OVER 1,000 DELEGATES IN ATTENDANCE AT CONVENTION IN BATTLE CREEK.

Battle Creek, Nov. 11—About 1,100 delegates to the 35th annual Michigan State Sunday School convention were present at the opening session yesterday and each train arriving last evening swelled the number.

Grand M. Hudson, president of the Michigan Anti-Saloon league, was the day's principal speaker.

"If we have 90 per cent of the men who belong to the church at the polls on election day, we can carry prohibition by 25,000 votes," he said. A fight between Detroit and Holland for next year's convention already is being waged. Holland and Ottawa county are making a valiant effort to land it. A delegation of 175 from the county is here, and a large electric sign, "Holland—1916", has been erected over the meeting place door and windmill-shaped ballots are being circulated.

Holland has the inside track it is said to land the convention.

A proof that the kind of people who take coppers from a dead man's eyes are still living was literally shown recently. A local family last spring put a few large and beautiful flower pots, on a grave in the cemetery containing some choice flowers. Yesterday they called for them at the cemetery to take them home for the winter, and the pots were not there. Imagine the low form of a human being who would steal a flower pot from a grave!

CAT MAKES TRIP FROM PORT SHELTON

"THE CAT CAME BACK"

The Old Adage Again Proven to the Satisfaction of the De Kraker & De Koster Meat Market.

A year ago the meat market of De Kraker and De Koster was flushed with cats more than they could see for the purpose of catching rats. Becoming bored by their presence, they attempted to scatter them. Making certain of the disappearance of at least one of them, the feline was carefully put in a crate and transported to Port Sheldon, where he was turned loose to obey the call of the wild.

The last seen of the animal was a gray streak through the woods. That was a year ago.

This morning a familiar figure was found in the back yard of the meat market, and before long was identified as the same feline last seen scurrying off in the Port Sheldon woods. The cat had doubtless become weary of the wanderer's life and having an almost human desire to again visit his birthplace, returned to his native haunts this morning.

FRUITPORT MAN SAYS HUNTER SHOT AT HIM.

Makes Complaint to Prosecutor Galpin Muskegon County, Alleging Muskegon Heights Man Took Shot At Him

Prosecuting Attorney H. E. Galpin of Muskegon is making an investigation into the case of Orlin Williams, a Fruitport farmer who claims that Joe Sikora, a Muskegon Heights resident, shot at him twice with a shotgun Sunday morning on the Williams farm and wounded him slightly in the leg.

Sikora and two companions were hunting, and had two dogs with them. One of the dogs found a rabbit, which headed for Williams' home with the dog in hot pursuit. Williams seeing the dog, stepped out of doors and shot it. When Sikora and his companion arrived they demanded to know what had become of the animal and Williams told them to get off his land.

Hot argument followed, during the course of which Williams shot the other dog. Sikora, he claims, thereupon leveled a shotgun at him and he ran and hid behind a corner. Sikora, he asserts, shot under the corner some of the shots passing through his trousers legs and lacerating the skin. He thereupon doubled for the house, and just as he entered the door, he claims, Sikora let go the other barrel. The shot went wild, he admits.

Deputy Sheriff Matthews investigated the case. Williams claimed in extenuation for shooting the dogs that some dogs had killed two of his chickens the previous Sunday. It is very doubtful whether any action will be taken in the case.

Henry Kraker of the Kraker Plumbing shop left this noon for North Yankama, Wash. On his return he will visit the Frisco Fair and make an extended trip all through the west.

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Stephan and Mrs. Edward Stephan and son were in Grand Rapids yesterday.

Dr. J. O. Scott, A. Smeenge and Mr. Davis of Saugatuck have recently been added to the roll of Overland owners.

Martin Vander Bie is going deer hunting at Whitefish Point on the Coast of Lake Superior. He will leave tomorrow to join a party of men from various parts of the state and will then proceed into the wilderness.

WIRE FENCE FACTORY PUT TO GOOD USE

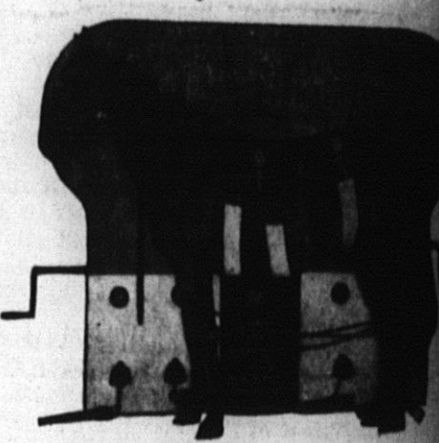

A FACTORY IN HOLLAND FEW KNOW ABOUT.

Make Operating Tables For Horses and Other Veterinary Appliances; Sends Its Goods All Over the World.

We all know and feel that conditions industrially are improving in this city. Several factories are working overtime and this morning we hear of another factory that will start overtime work. Of our large factories we hear more or less every day. But our smaller institutions, which all help to make up one large industrial center, we do not hear so much.

Possibly there are not a hundred people in Holland who know that the old wire fence factory which never made wire fence, is now occupied by a busy little plant called the Veterinary Specialty Co. A year ago last July Thomas Olinger of Lansing, Michigan, purchased from Dr. L. L. Conkey the veteran veterinary, the patented rights, on what he called his Simplicity Equine Operating Table which is one of the most handy and thoroughly equipped articles of this kind in the market.

It is known by only a few that this company is sending its tables all over the world. Today Mr. Olinger is boxing up one of his most expensive tables, which is run entirely by electricity and is shipping it to South America.

"Simplicity Equine Operating Table"

Recently another electric table was sent to the University of Sidney in Sidney, Australia; another was shipped to a private hospital in Cork, Ireland; Albert, Canada, also boasts of the Equine Table.

Since this little plant has been operated in Holland nineteen were sold to the United States Government to be used wherever Uncle Sam has forts. The table will be found in Manila, Porto Rico, Vancouver Barracks, San Antonio, Tex., San Francisco and Honolulu.

The Veterinary Specialty Co. makes four models but the one which is the most interesting is the one run electrically. By the pushing of a little lever the table adjusts itself ready for the operation. These tables are made to lay the horse down, to lift the animal off its feet and also revolves in such a way that it can be adjusted towards the light which is very essential in all operations. By pressing another lever it can turn the animal upside down or over at the will of the operator. In fact it only takes two men to handle the most unruly horse and to get the animal in shape for the operation. The mechanism is surprisingly simple and for that reason is making a hit in the veterinary world.

This is not all that this Veterinary Specialty Co. makes. They also make four models of what is called the Hyper- and Bleeding Crates and Trucks which are used in serum plants scattered throughout the country and especially in state institutions where anti-hog cholera serums are made. These serums are used by the farmers for the prevention of hog cholera among their hogs.

This firm also makes the so-called Ajax Stocks which are particularly adapted to dental work with horses. To this list might also be added securing harnesses for the throwing of horses and slings to support animals with broken legs.

This enterprising firm also makes operating tables upon which the Veterinary performs operations on cats and dogs. This table is called The Simplicity Canine-Feline Operating Table.

No doubt all this is a surprise to the majority of our readers, because, even yesterday we heard a knocker mention among other things, that the Wire Fence was another one of your empty buildings, waiting to be filled by the Bonus Committee. When we told the gentleman that the Wire Fence Factory originally had nothing to do with the Bonus Committee and received no money from this committee and was promoted by private stockholders who lost their money in it, that the building had been occupied by a company making operating tables, he was greatly surprised. No doubt there will be others and from time to time this paper will point out where some good things can be said.

Miss Madeline Van Putten of the Western Union, is taking her sister Miss Mary to Rochester, Minn., for a stomach operation. It is impossible for the young lady to retain food and the family decided that an operation at Mayo Bros. hospital would be the right thing to do. They left this morning at 8 o'clock.

BRADSHAW CASE AGAIN

Jury Retires Three Times and Still Disagrees.

The case of Hugh Bradshaw vs. Walter Sutton was again taken up before Justice Sooy in the court room of the city hall Tuesday. Bradshaw claims $125 coming from Sutton for signing a liquor bond which Sutton never had occasion to use. A trial of the same case a short time resulted in a disagreement of the jury, and Tuesday's trial resulted similarly. After being out till 6 o'clock and returning twice with a disagreement and being sent back to reconsider by Justice Sooy, they again returned no decision. Five were in favor of some compensation and one voted for none at all on any condition.

The members of the jury were Herman Meppink, A. J. Force, Ralph Peel, J. Meeboer, A. B. Bosman and Robert Slowinski.

INTERESTING CASE TO BE TRIED IN COURT.

