Hope Host Asian Studies Workshop

Hope College was host to elementary and secondary teachers from over 20 western Michigan school systems, Nov. 1, for a workshop on Asian studies in education, with presentations about Japan, at Marigold Lodge, the college's conference center.

Prof. David Clark of the Hope History department began the conference with a description of modern institutions in Japan that continue traditional social patterns which he considers a unique lesson in the blending of traditional and the new, rather than conflict, in Japan's modernization.

Three sectional workshops included one on Japanese-Americans with Miss Connie Hayashi and Steve Suzuki recounting their own search for identity as Nisei and reacting to sample teaching units on Japanese-Americans.

Another section introduced teachers to a variety of methods for presenting the contrasts between Japanese and American family life with art and literature the subject of the third sectional workshop.

The conference was co-sponsored by the University of Michigan Project on Asian Studies in Education in conjunction with the East Asian Center of the Great Lakes Colleges Association's East Asian Center and Hope College.

Professors Clark and Harold Bakker coordinated preparations for the conference which culminated three days of events that include teams from the University of Michigan making presentations in area schools and a Japan Night in DeWitt Cultural Center.

Workman Falls From Building

Hot Tar Spills Over Roofer in 27-Foot Plunge to Pavement

A workman plunged 27 feet from the roof of a building under construction Friday at 1:43 p.m. and was covered with hot tar from a tar buggy that fell with him.

Treated in Holland Hospital and transferred to the burn unit of the University Hospital at Ann Arbor was Earle Nies, 44, of 970 Lincoln Ave. Hospital officials in Holland said Nies suffered multiple fractures and third degree burns over much of his body. He was said in "critical" condition.

Holland police said Nies, employed by Holland Ready Roofing, was working on the roof of a new building under construction at AFCO Industries, 615 East 40th St. and apparently stepped off the roof edge.

He fell with the hot tar buggy to a paved parking lot 27 feet below and fractured his ankles and wrists.

Police said his tar-soaked clothing had to be cut from his body before the molten tar began to harden.

Park Vote Split on Two Propositions

Park Township voters approved the police protection proposition by a vote of 1,350 yes to 1,099 no and rejected the drainage proposition with a 1,452 no and 937 yes vote in Tuesday's election.

Millage will be increased by 1/4 mill for the purpose of providing funds for police protection, including wages for police officers, equipment, training, or the providing of police protection through contracts with other governmental agencies.

Voters defeated the 1/2 mill assessment which would have provided funds for the acquisition, construction, improvement and maintenance of drains and other ground water control devices.

All officers ran unopposed in Park Township including Jay Van Wieren who received 2,004 votes for supervisor, Clarence Maatman, 1,995 for clerk, Coraly N. Haan, 1,996 for treasurer, Warner De Leeuw, 1,924 and Gene Gort, 1,932 for trustees and Arnie De Feyter, 1,956 and Wayne Larsen, 1,920 for constables.

All of the candidates except Gort were incumbents. Out of 4,324 registered voters in Park Township, 2,868 cast their ballots in Tuesday's election.

Police Begin Computer Study Plan

A task force of Holland police personnel, guided by a team from the Criminal Justice Institute, has begun a study of the department's operations as the first phase in implementing a computer system for department records.

The Standard Police Automated Resource Management Information System (SPARMIS), funded by a $100,000 grant, is designed to be operational by the end of 1975 and would be tailored to fit the needs and requirements of the local police department.

City Council authorized $5,000 earlier this month as the city's share of the grant.

The local task force will study functions of each department to determine necessary report forms and the information contained on them.

The system will change the method in which officers complete their reports. They will dictate the information using predetermined forms and codes into tape recorders from which secretaries will transcribe into computer language. The system will eliminate the need for officers to type their reports.

Supervisors will be able to learn daily the status of investigations and determine which investigations could use more attention.

The system would use the city's computer and would be tied into a state network to transmit colored photographs and fingerprints into a central identification bank.

Holland is one of the smallest departments being reeled for the SPARMIS concept. It is operational in five larger departments in the state and under development in five other areas including Holland.

