Council Reaffirms Approval of New Charter for City

Wage Increases Also Okayed for City Workers Up to 10 Cents an Hour

Common Council reaffirmed its unanimous approval of the proposed charter which will be voted upon at the Nov. 7 election. At the regular meeting Wednesday night council also approved action enabling the various city departments to increase wages and salaries up to 10 cents an hour.

Both resolutions were introduced by Ald. Arnold W. Hertel, chairman of the ways and means committee.

Two weeks ago on Oct. 19, council unanimously pledged wholehearted support for the new charter which lost by a small margin in the June 27 city election. At the Oct. 19 meeting, four commission members appeared to lend backing to a communication of the commission asking council to approve or reject the charter. The new charter advocates a city manager form of government.

Hertel's motion to reaffirm approval of the charter was seconded by Ald. Bertal Slaght who had made the original motion two weeks ago pledging wholehearted support.

Although Hertel gave no reason for asking council to reaffirm its action of two weeks ago, it was generally felt that the second approval was requested after literature urging a "no" vote was distributed through the mails.

On the wage increase recommendation, Hertel explained that the ways and means committee has been studying the problem for some time and that it has given careful consideration to increased living costs and yet considering the problem from a budget viewpoint.

The resolution, which council unanimously approved, excludes elected officers or those appointed by council. It also provides a $20 annual increase for volunteer firemen. The committee also is asking the hospital and library boards to submit revised salary schedules with reasonably proportionate increases to the ways and means committee. The hospital board already submitted its revised schedule Wednesday night and council approved it. All increases are effective as of Nov. 1.

Mayor Harry Harrington presided and Ald. John Beltman gave the invocation. All aldermen were present with the exception of Ald. Anthony Nienhuis who has just returned home from spending a few days in Holland hospital. One of two bouquets of chrysanthemums, coming from the city greenhouses, was sent to Ald. Nienhuis. The other was divided among councilmen.

EX-CAPTIVE MARRIES

Pullman—Pfc. Robert Young, 19, first American captive of the North Koreans to escape, has returned home and married the former Dorothy Hoyt, of Pullman. "I'm captured for life now," Young commented.

Pictured above is the scene which confronts drivers approaching the M-21, US-31 junction. It is also the scene at which six accidents—one fatal—occurred during the last week-end. Heavy fog covered the highway markings, causing the six drivers to miss the junction and go over the end of the road. There are three signs denoting a junction, all shown in the picture above. First is a large, black sign showing which way goes to Grand Rapids and which to Holland and Benton Harbor. Further up, at the exact junction, is a 36 by 36 inch reflectorized yellow sign that tells drivers to "Stop." Across the M-21 is a black and yellow latticed sign, with two white signs showing which way M-21 runs and which way US-31 runs. Further back on the highway, to the north and in back of the camera, are other signs. About 1,000 feet north of the junction is a 36 by 36 yellow sign with the words, "Stop Ahead." Then there is a small white sign, showing, "Junction M-21." Then a sign reads M-21 to right and left, US-31 to the right. Finally, there are the three signs shown above. State Highway Commissioner Charles Ziegler has promised "immediate action" in installing a stop-and-flasher type signal at the junction, in response to messages from county and city authorities.

Fatality Occurs East of Holland At M-21 Junction

A Muskegon man was killed early Saturday when his car failed to halt at the fog-shrouded junction of US-31 and M-21 about one mile east of Holland.

Claude Vander Wall, 28, 1499 Hudson St., Muskegon, died instantly from a skull fracture and broken neck. His wife, Doris, was asleep at the time of the crash. He was the father of three children.

A total of four, and possibly five, cars left the road in the same manner after 2 a.m. Saturday. No other serious injuries were recorded.

Vander Wall apparently couldn't see the stop signs because of the fog, which began just outside West Olive. The Muskegon car turned over, ended in a swamp south of M-21, and Vander Wall was thrown out of the car. Mrs. Vander Wall was treated for a head injury at Holland hospital.

The accident was discovered about 10 minutes after it happened when a car driven by Oscar Johnson, 384 West 19th St., skidded across the intersection and struck a pole. Occupants of the car noticed the Vander Wall vehicle and called officers to investigate.

Riding in the Johnson car were Donald Hulst, 137 Central Ave.; Richard Woodruff, 69 Madison Pl.; Eleanor Galler, Vicksburg; Mary Redman, Kalamazoo; Betty Ebelink, Comstock; and Gloria Summerfield, Kalamazoo. None was hurt.

The Vander Walls left Muskegon at 1:15 a.m. driving to Milwaukee, Wis. He was a machinist at Continental Motors.

Survivors include the widow, three children, Claudia Jean, 3½, Kathryn Alice, 2, and William Craig, 14 months who were with neighbors at the time; his mother, Mrs. John C. Vander Wall, Fremont; one brother, Ralph, Fremont; two sisters, Anna Mae, Muskegon Heights, and Mrs. Adrian Overeen, Muskegon. The body will be taken to Muskegon today.

Another accident was reported at 6:15 a.m. when Thomas R. Morrall, Muskegon, swept across the intersection and collided with another car, which also was in the ditch. Officers have only the license number of the fourth car.

The intersection is marked only with a small, non-luminous "Stop" sign at the corner. Further back the road is another sign warning of the approaching junction.

Officers attribute the accidents to scanty highway markings combined with the early morning fog. Deputy Clayton Forry and Corporal Gilbert Vande Water investigated.

Chief Van Hoff Urges Higher Speeding Fines

"I definitely feel that speeding fines should be higher, with at least a $10 minimum fine," Police Chief Jacob Van Hoff said here.

Van Hoff made his statement after a series of letters in the Public Opinion column of The Sentinel touched off a civic discussion of speeding on Holland streets.

"When I first came to work on the force, there was a $10 minimum speeding charge," the chief recalled. "This was reduced to $5 during the depression, and has never been increased again."

Van Hoff also pointed out that speed limits on Michigan Ave. and other state trunk lines are set by the state highway department and state police.

"About a year ago, these departments conducted a survey of traffic on Michigan Ave., and posted the present limits—30 miles per hour up to 28th St., and 35 miles from there to the city limits," the chief said.

The counters clock the average speed of 100 cars. Then they discard the 10 highest and 10 lowest, and are left with the 80 in the middle. They subtract seven miles per hour from that and come up with the speed limit.

"They figure what 80 per cent of the people do is right," Van Hoff said. "They set speed limits all over the state in the same manner. We tried to get them to lower the limit because of the hospital zone and the business places, but were told they couldn't make an exception for us."

This same survey sets the limit on all other state or United States highways, whether within the city or outside, he added.

Van Hoff described the system in answer to a letter in The Sentinel Tuesday that requested lower speed limits on Michigan Ave.

Dr. Terkeurst Suffers Stroke

Dr. Henry D. Terkeurst, pastor of Trinity Reformed church, remained unconscious and in a serious condition today in Holland hospital, following a cerebral hemorrhage Wednesday afternoon in his home.

He was found unconscious in his home after he failed to report for a catechism class in the church. He was admitted to the hospital at 4 p.m. Mrs. Terkeurst was in Kalamazoo for the day.

His physician said it would be some time before the final outcome could be determined, adopting a "wait and see" attitude. There is some paralysis of the right side, he said.

Dr. Terkeurst has served as minister of Trinity church several years. During World War II, he spent a few years as Navy chaplain and was in the Aleutians several months.

Chick-Owas Have Pheasant Supper

Zeeland (Special)—A large crowd of Chick-Owa Sportsmen club members met for annual pheasant supper at Grange hall south of Zeeland Thursday evening.

Main topic of business was the announcement by Dr. L. A. Van Kley, president of the club, that all members are requested to be on hand next Wednesday to help plant pine trees on the club's new tract of land, three miles south of Zeeland.

The plot was purchased for the express purpose of planting the trees. Members were requested to bring saws, shovels and axes for the work.

This was the only item of business discussed. Group singing preceded the business session.

Three Taverns Request Beer Ban Off Ballot

Grand Haven (Special)—Three tavern owners today sought to have the county referendum prohibiting Sunday sale of beer and wine removed from the ballot in Tuesday's election.

The operators of the Log Cabin and Yellow Jacket in Robinson township and Murphy's tavern in Grand Haven township filed a bill of complaint against County Clerk Anna Van Housen and Ottawa county, asking they be enjoined from submitting the question to the electors, claiming the county clerk did not check the signatures of persons signing the many petitions to determine whether they were qualified voters.

Operators charge Sunday closing will incur financial hardship and might force them out of business.

Hearing was set Nov. 6 at 10 a.m.

Man Fined for Pushing Child Into Bonfire

Allegan (Special)—Earl Shippy, 32, Grand Rapids, paid $45 fine and $11.80 costs on a drunk and disorderly charge Wednesday as a result of a Halloween party in Dorris Tuesday night.

Officers charged Shippy with accidentally pushing a three-year-old girl into a bonfire while celebrating. The child received burns on her arm.

Shippy ran into some nearby woods after the accident, and was found later in a tavern by sheriff's deputies.

Fourth Hydrant Is Turned On

For the fourth time in the last week, a fire hydrant was turned on and left running by pranksters.

Tuesday night's hydrant was turned off at the corner of 29th St. and Van Raalte Ave., and Board of Public Works employees turned it off about midnight.

They returned today to fill in holes in the road left by the water.

Meanwhile, two Holland youths have admitted turning on a hydrant Monday on 24th St., east of Washington Ave., according to Chief of Police Jacob Van Hoff.

They were ordered to report to Municipal Judge Cornelius vander Meulen later this week. Police identified the youths as Gordon Sloothaak, route 4, and Don Topp, Jr., 80 North Division Ave., both 18.

Other hydrants were turned on at 30th St. and College and 31st St. and College Ave. late last week.

Weather Breaks Many Records

Holland area basked in summer temperatures for the fourth day Wednesday as the autumn heat wave shattered most weather bureau records.

A cold front was sweeping eastward across the Dakotas and cooler weather was predicted for the northern tip of Upper Michigan late today.

The weather in Holland area was a far cry from just one year ago when the mercury dipped to a cold 36 degrees and never reached more than 48 degrees. And there was rain and sleet one year ago today.

