HIGH SCHOOL ADDS AN OWL TO ITS MENAGERIE

IS CAPTURED BY JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL STUDENT

An interesting specimen has been added to the science department of the local high school, which is of direct interest to the zoology students. The addition is a Great Horned owl. It was captured while still young by a Junior High School student and was cared for at his home during the summer. After school opened it was brought to Miss Rogers and temporarily imprisoned in a medium sized cage. On account of the ferocious way it acted when anyone entered the room containing the cage it was transferred to a larger cage and placed in solitary confinement on the roof of the engine room. The bird is fed entirely upon meat scraps and its appetite immense. Its keeper stated that when he once gave it a three-pound piece of meat the owl snatched it and gorged it down at one gulp. When first caught it was covered with white down feathers but the adult plumage has now appeared, which consists of barred brown and white feathers. The high school students will have to hustle to keep up with such "wise" company, and those having difficulty with certain subjects might possibly find the owl of some assistance.

TO SHOW PROGRESS OF CHAPEL IN KENTUCKY

The Reformed church through the C. E. Union is building a church chapel in the mountains of Kentucky, the district where feuds are often pictured. The church is doing wonderful work among these people and the 6th Reformed church of Holland is contributing its mite to this cause.

At 8:30 Sunday evening there will be a joint meeting of the two C. E. societies and Adrian Ter Louw will present stereoscopic views showing the progress that is being made on the chapel and also showing some of the district where this work is going on. The pictures are very interesting and the public as well as the members of the church and of the two societies are cordially invited.

This is the first time these pictures have been shown to the public.

CONGRESSMAN MAPES
VISITS IN HOLLAND

Congressman Carl E. Mapes, who represents the Fifth Michigan district in Congress, was in Holland Wednesday for a short time. While his visit was not solely a campaign visit he says many of his old friends here who assured him of their continued support at the coming election. Congressman Mapes has been particularly strong in Grand Haven and Holland since he made his first run for congress. Strict attention to business without any fireworks, flattery or noise, has given him the complete confidence of his constituents here. His activities in behalf of local interests including the harbor project and his keen interest in the welfare of ex-service men from this locality has established a personal as well as a political status of friendship for him.

TWO BIG MEN INSTEAD OF ONE

ATTORNEY GENERALS FROM TWO BIG STATES TO MEET IN HOLLAND

We've all heard about what the governor of North Carolina said to a time, but we are now wondering what the attorney general of Vermont and the attorney general of Michigan will have to say to each other, and to the audience at the big Masonic Temple Hall Friday night at 8 o'clock.

It has already been published that Hon. John S. Sargent, attorney general of the state of Vermont, and a boyhood friend of President Coolidge, and an able speaker, in fact one of the best in the east, will be the headliner at the Republican rally in Holland Friday night.

However the local committee was agreeably surprised to hear that the attorney general of the state of Michigan, Andrew B. Dougherty of Lansing will also be here and speak from the same platform.

Mr. Sargent's coming here created so much comment in the entire state press that the attorney general of the state of Michigan felt that he would like to meet the prominent man from the East while he is at Holland, and he has wired that in all probability he will be on hand Friday night, and would also be willing to deliver a speech in this city on that night.

This means that on Friday night the Republicans will have two prominent speakers. One who as a boy has played with President Coolidge on the old Coolidge farm in the state of Vermont, and who has possibly been in closer touch with the president, and intimately acquainted with Calvin Coolidge than any other man in this country.

Attorney General Dougherty of Michigan is also an able speaker and a witty one at that. Dougherty's speech will not be a statistical dry affair, but more on the order of those formerly given by the late Congressman Hamilton who was a drawing card whenever he came to Holland.

Anyway the two generals from two great states are going to "tell it to each other" at the Masonic Temple Friday night, and the public is cordially invited to listen to what they have to say.

The American Legion band will also give a short band concert at the hall before speeches begin and no doubt some local talent too, will speak on the political issues of the day.

HOME OF ZEELAND FOLKS
DESTROYED BY FIRE

At 2 o'clock Thursday morning an alarm of fire was sent in to the Zeeland fire department, which was found to be a fire in a bungalow of H. Styfe. The kitchen to the home was already destroyed when the fire department arrived. The home and contents was entirely destroyed, but the amount of damage could not be ascertained.

The fire started from a defective flue it is thought.

HOLLAND SHOWS WELL IN THE STATE REPORT

THIS CITY LEAVING THE OTHER TOWNS OF SAME CLASS IN NUMBER OF BIRTHS

It is interesting to note how other communities in the state, of the class of towns the size of Holland, compare with this city in births and deaths over a given period of time. The recent report of the state board of health shows that there were 392 births and 179 deaths in Ottawa county during the first seven months of 1924.

The figures for different cities of the state during this period follow:

	Births	Deaths

Others trying for yellmaster were: Harold Sierma, John Telling, "Red" Ver Hey, Fred Kierekoper, and John Schulling—Maroon and Orange.

MASONIC TEMPLE

A. J. Muste, a graduate from Hope college and for many years a prominent speaker in the eastern states, was in Holland last night and delivered an address at the Masonic Temple to a fair sized audience. Mr. Muste set forth why the voters should discard the two old parties and get back of the new Independent Progressive party headed by Bob La Follette.

A song service is to be held at the Sixth Reformed church Sunday night beginning at 7:30. The main choir composed of twenty voices and the Junior Girls choir of fourteen voices will blend together on that night giving a song program worth while under the leadership of director Vandersluis. Miss Minnie Vande Water, organist, has also been directing the girls' choir with unusual success. She will preside at the organ Sunday night and C. De Koster, Holland soloist will also render selections. The pastor, Rev. J. H. Bruggers will deliver a short sermon on that evening.

HOW WOULD THIS BRING HARD TIMES

With characteristic facility in the art of studied distortion, Mr. La Follette pretends to see a threat to bring on bad times in the warnings by responsible business men that his election would have a decidedly bad economic effect on the United States and would destroy the country's prosperity; and he talks blatantly about "punishing" any who "bring on a panic" in the event of his success at the polls.

As a matter of fact, since the present political campaign commenced, only one person in the country has threatened "a panic" if Mr. La Follette should be elected, and that person is Mr. La Follette's own son and heir and traveling associate. The younger La Follette said a few weeks ago: "If father is elected president and finds he must bring on hard times to cure the ill of the country, he will do it."

If Robert M. La Follette should go into the White House and bad times should follow, the only person who could logically be suspected of deliberately inducing a business depression would be Robert M. La Follette himself, and he would be convicted almost directly out of his own mouth.

LITTLE BOY IS KILLED ON EIGHTH STREET

TWO AND A HALF YEARS OLD BOY MEETS DEATH UNDER WHEELS OF FREIGHT
CAR

Benny Hesselink, two-and-half-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Hesselink, 170 West 7th street, was instantly killed about 9 o'clock this forenoon when he was struck by an interurban freight car going west. The accident happened on Eighth street just east of Maple avenue.

The little boy, with some other children, was playing on the north curb of Eighth street when the freight car was approaching. The rate of speed was necessarily slow at that point and the accident came without the slightest warning. The little boy it is said, started to walk across the street when the car was approaching. The motorman, F. Heineker, had his eye on him and there would have been no accident if the boy had kept on walking at the pace he was going. But it is alleged that at the last moment, apparently overcome with panic, he suddenly began to run and ran right under the wheels of the approaching car. It was an impossibility for the motorman to stop the car on the spur of the moment and the boy was under the wheels almost before it was known that there was any danger. The motorman stopped his car quickly and the child was given immediate attention.

One of his legs had been cut off by the wheels and he had received many other serious injuries. Death was instantaneous. The dead boy is survived by his parents and two sisters.

FORD PRAISES COOLIDGE AGAIN

PRESIDENT'S STAND AGAINST
"MONEY POWER" COMMENDED
BY AUTO MANUFACTURER

"I'm for Coolidge because he is opposed to the money power," declared Henry Ford Tuesday in a statement issued by the automobile manufacturer from his Dearborn office. "Personally," he declared, "I have no doubt but that Coolidge will be decisively elected. He will be elected because he has refused to be the tool of any class. He has not served any special interest."

Given Reasons for Support
"Wall street has found that he can not be handled and by Wall street I mean that section of the international money trust that operates in the United States in Wall street, in Lombard street in London and in the Place de la Bourse in Paris. That is the money power that made the war, poisoned the peace exploited Germany and threw England into unemployment. That money power does not want Calvin Coolidge."

"Men have come to me and asked how I could support Coolidge, a Republican, when I supported Wilson, a Democrat. I am not supporting Coolidge because he is a Republican. I did not support Wilson because he was a Democrat. I am for Coolidge now because I believe that he thinks more of the people than of the party. I think he is an able man, deserving the support of all forward-looking men."

Backed By Business
"I appreciate the fact that Coolidge's opponents have attempted to make it appear that his support has largely a corporation flavor. Coolidge is supported by American business men but I believe that he is for American business as against the money power. Not for a long time has our government been so free of the influence of special interests as during Coolidge's brief administration."

"He stands for the new as against the old; new honesty as against old compromise; public service as against party log rolling. Two business systems now confront each other in this country—production as against profit; service as against soils. I think Coolidge is on the side of production, service and prosperity. That's why I am for Coolidge."

Splendid progress is being made by the Holland High school orchestra this year under the competent direction of Miss Keppel. The orchestra made its first public appearance of the year last Wednesday night when it furnished musical entertainment at the Teachers' Reception held in the Junior High school building. The orchestra has already received further invitations to play both in and out of Holland and its members are enthusiastically striving to develop themselves into a band of accomplished musicians. At a meeting John Pelon was named president and Miss Sarah Lacey, secretary and treasurer.

The small alligator received by John Telling, Holland, sent in a box from Florida, has been turned over to Miss Lida Rogers of the local high school, and is now with the rest of the animals in the zoological department. The reptile eats liver fed to him from the end of a stick or thrown into the water. The zoology classes enjoy watching him as he climbs up the side of the box and crawls around in the water.

The services of the Wesleyan Methodist church, corner Pine and 17th-st. will be held in their usual order with prayer and praise service at 10 o'clock. Special message by the pastor at 10:30; Sunday school, 11:45; evening service of Song and Worship at 7:30; Childrens Bible classes meet at the church every Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Prayer meeting and Bible Study Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock. Your presence at these services will be greatly appreciated. Rev. G. Visser, pastor.

ALL ARE WELCOME!

'ROYAL MAN' IS SUBSTITUTE FOR 'SUPERMAN'

As early as 7 o'clock Monday evening it was no longer possible to gain entrance to the Central Avenue Chr. Ref. church building to hear the address on "The Royal Man" by Dr. Y. Hepp of the Free University of Amsterdam. So eager were local people to hear the great Hollander who spoke under the auspices of the Western Theological Seminary that they began gathering at the church about an hour before the time of meeting and by 7 o'clock every available seat was taken.

Dr. Hepp again delivered a scholarly lecture. He was introduced by Dr. Henry Hospers of the Seminary. Dr. Hospers has the distinction of having been the first American student to take a course in the Free University. This was in 1889-1890. The Free University had been established only a few years before by the late Dr. A. Kuyper and when Mr. Hospers enrolled as a student there he was the first one from this country.

Dr. Hepp, who delivered his closing lecture here Monday night, coined the phrase, "The Royal Man," which was the subject of his lecture. It was coined as a kind of analogy to the well known phrase of Nietzsche, "the superman." That phrase has been in bad repute for some years but Dr. Hepp thinks that there is an idea in it that may be applied by the Christian. "The superman" is supposed to be developed here on earth in the course of evolution; but the "royal man," according to the speaker's idea, is the man of the future existence, the redeemed man of the life to come.

He devoted his lecture to an exposition of what the state of that "royal man" will be and under what conditions he will live in the life to come, basing his picture of the new earth upon the scriptures.

Dr. Hepp also gave an interesting address at Hope College in the afternoon and a reception was given in his honor.

Parents who wish to winter in Florida will find it necessary for their children to be handicapped by changing schools this winter if they enroll them in the Florida Tourist schools, a Michigan corporation with headquarters at Lansing.

There are three schools in the Florida system, located at Port Richey on the west coast, Daytona on the east coast, and Lakeland in the central part of the state. Continuous correspondence between the Florida school and the school from which the northern student comes will insure the use of the same texts and the pursuit of the same work as the pupil would have if he were at home. The Florida term opens December 1, and continues until April 17. Interchange of pupils between the respective schools in Florida is also possible, the change dates being January 24 and February 28.

The directors are as follows: T. E. Johnson, superintendent of public instruction of the state, Lansing; C. H. Brumby, ex-governor of Arkansas, Little Rock; J. B. Stenton, superintendent of schools, Lansing; W. M. Dowden, president, Lansing Business University, Lansing; C. E. LeFurge, principal Central High school, Lansing; H. L. Rockwood, general manager Florida Tourist Schools, Lansing; Cal. A. L. Moudy, school superintendent and lecturer, Waterloo, Indiana.

The Florida Tourist schools are also in a position to help those who wish information about housing conditions in the southern state.

Co-operation from them can be secured by sending an application blank with the blank which enrolls the student. These reservation blanks can be secured from Mr. Longman or from the Tourist school headquarters at the American State Savings bank building at Lansing.

In circulars put out by the schools the public schools of Florida are not belittled, but the value of a child's having exactly the same training he would have at home is pointed out.

Roy Van Vleet of Valley township, Allegan county, is alleged to be the owner of two autos and that he uses the same plates on each. Justice F. E. Fish, Allegan, assessed a fine of $5 and $5 costs.

NEW ENTERPRISE IS LAUNCHED HERE

An enterprise is being launched in Holland which is very much in line with the traditional cleanliness of our community. The "Clean-Home Cleaners," specializing in the cleaning of rugs, carpets and upholstery, such as davenport, chairs and auto upholstery, are installing their equipment in a daylight plant in the new Baldus Building on East Eighth street.

The "Clean-Home Cleaners" marks the outgrowth of several years of experimental work, study and investigation of this phase of domestic cleanliness, from the standpoints of economy and sanitation.

The inauguration of this service is of especial interest to a great many of the particular people in this section of the state who have heretofore found it necessary to send their rugs, carpets and upholstery to the large cities to insure thorough cleanliness with safety.

The plant equipment is most modern, utilizing what is known as the Vacuum Shampoo Process. No cleansing agents, except pure soap, such as is used in homes for laundering the most delicate fabrics, and cold water, are used, yet every particle of dirt and grit, however deeply imbedded is removed. This method of cleaning adds greatly to the life of the materials treated.

Nothing has been left undone which would make for safety, for insurance will be carried which will protect the owners of goods against loss or damage from the time goods leave the home until same are returned.

It is expected that the equipment will all be installed within the next three or four days, and that the plant will be in complete operation before the first of November.

The members of this new firm are: William C. Eby, pharmacist at Haan Bros. Drug Co., and Edward T. Van Dyke, formerly of Holland, but lately of Elgin, Ill. Mr. Eby will retain his present position at Haan Bros., while Mr. Van Dyke will be in active charge of the new plant.