Mike Featherstone, one of the Criminal Justice Institute team members working with the Holland police, said Holland was chosen because it is a progressive department and has good personnel and records already being kept by the department could easily be converted for computer uses.

"We want the system to work in a smaller department and is a good example of where the Holland is a good example of where the program can be successful," Featherstone said. When completed the system will provide a number of reports of concern to management personnel as well as the patrol officers. All are designed to provide more efficient investigations, more arrests and more convictions.

Early Birds Hear Address On Inflation

Dr. Douglas Heerema, professor of economics at Hope College, spoke of the great degree of concern and alarm over inflation Tuesday at the monthly Chamber of Commerce Early Bird breakfast in Warm Friend Motor Inn.

But he could give no real answers for a solution.

In his opinion, government deficit spending is the real culprit, but however honest a candidate may be in cutting spending, once in office he finds he must continue existing programs which usually end up being financed by deficit spending. This comes about by the public wanting services which the government implements but is reluctant to pay for.

Heerema said inflation began in 1960 with the Vietnam war and the Great Society programs, financed through deficit spending. He said Nixon sought to slow the spending through impounding funds for some programs which in turn led too fast to wage and price controls. "We elect good people to government posts, and they end up not voting their own consciences but reflecting the thinking of the people back home," he said.

In the overall view of inflation, Heerema felt that the stock market is the best hedge against inflation, and he believes the market is down not because of inflation but because of such other factors as fear of government controls and regulations. Regulated prices historically produce higher prices, he said. And supply and demand remain the main factors in the economy.

He was firm in advising people to vote party, not individuals, because of the great control parties have in appointing positions. He said he was far more concerned about who is appointed to the Securities and Exchange Commission than in who is elected to an individual post.

Hope Given Mellon Grant Of $160,000

Hope College has received a $160,000 grant from the Andrew W. Mellon Foundation of New York over a four year period to strengthen the college's program and promote faculty growth.

The grant will be used to enlarge the scope and increase the stipends of the summer faculty grant program; provide a discretionary fund to strengthen the sabbatical leave program; provide funds to initiate cooperative faculty-student research projects; provide support for cooperative faculty studies such as visiting scholars programs and participation in consortia programs.

In announcing the grant, Hope president Dr. Gordon J. Van Wylen said a central ingredient in answering the question of how private colleges can provide a dynamic undergraduate program at reasonable cost to the quality of the faculty.

"A major challenge to Hope in the next five to ten years, as the enrollment and faculty remain stable, will be to keep our faculty intellectually vigorous, growing as scholars in their fields, creative in the exercise of their teaching craft, constantly adapting themselves to the changes that new knowledge and new societal needs impose on them, and yet pointing toward the broad and enduring goals of a liberal arts education," Van Wylen added.

The Mellon Foundation began in 1969 and is named for a Pittsburgh financier who served as the Secretary of the Treasury from 1921 to 1932.

Others in the cast include Linda Piers as Aunt Cora, Deb Morgan as Mary Skinner, Myron Trethewey as Rev. Dr. Lloyd, Len Hemwall as Dr. Humphreys, Peter Schaap as Dr. Somers, Bonnie Van Fleeren as Margaret the cook. Playing the maids whom father always frightens into quitting are Shirley Senters, as Annie, Mary-Jo Knoll as Delia, Sue McLeod as Nora and Tammy Douma as Maggie.

In trying to explain the immense popularity of "Life With Father," critics have suggested that perhaps the play's period — the late 1880s — has a strong nostalgic hold on most Americans. But a more accurate comment would have to acknowledge the play's mother-knows-best theme, long popular as a subject for television, but has seldom been handled with as much grace and charm, and as unforgettably as in "Life With Father."

Seminar On Coping With Death Is Held

"Most people become angry when faced with death," according to Dr. Kenneth Vander Woude, Holland psychologist, who spoke Oct. 25 at a seminar sponsored by the Ottawa County Community Mental Health Services.

"Anger is one of several stages which both the dying person and his loved ones go through. Recognizing these normal stages (denial, guilt, depression, and finally, acceptance) helps all of us better come to grips with the reality of death," he added.