What will prove to be an interesting test case is one brot by Henry Truex against Burton Harrington, formerly of Holland and the township of Clyde in which Fennville is located. Mr. Truex sues Harrington because he is road commissioner and the township of Clyde because Harrington was the township's agent in the capacity of road commissioner.

The plaintiff claims that in building certain culverts near the Truex farm Mr. Harrington built them in such poor shape that the water could not get away, but instead flowed on the farm of Mr. Truex doing upward of $6000 worth of damage.

The plaintiff claims that his mint, carrot and beet crop were totally destroyed and that the roots of the mint, which does not have to be replanted each year have been drowned out and are a complete loss and will have to be replanted.

Farmers in this vicinity will be interested in the development of this case as similar instances have come up from time to time in this locality.

The defendants claim that the culverts are alright, but that the excessive rains this summer and fall were the cause of not alone flooding the Truex farm but also several farms in the immediate neighborhood.

Charles P. Wilkes of Allegan will defend the township of Clyde and Vischer & Robinson are attorneys for Mr. Harrington. Clare Hoffman of Ottawa County Grand Jury fame, is attorney for Mr. Truex.

GIRL GETS KICKED BY HORSE AFTER STRIKING THE ANIMAL WITH A WHIP.

The three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Essenberg was seriously injured Thursday morning when she was kicked by a horse. A number of children were playing near the horse, and one hit the horse with a whip. Without warning it kicked the child, striking it squarely in the face nearly severing the nose. The children fled and the mother found the child, a few minutes later, in an unconscious condition. The fact that the horse was unshod, probably saved her life.

A very interesting game of baseball was played at West Olive, Nov. 5, between the "Robart" and the "Smith" schools of Olive township. The game was called at 3:45 P. M. It was finished with a score of 17 to 3 in favor of the "Smith's big nine". The spirit of both teams was so much aroused that they are now planning to have another game. The Royal Neighbors of America in this city who intend going to Grand Rapids tonight to take part in the work in which a class of 50 will be initiated into the order, are urgently requested to be prompt. Those taking the interurban are requested to take the 4:25 car in the afternoon. Those taking the Pere Marquette will meet the others at the interurban station in Grand Rapids at 6 o'clock sharp when The Neighbors will all go to the Hall in a body. Be sure and be on hand promptly. All members are requested to be present.

CITY OF ZEELAND IS 345 AGAINST AND 55 TO CONTINUE RUNNING A MUNICIPAL PLANT.

Will Get Light From Consumers Power Company of Grand Rapids

The special election held in Zeeland Monday, as to whether the city of Zeeland should or should not abandon and give up its municipal electric light plant and the city council be authorized to sell and dispose of all or such parts of such plant, was won by the affirmative by an overwhelming majority. In the first ward, where the election was held at the city hall, there were 268 votes cast in favor of the franchise and 38 votes opposed. In the second ward, where the election was held at Steven Butler's store, there were 77 votes cast in favor and 17 opposed. There were exactly 400 votes cast, 345 in favor and 55 against the franchise, so eighty-seven and one-half per cent of the voters were in favor of the discontinuance of the sale of electricity.

Negotiations have been completed with the Consumers' Power Co., of Grand Rapids, giving this corporation the right to furnish electric light and power to the citizens of Zeeland and suburbs by lines brought in here from Grand Rapids. The proposed contract includes the sale of the present municipal plant and electrical equipment not including the real-estate and the pumps. To the above named company for a consideration of $12,000. This price is fully what the plant is worth. The operating expenses for the city will be much reduced by the proposed change; and the rates offered by the power company will in nowise increase the cost of electricity to the consumer over what he is now paying to the city for the service.

The present plant is not equal to the demand made upon it and the machinery is not in the best of condition, making it necessary in the course of a couple of years for the city to rebuild the plant and change over from the present direct current to the alternating current, such as the power company proposes to furnish. This would necessitate a heavy bonded indebtedness to the city, which of course, will not be necessary as the franchise will now be granted. The operating expenses will be less as the city will have charge only of the water department, the electric department being looked after by the officers of the Power company. The city will purchase electrically driven pumps, which will do away with fuel and the handling of the same. The city will also erect a standpipe of suitable size.

With the money realized from the sale of the plant and the city's costly real estate on Main street and then locating in the neighborhood of the deep wells on the west side, it is not that there will be sufficient funds to install a first class water supply equipment of sufficient size without incurring any new indebtedness.

WEST OLIVE AND GRAND HAVEN LOOSE RURAL ROUTE SERVICE.

The sweeping changes in the rural mail service of this country are now being felt close at home. Postmaster Peter Van Lopik received word some time ago that one of the routes from the Grand Haven postoffice would be discontinued.

The route which gets the axe is route 4 from Grand Haven. Charles Schroeder is the carrier on this route.

Orders have been received to discontinue the services of Carrier Frederick M. Hannum after Nov. 15 and Mr. Schroeder has been appointed carrier in his place. All changes in fact will take effect Nov. 15.

In the future mail over the old route four will be handled by routes 1 and 2 of this city and by the West Olive route.

The rural route from Robinson has been ordered discontinued and has been transferred to West Olive. Carrier Conant of Robinson will lose his position and a new carrier will be named in West Olive.

Other rural route changes will take effect in other postoffices of the country and several old-time employees in the service will lose their jobs.

Harry Went, aged 15 years, narrowly escaped cremation in a fire which destroyed a straw stack on his father's farm on the Grand Haven road Tuesday evening. Went attempted to extinguish the blaze when his clothing caught fire and both his legs were badly burned. Neighbors rescued him.

GRAND HAVEN STATE BANK INVOLVED IN LAW SUIT

The Grand Haven State Bank thru its attorneys Lillie, Lillie & Lillie has filed a suit for recovery against Joseph Kendzior and Pauline Kendzior for several hundred dollars transferred them in a loan secured by a mortgage on a certain described farm in Robinson township said to have been worth $8,000.

It appears that in March, 1914 the couple came to the bank and executed a promissory note for $800 secured by mortgage on the farm. They gave the names Joseph and Pauline Kendzior, transacting all additional business at the time in due form. Then in October, 1915 the same couple returned and executed a note and mortgage for $1200 upon a certain described farm in Robinson township under the names of Frank and Anna Kendzior. The reference to the county records showed that a transfer of the property named in the first mortgage had been made to Frank and Anna Kendzior for a consideration of $8,000, by deed made and executed in Chicago. Frank and Anna Kendzior are said to have drawn $600 of the loan and $600 was placed on deposit, not as yet having been drawn.

The State bank charges the couple with having made the transfer for the purpose of defrauding the plaintiff.

William Alden Smith, U. S. senator from Michigan Friday came out as a strong supporter of Supreme Court Justice Charles E. Hughes for the Republican nomination for president. "His nomination," said Senator Smith "would insure a Republican victory as great as was achieved by McKinley in 1896."

STUNT WAS DONE ON A WAGER. TAKES OFF SHOES TO WIN THE BET.

Pretty Schoolma'am Receives Seventeen Invitations to Ride But Refuses.

A letter addressed to B. A. Mulder written by Fred G. Smith, of Luther, Michigan, tells the following interesting experience of Miss Dorothy Peters, who is principal of the Luther, Michigan schools. The letter follows:

Luther, Mich., Nov. 8, '15. B. A. Mulder, Holland, Mich. Editor:—Enclosed find an article which might be interesting to your readers. Respect, Fred G. Smith. Some Hiker.

Miss Dorothy Pieters of Holland, Michigan, the principal of the Luther schools is some pedestrian. In consequence of a few miles walk at night after school some of her friends made her a wager that she couldn't walk to Tustin, a village of 17 miles away and return in ten hours; she set out to win the bet.

Saturday morning at 7:30 she set out to make the trip to Tustin and back via wagon road. The road takes in numerous hills and is quite sandy most of the way and is by no means the finest for walking. Nevertheless she made the trip in a little over nine hours; not withstanding she lost her way for some little distance. After stopping for an hour she started back with the proof that she had been at Tustin for 1 hour. When she was within eight miles of home her feet had become so blistered that she was obliged to remove her shoes and carry them; but she completed the return journey in a little over five hours and having walked every step of the way going and returning.

She had seventeen invitations to ride; but all of these she declined.

She did not experience any serious results from the trip and is ready to make the trip again.

This feat is one which few men would want to undertake and one which demonstrated unusual endurance for a young lady and is emphatic proof of her persistence and grit."

WIFE MARRIES OTHER MAN AFTER D. FORCE

In Suit De Witt Wins Case

A very interesting and spicy case that has been attracting attention in circuit court this week was the one of Orrie Bush against Jacob De Witt for alienation of the affections of Mrs. Bush from her husband.

