Fall Campaign Is Now On Home Stretch

CITY AND COUNTY HAS BEEN
FLOODED WITH CAMPAIGN
LITERATURE

This has been a strenuous campaign for the candidates of all parties, and there will be a sigh of relief when election day next week, Tuesday, comes and goes. All candidates on all tickets have been on their toes for the last two months advancing their particular interests. The Democrats have had a congressional headquarters on West Eighth street and a Democratic headquarters on East Eighth street.

The Republicans on the other hand some two weeks ago opened a large headquarters in the old Rutgers building, also on West Eighth street, while the Socialists, who have been rather active, have opened headquarters in the old Sentinel building on River avenue.

There have been meetings "galore" at the different headquarters, at the Warm Friend Tavern, at the Army and at the Masonic temple, aside from the meetings in the street or in Centennial park. The Republicans have been having scores of meetings in Ottawa county. One is to be held this Friday night at Virginia Park. One is scheduled at Coopersville, a large demonstration is scheduled at Zeeland and several meetings are being held in Holland.

At Zeeland, Grand Rapids, Judge Fred T. Miles and Representative Ed Brouwer will speak at a rally at Republican headquarters at the Rutgers building this Saturday night, while the Democrats will have a meeting at the Holland Armory Saturday night at which Prof. John H. Munks of the University of Michigan will be the principal speaker. Thomas F. McAllister, candidate for congress, and John Dolfin, candidate for state senator, will also be speakers at the Democratic rally Saturday. The Socialists, too, announce a meeting elsewhere in this issue.

Candidates on all tickets are doing personal work. The county is flooded with campaign literature, absent voters' ballots are beginning to return to city and township clerks, and there is activity in the polling places in all wards and precincts, preparatory to the big election next week, Tuesday, November 6.

It is needless to mention the candidates here, for you will find them all on the official ballot printed just as it will be handed to you at the polls with the exception that these are instructions. All names appear on these ballots printed in this issue.

The only change in the ballot this year from other years is that the Republican ticket will be found in the second column on the ballot, while for fifty years, with the exception of two occasions, it appeared in the first column on the ballot. Lincoln's head will designate the Republican ballot; Roosevelt's head, the Democratic ballot, which appears in the first column; with the Socialist, third, and seven others in consecutive order.

It is nearly over, and then the shouting. It is well to remember that it is your duty as a citizen to vote next Tuesday, regardless of your party affiliations. Voting is good citizenship.

YOUNG REPUBLICANS ELECT NEW OFFICERS

Young Republicans in Holland are taking a very active part in the campaign this year, not only as individuals but also through the Young Republicans' club, organized in 1932, and headed by Attorney Vernon D. Ten Cate since the organization. The club took a keen interest in the presidential election of 1932 and Mr. Ten Cate's leadership and the help of his aids and members of the club are continuing their work through the present campaign.

At a recent meeting of the club officers were elected for a two-year term as follows:

President, John Galien; vice president, James Marcus; secretary, Leonard Vogelsang; treasurer, Harold Seekamp, and five directors, Vernon D. Ten Cate, Fred Miles, Jr., Russell McKees, Russell Barton and Cleon Ludwick.

The retiring officers are Vernon D. Ten Cate, president; John Galien, vice president; Raymond L. Smith, secretary and treasurer. Vernon Ten Cate, president at the meeting, appointed volunteers to work in the several wards to assist the committeemen to get out a large vote at Tuesday's election.

SOCIALIST CANDIDATES TO MEET IN HOLLAND

Several Socialist party candidates for office will address a public meeting at Labor hall in the former Holland Evening Sentinel building Monday night at 8 o'clock. Among those who will speak are Deufay Hovey, candidate for auditor general, Grand Rapids; Arie Van Doesburg, candidate for U. S. senator, and Peter Koopman, candidate for sheriff.

Mr. Van Doesburg, the candidate for congress, has addressed a number of Socialist educational meetings during the last two months. He recently represented and spoke for the principles of his party at an open forum meeting held at the Grand Rapids night school. Several candidates of all political parties were invited to participate.

Mr. Van Doesburg has been a Socialist for nearly 35 years and in 1911 to 1914 was editor and business manager of the Holland Progressive Worker.

ALL BALLOTS ARE FOUND IN THIS ISSUE

Complete instruction ballots are found in different sections of this issue of the Holland City News, just as you will receive them in the polling places next week, Tuesday. You will find the large state and county ballot with all the candidates, the large amendment ballot with six amendments, the local option ballot and the ballot for a change in charter of the city of Holland, making the police board appointive rather than elective. The only change in the county ballot is that the Republican ticket with Lincoln's head at the top of the column comes second instead of first, while the Democratic ticket comes first. The reasons are fully set forth in last week's issue of the Holland City News. Turn to the last section of this issue for the last set of the two ballots. It would be well to study these ballots so it will not be difficult when you enter the polls. The Holland City News urges that everyone, regardless of party affiliations, do their duty as American citizens by voting next Tuesday, November 6.

REV. J. J. DANHOFF ACCEPTS CALL TO LOCAL CHURCH

To Be Installed November 30: Inaugural Sermon on Dec. 2.

Rev. Ralph J. Danhof of Pella, Iowa, has accepted the call extended to him by the Fourteenth Street Christian Reformed church of this city, announcement to this effect being made to the local congregation at the morning services last Sunday.

In a letter received this week Danhof states that he expects to preach his farewell sermon to his Pella congregation on Sunday, November 18, moving to Holland shortly afterward with his family.

Rev. Danhof will be installed as pastor of the local church on the evening of Friday, November 30, preaching his inaugural on the first Sunday in December. Arrangements for the installation services have not been completed up to this time.

"HE WHO DANCES MUST PAY FIDDLE." BUT THIS CHAP CAN'T DANCE

Alfred Heath, Holland, who with his wife had pleaded guilty to breaking and entering a cottage in Laketown township, was placed on three years' probation by Judge Fred T. Miles of Holland in Allegheny circuit court. During his probationary period he may not smoke, drink, or attend dances; must not attend more than one movie in three months, and must go to church each Sunday morning. He has been ordered to replace everything which he stole, and to pay for any article he is unable to replace. He is to pay $1 per month probation fee during November and December, and an additional $3 per month to apply on his fine and costs savings January 1, 1935. His wife was sentenced on October 8 and is on a two-year probationary period with similar restrictions as to conduct.

John Cochran Found Dead Near Pumping Station

HAD BEEN EMPLOYED AT SEWAGE PLANT FOR SEVERAL YEARS

The body of John Cochran, 73, employee at the sewage disposal plant on West Third street for several years, was found Thursday morning on a concrete walk near the sewage pumping station by a fellow-employee who had seen him alive and apparently well five minutes before.

Cochran was rushed to Holland hospital in an ambulance, where he was pronounced dead at 4:40 a. m. Attempts to revive him had failed.

Lakeland funeral home. The deceased is survived by the widow; a daughter, Mrs. Lynn Smith of Muskegon, and two sons, Everett Leroy Cochran of Hastings, New York, and Floyd Cochran of Pittsburgh, Pa. A grandson, Harry Smith, who has been making his home with his grandparents, also survives.

As the News goes to press, Coroner Gilbert Vande Water states that an autopsy was held with Dr. William Weststrate and Coroner Vande Water in charge, and it would appear that the man died of natural causes, possibly a heart attack. Several of the organs were sent to Ann Arbor, however, and the results will not be known for a few weeks. Funeral arrangements have not been made.

Mrs. L. Mulder, whose condition at Holland hospital was much better, is not so well at this writing. Physicians are in frequent attendance and nurses in constant attendance.