Yesterday, Detroit had a record 79 degrees for Halloween and Grand Rapids with 79 and Lansing with 77, set new marks. Other highs in Michigan, ranging from 74 degrees to 79, were established at Battle Creek, Flint, Jackson, Gladwin, Saginaw, Traverse City and Marquette.

Summer Over, Cold to Remain

Holland citizens can expect the cold snap to continue through Friday night, according to the local weather bureau.

Temperatures were expected to plummet from an ah high Wednesday of 77 degrees to a low tonight of 36. High predicted for today is 54, while Friday's high mark is expected to reach 56. At 11 a.m. today, the temperature stood at 46 degrees.

Snow fell in northern Michigan. Houghton and Cadillac felt the light white blanket, with the thermometer near the freezing mark. Temperatures registered 31 at Houghton and 35 at Cadillac before dawn today.

Wednesday, highs of up to 81 degrees were recorded in Michigan. Last night the mercury plunged as much as 40 degrees during the afternoon.

Clerk Urges Electors To Cast Ballots Early

"Be sure to vote—and vote early!"

That was the advice today from City Clerk Clarence Greengood, who urged Holland voters to cast their ballots as early as possible to prevent any last-minute congestion at polling places.

He reminded voters that sample ballots still are available at his office for inspection and study.

He also pointed out that the only acceptable symbol to use in next Tuesday's election is a cross (X), with the intersection within the proper square or circle. This regulation is set by State election law.

Circuit Court Postpones Cluchey-Hoffman Case

Grand Haven (Special)—The suit of Donald Cluchey, Pentwater marine contractor, against Nicholas Hoffman of Holland, which was to have begun in Ottawa Circuit court Wednesday, has been postponed until a further date, because another case begun Tuesday continued today.

On Thursday, the case of Bessie Kuipers of Grand Rapids against Vande Bunte Bros., et al., seeking $10,000 damages for injuries received Sept. 17, 1948, will begin.

12,000 Bulbs Sold Here So Far; Open Thursday

Local residents who want to have tulip plantings in their yards for Tulip Time next year will have their last opportunity to purchase bulbs at reduced prices Thursday, Tulip Time officials said.

W. A. Butler, newly elected president of Tulip Time Festival, Inc., has urged plantings in front yards all over the city as an added attraction for festival visitors next May.

Approximately 12,000 bulbs were sold Tuesday to local residents at the low price of $3.75 per 100 bulbs. Most persons purchased 100 bulbs but several bought larger amounts.

The GAR room of the city hall will be open Thursday from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. and 1:30 to 5:30 p.m.

Members of the Holland Tulip Garden club have on display color illustrations of suggested plantings in yards under various conditions. They also distribute written instructions on how to plant bulbs, provided by the Associated Bulb Growers of the Netherlands.

Tulip bulbs can be planted anywhere provided the ground is not frozen too deeply. Even then, bulbs can be planted successfully. Officials recalled a few years ago when bulbs arrived in Holland late because of a shipping tie-up in Canada and park employees successfully planted 50,000 bulbs in a special planting on the hospital grounds by the expedient of dumping unfrozen soil on the ground which had frozen to a depth of two feet. The hospital planting was one of the most beautiful in the city that year.

The special planting committee is considering plans for a contest during Tulip Time and persons purchasing the bulbs are asked to sign agreements that they will plant the bulbs in Holland and agree to inspection for possible prizes.

Some misunderstandings always occur. After closing time Tuesday, three young people asked to purchase bulbs and since the garden club members had packed all the bulbs away they told the would-be purchasers to return Thursday.

"Oh no, we can't come back Thursday, we're on our way home to Montana," they said.

They were referred to local growers for bulbs.

Headed by two elephants out of winter circus quarters in Peru, Ind., Ottawa county Republicans will stage an all-day campaign Friday, starting with a parade downtown in Holland at 9 a.m., followed by a caravan which will travel to all the cities and villages in Ottawa county.

Anybody interested in joining the caravan may do so. Cars and drivers, furnished by local car dealers, will line up at 8:30 a.m. at the depot for decorations, and form the parade at 9 a.m.

Homer Ferguson had expected to join the county caravan but was called to Washington.

County candidates on the Republican ticket also will be present. The day's activities will be informal and all speeches will be short. From Holland, the elephants and caravan will go to Grand Haven, then to Spring Lake, Coopersville (lunch at 12:30 p.m.), Eastmanville, Allendale, Pearlline, Hudsonville, Jamestown, Forest Grove, Drenthe and Vriesland, ending in Zeeland at 4:30 p.m. A rally will be staged in Zeeland city hall at 8 p.m.

Pranksters Quiet

Downtown merchants and several car owners today were removing soap and wax marks from windows, but that was about the extent of Halloween pranks with in the city, police said. Most serious incident was turning on of a fire hydrant at 29th St. and Van Raalte Ave.

Four Street Lights Will Be Installed At New Locations

Common Council Invited To Attend Tulip Time Meeting Here Tonight

Four new street lights will be installed on College Ave., following action by Common Council Wednesday night. The lights will be put at intersections at 28th, 29th, 30th and 32nd Sts., on recommendation of the public lighting committee, headed by Ald. Lloyd Maatman.

Ald. LaVern Rudolph, who represents council on the board of directors of Tulip Time Festival, Inc., invited council members to attend a meeting of Tulip Time officials and civic leaders tonight at 7:30 p.m. in the Warm Friend Tavern. Plans and general policies for the 1951 festival will be discussed.

Council approved a recommendation of the street and crosswalks to purchase 165 feet of property on East 10th St. alley for $3,500 in a program which eventually may see the reopening of 10th St. from Lincoln to Fairbanks Ave. The property is owned by Earl Nivison. Payment will come from the gas and weight tax fund.

Council agreed to a new stipulation in the deed for city-owned property on Fourth St. sold to the Holland Motor Express Co. Oct. 18 on condition the company build a warehouse on the property within a year. The new stipulation allows certain leeway in case building restrictions or other conditions are such that it would not be good business judgment to build within the allotted time.

A communication from the Consistorial Union of the Reformed churches in Holland containing a resolution placing the union on record as being opposed to places where ice cream and the like are sold, open for business on Sunday, was referred to the ordinance committee.

Council will offer for sale a city-owned parcel of land on West 24th St., reserving the right to reject any and all bids. The public offer is a technicality necessary in the transfer of such property. The property is sought by the Board of Education in connection with building a new elementary school to replace Van Raalte school.

A contract for painting the clinic building was awarded to Tansie and De Ridder for its low bid of $260. Council also awarded a contract to Holland Furnace Co. for its low bid of $245 for a new gas conversion burner and water heater in a city-owned house near the city hall.

Council approved a recommendation from the Board of Public Works allocating a third of the $8,500 needed the first year in the city planning program, subject to final arrangements by council.

Clerk Clarence Greengood presented a copy of the annual report of the Michigan Municipal League, and called attention to the annual meeting of the American Municipal Association in Washington, D. C., Dec. 4-6.

A corrected copy of a claim filed two weeks ago by Gardena Zuerker, seeking a claim for injuries, will be forwarded to Michigan Mutual Liability Co.

A petition signed by seven property owners requesting closing the east 172 feet of an alley coming out of Van Raalte Ave. between 13th and 14th Sts. was referred to the street committee and city engineer.

Council approved special assessments rolls including six for road improvements on Lincoln, Ottawa and Fairbanks Aves., totaling $10,541.85; three for sewers on West 25th St., East 31st St., and East 29th St. totaling $16,132.50, exclusive of compulsory sewers for $607.55, and delinquent light, power and water for $36.95.

Council approved passage of ordinance 410 to regulate the installation, maintenance and operation of gas water heaters. There were a few changes from a previous meeting when action was delayed.

Claims and accounts totaled $18,276.18. Other claims are hospital board, $8,794.26; library board, $852.89; park and cemetery, $6,714.23; Board of Public Works, $43,330.06. The city treasurer reported BPW collections of $34,526.56 and miscellaneous collections of $25,560.22.

The Community Chest drive was still $262.10 short of the $38,300 goal, Campaign Director Robert Kowal reported today. He urged persons who had not made their gifts to call him, and a volunteer would call for the contributions.

Public Opinion
Dear Judge Miles:
The proposal of a bond issue to increase mental hospital facilities I consider of great importance.

It happens repeatedly that relatives of patients come to us begging for temporary admission to our hospital which request we can scarcely grant as we are filled. These requests come from people who have tried in vain to obtain immediate admission to a state hospital for care of a relative.

There has been a serious increase in mental disturbance the last 20 years. This is especially true among the aged. Our state hospitals are overcrowded, making care and protection difficult and treatment less efficient.

Holland Offices Warn of Hoax For Federal Jobs

Schools Advise That They Prepare Persons for Exams

Two local agencies today warned persons to beware of a scheme whereby persons pay money to a civil service school that is supposed to allow them to compete for federal jobs.

The Holland Chamber of Commerce and local United States civil service commission office issued the warning. Complaints regarding the hoax by so-called civil service schools have been received at both offices. Many schools, exaggerate opportunities for employment and leave persons with the impression that they are sanctioned by the government.

Information about federal government jobs is free of charge at any time from any first or second class post office or from the United States civil service commission. Announcements of exams are posted on bulletin boards in first and second class post offices.

The agency lists the following precautions: No civil service school has any connection with the commission or any other branch of government; the commission has no agents who sell civil service courses or accept fees or commissions.

Other factors are: No school can guarantee success in passing exams for government jobs; no school gives advance information regarding the needs for civil service employees or has knowledge in advance of exams; no school gives information of examination questions or other information not available to the public; the commission recommends no school.

"Don't hand out cash when you can get similar advice free of charge from your local civil service office," officials said.

ourselves, our family or a member of our community. Nevertheless it is for the welfare of a resident of the state of Michigan. Time for action is Nov. 7. Jennie M. Kaufman County Superintendent of Schools.

TO THE EDITOR:
Since 1937 in working with people who have social problems, economic and otherwise, coming to the Bureau of Social Aid, many individuals have illustrated the need for hospitalization for mental illness and the lack of provision for this care.

