Holland Hit By Heavy Snow Storm

Travel Hazardous;
Most Roads Open,
Few Schools Close

Six inches of snow blanketed Holland today in the worst autumn snowstorm in many years. The heavy, wet, sticky snowfall crippled the state from border to border, snarling traffic, knocking out power and closing schools.

Howling winds of 30 to 40 miles an hour accompanied the local snowfall Wednesday night as three inches piled up in Holland. Another three inches fell relentlessly this morning as city snow removal equipment found the going hard. The U.S. Weather Bureau in Grand Rapids reported gusts up to 50 miles an hour along Lake Michigan.

Deposits of heavy, sticky snow caused car wheels to spin at curbs in the city, and presented considerably more hazards on highways, particularly on hills.

Street department workers, who made the rounds Wednesday picking up leaves, made changes on equipment and were on the job at 4 a.m. today plowing snow. If this snow disappears and the leaves dry out, crews will be back to picking up leaves.

The temperature in Holland remained steady today, registering 30 degrees at 6 a.m. and 30 degrees again at 11 a.m. A year ago the high was 65 and the low 53.

Allegan county also had six inches of snow accompanied by bad drifts from 30 to 40-mile winds. County road workers had most roads open to travel and most school buses made their runs. The county road commissioner said the first storm last year came at the end of November.

Public schools in Saugatuck and Douglas and St. Peter's Catholic School in Douglas were closed today.

More telephones were out of order than usual, caused mainly by wet cables. There were no breakdowns of a serious nature according to Carl Marcus, local manager.

A combination of ice and snow across antenna insulators at WHTC caused sporadic interruptions beginning at 5 a.m. today.

$1,000 Grant Awarded To Hope College

Hope College is one of four privately-supported colleges and universities in Michigan to share in 157 aid-to-education grants made this year by The Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States.

Announcement was made by James F. Oates Jr., chairman of the board.

Hope College as well as Albion College, Kalamazoo College and University of Detroit each received unrestricted awards of $1,000.

Total grants made by the company in 1966 came to $205,000. The recipients of these grants were named by an advisory committee of prominent educators and approved by the board.

Motorist Cited

Jack L. Gehrke, 24, of 387 West 19th St. was cited by Holland police for failing to stop in an assured clear distance after his car struck the rear of a car driven by Herbert W. Grant, 20, of route 4 on Eighth St. East of College Ave. at 4:26 p.m. Sunday.

Firemen Put Out Large Leaf Fire

Holland firemen spent several hours Friday night and early this morning extinguishing large fires in leaves dumped behind Pilgrim Home cemetery, 370 East 16th St.

Firemen were called to the cemetery the first time at 9:40 p.m. The fire in leaves and nearby brush flared up again about 5:30 a.m. and firemen battled the blaze for almost two hours.

Firemen also made five other runs to douse leaf fires Friday night. They extinguished blazes at 33rd St. and Columbia Ave. at 8 p.m.; 26th St. and Columbia Ave., 8:50 p.m.; 21st St. and Maple Ave. at 9:10 p.m.; 26th St. and Central Ave. at 9:20 p.m.; and 20th St. and College Ave. at 11:40 p.m.

Police Cite Driver

Sally Van Deusen, 18, of 75 East 34th St. was cited by Holland police for failing to stop in an assured clear distance after her car struck the rear of another auto on 10th St. west of Central Ave. at 4:53 p.m. Wednesday. The other driver, Marjorie L. Boersma, 50, of 303 West 14th St. received minor injuries.

NARROW ESCAPE — Joe Allen Dunn, 29, of Holland, escaped injury early today when his car plunged through the torn up deck of this bridge at New Richmond and hanging precariously over the Kalamazoo River. The car, shown here, hangs with the rear wheels on the deck of the bridge and the front end suspended on an I-beam. Allegan County Road Commissioner Fred Neils said about 48 feet of the deck had been torn up while the bridge is undergoing repairs. Barricades and warning signs were posted at both ends of the bridge, Neils said. (Sentinel photo)

STORM'S FURY—A twisted mass of steel scaffolding marks the spot where a 200-foot long cement block wall gave way to the fury of Holland's first wintry weather of the season today. The wall, part of the new American Aerosol plant at 40th St. and Waverly Rd., collapsed after supporting cables were snapped by driving winds up to 50 miles per hour. A spokesman for Tri-Cities Construction and Supply Co. of Spring Lake said the falling wall struck and bent several steel supporting columns in the building. The 29-foot high wall ran between two sections of steel framework for the 200-by-395 foot plant. A total of six inches of snow fell in the Holland area in the first taste of winter. (Sentinel photo)

City Given BPW Record Payment

A record amount of $326,888.77 was put into the city coffers this week from the Board of Public Works representing 50 per cent of the net operating profit of the electric utility for the year ending last June 30.

A check for the full amount was turned over to Mayor Nelson Bosman by Randall C. Bosch, president of the Board of Public Works.

It was the largest payment received to date from the electrical profits which is the city's largest single source of revenue outside property taxes.

Bosman said this contribution again emphasizes the importance of municipal ownership and the many benefits derived from the city owned electric system.

This year's transfer exceeds last year's amount by 11 per cent and is $26,888.77 more than City Council budgeted for revenues. The budget placed $200,000 in current operations and $100,000 in the city's capital improvement fund. The excess is considered surplus and determination of its use is made when Council studies next year's budget.

BPW Supt. Guy E. Bell said several records were made in the electric department the past year. Kilowatt hours sold totaled 131,322,081, an increase of nearly 8 per cent over the previous year.

Revenues from the sale of electricity totaled $2,545,360, up $174,756 from last year. A new peak load of 35,600 kilowatts was recorded at the James De Young generation station Feb. 22, and a new record production of 601,000 kilowatt hours for a 24-hour period was set the same day.

During the year, 48 per cent of the electricity sold went to industry, 34 per cent for residential use, 17 per cent to commercial customers and 1 per cent for street lighting.

