HOLLAND TO HAVE NO FREE FAIR FOR SOME TIME YET

Austin Harrington, who has made an able president of the community fair for a number of years, was unanimously re-elected at the annual meeting and in the course of the evening he had many interesting things to say. When he was re-elected to head the organization, those present called for a talk and Mr. Harrington said: "In the first place, I wish to thank my associates, for it is only through such wonderful co-operation that the Community fair could be successful. Most fairs have been showing a deficit. In fact, a paying fair seems to be a rare thing to find. The annual report submitted to the board by the secretary shows conclusively that the Holland fair balance is on the right side of the ledger. We have built 18,000 worth of new buildings this year, the association has less debts than before and has a most wonderful property to show for it.

"I also wish to thank the Holland newspapers for their untiring cooperation. They never fail to back up any meritorious cause or civic project wholeheartedly.

"I wish to bring home something to the young members of the organization, since there is one able young man who wanted to resign from the board of directors, but will stick now, and that is that we want young blood in Community fair work. Our older members have served long and faithfully and they are entitled to a rest. The young members must remain to carry on in this as well as in other things. We must recruit from the ranks of the young to keep the wheels of progress going.

"I can best demonstrate what young men mean to the fair. Jimmy Sibbelink, secretary of the speed committee, is the youngest director we have, but he has shown rare ability. He is a chairman of the speed committee, to handle the biggest and best circuit in the state, with more than 80 horses entered this year. He was assisted on this committee by Andrew Klomparsens of Holland."

"I for one do not approve of a free fair, at least not at this time. In the first place, Holland puts up an exhibition that is well worth the small price of admission asked. Still that small admission from thousands makes quite a sum in the aggregate, although not burdensome to the individual. Should the Community fair be turned into a free fair, added revenues must come from somewhere. The tendency would be to jam the grounds with concessions of all kinds, desirable and undesirable. This would include concessions with all sorts of gambling devices, shows and side shows of shady repute, and Holland does not want this class to exhibit here.

"Occasionally a few will slip in because the secretary and directors do not mind readers and do not know the pedigree of every concession man. If their offerings are found to be improper they are closed and ordered off the grounds. In order to conduct the Community fair there must be a certain amount of revenue and the only safe way at this time and at the same time keep the exhibition on a high plane, is to continue to ask the small admission price that has been in vogue for a number of years. I sincerely hope that no fair will continue to receive the co-operation, as it has in the past, from all merchants and other citizens as well. It is the united efforts of all that spells success.

TRI-COUNTY CONFERENCE OF AGRICULTURAL MEN

A sectional conference of agricultural agents, dairy extension specialists and cow testers of Allegan, Van Buren and Kalamazoo counties will be held in the Allegan county courthouse next Thursday, Nov. 10. Ralph Helm, Allegan county agent, who is in charge of arrangements, announced Friday.

FARM BUREAU CHIEFS MEET

A new step in farm bureau activities is the state-wide conference of county farm bureau presidents and secretaries with farm bureau officers which will be held at Michigan State farm bureau headquarters at Lansing Nov. 9 and 10.

Early acceptances to the invitations to the meeting indicate that the majority of presidents and secretaries of the various groups will be in attendance.

The purpose of this assembly of farm bureau leaders as stated by the organization are:

1. To perfect a state-wide policy on country farm bureau programs and work.
2. To tie up closely the work of the state and county farm bureaus with the work of the farm bureau business services and cooperative associations to be the advantage of the farm bureau membership.
3. To develop and improve farm bureau service to members; to maintain and build up membership rolls.
4. To discuss farmer's business problems.

COUNTY GETS PART OF PAY OFFICE WORK

Kent County is having a battle over the fee system in its office and the register of deeds is to be sued on the issue.

Ottawa County has abolished the fee system and put its officials on salary. All fees prescribed by law are turned into the county cash box.

During the recent session of the Board of Supervisors another point came up, the arrangement by which the Holland Abstract Co. has been paying the real estate transfers. The originator in the office of Frank Boeke, register of deeds, Grand Haven, but John H. DenHerder, the treasurer, has been getting $600 a year for furnishing them to the title concern in the south end of the county.

The supervisors' committee on county officers came to an agreement with the treasurer by which in the future the county will get $200 of the abstract company payment. The same sum will go to the deputy treasurer, Miss Frances Stewart, who does the actual work of compiling them. The other third the treasurer will retain.

Thus the county is $200 a year better off than it was. The supervisors achieved the compromise by committee, the board not formally acting on it. It was pointed out that since the work was not an official duty at any prescribed remuneration it could not be handled in the same way as the regular fees.

The arrangement is not a matter of record.

Four salaries were raised at the recent board meeting, the list follows: Cora Vandaele, register of probate, $1,500 to $1,800.

Harriet Swart, deputy register, $900 to $1,200.

Anna Van Horssen, deputy county clerk, $1,500 to $1,800.

Egbert Beekman, deputy sheriff at Holland, $2,400 to $2,500.

NEW $30,000.00 BUILDING FOR AN OLD ENTERPRISE

The oldest laundry in the city has at last secured a permanent site on 17th street between Ottawa and Cleveland Avenues, and excavation has begun for a plant 70x120 feet, one story high.

The plant will be located on the north side of the street and the building will be well flooded by daylight from the top and rear with four arch windows and two large square windows adorning the front.

Over the entrance of the building will be a large stone in which will be etched the name West Michigan Laundry.

The new building will be constructed of concrete brick and steel. The entire front will be of Belden Buff brick with stone trimmings. The roof will be artistically arched and the brick stock 60 feet high will conform with the rest of the building.

A thick fire wall will separate the main building from the steam power plant to the rear. This will ensure absolute cleanliness in the laundry division.

Near the power plant there will be built a four car garage.

New boilers with underfeed automatic stokers, the type used by Holland's light plant, are to be installed and are guaranteed as absolutely smokeless.

The new West Michigan Laundry building being built by contractor Mel De Cook will be ready for occupancy by January 1. The architect of the new structure is Piere Lindhout of Grand Rapids.

Shortly after the building is ready the tremendous task of moving the heavy machinery from the old plant to the new building will begin.

The soft water equipment unit weighs 15 tons when filled and the ironer tips the scale at 13 tons. The strongest trucks in the city will be required to take over these heavy units.

Mr. R. W. Tardiff states that when the building is completed it will have cost the company at least $30,000 to make the change. But he says when the job is completed and old and new machinery is installed he feels they will have as fine a laundry equipment as can be found anywhere in Western Michigan.

The new machinery to be added will cost the firm at least $10,000, he states.

The West Michigan Laundry has a double shift in the summer time of 75 employees, for 8 months in the year; however, when there is only a day shift there are 40.

Mr. Tardiff figures that when the new plant is completed the working force will be at least 80 in the summer time.

The delivery system will also be reorganized, the delivery trucks and smaller cars re-conditioned and painted and two new trucks have already been ordered for early summer delivery.

The machinery in the new building will be electrically driven and individually motorized. The machinery will be so placed on the strong reinforced concrete floors to make work easier for the employees and with as little lost motion as possible.

The men who have been back of the West Michigan Laundry for the past five years are R. W. Tardiff and Cal Tardiff, and their efforts here have been crowned with success.

The West Michigan Laundry was established about 40 years ago, was first conducted by Gerrit Pessink, now of Chicago, later by Mr. East, now of Muskegon, and for many years by Martin Beukema, who was in charge until shortly before his death. Mr. Beukema was assisted by his daughter Margaret and Mrs. Beukema, who continued to run the plant for a short time after the death of Mr. Beukema and the Tardiff brothers bought the plant, rejuvenated it, added new machinery and the latest step is the new building near the west limits of the city.

HOLLAND MAN GETS A VERY RARE BIRD

While hunting on the Robert Marriott farm, near Saugatuck, the first of the week, Walter Sietek, of Holland, shot a golden crowned eagle which measured six feet from tip to tip. This bird is very rare in this part of the country although a native of North America.

Jack Lieveens, secretary of the Holland Game & Fish Protective association, saw a bald eagle flying over the trees at Waukasoo a few days ago. Several years ago a pair of eagles nested in one of the large oaks at this resort.

BARN DESTROYED BY LIGHTNING

Lightning Friday afternoon destroyed the large barn of Dick Vandenberg on R. R. 6. Mr. Vandenberg was confined to his home by illness and little could be done to save the barn or contents when the flames were discovered. Some school boys assisted and let out the hogs, thus saving their lives, and the cattle happened to be in the pasture.

Among the things burned were 100 bushels of rye, a Ford car, five or six tons of hay, farm tools, auto trailer, a buggy, etc. The barn was insured.

WELL KNOWN G. H. WOMAN LEAVES AN ESTATE OF $75,000

The will of the late Mrs. Ella Lillie, wife of the late Attorney Walter I. Lillie of Grand Haven, has been filed by the executor, B. P. Sherwood, in probate court before Judge Danhof, and is one of the most interesting and largest filed there for some time.

The entire estate, including real and personal property, is listed at $75,000, of which $50,000 is personal and $25,000 real. In dividing her estate, Mrs. Lillie gave in minutest detail the exact distribution of her possessions and so the bequests that they will follow certain changes for many years, insuring her desires regarding the future of her several grandchildren.

The following bequests in money were made outright: $1,000 for saying "masses" for her soul and that of her late husband, Walter I. Lillie, by Fr. Hyland or any priest of the Grand Haven parish; $1,000 each for the following Catholic organizations, St. Patrick's school there and Little Sisters of the Poor and St. John's orphan asylum of Grand Rapids; $500 to her sister, Mary C. Cox; $100 each to the grandchild or any who may have been born after the making of the will.

Further bequests give Hugh Lillie, her youngest son and Grand Haven city attorney, 12 1/2 shares of Cooperative State Bank stock as recompense for lawyer services which he rendered during her lifetime.

The family home at the corner of Franklin and Second streets, Grand Haven, is left to her little grandson, Walter I. Lillie, whose full name is that of his grandfather. This may be occupied by the parents subject to payment of up keep, taxes and insurance by them or if sold is to be put into trust for his future education or business enterprise.

All promissory notes given previous to her death by Leo Lillie and Hugh Lillie, her Grand Haven sons, are to be cancelled. Added to this are a large number of bequests of personal property, such as jewelry, household furniture and clothes to her sister, children and grandchildren.

The residue of the estate is to be divided in trust in five equal parts of which Hugh Lillie of Grand Haven is to receive two-fifths, Leo Lillie, Dr. Harold Lillie and Dr. Ivan Lillie of Rochester, Minn., each one-fifth.

After the death of these sons the fund income is to be given to their children for their education or business. If the grandchildren die without issue their share is to go in equal shares to the St. Johns Orphan Asylum, Little Sisters of the Poor and Sisters of the Good Shepherd of Grand Rapids. In case Leo Lillie leaves no issue at his death his share goes to the above charities.

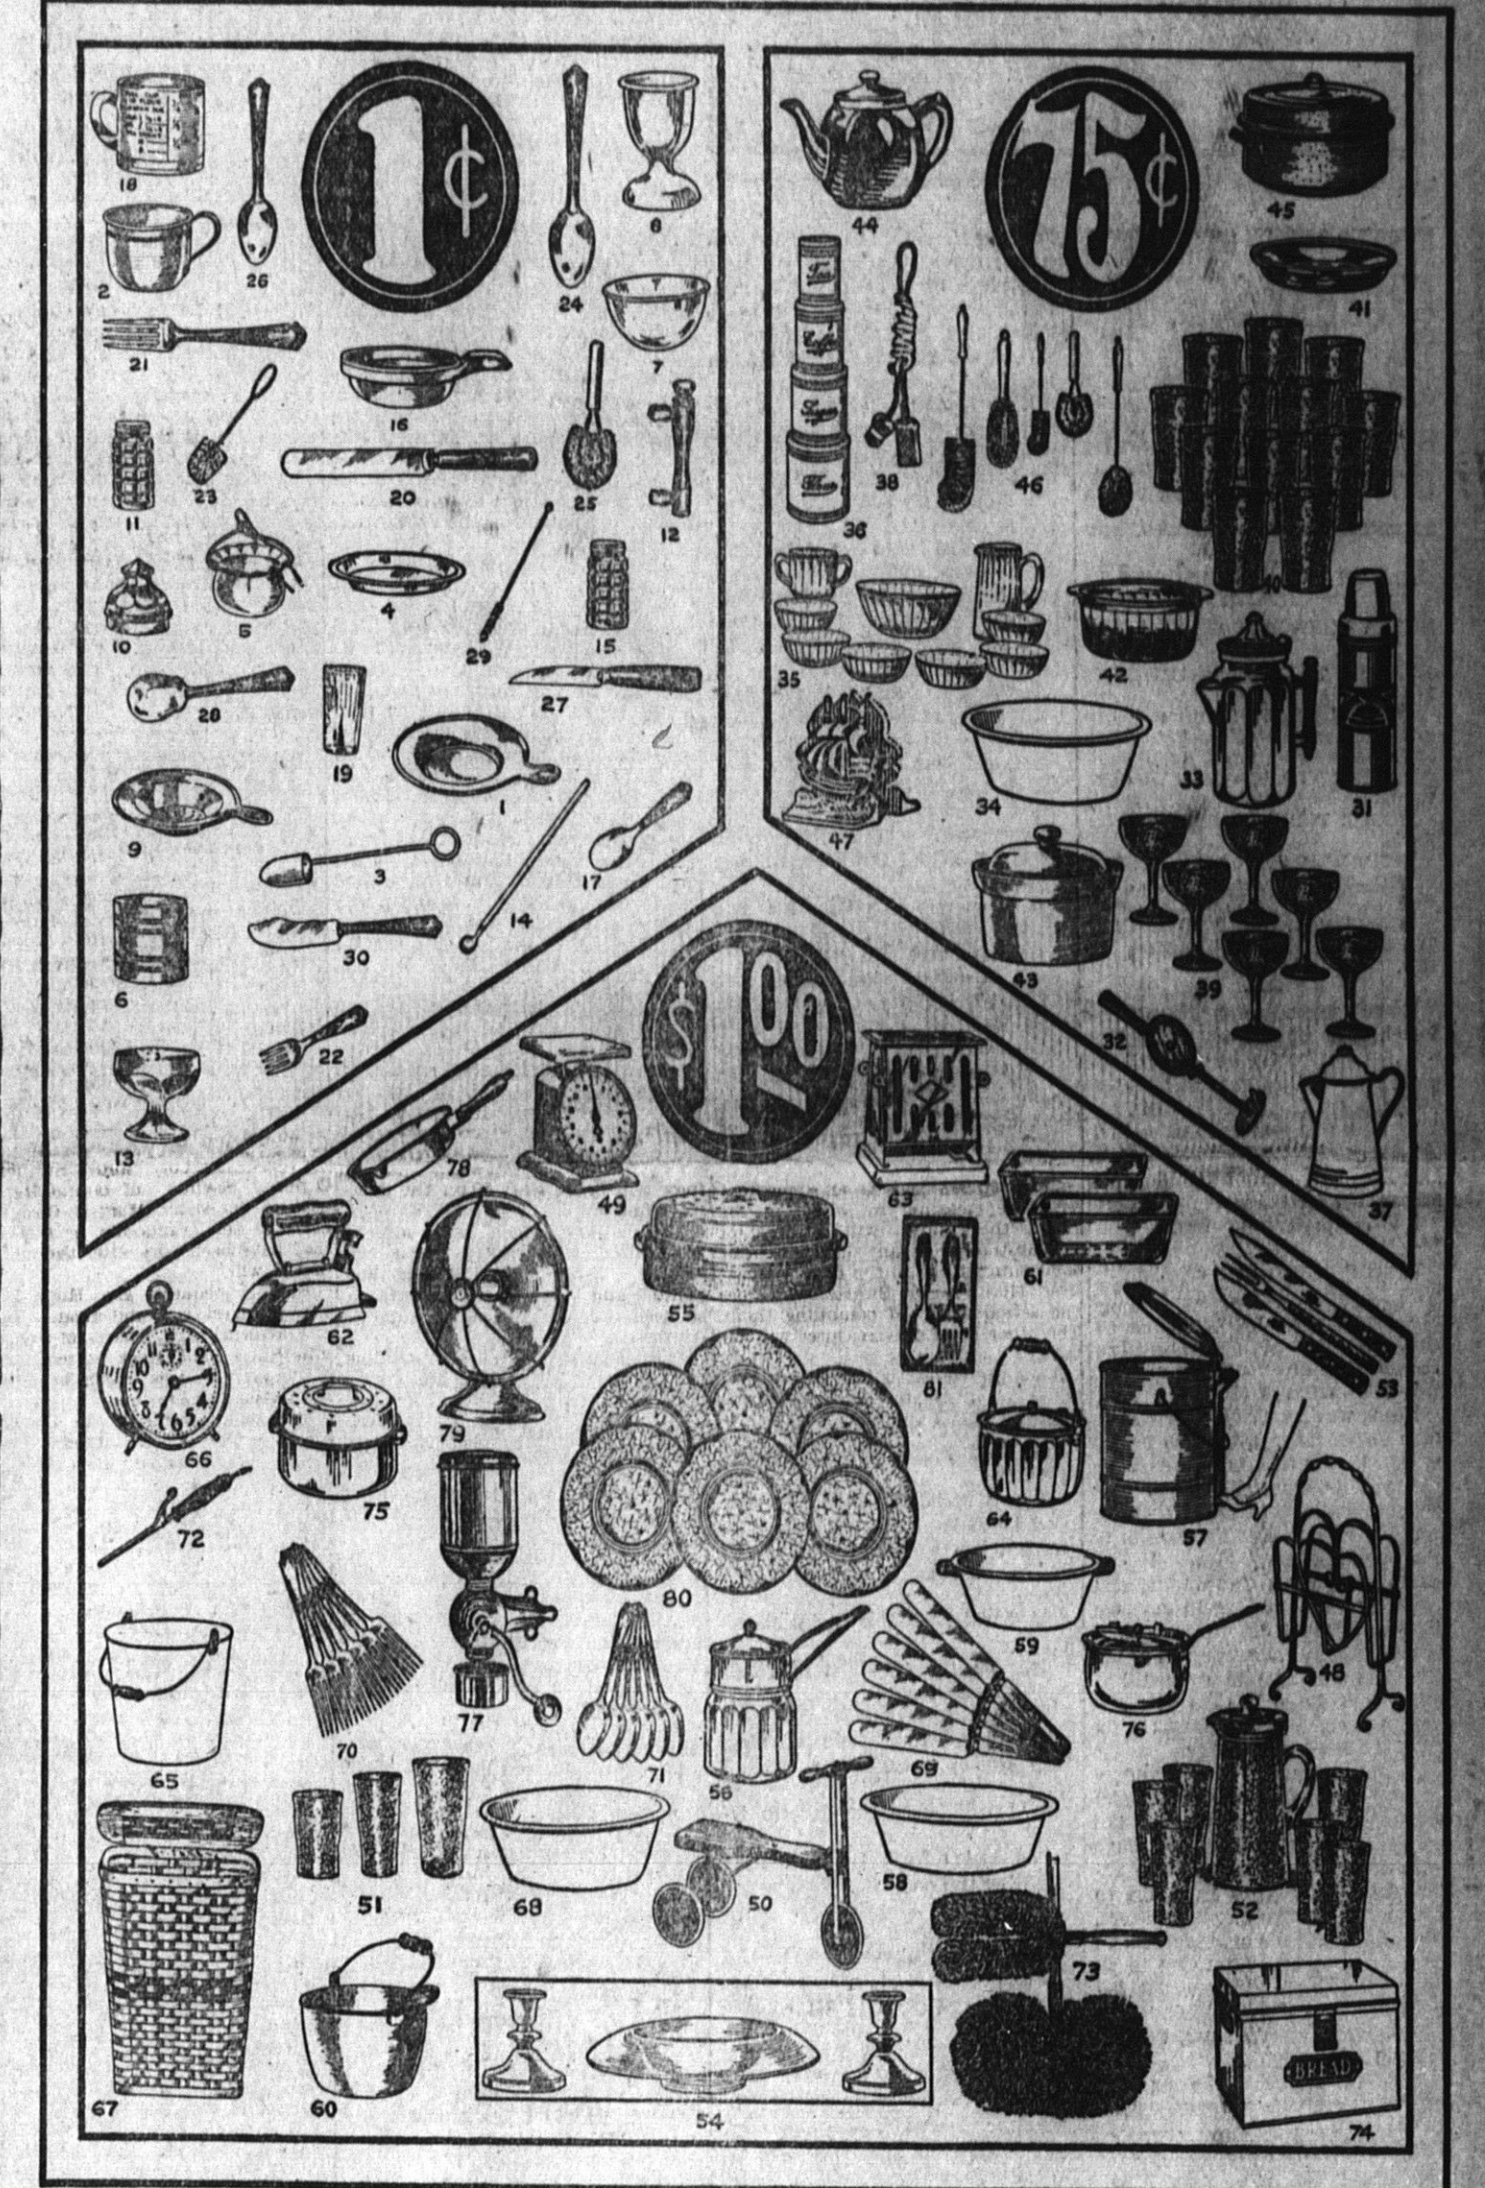

If during the life time of any one of her sons, they become incapacitated or unable to support or educate their children the trust fund may be used for the support and education of their families.

Fish Hatchery Site Authorized

Upon the agreement entered into with Henry Pierce as president of the Kalamazoo chapter of the Izaak Walton League, the state conservation committee Friday authorized purchase of a site at Wolf Lake, 10 miles west of Kalamazoo, for fish hatchery purposes. Upon the terms of the agreement made by Pierce, the chapter will be required to raise $5,000 of the purchase price.

The first show of the year came down in Holland, at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon.

SPEARING ABOLISHED UPON TROUT STREAMS

The spearing of any kinds of fish in Michigan trout rivers and streams was banned Thursday by the state conservation commission and an order to that effect will be given out by acting Director Hogarth.

The committee assigned to investigate the matter reported that in the opinion of 12 out of 19 conservation officers, public feeling was objectionable as it led to trout poaching.

Can't Work Hens Almost To Death and Expect Eggs

Let the chickens on the farm rough it and rustle for themselves and they will give little in return. This was demonstrated last year on a group of farms which kept cost records in operation with the United States department of agriculture.

On one farm the hens averaged 39 eggs each; on another with good care they laid 153 eggs each—nearly five times as many as where they got poor care. The income per hen was $1.77 on the former place and $6.77 on the latter.

WILL REVIEW NOVEL ABOUT PRES. LINCOLN

The Book Review club of the W. L. C. will meet Tuesday afternoon at the usual time and place. The meeting will be of unusual interest because of the fact that "Forever Free," by Honore Willaie Morrow, will be under discussion. This is a story in which Abraham Lincoln is the main character. Mrs. Morrow spent many years collecting material for the novel, bringing the story up to the signing of the Emancipation Proclamation, which act gives the title to the novel.

Miss Katherine Post will review the book. She has spent considerable time looking up the historical background of the story with a view of pointing out what is fact and what is fiction in the story. This is expected to make the review of more than ordinary interest.

HOSEA PREACHES GOD'S LOVE

LESSON TEXT—Hosea 11:1-4, 8, 9, 14-15.
GOLDEN TEXT—I desire mercy and not sacrifice and the knowledge of God more than burnt offerings.
PRIMARY TOPIC—God's Wonderful Love.
JUNIOR TOPIC—God's Wonderful Love.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—The Unchanging Love of God.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Loving-Kindness of God.

Hosea's message was primarily to Israel. The nation was outwardly prosperous, for its height of temporal glory was reached in the time of Jeroboam II. (See II Kings 14:29). With this prosperity came luxury, immorality and apostasy. Calf worship and Baal worship were substituted for the worship of God.

Israel's covenant relationship with Jehovah is presented under the figure of a marriage. Their spiritual whoredom is symbolized by the example of an unfaithful wife.

1. The marriage (1:1-2).
Hosea was commanded by God to take an unchaste woman to be his wife. While this was a strange act, yet it was right, for its motive was the elevation of the woman to the prophet's moral plane. It was designed to show God's wonderful condescension and love in entering into covenant relationship with a nation of such immorality. The nation had no more to commend it when God chose it than this unchaste woman when Hosea contracted marriage with her.

2. The unfaithful wife (ch. 2).
Notwithstanding the wonderful condescension on the part of the prophet in contracting marriage with this woman, Gomer, the unfaithful wife, departs from him to consort with her former base lovers. This shows Israel's base ingratitude in their departure from God to go after idols. Sore chastisement fell upon her for her unfaithfulness.