A mentally incapacitated father should not have to remain at home with his children, not only for his sake but for his children's sake. Elderly persons acquiring arteriosclerosis of the brain, advanced senility, etc. receive care in homes of others with silent personal sacrifices instead of in institutions where care can best be given.

We can use figures in illustrating the need for more and better care for the mentally ill, but figures only state the number of available beds rather than the number of persons in need of mental hospitalization.

Marguerite E. Hadden, Supervisor Bureau of Social Aid Ottawa County.

TO THE EDITOR:
It has been our experience especially in dealing with mentally defective children, that facilities for treatment have not been available. Visits made to various mental hospitals proved to us that crowded conditions caused considerable hardship and result in inadequate treatment.

We heartily endorse the program for expansion of these facilities and recommend voting "YES" on proposal No. 2.

Ralph Ten Have, M. D. Director, Ottawa County Health Department

TO THE EDITOR:
Every family is vulnerable to mental illness. When mental illness strikes it means deep tragedy for every member of the family, complete readjustment of the family life, and additional financial burdens.

Those of us who work with children know doctors and clergymen advise that children born unfinished or defective immediately be committed to an institution. It is possible for the court to make this commitment immediately, but after commitment the child must wait from one to two years before he can be accepted because all institutions are overcrowded.

For this reason, our agency en-

As an educator and one who works with children, I would like to encourage everyone to consider that people (many of them children) who need mental treatment cannot secure it because there are no beds available.

I am proud of Michigan in many ways. I cease to be so on this matter when I know the number of mentally sick in my state and that it ranks 40th in having acceptable facilities to care for the mentally ill. Records point out that one person in 10 suffers mental illness of some sort and that one in 20 will spend most of his life in a mental hospital.

If I care, I will act. I will vote "YES" on proposal No. 2. I will do this knowing that I must pay after I vote, if others do the same thing.

Authorities say that it will cost each of us about 40 cents a year, as our share of the 30-year-bond that proposal No. 2 advocates. This may be in the interest of

Michigan Might Get New Member in House

Washington (UP)—Michigan's population rose 21.2 per cent to 3,371,766 in the last decade, final figures for the 1950 census showed today. The increase may result in an 18th seat in Congress for Michigan.

The extra seat would result from an increase in the size of the House of Representatives, but that body must itself vote such a move. The alternative is to draw up new congressional districts.

The 1940 census gave Michigan 3,256,106 residents. Today's figures put the country's population officially at 150,697,361.

Mr. Truman will send official figures to the House during the first week of the new session in January. He will recommend the following changes in state delegations:

Kalamazoo-Muskegon Clash May Decide Southwest Loop Ruler

The big battle of the 1950 season, which may ultimately decide the conference champion, will feature Southwest conference grid fare Friday.

It is the skirmish between unbeaten (3-0-1) Muskegon and once-defeated (4-1-0) Kalamazoo at Kalamazoo. If Kalamazoo wins, it will claim at least a share of the bunting. If Muskegon wins, the Big Reds will battle it out with the Heights to decide who will wear the crown.

Two non-league games and another circuit clash are on tap. The slate:

Muskegon at Kalamazoo—Not too much to choose between either. Kalamazoo has shown the better attack with the Big Reds the best defense. Comparative scores are meaningless. So the defending co-champs will be at it again.

Holland at Benton Harbor—"Unpredictable" versus the "form team." The Tigers stirred up controversy with two big upsets. The Dutch have won when they were supposed to. Tossup.

Deer Population Slightly Down, But There's Plenty to Go Around

Lansing —At least 120,000 unsuspecting deer now foraging in Michigan will provide meat on the table and trophies to talk about during the 16-day general deer season opening Nov. 15, conservation department game officials predicted today.

An estimated 400,000 sportsmen are expected to turn out during the general deer and bear season with almost one out of three bagging a buck.

Game division chief Harry Ruhl said the deer herd this year totals about 1 million head, a little below average population but on the upgrade since a slump several years ago.

"Light mortality during last year's mild winter, abundant berries and nuts, and a fair fall crop is boosting the deer population this year," according to Ruhl.

dorses the bond issue in proposal No. 2 which will mean adequate facilities for all our mentally ill, from childhood through old age.

Ruth Van Duren County Welfare Agent Ottawa County Probate Court

TO THE EDITOR:
In Saturday's Sentinel, a complaint appeared that children were nearly run over by a car on Washington Ave. It gave the impression that a speeding car was responsible. I wish to refute that, as I was driving that car and traveling less than 20 mph.

I had been shopping and was driving north on Washington Ave. I was going less than 20 mph when two children ran from behind a truck where workers were patching the street. They didn't look either way. When I saw them, they were about 10 feet in front of me. I jumped on the brakes, and I think the only reason the children stopped was because they heard the terrific noise my tires made sliding on the pavement. They stopped, and I missed them by inches.

My car traveled 22 feet with all wheels stopped. My four-year-old son was thrown to the floor of the car, my wife was thrown against the dashboard. We were all scared nearly to death. We have three boys—ages four, seven and twelve.

The two children ran across the street crying. One of the mothers came to the door to get her boy. I yelled at her. I was so upset I couldn't help it.

I stopped at Washington Square where a merchant asked me what the trouble was, and I told him. I still was nervous and shaking. I went back to the house and apologized to the mother, who was sick with fright.

I really don't know whose fault it was. Children that age don't always think to look before crossing. Drivers don't always see them in time to stop until too late.

Thank God it wasn't too late that time. I do wish to say this: "Drivers, please watch closely. Mothers, please watch closer."

TO THE EDITOR:
I wish to emphasize the importance of the get-out-the-vote campaign sponsored by local service clubs, churches and other civic groups. This campaign will urge persons, and act as a last minute reminder to vote Nov. 7th.

I know of no other privilege, or sacred right guaranteed to all persons, that could be more important than the right to vote.

However, do not lose your vote by marking your ballot incorrectly, after you have taken time to vote, be sure your vote counts.

You must mark your ballot with an X placed in the box square. Any other mark such as a check mark will cause your ballot void. At the last election many ballots were void due to improper marking.

Let's all get out to vote and be sure we mark our ballots correctly.

Farm-to-Prosper Trustees Planning Annual Round-Up

Chamber Official Lauds Growth Of Area Movement

Muskegon—Thirty-one members of the West Michigan Farm-to-Prosper Contest association board of trustees meeting at the Occidental Hotel, Muskegon, Monday evening, were gratified to learn that 83 rural community organizations are enrolled in the 1950 contest.

Preliminary plans were made for the big round-up at Central campus auditorium, Muskegon, Dec. 28 when Gov. Williams again will present awards to winning organizations.

John C. Beukema, treasurer of the board of trustees and secretary-manager of the Muskegon Chamber of Commerce, marveled at the growth of this movement for the advancement of Western Michigan as a place in which to live.

Addressing the meeting, he said, "I get inquiries from many other localities asking about this program. We have not yet begun to exhaust the possibilities of this movement."

W. A. Butler, publisher of The Holland Evening Sentinel, and vice-president for Ottawa county, expressed similar sentiments. C. Lawrence Lind, secretary-manager of the Ludington Chamber of Commerce, spoke enthusiastically of the growth of the movement in Mason county from two participating organizations in 1946 to 14 this year.

Business organizations of the respective counties again will finance the prizes for the five winning organizations in each county—$50, $30, $20, $15 and $10.

The increases totaled $3,400 on the yearly payroll of $44,345 for county employees.

Gains of $300 each went to the department of welfare stenographer, agricultural agent's clerk and deputy county clerk. The courthouse custodian was raised from $2,400 to $2,800.

A general increase for most other workers in offices ranged between $100 and $200 each, with the per diem rate for election canvassers and a third member of the welfare board was raised to $8.

The Bible institute was founded in memory of the sons and others who gave their lives for Christianity during World War II.

Local Telephone Employees Favor Statewide Strike

Wage Differentials In Various Areas Are Main Issues

Holland telephone employees affiliated with local 505, Communications Workers of America (CWA), Thursday night voted 6 to 1 to join other telephone workers in Michigan in a statewide strike on Nov. 6.

Local action was taken at a meeting of Holland CWA-CIO employees Thursday night in the Warm Friend Tavern. According to Marguerite Van Opynen, president of local 505 which takes in Holland and Grand Haven, almost 100 per cent of the Holland membership voted.

According to Miss Van Opynen, negotiations for a new contract started last May 19. The old contract expires Nov. 5. She said main issues in differences lie in a $19 differential in wages in the various areas, and the union's demand for a straight across-the-board increase instead of the $3 to $5 offered by the Michigan Bell Telephone Co.

Telephone workers are asking a reclassification also. Local workers particularly protest the $6 differential between Holland and Grand Rapids.

The local union consists of traffic and plant personnel. Ruth Anderson is chief steward for the traffic department and John Leatherman is chief steward for the plant.

Powerful Chix Smash Allegan For 14th in Row

Zeeland (Special) — Zeeland high's power-laden Chix stretched their victory string to 14 straight with a decisive but hard-fought 26-0 win over Allegan in Zeeland Friday night.

The game was rough with 150 yards in penalties called and the Chix had a harder time than the overwhelming score indicates, stopping the Tigers on their eight, nine and 15 yard lines.

Zeeland tallied twice in the second quarter and added the third and final stanza score when they finally got rolling.

Once again, swift Bernie Raterink led the blistering Zeeland attack. He tallied two times, once on a sparkling 97-yard ramble in the second period.

The Chix scored first on a 92-yard drive with Raterink circling left end for the tally. He ran the point.

Raterink burst away for his long run in the second period after a Tiger march was stalled on the Zeeland nine. Paul Heyboer scored the point.

In the third period, Zeeland drove 65 yards to score with Ray Wagner going over from the seven.

In the final canto, the Chix Bert Bossardet tallied the final touchdown on a 15-yard run.

The victory cements Zeeland's Tri-County lead with four straight wins and gives the Chix six consecutive successes this season. They racked up 14 first downs to the invaders nine.

The play was rough with a Zeeland player put out of the game for roughing.

Jack Wells and Reggie Miller were outstanding for Allegan while Raterink and Bert Bossardet sparkled for Zeeland with Gil De Jonge turning a fine defensive performance in the line.

Zeeland will settle the Tri-County issue when it meets Plainwell next week.

