Rates Set On Sewer Service

The revised sewer service rate schedule for Holland sewer users goes into effect Nov. 1, according to Board of Public Works officials.

The revised sewer service rate schedule, which increases the charge for all classes of customers, was adopted by Holland City Council at its August 19 meeting.

Although the revised sewer rate becomes effective Nov. 1, Board of Public Works' personnel said that depending on the district in which the user is billed, it would be from three to five months before customers received their first bill based on the increased rate.

The new rate schedule is based on the quantity of water which is used by each customer and for most residential users it replaces a flat rate charge with no consideration given to water usage.

For billing purposes the city's service area is divided into three districts. For customers in district A, the revised rate becomes effective with the reading of the water during the early part of November. The first bills under the new schedule for district A customers will go out in February. In district B, water meters will be read in December and the first bills under the new schedule for these customers will be rendered in March; and for district C customers, the billing period will begin with the reading of the water meter in January to be followed by billing three months later in April.

In as much as the revised sewer service charge is based on water usage, the rate schedule adopted by City Council provides that sewer users having their own water supply are to have meters installed their own water system to measure the quantity of water used.

BPW officials said the meters will be furnished by the utility and installed by BPW workmen with the cost of labor for installation to be charged to each customer as the meters are installed. According to the BPW, there are about 500 residential sewer users with their own water supply and it may take several months to complete the installation of all the meters.

In the meantime, a BPW spokesman said the non-metered residential users will be billed the minimum quarterly charge.

The new rate schedule for sewer service as adopted by city council is as follows:

First 5,000 cubic feet per quarter — 75 cents per 100 cubic feet.

Next 95,000 cubic feet per quarter — 54 cents per 100 cubic feet.

All over 100,000 cubic feet per quarter — 40 cents per 100 cubic feet.

Minimum quarterly charge: single family dwelling — $12 per quarter; two family dwelling — $18 per quarter; more than two family dwelling — $24 per quarter; commercial and industrial — $24 per quarter.

The minimum charge of $12 per quarter for a single family residence allows the use of up to 16,000 cubic feet of water per quarter. The $18 minimum for a two-family residence allows usage up to 24,000 cubic feet of water per quarter; and the $24 minimum allows usage of 32,000 cubic feet. All usage in excess of the minimum allowable quantities will be billed according to the rate schedule.

For the purpose of comparing water bills with future sewer bills, the BPW lists the following as examples:

Water Used
(100 cu. ft.)

Bill (per quarter)

0 to 10 $4.32 $12.00

16 5.72 12.00

20 6.66 15.00

24 7.60 18.00

30 8.77 22.50

32 9.47 24.00

40 11.34 30.00

50 13.68 37.50

Board of Public Works spokesmen said that residential customers will be billed for sewer service on the basis of their winter quarter water usage each year so that lawn sprinkling would not be included. Commercial and industrial consumers will continue to be billed according to the amount of water metered unless provisions are made for metering the actual quantity of sewage discharged into the system.

City Okays New Police Program

At a special meeting Tuesday night, City Council approved a transfer of funds to implement a new police department study on criminal and antisocial behavior, and approved the purchase of an authentic Dutch carousel for Windmill Island.

Council adjourned at 8 p.m. to discuss a third announced subject, emergency room functions and charges at Holland Hospital, informally in the mayor's office. It is expected a recommendation may be made at a regular meeting next week.

The subject had been tabled at last week's Council meeting, pending a meeting with hospital authorities.

Price of the Dutch carousel is $4,750, plus an estimated 40 percent for packing and shipping to this city. Arie de Koning, Dutch architect who conducted a technical inspection of Windmill De Zwaan early in September, and Jan Dederick (Diek) Medendorp, the millwright who restored the large windmill in its new home here, will be inspecting the carousel, currently in storage, and final purchase is subject to their approval.

The carousel, approximately 50 years old is a European type containing 24 horses and designed for children. It has a barrel organ, also authentic European, and the horses go around, not up and down. Plans call for having each child visiting Windmill Island to have a free ride on the carousel. Additional rides would carry a small fee, perhaps 10 cents.

City Manager William L. Bopf said funds are available after Windmill Island repaid $28,000 to the reserve fund this year. The budget also called for a $10,000 capital outlay fund and although receipts did not run that high, they should be sufficient to finance the carousel installation.

Attendance at Windmill Island through Oct. 13 were 81,895 adults and 22,901 children, not including the ox roast or advance sales, up a few thousand from last year.

The vote was 7 to 1 with Councilman Al Kleis dissenting. Councilman Robert Dykstra was absent. Mayor Nelson Bosman presided.

The new police program will cost an estimated $24,064 with state and federal funds accounting for $9,119 and local funds $14,071. Salary of the director, who will be Community Relations Officer Lee Somers of the police department, will be $5,500 for the eight months' duration, which is accounted for in the regular budget. The assistant director will be a full time officer currently on leave studying for a master's degree, who will be paid $4,500.

The city will receive credit of $2,800 for office facilities in the old fire station. This leaves the budget $873 short, and City Manager Bopf recommended that $1,000 be transferred from the contingency fund to the police fund. This also includes a $4,500 transfer from the police department computer program budget. The vote was unanimous.

Bopf explained that the experimental program will be aimed at coordinating the resources of the community at solving some of the criminal and antisocial behavioral problems, working with other health and social agencies.

