Make a Real Effort

If you have tried all kinds of doctors and all the different appliances that treat effects. You have received very little or no benefit. You have become discouraged with those methods and given up the fight. I want to tell you that I have cured cases as bad as yours by adjusting the spinal column. Make a real effort and get well by removing the cause, which is impinged nerves.

The pressure on the nerves checks the life-giving force and disease is sure to follow; release the nerve, health and happiness is the result.

Local News

Rev. Herbert McDonnell of Grand Rapids delivered an address at the sixth anniversary of the congregational church of Jenison. A musical program of unusual merit was also given.

George Riemersma was arrested by Officer Sam Leonard on the charge of jumping a board bill. He appeared before Justice Miles and pleaded guilty to the charge. The justice suspended sentence for six weeks giving Riemersma an opportunity to pay up in that time.

The days of the No. 1 fire team are said to be almost over. The strain of their long continuous service is beginning to tell and one of the horses is already unfit for service. Another horse has been secured temporarily at least, through the agency of Max Brown. The condition of the team and the necessity of their being replaced by younger blood was reported to the police board sometime ago but no action has been taken in the matter.

A fire drill was held at the Maple Grove school house Tuesday afternoon and the building was entirely cleared in one and three-fourths minutes. The number of children in the school is about from 300 to 350 and the record made in the drill is a remarkable one.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Oosting of 230 West Eighth street left Saturday for Miami, Florida, to spend the winter there. They will visit Cuba and many Southern places and expect to return about the first of April.

A basket full of paper near the furnace caught fire in the Christian school on Central avenue, but was promptly extinguished. However not before the fire drill had been thoroughly tried out showing that in actual danger the children can be marshalled out of the school building in a few minutes.

Travelers observe that in Holland in Europe the cows are always scrupulously clean, winter and summer. If we can not beat the Dutch we ought at least equal them.—Ex.

The Second Reformed church of Grand Rapids whose pulpit was made vacant when Rev. Matthew Koley, D. D., left after a ten year's pastorate to act as professor of church history at the Western Theological seminary has nominated Rev. Henry Hospers of Kalamazoo, Rev. Henry J. Veldman of Holland and Rev. John Le Mars formerly pastor of the Bethany Reformed church and now in Rochester.

A car containing 10,000 gallons of vinegar belonging to the H. Heinz Co., rolled down the embankment near the Holland Sugar factory while the car was being switched. The vinegar is worth at least $1,000. The vinegar remaining after the wreck, was pumped out.

Deputy Game Warden Hoyt of Grand Haven went up to Grand Rapids and seized nineteen muskrat hides at the store of Crohon & Roden Co. on South Front St. The closed season is from April 1 to Nov. 1 but it was explained that the pelts were brought to the store by a boy who did not know the provision of the law. There will be no arrests.

Roelof Van Raalte came into the second ward polling place Tuesday and called Alderman Art Drinkwater aside, saying "for 60 years I have voted the republican ticket. I want you to go in the booth with me to see that I do not make a mistake as I am getting old. The man's age is 83 years."

A flock of more than two hundred wild geese passed over the city the other day. They were not flying in a V shape as is their habit but the flock looked all the world like a bow and arrow. They were flying in a southwesterly direction. It was a pretty sight.

There were 64 births and 60 deaths in Ottawa county during the month of September. Grand Haven reported 3 births and 8 deaths; Holland 16 births and 14 deaths; Zeeland 8 births and 3 deaths. Grand Haven's annual birth rate per 1000 inhabitants 6.0, Holland's is 17.8 Grand Haven's death rate is 16.0 Holland's is 15.6.

William Van Doesburg, president of the Fabrick de Lindeboom of Midrecht, Holland is in the city, the guest of H. Hamstra, who has the agency for the company's goods in this country and will probably remain about two weeks. He has been in New York and Washington studying the tariff situation and the pure food laws, and before returning home will visit Chicago, St. Paul, St. Louis and other cities with a view of observing business conditions and American methods. The Biscuit Fabrick de Lindeboom was established by Mr. Van Doesburg's grandfather, and has descended from father to son. Under the management of the present generation the business has been largely increased, and now about 500 hands employed. The company manufactures the Frou Frou wafers and other sweet goods. These goods were introduced in this country by H. Hamstra six or eight years ago and the American trade, it is said, has grown to a quarter of a million dollars. While in this country Mr. Van Doesburg will investigate the possibilities of establishing an American plant.

The estimated average potato yield per acre in Michigan in bushels is 99 in the State, 92 in the southern counties, 94 in the central counties, 111 in the northern counties and 153 in the upper peninsula. The estimated average yield of corn in bushels is 32 in the State, 31 in the southern counties, 35 in the central counties, 33 in the northern counties and 34 in the upper peninsula.

A movement is now under way by the Hollanders of this city to form a strong 16 page Holland weekly. "De Gids" "De Getinge" and "De Gereformeerde Amerikan." Three local Holland weeklies will be consolidated and in connection with the Alliance of Young People's Societies will form the new paper. A meeting of the joint committee will meet sometime in the course of the next few weeks to discuss the matter.

A unique coincidence in which death was robbed of its prey is related in the case of the two brothers in which old age has displayed wonderful vitality. A year ago Jacob Geerlings of East Holland, aged 78 years became ill and the attending physician pronounced his case hopeless. About five years ago his brother, Henry Geerlings of this city, aged 80 years, also became ill and his death thrice was predicted. Jacob long since has recovered and Henry is convalescing.

Hope college will be represented next spring by the best track team in its history, if present indications are any criterion. Manager Stegman is highly pleased with the outlook as there are many promising recruits among the army of new students recently enrolled. In addition to the annual relay race and cross-country run with the Grand Rapids Y. M. C. A. squad, several events are scheduled which promise to keep affairs at a high ebb during the coming season. The organization of the new monogram circle has instilled the athletes with a greater degree of aggressiveness and a general pull will be made to secure additional trophies.

In seven English Protestant churches of Owasso on Sunday morning the attendance totaled less than 1,200. This fact was ascertained by a census having as its aim the gleaming of data for a report which will soon be made the basis of a movement toward increasing the interest in the divine services in Owasso. Sunday's services were not exceptional. It was an average Sunday from point of church attendance, as shown by figures gathered during several preceding Sundays. As yet no satisfactory explanation has been offered for the light church attendance. Owasso is an orderly city and prides itself on being the home of good citizens who take a keen interest in the city government and public institutions, such as the schools. But it is conceded that the churches are not holding their own with other places of public assemblage. The apathy will be analyzed and a general application of the remedy decided upon as best will result. That the movement to this end will be non-secretarian and on broad lines, is assured.

Circuit Court

The Ottawa County circuit court is in session and among the interesting cases that will come before it are following criminal. Charles Koningsberg assault with intent to rape. John Vos and Harold Dry, burglary. Issue of Fact jury Geo. Ellis mayor of Grand Rapids and Dr. A. Vander Veen, of Grand Haven. This is a case emanating from a deal that came to pass in Ellis bucket shop in which Dr. Vander Veen claims he got the worst of it through Conner Smith the Deacon agent.

Mortality of Michigan During September, 1910.

There were 3,412 deaths reported to the Department of State as having occurred during the month of September. This number corresponds to an annual death rate of 15.2 per 1,000 estimated population. The number noted above does not include 211 stillbirths returned on certificates of death. For the state as a whole the mortality for September was more favorable than for the month of August, there being 175 fewer deaths.

By age there were 871 deaths of infants under one year of age; 302 deaths of children aged one to four years, inclusive; and 899 deaths of elderly persons aged sixty-five years and over.