Dr. Vander Woude teamed up with Martin Hollebeek, a Grand Rapids Funeral director, and Mrs. Dorothy Malchick, counseling psychologist at Community Mental Health Services, in a seminar for social workers, counselors, nursing home operators and other care-giving professionals in Holland.

Dr. Vander Woude said he tried to make up for their failings toward the dead person by a funeral beyond their means.

Mrs. Malchick believes the counselor's own feelings about death are very important: "We have to come to terms with our own losses, or we will shut out things which we don't want to hear, and those who need our help will feel ignored and rejected."

Van Raalte Group Of Questers Has Copper Program

The Christine Van Raalte Chapter of Questers met Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Maurice Rypstra in Grandville with 15 members present.

The program for the evening was given by Miss Marcia Jongsma, the guest speaker from Grandville, who used copper tea kettles as her topic.

Several of the members brought kettles which were studied as the speaker told the history of tea kettles. Some were found among the Indians in 1621 but were ignored until many mines were discovered in the East around 1700.

Later copper was shipped to England in slabs weighing 1,200 pounds before the U.S. learned how to roll copper sheets for the kettles. So most of the kettles were imported from England. Many were hand-hammered in this country.

Paul Revere embarked on the project of rolling copper. Among his record was one on "Old Ironsides" which was sheathed in copper.

Early in the 19th Century apprentices from 14 to 21 learned to make various articles from copper with the process to be kept secret. American teakettles were made differently from those in England. After 1850 the bottom shape was changed to fit in a cookstove.

Some kettles were dated and even signed. Drawings of many kettles were shown and studied.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Rypstra assisted by Mrs. John Bremer and Mrs. Peter Visser.

Holland's Record Is Now 3-5

By Leo Martonosi

ST. JOSEPH — Holland found out here Friday night that they could play with the big boys in their league next year as they gave champion St. Joseph all they wanted in the first half but still ended up on the short side of the football ledger, 27-0.

The underdog Dutch of Coach Ray Backus played inspired ball in the scoreless first half. Holland's defense was never better, as they stopped everything thrown at them by the Big 6 champion Bears. The Dutch enter loop competition next fall.

St. Joseph's only loss in eight outings to date was at the hands of the top rated Class B team in the state — Muskegon Catholic. But that didn't seem to faze the fired up Dutch, who put up a gallant fight before losing.

The Bears' talented tailback Mike Ryan, who ran wild against Holland last year, dashed 63 yards for the winners first touchdown in the third period. The score came on the first play from scrimmage after the second half kickoff.

Ryan did a nice job of running, as he shedded three would be Dutch tacklers in going the route. Mike Priebe kicked the first of three extra point conversions.

St. Joseph didn't actually earn its next three touchdowns, as Holland turned the ball over twice on pass interceptions and once on a fumble to set up Bear TDs.

Ryan did his thing again in the third stanza by scampering 14 yards for the score with 4:13 showing on the scoreboard.

The third Bear pass interception of a Todd De Young aerial and a Holland fumble set up TD runs of one and three yards in the final period.

Dennis Lawson's big foot was responsible for putting the Bears in poor field position in the first half. Lawson finished the evening by averaging over 40 yards a boot.

Ryan and the rest of his teammates were trying their best to run against the rugged defense spearheaded by Tom Ter Haar and Ross Nykamp but were not that successful. Holland's defense bent in the first 24 minutes but didn't break.

Backus couldn't have been prouder of his gridirers in the first half, even though he probably lost some more hair in the dying seconds.

With only one second left in the half, everyone in the park knew the Bears were going to pass with the ball on Holland's 4-yard line and it didn't seem possible that St. Joe could score but they almost did, as Kevin Collins hauled in a bomb on the 10-yard line and was knocked out of bounds on the two by Ross Nykamp as time expired.

Holland moved the ball rather well in the first half but was held to only one first down in the second half and lost quite a bit of their ground yardage in trying to pass.

Joe Serrano was pressed into action for the first time at quarterback late in the tilt, as De Young was shaken up. Sophomore tailback John Hosta was also given an opportunity to run with the ball in his varsity debut.

The Dutch, now 3-5, will close their season against another tough cookie in Mona Shores at Muskegon next Friday.