3. Illustration of Gomer, the unfaithful wife (ch. 3).
This illustrates God's undying

love for Israel. The motive governing the prophet's act was love. God's love for Israel is just as real. His grace will yet move Him to take back that nation to Himself.

II. God's Love for Israel (Hosea 11:1-4, 8, 9).
1. Its beginning (v. 1).
It began when Israel as a nation was in its childhood. God loved the nation even while in Egypt.

2. "Called my son out of Egypt" (v. 1).
God called Israel out of the bondage of Egypt and brought them into Canaan, the land of freedom—flowing with milk and honey. Such love and favor placed Israel under peculiar obligation to God.

3. "Taught Ephraim to go" (v. 3).
In spite of Israel's backsliding (v. 2), God is represented as teaching Israel how to walk, even as a father taking up his child in his arms. God watched over them as parents watch over their children by night, giving medicine, keeping warm, etc.

4. "I drew with cords of a man" (v. 4).
Observed that His drawing was not with a stout rope as used with an unruly heifer (ch. 10:11), but a cord such as a man could bear. God's wonderful love in Christ should constrain us to obey and serve Him.

5. "Took off the yoke from the jaws and placed food before them" (v. 4).
The figure is of a husbandman tilling the yoke from the oxen so that they could eat. Something similar is seen in modern times in the tenderer who takes the bit out of the horse's mouth before tying on the bag of oats.

6. Unwillingness to give them up (vv. 8, 9).
In spite of all Israel's sin, God was unwilling to destroy them.

III. God Pleads for Repentance (14:4-8).
Notwithstanding their awful sins, God urged Israel to turn unto Him. He is doing the same to backsliders today. He made promises unto them.

1. "I will heal their backslidings" (v. 4).
This on the condition of frank and full confession.

2. "I will love them freely" (v. 4).
This is characteristic of God. Only God can express unmerited love.

3. "I will be as the dew to Israel" (v. 5).
God will refresh the nation as dew does the parched grass.

4. Growth promised (v. 5).
5. Beauty assured (v. 6).
6. Pleasant fragrance (v. 7).

While this is a picture of the restored nation, something similar may be seen in the fragrant, fruitful lives of men and women who have sinned and come back to God.

HISTORY OF 20 YEARS REVIEWED AT H. O. H. MEET

Friday evening was a big night for the H. O. H. society. They met for the purpose of celebrating their 20th anniversary. The Woman's Literary Club room was filled to capacity and a number were turned away on account of no room. The meeting was called to order by Pres. Frank Brieve, Sr. and after a brief business session, at which 56 applicants were accepted, the meeting was turned over to the program committee. Mr. Alex Van Zanten and P. P. Koopman, who had a well prepared program.

Mr. P. P. Koopman made the opening remarks, briefly outlining the history of the H. O. H. In October, 1907, a group of men met to discuss the feasibility of organizing an H. O. H. society here in Holland. The late Mr. Uden Masman was temporary chairman. Ex-mayor Henry Brusse was chosen as president and C. Vandenberg as secretary. A committee was appointed to draw up a constitution, of which Mr. Wm. Lawrence was chairman. Ninety-two charter members appear on the record books, some of whom have died, some are still living and are still loyal to the society as 20 years ago. During this period of 20 years the disbursements for sick and disabled amounted to $32,976.00 and death benefits paid out to its beneficiaries amounted to $4,750.00.

From 92 members the number has soared to approximately 600, with a cash balance on hand, period ending Sept. 1927, $7,604.22. During past year $3,103.55 was paid out for sick and disability and $553.00 for death benefits.

Four presidents have served this society very faithfully. Henry Brusse served until his business called him away from home and Wm. Lawrence was elected as his successor. He served for a number of years and upon his resignation Fred Karstebek was elected. He served for 3 years and the present president, Mr. Frank Brieve, was then elected. He has the honor of having been a member of the board for more than 15 years. During this period he missed one regular and one board meeting.

The past presidents were called on for talks but due to their absence Alex Van Zanten responded for them. President Brieve also gave a talk, after which George Woltering spoke on how to get members. Mr. Woltering told how 50 new members had been added this month, making the total over 600. He asked what the membership would be 20 years hence. "If the H. O. H. is a good thing for us," he said, "for you, for me and for our families, why is it not a good thing for your friends and neighbors, for your brothers and sons? We are just in our infancy. There are a good many organizations in Holland that started years before the H. O. H. but they seem to be staying in a rut. We keep on growing."

Mr. Woltering suggested that the membership be increased to 1,000 and that the organization build a club house of its own.

Dick Boter was the final speaker on the program, giving a talk on the subject, "Carry On." He told of Lincoln's determination to carry on, a determination that led him from a log hut to the White House and to the first place in American history, of a character in a Hutchinson novel, "One Increasing Purpose," who on his return found no one could find his place in life but carried on, and finally found it in the inspiration of a test read to him from the Bible by a blind man; of an incident in the life of Russell Conwell that illustrated the same principle, "Carry On."

Mr. Boter spoke of the power of appreciation and he referred to the fine work done by the past presidents, Mr. Brusse, Mr. Lawrence, and Mr. Karstebek, as well as of the work of the president of today, Mr. Brieve. He spoke of the power of unanimity and called on the members to cease seeking their own interests, set jealousies aside in order that the organization may be able to carry on. He illustrated his ideas with incidents from the lives of Lincoln and Phillips Brooks.

In the course of the program, a number of musical selections were given by the Hanson boys, 'Charlie & Chris,' and readings by Miss Kasten and Miss Stultz. The Colonial orchestra furnished music. Miss Metz and Mrs. Brooks gave a very interesting sketch.

At 10:30 the meeting closed and all confessed they had a good time.

DREAM PLAY TO BE GIVEN NOVEMBER 15

We are all interested in dreams, and "A Message from Mars," which will be presented here Tuesday evening, Nov. 15, on the college lyceum course, is a dream play.

Horace Parker, the central figure of the play, is a type of selfish egotism. Annoyed by domestic and social conditions, he seeks comfort in pursuing a favorite study, astronomy, with special reference to the probability of the habitation of Mars. He falls asleep over the subject and has a most vivid dream. He awakes to find several real experiences like those of his dream. Changed in mind and in heart, he wins back his family's love, as well as the approval and respect of his friends.

"A Message from Mars" is a human story, filled with thrills and breathless suspense. It will be presented here by a fine cast of New York actors.

Tickets on sale at Hutzenga's Jewelry store.

TO TELL ABOUT THREE R'S OF HOMEMAKING

Burnham, of Newtonville, Mass., chairman of the division of homemaking of the women's federation, is to lecture to the club on "The Three R's of Homemaking," which she interprets as religion, rhythm and risibility.

Mrs. Burnham is a woman of national reputation and is credited with rendering a great service in the development of the American home.

The musical number on the program is in charge of Mrs. Harmon Den Herder and will be vocal selections by a quartet from Zeeland.

Pair Adopted Boys Found Near Nunica

Leon Mc Clone, 13 years old, and Arthur Bullard, 14 years old, from Shelby, were picked up by city officers near Nunica Wednesday night. They claimed to have been adopted by Leo Johnson from the Coldwater Orphan Asylum but were unhappy there and were trying to get back to the asylum.

The trust officer at Shelby was notified and the boys were taken to the county jail where they were warmed and fed. They were poorly dressed and generally miserable. They are held until the Oceana county officials come.

CHEST CLINICS TO BE HELD EACH MONTH

Chest clinics, which have been held every other month, will be held every month from now on. Instead of a whole day clinic every other month there will be half day clinics every month. The first Thursday of each month. This was decided by a representative of the state department of health in conference with Mrs. Geo. Alberts, chairman of the civic health committee of the W. L. C., and Dr. Wm. Vis, of the local clinic. In this way it is thought better attention can be given to return patients by giving them more frequent examinations.

Thursday there were 24 patients. Of these, 13 were return cases and 11 new ones. Of the latter, one was diagnosed as an arrested case, one heart lesion, two infected tonsil cases, one bronchitis, one bronchitis, and in the case of two diagnosis was deferred.

TREATMENT OF T. B. TAUGHT TO NURSES

Grand Rapids is the first city in Michigan to arrange for training of hospital nurses in the care of tuberculosis patients, according to Dr. Eugene N. Nesbitt, medical director of Sunshine sanatorium, a municipal institution.

The director will be assisted by Miss Alice Hall, supervisor of the city health clinic, and a part of the course of lectures by Dr. Nesbitt, beginning January 1.

Such affiliation for their student nurses was recently requested by the Michigan Memorial and St. Mary's hospitals and as a result meeting of the Michigan board of registration of nurses recognized Sunshine sanatorium as suitable for conducting an affiliated service in tuberculosis for student nurses. This affiliation will be for two months for the nurses and the work will apply on their medical service.

The new course will be elective to seniors in the training schools. Many of the students have expressed a desire to take advantage of the opportunity.

WILL FIGHT FOR CERTIFIED CHICK IN THIS STATE

A showdown in the three-year controversy over the certification and accreditation of baby chicks in the United States is expected at the national conference in Chicago Nov. 30. Dr. L. E. Heasley, formerly of Holland now of Grand Rapids, president of the Michigan Poultry Improvement association, feels this week in announcing Michigan would be represented.

The conference has been called by the United States department of agriculture, which was urged at the convention of the International Baby Chick association in Grand Rapids last July to take over supervision of accreditation work and promulgate uniform rules and regulations for the baby chick industry.

In petitioning for a national uniform plan of accreditation last July the poultry breeding industry of the nation made a determined effort to bring harmony out of the confusion which now exists because of the differences in the rules and regulations applied to certification and accreditation of flocks in the various states.

The so-called national uniform plan in most favor was drafted three years ago at a conference in Manhattan, Kan., and it since has been in use in Michigan and a number of other states. Several states, however, are operating on slightly different plans.

Under present conditions when a prospective purchaser of hatching eggs, baby chicks or breeding stock comes across the word "accredited" or "certified" in connection with the advertised flock, does not know just what factors were taken into consideration to certify or credit these flocks, unless he is familiar with the regulations governing such accreditation.

The difference in methods, plans and rules governing the accreditation and certification of poultry in the different states is said to be retarding the progressive development of the industry and in unfairly shielding some breeders whose flocks are certified under less stringent rules than others.

At present there are 22 states which have adopted regulations for certification and accreditation of flocks. The difference existing between these regulations in these states is seen in the case of baby chicks. In one state the chicks are sold by grade based on the production of the parents; in another case two grades of chicks are offered, one grade being from accredited flocks that are not tested for bacillary white diarrhea, and the other grade from flocks that have been tested and are found free from the disease.

The United States department of agriculture has made a survey of the situation and is of the opinion that if the states can get together to discuss these differences much can be done to stabilize the poultry breeding industry.

Blaze Threatens G. R. Store Equipment Co.

A blaze on the third floor of the Grand Rapids Store Equipment company at Jefferson avenue and College Grove street, SE., late last night, resulted in water damage of approximately $2,000 to finished furniture, according to an estimate made by officials of the company.

The fire was caused by a short circuit in a motor used to run a drying machine on the floor. Apparatus from No. 1 and other engine houses brought the blaze quickly under control and kept the water damage at a minimum.

The Ottawa county medical society will hold its regular monthly meeting and luncheon at the Grand Haven M. E. church on Tuesday noon. The program is in charge of Dr. A. E. Stickley and Dr. M. Coburn, of Coopersville, who have obtained Dr. Brotherhood of Grand Rapids, to read a paper on "The Spinal Fluid in Health and Disease," a very interesting subject, and one which can be very capably treated by Dr. Brotherhood. Many of the local physicians are planning on motoring to the county capital for this meeting.

A merry contest is on between the blues and the reds as to attendance at the Woman's Christian Temperance Union and getting new members. The attendance was large on Friday to hear the junior members give their Armistice day program. An exercise on how to secure permanent peace was given by seven girls.

The thought was that we must think peace, must write peace in prose and verse, must use League of Nations, judicial tribunals, organizations, and that is up to the youth to solve world peace.

Mrs. A. Pieters gave a partial report on the state convention recently held in Battle Creek, which was of special interest.

The next meeting will be an evening affair. Mr. Meyer and committee served refreshments.

Mrs. Arie Weller of East 23rd st., gave a surprise farewell party in honor of Mrs. Jacob Weller, who will leave for a three months' visit to the Netherlands next month. A dainty luncheon was served and Mrs. Weller was presented with many beautiful gifts. Those present were: Mrs. B. H. Weller, Mrs. P. A. Weller, Mrs. K. Van Weller, Mrs. K. Burman, Mrs. J. Weller, Mrs. H. Van Meurs, Mrs. W. Kuisenga, Mrs. H. Van Meurs, Mrs. G. Lucas, Mrs. A. Bruggeman, Mrs. G. Bonthuis, Mrs. H. Woudstra, Mrs. A. Burman and Mrs. J. Weller.

NEW SCOUT HANDBOOK IS NEXT IN SALE TO THE BIBLE

With an attractive cover designed by Norman Rockwell, the new Handbook for Boys, widest read and best known boys book, will be issued shortly after November 1, by the Boy Scouts of America.

More than three million copies of the former handbook were sold and it ran into 37 editions. It is estimated that more than 5,000,000 boys read its contents. The first editions of the new Handbook for Boys will be 100,000 copies with 636 pages as compared with the 192 pages which appeared in the first edition of the first handbook which was issued soon after the organization of scouting in the United States in 1910.

William D. Murry, a member of the executive board of the Boy Scouts of America and chairman of the editorial board in charge of publications, reported recently that the Handbook for Boys is the most widely read boys' book in America and is exceeded in sales only by the Bible.

The new Handbook for Boys is the most complete handbook of scoutcraft published in the world. It contains chapters on things that boys want to know, by men of international prominence. Some of the notable contributors of significant value to the new handbook are: Dan Beard, national scout commissioner, Colonel H. Livingston, former president Boy Scouts of America, James E. West, chief scout executive; Dr. Geo. J. Fischer, deputy scout executive; Dr. Walter Hough, of the Smithsonian Institution; Capt. W. S. Rumbough of the U. S. Signal Corps; Fielding H. Yost, director inter-collegiate athletics, university of Michigan; Dr. A. H. Hadley, national association of audubon societies; Ralph Hubbard, expert of Indian lore; Commodore E. Longfellow, of the Red Cross; Dr. L. O. Howard, chief of the United States bureau of entomology; Dr. W. E. Nelson, chief biological survey, U. S. department of agriculture, and many others.

The cover design by Norman Rockwell shows the picture of an idealized boy scout in the foreground. More dimly, in the background, are the faces of famous pioneers, Daniel Boone, George Washington, Benjamin Franklin, Abraham Lincoln, Theodore Roosevelt, and the newest pioneer of them all, Lindbergh.

The new handbook embraces a wide range of information. The articles cover many phases of the activities of boy scouts, with particular reference to the character building and citizenship training program of the movement. Much of the material in the former handbook, time tested and proved, has been covered in new articles and new treatments of old subjects. Boy Scouts now have 76 merit badge subjects as the basis of achievement and the new handbook takes up each of these in turn. With the special handbooks for the several merit badge subjects, the manual of sea scouting, and the publications for farm, rural and lone scouts, and for farm, rural and lone scouts, the Boy Scouts of America has set up a considerable literature for boys.

SEA SCOUTS OF HOLLAND ARE PROMOTED

Sixteen members of the seascout ship No. 18 of Holland have been advanced to the grade of ordinary seascouts. They are as follows: Harold Poome, Herman Damson, M. Galentine, Kenneth Gustafson, Edwin Heringa, Thure Rossm, B. Schurman, Chester C. Shagway, Leslie Silkers, Calvin Strong, L. Woltman, Simon Wabake, Richard Van Eyck, F. Van Duren, Fred Van Slooten, Earl Van De Water. This is the largest number of scouts from one troop that have ever been advanced by the Ottawa county council during any one month. It represents a lot of persistent effort and carefully planned activities on the part of the seascouts and their leaders throughout the past year and especially during this last summer when the activities of the local seascouts might be classed among the most outstanding in the nation. When the next classification of seascout ships is made it is considered a certainty that ship 18 will rank among the three highest rated seascout ships in the nation.

Other advancements and awards made during the past month are as follows: Bronze Eagle Palm, Forrest T. Bailey, Seascouts Troop 1, Grand Haven; Second Class Scouts: Robert Winter, Troop 9, Donald Albers and LaVern Scheerhorn of Troop 12, Holland; Merit Badges: F. J. Geisler, Scout Ex. cycling; Kenneth Gross, Troop 1, swimming; William A. Vester, Scoutmaster, Troop 1, Oliver; Victor J. Williams, Troop 1, Grand Haven; Swimming; Forrest C. Bailey, Scoutmaster, Troop 5, Grand Haven; Hiking; Leland K. Beach, Troop 9, Bugling; Leslie Silkers, Ship 18, Swimming and Life Saving; Earl Van De Water, Ship 18, Holland; Swimming; Patrol Leaders, Fred Bell and Egbert Bauman, Troop 2, West Olive.

LOCAL MEN RIDE IN NEW FORD CAR

Al De Weerd and John Kole, of the Hollman-DeWeerd Auto Co., agents for Ford cars and trucks, and in fact everything built by this Detroit manufacturer, returned from Dearborn where they were privileged to take a ride in the new much-talked-of Ford car that is to be placed upon the market very shortly.

Mr. DeWeerd says the wait for the new Ford will soon be over. The company is simply organizing for mass production. He says the car is more than he had expected, "a peach of an outfit." The demonstration given Mr. De Weerd and Mr. Kole was on the Dearborn proving course.

That is not the only thrill the local men have had. They were invited to take a ride in a Ford aeroplane and they saw Detroit from an elevation of 1000 feet. The Holland men stated that this was a wonderful experience. One scarcely knew when the plane left the ground or came back to earth, they say.

Preparations for the annual trek of Allegan county deer hunters to the northern wilds was begun Friday with the receipt of deer hunting licenses at the county clerk's office. Gilbert Robyler, of Otsego, and Stephen Case, of Plainwell, were the first to secure their 1927 licenses.

According to indications more than 200 licenses will be issued.

Spinal Meningitis Strikes Youth In Monterey Township

Emile Kramer, age 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kramer, of Monterey township, Allegan county, died Thursday afternoon. He was stricken with spinal meningitis while attending Allegan high school eight days ago. Private burial services were conducted Friday morning in the Monterey cemetery.

FINDS HUMAN JAW IN WATER AT MACATAWA

Captain Tofts, keeper of the Macatawa coast guard station, made a gruesome find Friday morning while on a patrol. The captain was patrolling the shore about a mile and a half north of the station, near Strait's Point, when he discovered a piece of human jaw in the water. It was partly imbedded in the sand and was being washed ashore by the waves. It was a part of an upper jaw and contained four teeth, two of them with silver fillings. The jaw is now at the coast guard station. No theory has been advanced as to the identity of the person or how the piece of jaw happened to be on that shore.

MACATAWA HAS TO GIVE STREETS TO THE PUBLIC

Streets must be dedicated to the public before Macatawa park can come under the act passed by the legislature authorizing special assessments for village fire protection. W. W. Potter, attorney general, ruled. An opinion was requested by Clarence A. Lokker, prosecutor of Ottawa county.

Macatawa park is now privately owned and assessments could not be made for apparatus to be used and located solely on private property, the attorney general held.

This ruling throws a new light on the situation at Macatawa. The highway under the charter dating back at least 50 years belong to the association as do the walks. Outside merchants are barred from peddling or delivering in order to give the concessionists a chance, for it is from these that the association derives considerable of its revenue.

An attempt has often been made to run a highway through to the life saving station on the Black Lake side of the resort, but this has never been successful. Within the past two years Park township attempted to do this but it has failed thus far.

It seems, however, that if Macatawa wants fire protection, it must be incorporated as such under the laws of the state of Michigan.

No doubt the resort company will either have to do that or devise some other method for better protection.

OTTAWA COUNTY CITIZEN IS SUED BY AGED LADY

That she lost all of her property, both personal and real, to the son through fraud on his part is the claim made by Mrs. Emma E. Moore, of Charlotte, in her suit filed in circuit court against Benjamin F. Moore of Nunica, Ottawa county.

Mrs. Moore, who is 82 years old, desired to be relieved of the management of her property affairs, and she agreed to do this, having her own several instruments which conveyed to him his mother's home there, except a life interest, a mortgage and various notes and stocks. She was to have her support and all expenses from the property, the balance remaining after her death to be converted into cash and divided among her children.

Although assured by her son that all of her personal property had been transferred, Mrs. Moore claims she found that $250 worth of Liberty bonds and $1000 in cash in a Nunica bank had not been listed, but when she signed the papers they were taken over by the son, who now refuses to account for them.

Further, it is charged that the defendant refused to give the plaintiff any money for her support when requested, and not even $1 consideration she was supposed to receive when she transferred her home to him. She stated she did not know until recently that she had transferred her property out of her control.

SIXTH EGG CONTEST IS ON AT M. S. C.

With nearly 1200 hens shipped in from every section of the country competing, the sixth annual egg-laying contest conducted by Michigan State college opened at East Lansing last week.

One thousand of the hens, Leghorns, Bred Rocks, Rhode Island Reds and Anconas, will participate in the contest throughout the year. The remaining 200 are "spares" to replace those which fall by the wayside.

Efforts will be made to equal the record of the fifth annual contest, which has just closed at East Lansing, with an average production for 51 weeks, of 194.02, as compared with 192.8 for the preceding year. 176.57 for 1925; 163.06 for 1924; and 157.4 for the first year of the contests, 1923.

The victory this year is noteworthy, in view of the fact that a rule regarding egg size and weight, disqualified large numbers of eggs. The total on the same basis of comparison would have been much larger.

Michigan white leghorns for the fifth year captured first honors. The hens entered by Harry Burns, Millington, won the contest with a score of 2,852, in spite of the handicap of 150 eggs which were subtracted because they failed to come up to weight requirements. Second were leghorns from Marshall Farms, at Mobile, Ala.

The IXL Machine shop has installed a 200 ton hydraulic press and is now equipped to handle all kinds of heavy press work, including truck tire installing.

FORMER HOLLAND BUSINESS MAN DIES IN RACINE

Girard Kanter, formerly for many years one of Holland's prominent business men, died Wednesday evening at his home in Racine, Wis., after an illness of about a year. He had been in poor health for quite a while, which finally developed into Bright's disease and heart trouble.

Mr. Kanter was the son of the late Rokus Kanter, one of the pioneers of this community and closely identified with the early business history of Holland. Mr. Kanter, Sr. erected the Kanter block on Eighth street, that Girard Kanter occupied for many years with a hardware store. Girard Kanter went into business in 1883 when he purchased the hardware business of Mr. Van Landeged and conducted a hardware business in the building now occupied by the Federal Bakery, under the firm name of Kanter Brothers. Later the business was moved to the Kanter building across the street and the firm name became Kanter & Standard. The firm went out of business about twenty years ago, both Mr. Kanter and Mr. Standard going into business in other places. Mr. Kanter went to the Pacific coast and was engaged for some years in the business and reclamation service there. About sixteen years ago he moved to Racine, Wis., and since that time he has been secretary of the Manufacturers' association of Racine.

The deceased is survived by his wife and one adopted daughter, Mrs. Gilbert Jackson; also by three brothers, A. M. Kanter, of Casa Grande, Arizona; R. A. Kanter, of Kalamazoo, and John D. Kanter, of Holland. Mr. Kanter was prominent in Masonic circles both in Holland, while a resident here, and later in Seattle and Racine. The funeral was under the auspices of the Masonic order here.

TWO MORE OF COUNTY'S SCHOOLS ARE INSPECTED

The Beaverdam school was inspected on Wednesday and the South Blenden school on Thursday by Mrs. Meyer, the local county nurse who is working in the county with Miss Lemmer.

Both schools have two rooms, are light and airy, and are furnace heated. South Blenden is a more modern building, attractive and nicely finished. Both lack proper washing facilities. Beaverdam, with its 72 children, has one wash basin and paper towels, and a rusty, much-used drinking cup hanging on the pump. South Blenden, with 83 pupils, even lacks a wash basin, but, nearly all the children bring their individual drinking cups from home in their lunch pail. Mrs. Meyer showed the teachers in each school how to make the folded paper cups, so that the children could easily make their own from tablet paper whenever needed.

In the Beaverdam school of 72 pupils, 38 had decayed teeth, 11 tonsils were diseased or enlarged, 6 were mouth breathers, 13 had poor vision or eye strain, there were 10 croupers, 10% or more underweight, 10 were in good condition, 8 had no tooth brushes. The teachers are Mr. L. Olgers, and Miss M. Achteroff. Several mothers and fathers were present to hear the health talk at the close of the inspection.