Important causes of death were as follows: Pulmonary tuberculosis, 182; other forms of tuberculosis, 28; typhoid fever, 96; diphtheria and croup, 47; scarlet fever, 13; measles, 1; whooping cough, 20; pneumonia and bronchopneumonia, 91; diarrhea and enteritis, under two years of age, 507; meningitis, 59; influenza, 6; cancer, 168; and violence, 207.

Locked in Grand Haven Depot

The supervisor of Grand Haven township, Mr. Harrick had a queer experience in the Grand Haven Pere Marquette station the other day after a session of the board. Going home on the 10:35 train at night he with two other passengers going south were locked in the station by the agent, the train meanwhile had pulled in and the conductor was attracted by the commotion in the station found the door locked. Finely a window was raised and the three passengers, one an aged lady who had to be lifted out were able to make their exit. There have been many complaints from passengers coming from Grand Haven on this late train that there is no light in the station, the agent being gone and on several occasions the waiting room doors locked. The supervisor says to a News representative that he will back up his statement.

Station Closes This Month

Holland as well as all the Lake Michigan life saving stations will close for the winter at midnight November 30, and the crews will go out of commission for the cold winter months. The keepers remain on duty at all of the stations during the winter and should the services of a life saving crew be required they are authorized to call upon volunteers for duty. There has been talk for some years of continuing the life saving crew at the winter harbors all the year round. No action has been taken by the government, and probably never will be.

College Lecture Course

Tomorrow evening the citizens of Holland will have the one opportunity of hearing England's most famous woman orator, Mrs. Philip Snowden. She has spoken in the principal cities of our country with remarkable effect and is coming to Holland to speak on the subject, "Peeps at Parliament through a Woman's Eyes." This new subject has made an extraordinary hit wherever it has been presented.

In person Mrs. Snowden is a woman of rare physique. She is a blonde of unusual beauty. Her makeup is purely Anglo Saxon. Her every movement is graceful, coupled with her personal charm is her high mentality. For these reasons she holds a little higher place than any other women on the American English platform. Though a speaker of unusual intellectuality, she is nevertheless a woman through. She is fearlessly independent, yet grievously sincere. She is a suffragette, yet a lady withal. Talented, beautiful, womanly, this daughter of Great Britain, has won an indisputable place wherever she has spoken. As a temperance lecturer she may be compared in a general way to Frances E. Willard.

A critic in this town who has heard Mrs. Snowden says that she rivals any orator that has appeared on our local platform. Mr. Fletcher set a high work a month ago. His powerful magnetic speech will not soon be forgotten. There is no doubt in the minds of the management that Mrs. Snowden will maintain the high standard of our local courses in its attempt to please and uplift. Her brilliancy of thought, the witchery of her language and charming personality are irresistible.

Hamilton

Hamilton had five prize winners in the Y. M. C. A. corn growing contest held at Ailegan. The contest created a great deal of rivalry and the interest taken in this annual affair is certainly beneficial to the farmer who wishes to improve the size and quality of the corn crop. On yellow dent corn Geo. Denius took third prize of $2 and 200 lbs of fertilizer. Joe Lampen was next, receiving $2.00.

Peter Langeland won fifth prize in the white dent, receiving a cash prize of $1.00.

Those writing the best essays on corn were Geo. Brower, second; Dennis Top, third. They received $2 and $1 respectively.

Farmers are getting wise from the lessons of a few days snow and winter and are hustling apples to market and getting their potatoes housed for the winter, while many of them are well started on their corn-husking. Corn is showing an average yield and the quality is well up to standard.

Mr. C. H. Parry, at March, has finished his work and has returned to North Holland.

In the big plant of the Armour Packing Company that concern has 1,800,000 dozen of eggs packed away in the cooling rooms. These were purchased last April and May, when eggs were cheap and none will be disposed of until prices advance. In other cold-storage vaults, several million eggs are packed away. ## "THIS DO IN REMEMBRANCE OF ME"

Matthew 26:17-30—November 6

THESE studies are selected for us in advance. Otherwise our preference would have been to consider the incident connected with our Lord's closing of earth life in the Spring of the year about the season at which that occurred. But Truth is always precious to us and has always profitable lessons.

Jesus was a Jew and was, therefore, obligated to every feature of the Mosaic Law. He came not to destroy the Law, but to fulfill it. Today's study points us to the fulfillment of one feature of the Law—the Passover; not that it is already entirely fulfilled, but that the antitype has for more than eighteen centuries been in process of fulfillment and the complete fulfillment, sure to come, is, we believe, near at hand. To appreciate this study we must have clearly in mind the type—

Approximately 3,500 years ago God delivered the people of Israel from the despotic power of Pharaoh, King of Egypt. Time after time Pharaoh had refused to let the people go, preferring to hold them as chattels, slaves. Time after time God had sent plagues upon Egypt as chastisements. Under the influence of each plague Pharaoh repented and through Moses entreated God for mercy upon himself, and for the people relief from the plague. Nevertheless, every manifestation of Divine mercy tended only to harden his heart until finally the tenth plague, the severest of all, was necessary. That plague consisted in the execution of the death sentence against all the first-born of Egypt. But the Israelites in Egypt were exempt from its provisions under certain conditions. Each family was required to have its own lamb, not a bone of which was to be broken. Its blood was sprinkled upon the doorposts of the house and the family, assembled within, partook of its flesh with unleavened bread and bitter herbs, pilgrim-like, with staff in hand, ready for departure out of Egypt in the morning.

Israel's First-borns Passed Over

When that night the Divine sentence slew all of Egypt's first-borns, the first-borns of Israel were passed over or spared; hence the name—Passover. And this ceremony, as a reminder of the great blessing of the Lord upon Israel, was commanded to be observed yearly as a memorial of God's goodness and because it typified, or illustrated, a still greater mercy and blessing yet to come.

A little later on those spared first-borns were exchanged for one of the tribes—Levi. Thereafter the Levites were the passed-over first-borns and were specially devoted to God and his service.

The Antitypical Fulfillment

Those experiences of the Israelites and their first-born ones were very real and properly very interesting to them; but they are still more interesting to Christians, who themselves are antitypes now being passed over. By Christians we do not mean all who merely make profession, nor all who attend Church, however regularly. We mean merely the saintly few who are now being called and being tested as to faithfulness to the Lord and by faith being passed over—from death unto life. These are Scripturally styled, "The Church of the first-born, whose names are written in heaven" (Hebrews xii. 23). As the deliverance of the nation of Israel from Egypt took place after the sparing or passing over of the first-born, so, correspondingly, the Divine blessing will come upon the world of mankind directly after the completion of "the Church of the first-born"—directly after their passing from death unto life, by the power of the First Resurrection. If there is a first-born class it implies that there will be an after-born class. Thus the Scriptures everywhere distinctly teach that the present call, trial, testing, proving and final rewarding of the Church will not be the end of Divine mercy toward humanity, but, on the contrary, will be only its beginning; for since the saintly are spoken of as the "Church of the first-born," or as the Apostle declares, "the first-fruits unto God of his creatures," we are assured thereby that after-fruits are equally part of the Divine Program.

Amongst the Levites were several divisions representing different ranks and grades of the Church of Christ. But the principle division or section of the Levites was the priestly family of Aaron. Just as there is a special class amongst the antitypical Levites, the faithful few, known in the Scriptures as the Royal Priesthood.

