USED CARS USED TRACTORS USED GASOLINE ENGINES

We have on hand a number of used cars. All signs today indicate that used cars will be higher next spring. If you anticipate buying a used car, buy that car now. A shortage is bound to exist in the spring.

We are in a position to offer for sale two International Harvester Co. Tractors. According to our best knowledge, these tractors are in good mechanical condition. Both of these machines are excellent for belt work and are offered at a price which should prove a good investment for a prospective buyer who wants to use a tractor largely for belt work.

We offer for sale a 10 horse power Olds engine, mounted on a truck. According to our best knowledge this engine is in exceptionally good condition. Mr. Buyer, if you expect to buy an engine for belt work, for filling silos, for buzzing wood, for a concrete mixer, a feed grinder, a small husker, or whatever your work may be, here is a chance to save $300 or more.

COUNCIL ACTS ON MUNICIPAL GAS PLANT

FIRST STEP FOR A SPECIAL ELECTION IS TAKEN WED-NESDAY NIGHT

Plans and Specifications To Be Prepared; Special Election To Be Next Step

The first step has been taken by the people of Holland on the question of a municipal gas plant. The Board of Public Works has been instructed by the aldermen to prepare plans and specifications and an estimate of costs and submit them to the council for consideration.

The action was initiated last evening by Mayor Bosch when he submitted to the council a message, the substance of which was contained in a message to the people of Holland printed in this paper about three weeks ago. Mayor Bosch declared in his message that he would like to see an expression of opinion on the question on the part of the people. He did not go on record as being in favor of building a municipal gas plant at this time, and he even warned that premature action in the building of such a plant at the wrong time might even serve to discredit municipal ownership. But he did go on record as favoring steps to find out just exactly how the people of Holland stand on the proposition.

This message was accepted by the council, and later in the session the Ways and Means committee came across with a resolution requesting the board of public works to take the necessary practical steps that will be needed before a vote of the people on the question can be held. This resolution was signed by the full committee composed of Alderman Prins, Wiersema and Vander List. It was put to a record vote of the council and every alderman voted in favor of it.

This will mean that in the not distant future the plans and specifications of a municipal gas plant, will be up for consideration by the aldermen. The next step after that will be to set the time for a special election and then it will be up to the people to make the decision.

Such an election, it is expected, will be held in the not distant future, the plan being to have it out of the way before the regular spring election.

HAS A VERY INTERESTING
STORY TO RELATE ABOUT
FORMER HOLLAND

Dear Editor—
In the last issue of your paper you printed an article in regard to the tug "Fanny Shriver," which was very interesting. This article recalls to my memory the good old days when Capt. Peter Pfanstiehl owned and sailed the Fanny Shriver, and used to carry bark for the Cappon-Bertch Tannery, from Bass River and Eastmanville.

He being an intimate friend of my parents stopped at our home when waiting for a scow to be loaded. The "Fanny Shriver" was later sold by him to Thos. Hefferon, pioneer lumberman of Eastmanville, and her hull still lays at the Hefferon dock altho sunk.

The machinery was bought by Walma Van Toll Towing Company at Grand Haven, and the engine is still in service on the tug Robert Johnson. The large eagle on the pilot house is still in Mr. Hefferon's bank in Grand Rapids.

CITY TO JOIN THE STATE IN PAVING WORK

HOLLAND BY THIS MEANS TO GET MILE AND QUARTER OF PAVEMENT AT SMALL COST

Will Connect Improved Park Road
With Eighth Street Paving
Over First Avenue

If the plans adopted by the Common Council Wednesday evening work out, Holland is to have another paved street of about a mile and a quarter. It will extend from the ice house on 16th street to First Avenue, and then north on First Avenue to Eighth street.

This plan has been under consideration for some time. By taking advantage of the new highway law, the city will get a fine paved street at comparatively small cost. The state will pay a large share of the bill and the city will pay only a fraction of what a fully paved street would usually cost.

A small part of the paved street is within the township limits and the county road commission expects to secure the right of way from the township board as it got the right of way from the council for the council for the city's share. When the street is completed there will be a paved street from th improved road on the park road to the brick pavement on Eighth street, and one of the roughest bits of highway in the city namely that on west 6th St. will be eliminated. An attempt will also be made to widen the curve up the hill near the ice house on West 16th street which is at present a dangerous place.

One plan that has not yet been fully worked out is to convert First Avenue into a boulevard with the little parks running down the center of the street. This can be done at comparatively small cost, it is claimed, and it would convert that street into one of the show places in the city.

The council by a unanimous vote yielded the right of way on this stretch of road to the state. It was too good a proposition to pass up, and all the aldermen were for it. It is not often that somebody else is willing to do the city's paving, and when the chance came it was eagerly accepted.

Former Local Man Gathers Some Interesting Facts On Trip.

Says Same Opportunities Are Open To The Poultry Breeders Of Western Michigan.

Dr. L. E. Heasley, formerly of Jensen Park and Saugatuck, has made an extensive trip through the west to investigate the poultry ranches there, and he tells about his trip in an interesting letter printed below. Dr. Heasley was formerly with M. A. C. and the Department of Agriculture, but he is now breeding and exhibiting specialist for George B. Ferris at Grand Rapids, having charge of his three plants at Grand Rapids, South Bend, Ind., and West Palm Beach, Fla. Mr. Ferris is the largest breeder of white leghorns in the world. The letter follows:

I am just home from a trip of 5 weeks duration covering about 10,000 miles, in which I made extensive investigation of poultry conditions and methods of care and management on the Pacific coast. I spent some time in Kansas and Colorado on the way out and visited all the principal poultry ranches around Seattle, Wash., and Puget Sound district, where in a radius of 5 miles at one place there are over 200 poultry ranches from which their owners make their entire living. I found the same thing true in a lesser degree in the vicinity of Portland, Ore., at which place I visited several successful poultrymen and the state college at Corvallis. Near San Francisco, Cal., at Petaluma is located what is supposed to be the poultry center of the world in the way of commercial plants selling market eggs. Several plants carry 10 to 15 and 20 thousand hens and one farm 50,000 yearly, and last year used $75,000 of feed and cleared $51,000. As an indication of the extent of the industry at this point the item of feed alone amounts to 350 tons per day and the enormous sum of $17,000,000 is paid the poultrymen in this district for eggs in one year. I also went into the subject around Los Angeles and San Diego, Cal.

I am back convinced that in Western Michigan we have equal opportunities, for while we deal with snow the Pacific coast men deal with heat and rain. Their success is due to better management, collective and co-operative buying and selling and because of limited suitable land they are thrown near together in the valleys, profiting from each others mistakes and successes. I'm glad to get back to Michigan, where it's "warmer", where the ocean fogs don't make your teeth chatter.

After several years of hibernation Hope's museum is again coming to the front. Professor Patterson has kindly consented to take charge and is re-establishing all the wonders of the ages on the third floor of Van Raalte Hall.

First In Peace As First In War.

There is a quite general but a quite erroneous impression that the Red Cross is a war organization. Nothing could be farther from the truth. The Red Cross is not a war organization in any greater degree than it is a peace organization. In fact not as much so. For after all war is an abnormal condition while peace is the rule, and the Red Cross functions in normal times as well as in abnormal.

The reason why the Red Cross has come to be looked upon as a war body is because war has brought it closely home to the average man and woman. War has merely revealed the work of the Red Cross to the masses. But it was there all the time when the masses of people paid no attention to it. It was working day and night, month after month, year after year. When San Francisco was destroyed by an earthquake, the Red Cross was the first on the scene with medical aid, with food for the hungry and clothing for those who had lost their homes. When there is shipwreck, it is the Red Cross that is first on hand to assist the survivors. When there is disease epidemic the Red Cross furnishes doctors and medicines. In the influenza epidemic last winter the Red Cross saved thousands of lives and furnished food and clothing and medical attention to numberless people.

The Red Cross never sleeps. It is always on the job. It is always ready. It remains organized, no matter what peace treaties are signed. There is always plenty of work for it to do in the world, for ruin and distress are always stalking abroad in some part of the globe. The Red Cross takes no account of nationality of color. It is as quick to help the kafir in South Africa as the flood victims of an American town. It is one of the few organizations on earth that has no race prejudice. This week Holland is holding its annual Red Cross roll call. The executive men are asking one dollar from each adult in the city, and 25 cents for each child of school age. All that is necessary is to state these facts. It would be almost in the nature of an insult to urge the people of Holland to subscribe. Paying the membership fee for the Red Cross is rather in the nature of a high honor for rich and poor alike. It is not a duty but a privilege.

