The government piers at Macatawa has been equipped with a range light. The Graham & Morton Transportation company secured permission from the government to place an I maintain the light at its own expense. The absence of the light since the destruction of the outer crib of the south pier last winter has caused trouble in entering the harbor and the government has been slow in supplying a light that the Graham & Morton company has taken this action.

Grand Haven Tribune. The municipal light and water plants in Grand Haven are becoming more important every year. There are at present 280 light takers in this city and 603 water renters. The board of supervisors will have to answer to circuit court once more for rejecting the contagious disease watchman's bills. This time it is Henry Solms, relator for the watchmen, who commences suit. By his attorney, James H. Danhof, Mr. Solms asks that the court require the board to show cause why a mandamus should not be issued requiring them to reconvene and allow the bills amounting to $714.75 held against them by the watchmen. Judge Padgham has made the order according to the relator's request and the appearance will be made at this session. Henry Solms was among the watchmen who were posted to protect public health during the recent smallpox epidemic. He with the other watchmen entered their bills to the board and they were rejected because it was claimed that the charge was not a proper one against the county. When the matter was decided against the county by the supreme court the supervisors rejected a number of the bills because they claimed that the people whose homes were guarded were not indigent.

Marie Peterline has begun divorce proceedings against her husband, Henry C. Peterline, clerk at Ottawa Beach hotel last summer in the Grand Rapids superior court, alleging cruelty and non-support. In her bill she states that they were married about August 12, 1903, and that shortly after their marriage Peterline commenced receiving letters from other women. When she remonstrated, she says, he told her he preferred the company of other women to her own. In the fall of 1904 she applied to the circuit court for divorce, but on his promising to do better, she says, she dropped the proceedings and the couple lived together until the middle of September of the present year. On June 26, 1905, she says, he secured a position as clerk at the Hotel Ottawa at Ottawa Beach, and arrangements were made for her to go there to live, but, she says, he tried to prevent her coming there. Mrs. Peterline's maiden name was Miss Marie Gildner, and she is a daughter of Henry Gildner, formerly proprietor of the Gildner hotel at Grand Haven.

Mrs. Geisbert Appledorn died Sunday morning at her home on East Fourteenth street after an illness of five weeks. She was stricken with paralysis. Mrs. Appledorn came to Holland in 1883. She was 67 years of age and was born in Beest Gelderland. A husband and three daughters survive, Mes. G. Molenaar, Mrs. E. S. Holkeboer and Mrs. John DeVries, all of this city. A wedding occurred in Allegan last Tuesday under peculiar circumstances, Julius M. Ward and Ida Burlingham (Ward) being the contracting parties. These people have been living in Allegan many years as man and wife, having really been married, but recently it became known that the ceremony was not legal. About forty years ago Mr. Ward was married the first time, and after a while his wife ran away with another man who finally died. The woman married again and went to California, having secured a divorce from Ward. In 1880 Mr. Ward married Miss Burlingham and they have since lived together. He has been unable to find when or where his first wife obtained her divorce, and should she survive her first husband she could obtain a widow's pension. So, to protect the present wife, the divorce was obtained and the vows renewed. Rev. G. R. Brown performed the ceremony. —Allegan Gazette.

A Laketown Letter

It's crops, real estate sales, resorts and improvements.

It has been sometime since your semi-occasional correspondent has put in an appearance, and before he takes his winter flight to get rid of the lake winds, will have a good word to speak of this township with its numerous summer resorts. This has been an exceptionally fine autumn for the farmers to finish up their work—no visible frost till Oct. 25th when all the crops had been taken care of. The fruit crop was disappointing—the apple crop was nearly a failure and peaches though a full crop, were subject to rot and with low prices the farmers did not realize the profits expected. Wheat, oats, rye and corn have been above the average and of excellent quality and will bring the result on the right side of the ledger.

A number of farms have changed hands the past year, and with fairly good buildings have ranged from $75 to $100 per acre. The tendency is to subdivide the farms and bring them up to a higher standard, raising berries and small fruits, also truck farming to meet the demands of summer resorts on its borders which are numerous.

Much has been done to improve the sandy roads by graveling and claying them. The rebuilding or repairing of the "Floating" bridge across Goshorn lake is a much needed improvement and should never have been left to go into decay. It is declared by good judges that the submerged timbers are in a good state of preservation—it is only the planking and superstructure that have decayed, causing its condemnation. Since the bridge is on one of the main thoroughfares its closing is a great drawback to the public and especially to the farmers in that corner of the township—causing them to drive miles out of the way to reach their market Saugatuck. Many have been the hay-rack parties from the resorts that have enjoyed the novelty of crossing this unique bridge and to engage in fishing from its sides.

Laketown can only lay claim to half a village on one of its borders, that is Graafschap and it is one that deserves mention for its elegant and conspicuous location, where Macatawa bay, Lake Michigan, Ottawa Beach and Holland City may be seen from its elevation, while in the opposite direction is a long vista of beautiful undulating landscape, comprising some of the best farms in the county. The village has been greatly improved the past year in various ways—one new church has been built, the other has been repaired, some fine modern dwelling houses built, others remodeled and painted, giving the place a thrifty appearance. Much might be said of this sturdy community, but this must suffice—More anon.

Every Heart-Ache

Every pain in the breast, difficult breathing, palpitation, fluttering or dizzy spell means that your heart is straining itself in its effort to keep in motion. This is dangerous.

Some sudden strain from over-exertion or excitement will completely exhaust the nerves, or rupture the walls or arteries of the heart, and it will stop.

Relieve this terrible strain at once with Dr. Miles' Heart Cure. It invigorates and strengthens the heart nerves and muscles, stimulates the heart action, and relieves the pain and misery.

Take no chances; make your heart strong and vigorous with Dr. Miles' Heart Cure.