UNICEF Collection Tops Last Year With $2,502.99

Several hundred young people from Holland area churches, with their leaders, rang doorbells and presented the official collection boxes for the Trick or Treat for UNICEF program to Holland residents on Tuesday evening, and received $2,502.99, topping last year's offering.

Persons not called on who still wish to participate may send their contributions to First United Methodist, Hope Reformed, or Third Reformed Churches, or may place them in their own church offering plates.

Holland's offering will help in UNICEF's program to help the starving children in developing countries not only by providing food, but in helping these countries to develop their own resources.

Panthers Have Never Beaten Foe

By Roger Kuiken

GRANDVILLE — It's been said that a tie game is like "kissing your sister" but taking into consideration the mistakes that West Ottawa made, it was fortunate the Panthers got out of town Friday with a 14-14 tie with Grandville.

The Bulldogs, who have never lost to West Ottawa, put a damper on the Panthers usual fine running game and took advantage of a couple mistakes and turned them into touchdowns.

It was evident that Grandville was keying on Scott Tubergan's running so the best yardage was gained when the Panthers opened it up via the airways. It started early in the first period when quarterback Jack Murdock hit Ken Hamstra on a sensational 70-yard pass play to give West Ottawa an early lead. Hamstra gathered the ball in and ran nicely all the way to the end zone, where Sam Angell split the uprisings to put the Panthers out front, 7-0.

Grandville then moved the ball down to West Ottawa's 15 but after Hamstra decked the quarterback for a 10-yard loss, Matt Johnson stopped the drive on an interception. This was only one of the many times that the rugged Panther defense stopped sustained drives by the Bulldogs.

In the second period the Panthers were rolling along on some pass plays to Hamstra and a nice run by Joe Doornewerf when a pitch-out was fumbled. Doug Noordhoek picked it out of the air and ran 43 yards for a TD. The extra point try was no good so the Panthers still held a 7-6 lead.

The Panthers then held a punt blocked giving Grandville the ball on the one-yard line. It didn't come easy though for the Bulldogs, as the defense of West Ottawa really dug in. It took four plays to get the TD, but with four seconds to go before halftime, Doug Roseman ran it in. A fake kick turned into a two point conversion on a pass giving Grandville a 14-7 halftime lead.

The second half was a rough hitting contest. Grandville had several chances to score but was turned back on some brilliant defensive plays. Tom Hill, even though he was playing with a sore leg, led the defense along with John De Vries, Dave Beckman, Steve Sanger, Hamstra and all the rest.

Late in the third period Murdock hit Dave Beckman on a fine 25-yard pass play to the 36 of Grandville. It set the stage for a great 36-yard touchdown run by speedy Matt Johnson who got a nice block by Jamie Bloemendaal. Angell's kick tied the game, and the Panther fans breathed a lot easier on this perfect night for football. That is the way it ended, with both teams having their chances in the final period. West Ottawa came the closest when Murdock hit Beckman on a 30-yard pass play, but an interception with 1:06 to go stopped the drive.

Although Tubergan's running game was down, he played an excellent game on defense. Considering injuries to Bloemendaal, Hill and Tubergan, it was not a bad game for West Ottawa in any sense of the word. This was a fine Grandville team and pending the outcome of a couple other games, the tie should give West Ottawa a n.d. Grandville a tie in the O-K Red Division. The Panther record now stands at 5-2-1 for the season.

Next week West Ottawa travels to Grand Rapids Christian for its final game of the season.

Vikings' Ball Drops Zeeland

ZEELAND — Big things come in small packages could be said for Wyoming Park's Mike Ball.

Bazan led all Chix rushers with 88 yards while Vander Jagt checked in with 54 yards and

PROVING IT GUILTY

Since World War II coffee has become the nation's favorite beverage. Before that time coffee was a sometime, mealtime thing. During the war it became an almost ever-present drink to those in the armed forces, and since that time has become ubiquitous in all kinds of daily activities. The coffee break has become somewhat of a hazard to industrial and business efficiency. Every office has its coffee maker, every section of the industrial plant has its own coffee dispenser. Coffee has become a way of life.