At the end of eight months, it is expected the city and the State Crime Commission will evaluate the program.

Forum Held Here On Proposal C

A public forum meeting on Proposal C—the anti-parochial amendment on the Nov. 3 ballot — sponsored by the West Ottawa Board of Education Tuesday evening managed to keep to its purpose of discussing only the implications of the amendment with views presented on both sides.

West Ottawa Supt. Lloyd Van Raalte, emphasized to the crowd which nearly filled the 130 seat West Ottawa High School auditorium that it was a meeting to provide information and not to tell people how to vote. Opinions from the floor during the questioning of the speakers and debate were not allowed.

Supt. Mark Vander Ark of the Holland Christian schools spoke first giving his argument against the proposal. He pointed out that the Society for Christian Education of Holland Christian Schools, believing that the implications of the proposal go beyond the purpose of the proponents of the amendment and that they jeopardize education in general, passed a resolution proposing that all educational institutions make a thorough study of the issue. They resolved to oppose the amendment.

He expressed the fear that the proposal is a threat to the existence of non-public institutions, and that they would not be able to continue many of the now existing educational programs without parochial aid.

He labeled the claims that the proposal would not end certain services such as fire protection as "wishful thinking" since the only aid mentioned in the proposal is funds for transportation.

Vander Ark defended the benefits of cultural pluralism for the good of all and added that whether the proposal passes or not it has damaged public relations between schools already.

Ron Jensen, area supervisor for one of the prime backers of the anti-parochial amendment, the Michigan Education Association, then took his turn at the podium. He first clarified that opposition to aid to non-public schools did not indicate opposition to the existence of private schools or to any religious creed. He added that our system of government allows pluralism to flourish and that freedom of choice is the heart of the school system.

Are the public schools prepared to handle the influx of students should the proposal pass and some schools be forced to close down, was another question. Jensen first expressed confidence that the motivations of sacrifice on which non-public schools are built would not allow many to wash away.

The ability of the schools to absorb the students would vary, but he cited calculations made by school officials in Jackson that the cost of absorbing a 11 students now enrolled in the city's non-public schools would be less than the increased state aid that they would receive for the additional students.

A similar study in Lansing indicated that they could successfully absorb all non-public students within 18 months to 2 years.

Vander Ark rebutted that increased aid for those students would only mean more money out of the taxpayers' pockets.

Concerning special services and non-public schools, Vander Ark insisted that since only bus services is mentioned in the amendment it is the only service which is guaranteed.

Jensen said that it is a free public school system and that services and special programs would be available to all only they will be at the public schools. The transportation clause was included to insure that non-public school students could participate in these programs, he added.

Vander Ark complained about the inconvenience of traveling to another school for such programs and noted that the choice to attend a private school is defeated by having to go to the public schools for part of one's education.

Jensen was asked to explain his comment on spending tax money that comes from everyone on only a segment of the taxpayers. Jensen replied that all are public citizens and over and above that some have chosen to set themselves aside and that it is their responsibility to accommodate that choice.

With other questions still coming from the audience Superintendent Van Raalte closed the meeting for the sake of time. Both speakers remained for a short time while trying to answer questions on an individual basis after the session ended. During the course of the forum both had emphasized the concern that all voters give the issue their serious concern.

4-Car Crash Under Study

GRAND HAVEN—A four vehicle pileup along M-45 at 14th Ave., in Tallmadge Township Thursday at 8:06 a.m. in which four persons were injured remained under investigation today. Ottawa county sheriff's deputies said.

Vehicles involved were driven by Randall Fleming, 26, of Grand Rapids; David Berends, 24, of Coopersville; Roger Markle, 27, of Lamont; and Mary Jane Hinz, 21, of route 4, South Haven.

Deputies said earlier reports of a fifth vehicle involved in the mishap were incorrect. Fleming was treated for minor injuries. Berends was treated for chest injuries while his wife, Judy, 25, was treated for head lacerations and ankle injuries and Markle was treated for bumps and bruises. All were released.

Deputies gave this account of the mishap which occurred in heavy fog.

The Fleming car was northbound on 14th Ave. and stopped for a traffic sign before proceeding across M-45. The Berends car, eastbound on M-45, struck the Fleming car broadside. The Hinz vehicle, eastbound on M-45, struck the Berends auto in the left front fender and pulled off the roadway.

Deputies said the Markle car, eastbound on M-45, struck the Berends car in the left front and glanced into the rear of the Fleming car.

Motorcyclist Injured In Collision With Car

Donald J. Rosie, 19, of 3341 Fernwalk, Macatawa Park, was treated at Holland Hospital for cuts and bruises of the arms and legs and released following a collision Friday at 5:45 p.m. involving a car and the motorbike he was driving.

Ottawa county deputies said the car, driven south on Park Ave. by Rick Van Tongeren, 17, of 702 Park Ave., was struck in the right rear by Rosie who was heading east on South Shore Drive.

No Injuries In Crash Of Small Truck, Auto

ZEELAND — Henry Teune, 40, of 506 Huizinga St., was cited by police for disobeying a traffic signal after the 1970 model car he was driving and a pickup truck collided Tuesday at 4:20 p.m. at State St. and Main Ave.

The pickup truck, driven by James A. Vanden Heuvel, 21, of 2603 Port Sheldon St., Jenison, was northbound on State while Teune was heading west on Main. No injuries were reported.

