Let it not be said of the citizens of Holland that they are so constituted. The Temple has been beautifully decorated for the occasion. There will be good music and light refreshments will be served. The park board will be there with the plan of the proposed improvement they contemplate making on this property, which when fully carried out will be the most beautiful park in Western Michigan.

Let's go. Time: Friday evening, 7:30 to 10 o'clock. Place: Masonic Temple.

E. P. Stephan, Mayor.

STATE CONVENTION TO BE HELD IN GRAND RAPIDS

State-wide interest is being developed in all sections of the state of Michigan centering around the sixty-third annual State Sunday-school convention which is to convene at Grand Rapids November 6-7-8. This event is announced as the largest inter-church event in the history of Michigan.

Seventeen evangelical denominations are co-operating to make it a real blow against religious illiteracy, spiritual destitution, ignorance and superstition. It is pointed out that all churches co-operating are stronger than all churches working singly.

Grand Rapids is making preparations for the largest delegation in the history of Sunday-school work in this state. Plans are laid for an attendance of 5,000 delegates. Railroads and interurbans throughout the state have made special concessions to the persons who are going to Grand Rapids. The theme of the convention is announced as "Toward Building a Christian Commonwealth." The development of this theme will be in the hands of such able speakers as Dr. Walter S. Athearn and professor H. Augustine Smith of Massachusetts; William T. Ellis of Swarthmore, Pennsylvania; R. A. Waite of the International Young People's Division; Dr. Bert E. Smith of the Methodist Board of Sunday Schools; and President M. L. Burton of the Michigan University. In addition to these, the names of Miss Stocker of New York and Miss Pearl Weaver of Illinois have been mentioned as specialists in work with children. Dr. E. Bourner Allen, the former pastor of Marion Lawrence, the International Secretary is announced as the Bible Teacher of the event, with Dr. Joseph A. Vance of Detroit co-operating.

The pageant "The Commonwealth of God," a production by Professor Smith is to be presented under his personal direction by characters selected from the Grand Rapids' churches. This event is announced for Thursday evening, November 8, and is the climax of the program. President Burton's address has been made known on the subject "The Challenge of Tax-Supported Schools to the Organized Forces of Religion."

MAYOR OPENS HIS HOME TO FAMOUS VISITOR

Raymond Robins, who delivered an address in Carnegie hall Tuesday evening, was the guest after the meeting of Mayor E. P. Stephan at his home on Ninth street. Learning that Mr. Robins would not leave the city until the midnight train for Chicago, Mr. Stephan invited him and a few friends to his home to spend the period until train time.

In the days of the Bull Moose movement Mr. Stephan and Mr. Robins came into close touch at the convention in Chicago. Mr. Robins, who was one of the staunchest supporters of Roosevelt in that convention, presided over the meeting and Mr. Stephan was one of the delegates.

The people gathered at the mayor's house asked Robins many questions and the after meeting was fully as interesting as the formal speech the noted Chicago man made at Carnegie Hall.

The meeting of the W. C. T. U. has been postponed November 9. This will be the annual reception and guest day and will be an evening meeting. Dr. J. C. Willis of Benton Harbor will be the speaker, and needs no introduction to a Holland audience, having spoken here on several occasions. There will also be music by the Hope College B. Natural chorus and others. The meeting will be held in the Methodist church on Friday evening, Nov. 9 at 7:30 p. m.

HOLLAND MAN IS HONORED AT KALA- MAZOO MEETING

Superintendent E. E. Fell of the Holland public school was honored in Kalamazoo Tuesday at the meeting of the teachers by being elected chairman of the fourth district of the Michigan State Teachers' association. The election was by petition and it came as a complete surprise to the Holland man who did not know that a movement was on foot to circulate a petition for his election. Mr. Fell will be at the head of the district for the coming year and he is the successor to Mrs. Lou Sigler of Grand Rapids. By virtue of the office Mr. Fell becomes a member of executive board of the Michigan State Teachers' association for the coming year. Supt. L. L. Tyler of Muskegon was the Holland man's closest rival for the honor.

Miss Anna Dehn of this city was elected chairman of the penmanship section. Miss Malbelle Geiger was elected secretary of the classical section, and Miss Lida Rogers was named secretary of the nature study and school garden section.

Holland was very prominent in the convention that closed in Kalamazoo on Tuesday night, the public schools and Hope College being represented in the program by six speakers. Holland sent a very large delegation of teachers to the meeting.

Features of the program on Tuesday were addresses by Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen, daughter of Wm. Jennings Bryan; Will C. Wood, superintendent of public instruction of California; E. C. Hartwell, superintendent of public instruction of Buffalo; Supt. L. L. Tyler of Muskegon; Dr. J. H. Kollogg of Battle Creek; Miss Ellen C. Lombard, director of the home department of the bureau of education at Washington.

A bureau of juvenile research, directed by physicians, educators and psychologists, was advocated for the state of Michigan by Prof. Stanley Renshaw of the faculty of Western State Normal Tuesday, when he addressed the special educational section of the state teachers.

BOND ISSUE IS ### CARRIED BY A

SAFE MARGIN

The storm sewer bonds that were voted on in the special election on Monday carried by a vote of 385 to 152, the total number of votes cast being 540, or about ten per cent of the voting population of Holland. Only about ten out of every one hundred voters in the city considered it worth while to go to the polls and register their wishes in regard to the expenditure of about $42,000.

The vote by wards shows that every ward in the city voted in favor of the bond issue, the figures being as follows: First, 50 yes and 30 no; Second, 32 yes and 9 no; Third, 86 yes and 19 no; Fourth, 102 yes and 39 no; Fifth, 59 yes and 27 no; Sixth, 58 yes and 28 no.

A three-fifth vote was required to make the bond issue pass and there was some worry on the part of those who were interested in this matter on the score that so many voters would remain away from the polls that the required ratio of favorable votes could not be secured. But the results in all the wards were known a few minutes after the polls closed.

It is planned to work on the new storm sewer the coming winter months. It is likely that a special meeting will be held Thursday evening of this week to take the preliminary steps. The bonds will have to be advertised in the usual way, and the usual hearings will have to be held. This will take several weeks, but it is planned to get all this work out of the way as quickly as the routine of it will allow so that the actual building of the sewer may be started without much delay.

The new sewer will take the strain off the present tannery creek. Every paved street that is added to a city increases the flow of surface water. When all the streets were dirt streets, much of the surface water seeps into the ground. But all the water from a paved street must be carried off and hence the capacity of tannery creek is not equal to the volume.

ANXIOUS MOTHER HEARS FROM LAD GONE FOR FOUR MONTHS

"Don't worry, mother, I'm feeling well and having a good time. I've been on the Mississippi and am getting ready to leave for some other state. I may be coming home before long in an automobile. You can dispose of my junk, but keep my bike."

This in substance was the content of a letter received Monday by Mrs. J. Vandewerpe from her 14-year-old son, Joe, who mysteriously disappeared four months ago. The letter was postmarked Memphis, Tenn., but Joe failed to give his address or his destination.

The latter part of June after being sent on an errand by his father, Joe failed to return and the next day sent a letter to his mother stating that he had been offered a position on a farm at a salary of about $60 a month. That was the last heard of him until Monday.