Several Zeeland men have addressed audiences the past week in connection with work mapped out by the board of education committee of Ottawa county. The purpose of these meetings is to enlighten the people on the two constitutional amendments affecting the revenue sources for public instruction. This has to do especially with the second and third amendments, the adoption of which, the speakers will have a startling effect upon the school revenue. They say it will deprive the schools of $2,757,022, which were received from land, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed J. Yeomans, 208 West Tenth, have returned after spending a few days in Cleveland, Ohio.

Just A Few Notes About Hunting And Hunters

SO FAR, 10 ARE DEAD, 17 INJURED. KENT FARMERS
READY FOR HUNTERS
IN A BIG WAY

State Makes 211 Arrests; Takes Away 74 Guns: Violation of Fish Laws Decline.

Although not a few Holland hunters have shouldered their guns with the opening of the bird season, few game bags were filled with pheasants or other game, although pheasants in the vicinity of Holland seemed to be quite plentiful, one even being killed by an oncoming automobile. Anyway the pheasant season is now over for another year, and the fine birds with their beautiful plumage can "strut their stuff" unmolested until next October.

Farmers of Michigan are making increasing use of the Williamson plan of game-management and trespass control. Under this plan, farmers may band together to build up local game supplies and regulate the use of their land by hunters.

Farmers controlling 4,000 acres of land in the northwestern part of Kent county, bordering Ottawa, have united under the Williamson plan to form the Northwestern Kent Game Management area. This project is the first of its kind in western Michigan and the land involved has been posted with signs forbidding hunting without the permission of the land owner.

In the Williamson plan the purpose of the Kent project is not to prevent hunting entirely, but to afford the farmer some means of regulating the use of his land by hunters, according to the department of conservation.

Each farmer has been issued 3 guest tickets. These may be given at the discretion of the holder to hunters asking permission to use his land, no fee being charged. The hunter leaves his car in the farmer's yard as assurance that he will not damage property or abuse his hunting privilege.

When the hunt is over he must return the ticket to the farmer who may issue it the following day to another applicant if he so desires. The ticket must be worn in plain sight by the sportsman and is good on any part of the area.

Having pledged themselves to protect the property of the farmer on whose premises they hunt, the members of Kent County Conservation league are wearing a yellow badge when affixed as an assurance of security to the landowner.

The badge may be accepted by the farmer as a reminder that the individual seeking permission to hunt on his land has pledged himself to protect the owner's rights.

Members of the league have pledged themselves not to cut the farmer's fence, to leave gates open, to carelessly with guns in the vicinity of buildings or to violate the game laws. They have posted a $10 reward for information leading to the identity of any member who violates his pledge.

Itching fingers caused the arrest and conviction of more than 100 Michigan residents during September for being too hasty in opening the small game and deer hunting seasons.

The monthly report shows that of 211 arrests, 106 were for violations of hunting laws. In most of the cases, the reports show, the individual had failed to wait until opening of the hunting season.

Sixty-one were arrested for possession of guns in closed game territory without a permit, 11 for hunting and killing deer, 10 for killing, attempting to kill or possession of pheasants, 7 for illegal training of dogs, 6 for possession of venison and the others on a variety of charges.

A total of 74 guns of various descriptions were confiscated by conservation officers, including 22 single-barrel shotguns, 12 double-barrel shotguns, 9 pump guns, 15 rifles of 22 caliber and 16 rifles of heavier caliber.

Other hunting violations for which arrests were made follow: Hunting in closed season, 5; possession of raccoon, 5; killing turtle doves with air gun, 2; killing or possession of rabbit, 2; possession of elk, killing raccoon, illegal possession of headlight, 3; killing partridge and shooting fox squirrel, 1 each.

The September arrests for violations of fishing laws showed a sharp reduction from the 192 of the month of August. A total of 92 was reported, including 35 on charges of possessing undersize fish and 33 for fishing without a license.

Other fishing law arrests were divided as follows: Fishing in state protected pond, 5; illegal use or possession of net, 4; dynamiting fish, 4; selling bluegills, 3; fishing trout, 3; exceeding legal number of lines, exceeding catch limit, possession of brook trout and illegal use of dip net, 1 each.

Eleven arrests were made for possession of a loaded gun in an automobile, 2 for possession of a fawn in spotted coat, 2 for illegal trapping, and 1 for hindering and interfering with an officer and cutting timber on state land.

Prosecution reports show that total fines of $1,293 and total costs of $1,371 were assessed and that the aggregate of jail sentences imposed was 565 days. Nine respondents were placed on probation, 4 cases were lost, 1 bound to circuit court and 1 dismissed.

In addition to the 67 guns, officers confiscated 2 automobiles, 11 live raccoons, 1,799 pounds of illegal fish, 30 pounds of venison, a deer carcass, 3 muskrat hides, 4 set lines with 76 hooks, a fox squirrel trap, dipnet and hunting dog.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed J. Yeomans, 208 West Tenth, have returned after spending a few days in Cleveland, Ohio.

News Items Taken From the Files of Holland City News Fifty, Twenty-five and Fifteen Years Ago Today

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

One hundred thirty-eight students are now attending Hope college. Note: Today there are more than 500.

United States Senator James G. Blaine, nominee for president on the Republican ticket, came to Grand Rapids and was greeted by an audience of 35,000 people. He then came to Holland on the Chicago & West Michigan railroad and at least 4,000 people were at the depot to greet him. The Holland City News devoted a column to the great statesman's coming. In the party there were at least a dozen of the leading men of the nation and Mr. Blaine was introduced by the nationally known and present historic figures, General John C. Fremont, who by the way was the first president named by the Republican party after his birth "under the oaks at Jackson." General Russell A. Alger of Detroit was also there as was former governor of Michigan Jerome. Your editor, a lad of 13, was also in a drill squad of 30 "kids" with the late John B. Mulder in command. These youngsters were dressed in uniforms made of oil cloth and the commander carried a wooden sword while his followers held miniature wooden guns. A toy drum kept the "kids" in step, maybe? Anyway, we got a smile out of Mr. Blaine and that is more than anyone else got. Mayor W. H. Beach, Dr. O. E. Yates and Prof. G. J. Kollen (late president of Hope college) were on the reception committee. During the hour of waiting, the Hon. Isaac Cappon and G. J. Diekmann, Esq., made speeches that is, when the old cannon from "Public Square" was not firing salutes from a hilltop nearby. The train arrived at 10:00 a. m. and remained 15 minutes and was then backed on the "Y" for Muskegon. Senator Eugene Hale of Maine and a half dozen other congressmen, senators, and judges from Michigan were included in the party. Mr. Blaine was ill when he arrived in Holland, he having had a most strenuous campaign. The train on leaving Grand Rapids stopped first at Grandville, then at Zeeland where large crowds had gathered. At Holland a platform had been built but it was never spoken of by Mr. Blaine. However, he spoke only a few minutes from the platform of his train, leading that he was terribly fatigued so that it was difficult for him to carry on and he looked the part. The Holland Blaine and Logan club in uniform and capes made of shiny oil cloth did their stunts at the depot and they were in shape for fancy drilling, having practiced the entire summer, I believe, under the supervision of Capt. Pete Moes, then a national guardsman. Soon the crowd saw the "special" go over Holland and a big swamp (Kleine Netherlands) and lingered until it had disappeared in the woods on the other side bound for Muskegon. It was before that, was before there was a Waverly. James G. Blaine, who became the greatest statesman of his day was defeated for president a few days later by Grover Cleveland. The News could relate later a disgraceful scene — after the big jubilee parade — staged by youthful rowdy Democrats. It was days before the close results were known but when the Democrats were finally advised of victory by telegram from the local depot, they became wild with glee and some could not wait with patience to make an effigy of Mr. Blaine, but that is another story.