The suit was brought for $1,000 damages by the plaintiff who claimed that Jacob De Witt the defendant had enticed his wife away from him in the year 1912, and that he, Mr. Bush, had thereupon applied for a divorce which he obtained shortly afterward.

After receiving his divorce the defendant, Jacob De Witt, married Mrs. Bush, whom it was alleged he had enticed. He also went into the same house and used the same furniture which Mr. Bush and his wife had formerly occupied and used.

Mr. De Witt, the defendant, claims he did not entice the wife from her husband, in fact he stated that Mrs. Bush had lost all love and affection for her husband long before she ever met Mr. De Witt, the defendant. The jury apparently thought the same, as they brought in a verdict of no cause for action.

Arthur Van Duren, represented Bush in court while Attys. George E. Kollen and Dana Ten Cate represented Jacob De Witt.

DR. VICTOR C. VAUGHAN, JR. SPOKE BEFORE OTTAWA MEDICAL SOCIETY TUESDAY NIGHT.

Tells of the Newest Methods Used in the Diagnosis of Tuberculosis.

Before some twenty of the members of the Ottawa County Medical association in the City Hall Tuesday evening Dr. Victor C. Vaughan, delivered a very instructive address on the subject of the diagnosis of tuberculosis. Dr. Vaughan, who is a son of Dr. Vaughan of Ann Arbor, Dean of the Medical School of the University of Michigan, is one of the best known tuberculosis diagnosticians in the state and he has a wide practice in this line of work in Detroit.

Tuesday night he told the physicians about the latest and most approved methods of diagnosing the disease. The lecture was necessarily to a large extent of a technical nature, but at the conclusion of the address the speaker gave some practical hints of a more general character.

He declared that the tuberculosis sanitarium is valuable to a very large extent for what it does as a training school for people in how to live to cure and prevent tuberculosis. The sanitarium should therefore not be far away, but each community should have one of its own. There the people who are afflicted with incipient tuberculosis and in whose homes there are no facilities for treatment can be taken care of for a few weeks. During that time they can learn how to take care of themselves and return to their home to complete the cure. And these patients, said the speaker, spread the knowledge among their friends and relatives so that a sanitarium built at a very low cost becomes a center of very valuable information about the disease among the general public.

That the rural school is one of the chief methods of spreading the disease was another statement made by Dr. Vaughan. He told of driving in his automobile from Detroit Tuesday and declared that in spite of the beautiful weather not a school he passed on the way had a window open.

HOTEL BLOCK

KALAMAZOO FIRM GETS CONTRACT TO ERECT NEW BANK

All the Material Where Possible and Labor Necessary, Must Come From Holland, is Understanding.

Saturday afternoon bids were opened for the construction of the new First State bank block that is to be located on the northwest corner of Eighth St. and Central avenue.

There were twelve bidders in all, including firms from Kalamazoo, Grand Rapids, Toledo, and Chicago.

The bids were opened in the office of Attorneys Diekema, Kollen & Ten Cate and it was found that for the construction of the building proper the bid of Byers Bros., of Kalamazoo, was by far the lowest. This firm's estimate being $19,823.

This does not include the interior finishings which was bid upon separately. The lucky bidder in this was the Naghtegall Manufacturing Co., of Grand Rapids, Mich., whose bid was $8,875.

These two bids do not begin to complete the bank, as the plumbing and heating have not yet been figured on. Bids for this work will be received at the office of the Attorneys Diekema, Kollen & Ten Cate until Monday evening, November 15, at 7:30 o'clock. Then the vault fixtures, heavy doors and safes will also call for a bid but these will not be asked for until the construction of the building is further under way.

It is estimated that including the lot, for which the First State Bank paid $10,000, and the building when completed, the sum total will be at least $50,000 and the structure it is said will be one of the most imposing in our city.

Considerable unfavorable comment is being made today by local contractors who are dissatisfied because the contract was not let to Holland bidders. The bank authorities told the Sentinel this morning that had the difference been but from $300 to $500 they would have overlooked this fact and favored the Holland contractors, but that there was a difference of at least $3,000, and in justice to the stockholders in the bank those in authority felt that they could not see their way clear to overlook this difference. However an understanding exists between the bank and the successful contractors that the material shall be bought in this city whenever it is possible to do so and that the labor needed to aid in the construction of the building shall be Holland labor.

The local contractors who had bids in for the new bank building are Yonkman & Clark; Dyke & Oosting; Boomers & Smeenge; Rottschaefer Bros.; Abel Postma; and Lane Kardux. The Styles Construction Co., who have just completed the Holland Postoffice also presented a bid.

LUNCHEON HELD TO DISCUSS HOSPITAL

Many Speakers Endorse Plan For Holland; Manufacturers to Cooperate in Health First Movement

About sixty members of the Chamber of Commerce gathered in Hotel Holland Friday evening and after a bountiful luncheon, the project of erecting a hospital in Holland was discussed. At the conclusion of the meeting the president and executive committee were authorized to appoint a committee that will carefully go into the matter of expense, location, maintenance of such an institution.

When a number of members had expressed their views on the hospital question President Landwehr requested all who favored securing a hospital for Holland to raise their right hand, and every hand went up.

A committee composed of Henry Winter, Dick Boter, Herman Van Tongeren and Henry Geerlings has been making some investigations with reference to possible locations and they made a report. Henry Winter, Henry Geerlings and Dick Boter gave short talks in regard to what the committee had done.

Dr. A. Leenhouts, Dr. L. N. Tuttle, Dr. B. B. Godfrey, Dr. W. G. Winter, Dr. J. Mersen and G. J. Diekema expressed their views on the subject, all being favor of the matter.

Dr. Wm. De Kleine gave an interesting address on the subject of "Health a City's Chief Function." He advocated the services of a full time health officer, adding that such an official could save from 10 to 15 lives the first year.

President Landwehr, Peter Van Dommelen, the only two manufacturers present, agreed to cooperate with the clinic to be held in the city hall and to send their men down for examination. They promised to interview the other manufacturers concerning the matter.

FRANK DYKE IS LUCKY BIDDER FOR ERECTION OF FURNACE CO. ADDITION.

Forty More Employees Will Be Added to the Furnace Co., Pay Roll

Frank Dyke is the lucky bidder and will receive the contract of erecting the 90x120 foot addition to the foundry of the Holland Furnace Co. This addition is to be completed within six weeks, and when ready for business will increase the capacity of the manufacturing establishment "that makes warm friends" all over the United States, at least 50 per cent.

Besides Frank Dyke, the other local contractors were Able Postma, Boomers & Smeenge, Rottschaefer Bros., Lane Kardux, Ten Brook & Bouwkamp and Oudemolen & Co.

Another contract nearly as large as the one received by Frank Dyke, was let not by bids but by lottery. The job is to enlarge the cupolo rooms where the iron is melted. This room now has a cupolo where from five to seven tons of metal are melted an hour. The new addition will give it an added capacity of from twelve to fourteen tons per hour, besides a new blowing outfit must also be installed, and as the contract was a hard one to figure on, owing to the alterations and changes that might ensue it was decided to leave the job by day work.

The way the Furnace Co., authorities did this, so that all contractors might receive an equal show, was thus: the names of the seven bidders were written on seven slips and put into one hat, in another hat there were also seven slips, six were blank while the seventh had the words "receives contract" written upon it. The two hats were well shaken and one slip drawn from each. The name that was drawn from the hat at the same time that the slip containing the words "receives contract" was drawn from hat number two would be the lucky contractor to get this part of the work. The lucky slip did not appear until the fourth drawing when the name of Oudemolen & Co. appeared at the same time and this firm was awarded the second contract by Mr. Landwehr, manager of the Holland Furnace company.

Besides these changes a new coke storeroom will be built and also a new core oven.

It is estimated that the changes all together will amount to over $7,000.00 which does not include the iron and castings used in the construction which are being made by the employees of the Furnace Co. When the whole is completed the Furnace company will give added employment to between 30 and 40 men. More tilters, molders and shippers will have to be employed when the changes are all made.

MUST PAY ALIMONY BUT ARE SEPARATED

Mae Wier received a decree of divorce Tuesday evening. She brought a charge of cruelty and non-support against her husband, W. E. Wier. The wife was also allowed alimony by the court. A decree was also granted to Celia Hieftje who charged her husband with cruelty and non-support. The decree carries with it a stipulation that Hieftje shall pay the wife $4 a week for the support of the 14-year-old child. The above cases were won by the law firm of Diekema, Kollen & Ten Cate.

PETER SAKKERS IS MENTALLY UNBALANCED AGAIN

AFTER CAREFUL EXAMINATION, WILL BE SENT TO KALAMAZOO.