"I suffered terribly with heart disease. I have been treated by different physicians for my trouble without results. I went to a physician in Memphis, who claimed that I had dropsy of the heart. He put the X-ray on me, and in connection with his medicine he came near making a finish of me. Some time before this a Mr. Young, of St. Louis, was in our town. He saw my condition, and recommended Dr. Miles' Heart Cure to me. I gave it little attention until my return from Memphis, when I concluded to try it, and am pleased to say three bottles cured me."

CHARLES GOODRICH, Caruthersville, Mo.
Dr. Miles' Heart Cure is sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. If it fails he will refund your money.

EXPLOSION OF GAS WRECKS BUILDING

DISASTER IN ISHPERING, MICH.,
IS THE CAUSE OF THREE DEATHS.

Thirteen Persons Are Injured—Victims Were Passing Along Street on Their Way Home from Church When the Explosion Occurred.

Ishpeming, Mich., Nov. 6.—Three children are dead and 13 people are injured, one fatally, as the result of an explosion here Sunday, which completely destroyed the Miners' national bank. The dead are: Steven Goodman, aged 12 years; Alice McGee, aged ten years; and Edward McGrath, aged 12 years.

The injured: James F. Mullen, fatally; Thomas Flanagan, Lorette McGee, Hans Gunderson, Mrs. E. F. Small, Miss Bruze, Mrs. G. Smeltz, Charles Smeltz, John Dundon, Ray Butler, Fred Anderson, Erick Peterson and Mrs. J. F. Keith.

Caused by Gas Leakage.
The victims were all church attendants on their way home from mass. A gas leakage in the basement of the bank building was primarily responsible for the explosion and loss of life. Anderson and Peterson, steam fitters, had been engaged to make repairs to the heating plant, and as they entered the building they detected the smell of gas. They thought little of the circumstance, however, and as they passed into the furnace room they struck a match to a gas jet.

There was a terrible explosion. The steam fitters were blown through the doorway at the rear of the building, while the building collapsed, falling into the street a mass of ruins. A crew was switching cars on a side track, near the bank and cars blocked the crossing when the explosion occurred. Many persons were standing on the walk, awaiting the passing of the cars, and thus were within reach of the explosion. There were a number of narrow escapes from death or serious injury. James Mullen was in his office in the bank building when the accident occurred, and he was not taken from the debris until rescuers had worked for two hours in clearing away the wreckage. The bodies of the killed were fearfully mangled. The safety deposit vault in the bank is uninjured.

A NATION'S GRATITUDE.

President Roosevelt Sets Aside Thursday, November 30, As Day of Thanksgiving.

Washington, Nov. 3.—The president on Thursday issued his proclamation naming Thursday, November 30 next as a day for thanksgiving. It is as follows:

"By the President of the United States of America—A Proclamation: When nearly three centuries ago the first settlers came to the country which has now become this great republic, they confronted not only hardship and privation, but terrible risk to their lives. In those grim years the custom grew of setting apart one day in each year for a special service of thanksgiving to the Almighty for preserving the people through the changing seasons. The custom has now become national and hallowed by immemorial usage. We live in easier and more plentiful times than our forefathers, the men who with rugged strength faced the rugged days, and yet the dangers to national life are quite as great now as at any previous time in our history. It is eminently fitting that once a year our people should set apart a day for praise and thanksgiving to the Giver of Good, and, at the same time, that they express their thankfulness for the abundant mercies received, should manfully acknowledge their shortcomings and pledge themselves solemnly and in good faith to strive to overcome them. During the past year we have been blessed with bountiful crops. Our business prosperity has been great. No other people has ever stood on as high a level of material well-being as ours now stands. We are not threatened by foes from without. The foes from whom we should pray to be delivered are our own passions, appetites and follies, and against these there is always need that we should war.

"Therefore, I now set apart Thursday, the 30th day of this November, as a day of thanksgiving for the past and of prayer for the future, and on that day I ask that throughout the land the people gather in their homes and places of worship, and in rendering thanks unto the Most High for the manifold blessings of the past year, consecrate themselves to a life of cleanliness, honor and wisdom, so that this nation may do its allotted work on the earth in a manner worthy of those who founded it and of those who preserved it.

"In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

"Done at the city of Washington this second day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and five, and of the independence of the United States the one hundred and thirtieth.

(Seal) "THEODORE ROOSEVELT."
"By the president:
"ELIHU ROOT, secretary of State."

Arrest of Two Men Who Disposed of Mutilated Remains of Susanna Geary—One Makes Confession—A Boston Physician Also in Custody.

New York, Nov. 3.—Two men are under arrest at police headquarters in this city, charged with homicide in connection with the dress suit case mystery in Boston. One of the men, William Howard, is said to have confessed that he and his fellow prisoner, Louis Crawford, alias Albert H. Emory, were the ones who took the body from a hospital on Tremont street, Boston, and threw the dismembered portions, which were concealed in dress suit cases and a hand satchel, into Winthrop (Mass.) harbor. Howard denies that he knows anything about the cutting up of the body, while Crawford refuses to say a word.

Await Extradition.

New York, Nov. 7.—William Howard and Louis Crawford, the two young men arrested here last week accused of throwing the dismembered body of Susan Geary into Boston harbor, were arraigned in the police court Monday and remanded to await extradition papers from Boston.

Physician Under Arrest.

Boston, Nov. 4.—Dr. Percy McLeod, of this city, was arrested Friday afternoon on the charge of abortion in connection with the suit case mystery. The arrest was on information furnished by Chief Watts, from New York city. Dr. McLeod is held on the charge that he was the person who dismembered the body of Susanna Geary. A conference between Dr. McLeod and officials lasted until five o'clock. At its conclusion Dr. McLeod was removed to the Tombs and locked up. Capt. Dugan stated that Dr. McLeod had made no confession. Dr. McLeod is about 35 years of age and is married. Chief Watts informed the officials here that the confession of Crawford in New York included the specific accusation that Dr. McLeod was the person who dismembered the body of the chorus girl. Immediately upon receipt of this message the physician was arrested.

Held in Heavy Bail.