County Clerk Fred McEachron has issued deer licenses to Jacob Fleiman, Fred Hietje, Eugene Fairbanks, J. Tubbergen, D. Verburg and M. De Weerd of Holland.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO TODAY

The Holland City News prints the entire program and proceedings and picture of Rev. S. C. Netting, D. D., who was installed in the chair of "Church History" in the Western Theological Seminary. Rev. Benj. Hoffman read scripture and said prayer; solo was rendered by Mrs. Harriet Steketee; sermon was given by Rev. J. Frederic Berg, D. D., Ph. D., president of General Synod. Transfer of membership and reading of the Formula — subscription of the Formula by the Professor-elect. Installation prayer by Rev. Evert J. Blekking, D. D., solo, Prof. John B. Nykerk of Hope college; charge, Rev. J. A. Zwemer, D. O.; inaugural address, Rev. Netting; singing, Hymn 713-1; benediction. Note: Today Mr. Netting is head of the institution, assuming that position when Dr. John E. Kuizenga left for Princeton University some four years ago.

David H. Christophal died at the age of 69 years at his home at Waukegon.

John Koers of Vriesland is just going into his ninety-fifth year. Note—If the gentleman is still living, which is doubtful, he will be entering his 110th year.

Clarence Lokker of Holland was appointed a member of the credentials at the American Legion state convention at Grand Rapids and Dr. A. Leenhouts was on the committee handling contesting delegations.

Papers are made out, it is stated, whereby J. Van Dyke of Hudsonville sold 40 acres of mud land for $1,000 an acre. Thus far $800 per acre was considered good price for good celery land. Note: We are wondering if Van Dyke still has his $40,000 after this financial storm.

Sam Miller, the restaurateur, and daughter, Mrs. Julius Brusse, and her daughter, Miss Elaine, have just returned from a 3,000-mile auto trip through Canada, Ohio, Indiana and Michigan.

Herman J. Brouwer, son of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Brouwer, has accepted a position on the vocal staff of the London, Ontario, Conservatory of Music, and holds the position of managing director. The Canadian paper says many nice things about Mr. Brouwer, among these are, "He is an American singer who possesses an unusual baritone voice of wonderful possibilities. He began his career at the age of 12 years in his home city of Holland. He has a fine style and an engaging personality." Note: There is at least a half column more of flattering press comments along these lines.

Miss Frances Bosch gave a luncheon at the mayor's home on West 12th st., honoring Miss Gertrude Keppel who is to be a November bride. Miss Keppel will wed Mr. John Vandenberg of Grand Rapids. It was a college romance, both being classmates and graduating from Hope together. Note: The couple were happily married and so was Miss Frances who is now Mrs. Ed Yeomans.

The marriage of Mary Slav and Ralph Ten Hove by Rev. Henry Veldman of First Reformed church was announced. She is the sister of Fred Slav of the Sentinel. The groom is employed at the Buss Machine Co.

Local Young Men Hurt Seriously Train Hits Truck

DOCTORS FEAR OVERWAY
SUFFERED INTERNAL INJURIES; IS THROWN
75 FEET

Two local young men, John Overway, 27, son of former Clerk Richard Overway, and Frank Tibbitts, 25, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Tibbitts, 309 West Eleventh street, were seriously injured on Wednesday evening when their truck was struck by a passenger train near Alexandria six miles east of Elwood, Indiana.

Relatives here were notified through the local police who first received word from Elwood Wednesday night, and Mr. and Mrs. Tibbitts and Mr. A. J. Fairbanks left immediately for Elwood, Indiana.

Upon arrival they found both young men seriously injured but conscious. The young men stated that their truck, which was driven by Mr. Overway, had struck a passenger train almost head on. They said they were going about 35 miles at the time, and the train struck at a good rate of speed. The truck was completely demolished and both young men thrown for some distance. Mr. Overway being thrown approximately 75 feet.

The young men were taken to the St. Joseph hospital at Elwood in an ambulance, Tibbitts conscious and Overway in an unconscious condition. Examination revealed that Tibbitts had been badly hurt about the head and that one leg had been severely injured. However, doctors stated they thought Tibbitts had not suffered internally and would possibly be out of the hospital in a few weeks.

Doctors, however, fear that Overway may have received internal injuries and that his condition is critical.

Mr. Overway's mother of 216 East Thirteenth street, arrived in Elwood early Thursday.

Both are well known young men. Overway was a football and basketball star at Holland High school some years ago and was rated as one of the best football ends ever developed in the city.

He also attended Hope college. Tibbitts was a member of the high school football team during the 1926 and 1927 seasons.

For the past several months they have been operating a trucking line in Indiana.

GRAND HAVEN TO MEET HOLLAND NEXT SATURDAY

The Grand Haven High school football squad is preparing for the annual Ottawa county classic, the battle with Holland High, to be staged in Holland next Saturday at Riverview park.

Not since 1927 has the Grand Haven team scored a victory over the Flying Dutchmen. Last year the two teams battled to a scoreless tie, and the year before Grand Haven took the short end of a 14 to 0 count. The game Saturday will be the thirty-eighth meeting of the two teams. In the won and lost column the two teams are even as each has won 17 games and 3 were tied. It will be the big game of the season in Holland for Grand Haven is our big rival in football.

BEEF SUGAR INDUSTRY

Dr. J. A. Brock, educational secretary of the Farmers' and Manufacturers' Beef Sugar association, Saginaw, Michigan, addressed the Lions club yesterday on the history of the sugar industry and the value of the partnership contract now in force between the growers and processors, whereby each shares equally in a net return from the sale of all products made from sugar beets. He pointed out the fact that every citizen of Michigan using beef sugar is making a direct contribution to the beet growers of the state. Dr. Brock's talk was received with much interest and at the conclusion of his address he was applauded with questions.

Dr. Charles E. Barker of Grand Rapids, who was medical advisor to President William Howard Taft for four years, addressed the Century club Monday evening at the home of Dr. Edward Dimmett, with Mrs. N. Dykhuizen and Miss Adelaide Dykhuizen as hostesses. His subject was "President Taft as I Knew Him," and he gave a very enlightening personal view of this great man.

Today, November 1, marks the first snow storm of the year, although the weather is mild and the snow melts nearly as fast as it strikes the ground.

Burke Munson, son of Prof. and Mrs. Bruce R. Raymond, who has been confined to Butterworth hospital in Grand Rapids for the past week, was taken home yesterday. The boy is seven months old.

The Coopersville State bank announced Thursday it is releasing the balance of its moratorium deposits, amounting to more than $225,000.

League of Men's Societies and League of Young Men's Societies held a combined mass meeting at Eastern Avenue Christian Reformed church at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening in observance of Reformation day. The speaker was Rev. William K. Kok of Zeeland, whose subject was "Servants of God."

Forty members of the Grand Rapids Symphony orchestra will accompany the Holland Civic chorus when it sings Handel's "Messiah," December 18, Prof. W. Curtis Snow, director of the chorus, announced today. This is a departure from the custom of the last two years of having the symphony orchestra from the University of Michigan here for the occasion. The chorus consists of 150 voices this year.

"VOTE EARLY," SAYS CITY CLERK OSCAR PETERSON

City Clerk Oscar Peterson, who has had considerable experience with elections, urges voters to vote early. In Holland there will be four ballots to vote, and consequently voting is going to be slow. Mr. Peterson says that many of the women come to vote in the afternoon when the rush is on. It will also facilitate voting at the polls because of the many ballots only slow progress can be made.