The South Blenden school, with 83 pupils, showed 27 with decayed teeth, 18 bad tonsils, 8 mouth breathers, 10 with defective vision or eye strain, 10 ten percent or more underweight, 5 in good condition, 7 had no tooth brushes. Mr. Leo Eby and Miss Florence Ten Have are the teachers there.

In each school the teachers do good work in helping the children to remember to clean their teeth and keep their windows open. Their health program will be broadened and kept more vigorous after this.

STATE DENTIST TOURS SCHOOLS OF OTTAWA

Dr. William R. Evans from the bureau of preventative dentistry will address the county teachers at meetings through the rural districts and in Zeeland & Coopersville, Nov. 14-16. Dr. Williams will be assisted in these meetings by Mrs. Marjorie H. Meyer and Miss Lemmer, the county nurse. Inspections will be made in rural confined to rural and village communities.

Dr. Davis will address the Community Club in G. H., Monday Nov. 14. He gave an address at the state dental convention held recently in Detroit.

Truck Farmers Make Money On Hudsonville Onions

Truck farmers in Georgetown township are not complaining about hard times. During October 175 cars of fine onions and 35 cars of celery were shipped from Hudsonville. The onion crop was fine and only 40 per cent of the crop has been marketed. Many carloads of celery were shipped by truck to different cold storage and to the Chicago boats. The celery crop is fine. More than 70 per cent of the celery crop remains to be shipped and prices are fairly good.

STAR OF BETHLEHEM TO BACK ROLL CALL

The Star of Bethlehem chapter, at its regular meeting Thursday night unanimously adopted a resolution to back the Red Cross in its coming roll call in Holland. The resolution pledged the organization to do all in its power to help the various committees of the Red Cross to secure the quota for Holland. Mrs. Cora Hoffman is president and Mrs. Luella White secretary of the chapter.

Standard rings for Holland high school junior classmen for three years in succession is an accomplishment of the student council this year. The juniors met on Tuesday night to have their fingers measured and the Gen. H. Hutzenga Company are sending for the jewelry. Sophomores thought they might order rings and look like upper classmen, but their faces became woebegone when the principals announced that they were too young to wear the high school badge—Maroon and Orange.

Four Allegan Men Pay Heavy For Being Drunk

Arthur McGarry, of Allegan, was arrested at Otsego on a charge of operating his automobile while intoxicated. He demanded an examination, to be held later. In default of $300 bail he is in jail. Frank McGarry, Tola Crosby and Ardit VanOrder, also in Allegan were arraigned in Justice William P. Jones' court at Otsego on intoxication charges. Each paid a fine of $10 and $5.25 costs.

GRAND HAVEN YOUTH FACES THEFT CASE

The Grand Haven police recovered a quantity of salt and pepper shakers belonging to Evert Pruim of the Pruim Music Store which were delivered by the Vyn Trucking Co., and left at the back entry of the store on Monday. They were found in possession of George Maddix, 14 years old, living on Woodlawn avenue, Grand Haven.

Two boxes were taken, containing 14 pairs of Japanese shakers. Maddix had given one of the boxes to a neighbor, Edward Fisher. Maddix claimed he found them near the Central School but Fisher declared Maddix had told him he took them from the rear of the store after they had been delivered. This corroborated the story of the truck driver, who claims he never had the goods on the above named street.

The boy will be taken before the judge of probate, James Danhof, this week.

COUPLE RETURN FROM THEIR WEDDING TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald J. Bosch have returned to Holland from their wedding trip and are temporarily located at the Warm Friend Tavern, before occupying their home, "Manitou Lodge," on the Lake Shore drive. The marriage took place Oct. 27 at New York. The New York Herald-Tribune carried the following story about the wedding:

"Miss Gertrude Sorenson of Douglas Manor, N. Y., daughter of Mrs. Charlotte E. Sorenson and the late Charles M. Sorenson, president and founder of the C. M. Sorenson Co., Inc., Long Island City, N. Y., was married to Gerald J. Bosch, Holland, Mich., Thursday evening, Oct. 27 at 7 o'clock at Hotel Astor.

"The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. A. Northacker, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of New-Town, Elmhurst, N. Y.

"The bride was gown in white satin and lace, period style, with veil of mesh point and point applique, carrying a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and orchids. The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. George L. Sorenson.

"The bride was attended by Miss Colombe Bosch of Grand Rapids, Mich., sister of the groom, as maid of honor, carrying Mrs. Coolidge roses. The bridesmaids were Naomi Bowman and Elizabeth Boyce of Douglas Manor, N. Y., gown in orchid satin, slippers to match, carrying Madam Butterfly roses, and Emily Cadoo of Douglas Manor, and Charlotte Sorenson, sister of the bride, gown in green satin, slippers to match, carrying Mrs. Coolidge roses.

"The bridegroom was attended by Randall Bosch of Cambridge, Mass., brother of the groom. The ushers were Charles Sorenson, brother of the bride, Frank Pond, Jr., cousin of the bride, Richard Mallory of Peeskill, N. Y., and Gerrit Westlink of Cambridge, Mass.

"The flower girl was Margaret Wheeler of Douglas Manor, dressed in peach colored satin, slippers to match.

"Mrs. Louise Dalzell, soloist sang: 'Oh Promise Me,' and 'I Love You Truly,' at the altar.

"The ceremony was held in the east ballroom. A reception followed immediately after the ceremony under a bower of roses and a dinner for 200 guests was served in the north ballroom, after which the party returned to the east ballroom to continue the dancing.

"Mr. and Mrs. Frank N. Pond were master and mistress of ceremonies.

"The couple left immediately after the dinner and dance for an extended trip and will be home after Nov. 10, at Manitou lodge, Holland, Mich.

"Mr. and Mrs. Nicodemus Bosch of Holland, Mich., father and mother of the groom, were among the out-of-town guests."

DESPISED PEAR PROVES GOOD FOR MARKET

Orchardists have heeded the advice of Michigan canners and are sparing the Kieffer near trees. William McSwing of South Haven, former president of the Michigan Canners association, reported this week.

The Kieffer orchards no longer are being neglected. Growers are giving them as good care as the Bartlett's. They have begun to look upon the variety as an asset instead of a liability and chiefly because of the outlet which the canners have found for the fruit in tins.

Michigan Fruit Canners, Inc., operating three large factories, at Pennville, South Haven and Benton Harbor, is packing approximately 150,000 cases of Kieffer pears this fall. Its warehouses and storage plants are filled to capacity with the fruit, which is ripened slowly as supplies are needed for processing. The company has paid growers $1.25 a hundredweight for the fruit. Before the growers sometimes had difficulty making sales at 25 to 50 cents a bushel.

Installation of cold storage and ripening rooms in the canneries has solved the Kieffer pear problem. By properly ripening the Kieffers before processing a pear almost equal to the Bartlett in quality is obtained.

Miss Betty De Fouw was the guest of honor at a miscellaneous shower Thursday evening, and she received many beautiful gifts from her friends. The guests were entertained by Mrs. Henry Oonk and Miss Estella Mohl, at the latter's home on College avenue. Miss De Fouw will be a November bride.

SECRETARY OF THE COMMUNITY FAIR IS NOT ELECTED

Despite the disagreeable weather of Friday evening at least fifty members of the Holland community fair association came out to take part in the annual meeting held at the city hall.

Secretary Arendshorst officially handed in his resignation, feeling that eleven years of community service in this respect was enough.

No action was taken to name a new secretary since under the constitution and by-laws the executive board now has the authority to name a secretary or to discharge him at will should he fail to fill the bill. Those at the meeting felt however that the Holland fair must not lose the splendid services of Mr. Arendshorst altogether and he was unanimously elected a director of the local exhibition.

The re-election of Austin Harrington, of Holland, as president was unanimous, as was the re-election of M. C. Verhage, of Zeeland, as vice president and Benj. Brower, of Holland, as treasurer.

A motion was then made to appoint a nominating committee of three to select 10 new directors whom the committee considered well qualified to serve on the board.

The committee appointed by President Harrington were M. C. Verhage, of Zeeland, Abel Postma and Andrew Klompers, of Holland.

The men retired and after due deliberation brought in a report that the directors whose terms of office had expired were able men and deserved to be returned as directors. The following men were then given the entire vote by those present at the annual meeting: James Nibbelink, of Holland, Mich.; G. J. Deur, of Holland, Mich.; F. F. D. P. Boonstra, of Zeeland, Mich.; J. J. Nuyenhuis, R. F. D. No. 4, Hudsonville, Mich.; Henry Harrison, of Holland, Mich.; R. F. D.; Benjamin Brower, of Holland, Mich.; Ted Moordyk, of Zeeland, Mich.; Wm. C. Vandenberg, of Holland, Mich.; Gerit Du Mez, of Holland, R. F. D.; George

MORE ALLEGAN LIQUOR VIOLATORS ROUNDED UP

Frank Davis, arrested at Martin, Allegan County, Sunday night, on a charge of transporting liquor, was arraigned before Justice Pius D. Plan Monday afternoon. He demanded an examination which was set for Monday of next week. Bail was placed at $1,200, in default of which he was remanded to jail. Davis has a wife and six children at St. Joseph, Mo. He is on his way to Allegan. Davis told Sheriff Benj. Lutgen, another man was with him, but that he got away. He claimed to be driving the car for this man.

Postal Clerks To Celebrate 25th Anniversary

The Holland postoffice force is to honor Clarence Fairbanks and Anthony Roach, two men who have served Uncle Sam in the Holland office for a quarter of a century. Mr. Roach is the oldest rural letter carrier and Mr. Fairbanks holds the position of mailing clerk. Mr. Roach has been in the service practically all the time since free delivery was established in 1901.

The anniversary falls due on Wednesday, November 10, and a committee is in charge to properly observe the event with a spread at the Warm Friend Tavern where the entire Holland postal force will gather.

Cable, of Holland, Michigan. Secretary Arendshorst sometime ago asked that an auditing committee be named to go over the books of the fair. The committee appointed were Ted Moordyk and Martin Verhage, of Zeeland, and Abel Postma of Holland. These men state that they have gone over all the books and financial matters as these relate to the Holland fair and find everything in fine shape and correct in every detail.

The annual report as compiled by the secretary shows that the Community fair is in excellent shape financially. A complete report is found below:

LAUGH AND LOVE—LECTURE COURSE DRAMA MESSAGE

Scene from "A Message from Mars" of a messenger. Parker awakes and finds many earthly experiences similar to those in his dream. Change of mind and heart is the result and the dreamer wins back the love and respect of family and friends. So complete is his change that former selfishness is displaced by liberality; love blots out hate and a positive personality blossoms in a previously negative individual. These appealing features will help to make a satisfied patronage at the next lecture course number.

Tickets for the performance may be obtained at the Hutzings Jewelry Store. Single admissions will sell for one dollar and one dollar and a half. Bargain seekers will be tempted by the announcement that season tickets for the remainder of the course may still be had at three dollars and two and one half dollars.

"A Message from Mars" is the type of play that appeals to the imagination of every auditor. But strangely enough this attractive quality is blended with a touch of true humaneness. In short it is—human, forceful, mysterious and entertaining. Horace Parker, central figure in the play, receives a revelation, during a dream, that life exists on the neighboring planet, Mars. The revelation comes thru the almost uncanny appearance

TELES OF CITY H.S. GOVERNMENT IN A MAGAZINE

The November issue of the Michigan Education Journal, published at Lansing, contains an interesting article by Principal J. J. Riemersma of Holland high school, on "Student Participation in Government." The article covers nearly four pages of the magazine and in it Mr. Riemersma describes the workings of the student government system in the Holland school. After stating the causes of failure or success of student government in other places, he points to the signal success of the system here. "For the past 13 years," the article continues, "under three successive principals the students in the Holland high school have conducted an organization of pupil participation in government with marked success."

In 1913, under the direction of a very able principal, the Holland high school students, there was drafted the "Constitution of the Holland High School Association of Government." This was later adopted by a popular vote of the student body. The constitution modeled after the usual "mayor-council" type of city government. It provides for the organization of the school into a city, and the city in turn into wards. The wards are based on the seating arrangement of the assembly room, and constitute the voting unit of the school city. The constitution provides for a mayor, clerk, treasurer, and chief of police, elected from the school city at large, and twelve aldermen, two to be elected from each of the six wards. The first Friday in May is set by the constitution for the caucus at which time nominations for all of the offices are made. This is followed by a registration of all voters in their respective ward voting places. This is conducted under the supervision of the aldermen, who are the present aldermen of that ward. Candidates, to be eligible for office must have done satisfactory work throughout the school year. On election day the candidates are given an opportunity to state their qualifications for office and their respective platforms before the electorate of the school city. "In addition, the candidates for the four major offices, mayor, treasurer, clerk, and chief of police, are allowed three additional speeches to be made on behalf of their candidates. The campaign speeches show careful preparation and study, with full realization of their significance, and are given in a forceful way. On election day, the auditorium is filled with visitors from other schools, alumni, parents, and friends. An invitation is generally sent to the mayor and City Common Council to attend. The mayor acknowledges this favor by being present and occasionally addresses the student body before the actual election takes place. "The ward booths were then opened, and balloting by secret ballots is begun. After a given time, in which all of those registered vote, the booths are closed, and the results tabulated and announced. "Two weeks later the successful candidates are administered the following oath of office by the high school principal before the entire student body: "I do hereby solemnly swear to uphold the dignity and honor of the office of mayor, alderman, high school, and to faithfully promise to perform, to my utmost ability, all duties connected therewith." The new council then goes into session and holds its first council meeting before the entire student body. After a short session, the council is called to order and his appointments of the various boards and committees are submitted to them for ratification. After this the recommendations regarding certain matters of business and policies, received from the outgoing council, are read to be acted upon and discussed at a later meeting. The meeting is then adjourned. "During the school year the student council meets every week and discusses and acts upon all problems within its jurisdiction. As all extracurricular activities are organized about this plan of government, the council, in addition to routine matters, must act upon many school problems. The High School Council each year accepts the invitation of the City Council to attend one of its meetings. The school mayor occupies a chair next to the city mayor, the aldermen next to their respective city aldermen. "The boards appointed by the mayor, with the approval of the council, are as follows: Annual Board; Maroon and Orange Board; Literary Board; Athletic Board; Welfare Board; Police Board; Park Board; Public Improvement Board; and Stage Board. Other boards with council carry out the student activities of the school. All boards are aided by a faculty advisor, and the principal is given complete power over all actions of the council and the board. "The work of these boards is largely self-explanatory, and needs but little elucidation. The Annual Board is made up of the student staff which edits the high school annual, and the same applies to the high school paper. The Athletic Board helps to put the athletic problems of the school. The Library Board co-operates with the school librarian in matters of school interest, while the Welfare Board not only remembers those ill or in distress, but attempts to interest prospective pupils in the high school and investigates conditions causing students to leave school. The Literary Board arranges the weekly assembly programs, while the Police Board handles matters of school discipline. "In addition to appointing these various boards, the mayor and council also appoint many student managers, including the editors and business managers of the student publication, the police officers, and the student managers. In this way the entire school organization is built around the system of student-government."

How Do Holland 'Artists Act?'

(By Announcer Bill)

How do people act when they face the microphone at a radio station? There was a good chance to see how "artists" in Holland acted under such conditions when the WHBM was conducted here for several months. "Artists" here are no different from those anywhere, at least not the beginners.

The "Mike" seems to worry most people the first time or so that they appear before it. This little piece of steel, with its many small lead balls inside, cannot hurt any one. But a great deal of nervousness is shown by most people when they appear before it for the first time. I know of one popular young fellow in Holland, who has faced without flinching some of the hardest tests in athletics, who could not face the little "Mike" without a tremor in his voice. After he had circled the room several times while waiting for his turn to go on the air he sat down at the microphone and started reading it up side down. This type of nervousness is very common to all persons who are capable of doing things under a tension. They like to see the person they are talking to.

Another type who is a puzzle to the operators is the person who is confident that everything will go off O. K. He gets in front of the "Mike" and suddenly has lost his voice. That is the reason that several times between an announcement and opening words of the speaker there is a long pause. It is then that the announcer has to be right on the job, as he must fill in with some sort of explanation in case the artist cannot fill his bill.

Speaking of "artists," (that of course is the title that persons receive when they are about to broadcast or have been on the staff for a while), we find that they are about the nearest persons to please. One "artist" stated that the studio was not large enough for her voice, another that the ceiling was not high enough, still another that she could not sing in the position in which she had to stand. All these little difficulties the program manager must solve. In the case of the first woman, we found that the room was plenty large for it and that the "Mike" did not re-echo. The same process was tried with the second singer and it was found that the ceiling did not bother at all. The statements of some folks had put the person on the wrong track in regard to the volume of his voice. The last problem was not so easy to solve as some people have to sing right or left handed, as well as work that they seemed especially so with those that sang for the "Mike." Some could not read their music accurately unless they were standing just right.

The "Mike" favors some people and others it works against. A certain artist who sang over the air on special programs was one of the most favored. The "Mike" colored her voice so that it came out most beautifully. Another "artist" who sang over WHBM earlier in the season is best with a beautiful bass. At one time he thought that he would have to blast his timbers with his voice; in fact, he sang so loud that the little lead balls could not register and his beautiful tone quality was gone. After being told of his mistake he took time to correct the error by daily practice before the "Mike." He finally sang so softly it almost was a whisper. The result was amazing. He obtained the most beautiful result by just the opposite method from that in which he started. His volume was there, his harmony was almost perfect. Another "artist," very small in stature, was favored by the "Mike" when it threw her voice out with a semblance of great volume. The invisible audience got the impression of an artist of large stature.

There are a few of the tricks that a "Mike" can put over on the public. Each person who appears over the air is given a test the first time. That is, the persons who made up the majority of the staff artists. They are given a test without their knowing it. If a player cannot work out as an artist, very small in stature, was favored by the "Mike" when it threw her voice out with a semblance of great volume. The invisible audience got the impression of an artist of large stature.

Dr. Vriesman, secretary of the Grand River Chamber of Commerce, has had a communication from Frank H. Alfred, president of the Pere Marquette R. R. Co., telling him of the favorable attitude of the road on giving that city a long time lease for park purposes to the property owned by this company on the east of the new station which will shortly be completed.

If the railway company gives the park there, Grand Haven will cut a streak through from Jackson to Montrose just east of the park, which will be a big convenience to the public and clean up an alley street which has been doing service in that locality for years.

While there are no definite plans for the depot dedication the officers are planning to attend in a body and lend their support to a splendid program opening day.

The secretary is working on this plan and will be in readiness to announce some of the features when the date has been decided.

The office of the station has been placed temporarily in an old coach side track and the old building is now being torn down. This one more building has disappeared which brings no regret as the building was long overdue its usefulness.

Rev. Father Wm. Robinson, New York City, is the guest of his parents, Capt. and Mrs. Wm. Robinson, 83 West 11th.

ADVERTISING WAS MEMBERS CHOICE

West Michigan resort authorities cast the largest number of votes for an expansion of the newspaper advertising program of the Michigan Tourist and Resort association in 1928. They voted on a referendum consisting of 7 plans the results being:

1. Expanded newspaper advertising; 2. Establishment of county boulevard systems; 3. Extension of tourist season to fall months. As outlined by the executive committee, of which John C. Beukema of Muskegon is chairman, a platform of seven major planks was submitted for a referendum vote to decide which of these phases shall receive the strongest emphasis.

The newspaper plank received the most enthusiastic endorsement. It aims to sell the most vacationland attractions of West Michigan anew next year with full-page advertisements in the great dailies of the central west. It will also promote such activities as annual tours of newspaper men through the territory, national radio broadcasting and more contacts with magazine writers in the territory.

Another 1928 program plank solidly backed by the members is one that reads: "Shall the association work for the improvement of trunk line and county highways, and the establishment of county boulevard systems?" This plank urges all possible activity in developing US 31, US 131 and M 66, direct roads from the dozen states from which the bulk of West Michigan tourists are coming. This plan also provides for the early development of the east and west highways which serve as feeders to the three main highways.

The plank that ran third in the number of votes lodged here had to do with the extension of the tourist season by stimulating business during fall months, securing conventions in June and actively promoting winter sport carnivals that will attract more visitors in January and February.

Closer cooperation with railroad, bus and steamship lines is a fifth plank, working for the commercial development of West Michigan is a sixth, and the final plank deals with the development of airports and airways.

"Time is needed by every one," that was the thought of Mr. Herman Miller of the Colonial Manufacturing Co., of Zeeland, when he chose for his slogan "A hall clock for every home and in every home a hall clock." Thus the output of the Zeeland factory has grown with leaps and bounds. Now it is the largest maker of hall clocks in the world.

During the forty years that Mr. Miller has been in the clock game, he has used imported parts for his beautiful magnifying cases. The works were made in Germany. These works had to be shipped over the water from the southern part of Germany, then over land by freight. Sometimes the delay was very great. The various parts of the works had to be adjusted and made right. This procedure was kept up until about a year ago, when Mr. Hans Winterhalder came to this country to see about the clock situation. It was from his factory that Mr. Miller had been receiving the works for his famous hall clocks.

Winterhalder tells a very interesting story about the works of the Colonial clock. In the Black Forest mountains where the pine woods are thick and the winters cold, the largest clock and watch making factories of the world are located. It was in these Black Forests that the first construction of a clock was started 250 years ago. The farmers having time heavy on their hands in the winter would carve little trinkets out of the wood that was to be found in the forest. They used to make clock movements with hand-painted dials and stones for weights. In the year 1725 Jacob Winterhalder, the great-grandfather of Hans, set out with about 20 of his homemade clocks on his back to sell in order that his family might live. He visited England and the Netherlands. He was successful, and from this beginning the largest clock works in the world grew up. During the last half century they have been producing 80 to 100 thousand clocks, watches and alarm clocks. The watch factories are built like steps on the solid rock foundation. The factories look like terraces, each being one step above the other.

From the first sales trip to the present day the Winterhalder factories are making the finest clock works obtainable. Coming to America a short time ago, Hans Winterhalder, who is really the Henry Ford of the German clock, he is the only person, in this Black Forest, who runs his factories on the same sort of plan as the Michigan auto king, because interested in the working of the Zeeland factory, Mr. Miller was also looking for a faster production method in regard to the works of his clocks. After a discussion with Mr. Winterhalder, which formed the Miller Clock Co. Besides assembling the works for the hall clocks, they make the works for many other types of clocks manufactured by the Zeeland concern. The new plant, a fast, now six German clockmakers are assembling the works and teaching 15 of the American-born the art of making the works and doing assembling.

Mr. Winterhalder has invented foolproof works which do not require an experienced clockmaker to make adjustments. Some of the hall clocks have three different movements, others have two, and some have only one. The pendulums are of various types, some of brass, some contain jewels, and they are self-regulating. Various types and weights are found in these clocks, some of which are used in winding the time pieces, others are used for different purposes. There are many other features of the Colonial hall clocks which make them especially valuable.

The Zeeland Henry Ford has several shops in Germany, but he also stated that even to this day the farmers of the Black Forest district will come to the clock factories and have home-made clocks put together on their cold winter evenings. Having just returned from Germany this week, Mr. Winterhalder says this is more true this year than it has ever been before.

A Ford car turned turtle in a ditch at the intersection of M21 and the Beverdam road Sunday evening. The occupants were tossed out before the car hit the two feet of water, after taking a fifteen foot drop. The accident occurred when the Ford was struck broadside by a large car. The injuries to persons were limited to minor bruises, but the Ford was a complete wreck.

PYTHIANS PLAN FOR THE WORK OF THE SEASON

The Knights of Pythias of this city have outlined a program for this winter that will keep them busy for many weeks to come. Chancellor Commander Ben Brower says that with the help from the rest of the members he expects to make this a banner year for Castle Lodge of Holland and from all indications at present he is going to make good. The monthly parties are in full swing and the October party given in the nature of a hallouen party has already taken place. The November Party Committee is already busy making arrangements to put on a Thanksgiving party. These parties are all given at the W. L. C. rooms and are only a side line with the Pythian order. They have become very popular with the members and their wives and lady friends.

The pool and billiard tournaments are again in full swing. They are given each Tuesday evening and every Wednesday evening. The pool tournament is open to all members and as is open to all members and a lot of excitement is created in the games.

On November 15th the local lodge goes to Grand Haven and will be met there by the Pythians from Muskegon Lodge No. 32. The event will be put on by the officers of the three different lodges and then a couple weeks later either Holland or Muskegon will be the hosts, this to be decided at Grand Haven.