Boston, Nov. 6.—Dr. Percy D. McLeod, who was arrested in connection with the death of Susanna Geary, the chorus girl whose dismembered body, minus the head, was found in two suitcases floating in Winthrop harbor, was arraigned in municipal court and was ordered to furnish bonds in $20,000 for a further appearance.

Head of Victim Found.

Boston, Nov. 6.—What is confidently believed to be the head of Susanna A. Geary, the dress suit case victim, was received in a leather handbag from the bottom of the harbor Sunday. It was dragged to the surface very near the point where Lewis W. Crawford and William Howard, who confessed to disposing of the dismembered body of the girl, said they dropped it from the stern of an east Boston ferry boat. The head completes the body of the girl. The trunk was found on September 21 and the limbs were picked up October 27. The head was in a good state of preservation and it is thought by the police that it will be readily recognized as that of Miss Geary.

Identifies Head.

Boston, Nov. 7.—The woman's head which was found in a hand satchel at the bottom of the harbor Sunday was identified Monday as that of Susanna Geary, the chorus girl of Cambridge, by the girl's mother.

DECISION FAVORS STATE.

Wisconsin Wins Tax Fight Against Railroads—The Case to Be Appealed.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 6.—The state of Wisconsin will be enriched many thousands of dollars if a decision rendered by Judge S. D. Hastings, of Green Bay, is upheld by the higher courts. In a suit brought by the various railroads of the state, seeking to set aside ad valorem tax assessments on the ground that the law violated the principle of equal taxation, Judge Hastings ruled that the law is constitutional and the assessment valid. It is estimated that the decision will increase by $600,000 railroad taxes for the year 1903; a still greater sum for 1904, and at least $1,000,000 more for 1905, compared with the amount assessed under the license fee system. The case will be appealed.

Famous Illinoisan Dead.

Bloomington, Ill., Nov. 7.—A. K. Miller, aged 78, one of the wealthiest men in central Illinois, is dead at his home at Lane, De Witt county. He was a noted philanthropist and recently built a church to be used by all sects in turn. He owned real estate valued at over half a million.

San Jose, Cal., Nov. 6.—Clarence Van Bokelen, a young student of the Santa Clara high school, died at a local sanitarium from the effects of a crushed skull, which injury he received during a football game between the Santa Clara and San Jose high schools.

Fine new cement porches are being placed on the U. S. Life Saving District office building and N. Robbins' storage building on Water street, Grand Haven. Thankful People.

They are Found in Every Part of Holland.

Many citizens of Holland have good reason to be thankful for burdens lifted from aching backs, which they bore patiently for years. Scores tell about their experience publicly. Here's a case of it:

Mrs. E. Mulder, living five miles east of Holland near Ebenezer, says: "I have suffered for years from a deranged condition of the kidneys. The secretions from those organs were irregular and unnatural. I could not rest comfortably at night and rose in the morning feeling tired and unrefreshed. The least cold or strain aggravated the constant heavy aching pains through the small of the back. Doan's Kidney Pills were so highly recommended that I procured a box at J. O. Doesburg's drug store and used them. I felt better after a few doses and in a short time I was entirely rid of the trouble."

Druggist Con De Pree Says He Does Not Charge Anything for Vinol Unless it Gives Satisfactory Results.

When asked by a reporter of the News how he could make such a broad offer in regard to any medicine, Mr. De Pree replied:

"If Vinol were a patent or secret preparation it would be another thing, but it is not, everything it contains is named on the label.

Vinol is simply the up-to-date form of administering cod liver oil, which for centuries has been recognized as the grandest of all body-building agents for wasted human strength and vitality, and during the last five years we have seen it produce such grand results that we are now willing to back it with any kind of a guarantee.

In Vinol we have simply done away with the useless, system-clogging oil and have given to the people all the medicinal, body-building elements of cod liver oil in a highly concentrated and deliciously palatable form, and we have never sold in our store a medicine of more curative and strength-creating value than Vinol, and if the people of Holland only realized its value we would not have clerks enough in our store to supply the demand for it. In a natural manner Vinol tones up the digestive organs, makes rich red blood and creates strength. We can only ask the people of Holland to try it on our guarantee." Con De Pree, Druggist.

Hunters and Farmers Should Join Forces

If the hunters who are true sportsmen—and there are a large number of that kind—do not take in hand the matter of regulating hunting the time will arrive when all farmers will close their land against them and enforce strictly the no trespassing laws. This will be too bad, for it will bar many from the sport who should not be barred. When a hunter keeps in mind the rights and privileges of the land owner, when he is careful not to injure the property upon which he hunts he should not be denied the pleasure just because of the irresponsible, thoughtless few who seem to take more delight in making it disagreeable for the farmers than in trying to bag game.

But the farmer cannot distinguish between the two kinds, the sportsman and the mischief maker, and when the inconvenience and the destruction reaches a certain stage he cannot be blamed for protecting himself by resorting to drastic measures. When patience ceases to be a virtue the farmer is justified in coming down sharply and emphatically on all who trespass. When he comes down, then comes hardship to every man that carries a gun. Then comes woe, vain protests and abuse.

How to avoid this is the question that is agitating both sportsmen and farmers of this vicinity.

Probably the only way of avoiding it is to make an example of some of the maliciously inclined. Give them a dose of law and give it to them strong. And the chances are that the true sportsmen will stand by the farmers and aid them in apprehending the evil-inclined and applying the dose.

If the right kind of hunters and the farmers join forces in abolishing the despoilers of property, there will be no need of the "no trespassing" signs and hunting will be allowed except by a few of the extremely narrow-minded.

Circuit Court

In circuit court Monday afternoon prosecuting Attorney Daniel F. Pagelsen had an exceptionally large number of arraignments to make. There were many pleas of not guilty and right from the start, the criminal term gives promise of working the jury over time.

In the case of John Mahon charged with highway robbery the defendant appeared and pleaded not guilty. Wiley H. Tollefson, who was brought here from Boston for forgery was arraigned and pleaded not guilty. Tollefson has engaged W. I. Lillie to defend him. William Van Oort, charged with arson pleaded not guilty as did John Ter Beek charged with rape and Robert Curry charged with forgery.