Missionary Union Meets in Chapel

Hope Memorial chapel was filled to capacity Thursday for both meetings of the Women's Missionary Union of Christian Reformed churches in Holland, Zeeland and vicinity. The 25th anniversary of the Union was observed at the afternoon and evening meetings. Mrs. William Van Peursem, Union president since 1948, presided.

Speakers for the afternoon were the Rev. Herman Moes of Bownsville, Ontario, and Miss Cora Vogel of Shiprock, N. M.

"Canada" was the subject of the address by Rev. Moes. He said the situation of the Dutch immigrants to Canada is similar to that of Dr. A. C. Van Raalte and his settlers in Holland. Both left their native land to seek a land of opportunity and freedom. However, the speaker said, the Dutch immigrants are being aided by the churches in America.

Miss Vogel's talk was on "Indian Missions." She said not only a missionary's but each Christian's life should give expression of his or her faith. "It is this witnessing of missionaries and native Christians on the Indian field that is bearing fruit," she said.

Feature of the afternoon meeting was a history of the Missionary Union given by Mrs. Robert Pool of Zeeland, Union president from 1931 to 1948. The membership today includes 58 society groups with a total of 1,800 women. A total of $34,752 has been raised in the period of 25 years to help various missions.

Mrs. G. J. J. Van der Riet led devotions and Mrs. William Stuart led closing prayer.

Marvin Schans led a song service preceding the evening meeting. A play, "Beginning at Jerusalem," was given by a group of women from Holland and Zeeland, the Mesdames Larry Van Meeteren, J. Vander Hill, John Hartshorn, Andrew Ver Schure, Dor Timmer, Don Greengood, Larry Van Haisma, and Alvin Piers. It was directed by Mrs. Clarence De Graaf and Mrs. Gerrit Veenboer.

Speaker for the evening was the Rev. A. H. Smit, missionary to China since 1924 and last of the missionaries in the denomination to leave that country. He visited Korea and Japan on his return to the United States, where the denomination plans to open new mission fields. The speaker said in Korea, Christians are pleading for missionaries to help them and the doors are open to the Gospel in Japan also.

Dr. J. C. De Korne, secretary of missions, congratulated the Union on their anniversary and read Scripture and led prayer. The Rev. Clarence Flietstra of Rusk Christian Reformed church, led closing devotions.

Music at both meetings was presented by a women's chorus of 120 voices, selected from all churches in the Union. They were directed by Miss Albertha Bratt, accompanied by Mrs. Adrian Westerhof. Mrs. Bert P. Bos presided at the organ at the meetings.

Real Elephants To Join Ottawa GOP Caravan

The first real political caravan in some 20 years will be staged in Ottawa county Friday, Nov. 3, when several top-ranking state and national candidates join locals in an all-day Republican rally throughout the county.

What's more, there will be two circus elephants from Peru, Ind., to lend color.

Events start shortly after 9 a.m. in Holland when the elephants will parade on Eighth St. and Republican candidates will meet the people. The opening event is staged to coincide with coffee kletz time.

U. S. Sen. Homer Ferguson and U. S. Rep. Jerry Ford expect to be present for the all-day affair along with Sen. William C. Vandenberg, candidate for lieutenant governor, and Rep. Charles Potter of Cheboygan. The latter is a veteran of World War II who lost both legs in service. All county candidates will be present.

The group will have lunch in Coopersville, and several stops are planned before arriving in Zeeland about 4:30 p. m. A rally will be held in Zeeland at 8 p. m., and all Holland persons desiring transportation may arrange such by calling Republican headquarters at 6-7539.

Arrangements for the caravan are in charge of Prosecutor Wendell A. Miles and Eleanor Duffy, vice-president of the Ottawa county Young Republicans' club.

Five-minute speeches by leading candidates are scheduled at some of the stops. The tentative program includes stops at Grand Haven, Spring Lake, Coopersville, Eastmanville, Allendale, Pearlville, Hudsonville, Jamestown, Forest Grove, Drenthe and Vriesland.

COMMUNIST "BONEHEADS"

There is a well defined feeling current in the free countries of the world that the Communists are much shrewder than democratic people. Countries like the United States and England and France are supposed to live by muddling through, while Communist countries like Russia and its satellites go direct to whatever goal they set for themselves. Democracies, so the theory goes, have to depend on the uncertain will of large masses of people; dictatorships are efficient because a few men at the top can issue orders arbitrarily and those orders must be carried out by the masses.

There is of course truth in such a contention, but it does not follow that the Communist governments are more efficient than the democracies, in the long run. The democratic world certainly went through a period of colossal blundering in connection with Korea, and in general in connection with the other nations that have been living under the Soviet threat. But as things have turned out, the Korea incident was a far more colossal blunder for Russia than it was for the democracies. During the past four months the Soviets have demonstrated that they are among the world's poorest guessers.

Let anyone should think that this particular blunder was an isolated accident, think back to June of 1941. Russia had made a pact with Hitler in 1939 and had followed the policy of assuming that the Nazi commitments could be depended upon. Hitler was for about a year and a half preoccupied with his ruthless campaigns in France, against England, in North Africa, and in the Balkans. But all that time he was casting envious eyes on Russia. And Russia was almost the only country too blind to see what was likely to happen.

Then, more than six months before the actual invasion of Russia, Hitler massed armies of millions on the Russian border all the way from Leningrad to the Crimea, and he shifted billions of marks worth of war machines and munitions to that theatre. The Soviets were warned many times but they were too blind and too stupid to understand what was going on. Finally in May of 1941 Winston Churchill gave Stalin a direct written warning—he tells about it in "The Grand Alliance." But Stalin was too dense to heed the warning, and so were all the other top Soviet leaders. When Hitler struck, toward the end of June, the Soviets were caught with their socks down. The result was the death of millions of the common people of Russia.

That Soviet blindness was perhaps the most colossal blunder in modern history. But now that we are faced by the threat of Soviet aggression it is comforting to remember that the Communist leaders are not supermen but certainly as vulnerable in their stupidity and blunders as the democracies.

Overcoming Temptation
Matthew 4:1-11
By Henry Geerlings

At the time of His prayer and baptism Jesus received the Holy Spirit. Then came the temptation. But why did our Lord have to be so tempted? He was the Messiah by nature and appointment, but He had to prove His worthiness to the office by taking man's place in the struggle with the tempter. Having met and vanquished Satan He fulfilled all the conditions required for Him to become our Savior.

Again, we are to remember the representative character of Jesus. Adam was the first representative of the race. In His sin we all fell and became subject to death. It was as though all men had sinned in him. Christ was the last Adam, our second representative. He defeated Satan and broke his power, and in this new Heavens of the race we all may be made alive. In Him we boast more blessings than our father lost.

Again, the Bible represents Jesus as having made perfect through suffering. Now there was no sin in Him but it was necessary for Him to taste suffering and endure temptation even as we must in order that He, by experience, might come to that official position in which He would actually be our complete and perfect Savior. His full identification with us, sin excepted, was imperative, if He was to bring us full redemption. The scene of the temptation was in the wilderness. It was not a farce or fiasco. It was real, just as real as to us when we are tempted. He felt the pull of the world. He felt the lure into the path of least resistance. He felt the power of hunger and He was conscious of His power to relieve it and it was a struggle not to do it. He could but He didn't. He gained the power of not using power wrongfully in all the temptations to which He was subjected. When a man can and will not, that is great power. It is as great sometimes not to do a thing as it is to do another thing.

I must be remembered that we are tempted on the side of our power. To turn stones into bread would be no temptation to us because we do not have the power to perform such a miracle. We might be tempted to steal bread—that we can do. We are tempted to do what we can do. Therefore we are tempted according to what we are. We are assaulted at the point where we can be attacked.

What tempts one man may not tempt another. One man might be tempted to rob a bank while another man might be horrified at the very thought of such a deed. But the second man is tempted to get honor and power at the expense of truth or a friend. The literary man has his temptations and the orator has his and the banker has his and the laboring man has his and we might go on with the list. The devil comes into our soulhouse at an open door, never through a locked door.

The plausibility of the temptations of Jesus and the subtlety of the argument on the part of the tempter are noteworthy. That Jesus was hungry and that He had the power to satisfy that hunger is compellingly true. Why not? Neither hunger nor the satisfaction of hunger is wrong. But to make bread a bigger thing than the interests of the kingdom of God is wrong. Better starve than sell out to Satan. Bread is good but it is not the chief good. And Jesus had no moral right to use power by means of which He could escape what we cannot escape. He was one with us—in temptation. He gave the bread problem its proper place. He gave all the interests of man their true balance and their just proportion.

And Jesus did not propose to win men by the spectacular and the unique. He did not come to appeal to man's wonder, but to men's reasons and hearts love and truth were His wooing agents, not daring feats from the top of temple pinnacles. One man who harnesses the power of Niagara is better than a thousand who go over the falls in a barrel. One faithful minister who labors in season and out of season is a bigger factor in the kingdom of God than a dozen traveling religionists who do strange stunts. One cross of Jesus is worth a million pinnacles. And it is better to win a world by love than to get it by compromise. Goodness cannot form a partnership with evil and win the world for God.

A temptation is an opportunity. It is an opportunity to show our faith and avail ourselves of divine strength. The joy of a temptation comes in the victory we may win. It is the song we may sing after we have come off conquerors. The song and the joy go from us in defeat. The happiness we know when we have put the offer of wrong under our feet in a very peculiar kind. It is called blessedness.

Woman's Literary Club Hears Family Consultant

"Old Wisdom for New Days" was the subject of an address before the Woman's Literary club Tuesday afternoon by Belle Farley Murray, lecturer and consultant on family affairs at the University of Michigan.

"The only world we have is the world of 1950 and we must adapt ourselves to it," the speaker told the club. "So many women remain like children instead of acting like adults, and many more get into a rut and are reluctant to try new things."

She quoted two verses of scripture which mentioned "faith, hope and charity," and "When I became a man I put away childish things." From these verses, she developed her theme, giving emphasis to the need of adaptation to the present age, curbing anger and becoming aware of certain mannerisms.

Mrs. Murray also spoke to the Child Study group which met before the club meeting. Mrs. C. C. Crawford is chairman of the group. The subject discussed was "Family Relationships."