VRIESLAND TO HAVE SUNDAY

Reformed Churches Of Western Michigan To Gather November 12.

The annual Sunday school convention of the Reformed churches in western Michigan will be held on Tuesday, Nov. 12 in the Reformed church at Vriesland. The theme of the convention will be "service" and afternoon and evening sessions will be held.

Rev. James Wayer of Holland will conduct the devotions and extend the greetings at the opening service at 2 o'clock. Speakers and their subjects are: "Personal Work and its place in the Sunday School," Rev. John Van Beursem of Kalamazoo; "The Sunday School a Home Mission Force," Rev. C. P. Dame of Holland; "Teaching Stewardship in the Sunday School," Rev. G. Heneveld of Muskegon; "Why and How to Teach Missions in the Sunday School," Herman W. Versaput of Grand Rapids; "The Importance of Primary Work," Miss Hannah G. Hoekje of Holland; general discussion led by Rev. John Bovenkerk of Muskegon. The speakers at the evening session will be: The Sunday School a Recruiting Ground for the Ministry and Missions," Rev. Anthony Karreman of Muskegon; "Our Covenant Children," Prof. Henry Hospers of Western seminary.

TOWER CLOCK WILL CONTINUE IN OPERATION

The council decided last night that the tower clock was worth at least $25 to the people of Holland. Because of the remodeling of the building a new time switch has to be installed if the clock is to continue to function, and the council was asked to pay the bill. The town clock is in reality a private concern having been installed and operated all these years by the Holland City State Bank as a service to the people. The aldermen considered the request entirely reasonable, all the more so because several of the city officials testified that they depended almost entirely on the tower clock for their time. The new time switch will be operated from Engine House No. 1.

NEW PARK BOARD MEMBER IS CHOSEN

The vacancy on the Park Board caused by death recently of W. J. Garrod was filled last evening by the common council by the appointment of A. J. Westveer as the new member. Only one ballot was necessary to affect an election. There were two candidates, Mr. Westveer and Mr. Peter van Kolken. The latter received three votes and the former eight, constitute an election. A motion was then made to make the appointment unanimous, which was passed.

MAKE PLANS FOR BEAUTIFUL NEW BRIDGE

WILL BE WIDER AND LONGER
AND MORE SUBSTANTIAL
THAN THE OLD

Will Take Care of Future Needs of The Traffic Out That Entrance to City

According to present plans, which are admittedly still in a more or less uncompleted state, Holland will in due time be connected with the township across Black river by one of the finest bridges in this section. Austin Harrington, chairman of the Ottawa County Road Commission, appeared before the council last night and explained the state of affairs as it exists now in regard to the so-called "Grand Haven bridge."

A survey was made some short time ago by the state highway commission for a new bridge. The Ottawa commission insisted on having the survey made in such a way that the future needs of traffic in that direction will be taken care of. Instead of a sixteen foot bridge, for instance, like the one now spanning the river, the survey calls for a 24 foot drive, and in addition to that there will be sidewalks for pedestrians on each side of the drive. The traffic over that bridge is so heavy that the present width is entirely inadequate.

Another thing that was insisted on was that the bridge should be made heavy enough so that it could carry the weight of a street car track in case such a track should be built there. Mr. Harrington declared that it was not at all unlikely that the North Side would in the comparatively near future be served by a car track especially now that more manufacturing plants were being opened in that section.

The new bridge moreover will be longer and built on more substantial lines in every way. The sidewalks over the bridge would have to be built by the county. The bridge proper would have to be built by the city and state jointly, under the trunk line law. But what the total cost will be and what proposition the city will have to pay has not yet been determined. The state department is now making the plans and blue prints and these will be submitted in due time.

CITIZENS OBJECT TO AUTO LIGHTS BEING LIGHTED ON 8TH ST.

MANY HAVE GOT TO GO TO THE BATTERY MAN FOR A
RECHARGE

One Autoist Hangs Lantern On Rear
End of His Car and Gets a Double Dose of Stickers

There has been considerable dissatisfaction with the new order given by the chief of police demanding that the dimmers on all cars parked on the public streets of Holland shall have light lighted after sundown. But orders are orders and Chief Van Ry states that it is not a city ordinance that is being violated but it is the new state law governing automobiles, passed at the last session of the legislature.

It is the contention of the owners of cars that it is useless to dim the lights while parking on River avenue and Eighth street, because there is enough light so that any car is plainly visible at all times.

They contend that the order is all right for the residential district where the streets are dark as a rule, and an automobile is not so discernable, but down town a car owner generally goes to the theater, or has business to perform and the owner is compelled to keep his lights burning from two to three hours, with the result that the battery men have been flooded for recharges of batteries.

The battery man too, is not pleased with these conditions for he states that motorists generally get their batteries recharged at the place where he buys his batteries, and the sudden weakening of the batteries seem to be a reflection upon the man who sells them.

Patrolmen have been liberal with stickers the past few weeks, although generally speaking the motorists are obeying the law and are wasting the juice which answers no purpose whatever.

A representative of this paper has emptied two batteries within a many weeks. He is now hanging a lantern where the tail light is supposed to be, and one jolly old cop when he spied the new "glim" stuck the whole windshield full of notices instructing the newspaper man to meet the chief and tell him all about it. Possibly two lanterns are required or maybe electricity is the only thing permissible. Anyway the state law is giving general dissatisfaction among Holland motorists.

An airplane sailed over the city several times the forepart of the week, taking a thorough survey of Holland. It was the Holleman & DeWeerd Auto Co. plane with a load of tires. The plane landed at the fair grounds, and the tires were taken to the local garage. From here the plane went to Zeeland and later flew to Byron Center where the local company also has garages.

SERVICE MEN WILL PILOT THE R. C. DRIVE

Although late in starting the Red Cross membership in Holland will not go by default. Practically the same organization that was in charge last year is in charge this year. Att. Arthur Van Duren is in general charge for Ottawa county. For the north half of the county Mr. Nat Robbins of Grand Haven is the chairman and for the south half Att. T. N. Robinson is chairman.

The American Legion will take hold of the work in Ottawa county this year. A year ago when the drive was on the members of the Legion were on the fighting front and were being served daily by the Red Cross. Now that they are back home the boys wish to show that they appreciated this service and they are going to make a house to house canvass in an attempt to secure a one hundred per cent membership in Holland and Ottawa county.

As was the case last year, memberships will be one dollar, and that is the amount that will be asked for—no more. Junior memberships, like last year, will be 25 cents. These are for all children of school age. Such memberships will be counted toward a perfect per cent age of a home. Those homes that have a perfect membership will again receive a window card announcing this fact. In every respect the campaign of last year will be duplicated except that this year the American Legion posts of the county will do the actual work.

COMING WINTER LONG AND COLD, TRAPPERS WARN.

Munising, Mich., Nov. 4.—Unless all signs fail the approaching winter will be a hard one.

For weeks the beaver dams have been winter proof and food supplies were in. The dams this year are larger than formerly.

Bruin's coat is as glossy now as in mid-January. That means a cold winter, sure, old trappers say.

Immense flocks of geese have gone south. The north was deserted by them weeks ago.

Tree "cotties" are scarce and are nearer the ground than usual. Moss is heavier, bark is thicker, buds of swamp trees are warmly encased.

Deer are herding early and all fur bearing animals are a month nearer "prime."

G. & M. LINE TO CLOSE ITS SEASON ON FRIDAY

Labor difficulties are responsible for the closing of navigation between Holland and Chicago one week earlier this year than last year.

Announcement was made Tuesday by Local Agent Kress that navigation on the Graham & Morton line this year will close on Friday night, November 7. Mr. Kress announced that freight will be received at the local dock for the last time at 5 o'clock on Friday of this week.

Local shippers are requested to keep this date in mind and to make their arrangements for shipment accordingly.

On Friday night the "City of Grand Rapids" will leave the local port for the last time this season.

From then on until early spring the shipping by boat will be at an end.

The close of the season was not decided upon as early as this because of lack of freight. The season has been a good one and shipment by boat has been strong right up to the end of the season. But the company is finding the labor question almost too much for it. Their vessel is now tied up at the dock in Chicago only half loaded, whereas it should have been on its way last night.

In the water transportation business, as in everything else, the labor question is a serious one. Had it not been for this fact the local company would have continued navigation for some little time longer.

Last year navigation closed about a week later than this year, but it was deemed advisable, under the circumstances, to close the season now.

He was injured in the Owosso game putting him out of the game with a bad shoulder.

Many Holland fans remember "Stub" Wall as one of the high school boys who enlisted in the Marine Corps shortly after the United States declared war, with Irving Cobb, Leenhouts and others. He served thru the greater part of the war in France.