The question, he said, was not one of pluralism but of separatism and how much of it society can tolerate. Although non-public schools are required to have certified teachers and to offer an education comparable to that of the public school system they are not often asked to prove it. They receive public funds but are not always made accountable for them.

He affirmed that one should be free to choose but having made the choice he should accept the responsibility that it entails. The schools should be able to manage on their own if they are not a part of the public system.

While the public schools are a melting pot for all of the nation's pluralities, he said, it is feared that the rich and upper middle class would be the burgeoning element of private schools as they become easier to support.

The framers of the amendment have made it clear that it deals only with one section of the constitution he stated. Special services and rights of schools and students are protected elsewhere in the constitution. Auxiliary services would continue should the measure pass only they would be conducted on public property.

Following their presentations, Vander Ark and Jensen responded to questions from the floor. Queried about the number of requests to open private schools and any relationship that might have to the issue, Jensen answered that a synopsis he had seen showed that previous to the passage of aid to non-public schools there was an average of one request per month. Beginning three or four months ago they increased so that today the rate is one request a day.

In response Vander Ark said that he doubts that many of those schools would ever materialize due to the difficulties involved. Aside from that he called the proliferation argument "inconsistent" with American standards, and asserted that the existing schools should not be blamed.

The question was posed to Jensen if the legislature had considered taxation of all church property first and then the granting of aid. He replied that the United States Constitution protects the churches from that measure at present.

United Fund Strains To Reach Goal

The Greater Holland United Fund today edged to within six percent of the goal as campaign workers reported last minute contributions.

Campaign chairman Roger MacLeod said today $182,000 has been reported, putting contributions at 94 percent of the $195,693 goal.

MacLeod urged residents who have not yet given to the United Fund to send their contributions to the campaign office at 35 West Eighth St.

MacLeod said contributions were still being received at the office and that with a little extra effort the goal could be reached. The fund lacks about $13,000 of the goal.

The campaign is being continued to afford residents an opportunity to give if they have not already done so. MacLeod said.

The United Fund helps support the work of health and welfare agencies in Holland, the state and nation. One such organization is the Holland-Zeeland Family YMCA in which 18,421 persons have taken part in 40 different programs. One of the larger programs is Rocket Football with 600 boys taking part.

2 Injured In By-Pass Crash

The second auto was driven by Don Currie, of Hickory Hills, Mich. Neither he nor a passenger, Julie Ann Schvetz, 21, a Hope college student, was injured.

Planning Budget Cut In County

GRAND HAVEN — The Ottawa County Board of Commissioners again delved into its study of the 1971 budget Tuesday and passed two controversial parts of the budget, the planning committee section and the sheriff's budget.

The planning committee, center of attacks in recent months on the board, had its budget slashed in recent month on the board, had its budget slashed for 1971 from the amount recommended by the ways and means committee, $43,000, down to $15,500. Cut out of the appropriation were two major amounts, $20,000 for county studies and consultants, and $7,500, the estimated cost of a pre-feasibility study of solid waste to be conducted by the West Michigan Shore Line regional planning commission.

Much time was spent, while the board sat as a committee studying the budget item by item, in discussing the work of the county planning commission and the West Michigan Shore line planning commission. Ottawa, Muske

Rotman-Slag Nuptials Read in North Holland

Joan Eileen Slag, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Slag, 124th Ave., became the bride of Melvin Jon Rotman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Rotman of Allendale in a fall evening ceremony Friday in North Holland Reformed Church.

The Rev. Tunis Miersma performed the ceremony with the Rev. Wendell Babcock as organist, Marve Steketee as soloist and David Shanley as trumpet.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length bouffant gown of chancilly lace. The lace bodice and tapered sleeves enhanced the fitted waistline and sabrina neckline. Her floor-length mantilla was edged with matching lace. She carried a sheath bouquet of stephanotis centered with a white orchid and lace trim.

The Rev. John M. Hains entertained with two solo numbers accompanied by Mrs. C. Karsten.

Chairmen for the banquet were Kelly Yntema and Alvin Johnson.

Guest speaker Ray Monsalvatge gave an engaging address on "Uncorking Your Hidden Talents." Monsalvatge, who says his own life is the source of what he preaches, maintains that everyone can get what he wants if he is willing to pay the price.

"Most people are like icebergs," he said. "Most of their talents are hidden."

Monsalvatge demonstrated by his own example of earning his fortune at an early age, teaching himself Spanish and French, and learning to memorize, how one person can put his talents to work to get what he wants.

His lecture was interspersed with a number of card tricks and feats of memorization to illustrate the points in his address.

The evening program began with the singing of the "Star Spangled Banner" and it concluded with "God Bless America."

Toastmaster John F. De Vries introduced the guests and the Rev. Harry G. Arnold who gave the invocation. Presentation of a service award was made to President De Vries by Chris Den Herder, vice president.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a floor-length, Victorian style gown of white silk organza over taffeta with lace accenting the long sleeves, high neckline and chapel-length train. Her headpiece was a floral tiara with silk illusion and she carried a cascade of mums.

Her maid of honor, Miss Linda Nyboer and bridesmaids, Mrs. Lloyd Folkert, the groom's sister, and Mrs. Ron Prins, the groom's sister-in-law, wore identically styled gowns of brown silk organza over taffeta having long bishop sleeves, and high rise waistlines with winter lace trimming.