Mrs. Kenneth De Pree explained election ballots confronting the voter at the Nov. 7 general election. She said there are seven ballots in all, and briefly explained the various issues such as state amendments and county referendums.

Announcement was made that Philanthropy day will be observed Nov. 14, the same day a desert tea will honor new members.

Getting Boys to 'Rebound' Is Task Facing HHS Staff

Getting his boys to rebound after a beating at the hands of Kalamazoo Central Friday is the task confronting Holland high coach Bob Stupka as his Dutch prepare for their battle with Benton Harbor at the Twin-city Friday night.

Stupka was "disappointed" in the showing his crew made in dropping a 20-0 decision to the Maroon Giants. They were completely outplayed and looked lethargic during most of the game.

Blocking, crisp against St. Joseph, was lifeless. Tackling was sloppy.

Stupka commended the defensive play of his two stellar guards, Rex Young and Jack Kuipers and his line-backing duo of Glenn Esenbun and Bob Tasma.

The line was terribly outshined and outplayed in every department. And the attack, without the all-essential of blocking, sputtered and failed.

Stupka faces a man-sized task in getting his boys "back up" for the Tigers who are also currently smarting from a 31-0 drubbing administered by Muskegon Heights Friday.

The Dutch held a "skull" session and ran through dummy scrimmage in a light drill Monday. Tom Carey, still at least 50 per cent under full efficiency, from a deep leg bruise, will not participate in any contact work this week. Stupka doubts whether Carey will recover from the injury this season. He has gamely played with the sore leg since the Grand Rapids Ottawa game.

Coaches Stupka and Curley Wiegink will emphasize line play this week, both defense and offense as well as getting the attack oiled for the Tigers.

Ziegler Promises Immediate Action On Junction Light

State Official Replies To Messages Following Wave of Auto Crashes

"Immediate action" has been promised by State Highway Commissioner Charles Ziegler on requests by Holland and Ottawa county authorities to install more suitable and safer highway markings at the junction of US-31 and M-21, one mile east of Holland.

Requests were made by Mayor Harry Harrington, Sheriff Jerry Vander Beek, and Chamber of Commerce official John Van Dyke, Jr., following a wave of accidents during the week-end at the junction.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Doris Vander Wall, 28, widow of Claude Vander Wall, who was killed at the junction in an accident early Saturday morning, was reported in "fairly good" condition at Muskegon's Hackley hospital following injuries received in the fatal crash.

Mrs. Vander Wall is being treated for a broken back. The couple has three small children. Vander Beek contacted Ziegler Sunday, and the state official promised "immediate action." The sheriff requested a flasher-type marking, with a red flasher pointing to the north and yellow "caution" flashers shining east and west. At present, he pointed out, there is only a single stop sign at the junction.

Both Harrington and Van Dyke tried phoning Ziegler Saturday, but failed to reach him. So they sent telegrams containing requests similar to Vander Beek's.

A while ago Holland township had requested a flasher-type light, but the state official said the only answer was a survey counting amount of traffic.

The latest accident at the junction was reported Sunday at 12:10 a.m., when a car driven by Neal Sweden, 40, of Kalamazoo, went across M-21 from US-31 and ended up in the swamp. Van Sweden and Lana Standley, Kalamazoo, were treated at Holland hospital for head injuries.

Van Sweden told officers he did not see the stop sign for M-21 because of the fog. Damage to his '48 car was estimated at $250.

Three accidents were reported in Holland during the week-end.

Saturday afternoon, cars driven by Richard Leppink, 19, of Grand Rapids, and Jay Scholten, 23, of 87 West 31st St., collided at the corner of Columbia Ave. and Seventh St. Leppink was cited for running a stop street.

Sunday at 3:30 p.m., Robert Vinstra, 18, of 573 Chicago Dr., fell asleep at the wheel and hit a fire plug, he told police. He was ticketed for failure to observe due caution.

Sometime Sunday night, a car owned by Henry Van Beck, route 4, was parked at 318 West 13th St., when a hit-run driver smashed in the rear fender and trunk.

The bride wore a gown of white faille with a fitted bodice, full skirt and ruffled train. She wore a pearl headpiece and a fingertip veil. She carried a white Bible with roses.

The maid of honor wore a rose satin gown, fashioned similar to the bride's, with matching headpiece. She carried a bouquet of roses and mums. The flower girl wore an aqua tulle gown and the ring bearer wore a white suit.

About 80 guests attended the reception in the church parlors. Mr. and Mrs. Foster Nykamp served as master and mistress of ceremonies. Mr. and Mrs. Jarvis Doseman served at the punch bowl and Misses Juella Nykamp and Florence Tien arranged the gifts. Serving were the Misses Joyce Gunneman, Harlene Harmsen, Lois Peters, Elaine Kollen, Madeline Brummel and Pearl Keil.

The bride and groom left on a western wedding trip. For traveling, Mrs. Hunderman wore a rust dress, brown coat and brown accessories and a yellow rose corsage. They will be at home after Nov. 1 in Drenthe.

Mrs. Hunderman has been employed at Hamilton Farm Bureau. Mr. Hunderman is a farmer. Showers were given for the bride by Misses Harlene Harmsen and Lois Peters, Mrs. Jasper Poll, Mrs. Lester Kleinhekel and Mrs. Irvin Koops and Mrs. John Hunderman.

Ron Appledorn Heads MIAA in Ground Gaining

Kalamazoo (UP)—A glance at the MIAA statistics today explained why Kalamazoo college is leading the league with three wins and no defeats as the football season passes the midway mark.

20 Candidates Will Succeed in November 7 General Election

Out of the general hubbub of the Nov. 7 general election, 20 men will emerge as office holders. Seeking these 20 offices are 58 candidates, running on six party tickets.

The offices are divided into four levels—state administrative, legislative, county administrative and judicial.

Voters will elect a governor, lieutenant-governor, secretary of state, attorney general, treasurer and auditor general to administer for the state.

For their voice in making the laws, electors will name a representative in the United States Congress, state senator and representative in the state legislature.

To run affairs in Ottawa county, voters will be named as prosecuting attorney, sheriff, clerk, treasurer, register of deeds, drain commissioner, two coroners, and surveyor.

All these offices are listed on ballot No. 1.

Ballot No. 2 contains two non-partisan offices—those of circuit court commissioners.

On the general candidate ballot, cross (x) in the circle at the top of the column will denote voting a straight ticket—each candidate in that party will receive one vote. Or the voter can split his vote—mark crosses in the squares in front of any candidate's name, regardless of party.

If the elector wishes to vote an almost straight ticket—for instance, vote for all candidates on one ticket except a few—he can

Zeeland (Special) — The student government classes of Zeeland high are making a spirited and sustained effort to "get-out-the-vote" in Zeeland for next Tuesday's general election.

The high school classes are furnishing special services for convenience of voters to make it possible for them to get to the polls. Handbills will be distributed Tuesday and cards saying "I voted, have you?" will be given out at polling places. The grade school child, from third to eighth, who collects the most cards will receive a special prize.

Boys on the committee, consisting of eight members, will supply "taxi" service for all persons who cannot get rides to the voting places. The girls will have a "baby sitting" group to stay with children during the time mothers are away voting.

Other plans are for a telephone committee to call all registered voters to stimulate and remind people to vote.

Business places and plants will be contacted as a reminder to allow their employees time out during the day to vote.

The special committee is headed by co-chairmen Sylvia Schipper and Don Vos. Other members include Shirley Walters, Marion Gotz, Jill Bergers, Ray Schaap, Vern Gebben and John De Pree.

The group is under supervision of Paul Ter Avest, who is the faculty member in charge of the campaign.

Juveniles, Missing Car Found Near Nashville

Grand Haven (Special) — Two Grand Haven juveniles, at present held in Nashville, Tenn., will be returned here to answer charges in connection with taking a new car last Wednesday from the Kooiman agency on North Seventh St.

The boys were picked up by the Tennessee highway patrol near Nashville riding in the missing car. The car was reported to be in good condition and not damaged.

One youth, 15, had been scheduled to appear before Probate Judge Frederick T. Miles last Thursday for violating his probation. He was wanted on a breaking and entering charge and apparently decided to leave the city before his scheduled hearing. The other youth was 13.

The missing car was one of two new ones the agency had just received and had cleaned for display. It was taken from its parking place in front of the show room.

make the cross in the party circle, as in voting a straight ticket. Then he must place a line through the names of unwanted candidates and designate with the proper cross those he wants on another party. In this case, all candidates on one party whose names are not crossed out receive one vote.

Write-in votes are permissible also. Instructions are printed on each ballot.

On ballot No. 2, the elector must write in the names of two persons he wishes for circuit court commissioners. This is a non-partisan ballot.

The position requires that the candidate be an attorney residing in Ottawa county. His duties include those of an aide to the court when it is not in session, such as taking testimony and issuing certain court orders. Remuneration is on a fee basis, and the term is for two years.

Commissioners are usually elected one from north Ottawa and one from south Ottawa. Harvey L. Scholten of Grand Haven is the only circuit court commissioner now in office.

Voters once more are reminded that to cast a valid ballot they must make a cross in the proper place on each ballot. Check marks, written comments, or other designations will not be counted and the voter will lose his vote. A cross only may be used, and the intersection of the cross must be in the square or circle provided for that purpose.

These regulations are set up by the state election law.

Columbia's bitterest civil war in history started in 1899, with 100,000 deaths in battle in three years.

Hope college, fresh from two overwhelming and impressive wins, dug in for practice sessions this week in preparation of the Hillsdale clash Friday at Hillsdale.

Coach Al Vanderbush had his charges running plays Tuesday in addition to practice in blocking and fundamentals.

Vanderbush is frankly "scared" of the Dales.

"They haven't won a game all season and they'll be laying for us."

While the Hope backfield has mended somewhat from its crippled nature during the first part of the season, the line now numbers a series of injuries.

Offensive guards Jim Van Hoeven and Gerry Groters, both of whom missed the Adrian contest, were back in uniform but did not have pads on. Van Hoeven has a shoulder separation and Groters a knee injury.