ATTORNEYS IN HOT VERBAL BATTLE HERE

Jury Demands That Grand Haven Man Apologizes To Prosecutor.

Seldom or never in the local justice courts was such a verbal battle witnessed as was staged yesterday in the court of Justice Robinson when Attorney C. T. Misner of Grand Haven and Prosecuting Attorney Fred T. Miles of Holland went one a bother and used up most of the strong words in the dictionary to tell one another and the people in the court room what they thought of each other.

Misner fired the first shots. It was a fish law violation case and Misner was representing the defendants. Mr. Miles was on the scene on behalf of the people and the battle was becoming warm when Misner injected some personal remarks about Miles. Miles did not rise to object, and apparently discouraged by this unwelcome meekness, the attorney for the defense said some more things about the personal characteristics of the prosecutor, this time going a little stronger and venturing forth a little further. Still there was no protest, although the prosecutor had ample room for objection, as the personal characteristics of an attorney obviously had nothing to do with the law and the evidence in the case.

Since there was no objection from the prosecutor, Justice Robinson did not interfere, believing that the prosecutor could amply take care of himself and would put in a kick if things should become too raw.

But evidently Prosecutor Miles was willing to let this antagonist go on, since it gave him an opening for a comeback. And the comeback was a real one when finally Mr. Misner's ammunition had been exhausted and the Prosecutor got a chance to speak. The tongue-lashing that was administered to the Grand Haven attorney was a real circus and it roused the delight of those in the courtroom. The Grand Haven man having started the rumpus, there was little sympathy with him and Mr. Miles did not mince words. All in all it was about the best show that has ever been put on at a local court.

And the climax came when finally the jury brought in its verdict. As instructed by the Justice, they disregarded the verbal battle of personalities and decided the case in accordance with the law and the evidence. They decided against Mr. Miles on the merits of the evidence, but they at the same time made a demand that Mr. Misner make an apology to Mr. Miles for his unwarranted attack. After some hesitation the attorney for the defense complied, and the episode was ended.

FISHERMEN SELLING UNDERSIZED TROUT NOT GUILTY

Peter Fase and Albert Abbinga, both of Grand Haven were pronounced not guilty by the jury on a charge brought by Deputy Game Warden Salisbury and Hemkes.

It was alleged that Fase and Abbinga took 20 lbs. of undersized fish to Jamestown and sold them to Henry Selvig for 7 cents a pound which was four cents a pound more than the state law allows them to be sold for, consequently the arrest of the two men.

The state has made provision that undersized trout can be disposed of at one Grand Haven market but must be sold for not more than 3c a pound and the retailer must not sell them to the public for more than 7c a pound.

The trial was held in the city hall with Att. Fred T. Miles appearing for the people and Att. Charles Misner of Grand Haven acting as counsel for the fishermen.

The two legal lights got into an altercation, in which the jury rebuked Charles Misner, but brought in a verdict of not guilty for his clients.

The jury was composed of John Van Tatenhoven, Joe Kardux, Ben Lampen, Aart Kronmeyer, John Brouwer and Henry Kalmirk.

The airplane with a cargo of auto tires for the Holloman & DeWeerd, Auto Co. to be in Holland at 9:45 did not materialize. BOY BURGLARS STEAL FROM A GROCERY.

Grand Haven. Boy burglars broke into the store of A. Cook & Son, 1118 Washington Ave., Grand Haven last Friday night and stole a big pocket book containing over $16 in money. Suspicion pointed to two boys, one of whom has been in trouble several times before, it is alleged. This week officers quizzed one of the boys, who is about thirteen years of age and secured a confession. The boys admit breaking into the store through a rear window claim that they threw the pocket book away near the Fourth Ward school. The money loss has been made good to the store proprietors by the parents of the boys but the pocket book is still missing and the store would be pleased to have it returned if found by any one.

LOCAL MAN IN HUNTING CUT

The Grand Rapids Herald of Sunday contains a full page covering the deer hunting in Michigan. A dozen cuts illustrate the killing of deer in other years and among the photographs displayed is one of George Abbott of Grand Rapids and "Mart" Vander Bie of Holland, in the act of picking up a deer they had just shot in the woods. The picture was taken at Antlers Hunting Camp on the Two Heart river, 21 miles northwest of Newberry, Mich., in the northern peninsula. "Mart" has a grin on his face as big as the proverbial "bushel basket."

MUSKEGON IS NOW SURELY DRIER THAN CORK

Boose Also Went By The Boards When Steamer Holland Went Down.

How much whiskey did the former steamer Holland have aboard and where it all came from is what is worrying many of the sufferers of the Sahara-like Muskegon.

One salvage worker for the company out in a small rowboat found six quarts of excellent Bourbon in a mattress which was so badly water-soaked that everyone else passed it up.

A number of quarts of whisky have been found by the coast guards and patrols along the beach, and the sheriff's force has been kept busy trying to watch that no one gets into the city with a bottle on his hip.

Some have been so rash as to estimate that fully 100 quarts of whisky have been picked up along the shore and among the wreckage.

TEN "CARRIERS" ARE DISCOVERED BY ANALYSIS

Anyone who interferes with a "Diphtheria Here" sign placed on any home by the board of health is subject to a jail sentence or fine or both. And this punishment can be meted out not only on the authority of the city ordinance but also on the authority of the state law. And the board of health announced Saturday that those signs are going to be scrupulously respected in Holland or the law will be applied literally.

There seems to have been a disposition on the part of some to think that the "Diphtheria Here" sign could be safely ignored or tampered with because it was not accompanied with a quarantine sign. Recently ten pupils were sent home from school because the state analyst had examined cultures from their throats and had found that they were positive cases of diphtheria "carrier."

Because of the fact however that these children are not ill and since they may never be ill with it, some people seem to think that the "Diphtheria Here" sign is a fad on the part of the health board. But a "Carrier" though not ill himself, is a positive danger to others and the board of health is going to see to it that such cases are isolated until they are no longer a menace. It is a well known fact in medicine that not only in diphtheria but in many other diseases, like typhoid fever for instance, there are persons who are not ill themselves and don't know they are a danger to others but who are "carriers" of the disease and who spread it far and wide. All such "carriers" discovered in the city now are being isolated, and all future tampering with "Diphtheria Here" signs will be followed with swift punishment. The health department warns. There is absolutely no doubt about the board's power to enforce this warning nor is there any doubt about its responsibility to do so.

WHEN GRANDVILLE WAS BIG- GER THAN GRAND RAPIDS.

How "Dr. Berry" took his first boat ride to Grand Haven in 1845 is the substance of an ancient story which W. E. Briggs of Grand Rapids has dug from a pile of old journals.

The account tells of how he and a couple of comrades secured a small rowboat and embarked from where the old police headquarters stood in Grand Rapids, how they picked up sawlogs along the trip to pay for the voyage, visited Grandville, "a lively and ambitious village which hoped soon to eclipse Grand Rapids in size and importance," and finally reached the lake where they "picked red cedar twigs to bring home," the first they had seen in Michigan.

A STRANGE AFFECTION TURNS HUSBAND FROM HOME.

Love for her twin sister is what Edward Fenney, of Muskegon, blames for his separation from his wife, Mrs. Flora Chilberg Fenney, a prominent artist of Rock Island, Ill. Fenney has filed divorce action in Muskegon Circuit Court.

The plaintiff charges that he is unable to understand this love between sisters and that his wife admits she cares more for her twin than she ever can for her husband or any other being. It was 18 months before their marriage that Fenney, while in Government service, met the artist. They were married June 11, 1919. Only July 16, he says, he was told to leave the Chilberg home.

The two sisters, Flora and Fannie, resemble each other so much that the husband tells in his bill it is almost impossible to tell them apart.

Mrs. Fenney, he says, admits she cannot be separated from her sister and that she would rather die than live away from her. Fenney says he endeavored to have his wife leave the family home, but that she insisted on remaining. He soon found the air frigid, and it was not long before he was asked to leave.

Theodore Carlson, of Muskegon, has invented and patented a new rotary 12-cylinder engine, which, he says, will revolutionize the motor world. A company has been formed locally for the manufacture of the product.

TO-RAISE FUNDS FOR CHURCH BUILDING.

Miss Josie Sierama entertained the W. A. C. of First Reformed Church at her home in North Holland with a Halloween party. The class enjoyed a very interesting program followed by a business meeting. Methods for raising funds for the new addition to the church were discussed, and a committee of five consisting of Laura Lemmen, Ella Van Putten, Margaret Volland, Mrs. Bosman and Andrew Stekete, teacher of the class, was appointed to make arrangements for the "big event" that is to come off soon in connection with the class' contribution to the fund.