Proposal C, Highlighted At Candidates' Meeting

Although many political subjects were discussed, Proposal C, the anti-Parochial amendment in the Nov. 3 election, was the recurring note and received the most attention at a public meeting for legislative candidates Monday night in Herrick Public Library, sponsored by the League of Women Voters and the Holland branch of the American Association for University Women. About 70 persons attended.

All three Republican incumbents, Sen. Gary Byker and Reps. James Farnsworth and Melvin De Stigter, favored a "no" vote in varying degrees. Earl Curry, Democratic opponent of De Stigter, and Chester Harmsen, Democratic opponent of Sen. Byker, favored a "yes" vote and James Bruins of West Olive, the American Independent party candidate in the 95th district, favored a "no" vote. Jack Martin, Democratic candidate in the 55th district, was not present.

Mrs. Jerome Counihan, Voters League president, presided and Mrs. William G. Winter Jr. served as moderator. Mrs. Paul de Kruij who arranged the meeting and prepared local voter guides, also was introduced.

The incumbents provided information on legislative functions. Farnsworth mentioned that the state had an annual budget of $550 million when he was first elected eight years ago and now has $1,750 million. "New programs are outstripping revenues, and tax increases will follow," he said. He spoke of aid to senior citizens, growing education needs and new medical and dental schools.

De Stigter said education is the backbone of the money problems in Michigan and said "if you gave a $200 million increase to education today, they would be back asking for double next year." Byker was of the opinion that this side of the state has been shortchanged for 10 years.

On the 18-year vote, most appeared willing to try for a 19-year vote in case the measure did not pass. There was considerable discussion on voter apathy with plaudits that the Holland area is much better than most.

Harmsen suggested 18-year-olds might get their parents out to the polls. De Stigter said he had been polling people on registration and found only one in 10 was registered among the 11-25 year vote. Byker, who had favored an amendment on a 20-year vote was concerned over the vulnerability of the 18-year-olds to the emotional appeal of, say Jerry Rubin.

Curry favored all three proposals, particularly Proposal A on $100 million bonds for housing. Farnsworth opposed this proposal on the grounds that Michigan already has a $300 million program going for such construction.

Those favoring Proposal C expressed concern over the vast number of "interpretations" given, plus the fact that the proposal is stated "negatively" and could lead many voters to vote "no" when they have an honest concern over separation of church and state, as well as the intricacies of the Parochial program. De Stigter put up the strongest case on a "no" vote.

No mention was made of the liquor-by-the-glass proposition which faces Holland city voters.

Sunday School Lesson

Sunday, Nov. 1
Living in Christian Fellowship
Galatians 6:1-10
By C. P. Dame

The Christian church has always had and faced problems. In the early church, members fell into sin and had to be restored again. Today the same happens. This lesson teaches us that spirituality and fellowship go together.

1. The Christian church is a brotherhood. The lesson text is taken from the letter Paul sent to the churches in Galatia. Most of the members had come from a pagan background and hence were tempted to yield to their former pagan ways. "Brethren, if a man be overtaken in a fault"—what then? The word "brethren" implies a relationship and a responsibility.

Christians are members of God's redeemed household, the church; they are linked together by spiritual ties. Sometimes when a Christian falls into sin he is denounced, criticized and shunned. The better way is to restore the fallen individual. This is a task for the spiritual-minded, those who walk by the Spirit. The wayward member needed help so that he might not fall again into the same or in another sin.

This ministry of restoring a fallen brother should be done "in the spirit of meekness, considering thyself, lest thou also be tempted." Church members can be rude; spirituality produces gentleness and brotherly concern. The person who tries to help a fallen member does well to remember that he too may fall. When compassion prevails in a congregation then members bear each other's burdens and thus fulfill the law of Christ. Note the warning against pride. "For if a man think himself to be something, when he is nothing, he deceiveth himself."

Observe that Paul says that we should bear the burdens of others in verse 2, and in verse 5 he says that every man shall bear his own burden. Sometimes we should help others but there are also responsibilities which are personal which the individual must assume.

II. We sow and we reap. What we sow we eventually reap — this law still operates. The person who sows according to the flesh "shall of the flesh reap corruption; but he that soweth to the Spirit shall of the Spirit reap life everlasting." Those who today sow violence and lawlessness will reap a harvest. Today many needs prevail. We may get tired of hearing about them and of responding to them but it is Christian to keep on giving knowing that we shall reap. Christians should do good to all men everywhere but they should particularly minister to those "who are of the household of faith"—namely fellow believers. Helping the neighbors is fine but not at the expense of the members of our own family. Fellowship should express itself in service.

Sen. Tower Accompanies Mrs. Romney to Holland

About 300 persons gathered in Dimment Memorial Chapel on Hope College campus Tuesday afternoon for a talk by U.S. Sen. John Tower of Texas who accompanied Lenore Romney on a day-long campaign swing of Michigan. Mrs. Romney is Republican candidate for U.S. senator in the Nov. 3 election.

Sen. John Tower

Sen. Tower defined a conservative as aiming for maximum individual liberty, freedom of choice and maintaining the free enterprise system, yet one who must have bold and innovative ideas to solve problems of today.

"No longer can government leaders toss wads of money at the problem and expect it to go away," he said. He spoke of criticism of government action in cutting back the space program and said if all such funds were diverted to fight poverty, only a slight dent would result. He said private sectors of the economy, business, industry and the like, should develop more programs like low income housing, job training, etc.