The Antitypical Lamb and His Blood

In Jesus' day the time had come for the fulfillment of the antitype of the Passover. Jesus himself was to be the Passover Lamb. By faith the merit of his sacrifice, his blood, was to be sprinkled upon the door-posts of his people's hearts, and his flesh, the merit of his earthly perfection, was to be eaten or appropriated by them in their minds. With it they were to eat the unleavened bread of the Divine promises and the bitter herbs of trials and adversities, and withal they were to drink wine, the blood of the grape, symbolically implying their participation with the Lamb in his ignominy and sufferings.

The Lamb of God, Jesus, the antitypical Passover Lamb, was slain nearly nineteen centuries ago on the exact anniversary of the killing of the typical lambs. The sacrifice of Jesus needs not to be repeated, for by faith we all sprinkle this same blood today, and in our hearts feed upon the merit of the same earthly sacrifice, and have plenty of bitter herbs of persecution and drink of the blood—share the Master's spirit and its reward of suffering for righteousness' sake.

Not many have appreciated these privileges during all these nineteen centuries—in all but a "little flock." Nor are there many who envy them their present experiences; nor are there many who appreciate how great will be their reward and blessing in the life to come. Then, instead of suffering with Christ, they shall reign with him in glory, honor and immortality.

"This Do In Remembrance of Me"

Jesus, about to begin the fulfillment of this type by dying as the antitypical Passover Lamb (Christ our Passover is slain for us—I Corinthians v. 7), instituted for his followers an annual remembrance which, in their minds, would take the place of the type and continually remind them of the great Antitype. Instead of the literal flesh of the lamb, the Master used bread, and instead of the blood, the fruit of the vine, and instead of a further commemoration of the type, he directed that this be done in remembrance of the antitype—"the Lamb of God which taketh away the sin of the world," and the passover coming to the Church of the first-born, as precedent to the great blessings to result for Israel and all the families of the earth.

Our Lord as a Jew was obligated to keep the typical passover, eating of the literal lamb, etc., first; but subsequently, after that passover supper, he instituted with the bread and the fruit of the vine his substitutionary memorial of himself, saying, "Take, eat; this is my body. And he took the cup; and when he had given thanks, he gave it to them; and they all drank of it. And he said, . . . Verily I say unto you, I will drink no more of the fruit of the vine, until that day when I drink it new in the Kingdom of God"—until his second coming in power and great glory to receive the Church as his elect Bride and Joint-Heir in his Kingdom and to shower blessings richly upon Israel and through Israel upon all mankind.

Judas, the Selfish Betrayer

The hour for the betrayal was drawing near. The Master knew by some power unknown to us who would betray him, etc. Breaking the matter to the twelve, he said, "One of you will betray me." Each asked, "Is it I?" Even Judas brazenly challenged the Master's knowledge of his deceitful course and said, "Is it I?" The answer was, It is as you have said—you are the betrayer. The Divine programme was carried out by the traitor, and the Scriptures were fulfilled which declare that he should be sold for thirty pieces of silver; but the coincidence marks the Divine foreknowledge without implying that God in any manner instigated the traitor's conduct, hence the statement, "Woe unto that man by whom the Son of Man is betrayed!" From this standpoint we are to understand that there is no hope for Judas in a future life. His sorrow and anguish before his death were such as found no compensation in any happiness he had enjoyed in previous days.

In My Father's Kingdom

In giving the disciples the bread, which represented his flesh, and the cup, which represented his blood, the Master pictorially offered them justification and sanctification, and, as St. Paul explained, he did more than this—he offered them a participation with himself in the sufferings of the present and in the glories of the future (I Corinthians x. 16, 1

Mr. Diekema Made Brilliant Run

Mr. Diekema made a brilliant run when you consider, that the democrats singled him out as the only man to be slaughtered and fought him alone.

When you consider that the Grand Rapids Press conducted the meanest, underhanded campaign against him, and him alone.

When you consider that a sore head defeated Grand Rapids republican spent his money against him, and republican ward healers were using all their low tactics to gain their ends, on him alone.

When you consider that in Grand Rapids purchased republican and democratic workers swarmed the city and polling places with epitaphs like these "now lets beat the 'Hollity' (meaning Hollander), "keep Grand Rapids on the map" "down with the stand pater." It reminds you of mob rule and riot with Diekema as an offender.

When you consider that Mr. Diekema had to decide three post office appointments on their merits and on the efficiency of the man and not the pull he had, and did so fearlessly and against his own interests:

When you consider that the interests with its millions, did not wish to see Diekema elected but wished to see a democratic house, and a republican senate so that there may be no legislation past derogatory to their greedy financial welfare.

When you consider that the farmer although prosperous through republican rule were not appreciative enough to do their duty AND VOTE.

When you consider that with a little more effort and a little less jealousy on the part of some of the members of our Republican city Committee, who claim that they were not properly recognized by the county committees, combined with a little more effective work would have rallied at least 1000 more Diekema votes to his standard, making him a sure winner.

When you consider all this don't you think our "Diek" made a pretty good run after all?

Too True

The Allegan Gazette in last weeks issue came out editorially on the hoggishness of Grand Rapids which we now know, came but too true.

The Gazette said:

Grand Rapids republicans are preparing to once more exhibit their perfidy by voting for a Democrat for congressman merely because he lives in their city and Mr. Diekema does not. In this they have direct encouragement from the Grand Rapids Press, a paper from which a broader and fairer course might have been expected. It is an old trick and one often played in the past, but always to the city's disgrace. The question of fitness never is considered. Anybody from Kent county is held to be better than the best man from anywhere else in the district, yet Kent never hesitates to ask the Republicans of the state to give her the highest honors they have to bestow. Possession of the United States senatorship is not even now sufficient to keep them from intending, in large numbers, to elect a Grand Rapids Democrat to Congress rather to be politically honest and choose a Holland republican."

The News might add that the greed of Grand Rapids does not consist alone in seeking all the offices in sight, but from a commercial stand point it tries through hook or crook to gobble up and take away from Holland all the business it can lay its hands on. A conservative estimate will show that Holland dumps into this greedy maw at least a half million dollars each year and still its appetite is not appeased. For 35 years Holland has stood nobly by any and all of her favorite sons. Majority after majority was the result of the returns, but never has Grand Rapids been so condescending as to give her weaker sister city a helping hand, even when the opportunity presented itself. Magnanimity does not exist in Grand Rapids but ingratitude does.

No Movement to the Country

Michigan gained 389,191 in population between 1900 and 1910. But 180,062 of this addition was made in Detroit alone. Massachusetts increased 561,070, of which Boston acquired 109,693. The population of Missouri was increased 186,870. St. Louis and Kansas City together show an increase of 176,375, which leaves an increase of 10,295 to be distributed among the smaller cities, towns, villages and the country of Missouri. Almost one-half of the gains made in Rhode Island were added to Providence alone.

The movement to the cities, it is apparent, shows no slackening. The country, in spite of the immense improvements in farm values, the constantly bettering returns for farm products, and the amelioration of unpleasant conditions so noticeable of late years, is not yet coming back to its own. While thousands of farmers have moved from the east to more promising lands in the west their places have not been taken by an equal number of families. The attraction which the country has for so many city dwellers is still not strong enough to draw them back to the soil in numbers. But ten more years may bring about an entire change in the trend of population. The discontent with congested streets, with dependence upon wage and the disadvantages of the wage system is growing. When the exodus sets in, it is very likely to be as strongly marked as the movement in the urban centers has been.

It was a Sweet mess that our republican stay-at-homes are responsible for in Ottawa county.