$1446 RAISED HERE FOR HOME FOR LEPERS

On Friday afternoon, Oct. 24, Mrs. C. V. R. Gilmore entertained the members of the board of the Federation of Women's societies of Holland, at her home on East 12th St. Dr. and Mrs. Charles R. Stauffacher of Inhamabane, Africa, were the guests of honor, who expect to sail within a few weeks. Dr. Stauffacher is a medical missionary and is specializing in the work which hopes to rid the world of leprosy.

Last April the women of Holland raised by donation and pledges the sum of $1000 to be used to erect the Christine Van Raalte Gilmore Home for lepers. A draft for this amount was presented to Dr. Danner in June and on Friday two drafts were given Dr. Stauffacher, the one to be used for the completion of the home, the other for the support of leper patients.

The total amount collected far exceeded the hopes of the committee; it was $1446. Dr. Stauffacher was overcome with emotion when Mr. Gilmore presented these drafts to him, explaining that it was a spontaneous gift from those whose hearts God had touched thru the message the missionary gave in April. It is hoped the home will comfortably place 20 patients and is the first to be erected in this territory.

Mrs. Gilmore served a delicious two course lunch and after a delightful and profitable hour the company wished Dr. and Mrs. Stauffacher god-speed on their way to their field of labor.

The federation is hoping to hear from these workers from time to time to keep in touch with the progress made among the outcasts of Inhamabane, Africa.

DANCING CLASSES ARE ORGANIZED

Harold J. Ringold of New York city has secured the Masonic Temple for his studio where he will teach dance forms and rhythms. Private lessons will be given at all hours and classes are now organizing for girls and boys of different ages.

A class for high school girls in the ballroom of the dance is now being formed. It will meet every Tuesday and Friday at five P. M. The class will be limited to ten girls. Other classes will be organized next week in different forms of dancing.

Mr. Ringold announces that due to the craze for Spanish dancing, this year much time will be devoted to Spanish technique as well as Russian, while eastern rhythms will be included in the Spanish course. The latest form of Argentine tango will also be taught for a specialty ballroom number to be put on later in the seasons at the assemblies.

WORK BEGINS TODAY OF GATHERING FUNDS FOR SUNNYCREST

Work began on Monday to collect funds in Holland for the Sunnycrest School for Girls located in the former summer home of Mr. Poole on the Park road. The work of soliciting donations for this cause is in charge of Mrs. Mary Frances Boam of St. Joseph and Mrs. Mary Landon Clark of Holland. They have had long experience in this kind of work and the Sunnycrest school was fortunate in securing their services.

Mrs. Boam has been in financial work for 22 years with different social service projects. She was connected with the Michigan Children's Home at St. Joseph for many years and also with the Starr Commonwealth of Albion. She also served social service organizations in several other states.

Mrs. Clark has been engaged in

OTTAWA GIVES $500.00 TO RESORT ASS'N

The Ottawa county board of supervisors on Saturday morning, just before adjourning, voted an appropriation of $500.00 for the Michigan Tourist and Resort association by an almost unanimous vote, only one dissenting ballot being cast.

Efforts to secure an appropriation had failed twice before, once last year, and again this year. But no doubt the county solons felt that our resort district deserved some consideration considering the large amount of taxes that can be levied upon resort property in Ottawa county. Taxable improvements are being made continually and those districts that some years ago were waste land reverting back to the state because of unpaid taxes are now on the tax roll for more than a million and because of this fact Ottawa county is materially benefited.

The Ottawa county supervisors feel that substantial advertising will bring into Ottawa county more improvements, more cottages, hotels and other things upon which an assessment can be levied more than reimbursing the county for the small appropriation advanced at this time.

SHERIFF FORTNEY CHARGES DETECTIVE WITH BRIBERY

Earl Allen, alias Jack Alberts, said to be an operative of a Grand Rapids detective bureau, was examined at Grand Haven Monday afternoon preparatory to being bound over to circuit court. The examination was held before Justice Hugh Liddle, J. J. McKenna of Grand Rapids represented the defendant. Sheriff Fortney, making the charge of attempting bribery, was the only witness to testify.

The sheriff stated how Allen approached him with an offer of $500 if he would allow the making and selling of moonshine in Robinson township where Allen said he had purchased some land. This occurred in the county jail on Aug. 5 of this year, the sheriff stated, and both his wife and Undersheriff Rosema were witnesses to the affair, altho the latter two were in concealment at the time. Allen was known to the sheriff as Alberts. He was arrested two weeks later. He waived examination when arraigned and was bound over to circuit court. Later he demanded examination in justice court and this time was bound over to circuit court on $500 bail which was furnished.

Adm. Frank Brier has been selected as a member of the traverser jury. This jury will begin its sessions in Grand Rapids on November 10th.

FRED H. KAMFERBEEK CANDIDATE FOR SHERIFF OF OTTAWA COUNTY ELECTED IN 1922

The Non-Partisan Kamferbeek Club of Ottawa County presents herewith the candidacy of Fred H. Kamferbeek for Sheriff. In asking your support on November 4th, we desire to call your attention to his qualifications:

Experience—

Kamferbeek was for twelve years at the head of the Holland Police Force during which time there was no complaint made in the department in regard to his ability and integrity. He was uniformly recognized as possessing exceptional qualifications for the job.

Kamferbeek has always maintained that to have efficiency, there must be absolute harmony between the sheriff's department and the Prosecuting Attorney's office. He will co-operate with the Prosecutor for the welfare of the citizens of our county.

Favors—

Kamferbeek pledges that when he attains the office of sheriff of Ottawa County, he will always endeavor to show no partiality in conducting the affairs of that office. He has no favors to grant any clique or gang and will disregard the influence of anyone when he is performing the duties of the sheriff's office.

Morality—

Kamferbeek stands unchallenged in his immediate community as an ideal American citizen of the highest type. He believes in doing everything within his power to advance the uplifting of the moral conduct of our county.

Enforcement of Law—

Kamferbeek has not the support of violators of the laws as they well know that when he becomes sheriff, there are but two courses to pursue: either to become respectable citizens or vacate the county. He desires to emphasize the fact that he will have no mercy for the liquor-traffic violators which has been the bone of contention recently.

Appointments—

Kamferbeek announces that he will when elected, appoint such deputies, regardless of party affiliations, who are best qualified to assist in enforcing the laws of the land and retain them only as long as they are doing their duty as prescribed by the law.

Ability—

Kamferbeek is as fearless in his police duties as anyone could demand. In protecting the citizens against any immoral attack he knows but one course to pursue, and that is directly against the enemy of good society.

Justice—

Kamferbeek was duly elected in 1922 by a substantial majority but through some technical error on the part of some election inspectors without any intention of violating the law, the citizens of various precincts of Ottawa county were disqualified, and Kamferbeek was deprived of several hundred votes intended for him, thereby losing on the recount of the ballots.

Practically all who are familiar with the case realize that Kamferbeek should have been sheriff the past two years and are now supporting him regardless of party affiliations. To what extent he will be successful depends upon your co-operation in demanding a square deal by voting for him.

INSTRUCTIONS—

The Non-Partisan Kamferbeek Club would kindly ask you to place a CROSS before Kamferbeek's name regardless of what your party affiliations are.

Kamferbeek is the Democratic Candidate for Sheriff and you will confer a great favor on yourself as well as contribute to the welfare of Ottawa County by voting for the best qualified candidate for Sheriff that it has been your privilege to support for some time.

By voting for Kamferbeek you are voting for a man who will be able, fearless, courageous, honest, and sincere in conducting the office of Sheriff of Ottawa County.

DRUNKENNESS BRINGS AUTO WRECK

A serious accident occurred at seven o'clock Sunday night when the Overland car driven by William Rottschaefer collided with a new Buick owned by Bernard Tora.

Henry Cruis and William Rottschaefer, and it is stated a lady, were in the Rottschaefer car and it is stated by witnesses that the car was zigzagging over River avenue, colliding with the Tora car, doing considerable damage to the new Buick.

The woman was not seen after the wreck but Cruis and Rottschaefer were both arrested by officers Sunday night, and Monday morning Henry Cruis pleaded guilty to drunkenness in Justice Brusse's court while William Rottschaefer pleaded not guilty to driving while intoxicated and his hearing will be held later in the week.

In searching the car officers found a half pint of "moon," the bottle having tipped over. However, there was enough left as evidence.

The collision caused considerable commotion on North River avenue, neighbors holding one of the men until officers arrived.

FARM BUREAU FESTI- VAL TO BE HELD NOV. 19TH AT ALLEDALE

Plans are complete for the sixth annual farm bureau festival, which will be held at the Alleendale town hall Wednesday, Nov. 19th. All entries must be in place by noon of that day in order that the judging may be completed in time. GRAND HAVEN ALSO HAS SUN- DAY SMASHES

Auto accidents put two people in Hattson hospital over the week end, at Grand Haven, and three autos were badly smashed in the melee that occurred. One accident occurred when a large car hit two smaller ones Saturday night out on the Holland road near Grand Haven, and another injury occurred when a Ford roadster hit a Grand Haven man in the street.

Peter Rossien, 55, of Grand Haven, was struck Saturday night while crossing Lake Ave., near Leggett-st. He had stepped out of a car belonging to friends and was crossing the street when a Ford roadster containing four young people, struck him causing a fractured leg. Mr. Rossien was taken to the hospital where he was reported doing as well as could be expected. No arrests were made, the witnesses claiming the Ford had its light lighted.

In the three cornered crash, Mrs. Charles Stafford of Bangor, Mich., was severely cut and perhaps injured internally and her husband was also cut by broken glass. A big Roamer touring car bearing a New York license plate and said to have been driven by Kalamazoo parties returning from the football game at Grand Haven Saturday, crashed into a Star car driven by Charles Stafford of Bangor. Mrs. Stafford was severely injured and was taken to Hattson hospital. George Botbyl, garageman who went to the scene to bring the cars in, stated that the Star car was a complete wreck. The Star that was hit first was repaired and went on its way. The Roamer was also badly damaged in front, its heavy construction saving the occupants from injury and perhaps death.

A lady who was in one of the cars had all her front teeth knocked out when the impact came.

GRAND HAVEN FOLKS REACH MIAMI BY AUTOMOBILE

Mr. and Mrs. Arie Van Weelden of Grand Haven write that they have reached Miami, Florida, after a wonderful auto journey in which beautiful mountain scenery was mixed with terrible mud roads. At Frederickburg, Maryland, a bridge had been washed away and they were compelled to take a detour which was covered with three feet of water. A mule team was kept busy hauling out the automobiles on this road. The Van Weeldens are very much pleased with Miami and are located at 877 North-west Ninth street that city.

LOCAL VIOLINIST TO OBTAIN ARTIST DIPLOMA

Miss Ruth Keppel is making a trip to Chicago every two weeks to study with her former instructor, Mr. Leon Sametini, one of the world's most famous violinists. Before coming to America, Mr. Sametini won renown in Europe as a virtuoso and his pupils here are no less remarkable. Pupils from every part of America, and even from abroad come to Chicago to receive the benefit of his knowledge and skill. Miss Keppel is working with him to obtain her artist's diploma.

Miss Keppel has made an excellent record in Holland as a successful teacher. She has produced many fine violinists at her studio at 216 River avenue and her work with the orchestra at the Holland High school is well known to music lovers of this city.

The play, "The Higher Calling," which is to be presented by the Holland Christian Endeavor Union in Carnegie Hall on November 5th, has a cast of characters from various parts of the country. The cast of characters is as follows: Mr. Elbert Rogers, (A North Carolina farmer), Thomas Ten Hoeve, of Patterson, N. J.; Lydia Ann Rogers, (his wife) Ethel Luidens, of Holland; Rose Rogers (daughter), Polly Schutt; Dave Hardy (Rose's fiance), Harry Kamp, of South Africa; Crew (a crook financier), Nelson A. Dock; Amsterdams, N. Y.; Batabrook, (his assistant), Clarence Berkompas, Rudyard, Mich.; The Marquis (a French adventurer), Elmer Van Lare, Wolcott, N. Y.; Jack Desmond (an artist), Marion De Young, Orange City, Iowa; Kate and Nora (his sisters) Alberta Rawls and Marie Van Vuren, Holland.

Most of these young people have had previous experience along this line and under the able coaching of Mrs. Edith Walvoord of Hope College, they are progressing splendidly. Holland folks are eagerly anticipating presentation of "The Higher Calling" and the players will undoubtedly be greeted by a crowded house. The proceeds are for the church being erected by the local C. E. Union in Walker's Creek, Va.

OTSEGO PAPER COMPANY WILL EXPEND $500,000.00

An expansion program involving an expenditure of $500,000 is outlined by the Macinbar Paper Co. of Otsego. The plans call for a new enginehouse, a new pumping station and installation of a third board making machine and equipment. Work of construction is to be started at once it is announced.

J. A. Vanderveen of Holland is a director in this company and several other Holland people own stock in this paper company.

The Ottawa county board of supervisors left Thursday for Port Sheldon where they were guests at the annual clam bake tendered them by Judge Jewell of Grand Rapids at his estate on the lake shore. The supervisors always look forward to this annual outing. County and city officials and the entire board of supervisors motored to the scene. Judge Orie S. Cross was also invited but he was busy occupied with sentence day and stated he could make the grade if he got through in time. Michigan went in for the old-fashioned New England sport of clam baking Thursday afternoon when the members of the Port Sheldon Beach association and friends, to the number of 90, gathered on the shore of Lake Michigan, at Port Sheldon, and regaled themselves with clams, cooked on heated stones with a covering of sea grass, shipped from Boston, sweet potatoes, corn and all the fixings under the able direction of P. H. Griffin and Judge Harry D. Jewell.

Besides the members of the association members of the boards of supervisors of both Ottawa and Kent counties; road commissioners and Grand Rapids city officials were present at the outing.

Thursday's affair was the second annual clam bake of the association. The fall outings were begun last year under the management of William Laveau, star of the Broadway players, who, being a New Englander, introduced clam-baking to Michigan and took complete charge of the first affair.

Mr. Laveau was not present this year but the members of the association felt that the practice they had acquired under him was sufficient and they commissioned Mr. Griffin and Judge Jewell to take complete charge of the affair. The guests voted Thursday's clam-bake to be the equal, if not the superior, of the first outing.

When the provisions were stowed away, a short program of speeches was in order. D. M. Cline, chairman of the Ottawa board of supervisors; Mr. McPherson, of the Kent board; Sen. William Connelly, of Spring Lake; Mayor Cotton, of Grand Haven, and Mayor Elenbaas, of Zeeland, were the speakers.

THOSE SEA GULLS TURN OUT TO BE WHITE FOAM

People who on Thursday saw what they described as "thousands upon thousands" of sea gulls on Black lake were surprised Friday morning to see them still there. They decided that those gulls were certainly persistent. There were so many of them that about a dozen different individuals described them as giving the appearance of large ice floes with lanes of open water between.

Finally someone became suspicious and went down to the edge of the water to investigate. And then he discovered that the sea gulls were not sea gulls at all but white foam from the sugar beet plant and pieces of mattresses dumped out of the burned vessel of the South American. The illusion of large masses of seagulls was however so perfect from a little distance that the mistake was a natural one. The illusion was made more complete because a number of real gulls were flying above the mass.