LAKE SHORE ROAD

NOT VISIONARY PLAN,

SAYS CONNELLY

Senator Wm. M. Connelly delivered an address before the Exchange club of Grand Haven on the proposed shoreline road from Holland to Grand Haven in which he strongly urged the members to begin thinking seriously about that project.

"The closing chapter," said Mr. Connelly, "in the financing of our Trunk Line Highways in Ottawa County is now being written. We have during the past week taken bids on the last big gap in the 70 mile triangle which is the triangle formed by the Trunk lines connecting Grand Rapids, Holland and Grand Haven. If the State Administrative Board approves the bid and awards this contract it means that the end of the 1924 construction season will see an unbroken loop of concrete pavement from the Allegan County line through Holland and Grand Haven to Muskegon on Trunk Line 11, from Grand Rapids on Trunk Line 16 and from Grand Rapids to Holland on Trunk Line 51."

He urged that now is the time to begin thinking about the new pro-

ASKS THAT WAR BE OUTLAWED BY MANKIND

The next logical step in civilization is to place war on the same footing as the duel, slavery, the organized saloon—that was in a nutshell the gist of an eloquent address delivered on Tuesday evening in Carnegie hall by Raymond Robins. It was a magnificent address by a dynamic personality and those who failed to hear it missed an experience of the very highest importance.

Mr. Robins painted, in the beginning of his address, a vivid picture of war as it was waged in Europe and also of the war that is coming unless the foes of war get busy to prevent it by outlawing war in time. He spoke largely from personal experience because he has been in close personal touch with all the phases of the war and of reconstruction. He called attention to the fact that the psychology of force encouraged during the war is still operative in the lives of people and explains the unrest, the waves of race hatred, the revolutions and insurrections that are plaguing the world. He made an earnest plea for the elimination of mass hatreds because they are incompatible with the spirit of Christianity and civilization.

Finally coming to the heart of his address, Mr. Robins declared very positively that it is actually possible to outlaw war if the public opinion of the world is determined to do so. And he said that only in that way can war be prevented and only in that way is it possible to prevent western civilization from disintegrating.

He pointed out that at present war is as legal and as honorable as marriage. In war it is legal and honorable to murder, steal, and break any other ordinary law. Also, he pointed out that wars of aggression are legal while wars of liberation are illegal unless successful.

He made a plea to change all this. The duel, slavery, the saloon were once legal and as strongly entrenched as war is now. All three have been made illegal by the consent of mankind, and in the same way war can and must be made illegal if civilization is to be saved. And to do this the public sentiment of people like the citizens of Holland and of all cities all over the land must get behind it. When such a sentiment has once been worked up the government will automatically follow.

WILL OPEN NEW FIVE AND TEN CENT STORE IN HOLLAND

Holland is to have a new five and ten cent store in the near future, work being now in progress to get the building in shape for the opening. The new business will be located in the store building formerly occupied by the Hoffman Cafeteria, with entrances on Eighth street and Central avenue. Mr. Hoffman has quit the restaurant business in Holland to go into business in Grand Rapids.

The name of the new store will be the "Holland Five and Ten Cent Store," and it will be a variety store in addition to the five and ten cent features.

The proprietor of the new concern is Russell M. Spear, of Bluffton, Ind. He has had a long experience in the five and ten cent store business, having been engaged for a long time in a chain store. The local store however will be an independent institution. It is expected that the stock will be here and ready for the opening about the middle of November.

Mr. Spear now has a force of workmen on the job remodeling the interior of the building and getting ready for an up-to-date five and ten cent and variety store.

PAVING CONTRACTS ARE LET BY THE STATE OFFICIALS

The Ottawa County road commission announced Wednesday that the contract for building a concrete road between Zeeland and Jenison has just been let by the state administrative board. The road will be built in two sections by two different contractors. Section A, the eastern section of the stretch of road, will be built by Marston & Tabor of Grand Rapids, and the ungraded section running out from Zeeland eastward will be graded and built by D. J. O'Connor.

The letting of these two contracts by the state means that the actual work of building these roads will begin next spring. It is believed that the job can quite easily be completed next summer, and by the end of 1924 there will be a paved road all the way to Grand Rapids.

CLASS ENJOYS HALLOWEEN PARTY TUESDAY EVENING

The Normal class of the Sixth Reformed church enjoyed a Halloween party given by Miss Minnie Vander Water at the home of Wm. H. Vander Water, 277 Lipopol avenue.

The rooms were decorated with Halloween decorations and there were plenty of ghosts and scarecrows, when the class was led around the house to the barn and members received a Halloween envelope containing one's future.

During the business session the following officers were elected for next year: president—Peter Wiersum; vice president, Cornie Weststrate; secretary, Mrs. C. Weststrate; treasurer, Bob Eylers. Dainty refreshments were served and all enjoyed a good time.

ject. "It would enhance the property values by leaps and bounds," he said "it would in two years, I presume, bring property improvements to a valuation several times the cost of the road. The cost of the project Mr. Connelly estimated, would exceed a million dollars."

Mr. Connelly denied that the sand along the shore is not solid enough to support a concrete road. He called attention to the Grand Haven state park oval to prove his contention.

"Now what is to be done towards definitely starting this project?" Mr. Connelly asked, and he answered his own question:

"First, it must have the support of the Civic and Commercial organizations of Holland and Grand Haven, with special committees appointed that may be called on when needed."

"Second, Open our books for donations or right of way."

"Third, Work out a plan of financing. There are five units that might participate. The district through which the road passes, the Township benefited by the road, the county, the state and federal aid. At this time State or Federal aid seem rather remote possibilities, but by no means out of consideration."

"This road can be completed in one year after the right of way is procured and funds are available."

HOPE MAKES SINGLE SCORE IN CONTEST WITH FERRIS ELEVEN

Hope college won over Ferris Institute at Holland Saturday 6 to 0. The game was only fairly well played all through, Ferris showing splendid work in the line. Hope was speedier of the two on attack but both lost much through wretched interference and fumbling.

The terrific line smashes of Vander Meer and the final aerial spurt by Hope with but a few minutes to play were the only elements of the spectacular sort. Ferris suffered several injuries to her line. The two teams fought hard from the blast of the whistle with Ferris using the huddle system for her signals.

The first quarter ended with the ball in Hope's possession on her 25-yard line. Rumsey was injured and was carried off the field. Mallinlak went in at quarter for Ferris. Hope had things her way for a few minutes but Vander Meer was hurt and Vander Brink was disqualified for hitting Hope, being penalized 15 yds. Oosting went in for Vander Brink and the half ended nothing to nothing.

Upon resumption of the fray Van Lente kicked off. A fumble by Griffin lost ground for Ferris and a poor kick gave the ball to Hope on Ferris' 15-yard line. With a good chance to score Hope fumbled and Ferris was penalized almost to her goal posts on the play. Ferris kicked out and it was Hope's ball in midfield. Damson made 12 yards on a successful forward pass with Ferris penalized 15 yards for fumbling. Hope made her downs but fumbled. The quarter ended with the ball in Ferris' possession.

Ferris kicked and Hope's ball in midfield. Ferris got the ball on kickoff and lost it on a fumble which gave Hope the ball 25 yards from her goal. Damson made 12 yds. on a forward pass from Oosting. Vander Meer made three yards on a line play. With fourth down in sight, Van Eenam nabbed a nice pass and carried it across for the touch-down and the game.