The polls are open from 7 a. m. until 6 p. m. next Tuesday.

MASS MEETING SATURDAY NIGHT

Saturday evening at 7:45, the Republicans will hold a rally at Republican headquarters on West Eighth street, in the Rutgers building, at the Warm Friend Tavern, at the Army and at the Masonic temple, aside from the meetings in the street or in Centennial park.

The Republicans have been having scores of meetings in Ottawa county. One is to be held this Friday night at Virginia Park. One is scheduled at Coopersville, a large demonstration is scheduled at Zeeland and several meetings are being held in Holland.

At Zeeland, Grand Rapids, Judge Fred T. Miles and Representative Ed Brouwer will speak at a rally at Republican headquarters at the Rutgers building this Saturday night, while the Democrats will have a meeting at the Holland Armory Saturday night at which Prof. John H. Munks of the University of Michigan will be the principal speaker. Thomas F. McAllister, candidate for congress, and John Dolfin, candidate for state senator, will also be speakers at the Democratic rally Saturday. The Socialists, too, announce a meeting elsewhere in this issue.

Local Option Campaign Not Heated This Time

ANTI-OPTIONISTS BRING
INNESS ARGUMENTS; LO-CAL OPTIONISTS GIVE MORAL SIDE

Holland has been through a great many liquor campaigns. From 1908 to 1912 there were six battles at the polls, and a score or more in the common council having to do with city and county option. Unlike the local option campaign of this year, the battles of 25 years ago were tremendously bitter, and oftentimes old friends broke off friendly relations because of adverse opinion on a question that existed almost since the world began.

This year there has been more tolerance on both sides, and compared to the battles of yesterday there was no mean campaigning thus far that we have noticed. The so-called wet claim that local option would deprive 500 employees of work in places recently legalized; that the resort business will be affected; that some of the trade, should Ottawa county go dry, would go to wet territory to some extent; and that the opposite side of Thirty-second street, which is in Allegan county, would have taverns "galore," since Allegan county is still wet.

Of course, that will all depend upon whether Fillmore township and Laketown will grant licenses to applicants. The wet forces also claim that there is no prohibiting anyone from taking beer or liquor from surrounding wet territory for personal use. These are some of the arguments presented in their campaign matter.

The local option forces have made public plans that they would use their influence in order that all licenses shall be regulated as to hours and as to age limit, which under the present law has been altogether too liberal and unrestricted. Possibly the next legislature will make the necessary changes, since that fact is quite well covered by both wets and drys.

The dry forces have been working quietly, having been having some public meetings in different parts of the county, and not a few personal workers have been spreading the message of county local option. The drys, so-called, are waging the battle from a moral standpoint, and while some contend the campaign a year too early, the most ardent workers feel that the time is ripe now, that it is a question that concerns the home and whatever may be said for or against the advisability of abolishing liquor in county units and the time to start, they claim that the start must be made some time and that the campaign would be a moral lesson, and a victory would be an example for other counties in this and other states to pattern after.

The drys also contend that reformations are considered by the wets when campaigns to abolish the local option are launched by the local optionists.

The local option folks issued a four-page circular and in its introduction stated as follows: "Confusion exists in the minds of many as to just what local option means and what it will accomplish at this time. Under the new law we are voting on the only question that was left open for the people to vote on and although it may not accomplish all that is desired, it is a beginning towards an end."

The circular then describes conditions as they exist in Ottawa county and states further that while the people in Ottawa county are not responsible for the existence of the liquor traffic they will be responsible if it continues. The circular then dwells at length on the evils of the traffic.

Anyway, it is gratifying that the campaign has not engendered the bitterness that tore up the city during the campaigns of yesterday.

The instruction ballot on local option is found in this issue the same as is every other ballot upon which Holland and Ottawa county have to vote. This includes the state and county ticket, the state amendments of which there are six on one ballot, the local option ballot, and a ballot revising Holland's charter having to do with making the police board appointive. The latter ballot will naturally be voted in Holland alone, while the three others will be voted on in the entire county.

Zeeland Man Escapes Knife Of Mexican

PULLS OUT STILETTO WHEN MONEY WAS NOT PAID OVER
BECAUSE OF ATTACHMENT

A Mexican by the name of Volpes is in the Kent county jail, being arrested when his temper got the better of him, and he handled a Zeeland man and then pulled a knife on him. The Mexican operates a small milk farm.

Volpes had been raising onions and sold his crop to the De Bruyn company of Zeeland. Before the onions had been paid for, the sum was attached for a bill Volpes was owing to someone else, and of course the De Bruyn company could not pay under the law.

De Bruyn was willing to pay Volpes, but when the notice of attachment came he visited the Volpes place and told him of the situation. The Mexican became angry and threatened De Bruyn until De Bruyn wrote a check of which Volpes dictated the amount.

De Bruyn naturally did not want an altercation with a mad man. Even after the check was paid the Mexican grabbed De Bruyn, pulled out a ten-inch stiletto and brandished it in De Bruyn's face.

VANDENBERG-MAPES

There are two men on the Republican ticket who have been outstanding figures at Washington for a number of years. Voters who know these men will not be swayed by many of the unwarranted statements made by the opposition—others still have time to investigate these men from reliable sources and this means the political life of both Carl Mapes for congress and Arthur H. Vandenberg for senator will give a more reassuring picture of just what these men have been and are.

A reliable criterion to go by are the comments of the highest-class newspapers in the state whose independence and reliability are unquestioned.

For more than a score of years Carl Mapes has been an able, painstaking, and conscientious legislator. He is loved and respected by men of all parties and is especially so by his colleagues in the house of representatives. Because of his continued services at Washington he has become experienced in what is expected at the national capital. He has gained influence among his fellows and can today do some real effective work, not only for this nation, but for his constituency as well.

Carl Mapes is a very busy man during sessions and in committee work, but Mr. Mapes has never failed to listen to an appeal nor has he ever delayed an answer to any request for information from home. He has possibly given more time to help solve the problems of disabled soldiers of different wars than any man in congress. Carl Mapes is not a policy player, but stands by his honest conviction even though this conviction is directly detrimental to his political destiny. During these many years Mr. Mapes has been placed on very important committees both in Republican and Democratic administrations, which is indicative of the confidence which the leaders of the different parties have placed in him.

Senator Arthur Vandenberg has always been closely identified with Holland. For years he has spent his summers here, and has been in close contact socially and as a summer resident with this community. Holland remembers him largely because of the outstanding editorial he has written in the Grand Rapids Herald from time to time, the newspaper where he started as a "cub" reporter. Mr. Vandenberg is a peer in oratory and this attribute was noticeable even in his youth, for at that early date he showed exceptional oratorical ability, and today he is classed with the leading orators of the nation.

His maiden speech in the senate six years ago was a masterpiece. Very little attention is generally paid to the beginners in congress, and senators usually develop that bored air when a beginner tries to tell them something. However, when this young man from western Michigan allowed his voice to be heard, expounding common sense that demanded attention, the inattentive senators became very attentive and interested. During these six years the national press has been filled with the accomplishments of Senator Vandenberg and his counsel is sought by leaders of all parties.

An outstanding accomplishment of which everyone is mindful is the part he played in the establishment of the insurance of all bank deposits which all know has now become a fact. This constructive legislation has re-established our banking structure; has brought confidence where chaos prevailed; it has brought to our command the sinews of money and credit, the real avenues for renewed confidence and business upturn.

Both men have been instrumental in interesting Washington in our beet sugar industry in Michigan and have especially directed their attention to the once dormant and idle Holland plant, a busy hive of activity benefiting labor, farmer and city.