A total of 79,019 tons of coal were burned to produce the electricity. Bell said this is equal to the coal needed to heat 13,000 average size homes or about twice the number of residences in Holland.

New records also were set in the water department which pumped 1,892,765,000 gallons of processed water. Of this amount,

Board Okays New Tech School Plan

GRAND HAVEN — The Ottawa Area Intermediate Board of Education has adopted a resolution calling for a petition to the Higher Education Bureau of the Michigan State Department of Education for approval to establish an area vocational-technical school under provisions of the Community College District.

The board also approved hiring a full time deputy superintendent to direct, coordinate and implement establishment of such a school.

The action followed resolutions from superintendents and boards of education in the county urging such a program. The proposed area would include all of Ottawa county and the school districts of Hamilton and Saugatuck.

The original study was undertaken in January, 1965, and completed in March, 1966. Co-chairmen of the study were Ab Martin of Holland and Paul Johnson Jr. of Grand Haven. Co-directors were Eugene Roth of Grand Haven and Donald Gebraad of Holland.

Plans call for a vigorous effort to promote the program and to place the question on the ballot at the earliest possible date.

Police Cite Motorist After Four-Car Mishap

Jerry L. Perry, 18, of 741 Ottawa Ave., received a summons from Holland police for careless driving after a four-car accident at Cleveland Ave. and Kollen Park Dr. at 9:25 a.m. today.

Perry told Holland police he lost control of his car as he was turning from Kollen Park Dr. on to Cleveland. The auto nicked a parked car owned by Jacquelyn Daining, 40, of 570 West 18th St., and then struck a parked car owned by Bonnie L. Redder, 20, of route 3, Zeeland.

The impact of the second collision forced the Redder car into a parked auto owned by Paul Elenbaas, 26, of 220 South 120th Ave.

Students Fill Council Chambers

Council chambers in City Hall were crowded with citizenship classes of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Van Lente of E.E. Fell Junior High School for the regular meeting of City Council Wednesday night which lasted only 40 minutes.

The 60 or more youngsters received a fairly good taste of routine council business covering communications, petitions, reports, bids, claims and appointments. There were no hearings.

Council approved a recommendation of the Hospital Board adding several alternates to the hospital contract with Elzinga and Volkens, exercising an option to include the following items at bid price: elevator, $28,200; dumbwaiter, $7,250; conveyor system, $31,200; snow melting equipment, $3,600; intercom system in x-ray department, $4,600; dimmer switches, $2,530; total, $77,380.

Council adopted a resolution approving organization of a Lake Macatawa Watershed Intermunicipality Committee. This action was requested in a communication from the Ottawa County Drain Commission.

A communication from the Shuffle Board Association and the Golden Agers requesting four additional courts at Kollen Park was referred to the city manager for study and report. Oaths of office were filed for the following members of the Human Relations Commission: Charles T. Clevenger, John F. Donnelly, Marie Hays, Mark Vander Ark and Al Wassink.

Petitions requesting paving, curb and gutter, and installation of sidewalks on both sides of 24th St. from Lincoln Ave. to Apple Ave. were referred to the city manager for study and report. Councilman Morris Peerbold commented that it was unusual and highly commendable to have such a large number of residents request complete services in a single petition. Twenty of the 24 residents on this part of 24th St. had signed the petition.

A letter from the Citizens for Decent Literature expressed appreciation for the $300 allotted to the work of this group.

Petitions bearing 161 signatures requesting that yield signs in areas of high accident potential be changed to stop signs were received and filed for study.

Council approved low bid of R.E. Barber for nine new police cars with eight cars to be traded in. The net amount was $12,783. It was lowest of three bids.

Claims against the city from Albert Hyma, of 615 West 30th St., and Robert G. Andree, 83 East 23rd St., were referred to the insurance carrier and city attorney.

City Manager Herb Holt submitted a report on walkways in the areas of Apple Avenue School, Lakeview School and Montello School, recommending that if it is decided to install walkways in these areas that they be traditional concrete sidewalks.

Walks were suggested for the north side of 32nd St., Graafschap Rd. to Myrtle Ave.; west side of Lugers Rd., South Shore Dr. to 32nd St.; East side of Lincoln Ave., 16th St. to 24th St.; south side, 24th St., Lincoln to Apple Aves., and east side of Graafschap Rd., 29th to 21st Sts. Transparencies of the locations were flashed on the wall. The re-

Bell, Union Slate Talks

DETROIT (UPI) — Negotiators for the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. and the Communication Workers of America (CWA) were setting up another round of bargaining sessions today after workers turned down a new three year contract.

Union members Monday voted 7018 to 4825 to reject the proposal their international representatives agreed to on Oct. 2.

The rejection was seen as a sharp defeat for leaders of the international union in a battle with local union leaders in Michigan. The local leaders said they objected to several provisions concerning fringe benefits and working conditions in the new contract.

Water R. Schaaf, Michigan Ohio CWA director, however, urged Michigan Bell's 17,000 employees Monday to stay on their jobs and continue to report to work as usual.

A number of Bell offices throughout the state were hit by wildcat strikes before and after the contract agreement was reached.

Wayne R. Osborn, chairman of Michigan Bell's bargaining team, said the company was ready to discuss the problems causing the rejection and would extend the contract on a day to day basis.

Found Not Guilty

GRAND HAVEN—A jury of six women, deliberating for one hour and 20 minutes Wednesday in Grand Haven Municipal court, found David Durda, 21, of Muskegon, not guilty on a disorderly charge. Testimony of 30 witnesses were heard. Durda was said to have created a disturbance at the roller rink on July 13 and was allegedly ejected bodily by a Grand Haven police officer.

2 Area Men Bound Over

Two men were bound over to Ottawa County Circuit Court after preliminary examinations in Municipal Court Tuesday afternoon on charges of possession of narcotics.

Edward G. Salas, 27, of 24 1/2 Cherry St., Zeeland, and Carlos Everett, 25, of 158 Columbia Ave. will appear in circuit court next Monday.