Popular Pastor

Rev. Drukker Sunday announced to his congregation that he had declined the call to the Madison Ave. Christian Ref. church of Paterson, N. J. Twenty-three calls received within the space of eight years is the unique record established by Rev. D. R. Drukker, pastor of the Fourteenth Street English Christian Reformed church in this city and one of the most popular clergymen in that denomination.

Rev. Mr. Drukker was the first pastor of the Fourteenth street church and has served it since its organization about eight years ago. The congregation has increased from thirty-eight families to nearly one hundred and seventy-five families, exclusive of one hundred individuals not connected with these families. Since the congregation was organized, a new church and parsonage were built at a cost of about $18,000, which are practically free from incumbrance, and a handsome new organ was dedicated.

Rev. Mr. Drukker has been in the ministry fifteen years and came here from Drenthe. Previous to his Drenthe charge he served the church at Midland Park, N. J.

Is Still Loyal

"I am of course much disappointed at the result of the election, but not at all discouraged, for I believe that the principles for which I stood are essential to the prosperity and happiness of our people and will ultimately triumph. The McKinley law brought similar results at the polls, but the people soon restored a Republican congress for their relief. "After March I shall immediately return to the practice of my profession, which I love and in which I am very happy. I will, however, continue to take a deep interest in all public affairs, and hope to be able to reciprocate the loyalty, love and devotion which so many friends in the district have given me. "In returning to private life I will not forget the duty of service which every true man owes to his fellows. "G. J. DIEKEMA."

Entire Republican County Ticket Elected

Ottawa did not participate in the Democratic land slide which affected parts of the United States Tuesday. The candidates on the Republican ticket were elected by big majorities.

Cornelius Andre, against whom something of a fight was waged, is reelected over Earl B. Thurston of Chester by well over 2000. The vote in 24 out of the 27 voting precincts of the county gave Mr. Andre a lead of 2041.

Jacob Glerum, candidate for county clerk, with three precincts out is 2372 votes to the good of Wm. Baumgartel. Mr. Glerum has developed into as great a vote getter in the county.

Hubert Pelgrim, candidate for county treasurer, had the closest fight of any of the county candidates on his hands. However in the 24 precincts heard from Mr. Pelgrim had a lead of 1,468.

John F. VanAnrooy proved the big vote getter of the Republican county ticket. In 24 voting precincts his majority over Willis F. Buck was 2575. John appears to be popular in Holland where he polled a big vote.

Louis H. Osterhaus made a great run for prosecuting attorney, with Peter J. Danhof as his opponent. Louis appears to have the second highest majority of the county candidates. In 24 out of 27 precincts Mr. Osterhaus has a majority of 2422. His vote in both this city and Grand Haven was immense.

The other successful county candidates are Cornelius Vander Meulen and Fred Miles of Holland, circuit court commissioners; Dr. William De Kleine and Dr. Daniel G. Cook, coroners; Emmett H. Peck, surveyor and Edwin Fellows, drain commissioner.

Chase S. Osborn's plurality in the 24 out of 27 precincts in the county is 1565. Martiale Republican candidate for secretary of state, is 1792 ahead in the same precincts. The vote on this particular office is supposed to represent the normal Republican majority.

Congressman Diekema's vote over Sweet in those townships was 1524. Mr. Diekema has perhaps carried the county by about 1650, which wasn't quite enough to win over the Sweet majorities in Kent and Ionia.

Charles McBride is elected to the legislature from the first district of the county, which includes the cities of Holland and Grand Haven, by about 550. With Olive second precinct to hear from Mr. McBride is 516 to the good.

Walter Clark is elected to the legislature from the second district by about 1100. His opponent, John F. Wilde of Wright put up quite a campaign but Walter had far too many guns for him.

Election News

Osborn carries the state by 45,445.

G. J. Diekema carries Grand Haven by 82, Jacob Glerum of Grand Haven carried Holland by 452. Louis Osterhaus of Grand Haven carried Holland by 627.

The Democrats will have a majority in the House at Washington of 61.

New York went Democratic Tammany.

New Jersey, Massachusetts, Ohio and then some more go H-I-Bent.

Grand Rapids snowed Diekema by a plurality of 2473. Kent county outside of Grand Rapids gave Diekema a majority of 607.

Ionia county was lost to Diekema by a plurality of 212.

Diekema lost the District 580, which will be reduced somewhat after the county canvassers get through especially in Kent.

The Hollanders in the Sixth ward in Grand Rapids were so appreciative of their congressman that they turned against him with a majority 215 after promising eternal allegiance.

From the Grand Rapids Herald.

Here in the Fifth Congressional District, a Democratic candidate goes to Congress for the first time since 1891. Mr. Edwin F. Sweet has every reason to feel keenly satisfied with the nature of his victory. It was a personal tribute rather than a partisan triumph. Congressman Diekema made a plucky fight against great odds—the greatest of which lay in misconception and misrepresentation of his record. He has been conscientious and earnest in the discharge of his public duty. He is an honest, able man. He deserved victory. The Herald is proud to pay tribute to his stature in defeat as well as victory.

The News wishes to say right here that the Grand Rapids Herald and its Manager, Arthur Vanden Berg and also The Grand Rapids News and its Manager John Hunter were loyal to the core. It is through their efforts and the efforts of a half dozen other staunch Grand Rapids republicans that our townsmen received the vote he did.

To the Voters of the City and First District

I wish to extend my heartfelt appreciation for the genuine interest and loyal support you gave me in my election to the legislature and I shall endeavor to so conduct myself in office that I may prove worthy of the confidence and honor you have given me.

Sincerely yours
Charles McBride.

Probably Our Last Congressman

Ottawa county republicans who stayed at home yesterday, defeated Ottawa county's congressman, Gerit J. Diekema for re-election to his seat in congress. It is true that the county vote did not turn out to its usual strength and this may be attributed the defeat of the Republican candidate for congress. In short it was the indifference of the republicans in Ottawa county, which cost Mr. Diekema his place in congress.

Further Mr. Diekema is probably the last congressman from Ottawa county, that will go to the National House of Representatives for a great many years, probably within the lives of the present day voters.

By neglecting to go to the polls the people of Ottawa county lost their hold on the seat in congress from the fifth district. The congressman was badly cut in Grand Haven as compared with his vote of two years ago, and even in Holland his home city, he did not receive the vote which it was believed he would get. As the small vote came in from the townships, those who were taking the returns began to realize that the republican voters in the country had failed to vote. Today there are many in Ottawa county, who are regretting Mr. Diekema's defeat, who are indirectly to blame for it themselves.

The fight was particularly hot in Grand Haven and Congressman Diekema suffered from it. The fight which developed in the primaries did not die out as the general election approached. In addition to the general republican apathy which prevailed all over the country, Candidate Sweet had made inroads in city and his progressive Democratic issues evidently made their impression. While Mr. Diekema carried the city majority was reduced to 82.

The First and Second wards gave Sweet a majority but the Third and Fourth overcame the margin and threw the balance in favor of the Ottawa county man. Ellis carried the city in the primaries.

The Democratic candidate to simply took up the Republican primary campaign where the republicans left it off and used very little Democracy in his appeal to the voters. Mr. Sweet made several visits to Grand Haven during his campaign, the last upon the occasion of his spectacular tour through the fifth district in a special train the day before election. This trip the new congressman claims brought in enough votes to give him the victory. At any rate it was Ottawa county's failure to role up its normal 2500 or more Republican majority which lost the honor of a representative in congress. Republican leaders believe that Ottawa county has had the last congressman that she will ever have while a member of the Fifth district, as at present constituted.—Grand Haven Tribune.

Mrs. Curry—"He doesn't sleep days."