David Blom, charged with violating the liquor law was arraigned and his attorney James J. Danhof announced that his client would stand mute. A plea of not guilty was entered by order of the court.

John Timmer pleaded guilty to the charge of larceny and John Boyink and Lena Heisterkamp to violation of the liquor law. In the case of Thomas Boss, charged with resisting an officer, the defendant appeared and pleaded guilty. George A. Farr arose and stated that he did not believe there was sufficient in the information to sentence but the young man had been advised by friends to plead guilty. The court will consider the matter.

Peter Spagnolo Was Murdered Sunday Night

Murder was committed in this city last Sunday night. The victim was Peter Spagnolo, an Italian fruit vender, and three people, Tony Martino, brother-in-law of the victim, George Spagnolo, Peter's brother and Mrs. Maria Spagnolo, Peter's wife, are in the county jail charged with the crime.

Officer Dornbos was summoned to the fruit store on Eighth street near Hotel Holland about 10 o'clock at night. Dr. J. J. Mersen arrived soon after. The body of the dead man was found in a small bed room in the rear of the store and the other occupants of the building were the two men and the woman who are now under arrest.

They claimed that the dead man had committed suicide but subsequent developments show that he undoubtedly was murdered.

The murder was committed in a bed room back of a small store room in the rear of the building. The only entrance into the bed room is through a door opening from the store room. When the body was found it was on the floor, the head towards this door. Judging from a careful view of the surroundings it appears that the murdered man must have been standing when the first shot was fired. Then he fell on the floor and two other shots were sent into his back. One bullet, presumably the first to strike, entered his right side a little above the hip, passed through the lungs and heart and came out on the left side. It was found in his underclothes when the body was examined. Another bullet entered under the right shoulder blade and another under the left shoulder blade. Both these bullets took a slightly downward course, one lodging in the right arm pit and the other passing to the vitals. This accounts for three of the shots. The other went wide of the mark, a bullet hole in the wall and through a window in the rear of the building indicating its destination. Presumably this was the first shot fired, the second entering the right side as described, and the third and fourth entering the back.

The revolver with which the deed was done was found between the right arm and the body resting downward. It is a 38 calibre revolver. It contained four empty shells and one loaded one, and one chamber was empty.

No evidence of violence was apparent. Evidently the deed was done without warning and the shots were fired from the door leading into the little bed room. The wound on the right side was powder burned. The others were not.

Tony and George said that they were in bed when the shots were fired and that they immediately hurried into the room and found the body lying in a pool of blood. The woman, they say was locking the doors of the store when the shots were fired. They immediately notified the family of Nicholas De Rose who runs a fruit store in the Slag & Zuidewind building on East Eighth street and De Rose notified Officer Dornbos. The officer called Dr. Mersen, who called Dr. D. G. Cook. After a hasty examination the body was removed to Nibbelink's undertaking establishment and Tony and George were arrested and placed in the city jail.

Monday morning Coroner Mastenbroek impanelled a jury consisting of A. Van Duren, E. P. Stephan, C. H. McBride, H. Van Tongeren, C. W. Nibbelink and Peter Boot. They made a close inspection of the building, and the inquest was adjourned until Tuesday morning. Tuesday it was adjourned until Friday in order that the services of an interpreter could be secured. A post mortem examination was made Monday morning by Drs. Mersen, Cook and E. D. Kremers.

Mrs. Spagnolo, wife of the murdered man, went to the home of Peter Fabino on River street where she stayed until Tuesday, when she also was arrested. The three suspects were arraigned in Justice Van Duren's court Tuesday forenoon and their preliminary examination was set for next Monday. They were held without bail and Marshal Dykhuis and Constable Arie Zanting took them to the county jail Tuesday noon.

Several circumstances point strongly to the murder theory and the officers are relying upon these circumstances to establish a clear case.

One is the fact that so far it has not been shown that there were any others besides the three persons under arrest and the murdered man in the building or thereabout when the fatal shots were fired.

Another is a discrepancy in the statements of the two men and the woman. The men say that the woman was locking the doors of the store when the shots were fired and that then the three of them entered the room together. The woman says that she was in the back yard when she heard the shots and that when she entered the house Martini and George Spagnolo were in the room where the body lay.

Another is a variance between the statements of the men and the facts. The men claim they were in bed when the shots were fired. The facts are that the beds were not disturbed in the least, this indicating that they had not retired.

Another is the statement of the woman that there had been quarrels among the dwellers in the back part of the fruit store and that the woman had been beaten by her husband Sunday. The quarrel was over money matters, the two men claiming that the murdered man was indebted to them.

The three suspects strongly contend that Spagnolo committed suicide and in this contention they are supported by the few of their own nationality who live in the city. All say that Spagnolo was despondent over business reverses and was in a fit frame of mind to plan self-destruction.

Antonio Martini and George Spagnolo worked for the Cappon & Bertsch Leather company and part of their wages, so they say, went to aid Spagnolo so that he could tide over the poor trade of winter and be ready for a paying business in the spring. One of their statements is to the effect that they agreed to pay $20 per month each for board and room, and another one is that Martini helped him out, first by buying a half interest in the stock and later by buying him out entirely.

Francesco Spagnolo, of Lowell, a cousin of the dead man, is positive that it was suicide and not murder and tells of a time in Zeeland when Peter threatened to commit suicide, and of a time in Philadelphia when he became despondent because a fortune teller told him a hard luck story and made dire predictions.

But barring the Italians, everyone who has anything to do with the case say that the circumstances cut off beyond the shadow of doubt the suicide theory and that it should not be countenanced for a moment. In truth it is impossible to make anything but murder out of the affair.

It is difficult to learn much from the people involved. They cannot talk English well, one of them not at all, and they are not inclined to be communicative. The most of their conversation consists of an expressive shrug of the shoulders and a pleading of ignorance of the salient facts. Unless one or all of them tell more than they have so far the evidence against them will be all circumstantial and the officers will have a difficult time. But at that it is thought evidence strong enough to warrant conviction can be procured. The officers are going on the theory that one person fired the shots, but that the other two had guilty knowledge of it and were accessories either before or after the fact.