INDIANA MAN IS ILLEGAL FISHER IN ALLEGAN CO.

Eugene F. Grouse of Indiana was caught fishing for pickerel in the Kalamazoo river below Pine creek dam in Otsego township by Deputy Game Warden R. W. Hoy. Grouse had three good fish when caught, one weighing 10 pounds and two weighing 5 pounds each. He was arraigned before Justice F. E. Fish of Allegan and paid a fine of $5 and $5.50 costs. Grouse stated he did not know it was a violation of law to stink the ends of his poles in the mud and enjoy a smoke while awaiting a strike.

A miscellaneous shower was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. Nienhuis of Crisp in honor of Miss Jeanette Lievens who is to be the bride of Mr. Abram Laaman. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. N. Van Der Wier and Gezina Van Westenburg of Grand Rapids, Mr. and Mrs. M. Nienhuis and family, Mr. and Mrs. C. Slagh, Mr. and Mrs. H. Hop and Irene, Mr. and Mrs. G. Nienhuis, Mr. and Mrs. H. Schamper, Mr. and Mrs. M. Laaman, Mrs. J. Lievens and family, Mr. and Mrs. W. Kooyers, Allen Kooyers, Abram Laaman, Anne Luidens and Anne Meengs. Many appropriate gifts were received. A dainty luncheon was served and a very enjoyable evening was spent by all.

LOCAL MAN TO BE LEADER OF G. H. CHORUS

A great municipal chorus, which will bring Grand Haven lovers of music no small amount of pleasure in the future promises to follow as a permanent result in the wake of the Ottawa county Sunday school convention held at Grand Haven several weeks ago, the various church choirs in that city were combed for their best singers to form a convention chorus. A group of about one hundred singers was organized, and placed under the direction of John Vandersluis of Holland, veteran choir and chorus leader.

The great choir sang at the evening session of the convention in the high school auditorium, and the organization sang so well that musical people of the city became enthusiastic. It was decided that an attempt would be made to establish a municipal chorus. The preliminary steps have been taken, and many musical inclined people are joining the movement with no small degree of enthusiasm. Several singers who were unable to join the convention chorus have entered the plan vigorously and every attempt will be made to put the plan over.

The first meeting of the newly formed municipal chorus will be held in the First Reformed church in Grand Haven Monday evening and the plans for the season will then be outlined. The chorus membership is open to every one who desires to sing. The organization is international and non-denominational. Members of any church choir in Grand Haven and any one else who desires will be heartily welcomed to membership. It has been decided to ask Mr. Vandersluis to take the leadership of the big chorus and it is expected that organization will be accomplished without trouble.

LOCAL WOMEN ATTEND LECTURES IN GRAND RAPIDS

Mrs. Henry Van Ark and Mrs. R. B. Champion were in Grand Rapids Wednesday and attended two lectures by Prof. Thomas H. Reed of the University of Michigan. The afternoon lecture, which was given in the Ryerson library, was on "Common Honesty in Government," and the evening lecture at the Fairland Hotel was on "Political Parties." These lectures were given under the auspices of the League of Women Voters of Grand Rapids and women's organizations in Holland were invited to send delegates. Mrs. Van Ark and Mrs. Champion represented the Holland W. C. T. U.

"Women houses will be better than the men," declared Prof. Reed. "Political parties," he asserted, "have never been run by the intelligent, conscientious, and capable part of the community; that portion of the community has left party management to the few who happened to be interested in it or who made their living out of politics."

"Intelligent, active party service is the remedy for the peril of multiple parties," Prof. Reed maintained.

"Under the two party system democracy has the best chance to succeed," he said, "but not if the two-party system won't work. I don't recommend delivering yourself bound hand and foot to a party, but I do advise working with a party as long as you conscientiously can."

DESCRIBES RIGHT HOME FOR FISH

Do you know what is correct in architecture for a home for fish? Like all creatures in the world, fish have to breathe oxygen. Except when water is very hot, it contains free oxygen. It will be recalled how bubbles form in a standing tumbler of water. That is some of the free oxygen which has been liberated.

"Gills of fish mechanically extract this life giving element from the water. It is their breath," writes Wm. T. Innes of the Aquarium Society of Philadelphia in Nature Magazine of Washington. "Without enough oxygen they soon perish. The supply of free oxygen in a given body of water is limited. As the fish consumes it, where is more to come from?"

"The answer contains the key to most aquarium difficulties, and that answer is, from the surface of the water. When the normal amount of free oxygen is depleted from the water by the breathing of the fish, the water absorbs more oxygen at its surface."

"The practical idea then is to have enough air surface to replenish the oxygen as rapidly as it is used. A good general rule is to have about 25 square inches (five inches square) to a gold fish an inch long. Two fish would of course, require twice as much; for two two-inch fish, four times as much."

Usually we find the average unsuccessful aquarium has about one-quarter enough air surface, or four times too many fish, and that the fish are up at the surface, "blowing bubbles," as some call it, trying to get oxygen directly from the atmosphere. "Under these circumstances a partial change of water is expedient, but success will not be had until either the air surface is increased. If fresh water is added, it should be of nearly the same temperature as the old, and when the water is entirely changed, the new supply should stand accouple of hours to ripen."

"Raw water from the spigot usually contains too much free oxygen, and this also is bad for the fish. It causes bubbles to form in the fins and outer protective mucous covering of the body. When these burst, pockets are formed which make lodging places for the harmful bacteria which are ever present."

"A small bowl or globe can, by courtesy, be considered an aquarium. 'Fish prison' would be better. The facts are that gold fish are hardy and tenacious of life. In a fair-sized aquarium they should live at least ten years. The water not only does not need to be changed but under proper conditions should not be."

Mrs. G. J. Diekema was called upon to preside over a meeting held at the woman's club of Grand Haven Wednesday. The speaker of the evening was Mrs. Mary Bailey of Chicago who spoke on the political issues of the day. This meeting is held under the auspices of the Republican party. Mrs. Bailey gave a very comprehensive address on the "Why of Political Parties."

PASTOR'S WORK HAS BEEN SUCCESSFUL

Christian Intelligencer—At Central Park Church of Holland, Mich., Rev. F. J. Van Dyk has completed the first year of his pastorate. The people have shown to the outside world their interest and pride in their church property by providing an excellent garage for the parsonage. Forty-seven members have been received during the year, and the increase in attendance and in membership has been brought pointedly to the attention of the officials by the necessity which arose for providing an additional tray of communion cups, new communion table linen, and extra cup-racks and hymn books. The catechetical classes show an increased enrollment for the fall sessions, and the church people have a mind to work.

Diekema On Men In Political Issues

Hon. G. J. Diekema of Holland spoke as follows on the political issues of the day in an enthusiastic meeting at Allegan.

The Allegan Gazette gives the following story:

Mr. Diekema devoted considerable time to an analysis of political parties and their place in our government, particularly with reference to women voters and the belief of some that they should pick out a candidate here and there. "I believe," he said, "that the only way we can conduct a government is through crystallizing party principles in platforms and the carrying out of these platforms. The object of a political party is not to present candidates but to carry out the political ideas of the majority of the people. A party is not an end but a means to an end. If we were all like those independents who are too good to mix with others, free government would not last a year, but would perish from the earth. The independent in politics is like the bachelor in society. Let's join together, men and women. As we join in social matters, so let us join in political matters. If men and women flock by themselves, the purpose of equal suffrage will be defeated. We want more of the refining influence of women in politics and statesmanship. We have the privilege of being citizens of the greatest, the first, and the best country in the world. We have all that ages and poets have dreamed thru the ages and yet only fifty per cent. of our citizens go to the ballot box. It is your duty to go and take your neighbor with you. Never mind if he is a Democrat—there are not enough Democrats to do any hurt, and it is better that he vote the Democratic ticket than not to vote it at all.

"The good God has always given us wonderful men for our presidents. Kings may pass, but the character of the president of the United States impresses itself on every soul in the land."

He entered into an eulogy of President Coolidge, claiming that he was the embodiment of simplicity, patriotism, faith, efficiency, economy, and integrity. "If possessing these qualities is to be a reactionary," he exclaimed, "for God's sake, give us a president who is a reactionary."

Stopping to pay his respects to Davis of whose personality he spoke highly, but condemned his abusive methods of campaigning, and to W. J. Bryan, of whom he said, "the country is always glad to hear him, but it never takes his advice," he passed on to La Follette. Comparing his following to those who gathered in the cave of Adullam, he bitingly commented on his parading in the progressive mantle of Roosevelt. He ridiculed government ownership of utilities, and eloquently defended the Supreme Court. This he declared, was the safeguard of the rights of the minority from the whims of a hasty and chanceable majority. He explained the plans of the third party to throw the election into congress, where the insurgents and followers of La Follette might be able to dictate the election.

"There is danger," he said, "that the minority may rule the majority. The tail was the dog. There is in this country much restlessness. Every man who has lost a horse, or whose corn was frozen, or who didn't get the price he wanted, and every socialist and radical are with this man. He is trying to stir up the masses—God's great poor are always the masses—trying to make them believe the country is run by the rich and the strong and that they do not have their rights. The gates of opportunity are open today to every man who will work and live straight. When a man says otherwise, he is preaching a lie."

"Sometimes men are nominated whom we do not like. I can't always have my own way in my home, in my church, in my city. Yet I do not break up my home nor become a stumbling block in my church, my city, my organization. Unfortunately, some men are like a horse that is never happy unless it has one leg over the traces and kicking with the other. If we are in the minority and won't work in the traces and help pull the plow, then we are not good citizens nor good Americans."

BUT DON'T BE OVER-SURE

All sorts of conclusions are being drawn from the figures of the Literary Digest presidential straw vote which now has reached a total of 2,360,484 ballots. The Republicans naturally emphasize the swing to Mr. Coolidge which has increased appreciably in the last report; and the Democrats and the La Folletteites as naturally undertake to attack the impartiality and reliability of the vote. It is not to be expected that in the heat of a campaign anything else would happen.

We think that the person who really wants to get as close to the truth as possible, will accept the returns as extraordinarily enlightening, though, of course, by no means precisely reflective of what is going to happen on November 4.

As those figures stand, they show first of all that Mr. Coolidge has a total of 1,293,378 votes, which is about five thousand more than Mr. Harding received in 1920 from the electors who are represented. Mr. Davis is catching up with Mr. La Follette, or if you wish to put it the other way, Mr. La Follette is losing ground. But the Democratic nominee has a plurality only in the southern states, excepting Oklahoma, which returns a plurality for Mr. Coolidge, and he beats Mr. Coolidge in Kentucky by nineteen votes. Mr. La Follette has a clear majority in Wisconsin, but fails to get first place in any other state.

Whatever such a showing as this may not indicate, it certainly does indicate as conclusively as any forecast possibly could, that neither Mr. Davis nor Mr. LaFollette has a chance to obtain a majority in the electoral college, or anywhere near one.

The one question is whether Mr. Coolidge will get a clear majority over both of his competitors. On their face, the figures show that he will and even after a big cut in his showing is made to allow for error, the indications are still the same.

The big danger—the Republican managers face now is over confidence—not over-confidence on their own part, for they are pretty well vaccinated against that—but over-confidence on the part of Coolidge voters throughout the country. If the men and women who want Mr. Coolidge to stay in the White House wish to make certain that he does stay there, it is going to be necessary for everyone of them to be sure to get to the polls on election day. The duty that is left to others is never performed and this peculiarly true in an election. Many a candidate favored by only a minority has won out because too many members of the majority have believed their man could win without their help.

This feat, however, was not accomplished in any easy manner as Coach Hinga's men were in their battling every minute and considering the fact that they were greatly outweighed they made a fine showing. South's team is made up of veterans and they have stars of the first order in Witzel, Zoerner, Gelsert, and Capt. Hicks. But one real contender is left in their path for championship that team being Jackson High which will be met Nov. 8th at Grand Rapids. The entertaining of the newly organized Rotary club at Allegan by the Holland Rotarians at the Holland Rotary club a week ago no doubt aided the country club project at Allegan. It is stated that members have been pointing out the advantage of a country club in Holland, and the advisability of forming one in Allegan.

It now appears that the Allegan country club is assured. The Maxwell farm, 4 miles south of Allegan, will be the location. Sixty acres of the 80-acre farm will be devoted to the club grounds and the other 20 acres will be combined with another Maxwell farm adjoining. Residents of Allegan, Otsego and Plainwell are interested in the project and it will bear the name Otwellglen.

The Ottawa county jail now has the largest number of inmates who have been sheltered behind its doors for any one time in the past, eight years according to Sheriff Delbert Fortney who Friday announced that there were 33 behind the bars. Six different charges are listed in the catalogue of crimes with which these now resident at the jail are charged.

There is one murderer, three burglars, four who have committed larceny, two wife deserters and the balance is composed of bootleggers and plain drunks who are in the calaboose to sober up and think over the error of their ways.

Robinson township has had an epidemic of poisoning according to reports made to sheriff's department. In one case the stomach of a poisoned dog was sent to the state laboratory in Lansing and poison was found. The officers are investigating the case and will prosecute if they find out who has been doing the poisoning.

Yesterday Emil Stocklin of Robinson reported to the sheriff's office that two of his cows had been poisoned, one dying in the pasture and another on the way in. Joe Michaels had a valuable shepherd dog poisoned as it was later learned when the internal organs were sent to Lansing for a test. The officers state that the dog's insides contained 81 grains of strychnine sulphate when tested.

Mrs. Jacob Essenberg, living on R. R. 4, was seriously injured Friday evening at about 6:30 when the Ford coupe in which she and Mr. George Dryer, the hired man, were driving collided with a truck of the Beach Milling Co. on the corner of River avenue and 14th street. The coupe was turned over by the collision and Mrs. Essenberg suffered serious injuries to her hand. She lost two fingers and her wrist was so badly injured that it is still a question whether the hand can be saved or not. Mrs. Essenberg was rushed to Holland hospital where she is still confined.

G. J. Deur has placed on display at the hardware store of Deur & Zwemer, 13 West 16th St., a bushel of potatoes grown on his farm east of the city that are believed to break the record for size. There are only 40 potatoes in the bushel but the basket is so full that it is heaped as high as was possible. Usually a bushel of ordinary potatoes contains over a hundred.

Because of the spaces between the large tubers, the weight of the heaped up bushel is only 57 instead of the usual 60 pounds. This makes the potatoes not quite two pounds apiece.

So successful was the Peoples State bank with its first apple show a year ago that the officials of this institution have decided to put on another on a bigger scale this year. The dates have just been decided upon and the show will be held in the lobby of the bank from November 10 to 15.

The premium list has been printed and copies have been sent to all those who exhibited last year and to such other persons as are known to be interested in the move. The bank officials announce that should there be others who would like to have a copy of the premium list they may have by calling at the bank or writing for it. It will be gladly sent to anyone who is interested.

As was the case last year, the apple show is for the mutual benefit of growers and the business interests of Holland. The show is for the purpose of encouraging the raising of high grade fruit in this section and the bank wants to do all it can to help this movement along.

Twenty-five first prizes of $1.50 each are offered for 25 different varieties of apples commonly grown in Western Michigan. There are also 25 second prizes of $1.00 each and 25 third prizes of fifty cents each. Blankets are left on the premium list for other varieties so that anyone who has any kind of apples can come in and join in the exhibit.