HOLLAND DEFEATED IN ANNUAL SOUTH TILT

A scrappy team of Hollanders went to Grand Rapids to do battle with the South high school and were defeated 26-7.

Kleis gave South quite a scare when he broke thru South on the first play for forty yards. But Holland lost ground on a punt and Yonkman put the ball on the Holland five yard strip. On a fake, after two line smashes that netted nothing, Gelstert, South quarterback, went over for a touch-down.

In the second quarter Kleis made Holland's line tally when he scooped up a South fumble and ran forty yds.

On October 26 a Halloween party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Deto, on West 20th street for the scouts of troop 8. The house was beautifully decorated and lighted. The scouts of troop 8 came dressed in costumes of all shapes and forms. The program was skilfully planned and furnished a delightful time for the boys after which refreshments were served and all left for home after enjoying a most wonderful evening.

For some reason, Gleason and Gelstert started for South, the latter scoring two touchdowns.

Lineup and summary—

"CAPPY" MAKES GOOD
COACH IN IOWA

Franklin Cappon, football star, is a modest athlete and his friends in Holland have been wondering how he was getting along. Not much information was forthcoming, but one of his admirers has been doing out the situation from sporting pages and learns that "Cappy" is making a record as a coach this season.

Mr. Cappon holds the position of coach at Luther College, Decora, Ia. It is a small denominational institution, smaller than Hope College, and it has never made any record in football before. But this year the school has so far won all the games it has played. Last Saturday the school played its most important game against Dubuque University, winning by a score of 16 to 13.

Mr. Cappon is not general coach at the college but has only the football work. He will be through with his work by Thanksgiving when he will return to Holland.

for the counter. He also kicked goal. South scored twice more in the first half, once when Holland fumbled a South punt, Hall recovering and with a clear field ahead went 25 yds. to the goal line. No goal was registered. The other one came as a result of some successful passes and end runs. The same fake that scored South's first touchdown worked again. This time Hicks received the ball and easily sid over. A goal was kicked. Score 20-7 South.

South only scored once in the second half, when Gelstert with wonderful interference ran back a punt to the necessary sixty yards to goal. A goal kick again failed. No more scoring was done, and South could do little against the Dutchmen, who fought hard until the final whistle even though the 26-7 score was against them.

Kleis did wonderful offensive work for Holland, showing his teammates a fine example of how a team could shine in defeat. C. Holl did excellently at right end throwing South backs for good losses. Capt. St. John also brightened up in the second half of this tilt.

For some reason, Gleason and Gelstert started for South, the latter scoring two touchdowns.

COMMITTEE WORKS

ON SUMMER PLAN

Rev. C. Muller, Rev. J. B. Nykerk, Rev. J. M. Martin, Rev. J. VanPeursum and Rev. John Van Zomeren have been appointed a committee to outline plans for development of a summer religious conference in the vicinity of Holland under auspices of the Reformed church. Appointment of the committee took place at the quarterly meeting of the Western Society of Ministers of the Reformed church in Holland last week and followed a discussion on a paper read by Rev. C. Muller of Grand Rapids on "The Pros and Cons of Summer Conferences." Mr. Muller convinced the conference that such a religious institute is not only desirable but possible and the committee was instructed to report its plans to the next conference. Mr. Muller was made chairman of the committee.

South Hadley, Mass., Oct. 31—Miss Maxine Mc Bride of 230 College avenue has been admitted to membership in Blackstick, the honorary society of Mount Holyoke College, which welcomed eight new members at its first meeting of this year.

Twenty-four persons were arraigned before Judge C. W. Sessions of the U. S. district court Monday.

Of chief interest among the cases was that of Henry Google and his companion, Jessie Martin, charged with a conspiracy to defraud through the use of the U. S. mails. They were accused of organizing a mail order grocery swindle. Both pleaded not guilty.

The Second Reformed church of Grand Haven has called Rev. Walter S. Bloom of Passaic, N. J. to the vacant pulpit in that city. Rev. Bloom, who has twice during the past summer conducted the Sunday services in the Grand Haven church, notified the congregation of his acceptance of the call.

"What do you mean by that?" He threw out his hands. "I don't quite know myself, but let that pass. There is another thing that puzzles me, and that is the chauffeur. I can tell by the way Miss Potter acted when we mentioned his name that she does not like him. He fit was who took from the library the book with the account of the English crime in it. He had words with Slyke the day before the murder, and was missing when we wanted to question him. A few minutes after he was seen near the tower room the revolver was missing. I believe he is well worth watching. And lastly, what was the motive for Slyke's murder?"

A wild thought struck me. I knew at the time how absurd it was, yet a desire to hear what Bartley would reply made me voice it.

"Perhaps the girl killed him."

Bartley gave me a surprised look, started to speak, then decided to wait and hear what I had to say.

"You say," I suggested, "that Slyke was killed about two o'clock in the morning. The girl might have come to the house and killed him; then gone back to her uncle's, and told the story about being afraid to go through the woods alone. She said it was three o'clock when he came with her to the house. That's a good story, of course; but suppose she had been to the house once before. The dog didn't bark, because he knew her. She was also in the house when the revolver disappeared. If you claim the taking of the gun was foolish, why can it not be said to be the kind of an illogical thing a woman would do? The average man would know it was no use to remove the gun. You remember how startled the aunt was when she saw the girl."

Bartley had listened with an amused smile that grew broader as I talked. Though I had not been serious when I began, the more I thought of the idea the more plausible my suggestion sounded. Bartley himself had said that in the case we must build up a theory first, and then see if the facts would fit it.

When I had ended, he said that he himself had, at first, considered the possibility of the girl's having done it, but had decided against it. He reminded me that Slyke had been killed on the balcony, and carried down two flights of stairs, and that Slyke weighed one hundred and fifty pounds, the girl not a hundred. Remembering that and the task it was to carry such a heavy weight down so many stairs, did I still think the girl could have done it?

My face turned red with chagrin, and, seeing that I was hurt, he smiled at me kindly and apologized.

"I didn't intend to hurt your feelings, Pelt. You are like all newspaper men, you enjoy building up a story out of nothing. In this affair, we mustn't let ourselves get sidetracked. We shall need all the clear thinking we can do."

Anxious to redeem myself, I said, "John, we have been going on the theory that some one from outside came into the house and killed Slyke, a mysterious visitor who arrived after Lawrence had left. Perhaps the murderer was hiding in the house all the time."

He gave me an interested look and an approving nod.

"Suppose," I went on, "that the murderer was on the balcony. It was a good place to hide. It was so dark up there that he could not have been seen from the ground. Then let us assume that Slyke heard a sound above him, when he was in the room below the balcony, and went up to see what it was. The person may have made the sound on purpose to attract his attention. At any rate, when he does come out on the balcony, he is killed."

Bartley did not speak for a while, turning my suggestion over in his mind. Then he answered, "You may be right. It is possible that some one was waiting for him to come upstairs. But do not forget that, if that is so, the person would have had to wait there for a long time; for he could not tell when Slyke would come into the room below the balcony. Still, your suggestion is well worth keeping in mind."