It is reported that Antonio Martini is not a brother of Mrs. Spagnolo's but is her lover and this has introduced an element in the case that may be the means of establishing the motive for the crime.

Peter Spagnolo came to this city last January, from Zeeland. Previously he had been in business in New York and Philadelphia. Last July he was joined by his wife and 4-year old daughter who came direct from Italy. He was 24 years of age, his wife 21. She is a handsome, red cheeked, dark-eyed woman. The two men under arrest were faithful employees of the Cappon & Bertsch Leather company, and were not inclined to be quarrelsome. George Spagnolo was generally called "Joseph."

Officials at Grand Haven say that the prisoners are the most mysterious jail ever held. None of them has anything to say that will lead to a solution of the crime. When asked to speak of the killing they simply talk excitedly and, hugging their shoulders, say, "Me no kill him. He kill himself, perhaps."

Hippo Spagnolo a relative of the murdered man, lives in Grand Haven. Spagnolo declares that he is positive neither Martini or Spagnolo or Mrs. Spagnolo would commit the murder. Despite the fact that the evidence all shows that the case is one of murder, he, too, sides with the prisoners.

Joseph Spagnolo was in Grand Haven last Sunday, visiting Hippo.

Hippo tells an interesting story. He came from the same town in sunny Italy that the murdered man and the prisoners hail from. He says that a number of years ago the murdered man lived in Pittsburgh. Joseph, his brother, now suspected of his murder, was then a little fellow. Peter was taken sick and for several years was unable to do anything. Little Joseph, he says, took up the family burden then and helped his brother for years. Peter Spagnolo has since been sickly and unfortunate and Joseph, he says, has always stood ready to lend a helping hand.

Mrs. Spagnolo feels her position keenly and when seen in jail Tuesday night had her little child with her and was crying bitterly.

Martino refused to answer questions. Joseph Spagnolo when interviewed in Grand Haven said that on the fatal night he heard shots fired, but that neither he nor Martino did the shooting. When the question was put to him point blank, "Who killed Peter?" he replied, "Who knows? I don't."

The funeral of the murdered man was held Tuesday forenoon from St. Francis church. Rev. Father Eickelmann officiating.

A souvenir booklet published for the anniversary contains the following information regarding the pastors who at different times were connected with the church:

The first pastor, Rev. J. DeBeer, of Embden, Netherlands, was installed in May, 1867, as pastor of the combined congregations of Niekerk and Holland.

In October, 1867, this pastor was called by the Holland congregation itself and his salary was stipulated as follows: "$700 salary, free parsonage, and a cow with fodder." But Rev. De Beer went to Forrestown, Ill., from which place he had also received a call.

On July 26, 1868, the second pastor, Rev. F. Hulst, formerly of Sauwert, Netherlands, was installed. He labored until August, 1871.

The third pastor, Rev. J. Noordewier, was installed December 22, 1872. He left in December, 1877, having remained five years.

Rev. G. Hoeksema of Zeeland, was the fourth pastor installed, on January 11, 1880. He remained but two years.

On September 23, 1883, Rev. J. A. De Bruyn of Niezijl, Netherlands, was installed as the fifth pastor and remained until March, 1885, when he accepted a call to the Reformed church at Peterson, N. J.

Rev. E. Van der Vries of Peterson, N. J., was the next pastor called. He accepted and was installed in July, 1886. During the pastorate the congregation increased from 152 families to 325. He left for Grand Rapids in July, 1895. While he was pastor the new parsonage was built.

On December 6, 1895, Rev. H. Van Hoogen of Roseland, Ill., was installed as the sixth pastor. He remained eight years. He left for Prospect Park, N. J., on December 18, 1903. It was during his pastorate that the church building was enlarged and made the largest audience hall in the city.

Rev. R. L. Haan the present pastor, is the seventh to serve the congregation. He was installed August 5, 1904.

Zeeland has reached a stage when a nightwatch is an absolute necessity to protect women and girls in the streets after dark and the sooner our village fathers appoint a night police the better. The news has just leaked out that about three weeks since, a little girl, twelve years of age, on her way home from a neighbor at about eight o'clock in the evening, was attacked from behind by a "strapping" big fellow at a point near North street on State street and dragged north towards the Wolverine factory. He held one hand tightly over the girl's mouth, but finally, in the struggle, his hand slipped and becoming alarmed by her cries, he made good his escape. The matter was kept quiet until it is almost too late, now, for the officers to commence work. This is the second case of this nature within the past year or more, the other offender, William Top, having been captured. It is time to act before these brutes succeed in carrying out their crimes against our girls and women.—Zeeland Record.

The Pacific Coast Borax company's 20-mule team is headed this way. At least it was up to yesterday morning. Now the outfit is lying in a ditch a few miles south of the city. The wagons are in the ditch and the mules are eating up the scenery. The wreck demolished a $50 bulldog and broke a man's leg, but the mules all the way from the coast, on foot, will be here before long.

At about 2 o'clock yesterday morning the schooner Abbie, formerly hailing from this port, Captain George Cron in charge, and bound south from Beaver Island loaded with tan bark, went on the beach just north of Portage Lake piers and is a total wreck. John Langland the lighthouse keeper at Onokama sent a messenger four miles to a telephone station and notified the life saving station at Manistee. The crew responded promptly and went with their surf boat by train to Onokama and were towed to the wreck, about five miles distant, by James Kelley's gasoline launch. When they reached the vessel she was a total wreck only the cabin being above water. Three of the crew were clinging to the cabin in an exhausted condition, one having swam ashore. The vessel had been water logged since Tuesday morning. The following are the names of the crew. Capt. George Cron, Chicago; V. S. Lowrey, Grand Rapids; John Carey, Milwaukee; Rol Rider, Holland, all of whom were rescued.