Peter Sakkers, living at 65 West 12th street, is again causing trouble to local authorities. His mental condition is such that he has been confined at the police headquarters since one week ago last Saturday at midnight. At this time Officer Peter Bontekoe was waiting for him at the P. M. station, knowing that he was returning from Grand Rapids. Sakkers saw the threatening for on the officer at the station and while the train was still moving at a fast rate, he jumped from the vestibule onto the pavement and started off on a run down 7th street. Bontekoe pressed a taxi into service and soon caught up with him, taking him into custody. Since then a caretaker has been with him night and day to prevent any rash actions.

Monday morning he attempted to either cause sympathy or do personal harm by thrusting his fingers down his throat, causing a hemorrhage. Again, he succeeded in reaching through the narrow grating and stuffing the key-hole with paper and toothpicks, so that a half hour's work was required to open the door.

Last Wednesday Drs. Leenhouts and Cook, after a careful examination, the patient was taken to Kalamazoo Friday.

He had been in the care of that institution for some time past, but about a year ago he succeeded in running away and returning home. As he was considered harmless, he was allowed his freedom, but now his condition warrants his return.

LUCAS ENTERS THE RANKS OF INVENTORS

Now With His New Invention, Wants to Build a Boat Going 60 Miles An Hour and send it to Pres. Wilson

Altho Luseas McKinley DeWeerd is 82 years old he still has some "high fluten" ideas the latest is the building of a boat along the lines of a catamaran containing a new invention which his ingenuity has created. He is having the findings of his fertile brain patented, he says and when he has the boat completed, he will turn it over to the government "like a patriotic citizen ought to do."

But there is a string tied to Luke's giving, he has written President Wilson a letter stating that the boat which goes surely sixty miles an hour and will revolutionize all water warfare will be given to this glorious nation provided the president guarantees that "McKinley" receives a pension from the government maintaining him for the rest of his days.

When De Weerd was in the county infirmary he also laid his plans before the keeper of the farm and suggested that if the lumber was donated to build this engine of war that the poor committee could reap all the benefits derived. The keeper could not see it that way and refused to give the necessary lumber. Lucas suggested that Henry Siersma might use the boat to inspect the county drain work, but Henry is not a good sailor and prefers an auto to a catamaran.

All the same Lucas McKinley De Weerd Friday wrote to the president of this United States which no doubt will reach his private secretary, Mr. Tumulty, who will reply, saying that it is fine but he is sorry, etc., etc.

Friday morning Prof. Kuizenga of the seminary made an announcement to the Senior class in regard to a prize that had been established in the Seminary to be called the "Mr. and Mrs. C. Dosker Foreign Missionary Prize." The awards consists of $25 and $10, the highest sum to be given to the senior

They left Holland in time to get a fair night's rest in Allegan if things had not gone amiss, but alas! 'twas not thus to be. Even a Ford won't run without gas, and consequently the hands of the town clock pointed to somewhere in the vicinity of four when they finally found their way back to Locust street.—Allegan News.

A dozen of our business men, appreciating the good work of the high school team, presented them with 13 blankets to be used before and after the games and during the rests. Several dinners, a chicken spread by Coach C. E. Drew and a "weeny" feast by Janitor Steketee, are also promised the team. Mrs. I. Altman, with the aid of some of the High school pupils, has purchased a First Aid kit for the use of the team, a very useful and much needed addition to the team's equipment.

A short time ago Mr. F. C. Hall sold the Hall building to A. H. Meyer, proprietor of the Meyers' Music store. Since that time they have been looking for a suitable house in this city to move to. In this they were unsuccessful. Mr. and Mrs. Hall have therefore decided to move to Grand Rapids for the winter and have taken apartments in the "Lorraine" near La Grave street in the "Furniture City." The Hall's intend to be back in the spring and located in a home in Holland suitable for them. Mr. Hall said that they had lived in this city 25 years and that they thought a great deal of Holland. Besides Mr. Hall's interests are here, which will necessitate his coming to this city from time to time.

WOMAN'S SUFFRAGE IS ADVOCATED.

Papers and Readings of Many Interesting Facts Were Heard at W. L. C. Tuesday.

The motto for Tuesday's meeting of the Woman's Literary club was "The Woman's Cause is Man's; they rise or fall together, dwarfed or god-like, bond or free."

The opening number on the program was Mrs. Oggel's paper on "The American Newspaper."

The modern newspaper is a splendid everyday source of knowledge.

The Associated Press is the greatest factor in its creation. It makes possible a large range of news. It spends annually two million dollars. As the association makes no money the expenses of this non-partisan and impartial league are met by the population of the district which they reach.

Then followed readings from the different departments of a newspaper called "The Elevator."

Mrs. Sooy read the Home Department "The Place of Woman is the home but the home is the wide world." This was followed by clever and interesting items.

Miss Hunt read the Associated Press News, which was an account of the great New York suffrage parade in which over fifty-two thousand men and women marched.

Miss Vander Meulen's poems, a parody on Bryan's "The Melancholy days have come" was read by Mrs. Oggel.

Mrs. Sutherland read the first installment of an original story called "Whosoever Forsaketh."

After recess Miss Wickers pleased with the rendition of "It's Morning."

Mrs. Pettit played the accompaniment. The closing number on the program was Miss Post's talk on "Woman Suffrage."

It is not necessary to believe in every phase of woman's suffrage any more than to belong to a certain party one must believe in every plank of that party's platform.

The three points of Miss Post's argument were: 1. It is just; 2. It is beneficial to the community as a whole; 3. It is beneficial to the individual woman.

Taxation without representation is tyranny. Holland's school board shows what good things vote. Women contribute to the world's work.

It is said the ignorant vote would be increased. There are more men immigrants than women and the former leave school earlier.

Laws regarding clean streets and suppression of the smoke nuisance pass much more quickly where women vote.

Woman needs the educational value of the vote. It has not hurt them to vote for members of the school board.

A woman could vote in one tenth of the time in which she does church or club work.

If difference of opinion in regard to voting breaks up a family then there is something fundamentally wrong with the family.

The paper was followed by a short discussion.

HENRY M. ROSE TO DELIVER LECTURE ON CITY OF WASHINGTON.

At Woman's Literary Club on Wednesday Evening, Nov. 17. Admission Twenty-Five Cents

The Nation's capital is an inspiring theme for a lecture such as Henry M. Rose is bringing to the Woman's Literary club Wednesday evening, November 17. Many other men have talked and written of Washington and of the peculiar features and particular beauties the city possesses; but no man is better prepared to bring the great governmental structures, the memorials to great men, the splendid parks and open spaces, the beautiful monuments in marble and bronze—the out-of-doors Washington—vividly and intelligently before his audience than is Mr. Rose. He shows how Washington is rapidly gaining the distinction of being the greatest and most beautiful capital of what is already the greatest and wealthiest nation on earth. The recital and the splendid pictures are well calculated to stimulate a new interest and a keener pride in this national city that is the common heritage of all citizens of the United States. As an historical educational and patriotic theme, the subject cannot be excelled, and old and young alike will find entertainment and profit in its presentation.

It adds materially to the interest in citizenship and good government to hear the lecture of Henry M. Rose on "Washington, the City Beautiful."

An illustrated lecture on "Washington, the City Beautiful" was given in Powers' Opera House, Thursday evening, May 6, by Henry M. Rose, Assistant Secretary of the United States Senate. Mr. Rose has, probably, the most remarkable delivery of any man in the lecture field. Although he speaks in subdued tones, his voice has a wonderful carrying power which enables him to be distinctly heard and definitely understood by everyone in his audience, no matter how greatly impaired his hearing may be. To this remarkable gift undoubtedly is due Mr. Rose's election to his present office for life by the unanimous vote of the United States Senate.

The Nation's beautiful capital is an inspiring and entertaining subject for a lecture and no man is better prepared than Mr. Rose to properly present it from the platform, and these facts were clearly manifest on this occasion. Mr. Rose is clearly and distinctly well with in that class of lecturers at the head of which are Stoddard, Elmdorf and Wendell, and has the advantage of all of them in the selection of a subject that is so near and dear to the American heart. The lecture is historical, educational patriotic and fascinating. The audience is shown its own possessions, about which it knows much too little, in a manner to thoroughly arouse its interest and to enkindle the desire that its Capital City shall become not only the lofty ideal of a great and growing country, but also the grandest and most beautiful capital in the world.