HOLLAND GETS BEETS FROM MULLIKEN.

The village of Milliken, Eaton County, is reputed to be the greatest sugar beet shipping point in Michigan. About 175 tons of beets are brought to Mulliken every day for transportation to the Michigan factories. Nearly 600 acres in the vicinity of Mulliken are devoted to beet raising. The season opened Oct. 8 and will last a month. The railroad is not able to supply enough cars to remove the huge piles of beets along its tracks.

The Holland St. Louis Sugar Co. of the city often gets consignments of beets from Mulliken Mich.

STAR LODGER AT HOTEL TAPS GAS METERS

Officer Jack Spangler of the Grand Haven police stepped into the Highland Park hotel Friday morning and found John Miller, making himself at home there. Incidentally the officer discovered that the unwelcome lodger at the big, silent beach hotel, had been tapping a gas meter in "I Go Wild" cottage near by to get the quarters which had been deposited there by the occupants, the place containing a quarter in the slot meter. He had a number of quarters in his pockets when found.

Whether he taken anything from the other cottages or the hotel at Highland Park was to be determined when Mrs. Sweetland, owner of the hotel property, made a survey with the police officers. There was evidence to show that Miller had ransacked the place as disorder was shown in a number of the rooms. At any rate, he had established his temporary quarters there.

Lights are Seen.
Lights have been noticed in the hotel for the last couple nights, and Friday morning bright and early officer Spangler walked in upon the lodger, before Miller had a chance to make a getaway. He immediately put the out-of-the-season lodger under arrest and brought him to the county jail where he is being detained.

Miller is seventeen years of age and says his home is in Oklahoma. He made no resistance when placed in custody and admitted some of the charges made against him. Miller is said to have been a sailor on one of the carferries and claims he has been living in the empty hotel after the fashion of the characters in "Seven Keys to Bald Pate", since Wednesday.

ATTORNEY TELLS OF THE NEW DAY IN LAW

That the law is not a dead thing but a living and growing organism was the main thesis of a paper on "The New Day in Law," read Thursday evening by Attorney T. N. Robinson before the Social Progress club, when that club met at the home of Dr. and Mrs. A. Leenhouts.

There is in the strict sense no new day in law, Mr. Robinson declared, because everyday is a new day in the legal profession. The law that we have today is the result of a gradual growth through the ages, and it is growing today, step by step. It is passing through a slow but natural evolution and each generation adds its quota to the structure of law as an agent in human society.

Many other professions have been powerfully affected by the war, but the law has been less modified and advanced by it because of the very nature of law, which is a codification of people's sense of justice. It necessarily has to follow events and its course of progress is necessarily very slow. But gradually society is arriving at more equal justice between man and man and the ethics of profession are being raised right along.

Mr. Robinson called attention to the fact that there is a higher law that codified in a set of court rules. This higher law is mankind's sense of justice based on a sense of humanity's affiliation with a higher court that is constructed in the social fabric. This so-called moral law is the ideal toward which the codified law is traveling. It is the ideal state in the legal profession and all the advances that are made in getting more equal justice for all are steps toward that state of things when the golden rule will be identical with the codified law of society.

The speaker declared that we were still far from that state but he said we are getting nearer to it right along.

Rev. Lambert J. Hulst of Nunica, Ottawa county, is the oldest minister in the Christian Reformed church in point of service and of age. He has been a pastor for 70 years and is now 94 years old. TO HOLD HOUSE- WARMING SATURDAY

The Community House on the third floor of the Sentinel building had its formal opening and house-warming on Saturday of last week. This community house was established a few weeks ago through the action of the officers of Grace church, and since then work has been in progress getting the place into shape. Most of this work has now been completed; at least things have progressed far enough so that the place can be occupied.

On Saturday afternoon were games for children from 1:30 to 6:00, and in the evening there was dancing and refreshments for the adults. From now on the Community House will be open regularly according to a regular schedule.

George P. Hummer of the West Michigan factory has presented the Community House with a Humophone.

FIVE MEN IN SERIOUS AUTO ACCIDENT

A serious accident occurred at the P. M. switch on North River avenue near the Standard Grocery Co's plant, Saturday evening at 6 o'clock.

Five men from West Olive who are employed in the Holland-St. Louis Sugar Company plant were on their way home in a Ford. When they were on the P. M. track on N. River avenue two freight cars loomed up out of the darkness from behind the mill, and before the men were aware of it their auto was shoved some 75 feet west on the track and the cars only stopped after the Ford had been completely smashed and had plowed through heaps of sand on the right of way.

How the men escaped alive is a miracle. Frank Findt, the driver and Chris Findt jumped out of the front seat, but the three men in the rear were not so fortunate and were tangled up in the debris. The result was that Joe Findt had his hip and hand badly cut, and Barney Limbardi had his leg severely bruised, and the side of his face and nose were badly battered. Alex Eggimar had one leg and his arm severely smashed.

Dr. Winter was hastily summoned, giving the men first aid, and they were taken to their homes at West Olive by taxi.

The accident happened because two runaway freight cars became loose from the switch engine at the right house on Columbia avenue, and had gone downgrade, finally reaching River avenue where one of the cars collided with the Ford.

It is said there were no lights on the car, and apparently there was no switchman at the River avenue crossing at that time of the night, as all switching had been done during the day-time, and naturally the switchman did expect that two freight cars would stray away from the rest of the string and go on a rampage.

The "tin Lizzie" is a complete wreck, and only fit for the junk man.

Gerrit Van Haften had a narrow escape from being run over by the same cars. He was crossing the track on a wheel, and the two cars were within a few feet of him. He put a little more pep into the pedals and just got across as the cars passed. The occupants of the Ford were not so fortunate.

FORTUNE TELLER WARNED GIRL NOT TO STAY ON HOLLAND.

Waitress, Victim Of Boat Wreck, Warned Against Trip By Seer.
Mrs. William Buck, of Muskegon tells how her daughter Mrs. Hopkins, who was aboard the former steamer Holland and was one of the victims of the ill-fated craft had been warned against continuing in her employment, that of a waitress aboard the boat, by a fortune teller in Milwaukee.

Mrs. Hopkins visited the seer and was told that it would be unsafe for her to continue longer on the boat and that she would be drowned if she stayed on longer, according to her mother. Mrs. Hopkins is reported to have said at first that she would not let a fortune teller scare her off the boat, but that later she had decided to make the fatal trip her last one on the ship.

MORTON SAYS "HOLLAND" WAS SEAWORTHY

That the Crosby steamer "Holland" was perfectly sea-worthy and not in poor condition to weather the storms that it might encounter in its travels across the lake is the statement made by J. S. Morton of Benton Harbor, President of the Graham & Morton Transportation Company. Mr. Morton, while no longer having anything to do with the wrecked vessel, made the statement voluntarily "in justice to the steamer as I dislike to see erroneous statements going through the press." The statement came as a result of report in some newspapers to the effect that the steamer was old and unseaworthy. Here is Mr. Morton's statement on the seaworthiness of the vessel:

"The upper cabin you refer to as being put on by this Company was taken off by the Crosby Trans. Co., placing her back in her original shape and condition. Some of the newspaper articles refer to the steamer as being old and unseaworthy. This is very unjust to the steamer, as she was perfectly seaworthy and had been kept up so that her condition was first class in every respect and our experience with the vessel was such that we had a high regard for her capabilities and sea-going qualities, being considered by marine men who were familiar with her traits as one of the easiest sea boats and most capable of enduring severe weather of any they had had experience with."

Mr. Morton knows the "Holland" thoroughly as his company operated her from 1896 to 1913.

The Sorosis girls of Hope college enjoyed a Halloween party at the Y. W. C. A. cottage and a splendid time was reported by those present.

MUSKEGON FANS NOT GOOD SPORTS TEAM DECLARES.

After the experience in Muskegon Saturday, the Holland High school foot ball team more than ever appreciates the sportsmanship of the Holland foot ball fans and of visiting delegations who come to this city. The team was loud in its condemnation of the unsportsmanlike attitude of the Muskegon fans at the game Saturday on Hackley field when Holland lost by a score of 26 to 7. The local team does not claim that they should have won, but they claim that the Muskegonites persisted in making such a racket that the Holland boys could not hear the signals. The referee, who is described as completely fair, penalized the Muskegon team for the racket of the crowd, and repeatedly begged the fans to cool down.