All entries must be made on or before Nov. 10th at four o'clock in the afternoon. Exhibitors must not display more than one tray of each variety. Each entry of fruit must be accompanied by a correct list of the varieties comprising such entry; no premium will be awarded in the absence of such list. The bank will furnish the trays. In order to advertise the fruit the name of the grower will be put in the tray after the judging has been completed. In awarding premiums the committee will exclude all unlabeled specimens.

The space available in the bank lobby is limited and the fruit will be accepted until the space is exhausted. So it will be wise for those who wish to exhibit their fruit to make entries early.

Relatives in Holland received a cablegram late Thursday afternoon announcing the death in Cairo, Egypt, of Rev. Jeremiah Kruidenier, formerly of Holland. Rev. Kruidenier was already in very poor health during the time that he was in the country on his last furlough and physicians advised him not to go back to the mission field. But he had always wanted to be buried in the whole of his working life. So although he was not in fit physician condition he left for the foreign field, feeling that it would be for the last time.

Reports of his illness have been coming to this country from time to time. He was transferred to the Tanta hospital in Cairo and the latest report before the final cablegram came was that there was no hope for his recovery. He died Thursday forenoon. Burial, in accordance with his wish, will be in Cairo.

Rev. Mr. Kruidenier was 59 years old. He was born in Holland and received his education at Hope College. Later he attended Princeton seminary for his theological course. After graduation he offered himself to the Christian Reformed church as a foreign missionary but that denomination at that time was not in a position to send out missionaries and so Mr. Kruidenier offered himself to the Presbyterian church which sent him to work in Egypt. He has labored in that field for 33 years.

One of the big things he did while in the foreign mission service was the translation of the whole Bible into Arabic. This was a work that made him renowned throughout the missionary world. He also served as a professor in a college in the Orient and did distinguished work in that capacity. The last few years he has been working in co-operation with Dr. S. M. Zwemer.

Dr. Kruidenier is survived by his wife and eight children. Seven of the children are living in this country and one is with Dr. and Mrs. Kruidenier in Cairo.

Leslie C. Roe, living at Long Lake, near Kalamazoo, came to Allegan on Monday afternoon accompanied by a young woman and 12 quarts of what is alleged to be a good grade of whiskey. He is alleged to have sold six quarts when Sheriff Leo Hare learned his car and found the remaining six quarts. The sheriff took the young woman and auto in but Roe fled. He returned late Tuesday evening, was arraigned before Justice Fish of Allegan and bound over to circuit court. He stated the young woman was in no way implicated as she did not know what he was doing. She was released, Roe is in jail.

Miss Sylvia Vanek of Spring Lake was badly crushed in an automobile accident at Mc Clarin's crossing Tuesday evening. She was rushed to Hutton hospital at Grand Haven.

Miss Vanek, in company with her brother, who was driving, was returning to her home near the county line when they came upon a team with no lights. In attempting to avoid a collision, Vanek swerved off of the road and the car rolled into the ditch. It is thought she will recover.

Just as man does not live by bread alone so the advertiser who spends his money for space in the newspapers and magazines and on bill boards does not live by direct sales alone. That was the underlying thought of a well worked out paper on "Results of Advertising Aside from Sales," read Tuesday evening before the Social Progress Club by Charles D. Karr. The club met at the home of the president, Prof. and Mrs. Egbert Winter.

Mr. Karr prefaced the main body of his paper with the remark that of course sales are the object of advertising and that without them advertising would be impossible. But he set forth the idea that there are many by-products of advertising that have a very great value and he enumerated many of these, often illustrating his points by anecdotes about Holland Furnace company advertising.

One of these benefits, he said, is that advertising improves the business advertised. The organization reads the advertising over the shoulder of the public, as it were, and the promises made by the firm in its advertising causes a desire on the part of the organization to live up to those promises and to help make good on them.

Another benefit of advertising is that it cleans up business in general. Advertising lets in the light on business and it raises the business ethics of the country. Business today is much cleaner and much more high-minded than it was many years ago and it is advertising in large degree that is responsible for it.

In a similar way Mr. Karr went through the list of benefits that are derived from advertising aside from the direct results that are shown in sales of the product of the firm doing the advertising. He showed that the advertising game is a profession with a high code of ethics of its own and that the advertising men who make up the profession are for the most part men and women of ideals. Advertising, he said, is not only a business proposition but it is also a public service and it was in the later aspect that he considered it in his paper.

The Grand Haven Elks burned the mortgage on their temple Monday evening at a special celebration planned for that purpose. The officers of the lodge presided in the ceremonies, which marked the wiping out of the debt on the building.

Supper was served at 6:30 at the temple at which a large number of the members of the lodge were present. The event marked an important step in the progress of B. P. O. E. No. 1200, with the acquiring in full title of the property at the corner of Washington and First streets.

Thos. N. Robinson of Holland, attorney, was the principal speaker of the evening, and during the course of his excellent address, he congratulated the Grand Haven lodge on their achievement. Brief addresses were made by Fritz Van Hall of Grand Rapids, J. A. Vander Vorn and John Bryce of Grand Haven and others.

An important feature of Monday night's celebration was the Elks band which is rapidly attaining fame at home as well as abroad. The band rendered several selections which added much to the attractive program for the evening.

The Detroit News of last Friday made the announcement that Delos G. Smith, U. S. District Attorney has appointed Wallace Visscher as assistant district attorney of the eastern district of Michigan. Mr. Visscher is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Visscher of Holland.

TO DECIDE ON FORTNEY CASE ON SATURDAY

The long drawn out case involving Sheriff Fortney and former mayor E. P. Stephan has at last been wound up. All the testimony is in and the attorneys have made their pleas, will submit briefs and after going over the evidence carefully, Justice Den Herder will decide Saturday whether the evidence presented will be sufficient to bind Sheriff Fortney over to circuit court for trial on the charge of "assault with intent to do great bodily harm less than the crime of murder."

Tuesday afternoon's session was a continuation of a session held a week ago with one of the important witnesses, R. William Herrick, traveling man for the Holland Furniture Co., not being present. At that time Mr. Misner, representing Mr. Fortney, demanded that Herrick be present in person stating that the defense would not again agree to allow the affidavit presented at Zeeland to be used as evidence, since there was much contradictory evidence found between the two examinations. He then demanded the presence of the witness, who was on hand Tuesday when the session was called at the city hall.

Herrick, when called to the witness stand, stated that he traveled in the East, altho his home was in Grand Rapids. He stated that he was salesman for three different Holland lines, namely the Holland Furniture Co., the Charles P. Lambert Co., and the Thompson Mfg. Co.

When asked whether he had ever seen or knew Sheriff Fortney, he said that he had never met the man, only on the day when he saw him in Stephan's private room, pounding him.

Mr. Warner, the state's prosecuting attorney, pointed to Mr. Fortney who was present and said, "Is that the man?" and Herrick stated that he was the man he had seen in the room, beating up the former mayor.

In reciting the case he stated: "I was upstairs in the factory with Mr. Stephan, going over some samples with him, when he was called downstairs for the reason that somebody was there to see him."

"I went ahead with my work until I was finished, then came down in the outer office, talked with the girls, read some newspapers, and all of a sudden I heard groans as if somebody was being badly hurt. They seemed to issue from Stephan's office. I opened the door where I saw Mr. Fortney, the man who sits there, leaning forward over Mr. Stephan who was jammed against some filing cases which supported his body, for he was not standing on his feet. When I came in I saw Fortney striking him repeatedly while Stephan was in a reclining position. I told the man to stop which he did not do, then I looked around for something to stop him with. I grabbed a chair, but at that moment the man put his hand on his revolver on his hip. He assumed a threatening attitude, and the look in his eyes indicated that he meant business."

"As I was withdrawing from the room I thought I heard the striking of Mr. Stephan continue. Mr. Herrick then told about the entering of the son, Ed Stephan, and several other men whom he did not know. These men no doubt were Mr. Donnelly, Fred Boone, Art Drinkwater and others mentioned as witnesses at the former hearing."

When Mr. Herrick was asked by Attorney Warner what the condition of Mr. Stephan was when he entered the room, he stated that the man was one mass of blood, in fact reiterated the statements made by other witnesses whose testimony has already been printed.

Mr. Herrick being the only witness, the hearing was not of long duration. Mr. Misner in his plea stated that it was the duty of the court to conclusively find enough evidence to bind Mr. Fortney over for trial, and as has already been stated in a former hearing, Mr. Misner cited many cases where the assault committed was much more drastic and the punishment much more severe, and that the defendant was not held on the graver charge.

Mr. Misner contended that deliberate intent must be shown, contending that this intent was not borne out by the evidence since the meeting in Stephan's office seemed to be friendly from the "go-in" with handshaking, with "Hello, Abe" and "Hello, Del," and lastly the pro-offered cigar. Mr. Misner contended that this attitude surely did not prove intent.

Attorney Fred Warner contended that there was sufficient evidence for the judge to pass upon, showing that the graver crime was intended and premeditated, and he asked that the case be given to a jury in circuit court to pass upon.

Thereupon Justice Den Herder requested that each attorney give briefs and after these were presented he would go over them carefully giving his final decision on Saturday of this week.

Supt. E. E. Fell went to Grand Rapids Wednesday to preside over the meetings of the Fourth District convention of the Michigan Teachers' association. Mr. Fell is president of this organization and he will be in general charge of the convention at which about 4000 teachers from this district are expected to be present. The district extends southward from Oceana, Newaygo and Montcalm counties to the Ohio and Indiana line. There are 16 counties in all in the district.

Besides the three general meetings 22 sectional meetings will be held on Thursday afternoon and five divisions meetings Friday morning. Among the speakers addressing these meetings will be E. A. Steiner of Grinnell college, Americanization specialist, who addresses the elementary section; Private Peat, war time author and lecturer who speaks to the rural and Parent-Teacher sections; Macy Campbell of Iowa State Teachers' College, who is also a speaker at the rural section; A. B. Hall of Wisconsin university and E. L. Miller, supervising principal of high schools, Detroit, both of whom will speak at the high school session.

Hope college and Ferris institute eleven will clash in a return battle Saturday on Ferris field at Big Rapids. Coach Schouten plans to start most of his regulars. The teams have been rivals for years and both have carried off honors in previous clashes. Hope was the victor in the first game earlier in the season.

Allecan high school football team expects a battle royal Saturday when the Holland high school gridders invade the Allecan grounds. The second squads of the two schools will play a preliminary game at 1 o'clock and the regulars will start their contest at 2:30.

DYKE BOUND OVER ON MURDER CHARGE

A crowded court room at Grand Haven Tuesday and a calm and seemingly unemotional prisoner were the features of the start of the examination of "Happy" Dyke, confessed murderer of Miss Molly Fleming, a pretty Marne school teacher. "Happy" Dyke, he who was a fugitive and who gave himself up to officers after a 24-hour search for him had been conducted, was seated beside his attorney, Dean S. Face, of Grand Rapids. He was dressed in a dark suit and appeared unperturbed over anything that might happen. Indeed not a line in his face seemed to change during the morning's testimony except when Sheriff Fortney took the stand.

Justice Hugh Lillie conducted the examination with Prosecutor F. T. Miles acting for the people. Officials, newspaper men and women and a large number of Cooperaville, Conklin and Marne residents made up a crowd estimated at 400 people. Tuesday morning four witnesses were called, examined and cross-examined.

Miss Henrietta De Frelle was the first witness to be called. Miss De Frelle was a chum of Miss Fleming's and she had come from her home 4 miles east of Cooperaville that afternoon to the Big Spring school to be with her friend. The two were getting ready to leave the school, according to Miss De Frelle when Dyke knocked and was let in. Miss Fleming told him she would not go home with him but was waiting for another teacher who would drive her home. Dyke had some difficulty in understanding this apparently and he went out. Miss De Frelle said she sat on the porch while Miss Fleming went toward the wood shed to tell Dyke she did not want to see him anymore. The witness then told of two piercing screams coming from the region of the woodshed and then said she ran to the Graves home some distance away.

The second witness was 14-year-old Anthony Shoemaker, a student at the Big Springs school. He stated that his companions and he were walking a short distance from the school when they heard the cries of the teacher. He said he ran back to the shed and saw her lying in a pool of blood. The boy then said he ran for a doctor.

John Timmer, a farmer residing about ten or twelve rods from the school then testified that he ran to the scene, lifted Miss Fleming and saw that she had a severe cut in the back of her head resting on the floor of the shed. He then said that Dr. Miller of Marne and four other men helped take the girl to his home where she lingered until about 9 o'clock before passing away.

Sheriff Delbert Fortney, fourth witness and the last one of the morning, testified concerning Dyke's alleged confession to him in the jail. He reiterated the story already current of the relations between Dyke and the girl, the quarrel, the altercation in the woodshed, the blow as the girl was attempting to leave the shed, the smash of the ax, the flight to a point two miles south and three miles east of the school, the attempt at suicide, the trip to Marne and subsequent hiding and finally of Dyke's arrest on the night following the day of the crime.

The examination then adjourned until afternoon.

In the session after dinner Sheriff Fortney was called to the stand for cross examination by Dean S. Face, attorney for Dyke. This cross examination yielded nothing and then Dr. James Miller, physician attendant upon Miss Fleming at the time of her fatal injury, testified concerning the affair from a physician's angle.

Following this Prosecutor Miles rested the case and Justice Lillie bound Dyke over without bail to the November term of circuit court. Dyke was in a smiling mood when he left the court, talking with friends including Sheriff Fortney, who accompanied him to the jail again. Following the examination, the sheriff left for Holland where his own examination on a charge of assault with intent to do great bodily injury less than the crime of murder took place Tuesday afternoon.

There will be a public meeting in the court room auditorium of the city hall on Saturday evening, Nov. 1 at 8 o'clock to discuss the proposed amendments to the state constitution. The meeting will be held under the auspices of the Voters' Information club and will be wholly non-partisan. Mr. Henry Geerlings, former mayor of Holland, will open the discussion and Dr. A. Pieters, president of the club, will preside.

The amendments on which the voters are called upon to express their attitude are not partisan proposals and party affiliations will therefore not serve as a guide. If you desire information that will enable you to vote more confidently on these issues come to the city hall on Saturday evening. If you are fully informed come and impart that information to others. The Voters' Information club aims to disseminate information.

John K. Mulder, aged 54 years, died at three o'clock Wednesday morning at his home at 19 West 18th street. Mr. Mulder met with an accident on Monday that resulted in his death Wednesday. While unloading brick near the Fifth street railroad siding he slipped off the wagon and fell under the freight car standing on the track, receiving internal injuries. Thinking the injuries were not serious he did not discontinue work but continued the job until evening. During the night he was attacked by excruciating pains and became unconscious. His condition continued to get worse until death came. He was employed by Sam Haring.

He is survived by his wife and two children, Henry and Jerry. The funeral will be held Saturday at two o'clock at the home. Friends are requested to omit flowers.