The vivid pictures presented are the finest obtainable of Washington, its great public structures, its splendid parks and open spaces, its erected and projected monuments, statuary, memorial fountains, trees, flowers and art objects, that have yet been presented in a lecture of this character. The lecture referred to by the Tradesman will be given at the Woman's Literary Club on Wednesday evening, Nov. 17, tickets 15 cents.

Gilbert commented very favorably on the work of the Saugatuck degree team, saying that they did as well in portraying the work of the Masonic Order as any he had witnessed in his trip of inspection around the state of Michigan. Saugatuck can well feel proud of their Order of P. & A. M., as it is one of the most enterprising assets any town can have and Unity lodge members who were in attendance at Thursday night's meeting are loud in their praise of the royal entertainment accorded them at this convocation. Douglas and Pennville lodges were also in attendance in large numbers.

JUDGE E. P. KIRBY IS VINDICATED
SOULE'S RETRACTION GIVEN IN FULL.

Judge Cross Directs Verdict in Widely Known Kirby-Soule Case at Request of Attorneys.

In circuit court Monday afternoon, the suit for libel of Edward P. Kirby against Charles E. Soule came to a sudden ending when George E. Kollen, attorney for the plaintiff, made a statement to the court that the plaintiff had no desire of securing a damage in money against the defendant but that suit was brought for vindication of Judge Kirby's character. Mr. Kollen moved that the court direct the jury to return a verdict in favor of Judge Kirby with a nominal judgment of six cents. Acting in his own behalf, Judge Soule assured the court that the arrangement was satisfactory. A judgment was so ordered.

Judge Soule opened the case on the stand, and identified letters upon which the libel action was based. The witness also made a statement to the effect that some of the alleged libelous statements were unfortunate, and would not have been made had he been informed as to the facts. Judge Soule's retraction on the stand was satisfactory to the jury in the near future.

Mr. Soule's retraction follows in detail:

Retraction of Mr. Soule

Before you proceed to ask questions, I would like the privilege of making a statement. In order that I may state clearly and concisely what I have in mind, I have reduced the same to writing and will take the liberty of reading the same.

I reside in the city of Grand Haven and have resided here for forty-seven years. During that time, I have held the office of Judge of Probate of this county for a period of eight years and have been Circuit Court Commissioner for a period of 14 years. I am and have been acquainted with Edward P. Kirby ever since he was a boy. I knew in the Spring of 1912 that Edward P. Kirby was a candidate for renomination on the Republican ticket for the office of Judge of Probate. I also knew that James J. Danhof was a candidate for the nomination on the Republican ticket to succeed Edward P. Kirby. During that primary campaign I supported James J. Danhof against Edward P. Kirby. Mr. Danhof asked me to write letters to some of my friends in the county to help him in his candidacy and I did so. I wish you would produce letter dated May 29th, 1912, bearing my signature and addressed to Fred F. McEachron of Hudsonville. I wrote that letter and signed it and sent it by mail to Fred F. McEachron of Hudsonville.

I wish you would produce a letter dated May 29th, 1912, bearing my signature and addressed to Isaac Marsilje of Holland.

I wrote that letter and signed it and sent it by mail to Isaac Marsilje of Holland.

I wish you would produce a letter dated May 29th, 1912, bearing my signature and addressed to Hon. Cornelius Van Loo of Zeeland.

I wrote that letter and signed it and sent it by mail to Hon. Cornelius Van Loo of Zeeland.

I wish you would produce a letter dated May 29th, 1912, bearing my signature and addressed to Hon. Millard Durham of Coopersville.

I wrote that letter and signed it and sent it by mail to Hon. Millard Durham of Coopersville.

I also signed and sent other letters much like the ones you have introduced at the same time to two other Republican voters in this county. The letters to Fred F. McEachron, Isaac Marsilje, Cornelius Van Loo and Millard Durham were all written and mailed by me at Grand Haven, and they were all addressed to the various parties at their postoffice addresses. The way in which I happened to write these and similar letters was like this. I was supporting Mr. Danhof in his candidacy against Mr. Kirby and wanted to see him nominated, and it was at the request of Mr. Danhof that I wrote to my friends in his behalf and in my zeal to help his cause I wrote what I would not have written had I given the letters more thought and consideration. I have since regretted a hundred times that I wrote as I did.

In my letter to Mr. McEachron which you have had marked Exhibit "1", I state: "All the men who have been candidates with Kirby have mused to say of his using their money paid for campaign funds for his own use and not for theirs. I suppose you had the same experience." This language used by me to Mr. McEachron was unfortunate. I did not mean to have Mr. McEachron infer, and I do not think that he did, that Mr. Kirby ever used any of the campaign funds paid by candidates on the Republican ticket for his own use. What I intended to state was that some of the candidates had blamed Mr. Kirby for the high assessments made against them. I have never heard any candidate say or claim that Mr. Kirby ever used their money paid for campaign funds or any part of it for his own use and not for theirs. I have been a candidate myself on the Republican ticket while Mr. Kirby was Chairman of the Republican County Committee, which position as chairman Mr. Kirby held for about ten years, being re-elected as chairman by the Republican County convention every two years. I know it to be a fact that the assessments of the candidates for the expense of running a campaign are made by the County Committee and not by the Chairman.

In my letter to Mr. Marsilje, which you have marked Exhibit "2", I state: "Again, the law makes it the duty of the judge of probate to perform marriage services but the clerks have told me that he refuses to do so, that his church teaches that marriage is a sacrament, etc. Doubtless the priest tells him he must not do it. It seems to me if one of our American Officials finds that his church conflicts with his performing his official duties, it is well to retire him and let him live on his church."

And in my letter to Mr. Van Loo, which you have marked Exhibit "3", I state: "It is made the duty of the Judge of Probate by law to perform marriage ceremonies but the Clerks tell me Kirby refuses to do it. His Romanish church regulations forbid it I suppose. When a public official lets his church stand in the way of performing his duties, it is good reason to get some other man whose church does not stand in the way."

And in my letter to Mr. Durham, which you have marked Exhibit "4" and in my letter to Mr. McEachron which you have marked Exhibit "1", I use practically the same language relative to marriages.

At the time I wrote those letters and used that language relative to marriages, I thought it was the truth and that my information was correct. It was not either of the county clerks who stated that Kirby's religious affiliation prevented him from performing marriage ceremonies, but some one sitting in the clerk's office one day when I was there. I have since made an investigation and find that this is not correct and that the statements reflecting on Mr. Kirby ought not to have been made and have no basis in fact and are untrue in every particular. I now know that the law does not compel a Judge of Probate to perform marriage ceremonies, except under certain circumstances, when it is desired to keep the marriage a secret, as for example, when a woman has been living with a man as her husband without being married or when she is pregnant and desires to keep the date of the marriage a secret, and the obligation of the Judge of Probate to perform the marriage ceremony wholly relates to those particular cases. I also know and am now satisfied that Judge Kirby does not refuse to perform marriage ceremonies under the general statute when parties request him to do so, after he has explained to them the peculiar provisions of the law with reference to marriages by the Judge of Probate under certain circumstances, and I am satisfied that I was mistaken when I used the language contained in those letters and had I made the investigation before writing those letters which I have since made, I would never have accused Mr. Kirby as I did. I now know and am satisfied that Judge Kirby's affiliation with the Catholic church does not in any manner interfere with the performance of his duties as a public officer, and I am convinced that Mr. Kirby has made a very excellent Judge of Probate and has attended to the duties of that office as well as any man could.

In my letter to Mr. Van Loo, which you have marked Exhibit "3", I used this language: "He, our great Judge, tells the people that he cannot advise, it may interfere with his judicial action. They must get a lawyer—and, of course, advises the employment of a lawyer to suit him." And I used similar language in the other letters and I thus insinuate that Mr. Kirby is conducting the affairs of the office which he now holds for the benefit of a certain lawyer in Ottawa County. In fact, in my letter to Mr. McEachron which you have marked Exhibit "1", I state: "He sets himself up for a high and mighty judge and sends people to his lawyer, the man who made him, to get a fee from people who should not pay it." In writing this, I had referred to Walter L. Lillie of Grand Haven. I now know that this is not true, and I know that Mr. Kirby does not refuse to advise people; and I know that he does not conduct the affairs of the office for the benefit of Mr. Lillie or any other lawyer and that he has not been sending people to Mr. Lillie to get a fee from people who should not pay it. At the time I wrote those words, I believed them to be true. I have since learned, however, that I was in error; that Judge Kirby handled prior to May 23, 1912, about 2400 matters while he was Judge of Probate and that during that time he did not send any one to Mr. Lillie to conduct or handle a matter for him; that he only sent five parties to Mr. Louis H. Osterhaus, then in Mr. Lillie's office, to perform certain services, one the drafting of an account, another the drafting of an account covering a period of fourteen years, and the other three were charity matters, for which no charge was to be made by Mr. Osterhaus. I am satisfied that I was misinformed with regard to the matters complained of by me and retract entirely this and all other accusations.