Holland high played a good game, but the players from this city were outweighed ten pounds to the man. Early in the game Muskegon got through Ten Cate who the week before had suffered a broken nose but in the last quarter he held them.

De Free was the individual star of the game, scoring the only touchdown made by Holland by receiving a forward pass back of the goal line and making a wonderful jump. Beeuwkes at left end also played a good game. Huntley, the regular half-back, filled Halley's place at tackle, and played a fine game against Hooker, Muskegon's star, outguessing him in every play. Muskegon made three touchdowns in the first half and one in the second.

CIRCUIT COURT STARTS GRIND FOR NOVEMBER

The November term of the Ottawa circuit court opened Monday afternoon at the court house. The opening period was taken up with the usual ceremony of calling the calendar and the arrangement of cases for trial, together with what arraignments were ready for the opening day of the term. Representatives from the leading law firms in Grand Rapids and Holland, as well as Grand Haven attorneys were on hand at the opening to look after their interests.

The November term does not promise as many sensations as were furnished during the August term, when the Morse manslaughter case occupied several days and the Dyk smokeout case stirred up things. An aftermath of the Morse case will be furnished by the trial of Carel E. Stone of Grand Rapids on the charge of liquor law violation.

Stone was a member of the party that was riding in Morse's car one night last June when the machine capsized on the Holland-Grand Rapids road, causing the death of Mame Boshoven. Morse, charged with being intoxicated while driving, was held for manslaughter under the state law, but was acquitted by the jury.

Stone riding in the machine, but not at the steering wheel could be charged with no more serious offense than violation of the liquor law. He is prepared to fight the case it is said.

There are not as many liquor cases on the docket this term as before. Prosecutor Miles succeeded in getting most of the August term liquor cases disposed of, before the closing of the term.

Miss Elizabeth Brance and Miss Irene Van Zanten spent Sunday in Muskegon.
Born to Mr. and Mrs. Peter Lekas, Monday morning—a 9 lb. daughter.

The NEW EDISON

No needles to change. Even records of all other makes sound more human when played on The New Edison.

Re-Created Music Is Music Plus Personality

THE music of a great artist thrills and stirs us, where the same music rendered by another may leave us utterly cold—

Because—

Into his music the true artist has woven his whole soul—has made his music the expression of his Personality—made it a living thing.

And right there is the distinction between the New Edison and all other phonographs.

The genius of Thomas A. Edison has caught the music plus the Personality of the artist. It is wonderful. It is true music Re-Creation.

Close your eyes when listening to the New Edison and it is the living artist you hear. The artist himself speaking through music.

Music plus personality! Such music The New Edison and only The New Edison gives you.

Without Personality music is mere sound. With it, music is something vital that strikes at one's very depths, summoning memories, hopes long buried, and tender feelings. That is what music with Personality means, and that is the music the New Edison gives you.

If you delight in beautiful furniture, then by all means see the charming exhibit of New Edison Period Cabinets. It includes Sheraton, Jacobean, Chipendale, William and Mary and Eighteenth Century English Cabinets illustrative of the very finest examples of the craftsmanship of these golden ages of furniture designing.

Miss Elsie De Wolfe, America's foremost interior decorator, after examining this new line of Edison Period Cabinets volunteered this unqualified endorsement of them:

"The Period Cabinets which Mr. Edison has adopted are in pleasant contrast to the rather grotesque cases one so frequently sees. From the characteristically diminutive and graceful Hepplewhite to the costly replicas of historical pieces, the superior furniture value of the Edison cabinets can scarcely fail to impress the lover of good furniture."

So come in today. See these beautiful new cabinets. Hear the marvelous music Re-Creations of the New Edison. Both will delight you. Come—today.

Rev. Albertus Pieters, missionary on furlough here from Japan, has made a plea in the church paper for an increase in salaries for professors at Hope College. These salaries are $1,600 a year out of which they must provide their own residences, costing from $300 to $400 a year. "The net sum remaining for other living expenses," says Dr. Pieters, "is manifestly inadequate." He says the pay ought to be increased to at least $2,000 a year.

The coal pile at the Sugar Co. caught fire Tuesday morning and both the departments were called to put the fire out which was done in a hurry.

Seventeen girls of the "Daughters of the King" Sunday school class of the 9th Street Christian Reformed church surprised Miss Lena Regnerus at her home on 11th St. — a program of music and games winding up with refreshments were the features of the evening.

Harry Kramer, son of John H. Kramer, money order clerk at the Holland postoffice, has reached New York after 15 months' overseas service with the medical supply corps. Young Kramer relates a thrilling experience of his trip across the Atlantic and states he never expected to reach his destination. Says Kramer in a letter to his father from New York: "We made the trip on a poor transport, the Edellyn. We slept in the hold of the ship. When in mid-ocean a terrible storm broke over us and the Edellyn rocked like a tub. The waves hit the boat so hard that it listed 45 degrees. Seventy-two bunks crashed down and we slid over the floor three or four times before we recovered our senses. We thought the boat had caved in. Thirty were injured. One sustained a broken leg, another a fractured skull, and I suffered a black eye, a slightly sprained wrist and body bruises."

Recovery of $50,000 worth of automobiles stolen from Chicago and location of others valued at $50,000 or more was announced by Chicago detectives of the automobile squad. Benton Harbor was disclosed as the cache of the stolen cars. Detectives are returning to Chicago with the names and addresses of garages where many recovered cars are now stored. They will return to Benton Harbor to seize other stolen cars valued at $50,000, they said.—G. R. Press.

All the pastors of the Grand Haven churches supported the Red Cross Movement from their respective pulpits Sunday. The membership drive for the American Red Cross started Sunday and will continue until November 11. The drive is for $1 memberships and no doubt Holland will do its duty.

Grand Rapids grocers again are charging 12 and 13 cents for sugar. District Attorney M. H. Walker was asked why, in view of the fact that a few months ago the government fixed 11c as the top retail price for the granulated product. He replied that it is beet sugar they are selling and that 13 cents is a fair price for this variety. Few if any stores have any cane sugar in stock. The price of cane sugar ought still to be 11 cents. Mr. Walker explained that the sugar situation has been gone into thoroughly and found to be unusual owing to weather conditions. Beet sugar companies started in selling at ten cents but soon discovered that the beets they are receiving this year contain about 59% per ton less sugar content than did the beets of 1918. It seems that owing to dry weather the beets stopped growing and ripened in September. Due to a scarcity of farm labor the farmers did not harvest them then. Before they got to the work rain set in the beets started growing again and took on considerable more size but did not stay in the ground long enough to increase their sugar content. The factories buy by weight and not by sugar content, therefore on every ton they lose from 5 to 10 per cent.

A miscellaneous shower was given Tuesday evening, November 4, at the home of Miss Mary Hilarides in honor of Miss Vera Van Zoeren, who is to become a November bride. Games were played and prizes given. Beautiful gifts were presented to the bride-to-be. Refreshments were served.

Hope that additional bodies of victims of the sinking of the steamer Muskegon, a week ago would be washed ashore were given up Tuesday night when a 52-mile an hour gale swept the lake. Drugging of the channel and the search of divers in the wreckage of the Muskegon was suspended Tuesday night.—G. R. Press.

HART HIGH CANCELS GAME WITH HOLLAND

Monday morning Coach Horne received a message stating that Hart High school were forced to cancel the football game with the local high school team, scheduled to be played here Saturday, Nov. 8. It was a disappointment to the local management and every effort was made to have the date filled by another team, but the schedules of all teams were complete. However Flint having an open date asked for a game at that place Saturday.

Principal Riemersma did not think the management could afford having the Flint team here, so accepted the offer. The team will leave Friday afternoon, arriving in Flint the same evening. The trip as planned, will give the boys the necessary rest for the game the following day against the best team in that section of Michigan.

SOLDIER HURT IN THE ARGONNE IS UNBALANCED

August Holtz, Jr. an American soldier wounded in the battle of the Argonne forest is being cared for at the Ottawa county jail, until he can be assigned to some institution for treatment, in the hope of clearing his unbalanced brain. His mental condition at the present time is pitiful, due it is believed to the horrors through which he passed in the great battle which swung the balance for the American army and the allies.

Sunday the soldier, who has been in a serious condition mentally for some weeks, fired the barn on the farm of his father, August Holtz, Sr. in Grand Haven township. Neighbors assisted in fighting off the flames which threatened to destroy the dwelling. The barn and several other smaller buildings on the place were destroyed with all their contents.

Deputy Sheriff Ed. Boongaard of the sheriff's office and Amiel Klumpel, of the Grand Haven police department, went out to the scene, and brought the soldier back with them for safe keeping. Holtz was in bad condition mentally, when examined by physicians. He was quiet yesterday but refused to talk. Since his arrival in Grand Haven the unfortunate young man has maintained absolute silence.