Although he spoke so favorably of my idea, I could see that he did not really agree with me.

I yawned and Bartley glanced at his watch. It was after three, and we should have been in bed several hours ago. He rose, and taking two objects from his pocket placed them on the desk. I leaned over to see what they were.

Lying black and sinister on the dark mahogany surface were the revolver that had been taken from Slyke's hand and hidden in the vault, and a little cork stopper, its end covered with red wax that showed where a knife had been used on it.

"Look," Bartley said, pointing at them with a laugh. "The sole result of a day's work. The only clues we have are before us. One is a revolver that did not have a finger print on it; the other a little stopper that might have come from anywhere. From these we have to discover the murderer."

Again he laughed. I stood looking at the two objects, thinking how insignificant they were and wishing they could speak and tell their story. Catching my mood, his face grew grave. He stood looking at them for a moment, then with a sudden gesture swept them into a small box saying, "We ought to have been in bed hours ago."

I had reached my room and was pulling down the bed covers when he called to me. I returned to his room and found him sitting on the edge of his bed taking off his shoes.

"I forgot to tell you, Pelt, that when we reach the solution of this murder, somehow or other whiskey will be mixed up with it. When you told me that Slyke had been sitting whiskey to his friends, I knew that something was wrong. The finding of the dagger in his own waist makes me more certain. He must have known that that whiskey was there. Why, under heaven, a man that had the money Slyke was presumed to have had, should conceit whiskey on his grounds is more than I know."

"But," I reminded him, "you say he did not have as much money as people thought he had."

"Yes, that is true. The lawyer confessed what I had heard about his losses. Whiskey and Slyke had a good deal in common, you will find."

He yawned, and I started again for my room. As I reached the door he added, "Black thinks the chauffeur killed Slyke. Maybe he did. Still—and he laughed—"I never saw a man with a square head that knew very much. And that detective certainly has a square head."

And with that absurd remark in my mind, I went to bed.

CHAPTER VII

The Inquest Opens.

It was only natural, after the lateness of the hour at which I went to bed, that I should oversleep the next morning. It was well after nine before I entered the breakfast room; I found no one there but a servant who told me that the others had eaten some time before. When I had finished my breakfast I went in search of Bartley, and found him in the sun parlor surrounded by a mass of newspapers. He waved to me and went on reading.

The inquest was not to be held until one o'clock; and I wondered what Bartley wanted me to do with my morning. As if in answer to my thought, he looked up and said he was going into Saratoga on some errands, and suggested that I go with him and interview the girl friend with whom Ruth had intended to spend the night.

The first place we stopped on our arrival in town was at a large drug store, where Bartley asked to see the proprietor. When he appeared, Bartley placed a small object on the counter before him.

"Can you give me any idea," he asked, "what sort of a bottle that cork came from?"

The object was the little stopper with the red wax which he had showed me the night before. Picking it up, the druggist looked at it very carefully. He turned it over in his hand, scratched the wax with a knife, and took so long in replying that I thought he never would speak.

"I think I can," he said at last. "The little cork not only had its top covered with red wax, but the wax ran down the sides of the bottle. In order to get it open, it was necessary to cut the wax away. It looks to me as if it came from a Park Graham bottle."

"You mean the drug firm?" Bartley asked.

"Yes, I will show you." He went behind the screen and returned in a second with a little bottle in his hand. It was but a few inches long, and the cork stopper was covered in the same manner with red wax, and part of it had run down the sides of the bottle. It was the mate to the stopper that Bartley had found. Bartley examined the bottle carefully, noted the label, and returned it to the druggist.

When we were again in the automobile, Bartley said, "I wish I were as sure what that stopper was doing in that room as the druggist is of the kind of a bottle it came out of."

Bartley's real object in coming to town was, however, to visit the jail and find out from Roche whether the chauffeur had told what he knew or not. I left him at the jail door, promising to return within an hour, and went in search of the young woman with whom Slyke's step-daughter had expected to spend the night.

When I found her, Miss Morton here out all that Ruth had said about the way she had happened to go home the night of the murder. They had been to a dance together, and on the way back the car had broken down near the entrance to the Slyke estate. Ruth said, as she was so near, she might as well go home. One of the young men had gone with her to the

HARLEM CREAMERY BURNED DOWN TO THE GROUND

A fire of unknown origin early Thursday morning destroyed the Harlem Creamery, burning the structure down to the ground and leaving hardly a stick of the building. The fire was discovered by people living in that vicinity when they got up at about 5 o'clock Thursday morning. But at that time it had already such a good headway that there was not the slightest chance to extinguish it. Harlem, like all communities of that size, is entirely without fire protection, but even if there had been protection, the blaze was so well advanced when discovered that most of the building would have been destroyed.

The owner was in Chicago on business in connection with the creamery and his family, which occupies part of the building as a home, was in Holland. Nothing was saved, even a dog and cat finding death in the blaze, apparently not having had time to save themselves.

While a definite estimate of the loss could not be obtained in the absence of the owner, it was said by people of the community that he had recently paid $1800 for the building alone. For a long time the building was the property of the farmers of Harlem and they rented it. But later it was sold to the present owner.

The burning of the building is a considerable loss to the farmers of Harlem because of the fact that it takes away a convenient place to market their milk. The creamery was being patronized by most of the farmers in that community. It is not known what the value of the dairy products destroyed with the building is, but it is supposed to be a considerable figure.

LAKE MICHIGAN PERCH RUNNING INTO HARBOR

The Lake Michigan perch are running again and the lovers of the hook and line are having great sport these days. Each fall the perch from the big lake run into the harbor and then for some weeks, until the weather gets too cold for fishing, thousands are caught. This period of fishing is always looked forward to with great anticipation by fishermen, because never at any other time are the perch that are caught so large as those that run into the harbor in the fall. The perch hooked in the summer time are always of moderate size, but during a short period in the fall they are of a size that make them a delight to catch.

The Lake Michigan perch have been running for about a week and a half and up to today thousands of them had been caught. A large number of men come daily from Grand Rapids and from many other places to indulge in this sport. Sundays are always big days. Last Sunday about 75 men from Grand Rapids alone came to Black Lake to get their share of the Lake Michigan perch. The crowd on other days is usually smaller, but there are enough of them most of the time to line the shore. Macatawa with automobiles. Some very good catches have been reported.

While some of the perch are being caught off the docks, most of the fishing is being done in boats, and the craft may be seen any day in little clusters on the water.

PIONEER PASSES AWAY AT AGE OF EIGHTY-ONE

Shortly after 12 o'clock Thursday noon Mrs. H. J. Kollen, aged 81 years, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. G. H. Dubbink, 202 West 15th street. Mrs. Kollen was born in the Netherlands and came to America when she was four years old. Most of her life she lived on a farm near Overisel moving to Holland with her husband, the late H. J. Kollen, about 15 years ago.

Mrs. Kollen died a little over four years ago. Two years ago Mrs. Kollen donated her home at 174 West Fifteenth street to the cause of missions, stipulating that it was to be used as a home for missionaries on furlough in this country.

The deceased is survived by five daughters and one son: Mrs. A. Pieters, Mrs. G. H. Dubbink, Mrs. Henry Dubbink, Mrs. Henry Nabers, all of Holland, Mrs. John Kropscott of Hampshire, Texas, and "Ame" Kollen of Overisel.