Mrs. Murray—"But if he works nights how is it he doesn't have to sleep during the day?"

Mrs. Curry—"He's a policeman."

"Oh yes," said Mrs. Bright, "I got home all right, but when I reached the door I found I hadn't my latch-key. I thought I never should get in, for Mr. Bright was in the bath-tub and I had to ring him out!"

"And what does 'Kismet' mean?" inquired Bridget of her mistress.

"'Kismet' means Fate," replied the lady of the house.

The next Sunday Bridget's sweetheart proposed a walk in the park.

"Sure and I can't walk so far," objected Bridget, "I have a corn on my kismet."

The cannibals danced gleefully around the two-hundred-and-fifty pound captive.

"Don't you worry any more, old boy," cried the chief, "you're in the hands of admirers."

"You don't mean that?" said the adipose one, doubtfully.

"Sure, I do!" replied the chief, "why, everybody here loves a fat man!"

Grand Rapids Minister Acts at Impressive Sea Funeral

In a recent issue of the Grand Haven Daily Tribune, C. C. Converse of Grand Haven has written a letter telling of his trip last month to Japan, where he is a teacher of English in one of the schools at Kyoto. In the letter he describes his trip at sea, one of the most interesting features of which was the story of the burial of a young Japanese at sea. Rev. Marion Hall of this city officiated at the brief funeral services, which Mr. Converse describes as follows:

"The third day out we witnessed a sight that is seldom enacted on shipboard in modern days with their swift methods of travel. A young Japanese, who was being taken home in an injured condition, died on the second day out, and as he had no money to pay for carrying the body on to Japan, it was decided to bury him at sea. He had requested a Christian burial, and as one of our party, Marion Hall of Grand Rapids, was the only minister on board, the duty necessarily fell upon him.

"It had been getting rough all day and at 8 o'clock in the evening, when the funeral was to take place, we could scarcely hold up our heads. But the services had to go through, and with many misgivings we proceeded out on deck, where the ceremony was to be held. There we found all in readiness. The officers and crew, all dressed in their 'Sunday best,' were drawn up around the body with caps raised and heads bowed. The body had been placed in a canvas bag and lay upon a wide, smooth plank, one end of which rested on the rail, while over the coffin was spread the Japanese flag.

"Close beside it stood a table covered with a snow-white cloth on which was set a dish of rice, another of cakes, and another of oranges, while a dish of incense smoked away in their midst. A large potato had been pared and sliced endwise, and a couple of paper ornaments stuck into the halves, were set upon either side flanking the food. It was a most solemn occasion. It had been cloudy all day and far and wide as far as the eye could reach, nothing could be seen but the dull gray line of the horizon and the ever restless roll of the ocean, except perhaps a solitary seagull, winging his lone some flight across the expanse of waters, or the nose of a shark as he followed instinctively astern. It reminded me of one of the lines from 'The Ancient Mariner':

Alone, alone, all, all alone,
Alone on a wide, wide sea.

"Gathered together in a little bunch, holding on to the rail to keep our balance, we sang a verse of 'Nearer My God to Thee.' Hall read a psalm, and in the stillness that followed we heard his voice lifted for a few moments in prayer. The Japanese captain then advanced, bowed solemnly as only a Japanese can bow, and in Japanese, told the company how hard he always tried to guard the health of his passengers, but that sometimes he failed and this was one of the times.

"All of the ship's officers then came forward and bowed individually. Then suddenly we felt an awful stillness, the powerful engines had ceased their groaning, the great ship paused for a moment in her swift flight. Again the strains of 'Nearer My God to Thee' floated away on the breeze. The sailors lifted one end of the plank and there was a sudden slide and a splash. Hall extended his hand over the sea and repeated the service, committing the body to the waves and to the arms of an all-loving Father. The captain came forward bowing and thanked us for the part we had taken in the service. The steady grind of the propeller sounded once more, and the Japanese sea funeral was at an end.

"Never I think have I seen a more solemn funeral. No relatives and scarcely an acquaintance of the deceased was present in the group, yet they seemed almost reluctant to leave when the service was over, and remained with bowed heads, while their thoughts went up in wordless petitions to an all powerful being who controls the waters of the deep.

A Realistic Picture.

A still life by Jan Van Huysen in the museum at The Hague was injured, but it is believed that the perpetrator was neither vandal nor thief. The picture represents a basket of fruit on which a number of insects have gathered. On a pale yellow apple, which is the centerpiece in the cluster of fruit, is a large fly, painted so true to nature, so say the officials of the gallery, that the canvas was injured by someone who endeavored to "shoo" it and brought his cane or hand too close to the canvas. "A tribute to the painter's genius," says the letter recording the fact, "for which the work had to suffer."

CATCHES BIG FISH BUT LOSES TACKLE

FORTY-ONE POUND MUSKELLUNGE CAPTURED AFTER ROD IS BROKEN.

PRIZE NORTH WOODS STORY

Illinoisan Tells of Dragging Bottom of Lake After Line Has Been Lost, and Taking "Wicked Looking Animal" Fifty-four Inches Long.

Hayward, Wis.—This northwoods town is still discussing "the big fish story" which comes every year to stir the sporting spirit of Sawyer county. This year it is a forty-one-pound muskellunge, landed by Douglas H. Bethard of Peoria, Ill., at Teal Lake, after his rod had been broken and reel and line had gone overboard to the bottom of the lake.

Mr. Bethard tells the story himself, laying emphasis on the fact that here at least is an instance of "a big one that did not get away." For this the Peoria statesman gives full credit to Jimmie Gorman, his guide. He adds that besides tipping the scales at forty-one pounds, the fish measured 54 inches from head to tail. It was a wicked-looking animal.

"The last day of my vacation at Teal Lake came," says Mr. Bethard, "and I was to leave at noon. I decided, however, to go out for a morning's fishing.

"I fished for an hour without a strike, and we were just leaving the last weedbed for camp, having decided to give up and go in, when the big muskie struck my line and started for deep water. He carried the bait, stopping occasionally, a hundred to a hundred and fifty yards, before he finally stopped.

"I then decided he had the bait thoroughly swallowed, and I struck or snagged him very hard, as I felt he was a large fish and I wanted to hook him forcibly. He was lying flat on the bottom, I suppose, when I snagged him, and his weight and the force which I gave it snapped my steel rod below the reel. Unfortunately the end of the rod to which was attached the reel and the line went over the end of the boat into the lake in twenty feet of water with the fish on the other end of it. I suppose I must have had out twenty to thirty yards of line.

"As soon as it struck the fish broke water, showing himself to us in full, as they usually do, and we saw he was a very large muskellunge, larger than I had ever hooked. We decided to try and pick up the line with a drag. We tried to do so with the tackle in our boat, working for perhaps fifteen to twenty minutes, but were unable to do it.

"We decided to go to camp and discuss the matter. After lunch, Jimmie Gorman made a drag and with the assistance of another guide, we started for the middle of the lake to pick up the broken tackle.

"We rowed out in the lake, and to my mind the most remarkable event of the day happened, showing extraordinary ability on the part of my guide. We rowed to a point in the lake where there were no marks, except shore lines, when Gorman said: 'This is where he struck and this is perhaps where we will find him. Drop the drag.'

"We did so, and I am quite sure we did not row three boat lengths until we picked up the end of the line.

"Fortunately we picked up the line near the reel and immediately lifted it and the broken rod out of the water without disturbing the fish at the other end. We immediately changed the line off the broken tackle onto a new rod and found the weight of the fish on the end. He had not gotten unhooked.