But he cautioned at too much government cutback... projected population figures point to a situation in which resources on this planet may not be sufficient, and the government is the only agency which can explore space and probe the depths of the ocean on the scale needed. He added that national defense is a secondary priority and must remain technically superior, qualitatively and quantitatively... that military inferiority would eventually spell economic inferiority.

Sen. Tower also spoke of the need of greater respect for the law, adding that every worthwhile reform has been through orderly legislation or recourse. He lashed at organized crime and drug abuse, and cautioned his listeners not to take that first drug or smoke that first joint.

During the question period, Mrs. Romney was asked her stand on Proposal C, the anti-parochialism amendment. She said she believes in the separation of church and state but favors certain services for all people. She is opposed to the amendment because it is not properly worded and the attorney general gives a strict interpretation. "We must await the verdict of the Supreme Court and we need guidelines on its constitutionality," she said.

As for the Vice President, Tower said, "I do not concur with everything Spiro Agnew says (applause) but I do concur with 90 per cent of what he says (more applause). Spiro Agnew is very popular in some parts of our country."

Jack Holmes, chairman of the political science department at Hope College, presided. From Holland, Mrs. Romney and Sen. Tower went to Grand Rapids.

Mrs. Norman Vincent Peale... committee chairman lege against his own high ideals of excellence, tuned to needed changes in the governance, curriculum and relationship with the public Hope College serves.

"His leadership accomplished significant changes directed to his high objectives and dreams for Hope College.

"The perspective of history, with objectivity, will evaluate, as it has in Hope's illustrious history, the record of Dr. Calvin A. Vander Werf, eighth president of Hope College.

"President Vander Werf's administration in great measure was inspired by the devotion of his wife, Rachel, and their children. It is appropriate then, that the Board in saluting Dr. Cal give testimony as well to the great contributions of Rachel.

"We wish the Vander Werf team and the children rich blessings and happiness with new horizons for service."

The trustees elected Dr. John the college's English department, and Dr. Arthur H. Jentz, Jr., associated professor of philosophy, as the first faculty representatives to the board of trustees.

World Will Have Enough Food, Chamber Is Told

"By the year 2000, we expect there will be 7 billion people in the world and we're going to have enough food to feed them!"

That was the statement of Dr. Sylvan H. Wittwer, professor of horticulture, assistant dean of agriculture and director of the agricultural station at Michigan State University, in an address at the annual dinner meeting of Holland Chamber of Commerce Thursday night in Holland Christian High School.

In a slide presentation titled "Meeting the Challenge of Food Production," Dr. Wittwer said new strains developed in cereals in recent years have more than doubled the yield.

He listed rice as the world's No. 1 crop, wheat second, corn third (more grown in the United States than all other parts of the world), grain sorghum and potatoes tied for fourth, followed by beans and legumes and sugar beets.

He spoke of the advance of hybrids, particularly in corn production, but said it had taken 39 years to reach the peak, whereas the same work in hybrids for legumes has taken only nine years.

He spoke of great development in dwarf fruit trees, improvements in onion and carrot crops, the blessings of irrigation and new plastic greenhouses where crops are produced year round thriving in some cases on only 1 per cent of normal moisture.

"There are a billion acres on earth of desert and all it needs is water to produce good crops. We are working on atomic fusion for desalinization of sea water for agricultural purposes," he said.

Then he pointed to vast strides in mechanization. The harvesters for wheat, corn, cotton and sugar beets, the new machines for picking blueberries and cherries (three men replacing 300) and such perishables as lettuce and tomatoes. And he pointed to the "new design" in farm animals, the preference for lean and slender cattle and hogs, and the egg factories with smaller hens producing more eggs and broilers ready for market in 50 days instead of 90 in 1946.

He said DDT has proved to be the safest, most economical, most effective insecticide ever conceived by man, but he said the side effects are in question. He pointed, too, to abuses in the environment and spoke of the need of curbing pollution in the air, water and land, and the possibilities of recycling resources. He was not too concerned with overpopulation since man is increasing 2 per cent a year and food production is increasing 3 per cent a year.

He said there is more food in the world per person per day than ever before and the problem is to get the food where the people are. He said the United States has more surplus than ever before ($7 million acres not in production) and even in India where famine threatened a few years ago, the crop yield is so improved that some areas are close to having a surplus.

Appearing often in his slides on experimental work in the U.S. and Mexico, was Dr. Norman Ernest Borlaug, and Iowa-born farmer - scientist, who was awarded the Nobel Peace Prize this week for developing new types of wheat.

Edward Goebel, a retired General Motors executive who recently moved to Holland, was toastmaster. The Chamber's executive vice president, Roscoe Giles, recognized retiring directors, Mike Gentile, Dr. George Smit, Richard Ruck, Robert Sligh and Guy E. Bell, and read a letter from James Bradburn who resigned as Chamber president when he moved to Oak Ridge, Tenn.

Warren Willard, new president, spoke briefly on Holland's tourist attractions and business opportunities. A resident here for seven years, he said the most important thing in any city is its people, and he has found the local people to be the most congenial anywhere.

Similar thoughts were expressed by Toastmaster Goebel, a newcomer who "chose" to live in Holland after looking at many communities — population under 50,000 near Lake Michigan (and his grandchildren), a progressive yet conservative town, cultural blessings such as Hope College, and a town with an active interest in the future.