ALLEGAN COUNTY HAS MANY LIQUOR CASES TO BE TRIED

At the opening of the circuit court in Allegan, Grover Pierce was arraigned. He had been accused the night before by the sheriff and it was he had in his possession two quarts of Canadian Club whiskey and two quarts of gin which he intended to deliver to a prominent Allegan citizen. He is also said to have had a gallon of moonshine. It is claimed that he is a distributor for the Kalamazoo agent of the Detroit importer.

S. A. Springfield was also arraigned on a charge of violation of the liquor law and demanded examination which was set for 1 o'clock that afternoon. William J. Sumor, charged with violation of the liquor law, failed to appear after his name had been called three times and his bail was ordered estreated. The trial of Norman Allen for violation of the liquor law was then begun, a jury selected, and the case adjourned to afternoon. In this case Guy Ontis was arrested during the fair and found to be in possession of a bottle of moonshine. He claimed that Norman Allen gave him the bottle to carry because Allen was guilty. The case against S. A. Springfield for violation of the liquor law was then begun.

PARK COMMISSIONER MAKES APPEAL ABOUT FLOWER BEDS

Park Commissioner Van Brugs Friday issued his annual appeal to all citizens of Holland, especially to boys, not to destroy the flower beds by walking over them. The park employees have been busy the past few days planning bloom, and many varieties of flowers are now in the ground ready for the early spring. But there are always some persons, especially boys who do not remember in their high spirits that flowers are planted in the beds, who walk over them. In this way the bulbs are pressed down, the roots are injured and the crop of flowers in the spring is not what it might be.

The park commissioner asked that all the teachers in the schools impress upon the pupils the desirability of co-operating with the park board in the growing of flowers and he asked all older persons to do the same thing with their own children. The destruction of flower beds by children is almost never malicious but is due to thoughtlessness, and the park commissioner believes that this appeal will be more effective than police restrictions. He requests all boy scouts to help him to keep the boys off the flower beds.

RETURNS FROM SUMMER TRIP TO NATIVE LAND

Charles Bahr of Grand Haven has returned from a summer trip to Germany. Mr. Bahr spent ten weeks in his native land and during his trip he met many more of his old friends with whom he had renewed acquaintance during a previous visit to his Fatherland last summer.

Mr. Bahr states that while reports of conditions in Germany have been somewhat exaggerated, the plight of the workers and ordinary people of Germany is not pleasant. Food is very expensive over there and it is hard for a workman to earn enough marks to feed his family properly. Wages are comparatively high of course, but prices are out of proportion to the amounts which can be earned by the wage earners and ordinary people of Germany. It takes so many marks to buy provisions that in many cases people are unable to buy enough food for proper nutriment. In some places in Germany meat markets and provision stores have been raided by people unable to buy food, but who were determined that their families should not starve while there was food on the other side of a plate glass window.

The fall of the mark has made the American dollar very valuable, and visitors supplied with even a small amount of foreign money, especially American money may buy anything.

Considerable difficulty is experienced by travelers, Mr. Bahr says in getting about certain sections of Germany, due to the French control of the Ruhr.

MARSHALL WINS FAVOR WITH THE LOCAL AUDIENCE

Charles Marshall, the great American dramatic tenor, made more than good on promises that had been made for him by his managers and by the management of the Hope College Lecture course when he appeared in Carnegie Hall Friday evening. Mr. Marshall gave a splendid series of songs, himself and his supporting company was composed of high class artists also.

In his introductory remarks Dr. Nykerk declared that he believed the time had come when Holland was ready for the best and when the very best could be obtained here. This statement was borne out by the audience which was quite a large one. And the way in which that audience received the numbers also showed that the people here are ready for and appreciate the best. Mr. Marshall was encored again and again. Sometimes he was called back five times after one of his series of songs. He responded willingly and smilingly each time, and he thoroughly captivated the audience with his pleasing personality.

The local people are clamoring for a return engagement of Mr. Marshall and the management of the lecture course is looking forward to having him come again next year if a date can be obtained. Since coming back to America two years ago Mr. Marshall's fame has increased to such an extent that instead of singing in two operas for the Chicago Civic Orchestra, as he did last year, he now sings in eleven.

His supporting artists were also highly popular with the audience and were repeatedly encored. Miss Ethel Jones, contralto, beautifully sang a series of songs and won favor immediately with the audience. And the same thing was true of Harold Ayres, violinist. The accompanist, Violet Martins, did splendid work. The concert was one of the most successful held in Holland in many years.

When a Cough is Stubborn It-

Health Talk No. 40 By JOHN DE JONGE, D. C.

When a cough is stubborn it means that the time for experimenting with it is past. A cough with a raise of mucous from the lungs may be the forerunner of tuberculosis. It should be eliminated at once by removing the cause.

Weakness in the bronchial or lung region of the body is due to spinal bone displacement in the upper dorsal region of the spinal column. If a cough is stubborn, and cannot be thrown off as easily as you have thrown off other attacks, it is as good a danger signal as the coming of the white plague, tuberculosis, ever gives. The thing to do is to see a chiropractor at once, and start a course of spinal adjustments to remove the cause. The record of chiropractic in the influenza epidemic was many times better than that of any other healing method, and that record is equally good in other varieties of lung and bronchial troubles. There is no substitute for chiropractic. Neither medicine, diet, message, nor osteopathy moves spinal bones.

Bronchial Trouble Yields

"After attempting for sometime to rid myself of a disagreeable bronchial cough which threatened to be the forerunner of worse trouble, I turned to chiropractic. In the course of one month of adjustments the ailment gradually disappeared, and now my affliction has completely left me."—A. A. Le'dey, Chiropractic Research Bureau. Statement No. 1376L

The immediate construction of a large, modern, fireproof administration and telephone exchange building in downtown Grand Rapids by the Michigan State Telephone company was announced Thursday through the office of C. M. Wilde, division manager.

The building is to be erected on the Judd-White property at the northeast corner of Division avenue and Fountain st., negotiations having been closed this week through the office of S. R. Fletcher, for the purchase of the site. Coincident with the statement of the plan for the new building came an official announcement from Detroit that Grand Rapids is to be division headquarters of the company. Mr. Wilde, who was formerly district manager becomes division manager on Nov. 1.

A very impressive ceremonial meeting of all the campus girls of this city was held in the Ladies Literary club rooms. The following program was given: Mrs. E. J. Danhof, Gladys Hulse and Joyce Kjaasen; Ode to the Fire, Marian Mow; song, "Burn Fire Burn," all girls; welcome to new members, Miss Ethel Dykstra, guardian; Honor Beads were given to Ariana Haas, who had also earned her second rank; camp fire girls credo, Joyce Kjaasen; song, "Mammy Moon," all girls. The visitors present were Miss Gertrude Wicks, Miss Ethel Metz, Miss Cynthia Melpolder.

Jasper Olendorf has been re-elected president of the Zeeland high school athletic association with a vote of 184 against 36 for George Van Benaam. Other officers elected are: vice-president, Otto Yntema; secretary, Nellie Van Hattum; treasurer, George Van Kooever; ballmaster, Howard Miller.