A preliminary hearing on a second count of possession of narcotics on Salas has been postponed. The hearing had been scheduled to be held after the first hearing.

Everett is out on $2,000 bond, and Salas is being held in the Ottawa County Jail under $4,000 bond ($2,000 on each count).

Salas and Everett are charged with having a quantity of marijuana in their car when they were stopped by Holland and Zeeland police at 10th St. and River Ave. Oct. 23.

Police stopped the car after a raid of Salas's apartment in Zeeland. They allegedly also found marijuana in the apartment.

Salas has also been charged for having the narcotics in the apartment.

Abel Scores Three Times To Pace Win

A Parents' Day crowd of 4,800 in Riverview Park saw Hope College nearly equal its season scoring output in whipping Kalamazoo College, 48-29, Saturday afternoon in the MIAA finale for both teams.

Junior halfback Keith Abel, senior fullback Charlie Langeland and sophomore quarterback Gary Frens paced Hope's offensive assault. Hope had scored 50 points in winning two of six games before Saturday's romp.

The two long-time rivals combined for 11 touchdowns and 832 yards in total offense. Hope piled up 425 of the yards, Kalamazoo 407.

Abel rushed for 212 yards in 31 carries and scored three touchdowns, while Langeland gained 43 yards on the ground, caught three passes for 103 yards and scored once.

Frens completed seven of 14 passes for 136 yards and one touchdown and ran for two more scores.

Kalamazoo's Dennis Steele, a senior halfback, scored four times, rushed for 159 yards in 15 carries and caught two passes for 108 yards. Hornet quarterback, Rick Russell, the league's leading passer, hit on seven of 19 for 176 yards.

Coach Rolla Anderson's Hornets opened the scoring barrage when Steele ran 48 yards for a touchdown two plays after a Hope fumble at midfield early in the first period. Russell booted the extra point to give Kalamazoo a 7-0 lead which held up for more than six minutes.

After the ensuing kickoff, coach Russ DeVette's Flying Dutchmen drove 77 yards in 11 plays with Abel carrying the final five yards, untouched into the Hornet end zone. Frens passed to Ray Cooper gave Hope an 8-7 lead which it never relinquished.

The game settled down to something of a defensive battle—really—until Hope put together an 80-yard drive midway through the second period.

Frens drove over for the one for the score, but Steve Wessling's kick failed, giving the Dutch a 14-7 lead with 5:46 left in the first half.

The game's turning point occurred about four minutes later when Russell's pitchout intended for Steele was picked off by Langeland after Kalamazoo had driven 61 yards to the Hope five.

Abel carried for 25 yards and a touchdown on a quick opener to cap a 65-yard drive on the first series of downs after the second-half kickoff. Frens passed to Gary Holvick for the two-point conversion.

Hope's 22-7 lead was short-lived, however, as Steele carried 24 yards for a touchdown four plays after Hope's last score. Russell passed to Dennis Benson for the extra point.

Hope came back with an 80-yard scoring drive after Russell's kickoff sailed out of the end zone. Frens screen pass to Langeland netted 41 yards to the Hornet 14 on the fifth play of the drive and Langeland scored six plays later from the one. Frens' conversion pass failed, giving Hope a 28-15 lead.

Linebacker Mark Menning picked off a Russell pass at the Kalamazoo 28 moments later and Frens drove over from the three seven plays later to give Hope a 34-15 lead in the first minute of the fourth quarter.

Wessling's ensuing kickoff traveled to the Kalamazoo 11 where Steele fielded it and rambled 89 yards, untouched, for a touchdown, which cut Hope's advantage to 34-21.

Russell's onside kickoff effort failed when Bob Ulrich fell on the ball at Hope's 40. Abel moved to midfield in three rushing attempts and Frens once again hit Langeland with a screen pass, this time for 40 yards to the Kalamazoo 10.

Three plays later, Frens hit Holland freshman Herb (Tom) Thomas for four yards and the touchdown, the first of Thomas' college career. Frens passed to Harry Myers for the two-pointer.

Kalamazoo came back with a spectacular 79-yard flea-flicker pass play, which saw Russell pass 19 yards to Lee Tichenor, who lateraled to Steele, who ran the remaining 60 yards for the touchdown, his fourth of the long afternoon.

Hope padded its already ample margin when Abel ran three yards for his third touchdown of the game with 1:29 remaining in the game.

Hope, which completed MIAA play with a 2-3 mark and is now 3-4 overall, closes its season at Bluffton (Ohio) College next Saturday. Kalamazoo also finished with a 2-3 league mark and is 2-4 overall.

Big Reds See 16-Game Win Streak Halted

MUSKEGON — Holland High, playing its finest game of the season, held powerful Muskegon to a highly notable, if somewhat frustrating, 7 to 7 tie before about 5,000 fans in Hackley Stadium here Friday night.

Although the Big Reds were ranked second among the state's Class A football teams by United Press International, Holland could hardly help but feel that it deserved something more than a tie for its herculean effort.

All the Dutch did Friday night was hold the No. 2 prep football team in Michigan in check for all but one play, while grinding out 228 total yards in dominating play in the final meeting of the two teams.

Holland scored first, just 40 seconds into the second quarter, on a 22-yard pass from quarterback Chip Millard to end Randy Veenhoven, who took the pass over his right shoulder at the 10 and outran Muskegon defender Joel Earnvall for the touchdown. Randy Rogers, a two-way star in the game, kicked the extra point, his 12th in 15 tries this fall.

Defensive end Steve Wassenaar set up the score with his alert fumble recovery at the Big Red 24 on the final play of the first period, two plays after Mark Slenk's 43-yard punt into the Muskegon end zone.

Earlier in the first quarter, after Holland had held Muskegon without a first down in two series of plays, the Dutch drove 61 yards to the Big Red nine only to have Rogers' first of two field goal attempts stray wide to the right of the goal posts. Rogers' effort was from the 19 — a 29-yard attempt.