The invocation was given by Capt. William Spyker of the Salvation Army. U.S. Rep. Guy Vander Jagt also brought greetings.

Matchinsky Throws Two TD Passes

Tim Matchinsky and Jim Lorence teamed up to lead Holland High's football team to an exciting 14-8 homecoming win over a determined Muskegon Heights club Friday night at Riverview Park before 2,500 fans.

The 6' 170-pound Matchinsky enjoyed his finest hour as quarterback as he passed for both Holland scores and hit on 11 of 19 passes for 115 yards.

Lorence, who also plays basketball for the Dutch, hauled in both TD passes from Matchinsky with the last one, which turned out to be the winner, on the brilliant side as he was falling down while running at full speed to snag Matchinsky's aerial.

In the first half, it looked like Holland was going to give the game away as they were in good position to notch two touchdowns but outside penalties were called and Holland wasn't able to penetrate against the fired up Tigers.

"The Tigers have to be one of the finest 1-4 teams in the state, and I said all week that we had our work cut out, maybe now someone will believe us," Coach Dave Kempker said.

He added, "Heights has one of the best teams that we have faced since I have been here and I'm just glad that we don't have to play them next year."

Anytime you win you have to be happy and Kempker was just that as he added, "Matchinsky did a fine job passing for us tonight and our whole defensive team was real tough. I'm just glad that we had enough to beat this fine club."

For a while it looked like Holland was going to run the Tigers right out of Riverview Park as a face mask penalty early in the game put the ball on the Tigers' 25-yard line where Matchinsky scampered to the seven only to be hit by the first of six five yard penalties by Holland in the first half which eventually killed the drive.

A 34-yard pass from Matchinsky to end Steve Ver Beek was called back because of another penalty as Kempker and Ray Backus were racing up and down the sidelines in an effort to get his team to cut down on the offside miscues. Ver Beek would have been on the one yard line of the Heights.

The Dutch defense led by Rick Van Tongeren, Dave Yskes, Steve Hibma, Bill Wolters and Doug Morse was at its best in the first half as they didn't allow the Tigers to pick up any first downs and their longest run from scrimmage was only six yards.

Heights marched 74-yards in five plays for its only score of the game at the outset of the third stanza with Kirt Johnson's 54-yard dash setting up the touchdown as the ball moved to the Holland 20.

Quarterback Ed Hardy eventually scored from the seven on a keeper play as the Tigers took a surprising 6-0 lead and increased it to 8-0 as Hardy ran in the conversion.

Randy Kuipers returned the ensuing kickoff to the 37 where the Dutch marched downfield on the passing of Matchinsky and the receiving of Bill Wood who was carrying two and three defenders on his back for long yardage at times.

Wood finished the night by grabbing off five passes for 48 yards while Kuipers snagged four for 30 yards.

Matchinsky's apparent touchdown run from the 16 was called back because of another Holland infraction which turned out to be a clipping penalty.

The Dutch weren't to be denied as Matchinsky hit Lorence for his first TD pass reception from the 17 on a fourth and 11

Hope Wins Homecoming Tilt, 42-14

Greg Voss, Hope College's brilliant running back broke the MIAA single season rushing mark here Saturday as he led the Flying Dutchmen to a stunning 42-14 Homecoming football victory over Albion before 3,500 fans at Riverview Park.

Voss gained 151 yards in 36 carries to push his season total to 674 yards in four league games. Mary Raab of Alma set the former record in 1955 of 672 yards in six games. Voss has two more games to improve on his mark.

Hope's victory ties them for first place in the league with Alma with identical 3-1 marks while Albion slips a half game back with Adrian with 2-1 records. The Bulldogs dropped their first conference tilt of the season to Alma, 30-7 Saturday to throw the race into a see-saw affair.

A jubilant Coach Ray Smith said after the contest, "that Voss was something else but the whole offensive and defensive team played their best overall game of the season to-day and I'm just proud of all of them."

Voss scored Hope's first touchdown with 10:39 left in the opening period by cracking over from the five behind some fine blocking of center Chris Hahn; guards Pete Semeyn and Jeff Winne; and tackles Gerald Swierenga and Bart Merkle. The Dutchmen drove 54 yards in seven plays for their first score. Mike Hinga kicked the first of his seven straight extra points to give Hope a 7-0 bulge.

Ted Rycenga, Hope's rugged middle guard, came up with a big play on the following series as he stopped a Albion gamble short of a first down on the Britons 35-yard stripe.

Voss proved that he could catch the pigskin besides run it as he snagged Groy Kaper's aerial on the 14 of Albion to give the Dutchmen a first down.

Another of Smith's pony running backs, Walt Ellis of Franklin Lakes, N. J., carried the ball nine yards to the five and two plays later Voss added his second tally on a one-yard dive. Hinga's kick made it 14-0 as the large partisan crowd went wild.

Jim Lamer, one of the finest offensive and defensive ends in the MIAA grabbed Kaper's five yard pass for another Hope score early in the second quarter as the Dutchmen who were getting good field position went 42 yards in nine plays for the touchdown.

Bill Parker put Albion on the board as he grabbed a 15-yard desperation pass from quarterback Chris Rundle to cut the deficit to 21-6. Craig Rundle kicked the conversion late in the second quarter.

With the Dutchmen holding a 21-7 advantage at the halftime, the Hope College marching band put on quite an entertaining show at the intermission.