This week Thursday there will be work in the bank at the local lodge and Chancellor Ben Brower urges all to come that possibly can to make arrangements to go to Grand Haven next week.

A FORMER LOCAL DOCTOR TELLS OF WORK IN SOUTH

The November issue of "The Red Cross Courier," national Red Cross magazine published today at Washington, D. C., contains an article by Dr. Wm. De Kline on the subject, "Public Health Advanced Ten Years in Flood Areas." Dr. De Kline, formerly of Ottawa county, with Mrs. De Kline, was the guest last winter of last week of Mrs. A. T. Godfrey in this city. He had just returned from a six weeks' trip with Herbert Hoover, through the flooded district of the South, sent there by the Red Cross to do medical reconstruction work. The article in "The Red Cross Courier" work in the South. It is accompanied by a cut of Dr. De Kline and a brief biography describing his college career at Hope college, his work as a physician at Grand Haven and his subsequent career in public health work.

In his article Dr. De Kline describes the health work of the Red Cross in the south as follows: "Under the direction of the U. S. Public Health Service the Red Cross has financed a screening program for the control of malaria. More than 22,000 screen doors and 25,000 window screens have been examined and installed. Four thousand four hundred and thirteen houses have been completely screened and 1,674 partially screened. These door and window screens protect the homes in the malarial points in various communities in the flood area. They were served as object lessons for better housing equipment as well as malaria control for the health agencies and the public. Instructions were given to the local health agencies that all patients with malaria and malaria carriers should be isolated in properly screened dwellings.

"The Red Cross has also supplied all the health officers with large quantities of quinine sulphate to be distributed through the local health agencies for malaria control. While it is impossible to obtain exact figures as to the number of persons who have taken quinine for preventive as well as treatment purposes, it is conservative to state that several hundred thousand have done so. "Large quantities of oil have been distributed by the Red Cross for oiling surfaces of stagnant water to prevent mosquito breeding. Some of it has also been used to burn the carcasses of animals killed in the flood.

"Several communities have undertaken to construct sanitary flyproof toilets to replace the crudely constructed ones carried away by the flood. Many health officers looked up to the Red Cross for help in educating their people in the use of a sanitary toilet. Wherever reconstruction work was undertaken by the Red Cross and where extensive repairs to buildings were necessary there we will find hundreds of modern constructed flyproof toilets that will help safeguard the health of the community.

"The U. S. Public Health Service and the Rockefeller Foundation, in cooperation with the State health departments, have undertaken a program of organizing permanent health units. In the flood counties of Kentucky, Tennessee, Missouri, and Mississippi the organization of these units is practically completed. Health units are assured in all the counties. The local funds necessary have been contributed and in majorities of counties the health units are already in operation. The work will be under way in all flood counties in these States as soon as a qualified personnel can be found. In Arkansas and Louisiana more than half of the counties and parishes are similarly organized and the work will be under way before the winter months.

"In order to insure the employment of a competent personnel for these health units the Rockefeller Foundation has opened a training center in the city of Indianapolis as the local health unit for Indiana and Sullivan County. The director of the training center acts in the capacity of health officer of the city and county and is therefore in position not only to train representatives who come there for that purpose, but also to direct the health program of the community. This organization has undertaken to construct sanitary flyproof toilets for the University of Michigan authorities have the right to expel students for operating automobiles, in the opinion of W. W. Potter, attorney general. He forwarded a ruling to this effect today in reply to a request from Courtland C. Smith, president of the university student council.

The attorney-general admitted that the board of regents has no legal right to prohibit the ownership or operation of a motor vehicle by a student, this right being governed by state laws which do not discriminate against students. On the other hand, he believes the university authorities have the right to enforce rules deemed necessary for the conduct of the university. The attorney-general cited a supreme court decision in the case of a Michigan State Normal co-ed who was expelled from her expulsion for smoking cigarettes. While cigarette smoking on the street is not illegal, the supreme court ruled the question involved was not one of the legality of the act but of the reasonableness of the rules promulgated by the normal, 76 to 100 guests.

HOLLAND DROPS THRILLING GAME TO GRAND HAVEN

Holland went down in defeat before a fairly well balanced Grand Haven team in Saturday afternoon. The score of 4-0 shows how tough the battle was and the two teams both reserve credit for the exhibition that they gave the large crowd of fans that witnessed the affair. With both schools presenting well drilled bands and rivalry running high the crowd was kept on edge most of the way as the boys matched strength and brains. Holland was the most aggressive all the way and outside of the time when Grand Haven made a determined march for the goal, the Hinga lads looked a bit better. The breaks were again against Holland as they have been in three other games and two or three possible touchdowns were lost. A pass over the goal line, a ruling requiring the passer to be 5 yards back, the line of scrimmage and the matter of 6 inches were the three main things that kept the Hollanders from at least enjoying a count. Pellegrom, Spels and Fippel were outstanding in their work at Grand Haven, while it would be hard to pick a man that outshone his mates on the Hinga aggregation.

The first half was played in a gale while conditions were much better in the second as the wind ceased. Pippel, Elliott, L. T. Korstange, Weiss, L. G. Norlin, De Klep, C. W. Bennett, Elliott, R. G. ## BANDS OF H. H. S. AND GRAND HAVEN FEAST TOGETHER

About 100 band boys sat down to a beautiful supper in the gymnasium at the Grand Haven high school Saturday evening when the members of the Grand Haven school band entertained as their guests the school band from Holland. Members of the classes in domestic science served the banquet.

All feeling of rivalry was cast aside and in a few moments the boys were mixing as freely and unconstrainedly as if they were all students in the same school.

The Grand Haven band was organized a year ago under the direction of Mr. M. F. Richards, teacher of biology and sciences. They now number forty-two, besides a large group of beginners who are practicing together as a reserve band. They have recently through the generosity of the merchants and other friends of the school, been outfitted in complete uniforms of black and gold.

As soon as the last mouthful of the dessert had disappeared, Fred Weiss, assistant business manager of the band, took charge of the program and started the group singing popular and school songs being interspersed with solos by Chester "Gump" Kramer.

Principal J. Dykhouse of the Junior high school was next introduced, and in a talk full of good wishes addressed three essentials of a successful band: ambition, self-sacrifice, and perseverance. John Van Wyven then thanked the Grand Haven boys for the entertainment and praised the idea of bringing the two schools into friendly relations in this manner.

He pointed out two of the greatest handicaps of the school bands—first the fact that they have only one hour a week to work together, and second the tendency to backslide during the summer vacation.

Prof. Richards outlined the history of bands in high schools as a nationwide movement, and gave as a reason for the rapid advance the fact that it made an opportunity for many to become active participants in school activities rather than mere spectators. Then after a piano solo by Dorman Post, tuba player in the band and pianist of the high school orchestra, Superintendent Babcock recently elected president of the fourth district of the state teachers' association, took the floor.

The modern tendency toward efficiency in all lines of work, he said, gives men much more leisure time than they formerly had. Better employment of this leisure time, increased health, and enrichment of life is an outgrowth of band activity.

At this time Francis Pelgrim, a member of the team and business manager of the band, came in and told the crowd how the music of the band adds pep and confidence to the team.

Rev. J. J. DeKraaker closed the program by praising the spirit of keen rivalry between the schools and the loyalty and co-operation of all alumni and friends of the high school. This country classic, he said, is more important than the Michigan-Ohio game.

Holland Beats G. R. In Soccer Foot Ball

Fast playing made Holland the winner of the Saturday game with the Grand Rapids Independent soccer team. The game was played at John Ball park, score 2-0. The Independents threatened a few times, but Holland's goal keeper was as always in fine shape. Lineup was: J. Hoefacker, Wm. Cramer, Alb. Korbman, full backs; DeVries, D. Zwip, 10, Ten Brink, half backs; H. Hoefacker, J. Roelofs, H. Cramer, J. Korbman, Arthur Bos, Forwards.

HOPE BURIED UNDER A 39-0 SCORE BY ALMA

Alma celebrated its homecoming in conjunction with the celebration of the fortieth anniversary of the founding of the institution. Hope was elected to provide the homecoming football classic and when the final whistle had blown, Hope found itself on the short end of a 39-0 score, thus making the occasion a joyful one for the hundreds of Alma grads who returned to their Alma Mater to pay tribute to the institution that had given them their sheekskins.

There was only one drawback to the afternoon's festivities, and that was the weather. Playing under the most adverse conditions the athletes found the going decidedly hard. Time after time a kick which under normal conditions would have traveled 30 yards came to earth in approximately the same spot from which it had been kicked.

Coch Campbell of Alma used two full teams during the course of the battle. Against his second team, Hope looked like the proverbial million bucks, but their offense crumbled when confronted with the Alma veterans.

Alma has but one more game to win and the M. I. A. championship will again be theirs. The Presbyterians will then have won it two consecutive times, a thing unprecedented in Michigan intercollegiate circles.

ZEELAND LOSES TO SHELBY

Falling to play hard and fast football against a heavier team, the Zeeland high school eleven was defeated by the Shelby team 6-0 at the northern city Saturday.

Before the onslaught of the hard-driving, cool and confident Muskies, Grand Rapids Union high's football team reeled and fell back to be crushed by a powerful Muskies' high school eleven, 18 to 0, before a crowd of 8,000 spectators at Zeeland park Grand Rapids Saturday afternoon.

All the power that lay dormant while Illinois whipped Michigan last week asserted itself Saturday, particularly in the third period, and overwhelmed a fighting Chicago Union high eleven, 14 to 0. Chicago's stand against the well drilled and well fortified Michigan eleven was a sight to see and liberally rewarded the 56,500 who braved the frigid winds that swept the packed stands from the west. Early in the game it looked like Chicago's day had arrived again in this traditional series, and for the first time, since 1919 the Maroon would win in triumph over Michigan's maize. But Michigan had the break at the start of the third period and it took up right where it had left off in the preceding quarter. After that it was merely a matter of time and a fullback named Kirk.

With a running attack, a grim determination, and a running attack which functioned to perfection, especially when gains were vital to the ultimate outcome, Grand Rapids Central's fighting warriors tore through the Chicago Central high school for a 19 to 0 victory at Houseman field, Grand Rapids, Saturday afternoon, graphically illustrating the force of the Yost doctrine that a school should play for touchdowns, not for first downs.

TIME LIMIT ON REGISTRATION OF GUNS IS ADVANCED

Monday the prosecuting attorney, heads of state police, the chiefs of police of the different cities of Ottawa county and the sheriff's department gathered at the court house at Grand Haven to discuss the new law covering the registration of revolvers and other concealed weapons.

The time limit to register pistols was up November 1, but at the meeting it was decided to extend the time until including November 10. Chief Van Ry of Holland was present and he said that in Holland there had been a registration before of 50 guns under the old law and it was not necessary to re-register these, but under the new law 50 more guns have been registered, which would indicate that the number of registered guns in Holland is at least 100.

Quite a number are reported registered at Grand Haven and Zeeland also. Prosecuting Attorney, Sheriff Kamferbeck, Chief of Police Frank Van Ry, of Holland, Chief Hietje, of Zeeland, besides the head of the state police and the officers from smaller centers were present.

The working out of the new law was discussed by many of those taking part in the meeting and the final result was the extension of the time in which a license to carry a gun could be secured, making November 30 the last day.

Ottawa County is not the only place where an extension was asked. An added 30 days period was also given Detroit and Grand Rapids, and no doubt other cities from which requests may come.

WOMEN NOW ARE ADMITTED TO SEMINARY

"The Theology"—By special action of the Board of Superintendents any and all courses of the seminary are now open to women students—provided they have the necessary literary qualifications required for the individual course. While the seminary is thus open to women, and we have now and again had a few women in attendance, no particular effort has been made to advertise this action of the Board last May for the simple reason that all lecture rooms are taxed as it is by men students.

Yet no doubt in the days that are ahead provision will have to be made for the women students.

Requests have come to the administration for extension work on the part of the seminary faculty. One request is that courses shall be given with credit towards degree in other centers, e. g., Grand Rapids and Muskegon. Another request asks for a summer school of about two weeks of intensive work immediately after the Pine Lodge Conference, or in connection with it. There are also requests for extension lectures.

All of these matters indicate not only the high standing of the school, but also indicate that hands are stretched out for help and service in many quarters. It would be interesting a larger service, perhaps, if some of these matters could be undertaken. They are under advisement. Before any new work is undertaken, however, it will be settled both that the new work will be worth while and that the present work shall not suffer.

The files of the damage suit which the County of Allegan instituted in the Allegan circuit court against H. Eldred, Judge O. S. Cross and Myron B. Moore, which has been transferred to the Kent circuit court, were filed Monday with County Clerk Neumann.

The suit was brought to recover $2,700 which Eldred, as treasurer of the township of Cheshire, Allegan county, deposited in the First National bank of Allegan which subsequently went into receivership. Judge Cross and Moore, president and manager of the bank, respectively, were sureties on the bonds furnished by Eldred.

Eldred claims the bank was by resolution of the county board of supervisors designated as the depository for all county funds and that he has not misappropriated the funds but that they were deposited in the bank.

CARELESS DRIVER IS BLAMED FOR AN AUTO ACCIDENT

HEAD OF PERE MARQUETTE RAILWAY SHOWS WHERE TROUBLE LIES

Frank B. Alford in a bulletin issued yesterday tells who is to blame when it comes to railroad crossing accidents taking into consideration those that occur on the Pere Marquette road.

His communication gives much valuable information and follows:

"There were 19 accidents at various crossings of the Pere Marquette railway lines in Michigan, where motor-vehicles were involved with our trains during the month of October, of this year.

"A careful classification of these various casualties is of importance, inasmuch as these conclusively demonstrate an almost absolute indifference to human life.

"In nine cases the automobile hit the train.

"In one instance the motorist deliberately drove in front of the train.

"In the nine other occurrences the automobile was struck by the train.

"These casualties involved two fatal injuries, four serious and seven slight injuries to the occupants of the cars.

"From the above, therefore it is seen that in 53 out of every 100 accidents the motorist completely ignores his own safety.

"Furthermore, in every one of the 19 instances, the motor vehicle was damaged or completely wrecked. For the most part, these vehicles were either old or of the cheaper grades, from which it might be inferred that the care exercised by the driver is directly dependent upon the value of the car, necessarily the better the grade of car the higher the standard of precaution observed.

"Apparently, these reckless drivers seem to forget that 'death is permanent'.

"All of this goes to prove that if we cannot educate the careless driver to become a careful driver, the state should withdraw from him the privileges of the highway."

PASTOR'S INSTALLATION OF NINE YEARS AGO IS AGAIN TO BE OBSERVED

It will be nine years November 14, that Rev. C. P. Dams was installed as pastor of the Trinity Reformed church. Next Sunday morning he will preach in commemoration of that event on the same text which was the basis of his installation sermon. The subject of Sunday morning sermon will be "The Gospel of Reconciliation." In the evening he will preach on the subject "Young People and Liberty." In the evening sermon he will discuss the joys, the perils, and the limits of liberty.

LOCAL BANK LOBBY
LIKE A BEAUTIFUL
FLOWER GARDEN

FIRST STATE BANK PUTS ON ITS ANNUAL FLOWER SHOW

Customers entering the First State bank at first believe they are in the wrong place, for the lobby looks more like a conservatory of flowers than a place where money is stacked away.

Cashier Wichers surely has the bank all lit up with posies. There are more than posies, however, for the entire lobby has been turned into a garden spot. Mr. Vander Ploeg of the Shady Lawn Florists has divided the place in a manner that the flower beds and the garden paths, the trellises, the arbors and the cozy nooks run true to form as this has to do with landscape gardening. Small cobbles stones form round and oblong beds simply bursting out with thousands of records of plants, pyramided with palms in the center.

There is very little of the bank fixtures visible with such a riot of color and tangle of limbs and foliage. To help add to the charm of this indoor garden bird cages with canaries and love birds are placed at intervals.

Besides the aroma from the flowers the twitter and the song of the birds gives it the finishing touch.

One unique feature is a setting showing a large store supposedly carrying a new arrival, but instead the supposed babe is a basket of flowers.

The garden display at the bank will remain until after Saturday and Mr. Wichers cordially invites the public to come and take a peep at the floral display.

ZEELAND'S NEW
TRAFFIC ORDINANCE
LIKE HOLLAND'S

At the Zeeland common council meeting, held the first part of the week, the new traffic ordinance was passed, which includes the traffic with respect to the new street intersection signal stop lights. The traffic ordinance is in nearly every respect similar to the ordinance in effect in both Holland city and Grand Rapids, and to those in effect in the other cities in this state. It also conforms to the state law governing traffic in general.

Greatest Sale of Years

On the first page of the second section of this issue of the Holland City News the Nies Hardware is publishing one of the greatest sales this year in household articles.

A score of them, 81 in fact, from 1 cent to 1 dollar each. It is rather a unique ad and sales runs for two days Friday and Saturday.

The ad proper says one day sale only but it should read two day sale as is shown at the top and bottom of the ad.

Remember this wonderful sale takes place tomorrow and Saturday at Nies Hardware, 43 East 8th street.

WOULD STEAL MONEY
FROM HIS MOTHER

Officers of the American Legion are $15.00 short on the hospital fund because of a dirty deal that one purchaser of tickets played.

Taking candy from the baby or stealing money from mother isn't in it with this trick.

A man by the name of J. Jennings asked for a ticket for the U. S. Navy band concert, gave a check on the old National bank for $15.00 and took $14.00 in hard Legion money in change. The check was returned marked no funds. The man attended the concert free and got $14.00 for doing so and the hospital fund is $15.00 shy.

NOT GUILTY PLEA
MADE BY ALLEGAN
BANK CASHIER

SEEMS TO FEEL THAT HE HAS DONE NOTHING WRONG

Barker Short $21,000 Is Free on $5,000 Bonds

Bosil J. Barker, 42, former cashier of the First National bank of Allegan, pleaded not guilty before Federal Judge Fred M. Raymond in U. S. district court, Grand Rapids, yesterday afternoon when arraigned on charges of abduction and misappropriation of more than $21,000 of funds.

Barker was arrested at Allegan by sheriff Benj. Lugens and his partner and placed in the Allegan County jail until taken to Grand Rapids.

Barker was released on $5,000 bail and his trial was set for the next term of court which opens Dec. 6.

The specific charge is juggling spurious notes and recording a note of no value on the books of the bank as a cash item, acts which allegedly have caused loss to depositors of possibly $204,295.45. Joseph H. Weiden, Jr., of Grand Rapids and Mae McKenney of Allegan were the bondsmen.

Barker returned to Allegan, where he makes his home with his wife and two children.

When the bank suspended business and Barker was dismissed, he assisted the examiners for the federal treasury department in straightening out the tangle and is alleged to have even signed statements admitting his actions, but at the same time asserted he had done nothing wrong and had nothing to hide.

Barker asserted he considered a loan as legitimate when he accepted as security for it mortgages on property in Minnesota, Wisconsin, Georgia and Idaho, all points beyond the legal limit of Allegan. What money he received on the notes he used in payment on notes he had personally given the bank in return for parcels of the bank's stock.

Barker entered the employ of the bank as a clerk in 1918 and four years later, with the view of being elected cashier, purchased the stock, but the notes he tendered were not due until 1930. Before becoming identified with the bank, he spent six years with the American Railway Express company at Benton Harbor and Allegan, and three years with the Pere Marquette railroad. He has been a leader in social affairs in Allegan.

Twelve counts, according to the indictments prepared by U. S. Atty. Edward J. Bowman against Barker, charge misappropriation and fraudulent paying to himself $4,000 worth of stock, and the unlawful discounting on a note of J. R. McKain on July 29, 1925. Similar transactions are alleged to have been made on various dates with Barker pocketing the money, as follows: July 29, $6,000 in the name of Louis F. and Lucy E. Graft; $6,000 from Edwin Ufer on Aug. 6; $4,000 on Aug. 21 from George F. Mahoney; $1,400 on Feb. 1, 1926, from Plin Miller, and $4,105.32 on Nov. 8, which, it is said, he unlawfully discounted.

The First National bank was established in 1870 and at times listed deposits of $1,000,000 a year. The bank building burned last January and later that month, while business was being transacted from a case taken, bank examiners suspected the condition of the institution and a meeting was called in Chicago. Following a voluntary pledge of $40,000 to protect county funds, it was permitted to continue operations.

Myron B. Moore, who succeeded Barker as cashier, refused to give a personal bond for the $40,000 county money and the supervisors withdrew the county account. Individual depositors then withdrew their savings and merchants began refusing checks on the bank.

The board of supervisors last June demanded a state grand jury probe of the bank's affairs.

DOG THIEVES
NEAR ZEELAND
ARE ARRESTED

THEY APPEARED BEFORE JUDGE
CROSS TUESDAY AND PLEADED GUILTY

Ernie Brouwer and Harry Groen both of Grand Rapids who formerly lived on U. S. 31 near West Olive pleaded guilty before Judge Cross for stealing a dog belonging to George Gebben near Zeeland.

The two men went to the Gebben farm while the Gebbens were away and made off with the dog, after they had been there the day before to inquire what Mr. Gebben wanted for the dog.

It seems that the two men had driven to the Gebben farm and found nobody home, they took the dog and loaded him in their car.

Deputy Riezenka took a description of the men who appeared the day before at the Gebben farm and he arrived at the home of the men at Grand Rapids they had just returned from a hunting trip on which the dog was used.

The two first denied that they had the dog, but commotion in the automobile uncovered that the dog was hidden there.

Both men had been bound over to circuit court by Justice Clark of Zeeland and were confined in the county jail until court opened and both pleaded guilty. They were both given 30 days in the county jail and $12.50 costs.

Picture taking is sweeping the high school and consequently the members of the band and other organizations are seen about town in full regalia. These pictures will be used for the high school annual published some time in the latter part of the school year.—Grand Haven Tribune.

NO BANK WAS HELD UP

Shortly after 9 o'clock last night the burglar alarm at the Holland City State Bank began to ring vigorously and in a comparatively short time there was a fair sized crowd around the building, thinking that possibly burglars had entered.

The bank is burglar proof, however, with added safety alarm for further protection and if the alarm is not set just so it rings off automatically, made so as an added safety precaution. This is what happened last night and the gang kept ringing until an official of the bank reset the alarm.

The evening was most pleasantly spent with games and other entertainment, and a lunch was served from the well-filled baskets of the guests. A beautiful wedding cake, baked by Mrs. John Solhuze, Mrs. Knute Quail and decorated by John Solhuze, was the center of attraction on the table.

A mock wedding service reunited the couple after their twenty-five years of married life. An impromptu veil of curtain material was the feature of Mrs. Lugers' bridal costume.

ANNUAL LEGION'S
SHOW IS TO BE
NOV. 22-23

REHEARSALS ON IN PROGRESS
BIG TEN ACT
REVUE

With the arrival of George Limerick, director for the John B. Rogers Co. rehearsals for "Flashes," the big ten act revue, were started last evening.

"Flashes" is a mammoth production, probably the most elaborate show ever presented in Holland. The show is in two acts and eleven scenes. Starting with a novel prologue, then in to an old time minstrel that is different. Following that comes the fast stepping singing and dancing choruses, featuring Holland's best female talent.

The show from beginning to end is fast moving clever, elaborate, and is a great treat for the eyes and ears from start to finish.

Tickets for "Flashes" will be on sale in a few days, and these in turn can be exchanged for reserved seats, a few days before the first performance. All seats for the show will be reserved and it will be advisable to purchase tickets early, as there are always late minute disappointments.

Jamestown Road Plan
Is Still a Live Issue

A meeting of the Ottawa County Road Commission, was held in the Court House yesterday morning. They were addressed by Albert Bosch of Jamestown to further interest in the contemplated cement highway from Jamestown to Jensen along the right of way of the old interurban company.

Mr. Bosch has petitions from the majority of citizens there asking for such an improvement and also 11 options on property to be used for the right of way. It was first supposed the right of way belonged to the old interurban interests would be available. Later it was found new property would have to be purchased.

The matter will be referred to the Board of Supervisors in their January meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. William Vlach of Grand Rapids and Mrs. John Bask and children from Ottawa Beach were visitors with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit Vlach at Zeeland, the first of this week.

AVERAGE LIFE OF RETAIL STORE IS BUT SEVEN YEARS

A fair sized audience Tuesday evening greeted Paul Stanké, sales director of the Creston Engraving Company of Kalamazoo, who was invited to speak to the merchants of Holland on advertising.

It was a postponed meeting. There were many other functions the week before but this week proved no better, as many of the merchants were called out to other duties. At least forty merchants took the trouble to come and hear Mr. Stanké and they were well repaid.