Fullback Dave Dick ran for 15 yards, sub fullback Mark Bonnette rambled 18 yards and Millard passed to Veenhoven for 17 yards in the key plays in the drive before a five-yard illegal procedure penalty (from the Muskegon 12 to the 17) stopped the Dutch.

Late in the first half, 5:10", 188-pound senior tackle Robert Walker blocked Slenk's fourth-down punt and fell on the ball at the Holland 44. Junior fullback Robert Hollis ran for six yards, then sped 40 yards for the Big Reds' only touchdown of the evening.

With 3:26 remaining in the half, junior end Dan McShanock kicked the extra point. One official signaled the ball wide to the left, but referee Al Cater of Kalamazoo, from his vantage point behind the kicker, indicated that the conversion attempt was successful.

The Dutch threatened again in the third period, putting together a 45-yard drive to the Muskegon 15 with Rogers carrying six times in the 10-play series for 35 of the yards. Rogers, however, missed on a fourth-down, 34-yard field goal try.

Holland received one final chance for victory when Rogers dropped Big Red quarterback Marvin Vanderweg for a nine-yard loss to his own 40-yard line on a fourth-down pass attempt with less than one minute left in the game.

Rogers quickly ran for eight yards and in two carries, Dick netted four yards and the first down, but fumbled on the second rushing attempt. John Usual recovered to give Muskegon one final chance.

Vanderweg's desperation pass was intercepted by Millard, who returned to the Big Red 47 with two seconds remaining. Millard's long pass to the triple-teamed Veenhoven fell incomplete.

The tie ended Muskegon's 16-game winning streak and gave the Big Reds a 6-0-1 mark for the season, while the Dutch are now 4-2-1.

Holland High coach Dave Kemper was liberal, as might be suspected, in his praise for the team. Kemper exclaimed, after the game, "we're (the coaches) tremendously proud of the team."

Kemper also said that the "defense was tremendous" and "the secret to the ball game was our ability to contain their speed." The Big Reds were outweighed by the Dutch (as they were by their six victims this fall), but were extremely quick, although they were unable to display this quality Friday night.

In a defense designed to provide linebackers Bill Wich and Rogers with most of the tackles, they did just that. Other members of Holland's stellar defense are linemen Wassenaar, Bob Veenhoven, Dave Bauman, Ken Essenburg and Gerry Swierenga, linebackers Ron Brummel and Dick, and deep backs Veenhoven and Bob LaBarge.

Rogers wound up as the game's top ground-gainer with 72 yards in 20 rushing attempts. Other Dutch rushing figures showed Bonnette, in his first extensive offensive action, with 31 yards in seven carries and Dick with 28 yards in 10 tries. Veenhoven grabbed three of Millard's four completions for 51 of Holland's 54 yards in the air.

2 Teenagers Are Killed In Accident

SOUTH HAVEN — Two teenagers were killed and five others injured in two separate collisions Saturday night on the Blue Star Highway, five miles north of South Haven.

One person was injured when his car rammed the rear of a state police car which was parked at the first accident scene.

Killed were Deborah Klifman, 15, of Douglas, and Allan Patulski, 16, of South Haven. Medical examiner Dr. Kenneth Miller, of Douglas said the pair died of multiple injuries.

South Haven State Police said the two were passengers in a car operated by 15-year-old Nancy Sargent of Fennville. She was not seriously injured.

Stimulating Debate Stirs HHS Group

An audience of about 80 persons was treated to a fine display of political argument in a debate between two 9th district congressional candidates Friday afternoon in Holland High School, sponsored by teenage Republicans and Democrats.

Claims and counterclaims crisscrossed in this confrontation of State Sen. Guy Vander Jagt, Republican, and Henry Dongvillo, fruit grower-lawyer of Fountain, Democrat, as they debated on a high plane and even the personal issues were debated on a high plane and each candidate seemed to score in the rebuttal.

Dongvillo harked back to the depression and credited the Democrats with great social programs putting America today at the highest peak of economic stability and world affluence.

Vander Jagt spoke of Republican achievements of four years under Gov. Romney who entered office after 14 years of Democratic rule with a deficit of $100 million. He said the state is now about $100 million in the black, yet has increased services and provided more aid to education.

In his rebuttal, Dongvillo said Michigan's affluence is dependent on selling 80 to 90 per cent of her products outstate, and he credited the progress the past four years to the healthy national economy under Kennedy and Johnson. Vander Jagt maintained affluence results from free men working in free enterprise, not by either political party.

During the question period, on the subject of the vote for 18-year-olds, Dongvillo favored the measure. Vander Jagt said he favored putting the question on the ballot so that the people could decide after a 10-year discussion in the legislature. But in his appearances before youth groups, a straw vote which he admitted was not very scientific revealed more than 7 to 1 against the measure, and he would be studying the issue carefully before deciding his own vote.

Don Raynolds, a student, introduced the speakers and moderated the question period. Dongvillo was accompanied by Jay Wabeke, Democratic candidate for State Senator.

Mount Holyoke Alumnae Meet

The Mount Holyoke College Alumnae Club of Western Michigan held its semi-annual meeting last Tuesday at the Holiday Inn in Grand Rapids.

Fourteen members attended, from Holland, Grand Rapids, Muskegon, Kalamazoo, Buchanan, Constantine and Niles. Those from Holland were Mrs. Herbert Hines, class of '07, Mrs. George Buskirk, '58, and Mrs. Stuart Padnos, '46, who is president of the club.

Mrs. Donald Werme, of Kalamazoo, who just returned from the Mount Holyoke campus, where she had attended an Alumnae Council gave reports of activities at the college. One of the newest ideas is the institution of "Pass-Fail" courses, of which a student may take three during her four years on campus.

The idea of the "Pass-Fail" is to enable a student to take a course in a subject, other than her major field in which she is interested but might not take because of fearing a low mark on her record. There is no mark given in a "Pass-Fail" course—all one has to do is pass it to receive credit.