Reserve tackle Bob Stone received a serious groin injury in a rough drill Monday and he is lost for an indefinite period. Hermie Nienhuis is also missing drills after aggravating an old injury in the Bulldog clash.

But defensive half back Don Ingen is coming along and the coaching staff is hopeful that he will be able to assume full-time duties against the Dales. Ted Barrett's ankle is still bothering him.

Vanderbush alternated his backs in Monday's work. Ron Schipper and Jack Lane operated in the signal calling spot; Ron Appledorn and Herb Stouten were in the tailback position; Ed Levelette, Van Ingen and Barrett worked at righthalf; and Tom Van Wingen, Don Hondorp and Bill Books worked out of the bucking back slot.

Hillsdale has been a distinct disappointment this season. The best the Dales have done is a 7-7 tie with Albion while losing their other five contests. Opponents have racked up 135 points, more than doubling the Dales' 61.

But they are out to eat the Dutchmen.

Michigan Voter:

PROTECT YOURSELF AND FAMILY!

1 PROTECT YOURSELF

Against Imitation Butter

Your right to know—for sure—that there's BUTTER on the table—is threatened by a move to tamper with Michigan's long-standing imitation-BUTTER law. The present law is a GOOD law. It protects you—your family—and the family table. Especially, it also protects you when you "eat out."

Now, with a referendum vote on this subject on the ballot November 7, it's up to you. It's your job to protect yourself against imitation-BUTTER—to make sure you get the real thing. Vote "NO" on Proposal 4, November 7th.

2 PROTECT YOURSELF

Against High Milk Prices

In case Michigan's present law—prohibiting substitutes colored yellow in imitation of BUTTER—is rendered ineffective in the November general election... thousands of Dairy Farms will be driven out of business. Milk will become scarcer... higher in price... as it has in other states which now allow imitation-BUTTER to be sold colored yellow. It is no accident that milk prices in cities in those states are 1½ cents a quart higher than milk prices in states (including Michigan) which maintain a protective law against selling imitation-BUTTER colored yellow. Keep Michigan milk plentiful—reasonable in price. Vote "NO" on Proposal 4, November 7th.

3 PROTECT YOUR OWN

and Michigan's Prosperity

WARNING: The first year Canada allowed substitutes to be colored yellow in imitation of BUTTER cost Dairy Farmers there $0 MILLION DOLLARS. That can happen in Michigan... where 600,000 people depend on Dairying for their livelihood... with an investment TWICE THAT OF THE ENTIRE WORLD OPERATIONS OF THE FORD MOTOR COMPANY! Reduce Michigan's income by many millions of dollars and you depress the market for all kinds of Michigan goods... besides irreparably damaging Michigan's soil and agriculture.

For your own sake... for your family's sake... for Michigan's sake... VOTE "NO"—on Proposal 4—general election, November 7th!

These facts are published by the Dairy Action League, 415 Hollister Building, Lansing, Mich., working with consumer, labor, farm and dairy groups in behalf of keeping Michigan's present and effective no-tax, butter-imitation law. It is financed by the 600,000 Michigan People dependent on dairying.

Visiting Dutch Doctor Is Glad He Took Advice of His Friends

Friends back in the Netherlands advised Dr. Cornelius den Hartog to be sure to visit Holland, Mich., if he ever got to the United States. Now on his American tour for the Netherlands government, Dr. den Hartog didn't think he'd be able to make it to Holland, Mich.

But he did—and he's glad.

That's what he told interviewers at an informal coffee kiet Saturday morning at the Netherlands Information bureau, where he stopped along with Miss Theodora van Schaik, home economics student at Michigan State college, in America on an international scholarship.

The two Netherlands visitors were combining business with pleasure on their visit to Holland. They are affiliated with the education bureau of the nutrition board at The Hague. They conferred with Dr. Ralph Ten Have, director of the Ottawa county health department, and Dr. Richard Sears, Muskegon county health director.

Dr. den Hartog is in America for three months on a Rockefeller grant. During that time he will travel throughout the United States, studying organization of nutrition and public health programs, and methods of teaching home economics in the public schools.

Miss van Schaik is chief hospital dietitian and foods and nutrition teacher at Amsterdam, working for the nutrition board. She is studying home economics at Michigan State, working on her master's degree.

Surprising things were found by the two Dutch visitors. Dr. den Hartog was impressed with the eating habits of Americans—the quantity and quality of foods—and the practice of leaving tips for waitresses.

He also was impressed with the friendliness and co-operativeness of the American people. As the result of the 'melting pot' idea, they are all Americans and no longer Dutch, English or German, he explained.

Miss van Schaik also had her impressions. She was taken aback at the noise in New York, and the way "everybody is in a hurry."

"Most beautiful city I've ever seen."

Michigan State is a marvelous school, she said, with a beautiful campus. But student life is not as free as in Europe, and "I have to work harder."

Many of the visiting Dutch girls' pre-conceived about America were smashed by her experiences. For instance, she pointed out that Europeans think that Americans don't work. But she found we work as hard as they do in Europe.

"Europeans think the American housewife has a completely automatic kitchen, with push buttons to do all the work," she added.

"But after I went into a few American kitchens, I find this isn't the case at all. The housewife here still has to work very hard."

After a brief stay in Holland, the two visitors returned to their regular schedule.

Three Directors Named to Chest

The Community Chest at an annual meeting which attracted fewer than 25 persons Friday afternoon.

New directors are Robert J. Kouw who has been serving as campaign director this year, Henry Buursma and the Rev. Herman Rosenberg. A fourth director will be appointed at the next meeting.

Board members whose terms expire are C. C. Andersen, the Rev. J. Kenneth Hoffmaster, Peter Kromann and Mrs. Bert Selles. Other directors on the 12-member board are Mrs. J. D. Jencks, Wilbur Cobb, B. E. Patterson, Herman Vander Maat, Beth Marcus, William De Long, O. W. Lewry and George Good.

President George Good explained operations of the Chest. He told how all requests are screened by the Council of Social Agencies which makes recommendations to the board, and how the board acts on all requests. He said no direct allocations are made to local agencies, that requests for funds are made monthly or quarterly and are always accompanied by financial reports on monies expended.

Gas Explosion Makes Shambles Of Local House

Power Crane Working Near Scene Loosens Gas Line Connection

The Albert Johnson home at 720 Washington Ave. was something of a shambles late Monday afternoon after an explosion in the basement caused by gas seeping into the home from a broken line on the road.

The break occurred when a city work crew was laying a water main on Washington Ave. in the 28th St. area and the power crane hooked the gas line, loosening the elbow connection.

Fortunately, no one was injured in the blast although Johnson was in the basement at the time and his wife was in the kitchen. Their nine-year-old daughter, Carol, was upstairs and she said the concussion bounced her off the bed.

Three fire trucks responded immediately, and Chief Andrew Klomparsen said further damage was averted when one of the firemen who is an employee of the gas company turned off the street connection to shut off the flow of gas into the home.

The chief said there was fire in the ground near the break, but fortunately no fire in the house. Johnson said he believed the explosion occurred as Mrs. Johnson began to prepare the evening meal at 5:15 p.m. The heaviest accumulation of gas appeared to be in the coal bin and the door there was badly splintered. One window was blown out in the basement, two windows were cracked on the main floor and plaster was cracked in many places.

Johnson said the house itself was moved a few inches off the foundation and the floors and walls bulge in many places. He said the frame house was built many years ago and his family has lived there 11 years.

"Anybody digging near gas lines will just have to be more careful after this," Chief Klomparsen said. "It's a lucky thing the ground wasn't frozen or more gas would have seeped into the house making a worse explosion," he added.

Arrangements of ferns, chrysanthemums and lighted candelabra decorated the Woman's Literary club house last Thursday evening for the wedding of Miss Donna Ruth Klomparsen and Robert P. Borgman. The Rev. James Weyer officiated at the single ring ceremony.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Klomparsen, 320 West 19th St., and the groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Borgman, Sr., 439 Central Ave.

Tom Weller was soloist at the service. He sang "I Love You Truly" and "Because" preceding the ceremony and "The Lord's Prayer" as the couple knelt at the altar. Mrs. Donald Genzink accompanied the soloist and played the wedding marches.

Mrs. Robert Weller, twin sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Mrs. Stanley De Vries, also a sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. Lewis Borgman assisted his brother as best man and Joe Borgman, Jr., and Stanley De Vries were ushers.

The bride wore a white slipper gown with the traditional

The Rev. William Van Peursem was guest speaker at chapel exercises in Holland Christian high school this morning. He presented a challenging Reformation Day address, based on II Chron. 34:14-21.

The speaker said the Bible is fast becoming a lost book and cited examples of how the Bible had been a lost book before. He told the students to "hide the Bible in your heart so it won't become a lost book."

Muskegon, Kalamazoo to Meet in Southwest Conference Showdown

It'll be showdown time for the Southwest conference bigwigs this Friday as league-leading Muskegon and second place Kalamazoo Central come to grips in the most important game of the season for both squads.

Both Muskegon, who trampled a highly-touted Chicago Harrison Tech team 34-14, and Kalamazoo, who whaled Holland, 20-0, impressed highly. The game is rated a toss-up.

Dangerous Muskegon Heights, definitely a title threat with a 4-1 loop mark, will entertain Grand Rapids Creston handled rather easily by Catholic last week-end. The Heights crushed Benton Harbor 31-0 Friday.

The Harbortites will entertain tail-ender Holland this week. Grand Haven, 14-7 loser to Lansing Eastern, faces its second non-league foe on successive week-ends in taking on an up-and-down Midland eleven at Grand Haven.

The race has narrowed down to a three-team affair and may go into the final week of the season before a decision is reached. In the event Muskegon whips Kalamazoo, the Heights could grab the crown by whipping the Big Reds in the season's finale.

But if the Maroon Giants can come up with a win, then the Heights would have to beat the Reds to gain a share. Kalamazoo can clinch a share of the diadem by winning Friday.

The Maroons still have the best all-game record, winning six of seven games and compiling 155 points to their opponents' 42. Muskegon has a five-o-e slate on 137 points to their opponents' 42. Muskegon has a compiled 139 points to their opponents 85 for a five-two record.