In opening his remarks Mr. Stanké stated that the average life of a retail store is seven years. The reason for this is largely that business is done along the old line, too much guess work and faith in luck. He said that those who do survive use scientific merchandising methods, instead of the methods of 30 or 40 years ago. Today a merchant must know his stock, often. The overhead then does not count for so much.

Mr. Stanké stated there are ten vital factors in successful retail merchandising. (1) Reflect a definite store personality to the public. The merchants who are successful nowadays are those who put their own personality, if they have any, into their business. They mingle with their customers. They use their personality in appealing to the imagination of the buying public. It is a friendly personality that spells business success.

(2) Analyze the market and study your prospects. The boss of the business should also be floor walker, as it were. Get the available information, the likes and dislikes of the customer, and see that they are served properly.

(3) Humanize your own business. For a long time business was done in mechanical manner. The human side of it was forgotten. Today successful merchant cultivates the good will of his patrons. To often large stores have been run by merchants who don't think in terms of people. The real wide-awake merchant and the one who takes care of his business, which brings it success, endeavors to give the customer what he wants. To gratify the desire, the longing for certain merchandise by a customer should be the main consideration of the merchant. Hospitality and courtesy, Mr. Stanké said, are great assets in business. He guaranteed that if there were two stores side by side with equally good merchandise, with equally fine a store and the proprietor and sales force of the one was courteous and in the other the opposite condition prevailed, within a comparatively short time the hospitable store would receive the lion's share of the business. How many business men are throwing away an asset that is costing them nothing to give, and is rich in dividends, he asked.

(4) Keep up cordial contact with your customers. The proprietor should always do his utmost to hold the present good will of a customer. He should keep in constant contact with his customers, for if he does not they will be wooed away from him. Personal letters are often very helpful, but inculcate in those personal letters your personality. Don't make them stiff and formal, for that way the way your customer knows you.

(5) Make salesmen out of your clerks. That is a very essential part of a business. See to it that they know that the policy of the store is to train them. Hold a meeting with them once in a while. Set a sales goal with extra awards for achievements. Mixle with your clerks, listen to how they talk to customers in making sales. Encourage them if they do well and mildly correct them if another method of selling would be better.

(6) Make the most of display space. Much can be made of display windows. Mr. Stanké said, but tie up these displays with events that happen in the community. Halloween, Christmas, etc. of July, or local doings. Make displays worth while but in some manner tie them up with goods for sale in the store. Do the same thing with your newspaper advertising and your direct mail advertising. Construct your advertising matter in such shape that there is a human interest, a story in merchandising, that people want to know about. Mr. Stanké then went on to demonstrate how a comparatively small furniture man on a side street at Kalamazoo, through the use of advertising, has built up a tremendous business. He would picture a show window in the newspaper and in his printed matter and connect it with civic events taking place in Kalamazoo. The newspaper naturally gave much publicity to these public events and the furniture man indirectly cashed in on this publicity. His business is growing tremendously.

(7) Take advantage of dealers' lists and dealers' national advertising. Mr. Stanké did not dwell long on this subject, stating that too often the merchant casts aside the advertising matter that his wholesaler sends him for the reason that it is not local enough, but he stated that it is well to take these matters up with the wholesaler and in that way the wants of the merchants would be better known and his condition in his own home town could be intelligently taken care of as this relates to prepared advertising.

(8) Have something of unusual interest going on in the store as often as possible. That is a very essential thing in all stores. Mr. Stanké said, besides window displays, he stated that book displays, displays of new and other exhibitions, calling for sales are essential. In other lines gimmicks for youngsters take well. He related one incident in Kalamazoo where a large store advertised through the local newspaper that it was holding a children's show and there was a guessing game with the streets blocked with interested spectators and it was a much talked of store.

(9) Analyze every sales event as a basis for future plans. Keep a diary of every important event. Mr. Stanké advised, as this relates to sales days, a sale success, find out the reason why. If it fails, it is also well to know the reason why.

(10) Keep faith at all times with the public. Let the other believe that in business honesty pays. One little misrepresentation may cause the loss of several customers. Honesty should be the basis of every sale and if this is the case, confidence in the merchant and in what he is selling will be the potent factor in his success.

In closing, by special request, Mr. Stanké repeated the poem he gave when he was here two years ago:

It's All in the State of Mind

If you think you dare not, you don't;
If you think you are beaten, you are;
If you think you'll like to win, but you can't

It's almost a "cinch" you won't;

Detroit's Bid to G.O.P. Must be Filed by Dec. 6

James E. Davidson, of Bay City, Republican national committeeman from Michigan, Tuesday received a request from Roy C. West, secretary of the Republican national committee, to file the bid for Detroit for the Republican national convention next year, before Dec. 6. The national committee meets in Washington on that date, Davidson said, to determine the meeting place of the 1928 convention. A pledge of $125,000 must be collected before the Detroit bid can be filed, Davidson said. Pledges for $50,000 have been received by the committee.

FERRYSBURG ROAD IS DONE AT LAST

The long awaited opening of the grade separation crossing on U. S. 31 in Ferrysburg, over Federal Aid No. 105-A, has arrived.

No formally mark the rather auspicious occasion, although it is the first of its kind to be erected in the county and one of the largest and most expensive projects in the Ottawa county system.

The road was a half mile of cement highway called forth an elaborate celebration with music, dancing and speech making. Now a $100,000 project is thrown open and the blame falls on it for granted and sails merrily out.

Due to the immense amount of filling in, sodding and preparing of banks, gutters and rails, it has taken many months to complete the project after the structure itself was built.

The original job was begun over a year ago by Marshall & Sons of Grand Rapids. It was paid for by federal aid, the Pere Marquette and the state.

The viaduct is 2 feet wide and the approaches are 20 feet, with easy grades that made it necessary to fill in with 30,000 cubic yards. Due to the fact that much of the fill was made from one side to the other, the bridge had to be used for the haul, consequently but little could be done on the road until the viaduct itself was completed. There also were other complications that have arisen to cause delays.

The new highway will cut out four single turns in the village of Ferrysburg and a railroad crossing. Only last week several narrow crossings were reported of skidding cars at these dangerous curves. The opening will be received with much satisfaction on the part of those frequently using this section of US-31 from Holland to Muskegon.

LIONS CLUB TO MAKE CANVASS

The Lions club has undertaken the task of making a house-to-house canvass in the city. The canvass will be made in the following streets: Ninth, tenth, eleventh, twelfth, thirteenth, fourteenth and their intersections. They will make the canvass some evening next week.

Mrs. G. J. Van Duren will personally make an appeal to all the millionaires in the city this week to announce the roll call from their pulpits next Sunday, which has been designated by the national headquarters as Red Cross Sunday.

CROSS GIVES DECISIONS IN CIRCUIT COURT

Judge Cross, in the Ottawa county circuit court, rendered the following judgments and disposed of other matters: Wichers Lumber Co. Vs. Jacob Zuidewind, $251.40; Advance Rumely Co. Vs. Ben Van Den Brink, $438.89; State Commercial & Savings Bank Vs. John Van Duren, $21,073.00; C. J. Litscher Elect. Co. Vs. John A. Ver Hage, $511.54.

Sentences were handed out to the following: Harry Green, 10 days in county jail, costs $12.30; Ernest Brouwer, 10 days in county jail, costs $12.30; John Brown (convict of court) 10 days in county jail, costs $12.30; but not to exceed one year.

Decrees for divorce were given the following: Ada Stevens Vs. Edward Stevens, Clara Allen Vs. Floyd Allen; Charles Reider Vs. Zoa Reider; Leona E. Stevenson Vs. Christian Molkkenkate (Quiet Title).

SHOOTING CASE IS AIRED IN THE ALLEGAN COURT

A verdict of no cause for action was turned by the jury after 30 minutes' deliberation Tuesday in the case brought by Fred Dixie against Eileen Phillips, former deputy sheriff. Dixie sought damages, alleging Phillips had shot him in the arm without cause when she was on duty in the Snyder place in June, 1926.

Testimony introduced by Atty. Elmer E. Hoffman, representing Phillips, showed Dixie with several other men were gambling and drinking at the Snyder place by officers making the raid and all were placed under arrest. Dixie, it was claimed, escaped through a window and was ordered to stop by Deputy Phillips. When he failed to do so the officer fired twice, the second shot striking Dixie in the arm.

Others at the place were arrested and fined for gambling, was shown in the evidence. That the plaintiff had previously served time for law violation was also brought out in the testimony. Judge William Brown of Grand Rapids presided in the case.

The Star of Bethlehem chapter will hold officers' practice on Thursday evening at seven o'clock sharp.

If you think you'll lose, you're lost;
For out in the world you'll find Success begins with a fellow's will—
It's all in the state of mind.

JUDGE O. S. CROSS TURNS CIRCUIT COURT GRIST

The circuit court criminal calendar was relieved of several cases when court opened this week and arrangements were made for the November term. Several pleaded guilty and asked for sentence as soon as possible.

Out of 27 listed cases, eight pleaded guilty, one case was settled, two defendants were late in appearing and all remaining pleaded "not guilty" or stood mute and mere similarly entered.

Those who confessed were: Ernest Brouwer and Harry Green, larceny; John Oonk, Sr., Holland; Melvin Brouwers, Fred Kempker, Ray Hosmer and George Klempke, liquor violations; and Claire Van Antwerp, Grand Haven, assault with intent to rob.

Pleas of "not guilty" were made by: Gerrit Brunsonk, statutory rape; Ira Wyrock, Holland, and Alfonso Alger, liquor violation; Jack VanderMeiden, Grand Haven, assault with intent to rob; Henry Lugers, Holland, embezzlement; and William Burdema, for sentence.

The case of John Tinhoof, Zeeland, fugitive from justice, was settled and the case of Fannie Hoekert, Holland, and Anna Van Andel, liquor violation, were allowed more time as the prosecutor felt they had not been notified as to exact time of appearance.

The civil jury cases were cut from 19 to eight when 11 cases were put over to another term. One was dismissed.

The non jury cases are also narrowed down with settlements, dismissals and continuances. Five cases were settled out of court, four have been put over for jury trial. Three were put over to another term. The remaining cases will come up unless settled before the date set for trial.

The 30 chancery cases listed on the calendar were narrowed down to nine. The others were settled, deferred to other terms or dismissed.

The "no progress" cases were also cleaned up when 12 were dismissed. This number included 11 divorce cases, which had been hanging fire for the past 12 months or more.

The jury will be called on Monday, Nov. 14, and the criminal cases will be disposed of in the following order: Henry Lugers, embezzlement; Gerrit Brunsonk, statutory rape; Ira Wyrock, Holland; Alfonso Alger, liquor violation; and Jack VanderMeiden, assault with intent to rob.

PROGRAM FOR ARMISTICE DAY BANQUET MADE

Practically all arrangements have been completed for the ninth annual Armistice day banquet of the Holland G. Leenhouts Post, American Legion. The affair is to be held in the armory and the program committee has arranged that there will be plenty of music interspersed with the speeches.

It is expected that at least 500 will attend the banquet, as it is the only recognition in the way of the celebration of this national day that Holland has prepared for.

The official program as finally arranged Wednesday afternoon follows: Invocation, Chorus, "The Star Spangled Banner," "Let's All Sing," Leon H. Moody; co-master, Jack Knoll; vocal solo, Miss Margaret Essenburg; remarks by lady co-worker, Mrs. Jay Den Herder; vocal solo, Wm. E. Andree; "Service Men," Dr. Wm. Westrate, general voice officer; address by the new commander, vocal solo, Walter G. Groth; address by Rev. D. D. Douglas; music furnished by American Legion band orchestra.

Disobedient Frosh To Stand Trial

Although not much is being said concerning the freshmen rules regarding green pots and ties, the lower classmen must realize that the rules are still in effect. Many of the frosh have been coming to school without the "green" since Monday morning a large poster on which were to be named the disobedient frosh, was put up. By noon there were already two dozen names on the list. Their trials will be held soon.

CROSS DECIDES AN INTERESTING TAX CASE

An interesting case has been decided by Judge O. S. Cross, in Ottawa circuit court, regarding property owned by G. O. A. Hume, of Muskegon, in Ottawa county, but claimed by the village of Fruitport as within the corporate limits and subject to village taxes.

The judge has ordered a decree which declares the act of including the property in the village of Fruitport as within the corporate limits and subject to village taxes.

The situation grew out of taxes paid by Hume to the village amounting to over $2,000 and which Hume later claimed were not legal as his property was in Ottawa county and therefore not within territory for a Muskegon county village.

It is said there are other properties along the lake that have been paying taxes to the village. While there is nothing in this order in regard to recovery of the taxes there may be a separate action to have them refunded.

The Hume case was handled by Attorney Hugh Little of Grand Haven.

Rev. Bonnema Accepts Call of G. R. Church

David D. Bonnema, pastor of the First Christian Reformed church in Holland, has accepted the call to the pastorate of the First Christian Reformed church in Grand Rapids. He will preach his farewell sermon in Denver Sunday, Nov. 20, and will arrive at Grand Rapids around the middle of December.

Probe Burning of Allegan Co. School

The Allegan school near Allegan was destroyed by fire early Tuesday morning with a loss of about $2,500. A meeting has been called by Director Robert E. Hopkins, to decide on rebuilding and providing school facilities for the present.

Neighbors reported seeing a car stop near the school about two hours before the fire was discovered. It is thought the fire was set and investigations will be made.

HOLLAND MAN ARRESTED FOR DESERTING ARMY

On June 1 Henry Vanden Bosch, living on 4th street, enlisted in the army at Grand Rapids and was sent to Fort Meade, South Dakota, being placed in the cavalry division. On October 14 he deserted. The government immediately sent warrants to Chief Van Ry instructing that the man be arrested, should he come home.

He arrived Monday. He was taken into custody by Officer O'Connor and was sent to Camp Custer in charge of Officer Dornbas.

During times of war a deserter is shot but without doubt Vanden Bosch will be punished with a year at some federal prison instead.

Vanden Bosch, it will be remembered, some two years ago was vamped by a Chicago "fairy". He fell in love with her so hard that he secured a marriage license, but before the couple went to the minister the girl in question disappeared with the fairy's automobile. She was apprehended later. She was locked up in the county jail for several months and later released.

WANTS TENTH STREET REPAIRED FOR THE WINTER

Jake Lokker, at the Merchants association meeting Tuesday evening, brought many smiles when he stated that he was sick and tired of going to the postoffice and have his car bogged out of shape over the rough muddy block of the postoffice in the very heart of the city.

He said he can travel from here to Washington without cleaning his car but gets it all dirty going to the Holland postoffice. He said he is willing to pick up and shovel down this block so it is at least safe. Alderman Brieve, who was present, promised Mr. Lokker that the street would be paved next year and some temporary improvements would be made to have the waris from the street to Jake Lokker's car could remain clean.

This street is in very bad shape and while it would be a waste of money to make any extensive repairs now, a few leads of gravel or cinders would at least fill the holes. The street paving program for early next spring includes tenth street.

Over to several other events, Chairman Van Tottenhove was unable to be present and the meeting was well handled by Vice President Ted Waring.

Fred Beuwkes, the secretary, was also absent for business reasons and John Van Hule was substituted for the evening. Treasurer John Rutgers, Jr., was unable to be there to give a financial report owing to the illness of Mrs. Rutgers.

A letter of commendation was received from Benj. Du Mez and family for the beautiful floral tribute that the merchants sent at the time of the passing away and funeral of Mrs. Du Mez some three weeks ago.

"Message From Mars" a Study In Selfishness

It has been said that "A Message from Mars" which will be presented here next Tuesday evening on the College Lyceum course, approaches now a play upon the universal drama of selfishness.

A letter of commendation was received from Benj. Du Mez and family for the beautiful floral tribute that the merchants sent at the time of the passing away and funeral of Mrs. Du Mez some three weeks ago.

It appeals, first of all, because it is a human story and because it presents its message most subtly. The plot has the added fascination of an element of gripping mystery. The uncanny appearance of the Messenger, the strength and psychological power of a putative inhabitant of our nearest planet, the revelation of possible life on the star, the question of habitation of planets other than our own, the kind of an inhabitant, the Messenger is revealed to be—all these factors combine to make "A Message from Mars" one of the greatest plays of the age.

The play will be presented here by a splendid cast of New York actors.

Tickets are obtainable at Hulzenga's Jewelry store.

GIVES TALK ON CO-OPERATION

The Longfellow P. T. club held a very interesting meeting Tuesday evening. The subject of the day was "Home and School," and Prof. E. Winter, of Hope college, vividly portrayed the outcome of cooperation or lack of cooperation between home and school. He said there are three types of homes, the cooperative, the opposing, and the indifferent type. Of the three the last is the most harmful.

The audience much appreciated Mr. Winter's able talk and is quite anxious to hear him give another.

A five piece orchestra, led by James Van Passen, furnished music before and during the meeting.

Little Jeanne Spaulding pleased the audience with readings. Frank Bolhuis, Jr., in scout uniform, conducted the flag salute. Mrs. John Van Oonk was in charge of devotionals. After the program, delicious coffee, picked up by the ladies, was served by Mrs. Paulus and her committee, consisting of Mrs. Seldeman, Mrs. Seekamp and Mrs. Helmbolt. Friday from 3:45 to 4:45, the teachers are serving tea to all the mothers of Longfellow.

MANSLAUGHTER CHARGE EXPECTED IN ACCIDENT CASE

Because he did not stop when he drove on to the main trunk line at the intersection of the Beverdam road and M-21 near Vriesland, Joseph Nykamp, of a Zeeland rural route, is today facing a possible charge of manslaughter in connection with the death of Mrs. Alvin Bauhahn, who died early Tuesday morning at her home at Gibson as the result of internal hemorrhages. The early reports had it that the driver of the car that struck the Bauhahn car had not stopped to investigate the damage he had done. This was found to be incorrect when Deputy Sheriff Egbert Beekman and Coroner Gilbert Vande Water made an investigation Tuesday. Nykamp stopped after the accident and gave such aid as he could.

It is charged however that he did not stop when he came out of the side road on to the main highway, as the law requires. He struck the Bauhahn car squarely in the middle, on the right of the car as it was coming from Grand Rapids, shoved it across the concrete road, down a fourteen foot embankment, through a fence and into a ditch with two feet of water in it. Two inches of cement were scraped off the top of the curb as the car passed over it, tumbling down into the water below.

Coroner Vande Water has selected a jury composed of Dick Boter, Joe White, Chester Van Tongeren, Henry Vande Linde, Milo De Vries, and Henry H. Cook. The jury will meet tomorrow at nine o'clock at the Bauhahn home. An inquest will be held Friday morning at nine o'clock at the Dykstra Funeral Home. Prosecutor Lokker will represent the people's interest.

The witnesses secured are Fred Ziegler, New Groningen, Mr. Bauhahn, Miss Herman, who was immediately back of the Bauhahn car. Albert Schuitema, Rose Luckner, Dr. R. J. Walker of Vriesland, and Dr. Nykamp.

The funeral of Mrs. Bauhahn will be held Thursday at one o'clock at the home and at two o'clock at the Wesleyan Methodist church. Rev. G. Visser officiating. Mrs. Bauhahn was 34 years old. She is survived by her husband and seven children: Mrs. Marion K. Belden, Miss E. Irene Bauhahn, Mrs. E. A. Borey, Mrs. Doris P. Wolters, Mabel, Elmer E. and Bernice E. Bauhahn; also by a brother, Charles Peterson, and a sister, Mrs. F. W. Kellong, of South Haven; also by four grandchildren.

NEW WORK OF THE SCHOOLS IS PUT IN REVIEW

Washington school P. T. A. held its November meeting Tuesday night in observance of "Educated Week." Dr. W. Tappan addressed the school on the subject of health Monday. On Friday, Nov. 11, Mr. Richardson of Holland high school will speak in the upper grades on education. Wednesday afternoon will be reserved for all parents and visitors. All parents are urged to visit school this week.

Tuesday night's program was opened with music by Holland high school orchestra, Miss Kutchinski conducting. Mr. Fell led in devotions, followed by community singing. Mr. Beech, president, presented and introduced the program. Part one of the program was given by the open window room in charge of Miss Butler and part two by the orthopedic room in charge of Miss Fox.

The fact was brought out that the first orthopedic room was opened in Germany in 1904 and was introduced into the U. S. in 1908; that there are only nine cities in Michigan conducting orthopedic rooms. Bernice Heider in open window room costume, depicted the child part in the health game. Mrs. Welby gave talk, "What the Open Window Room Has Done for My Boy." Miss Koertge demonstrated the use of the charts, comparing normal weights and existing weights of various pupils in the Open Window Room. She urged the constant use of iodine salt and home cooperation of parents in observing hygiene and all health rules.

Mrs. Arthur Visser opened the second part of the program with two vocal solos, "Joy to the Mornings" and "Graham Cradle Song."

Miss Fox, in charge of the academic work of the orthopedic room, told of the aims of the department. Results shown by the pupils have been very gratifying. She summed up her aims thus: "Take what you have, change what you can, and of the whole make victory." Dr. Kowell gave a talk on "Physiotherapy and the crippled child." She gave a demonstrated treatment.

After a short business meeting a typical lunch as served to the pupils in these rooms was enjoyed by all. Refreshments were in charge of Mrs. Dore and her committee. Dec. 13 has been set as the date for the next meeting.

WILL INCREASE EQUIPMENT OF PLAYGROUND

A goodly number gathered at the Lincoln school Monday evening to participate in the splendid program, which was in keeping with educational week. The meeting was opened with a number of rousing songs. Mrs. Wm. Dougherty pleasantly entertained the audience with a couple of splendid readings. Mr. George Dok with a master hand, rendered "Pre-lude" by Graham Pail, and "Nocturne" by Edward Grig. Prof. Ekbert Winter spoke on the subject, "The Home And The School." He pictured three kinds of homes, the home that cooperates, the home that opposes the school and the home that is lukewarm. Mr. Winter emphasized the fact that Holland, for the most part, has homes which cooperate.

The committee on playground equipment was not yet prepared to give a full report. An attempt is being made to secure additional equipment that will be most serviceable. The club decided to add some necessary decorations to the school rooms in the way of cretonne curtains. Dainty refreshments were served by the ladies.

At the regular semi-monthly meeting of the Grand Haven city council held Monday night, Mayor H. H. Hillman and Alderman John Welch were appointed as delegates to attend the Great Lakes Harbors association meeting at Toronto Nov. 11-17 and the Rivers and Harbors Congress in Washington, Dec. 7-8. Two delegates from the Harbor Commission will also be appointed.

Only in event of major catastrophe does the American Red Cross appeal to the people for a relief fund; but annually from Arizona to Dubuque, Thanksgiving it invites the support of the people through membership. Join this year.

FIRST ISSUE OF NEW QUARTERLY PUBLISHED TODAY

A new publication made its appearance here Tuesday under the title "The Theolog." It is to be a quarterly and will be the official publication of the Western Theological Seminary, doing for that institution what the "Hope College Bulletin" does for that institution. In the first issue the president of the seminary, Dr. J. E. Kulsen, prints an introductory message, giving the purpose of the publication.

"A few words to introduce the first number of 'The Theolog.'" Hereafter "The Theolog" will appear four times a year—October, January, May, and August. It will regularly visit many who are the friends of the Western Theological Seminary, and many whose acquaintance with the school is slight, for the sake of telling items of good news and general interest. From time to time we shall publish addresses and essays which will, we hope, commend themselves as worth reading. There will be occasional book reviews. One of the numbers will be the regular annual catalogue. One will give a full account of commencement exercises.

"We hope that 'The Theolog' will prove to be a good and reliable organ for legitimate publicity." The first number has 18 pages and cover, about half of which is given to an address, "The Priest, the Prophet, and the Minister," delivered by Dr. Albertus Pieters at the opening exercises of the seminary in September. There is also a department called "Notes of Interest," and another named "Personalia." This is followed by a roll of the present student body.

The seminary at present has two graduate students, one special student, 16 seniors, 17 mid-levels, and 22 juniors, or a total of 58. The colleges and seminaries represented are: Calvin, Central, Duquesne University, Grunsky College, Hope, Louisville Presbyterian Seminary, Mt. Morris College, New Brunswick Seminary, Princeton Seminary, Western State Normal. The states represented are Florida, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan, Minnesota, New Mexico, New York, Ohio and Wisconsin.

The November committee of the Reekah Lodge will give a masquerade dance in F. O. O. P. Hall on Friday evening, Nov. 11. Dancing will begin at 8:30 sharp. All are invited.