Mrs. Werme also reported that the committee for Action on Academic Issues was now well-accepted on campus, by the faculty and the students. This committee had been organized to evaluate courses offered by the college. When it was first started by the students a few years ago it met with much opposition from the faculty, administration and alumnae. However, it has developed into a respected group and its findings have proved most helpful.

"Today," said Mrs. Werme, "students are different than in 1957-60, when I was at college." Then the students were "apathetic"; but now they have civic action groups which really are working to help others. Some of their activities, carried out in the nearby town of Holyoke, Mass., are manning teenage centers, a tutoring service for underprivileged children, library service for the elderly, and recreation groups for the young.

Mount Holyoke College, located in South Hadley, Mass., is the oldest women's college in the country. It is a member of the "Seven College Conference." Anyone desiring information about Mount Holyoke is invited to contact Mrs. Padnos.

Panthers 13, Hamilton 13

The West Ottawa Panthers and Hamilton Hawkeyes battled to a 13-13 deadlock Friday night before 1,359 spectators at the West Ottawa field.

The Panthers dominated play in the first half as powerful fullback Jerry Klomprens scored two touchdowns, the final one with :04 remaining in the half.

The game belonged to the Hawkeyes in the second half, as they engineered two of their own touchdowns and made good on one point after touchdown.

Key man for the Panthers was Klomprens, as he continually bolted through the Hamilton line for five, six and seven-yard gains. He also aided teammate Steve Tucker on several second-man-through plays.

Sparking the Hawkeyes were running backs Ward Johnson, Lloyd Schrottenboer and Mike Thompson, as quarterback Gary Kaper handed the ball off to them throughout the game.

With 6:50 left on the clock in the first quarter the Panthers began to drive. Quarterback Dan Bauer used Tucker and Klomprens to move from the Hamilton 41 with Klomprens slashing through the line from the five-yard line for the score with 5:21 on the clock.

The conversion kick by Darryle Mitchell was good on the first attempt, but was called back on an illegal procedure penalty and the second try was wide to the right.

Beginning a drive late in the first quarter, the Hawkeyes moved to the West Ottawa eight before being thrown for several losses and were forced to give up the ball early in the second quarter.

Second-period play was fast, but uneventful until the Panthers received a Hamilton punt with 1:38 remaining. Tucker bulldozed his way to Hamilton's 35 on the first play, giving the Panthers a first down and potential scoring situation.

Bauer handed off to captain Dale Lubbers, Klomprens, halfback Greg Daiman, and Tucker in sequence, before Klomprens made his second scoring dash from the four-yard line collecting six more points for West Ottawa with :04 remaining in the half. Mitchell's kick for the point after touchdown was successful.

Hamilton opened the second half as a powerhouse, as all the Hawkeyes backs contributed to the forward movement.

The Panthers intercepted one Hamilton pass, but were stopped short when they were forced to punt almost immediately. Hamilton received on the West Ottawa 31, and aided by a penalty on the Panthers, Dan Locatis scored from the sixteen on a second-man-through play. The point after touchdown run by Ward Johnson scored, cutting the Panthers lead to 13-7.

Late in the third quarter the Hawkeyes threatened again as Thompson evaded all Panthers except captain Lubbers who threw him off balance on the West Ottawa 35.

Hamilton continued the drive into the fourth quarter, maintaining possession until Gary Kaper ran a quarterback sneak into the end zone for a Hamilton score. Johnson's run for the point after touchdown was stopped by Panther end Mark Steketee.

The remainder of the deadlock game seersawed back and forth as fumbles, punts and penalties plagued the play.

With :16 left on the clock, the Panthers took possession on their own 32, and in four plays the Panthers moved to Hamilton's 25. The Panthers tried a shot-in-the-dark field goal from the 25, but Mitchell's kick was short of the goal.

Next week West Ottawa's twelve seniors will play their final game of the season at Hudsonville in an O-K League encounter, staged in Hudsonville at 7:30 p.m.

Hamilton also closes next Friday night, with an Expressway League game at Wayland.

Ferns, palms, arch candelabra and two altar bouquets of large white mums, white daisy mums and pompons enhanced the nuptial setting in Fourteenth Street Christian Reformed where the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Buter of 10633 Paw Paw Dr. and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Lohr of 111 West High St., Greenville, spoke their vows.

Appropriate organ music was played by Mrs. Hugh Koops who also accompanied the soloist, Louis Wagenveld, when he sang "O Perfect Love" and "The Wedding Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a floor-length A-line gown of peau de soie featuring a crescent waistline with alencon lace on the empire bodice and extending down the front panel of the skirt. A triple tiered train outlined with alencon lace fell from the neck waistline. Her elbow-length veil of imported illusion was held by a cluster of Victorian roses on a plateau of alencon lace. She carried a cascade arrangement of white roses, white pompons and English ivy.

The bride's attendants wore identical floor-length sheath gowns of moss green velvet bodices and olive green crepe skirts. The empire waists were accented with a row of daisy mums. Matching velvet bow headpieces secured a butterfly veil.

Miss Norma Buter was maid of honor and Linda Buter, bridesmaid. Both are sisters of the bride. They carried cascade arrangements of bronze and yellow mums.

The flower girl, Julie Zayler, niece of the groom, wore a floor-length dress similar to the bride's attendants and carried a basket of bronze and yellow mums.

Sunday School Lesson

Sunday, Nov. 6
Words Without Worship
Jeremiah 7:1-15
By C. P. Dame

God wants His people to be sincere. Many worshipers in the days of Jeremiah were insincere and they showed it. They went to the temple but they did not change their ways and that is why God sent the prophet to call upon them to amend their mode of life. Worship must be followed by action.

I. God gives orders to His servants. Not all are easy orders. "The word that came to Jeremiah" was no soft command. God told the prophet to stand in the gate of the Temple and preach to the people as they were going in. He told them to amend their ways if they hoped to stay in the land. These people were living godless lives even though they worshiped God after a fashion. Suppose that next Sunday a preacher would stand in front of your church and call upon all the churchgoers to amend their ways—how would you like that?