No reason can be assigned for the strange turn which the soldier's unfortunate malady has taken. His parents have been kind to him since the unbalanced mental condition first began to appear. He has been cared for at home until Sunday.

August Holtz, who is 26 years old, went into service with the 85th division. He was transferred to the 111th U. S. Infantry, and went into the Argonne fight with that organization. On October 13 last year he was badly wounded. While being carried back to the hospital, the ambulance in which he was riding, was blown up by a German shell, and the soldier was badly wounded in the face and body.

After passing through the inferno, the soldier had suffered a long siege in the army hospitals. One leg is stiffened at the knee and he carries a scar of battle upon his body. It was no doubt due to the shell shock and the horror through which he passed that his mind gave away.

Although August returned to his home some time ago, he was not noticed to be in serious mental condition, until after October 13 of this year. As this day approached the young soldier was noticeably agitated and it may be that the recollection of the horrors through which he had passed had left their mark indelibly upon his mind.

There is hope that treatment under the proper conditions, may lead to the restoration of the young man's reason.

MANY TO BE CITY GUESTS AT BANQUET

Arrangements have been practically completed for the big banquet to be held in honor of the service men in the high school gymnasium on Armistice Day. The banquet will be given by the city of Holland and the service men will be the guests of the city. The company will sit down at the banquet board at six o'clock.

City Clerk Overweg, who is secretary of the committee on arrangements sent out 492 invitations to service men from this city and surrounding community. The return cards were to be in Wednesday. Up to noon the city clerk had received 245 return cards. Of this number 192 accepted the invitation and 53 replied that it would be impossible for them to attend. Some of these 53 are out of the city, in many cases quite far away. More return cards were expected Wednesday afternoon. As soon as the time limit has expired arrangements will be made for the banquet in accordance with the number that will attend.

Invitations have also been extended to 57 city officials to attend the banquet. All in all it is expected that no less than about 300 will sit down at the banquet board at six o'clock on Armistice Day.

The program has been practically completed. City Attorney C. H. Mc Bride will be the presiding officer. Mayor Bosch will give a short address of welcome on behalf of the city. G. J. Diekema will give an address to the soldiers on behalf of the people of Holland. Dr. J. T. Bergen, himself a service man, will come from Minneapolis to give an address on behalf of the service men. In addition to that each branch of the service will be represented on the program by a short talk from one of the ex-soldiers.

There will be plenty of music but full arrangements for this part of the program have not yet been completed.

LEAGUE DEBATERS ARE LONG ON BIBLE TEXTS

ZEELAND VETERAN AND COOPERVILLE EDITOR HAVE PLENTY OF THEM ON HAND

Bible, It Appears From Them, Is Both For and Against the L. of N.

It's a cold day when the Bible cannot be dragged into any discussion that happens to be claiming the attention of people with plenty of Bible texts at their fingers' ends. Just now the venerable ex-soldier and politician of Zeeland, C. Van Loo, and the venerable newspaper man of Coopersville, C. De Vos, are engaged in a debate in the Zeeland Record in which Holy writ is ransacked from stem to gudgeon for appropriate texts to prove the points of the debaters.

The subject of the debate, as might have been expected, is the League of Nations. Hon. C. Van Loo is again it and Hon. C. De Vos League of Nations. Hon. C. Van Loo is for it. The veteran Zeeland man claims it is inspired by the devil, as of course most things are that are fathered by the opposing political party, while the venerable C. De Vos things the League is a sort of cosmic preface to the millennium. And both have plenty of texts to support their views. Both moreover have the courage of their prejudices and have been expressing said prejudices with all the vigor that usually goes to the enunciation of a bonafide conviction.

They have been sawing back and forth for some weeks and neither seems to have persuaded the other of the error of his ways, in spite of the bushels of Bible texts that have been heaped together.

In the article of last week there were signs that the debate was coming to a close, Mr. De Vos asserting that he had no intention of entering a dispute about this subject. Unless new fuel is added to the fire by the Zeeland man it seems likely that the of the Scriptures for texts that were meant to refer to the League of Nations, to the virtues of the Republican party and the delinquencies of the Democrats will come to a close. But if all the texts that have already been given are looked up and carefully studied it will keep the average person good and busy until after the next presidential campaign.

ALDERMAN BRINK RESIGNS FROM COUNCIL WILL TAKE UP HIS RESIDENCE

IN PLAINWELL IN NEAR FUTURE

There is once more a vacancy in the ranks of the common council, this time through a resignation. Ald. Brink of the fourth ward sent in a communication to the council last evening at its regular session in which he asked to be relieved of the duties of office, the resignation taking immediate effect. He expressed deep regret at being compelled to sever his connection with the council and declared that he always enjoyed the work and that he felt a deep regard for his colleagues in office. But his removal from the city to take up his residence in Plainwell, Mich., made the step necessary. The aldermen were not behind hand in expressing their regret at losing the services of Mr. Brink and they decided to incorporate their feeling and respect and appreciation for his work in a formal resolution which will be presented to the retiring alderman.

PLAN $75,000.00 COMMUNITY HALL FOR THE CITY

Will Holland have a community Hall?

That seems to be the all important question among the main moving spirits of this city.

We were asked to soft-pedal this story for the good of the project which the News has often done before in other cases but apparently it has leaked out and consequently we are giving the story as far as matters have gone.

For some time prominent members of the Victory Club have been agitating a place of recreation for the young people of Holland.

The Y. M. C. A. question has come up time and again; chautauquas and lecture courses have been conducted in behalf of a Y. M. C. A. building, but this method has proven altogether too slow to accomplish anything tangible along those lines.

Since that time the county Y. M. C. A. organization has been made a fact and Holland is going to contribute for that purpose.

During the discussion of the Y. M. C. A. at the Victory Club from time to time the question of the building for Holland would constantly crop out in the discussion, and generally was advocated by the younger members of the club.

The Victory Club as a body has felt for a long time that some suitable building should be built and dedicated to all the Holland people, and the latest plans are not to build a Y. M. C. A. building, but a community Hall to be used by everybody living in this city.

As far as planned this building is to cost between $75,000 and $100,000.

The building is mainly intended for the youth of Holland as a place of recreation, where they may enjoy themselves amongst wholesome surroundings.

The plans are to have a large gymnasium well equipped, swimming pool, bowling alleys, pool and an auditorium that can be used for billiard rooms, reading rooms and lectures, pictures, home talent entertainments and things of that kind.

After plans have been fully matured, no doubt a drive will be inaugurated, and a popular subscription taken up to build this building.

No definite plans have been made along this line altho one manufacturer stated that he would give $1,000 to start the list off, while others have even mentioned larger figures.

It is stated that an option has been secured on a site directly east of the postoffice, which would be an ideal location to be sure, as nearly all Holland's buildings of a public nature are located near Centennial Park.

Holland must keep faith with its youth. It has absolutely nothing for either young nor old, not even a church in this city has a fraternity hall, that we are aware of.

The college has a gymnasium for the students only.

The high school has a gymnasium that is being used nearly every hour of the day and night, but it cannot begin to accommodate Holland folks outside of the school.

Father Wyckoff of Grace Episcopal church is about the only man who has taken this matter up very seriously, and has started a miniature community Hall in the Sentinel building.

The boys in the shops and the business men and the clerks and the young ladies of the city have a perfect right to ask Holland for a club room of their own, where they may be free to come and go at will.

This community hall should be a place of recreation for everybody who wishes to take advantage of it under the proper rules and regulations.

CENTURY CLUB MEMBERS TELL GOOD STORIES

The Century Club held a "story telling" meeting Monday evening at which several members tried to outdo one another in the narration of original incidents. The stories were supposed to be true and to be embellished as little as possible by imagination. Some very wonderful tales were told. Those taking part in this feature of the program were: Mrs. E. E. Fell, Dr. B. B. Godfrey, A. H. Landwehr, Mabel Anthony, E. E. Fell and Rev. P. P. Chern.

Excellent music was furnished by Mrs. J. E. Telling, Mrs. N. C. Robbins, and Mr. and Mrs. Harris Meyer. Refreshments were served by Mesdames Hardie, Cappon, Haddon and Cook. The meeting was held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. M. J. Cook.

Mrs. Henry Dykhuys and Miss Aecenth Gaylord of Ganges spent Tuesday in Holland and Zealand.