I have known Mr. Kirby ever since he was a boy and have been more or less closely associated with Mr. Kirby for some years past and can frankly and honestly say that I do not question his integrity and have never heard any one question it. I know and believe him to be absolutely honest, upright, worthy of confidence and a faithful officer. As a man and a citizen he has few superiors. (Signed) CHARLES SOULE.

Attorney Kollen Makes Request for Six Cents.

After Mr. Soule had read this statement Mr. Kollen, plaintiff's attorney, said: "This suit was not started by Judge Kirby for the purpose of getting a money judgment against Mr. Soule but was started for the purpose of vindicating Judge Kirby. This has been done and therefore there will be no further proceedings, and I request the court to instruct the jury to render a verdict against Judge Soule and for the plaintiff with nominal damages of 6 cents."

This is the wind-up of a long contested case in which a good many local people not alone, but men from Zeeland, Coopersville, Hudsonville and other places about the county were involved. Even the local newspapers, The Sentinel, Holland City News and De Grandwet, and other publications in this county were being sued for damages as it was claimed by Mr. Soule that the papers prematurely published the details in the case and that had they not done so the libelous letters circulated by Mr. Soule would not have received the wide publicity that was given to them. And owing to this publicity Mr. Soule held that the newspapers were as much to blame in the damaging of Mr. Kirby as he, Mr. Soule, was.

And for that reason Mr. Soule brought suit against these newspapers, stating that if any damages were paid to Mr. Kirby that the newspapers should aid in paying these damages.

The Supreme Court could not see it that way, however, and held that the newspapers were simply printing the court records which all newspapers have a perfect right to do. In this case should the Supreme Court have decided otherwise, the papers thus involved would each have been compelled to pay a penny apiece, as there were six newspapers in the county mentioned by Mr. Soule in his declaration.

"THE MATING"

Lewis J. Cody, former Broadway star who appears in support of Bessie Barriscale in the Mating, a five reel Mutual Masterpiece produced by the New York Motion Picture Corporation, entered motion picture work wholly by chance. Cody was playing an engagement with "The Whirl of the World" in Los Angeles when Director Thos. H. Ince saw him. He immediately decided that he was the right man to portray "Bullet Dick" Ames, the hero of "The Mating" and determined to have him for the part. Much to Cody's surprise, he was summoned before the noted director, and after some discussion, accepted Mr. Ince's offer.

Bradshaw-Mortensen Case Settled Out of Court.

In discontinuance of the suit for $5,000 by Rose Mortensen allowed by the jury in Ottawa circuit court against Hugh Bradshaw, and appeal granted, a stipulation of agreement between the parties has been filed by their respective attorneys with County Clerk Glerum. Diekema, Kollen & Ten Cate were solicitors for the plaintiff with Vischer & Robinson for the defendant.

The defendant has agreed to pay a certain promissory note with additional cash settlement of $250 to the plaintiff. Settlement of court costs has been agreed upon between the parties.

Rose Mortensen, it will be remembered, brought suit against Bradshaw for damages following an alleged assault. The case was one of the most flagrant ever tried in the county. The jury found for the plaintiff and the defendant immediately appealed, his appeal being granted by Judge Cross upon several reasons. Since that time the parties have been brought together in compromise and further trial of the case has been eliminated. Rose Mortensen was formerly housekeeper for Mr. Bradshaw at his home on the park road.

Shortly before the arrival of the teams, Peter himself managed to get up on the roof with a pail of water and, while attempting to spread it over the flames, slipped and fell off the roof, breaking his ankle. As a result the poundmaster will be laid up for several weeks.

DeFeyter was employed as night baggage man at the P. M. freight house for the last twenty years. Previous to that time he ran a dry line in this city and his team generally pulled the hose cart to a fire, as his stables were next to the fire house. Each time he did this the Council paid him one dollar.

Mr. DeFeyter is 57 years old. The funeral was held yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock from the home and at 2 o'clock from the 14th street church, Rev. Hoeksema officiated.

RECALLS THE STORMY DAYS T
ALPENA WENT DOWN

John Jackson Gives Graphic Account of What Happened That Fateful Night On the Steamer
Menominee

John Jackson of Coopersville gives a graphic account of what happened that fateful night when the Alpena went down. He describes in the Coopersville Observer the terrible time they passed through. Mr. and Mrs. Jackson and child were on the steamer Menominee bound for Grand Haven but landed after two days journey, at Two Rivers in the northern part of the state.

The story from Mr. Jackson in the Observer follows:

In the Observer of Oct. 22, was a statement that Oct. 16, was the 35th anniversary of the loss of the steamer Alpena. As myself and family consisting of a wife and little girl, (now Lina Hutchins) were on the steamer Menominee in that terrible storm; perhaps a brief description of our experience may be of some interest.

We left Milwaukee on Friday night about 11 o'clock and did not land in Grand Haven until the next Monday at midnight. Shortly after leaving Milwaukee the lake began to grow very rough and kept growing rougher, until at daylight it was all we could do to stay in our state room berths and we kept wondering why we did not hear the boat whistling for Grand Haven harbor. After a time I managed to make my way into the cabin, anything I could get hold of, when one of the crew said after getting within twenty five miles of Grand Haven the captain found it would be impossible to get into that harbor and as the wind had changed the boat was headed north-west, and no one knew where we would land. As it was impossible to stay in the cabin without being thrown from one side to the other, I managed to make my way back to the stateroom and lie down in the berth, where we had to cling to the sides or be thrown out. When we were standing on our feet instead of our heads, we could look out of the window and see the huge waves that looked like large drifts of snow, as the fury of the wind blew the tops from them. It was a grand sight to look upon but we did not enjoy it very much. Although the wife and I were not sick to amount to anything at any time, our little girl (Lina) was very ill and we could do nothing for her.

As the wind blew at the rate of sixty miles an hour, the waves rolled as high as it was possible for them to roll, so our boat was tossed around like a shell and every third wave would dash entirely over the boat and it would sound as though a huge log had struck the side. The wash bowls and pitchers were thrown out of their sockets in the staterooms and many of them were broken. It was anything but pleasant to lie and listen to the dismal howling of the wind as it swept over the boat and then to hear the men below constantly pounding on the rods to see if they were holding alright. It made me realize that we were in great danger of going to the bottom if anything gave way. Thus we were rolled and tossed about by the great waves all day Saturday, which to us seemed like the longest day we had ever experienced in our lives.

About nine o'clock our boat came to anchor at Two Rivers, one hundred miles of Milwaukee. A point of land at this place runs out into the lake making a very good temporary harbor and we found a number of other boats anchored here also.

No tongue can tell the relief we all felt when our boat came to anchor, nor how thankful we felt for having safely ridden so many hours through such a terrible storm. The crew soon got supper for us, and nearly everyone of the 40 passengers were able to eat a little something. As the captain stood at his chored, the passengers concluded that a resolution thanking him for his vigilance was due him. So after supper, one was drawn up and signed by every passenger and presented to him. He said that all that saved the boat from being swamped, was the heavy load of freight in the hold, that he had sailed on the lakes for 20 years and this was the worst storm he had ever experienced.

We lay at anchor at Two Rivers until about noon the next day (Sunday) when the sea had gone down enough so the captain was able to run the boat to shore and get into the harbor at Manitowoc, where the crew loaded up post in the bow of the boat from the time we left Milwaukee until we anchored the boat with slab wood, that being the fuel used at that time, as the slab wood was nearly all burned up when we left Two Rivers and the weather was very cold. We left Manitowoc Monday noon and came across the lake opposite Manitowoc, and then took the shore down to Grand Haven, arriving there at midnight, a very tired but happy lot of passengers.

John Jackson.