II. God demands sincerity. "Trust not in lying words," so said the prophet. Ever since God had spared the temple in the days of Hezekiah some Jews thought that no matter what they did, God would protect the temple. Many people trusted these lying words. The prophet commanded the people in the name of the Lord to "execute judgment between a man and his neighbor," and to stop oppressing the stranger, the fatherless and the widow, and the shedding of innocent blood if they wanted to live.

These worshipers violated God's laws by sinning against man and God. On one day they went to church but on the next day they cheated and lied and lived loveless lives. Some even had the idea that as long as they went to church, God was pleased. Their worship consisted in performing certain rites and ceremonies which did not touch their hearts at all and failed to change their conduct. Have we worshipers like that today?

III. God judges people and nations. History teaches this fact. The prophet told the people about Shiloh where once the tabernacle stood in which Eli and Samuel ministered but which had been destroyed. The prophet said that Jerusalem and the temple would be destroyed if the people persisted in their wickedness and disobedience. The words, "the whole seed of Ephraim" refer to the northern nation, Israel, that had been carried off into exile on account of the nation's sinful living.

Jeremiah showed courage in telling the people the unpleasant future—the destruction of the city and nation. The prophet was considered a pessimist. The prophet's words were fulfilled. The people would not listen to God's message. Today the nation needs people who will speak for God and give His message. The words, "Thus saith the Lord" must be heard again and again from our pulpits.

Nature Center Extolled At Two Local Meetings

It was a busy day in Holland Tuesday for Dr. William B. Stapp of the School of Natural Resources of the University of Michigan who addressed the Michigan Literary Club and guests, visited the De Graaf Nature Center, consulted with local conservation-minded people and then addressed some 60 educators and community leaders in the evening on potential uses of the nature center in Holland's total educational program.

In both addresses, Dr. Stapp emphasized the relationship between natural and human resources, the interrelation of ecology and economy, the human need at times for solitude, the value of the wilderness and the growing awareness of conservation problems and their solutions.

"The best way to study natural resources is under natural conditions, and your De Graaf Nature Center is one of the finest and most delightful of the smaller nature centers in the country. Here on a relatively small acreage you have everything, high land, low land, water, trees, plantlife and wildlife. In time, it will be a true oasis in a busy expanding community," he said.

Dr. Stapp who coordinates the conservation program for Ann Arbor public schools showed color slides on conservation from the view of teaching children. A visit to a nature center or other habitat starts with briefing during the bus ride. Many are the discoveries in nature centers, and on one occasion a discovery of owl pellets (the remains of field mice eaten whole) led to an extensive study on owl eating habits, the mice far, far outnumbering the birds as food.

Dr. Stapp repeatedly emphasized the need of a master plan for the local nature center if the full potential is to be recognized as an outdoor classroom. He said the center should be studied by a professional conservationist and a detailed plan drawn to serve as a guide as committees change through the years.

His message in the afternoon emphasized man's dependence on the earth, water and air, and the awareness and solution of conservation problems. These involve correcting not only previous mistakes but to plan well for the future. He emphasized the need for community involvement in conservation problems, and, in Holland's case, the need for volunteers to take in-service training to serve as guides for school children on the nature tours. This area of development should be an important part of the master plan, he said.

His message to educators and community leaders in the evening was accompanied by an array of source material including simple posters for the tots and developing to such sophisticated subjects as infections in the Arab countries resulting from water pollutants.

Mrs. Harold Thornhill, chairman of the nature center's advisory committee, presided at the evening session in Phelps Hall. Others on this committee are Jacob De Graaf, Mrs. J.J. Brower, Mrs. W.G. Winter Jr., Mrs. Calvin Vander Werf, Dr. William Arendshorst, Arthur Wyma, Dirk Bloemendaal, Mrs. Carl Cook, Robert Mills and Dr. Norman Norton.

Special guests at the afternoon meeting were Park Supt. De Graaf and Walter Van Dien of the State Conservation Department. Mrs. Thornhill briefly outlined the work of the nature center over four years. She was introduced by Mrs. Vander Werf of the Current Affairs committee.

Mrs. Bryan Athey, club president, introduced Mrs. Guy Bell chairman of the Philanthropy committee, who told of the work of her group with the County Infirmary at Eastmanville. Members of the committee are Mrs. Rudolph Brink, Mrs. Ben Du Mez, Mrs. George Glupker, Mrs. William Jellema, Mrs. W.C. Kools, Mrs. L.W. Lamb Jr., Mrs. Carl Miller, Mrs. Lawrence Schmidt, Miss Cornelia Van Voorst, Mrs. Fred Winter and Mrs. Jack Zwemer. The collection amounted to $112.

Mrs. Bell said needs at the County Home are greater this year because it is filled to capacity. Persons unable to attend Tuesday's meeting who would like to contribute may send their offering to Mrs. Bell, 310 Wildwood Dr.

Mrs. Athey announced that the next luncheon at the Woman's Literary Club will be Tuesday, Nov. 29, at 12:30 p.m. Reservations are to be made with Mrs. Robert De Nooyer by Nov. 26. This will be a literature seminar on Michigan poets by Mrs. Jerome Counihan.

HERE WE GO AGAIN

We can remember the days when pampering a baby was frowned on by the medical experts. It was considered bad practice to rock an infant to sleep, fondle it on one's lap, or in any way give it the impression that there was such a thing as love in the world. Now hospital nurseries are equipped with comfy rocking chairs for the indulgence of newborn infants.

We can remember when it was considered vulgar for young mothers to nurse their own young. It was both unscientific and destructive of the feminine figure. The going word now is in favor of breast-feeding.

We can remember when child experts sternly forbade parents to speak to their infants in baby talk. This was considered deleterious to the speech education of the youngster. Now parents are permitted to talk baby talk as long as their children do. At least Dr. Harold Lillywhite, at a meeting of the American Academy of Pediatrics, says that baby talk is fine. The former doctrine he describes as "bad advice." Other experts at the meeting agreed that "infants learn best by being imitated."