Chief of Police Van Ry Wednesday made an appeal to the youngsters of Holland to keep in mind in their halcyon pranks that there is a line between viciousness and innocent amusement. He pointed out that there are many aged people in Holland and also a number of invalids who may be seriously harmed by what in themselves may seem to be innocent pranks. The chief asked that the youngsters keep the aged and sick in mind and that they refrain from disturbing them.

He also asked the boys and girls not to go on people's porches or smear up their windows with soap. The police department will not interfere with innocent fun on the part of boys and girls and will give considerable lea-way, but there will be special officers on the job who will protect property, the chief announced.

LOVELY CONSISTENCY!

Mr. LaFollette advocates a constitutional amendment calling for a referendum on war, and in the next breath sticks a knife into the back of his own proposal by demanding the passage of a second amendment, which, if adopted, would completely destroy all the force of the first one because it would make the entire constitution a mere plaything for congressional caprice. If the legislative branch should gain the power to pass unconstitutional acts regardless of the decision of the supreme court, it could declare war whenever and against who ever it pleased and laugh at the feeble protests of a once sovereign people who had abdicated their sovereignty in its favor, and whose constitution had become a mere scrap of paper. Such is the LaFollette brand of "honest" statesmanship.

INTERURBAN GOES INTO A RECEIVERSHIP

The U. S. District court for the eastern district of Michigan, southern division, Judge C. C. Simon presiding, Tuesday at Saginaw appointed J. F. Collins of Jackson, receiver of the Michigan Railroad Co. operating interurban lines between Flint, Saginaw, and Bay City, Battle Creek and Allegan and Kalamazoo and Grand Rapids, and authorized him to continue the operation of the railway under direction of the court. Collins has been vice president and general manager of the company.

The receiver was appointed on the application of the Union Railway Gas & Electric company of New Jersey, owner of all the stock of the Michigan Railroad company, excepting a directors' qualifying shares, a general creditor of the company to the amount of $1,465,903.46 for moneys loaned and the holder and owner of $4,000,000 of the company's general mortgage bonds. The company's property is also subject to a first mortgage of $4,050,000 which it was that could be extended.

The bill of complaint, shows that the offer of the company to extend its $4,050,000 of first mortgage bonds, which matured on May 1, 1924, could not be effected because of the decrease in earnings to such an extent that the company cannot pay the interest on its first mortgage bonds, and a few of the holders of these bonds seeking preference, began action against the company and others threatened to do so, notwithstanding the fact that the holders and owners of over 87 per cent of the first mortgage bonds consented to the extension.

"The future of this Interurban R'y as well as of others is a problem that concerns the public," Mr. Collins declared in a statement issued after his appointment as receiver. "If the interurban railways cannot earn sufficient to pay operating expenses and interest on bonded indebtedness, to say nothing of a reasonable return above such interest on their value less their bonded indebtedness, they cannot continue to serve and if they cease to serve, what will the public now served by them do?" he asks.

"The Michigan Railroad company's property consisted of the high speed third rail operated between Kalamazoo and Grand Rapids, between Allegan and Battle Creek, and a line between Bay City, Saginaw and Flint, covering a mileage of 148 miles. This road was put into operation, excepting between Saginaw and Flint, in May, 1915. The line between Saginaw and Flint was put into operation in 1905."

"The company was unable to pay its taxes due June 1, 1924. The development of privately owned automobiles and bus operation which has been allowed to parallel the railroad company's rightofway, has brot on receivership. The receiver is to operate the road providing the railroad is able to meet operating expenses; if not the public will be deprived of its service in the vicinity in which this railroad is operated," Collins asserted.

The Holland Interurban, serving the local resorts and Saugatuck, is not mentioned in the proceedings, possibly because the local line in reality is not part of the Michigan R'y property but a leased line.

Mr. Steketee Has No Business

other than that of law enforcement and he has been attending strictly to this business for sixteen years.

Mr. Steketee's Morals

have permitted him to not only obey the law and help in its enforcement, but to bring up a family of nine children while so doing.

Mr. Steketee's Mistakes

nor those of his friends, do not constitute a valid reason for his election. Ability and a strict sense of duty are and should be the determining factors.

Mr. Steketee Has No Support

other than that fostered by his qualification for the office yet he received a hearty endorsement at the recent primaries.

Mr. Steketee Has Served

in perfect harmony with his superiors, sixteen years of efficient police work and eight years as deputy sheriff. That he would serve the county in the same manner is not to be doubted.

Mr. Steketee Never Kept a Dollar of the six hundred dollars received in rewards for stolen cars that he recovered. Every dollar was turned over to the Board of Police and Fire Commissioners.

Mr. Steketee's Feet

Mr. Steketee Promises Nothing

but those things that have already characterized his entire term of public service, honest and tireless effort in the discharge of public duties and a fearless and impartial enforcement of the law.

A plague of lawn grubs struck this city the past summer and in many cases lawns in this city were seriously injured. These grubs would attack the lawn at the roots and patches of grass would die. In some cases people have spaded up their lawns and have sowed them to seed again.

Some local people however have tried the experiment of sowing white clover seed in the patches of lawn thus affected. Instead of spading up the whole lawn they have spaded up the spots that had been attacked, put in the white clover seed, and it is said that they are succeeding. It is claimed that the grubs won't eat the white clover. In any event, the experiment is worth trying and can do no harm.

Miss Cornelia Netting rendered a vocal solo before the students of the College in chapel Friday morning. Rev. John Van Peursem of Zeeland 2nd Reformed church, addressed the Hope students at chapel Friday morning.

Timely medical aid saved the life of the infant child of John Vanden Bosch, residing near Noordeloos, when it swallowed some kerosene oil while playing. The stomach pump was applied and the child now is out of danger.

The Student Council met at the Kalamazoo, Michigan, College at week-end, 22 delegates being present from nine schools in the state, Albion, Alma, Calvin of Grand Rapids; Hope, of Holland; University of Michigan, Hillsdale, Emanuel, of Berrien Springs, Western State Normal and Kalamazoo college.

Warner Lents, Jr., a traveling secretary of the movement who was sent from headquarters in New York outlined the principles of the work of the volunteers. Joshua Hogenboom of Hope college, president of the Michigan Union, opened an informal discussion of the work of the council.

At the business meeting it was voted that the spring conference should be held at Calvin college, Grand Rapids.

Republican Advisory-Instruction Ballot—Advertisement paid for by Republican County Committee.

Lincoln's Ballot was the Republican Ballot

The WHY of a straight Republican ticket.

1. A republican stand for protection of the working man.
2. By voting a straight republican ticket you do not endanger the head of the ticket, you take no chance of throwing the election into Congress and electing Bryan President.
3. The Republican candidates for County office stand for the same principles as Coolidge and Dawes.
4. Democratic candidates for County office stand for the same principles as Davis and Bryan.
5. A party is judged by its record, not by its promises, it is essentially necessary to elect a straight ticket for the good of Republicanism which means a full dinner pail.

This is not an Official Ballot.

LOCAL PEOPLE IN WRECK NEAR CHICAGO

A serious accident occurred one mile north of Michigan City on M-11 when a Ford touring car, driven by Arthur White of Holland, blew out a tire, then turned turtle, pinning most of the occupants under the car.

In the car were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur White, Mr. and Mrs. Joe E. Kardux and Tony Wierda. The touring car was ahead of the other cars from Holland and saw approaching a car going at a high rate of speed, and in order to get as far away from this car as possible, White drove as near to the edge of the road as he dared, but did not notice a sharp broken piece of pavement.

When the car struck the sharp edge a new tire was blown out, and immediately the car became unmanageable, ran off the road toward a telephone pole. In order to avoid this object Mr. White wheeled his car completely around, but in so doing the Ford turned turtle with serious results.

Mr. and Mrs. Kardux were thrown clear of the car, Mr. Kardux receiving a wrenched shoulder and bruises about the body. Mrs. Kardux had her back severely bruised and her arm and face cut. Arthur White had his collar bone broken and had his head badly cut and bruised, several stitches being required to sew up the wound. Mrs. White was also badly cut by flying glass from the windshield.

Tony Wierda was as near death as a man could possibly be and upon investigation it was found that his head was sticking from under the car, and the edge of the car was resting upon his throat cutting off the air. But for Carl Shaw, one of the party in the automobile following, Wierda would not be living today. He noticed the distorted face of Wierda, lifted the edge of the car as best he could, then called for assistance and Wierda was dragged from under the wreck, not a minute too soon, the physician said.

Aid from Michigan City soon brought the entire party to the Clinic Incorporated, the city's leading hospital, where the party was given first aid, and the Holland people were exceedingly glad to find there as one of the nurses, Miss Clara Holkeboer of Holland who did everything possible to make the Holland people comfortable.

Instead of proceeding to Chicago the injured ones were taken back to Holland on the Pere Marquette train Saturday night.

The other two automobile loads of week-enders with the exception of Mrs. Tony Wierda, proceeded to Chicago, however, where they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Van Vulpen, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Benedict, and Mrs. Harry Smith, former Holland people, and at whose request the party had been arranged.

The two cars following the wrecked car contained Mr. and Mrs. Nell Tiesenga, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Shaw, Mrs. Tony Wierda, Mr. and Mrs. Rue Burch, and Mr. and Mrs. Bert Van Vulpen and children.

The wrecked car had two wheels broken and the top completely demolished, and was taken to Holland after certain parts had been substituted.

Tony Wierda, who lives on the north side, and who nearly lost his life, is still in critical condition at his home.

WRECK ON RIVER AVE. CAUSES OTHER ACCIDENT

The wreck on North River avenue in which Bernard Tora, Rottschaefer and Cruis were involved was indirectly the cause of another accident when the car driven by E. A. Mulder ran down Mr. J. Arnold living in the neighborhood.

The wreck was occupying the center of the road and Mr. Mulder was going north on River avenue with two passengers who wanted to go to Beechwood and missed finding a taxi. Mr. Mulder, who happened to be downtown, volunteered to take them over, and upon reaching the scene of the wreck where many people had congregated, the Mulder car slowed up to get around the crowd, and when opposite the place Mr. Arnold who was curious to know what was going on, stepped from the side path directly in front of the Mulder car and was struck to the pavement, apparently not seeing the oncoming car. The Mulder car stopped within half its length and Arnold was immediately taken to a house in the neighborhood and given medical assistance. He stated that the accident was unavoidable.

LAKETOWN GIRL DIES SUNDAY

Miss Helena Tinholt, aged 23 years, died Sunday morning at the home of her father Gerrit Tinholt at Virginia Park, after a lingering illness with tuberculosis. Miss Tinholt was taken ill with the disease three and a half years ago. She spent 27 months in a sanatorium in Denver in the hope of regaining her health but came back home last June. She was a patient sufferer and she was greatly loved by all who knew her.

She is survived by her father, one sister, Mrs. Benj. Hofmeyer, and one brother, Benjamin, all of Laketown.

The funeral was held on Wednesday, afternoon at 12:30 at the home and at 1:30 at the Graafschap Christian Reformed church.

PULLMAN HOTEL MAN SENTENCED TO PRISON

Paul Kolas, proprietor of a hotel at Pullman, where officers found a supply of intoxicating liquor several months ago, has been sentenced by Judge Cross to serve six months to one year in Ionia reformatory. In addition he was ordered to pay $100 fine.

The funeral was held on Tuesday, afternoon at 1:30 at the home and at two o'clock at the 14th street Christian Reformed church, Rev. J. M. Vande Kieft officiating.

YOUNG ATTORNEY IS ADMITTED TO THE BAR

Charles K. Van Duren, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Van Duren, was admitted to practice in the supreme court of Michigan last Friday on motion made by his father. Admission to the supreme court automatically admits the young attorney to practice in all the courts of the state. Monday Arthur Van Duren and Charles K. Van Duren announced a new law partnership under the firm name of Van Duren & Van Duren. Their offices will be in the Tower Block where Arthur Van Duren has practiced for many years.

Charles K. Van Duren was born in Ann Arbor but received his education in Holland, graduating from Holland high school in 1914. After graduation he worked in Chicago for the firm of Johns Manville until he went into the army air service in December, 1917. He was commissioned as a second lieutenant and was mustered out of the service in January, 1919, going back to Johns Manville for which firm he traveled in the western states. In 1922 he began his law work at Ann Arbor, graduating with honors last June.

Mrs. N. R. Gilbert, a financial secretary of the Michigan Children's Home Society of St. Joseph, arrived in Holland Monday night and Tuesday began a canvass of the city in the interests of that home. The Michigan Children's Home is so well known in Holland that it is no longer necessary to state what its aims are. It has accepted a number of orphaned children from this city and placed them in good homes throughout the state and it has also supplied a number of families in this city with children.

The Michigan Children's Home has been in existence for 35 years and it has come in contact with thousands of homes throughout Michigan. It depends for its support solely on donations of the people of the state who believe in the things the home stands for and Mrs. Gilbert will ask the people of Holland during the balance of this week to do their part for the support of the organization. She makes a similar visit once a year and Holland has usually responded liberally to the appeals of the institution.

Mrs. Gilbert said Tuesday that the basic principle of the organization is that every child is entitled to a home and a mother and father. When the natural parents of children are taken away the Michigan Children's Home takes them and keeps them at the institution temporarily until a good home can be found for them. And when they are placed in a real home the organization keeps track of them and sees to it that they are brought up under wholesome influences.

The following facts are given by Mrs. Gilbert about what the organization has done in 1928:

1805 different children were cared for in the receiving and boarding homes; 1,192 others received supervision after placement in homes for adoption; 1136 received expert attention in cases which were investigated and adjusted without taking the children into actual care; 652 little ones were cared for, to be returned to worthy parents who were temporarily unable to provide for them; 220 were placed on trial in adoption homes; 183 adoptions were completed.

America Without Liberty Would Not be America at All

THERE is one thing more important than great cities and rich farms. It is the American Spirit. It is the spirit that threw off the shackles of tyranny and gave birth to the Republic.

The Spirit of America is the Spirit of Liberty. America without Liberty would not be America at all.

The founders of this Republic recognized the importance of Liberty when they laid the foundations of our present greatness.

The Constitution of the United States guarantees Freedom of Speech, Press, Religion and — EDUCATION.

This Freedom is now being challenged by an effort to abolish all private and church schools.

The School Amendment is contrary to the Spirit of America.

It will not be approved by any man or woman who loves America and its ideals.

Washington:

"I have often expressed my sentiments that every man conducting himself as a good citizen and being accountable to God alone for his religious opinions ought to be protected in worshipping the Deity according to the dictates of his own conscience."

Jefferson:

"I have considered religion as a matter between every man and his Maker, in which no other, and far less the public, has a right to intermeddle."

Lincoln:

"If you have been inclined to believe that all men are not created equal in those inalienable rights enumerated by our charter of liberty; let me entreat you to come back! Return to the fountain whose waters spring close by the blood of the Revolution."

Roosevelt:

"The good citizen will demand liberty for himself, and as a matter of pride he will see to it that others receive the liberty which he thus claims as his own."

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Streur and little daughter Jean who have been visiting here the greater part of the summer returned to their home in Los Angeles, Calif., via auto.

In several places in Holland on the sidewalk the letters A. K. A. are written in chalk, with an arrow pointing in a southerly direction. Just what is meant by these emblems is not known only the person who makes drawings or places advertising on sidewalks is violating a city ordinance and that surely is impossible, coming as it were from these "better American citizens."