People seem to enjoy it so much and drink so much of it that the scientists among us have concluded that it must be bad. Consequently, about a year ago a group of researchers in Boston (who should be concerned about tea) concluded that it increased the likelihood of heart attacks. Then another group in Oakland, Calif., came up with the opposite finding.

Finally, after more research, the Boston group agreed with the Oakland group that coffee didn't cause heart attacks. There is still some suspicion, though, and now they're going to find out whether or not coffee is bad for heart patients. The whole intent seems to be to find coffee guilty. And we suspect this nation won't be happy unless and until something bad can be said about coffee.

There's an old idea that anything done or taken in moderation isn't bad. Maybe that's what we'll have to settle for until scientists have spoiled our coffee.

League Plans Workshop On Revenue Sharing Use

A citizen's workshop on revenue sharing monies allocated to Ottawa county by the federal government will be sponsored by the Holland Area League of Women Voters for all city, township, and county officials, members of human services organizations, and interested individuals on Monday, Nov. 18 from 4:45 to 8:30 p.m. in the Phelps Hall conference room at Hope College.

The League of Women Voters is a non-partisan organization whose purpose is to encourage the informed and active participation of all citizens in government and politics. Since the Revenue Sharing Act of 1972 has provided a way of returning the expenditure of federal funds to the control of the people at the local level, the League feels that it would be to the benefit of the citizens of Ottawa County to provide a workshop for understanding the policies and priorities for the expenditure of the county's revenue sharing funds. This would help to establish more informed and intelligent citizen participation in requests and allocations for county revenue sharing funds and a much better grasp on the part of citizens of the total county budget process.

The agenda for the session will include the following: A brief overview of the goals and policies of General Revenue Sharing; the philosophy and actual allocations under GRS in Ottawa county to date (reasons behind choices and decisions); fiscal projections for the county; future needs projection; alternative allocation philosophies, and avenues for citizen participation.

The League of Women Voters' intent is not to lobby for any particular cause but to inform interested citizens of the facts regarding revenue sharing and the possible ways for organizations or coalitions of interested citizens to influence decisions at the county level.

Invited resource people include the commissioners of Ot-

Sunday School Lesson

Sunday, Nov. 10
When National Crises Arise
Jeremiah 38:2-6, 17-18
By C. P. Dame

Our nation has been going from one crisis to another. This lesson tells about a crisis in a nation which refused to listen to God and suffered the consequences. The best thing a person or a nation can do in a crisis is to turn to God.

I. God has His spokesmen. Jeremiah was called of God to be His prophet. His father was a priest, the family lived in Anathoth, located a few miles from Jerusalem. He prophesied during the reigns of five kings of Judah, for forty years, and saw the growing decay of his nation and its final downfall. Earth-shaking events were taking place, the Assyrian Empire ended, Babylon defeated the Egyptian army at Carchemish, and thus became the new power. When the king of Judah rebelled against the Babylonian king he brought a crisis to his nation — Jerusalem was besieged. In that city the hopes of the pro-Egyptian party collapsed with the defeat of the Egyptian army sent to relieve the city and the return of the Babylonian army to resume the siege of Jerusalem.

Jeremiah, speaking for God, urged the surrender, which got him in trouble and led to his arrest, and casting in a muddy dungeon. Truth-speaking is sometimes unpopular and costly.

II. The courageous act. Verses 7 to 13 are not in the text but are too precious to be ignored. Chapter 38 tells about three men, Jeremiah the faithful prophet, Zedekiah, the weak king, and Ebedmelech, an Ethiopian, who was a servant of the king, who went to the king and spoke up for Jeremiah and secured the prophet's rescue from the cistern. This man was superior to his environment, overcame it, and showed compassion and courage to a servant of God. When it is time to speak and to act, let us do so.

III. God gives a choice. Zedekiah was weak, allowed wrong advisors to influence him, instead of God's prophet who told him what God commanded. The king heard the prophet say that by surrendering he would save his life, and that of his family and of Jerusalem, but if he would not surrender destruction would surely come. The king had a choice but he disobeyed God's prophet and the predicted consequences took place.