DOCTOR OFTEN MUST PRONOUNCE DEATH SENTENCE

It is frequently necessary for those in charge of the free clinics conducted by the Michigan Anti-tuberculosis Association to pronounce a death sentence on persons who did not even know they had tuberculosis. Dr. E. R. Vanderslice, Medical Director, this week reported such a case to the office in Lansing.

It happened in a free clinic in a Michigan town a week or two ago. A father brought to the clinic his sixteen year old daughter. The girl had not been examined by her family physician, and although she did not suspect that her trouble was tuberculosis she had been taking a good deal of medicine in the shape of "tonics." The clinic examination showed conclusively that she had tuberculosis in an advanced stage, and it was necessary for Dr. Vanderslice to tell the father as gently as possible that his daughter had only a few months to live. Some months ago it might have been possible to save her life, but that time had passed.

The father was frankly told how matters stood, chiefly for the sake of the other members of his family. It was pointed out to him that an open case of tuberculosis is definitely contagious. When the other members of the family were examined, a 13 year old son, who was looked upon as perfectly well, was found to have the disease in its incipient forms. The father was easily persuaded to place this boy in the state sanatorium at Howell where he is almost certain to get well.

Cases like these are not exceptional and they give a glimpse of the kind of work that is being done by the Michigan Anti-tuberculosis Association week after week and month after month. This service is rendered free of charge to the public, and literally thousands of people are examined each year. In this way many lives are saved, especially the lives of children who have been exposed to open cases.

But this work has to be financed in some way, and the only source of income the Michigan Anti-tuberculosis Association has is the money derived from the Christmas Seal Sale. This sale this year will be held from December 1 to December 10, and throughout Michigan it is hoped to sell 15,000,000 Seals. This will mean no less than five cents worth for every man, woman and child in the state. These five pennies will be used to save lives like those of the little boy reported by Dr. Vanderslice.

PLANS TO COME BACK TO THIS CITY LATER

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Snyder, formerly of this city, have returned to their home in Big Rapids, after disposing of some of their real estate here. The residence on College Ave. was purchased by Mr. Roy Gilbert, and the one on East Eighth Street by Mr. Jack Blue, First Ward alderman. These deals were made thru John Weersing's Real estate Agency. The Snyders still own the beautiful residence at corner of 13th Street and College Ave, which they wish to retain for their future home, as it is their desire to come back to live in Holland, when Mr. Snyder retires as engineer from his present run between Big Rapids and Ludington.

HOPE WILL CLASH WITH FERRIS INSTITUTE

Hope will meet the Ferris Institute eleven on the 19th St. grounds Saturday afternoon at 3:00 P. M. Last week Junior College of Grand Rapids defeated the Ferris aggregation by a 14-6 score. The outcome of this week's game will give the Hope football fans an idea of the comparative strength of Hope and Junior College when they clash in Grand Rapids, Nov. 15. Injuries will not keep any of Coach Brooks' men out of the lineup Saturday. Ferris will have to meet the best Hope has.

The remains of the late Louis Ossignac, former Grand Haven resident, who died in Benton Harbor, arrived at Grand Haven. Burial took place Saturday at Lake Forest. Mr. Ossignac, who was a ship carpenter by trade, was working on board of the Graham & Morton ships, when he was stricken ill. He died within a short time. The man was well known in Holland in boat cities.

Both fire departments were called out last evening to a chimney fire on West 20th street. No damage.

MORE CULTURES TAKEN IN SCHOOLS

One hundred cultures were taken Monday by the health officer and city nurse in the Central school, completing the work in that school in the diphtheria epidemic. Tuesday fifty cultures were taken in Junior high school. These cultures have been sent to Lansing for analysis, and as soon as reports come back the health department will isolate the pupils who are found to be carriers of the disease.

All such persons must be regarded as under isolation, the health officer declared, whether they are obviously ill or not. They must remain separated from others in the families and the dishes they use must be handled separately so as to prevent the spread of the disease.

Seventy one years old and he rides a bicycle to work early every morning. That's why S. D. Pond, pioneer jeweler, says he intends to live for a good many more years. Exercise and stay young, is his motto. Mr. Pond has been in the jewelry business in Allegan for 50 years. Of course these "records" aren't all due to that bicycle ride at dawn. But it helps, says Mr. Pond.

DESTRUCTION IS WROUGHT IN SUMMER HOME

Over Thousand Dollars Damage Done To Property At Cottage.

Two small boys managed to destroy fully a thousand dollars worth of property in the summer home of Henry L. Adsit of Grand Rapids, on the lake shore of Grand Haven. Monday morning the two youngsters were held under police supervision until some action can be taken toward disposing of the boys under the law. Up to Monday morning the boys, although interviewed by the officers, had failed to give any story, which would lead to locating their people.

The two lads have told Chief of Police Pippel that they are brothers and that they have run away from their home a mile north of Hartford. They gave their names as James Hall, 13 years of age, and Leonard Hall, 11 years of age. However, the officers have reason to believe that there is but a small degree of truth in anything which the boys have told them thus far.

Mr. Adsit, who owns a summer home on the lake shore, just south of Sunset Sea, drove down in this automobile Monday afternoon, and noticing one of the windows broken in his house, he with the caretaker entered. The owner with the caretaker walked in upon the two boys, in the midst of the wreck they had made of the place, and at once took the lads into custody.

The boys admitted that they had taken some of the fire arms which they had found in the place, and had maliciously used expensive articles in the rooms as targets. Mirrors and lamps, pictures, vases had been smashed by the bullets. An expensive pair of binoculars had the lenses shot away. In the garage nearby, the valves had been shot from the oil barrels and quantities of oil had been permitted to flow out.

The boys admitted that they had been camping in the cottage for a day and a half. To all appearances they had been making the most of their time in completing the destruction of the place, smashing everything in sight. The officers believe that one of the amusements was lying on the beds and shooting at all the targets in the room.

Leonard Hall, 11 years old, has a badly burned hand, from the explosion of some flashlight powder, and the attention of a physician was necessary for treatment Monday. The boys will go into the juvenile court.

CHANGES IN SCHEDULE OF COMMUNITY HALL.

Owing to some restrictions on the use of the hall, it has been necessary to make some changes in the schedule of the Community Club. The boys will have the use of the club room from five to seven thirty each afternoon except Saturday, when they use it from one to five. The dues for boys has been reduced to $1. a year in advance, on account of this change. The ladies will have the use of the room Tuesday and Friday evenings and dues are $1.00 a year in advance. The men use the room the other four evenings and their dues remain as before, $5.00 a year semi-annually. For the men, this includes the monthly eats, so that the dues really amount to about $1.00 a year for the men.

It was decided to open the club room to men on Sunday afternoons from 1:30 to 6, irrespective of membership. This club wants to be of service to the community. A refreshment committee was appointed of Fred Cook, Frank Helmers and Fr. Wyckoff, with power to commander the K. P.

DONT AMPUTATE A MANS DEAD LEG, DOCTOR.

One peculiar case came up before Judge Cross in Allegan County this week.

The jury in the damage case of Aaron Sinclair vs. Drs. Eugene F. and Eugene T. Brunson, all of Ganges, Allegan court brought in a verdict of no cause for action. The doctors amputated a toe for Sinclair and later a Chicago doctor amputated his limb. The latter testified that no matter what the doctors had done, the leg had to be amputated anyway, due to a clogged artery, so that the blood could not circulate and the limb "just died."

During the course of the trial a man died in his automobile front of the First National Bank at Allegan, of a malady the same as the patient had who was suing for damages. Evidence from a post-mortem examination assisted the Drs. Brunson in their case.

MYRON BROEKEMA "SOME BOY" AT THE UNIV. OF MICHIGAN

Myron Broekema, son of Mr. J. Broekema of Marshall-Fields of Chicago, who has his summer home just outside of Holland has become very prominent at Ann Arbor.

The college student body had heard that Mr. Broekema had been a successful business manager of both the Hope College Anchor and the Milestone, published here and they immediately cast about to see if his services could be secured on the U. of M. "Michiganensis."

Not alone was he elected assistant business manager but also the associate editor of the publication. Mr. Broekema was in Holland Saturday and secured the Holland Furnace Co. for a page advertisement in the edition. He also enlisted the services of Arthur Ganser, conducting the River avenue studio, who will do the photographic and art work on the publication.

The U. of M. Annual contains some 800 pages and an edition of 4,000 copies are sold to the students and alumni of the Michigan State University.

BETTER ENGLISH DRIVE ON IN HIGH SCHOOL

"Better English Week," is on at Holland High school. During the present week the students of that institution will not be allowed to split their infinitives; they will not be allowed to use the convenient double negative; that little word "aint," so home-like and convenient and companionable, will be taboo; and in a general way all "Jazz English" will be out of place. Nix on it! Cut it out!