The Dollars and Cents Side of Local Option

Some Important Facts—

Next Tuesday the voters of Ottawa County will be called upon to vote on Local Option and a fact that should be considered is that at the present time there are 105 licensees in Ottawa County. From these licensees $8,920 is collected every year.

Under the law the greater part of this licensee money reverts back to the community. The law reads:

"The commission shall disburse the proceeds of the retailers' licenses, paid directly to it, quarterly after deducting FIFTEEN PERCENT thereof for commission expense, to the CITY, VILLAGE or TOWNSHIP in which the LICENSEE is LOCATED."

In Ottawa County this would mean that $7,582 is returned to the treasury of the cities, villages, and townships of the county each year from this license tax. Naturally the abolition of all licenses will cut the revenues down just that much and tax levies will have to be made on taxable property, while on the other hand the licensees pay the fee. Licensees also pay federal tax, state tax and sales tax.

In Ottawa County in 105 licensed places of business there is an average of five employees, giving employment to at least 500 persons, honestly and lawfully employed. The supposition is that these 500 help to support a total of at least 1500 in the county, this number receiving a direct livelihood from an enterprise that has been made legal for them.

With the stressful period, with employment scarce, it would simply mean that Ottawa County has no employment for five hundred more men. It would seem that this would add to the stress with which Ottawa County is already loaded. Indirectly thousands of others are receiving substantial benefits from the present system. The Licensees ARE YOUR CUSTOMERS. The money paid out by the licensees goes into almost every type of business and the greatest portion REMAINS IN THE COUNTY.

Below we give a few of the business enterprises which are directly benefited by the present conditions financially.

We sincerely believe that Local Option cannot possibly prohibit in a large area, and surely it would be impossible to establish this prohibition in a small county unit. There is no doubt that Ottawa County business would in a measure go to adjoining territory where no local option exists.

The resort business is one of Ottawa County's principal assets. It is very important to all of us that we keep it! Many resorters demand this privilege and will go elsewhere if denied them. Consider this!

MAY BE FLOOR LEADER AT LANSING

State Senator Gordon F. Van Eenennaam, if re-elected November 6, will be the senior member of Michigan's highest legislative body in point of service, local leaders pointed out here this week.

This statement is of the greatest importance to the people of the Twenty-third Senatorial district, which Mr. Van Eenennaam has ably represented, because of the well-established fact that senior members of the senate always succeed to the most important committee appointments. Since virtually all legislation is handled through these committees, it is highly important to any community that its senator be named to important committees.

Senator Van Eenennaam, in previous sessions of the state senate, has become one of its real leaders and a recognized power in its deliberations. Because of this rapid advancement, he will be able to serve his district more successfully than an inexperienced member. "Experience counts," one well-known local leader explained, continuing, "In the make-up of our senate, seniority is a vital factor to this community. Senator Van Eenennaam should be re-elected on the basis of his faithful service."

Senator Van Eenennaam was a champion of the automobile license fee reduction, and chairman of several important conference committees in the last session of the senate. He vigorously opposed the $300,000 "insurrection" bond bill. His work on school legislation won him high praise from Michigan educators.

It is probable that Mr. Van Eenennaam, if re-elected, may be the floor leader of the next senate.

The Sound LOAN POLICY of this Bank

This bank—like all well-managed banks—wants to lend money to responsible borrowers, who can be depended upon to pay the money back when it is due.

To make sure of this, two things are necessary: (1) the borrower must be honest and reliable; (2) the money must be used in some proposition which is practically self-paying, within a reasonably short period.

Because of the demand nature of their deposits, the loan policy of commercial banks of necessity must not permit the money of depositors to be tied up by borrowers in slow enterprises of any kind. Safety and good management require that loans be paid promptly with a minimum of renewals.

Farm Bureau Holds Meeting at Gd. Haven

PASS RESOLUTIONS OPPOSING ALL AMENDMENTS TO BE SUBMITTED AT THE ELECTION

Nearly 100 rural residents, members of the Ottawa County Farm Bureau, convened at the Presbyterian church house at Grand Haven for the annual meeting. Resolutions were passed opposing every one of the proposed amendments to be submitted to the voters at the coming general election as it is believed they open the way to dangerous legislation and they advised that all be voted down with a "loud No."

The officers were re-elected as follows: Maurice Luidens, Olive township, president; H. R. Andre, Jenison, vice president; Clarence Ulberg, secretary and treasurer. Charles Clayton, Marne, and John Erhorn, Nunica, were elected directors. Resolutions were also passed on the death of M. L. Noon, former president of the State Farm Bureau, who died last summer.

Colon C. Lillie, Coopersville, and Abe Robinson, Allendale, were elected delegates to the state convention to be held early in November. Wayne Newton, of the state farm bureau, spoke on the proposed amendment, advising a No vote, after which the resolutions were adopted. Wesley Hawley, Ludington, organization director of the bureau, discussed organization problems. William Westrate, Coopersville, and James Kelly, Coopersville, spoke on 4-H clubs and the benefits they had derived from their association through every class of the club work during the past five years.

Mr. Maurice Luidens, well known in Holland and brother of Henry Luidens of this city, has been president of the organization for the past 10 years and has made an able presiding officer. The group is formed for cooperative help to the farmers. The membership is composed of men and women. There is no political affiliation and farm matters are discussed in a non-partisan manner.

The organization is in fine condition with the financial report showing a balance of $300 on hand which is the usual amount. It is part of the state-wide organization.

L. R. Arnold, Ottawa county agent, addressed the group, telling of his work relative to governmental adjustment and the general duties by a county agent.

FORM YOUTH FELLOWSHIP IN CHURCHES OF CLASSIS

Churches in the Holland classis have organized a youth fellowship as a link in the denomination-wide movement in the Reformed Church in America, with the definite aim of contributing to the support of young people in Kentucky and Arabia. The organization has been divided into two sections.

The western section includes Holland, Elzevier, East Overisel, Overisel, North Holland, Hamilton, Dunningville, Harlem and Ottawa. The eastern section includes Zeeland, Forest Grove, Jamestown, North and South Blenden, Beaverdam, Hudsonville and Vriesland.

The first rallies will be held Nov. 9 in Forest Grove and Nov. 12 in Third Reformed church at Holland, with Dr. John VanEss of Arabia as speaker.

Officers are: President, Marvin Schaap of Holland; vice president, Lloyd Kramers of Forest Grove; secretary, Luella Nykerk of Holland; treasurer, Harvey Brink of South Blenden. George Schulling of Holland is counsellor.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Van Zelen and family, 174 West Eighteenth street, spent the week-end in Detroit.

The October meeting of the honor class of Third Reformed church was held at the home of Miss Beth Marcus. The regular business meeting was followed by a social hour.

Fred Van Wieren

Republican Candidate for DRAIN COMMISSIONER

wishes to thank the voters of Ottawa for the splendid endorsement at the primaries, and hopes and feels that he may be given the same support at the election next Tuesday.

The Republican Ticket is second on the ballot.

"Ripley" Radish — Big Spuds

A real Ripley "Believe It or Not" radish shaped like a human body, was brought to the Herald office by a farmer-friend the other day. It was found on Harry Osborn's place. It is about 18 inches long, including "legs," and weighed 1½ pounds.

Some big potatoes from Frank Bushees have also reached the "Odditorium" of the Herald. Not being a "haughty-cultivist," we couldn't say what breed they were. Might have been Oringtons for all we could tell—or Durocs—until John Brink enlightened us. Said they were Petoskeys, a variety that grows best in sandy soil.