God gives us a choice, there is His way, and the devil's way. Counsel, warnings, lessons abound, we can decide now what tomorrow may be. In a crisis, let us turn to the Lord who is greater than any crisis.

Cornie's Corner

When First Lady Betty Ford landed in the hospital for surgery, Holland's Ed Brolin designed a hospital room cartoon scene with nurses providing the conversation.

The 8 x 12-inch cartoon in color shows Mrs. Ford in a hospital bed with pictures of her husband and children on the wall and Betty saying something about going dancing soon, and nurses talking about pink pills, back rubs, etc.

Ed knows Jerry Ford from way back. They were playing tennis together when Jerry was still in school.

Terry Hofmeyer had a unique experience some time ago. Not pleasant, but unique.

He swallowed a bee and it stung him on the way down.

It happened at a family drive in Allegan Forest at a stop for lunch. He was drinking apple cider and he wasn't sure it was a bee but a relative said she had noted a small bee near him at the time.

Terry's wife was concerned and she called the doctor.

As Terry put it: "After he got done laughing, he said drink some ice water if there was any pain."

Everything was okay after a couple of days.

Jaap de Bleouck, manager of Windmill Island, has been appointed to the board of directors of the West Michigan Tourist Association. The announcement was made at a meeting of tourist operators at Shanty Creek Lodge at Bellaire. Dick Den Uyl of Holland is vice president.

Dr. and Mrs. John Piet have arrived in Madras, India, for a year's sabbatical. Since they've been there before, they knew what to expect. His letter ended: "Meanwhile, in a city where there is no park to relax, and plenty of heat, we miss Holland. Enjoy every inch of it while you are there. Few places in the world compare."

Windmill Island in Holland ranked No. 4 in man-made tourist attractions in West Michigan, according to an article from Tourist in October, published by the West Michigan Tourist Association.

Consumers Power Co. pumped storage hydroelectric information center at Ludington ranked first, Mackinac Bridge second and Fort Michilimackinac a close third.

Ranking after Windmill Island were Boyne area, Grand Hotel, National Music Camp at Interlochen, Indian River Shrine, Plank Road Farm and "Jones Is Back" village. In all, 66 major attractions received votes cast by editors of West Michigan newspapers.

One of the biggest admirers of Holland's new downtown mall was Gov. Milliken on his visit here Oct. 11. He rode a DART bus on a roundabout route from the hotel to GOP headquarters at 31 West Eighth St. On climbing the stairs he was confronted by a large picture of himself, incredibly boyish. "It must be my high school graduation picture," he quipped.

While in the office for coffee and cookies, he made a telephone call to Mrs. Henry Mollema, 9, at Resthaven.

Gov. Milliken mentioned having met President Ford the night before at a fund raising event in Detroit. "The President was as friendly as ever, greeting old friends," he said. "He seems rushed with everything, but stimulated by the activity too."

In short, he's the same old Jerry!"

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Brouwer of Holland have received several letters from their son, Charlie, who has arrived in Australia with his wife and young daughter, to teach school under a special recruitment program to ease the shortage of teachers in the down-under continent. Charlie is a graduate of Grand Valley State College. Hope College has two grads teaching in Australia, Deborah Russell of Fairhaven, N.J., and Douglas Scott of Grandville.

The Brouwers are finding Australia fascinating, a place with rather small stores, fences and stone walls, front and back gardens instead of front and back yards, the expressions and spelling, kerb for curb, whilst for while, lay-by for lay-away, peanut paste for peanut butter, and lots others.

They enjoy the palm trees, citrus fruit trees, rubber trees, and the "different world" aspects with houses all brick with tile roofs, fenced in yards and strange but beautiful flowers.

The found the weather in September a bit cool (50 degrees in the morning) but it was warm to the natives coming out of their winter.

The Brouwers are living in an apartment, one of six in a new building, with two bedrooms, bath, living room, kitchen and small laundry room. Charlie is teaching in the art department of Fig Tree High School in Fig Tree, a suburb of Wollongong about 1½ hours from Sydney. On the second day, school was out with teachers staging a 24-hour strike for a cost-of-living increase.