"Then began the most beautiful fight I have seen my pleasure to have in my limited fishing experience. The big muskie had been quiet and seemingly was as full of fight as ever. He certainly gave us a pleasant time until we were able to bring him up to gaff.

"Fishermen who have the muskellunge 'habit' will know what such a fight means, especially when there is a fish on the line whose least movement or weight on the line would break the tackle. I am having the fish mounted."

THE PRESENCE OF THE SON OF MAN

Matthew 24:32-44—November 13
"Watch and pray, lest ye enter into temptation."—Matthew 26:41.

FOR various reasons many Bible students understand that our Lord referred to the Jewish nation under the symbolism of a fig-tree. He had been telling his disciples what might be expected in the end of this age, when he would come again to receive his faithful to himself and to give them a place as his Bride upon his Throne and to establish his Kingdom under the whole heavens for the blessing of Israel and all the world through Israel. In this study he tells us that amongst the prominent signs of the closing of this age and the opening of the new will be the budding of the fig tree—the springing forth of new life and new hope in the Jewish nation. And is not this condition of things manifesting itself today? Behold the Jews awakening and listening to the voice of Moses and the Prophets calling them to Palestine and to fresh hope in God and in the glorious promises to which they still are heirs as the natural seed of Abraham! "For the gifts and calling of God are things he does not repent of" (Romans 11, 29-30).

"This Generation Shall Not Pass"

The generation which witnesses the signs promised in the verses preceding our lesson and which witnesses this putting forth of the green leaves of hope by Israel will see to the full the accomplishment of the glorious change of Dispensation so long foretold. They will witness the passing of the reign of the Prince of Darkness and the inauguration of the glorious reign of the Prince of Light—Messiah with his glorious Bride class; not, however, that mankind will see Messiah with the natural eyes, nor see even his glorious Bride, except with the eyes of their understanding. "Flesh and blood cannot inherit the Kingdom of God" in this highest sense. Flesh and blood, however, will see Abraham, Isaac and Jacob and all the Prophets in the Kingdom, and will have full testimony and practical demonstration of the Kingdom power in the great transformation that will be wrought and the restitution blessings which will be showered upon Israel and upon all who will come into harmony with God through Israel's New Covenant (Jeremiah xxxi, 31).

The present ecclesiastical heavens and the present social earth will, indeed, both pass away in the great time of trouble with which this age will end; but following these, supplanting them, will come the new heavens and the new earth—the new religious institutions of the Lord—the Church in glory, and the new social order amongst mankind under the regulations for which we still pray. "Thy Kingdom come; thy will be done on earth." Then the words of the great Teacher will surely have fulfillment.

The Day and Hour Had Not Been Foretold

The day and the hour of the great change no one knew, not even the angels in heaven. The Master himself declared that he did not know—but the Father alone. This should not, however, be understood to mean that the Son of God would not know about the matter later on, in due time, before he would begin his work of establishing the Kingdom. Neither would it prove that the angels of heaven would be in ignorance up to the last moment. Neither would it prove that God's people, living at the time for the establishment of the Kingdom, would not know. In fact, the Master declares that all living in proper harmony with him would be kept informed respecting the Father's Plans as they became due. He declared that if they would partake of the things of God and follow after them, that then they should have meat in due season.

In this very study the Great Teacher illustrates this principle, referring to Noah and Lot. Noah was informed respecting the coming change of Dispensation when he was instructed to build the ark one hundred and twenty years before the flood. Lot was instructed respecting the disaster coming upon the city in which he lived long enough in advance to escape from it; likewise the Church of Christ is forewarned by this illustration and reminded that when they flee they shall not, like Lot's wife, covetously look back to the things which, under Divine condemnation, are to pass away, but shall escape to the mountains—flee to the Kingdom of God, which will at that time be in process of establishment.

Doubtless much of the immorality and sensuality which marked the days of Noah and the days of Lot will prevail in the world in the closing days of the present age. Other Scriptures so inform us, even though this study intimates nothing of the kind. This lesson brings to our attention another feature connected with our Lord's Second Advent—a feature which hitherto has been little noticed by Bible students. It informs us that his Second Coming will be unobserved, unknown to the world; that he will be present in the world and have to do with the gathering together of his saints and with the great time of trouble which will follow, yet be entirely invisible to men, recognizable only by outward signs of his presence and known only to the saintly few of humanity.

timely invisible to men, recognizable only by outward signs of his presence and known only to the saintly few of humanity.

This feature of the lesson is veiled from the eyes of the average Bible student by a mistranslated word. The Greek for the word coming in verses 37 and 39 is parousia, which does not mean coming, but should be rendered presence, as of one who has already come.

"In the Presence of the Son of Man"

This gives us a stupendous thought! The great King of kings will for a time be present amongst men, invisible, unknown, except by a very few of his saints, to whom his presence will be revealed through the knock of prophecy and the opening of the eyes of their understanding to appreciate fulfillments. Everything will continue as ordinarily—the eating, drinking, planting, building and marrying, "as it was in the days of Noah." Had the world known in Noah's day the climax of trouble impending many of the ordinary affairs of life would have been discontinued—and likewise here. The lesson is that as the world did not know in Noah's day, so the world will not know "in the days of the Son of Man"—in the presence of the Son of Man.

The field is the world, said our Lord, in explaining one of his parables. And so we should interpret it here. The Lord will gather some of his jewels from the field; all not his jewels will be left. Two will be grinding at the mill preparing food for the household; one will be taken and another left. The Lord's household is the Church and the mills which prepare the food for the Church are theological. The intimation is that some theologians will be taken and some will be left, in the selective processes of the presence of the Son of Man—in the making up of his jewels.

St. Luke mentions another feature of this discourse. There shall be two in one bed; the one shall be taken and the other left. A bed is a place for rest. All churches profess to be resting places, where the weary and heavy-laden rest through faith in God and in his promises. The teaching, then, would be that not all who are resting in the churches of Christendom, in the creeds, will be amongst the elect, the gathered jewels. Some will be taken away from these beds. Others will be left in them. A vivid description of these creed-beds and their unsatisfactory character is given us by the Prophet (Isaiah xxviii, 20).

Watch That Ye May Know

Following these illustrations of his presence and his work in the harvest time of this Gospel Age the Master exhorts all of his followers to watch, to be ready, to be on the alert, to be on the lookout, that they may be ready for his presence, that they may, in due time, discern his presence and that they may be gathered or separated from the world and theological relationship, and from earthly church relationship, to the Master himself. Some very earnest Bible students believe that we are in this harvest period now; that the Son of Man, the glorified Messiah, invisible to men, is even now present doing a searching and separating work in his Church, gathering his saints unto himself preparatory to their change from earthly to heavenly conditions and preparatory to the inauguration of the great time of trouble, by which present institutions will be blotted out to make way for the Kingdom of righteousness, for which we have so long prayed. Many Bible students believe that the present unrest and sifting and shaking amongst Christians and the creeds of all denominations and the colleges and seminaries are but incidental to this work which the Son of Man, present amongst us, is accomplishing for the purpose of fully separating to himself his very elect. Whether this proposition be agreed to or not, the fact still remains that thus matters will be whenever the time shall come, whenever the end of this age and the inauguration of the new shall take place.

His House to Be Broken Up

All of the foregoing suggestions are confirmed by the symbolism of the 43d verse. Here the Master likens the institutions of the present time to a house or household. Elsewhere he informs us that Satan is the Prince of this world, the over-lord who tyrannizes the world, operating through the weaknesses and passions and depraved appetites and impaired reasoning faculties of humanity. Had the time of the Lord's Second Advent been clearly made known that knowledge would have so altered matters and affairs that the world would not have been taken by surprise in connection with the gathering of the Lord's jewels and the establishment of his Kingdom and thus there would not be such a breaking-up in earth's affairs as is now impending; the Kingdom would be established, but not in the way in which God designed.