Doug Smith made a fine return of a punt to the Britons 35-yard line as Hope was about to notch its fourth TD early in the fourth stanza.

A 13-yard pass from Kaper to freshman end Mark Meyer of Fremont put the ball on the 22 and a pass interference play on Meyer brought the ball to the six as the Dutchmen were about to score again in this one-sided contest.

Bob Lamer, freshman back from Zeeland scored his first of two touchdowns on a one-yard plunge to up the score to 28-7 after Hinga's kick.

Kaper, who had a fine day for Hope hit on 12 of 18 attempts for 158-yards, was replaced at quarterback by Jon Constant of Grand Haven early in the fourth quarter and the former Buc flash tallied on a three yard run around right end on a keeper play to put the Dutchmen up by a surprising 35-7 score.

Mike Walters scored for Albion on a 10-yard pass from Rundle as the Britons went to the air late in the game to cut the deficit to 35-14.

B. Lamer added his second and Hope's final TD shortly after to the delight of the homecoming crowd as he ran two yards for the score. Hinga's kick closed out the scoring at 42-14.

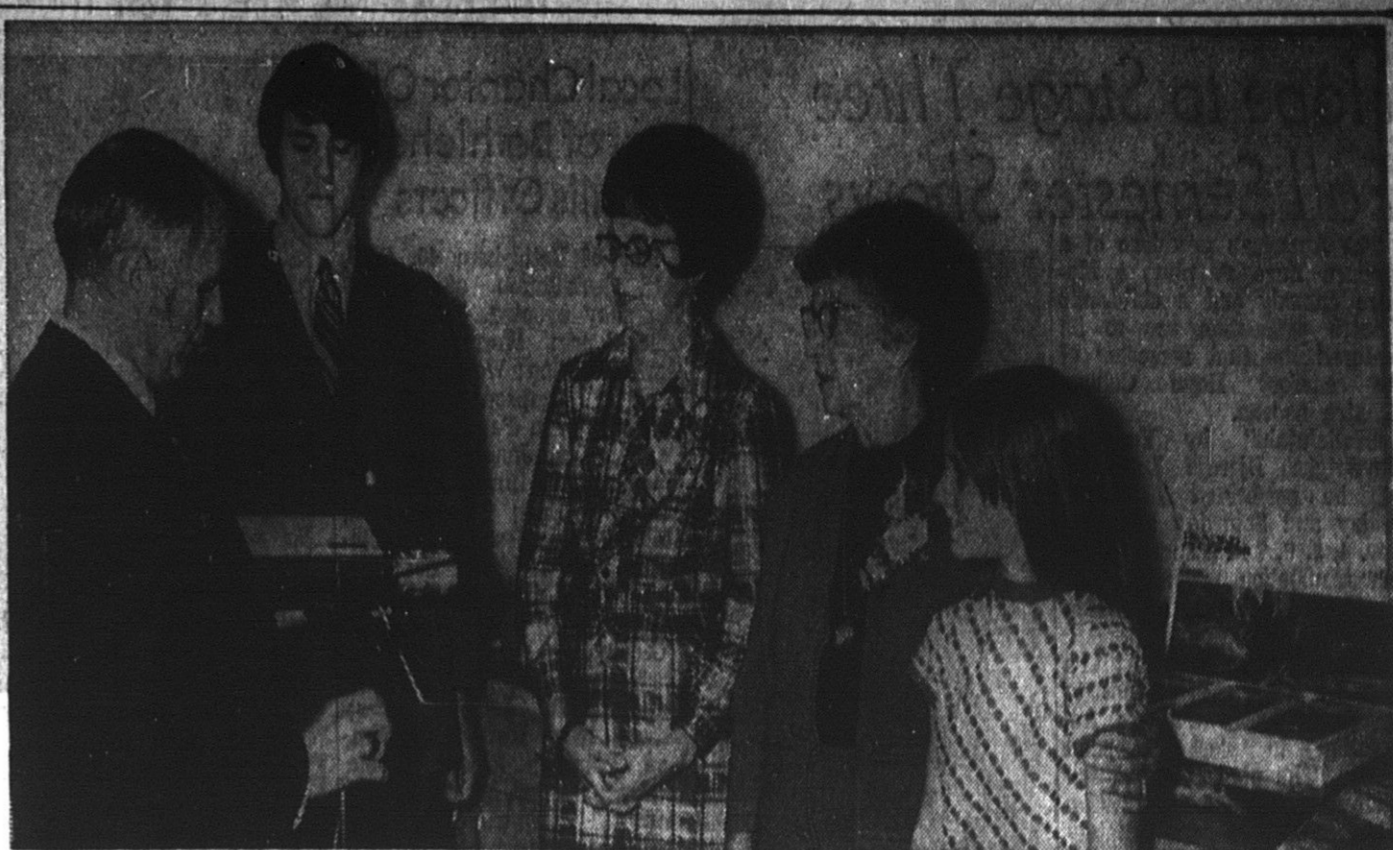

Hope's defensive team of ends Ted Albrecht and J. Lamer; tackles big Dave Gosselar and Ron Posthuma and middle guard Rycenga were just fantastic as they with the rest of the unit stopped Albion cold. As one fan put it, "Albion was never in the game" and that statement couldn't have been more true as Hope dominated all phases of the important clash which was the sixth straight homecoming win for the Dutchmen and gave them a 4-3 overall mark compared to a 2-5 record for Albion.