Deputy Sheriff Den Herder of Ottawa county, and Chief Peter Hansen of the Muskegon police journeyed to Auburn, Ind., Wednesday to identify some Italian auto thieves who it was believed had worked in this part of the country. The men were not those they were suspected to be but the West Michigan officers were able to help in the ultimate identifications.

Edward Hoernsman, Belgian cue artist, and Vargas, the South American billiard champion staged a splendid exhibition game in Post's billiard academy at Holland Tuesday night. Hoernsman made runs of 130, 121 and 274. A large crowd witnessed the performance.

On next Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock the pastor of Trinity church, Rev. C. P. Dame will continue the series "Character Studies of Twelve Sons." The sermon topic will be, "The Greatly Blessed."

Mrs. Rhea East Monroe, former cooking teacher at the local high school, who now lives at 519 W. Sibley St., Howell, Mich., is the mother of a ten pound baby boy, Donald Eugene.

Paul Nettinga, star half back of Holland High who has been on the sick list and unable to appear in the games, will be in the lineup in Saturday's game.

Mrs. Theodore Elferdink, former teacher in the high school, was a week-end visitor in Holland, and has been visiting the high school the forepart of the week. Mrs. Elferdink was formerly Miss Anna Kolyn.

It has been very difficult for the Republican county committee to secure speakers for Michigan, presumably for the reason that both the Chicago and American poll and the poll of the Literary Digest indicate that Michigan will be carried by President Coolidge by at least 5 to 1. The Republican National Committee is putting its big speakers in those states where work is most needed. For the same reason the Democratic State Central Committee is also not getting speakers for Michigan, as the cause in this state as far as the Democrats are concerned, looks rather hopeless, and the Democrats are not spending any time or money in a lost cause, but are concentrating their energies in such states where electoral votes can possibly be annexed to the Democratic total.

Ottawa county has had fewer speakers, both Democratic and Republican, this campaign year than ever before. Grand Haven had its first Republican speech on Wednesday, October 29, when Hal Smith of Detroit wound up the campaign. Holland had a chance to secure Hal Smith, but the Republican committee men of Holland knew that the gentleman from Detroit spoke here Decoration Day to a large audience, and asked that a man who had not been there be secured.

The committee men were unusually fortunate in securing for Holland the Honorable John G. Sargent, former attorney-general of the state of Vermont, and a boyhood friend of President Coolidge. Mr. Sargent is considered one of the ablest speakers of the East, and although this will be the only big Republican rally this campaign, Holland citizens can depend upon an oratorical treat on Friday night at the Masonic Temple, which has a seating capacity of at least 1,400.

Mr. Sargent was a playmate of Mr. Coolidge on the old Coolidge farm in the state of Vermont and possibly knows the president as intimately as any person in this country today. No doubt a great many things will be heard in this speech not given in political speeches ordinarily.

There will be other local speakers Friday night and the American Legion Band will start the evening's doings off with a short band concert.

The Holland members of the Republican county committee wish to extend to all men and women of Holland and vicinity an invitation to listen to Mr. Sargent. In other cities tickets were issued and admission paid to hear this prominent speaker, but in Holland the Republican county committee would have none of that, and everyone who wishes to come to the meeting is welcome to attend, in fact is invited to be present. Remember the meeting is Friday, October 31, at the Masonic Temple.

A very instructive political program was given at the Woman's Literary club, Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. James Wayer explained the three amendments most clearly and gave excellent reasons why all should vote against them. Dr. A. C. V. R. Gilmore sang two numbers, "Roadways," by Denmore, and Kipling's "Recessional," which were greatly enjoyed by the audience.

Mr. Earnest Brooks presented the Democratic platform and discussed the more important planks. He said that the Democratic party favored tax reduction but opposed the Mellon plan which reduced the taxes of the richest class. They stood for a tariff for revenue only, not for protection. In regard to labor they favored collective bargaining and opposed private monopolies and special privileges. The Democratic platform wanted immediate freedom for the Philippines. Mr. Brooks spoke to an audience composed largely of Republicans but his engaging personality and clear stated arguments won their sympathies and made them wish they were Democrats.

Mr. Clarence Lokker spoke on the Republican platform. He spoke of the difference in conditions today from 1921 when the Republicans came into power—the decrease in unemployment and in the debt. He said that most of the principles of the Democratic and Republican parties were similar. He took up the important planks in detail and emphasized the foreign policy—to uphold the world court though not the League of Nations; to have a conference on the limitation of land armaments and no repudiations of foreign debts. The Philippines were to be independent at some future time when better fitted for it. In regard to the Teapot Dome scandal he said that he Republicans were not alone responsible. Mr. Lokker then discussed briefly the third party and its pernicious effect upon the government and closed by saying that the most important issue today was safeguarding of our constitution. The chairman of the civic health committee, Mrs. George Albers, reported that he supervisors had voted for a county nurse and Mrs. G. J. Diekema suggested tentative plans for insuring the success of the nurse's work. Mrs. George Van Verst announced that the house furnishing committee would hold a card party, Wednesday, November 12th, at the home of Mrs. G. J. Diekema. Mrs. S. J. Jenckes and her committee served coffee and assorted cake from an attractively decorated table in the dining room.

PROSECUTOR MILES ANSWERS HIS DEMOCRATIC OPPONENT

DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE HAS BEEN PRINTING STORIES ABOUT LOCAL PROSECUTOR

Prosecutor Fred T. Miles of Holland in a communication refutes statements made by his opponent of Grand Haven, candidate of the Democratic ticket.

Mr. Miles says as follows: "My attention is called to the remarkable advertising of the Democratic candidate for prosecuting attorney."

"He objects first that I have had eight years experience as prosecuting attorney of this county; that is, of course, foolishness.

"Second, he says that it is not a private job; that statement of course, is senseless, as nobody pretends that it is a private job.

"He next complains that I have only certain office days at the court house. This is the same howl he made in 1916. I work at the job six days a week and he knows it, and the attempt to prejudice against me the people in the north part of the county because I live in Holland is vicious.

"He next complains that there has been a grand jury investigation in this county—as if I were to blame for it. After the grand jury judge (a stranger to me) had heard from all my enemies he found all their statements false and unbelievable, and wrote me the following letter:

October 11, 1924
"Hon. Fred T. Miles,
Holland, Michigan,
Dear Sir:—

In reference to your request to be heard in the Grand Jury proceedings and to be permitted to give testimony therein, I desire to say that no believable testimony from any source that ought to be regarded as reliable has been given against you; and that it is not necessary that you give testimony in explanation of any testimony given.

I feel convinced by the showing thus far made that you have been an able and efficient officer, and that your work in the future should not be handicapped by any suspicion that you have fallen short of doing your duty.

Yours very truly,
NEIL E. REID,
Circuit Judge.

"He next says that he is reported favorable by the Anti-Saloon League. If he is so reported he evidently has fooled the League. He defends more liquor cases than any other lawyer in Ottawa county; at the last term of court there were four liquor cases tried before the jury; every one was convicted and he defended three of those cases; his clients were found guilty beyond a reasonable doubt; our own judge, a fair and impartial man presided, and yet this same Democratic candidate is appealing everyone of those cases to the Supreme Court, simply to obstruct justice. But how comes this 'favorable report' stuff? The Anti Saloon League sends out a questionnaire to each candidate, and the candidate makes his own report, so that this 'reported favorable' stuff is simply his own report made for political purposes.

"This answers every attack advanced.

"FRED T. MILES,
"Prosecuting Attorney."

PROPAGANDA VERSUS FACT

The increase of prosperity throughout the United States, and particularly in the industrial and agricultural regions of the middle west is not only a body blow to the La Follette propaganda of unrest and discontent; it is an utter refutation of that propaganda.

What is happening in the way of enlargement of the general good times proves either that LaFollette is without power to analyze a situation, and reason from cause to effect, or that he is a deliberately insincere false prophet.

According to Mr. La Follette, the country was in its way to the everlasting dogs. It was traveling along a greased way to perdition. Everything that was, was rotten; and there was no hope for escape from a terrible finish except by electing him president.

We use past tenses although the Radical boes is still using his old stuff, because the monologue—which never did catch very many people—is now so obsolete that it sounds about as live as a last year's jazz phonographic record.

It develops that the country really is headed in a direction precisely opposite the one Mr. La Follette has been trying to make the public think it is taking. Millions of people are obtaining concrete proof of this fact out of their own experiences. The farmer in particular, who for a time had hard sledding in some localities and who had a right to complain, finds a distinct alteration for the better in his circumstances and prospects.

And the improvement has come under the very administration which La Follette has been loudly denouncing as utterly ruinous and destructive. It has arrived in large part as the result of measures and policies which LaFollette has asserted he will completely reverse if he gets into the White House.

Is it any wonder that traveling observers of the political situation, practically without exception, report a strong swing to President Coolidge in regions which La Follette has considered his impregnable stronghold?

The Grand Haven Tribune in an article on Arnold Mulder of the Holland Sentinel prints the following relative to a paper Mr. Mulder gave before the Woman's club of that city Friday. The article is from the pen of Miss A. H. Bos, club editor.

(Miss A. H. Bos)
Arnold Mulder, a neighboring editor who is becoming more than locally known by some of his achievements in the literary field, read a delightful paper before the Woman's club Friday afternoon.

Mr. Mulder apologized for reading his paper, but he said, he did so for two reasons, he felt sater that the endence was at least assured that he end was not far off.

He need not have been concerned about wearying listeners for a lively interest was maintained without any signs of fatigue on the part of his hearers, by the humorous recitals of hardships and the impressions of camp life and camp people, the historical memories, and what fastened them and the advice freely offered by the average camper after a season.

"Travels Without a Note Book," which contrary to most writers who expect to make use of their impressions on some unsuspecting editors later, was true to form and was purely the relating of what came to mind after weeks had allowed the things to become firmly fixed as real lasting impressions. This account proved to be a refreshing treatment of a subject that one felt might be a bit hackneyed and prosaic, namely a visit to the historical and literary points of interest in the East.

Mr. Mulder wove with a fine sense of humor the story of an automobile trip that he and "Friend Wife" took one vacation, with tourists camps at their hotels. His recitation of camp life was very funny as were the rules and regulations that one could suggest after spending a few weeks in them.

The little details that later became the most vivid and lasting of their impressions of many famous places and historical pictures.

His recounting of the finding of the famous spring was a rare bit appreciated by many a camper.

The august and stately homes of writers, statesmen, soldiers, became fixed not through their superior grandeur, venerable aspect, and imposing historical worth, but by some ridiculous thing that would persist in popping up before these two, who having a strong sense of humor, could not resist the impulse to laugh even in the pew of the honored Washington.

Plymouth Rock for instance he said "will best be remembered by the funny swearing old gentleman, who had never seen a lady in knickers and who could not fathom why two perfectly sane people should come all the way from Michigan to see Plymouth Rock. He volunteered his services as a guide to something interesting and it evidently satisfied the travelers.

"Washington's bedroom and the attic where his wife died will live in our memory," he said "from the discussion of the woman who could not stand the seeming injustice of the wife dying in the attic, while Washington passed on in the dignified and beautiful room shown to the sightseers." As Mr. Mulder pointed out, President Washington was entirely without blame as he passed to his reward quite some time before his spouse and probably couldn't have persuaded the lady any way as to just where she desired to expire.

His recounting of these humorous events, however, lead up to the idea behind the whole paper, that a church is a church, a house just a house, no matter who has lived, died in it, or what remarkable thing has taken place within its walls and without the personality of the individual who made it famous, it is but the dry husks of that event or personality. Many times bits of humanity or a funny situation remain the monuments to some great historical event rather than the monument of stone erected to commemorate that event. "The person who wishes to preserve a halo of veneration and respect for some of the famous places or history had better stay at away from them", Mr. Mulder said.

Mr. Mulder was at his best when he described the blasting of his respect and awe for the U. S. senate by a visit to one session.

Throughout the entire sketch he showed a keen sense of humor, an insight into human nature and a delightful easy manner of telling what made these situations and personalities living breathing people to his charmed audience.

Surely one will not quickly forget the big woman with the laugh, from the stomach up; nor the pathetic figure of the little woman who had never seen the ocean, the desire of her life, and who in the very brink of the fulfillment of this wish had to give it up because "Pa couldn't stand the skeeters," and she, the dutiful wife, "was not to make reply."

HAMILTON

John Maxam, our station agent, who suffered an injury to his foot last week is able to be on duty again. A heavy shaft leaning against a door which he opened fell on his right foot, crushing the big toe. Mr. F. Skinner was sent from Petoskey to take Mr. Maxam's place. Mr. Skinner is favorably impressed with the town and thinks that there is a good amount of business being done for a town the size of Hamilton.

Henry Hoffman of Overisel has rented his feed-mill in that village and purchased an interest with Joseph Hagleskamp in the lumber business here in Hamilton. Mr. and Mrs. Hoffman will again become residents of this village.

Several carloads of sugar beets from the Allegan end of the line have passed thru Hamilton this week, on the way to the factory in Holland.

The grammar room received a check for $3 as prizes for an exhibit of art work at the county fair.

Benjamin La Barge, civil war veteran, has returned after having attended the reunion of the 21st Michigan Infantry at Grand Rapids. He was the guest of his brother William who also served in the Civil war. Mr. La Barge is 88 years old and states that he met one comrade at the reunion who is ninety years of age, two years older than himself.

WORKING TOGETHER as WE do saves you Time and Money

WHICH plan sounds more reasonable to you—a prospective home-builder?

To have your house built by two or three separate parties, having no connection with one another, or by ONE RESPONSIBLE CONCERN?

That's a question which you must decide, and the proper choice may save you from many aggravating delays and causes for dissatisfaction.

Where is the responsibility for the completed job when the materials are bought at one place, the millwork done at another, and the construction by still another?

That's not the Bolhuis way of building. We supply our own materials, we do our own millwork, and WE CONSTRUCT WITH OUR OWN MEN! That's something new in home-building service. We are proud to be the originators of the plan. It means that we work together from start to finish to give the client a satisfactory job and do it quick! There is one supervision, one responsibility, one price to pay, and you know what that is beforehand. Such teamwork saves time and money for you.

K. OF P.'S HOLD THEIR FIRST PARTY OF THE YEAR

The first regular Pythian party of the season was given Thursday night by the local K. of P. organization in the form of a Halloween party which proved to be a grand success. The decorations were very unique and appropriate for the occasion. Small shocks of corn stalks set up every few feet, the entire distance around the hall, with pumpkins suspended above them at frequent intervals; and also a border of autumn leaves with a large moon peeping thru the trees in one corner gave a very pleasing effect. Progressive five hundred was played from eight until 10 o'clock. Mrs. Ed Slooter won the ladies prize and Wm. Slater received high score for the gentlemen. After the lunch consisting of sandwiches, pickles, pumpkin pie and coffee the real fun began. During the grand march, all were presented with Halloween hats of various descriptions, and other favors were also passed out in the form of small tumbourines, prettily decorated horns and other novelties. Arrayed with this equipment there was no lack of interest and the dancers presented a very pretty appearance in their orange and black regalia. The Holland Theater orchestra furnished excellent music and favorable comments were heard on all sides. There was also much praise given to Pat Nordhof and his efficient committee upon their success in giving the Pythians and their friends an evening of real enjoyment. The hall was taxed to capacity and it is likely that large quarters will have to be secured in order to take care of all those who wish to avail themselves of these social gatherings.