Now there's a switch. We always thought it was good for infants to imitate adults and that therefore adults should speak clearly and articulately. This has all changed.

What amazes us is not that these expert opinions change. In fact, we are prepared for them to change again in another decade or so. No, it's the fact that despite the changes in doctrine and practice in these matters, almost all children turn out to be pretty similar adults. Perhaps this argues that the tempests over child care could well be confined to the professional teapots and the attention of parents be freed for the consideration of more important problems the solution to which may make some real difference in how the world gets on.

New Mathematics Approach Employed in Holland Schools

A statement which is proving true in the field of education today is "The only constant is progress." This is particularly true in the teaching of mathematics.

The terms: Binary system, set theory, properties of numbers, finding a pattern, commutative process, and inverse operations may be new to you; but they are a part of the language of the new mathematics. In the elementary grades of the Holland Public Schools, the teachers are presenting this new approach to teaching math. A new arithmetic textbook, which is comparatively conservative, has been in use during the present school year in several of the schools.

Nothing is wrong with traditional mathematics. The ability to do computations accurately is still an important objective; and definite directives are still given. However, an understanding of the "reasons why" in computation is stressed rather than a rote memorization of the proper steps to perform. Another characteristic of the new math is the discovery approach. Questions in textbooks guide pupils to discover facts and concepts for themselves. As a result, both the teaching and learning should be more interesting and rewarding.

Greater emphasis is placed upon the precise use of language. Distinction is made between a number (which is an idea) and a numeral (which is the written symbol for an idea). The concept of sets is being emphasized in the new courses. Pupils soon learn that other sets of numbers beyond the set of counting numbers are necessary. Fractions, when parts of things are needed, or negative numbers when numbers "below zero" are needed, become parts of the number line.

The new courses include a study of the operations with numbers. One of these is the associative principle. That is, in finding the sum of three numbers, and two may be added first without affecting the sum:  $(6 + 7) + 5$  equals  $6 + (7 + 5)$ . The commutative principle states that the order in which factors are combined does not change the product. That is,  $4 \times 6$  equals  $6 \times 4$ . With this principle, the traditional 100 multiplication facts are cut in half.

Another topic which appears is a study of systems of numeration other than the base ten system. Because we agree to use 10 as a base, a number such as 342 means  $3 \times (10 \times 10) + 4 \times 10 + 2$ . But if we use six as a base 342 would mean  $3 \times (6 \times 6) + 4 \times 6 + 2$ .

Two reasons for teaching other number systems is 1) to help pupils understand better their own system based on ten, and 2) to help pupils distinguish between the number idea and the numerals as concepts.

The changes in mathematics curriculums are aimed to teach children to think. Above a large computer at an industrial plant this sign was posted: "Compute? Yes. Think? No." It is still the task of the person to think. For teachers, changes represent a new approach to teaching math rather than a new math. For children, this new approach should be a stimulation to think.

The stimulation to think is carried out further on the E.E. Fell Junior High School and Holland High School levels.

The work of computers and statistics has reached down through all educational systems and has made persons aware of the need and understanding for mathematics.

The primary purposes and goals of Fell Junior High mathematics department include exploration and discovery, preparation for higher mathematics, preparation for vocational education, preparation for senior high courses of business practice and preparation to assume a role in society.

The courses on the junior high level include modern and remedial mathematics in the seventh and eighth grades, algebra, business training and general mathematics in the ninth grade.

The goals of the senior high mathematics department are to expose students to the main ideas of mathematics as part of a well-rounded liberal arts education and to teach students mathematics they may need for whichever occupation or profession they choose.

The curriculum includes advanced algebra, plane geometry, trigonometry, solid geometry or senior mathematics. Students are not required to take mathematics in senior high school; however, approximately 350 students are enrolled in a mathematics course.

Recover Body Along Shore

SAUGATUCK — The body of 23-year-old David Quint, of Grand Rapids, was found Saturday by Allegan sheriff's deputies along the Lake Michigan shore near Saugatuck.

Parke-Davis Families Tour Holland Plant

Saturday was a big day at the Holland Parke, Davis plant as employees and their families toured plant facilities in an open house program in keeping with the 100th anniversary of the parent company.

Visitors called on a staggered basis from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and it was estimated 930 toured the premises which today has doubled the floor space and more than twice the number of employees than it had when the plant opened in Holland in 1950.

Plant personnel explained operations in various departments, but employees were encouraged to explain their own work as they escorted their families in their own quarters.

A motion picture revealed the world-wide scope of Parke-Davis operations, filming scenes at company plants and installations all over the world. Tours followed through offices, production and finishing areas in some 20 buildings and ended with refreshments in the new cafeteria where paintings by local artists hung. This art is by Eleanor Van Haisma, Joy Walsh, Jean Evans and Mary Porter.

A handsome booklet on 100 years with Parke, Davis with color pictures from plants all over the world was distributed.

The Holland plant manufactures 40 to 45 fine chemicals for pharmaceutical uses. Among the trademark products are Chloromycetin, Bendaryl Hydrochloride and Dilantin. There are 260 employees.

A new plant built in 1961 containing over 100,000 square feet houses most of the fine-chemical production. Plant equipment includes 100 chemical reactor vats, ranging in capacity from 5 to 3,500 pounds, along with filters, centrifuges and driers. The water requirement of this Holland complex is 18,000,000 gallons a day, a greater amount than is used by the entire city of Holland.

A new process development plant lying west of the existing buildings will be ready for opening in about another month.

The open house was arranged by a committee consisting of William Sturgeon, chairman, Winthrop Rorer, George Slikkers and Frank Vlacik. Charles Kupsky is general manager of the local plant and Earl Van House is superintendent of chemical manufacturing. Donald Vink who served as plant superintendent since the local plant opened is currently on leave for health reasons.

There were several visitors here from Detroit Saturday, among them Dave Hyde, director of personnel procurement; A. G. Denison, director of personnel for Parke-Davis, and R. Ray Berg, manager of special products sales.