Central heating is rare in Australia and most everybody has an electric heater or oil heater in home or office. Flush toilets are found outside the home in many cases.

They've learned to really like the small delicatessens, butcher shops and vegetable shops open to the sidewalk. There are milk bars which dispense milk, pop, fruit drinks and flavored milk over the counter. Food is eaten while walking on the street or in the park or on bus stop benches.

Hamburger is minced steak, and catsup is tomato sauce. Clerks don't ask if they can help you, they say "Are you right ma'am. And when a sale is finished they say "Tah, or Tah, Tah," meaning everything's okay. Children are called infants or babies until the third grade and they are considered kiddies all the way through high school.

Primroses are blooming now. Spring has just begun and the ocean beaches are beautiful!

13-Game Win Streak Ends For Dutchmen

By Rich Walters

As all winning streaks must end, Hope College's football team saw its 13-game string broken Saturday by a fired-up team from Olivet, as the Comets upended the Flying Dutchmen, 27-10.

Not only was this Hope's first loss after 13 consecutive wins, but also the defeat ended a string of 10 wins in a row at home, and nine straight MIAA victories. Also the setback cost the Flying Dutchmen a chance for their first undefeated season in history. However, the most important aspect was that it cost the defending champions the MIAA title, which Olivet captured for the first time since 1914.

The Dutchmen didn't succumb to the Comets without a battle, as Hope held a total yardage advantage of 304 yards compared to Olivet's 185 and picked up 16 first downs against nine. The Comets had been averaging 374 yards per game in league play.

Hope took early control of the game played before an overflow crowd estimated at 5,500. After holding the Comets on the first series of downs, Bill Ziem punted to the Dutchmen's 43-yard line. Kurt Bennett and Chuck Brooks each lugged the ball three times, advancing to the Olivet 34. Bob Carlson picked up 12 to the 22, and Bennett went to the 15. On third and three Carlson threw a 15-yard touchdown strike to freshman end Jim Holwerda, of Grand Rapids, with 8:15 remaining in the opening quarter. Jim Miller's conversion made the score 7-0.

On the first play after the ensuing kickoff, Bob Lees pounced on a Tim Bakker fumble at the Olivet 14. On fourth down and 10 a Tim Van Hees pass from a fake field goal, failed. Van Heest replaced Carlson, who had been shaken up two plays earlier.

Still in the first period, Craig Van Tuinen recovered Olivet's fumble on the Comet's 20. This drive was stopped when Kevin Martin picked off Carlson's aerial in the end zone. Hope did tally on a 32-yard field goal by Miller with 6:23 showing in the half. The Dutchmen had taken over on the Olivet 48-yard line.

The Comets struck with lightning at the 4:49 mark. Unable to move the ball consistently, the Comets went to a screen pass from Ziem to Baker, who galloped 65 yards for the score, behind a host of blockers. The pass for a two-point conversion failed and Hope's lead was 10-6. This was the first touchdown pass thrown against the Dutchmen all season.

Following the kickoff Hope marched to the Comet's 20-yard line before Steve Sobczyk came up with an interception returning the ball to the 41. Olivet scored with 11 seconds remaining on another screen pass from Ziem to Baker. The play covered 13 yards. Dave Bauer converted and Olivet had a 13-10 halftime margin.

Hope, taking the second half kickoff, put on a sustained drive to the Olivet 15. Then came the biggest play of the game, as Carlson's pass was picked off by Martin on the five, and he raced 95 yards for the Comet's third touchdown. Martin was aided by some excellent blocking on the play. Bauer again converted for a 20-10 Olivet lead at 12:06 of the third period.

That play seemed to break Hope's back, for instead of going in for the go-ahead touchdown, they now trailed the new champs by 10, and the Dutch never seemed to fully recover.

Recent Accidents

Cars operated by Karen Joy Schra, 36, of 3997 136th Ave., Hamilton, and Harriet Jansen, 60, of 127 West 18th St., collided Saturday at 9:03 a.m. along Lincoln Ave. 250 feet south of 32nd St. Police said both cars were northbound on Lincoln when the Jansen car struck the Schra auto, from behind.