ALLEGAN SUPERVISORS GIVE LIBERAL TO MANY CAUSES

Appropriations made by the Allegan county board of supervisors, in session in Allegan, include: Eight hundred dollars for the maintenance of the county park on Lake Michigan; $200 for the Star Commonwealth for Boys at Albion; $200 for the Michigan Children's Aid society at St. Joseph and $1,000 for expenses of the home demonstration agent in the county.

Five thousand dollars, appropriated last year for the eradication of bovine tuberculosis, which was not used, was again made available for this purpose. The sum of $2,500 was also appropriated for county health work the coming year.

DISPUTE HOLDS CENTER OF STAGE

Current and light service to Hudsonville, so long and eagerly looked and wished for, is still more of a possibility than an actual reality.

The delay in connecting the current, is caused through disagreement in permitting setting of the necessary poles carrying the power from Grandville to Hudsonville is still a much mooted dispute and it is simply a matter of conjecture as to when the Consumers Power company and Benjamin S. Hanchett of Jenison will get together in the matter.

Every assurance was given the Hudsonville people that the service would be inaugurated, different dates having been set. But the situation today is identical with that which prevailed for several weeks; namely, the Consumers people are unable to obtain the right of way over a short stretch at Jenison. Yet the transformers are set in a Hudsonville, the wiring of homes and business places is completed and all is set for the final act, that of turning on service.—Hudsonville Star.

ROAD TO GRAND RAPIDS TO BE RE-LOCATED

The Kent county Supervisors now in session authorized the re-location of the pavement on M-51 at the points near Grandville which parallel the Pere Marquette railroad and crosses it in two locations of about a mile apart.

Just why the state and county ever permitted such grade crossings at the time when the road was put through cannot be understood inasmuch as this line is a main trunk line of the railroad and the roadway the leading route from Grand Rapids, Holland and direct to Chicago.

Now a new right of way must be secured, another costly job let and additional taxes levied. The estimated cost will be $60,000 for the one and one-half mile stretch necessary to eliminate the double crossing.

The new re-located road will run parallel to the track on the south side to Ivanrest and thence along a new right of way into the village. It is stated by some that the road will enter Grandville about one and one-half blocks from the present easterly location while Supervisor Emmons believes the highway will connect with the present trunk line at Wilson avenue, making an S curve at that point.

Along with this important announcement mention can be made to the effect that this road is now open from Hudsonville to Zeeland.

M-51 after the new stretch is completed will make this highway one of the longest stretches in the state having but a single grade crossing. The only railroad to be crossed is located near Zeeland.

PLAN DRIVE TO FINANCE CHURCH SITE

Arrangements have been completed for financing the Reformed church project for converting Pine Lodge into a conference grounds. The purchase of this place was announced some weeks ago but now a group of Holland business men have underwritten the project. The place will be known as the Pine Lodge Bible Conference.

A committee of Grand Rapids and Holland churchmen will soon begin work to raise funds here and after that a drive will also be put on in Zeeland, Kalamazoo, Grand Haven, Muskegon and Chicago.

Next Thursday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock the buildings that have been closed for the season will be open to members of the committee and others interested so that they may inspect them and may also see the grounds. Dinners in support of the project have already been held in Grand Rapids and in the Third Reformed church in Holland.

The site contains seven and a half acres. It is located two miles northeast of Holland and it is considered one of the most beautiful sites on the shores of Black Lake. It is more-over the first tract of land bordering on Black Lake owned by the Reformed church. The hotel has a capacity of 75 guests, there are three cottages on the grounds and one garage. The cottages and hotel are furnished completely and they are equipped with all modern conveniences.

The plan is to make the Pine Lodge Bible Conference a recreational center for the young people where they can enjoy themselves under religious and wholesome auspices. Eventually it is planned to develop conference work of a religious nature on the place during the months of July and August. But that plan is still somewhat vague and it will probably be worked out gradually. It is pointed out by the committee that the site is an ideal place for fishing, boating and bathing.

The committee in general charge of the project is composed of the following: Rev. C. Muller, Rev. John Van Zomeren of Grand Rapids, Dr. J. B. Nykerk, Holland, Rev. J. M. Martijn and Dick Boter, Holland, Dr. C. Kriekart of Grand Rapids.

Attorneys Arthur Van Duren, sr., and Arthur Van Duren, jr., were in Ann Arbor to witness the football game.

BLANKS DISTRIBUTED FOR FARM CENSUS

The Holland rural carriers are distributing blanks among their patrons from the U. S. Department of Agriculture that are to be used in taking a farm census. The blanks contain a number of questions in regard to the number of acres in each farm, whether the farm is owned by the occupant or rented, the amount in wheat, and other crops, and so on.

Farmers are asked to fill out the blanks but they are instructed by government not to return them to the rural carriers as most farmers do when the carriers hand them blanks but to hold them for the enumerators who will come later and gather them up.

ZEELAND MAN FELL 27 FEET

While painting a sign on the Zeeland Canning Company building, Adrian Langius narrowly escaped death when he fell a distance of twenty-seven feet from the scaffold to the roof of a shed below. He sustained a fractured wrist and several severe bruises on his head and back.

He had just placed his scaffold in position and was about to begin work when suddenly the scaffold gave way. He fell striking on his left arm and left side. He was immediately rushed to Dr. Boone's office where the fracture was reduced. It was found necessary the next day to have the fracture reset due to the difficulty in keeping the small bones in the wrist in place. Subsequent X-Ray pictures show the trouble has been overcome. Mr. Langius suffered considerable pain but is about most of the time and is recovering from his injuries.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Fay Fortney, 95 East 24th street, a nine and a half pound girl, Beatrice Irene.

Dr. and Mrs. M. J. Cook and son Dale were at Ann Arbor to witness the football game.

POURSHOT INTO SCHOOL AMENDMENT

Prof. B. K. Kulper, for many years professor of American history in Calvin College, is the author of a pamphlet just issued by the Reformed Press of Grand Rapids entitled, "Hamilton's School Amendment, Exposed and Exposed." The book contains 32 pages and is a strong indictment of the proposed school amendment. Prof. Kulper calls James Hamilton dishonest, ignorant and a fanatic and he takes the hide of the former candidate for governor under several heads. But at the very end he says that James Hamilton is useful after all because he is compelling the people of the state of Michigan "to orient themselves again in the fundamental principles of true and glorious Americanism."

"Complaint has been made," the pamphlet concludes, "that a man like Hamilton should be able to force a part of the people to spend much time and energy and money in defending what should never be assailed. If however our defense has done something to ground our people better in the great fundamentals of American liberty and to save it from being most disastrously undermined, then we should be glad of having had the opportunity of rendering a really patriotic service, and of having enjoyed in addition the privilege of paying for it."

"To one last look over the whole situation two things loom large. First, Hamilton has resorted not merely to quite a number of rather petty tricks of misrepresentation. His whole campaign is one colossal fraud. He is waging his campaign in the name of Americanism, and under that banner he hopes to carry his amendment to victory. But he cares nothing about Americanism. He tramples every principle of Americanism in the mire. In reality, under the pretense of defending Americanism he is trying to do serious injury to a Church and Religion."

"Secondly, the issue directly raised by the Hamiltonian amendment draws in its train still another. The personality of Hamilton, the thing he proposes, the doctrines he preaches, and the methods he employs, raise the question: Will Democracy be discredited? The way the people of Michigan vote on the amendment will contain to that question the answer."

"What will it be?"

"The first Tuesday of next month will be in Michigan an important day for Democracy itself."

What is the most numerous family name in Holland? If this question were asked in any average American city the answer would be quite easy as a rule. Nine times out of ten it would merely be necessary to answer "Smith" and let it go at that. Examine the city directory of the average city in which the population is preponderantly American in its descent and the Smiths have the best of it, taking up the lion's share of the space in the S's.

Not so in Holland. An examination of the new city directory, delivered to the subscribers Tuesday by O. L. Blodgett & Co. of Lansing, shows that the Smiths are not very numerous here. To be exact, there are only 42 of them in Holland and there is many another family name which is unknown in the average town that beats the Smiths by a considerable margin.

The second most popular or at least most numerous name in the average city is perhaps "Jones." Most towns have a good many members of the Jones family, but it would almost seem that Joneses have entered into a conspiracy to stay away from Holland. An examination of the new directory reveals the fact that there are only 5 Joneses in Holland.

As might be expected by those who are familiar with the origin of a large part of the population here, the "Vans" far outclass all other kinds of family names in point of number. The prefix "Van" is hitched on to a considerable variety of family names and hence it cannot be said that the "Van" is a name in itself. The list of Vans takes up thirteen pages in the city directory and the total number of names with that prefix is 567.

As might also be expected, the next most numerous division of family names begins with "De." Of this type of name there are 307. Names beginning with "Ten" or "Ter" occupy nearly two pages in the directory, and "Ver" nearly a page.

The movement which was started among western Michigan resort interests about a year ago to lengthen the tourist season in Michigan through October and even into November, seems to be well justified this year by the weather. No more ideal weather for the motor tourist into Michigan's playgrounds could be imagined than that which has prevailed during a period extending over about five weeks. Winds have been light and rather balmy. Each day has been clear and sunny. The temperature has been extremely mild, even bordering on summer heat at times.

In the hardwood forest, the foliage has ripened and matured slowly, sending the maples, the oaks and the beech woods into gorgeousness. Forests have turned red and gold and the trunk line roads are avenues of rare beauty. The autumn haze has been at its best. There has been no rain, but heavy dew falls each night and leaves every twig and spear of grass sparkling in the first light of the day. The atmosphere is pungent and sweet with the autumn fragrances and little is left to be desired for the tourist who rides for the pleasure of getting out into the open country.

There are still tourists in western Michigan who are getting the benefit of charming weather, denied those who took their vacations during the summer months. The famous M-11 route sees many camping kits passing every day. There are still occasional campers. Many of the cottages at local resorts have not been closed for the season as yet, and their owners are finding plenty of pleasure in their week-end visits to the shore of Lake Michigan.

American tourists have flocked this season to the quaint island of Marken in the Zuyder Zee. This is one of the few communities in Holland where the native dress has not given way to standardized clothes. Hugh balloon trousers for the men, and gay pink, blue and yellow waists, full petticoats for the women still are worn on Marken.

The little folks dress just as do their elders. The picturesque of the place, maintained with an eye to business, have drawn so many American visitors that not a few of the natives speak English without an accent.

COLD STORAGE PLANT OPENS FOR BUSINESS

The new cold storage plant of the Western Michigan Packing company has received its first lot of apples for storage. A test of the oil engine and ammonia compressors last Friday proved that all of the equipment was up to the expectations of the management. The brine cooling system functions exceedingly well, temperatures in the storage rooms are maintained very economically.

There is one freezer room in which the temperature can be carried at 5 degrees below zero. This is to be used for the freezing and storage of meats, poultry, butter, etc. There are three pre-cooling rooms in which temperatures of zero can be maintained. These rooms can be used for the pre-cooling of small fruit, such as berries, peaches, etc. Before loading into refrigerator cars for shipment, the pre-cooling of fruit as above mentioned will permit a wider distribution and consequent arrival of such fruit at destination in prime condition.

The balance of the space, namely, eight rooms, is what is commonly known as cooler space. Temperatures at 30 to 32 degrees are to be maintained in them and are to be used for the storage of apples, peaches, pears, and other fruit as well as eggs in their season.

In addition to the above there is ample space reserved for the packing of fruit, handling and packing of eggs, shipping and receiving space and office.

Much credit for the early completion of this modern cold storage plant is due to the efforts of Frank J. Roos, the manager, and the help and co-operation of Frank Dyke, general contractor, the Armstrong Cork & Insulation Co., Western & Campbell Co., and August Kasten, plasterer.

DIRECTORY IS DELIVERED TO SUBSCRIBERS

The delivery of the new city and county directory was begun here Tuesday and soon all the persons who subscribed for the volume will have a copy. The book is the most pretentious directory that has ever been gotten out in this city and it contains about five times as much information as is contained in any other directory that has ever been gotten out. By means of it a subscriber will be able not only to find the addresses of people living in Holland but of anyone anywhere in Ottawa county. And by reference to the map that goes with the directory a subscriber will be able in a moment's time to discover exactly at what spot in the county any person's farm is to be found.

The directory contains an alphabetically arranged list of all adult citizens, business firms, etc., in Holland, Grand Haven, Zeeland, the villages of Coopersville, Spring Lake each classified separately, also the villages of Hudsonville, Ferrysburg, Conklin, Reno, Jamestown, Marne, Nunica, Lamont, Jenison, West Olive, Macatawa and Vriesland, as well as all the rural residents who are served by rural carriers leading from all of the above cities and villages. It gives the number of acres of land owned or rented by each person, section number and name of township in which they live.

Preceding the regular directory of names for each city is a street directory. In the case of Holland this takes up 32 pages. Then follows the department containing names of the officers of the city government, the board of education, the justices of the peace, cemeteries, libraries, newspapers, postoffices, railroads, county officers, county road commissioners, superintendents of the poor, and soldiers relief commission. Then follows the regular city directory, and this system is followed in regard to the other Ottawa county cities as well.

The book is printed on a heavy grade of paper and is well bound in a tan colored cloth.

Charles Ver Murlen of Grand Haven reported the theft of his Durant sport model touring car from in front of the Regent theatre at Muskegon Thursday night. Another Grand Haven party who visited Muskegon had two overcoats and a robe stolen from his sedan while it was parked, entrance being gained by raising the windshield. Another car had a robe stolen while still another had the side pockets ransacked and an effort made to take off the spare tire.

LOCAL HIGH ADOPTS NEW PROGRAM PLAN

Borrowing a hint from the theaters Holland high school adopted the system of passing out programs at football games. When Grand Rapids South high comes to Holland Saturday to play the local team, the fans who pass through the gate at Waterworks park will each be given a program and they may imagine for a moment that they are passing into a hall and are about to see a play or listen to a concert.

"The idea of this football program," said Principal J. J. Hienema, "is to foster a more friendly spirit of rivalry between the high schools. I believe programs of this nature will eliminate the so-called cheap rowdiness which is prevalent in some cities—and I am glad to say is absent in Holland. Programs of this kind will add greatly in introducing cleaner sportsmanship among all and will tend to place athletics on a higher plane. This is what we are striving to do. I am trying this program idea to see how it will take with the fans."

The program to be passed out Saturday contains four pages. On the title page the names of the officials are given, the colors of the two schools, the date of the next home game and the following greetings:

"Holland is indeed glad to welcome the South High squad of football men with its friends and supporters for this annual football game. All athletic contests between the two schools have always been stubbornly fought. The athletic relations have always been most friendly. Holland values this friendship and trusts it may continue indefinitely."

"In the game today may every man play his best and may the stronger team win."