Maroon Giants Rip Outmanned Hollanders 20-0

Hard-Charging Forward Wall Leads Kazoos To Overwhelming Win

Scoring: Kalamazoo touchdowns—Louscher, Gardner (2). PAT's—de Mink (2).

An alert, heads-up Kalamazoo Central eleven rushed Holland off its feet to gain an easy 20-0 Southwestern conference victory before a crowd of more than 4,000 fans at Riverview park Friday night.

The score doesn't indicate the easy manner in which the Maroon Giants rolled over the Dutch. The Maroons gunned to 12 first downs to Holland's six, and powered to an aggregate of 257 yards to Holland's skimpy 88.

The true story of the game is not in the unerring pitching arm of rangy Bill Stuitbergen, who threw two touchdown passes and completed five of seven heaves. Nor was it in the glue fingers of H. B. Gardner, who snagged both scoring aerials. Nor was it the high-geared Maroon backfield, led by driving Hugh Davidson who ripped the Holland line for huge chunks of earth.

But the game was won in the line, where the Kalamazoo forwards were rushing the Holland front line off its feet. They blocked well and stopped the Dutch vaunted ground attack cold.

The play became so rough in the closing seconds of the game that two Kalamazoo players and one Holland man were ejected from the contest.

One of the key plays of the game was when Ron Dalman, who had run well before the play, was injured in the first quarter on a sideline tackle and was used sparingly after that. Tommy Carey was unable to get started and was held to a minus nine yards in five attempts. Even the usually reliable Bob Tasma was held by the total of 26 yards by the Central team.

The closest Holland got to the Maroon goal was the 35-yard line in the second quarter. All in all, it was a dismal night for the Dutch.

The Maroons wasted no time breaking into the scoring column. The first time they got their hands on the ball in the initial quarter they scored. The drive started on the Holland 47.

Bill Louscher, Davidson and Gardner ripped to the Dutch 17 where Holland held until fourth down when Stuitbergen hit Gardner with a pass in the end zone. Gardner made a leaping catch, of the ball, Larry de Mink's placement was true and Kalamazoo led 7-0.

Early in the second period, the Maroon Giants started another drive which carried 60 yards for another score. Louscher tallied on a drive off right tackle from the one-yard line after a roughing penalty had helped them from the 10. de Mink's kick was wide and Kalamazoo led 13-0 at the half.

In the third stanza, Kalamazoo marched from their own 26 to the Holland one-foot line where the Dutch line hit its only high spot of the evening in stopping the Maroons in a brilliant goal line stand.

But the little joy turned to woe a few minutes later when a Dutch fumble was recovered by Gordon Woodruff on the Dutch nine. Line play gained little and Stuitbergen, on fourth down, stepped back calmly and tossed to the waiting Gardner for the Maroons third score. de Mink's conversion was true. Kalamazoo 20, Holland 0.

Holland filled the air with passes in the last quarter but to no avail. Two long passes slithered off the finger-tips of Tom Maentz when the rangy end was in the clear. A completion of either could have changed the complexion of the game.

Tasma, Jack Kuipers and Glenn Essenburg played their usual brand of grade A defensive ball but Woodruff and Jack Doyle were the outstanding defensive men on the field.

Library Adventures

By Arnold Mulder

The furor that has been stirred up over the Truman biography by Jonathan Daniels, "The Man of Independence," recalls some other purely political presidential biographies of history. The Daniels book differs from many of the others in that it was published two years before a presidential campaign. Most of the others were brought out a few months before a presidential candidate had to face the voters at the polls.

Probably the most famous of all the presidential campaign biographies was the one written a century ago for Franklin Pierce. It is remembered not because it was a great book, or even a passably good biography, but because it was the work of a genius, Nathaniel Hawthorne.

One reason why Hawthorne did not produce a great biography may have been his subject. For Franklin Pierce was a very small political potato. His was a village mentality that aspired to run the nation at a time when this country needed a great statesman. For Pierce came into office at the peak of the slavery agitation. He was about as capable of directing that whirlwind as a child would be to lead an army.

Hawthorne was selected to write the presidential biography of that campaign not because he was fitted for the job but because he had been a college classmate of the man who was making the race for the presidency. It would be hard to think of a man in the whole course of our history who was less well fitted to write a political document than Hawthorne. His knowledge of politics was hardly that of a child.

But he was known to be something of a writer, even though up until that time he had been so unsuccessful in sales that he needed money rather desperately. To the typical politician, then as now, a writer is a writer, and a campaign biography is a job that can be given to any competent "ghost." But even though the Hawthorne opus was no great shakes as a book, it was more significant than the presidential candidate it eulogized. It would, however, not be remembered today if its author had not, later in his career, written some of the greatest books in the language.

Then there is another campaign biography brought to mind by the Jonathan Daniels book about Harry Truman, but for a quite different reason. For that book, unlike the one about Franklin Pierce, told the life story of a man who was about to become a very great American—some have called him the greatest American. The subject of that political biography was none other than Abraham Lincoln.

The writer of the book was as unknown at the time as Hawthorne had been when he wrote the Pierce biography. Later he became one of America's most popular novelists and critics—William Dean Howells.

Howells, at the time, was not only unknown but also very young. He was a newspaper man and he was far more in the know about politics than Hawthorne had been. The book he wrote was effective enough so that it was a factor in Lincoln's nomination and election, and the young writer was rewarded with a minor diplomatic post.

But all campaign biographies are quickly forgotten; that is the one characteristic they have in common, whether written by future geniuses or political hacks. They are not books in the true sense but campaign jobs, and they lose their appeal when the campaign ends. That fate will also probably overtake the Daniels biography of Harry Truman. At the present moment it has a certain partisan interest, but who will read it five years from now?

Hamilton

(From Monday's Sentinel)

A recent meeting of the Hamilton Welfare association executive board made plans for an annual business meeting to be held Thursday at 7:30 p.m. when election of officers is to take place, and several matters of business will be brought up for discussion.

Participation in the activities of the association by local citizens has been in a neglectful state for a time and the need for a renewing of effort is imminent. Present officers are George Schreier, president; Herman Nyhof, vice president; Elmer Larson, secretary; Harold Brink, treasurer.

Several local relatives attended the wedding of Junius Miskotten of Hamilton and Miss Betty Postma, at the parlors of the Sixteenth Street Christian Reformed church in Holland. They expect to live near Hamilton in a newly-erected home on M-40.

"America, the Beautiful" was sung by the group. Mrs. Marjorie Billings was in charge of the program and discussed the topic, "Precious Stones." A few articles on legislation were read by Mrs. Fred Billet. Announcement was made of the County Federation meeting on the following day, and local club members attending this meeting in Allegan Griswold Memorial building on Oct. 24 were Mrs. Dwight Van Order, the delegate, and Mrs. Billet, Mrs. Calahan, Mrs. H. D. Strabbing, Mrs. B. Voorhorst, Mrs. Edward Miskotten and Mrs. Earl Schipper. The latter appeared on the afternoon program, reading an article pertaining to the club collect.

Scheduled on the program were musical selections by the Junior Farm Bureau group and an address by Mrs. Butz of the Economics Department of Michigan State college. Chix Can Clinch Tri-County Title Against Plainwell

Zeeland (Special)—All-winning Zeeland, sporting one of the finest grid records in state football prep circles, will go out Friday to make it two Tri-County championships in a row.

The Chix will be seeking their 15th triumph in succession when they meet a dangerous Plainwell eleven for the inter-county bunting this Friday at Plainwell.

But Zeeland is not coasting on its laurels. Coach Joe Newell has had his charges working hard to combat any natural letdown after such an impressive drubbing of arch-rival Allegan.

Plainwell can grab the crown by dumping the high-flying Chix. They have a well-balanced attack with good passing and a fin running attack. They have a heavy forward wall.

Plainwell's season's record stands at five wins and a single defeat, that at the hands of the state's top class C eleven, Kalamazoo St. Augustine. They won their first four straight.

Zeeland was cheered by the return of back Milt Myaard but it is undetermined whether he will be able to play.

Last year the Chix won a hard-fought 12-6 decision over Plainwell.

Kenneth Schuitema, 16, smiles his pleasure from his hospital bed at receiving 65 greeting cards in one swoop from his classmates at Christian high school. With him are Esther Evera, a nurse's aide, and Jerald (Mose) Gebben, a fellow patient whose sporty pajamas caused more comment among first floor patients than anything else nurses can remember. Mose is holding part of the cards. Ken has been a patient since last Aug. 12 when his motorbike caught fire and he burned both legs severely.

Greeting Card Shower Pretty Nice, Ken Says

Spending 11 weeks in the hospital isn't bad, once you get used to it.

So says Kenneth Schuitema, 16, who ought to know. Last Saturday marked 11 weeks in Holland hospital for him.

Ken received two badly burned legs when his motorbike caught fire one Saturday afternoon last Aug. 12 at Eighth and River. He has submitted twice to skin grafting and the physicians happily informed him that 70 per cent of the grafted skin "took."

Ken spends most of the time in bed with a metal frame protecting his legs in a tent-like arrangement. During the last few weeks he has been able to get into a wheel chair (keeping his legs straight of course) and visiting other patients in the hospital.

From his bed in the first floor ward, he commands a nice view of the street and waves to schoolmates every morning. He received quite a boost in morale a few days ago when a shower of greeting cards from his classmates in Christian high brought an avalanche of 65 in one delivery. He has a hundred more at home sent the first 10 weeks.

One of his breezy friends last week was Jerald (Mose) Gebben, 446 Lakewood Blvd., an appendectomy patient, who sported the gaudiest pair of pajamas ever to hit Holland hospital. At least, that's what the nurses said. The sporty black and white striped pajamas had a jacket of horizontal stripes with a big red heart. All he needed was a number, Mose said. He added they were purchased by his wife who failed to include a ball and chain.

Mose has left the hospital by now, but Ken has lots of other friends to share long hours. He expects to spend two to four weeks more in the hospital, and then there will be quite a period of convalescence at home. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Schuitema of 633 West 22nd St.

Allegan Allots 6.5 Millage Rate

Allegan (Special) — Allegan county probably will get a six and a half millage rate for the 1950 taxes, but it will raise nearly $600,000 to meet an expanded budget.

The allocation board had a full-day session Friday going over the county, township and school district requirements, basing their work on a six and a half rate.