The football schedule comprises 5 more games: Oct. 27, Allegan, there; Nov. 3, Sparta, there; Nov. 9, Grandville, there; Nov. 17, Allegan, here; and Nov. 21, Rockford, here.

In the tennis tournaments Harry Brouwer won the boys' singles; Ivomera, girls' singles and William De Haan and Harry Brouwer, boys' doubles. The girls' doubles will be the last of the fall series.

Mrs. J. C. De Vinney attended the state convention of the Woman's Home Missionary society of the Methodist church held last week Wednesday, Thursday and Friday in Battle Creek. She is a delegate from the local Methodist church. Before returning home she visited with her son, Marion, who is a senior student at Albion college.

According to announcement of Rev. B. H. Elnink of Holland, the classis of Holland will meet in the chapel of the Ninth Street Christian Reformed church on Nov. 21. One of the questions to be decided at the meeting is the appointment of a missionary helper at Tohatchi.

The funeral of Dr. Fred Brouwer, who died in Blodgett Hospital in Grand Rapids early Thursday morning, was held Saturday at 1:30 at the home, 47 Graves Place, and at 2 o'clock at the 9th St. Christian Reformed church, Rev. J. W. Ghyssels officiating.

Fifteen states and three foreign countries are represented in the student body at Hope, according to information gleaned from the Students Guide, which has just been issued under the auspices of the college. The states represented include South Dakota, Minnesota, Iowa, Tennessee, W. Virginia, New York, New Jersey and Massachusetts. The foreign countries are China, Japan and The Netherlands.

The total enrollment, the largest in Hope's history, takes in 511 students, of whom 415 are in the college department. Michigan has the largest representation with 322, Iowa is second with 43, and Illinois is third with 36.

Holland is credited with 203 students, Zeeland with 35, and Grand Rapids with 22. Most of the cities and townships in western Michigan are represented. The faculty numbers 30.

The annual reception given by the faculty of the Western Theological seminary to the students and their friends was held Thursday evening at the home of Dr. and Mrs. John E. Kuizenga. Seventy-five guests were present and the affair was an entire success in every sense of the word.

The "Halleluia Chorus" composed of the Theologs, Richard Rozboom, Dave Bogard, George Mannenga and Edward Tanis, sang their way into the hearts of all present. Miss Maybelle Mulder rendered two quaint selections with her usual charm and skill. Dr. Albertus Pieters was introduced as the speaker of the evening. Dr. Pieters related some of the lighter sides of his missionary experiences and told of the spread of a new cult that had for its object the giving of service without hope of monetary reward. The funder of the cult has late been brot to see the ideal of the Christ and he has evidenced his interest.

Dr. and Mrs. Kuizenga proved to be splendid in their capacity as hosts, and the guests departed feeling that the evening was a fine experience in Christian fellowship.

KALAMAZOO, Oct. 25—Frightened when a masked robber brandishing a pistol in his hand entered the Harris & Praat Coal office early Wednesday evening, Samuel Winegar, 48, dropped dead of heart disease.

Edgar Harris at the point of the pistol, was compelled to turn over to the robber the contents of the cash register, amounting to about $100.

The intruder, covering Harris with his gun, backed out of the door and escaped in the darkness. Winegar was dead when a physician arrived.

The new plant of the federal Stamp-fing Co. being erected on a large tract east of the city will be completed about Jan. 1.

The first half is almost ready for the roof. The entire plant will cover approximately one and one-half acres. Martin Oudemolen is the contractor and builder. The plant will be of steel, concrete and brick construction and will be modern in every detail. The building will be fire-proof, equipped with concrete floors and a modern sprinkling system.

Arthur Rumlur has returned from Norfolk, Va., with two of those famous perch, hounds. Anyone wishing to see them may call at his home on 22nd street and 1st avenue.

Hope College School of Music has secured the services of Mrs. Anna Michaelson of Grand Rapids, a well known soprano, one of Mrs. Fenton's artist pupils who will assist in the Department of voice. She has sung in concert throughout Michigan and at present has charge of one of the Grand Rapids choruses.

Mrs. Michaelson was heard here last year when she beautifully rendered the soprano solo in the Messiah. All those on Mrs. Fenton's waiting list, as well as others who desire instruction in voice solitaire and singing will please call up Mrs. Fenton on Tuesday to get their schedule. Mrs. Michaelson will teach her class on Wednesdays.

The resignation of William Takken as member of the board of Allegan county road commissioners, which was presented to the board of supervisors, was not accepted by that body. The road commissioners have managed the duties of their difficult office in a most acceptable manner, to which Mr. Takken has fully contributed, and his leaving the board would be a matter of justified regret. His business has been seriously hampered by his official duties, but it is to be hoped that arrangements may be made making his continuance as commissioner possible.—Allegan Gazette.

Home-grown chestnuts are in market. Those selling them get from $8 to $12 per bushel. Chestnuts used to be imported from Ohio and Pennsylvania but long before they disappeared were so wormy as to be almost unsalable. Besides worms in the nuts, borers in the trees and later a sort of a blight have practically destroyed chestnuts in other states. Michigan has none of these but has the market shows almost to herself. There would be money in planting of chestnut groves, and every farm has some places out of the way of crops where they would pay well.

On Friday evening, Nov. 2, in Trinity Reformed church, Rev. N. Boer of Third Reformed church of Grand Rapids, will give a stereopticon lecture on "Modern Palestine." Rev. Mr. Boer has visited Palestine this spring. Ever since his return he has been giving lectures concerning his trip. A few weeks ago he gave a brief talk before the Sunday School teacher of Trinity church. It was so well received that he was immediately asked to return again and speak in the church, and give an opportunity to a larger audience to hear him. A silver offering will be received at this meeting, for missions. The lecture is given under the auspices of the Young Women's League for Service of Trinity church. The public is invited.

Holland will share in an effort to bring college study within reach of many for whom it is not otherwise available when the extension department of Western State Normal of Kalamazoo opens a class in technique of study in the high school Saturday.

The class will be conducted every Saturday afternoon by Dr. T. S. Henry, psychology professor on the Normal faculty, and will meet at one o'clock. Regular university credit will be given at the completion of a term of 14 weeks, the subject counting four term hours toward a life certificate or degree course.

The Holland class is one of 38 to be conducted throughout the school year by the Western extension department. The courses are designed especially to assist teachers in further college study but are open to high school graduates and others. Any information may be secured from Prof. John C. Hoekje, extension director, at Western State Normal, Kalamazoo.

William Smit 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harm Smit, 1863 Grandville ave., Grand Rapids, who disappeared from his home in September, has been found, according to word received by his sister, Mrs. J. De Vries of Grand Rapids.

Mrs. De Vries was advised by John Beltman, Holland, that he had a letter from Smit, who said he was on his way to Germany aboard the "Hessen."

The Grand Rapids police made an effort to locate the lad when he left his home, but were unable to find any trace of him. Where he has been since he left Grand Rapids was not revealed in his letter.

Relatives of Rev. R. B. Kulper, former pastor of the Sherman St. Chr. Reformed church at Grand Rapids, were advised Saturday that the pastor's wife and an eight-year-old nephew of her husband had been seriously injured in an automobile accident in Chicago on Thursday.