Allegan Farm Bureau To Meet Next Monday

The Allegan County Farm Bureau has invited managers and directors of farm bureaus to attend a county wide meeting in the county courtroom next Monday to discuss farm business organizations and to consider plans for their improvement.

Representatives of the executive and commodity organizations of the State Farm Bureau will be present.

GRAND COURT OF HONOR IS PLAN IN COUNTY

It is expected that four hundred scouts will appear for advancement at the annual grand court of honor which will be held during anniversary week in February. This will be the only time during the year when all scouts of Ottawa and Allegan counties will assemble together. It will be the biggest scout event of the year.

The objective will be for every scout and scoutleader to advance in rank between October 1st, 1927, and February 1st, 1928. All who do will appear before and receive the recognition of the council at the grand court of honor. Every scout who is a tenderfoot on October 1st will be expected to become a second class, every second class a first class, every first class a star scout, every star scout a life scout, every life scout an eagle scout, and every eagle scout an eagle palm. A few scouts who for good reasons cannot advance in rank may, with the consent of the council, be permitted to be permitted to half way meet their objectives by qualifying for one or more merit badges.

The ceremony will be held in the most central location possible and some outstanding personage will be secured to present the awards. To meet these objectives will put the local council in the first rank of councils in respect to scout advancement.

Your membership in the American Red Cross for the coming year means that every service of that organization will be more effective, whether teaching first aid to the nation's industrial workers, or rendering relief in a disaster. The Eleventh Annual Roll Call from Armistice Day to Thanksgiving, November 11-24, is an invitation to join.

SEEMED UNHURT BUT DIES AFTER AUTO ACCIDENT

Deputy Sheriff Egbert Beckman and Coroner Gilbert Vandewater were called to Gibson Tuesday to investigate the circumstances surrounding the death of Mrs. Alva Bauhahn, who died at 2 o'clock Tuesday a. m. as the result, it is supposed, of an automobile accident Sunday night near the Vriesland sinkhole.

Mrs. Bauhahn seemed uninjured by the accident and it was she who called Dr. Walker of Saugatuck to attend her husband and Rose Luckner, who were also victims of the accident. Dr. Walker attended the two when they had returned to their home at Gibson Sunday night after the accident. Late Monday night Mrs. Bauhahn needed his services and death came at two o'clock Tuesday morning.

The accident, which at first seemed to have ended fortunately, may, as the result of Mrs. Bauhahn's death, become the subject of an investigation for criminal neglect. If the person can be found who drove the large car that was the cause of the accident, a charge of manslaughter seems likely.

The Bauhahns' car, when struck by the large auto, was forced into the ditch and it turned over, pinning Mr. and Mrs. Bauhahn and Rose Luckner under it face down in the water. They would have drowned if Mr. Bauhahn had not kept on blowing his horn, thus attracting the attention of the passing motorists who released the trio from their precarious position in the water. While their car was smashed, it seemed at first as though none of the trio was seriously injured, least of all, Mrs. Bauhahn.

The driver of the car that did the damage did not stop to investigate or to assist his victims. Mr. Beckman and Mr. Vandewater took the testimony of Mr. Bauhahn and Miss Luckner Tuesday with a view of trying to learn the identity of the driver of the other car.

ROI PARTRIDGE ETCHINGS IN THE JUNIOR HIGH

An opportunity to secure real pieces of art work is being offered to those people who are thinking of buying pictures for a newly built home or where they have recently redecorated and wish to have some pictures of real value or a note of interest upon their walls.

There is an increasing interest being shown in etching. Stores and shops handling pictures are showing reproductions of etchings at reasonable prices.

Being in touch with artists through art galleries the high school art department is showing during the winter pictures which come directly from the artist himself and these artists represent the best talent in our country.

Just now in the lower corridor of Junior high school there is being shown a group of etchings by Roi Partridge, who is art director of the gallery and head of the art department at Mills College, California. His etchings have been shown in both of the principal Paris salons.

His prints are included in "Prime Prints of the Year" art publication, for 1924 and 1926. His prints have also been in every "Fifty Print" exhibition of the American Institute of Graphic Arts. His etchings are owned by many art museums and libraries. Some of them are: the library of Congress, New York Public Library, Seattle Public Library, the art institute of Chicago, the Toledo museum, Los Angeles museum, the Toronto, Canada, art gallery, the Walker art gallery, Liverpool, Eng.

ENDS WORK ON ORGANIZING THE R. C. ROLL CALL

Mrs. G. J. Van Duren has completed the work of organizing the south half of Ottawa county for the coming Red Cross drive, which will open next Saturday. In addition to those already listed as being in charge of the roll call in various rural committees, the following appointments have been made: Jamestown, Mrs. Holleman and Mrs. De Kiste; Vriesland, Rev. Mr. Minnema; North Holland, Rev. Mr. Maatman; West Olive, Mrs. Drescher.

In Holland the American Legion will canvass the factories, the business houses, the offices along River avenue and Eighth street, the contractors and the high school. Opportunity will be given in the three Holland banks the next two Saturdays for enrollment. At the First State bank the work will be in charge of Mrs. A. Leenhout and Mrs. George Pelgrim; Holland City State bank, Miss Katherine Post and Mrs. Meuwissen; People State bank, Mrs. Wagner and Mrs. Elbers.

GRAND RAPIDS PUT ON A NEW AIR LINE

Air mail service with Detroit and Toledo after January 1 will be practically made certain Friday during a conference between Major James Connors, president of the United Airways Co., Detroit, and Grand Rapids business men.

The plan would include Grand Rapids in no small way. The route would be Detroit, Ann Arbor, Jackson, Battle Creek, Kalamazoo, Grand Rapids and Lansing, back to Detroit and thence to Toledo to connect with the trans-continental air lines.

The mail planes would leave Grand Rapids about 4 P. M. and would have been asked to provide 20 pounds of air mail each day. Lee H. Biers, secretary of the association of commerce, told Major Connors he believes he can guarantee this load.

Connors requested installation of "hook lights" at the Grand Rapids airport. He said the field is in a satisfactory condition. He was accompanied to Grand Rapids by Don Harris, Detroit assistant manager of the United Airways, Incorporated; Louis Motter, Marysville, manager of the Buhr Aircraft company; and G. W. Hawkins, both of Lansing.

Holland Woman Pictured In Grand Rapids Paper

Mrs. Etta Whitman, of Holland, appears in a group picture in the Grand Rapids Herald of Monday showing the officers of the Western Michigan Parents-Teachers association. She occupies the position of chairman on the occasion of the annual meeting.

A dozen other ladies holding different positions are also shown. West Michigan has the first organized district Parent-Teachers association in the state; the organization was founded during the recent district meeting of the four district held there in connection with the district convention association. Enrollment at the meeting showed 260 parents and teachers registered, representing Allegan, Barry, Otsego, Oceana, Montcalm, Muskegon, Newaygo and Ionia counties.

Mrs. Glenn P. Thayer, Gr. Rapids, is the district chairman. Mrs. Emma Hubbard Hawley, of Hart, was elected secretary.

MORE WISH TO COME IN ON THE BRICK DEAL

A week ago eight distinguished manufacturers gathered in Holland to confer with the officials of the Holland Chimney company to take charge of the output of the patent owned by the local company in the way of routing flue chimneys which brick makers recognized as the last word in chimney construction, making all chimneys. Instead of a fire hazard, a safety flue. The manufacturers who plan to make and market these chimneys were unanimous in their approval but some eastern and a few western brick makers want to be in on the deal before the matter can be completely closed.

Mr. James De Pree, who has been making these negotiations, left Monday for Boston and other eastern cities and when he has completed arrangements there he will leave immediately for the Pacific Coast to confer with manufacturers there.

Before leaving he stated that the future prospects for their products are bright and that the deal has all but been closed, but that the eastern and western trip that will take up the greater part of three weeks is necessary to put on the finishing touch.

It will mean considerable to Holland if this deal is consummated, for headquarters are to be in this city and no doubt large sales forces will go out from here. Mr. De Pree is much pleased with the situation as far as it has gone, stating that the men who were here were very much taken up with the proposition.

HOLLAND FANS ARE PERPLEXED ABOUT DECISION

Many fans in Holland and Grand Haven are still in doubt about the decision by referee Red Miller which robbed Holland of a touchdown in the game Saturday against the Oshkosh aggregation. The play looked as if it was perfectly executed to all except Miller and it was his job to see if the play was right and when he thought it unfair, ruled it so and brought the ball back to the 38 yard line. The rules say that the man passing the ball must be five yards back of the line of scrimmage. Miller said that Tyse was so, as we would not doubt Miller's fairness as he has worked many games in Holland and has always been fair. Just how a referee could call this type of play foul is hard to understand, however.

The ball is passed back from center to Tyse, who is covered by the other three backfield men. On this play, Elenbas and Tanis line up at least a yard back of the line. Tanis takes a position at least a yard back of Elenbas and Tyse must still be further back so that after the ball is passed he can make use of his protection while picking a man to pass to. In this way it hardly seems possible that Miller could have judged the distance so remarkably accurately to see whether Tyse was four or five yards back. It was hard luck for Holland and the writer does not want to excuse a defeat, but most times the people say scores tell the only results of battle and it is unfair to the Hinga men to say that they did not deserve to win. Grand Haven in nearly every quarter of the game and deserved to at least have a tie count. Tyse would not take a step ahead to pass the ball and a step back would mean at least one half a yard.

It is the opinion of most of those who were on the sidelines, that Miller had been watching the teams pass and thought of the rule. Naturally he would pick out a time to call a play back and it was just unfortunate that this particular play was illegal.

Dalman once underway showed his heels to every Havenite and there was not a man near him when he crossed the goal line. Captain Tyse does not say very much and he has been criticized many times this season for calling bad plays. However he played the game about right on Saturday. He called Tanis, Elenbas and himself to take the ball over from the 6 yard line and he declared that he had crossed the goal line on the last play, but was shoved back. Of course this play was a matter of inches and Holland again lost the decision. The game is over, the score is written and Grand Haven is credited with victory, but the Holland men deserve much credit for their stand as far as the sidelines, that Miller had been watching the teams pass and thought of the rule. Naturally he would pick out a time to call a play back and it was just unfortunate that this particular play was illegal.

STARTS BATTLE VS. RE-LOCATING TRUNKLINE NO. 31

Former State Representative Fred Wade of Saugatuck was in Holland Tuesday to fire the opening gun against the state's proposal to relocate US-31 between Holland and Saugatuck. Mr. Wade made arrangements with lawyer Kammeraad to appear before the common council at the next meeting for the purpose of addressing the aldermen and explaining to them just what the relocation of the road will mean to Holland. His hope is to enlist the aldermen, through them, the people of Holland, in the coming battle against the new route.

According to Mr. Wade, the plan is to route US-31 past the new hospital, then to a point a mile east of the Saugatuck road, then straight south for 12 miles, then west toward Saugatuck, practically eliminating Saugatuck from the route, going over the hill east of that place, across the big bayou to the bridge south of Saugatuck.

"We are of course interested in keeping Saugatuck on the main trunk line," said Mr. Wade today, "but it is important that the people of Holland shall understand what the relocation will mean to the people of this city. The West Michigan Pike was laid out on the basis of being a scenic highway. The road as now located is in sight of the beautiful dunes. The hundreds of thousands of tourists coming in from the south are sold on Holland before they ever reach the city. After skirting the dunes for seven miles through Laketown township, they follow the trail along Black Lake, right along the edge of the bay one of the most beautiful drives in Michigan. It looks to me as if it is important to Holland that that route shall be retained. If the road is so congested it can much more easily and more cheaply be widened than a brand new road built. The same is true of the whole route between Holland and Saugatuck."

"The great objection of course is the seven corners near Saugatuck. We have told State Highway Commissioner Frank Rogers to cut right across the seven corners, eliminating all the curves. There is nothing to prevent this and it will be cheap and easy."

"If the new route is followed it will mean the purchase of 48 miles of right of way. Moreover, it will mean the construction of 12 miles of brand new road at a cost of $35,000 a mile, whereas if the old road is followed it need merely be widened. Not only will the improvement of the old road, together with the elimination of the sharp curves be a great deal cheaper but it is a much more beautiful location. Moreover, if the new route is followed it will mean that there are three improved roads running parallel within a space of three miles and the large section along the lake shore will be left to its own devices, and it is well known what that means."

"As for the people of Holland, I believe they should think twice before giving their backing to routing US-31 by the new hospital. That will mean that during the resort season some 800 cars an hour will pass that institution. Does Holland want that kind of thing?"

Mr. Wade will not only endeavor to stop the operation of the proposed route, but he hopes that other organizations in Holland will also join him.

"Five million members for 1928" has been adopted by the American Red Cross as its slogan for the 11th annual roll call to be held from Armistice day, November 11, to Thanksgiving, if this goal is reached it will mean an increase of nearly 2,000,000 over last year's enrollment.

Extensive demands for service in disasters and other emergencies and a desire on the part of the Red Cross to widen its activities in the fields of public health, life saving, first aid and similar enterprises, make necessary increased support from the people, national headquarters states in announcing the 1928 goal.

Just how gigantic the task of administering disasters has become is evidenced in the annual report of the Red Cross for the closing fiscal year. Relief was given in a total of 91 major and minor disasters in the United States and in 21 foreign disasters. Included in the list of domestic disasters were the Florida hurricane and the Mississippi Valley flood, which affected a total of more than 840,000 people.

During the roll call more than 250,000 men and women wearing the Red Cross workers' badge will go among the people inviting them to join for 1928. All will be volunteer workers. Dues collected will finance local Red Cross work, such as public health nursing and service to World War veterans, and supply funds also for the international and national Red Cross program.

Ottawa county will play its part in enlisting members. Officers of the Ottawa chapter are finishing plans for the annual enrollment, which will be held Saturday in an active way. Although the opening date is Friday, no actual work will be done here then on account of Armistice day.

Last year, in asking for support, the Red Cross warned against inevitable future disasters—explained the imperative need for preparedness. The people responded willingly. And in the nick of time, for there followed two of the worst catastrophes of modern times. In Florida, a devastating hurricane, in seven states, the Mississippi Flood.

Nor did the list end there. While appalling destruction on the Mississippi gripped the attention of the world, the Red Cross acted quietly, efficiently, as the people's agent of relief, not only on the Mississippi, but in 12 other disasters which occurred simultaneously.

Again the same month which saw the great Florida hurricane, a devastating tornado in Ohio, a devastating fire in Alaska, floods in Illinois, Kansas and Iowa. And in every case the Red Cross directed the immediate relief, carried out the permanent rehabilitation.

MR. AND MRS. TURKEY START ON LAST STRUT

The biggest movement of turkeys to the north and east from Texas in many years is on. The season's first big shipment of Thanksgiving day birds came Monday. The first car loaded was consigned to Portland, Maine.

With next Friday as the last dressing day for turkeys intended for shipment before Thanksgiving, it is predicted by dealers that approximately 500 carloads of dressed birds will have gone out from Texas, the turkey state. The average carload consists of 20,000 pounds of turkeys.

A heavier movement of turkeys after Thanksgiving for Christmas holidays than has been experienced in years from Texas, also is forecast by dealers.

A Holland township man was badly injured at the street intersections of Columbia Ave. and 16th Street Monday. Maurus Vanderhaar had his collarbone fractured in two places. Mrs. Vanderhaar escaped serious injuries although badly shaken up and bruised. The accident was caused when the Vanderhaar car was given a glancing blow by another car. The Vanderhaar car lurched and the occupants had to crawl thru the top in order to get out of the mess.

Judge William B. Brown of Grand Rapids came to Allegan Monday to hold circuit court for a few days for Judge Oren S. Gross. Judge Gross went to Grand Haven to open the Ottawa county circuit court. November and will return Thursday.

The Royal Neighbors will hold a Pedro and 500 party Thursday evening with a pot-luck lunch. Lodge begins at 7:30. Everybody welcome.

MOTORISTS ARE WARNED TO GET TITLES ON CARS

A warning to all motorists in the state to examine their certificates of title for their cars as issued by the state department is a very important matter. It is understood that hundreds of second-hand cars are being purchased of which the present owner has no lawful title. A purchaser of a used car or a prospective purchaser should not depend on what appears to be a clear title given by the state. In many cases there is a lien filed against a car in the first purchaser's home town that does not show on the title.

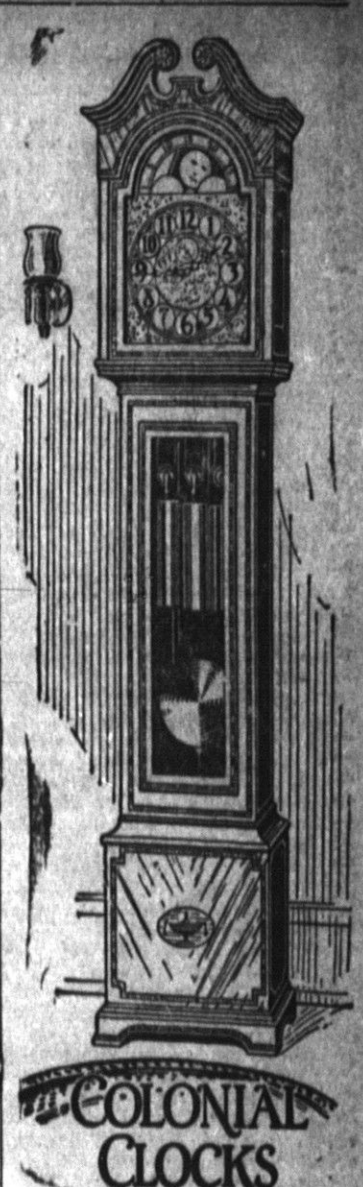

The Circuit Court recently held that a purchaser of a car that has a lien against it is responsible for the lien regardless of what the title might state. It has also developed that professional thieves have stolen cars, later sold them as used cars, and secured perfectly good Michigan title to these cars by juggling of engine numbers.

It is pointed out, for instance, that a man residing in Holland might purchase a car on the time payment basis and that the chattel mortgage may be recorded here in accordance with the law. The application for title to the car might be made out so that no lien was shown against it. A short time later the purchaser might move to Muskegon, or some other place, sell the car there, giving a clear title to the purchaser, who would effect a transfer through the state department. At some future date the finance company that had a lien against it might locate it and could recover it from the second purchaser.

This condition of affairs makes it necessary for every purchaser of a used car either to trace the ownership of the car from the dealer who originally sold it down thru every ownership, or, if purchased from a dealer, to get a written statement from that company to the effect that the car is free and clear of all liens.

Mrs. S. Wagner, living near Agnew, reports several patches of arbutus on her property in full bud and almost bloom. Her lilacs also show small buds but she does not look for them to blossom. This is the first time she has ever found these flowers at this time of the year.

This has been a wonderful fall but there were others. A file copy states that on Nov. 3, 1902 some very fine strawberries were picked off of the D. L. Bator farm just east of the village of Saugatuck and presented to the high school by one of the students.

GIVES A REVIEW OF MOST FAMOUS CASE ON RECORD

The most discussed murder trial of modern times, that of Sacco and Vanzetti, was the subject of discussion at the meeting of the Social Progress club Tuesday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Blumensaat. Ernest Brooks presented a very exhaustive paper on the subject and in the discussion that followed it developed that about half of the members felt the two Italians were innocent while about half held the opposite opinion.

Mr. Brooks began the story at the very beginning and gave a description of the pay roll murder for which Sacco and Vanzetti were executed last summer, seven years after the crime was committed. He gave the testimony in summary of the witnesses that appeared at the trial, taken from the court record and he described the method of the state in apprehending Sacco and Vanzetti and connecting them with the crime. He gave in some detail the various steps through which the trial dragged and he also described the efforts that were made after conviction for a review of the case.

Mr. Brooks sketched the atmosphere of hysteria at the time of the trial, when the United States department of justice, under the leadership of Mr. Palmer, was engaging in a Red hunting campaign, and he pointed out that the testimony was not reviewed by the higher courts but that the only thing passed on was the legal regularity of the trial. He described the five counts of new testimony on which an appeal for a new trial was based and pointed out that the same man, Judge Thayer, who was accused of unfairness in the trial, decided whether the new trial was justified or not.

To balance the belief of many sincere men and women who studied the case that the Italians were guilty, Mr. Brooks cited the belief of many others, just as sincere and just as well informed, who felt they were innocent. He said such a highly conservative publication as "The Atlantic Monthly" was among the latter and made a fight for Sacco and Vanzetti.

Charles J. Abrahamson of Waverly avenue, Grand Haven, passed away at 5:15 A. M. Tuesday at Hutton hospital after a short illness of pneumonia. Mr. Abrahamson was born in Chicago, Feb. 2, 1882. He resided in Grand Haven for the last six years and was employed at the Challenge Machinery Co. He was a world war veteran, and served for two and one-half years in the U. S. Buffalo, a repair boat in the Azores region.

TWO SISTERS LIVE TO BE OVER NINETY

Lamont and Grand Rapids are the homes of two sisters, both of whom are more than 90 years old. Mrs. Peter Vandenberg, the youngest, who recently became a nonagenarian, has resided in Lamont since 1857. She came to America from Holland when she was a small girl and lived in Grand Rapids for some time prior to moving to Lamont where she took up her home a year after her marriage. Her sister, Mrs. Sarah Gerding, of Grand Rapids, is now in her ninety-sixth year. Both are in good health.

The Blue Bird Beauty Shop has moved from East Eighth street to the smallest store in town on West 8th street, directly East of the Model Drug store.

Funeral was held at the Allegan Baptist chapel Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Whitaker was a native of Allegan and lived here until about 10 years ago.

John J. Good was in Lansing Wednesday attending the meeting of the Michigan Builders Supply association, of which he is a director.

John Kolenbrander, who is now a policeman at Grand Rapids and formerly lived in Holland, is nursing severe injuries to his face that he received when struck by a mysterious assailant when he was going through an alley on Eastbond avenue at midnight as part of his beat. He was struck by some object in the hands of a person standing behind a telephone pole. He was brought to a hospital where he is now lying, which is a legged one, was caused by a piece of concrete that was found.

GIVES THE THREE ELEMENTS OF A SUCCESSFUL HOME

The members present at the Women's Literary Club yesterday afternoon, enjoyed a splendid program of unusual merit. Miss Katherine Post presented "Forever Free." She referred to Rhodes' History of the Civil War by point out that the characters of the story are true, with one exception. The book brings out the attitude of the north during the conflict and an exceptionally accurate and entertaining.

Doris Beuwick, Holland high school's mayor, next addressed the club on the subject of education week and invited the members to visit the schools this week, naming the special features being observed each day.

Mrs. H. A. Burnham of Newellville, Mass., was introduced as one of the chairmen of the home-making department of the national federation of women's clubs. She has a very pleasing personality and is a most interesting speaker. She pointed out the need of more home-living in every house in the land, showing how home-making is a creative art, while housekeeping is a business.

Mrs. Burnham divided home-making into three important heads—religion, rhythm, and reliability. She said religion is the heart in our children's lives, and rhythm is the heart in our lives. She pointed out that a clean mind and pure heart in our children is the most important thing a parent can give. She said that a clean heart is the heart of a person standing behind a telephone pole. She said that a clean heart is the heart of a person standing behind a telephone pole.

Van Dyke's "God of the Open Air" was recommended as an example of refreshing rhythm in depicting outdoor life.

Reliability, said Mrs. Burnham, is the power to overcome difficulties in our lives. Man is the only member of the animal kingdom that has the gift of laughter. We take ourselves too seriously. We are too apt to be uninterested and unobservant. Our homes should be a refuge for the spirit, where we may enjoy comfort and sympathy together. A smile is the first conscious recognition of a baby for its parents. We need more hearty laughs in the home. In other words, Mrs. Burnham believes wholeheartedly in a saving sense of humor. She pleads that we work as rebuilders and recreators of the American home, which is our country's foremost institution.

Miss Iola Primm sang a group of pleasing vocal solos and a quartet of young ladies sang Southern melodies, accompanied by Mrs. Ed De Pree, which ended the program.