Martin Loyengoed returned this morning from Ann Arbor, where he took his wife last week for an operation. The operation was performed Tuesday and was successful. Mrs. Loyengoed expects to be able to return home in three or four weeks.

Hon. G. J. Diekema will leave this noon for Greenville where he will act as toastmaster at the Republican Club banquet to-night. He will be accompanied by Postmaster G. Van Schelven and Louis Van Schelven, who is here from Chicago for a short visit with his parents.

RUSSIA IS TORN BY REVOLUTION

CEAR'S EDICT GRANTING CONSTITUTION COMES TOO LATE TO CHECK IT.

Awful Scenes of Bloodshed Throughout the Empire—Thousands Are Killed and Other Thousands Are Wounded—Finland Wins Freedom.

Berlin, Nov. 7.—The Kleines Journal says 800 peasants were burned to death in the Russian village of Jedzovograd, province of the Don, through the firing by Cossacks of a shed in which they were holding a political meeting. Peasants to the number of 1,000 had gathered in the shed to discuss the situation in Russia. The prefect was unable to suppress the meeting and gave his approval to the firing of the building. The whole structure was ablaze in a moment after the torches were applied, and the peasants, in a wild panic, tried to get out. About 200 escaped, while the others were burned while trying to fight their way through the single narrow exit.

Horrors in Kishineff.
Odessa, Nov. 4.—A dispatch from Kishineff says: "A horrible massacre has occurred here. Hundreds have been killed. All the hospitals, pharmacies and hotels are full of wounded and mutilated persons." A telegram from Nicolaeff says: "The whole town is in the hands of bandits, who are devastating the Jewish houses and shops and beating Jews to death without the slightest hindrance." The authorities here have similar news from other southern cities.

A State of Siege.
Odessa, Nov. 4.—The peaceful population is practically under a state of siege. Even the markets and restaurants are closed and it is impossible to get bread or meat. The mob Friday pillaged a number of Jewish shops in the main streets and among others the biggest wholesale grocery, that of Rabinovitch. The rioters also burned three factories and killed a physician and two assistants, who were dressing wounds. Friday evening the rioters pillaged the biggest dry goods store in the city. The loss in this case is estimated at $175,000. A hardware store was also looted, involving a loss of $100,000. In addition 12 fur stores were sacked.

Bomb Kills Twelve.

Warsaw, Nov. 4.—Telegraphic communication between Warsaw and Odessa and Bostoff-on-Don has been severed. A bomb was thrown into the telegraph office at Odessa Friday and 12 telegraphers were killed.

Ten Students Killed.

Moscow, Nov. 4.—A procession of students returning with some of their comrades who had been released from prison was set upon by a mob of workmen at the Triumphal arch. Ten of the students were killed.

Odessa Victims Over 10,000.

Odessa, Nov. 6.—With the restoration of order came gruesome proof of the enormous loss of life in the four days of mob rule. The authorities sent to the cemetery six trucks, each containing 30 bodies. It is known that 120 members of the anti-Jewish mob were killed. The total dead is estimated at 900. Up to this time 5,657 wounded are reported—in the Jewish hospitals 3,715, in the municipal hospitals 1,260, and in ambulance houses 682. It is estimated that 3,600 more injured are in their homes, bringing the total casualties to over 10,000. The Jewish quarters are completely devastated.

Scenes of Horror.

The latest accounts of the devastation in the Jewish quarter add horror to the situation. Besides numerous mills, all the bakeries, shops and nearly 600 homes have been destroyed. The Jews killed in every circumstance were treated with revolting barbarity. Heads were battered with hammers; nails were driven into the bodies, eyes were gouged out and ears severed. Many bodies were disemboweled, and in some cases petroleum was poured over the sick found hiding in cellars and they were burned to death. It is alleged that the police and soldiers everywhere marched at the head of mobs, and incited them to destroy the Jews.

Many Fatal Encounters.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 6.—Fatal encounters between the soldiers and the populace, and anti-Jewish excesses are reported from many places in the provinces. Saturday and Sunday at Kremenchug 20 persons were killed and 80 injured. At Kutais a military train was wrecked and nine soldiers killed. After the collision the revolutionaries opened a rifle fire on the train and the troops replied in kind. There were several killed or injured on both sides. At Berdicheff several persons were killed or injured, and at Minsk serious rioting arose through the troops preventing a meeting of citizens. The troops fired volleys into the crowds and there was intermittent firing for a long time. A hundred were killed and 600 wounded. Indescribable horrors are being witnessed every day. The massacre and pillage of the Jews continue at Kishineff.

General Strike Raised.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 4.—The national holiday Friday in celebration of the anniversary of the emperor's accession to the throne was marked by the formal raising of the general strike in St. Petersburg. While the railroad strike has not yet been declared off, many of the railroad men are returning to work, and trains are being gotten through. The populace is calmer.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 6.—The czar at one o'clock Saturday morning signed a manifesto restoring to Finland the system of government it enjoyed before the annulment of the constitution in February, 1890. The manifesto cancels all ordinances enacted since that date, including the military laws of 1901, which were the source of greatest discontent. The czar accepts the resignation of the entire Finnish senate, which is a body nominated by the crown, and at the same time convokes the Finnish diet to meet on December 20.

Situation Improving.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 7.—Reports received from many points indicate that the situation throughout the Russian provinces is improving. The first train out of Odessa since the disorders began arrived yesterday at St. Petersburg having taken 13 days to accomplish the journey.

The struggle for autonomy in Poland has been renewed, and flags bearing the Polish coat of arms are flying from many buildings—preliminary to further action.

Count Witte is having trouble in organizing his new cabinet, and has taken up his residence in the palace in St. Petersburg, so that he may be at the emperor's elbow when his majesty returns, which is expected to be very soon.

Dispatches to the London morning papers tell of great distress in Kishineff, in the Caucasus and other places that have been the centers of the disorders.

CRASH KILLS TWO.

Collision Between Train and Street Car Near Chicago, with Fatal Results.