Applied to the new, nearly doubled equalization figure, it will raise more than the previous eight-mill rate and will still allow the other units their needed millage without going over the 15-mill limit.

Dutchmen Jump to Early Lead and Are Never Headed

Six Men Break Into Scoring Column; Ed Leverette Scores Two

Hope college's Dutchmen, cast in the role of homecoming host, played the part exactly as the script was written by downing the injury-saddled Adrian Bulldogs, 39-6, Saturday afternoon before 4,500 Homecoming fans.

By taking advantage of two first-period breaks—and driving hard for a third score—Coach Al Vanderbush's charges left no doubt as to the eventual outcome, and the luckless Bulldogs were not in the running after the opening stanza.

Hope took the opening kickoff on their own 30, and with the aid of a 24 yard scamper by halfback Ron Appledorn, moved the pigskin down to the Adrian nine before being stalled.

But on Adrian's first play from scrimmage, quarterback Bill Leech fumbled on the handoff and tackle Gene Nyenhuis pounced on the ball on the defenders' four-yard line. Fullback Tom Van Wingen drove to the six-inch line, and halfback Ed Leverette went over right tackle for the score. Bob Prins' kick from placement was wide and Hope led, 6-0.

After Appledorn's kickoff, the Bulldog drive was thwarted when end Jack van der Velde and Nyenhuis trapped Adrian ace Babe Schultz for a 17-yard loss back to his own 12. Leech kicked to Ted Barrett who carried back to the Adrian 40.

Van Wingen and Appledorn alternated carrying the ball to the 28 before quarterback Ron Schipper threw the first pass of the game to end Fuzz Bauman in the end zone for the second counter. Bauman made a story-book over-the-shoulder catch, with the pigskin bouncing three times from his hands into the air. Prins' boot was good, and the Dutchmen led, 13-0.

Another Adrian fumble recovered for the Bulldog 11 by Lloyd Beekman and Herm Nienhuis resulted in the third touchdown, with Van Wingen powering over from the seven for the marker. And all this came in the first 14 minutes of play.

From that point on, Vanderbush sent his reserves into the fray—with the exception of a short time in the third period—and the junior Dutch showed themselves well. Herb Stouten skirled left end for the fourth score in the second period, and Prins' second good placement made it 26-0 when the half ended.

A short punt on fourth down in the third period gave the home boys their next marker when the pigskin fell dead on the Adrian 28. Leverette added his second touchdown on a 14-yard left end sweep, without a hand being laid on him, and the score stood 32-0.

The Hollanders' final touchdown came a few plays later when halfback Don Hondorp intercepted a pass by Adrian's Bill Edinger and ran 35 yards for the score.

With highly heralded Babe Schultz leading the way, the Bulldogs fought back for their only marker after the ensuing kickoff. The Adrian touchdown, oddly enough, was scored by guard George Osenko.

With the ball on the one-yard line, Edinger tried a quarterback sneak, but fumbled in the process. When the officials unloaded the mass of players, Osenko was on the bottom of the pile with the pigskin in the end zone. Bob Friedelt broke through to block the scoring ended at this point, with Hope leading, 39-6.

Honors for the Dutchmen were evenly split, on both offense and defense. Van Wingen and Appledorn ripped for huge gains through the Adrian line, but the boys up front opened huge holds for the driving backs. Nienhuis, Beekman and Nyenhuis played alertly on defense.

The Adrian attack just never started rolling. Schultz was a constant threat, but freshmen Bill Edinger and Ken Horwath served notice that MIAA circles will hear much from them in future years. Adrian was playing under assistant Coach Johnny Darnton, who took over for head coach Lyman Abbott, who was called back into the Army as a reserve.

'Winter Scours' Cuts Production In Dairy Herds

Farmers Warned by American Foundation For Animal Health

Lansing—Milk production in many dairy herds is going to be cut back sharply during the coming months by "winter scours," the American foundation for animal health today warned herd owners.

"When a cow suddenly refuses feed, appears dull, secretes less milk and scours badly, the owner may suggest that the animal has eaten spoiled or frozen feed," a foundation bulletin said.

"But if other cows in the herd rapidly develop the same symptoms, the trouble may be winter scours, a quick-spreading infectious disease."

"Veterinarians have isolated the germ which causes the malady; it is a 'vibrio' organism, related to a germ which sometimes causes abortion in cattle."

Few cows die outright from the disease. But it causes heavy setbacks in milk production, the foundation said. Affected animals usually require a long time to return to full production. Most cases occur during the fall, winter and spring.

"Control of the disease is very difficult, even in the best managed herds. However, if action is taken soon enough, segregation of the first cows to become infected may stop its spread."

"Also highly important is to obtain an early diagnosis of the condition, because winter scours may be confused with coccidiosis, or with several other intestinal diseases."

"Once diagnosed, several treatments are effective in holding down the harmful effects," according to the foundation.

Soil Conservation District Rebuilds Nursery Building

The West Ottawa Soil Conservation district suffered a heavy loss last June when a disastrous fire burned down buildings at the district nursery, also much valuable equipment. Directors decided within 24 hours to rebuild and to secure new equipment.

The new nursery building was completed in September and has been used this fall in getting out seedling trees to co-operators. The building has a large room for housing material, another division for sorting, counting and bundling of seedling trees. A third part is used for an office for the district manager, Frank Garbrecht, and there is a room for directors' meetings.

Fall planting will be lighter in 1950 than in 1949. Last year over 700,000 seedlings were planted in the fall. Growers suffered from winter heaving of the trees. As a result many will wait until next spring. Paul Slabaugh, forester, expects a fall planting of 300,000 seedlings.

The nursery is in fine condition with at least one and one-half million seedling trees available for next spring. Among the species available are Scotch, Red, Jack and Austrian. Few Spruce are at hand.

Directors made a large seedling in 1950, enough seed to supply three million trees if things go right.

MSC Will Establish Agricultural Museum

Michigan State college, the oldest agricultural college, is establishing an agricultural museum. Every type article ever on the farm is to be stored in this museum.

Many articles used years ago are lying around on farms, collecting dust and dirt in some field, barn or farm home.

L. R. Arnold, Ottawa county agricultural agent, would like to locate any of these old articles, if owners will sacrifice them for the museum. The owner also may write direct to Museum, 36 Auditorium, Michigan State college, East Lansing.

The sheep pictured above isn't in a barber chair—it's an old-time sheep shearing device unearthed to take its place in the new agricultural museum at Michigan State College.

J. W. Stack, (left) director of the MSC museum, is getting some pointers on use of the antique farm tool from George Brown, retired head of the MSC animal husbandry department.

Stack has made an appeal to rural and city people, extension staff, and college alumni to be on the lookout for old farming and homemaking implements. Some of the items already contributed include a dog treadmill used to churn butter, a spinning wheel, grain cradles, and old lumbering and maple syrup making equipment. The museum director hopes that old farm and home tools, gathering dust in the attic or barn, will be contributed to the new museum project.

Persons with items to contribute may contact their county agricultural agent, located at the county seat, or may write to the Michigan State College museum, East Lansing.

Muck Soil Owners To Get Attention

Since the soil conservation district extended its territory including the entire area of the country, directors of the district hope to work closely with owners of muck soil.

Many lowland growers are concerned over loss of muck through wind and water erosion. Cover crops will do much to help hold the soil. Tom Bosgraf, prominent grower of Hudsonville, has established a fine oat crop following a celery crop. This soil will be safe until it is opened up again next spring. He states that most muckland owners are not disturbed over water erosion. However, he pointed out, he lost muck soil through water erosion last spring.

Continual use of muck soil without turning under of green manure crops can only result in one thing remarks Arnold. The soil becomes depleted and poorer yields result.

Appearing in the cast will be Carol Dobbertin as Gusti Goodrich; Berton Hilson as Gusti's boy friend, Arthur Peterson; Nick Havinga as Gusti's father, Dr. Goodrich, and Jane Boyd, as Gusti's mother, "The Shiek," less well-known as Duke Weatherly, is portrayed by Dave Bosch.

Hillsdale Holds Lifetime Edge Over Dutchmen

Revenge for the only defeat blighting their 1949 season and an effort to even the 11-game series is on the docket for Hope's grid-ders as they prepare to meet a heretofore lifeless Hillsdale eleven at Hillsdale Friday.

Last year, the Dales carved out a 13-9 decision over Hope and went on to cop the MIAA championship with a perfect 9-0 mark during the regular season. It was the single defeat on the Dutchmen record.

The Dales, led by their one-two punch of Bill Young and Spud Huston terrorized the Michigan Intercollegiate association. But the current edition of defending champs has been a disappointing one.

They have yet to win a single victory in six games. Their best showing thus far has been a 7-7 tie with Albion.

The Dales are a big team with such stalwarts as the misnamed 275-pound George Smallbones anchoring one side of the line at tackle.

Huston aided and abetted by Monte Charles, Bob Burandt, Tom Walsh and John Rummel compose the Dale backfield. But the outside threat, which was Bill Young, has departed and with him most of the effectiveness which made the Hillsdale eleven so potent during the past couple of years.

Rummel is one of the finest punters in the league and was averaging over 40 yards per boot. However, Ron Appledorn of Hope was close behind with slightly over 40 yards a kick.

The Dutchmen will be out to knot the lifetime series at five victories. The last Hope victory was in 1947 when it snatched a 21-14 verdict. The Dales won 7-0 in 1948.

Missing Woman Found in Holland

A young woman apparently suffering from amnesia was identified Monday as Lenore Marsh, of Benton Harbor, after she appealed to Holland police Sunday evening to establish her identity.

The woman walked into police headquarters Sunday at 7:21 p.m., and told officers she didn't know who she was or where she was from. All she knew, police said, was that she was in Holland.

She was sent to Holland hospital for treatment of a back injury, and her mother called for her and identified her after a report to Benton Harbor and St. Joseph police. At noon Monday, she still was a patient at the hospital.

Benton county police were contacted on the basis of a missing persons report on the young woman, which had included the fact that she had a back injury. She disappeared Saturday, police said.

A check of the woman's clothing revealed only 26 cents and a grocery list with the word "Marsh" and the letters "B.H." on the bottom of the paper.