MANY GRID MEN FINISH THEIR WORK SATURDAY

HOLLAND FANS WILL SEE FINAL WORK OF 9 VETERANS FOR HINGA AGGREGATION

When the final whistle sounds on Saturday afternoon 9 veterans will have closed their careers on the home lot for the Holland high team. The graduating exercises in June will take Captain Tyse, Elenbas, Tibbits, Wassenaar, Sandy, Wynga, Nyhoff, Cody and Dalman. The last game will not be played at home so that fans will have to take a look at the boys Saturday for the last time in Holland high uniform. Such a great crowd of men has not left for quite a space of time and Hinga will feel the loss keenly. The team is made up of men who are scrappers. They have been one of the most unlucky teams that ever represented Holland and yet they have won admiration wherever they have performed. Captain Tyse will close a career of two years as a veteran as also will Sandy, Tibbits, Wassenaar and Elenbas. Nyhoff, Wynga, Cody and Dalman came from the Chapman reserves of last season and have made a fine record. The boys have just one thing in mind and that is to give the home fans a good idea of what they really can do with that spirit they are going to be hard to defeat. There is just a little bit of the lip and silence noticed on the boys since the Grand Haven game and St. Joseph will find plenty of fight. It is going to be a great battle no doubt as the teams are about evenly matched and Holland players are looking for a chance to make their score sheet look just a little better balanced.

Each year sees the passing of stars and Holland fans will especially miss Elenbas and Tyse. They have had hard going against many big teams and have played some of the time in the line. Tibbits, Wassenaar and Sandy have carried the brunt of the battle. Nyhoff sprung into the line in the South game and played a great game against Grand Haven. These three men do not receive the plaudits of the crowd from the fans, because their work is not so noticeable but Holland is losing some mighty line-men who will be hard to replace. Keeler another man on the varsity who has not in a few games will also have his last chance on Saturday.

We count Hinga will use Norin and Zwemer in the line of defense at Kazoo to give them the confidence to start the season of 1928.

ST. JOSEPH WILL BATTLE HOLLAND HERE SATURDAY

COACH HOWE BRINGS UNDEFEATED ELEVEN, HAD TIE WITH G. R. CATHOLIC

Another great obstacle is in the path of the Holland high eleven for Saturday afternoon when Hinga's aggregation must combat the St. Joseph team. This Howe crowd has not been defeated this season and has whipped a few good teams. Grand Rapids Catholic was thrown out of the state championship and Hinga's team when this gang up and held them to a scoreless tie at Grand Rapids. Since that time Dawgins, Kazoo, Normal, South Haven, Niles and a few other schools have felt the sting of defeat from St. Joseph and Hinga's team. Hinga's team is preparing for divisional games. A victory over a school named Sids is the greatest threat that Howe boasts of and he ran off a few long trips last week, traveling 40 and another time 80 yards for a touchdown. He is a power in the line and he is open for just counts 6 points for St. Joseph. Zitta is another great ball totter that Howe has. This fellow has played for three years against Holland. Klemm a full back that was wrecked in the Catholic game is said to be back in shape for Holland and Howe wants to win the worst way. Benton Harbor and St. Joseph are big rivals and Holland has a tie with Benton Harbor. Last fall Holland went to St. Joseph and with a fine team and after 60 minutes of play, the count was still a tie. Neither team able to score. Elenbas changed to fumble the slippery ball on one occasion when he headed for a score and that was the first chance that Holland really had, while the home team's chances were even more limited when it came to scoring. Now Holland wants to win and it looks like another big afternoon for the fans with many of the Holland boys determined to close their careers on the home lot with a victory.

A marriage license has been issued in Allegan county for Arthur K. Vandevoort 24, Holland; also Adrian Knyff, 69, Grand Rapids and Bouwke P. Achterhof, 69, Holland.

Enforcement of the new Horton trespass law passed at the last session of the Michigan legislature is doomed to failure if results of its first test during the present small game season are any indication, conservationists believe.

The law, passed by the last legislature, requires each hunter to obtain permission before entering unposted woods or farm lands.

When the season on pheasants, woodcocks, squirrels and rabbits opened, hunters found local enforcement officers and state game wardens squabbling over whose duty it was to enforce the law, and as a result, trespassers were arrested. Many hunters, however, requested permission from land owners.

George Hogarth, acting director of the conservation department, obtained a ruling from the attorney-general's office to the effect that his department was not responsible for enforcement of the law. He informed all wardens and deputies of the ruling.

This means, that a land owner, finding a hunter on his land without permission, would have to obtain a warrant for his arrest. If the trespasser is unknown to him, it would be difficult to obtain a warrant. Deputy sheriff or other officers are empowered to make arrests without a warrant, but it is pointed out that these men are not always available.

In its original form the Horton bill would have made every farmer an officer with power to arrest, but this clause was stricken out by the legislature.

Violation of the Horton law is punishable by a fine of from $10 to $50 for first offense. Thirty days in jail is mandatory for a second or subsequent offense in addition to the fine up to $100.

City and Resort Ass'n Differ On New Road

Despite the unfavorable action of the Highland Park Board of directors, held in Grand Rapids recently relative to putting a cement road down the old interurban right-of-way, the city of Grand Haven is disposed to push matters, through the chamber of commerce, merchants clubs and Grand Haven merchants.

This road, if built, would disturb the quiet of that section but would be a great convenience to the resorters wishing transportation there.

HELLO SCOUTS, DADS, MOTHERS AND ALL

Yes, the Scout News is back again after quite a prolonged vacation. It was hoped to resume it about one month ago, but the troop reporters were slow about sending their reports so that scout headquarters did not feel justified in asking the newspapers for the space. The troops are the chief source of news and therefore, the success of the Scout News depends upon the punctual reports of the troop reporters. These have now been promised, so you may again enjoy the Scout News each week, on Wednesday or some other regular day each week, as our cooperating newspapers decide.

MC KINNEY BECOMES SKIPPER OF SHIP 13 OF GRAND HAVEN

James McKinney, for the past two years a member of the Ship 13 committee, has been appointed skipper, succeeding Edmond Wilds who has been appointed Community Postmaster.

Mr. McKinney is well qualified for the position, having had considerable seamanship experience. During the construction of the two boats which were completed last summer, he was one of the most faithful workers. He enjoys the confidence of his scouts and under his leadership Ship 13 is sure to advance. Formermaster Wilds will now devote himself to the promotion of seamanship throughout the entire community. He proposes to assist the scoutmasters by periodically visiting the several troops and giving instructions and examinations in Cabin Boy tests, whenever the boys are desired.

A. E. BUNKER IS NOW SPRING LAKE SCOUTMASTER

Spring Lake Troop 14 has a new scoutmaster who is a veteran scout. He is Mr. A. E. Bunker who recently moved to Spring Lake from Bad Axe, Michigan. He has had over six years experience as a scoutmaster at Bad Axe and Muskegon. Mr. Bunker is employed by the Grand Trunk railway at Grand Haven as a telegraph operator. Already Troop 14 is showing strong signs of growth under his leadership.

THIS AND THAT

New scout diaries for 1928 are now available. They are a real miniature handbook on scouting.

TROOP 3 GRAND HAVEN PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH, TWO CANDIDATES ADMITTED

Wednesday evening Oct. 26, Troop 3 gave a demonstration, for the Troop leaders of Ottawa county. At this time Junior Bolt and Edward Wilds were admitted to the troop as tenderfoot scouts. William Vaxter received his civics merit badge, Albert Bous and Ken. Brown received swimming merit badges; also Daniel Pett received his star scout pin.

KENNETH GROSS, Reporter TROOP 2, PORT SHELTON TOWNSHIP, FILLS UP CHURCH YARD

Under the care of Asst. Scoutmaster Silas Wierma the troop has taken several overnight hikes this past summer. Two were for the Patrol Leaders and Assistant Patrol Leaders. The last one was to Camp McCarthy and one was planned for that place Friday night, Oct. 4.

Our Cuckoo Patrol deserves special mention for one of its public service good turns. The boys leveled the church yard by hauling in dirt by the wagonload, a task involving considerable hard labor.

TROOP 3 GRAND HAVEN EPISCOPAL CHURCH, NEW PATROL ORGANIZED

Mr. Kirk is back with us now and we are again advancing. The last meeting was begun at 7:30. Mr. Kirk and our Assistant Scoutmaster, Wm. Praston Bill, drilled Scoutmaster and the boys on their tenderfoot and second class tests. We then had a little signaling instruction for the general good of everyone. The patrols were filled up and we had 12 new recruits which necessitated the forming of a new patrol which is called the Eastern patrol. We have several "cows" from them already. This active patrol took a hike Saturday morning and practiced signaling and made plans for an all day hike Tuesday and the boys hope to pass many tests.

JACK ELMER SPANGLER, Reporter TROOP 4, COOPERVILLE REPORTS MANY ACTIVITIES

Troop 4 had the most interesting program it has had for a long time and also the largest attendance. It was an autumn night. All the scouts that had joined the troop since Mr. Velchus became scoutmaster were initiated.

Each patrol had a stunt and after these the patrol leaders criticized each other.

The section part of the meeting was given over to having Patrol Leader Richard Russell, welter-weight champion, and Senior Patrol Leader Jim Luther, light-weight champion, Asst. Patrol Leader Lawrence T. West, fly-weight champion, Robert Hall, bantam-weight champion, and Douglas Cumberworth, champion.

Troop 4 is having a project period once a week for the high school students. The projects are airplane model building, archery and nature study. They also have a special period for advancement in scouting for the school scouts once a week.

TROOP 7, HOLLAND THIRD REFORMED CHURCH, CHOOSES PATROL LEADERS

Troop 7 met Monday night with an attendance of 15 scouts. 2 official reviews were given on knots and history of the American flag. Patrol leaders and assistant patrol leaders were chosen.

This troop will be one of the best troops in the city before the winter is over.

The patrol method is being used exclusively and works out fine. The troop meets every Monday from 7 to 9.

TROOP 11 HOLLAND SIXTH REFORMED CHURCH, CHOOSES PATROL LEADERS

Four scouts from Troop 11 attended scout camp, they were: Joe Anderson, Jason Woldering, Russell De Waard and Arthur De Waard. Joe Anderson and Jason Woldering passed their second class work and were given second class badges.

At a recent meeting all boys of 12 years and over were invited to attend a winter camp, on account of rain the meeting was held in the church. Peanuts and buns were provided and all reported a good time. The troop now is planning another hike.

TROOP 15, JENISON, MUCH PROGRESS NOTED

Troop 15 went on a hike last week and with wonderful results. Harold and Norman Wagner passed their cooking tests. Dale Berger and Wil-

Trouble Makes Whole World Kin; Red Cross Knows No Boundaries

"Now Tell Mother," is precisely what the world does to the Red Cross when trouble comes. An earthquake in Japan, a flood in the United States, a typhoon in the West Indies—the Red Cross is first to learn about it and to soothe the ravages of disaster with relief. Miss Catherine Lewis, formerly on the National staff of the Red Cross, has deftly symbolized the role of the Red Cross in the above sketch.

Most of the world's disasters the past year were centered in the United States. The great floods in the Mississippi Valley headed the list of 77 major catastrophes. More than 600,000 refugees were dependent upon the Red Cross for food, shelter and clothing, 149 refugee camps were established and scores of volunteer nurses and doctors waged war on disease. Fourteen other disasters called for relief during the Mississippi flood. Ordinarily the others would have commanded the attention of the Nation, but they were dwarfed by the havoc done by the Father of Waters. In the meantime twenty foreign lands found themselves in distress through no fault of their own. They appealed to the Red Cross and help was forthcoming.

Disaster relief has overshadowed the every day activities of the Red Cross owing to the publicity it has produced. Notwithstanding the burden of providing relief on an unprecedented scale, the Red Cross, through its 3500 Chapters throughout the country, has vigorously pushed its regular program.

The eleventh annual membership roll call will be held as usual from Armistice day to Thanksgiving. Five million members is the goal and the Red Cross confidently expects that many.

Our Clotterhouse looked deeper into first aid. While Robert Agdre found some of the finer points in signaling. These hiking were: Dale Berger, Richard Keech, Wilbur Clotterhouse, Robert Andre, Harold and Norman Wagner, Robert Boynton with Edgar Tate, senior patrol leader.

ROBERT BOYNTON, Reporter SEASCOOT SHIP 13, GRAND HAVEN HOLDS FELLOWSHIP MEETING

Ship 13 combined its charter presentation ceremony with a good fellowship meeting at their shack across the river last Thursday evening. Smith and Wm. Tonkar. Skipper Ed Wilds and Mate James McKinney and Claude Verduin.

AUNT JULIA'S ROCKING CHAIR

"Just force of habit"

said Aunt Julia as she watched Mrs. Browning hang out the clothes, "she's washed every Monday for twenty years and I suppose she'll wash every Monday for twenty more. They've got an auto and a phonograph and a player piano and a radio—and still she goes through the same old washday that she had to go through when Mr. Browning brought home two tens and a five every Saturday night. Just habit, that's all."

But the home washday habit is one that more than 2,000,000 American women have broken. And after they once tried the laundry, they never cultivated the home washing habit again. If you have a wash line, put it away and call us.

Ministerial association at Grand Rapids has suspended activities here owing to lack of interest of the 14 members. Only four appeared at the last meeting.

The Holland public schools are making education week still more attractive by placing electric transparencies on the outside of every school building announcing the subjects of that day. The signs are lighted every evening.

Prof. Oren E. Powell of Richland, Mich., who suffered a hemorrhage while working in the Zeeland school, was able to be removed from the Emergency ward, November 5th, to his home. It will be sometime before he is able to resume his work.

Ether Elizabeth Bulkema, formerly a student of the School for Christian Education, Zeeland, is now attending the Washington School at Holland.

Miss Zelma Fox is instructor of this department. Dr. Howell gives the treatments.

ext Sunday night Rev. C. P. Dame of Trinity church, located at Central avenue and 20th street will, preach on the subject "Young People and Liberty"—a sermon of the series "Messages For Young People and Their Parents." Much interest is shown in this series of sermons. The present building alterations do not interfere with the services in Trinity church.

Stores at Grand Rapids and Holland are to remain open on Friday, Armistice day. In Holland there is nothing unusual going on during business hours. There will be a banquet at the armory at 8:30 o'clock. At Grand Haven there is to be a parade but merchants felt that the city would look more lively with stores open and windows patriotically trimmed.

"Prophecy and the Second Coming of Jesus," will be the sermon topic at a public meeting in the Dutch language to be held on Sunday, Nov. 13 at 7:30 P. M. in the church building, No. 12 East 18th St. Speaker Rev. R. J. Klingbell, veteran missionary for 33 years in many countries. Many ask the question: Will Jesus come again? How will He come—visibly or invisibly? For what purpose will He come? Can we know when His coming is near? What will the coming of Christ mean? What will the coming of Christ bring for God's children, and what for the unbelievers? What is the surest sign of Christ's coming? What does the prophetic word say about His coming? All who are interested in

Mr. Wynand Wichers of the First State bank addressed the Good Fellowship men's club of the Spring Lake Presbyterian church. There were 65 men present and a musical program was also arranged. The Spring Lake correspondent said "Mr. Wichers spoke on the subject 'Mark of a Man.' The Holland man in a very forceful message emphasized this fact, that the man who is to be able to cope with the problems of the present age must be a man who can lay hold of the heritage that has been handed down to him, who can keep his feet on the ground and remain true to his convictions, who can keep his eye on the goal and have a real vision and inspiration in life, and who knows the real art of cooperation."

The road from Hamilton to Overisel was finished last week. The trucks, which have been back and forth through the village most of the summer, have left us and as a result it seems rather quiet. However, they have done a fine piece of work and we have another "highway" leading out of this town. We have been hearing a good deal about the "poor" road in Allegan county, but it is safe to say that in the future favorable comment will be made from those who pass through this community.

HOSEA PREACHES GOD'S LOVE

LESSON TEXT—Hosea 11:1-4, 8, 9, 14-15.

GOLDEN TEXT—I desire mercy and not sacrifice and the knowledge of God more than burnt offerings.
PRIMARY TOPIC—God's Wonderful Love.

JUNIOR TOPIC—God's Wonderful Love.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—The Unchanging Love of God.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Loving-Kindness of God.

Hosea's message was primarily to Israel. The nation was outwardly prosperous, for its height of temporal glory was reached in the time of Jeroboam II. (See II Kings 14:20). With this prosperity came luxury, immorality and apostasy. Cal worship and Baal worship were substituted for the worship of God. I. The Apostasy of Israel (chs. 1-13).

Israel's covenant relationship with Jehovah is presented under the figure of a marriage. Their spiritual whoredom is symbolized by the example of an unfaithful wife.

1. The marriage (1:1, 2). Hosea was commanded by God to take an unchaste woman to be his wife. While this was a strange act, yet it was right, for it was commanded by God, and its motive was the elevation of the woman to the prophet's moral plane. It was designed to show God's wonderful condescension and love in entering into covenant relationship with a nation of such immorality. The nation had no more to commend it when God chose it than this unchaste woman when Hosea contracted marriage with her.

2. The unfaithful wife (ch. 2). Notwithstanding the wonderful condescension on the part of the prophet in contracting marriage with this woman, Gomer, the unfaithful wife, departs from him to consort with her former base lovers. This shows Israel's base ingratitude in their departure from God to go after idols. So chastisement fell upon her for her unfaithfulness.

3. Illustration of Gomer, the unfaithful wife (ch. 3). This illustrates God's undying love for Israel. The motive governing the prophet's act was love. God's love for Israel is just as real. His grace will yet move Him to take back that nation to Himself.

11. God's Love for Israel (Hosea 11:1-4, 8, 9).

1. It began when Israel as a nation was in its childhood. God loved the nation even while in Egypt.

2. "Called my son out of Egypt" (v. 1).

God called Israel out of the bondage of Egypt and brought them into Canaan, the land of freedom—flowing with milk and honey. Such love and favor placed Israel under peculiar obligation to God.

3. "Taught Ephraim to go" (v. 3).

In spite of Israel's backsliding (v. 2), God is represented as teaching Israel how to walk, even as a father taking up his child in his arms. God watched over them as parents watch over their children by night, giving medicine, keeping warm, etc.

4. "I drew with cords of a man" (v. 4).

Observe that His drawing was not with a stout rope as used with an unruly heifer (ch. 10:11), but a cord such as a man could bear. God's wonderful love in Christ should constrain us to obey and serve Him.

5. Took off the yoke from the jaws and placed food before them (v. 4).

The figure is of a husbandman taking the yoke from the oxen so that they could eat. Something similar is seen in modern times in the farmer who takes the bit out of the horse's mouth before tying on the bag of oats.

6. Unwillingness to give them up (v. 8, 9).

In spite of all Israel's sin, God was unwilling to destroy them.

11. God Pleads for Repentance (14:1-6).

Notwithstanding their awful sins, God urged Israel to turn unto Him. He is doing the same to backsliders today. He made promises unto them.

1. "I will heal their backslidings" (v. 4).

This on the condition of frank and full confession.

2. "I will love them freely" (v. 4). This is characteristic of God. Only God can express unmerited love.

3. "I will be as the dew to Israel" (v. 5).

God will refresh the nation as dew does the parched grass.

4. Growth promised (v. 5).

5. Beauty assured (v. 6).

6. Pleasant fragrance (v. 7).

While this is a picture of the restored nation, something similar may be seen in the fragrant, fruitful lives of men and women who have sinned and come back to God.

HISTORY OF 20 YEARS REVIEWED AT H. O. H. MEET

Friday evening was a big night for the H. O. H. society. They met for the purpose of celebrating their 20th anniversary. The Woman's Literary Club room was filled to capacity and a number were turned away on account of no room.

The meeting was called to order by Pres. Frank Brive, Sr., and after a brief business session, 57 which 66 applicants were accepted, the meeting was turned over to the program committee, Mr. Alex Van Zanten and P. F. Koopman, who had a well prepared program.

Mr. P. F. Koopman made the opening remarks, briefly outlining the history of the H. O. H.

In October, 1907, a group of men met to discuss the feasibility of organizing an H. O. H. society here in Holland. The society was organized by Leo Johnson from the Coldwater Orphan Asylum but were unhappy there and were trying to get back to the asylum.

The trustee officer at Shelby was notified and the boys were taken to the county jail where they were housed and fed. They were poorly dressed and generally miserable. They are held until the Oceana county officials come.

Chest clinics, which have been held every other month, will be held every month from now on. Instead of a whole day clinic every other month, there will be half day clinics every month. The first Thursday of each month. This was decided by a representative of the state department of health in conference with Mrs. Geo. Albert, chairman of the civic health committee of the W. L. C. and Dr. Wm. Vis, of the local clinic in this way it is thought better attention can be given to return patients by giving them more frequent examinations.

Thursday there were 24 patients. Of these, 13 were return cases, and 11 new ones. Of the latter, one was diagnosed as an arrested case, one heart lesion, two infected tonsil cases, one bronchitis, one bronchitis, and in the case of two diagnosis was deferred.

Grand Rapids is the first city in Michigan to arrange for training of hospital nurses in the care of tuberculosis patients, according to Dr. Eugene N. Nesbitt, medical director of Sunshine sanatorium, a municipal institution.

The director will be assisted by Miss Alice Hull, supervisor of the city tuberculosis clinic, and a part of the course of lectures by Dr. Nesbitt, beginning January 1.

Such affiliation for their student nurses was recently requested by Blodgett Memorial and St. Mary's hospitals and at a recent meeting the Michigan board of registration of nurses recognized Sunshine sanatorium as suitable for conducting an affiliated service in tuberculosis student nurses. This affiliation will be for two months for the nurses and the work will apply on their medical service.

The new course will be elective to the training schools. Many of the students have expressed a desire to take advantage of the opportunity.

Pair Adopted Boys Found Near Nunica

Leon Mc Clone, 13 years old, and Arthur Bullard, 14 years old, from Shelby, were picked up by county officers near Nunica Wednesday night. They claimed to have been adopted by Leo Johnson from the Coldwater Orphan Asylum but were unhappy there and were trying to get back to the asylum.

The trustee officer at Shelby was notified and the boys were taken to the county jail where they were housed and fed. They were poorly dressed and generally miserable. They are held until the Oceana county officials come.

From 92 members the number has soared to approximately 500, with a cash balance on hand, period ending Sept. 1927, $7,004.22. During past year $3,103.55 was paid out for sick and disability and $953.50 for death benefits.

Four presidents have served this society very faithfully. Henry Brusse served until his business called him away from home and Wm. Lawrence was elected as his successor. He served for a number of years and upon his resignation Frank Karstbeck was elected. He served for 3 years and the present president, Mr. Frank Brive, was then elected. He has the honor of having been a member of the board for more than 15 years. During this period he missed one regular and one board meeting.

The past presidents were called on for talks but due to their absence Alex Van Zanten responded for them. President Brive also gave a talk, after which George Wolrding spoke on how to get members. Mr. Wolrding told how 56 new members had been added this month, making the total over 600. He asked what the membership would be 20 years hence. "If the H. O. H. is a good thing for us," he said, "for you, for me and for your families, why is it not a good thing for your friends, for your neighbors, for your brothers and sisters, and just in our infancy. There are a great many organizations in Holland that started years before the H. O. H. but they seem to be staying in a rut. We keep on growing."

Mr. Wolrding suggested that the membership be increased to 1,000 and that the organization build a club house of its own.

Dick Boter was the final speaker on the program, giving a talk on the subject, "Carry On." He told of Lincoln's determination to carry on, a determination that led him from a course of lectures by Dr. Nesbitt, beginning January 1.

Mr. Boter spoke of the power of appreciation and he referred to the fine work done by the past presidents, Mr. Brusse, Mr. Lawrence and Mr. Karstbeck, as well as of the work of the president of today, Mr. Brive. He spoke of the power of magnanimity and called on the members to cease seeking their own interests, set jealousies aside in order that the organization may be able to carry on. He illustrated his ideas with incidents from the lives of Lincoln and Phillips Brooks.

In the course of the program, a number of musical selections were given by the Hanson boys, "Charlie & Chris," and readings by Miss Kasten and Miss Stultz. A Colonial orchestra furnished music. Miss Metz and Mrs. Brooks gave a very interesting sketch.

At 10:30 the meeting closed and all confessed they had a good time.

DREAM PLAY TO BE GIVEN NOVEMBER 15

We are all interested in dreams, and "A Message from Mars," which will be presented here Tuesday, evening, Nov. 15, in the college lecture course, is a dream play.

Horace Parker, the central figure of the play, is a type of selfish egotism. Annoyed by domestic and social conditions, he seeks comfort in pursuing a favorite study, astronomy, with special reference to the probability of the habit of Mars, and falls asleep over the subject and has a most vivid dream. He awakes to find several real experiences like those of his dream. Changed in mind and in heart, he wins back his family's love, as well as the approval and respect of his friends.

"A Message from Mars" is a human story, filled with thrills and breathless suspense. It will be presented here by a fine cast of New York actors.

Tickets on sale at Huizinga's Jewelry store.