In this verse our Lord likens his second presence, unknown to the world, to the presence of a thief in a house, unknown to its master. The Lord's saints in the world are his jewels. These he will take away and the loss to the world will be great. As the saintly ones will be gathered from the field, from the mill and from the bed into closer heart-union with the Lord, those left in the world, the mill and the bed, will be greatly disadvantaged—not because the jewel class are wealthy or have worldly greatness, for of these chosen saints it is distinctly stated that there are amongst them "not many great, not many rich, not many wise, not many noble." But these saintly ones are, nevertheless, the "salt" of the earth and the salt of the churches and the salt of the theological seminaries. After the taking away of the salt class, putrefaction and disintegration will speedily follow.

In view of all this, all who profess to be the Lord's people should earnestly watch, as well as pray; they should watch their words and thoughts and doings and see to it that they worship the Lord in the beauty of holiness and that they do not idolize either dead or living man or creeds. Thus walking circumspectly in the footsteps of Jesus the saintly ones will be kept in the hour of temptation, which shall come upon the whole world to prove them (Revelation xiii, 10).

MADE FAMOUS BY DICKENS

Places Are Hardly Discoverable as One by One They Have Undergone Changes.

One by one the places made famous by Charles Dickens have undergone such changes that they are hardly discoverable. The rookeries in Tabard street, Southwark borough, among the last of these places are now being closed up and very soon this characteristic place of Dickens-land in London will have passed away, the "housing committee" having determined for sanitary reasons that it must be obliterated. The Church of St. George the Martyr, which stands at one end of the street, is the house of worship immortalized as Little Dorrit's church, and on this account is visited every year by thousands of American admirers of the great novelist. Near the other end of the street was the Marshalsea prison for debtors, where Little Dorrit's father, a man with "a mild voice, curling hair and irresolute hands," as the years passed by became gray-haired and venerable and was known as "the father of the Marshalsea," a title if which he grew to be ridiculously vain. And this character (much of the color of which Dickens is said to have taken from that of his own father) is one of the most pathetic in any of his novels. But the medical officer for the district says it has long had a wicked reputation, and London cannot allow such a degraded and unhealthy spot to remain, no matter what its romantic and historic interest. Long before the days of Dickens this corner of Southwark was known as the hiding place of highwaymen and debtors of the worst description.

NEW POWERFUL MICROSCOPE

Enormous Magnification Is Attained Without Former Blemishes Due to Optical Causes.

There has been exhibited before the Royal society of London a form of microscope, the invention of Professor Gordon, by means of which enormous magnification of an object can, it is stated, be attained without the blemishes due to optical causes that formerly marred such images.

We may suppose that the enlarged image of an object is received from a microscopic lens upon a ground glass focusing screen, and that then another microscope is employed still further to enlarge the image so formed. This is, of course, quite feasible, but the grain of the glass would be magnified together with the image and would vitiate the result. Professor Gordon uses a translucent screen of the finest possible texture, and he causes it to be kept in constant motion while the object is being viewed or photographed. By this means the grain of the screen is eliminated and the greatly magnified image of the object alone seen. Specimens magnified to the extent of ten thousand diameters were shown as proofs of the efficacy of the method adopted.—Harper's Weekly.

Thibetan Tricksters.

Fraud nestles even on the "roof of the world." In other words, the unsophisticated Thibetan does little cheating on his own account. He is almost the sole purveyor of all musk. It is sold at something like a dozen times its weight in silver, so one would think the scent would be pure. But this is far from the case. It is always sold in "pockets," and the vendors will not allow an examination by the buyer other than touch. But by this means he is unable to determine upon the purity, and it frequently happens that the vendor has adulterated his merchandise with amidon, peas, beans, potatoes, mixed with blood, the yolk of eggs, pounded in a mortar until it resembles musk.

The Barber in History.

Lovers of history will readily recall the influence possessed by the barber-valet and confidant of Louis XI of France, Olivier le Dain, and perhaps less easily the name of Nicholas Stagebeck, who gained a like influence with Christian II of Denmark; while there is no doubt that many other men in the calling have been on the most friendly terms with their famous customers who enjoyed their discourse and did not disdain their advice, like the barber of Montbard, in Burgundy, who, to the end of his days, boasted that on one memorable morning he had shaved before breakfast "three men capable of ruling a world." Messrs. Buffon, Rousseau and Voltaire.

A Wonderful Dog.

A government official in Bavaria connected with the forestry department has a wonderful dog, which is as clever at climbing trees as a cat. If his master fastens a handkerchief up in the tree-tops the animal will clamber up after it in the nimblest way, and never fails to bring it down. He was taught by his mother, who was famous as a tree climber. The clever animal has won several medals by his extraordinary talent, and takes particular delight in climbing silver birches—not the easiest tree in the world to scale, for the trunk is particularly smooth and slippery.—Wide World.

Invitations to the Party.

"What is the idea of this new political party they are talking about?" asked the studious woman. "I don't know," replied Miss Cayenne, "but I suspect it is to be like some of the parties with which we are familiar—gotten up for the purpose of snubbing somebody."

WHAT YOU SAW IN THIS PAPER

35 Years ago To-day.

Mr. Is. Verwey, the editor of the Standard, published at Grand Rapids, is giving a course of lectures this winter at that place, in the Holland language, on Political Economy and other subjects of a political nature.

At Grand Haven a steam yacht has been built and launched, intended for the Mississippi river trade. It has been arranged so as to carry both passengers and freight and will ply on the Mississippi and its tributaries. She is a side-wheel flat bottomed craft 5½ feet long, 8½ feet, beam, 2 feet 8 inches deep, and when completed is to draw about fourteen inches of water. Mr. William J. Minderhout, we are informed will go out with her, at least during the coming winter.

Messrs. Welton & Akeley, announce themselves this week as the successors of M. P. Visser, in the general retail business, carried on at the old stand, on River street. They are a new firm, but have managed to get into an old established business and for that purpose they had retained Mr. Visser, in order to introduce themselves to his friends.

An instance of wanton cruelty and spiteful injury occurred in the township of Fillmore a few days ago, at the place of Mr. D. Van Os. During the night between Monday and Tuesday last, he was aroused from his sleep by a noise in the barn. He went there and found his horse weltering in blood, a gash having been cut near the left shoulder, within one inch from the heart, evidently with the intention of stabbing him at that place. The next thing he saw were two cows, tied together by their necks and tails, in such a manner that upon their commencing kicking, it would have strangled them both.

WHAT YOU SAW 30 YEARS AGO

Garfield and Arthur have carried the country by an overwhelming majority. Even the border States have made tremendous Republican gains. The whole country will become "solid" Republican in a few years.

Our State Senator is still in doubt and it may take the official canvass to decide it. Senator Farr and Hon. L. G. Mason ran pretty even. The chances, however, are in favor of Mr. Farr.

In our County politics were nearly wiped out, (and this is as it should be) and the people voted for the persons whom they trusted best regardless of locality, nationality, or political affiliation. For instance: Mr. Wm. C. Harper, of Robinson, was nearly elected to the Legislature, on the fusion ticket; was opposed by Mr. C. Van Loo, of Zeeland, the Republican nominee, who goes in with a small majority. This city gave Harper six majority, in the face of Garfield 73. Mr. Jacob Baar, fusion, an American born citizen of Grand Haven is undoubtedly elected Register of Deeds, and received 97 majority in this city. Mr. L. T. Kanters, fusion, is elected County Treasurer, by from 100 to 150 majority. He received 219 majority in this city. Mr. Cross, fusion candidate for Judge of Probate, received 11 majority in this city—showing that he ran ahead of his ticket 84.