DOG BITING CHILD—DREN SHOWS RABIES

Two children of Grand Haven are being treated for rabies by a physician. They were bitten by a dog, the head of which was later sent to Ann Arbor where it was found the animal had been suffering from the dreaded disease.

The importance of ascertaining whether bites are from animals suffering with rabies cannot be too strongly emphasized, states Dr. Morton Levin, head of the health unit. The percentage of death in infected animals is 100 per cent. The development of the disease in humans is slow, taking about four weeks after infection. Rabies can be prevented by treatment but it cannot be cured, he states.

Any dog that bites a person should be isolated for 10 days during which time the disease, if it is there, will kill the dog. In case the dog dies there is still time for treatment to the one bitten. Recently a man in the south end of the county died from rabies contracted, it is believed, in his business as a taxidermist. — Grand Haven Tribune.

WHY NOT HAVE A SURFACED ROAD ACROSS ALLEGAN CO?

We have received a number of inquiries from people at various times why there is no hard surfaced road across Allegan county. We would be pleased to hear from anyone interested in this subject. It seems to us that we should have M-89 paved so that the people of western Allegan county could get into the county seat in comfort in all kinds of weather. — Saugatuck Commercial Record.

FINED FOR ILLEGAL SALE OF CREAM IN GRAND HAVEN

Henry Holstege, Zeeland, was arraigned before Justice Peter Verduin this morning charged with selling cream in this city without proper equipment and peddler's license, in violation of a city ordinance. He was fined $5.00 and costs, totaling $9.20. The defendant paid the amount and was released. — Grand Haven Tribune.

LOCAL MAN RE-ELECTED PRESIDENT MICHIGAN TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION

John A. Swets, principal of Holland Christian High school, was re-elected president of the Michigan Christian Teachers' association at the annual convention held at Calvin college, Grand Rapids Friday.

Mr. Swets presided over the convention Friday which was attended by teachers of the local Christian schools and of Christian schools elsewhere in the state.

Students from Holland Christian High furnished several musical numbers on the convention program.

Other officers elected by the association are: Cornelius De Ruijter, vice president; Miss Helen Zandstra, secretary; Miss Elizabeth Bosma vice, all from Grand Rapids.

The executive board of the Allegan County Women's Republican club will meet at the home of Mrs. Carl Hoffman, Marshall street, Allegan, on Thursday, November 1, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

Local firemen were the recipients of two boxes of cigars given them by the local Jas. A. Brouwer Furniture company as a token of appreciation for the very efficient work done by the department in a recent fire in the store.

Holland Man Is Wed to Grand Haven Girl

Miss Ann Huttenga, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Huttenga of Washington St., Grand Haven, and James Hirdes, formerly of Holland, now of Grand Rapids, son of Mr. Mike Hirdes of Holland, were united in marriage in a lovely wedding service at the home of the bride's parents, before a large number of relatives and friends.

The ceremony was read by Rev. Henry Mulder of Grand Rapids, an uncle of the bridegroom, before an improvised altar made up of trellis entwined with leaves and chrysanthemums. Between the trellis was a gate with palms used as a background. Baskets of fall flowers and chrysanthemums flanked either side.

Preceding the ceremony Miss Charlotte Darby sang "O Promise Me," accompanied by Miss Kathryn Wuenecke, who also played the Mendelssohn wedding march for the bride party.

Miss Berdean Huttenga, the bride's sister, acted as bridesmaid and Jacob Huttenga, Jr., a brother of the bride, attended the groom.

The bride was attired in a brown chiffon velvet ankle length gown trimmed with gold metallic cloth at the neck and down the full sleeves which were gathered at the wrist with bands of the gold material. A large gold buckle was used on the belt. She wore brown pumps and an amber color head band set with rhinestones, and carried an arm bouquet of yellow tea roses.

Following the ceremony a two course luncheon was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Hirdes left on a short wedding trip and on their return will make their home at 1243 Cooper St., Grand Rapids, where Mr. Hirdes is proprietor of an oil station.

Mrs. Hirdes is well known in Grand Haven, having attended the local school and for the past several years she has been employed at the cutlery department of the Eagle Ottawa Leather Co. She is a member of the First Reformed church and has been active among the younger set of the church.

The guests included Rev. and Mrs. Henry Mulder of Grand Rapids, Mike Hirdes, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Gordon and Mr. and Mrs. Corie Hirdes of Holland.

HOLLAND NHA DRIVE MEETS 376 PROSPECTS

William M. Connelly, secretary of the chamber of commerce and secretary of the executive housing committee of this city, reported that in the survey now being conducted by 25 FERA employees, about half of the blocks in Holland have been covered and that of the 1,545 cards turned in there are 376 prospects for improvements.

JUST WHO DOES OWN THIS DOG?

Another chapter has been added to the ownership of the 2-year-old Beagle through replevin proceedings signed by Justice Steven Newnam of Saugatuck.

Henry F. Bouwman of Fillmore, original owner of the dog, lent it to Charles Necombe, a neighbor. Necombe traded it for a Collie with Lester Venhuizen of Holland. Bouwman thereupon regained ownership through replevin proceedings and lost possession through a similar course instituted by Venhuizen. What is the "purr" worth anyway?

Runaway Auto Jumps Over Curb and Wrecks Porch

A runaway sedan crashed into the porch of the home of Albert Meerzo of Grand Haven, tearing away two stone and wooden pillars, damaging the floor and tearing up the yard as it plowed along from some distance down the Washington street hill, near the court house and landed almost into the front door of the Meerzo home.

No one was in the car nor in the yard, fortunately. The owner recovered the car and drove off without contacting Albert Meerzo and settling for the damages. Rev. Leonard Greenway, living next door, took the license number, K39-593, and the police are broadcasting from Lansing to locate the owner. The car apparently was not badly damaged.

Tracks down the street showed the car had been parked in front of St. John's Episcopal church. Apparently the brakes did not hold and, due to the hill, the car gained considerable momentum, running between two trees on the curb and halted only by the house in question. Mrs. Meerzo was in the back yard and heard the crash. The owner promised her he would settle with her husband, who was at his place of business down town. The man failed to put in an appearance, however, and the police was reported to the city police.

Mr. and Mrs. Meerzo have three little children, six, three and a year and a half old, who had been playing on the porch with two other small neighborhood children. Just previous to the crash, Mr. Meerzo had taken his children for a ride and the others had gone home. While the damage to the house is considerable the Meerzos are thankful that no one was hurt in the strange accident which befell them.

Phillips Brooks and family left the city to make their home at Portsmouth, Ohio, for a few months.

Information is at hand in the county agricultural agent's office that seed prices will be above normal next spring. The department of agriculture at Washington is quite concerned over the situation. The demand for seed oats and legumes will be greater than usual. Soy bean production was greatly curtailed being hit by the drought. Likewise Sudan grass was a short crop. The alfalfa seed for the whole country is only about 75 per cent of normal. For Michigan the estimate is between 30 and 40 per cent of last year's crop. Many farmers will plant alfalfa next year due to the fact that it has proved its worth during the recent drought.

Many emergency crops will be planted next spring. Anyone with good seed on hand should be able to sell it easily in the near future. The farm crops department of the state college will get out a seed list in January, giving names of growers, kind of seed for sale and approximate amount. This will be listed separate from the usual certified seed list. Any Ottawa county farmer who will have a supply of seed for sale is requested to send such information to L. R. Arnold, county agricultural agent.

The agricultural agent's office in Grand Haven is in receipt of information in regard to short courses offered this year by Michigan State college. In all twenty-four short courses are offered listed under general agriculture, specializing and progress courses. Agriculture, dairying, poultry, beekeeping, fruit growing, floriculture and among the more popular courses. All courses other than the first and second-year general agriculture start January 2 or later. General agriculture starts Oct. 29.