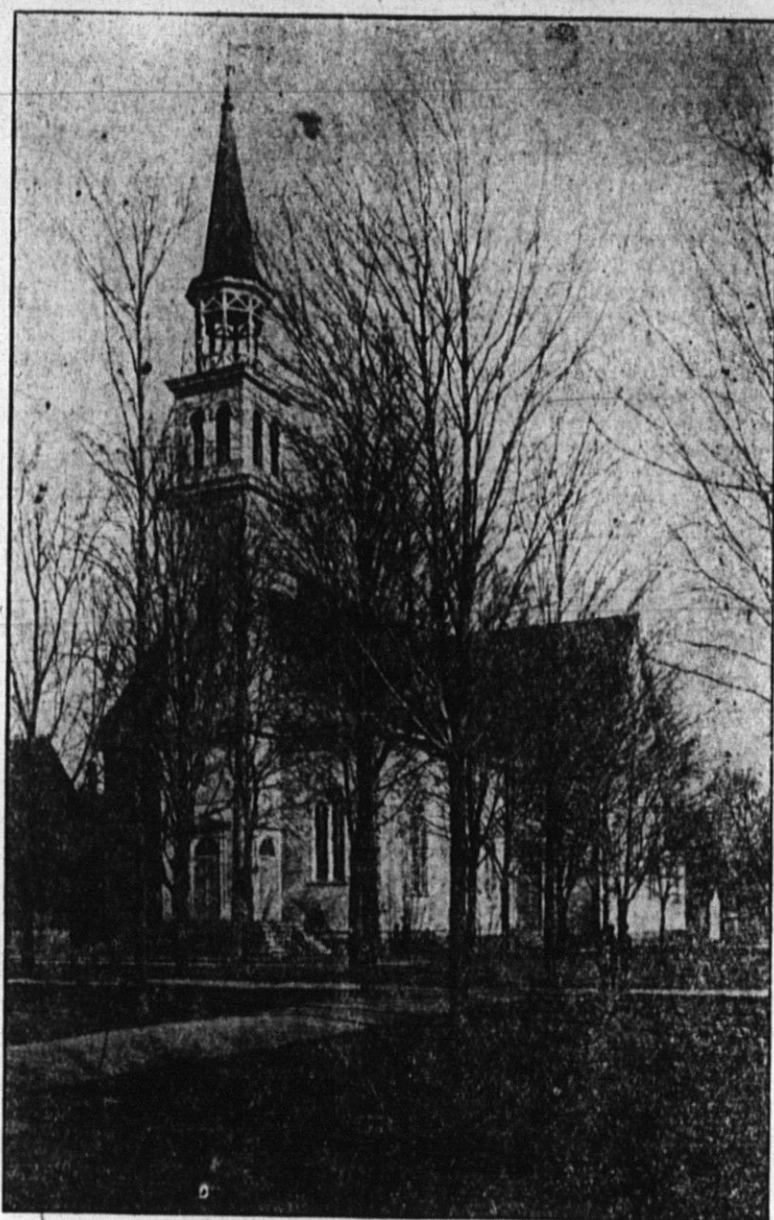

DIEKEMA MAKES BEST SPEECH
EVER GIVEN AT SPRING LAKE.

The farmers' rally at Spring Lake was successful, and the farmers who spared the time from their fall work were well repaid for their time. Many attended from Grand Haven.

The feature of the evening session was an address by Gerrit J. Diekema of Holland, former congressman and a prominent candidate for the republican nomination. Mr. Diekema's subject was "Political Patriotism."

Says the Spring Lake Correspondent of the Grand Haven Tribune:—"The evening meeting opened at 7:30 with music by the Spring Lake quartet. Dr. C. P. Brown repeated his welcome and started the program. Egbert Winter, superintendent of the Spring Lake schools, spoke on the subject, "Social Improvement," and Hon. Gerrit J. Diekema of Holland gave an address "Political Patriotism." Mr. Diekema has proved that he can talk interestingly on any subject but his offering Saturday night is regarded as one of the best speeches he ever made to a local audience.

Church Celebrates Fiftieth Anniversary

Central Avenue Christian Refd. Church

The celebration of the Fiftieth Anniversary of Central Avenue church was a great success. Monday afternoon the church was well filled and in the evening the edifice was crowded to the doors and it is estimated that at least 1500 were in the building to take part in the celebration of the evening.

This, Holland's largest congregation, has a membership of 1598; and members of 362 families belong to the church. The Sunday school has 400 members and Catechism 600. There are several other organizations connected with the church doing church work that have a membership of from 50 to 100.

Monday afternoon Rev. B. H. Einink, pastor of the church delivered the address of welcome and the history of the church was read by Elder H. H. Sneiders. Rev. J. Noordewier, who was pastor of the church from 1872 to 1877 and Rev. R. L. Haan of Grand Rapids, who resigned the pastorate about a year ago, delivered addresses. Other speakers included Rev. E. J. Tuuk, Rev. H. Hoeksema, Rev. J. Walkotten, Rev. A. J. Rus and Rev. W. D. Vander Werp all local clergymen in the Christian Reformed denomination. Music was furnished by an orchestra of thirty pieces and a chorus of seventy voices.

HORSES OF CONSUMERS' ICE CO.
FRIGHTENED BY BROKEN
HARNESS AND RUN AWAY

The Consumers' Ice Co., wagon Tuesday noon figured in an accident that might have ended fatally. As the team driven by Fred Damson passed First avenue on 16th street going west, a trace broke, falling on the hoofs of one of the horses. Soon they were charging toward Montello Park at a great rate. They might have been stopped without disaster, had not the tongue fallen down, swaying the wagon from side to side. Damson, who was standing up on the wagon, was pitched in front of the wheels, both the front and rear wheels passing over him.

Peter Lieverse happened to be near with his machine, and carrying the unconscious man into the car, he rushed to Dr. Mersens' office. By the time they were inside, the victim had recovered consciousness and the only injuries that required attention were a few bruises on the head, although the wagon had passed over his hips.

Something New in Prayer Meetings.

It is not often that we have occasion to chronicle what is going on in the prayer meetings of the churches. The service Thursday night in Hope church is an exception. They are discussing the "Great Chapter of the Bible." The latest was the great chapter of the law-Exodus 20. The first Table of the law was the theme. Upon the five commandments five short addresses were delivered. They were by Dr. Beardslee, jr. President Ame Vennema, A. Leenhouts, Prof. Hoffman and Mr. Esselstyn. It goes without saying that these addresses were helpful, illuminating and inspiring. The theme this evening will be "The Second Table of the Law." The Law."

"The Melting Pot" one of the finest films yet produced will be shown in six reels under the auspices of the Ladies Guild of Grace church next Monday afternoon and evening. Tickets for the matinee will be 15 cents and for the evening 25 cents. Do not fail to see this wonderful picture. It takes considerable money to have it shown here but it has proven to be a winner wherever it has been screened.

COUNCIL.

The article below is a fair example of what the state press is publishing about us throughout the state. From Houghton to Detroit newspapers containing comment of this kind have been reaching our exchange desk.

The article below is a fair sample of the publicity given to some of our performances. The following is penned by Edwy Reid of the Allegan Gazette who in turn also comments on what the Charlotte Tribune said:

"The Holland City Council Again"

"Many people about the state who by means of newspapers or otherwise are able to follow the doings of the Holland City council have been made to smile at the actions of the fathers of the Dutch city. They do seem to have more than their share of quarrels of more less serious nature. A few weeks ago the properly appointed city censors of the moving pictures, with notebook in hand, saw one of Charlie Chaplin's allegedly funny films, all of which are so wonderfully humorous to thousands and to thousands of others are silly. He declared the film unfit. The theater man, however, felt sure it was all right for him to disregard the ban and continued to show it as advertised. Such an action is evidently what roils those Dutchmen most. To disregard their official edicts, even in the most trivial matters! For this offense the city council in upholding their dignity, revoked the theater license. Then, after they had cooled off, they regretted it. Papers about the state have enjoyed the opportunity of commenting on the farce. A Charlotte paper spoke of "infinite stupidity," which ought to throw the Holland council into another spasm and probably will. Employees of the city are doubtless shivering with fear."

Several Allegan boys are in sorrow because they cannot get hunting licenses. They have guns and dogs but lack age. The law says licenses shall not be issued to persons under 17 years of age. State Game Warden Oates said last week: "The penalty for boys under 17 years of age hunting without a license is not less than $10 nor more than $100. A license issued to such persons is an illegal license and carries no authority whether you hunt with gun, axe, shovel or traps."—Allegan Gazette.

OTTAWA COUNTY HAS ITS SHARE OF TUBERCULOSIS

That Ottawa county is no more fortunate than most of the counties of the state in respect to the prevalence of tuberculosis was brought out by an examination of the death records in the office of County Clerk Jacob Glenon by Miss Mary E. Marshall, one of the two nurses who are in Ottawa county this week for the purpose of paying the way for the "Health First" campaign, that is to begin next Tuesday. Miss Marshall found that during the nine months from January 1 to October 1 there has been thirty-three deaths from tuberculosis in Ottawa county. This is somewhat above the average in annual death rate from tuberculosis in the counties of the state. Usually in the neighborhood of 2,600 persons die from tuberculosis in Michigan each year. With thirty-three deaths in Ottawa in nine months the rate for 1915 is somewhat over three a month, which taking the figures to the end of the present year would mean about 42 deaths from this disease in Ottawa county in one year. Since there are 84 counties in the state, the average for each county is only thirty-one and a fraction.