Zumberge Outlines Plan For College

"We're trying to improve the competitive position of Grand Valley College," Dr. James H. Zumberge, the college's president, told members of the Holland chamber of commerce at an early bird breakfast Tuesday in Hotel Warm Friend.

Zumberge said the four-year old college with a 1,380 enrollment is still basically a second choice for many students. The goal is to make it the kind of school that students choose first, and thereby attract more students, he added.

Zumberge listed several areas in which the college is improving its position.

Academically, the college is seeking to diversify its curriculum so that it will be able to offer a Bachelor of Science degree as well as a Bachelor of Arts. The B.S. program which is being worked out has to be approved by the college's board, Zumberge said.

In addition, the college is now accredited by the Michigan Commission on Higher Education, and is a candidate for accreditation by the North Central Association. The regional North Central Association does not give accreditation until after a college has graduated its first class. Grand Valley will have its first graduation in June, 1967.

Zumberge said the college is currently in the midst of a $17 million building program to complete facilities on the campus.

Another improvement he cited was the addition of accommodations for students living on campus. A dormitory which accommodates 202 students is now in operation. The college also encouraged development of private apartments, and there is now room for about 400 in apartments near the campus.

Zumberge said Grand Valley is promoting more activities on the campus especially athletics. He said the athletic program will be aided by completion of the athletic building in 1967.

Wieland's Old Bond Worthless, Officials Say

Edward Wieland of Holland won't be collecting on that $2,000 bond issued by Philadelphia 98 years ago.

Philadelphia's city finance director, Edward J. Martin, said the bond had been cancelled in 1870 and a new one issued to replace it. This information came from the city's fiscal agent, the Philadelphia National Bank.

When notified Friday, Wieland shrugged and said, "That's the way the ball bounces."

He had obtained the 1868 bond in a parcel of old documents through an eastern mailing house more than a year ago, and forwarded it to the City of Philadelphia some days ago, asking 6 per cent interest amounting to well over $13,000.

Meanwhile, he said he has been receiving mail from people all over the country purporting to be heirs of the John Dubbs estate, the name appearing on the bond.

Robert J. Danhof, legal advisor to the governor, said due to requirements for the Viet Nam war effort supplies of required type of electric conductor cable and other necessary devices are very short, necessitating serious delays in similar erection throughout the entire United States.

The letter also pointed to possible improved pedestrian signals on Eighth St. at the Central, Columbia, College and River Ave. intersections.

The winter enrollments are coming in rather slowly. We would encourage leaders to send in their enrollments as soon as their club is organized. If you need materials, please request them at the same time.

The conservation program is well under way and we are looking forward to meeting with the groups at our earliest convenience to give them any help they might need. We hope to conclude the school conservation around the first of December.

We are scheduling three open houses for 4-H winter leaders. Nov. 3 we will hold an open house in Hudsonville from 7 to 9 p.m. On Nov. 7 an open house will be held at the Coopersville High School, room 1 from 7 to 9 p.m. The third open house is tentatively scheduled for Nov. 8. These meetings will give leaders a chance to ask any questions they might have pertaining to the winter projects and to pick up materials they might need.

The next regular council meeting will be held on Nov. 1 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ulrich in Allendale. The present council members in each district will select nominees for replacements of those whose terms expire. ## Dr. Peters Gives Talk on Reformation

A standing-room only crowd filled Winant's Chapel in Graves Hall Monday night to hear Dr. Robert Peters of the Hope College history department lecture on "Erasmus and Luther" in keeping with Reformation Day.

Dr. Peters engaged his subject as a study in contrasts. He said that both men were products of an age of unrest and that, while elements of unity spring from this as well as differences, Erasmus stands out as the scholar of his age, as the Christian humanist par excellence—a testimony of the brilliant gifts with which God has endowed man, while on the other hand Luther testifies to the tragic unrest of man, as man unable to fulfill the will of God.

"Both men however were protagonists for a return to the Bible based on the teachings of the early church," he said.

Both were highly critical of the contemporary church of that day and both men longed for reform. What for Erasmus was a problem in theology, for Luther it became a springboard and ground of his being. "That faith is a gift of God," he said "is the heart of Luther."

Dr. Peters who holds seven earned degrees at English universities is a recognized scholar of the reformation. The meeting was sponsored by the history department of Hope College.

Overflow Crowds Attend Reformation Service

A standing room only audience attended Reformation Day meeting Monday night in Diment Memorial Chapel to hear Dr. Joel Nederhood, the voice of the Christian Reformed "Back to God" hour.

In speaking on "The Source of Reform," Dr. Nederhood developed the fact that the Reformation was in essence a "Back to the Bible" movement and he related this to the need for more social action, calling the church to engage in forthright social involvement.

"There are so many areas in life," he said, "where we as Calvinists should be busy. We so often fail in the area of social work because we are content to keep to ourselves what we believe without transferring it into action."

The speaker discussed the idea that "we believe in biblical inspiration, namely that God inspired men to write the record of God but we treat this as doctrine forgetting that by reading the inspired word we should be inspired to act. Our problem is neglecting to read the Word as much today as in the early days of the Reformation."

"Today," he said, "we keep the Bible in chains."

Prof. James De Jonge, director of the "Back to God" choir, sang "Be Thou Still," by Cesar Franck, and "Prayer for Peace," by Lully.

Mrs. John Tibbe served as organist and directed the Central Avenue choir in "Sanctus" by Schubert, "Look Upon Thy Children" by Hopkins and "Fear Not, Thou Faithful Christian Flock," from an old Strassburg psalter.

Pastor Leonard Greenway, newly installed minister at Ninth Street Christian Reformed Church, led devotions.

The speaker brought greetings from the Rev. Bassom Madaney, minister of the Arabic countries, and Juan S. Boonstra, Spanish speaking minister for the "Back to God" Hour. Both work out of Chicago. The event is sponsored annually by the "Back to God" hour by the Holland League of Christian Reformed Men's Societies. The Rev. Garrett Stoutmeyer of Calvin Christian Reformed Church is league president.