Shortly thereafter, the Flying Dutchmen fumbled with Olivet recovering on the Hope 30. Baker ran 24 yards for the final touchdown with 10:34 showing in the third quarter on the scoreboard clock. Again Bauer converted, ending the scoring at Olivet 27, Hope 10.

Late in the third period Hope again moved downfield to the Olivet 16, only to lose the ball on downs.

Individual rushing statistics show Brooks gaining 68 yards on 18 carries at Bennett picking up 60 on 19 tries, while Holland freshman John Bonnette added 45 yards on 12 carries. Baker was the top ground-gainer for the Comets as he notched 39 yards in 10 attempts.

Seniors playing their final home game were Carlson, Tom O'Brien, Gary Constant, Randy Vander Veen, Brooks, Bruce Martin, Jeff Stewart, Paul Cornwell and Mark Meyer.

The Flying Dutchmen close out the 1974 season in Hoosierland Saturday with a game against Depauw University.

NOSE Tips

by Leo Martonosi

Like A Dolphin

Chris Den Herder, Holland High's outstanding swimmer and the Miami Dolphins have something in common. Both are winners.

The Dolphins as everyone knows, have been the best pro football team in the NFL for the past two years while Miss Den Herder, distant relative to Miami's defensive end Vern Den Herder, is the best girls' swimmer to ever come out of the Holland area.

Chris holds an unbelievable seven individual school records and is on both Dutch record relays. The only school marks that Den Herder doesn't hold is in the 100-yard breaststroke and in diving.

It's hard to believe that Den Herder has qualified for the state in those seven events and hoped to qualify in the breaststroke too. But she'll never get the chance as Holland's last dual meet against South Haven Wednesday was cancelled.

Holland's very successful mentor Barb Bos commented "Without a doubt Chris is the best swimmer to ever come out of Holland. Since she really hasn't had that much competition I wonder what she would have done against stiff competition."

Three of Den Herder's top individual efforts rank fourth in the state. They include the 100-yard backstroke (1:06.5), 200 freestyle (2:03.7) and 100 freestyle (57.6).

Her other best times (2:23.3) in the 200 I.M. ranks seventh in the state, 50-yard freestyle (26.6) is ninth, 500 freestyle (5:48.0) is rated eighth and 100 butterfly (1:06.5) ranks ninth.

Holland's medley relay team ranks seventh in the state with a fine 2:03.4 clocking.

It's too bad that girls are only allowed to compete in the state and dual meets in two individual and one relay, as Chris would probably have a shot at winning all events.

"We'll probably use her in the 100 backstroke and 200 I.M. at state," stated Mrs. Bos. "She's very good in all events but has probably the best chance in those two events."

One of the reasons Den Herder probably isn't challenging Sue Lightfoot for team diving honors, is because she is "afraid" of diving.

Chris said that the 100 breaststroke is by far her worst event. She prefers the 100 backstroke and 200 freestyle.

This will be the third year Chris has made the state. In the 10th grade she was fifth in the 100 backstroke and 10th in the 200 I.M. As a junior Chris came in third in the 100 backstroke and 15th in the 200 freestyle.

In case you're wondering who holds the other Holland individual mark, it's Julie Barkel in the 100 breaststroke in 1:17.5. Den Herder and her teammates have leveled off to swimming 2 to 3,000 yards a day. During the summer Chris said she swam around 8,000 yards a day under the tutelage of Barb's brother, Mike Landis.

Den Herder hasn't decided what college she would like to attend but indicated that it probably would be one that competed in swimming.

In fact, she's already a step ahead of most high school seniors, as she is taking a college course at Hope College in introduction to computer science. She's the only one in the class that still attends high school.

Some of Chris' times are better than even some boys times. "There is a big difference in swimming against boys," Den Herder replied.

She proudly points out that several of her times are better than some at Holland Christian but none at Holland High.

"She does the best against the boys," insisted Coach Bos. "The guys just seem to bring out the best in Chris."

Den Herder will be attempting to top her best individual efforts in the state meet at Stevenson High School in Sterling Heights on Nov. 15-16.

We're sure "Superfish" will come through in high fashion because like a Dolphin, she is something special when it comes to swimming.