There is not a section of Ottawa county that is not represented in the record of deaths from tuberculosis as found on the county records. As might have been expected, the two larger cities lead in the grim figures, Holland having contributed six deaths to the list and Grand Haven five. This does not mean however that the death rate from tuberculosis in these cities is higher than in the townships. The fact is that in proportion to population the cities have a lower death rate from this disease than most of the rural sections, which once more bears out the fact that tuberculosis is to a very large degree a problem of the farm and the small village where modern methods of sanitation and health regulations do not obtain.

A peculiar fact brought out by the record in the clerk's office is that Olive township has an unusual number of deaths from this disease. From January 1 to Oct. 1 of this year five persons in Olive township died of it. It is possible that the health workers, when they get busy with the campaign in earnest next week may make a special effort to learn the cause of this condition.

A record such as the state nurse discovered in the list of deaths in Ottawa county during the past nine months is more eloquent than anything could be of the need of a health campaign such as is now on in this county. The harvest of death goes on month after month and year after year, in spite of the fact that a very large percentage of these lives could have been spared if the disease had been discovered in its early stages and treated properly with fresh air, plenty of wholesome food and plenty of rest—the trinity of natural remedies that alone can cure tuberculosis. The health campaign attention of all the people on this disease that is on now is meant to center the case and its preventability to such an extent that all will be roused to do their part in helping to wipe it out.

MODERN STRUCTURE IN BUSINESS DISTRICT TO BE ERECTED BY LOCAL K. OF P.

At an enthusiastic meeting of the Castle Lodge Knights of Pythias Thursday night, it was practically decided to erect Pythian building in Holland in the very near future. On account of the club features of the local order and a continued growth in its membership, it is plainly seen that a combination lodge and club rooms, adapted to Pythian purposes, will soon be a necessity. The kind of a building anticipated will be an ornament to the business district of Holland. A committee consisting of P. J. Congleton, Seth Nibbelink, Wm. H. Orr, Al. Rigerink, Ed Westveer, Chris Becker and John J. Cappon are now busily engaged in formulating plans for the new edifice.

Several sites are under the consideration of the committee, whose report will be given this evening at the regular lodge meeting. All members of the K. of P. are asked to bear this in mind and be present at this very important meeting.

With the realization of this modern structure, with the building of the new First State Bank, the bids of which were opened Saturday and the with the new department store and its consequent changes in the block formerly occupied by the Post Office and the bank, but to be used by the A. Pieters department store, will witness some enterprising changes in the heart of the business district.

DE KLEINE SAYS FULL TIME HEALTH OFFICER WOULD PREVENT MUCH TUBERCULOSIS

Says Such an Official Would Save Holland Thousands of Dollars Each Year in Lives and Money.

Coming back to the statement he made last Friday night at the chamber of commerce luncheon at the Hotel Cafe last Friday night that a full-time health officer could save from ten to fifteen lives in Holland the very first year, Dr. William De Kleine who is conducting the tuberculosis survey in Ottawa county declared in an interview today that that would be only a small part of the good such an official could do for this city.

"The records show," said Dr. De Kleine, "that during the past year five persons died of tuberculosis alone in Holland during the past nine months. I have no figures at hand of how many died during that period of other entirely preventable diseases. And even if I had the complete figures, they would not show how many are now ill with tuberculosis. That I trust will be shown by the survey that is now being held. And that it will be a larger number than the average citizen has any conception of I feel sure of."

"The real tragedy of all this lies in the word 'preventable.' All these deaths and all this suffering is wholly needless. And a large percentage of it is due to the fact that the city has not done its full duty by its citizens. I am not criticizing Holland alone. The same state of affairs exists in almost every other city of this size in the state.

It is simply because the people have not yet woken up to the fact that the best time to attack disease is to do so before the disease begins."

"As I said in my talk the other night why is it not just as logical for a city to pay an adequate salary for a health officer as it is to pay salaries to police officers? Economists have estimated that a human life is worth in money value an average of $1,700. That is a very low estimate, but accepting the figures for the sake of the argument, what would the saving be to a city like Holland if I was correct in saying that a full time health officer could save from ten to fifteen lives the very first year. Do the figuring for yourself and you will find that saving ten lives would mean a saving of $17,000. And that is only a very small part of the saving that would be made. Think of the suffering, of death, of illness, of sorrow to friends and dear ones. Would not a salary paid to a health officer be a very good investment?"

"The tuberculosis survey that is being held here is not going to wipe the disease out in Holland unless Holland does its share in the work. All the survey can do is to show the crying need of active steps. It is up to the city to make the survey of a permanent value. It is up to the people of Holland to hold the fort after the state health workers have passed on to another place."

"And the best way to do that is to build a hospital with a tuberculosis sanitarium annex, as is now proposed, and to appoint a full-time health officer—a man who can always be on the job and who can get ahead of trouble. The county already has made provision for a county visiting nurse, which is splendid and will be a great help. But a city like Holland cannot afford to let the public take care of itself. I sincerely hope that this survey will open the eyes of all to the necessity of taking action."

Resolved, that the action of the Common Council at a meeting held Oct. 27, 1915, relative to connecting the premises of C. V. Vander Heuvel on Pine Avenue, between 8th and 9th streets, with a sanitary sewer, be and the same hereby is rescinded.

Said resolution prevailed, all voting aye. On motion of Ald. Vander Ven.

The Committee on Sidewalks reported recommending that the City Engineer be instructed to repair sidewalks adjacent to the Standard Grocery Co., and the Roost Est., on River Avenue, the Meeboer property on Col. J. Van Dyke and 8th street, and the property of Mrs. Van Duren on the corner of Col. J. Van Dyke and 12th street, and that the costs and expense of such repairs be assessed to the abutting property.

Reports of Select Committees.

COUNCIL DELIBERATION NEXT WEDNESDAY WILL BE HEALTH MEETING.

Address by Dr. William De Kleine. Will Be Feature of the Gathering of Aldermen.

The next council meeting, scheduled to be held next week Wednesday evening will be given up to a large extent to a consideration of health conditions in Holland. This plan is in keeping with the "Health First" campaign that is now on in Holland and Ottawa county. That campaign will not end until a week from Saturday evening so that the aldermen will take up the matter during the last week of the campaign.

Dr. William De Kleine has been invited by Mayor Bosch to address the aldermen on that evening and he has accepted the invitation. The campaign in Holland has brought out a number of facts about the real health conditions here that were never so forcibly brought out before, and it is likely that the city government will take advantage of this opportunity to look facts squarely in the face and to take some action that will tend to make the results of the present campaign of permanent value.

That the address of Dr. De Kleine on that occasion will be worth listening to goes without saying. This state health worker is in the habit of talking straight from the shoulder and what he will have to say before the common council will probably be of more than ordinary interest to the public in general. Consequently, because of the intense interest in health matters that has been shown to exist here, it is believed that many citizens will be in the council rooms to hear the address.

In both of the counties so far visited by the state health party some permanent results have flowed from the work and it is believed that Ottawa, and especially the three cities in Ottawa, will go the others one better.

THEY WANT HOLLAND TO COME ON FRIDAY

Now it is South Haven's turn to comment on her chances of winning next Saturday over the locals. Last Friday's South Haven Tribune contained the following article:—

"Although last night's scrimmage, which resulted in an 18 to 0 victory in favor of Weckler's Reserves, did not show any kind of work by the line, the defensive and offensive work of the backfield was much improved. A shifted line-up will be used in the Hartford game Saturday in hopes of uncovering some better defensive work. Chorpensing has been tackling well and will probably get a chance at the guard position. Trip and Randall are running a close race for fullback. Tripp has been doing better work on the defense but Randall shows much better form in line-plunging.

"Capt. Packard at center has bolstered the team and the fullback is the most unsettled of any position. If the team had a line plunger like Warkman of Plainwell or Scholz of St. Joe, there would be no reason to worry about the Holland game.

"Great preparations are being made for the Holland game which occurs next week. An effort has been made to change the game to Friday and if Holland consents, it is hoped to make the event a big day in South Haven. Most of the merchants have signified their willingness to close their stores from 2 to 4 p. m.

"A committee on advertising was selected by the students body yesterday and is composed of Richard Throop, Carl McKimmie and Verne Harris. This committee hopes to secure an attendance of a thousand at the game if the arrangements can be made for Friday. They hope to secure the city band as well as have a street parade."

Coch Drew said it would be impossible for the team to play there on Friday as it would mean a whole day out of school. Therefore, Saturday will be the big day in South Haven.