For one whole week the students of the local school will drink from the fountain of pure English undefiled. They have gone at it with set faces, and in deadly earnest. The drawn lines in their faces that may be observed merely indicates the tremendous strain they are laboring under to remember not to talk as they are accustomed to do on the sidelines at the foot ball game.

Each student this week is wearing a tag with this inscription on it; "Beware! Bad English is about and it will get you if you don't watch out." And every student for one week has converted himself or herself into a detective. The boys and girls are on the watch for bad English in all the other boys and girls in the school, and for every slip there will be a black mark chalked up against the maker of the "break."

Moreover, the high school will furnish speakers at the cinematograph halls ("better English for 'movie fans' of the joys of pure English in spoken and written form. In this way the whole town is drawn into the drive.

LANDS STORY IN OCTOBER MAGAZINE

In the October issue of "Personal Efficiency," a magazine published by The LaSalle Extension University of Chicago, appears a story by Mr. C. D. Karr, of this city.

Several weeks ago "Personal Efficiency" offered $100 for the best story to be used in advertising La Salle courses. Mr. Karr has received the publishers' usual rate per word and a letter telling him that he has a good chance of winning the prize. He has the considerable satisfaction of knowing that his story is the first one to be published. The contest is open to more than 50,000 business men and women.

The narrative form of advertising is being used very effectively in present day publicity, and no doubt we shall see Mr. Landwehr's "Warm Friendship" spread from coast to coast by this method.

The LaSalle University is going to use its winning story in a campaign that will cover the entire English speaking world.

Mr. Karr's story in "Personal Efficiency" is entitled "The Straight Course." It covers six columns of the magazine and is too lengthy for reproduction. It tells the story of how Fred, at a beach hotel with his young wife, saw two boats go by, one "The Roamer," and one "The North Star." The latter easily shoots ahead of the former and Fred knows that the latter has some time before had new machinery put into her that had given her new life and given her the ability to outdistance her sister ship.

This gives him the idea of having new life put into himself, which he proceeds to do by taking a La Salle course. A year later he is again at the beach hotel, but this time a much more prosperous Fred. And while there the boss comes in and appoints him General Sales Manager at a salary of $7,500 a year. The new machinery put into his mental engine room by the efficiency course has helped him to shoot ahead and has given him his chance.

RECIVES SHOT IN HIS FOREARM

Giving his boat a jerk to pull it up to the dock, Floyd Ketchum Monday afternoon caused a gun lying in the boat to go off. The gun was pointing to him and the charge lodged in the young man's forearm.

The accident happened at Bender's Beach on the North Side, where Ketchum and a companion were out hunting. Without losing any time the wounded man was hurried across the lake by his companion and then taken to the office of Dr. R. H. Nichols who dressed the wound. The arm was rather badly shot up and the boy lost a good deal of blood, but the accident is not expected to have any serious results. He was taken to Holland Hospital where he will be treated for a few days. Mr. Ketchum's home is at 69 West 13th street.

Jack Luidens is home on a vacation.

HOLLAND MAN FEATURES IN EDITORIAL.

Old Hendrick Illiohans Figures In A Life Of Service.

The Grand Rapids press in an editorial shows how Hendrick Illiohans who has been cobbling for 66 years in his little shop on 8th street has given a life of service to his city. Says the Press:

"To live a life of service does not necessarily mean that one must be a philanthropist or a missionary of right living. There are men who fit into some small niche in the life of a community and remain there throughout their lives as a servant to the people, though unnoticed and unhonored."

Such a man is Hendrick Illiohans, who for more than forty years has been pegging shoes in the same little shop for the people of Holland, Mich. Starting his eventful career as a cobbler at the age of twelve he has religiously stuck to his chosen vocation for sixty-six years.

His life is a living monument of steadfastness and contentment. Few men have equaled such a record of continual service in one locality. It proves that a life of service to others or of individual satisfaction to oneself is not always the life of public notice or of wealth.

To many of us the thousands of solitary hours that old Hendrick Illiohans has spent at the last, repairing shoes, would seem as hours of gloom and lost opportunities. Yet to him and his community they have been hours of usefulness and efficient service.

It is a deal better to cobble one's way through life than to drag a worthless body and brain through a purposeless career."

John Miller, who was arrested by Officer Spangler of Grand Haven at the Highland Park hotel, was arraigned before Circuit Court Commissioner Pagelsen at the county seat. He was bound over to circuit court under $1000 bail, on the charge of breaking and entering cottages in the day time. No trace of further thefts in the park cottages were found. Miller had also been extracting quarters from "pay as you go" gas meters at the cottage at Highland park.

For the Greatest Mother in The World

If America learned anything at all from its adventures in the shambles of war, it learned that the RED CROSS is the saintliest, sweetest, God-blessed agency for ministration unto the ills and the woes of human-kind that men and women ever organized and maintained. If America comes from war with one service-obligation greater than another, it is the obligation to sustain The Red Cross and support "The Greatest Mother in The World." If America wants to perpetuate the Samaritan ideals for which Victory was sought and obtained, America must perpetuate The Red Cross—for it is the maximum, practical potentiality in service to the people. * * * THIS IS RED CROSS WEEK. It brings no burdensome challenge to any purse. It asks no tremendous sacrifice. The miracle is that its demand is so democratically modest. To do your share all you need is "a heart and a dollar." Is that very much—for "The Greatest Mother in The World"? * * * The Red Cross still has its mighty obligations to suffering men and women everywhere. Wherever disaster stalks, wherever plagues impend, wherever loving mercy is the human need—"The Greatest Mother" flings her blessing with a prodigality that helps and heals. A more wonderful contemplation than the Red Cross modern times cannot present. And your participation in all this majesty of service is at the cost of one little dollar. One hundred cents never bought more of a benediction. * * * The war brought many heroic decorations to many of our finest, fighting sons. Proud, coveted decorations they are, too. But no "decoration" can earn you greater honor this present week—no "decoration" (even from the battle-front) can pay you greater compliment—no "decoration" can more beautifully crown your conscience than a Red Cross 1920 button. * * * Come on, let's go! For "The Greatest Mother in the World."

POLICE TO GET AFT-ER GRAVEL MEN

THEY MUST CLEAN OFF THEIR "REACHES" IF THEY WISH TO COME TO TOWN

The common council last evening decided to ask the police department to enforce strictly the ordinance relative to the hauling of gravel over the paved streets. The ordinance requires that the drivers shall so load their wagons that stones will not fall from them on the pavement. The trouble usually lies in the fact it was asserted last night, that the man who loads the wagon does not clean the gravel off the reaches, and hence the stones fall on the street.

Withing a comparatively short time three plate glass windows have been broken by stones that were shot by auto tires into them. These windows are worth from $100 to $125 apiece, and the council is determined to put a stop to this danger. The police will be asked to arrest the first man who comes to town with his wagon in such condition that the stones can fall off on the street, and an example will be made of him so as to stop this practice.

PARENTS SEND PETITION TO THE COUNCIL

THE LINCOLN SCHOOL P.T. CLUB ASKS FOR COUPE FOR NURSE

Action To Be Taken Up By The Aldermen When They Have More Information

The Lincoln P.T. club submitted to the common council last evening the petition printed below. The council accepted it and Mayor Bosch declared he was more than glad that the parents and teachers appreciated so much the work of the city nurse. No definite action however will be taken on the petition until the council has more information. The petition follows:

To the Common Council and the Board of Education of the City of Holland:—Gentlemen:—

Action having been taken by a large majority by the Parents-Teachers' clubs of the Lincoln school in the matter of a resolution setting forth the necessity of providing our city nurse with a Ford coupe so that she may be able to do her work more effectively and more quickly and in that way serve a larger percentage of the people of the city, we the undersigned representatives of these clubs respectfully ask your honorable bodies to give this matter your early and serious attention.

It is the consensus of opinion of the various clubs voting on this matter that the nursing service of the city requires this added equipment. The appointment of a city nurse was a great step in advance, but it would, in our opinion, be poor economy not to provide her with such equipment as is needed for effective and rapid work. The people of our city, as represented by the parents in these various clubs have a very high opinion of the importance of the work done by the city nurse, and they believe it is good business to put this work at compound interest, as it were, by providing the tools she needs to multiply her activities.

This petition is addressed both to the council and to the board of education, the clubs believing that both have a right to be consulted in a matter of this kind. We trust the matter will receive early consideration from both bodies.

Respectfully submitted,
Frank Newhouse, Pres.
Geo. Woldring, Sec.