According to word received by Rev. Kulper's brother, Rev. Herman Kulper, pastor of Oakdale Park Christian Reformed church, an automobile in which Mr. Kulper, his wife and three others were riding was hit by another automobile on Michigan blvd. Others in the car were John Kulper, brother of the pastor, John Kulper's wife and their son, whose skull was believed fractured. Mrs. Kulper will probably be confined in a hospital for several weeks. Her husband preached a farewell sermon in Grand Rapids just a week ago Sunday and Tuesday was installed as pastor of a Kalamazoo church. They had been visiting at the Chicago home of John Kulper.

In the first of three damage suits brought against the Pere Marquette as the result of a railway accident at Sparta, Nov. 6 last, in which three were killed and two injured, a jury brought a verdict of $24,013 damages for the plaintiff, B. Downey, driver of the taxicab in which the party was riding at the time the collision with a passenger train occurred.

Downey asked for $40,000 claiming that the loss of a leg and ill health, which has necessitated 12 operations since the accident, were worth that much to him. It is possible that the other two damage suits, which were brought by Mrs. George Fletcher, the widow of one man killed and Grover Fletcher, a son, who was hurt, will not be tried until the Downey case is tested before the supreme court.

Putting it off today won't get it done tomorrow. An advertisement in this paper today will bring business tomorrow.

Jesiek Brothers of Jenison Park have purchased the vessel "May Bee" and they will press it into service next season as a ferry boat between Macanawa, Ottawa Beach, Jenison Park and the Jesiek Bros. dock. The craft is now being put into shape for its ferry career next season. Jesiek Bros. are also building an approach to their dock as a boat landing.

The society, "The Netherlands Abroad," is offering a beautiful five reel film of colored moving pictures showing scenes in the Netherlands. The film takes 45 minutes for production and covers completely the modern life and activity of the Netherlands, its dikes and dunes, its agriculture, industry and art, its ancient cities and modern developments.

This film is offered free to any organization that wants to exhibit it, if application is made to Albert Oosterheert, 1141 Edison Building, Chicago, before November first. The Celestial theater tried to secure the film for their patrons, intending to show it as an extra, over and above their regular program, but Mr. Oosterheert replied that "the film of this society is not shown in motion picture houses, as it is strictly an educational feature, without any commercial element. The purpose of the film is to make Holland better known abroad."

The Hope College track team staged their annual cross country race Saturday morning. The nine participants of the race have been consistently training during the last five weeks so they were in excellent condition for the run. The runners finished as follows: Schutt, VanLare, Luben, Van Soeren, Kinney, Berkompam, Mallory, Reugharden, Meyer. Schutt came in first running the four miles in 22:17. Two freshmen, Smith and Bonnaea were disqualified for the race last Thursday by Coach Schouten in accordance with the ruling regarding age. The first six men will represent Hope in the Michigan State Cross-country race at Lansing on Nov. 10.

The Muskegon police net was drawn closely over the negro district Sunday night. Officers, hoping to bring about the arrest of the colored gangster who called Amile Levaque, Grand Haven, from a restaurant at Water and Jefferson st., and robbed him of $40 after stabbing him several times in the back.

Levaque was taken to a doctor's office and later removed to his home in Grand Haven. The knife wounds are not considered serious.

A partridge frightened by a passing automobile made as cleanest a hole in the plate glass window of Schutmaat Bros., general merchants of Hamilton, as if a smooth, round stone had been thrown through. But the bird paid for the escape with its life.

The partridge was frightened by an automobile and flew against the window with terrific force, breaking the glass and making a round hole in it. It fell down dead inside the store.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard VandenBosch of Falls City, Ore., have arrived in Zeeland for an extended visit. It is just 25 years since Mr. and Mrs. Vanden Bosch left Michigan for the west and he has not seen his parents, or brothers and sisters in that time. He is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Vanden Bosch of N. Elm street, and has been connected with lumbering interests while in the west.

The little son of Benjamin DeKoster of Zeeland was run over by an automobile Friday evening on 19th street between Van Raalte and First avenues. The boy ran into the street with his little cart and was caught by the passing car. He suffered a fracture of the collar-bone and also some bruises. He was taken to the home of a relative and given immediate medical attention.

NOTICE
Notice of Review of Assessment for the Improvement of Assessment District Road No. 10, Under Act 59, Public Acts of 1915. As Amended

Whereas, We, the undersigned Board of County Road Commissioners of the County of Ottawa, have heretofore determined that a certain highway commencing at West Quarter Post of Section 22, Park Township, thence run Southerly on the Section line between Section 21 and Section 22, and Sections 27 and 28, one and one-half miles, shall be improved in accordance with specifications now on file; and pursuant to the provisions of Act No. 59 of the Public Acts of 1915; and

Whereas, we, the said Board have heretofore determined the boundaries of the special assessment district No. 10 for said highway known as assessment district road No. 10 to be as follows: said district includes all lands within the following boundaries in said township of Park in the county of Ottawa, to-wit:

Beginning at a point on the East and West Quarter line, Sec. 21, Town 5 North, Range 16 West on the Shore of Lake Michigan, running thence East along the East and West Quarter Line of Section 21, and 22 to the center quarter post of Section 22, thence South on the North and South Quarter Line of Section 22, and 27 to the North Shore of Black Lake, thence Southwesterly along the North Shore of Black Lake and its outlet to Lake Michigan, thence Northerly along the East shore of Lake Michigan to the place of beginning.

All the lands in the said township of Park in said county of Ottawa within the boundaries above described, the said township of Park, at large, and the said county of Ottawa at large will be liable to an assessment for benefits received for the improvement of said highway.

Now therefore, all owners of land within the said township of Park, in Ottawa county, and all persons interested in said lands, and the township of Park and the said County of Ottawa, are hereby notified that we will be present at: School House at the North End of said road at 2 o'clock P. M. on the 15th day of November, A. D. 1923, within the said assessment district, and announce the assessment of benefits upon the lands within said boundaries constituting and comprising said special assessment district, and upon the said township at large, and thereupon the said assessments will be open to review to all persons interested and the said township and county may appear and be heard with respect to their several apportionments of benefits for said improvement.

Next Sunday evening Rev. C. P. Dame of Trinity Reformed church will continue the series of sermons "Battles of Youth." The topic for next Sunday night is "The Battle Against Discontent."

Next Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock Rev. N. Boer of Grand Rapids will give a stereopticon lecture on "Modern Palestine" in Trinity Reformed church. The lecture will be given under the auspices of the Young Women's League for Service of Trinity Church. A silver offering for Missions will be taken. Rev. Mr. Boer has given this lecture many times and he is booked for many more engagements. The public is invited.

A ten ton steel door which is being placed in the vault of a Grand Haven bank, is considered absolutely proof against any known method of burglary. Burglars who pass it by any but an unknown method therefore, will lay themselves open to very severe criticism.

The Michigan Agricultural College has a man student weighing 293 lbs., and a girl student weighing 90 lbs. It is being rumored that the girl will not play on the football team.

The Muskegon County supervisors voted 26 to 5 to place all male prisoners serving sentences in the county jail at work on highways. The men are to receive no additional compensation. The action was inspired by reports of the state's success with prison labor on highways.