The musical number on the program is in charge of Mrs. Harmon Den Herder and will be vocal selections by a quartet from Zeeland.

WILL FIGHT FOR CERTIFIED CHICK IN THIS STATE

A showdown in the three-year controversy over the certification and accreditation of baby chicks in the United States is expected at a national conference in Chicago Nov. 30. Dr. L. E. Heasley, formerly of Holland now of Grand Rapids, president of the Michigan Poultry Improvement association, said this week in announcing Michigan would be represented.

The conference has been called by the United States department of agriculture, which was urged at the convention of the International Baby Chick association in Grand Rapids last July to take over supervision of the industry work and promulgate uniform rules and regulations for the baby chick industry.

In petitioning for a national uniform plan of accreditation last July the poultry breeding industry of the nation made a determined effort to bring harmony out of the confusion which now exists because of the differences in the rules and regulations applied to certification and accreditation of flocks in the various states. The so-called national uniform plan in most favor was drafted three years ago at a conference in Manhattan, N. Y., and it since has been in use in Michigan and a number of other states. Several states, however, are operating on slightly different plans.

Under present conditions when a prospective purchaser of hatching eggs, baby chicks or breeding stock comes to a flock, he does not know just what factors were taken into consideration to certify or accredit these flocks, unless he is familiar with the regulations governing such matters in the state. The difference in methods, plans and rules governing the accreditation and certification of poultry in the different states is said to be retarding the progressive development of the industry and in unfairly shielding some breeders whose flocks are certified under less stringent rules than others.

At present there are 22 states which have adopted regulations for certification and accreditation of flocks. The difference existing between the regulation in these states is seen in the case of baby chicks. In one state chicks are sold based on the production of the parents; in another case two grades of chicks are offered, one grade being from accredited flocks that are not tested for bacillary white diarrhea, and the other grade from flocks that have been tested and are found free from the disease.

The United States department of agriculture has made a survey of the situation and is of the opinion that if the states can get together to discuss these differences much can be done to stabilize the poultry breeding industry.

At 6:15 sharp Kasten's Melody men struck up their lively tunes and during the entire dinner hour played a program of snappy dance music. About 350 men sat down to the sumptuous dinner served by the Eastern Star ladies. Young ladies from the Holland Furnace company office force acted as waitresses.

After the dinner, the society held their annual business meeting. The election resulted in the following men being chosen as officers for the coming year: president, Harry Fik; vice president, Herman Meekens; secretary, Gerrit VanZanten; treasurer, John H. ## NEW SCOUT HANDBOOK IS NEXT IN SALE TO THE BIBLE

With an attractive cover designed by Norman Rockwell, world famous illustrator, the new Handbook for Boys, widest read and best known boys book, will be issued shortly after November 1, by the Boy Scouts of America.

More than three million copies of the former handbook were sold and it ran into 37 editions. It is estimated that more than 5,000,000 boys read its contents. The first editions of the new Handbook for Boys will be 100,000 copies with 636 pages as compared with the 192 pages which appeared in the first edition of the first handbook which was issued soon after the organization of scouting in the United States in 1910.

William D. Murry, a member of the executive board of the Boy Scouts of America and chairman of the editorial board in charge of publications, reported recently that the Handbook for Boys is the most widely read boys' book in America and is exceeded in sales only by the Bible.

The new Handbook for Boys is the most complete handbook of scouting published in the world. It contains chapters on the things that want to know by men of international prominence. Some of the notable contributors of signed material to the new handbook are: Dan Beard, national scout commissioner; Colonel H. Livingston, former president; Boy Scouts of America; James E. West, chief scout executive; Dr. Geo. J. Fischer, deputy chief executive; Dr. Walter Hough of the Smithsonian Institute; Capt. W. S. Rumbough of the U. S. Signal Corps; Fielding H. Yost, director inter-collegiate athletics, University of Michigan; Dr. A. H. Huxley, national association of audubon societies; Ralph Hubbard, expert of Indian lore; Commodore W. E. Longfellow, of the Red Cross; Dr. L. O. Howard, chief of the United States bureau of entomology; Dr. W. E. Nelson, chief biological survey, U. S. department of agriculture, and many others.

The cover design by Norman Rockwell shows the picture of an idealized boy scout in the foreground. More dimly, in the background, are the faces of famous pioneers, Daniel Boone, George Washington, Benjamin Franklin, Abraham Lincoln, Theodore Roosevelt, and the newest pioneer of them all, Lindbergh.

The new handbook embraces a wide range of information. The articles cover many phases of the activities of boy scouts, from the character and citizenship training program of the movement. Much of the material in the former handbook, time tested and proved, has been covered in new articles and new treatments of old subjects. Boy Scouts now have 70 merit badge subjects on the basis of achievement and the new handbook takes up each of these in turn. With the special handbooks for the several merit badge subjects, the manual of sea scouting, and the publications for farm, rural and lone scouts, and its magazine, "BOYS' LIFE," the Boy Scouts of America has set up a considerable literature for boys.

SEA SCOUTS OF HOLLAND ARE PROMOTED

When the next classification of seascout ships is made it is considered a certainty that ship 18 will rank among the three highest rated seascout ships in the nation.

LOCAL MEN RIDE IN NEW FORD CAR

Al De Weerd and John Kole, of the Hollander-DeWeerd Auto Co., agents for Ford cars and trucks, and in fact everything built by this Detroit manufacturer, have returned from Dearborn where they were privileged to take a ride in the new much-talked-of Ford car that is to be placed upon the market very shortly.

Mr. DeWeerd says the wait for the new Ford will soon be over. The company is simply organizing for mass production. He says the car is mass production. He says the car is mass production. He says the car is mass production.

The demonstration given by Mr. De Weerd and Mr. Kole was on the Dearborn proving course. That is not the only thrill the local men have had. They were invited to take a ride in a Ford aeroplane and they saw Detroit from an elevation of 1000 feet. The Holland men stated that this was a wonderful experience. One scarcely knew when the plane left the ground or came back to earth, they say.

Preparations for the annual trek of Allegan county deer hunters to the northern wilds was begun Friday with the receipt of deer hunting licenses at the county clerk's office. Robert E. Eby, clerk, and Stephen C. C. Plainwell, were the first to secure their 1927 licenses.

According to indications more than 200 licenses will be issued.

Spinal Meningitis Strikes Youth In Monterey Township

Emile Kramer, age 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kramer, of Monterey township, Allegan county, died Thursday afternoon. He was stricken with spinal meningitis while attending Allegan high school eight days ago. Private burial services were conducted Friday morning in the Monterey cemetery.

FINDS HUMAN JAW IN WATER AT MACATAWA

Captain Tofts, keeper of the Macatawa coast guard station, made a gruesome find Friday morning while on a patrol. The captain was patrolling the shore about a mile and a half north of the station, near Strait's Point, when he discovered a piece of human jaw in the water. It was partly imbedded in the sand and was being washed ashore by the waves. It was a part of an upper jaw and contained four teeth, two of them with silver fillings. The jaw is now at the coast guard station. No theory has been advanced as to the identity of the person or how the piece of jaw happened to be on that shore.

MACATAWA HAS TO GIVE STREETS TO THE PUBLIC

Streets must be dedicated to the public before Macatawa park can come under the act passed by the last legislature authorizing special assessments for village fire protection. W. Potter, attorney general, ruled. An opinion was requested by Clarence A. Lokker, prosecutor of Ottawa county.

Macatawa park is now privately owned and assessments could not be made for apparatus to be used and located solely on private property, the attorney general held.

This ruling throws a new light on the situation at Macatawa. The highways under the charter dating back at least 50 years belong to the association as do the walks. Outside merchants are barred from peddling or delivering in order to give the concessionists a chance, for it is from these that the association derives considerable of its revenue.

An attempt has often been made to run a highway through to the life saving station on the Black Lake side of the resort, but this has never been successful. Within the past two years Park township attempted to do this but it has failed thus far.

It seems, however, that if Macatawa wants fire protection the same as any other city or village, it must be incorporated as such under the laws of the state of Michigan.

No doubt the resort company will either have to do that or devise some other method for better protection, for under the present system building of houses is slow and insurance is almost prohibitive. The new organization created late last summer is working on some sort of a plan to take care of this urgent need of better fire protection.

OTTAWA COUNTY CITIZEN IS SUED BY AGED LADY

That she lost all of her property, both personal and real, to the son-in-law, made by Mrs. Emma E. Moore, of Charlotte, in her suit filed in circuit court against Benjamin F. Moore of Nunica, Ottawa county.

Mrs. Moore, who is 82 years old, desired to be relieved of the management of her property affairs, and the son-in-law agreed to do this, having her several instruments which conveyed to him his mother's home there, except a life interest, a mortgage and various notes and stocks.

She was to have her support and all expenses from the property, the balance remaining after her death to be converted into cash and divided among her children.

Although assured by her son that all of her personal property had been transferred, Mrs. Moore claims she found that $250 worth of Liberty bonds and $1,000 in cash in a Nunica bank had not been listed, but when she signed the papers they were taken over by the son, who now refuses to account for them.

Further, it is charged that the defendant refused to give the plaintiff any money for her support when requested, and not even $1 consideration she was supposed to receive when she transferred her home to him. She states she did not know until recently that she had transferred her property out of her control.

SIXTH EGG CONTEST IS ON AT M. S. C.

With nearly 1,200 hens shipped in from every section of the country competing the sixth annual egg-laying contest conducted by Michigan State college opened at East Lansing last week.

One thousand of the hens, Leghorns, Barred Rocks, Rhode Island Reds and Anconas, will participate in the contest throughout the year. The remaining 200 are "spares" to replace those which fall by the wayside.

Efforts will be made to equal the record of the fifth annual contest which was just closed at East Lansing with an average production for 51 weeks, of 194.02, as compared with 192.8 for the preceding year; 176.57 for 1925; 163.06 for 1924; and 157.4 for the first year of the contest, 1923.

The victory this year is noteworthy, in view of the fact that a rule regarding egg size and weight, disqualified large numbers of eggs. The total on the same basis of comparison would have been much larger.

FORMER HOLLAND BUSINESSMAN DIES IN RACINE

Girard Kanter, formerly for many years one of Holland's prominent business men, died Wednesday evening at his home in Racine, Wis., after an illness of about a year. He had been in poor health for quite a while, which finally developed into Bright's disease and heart trouble.

Mr. Kanter was the son of the late Rokus Kanter, one of the pioneers of this community and closely identified with the early business history of Holland. Mr. Kanter, Sr., erected the Kanter block on Eighth street that Girard Kanter occupied for many years with a hardware store. Girard Kanter went into business in 1883 when he purchased the hardware business of Mr. Van Landegend and conducted a hardware business in the building now occupied by the Federal Bank, under the firm name of Kanter Brothers. Later the business was moved to the Kanter building across the street and the firm name became Kanter & Standard.

The firm went out of business about twenty years ago, both Mr. Kanter and Mr. Standard going into business in other places. Mr. Kanter went to the Pacific coast and was engaged for some years in the land business and reclamation service there. About sixteen years ago he moved to Racine, Wis., and since that time he has been secretary of the Manufacturers' association of Racine.

The deceased is survived by his wife and one adopted daughter, Mrs. Gilbert Jackson; also by three brothers, A. M. Kanter, of Cass County, Mo.; R. E. Kanter, of Kalamazoo, and John D. Kanter, of Holland.

Mr. Kanter was prominent in Masonic circles both in Holland, while a resident here, and later in Seattle and Racine. The funeral was under the auspices of the Masonic order here.

TWO MORE OF COUNTY'S SCHOOLS ARE INSPECTED

The Beaverdam school was inspected on Wednesday and the South Blendon school was inspected by Mrs. Meyer, the first cross nurse who is working in the county with Miss Lemmer.

Both schools have two rooms, are light and airy, and are furnace heated. South Blendon is a more modern building, attractive and nicely finished. Both lack proper washing facilities. Beaverdam, with its 72 pupils, has one wash basin and paper towels, and a rusty, much-used drinking cup hanging on the pump.

South Blendon, with 53 pupils, even lacks a wash basin, but nearly all the children bring their individual drinking cups from home in their lunch pail. Mrs. Meyer showed the teachers in each school how to make the folded paper cups, so that the children could easily make their own from tablet paper whenever needed.

In the Beaverdam school of 72 pupils, 38 had decayed teeth, 11 tonsils were diseased or enlarged, 6 were mouth breathers, 18 had poor vision or eye strain, there were 14 goiters, and 10% or more underweight, 10 were in good condition, 8 had no tooth brushes. The teachers are Mr. L. Olgren and Miss M. Achteroff. Several mothers and fathers were present to hear the health talk at the close of the inspection.

The South Blendon school, with 53 pupils, showed 27 with decayed teeth, 18 had tonsils, 8 mouth breathers, 10 with defective vision or eye strain, 19 ten percent or more underweight, 5 in good condition, 7 had no tooth brushes. Mr. Leo Eby and Miss Florence Ten Have are the teachers there.

In each school the teachers do good work in helping the children to remember to clean their teeth and keep their windows open. Their health program will be broadened and kept more vigorous after this.

STATE DENTIST TOURS SCHOOLS OF OTTAWA

Dr. William R. Evans from the bureau of preventative dentistry will address the county teachers at meetings through the rural districts and in Zeeland & Coopersville, Nov. 14-16.

Dr. Williams will be assisted in the meetings by Mrs. Marjorie H. Meyer and Miss Lemmer, the county nurse. Inspections will be made in work confined to rural and village communities.

Dr. Davis will address the Community Club in G. H. Monday Nov. 14. He gave an address at the state dental convention held recently in Detroit.

Truck Farmers Make Money On Hudsonville Onions

Truck farmers in Georgetown township are not complaining about hard times. During October 175 cars of fine onions and 35 cars of celery were shipped from Hudsonville. The onion crop was fine and only 40 percent of the crop has been marketed.

Many carloads of celery were shipped by truck to different cold storage and to the Chicago boats. The celery crop is fine. More than 70 percent of the celery crop remains to be shipped and prices are fairly good.

STAR OF BETHLEHEM TO BACK ROLL CALL

The resolution pledged the organization to do all in its power to help the various committees of the Red Cross to secure the quota for Holland. Mrs. Cora Hoffman is president and Mrs. Luella White secretary of the chapter.

Four Allegan Men Pay Heavy For Being Drunk

Arthur McGarry, of Allegan, was arrested at Otego on a charge of operating his automobile while intoxicated. He demanded an examination, to be held later. In default of $200 bail he is in jail.

Frank McGarry, Jola Crosby and Arthur VanOrder, also in Allegan were arraigned in Justice William P. Jones' court at Otego on intoxication charges. Each paid a fine of $10 and $25 costs.

GRAND HAVEN YOUTH FACES THEFT CASE

The Grand Haven police recovered a quantity of salt and pepper shakers belonging to Evert Pruim of the Pruim Music Store which were delivered by the Vyn Trucking Co., and left at the back entry of the store on Monday. They were found in possession of George Maddix, 14 years old, living on Woodlawn avenue, Grand Haven.

Two boxes were taken, containing 14 pairs of Japanese shakers and Maddix had given one of the boxes to a neighbor, Edward Fisher. Maddix claimed he found them near the Central School but Fisher declared Maddix had told him he took them from the rear of the store after they had been delivered. This corroborated the story of the truck driver, who claims he never had the goods on the above named street.

The boy will be taken before the judge of probate, James Danhof, this week.

DESPISED PEAR PROVES GOOD FOR MARKET

Orchardists have heeded the advice of Michigan canners and are sparing the Kieffer pear trees. William McSwing of South Haven, former president of the Michigan Canners association, reported this week.

The Kieffer orchards no longer are being neglected. Growers are giving them good care as the Bartlett. They have begun to look upon the variety as an asset instead of a liability and chiefly because of the outlet which the canners have found for the fruit in tin.

Michigan Fruit Canners, Inc., operating three large factories, at Pennville, South Haven and Benton Harbor, is packing approximately 150,000 cases of Kieffer pears this fall. Its warehouses and storage plants are filled to capacity with the fruit, which is ripened slowly as supplies are needed for processing. The company has paid growers $1.35 a hundredweight for the fruit. Before the canners started to pack this variety growers sometimes had difficulty making sales at 25 to 50 cents a bushel.

Installation of cold storage and ripening rooms in the canneries has solved the Kieffer pear problem. By properly ripening the Kieffers before processing a pear almost equal to the Bartlett in quality is obtained.

Miss Betty De Fouw was the guest of honor at a miscellaneous shower Thursday evening, and she received many beautiful gifts from her friends. The guests were entertained by Mrs. Henry Onk and Miss Estella Mohl, at the latter's home on College avenue. Miss De Fouw will be a November bride.

HOLLAND DROPS THRILLING GAME TO GRAND HAVEN

Holland went down in defeat before a fairly well balanced Grand Haven team in Saturday afternoon. The score of 6-0 shows how tough the battle was and the two teams both reserve credit for the exhibition that they gave the large crowd of fans that witnessed the affair. With the schools presenting well drilled bands and playing running high the crowd was kept on edge most of the way as the boys matched strength and brains. Holland was the most aggressive all the way and outside of the time when Grand Haven made a determined march for the goal, the Hinga looked a bit better. The breaks were again against Holland as they have been in three other games and two or three possible touchdowns were lost. A pass over the goal line, a ruling requiring the passer to be 5 yds back of the line of scrimmage and the matter of 6 inches were the three main things that kept the Hollanders from at least enjoying the tie score. Pelgrim, Spels and Pippel were outstanding in their work for Grand Haven, while it would be hard to pick a man that outshone his mates on the Hinga aggregation.

The first half was played in a game while conditions were much better in the second as the wind ceased. Pippel, Elliott, Weiss, De Kiep, Elliot, Dykhouse, Kinkema, Van Wenberg, Pelgrim, Huttergang, Hodal, Subbs, Letzema, for Korstange, Nyhoff for Zwemer, Tibbitts for Norlin, Spels for Hodal.

BANDS OF H. H. S. AND GRAND HAVEN FEAST TOGETHER

About 100 band boys sat down to a bountiful supper in the gymnasium at the Grand Haven high school Saturday evening when the members of the Grand Haven school band entertained as their guests the school bands from Holland. Members of the classes in domestic science served the banquet.

All feeling of rivalry was cast aside and in a few moments the boys were mixing as freely and unconstrainedly as if they were all students in the same school.

The Grand Haven band was organized a year ago under the direction of Mr. M. P. Richards, teacher of biology and sciences. They now number forty-two, besides a large group of beginners who are practicing together as a reserve band. They have recently, through the generosity of the merchants and other friends of the school, been outfitted with complete uniforms of black and gold.

As soon as the last mouthful of the desert had disappeared, Fred Weiss, assistant business manager of the band, took charge of the program and started the group singing, popular and school songs being interspersed with solos by Chester "Gump" Kramer.

Principal J. Dykhouse of the Junior high school was next introduced, and in a talk full of good stories he impressed three essentials of a successful band: ambition, self-sacrifice, and perseverance. John Van Vyven then thanked the Grand Haven boys for the entertainment and expressed the idea of bringing the two schools into friendly relations in this generous way. He pointed out two of the greatest handicaps of the school bands—the fact that they have only one hour a week to work together, and the tendency to backslide during the summer vacation.

Prof. Richards outlined the history of bands in high schools as a nationwide movement, and gave as a reason for the rapid advance the fact that it made an opportunity for many to become active participants in school activities rather than mere spectators. Then after a piano solo by Dor-man Post, tuba player in the band and pianist of the high school orchestra, Superintendent Babcock, recently elected president of the fourth district of the state teachers' association, took the floor.

The modern tendency toward efficiency in all lines of work, he said, gives men much more leisure time than they formerly had. Better employment of this leisure time, increased health, and enrichment of life is an outgrowth of band activity.

At this time Francis Pelgrim, a member of the band, came in and told the crowd how the music of the band adds pep and confidence to the team.

Rev. J. J. DeKraaker closed the program by praising the spirit of keen rivalry between the schools and the loyalty and co-operation of all alumni and friends of the high school. This country classic, he said, is more important than the Michigan-Ohio game.

Holland Beats G. R. In Soccer Foot Ball

Fast playing made Holland the winner of the Saturday game with the Grand Rapids Independent soccer team. The game was played at John Ball park, score 2-0. The Independents threatened a few times, but Holland's goal keeper was as always in the shape. Lineup was: J. Hofacker, goal; Wm. Cramer, D. Zwier, J. Ten Brink, half backs; H. Hofacker, J. Roelofs, H. Cramer, J. Korman, Arthur Bos, Forwards.

HOPE BURIED UNDER A 39-0 SCORE BY ALMA

Alma celebrated its homecoming in conjunction with the celebration of the fortieth anniversary of the founding of the institution. Hope was elected to provide the homecoming foot ball classic and when the final whistle had blown, Hope found itself on the short end of a 39-0 score thus raking the occasion a joyful one for the hundreds of Alma grads who returned to the Alma Mater to pay tribute to the institution that had given them their sheepskins.

There was only one drawback to the team's festivities, and that was the weather. Playing under the most adverse conditions, the athletes found the going decidedly hard. Time after time a kick which under normal conditions would have traveled 30 yards came to earth in approximately the same spot from which it had been kicked.

Coach Campbell of Alma used two full teams during the course of the battle. Agast to provide the team, Hope looked like the proverbial million bucks, but their offense crumbled when confronted with the Alma veterans.

Alma has but one more game to win and the M. I. A. championship will again be hers. The Presbyterians will then have won two consecutive times, a feat unprecedented in Michigan intercollegiate circles.

ZEELAND LOSES TO SHELBY

Falling to play hard and fast football against a better team, the Zeeland high school eleven was defeated by the Shelby outfit 6-0 at the northern city Saturday.

Before the onslaught of the hard-driving, cool and confident Muskies, Grand Rapids Union high's football team reeled and fell back to be crushed by a powerful Muskegon high school eleven, 18 to 0, before a crowd of 8,000 spectators at Island park Grand Rapids Saturday afternoon.

All the power that lay dormant while Illinois whipped Michigan last week asserted itself Saturday, particularly in the third period, and overcame a fighting Chicago University eleven, 14 to 0. Chicago started against the well drilled and well fortified Michigan eleven was a sight to see and liberally rewarded the 55,500 who braved the frigid winds that swept the packed stands from the first time since 1919 the Maroon would wave in triumph over Michigan's maize. But Michigan had the break at the start of the third period and it took up right where it had left off in the second quarter. After that it was merely a matter of time and a fullback named Rich.

With a dazzling speed, a grim determination, and a running attack, which functioned to perfection, especially when gains were vital to the ultimate outcome, Grand Rapids Central's fighting warriors broke through Kalamazoo Central high school for a 19 to 0 victory at Houseman field, Grand Rapids, Saturday afternoon, graphically illustrating the force of the Tost doctrine that a school should play for touchdowns, not for first downs.

TIME LIMIT ON REGISTRATION OF GUNS IS ADVANCED

Monday the prosecuting attorney heads of state police, the chief of police of the different cities of Ottawa county and the sheriff's department gathered at the court house at Grand Haven to discuss the new law covering the registration of revolvers and other concealed weapons.

The time limit to register pistols was November 1, but at the meeting it was decided to extend the time until and including November
10. Chief Van Ry of Holland was present and he said that in Holland there had been a registration before of 50 guns under the old law and it was not necessary to re-register these out under the new law 50 more guns have been registered, which would indicate that the number of registered guns in Holland is at least 100.

Quite a number are reported registered at Grand Haven and Ze-land also. Prosecuting Attorney
Okker, Sheriff Kamferbeek, Chief of Police Frank Van Ry, of Holland, chief of Police Pippel of Grand Haven, Chief Hietje, Zeeland, believe the head of the state police and the officers from smaller centers were present.

The working out of the new law was discussed by many of these taking part in the meeting and the final result was the extension of time in which a license to carry a gun could be secured, making November 30 the last day.

Ottawa County is not the only place where an extension was allowed an added 30 days' period was allowed given Detroit and Grand Rapids and no doubt other cities from which requests may come.

the Allegan circuit court against H.
Eldred, Judge O. S. Cross and Myron
B. Moore, which has been transferred to the Kent circuit court, were filed
Monday with County Clerk Neu-

The suit was brought to recover
$2,700 which Eldred, as treasurer of the township of Cheshire, Allegan county, deposited in the First National bank of Allegan which subsequently went into receivership.
Judge Cross and Moore, president and manager of the bank, respectively, were sureties on the bonds furnished by Eldred.

Eldred claims the bank was by resolution of the county board of su-

for all county funds and that he has not misappropriated the funds but that they were deposited in the bank.