Hope Is Jarred By Kazoo Hornets in MIAA Contest, 6-0

Grand Rapids Herald
"Rain and wind go away, come again some other day," sighed the players and the fans who braved the cold weather today to see Hope college lose to Kalamazoo, 6 to 0, relinquishing second place in the MIAA conference.

The only score of the game at Riverview Park, Holland, came in the third quarter after a beautiful 60-yard run by Kiekard, Kazoo left half, from his own 30-yard mark to Hope's 10-yard stripe. Two plays netted the Hornets 5 yards, which were offset by a 5-yard penalty against them for off-side.

From there Becker went through, carrying the ball to within inches of the goal. Kiekard then picked up the necessary yardage for the counter. A place-kick was blocked. Fumbles proved costly for Hope, committing five, three of them coming in the second quarter after Al Klomparsen passed to Korstjanje on the 25-yard mark.

On the next play Hope muffed the ball but recovered, gaining 4 yards on two plays afterwards. Te-Roller caught a short pass on the 16-yard stripe, where he was hit so hard he dropped the pigskin, only to have Buys recover it for Hope.

Lady Luck, as if thinking she had given the Hingamen enough breaks, failed to smile on them on the next fumble, which Kazoo downed on their 20-yard line. This was as near as the Dutchmen came to the invaders' double stripe. In the closing minutes of play the Hornets tried twice to cinch the score via a place-kick. The first attempt, which was made from the 21-yard line, went wide, and the second, from the 34-yard stripe, fell short, rolling into the end zone.

ALLEGAN COUNTY NEWS

Mrs. Ben Van Raalte and Mrs. Fred Boone of Holland and Miss Maxine Boone of Grand Rapids spent Tuesday with their niece and cousin, Mrs. J. H. Van Blois.

—Fennville Herald.

A delegation of village board members has conferred with the Allegan county road commission with the result that the latter will take over the river road leading from West Shore golf links to Bald Head park, also a strip to Shorewood, altogether about two miles. This will be made into a wide black-top road, which will be maintained by the county hereafter.

The Saugatuck Methodist church will sponsor a series of community services from Oct. 26 to Nov. 5. Assisting besides the local pastors are Rev. George Bennett, who wrote "The Old Rugged Cross," and Hannah A. Dahlstrom, Swedish singer and pianist.

Eddie Spruit, Julius Newman, and Simon Pasuue, three Holland youths, pleaded guilty to the theft of a quantity of wine, and when given the choice by Justice Ferris, Allegan, of serving twenty days in the county jail or paying a $2 fine and $8.85 costs each, they paid.

Our neighboring Lake Hutchins has long been noted as a fishing resort and now it has added another attraction—bathing. Peter Fisher, well known tennorial artist, is authority for the latter claim. The other day, after having landed a fine big pickerel, Pete started to heave on the anchor, when the rope parted and Pete made a fine backspin into the lake. His nephews soon manned the life boat and the rescue was made in short order. Pete is naturally a firm believer in cleanliness, but is not quite sure that the last of October, with the temperature around 40, is the best time to test Lake Hutchins' bathing claims.

Vern Osborn, Fennville, waived examination before Justice Herman H. Cook, Monday, on an attempted jail breaking charge and pleaded guilty in circuit court before Judge Fred T. Miles, who gave him six months to one year in Jackson prison with recommendation of nine months.

Two recent changes have been made in the Saugatuck business section. The West Michigan Oil Co. has moved its office to Fennville and Wilbur Reid has sold the Reid cafe to Eric G. Hill. Mr. and Mrs. Reid have entered a restaurant business in Chicago.

The marriage has been announced of Miss Susie Veldkamp and Willis Brink, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Brink of Fennville, which took place in Indiana. After the ceremony, the young couple went to Chicago and attended the fair for several days. Mr. and Mrs. Brink are making their home on the farm north of Fennville.

Congressman Geo. Foulkes has asked the president to appoint as postmaster of Benton Harbor Roman Jarvis, who ran against Mr. Foulkes in the Democratic primary election in September.—Fennville Herald. The News might add, "Killing off your enemies with kindness as it were."

"Christian Growth"
(Luke 2:42-52; II Peter 4:10-19)

HENRY GEERLINGS

Christians grow. Growth is a gradual and continuous process. Possibly it never ends. Death does not interrupt it. It just gives life a fuller and freer opportunity to become more and more. So a Christian does not spring full grown over night like a mushroom. It might be almost proper to say that he begins at zero in spiritual things and up through the years he comes to a larger manhood in Christ.

But the Christian as a growing something is like all other things in a living universe. Wherever is life there is growth. In this, therefore, he is not peculiar. He is just in line with the divine order of things. No doubt this is the wisest thing for man. It is doubtless better to be a becoming creature than one fully become all at once. Possibly it is better to be learning through the hard school of experience in a growing universe than to have all knowledge done up in a package and dropped down out of the skies to us. There is challenge and thrill and romance and eagerness and satisfaction in the learning process that would be impossible if God had crammed all the facts and realities of truth into our heads in the very beginning of life. So there seems to be wisdom and blessing and power in the becoming process in the Christian's experience. But, however, we philosophize about it, it is a fact that we must recognize and to whose meanings and challenges we must give ourselves.

Peter stands out as a striking example of a man who could become more and more in the Christian life. The moment Jesus saw him he saw in him the possibility of growth. We need to pause to note the possibilities Jesus saw in men. If he had accepted men on the basis of what they were when they came to him he would have received them on a very unsubstantial basis. Peter was certainly not much to boast of when Andrew brought him to Jesus. He was a most unlikely disciple. As men saw him he had very little apostolic material in him. As we judge men we would have said that he was rather a hopeless candidate for apostolic privileges and apostolic honors and apostolic responsibilities. Yet Jesus saw in him magnificent possibilities. The common, weather-beaten fisherman, accustomed to a rough and uncouth life, could be started on a process of becoming that would eventuate in making one of the great men of the world—a spiritual empire builder.

What Jesus saw must stir us to wonder and enthusiasm. It means that all about us are men and women with many glowing possibilities in them and they need only the touch of the divine life to start them into an unfolding process whose ongoing and whose results shall testify to the potential greatness of man and to the power of an enlivening and stimulating God.

And still more must we be stirred by what Jesus saw in so seemingly ordinary a man as Peter when we awake to the fact that that means that there are great possibilities in us, too. We also may grow into great Christian manhood and womanhood. We seem to lose sight of this wonderful and challenging fact or if we still see it we see it too often; see it as a mere matter of fact. Indeed, we should be amazed at ourselves that we are so nearly dead in the presence of this great fact.

It is little short of a tragedy that we Christians are satisfied with meager and oftentimes shadowy achievements. Some of us seem to be distressingly contented if we are just as good as men of the world. We seem not to care to excel. Christ has a right to expect a vast deal more of us than the people of the world show in their lives. He has a right to expect that we will do things of a noble character that men of the world could not think of doing and do not have the urge and power to do.

One of the evidences that Peter grew is the fact that he grew in his apprehension of the identity of Jesus. When he pressed home upon his disciples the question as to who they thought he was Peter became spokesman and made his great confession in which he declared that Jesus was the Christ, the Son of the living God. That was a very distinct advance upon their first meeting.

And may we not say that a real evidence of our Christian growth is our apprehension of Jesus.

ZEELAND

Mrs. Robert De Bruyn, Sr., very happily celebrated her 83rd birthday anniversary at her home on East Main st., Zeeland, recently, in the company of her immediate family. And on Sunday afternoon she was honored by her children and grandchildren in the form of a congratulatory party at her home at Zeeland. Mrs. De Bruyn is well known by many in Holland.