The whole vote of the city stands thus, as near as can be ascertained:

City	Town
For President—
Garfield.....	226
Hancock.....	153
Phelps.....	59
Weaver.....	20

J. R. Kleyn has commenced the erection of a fine dwelling near the Keystone planning mill for himself. By the time the residence is completed it will have cost Mr. Kleyn about $5,000.

Geo. E. Hunt, the nobby ticket agent at the depot, has just purchased for his sister a fine cabinet grand Fischer piano of D. A. Chipman, salesman for the well known music house of Frederick Brothers, Canal street, Grand Rapids, Mich.

Thursday evening last Mr. Peter Kleis left his meat market in charge of his two sons aged 13 and 9 years respectively. The oldest boy was playing with a "slingshot" shooting a lead pencil against the wall, the younger boy watching him. In some way the pencil was shot in the direction of the young boy and the pencil struck him in the right eye, near the pupil, inflicting a wound, which has destroyed the sight of that eye. Dr. R. B. Best attended the little suffer.

If there is anything that will make a newspaper man feel like cursing, it is to have some sneaking specimen of humanity who has read this paper for three or four years without ever as much as a "thank you" direct the postmaster of his place of residence to send it back with the notice that he don't want it any longer. We are sorry to say that there are a few such individuals in the numerous small burghs around this city and we are keeping a list of them. Sooner or later their history will form an interesting item for the columns of the News.

This quite community was thrown into a state of excitement last Sunday morning over the reported shooting of two young girls, daughters of Captain B. Van Ry of the schooner R. Kanters. Hearing the report we proceeded to investigate and called at the family residence on Cedar street. The family consists of five children, who remain at home, and are under the charge of the oldest daughter, Maggie. A part of the family were at breakfast, the two girls Tilly and Katie aged 12 and 10 years respectively, were still in bed, the younger one being sick. A shot gun, belonging to a brother, was in the corner of the bedroom. A younger brother, Harry, aged 8, asked the girls to get up, picking up the gun playfully pointing it at them, telling them he would shoot unless they did. He attempted to lift the hammer which slipped from his little fingers and the gun was discharged, the charge hitting the two girls. Katie, the younger, received a wound in the elbow of her left arm, and Tilly was wounded in the fleshy part of her right arm near the shoulder and also in the right temple. Fortunately the shot was of the smallest size made and was put into the gun for the purpose of shooting a rat with which a neighbor was troubled.

At fifteen minutes to eight o'clock last Wednesday evening Mr. Fritz Hummel was discovered in his room at the City Hotel in a dying condition by Mr. G. Leapple. Mr. Leapple called to see Fritz, who was afflicted with rheumatism and who had not been at his accustomed work in the tannery of the Cappon & Bertsch Leather Company that day, to ascertain what was the matter. The door of his room was locked and after calling several times and getting no answer Mr. Leapple and Geo. Williams forced the door open and found Hummel lying at full length on the floor. He was breathing heavily and was unconscious. Dr. R. B. Best was immediately summoned and pronounced the case one of poisoning. Everything was done to revive the rapidly sinking man, but to no purpose. He was paralyzed and growing rigid and at 3:30 Thursday morning expired. Coroner O. E. Yates impaneled a jury consisting of H. Boone, M. Jonkman, W. L. Hopkins, G. J. A. Pessink, A. M. Burgess and W. H. Rogers. At the inquest it was learned that the deceased had been in the habit of taking Wine of Colchicum for his rheumatism and had evidently taken an extra dose, expecting it to relieve him of his pain sooner.

The new C. L. King factory in Bay View Addition is looming up opposite the foot of Tenth street.

Col. O. H. Moore, late of the 25th Mich. Inf., died at the St. Joseph retreat near Detroit, aged 63 years, and was buried at the latter city, Sunday.

WHAT YOU SAW 15 YEARS AGO

The remains of Mrs. Daniel Bertsch will reach here from Escondido, California today (Friday) and will be accompanied by the bereaved family. The funeral will take place from the M. E. church, of which the deceased was a member, on Sunday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock after brief services at the house of E. Herold. It is expected that the funeral will be largely attended by relatives and friends from Grand Rapids and other points outside of the city.

Henry Clark and Joe Borgman, two of Holland's young wheelmen had a collision on Eighth street the other evening. Neither of them were injured, but the latter's bicycles was quite badly damaged.

There will soon be a pole raising at the West Michigan Furniture factory. Mr. Arnold DeFeyer on Tuesday placed upon the ground a main pole 85 feet long and a topmast 76 feet in length. This will be the highest pole ever set in Ottawa county and from its peak will be unfurled a silk flag 20x40 feet in size. Who says the West Michigan Furniture Co. is not a patriotic institution.

The first supper hunt of the Zeeland Gun Club took place Monday. The sides were captained by Van Eyk and Karsten, each having seven men. The inventory at night showed 62 red squirrel, 28 fox squirrels, 26 rabbits, 27 quail, 4 partridges, 3 crows, 1 owl and 14 sparrows. Van Eyk's side having made the largest score, a game supper at the expense of the losers was at the Wednesday evening at the residence of Dr. O. Baert.

The new corporation to be started in the city is known as "The West Michigan Seating Co." It has a capital of $100,000, and the plant will be located between Eighth street and the lake front, adjoining the dock of the Holland & Chicago Transportation Co.

At a meeting held on Wednesday afternoon the following officers were elected: President, Geo. P. Hummer; Vice President, Geo. Williams; secretary and manager, C. F. Hanchett; treasurer, W. C. Walsh.

WHAT YOU SAW 10 YEARS AGO

The death of Mrs. Albert Curtis, wife of Dr. Curtis, occurred last Monday night at the family home, East Seventh street. Mrs. Curtis was 38 years of age.

Grand Haven knifed Dykhuus. It will gain nothing by treating candidates from Holland in that manner. It is a shortsighted policy and casts discredit on some of the party leaders of that city.

The first interurban car to enter Grand Rapids will come in over the tracks of the Grand Rapids, Holland & Lake Michigan line on December 1.

Peter Schoon and Art Drinkwater said the 2nd ward would go republican and the election returns showed they are good prophets. The vote the 2nd was a surprise to the political leaders as it had always been considered a strong democratic stronghold.

Hen Jag Raises Egg Price

When Mrs. Adam Forry, of Myerstown, Pa., emptied into the yard a bottle of wild cherries that had been soaking in whiskey for years, she did not imagine that her flock of chickens would eat them. They gulped all of them down and in less than ten minutes an amusing chicken spree was on. The old hens lay down helpless, and the roosters and pullets staggered around and trod all over the hens.

Scores of villagers flocked to the place to witness the novel sight, and a shocked teetotaler delivered a lecture on the evils of strong drink, using the drunken hens as a horrible example.

When night came on the "drunks" tried to reach their roosts, but their legs were too shaky and they slept on the ground, just like old toppers. An eggnog vender is paying Mrs. Forry double price for all the eggs the bibulous hens may lay during the next ten days.

is the original—has been the standard for thirty-five years.

There are thousands of so-called "just as good" Emulsions, but they are not—they are simply imitations which are never as good as the original. They are like thin milk—SCOTT'S is thick like a heavy cream.

If you want it thin, do it yourself—with water—but don't buy it thin.