Chicago, Nov. 7.—Two persons were killed, one instantly, and three others were seriously injured Monday when a Grand Trunk through passenger train crashed into a Chicago Electric Traction company car at Western avenue and the railroad tracks, one mile south of Blue Island. The street car was cut almost in two, and pieces of the wreckage were strewn along the railroad tracks for 100 feet. The roof was lifted high in the air and fell on the engine tender. The dead: William Gudridge, Harvey, Ill., 55 years old, bricklayer; J. E. Dore, Harvey, Ill., 35 years old, employed as switchman on the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific railroad at Blue Island.

According to reports the cause of the wreck was a misunderstanding on the part of McCloud. Jacob Brink, of Harvey, the conductor of the street car, is said to have left it when the railroad tracks were reached, and to have signaled the motorman to keep back. McCloud, however, turned the controller handle and the car slowly started across the railroad tracks. Brink shouted and pointed to the swiftly oncoming train. McCloud then turned on the full current into the motors, but the force was too much for the motors at first and the wheels only ground on the rails, emitting sparks caused by the friction. While the car was gathering momentum the crash came.

VASSAR STUDENT DROWNED

Death of Miss Ensign, of Youngstown, O., Indirectly Laid to Headache Powders.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Nov. 7.—The body of Miss Emily Ensign, of Youngstown, O., a member of the freshman class at Vassar college, was found in the college lake early Tuesday morning. Subsequent investigation showed that Miss Ensign Monday not feeling well took some headache powders. It is believed that she unintentionally took an overdose and that while dazed by the effects of the medicine wandered away in the darkness and accidentally walked into the water.

Discovery of the body followed a search instituted by Mrs. Kendrick, the principal of the college, when she learned of the absence from her dormitory of Miss Ensign. Miss Ensign since coming to the college this fall had given frequent evidence of homesickness. Recently her mother visited her and since that time she had appeared in much better spirits.

Trouble Threatened.

Nashville, Tenn., Nov. 7.—Serious trouble is threatened in the mining section of Marion county, Tenn., and it is probable state troops may be called out to prevent further disturbances. Early Tuesday morning Gov. Cox was advised by telephone from Whitwell that union miners had fired into a building occupied by nonunion miners some time during the night and that one of the nonunion miners had been killed and four wounded.

Chief of Supplies for Canal.

Washington, Nov. 7.—Walter G. Tubby, now general storekeeper of the Great Northern railroad, has been appointed by Chairman Shonts, chief of the division of supplies of the isthmian canal commission, not superintendent of construction, as reported from St. Paul. His headquarters will be at Cristobal, Canal Zone, and he succeeds Paymaster E. C. Tobey, U. S. N., who has been recalled for service in the navy.

Death Not Imminent.

Dubuque, Ia., Nov. 7.—Dr. John C. Hancock Tuesday issued the following statement regarding the illness of ex-Speaker David Henderson: "There is no particular change in the condition of the patient. He has been slightly delirious at times, but no different than heretofore. Death is not imminent unless a hemorrhage develops."

FEDERAL COURT OF APPEALS IN OHIO REFUSES NOTED WOMAN NEW TRIAL.

TO SERVE TEN YEARS FOR WRECKING BANK

Decision of Lower Court Upheld in Every Instance—Story of Her Career Reads Like Fiction—Next Move of Her Lawyer Unknown.

Cincinnati, Nov. 7.—Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick has lost her last hope for a new trial unless the supreme court of the United States shall consent to allow a rehearing. The United States court of appeals Tuesday refused her application for a new trial. The lengthy opinion of the court was read by Judge Lorton.

Mrs. Chadwick is now in the jail at Cleveland under sentence to the Ohio penitentiary for ten years, having been indicted and convicted of conspiring to defraud under the national banking law, the specific case involving the wrecking of the Citizens' national bank at Oberlin, O., whose president has died since the exposure of the matter. The case was brought to the United States circuit court of appeals on a writ of error, sentence was suspended pending the decision of the appeal and the hearing of the case was expedited by the court, being placed at the head of the October calendar. Arguments were heard on October 3 and 4, Attorneys Dawley and Wing presenting the case of Mrs. Chadwick while District Attorney Sullivan upheld the side of the government.

Of the large number of errors claimed by her attorneys to have been made by the trial court, this court found that the lower court did not err in a single one. In closing his decision, Judge Lorton declared that Mrs. Chadwick ought to have known it was wrong to draw checks on a bank when she knew she had no money on deposit there, and that the inference drawn by the jury in the trial court that she did the acts with intent to defraud was a proper one.

Skilled Financiers Her Victims.

The story of Mrs. Chadwick's career in "frenzied finance" reads like fiction. From the moment this queen of money manipulators began operations until the day of her exposure and arrest she was master of the situation. Experienced financiers and men skilled in business affairs were her victims. All of them she handled as so many pawns. Not once did this remarkable woman fail to pull the wool over their eyes. Mrs. Chadwick's arrest was made at the instigation of District Attorney J. J. Sullivan, of Cleveland, O., just as she was making preparations to sail for Belgium. Her husband, Dr. Le Roy Chadwick, once a prominent physician in Cleveland, but for a time a resident of Paris, France, expected to join her there. It is believed Dr. Chadwick had no part in the frenzied finance deals of his wife.

Next Step in Doubt.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 7.—Mrs. Chadwick was in consultation with her attorney, Jay P. Dawley, when the news of the decision was brought to her. She made no demonstration whatever and scarcely any comment, allowing Mr. Dawley to speak for her.

"This means that they have beaten us," said Mr. Dawley. "It would scarcely be advisable for us to say anything concerning the decision at the present time. What the next step will be I cannot tell now, but of course I shall do something to safeguard the interests of my client. I am naturally disappointed in the outcome. I did not think that the court, in view of all the facts presented, could come to any other decision than in favor of Mrs. Chadwick."

Meets Accidental Death.