Peter Spierenberg has moved from the residence of Henry De Wit on Sanford st. into the second floor room of the Ver Plank residence on Sanford st., Zeeland. John Korstanje has moved from the residence of J. Deters on West Washington st. into the residence of J. Kloosterman on North Centennial st.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Van Dyke and son, Willard, of Holland, spent the week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Van Dyke of Beavertown.

Still more births are reported in Zeeland and vicinity, among them to Mr. and Mrs. John Yma, a daughter, Judith Ann; Mr. and Mrs. James Harrington of 281 East Thirteenth st., Holland, a son, Howard Wilson, Friday, October 19, 1934. Mrs. Harrington was Miss Agnes Vander Ploeg of New Groningen, before her marriage. Mr. and Mrs. Peter Dekker, West Cherry st., Zeeland, a son, Peter Allen; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Palmboos, Holland, formerly of Zeeland, a daughter.

Zeeland laid claim to Class C honors of Ottawa county yesterday by their 19-0 grid triumph over Coopersville, having previously defeated Hudsonville 12-0. Although without the services of their star center, Van Kley, the locals played well enough to shove over three counters, two by Wyngarden and one by Bouma. The scoring punch, so sorely missed last week in their 13-0 defeat at Allegan, was there when needed.

WHITE CAKE WITH FUDGE FROSTING

White Cake:
2 cups sifted pastry flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup butter or oleo
Sift flour once. Measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift together three times. Cream shortening thoroughly, then add sugar gradually, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add sifted flour and baking powder to creamed mixture alternately with milk, a small amount at a time. Beat after each addition until smooth. Add vanilla and fold in egg whites. Bake in a deep square or oblong pan, oiled and floured. Place in a moderate oven (350° F.) and bake 20 to 25 minutes, or until firm. Frost with Chocolate Fudge Frosting.

Chocolate Fudge Frosting:
1 1/2 squares chocolate, melted
1 1/2 cups sugar
1 1/2 tablespoons pastry flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
Mix the sugar, flour and salt, and add the chocolate which has been melted over water. Add the milk and cook slowly, stirring occasionally, to the soft ball stage (234° F.). Remove from fire, add the butter and vanilla. Cool and beat until thick and creamy. Spread on the cooled cake.

Look! They're getting ready for the "Husband Calling Contest"! But why should the likes of us stay for that? We have a bag of tricks that's worth ten times their chest expansion, and we always bring husbands home with a smile.

Faithfully,
JEAN ALLEN.

If you do not desire to vote any party ticket, do not make a cross (X) in the circle (O) at the head of any ticket, but make a cross (X) in the square (□) before the name of each candidate for whom you desire to vote.

If you wish to vote for a candidate not on any ticket, write or place the name of such candidate on your ticket opposite the name of the office.

Detroit News Tells State To Re-Elect Sen. Arthur Vandenberg

"Senator Vandenberg's record in the senate," says the Detroit News in an editorial headed, "Re-elect Vandenberg," "has been one that entitles him to indorsement by the people of Michigan, and re-election as a wholesome influence on legislation, and on the affairs of the Republic."

The News editorial, in full, follows:

Re-Elect Vandenberg
The News indorses Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg for re-election. It gives this indorsement without retracting in any way its good opinion of Frank A. Picard, nominee of the Democrats. Mr. Picard has shown himself an organizer of high ability, and a first-class administrator, as chairman of the liquor control commission. He is upright, he is sincere, he is a fighter. But as a senator of the United States, Mr. Vandenberg has been tested and proved; Mr. Picard has not. The News sees no adequate reason for taking Mr. Vandenberg out of the senate and therefore no reason for replacing him by Mr. Picard.
The News has not always seen eye to eye with Senator Vandenberg. There have been numerous occasions on which we have thought fit to take him to task, when we considered him mistaken. But there have been far more instances in which Mr. Vandenberg, with no other prompting than that of his own brain and conscience, patience, he won; and that, too, was something for the book.

He has been one of the most consistent workers in the senate, both in committee and on the floor, a tireless watcher of legislation and a notable critic thereof. He is a member of the Foreign Relations and the Commerce committees, both highly important bodies; of the Territories and Insular Affairs committee, which had to do with the measure granting independence to the Philippines, and in the course of his labors on that committee he visited the islands and studied their problems at first hand. He was appointed a member of the special investigating committee on the munitions industry, the creation of which he suggested and demanded; that investigation is still in progress and will probably be continued by the next congress. We should like to see his work on that committee continued, together with his efforts to take profit out of war, in which, with Senator Nye, he has been conspicuous.

has taken a line in which, after hearing the evidence, we have been compelled to follow him; still more in which there has been agreement all along. When Senator Vandenberg has disagreed with us, he has continued to disagree; and we admire him none the less for that tenacity, too infrequent in men in political life.

One reason we believe should count toward Senator Vandenberg's re-election is his position in the Republican party. In six years in the senate he has come close to leadership, if not in command of votes, certainly in the formation of policy. He was one of the first to see that the old order was dead; that the Republican party cannot afford to look backward and contend for lost causes, but must frame a new program, constructive and vital; that it cannot remain a party of opposition, but must first co-operate in the national movement to smash the depression and regain prosperity, then advocate measures for continuing and increasing that prosperity.

Thus we saw Senator Vandenberg refusing to oppose President Roosevelt's fiscal plans in their entirety, as so many old-line Republicans did, but supporting him where he consistently could; for example, in going off the gold standard, though he insisted that congress, not the president, should fix the new value of gold in terms of the dollar. We saw him approving the principle of the home loan program, though he disagreed as to details. And we saw him leading the fight for government insurance of bank deposits, and carrying it to victory in spite of the fact that he was a Republican senator, and regardless of a conservative opposition fortified by the views of most of the big bankers of the nation. That was a sparkling achievement indeed.

It may also be recalled that Mr. Vandenberg had not been a year in the senate before he was leading the battle for reapportionment of seats in the house, which others had undertaken and lost for nine years. By hard work and endless

Though not a banker, he was quicker than most legislators whose specialty is banking to advocate, after the crash of February, 1933, measures for getting the closed banks reopened and giving the people access to their money, even to the extent, if necessary, of issuing currency against frozen deposits. Detroit will not soon forget his testimony before the Keidan grand jury as to the valuation of securities held by the closed banks. He said he did not care if Detroit's bonds were selling at 50, or lower; they were worth, he insisted, 100 cents on the dollar. That was greater faith in Detroit's integrity than many of our own citizens possessed at that time.

It is charged that Senator Vandenberg has opposed the president's recovery plans, and is now trying to show that he supported many of them. It is true that he voted against many; but it is also true, for it is all set down in the debates reported in the Congressional Record that he was opposed to them in detail rather than in principle and it is also true that many times, in public speeches, he expressed admiration for President Roosevelt and for his good intentions.

WHAT THE NEXT CONGRESS IS GOING TO NEED IS FEARLESS CRITICS ON CONSTRUCTIVE LINES, NOT RUBBER-STAMP YES-MEN NOR HIDE-BOUND OBSTRUCTIONISTS. Mr. Vandenberg, we submit, has shown himself such a constructive critic.

In sum, Senator Vandenberg's record in the senate has been one that, in our opinion, entitles him to indorsement by the people of Michigan, and re-election as a wholesome influence on legislation, and on the affairs of his Republican party. There have been few Michigan senators who have won such respect from their colleagues in so short a time, or have made such a nation-wide reputation for constructive proposals, clear and clean criticism of legislation, and ability to fight for a cause believed just.