A deal was closed Wednesday afternoon whereby the proprietors of the Steketee-Van Huls Printing House became the proprietors of the Klaasen Printing Co. on East 10th st. Gerrit Klaasen, who founded the Klaasen Printing Company, accepted a position a short time ago as head of the printing department that the Holland Furnace Company will install in the near future, and he offered the plant for sale, resulting in the sale closed Wednesday. Mr. Klaasen's partner, Cornelius Klaasen, will take a vacation and probably enter some other line of business later.

The regular meeting of the Pine Creek P-T club will be held Friday evening. An exceptional program has been arranged for. Mr. Charles Hansen has been appointed to give one of the numbers. A most cordial invitation is extended to all.

A dairy and alfalfa campaign will be conducted in Ottawa county this fall by the M. A. C. in co-operation with the agricultural agent. Meetings will be held on dairy and alfalfa farms in each community and evening meetings also at which time movies will be shown. If you wish the College speakers to meet at your farm, drop the county agent a card right now. Only a limited number of the meetings can be held in each township. Get busy now and send in your card. This campaign will probably be in January.

To celebrate the first fall Thursday the Misses Ethel Vander Zalm, Ruby and Elizabeth McCracken of Grand Haven hiked to Holland, leaving home at 9 in the morning and arriving in Holland at 1:50 P. M. They refused five offers for rides on the way. They returned home at 5:10 on the Pere Marquette, and to prove that they were not completely exhausted they attended the Halloween party at the Presbyterian church in the evening. If it were not for the fact that school opened the girls would have started off for a hike to Grand Rapids the next day.

Mrs. J. W. Lankhorst of Fremont, Michigan, visited with her mother, Mrs. E. Arens, 125 East 10th street for a few days.

While riding in a wheel chair on 8th street west, a lady who has been an invalid for 18 years, lost a pair of light shell rim glasses. The lady is indigent and consequently cannot afford to buy another pair of glasses. Will finder kindly return to 181 West 8th street and receive reward.

HALLOWEENERS INDULGE IN EXPENSIVE "PRANK"

At about 9:30 Wednesday evening, the call of fire was sent into the department from box 221, which is on the corner of Central Avenue and 21st street.

Both fire departments responded immediately and arrived at their destination only to find that there was no one in sight, and no fire anywhere.

No doubt someone thought it quite a clever prank for the celebrating of Halloween, altho in this case they overstepped the boundaries.

The alarm boxes are there to be used only in case of fire, and besides the fact that the call costs the city at the least $25 an act of this kind also endangers life and property.

Chief Van Ry and his men are working on some clues which might lead to the arrest of the guilty parties.

"LINWOOD" FOTTAGE SCENE OF MERRY PARTY

"Linwood" Cottage at Macatawa Park, owned by Mr. De Boer, was the scene of a merry party Wednesday evening. The young folks were mindful of the fact that the date was October 31st, and nothing could dampen the "have a good time" spirit. Refreshments of course were also on the evening's program with all the Halloween "goodies" not forgotten. Those present were the Misses Evelyn Vandenberg, Gertrude Huizenga, Margaret Kraal, Gertrude Bussie, Esther Brink, Aleta Harmsen, Margaret Maasa, Evelyn Nykamp, and the Messrs. Harold VanderBie, Russell Nykamp, Oscar Ming, John Garvelink, Louis Nykamp, Clarence Kemmy, Berle Van Dyk, Harold De Loof.

Flora Wetherby of Grand Rapids, was present and gave a fine talk on the merits of the order. Five new members were initiated and at the close of the meeting delicious refreshments were served.

WELL KNOWN HOLLAND MAN DIES IN GRAND RAPIDS

Nearly every one in Holland knows Gerrit Harry De Graaf, for years an alderman of Grand Rapids, and as a boy a resident of Holland.

Mr. De Graaf died at his home in Grand Rapids Saturday afternoon and Tuesday his body lay in state from 12 to 2 o'clock and the funeral was held from Daisy Lodge Temple at the Furniture City.

Mr. De Graaf has been a resident of Macatawa Park for practically a half century, and always prided himself on the fact that he helped build part of the old Boone cottage, a little shack west of the grove, and the first building built on the sand-dunes even before there were any walks of any kind.

Harry first came to the resorts with his camp tent with a lot of other Grand Rapids campers and has been a familiar figure there ever since. For years Mr. De Graaf was on the board of assessors of Grand Rapids and was a prominent Elk.

Mr. De Graaf was 72 years old and up to recently was in the grocery business on South Division street.

Mr. De Graaf was born in Buffalo, N. Y., October 4, 1851 and started in the grocery business in Grand Rapids in 1875.

Mr. De Graaf has many friends in Holland, who were in Grand Rapids Tuesday attending the funeral.

Surviving are his widow, a daughter, Mrs. Minnie Price of Grand Rapids; two sons, Harry of Grand Rapids and Arthur DeGraaf of Detroit; two brothers, Richard De Graaf of Kalamazoo and John De Graaf of Seattle, Washington; a sister, Mrs. P. C. Steketee of this city and two grandchildren.

OTTAWA COUNTY A LEADING DAIRY COUNTY

According to the map shown by the State Department of Agriculture at the Grand Rapids Fair, Ottawa Co. has more creameries than any other county in Michigan. This means that Ottawa county has a large amount of skim milk available for use on the farm. This is an advantage to the poultrymen as skim milk is one of the best feeds for poultry. It also is ideal for calves and swine.

The Green Mill Cafe has put up its new electric sign. It is in the shape of a windmill and very attractive.

SPECIAL VALUES IN COATS AND DRESSES!

OUR stock of Ladies' Coats and Dresses is most complete. We have the exclusive sale for "Printzess" garments. Coats about which you have read a great deal in the leading Magazines of the country. "Printzess" Coats are designed for women who demand the newest and best styles.

We have made a special purchase of these Coats, designed and tailored by Printz for fall and winter wear.

The charming models are fashioned from the softest and richest materials, trimmed with luxurious furs, including such deep-piled fabrics as Fashona, Framosa, Lustrosa, and Annolaine.—They have that wrappy tendency, which brings them to the front in a small flare, where they fasten with a string, tie or single buckle arrangement. Most of them are enhanced by ample collar and cuffs of the season's smartest furs—as lynx, fox, squirrel, beaver and wolf. Embroidery is used as a motif—generally on a side panel or sleeve. All of these new wraps are charming in their distinctive Printzess way, made for every type of woman.—Graceful in every line they are the sort of coats that will please you perfectly. We invite you to see them all, while the season is only at its verge. There are so many styles that you will find it quite delightful to pick out the coat that suits you best from this authentic group. And the price is surprisingly reasonable. In spite of the fact that furs have steadily increased in price during the past season, you will know that in these Printzess coats now on display, you have more clothes value than is ordinarily represented in such garments, moderately priced in three groups at

In connection with the Printzess line we also carry a large and beautiful assortment of cheaper coats in Ladies' and Juniors sizes at $14.75 up to $50.00 and we would be glad to show you our special values at $23.75, $25.00, and $27.50. We know we can please you both as to style and prices.

We are also showing one of the largest stocks of Childrens Coats in the city—all the newest styles—ages from 2 up to 15 years, at prices which will interest you.