The Dutchmen travel to Adrian for another important tilt Saturday.

Hope to Stage Three Fall Semester Shows

The American premiere of a modern Yugoslav play, a Moliere comedy and a children's theatre production are to be featured the first semester of the current Hope College Theatre season.

"Hallelujah," by Yugoslav playwright Djordje Lebovich, will be performed Thursday, Friday and Saturday and also Nov. 4, 5, 6, 7 in a special English translation prepared for the Hope production by Nikola Koljevic.

Koljevic is on campus this year as visiting consultant to the Great Lakes Colleges Association in East European studies. The play concerns the attempts of six ex-concentration camp prisoners immediately after World War II to face the world outside.

The second major production of the season, to be presented the first two weeks in Dec., will be "The Bourgeois Gentleman" by the French 17th century comic dramatist, Moliere.

Universally regarded as one of the true masters of comedy, Moliere employs this play not only as a vehicle for his customary satirical thrusts at the pretenses of society, but also as the occasion for some of his greatest moments of farce.

Theatre major Nancy Meeusen of Zeeland, will direct a stage adaption of A. A. Milne's children's classic "Winnie-the-Pooh."

The show will be performed on campus Nov. 13 and 14, and will be taken on tour to grade schools in the Holland-Zeeland-West Ottawa area.

Nikola Koljevic

The opening weekend performances of "Hallelujah" will coincide with a Great Lakes Colleges Association Yugoslav Conference held on Hope's campus. The play is also being produced as part of the third annual American College Theatre Festival.

John Tammi of the theatre faculty will direct "Hallelujah," and Donald Finn "The Bourgeois Gentleman." Michael Grindstaff, newly appointed technical director of the theater, will design both productions. Theatre student Richard Patmos of Hudsonville will design the lighting for "Winnie-the-Pooh."

Exchange Club Hears Educator

Dr. James Barker addressed their bi-weekly meeting which was held in the Blue Room of the Warm Friend Hotel. His subject was Special Education. He briefly sketched the special education movement which had its conception with the founding of the Michigan School for the Deaf.

He summarized the provisions made for the education of the trainable, the educable, those with physical handicaps, the orthopedic children, the deaf and the hard of hearing, the blind and the emotionally disturbed child. In his discussion of each group he gave the characteristics that distinguished them from the normal child. Dr. Barker implied that even though we are furnishing education for these children, our goals have not been reached.

He mentioned the strong dissatisfaction with what was being done for these children by the parents. This led to the enactment of special legislation which gave the counties authority to ask the voters if they would be willing to tax themselves to establish programs for special education. In 1962 the Ottawa County voters approved millage for special education. A second approval was given later for increased millage.

A school for the trainable child is to be established in Allendale in the near future, which will serve all of Ottawa County. Dr. Barker expressed his opinion that until schools design educational programs that will be beneficial for every child we have not attained the heights of true education.

Hart Informed Of Lighthouse Developments

WASHINGTON — U. S. Sen. Philip A. Hart (D-Mich.) has received a communication from Vice Admiral T. R. Sargent of the U. S. Coast Guard clarifying changes at the old Macatawa lighthouse at Holland, Mich.

"While the use of the light structure will be discontinued, the safety features it provides the mariner are included in our plans for improvement of aids to navigation marking the entrance to Holland Harbor. The light and sound characteristics now displayed in increased intensity by the north breakwater light, thereby marking the outermost obstruction encountered by the mariner with the major aid to navigation in the area.

"The new light will have an intensity of approximately 15,000 candlepower, an increase of 10,000 candlepower over the existing major light. A minor light will then be established on a 25-foot high single pole structure in the general vicinity of the south pierhead light. This change includes the installation of modern equipment, and represents a general improvement of aids to navigation in the Holland area.

"In keeping with our policy of informing interested parties of proposed major changes in aids to navigation, maritime interests in the area have been advised of the change and have indicated their concurrence. While it is not planned to hold a public hearing on the matter, comments from groups or individuals concerned with the safety of the mariner would be welcome.

"Mr. Ralph MacMullan, director of Conservation in Lansing, has been advised of our plans and of the ability of the structure to the state of Michigan for preservation as a historic site. Additionally, Mr. MacMullan was informed of the concern being shown by residents of the area in maintaining the lighthouse for its value as a landmark and a historical site. To date, no reply has been received from Mr. MacMullan."

DeWitt Heads Zeeland Drive

Jack DeWitt, chairman of the board of the Big Dutchman division of U. S. Industries, will head the 1970 Hope College community campaign in Zeeland.

The campaign will be launched Nov. 5 at a kick-off breakfast in Phelps Hall on the Hope campus.

The drive is part of a concerted effort of leading businessmen and industrialists in western Michigan to raise $100,000 to support the capital development and special educational programs of the college.

DeWitt indicated that part of his willingness to accept this responsibility is the deep belief which he possesses in Christian higher education and the necessity to maintain a dual system of public and private education in America.

Dr. William Vander Lugt, chancellor of Hope College, noted that the college community has maintained over the years an especially warm relationship with Zeeland. Two of the largest gifts in the history of Hope College have come from residents of Zeeland—the gift of John Van Zoeren of the Van Zoeren Library in 1961 and the gift of Jack and Richard De Witt for the new cultural center which will be completed in 1971.