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 7.—Orsamus V. Eaton, one of the pioneer business men of Lincoln, a member of the board of city aldermen, was run over Monday night by a switch engine in the Burlington yards and almost instantly killed. Mr. Eaton was on his way home and took a short cut by following the railroad tracks. It is supposed he stepped from one track to avoid a train directly in front of the switch engine on another track.

Favors Federal Supervision.

Washington, Nov. 7.—As a result of his conference with Paul Morton, president of the Equitable Life Assurance society, President Roosevelt has decided to incorporate in his message to congress a recommendation for federal supervision of life insurance.

Prominent Woman Dead.

London, Nov. 7.—Lady Florence Dixie, the well-known writer, explorer and champion of woman's rights, who acted as war correspondent for a London paper during the Boer war, died Tuesday night at her home, Glen Stuart, Annan, Dumfriesshire, Scotland.

First Snow in Milwaukee.

Milwaukee, Nov. 7.—A wet snow fell here early Tuesday, the first of the season. Two inches cover the ground. The snowfall was quite general throughout eastern Wisconsin and in the western portion during the night.

The Wolverine Boat Co. has received an order for a 45-foot passenger boat from Montevideo, Uruguay. It will have eight-foot beam, with a cabin forward, and will be equipped with all the modern conveniences. It will be finished in cako and will have an 18 horse power three-cylinder Wolverine engine.

Two weeks ago a son of John Prins, living near Zeeland, accidentally cut his tongue. It started to bleed and all efforts to stop the flow proved vain. The boy finally died last Thursday from loss of blood. Two of his brothers have died in the past three years from hemorrhages caused by the extraction of teeth. Cases such as these are rare and the medical fraternity has not yet solved satisfactorily a method of treating the disease.

It has been all aboard for the north woods this week and most of the deerlayers of Holland are either speeding northward or are in camp waiting for November 10. The number of resident deer licenses sold in 1903 was 19,121 which produced a revenue of $14,340.75. The amount received last year for the sale of 21,091 deer licenses was $15,818.25. The amount is expected to be greater this year. After viewing these figures it is convincing that deer hunting is popular in Michigan.

It gives us great pleasure to state that Mrs. J. H. Crane is recovering from her attack of appendicitis, being able to sit up for a short time each day. As soon as she is able to stand the journey, she will be taken to Chicago for an operation. As this is the third attack of appendicitis she has had, the last two being within four weeks, it is considered dangerous to delay the operation longer than is absolutely necessary. Her mother, Mrs. James Reeve, and sisters, Miss Daisy Reeve and Mrs. Edna Mulder, made her a short visit Sunday.—Fennville Herald.

Col. M. B. Adams, accompanied by G. Van Schelven, P. H. McBride and J. G. Van Putten of the harbor committee, made a very thorough inspection of Holland harbor last week and as a result the hydraulic dredge, Gen. Gillespie, will be sent here soon to remove the sand that accumulated on account of the recent heavy storms. Col. Adams arranged with Contractor Will Van Anrooy to build a temporary structure at the outer end of the south pier to protect it until spring. Mr. Van Anrooy is making good progress in putting in the temporary jetties to protect the harbor from the break in the north pier near the shore line, thus insuring a navigable harbor until the Graham & Morton steamers go out of commission for the year.

Lieutenant Colonel Cornelius Gardener, formerly of this city, has since last May been in command of 15 companies on the east coast of Samar operating against "Pulifanes." "Pulifanes" are mountain people, densely ignorant and primitive, who, under bandits and criminals have burned many towns on that coast and killed their inhabitants who were living orderly and contented under American rule, because of supposed grievances against the municipal government of the towns. Samar is about 50x100 miles in area and the interior, principally mountains, is almost impassable country to operate in and very wild. However the trouble is about over, and peace with certain reforms is nearly accomplished.

The Fruit Belt, published in Grand Rapids, publishes the following arraignment of the officers of the Berlin Fair association: "The officers and management of the Berlin Fair association should at least respect the law and set an example that would be worthy of a fair name. Such a flagrant violation was never witnessed at a fair in the state. Gambling of the worst kind was allowed and for what? The paltry sum that was received to replenish their treasury. The public were brought there in crowds to see an exhibition of farm and manufactured products, exhibits that were said to be the best in years, and yet in the midst of all were men engaged in gambling and fleeing the public uninterrupted. A stranger would have judged the fair as a game of chance instigated for the sole purpose of robbing the public. Says one of the dailies: 'And they were well patronized.' Young men and old played their last dollar, believing that when an association sanctioned such methods they stood them well to win. All this time the officers looked on and laughed at their folly. The name of the association should not be so debauched, and now that is out of debt it is hoped a new lease of life be taken, and the good work of the West Michigan State fair be patterned after. It should be their policy to run a fair, pure and simple, and not a gambling place."

The local high school foot ball team was defeated Saturday at Grand Haven by a score of 28 to 0. The Holland boys were greatly outweighed but succeeded in holding their opponents to a score of 11 to 0 in the first half. In the second half Grand Haven continued to score until a total of 28 was reached. Holland's touchdown came in the last two minutes of play, Knutson getting away for an eighty five yard run on a fake play. Every member of the Holland team played football all of the time, and had it not been for the splendid tackling of Deto and Knutson the score for Grand Haven would have been much larger. The local boys say that the score might have been different had the treatment, which they received from the Grand Haven officials and crowd, been of the right stripe. The crowd surged upon the field while Holland was in possession of the ball thus making end runs impossible. During the first half, upon a decision by Umpire Helmers of Holland, a burly citizen rushed upon the field and informed that official that he didn't "know the first think about foot ball." Mr. Helmers was not allowed to act as referee in the last half and the game during that half was in the hands of a Grand Haven official who settled all disputes by consulting a 1904 rule book.

A faculty concert will be given this evening at Winants chapel, at 8

Mr. Pease will sing, among others, a selection from Handel's "Messiah," entitled, "Thus Saith the Lord—But who shall abide." Mr. Post will render several selections from Gottschal, Silas, Grieg and Liadon. Miss Conlon will play Mendelssohn's "Andante and Allegro Vivace."