On the second page appears a picture of the 1924-25 football squad. On the third page appears the lineup and an exhortation to treat the officials courteously. The last page of the leaflet is devoted to advertising.

The whole tone of the program is that of courtesy and sportsmanship and it is hoped that it will have a wholesome effect.

DUNNINGVILLE CHURCH HOLDS CELEBRATION

Thursday evening special services were held in the Reformed church at Dunningville in celebration of the fact that the church has been newly repainted, newly redecorated, and a number of improvements have been made to the rostrum and other parts of the church. This church is the only one in a community within a five mile radius and it is taking a large part in the life of the people. All the Reformed pastors who served that church during summer vacations were invited to speak.

Rev. Mr. Meens, of Kalamazoo, spoke on the subject, "The Church and Its Members." Rev. Arthur Maatman of North Holland, "What the Church Owes to the Community." Rev. F. J. Van Dyk of Central Park, "What the Community Owes to the Church." Music was furnished by the seminary quartet and Mrs. F. J. Van Dyk. Rev. Mr. Dunnewold, the pastor presided, and Rev. H. Potgieter of Hamilton read scripture and offered prayer.

FAIRBANKS NOW INSTRUCTOR IN SCHOOL OF MUSIC

The Hope College School of Music directed by Dr. J. B. Nykerk has secured the services of Harvey Fairbanks, the well known violinist, who was discovered several years ago by Mr. Weed, teacher of violin in Holland. Since leaving Holland Mr. Fairbanks has studied in New York city for two years under Victor Knezo and Rudolph Larsen, first assistants to the great violin virtuoso and teacher, Professor Auer.

Mr. Fairbanks has also been coached by Roderick White, the fine violinist, well-known in Holland, and a pupil of Professor Auer. He was a member for eight months of the Jersey Symphony; also played solo violin in a string orchestra on an English steamer, plying between England and South America. Mr. Fairbanks also taught violin in the Winkler School of Music and played on many occasions at concerts and musicales.

Mr. Fairbanks' pupils meet him at the studio on Friday from one to 5 p. m., after which he conducts the college orchestra, which has put on new life under his direction. Any desiring lessons from Mr. Fairbanks may apply to Mr. Nykerk or make arrangements with the teacher at Voorhees Hall studio, or by calling up telephone No. 5435.

The 1924 Milestone staff at Hope College enjoyed a splendid outing at Grand Rapids last week end. The following persons make up the staff: Janet Albers, Natalie Reed, Priscilla Collins, Grace Caldwell, Martha Gabbard, Alice Caldwell, Roy Kuiper, George Wright, Casey Dykhuizen, Abe Dumez, John Albers, Fred Jonkman, Larny Lubbers, Bell Helmer.

Vote For CHARLES E. MISNER

— FOR —
Prosecuting Attorney

On the Democratic Ticket
A new sheriff will be elected, elect a new prosecutor and have a new deal all around. This will be a fair way of stopping the bitter controversy that has been waged for the past few months. New officers will have no axes to grind and will treat everyone alike.

My opponent has had eight years in this office now wants ten. This is contrary to the spirit of American representative government and savor of England's monarchy.

Reported favorable by anti-saloon league.

CANDIDATE DAVIS' VILIFICATION

The National Independent Press during this campaign has repeatedly called attention to the slanderous campaign that presidential candidate Davis on the Democratic ticket is waging against the Republicans.

However, instead of helping his cause and the cause of his party, the opposite is true. Davis, while an excellent American citizen and a man of high character, ordinarily, seems to have forgotten himself in this campaign judging from many of his vilifying remarks and denunciations of many of the highest type of Republican men.

The fact that his method of campaigning has been detrimental to his cause, again demonstrates that the old saying is only too true, "Mud that is thrown soon dries and falls away."

The "mud" that has been thrown at our great president Calvin Coolidge and Charles Dawes, the man that has put entire Europe upon a working basis, has fallen away rapidly, and the men loom up great national figures just as they are, and as the national candidate on the opposition ticket would have them appear.

But then, the Democratic party is up to its old tricks of vilification.

Charles G. Dawes
For Vice-President

One can hark back to the time when Abraham Lincoln the martyred president was the head of this nation.

The great writer J. Hopkinson Smith before his death wrote in the leading magazine a story entitled, "Vilification of Great Men." In that article he portrayed how the opposition party slandered our beloved president, how they threw every conceivable obstacle in Lincoln's way in order to hamper his administration and hinder him in the carrying on of the Civil war, which if it had not been won, would have made this a divided nation, while today we stand united, the most ideal government, the most prosperous, the most peaceful spot remaining on this earth.

The martyred president Garfield had to run the gamut of slander not alone before his election to the presidency, but afterward. Mr. Smith in his article also related the slanderous things said about president McKinley who also became a mark for the assassin's bullet.

In the war with Spain that freed an oppressed Cuba, and educated a benighted Philippines, president McKinley was called a putty man by the opposition. He was called a coward for waiting with the war with Spain because as citizens of that day will remember, this nation was entirely unprepared for conflict. However when this government was prepared, McKinley said the word, and

THE PARTY OF LINCOLN, MCKINLEY AND ROOSEVELT IS THE REPUBLICAN PARTY

Spain was thoroughly whipped in what might practically be called a bloodless war for statistics show that less American soldiers were killed in this war, than any war before or since.

This was due entirely to the cause that President McKinley wished to inaugurate his preparedness program first, therefore in silence he bore the "jibes" and taunts of the opposition.

Today the democratic party eulogizes Lincoln, Garfield, and McKinley as the nation's greatest men. Bringing slander a little closer home, in fact right into Ottawa county.

ty we must only site what occurred to the late president Theodore Roosevelt at a meeting in Centennial Park in the city of Holland.

"Teddy" was then running as vice-president on the ticket with president McKinley. He was scheduled for a speech in Centennial park. Just before his speech the large crowd was circularized with a scurrilous, malicious circular, telling how Colonel Roosevelt had shot retreating Spaniards in the back while waging the war for this nation as a soldier in Cuba.

It will be remembered by the older citizens how the late president Roosevelt during the Spanish-American war stormed San Juan Hill. Constantly he was in the thick of the fight with his company, storming the block houses, bringing victory to the flag and practically deciding the war in this pivotal battle.

For his great courage and wonderful bravery, he was promoted by an appreciative nation, but was dubbed as a coward by the opposition in a circular spread around Holland while a guest of this city. These things are history and no doubt have long since been forgotten by the Holland people.

But the campaign that is being waged by the Democrats throughout the nation apparently has not changed much from the campaign of the time of Lincoln, Garfield, McKinley, and Roosevelt.

These four figures stand out strongly as the great men in the Republican party and are men who have made the Republican party possible.

There were many other Republican presidents who left a mark for good on history's pages, and whose names will live for ages.

President Grant, President Garfield, President Harrison, President Taft, and our late beloved President Harding were men of this type. It is such men that made the nation great. It is such men who have kept the ship of state on an even keel in times of stress, and when our country was in danger.

A year ago our beloved President Harding was suddenly taken away, a martyr to his country since the duties of his office and the many things exacted from a president overwhelmed him and he paid the forfeit with his life.

Scarcely had the news been flashed over the nation and the world, when another man of noble character, with high aims, and sterling honesty took the helm and carried on where the late beloved president was forced through death to leave off.

Calvin Coolidge, the man of few words has managed the Ship of State for one year. Not even his opponents will deny that during this year he managed wisely. Even his most bitter political enemies laud his honesty of purpose.

his philosophy of life, politics and public affairs.

Let there be a purpose in all your legislation to recognize the right of man, to be well born, well nurtured, well educated, well employed, and well paid. This is no gospel of ease and selfishness, or class distinction, but a gospel of effort and service, of universal application.

We are coming to see that we are dependent upon commercial and industrial prosperity, not only for the creation of wealth, but for the solving of the great problem of the distribution of wealth. There is just one condition on which men can secure employment and a living, nourishing, profitable wage, for what ever they contribute to the enterprise, be it labor or capital, and that condition is that some one make a profit by it.

That is the sound basis for the distribution of wealth and the only one. It cannot be done by law. It cannot be done by public ownership. It can't be done by socialism. When you deny the right to a profit you deny the right of a reward to thrift and industry.

The law that builds up the people is the law that builds up industry. Let us frown upon greed and selfishness, but let us also condemn envy and uncharitableness.

You can display no greater wisdom than by resisting proposals for needless legislation.

character in all men, are not matters of hire and salary. No person was ever honored for what he received. Honor has been the reward for what he gave. Public acclaim and the ceremonies recognition paid to returning heroes are not on account of their government pay but of the service and sacrifice they gave their country.

I am opposed to the practice of a legislative deception. It is better to proceed with candor.

outside influence of any kind is substituted for the judgment of the representative. This does not mean that the opinion of constituents is to be ignored. It is to be weighed most carefully for the representative must represent, but his oath provides that it must be "faithfully and impartially according to the best of his abilities and understanding, agreeably to the rules and regulations of the Constitution and laws."

The authority of the law is questioned in these days all too much. Over us shines a glorious past, before us lies a promising future.

The past always limits and directs the future.

theories which deluge the earth from time to time are not the progeny of stalwart men and women. Sound bodies do not breed unsound doctrines. No mother should be parted from her children on account of poverty alone. In our desire to assist those who

There is no better opportunity for raising citizens than on the farm. Every encouragement should be extended to the farmers.

Greater distribution comes from greater capital.

Healthful housing, wholesome food, sanitary working conditions, reasonable hours, a fair wage for a fair day's work, opportunity full and free, justice speedy and impartial and at a cost within the reach of all, are among the objects not only to be sought but made absolutely certain and secure. Government is not, must not be, a cold impersonal machine, but a human and more human agency, appealing to the reason, satisfying the heart, full of mercy, assisting the good, resisting the wrong, delivering the weak from any impositions of the strong. This is not paternalism. It is not servitude imposed from without, but the freedom of a righteous self-direction from within.

The taxes are paid by the people. They bear the burdens. The benefits of government must accrue to the people; not to one class but to all classes, to all the people. The functions, the power, the sovereignty of the government must be kept where they have been placed by the Constitution and laws of the people. Not private will but that public will which speaks with a divine sanction, must prevail.

The supreme choice must not be the things that are seen but the things that are unseen.

There are strident voices urging re-istance to law in the name of freedom. They are not seeking freedom even for themselves—they have it; they are seeking to enslave others. Their works are evil. They know it. They must be resisted. The evil they represent must be overcome by the good others represent. These ideas which are wrong, for the most part imported, must be supplanted by ideas which are right. This can be done. The meaning of America is a power which cannot be overcome. Prosecution of the criminal and education of the ignorant are the remedies.

They who break the laws are the slaves of their own crimes. It is not for the advantage of others that the citizen is adjured to obey the laws, but for his own advantage. What he claims a right to do to others, that must he admit others have a right to do to him. His abedience is his own protection. He is not submitting himself to the dictates of others, but responding to the requirements of his own nature. Laws are not manufactured, they are not imposed; they are rules of action existing from everlasting to everlasting. He who resists them resists himself; he commits suicide. The nature of man requires sovereignty. Government must govern. To obey is life. To disobey is death.

The public schools have made education possible for all, and ignorance a disgrace.

The Declaration of Independence was, indeed, a great document. It was drawn up by Thomas Jefferson when he was at his best. It was the product of men who seemed inspired. No greater company ever assembled to interpret the voice of the people or direct the destinies of a nation. The events of history may have added to it, but subtracted nothing. Wisdom and experience have increased the admiration of it. Time and criticism have not shaken it. It stands with ordinance and law, charter and constitution, prophecy and revelation, whether we read them in the history of Babylon, the results of Runnymede, the Ten Commandments or the Sermon on the Mount.

NO FARMERS NEED APPLY

No farmers need apply to La Follette.

There were few, if any, farmers among those who composed the La Follette convention at Cleveland. The convention itself was called by a group of organizations in which there was no bona fide farm organization. The so-called delegates to the La Follette Cleveland convention were hand-picked from a group of organizations in which there was no bona fide farm organization. The committee on credentials, which passed on the right of the so-called delegates to their seats did not contain a farmer or anyone representing agriculture. No farmer or representative either of a farming community or a bona fide farm organization was permitted to be an officer at the La Follette Cleveland convention.

No farmer or representative either of a farming community or a bona fide farm organization was on any of the standing committees of the La Follette Cleveland convention.

No farmer or representative of a farm community had anything to do with the writing of the platform of the Cleveland convention. No farmer or representative of a farming community was a member of the committee which presented La Follette's name to the convention as its candidate.

No farmer or representative either of a farming community or a bona fide farm organization was on the committee appointed to notify La Follette of his selection.

Farmer Ignored Entirely

Senator La Follette's letter of acceptance was addressed to a group of organization, a group in which the farming communities and agricultural sections of the United States have no voice or representation.

No farmer or representative of any bona fide farm organization is a member of the national committee of the La Follette party. No farmer or representative of any bona fide farm organization is a member of the La Follette campaign committee.

Throughout the LaFollette movement, from its inception to the present time, the farmer has been absolutely ignored in the selection of delegates, the formulation of policies, and the direction of the campaign. The only purpose he serves in the LaFollette scheme is to furnish the votes.

On the other hand, and in striking contrast to the treatment accorded the farmers, the LaFollette party leaders, many of them socialists, have lost no opportunity to recognize the national Socialist party and other radical organizations whose interests are diametrically opposed to the interests of agriculture. The LaFollette party even went so far as to give the national Socialist party's official organization special representation on the LaFollette national committee, adding to that committee official representatives of the Socialist party in a number equal to ten percent of the total membership of the committee. This was in addition to the socialists who were already members of the committee.

Farm Bills in Congress

Only two major agricultural measures were before the last session of the Congress for consideration—the Norbeck-Burness bill and the McNary-Haugen bill. The Norbeck-Burness bill was considered in the Senate. There were several tests votes taken before the bill itself was voted upon. The roll call record shows that Senator LaFollette did not vote at all upon any of the test votes in connection with the Norbeck-Burness bill and did not vote on the bill itself.

The McNary-Haugen bill was considered in the House. The minority report against the bill was written by Representative Voigt, a LaFollette lieutenant from Wisconsin, who presented the report to the House, made the strongest speech that was made against the McNary-Haugen bill, and led the fight against the bill being passed.

The bill was defeated in the House by a vote of 224 to 154, a majority of 70 against it. Of the 224 votes against it, the Republicans contributed 95. The Democrats and the LaFollette crowd contributed 125, and Victor Berger, the socialist supporter of LaFollette, contributed one vote against it. The eleven states of the solid Democratic South and the LaFollette state of Wisconsin furnished 87 votes against the bill.

The Ottawa county Republican ticket is representative of the finest type of men that could possibly be gotten together, in fact they were the choice of the people at the September primaries with overwhelming majorities.

The decision in every case indicates that the men on the ticket chosen, are the choice of the party, and the party as a party need not be ashamed of any of these men, who, in a great many instances, have already served well in offices for which they are chosen, while others prepared and fitted themselves for the office for which the Republican party felt that they were well fitted, and consequently elected them by popular vote.

The list of candidates for the national, congressional and Ottawa county ticket who deserve the support of the party are as follows:
