The Entire Republican Ticket Wins

COUNTY OFFICERS OVERWHELMINGLY ELECTED

Two Holland Democrats Also Carried Away in Landslide

The Republican county ticket, as well as the state and legislative ticket, was swept in by a veritable landslide in Ottawa County. Even Earnest C. Brooks, who was elected as state senator two years ago, and Nicholas Sprietsma, also of Holland, who was elected treasurer 2 years ago, were defeated. Mr. brooks had a vote in Ottawa County of 6,899 votes, and former Judge John Vanderwerp, a graduate of Hope College, and circuit judge in Muskegon County for at least 20 years, had a vote of 10,127. It is said that Mr. Vander Werp's vote in his own county has been very large. Nicholas Sprietsma, Democrat, made the best run, receiving 8,147 votes to Fred Den Herder, son of the former treasurer, 9,035, Mr. Den Herder receiving a majority in the county of 888.

Complete returns in the county as compiled by county clerk, William Wilds and staff is as follows: On Governor, and other state officers, congressional and legislative and the county officers:

Governor: Frank D. Fitzgerald, R., 10,853; Frank Murphy, D., 6,612.

ONLY ONE CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT WINS IN OTTAWA COUNTY

Like in Holland, only one constitutional amendment came through successfully. That was the gasoline tax proposal No. 3. The vote in the entire county was as follows: Yes, 2,960; No. 5, 562.

The other amendments in Ottawa County, except the Olive Township vote, which will make no material difference, is as follows:

Amendment No. 1, Yes, 3,361; No, 10,773.

Amendment No. 2: Yes, 4,603; No, 9,535.

Amendment No. 3: Yes, 9,260; No, 5,562.

Amendment No. 4: Yes, 4,597; No, 8,520.

HOLLAND DEFEATS ALL CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS EXCEPT ONE

Three constitutional amendments had "tough sledding" at the election in this city. The only one to survive is "the guarantee that gasoline and motor vehicle license plates, taxes paid by motorists be used for highways, roads and streets." It was amendment No. 3, and won by 1,003 majority.

Amendment No. 1 lost in the six wards as follows: Yes, 1,114; No, 2,975.

Amendment No. 2; Yes, 1,344; No. 2,510.

Amendment No. 3: Yes, 2,634; No, 1,631.

Amendment No. 4: Yes, 1,511; No, 2,312.

TANNERY PROPERTY PROPOSAL IS BADLY DEFEATED

The Tannery Property, which has been in the limelight for the past two years, and defeated on a previous occasion, promulgated by Alderman Kalkman, was badly defeated by a majority of 638. According to wards, the votes stood as follows:

First ward: Yes, 169; No, 291; Second ward: Yes, 74; No, 30; Third ward: Yes, 140; No, 222; Fourth ward: Yes, 226; No, 273; Fifth ward, first precinct: Yes, 152; No, 278; Fifth ward, second precinct: Yes, 164; No, 328; Sixth ward: Yes, 254; No, 395. The No's win by 638. None but taxpayers were qualified to vote.

There was a big flow of ballots in the ballot boxes in six wards in this city at Tuesday's election. The total was 4,940, which was in wards as follows:

First ward, 817; Second ward, 247; Third ward, 669; Fourth ward, 888; Fifth ward, first precinct, 707; Fifth ward, second precinct, 663; Sixth ward, 949. Total, 4,940.

Election Notes

The Republican headquarters on River and 9th Streets, and the Democratic headquarters on College and 8th Streets, look like wrecks today. Superfluous campaign thunder after election lies pretty well scattered, and party workers will make a clean sweep of the buildings despite the clean sweep at the polls.

* * *

Democrats may call yesterday's weather Democratic weather with a little rain and sleet, but the election returns up state do not bear that out. The automobile, undoubtedly, has changed a great deal of this.

* * *

Earl W. Munshaw, candidate for State Senator, from Grand Rapids, beat George Veltman, former city commissioner at Grand Rapids, by a 4 to 3 vote. Mr. Veltman is well known in Holland, having spoken here often, and made a public speech for the Democratic party last week at Democratic headquarters.

* * *

Ate Dykstra, who has many friends in Holland, was overwhelmingly elected for State Representative of the first district in Grand Rapids. Mr. Dykstra had been in the state legislature for a great many years, but was swept out of office with the Roosevelt landslide a few years ago, but apparently he has come back with flying colors.

* * *

Nicholas Sprietsma for Treasurer was the only county officer; in fact, the only Democrat who won in Holland city. The former city treasurer had a majority of 674 over Fred Den Herder, a former Holland man, who moved to Grand Haven with his parents when his father became treasurer, some twenty years ago.

* * *

Grand Rapids voted on a "stores open Sunday" law, which came up repeatedly; however, this time the vote was 1,616, rejecting the ordinance for closing.

* * *

Congressman Albert J. Engel of Muskegon who spoke in Holland on Monday night when the elephant walked, won over his opponent, Noel Fox, by a 40,195 to 29,124 vote.

LOCAL SCHOOLS ARE OVERWHELMINGLY REPUBLICAN

Holland high school students voted on all the candidates on the same kind of ballots as the voters received at the polls, only they were on yellow instead of on white, and marked "instruction." It is interesting to note the results. In the high school the only Democrat getting a majority was Earnest C. Brooks, for State Senator, 395, to John Vanderwerp of Muskegon, 230. The results follow:

For Governor, Frank Murphy, D., 297; Fitzgerald, R., 280.

The rest of the state ticket trails along in that proportion.

For Congress, Johnson, D., 158; Carl Mapes, R., 448.

For State Representative: Fred Kamferbeek, D., 174; Nelson Miles, R., 436.

For Sheriff: Wierda, D., 175; Van Etta, R., 428.

For County Clerk: Vandenberg, D., 217; William Wilds, R., 360.

For County Treasurer: Nick Sprietsma, D., 274; Fred Den Herder, R., 349.

For Register of Deeds: Volkers, D., 250; Bottje, R., 258.

For Drain Commissioner: Teunis, D., 199; Fred Van Wieren, R., 416.

Carl Bowen, who had no opposition, had 525 votes.

* * *

The other state officers trailed in that proportion.

For Congress: Johnson, D., 124; Mapes, R., 304.

For State Senator: Earnest C. Brooks, D., 294; Vanderwerp, R., 162.

For State Representative: Kamferbeek, D., 126; Nelson Miles, R., 322.

For Prosecuting Attorney: Stempfly, D., 339; Parsons, R., 352.

For Sheriff: Wierda, D., 132; Van Etta, R., 319.

For County Clerk: Vanderburg, D., 186; William Wilds, R., 267.

For County Treasurer: Sprietsma, D., 200; Den Herder, R., 256.

For Register of Deeds: Volkers, D., 171; Bottje, R., 267.

For Coroners: Clark, D., 196; De Witt, D., 151; Bloemendal, R., 263; Winter, R., 293.

For Surveyor, Carl Bowen had no opposition. He had 335 votes.

The four amendments in the high school were snowed under. In junior high, amendment No. 3 carried the same as in the city.

* * *

HOLLAND CHRISTIAN HIGH ALSO VOTES ON YELLOW BALLOTS

* * *

The Holland Christian High also voted a regular ballot, same as in the pubic schools. The ballots, too, were yellow instead of white. Otherwise they were the same as used at the city polls.

All the Republican candidates received overwhelming votes.

For Governor: Frank Murphy, D., 110; Frank Fitzgerald, R., 188.

The rest of the state ticket trails along in that proportion.

For Congress: Johnson, D., 39; Mapes, R., 233.

For State Senator: Brooks, D., 151; Vanderwerp, R., 128.

For Prosecuting Attorney: Stempfly, D., 59; Parsons, R., 218.

For Sheriff: Wierda, D., 63; Frank Van Etta, R., 219.

For County Clerk: Vanderburg, D., 94; William Wilds, R., 182.

For County Treasurer: Nick Sprietsma, D., 76; Den Herder, R., 207.

For County Surveyor: Carl T. Bowen, R., who had no opposition, received 194 votes.

Frank D. Fitzgerald, Michigan's New Governor

Fitzgerald in action campaining in Wayne County

Frank D. Fitzgerald, according to late returns, leads Frank Murphy by 88,975, with only a few precincts to hear from.

With only 144 of the state's 3,553 precincts unreported, Fitzgerald was 88,975 votes ahead of Murphy. Totals included the returns from 1,000 of Wayne county's 1,150 voting districts. It was from industrial Wayne that Murphy derived his greatest strength.

Returns from 3,309 of the state's 3,553 precincts for governor gave:

Fitzgerald, 802,530.

Murphy, 713,555.

Fitzgerald's advantage in 2,109 of 2,403 outstate precincts was more than 175,000 votes.

Murphy who carried 22 counties in 1936 when he defeated Fitzgerald by 48,919, carried only 11 Tuesday: Alger, Baraga, Delta, Dickinson, Gogebic, Houghton and Keweenaw in the upper peninsula, conceded Democratic territory, and Muskegon, Presque Isle and Wayne below the straits.

HOFFMAN TO GIVE TALK AT HOLLAND BANQUET

Representative Clare Hoffman of Allegan just re-elected to congress, will be the principal speaker at the twentieth annual Armistice Day banquet of the Willard G. Leenhouts post, American Legion, in the Warm Friend tavern Friday evening. Edward Slooter, past post commander, is chairman.

Ex-service men have been invited to attend the Armistice day memorial service staged by pupils of Holland high school Friday morning.

CONNELLY SENDS BILL OF CALIFORNIA PENSION PLAN

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. M. Connelly of Holland, who are touring through the West, seeing California in particular, write:

Dear Ben:

This state beggars my extraordinary vocabulary, both from a scenic and political standpoint. The "ham and eggs amendment — $30 every Thursday handout—will not carry. The voters are aware of its inpracticability. Expect to go to Yosemite Valley tomorrow, and then back to Los Angeles.

"Bill"

Enclosed Mr. Connelly sends a take-off on this pension plan, advocated by certain Democrats. The bill shows Santa Claus standing in the halo of a most colorful rainbow. Over the rainbow in a semicircle are these words: "E Pluribus Kiddem 30 Thursday." and in each corner of the fiat money are the letters IOU, beautifully engraved, and on one side are these words "This certificate is illegal tender for private debts," signed Pass De Buck Comptroller. At the end of the rainbow is a large pot, not filled with gold, and along side of the pot is this inscription: "If you put 104 coppers in my pot, I will exchange this for a real buck. Ham N. Eggs, treasurer." Across the face of the bill this inscription appears: "This certifies that there is on deposit in the pot at the end of the rainbow 20 wooden nickles." On the opposite side the highly engraved certificate states the following: "The state of confusion. For use in bankruptcy. All public offices are given, from state treasurer to the teacher of the school district." "Besides you and me and everyone else," then a large one buck every Thursday. "Scrambled eggs for California."

There is more "ribbing" in that 2x6 piece of paper than one can imagine. It must have taken a lot of thought to put so much about the subject on a bill smaller than a $1 bill of Uncle Sam's currency. Well, next Tuesday will tell how far voters will "fall for" pannacies of that nature.

Note: — This article came too late to appear before, but now that election is over, we can say that "Bill" was right and the "ham'n egg" pension was overwhelmingly defeated in California.

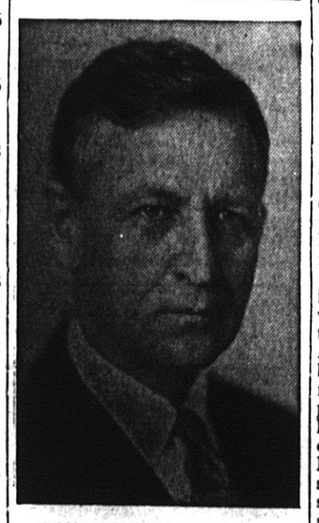
SIXTY YEAR AGO COLUMN HELD OVER BECAUSE OF ELECTION RETURNS

The feature of Sixty Years Ago is held over because of belated election returns, but it will appear again next week. There is election news in different parts of this publication. The tabulations of the entire county are found on page 4, this section. The city returns can be found on this page.

CONGRESSMAN HOFFMAN GOES IN BY A LANDSLIDE

A personal phone call from the News office to Clare Hoffman, elected from the fourth congressional district, shows that Mr. Hoffman was elected by an overwhelming majority.

Mr. Hoffman states that figures from the entire district show that



CONG. CLARE HOFFMAN

Hoffman received 47,193 and his opponent, Dr. Phelix Raette, 31,976, giving Hoffman a majority of 15,217. Mr. Hoffman, who has been "on the stump" since congress adjourned, was the most fiery "stump" speaker in the entire national campaign. Undoubtedly, he wil be heard from again when he returns to Washington for his third term.

HOLLAND BRANCH HAS ISSUED 8,897 CHECKS TO JOBLESS

Mr. Mapes received in the county 38,406, and Mr. Tunis Johnson, his opponent, 28,947, or a majority of 9,459. Mr. Mapes received in Ottawa county 11,413, and Mr. Johnson, 5,708, or a majority of 5,705. The majority in the two counties, Kent and Ottawa, constituting the district for Mapes, is 15,164.

Holland Girl Travels Thru Netherlands

GIVES UNUSUAL REPORT ON HOW RELIEF IS HANDLED

Miss Winnie Buma of Holland has returned from The Netherlands, loaded with souvenirs and keep-sakes. She came to the Holland City News office on her arrival with grips filled with them. She spent several months in The Netherlands, and visited her own birth place.

She tells especially how unemployment insurance works there. This has been in vogue for more than 20 years, and the fund had been accumulating beyond the needs until 1929, when there was much unemployment. If employees cannot get work, work is found for him if possible, and he must do that work when they assign it to him. The following week he must report exactly what he has earned, and two-thirds is deducted from the relief if he falls short. If the man or woman does not report he is fined in the form of having his allowance taken away for three weeks. This is an unwritten law, and there is no grafting or chiseling. The community has a clearing house, where jobs that are to be had are first given out rather than have workers remain idle and live on a "dole." This is not tolerated, and a good day's work is expected and is generally received.

They call relief in The Netherlands "steun." Miss Buma states one incident that was really laughable, but proved serious to a couple. A man and a woman had hoarded their money in a pail—4,000 gilders—and still they were receiving from the "steun." This amount of money caused jealousy between the pair, and they quarreled so loud and long as to what share was whose and who was taking from the pail when the other wasn't looking that neighbors began to listen and reported it to the government agent. Officers went to the house and confiscated the entire pail of money.

The Netherlanders have the old habit of walking in the street instead of taking the sidewalks, a custom of years' standing. The police in the larger cities warn them, since more automobiles are coming into use each year. In small villages, however, the custom still prevails.

The main vehicle in The Netherlands is the bicycle. Wherever one looks, one sees men and women peddling a bike. There are large factories making "wheels" here, and naturally many wheel repair shops. The bicycle, too, is the bain of the motorists, for they are in much larger numbers than here; however, there are not nearly so many automobiles as here. All country roads are either asphalt or flat cobble stones, not rounding ones. The country roads are just as fine as the city streets.

In America and in Holland, Michigan, merchants set the hour for store closing, but in The Netherlands all stores are compelled to close at 6:00 by law. If they are not closed, the storekeeper pays a heavy fine. This is done to restrict a certain class of competition who were keeping open almost night and day. In the residence district, where the store is in front ,and the home behind it, the winkels (stores) open at 9:00 a. m. and close at 8 p. m. Any violation calls for a fine before the magistrate. Miss Buma experienced the strictness of this law for she entered a store five minutes after the time limit, having forgotten to purchase some little Dutch cakes she had promised her cousin. The store attendant, in a very polite way, refused to serve her, pointing out that it would mean a fine.

Miss Buma contends that America has nothing on The Netherlands when it comes to style. She states that she had purchased a coat in America just before taking the boat, and when she arrived among relatives who were rather stylish people they remarked in the Holland language, "How fine that coat of three years ago still looks." But Miss Buma protested, stating that she had just purchased it before sailing. She was advised that Amsterdam folks wore such a coat three years ago, and they volunteered to make it over up-to-date, which was done. Miss Buma pointed out that Paris, the world's style center, is only a few hours' flight from Amsterdam, and her friend volunteered the information that the latest "mantles" (coats) arrived there almost immediately.

Miss Buma gave to the editor of the Holland City News a handful of what appeared to be the finest raw silk. She said, "That is not silk, but wool." She said that this wool was made from the residue of cheese. Netherlands is known for its fine cheese and baby foods, but in the making of these milk products there is a thick, gelatin-like substance that remains in the bottom of the vats. A young man in a Friesian factory endeavored to make something of this residue. He spent nearly a half year in a laboratory and the result was this soft ,silky, wool. The manufacturing of it is still in its infancy, but the office force of girls in that factory were wearing blouses made from this material. The texture is not as harsh as wool; in fact, as was said before, the uninitiated would call it silk.

Miss Buma sailed for home on the Steamer Statendam, third class. She said she took third class, first because it was more reasonable; second, because the menu was the same as the second class, and third, the people in that class were an interesting study, since all types and all nationalities generally find their way in the steerage. She stated that among the passengers there were quite a number of German-Jewish people. Undoubtedly, because of the persecution in many European countries today. She said, "I have had a grand time. I might have been there yet had a war broken out, since for weeks passage could not be secured because of the exodus of so many Americans going home when war clouds began to gather. As I said before, 'I have had a wonderful time,' but I am oh, so happy to be back in the old USA!"

PUPILS WANT TO BUY TANNERY PROPERTY

If the students of Holland high and junior high had their way, the Tannery Property, a proposal advocated by Ald. Kalkman, would have carried immediately. In the vote on that proposal, junior high students voted 300 Yes and 178 No, and the Holland high voted 368 Yes and 186 No.

BEAUTIFUL FALL RIGHTS ITSELF AGAIN

The beautiful fall has been so continuously that it almost seems unnatural. The first real bad day was on Election Day, when it was a little snappy and a few flakes of snow fell. But Wednesday turned out beautiful again; the weather continues far from wintry-like. From Labor Day till today, there simply has been one continuation of summer, including heat waves. Flowers and fruit, as will be seen elsewhere in many instances, have bloomed and borne again. The only tell-tale feature that nature shows is the denuded trees and flocks of geese and ducks going to the south land.

COMMUNITY CHEST GOES OVER THE TOP

At 5 o'clock this evening we notice that the large thermometer fastened on the old Holland City State Bank building under the clock, bubbled over, and the mercury shows that more than $16,000 has been subscribed for the community fund. The excellent committee and the many co-workers and public-spirited citizens made this thing possible, and they should be given the thanks quickly and liberally, and in that way facilitating the work of the many men and women who gave of their time to gather in the contributions for these very meritorious causes where the needs are imperative.

The goal was $16,000, and at noon today $16,467 had been subscribed. Possibly a few more subscriptions will come in; however, these will be helpful and will be added to the sum total. Next week Tuesday evening the officers of the Chest have called a meeting at the Woman's Literary Club rooms, where all donors are requested to meet. It is the annual meeting, and the retiring officers are Mrs. Jay Den Herder, Mr. Steve Cavall, and Mr. Cornelius Vander Meulen.

MAY HAVE ANOTHER INDUSTRIAL EXHIBIT DURING TULIP TIME

More Dutch atmosphere was one of the suggestions for the improvement of next year's Tulip Time festival, at a meeting of the tulip Time executive committee in the Warm Friend tavern.

More entertainment on the two Saturdays and on Wednesday nights, transfer of Village Green program from Centennial Park to Eighth between River and College Aves., and changes in the parades were among Mr. Houtman's suggestions. The committee approved recommendations, barring difficulties in their execution. Continuation of the Saturday band review was also approved.

Discussion of the possibility of having an exhibit of Dutch merchandise led to talk of having another industrial exhibit. A committee consisting of Andrew Hyma, Charles R. Sligh, and Mr. Houtman was appointed to investigate the matter.

Application for a building permit has been received at the office of the city clerk from Oscar Wilms of 49 West 11th St., who plans to reroof his house with asphalt roofing at a cost of $60.

The Drenthe Community band and several societies of Drenthe Christian Reformed church will present a program of sacred music Thursday evening in the church.

A Missionary Tells of Some Real Oil Wells

"DIRK" DYKSTRA WORKS IN TEMPERATURE 172 DEGREES, TOO HOT TO WRITE

Has Alumni Dinner with Indian Graduates Where Fingers Were Forks

A most interesting letter was sent the Holland City News from India, written by a missionary from Holland, whose wife, Mrs. Wilterdink Dykstra, is a co-worker with her husband and has been for three score years. Mr. Dykstra, who was a student at Hope college 35 years ago, was a newsboy for this newspaper. The letter from Rev. Dykstra follows:

* * *

Kodaikanal, South India

Mr. Ben Mulder
Holland City News
Holland, Mich.

Dear Mr. Mulder:

There are several reasons why missionaries in Muscat leave much of their correspondence for the summer vacation. When the weather is fine during the winter months we are usually very busy in order to get done as much as possible before the heat is turned on, about the middle of March. Then for a month or two the heat begins to tell on us and we begin to ease up on everything that can be put off. There is no use waiting 'till the cool of the evening because it does not cool off in the evening. While the temperature does not go up so high, our main trouble is that it does not come down. I remember a typical day in June last year when the temperature went up to 110 during the day, went down to 106 at sunset, and by two o'clock that night it was up to 112. The sun temperatures are, of course, much higher. One day in September I found that we were doing repair work in the sun in a temperature of 172. So you see how the story got to go the rounds there that a dog was chasing a rabbit one day, but it was so hot they were both walking!

So I have waited with writing you 'till I arrived here, the Arcot Mission hill station of Kodaikanal. You may be interested in a trip I made in June to Bahrein, both to consult a dentist and to get away from Muscat during the hottest month. Six hundred miles is quite a long way to go to see a dentist, but at our age our remaining teeth achieve an importance in inverse proportion to their number. And Bahrein at that time of the year is a great deal cooler than Muscat, so the trip was very much worth while. To keep down expenses I travelled "deck." First-class on the Gulf boats is every expensive, although it seems to be very pleasant to travel that way. You eat with the captain and the officers and receive respectful treatment from everybody. Second-class puts you definitely in a lower class and on many boats you are barely recognized by anyone. When it comes to travelling deck you lose touch altogether with the boat's crew, but what you lose that way you gain in companionship with your fellow passengers and their families, their goats, and their chickens. And while they carefully watch how we sleep and wash and shave, etc., we also have a good chance to see "how the other half lives."

Bahrein has changed greatly since the early years of our stay there. We used to go ashore, or near the shore, in sailboats after we left the steamer five miles out at sea. Donkeys would come wading a quarter of a mile into the shallow sea, and it was an uneasy ride from there to the seashore. But now a businesslike launch comes to meet the steamer and from the launch we step onto the pier. There any number of cars are waiting for us, the latest models of Ford, Chevrolet, and Nash. The streets now are wide and clean and overhead one can see a complete network of electric wires. On many houses are the familiar aerials of the radio, and voices from Bombay, Berlin, Bari, and London come floating through the open windows.

But the greatest change in Bahrein is the development of the oil field by the Standard Oil company of California. The oil field lies about 14 miles from the main city of Menameh, but while it used to take us from two to three hours to go there on our donkey trips to Arabs in that neighborhood, now a car takes us in fifteen minutes, over an oiled highway. Little did we think in those bygone days that we were travelling over lakes of oil. As we approach the oil city it certainly looks like a bee hive of industry. Chimneys smoking, cars dashing here and there on seemingly important business, and 120-foot oil derricks dotting the landscape. As we get near one of these drilling outfits we stop to have a look. From under an oil-soaked sun helmet emerges a typical American machinist's face and in real American we are enlightened as to the drilling of a well. The first layer of oil bearing limestone was found at a depth of 1200 feet, but now wells are being sunk to a depth of 4200 feet. While we were there some of the tools got stuck in the pipe 4200 feet down, and it took more than smiles to get them out.

There were large machine shops, garages, offices, etc., but we were intrigued by the many air-conditioned houses. No matter what the temperature is outside, or the humidity, at the throw of a switch you can have any temperature you like and any degree of humidity. There is a first-class hospital, also entirely air-conditioned, and a malaria patient now has to contend only with the high temperature inside his body.

A few miles away on the seashore is a modern refinery, said to have cost about $12,000,000.00. It can, and does, manufacture any oil product desired, from the highest grade of gasoline to the heavi-

"All One Body"

Wise people who have spoken both through the Bible and through non-sacred writings have time and again driven home the truth that joint human effort is the only road to happiness and successful living.

The eye needs the hand. The head needs the foot. And when one part of the body suffers, all the other parts suffer. If one part imagines it is more important than the others, and becomes proud and overbearing, it soons learns a sharp and painful lesson.

If we people in the United States can bring ourselves to remember this, and believe it, we will do ourselves a lasting service and will solve one of our great present difficulties.

Salvation in this country must come through forgetfulness of class envy and bitterness, elimination of class injustice, and a substitution of common effort for the general good.

The person foolish enough to imagine that capital can get along without playing fair with labor as the eye co-operates with the hand, will do well to wake up.

A manufacturer cannot manufacture unless he can get men to work for him.

It is equally foolish for labor to think it can get along without the employer. A wage-earner cannot earn his wages unless the manufacturer hires him. The head and the foot must join forces or both suffer.

We are "all one body." And the politician or the agitator who for any reason whatever undertakes to foment class hatreds and class wars is, in both the broad sense and the narrow one, a traitor to his kind.

Have You Noticed?

(Muskegon Chronicle)

Have you ever noticed? In Muskegon an elderly lady, dressed in the garb of another day, with a basket on her arm, daily, at almost exactly 1:30 each afternoon, wends her way down Ottawa street, Muskegon, and uptown. At about 4:30 she returns with something in the basket, and usually covered with a piece of a newspaper. Twenty-four years ago we first noticed this daily passing. In town a few days ago, and at the usual time, saw her again make her round. Seldom, if ever, have we seen her in a store, seldom do we see her on the street uptown, but, every day, at the same time, can we see her making her way toward the center of town and back. Those along the street will probably see her today.

In Fremont, on the nights when the stores are open and usually on days of special event, or on Saturday, a man around middle age walks briskly down the street, stops suddenly at the curb, and gazes at some passing car until out of sight, or gazes at some shop window, or perhaps, a group talking on the sidewalk. His hands seem always to be out of place. If folded across his breast, he will nervously shove them into his coat pockets, only to remove them immediately and place them behind him, or into his trousers pockets. Then, abruptly, he will start back over the course he just came, duck suddenly between two cars and across the street to walk on down to the corner, across again and back. He is there shortly after supper and still there when the stores close. He seldom speaks to anyone, and usually enters a store only to walk down an aisle and back out onto the street. He first came to our notice more than a year ago, he was there this week and will probably be walking nervously on the street the night this paper is read in Fremont.

In Hesperia a man, now turning gray, almost hopelessly crippled since birth, speaking, walking or using his hands only with difficulty, has lived and made his own way through life. Ironically choosing a trade that was passing out as he needed to place more dependence upon it, that of harness maker and cobbler, he has supported himself, not only in times of prosperity—but through all the years of depression, solely by his own efforts and without assistance from any governmental aid. He is an example of what a man may do if the desire is strong enough. While able bodied, educated men around him have shifted the responsibility of their welfare into the hands of taxpayers of the country, he has, and still is, earning his own maintenance. If anyone in our neighborhood is entitled to let others take the responsibility of his support, it would be he, but, in spite of depressions, of almost hopeless physical condition, he still carries on with a trade that died with the horse and buggy days, with a real American independence that is getting altogether too rare in this country. George deserves a lot of credit.—(LeRoy Mills, Route 2, Fremont, in the Muskegon Chronicle.)

On Our Own

* * *

By W. J. Cameron

If you are sensitive to the mental climate of your community, probably you have noted a definite stiffening of the general character. You could have no stronger evidence that the nation is convalescing. People are thinking less in circles and more to the point. New determination marks business and industry; like Admiral Farragut, they are set to make full steam ahead in spite of the torpedoes. These are mental changes that cannot be reduced to material statistics but they produce the only statistics that have any meaning. Our people are daily realizing anew that there is no one to look after them but themselves—and what is more, there never has been.

Now, that seems a hard, cold thing to say—there is no one to look after us but ourselves; we may be sure, however, that it is not as severe and unfeeling as it sounds, else young Americans would not so eagerly embrace it. At first it may chill them like the touch of cold iron. But as it takes root in their character they discover that though "hard" it is not harsh—it is a friendly force that toughens and strengthens the fibre of their spirit. It is not indifference to their welfare—it is not "cold"—it warms them by stirring their blood with the challenge of the common task. Rely on your own efforts; pull your own weight in the boat; develop your own resources; "Trust thyself; every heart vibrates to that iron string."

"But," says one, "this is individualism!" Yes—not the anti-social selfishness once labeled "individualism," but the true individualism that holds society together. Otherwise youth would not adopt it—youth is social-minded. We advance toward civilization in the degree that we build into the social process the ideals of our youth. Then we had glimpses of the Delectable Mountains, but afterwards we found the road thither is not finished; it has been built only to where we stand by men who wrought before us. If it is to be built farther, we must build it, happy if we can advance it the length of our lifetime nearer the summit. When Youth accepts a doctrine so seemingly individualistic it must be rooted deep in social instinct.

And it is, for curiously enough, this doctrine of self-help is the first ground of social helpfulness. How can we help society? Well, first, by not being a burden if we can avoid it, and by contributing to the public stock at least as much as we take. Unless we can help ourselves there is little hope of our helping others. If you would lift another, you must have a foothold of your own. Self-help is the first step toward social help. A society entirely or even largely comprised of dependents would have little on which to depend. Social interdependence would collapse in universal helplessness were it not for the individuals in the society who are able to attain a measure of independence for themselves. When you see a community or a nation successfully caring for the dependent you may know it can do this only because it has enough people who are independent. And in such a community you will find that the trend is toward greater independence for all. Resolving to look out for itself and rely on its own efforts, youth is insuring its future ability to look after those who may need it.

Moreover, it is insuring the coherence and continuance of society. The social unit is the independent individual; the more individual and independent he is the more able is he to co-operate, and the stronger the society he creates. Co-operation is possible only among independent individuals; amongst others there may be regimentation but no creative co-operation. Society is a vast, natural, complex, intentional and yet largely unconscious co-operation amongst those able to stand on their own, and, in the exigencies of life, lend a hand.

Someone said, "Oughtn't you soften this a little?—Shouldn't you speak more encouragingly to Young Americans?—tell them they have the greatest backlog of resources that any generation ever has had?" No—they have been told. They don't realize it through telling. They will never learn how strong a backing they have until they plunge in "on their own." But when they launch out, expecting no one to look after them but themselves, they will find the resources and opportunities of this country rising to meet them. Let them test it—the proof will come. The exhilaration of that moment with its inrush of life is the birth of personal power and social fitness.

There is no one to look after you but yourself—until you begin to look after yourself, then everything is on your side.

HUNTER IS SHOT NEAR FENNVILLE

Mack Wenzel, formerly of Fennville, now of Marne, Ottawa county, came to Fennville Sunday with two companions and had a narrow escape from serious injury. One of his companions shot at a rabbit, which was killed, and it was believed a part of the load hit a stone and deflected, hitting Wenzel.

His hightop leather boots were pierced and several shot hit him in the leg, chest and arm and one in his neck. He was rushed to the office of Dr. Walker at Saugatuck, who picked out 19 shot. The accident occurred about one mile north of Fennville.

After an absence of several months because of illness, Mrs. Helen Termeer returned to her work as stenographer in the office of Oscar Peterson, city clerk, last Monday. Mrs. William Van Howe took her place during her absence.

DAUGHTER OF GRAND HAVEN ATTORNEY WEDS

A lovely wedding was solemnized at the home of Attorney and Mrs. Charles E. Misner when their daughter, Marguerite Ann Misner, became the bride of Merritt A. Clevenger of Lansing, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Clevenger of Union City, Ind. The service was read by Dr. W. W. Whitehouse, dean of Albion college, before a setting of chrysanthemums and dahlias. Dean Misner, young brother of the bride, played the wedding music.

The bride wore a pencil blue velvet afternoon dress trimmed with white lace points at the neckline and pockets. She carried American Beauty roses and swainsona.

The bridesmaid, Ruth Fisher, wore a wine-color ribbed silk dress and carried white roses and lavender pompons. Ralph Clevenger of Union City attended his brother as best man.

A wedding supper was served after the ceremony, the bridal party seated at a long table covered with a beautiful damask cloth, a 50-year-old heirloom from England, and the guests seated at smaller tables.

The couple will live in Lansing following a trip to Chicago and Washington, D.C.

CAR TURNS OVER ON NEW EXTENSION AT GRAND HAVEN

Harry Swanson, Jr., of Grand Haven had a narrow escape from injury Monday about 1:30 p. m. when his car turned over at the junction of South Seventh street and Woodlawn avenue. Swanson was traveling south on Seventh and had just reached the brow of the rather steep grade when a car came from the opposite direction at a high rate of speed, it was reported.

In order to avert a collision young Swanson pulled over to the right and struck a shoulder so the car was out of balance and toppled over into the road, landing with the wheels in the air. The driver of the other car did not stop and his identity has not been established. Swanson was not injured but the car was damaged considerably.

New type rail guards are being installed on that section to prevent cars from going over the steep hill. It is reported that since the new roadway has been cut through many cars have been traveling it. The steep grade and the turn where Seventh and Woodlawn join combines to make a traffic hazard unless cars are driven slowly, the officers point out, and the public is warned to drive carefully.

SPECIAL LICENSE PLATES

Of the thousands of letters coming into the Department of State these days, many are requests for special license plate numbers. Hundreds ask for plates with their initials on them, others request special combinations such as WOO, DOC, etc., which they think will make their automobiles run faster, smoother and longer.

Some people want the smallest numbered license plate they are able to obtain and others desire the largest and longest numbers available. One individual requested a license plate numbered 1234567890.

Under the new system, a majority of the counties receive license plates bearing two letters designating their counties and numbered from one to five digits. Therefore, requests for special lettered and numbered license plates may be obtained through the Department of State local Branch Offices in the different counties.

A large number of Michigan motorists have had the same numbers on their license plates for several years. The Department of State tries to please the individual motorist to the greatest extent possible in the matter of issuing special plates.

There will be an exchange of pulpits between the pastor of Third Reformed Church, Rev. Wm. Van't Hof, and the Rev. Richard Vanden Berg of the Second Reformed church of Zeeland on next Sunday morning. The evening service will see Rev. Mr. Van't Hof back in his pulpit.

Burglars Make Raid of Local Homes

Several dozen rings, watches and brooches were stolen Friday night from the homes of Albert Faasen of 376 College Ave., J. N. Peterson of 130 East 21st St., and Gerrit Kleinhuizen of 447 College Ave.

The loot at the Faasen home included a diamond ring, a wedding ring and a cameo brooch.

A gold ring with a ruby, four watches, a silver ring with an opal, a silver pin with a tan stone, a Japanese coin purse, a platinum ring and a gold ring were taken from the Peterson home.

At the Kleinhuizen home the robber or robbers stole a cameo ring, a turquoise ring, a gold pin with a pearl, a cameo pin, a rhinestone bracelet, four gold chains and lockets, a gold necklace, two gold watch fobs and a gold link bracelet. The loss at this one home alone is estimated at $145.

Chief of Police Frank Van Ry warned Holland residents to leave a light burning when all members of the family are away from home during the evening to give the impression that someone is still at home. All of the robberies were committed between 7 and 9 p.m.

Fewer Infants Die In Ottawa County

"Ottawa county has a low maternal and infant death rate, far below that of the State and the United States." This statement was made by Dr. Clair Folsome, Obstetrical and Gynecological consultant of the Department of Maternal and Infant Hygiene of the State Department of Health, and member of the staff of Obstetrics and Gynecology of the University of Michigan Medical School. This remarkable record, he maintained, was most likely due to conservative obstetrics practiced by the physicians in the community. Such practices as use of "twilight sleep" and early operative interference in an effort to shorten the period of labor, are hazardous to mother and child and are not used to any great extent in this community.

The fact that Ottawa county has a stable population, with a small number of transient families who, for the most part, are undesirable to a community, was also considered important. Another factor of importance practiced in this community, was seeking medical advice in the early months of pregnancy.

There has been no appreciable drop in the maternal death rate in the country as a whole. Doctor Folsome is spending one week in Ottawa county making a study of the type of obstetrical practice in this community, to compare it with that of other parts of the state, with particular reference to the cause of material deaths. He was highly complimentary to the type of medical practice in this community.

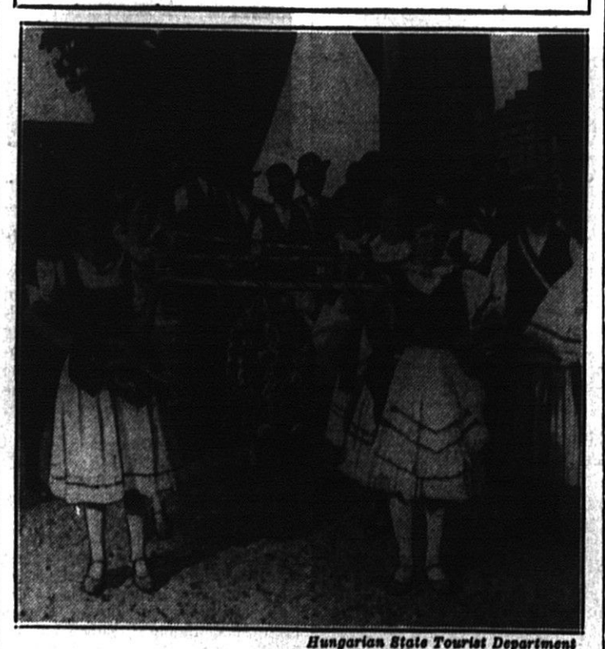
Hungary's Colorful Harvest Festival



Hungarian State Tourist Department

WHEN field work comes to an end in Hungary the entire countryside enjoys the revels of the harvest festival. Dressed in the blazing colors of their Sunday best the peasants enjoy a carefree holiday. It is a universal period of rest, festival and marriage. The picturesque harvest festival has been handed down unchanged for countless generations. The details of the celebration are exactly defined in Hungarian folklore. The grapes, wheat, corn and other fruits are carried through the fields in elaborate processions to the accompaniment of singing and dancing exactly as in the middle ages.

One of the great charms of the harvest festivals is the riot of colors of the peasant costumes. Every shade of the rainbow seems to have been borrowed for the occasion. The dresses are enriched with elaborate embroideries, the work of months of patient labor. The men are scarcely less brilliant. Their full dress includes embroidered aprons which give them the appearance of wearing skirts. When American tourists visit Hungary their first request is usually to be taken to see the famous Hungarian peasant costumes and pageants.

After the harvest procession comes the feasts in the open fields and the dances and general merrymaking. The technique of the wild dances and frolics is an ancient inheritance. Nowhere else in the world is the summer's end so joyously celebrated. The fame of these picturesque revels have appeal all over the world and attract countless visitors from many lands.

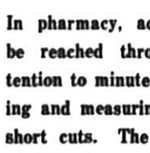
A Canadian freighter, "Meaford," arrived in Holland harbor Thursday night with a cargo of potash salts consigned to the Smith Agricultural Chemical Co. After it was unloaded it sailed for Chicago. Approximately 1,500 tons were being unloaded for the local company which uses the potash in the preparation of fertilizers. Some of the potash was first unloaded at Saginaw. The potash salts were shipped from Europe and transshipped at Montreal from the steamer Augsburg. The shipment is part of approximately 20,000 tons of potash shipped from Europe this summer in exchange for American farm products to be shipped to Europe. The Smith Agricultural Chemical Co. is located directly north of Holland on the P.M. line to Muskegon.

NO SHORT CUT TO ACCURACY



In pharmacy, accuracy can only be reached through skillful attention to minute details of weighing and measuring. There are no short cuts. The registered pharmacists who work in our prescription laboratory fill one prescription at a time selecting the required drugs from the shelf as needed. . . . no other drugs are permitted within reach. They painstakingly weigh and measure the drugs in strict accordance with the physician's instructions . . . verifying, checking and rechecking each step. These modern methods assure you of full protection and safety.

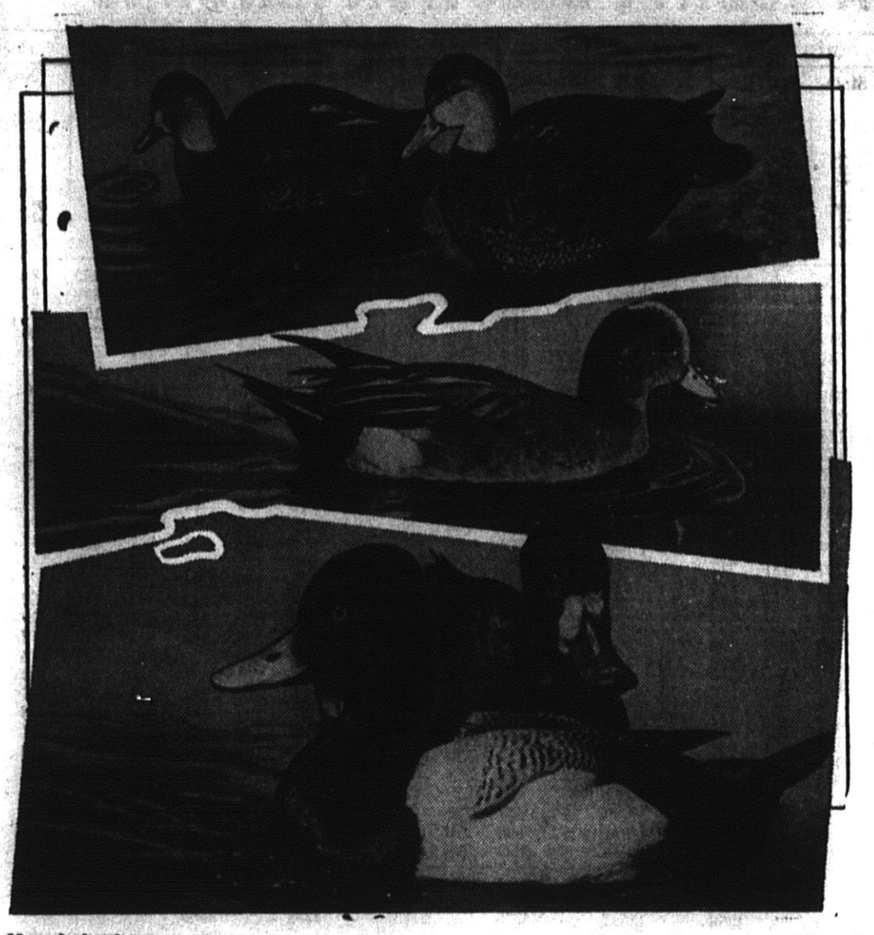
Waterfowl Back on Production



More ducks than sportsmen have seen since 1929 are now southbound. Top, a pair of blacks, or black mallard, the wariest of all. This is one of the most popular species east of the Mississippi. Middle, a baldpate, or American widgeon, coming back in large numbers along the Pacific Flyway. Bottom, broadbill or big bluebill, a favorite of open water. Plentiful again as the duck depression ends.

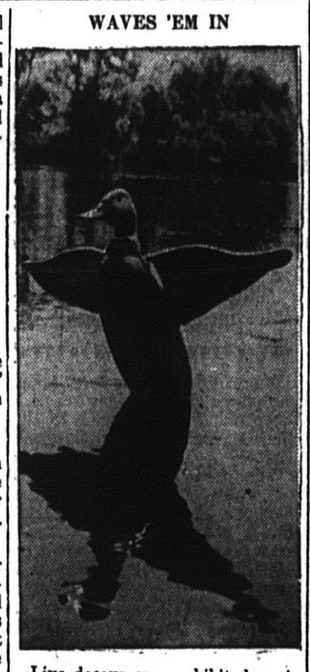
WAVES 'EM IN



Live decoys are prohibited again this season by federal regulation. Duck shooters find that mallard, back duck, and other marsh species are attracted by movement. Ordinary wooden decoys are too stolid.

Wallace Harvey, of Constantine, Mich., has this animated decoy that fools crafty flocks by standing up on its tail—when a cord is pulled from the blind—and flapping his wings, in true duck fashion.

Miss Margaret Laarman, who is to be a bride this month, was guest of honor last week Tuesday at a party at the home of Mrs. Arie De Visser. Hostesses were Mrs. Louis Vanden Brink, Mrs. Manus Laarman, Miss Dorothy De Visser and Mrs. De Visser.

Wildlife Waste On Roads Stirs States To Act

MOTORISTS URGED TO HELP CUT DOWN HEAVY LOSSES OF BIRDS AND FUR ANIMALS

Organized action is being taken to cut down the waste of wildlife on highways. Surveys prove that in a number of states more fur-bearers and certain species of game are destroyed by traffic than are taken by hunters and trappers. The loss of songbirds is equally serious. Reports gathered by the National Wildlife Federation show what is being done to check this destruction.

Posters Appeal

In Pennsylvania, large oil and gas companies are cooperating with the Game Commission in displaying colored posters impressing motorists with the importance of sparing wildlife along the road.

That much of the destruction is not wholly accidental is the conviction of game wardens, sportsmen, Biological Survey field men and others, interested in wildlife, who insist that in many thousands of miles of day and night travel they almost never find the killing of a wild creature unavoidable.

"It is undoubtedly true, that a great many drivers get a thrill out of running down game," says C. R. Gutermuth, Director of Education of the Indiana Department of Conservation. "A cottontail, bounding along in the glare of the headlights, is a challenge to a certain type of unthinking motorist. Educational propaganda is the only way this can be checked."

Daybreak Surveys

To determine the extent of wildlife losses under speeding wheels, daybreak surveys are made before crows, vultures, stray dogs and cats remains of highway victims. Animals killed range from deer—which not infrequently cause serious wrecks—to marblers and woodpeckers.

Rabbits, skunks, muskrats, squirrels, raccoons are common among the mammals frequently killed. The rare Florida otter occasionally meets its death crossing highways. Quail and pheasant are destroyed by the thousands.

Wildlife technicians report that the presence of dead game animals on highways has a decided tendency to cultivate a taste for these species in various predators, as well as in domestic cats and dogs.

The News might add that in Michigan wildlife also suffers heavily through motor traffic. In this vicinity well in the past week several phesants were killed and at least one Holland man can relate running over a deer while on a business trip north. Not so long ago the Michigan Conservation department reports heavy toll to game crossing the main traveled highways, and asks motorists to be as careful as possible and to cooperate.

Next week Thursday and Friday evenings the Holland Senior High A Cappella choir will present a two-act musical comedy, "Tune In," under the direction of Miss Trixie Moore, Miss Mabel Apel, E. F. Heeter and Mrs. Edward Donivan, in the high school auditorium. The cast will include Marjorie Brouwer, Claribel Dunnewin, Mildred Herman, Phyllis Pelgrim, Virginia Dykhuis, Betty Morrell, Kathryn Hartman, Mary Jane Raffenaud, Shirley Shaw, Dale Fris, Lawrence Moody, Harvey Koop, Homer Barber, Jack Yeomans, Junior Pruis, Emerson Strong and Gordon Plaggemars.

Officers of the newly-formed German club, consisting of second-year German students at Christian High school, include James Wildschut, president; Jay Tinholt, vice-president; Mildred Schrotenboer, secretary; Gerrit Klomp, assistant secretary, and Robert Tacomba, treasurer. Marvin Baas is sponsor of the club.

Miss Barbara Ann Gordon was honored last week Tuesday night at a masquerade party given by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Gordon, on Washington ave. The party celebrated Miss Gordon's 14th birthday anniversary.

Her sixth birthday anniversary was the occasion for a party honoring Gloria Esther Bear last week Monday at her home at 220 West 11th st. Mrs. Bear served refreshments and the group played games.

Mrs. Nellie Groters of 306 East 13th st. was pleasantly surprised recently by a group of friends. Refreshments, served by Mrs. B. Groters and Mrs. Hattie Wagner, and the singing of Dutch psalms were features of the evening's entertainment.

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Hoffmeyer and daughter, Mary Jeanne Hoffmeyer, have moved from the home of Mrs. Hoffmeyer's parents, Dr. and Wrs. W. J. Van Kersen, to 1809 Berkley Ave., S.W., Grand Rapids.

ZEELAND

Miss Isabel Goodman of Scottsville, who is to become the bride of Cornelius Ver Plank in the near future, was honored Friday night by a miscellaneous shower at which Mrs. Martin Ver Plank, the groom's mother, officiated as hostess.

Mrs. Jacob Van Den Bosch and her daughters were hostesses recently at a shower honoring Miss Tena Morren of Byron Center at the Van Den Bosch home, three miles north of Zeeland. Games, prizes and a two-course luncheon were included in the evening's fun. Miss Morren is to become a bride this month.

Mr. and Mrs. John Walters were hosts at their home on Wall St. last week Wednesday evening to a surprise party in honor of Mrs. Hattie Vollink of Holland. The occasion was Mrs. Vollink's birthday anniversary. Prizes were awarded to the winners of games during the evening. The guest of honor received several gifts and a birthday telegram from Mr. and Mrs. H. Van Dulst and Mr. and Mrs. T. De Ruiter of Los Angeles, Calif.

The extension work of the agricultural department of Zeeland high school is proving one of the most popular features of school work in this community this year. Pupils are attending the part-time course from 10 school districts, and range in age from 15 to 24 years. Their instructor is Otto W. Pino. Sixty-two young men are taking a course that permits them to keep up their work on the farm. Of the 62 enrolled 46 intend to keep on farming. Thirty-eight plan to study this winter and carry on work in co-operation with their parents in order that they may become better farmers. Pino is teaching his class soil testing, crop rotation, farm bookkeeping, and other things that will be very useful for these "farmers of tomorrow." This method of part-time instruction in farm practices is new in Michigan high schools. The Zeeland school board provided the course partly because so many of its pupils live on farms. Plans are being made to start two classes for adults. The latter would be held once each week, beginning in November.

Mrs. Garrit B. Dalman, 67, of Grand Haven, died Monday at her home after a prolonged illness. She is survived by her husband, four sons, Henry of Grand Rapids, Peter of North Holland, William of Zeeland and Clifford of Grand Haven; two daughters, Mrs. Joe Sjoerdsma of Ripon, Calif., and Mrs. Peter Vogel of Grand Rapids; 19 grandchildren and one great grandchild; three brothers, Edward, David Vereeke and Cornelius Vereeke, all of Zeeland, and four sisters, Mrs. Lois Barnes, Mrs. Johanna Jagers, Mrs. Coba Van Gelderen, all of Zeeland and Mrs. Nancy Houseman of Holland.

Mrs. J. Altena, Mrs. Ray Van Voorst and Mrs. G. Kuite were hostesses Friday evening at a miscellaneous shower in honor of Miss Gertrude Van Langevelde at Mrs. Altena's home at 117 West 18th st., Holland. Miss Van Langevelde will become the bride this month of Henry Postma of Zeeland. Mrs. H. Dokter and Mrs. Joe Romeyn were awarded prizes as a result of games played during the evening. A three-course luncheon was served.

Miss Laura Brower of Zeeland was honored Friday night at a surprise miscellaneous shower given by Mrs. James Schurman, Mrs. C. Pepple and Mrs. George Schurman at the latter's home in Holland. The evening was spent in playing hearts. A two-course luncheon was served.

The property that they recommend to purchase lies between 2nd and 4th streets (if produced west) and west of a line a short distance east of Pine avenue (if produced).

Adopted, all voting Aye.

Clerk presented a communication from the Board of Public Works recommending that the Council accept the offer of the U. S. Government to aid in financing the construction of a new light plant. The offer is to pay 45% of the cost, but not to exceed $675,621.00.

Adopted, all present voting Aye.

Clerk presented a communication from the Board of Public Works recommending the passing of a resolution fixing minimum wage rates to be paid by various trades in connection with work done in the construction of the new light plant.

Adopted, all voting Aye.

In commenting on the purchase of this land for the new power plant for the Board of Public Works, Ald. Brouwer stated that he felt an explanation should be made in regard to this proposition so that the public would understand that the price paid was for the good solid land for a building site. It was stated that before this fill was begun there was an average depth of three feet of water and now it was filled to a height of five feet above water level.

Mr. Brouwer further stated that the Board had been very careful about making all the necessary soundings to determine the suitability of this particular site.

Ald. Brouwer also commented on the resolution that was adopted establishing minimum wage rates for the work done on the project. It was the alderman's contention that the city should be mindful of the fact that in some cases where buildings were constructed in the city of Holland, the contractor happened to be an outside man, who would not employ anything but union labor and he felt that our local people should not be deprived of working on the plant because they do not belong to the A. F. of L. Mr. Brouwer further called attention to the fact that we have locally the Christian Labor Association with whom the local manufacturers have been dealing and felt that these people should not be discriminated against in case some outside contractor was given the job for building the new light plant.

Council adjourned.

OSCAR PETERSON,
City Clerk.

est fuel oil. Then the products are piped out through a "marine pipe line" to ships two and a half miles out to sea. Here a new harbor has been laid and a new channel 33 miles long marked out so that the largest oil tankers can reach the floating dock.

So many foreigners, taken from all walks of life at home, naturally bring with them both good and bad qualities. Some of the bad things the Arabs have not been slow to copy, and good pay and easy booze has greatly increased the drunkeness. But there are also forces for righteousness, and I was glad to preach on three successive Sundays to a gathering of devoted men and women.

Our mission staff on the island has decreased rather than gained in recent years and is now pitifully small. It ought to be at least twice as large if it should take care adequately of all the opportunities offered in all the branches of missionary effort.

That part of my visit to which I had looked forward with eager anticipation was to look up all the old school boys that attended our mission school many years ago. They are no longer boys, but are grown up and are now the leading men and merchants of the town, from the mayor down to the watchmaker. It was interesting to call on them in their places of business and the "Mayor" proudly led me past the desks of his clerks and underlings to his "private office," the neatest office I have seen in this part of the world. And then we had an "alumni" picnic in the garden of one of the "boys." There were more than forty present, and we had an alumni dinner, roast sheep and chicken on large heaps of rice, and it was all nicely scooped up and tucked away with our right hands —fingers were made before forks, they hold.

In this garden was a sample of the artesian wells that will soon transform the appearance of the island. One of the "boys" has a well drilling machine and for about $400.00 supplies his customers with an artesian well. This development impressed me even more than the oil fields. The oil does very little for the poor of the island, but these continuously flowing wells of clean water provide not only water for the gardens but provide all the inhabitants with safe drinking water.

Sincerely yours,
D. Dykstra.

SMITH AGRICULTURAL CHEMICAL CO. UNLOADS LARGE CARGO OF POTASH

British Ship Discharges Cargo in Holland; Farm Products to be Carried Back

The steamer Meaford, flying the British Union Jack, arrived at Holland last week Thursday, and discharged a cargo of 1,500 tons of potash salts which was shipped from Europe and trans-shipped at Montreal from the steamer Augsburg.

The shipment is of interest to marine and grain men because the potash goes into the preparation of fertilizers produced in the Holland plant of the Smith Agricultural Chemical Company. According to Dick Miles, vice president of the Smith Agricultural Chemical company, the fertilizers manufactured in Holland are distributed throughout Michigan. Farmers are becoming more and more conscious of the fact that fertilizers are essential to the growing of better crops. In Michigan, fertilizers are chiefly used for improving the quality of truck crops such as celery, onions, sugar beets, potatoes, etc., as well as corn and wheat.

The Holland plant is one of the five large units of the Smith Agricultural Chemical Company, manufacturers of high grade fertilizers and mineral feeds. The other plants are located at Saginaw, Michigan, Columbus and Carey, Ohio, and at Indianapolis, Ind,

According to a representative of the Dutch firm, N. V. Potash Export My. of Amsterdam, Holland, who was present during the discharge, this shipment is part of about 20,000 tons of potash shipped from Europe this summer, so to speak in exchange for American farm products shipped to Europe.

Among those who attended the synodical conference Tuesday and Wednesday at Waupun, Wis., is the Rev. C. A. Stoppels.

KROGERS HOLDING ALL WEEK COOKING SCHOOL—MISS VIRGINIA ENGLAND, EXPERT, CONDUCTING

Many housekeepers are taking advantage of the cooking school at Krogers. Demonstrations to continue through Saturday, November 12th.

The free cooking school and demonstration being conducted at Kroger's Store, 12 West Eighth St. is attracting much attention from housekeepers, all of whom are sensing an unusual opportunity to acquire expert, practical information on cookery and the ways to cut fuel costs and at the same time retain the food value and the flavor of the various viands prepared for the benefit of the ladies of Holland and surrounding communities.

Mr. "Jim" Verhey, manager of the Kroger Market, is extending a cordial invitation to the housekeepers to visit the store and take advantage of the opportunity offered them in learning to cook the waterless way.

Miss Virginia England, food expert, is conducting these interesting and instructive demonstrations and one of the pleasing features of the school is its informality, for the daily demonstrations are given, not in accordance to any set form, but in a manner more like a neighborhood gathering.

The equipment used is explained by Miss England and its particular value demonstrated, as are the latest ways of preparing delicacies for the home table. For Friday, Miss England will cook a ham, potatoes, beets, carrots, an upside-down cake and biscuits for the benefits of the ladies present.

Besides saving the full natural flavors, juices, minerals and water soluble vitamins, the waterless cookware saves in fuel as cooking is done with low heat. As an economical feature of the aluminum ware, there is a minimum in shrinkage, juices are retained and last but not lease the housekeeper has a cooler and an odorless kitchen in which to perform her duties. The utensils cook with uniformly stored heat and keep food hot for serving.

Meals cooked in waterless cookware result in maximum food satisfaction at minimum cost.

Looking for Pheasants But Found Fish

Things may have appeared to be somewhat mixed up, with anglers fishing during the pheasant season in Michigan and getting tangled up in a net intended for erring hunters, but everything worked out all right except for two recent Ohio visitors.

Oliver Ferrell, 71, and Gordon Ferrell, 23, both of Paulding, O., were on their way back from a little fishing trip when affairs started becoming inverted. They came on a road blockade in Leonidas township where a sign read. "Checking Station." It was one of numerous checking stations set up throughout southern Michigan during the pheasant season. Theoretically, such stations were not set up to catch fishermen, but enforcement of the fishing laws are part of a conservation officer's duties even during a hunting season and when Officers Greer and Soraruf discovered the Ferrells had been fishing instead of hunting they automatically asked to see the catch and licenses.

The Ferrells had the catch all right—37 bluegills of which 12 were undersize — but not the licenses. Each paid $16.85 in courts, one on the charge of possessing undersized fish and the other for fishing without a license.

WIFE OF HOLLAND POLICE COMMISSIONER PASSES AWAY

Private funeral services are being held today, Thursday, for Mrs. Cornelius Steketee, aged 52, at the home, 146 W. 18th Street, with Dr. John R. Mulder of the Western Theological Seminary officiating. The rites at Trinity Church are in charge of the pastor, Rev. Henry D. Terkeurst, assisted by Rev. Clarence Dame of Grand Rapids, a former pastor of Trinity.

Mrs. Steketee passed away Monday afternoon at Holland hospital after being subjected to a thyroid operation. She is a much beloved woman, and has many friends in this city. She was a devout member of Trinity church, active in the Ladies' Bible Class, as well as in the Ladies' Aid Society.

Mrs. Steketee was born in The Netherlands, but came here with her parents when she was but seven years of age. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Van Huis.

Interment will take place in the family plot in Pilgrim Home cemetery. The pallbearers are five nephews and one grandson. They are: Cornie Steketee, Donald Van Huis, Martin, John Harold, Melvin, and Vernon Vande Water.

Friends were privileged to pay their respects at the home, where Mrs. Steketee lay in state, and floral tributes were many and beautiful, indicative of the esteem in which she was held. The funeral arrangements were in charge of Dykstra's Funeral Home.

She is survived by the husband, Cornelius Steketee, former sheriff and now a member of the board of police and fire commissioners; Mrs. John Woldring and Mrs. Jack Marcus of Holland, and Miss Grace Steketee, nurse at Holland hospital; five sons, Cornelius, Jr., Louis, Leonard and Simon, of Holland, and Fred A. of Grand Haven: 13 grandchildren; a sister, Mrs. Bert Vande Water, and a brother, John L. Van Huis, both of Holland.

Fire, doing damage to the extent of nearly $1,000, visited the home of Marinus Westrate, 88 E. 16th Street. The fire started in the basement and worked up between the partitions into the attic. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Van Dorp, who live on the second floor, noticed the fire and reported it through the Telephone Co. to the police department. They rushed the police car to the house and turned in the alarm. The firemen were on the job two hours after midnight before the flames were subdued. The interior of the house was badly damaged, largely confined to the upper story.

There will be a rummage sale of the VFW Auxiliary in the Red Cross rooms in the city hall Saturday, Nov. 19 at 9 o'clock.

Thank You!

I wish to express my thanks to the voters of Ottawa County for the endorsement given me to represent them in the State Legislature for a second term.

HE TELLS OF CEREMONIES "CROSSING THE ARCTIC CIRCLE" ON SHIP. BOARD

By Dr. A. J. Brower

Hammerfest, Norway

We left Iceland on July 12 and that evening, during our dinner, King Neptune, Lord of all Crustacea, that watery territory which lies between the Arctic and the Antarctic Circle, boarded our ship to wish us well as we leave his realm. He was received and members of his Court paraded around the ship, shortly to disappear as mysteriously as they came.

Certificates left behind were found in cabins when passengers returned to their rooms. Those certificates were a

"Proclamation"

"Crossing Ye Arctic Circle"

"Go all ye Sea Deities, great and small, ye Whales and ye Sea Animals, Crustaceans, Holothurians, Mariners and Fisher Captains, Mermaids and Mermen.

Greeting!

Land lubber and Minion of the Princes of Terra Firma, hath this Day presented Himself before Us in Court, assembled on board ye good ship Franconia in latitude 66° 32' and longitude 3° 35' and, whereas it hath pleased us to give him Audience and Welcome to our Domain, and whereas, this Mortal appeareth favorable in Our Sight, now, be it known and remembered that it doth please us to grant this Mortal admission into ye Most Noble Fellowship of ye High Seas.

Henceforth to go Honored and Assisted by all our subjects forever more.

Done under my Fin and Seal this 12th day of July, 1938.

Neptunus Rex.

Cruise Director.

So the ship passed that imaginary line which bounds the southern part of the Arctic zone. We all suddenly realized that we had entered the Frigid or Arctic Ocean. To many of us it was our first experience, as we were welcomed shortly to the Land of the Midnight Sun. Our memories of it will always be as bright as its nights. On July 14 we finally reached Hammerfest, Norway, the world's most northernly city, to explore and to shop. It is a maritime town — a treeless and barren spot. There are about 3,000 inhabitants here. It is a fishing center and carries on a very lively trade. The waters very seldom freeze over, partly due to its heavy salt content. Most all of our cod liver oil comes from here. The polar seas are filled with cod fish, besides many other kinds. We saw acres and acres of land and rocks covered with spread-out-like wings, all salted fish that are laid out to dry. Then again salted and dried fish piled into stacks 6x8x12 or more feet in dimensions. Again fish hanging on racks as far as one can see. Nowhere else can so many fish be seen at one time—much like hay stacks. Then to see all the fishing boats and tackle and nets is amazing. I thought I had seen big, yes, very large nets at the Sea of Galilee in Palestine, where they catch many, many fish, but the fish are similar to our Lake Michigan perch, while here practically all are over two feet long. The nets are like ropes, almost one-half inch thick, the bobbers of cork about 6 to 12 inches thick and long. The nets of Tiberus lake are playthings alongside of these Hammerfest nets. It seems to be the duty of the women to take the livers out of the codfish and to salt and dry the rest of the fish, so they have a real job and the men do the catching.

Many kinds of furs are plentiful here and those of the fox and polar bear predominate. The natives dress very heavily and warm and prettier fur coats I have never seen than they are wearing here, especially the women.

The Meridian Column, Europe's most northernly point from where all surveys are calculated, is located here. It is a granite shaft about 12 feet high and crowned with a globe, marking the northern limit of a great geodetic survey made by a group of Norwegian, Swedish and Russian geometers between the years 1816 and 1852. It is a very interesting place to visit and besides is located on a beautiful cliff drive. Religion is Lutheran and some Catholic. They have a very good harbor and I saw ships from many parts of the world anchored or docked here but mostly they were from the continent of Europe.

There is a balanced budget here and everybody works. The people as a class are very industrious and happy to all appearances. Homes are well kept and it is not such a bad place to live, especially in the summer time and while the sun shines. They also have the midnight sun from May 13 to July 23, when the sun shines the whole 24 hours of the day.

Bleaching Fish In Norway

Armistice Day—1918

Ralph Schepers, R. R. 6.

JOY! JOY! JOY!

Soon would be coming that homecoming boy!

On the morning of Nov. 11th, 1918, I set out from my country home to sell white beans from house to house in Holland as I had been doing for several days before.

The farmers had been called to the Filmore Townhouse and told how many Liberty Bonds they must buy; my share had been set at $100, and as I had bought a $50 Bond a short while before, cash was scarce.

Fortunately I had raised 47 bushels of the finest beans (no hand-picking necessary); but the stores had bought their supply, so the only way to turn mine into cash was peddling them, which I did.

On that morning I met a farmer coming from town in a top-buggy with a spirited horse, dragging behind on a rope was an old wash-boiler, making an awful racket as it bounced along and making his horse almost unmanageable, which was typical of the noise and abandon of that long-to-be-remembered day.

When I reached town and started canvassing, there was not a family at home, with no business. I went down town where a tremendous racket was going on. An endless procession was coming around the corner of 8th St. and River Ave. with every kind of noise making implement in use. Some young men in immaculate white pants (only they had not been careful where they sat down) tried to help the traffic officer direct the procession, but differed from the officers. Mr. Stephan walked down from N. River Ave. and watched with satisfaction a Holland Furniture van shovel out scraps of paper. A load of Hope College S.A.T.C. boys (my nephew among them) came along on a dray. They were the only World War soldiers in the parade.

The Kaiser toured the streets of Holland that day on a Holland Interurban freight car; he was not a very pleasant sight to behold. We could not help but see John Vandersluis in the parade, hating the noise, but happy because everybody's heart was singing—and he loves to be in a musical crowd.

And there was the episode of the Mayor of Holland catching a Tartar, when he knocked off the hat of a bystander, who did not doff it as the flag went by or the National Anthem was played.

Well, the events of that day are already growing dim, seen through dust, smoke, scraps of paper, and the haze of years. The Legionnaires and V.F.W. boys are 20 years on their way to the fate that is now threatening the G.A.R.

I was glad to get home on that day to a dinner of potatoes, beans (no meat), mush and molasses (no sugar) and bread that was almost impossible to slice or chew.

We older folks were in, too
To sacrifice and do our stunt;
To work and worry—carry through
The tasks of those called to the Front;
To sow, and sew and so
To help to beat the foe.

ZEELAND CAGERS TO START PRACTICE EARLY NEXT WEEK

Zeeland high school basketball squad will be called for practice next Monday. Coach Kleis will have to build his team around four veterans, Schortenboer, Van Kley, Van Eden and Richard Barr. The second team of last year has much promising material and the present indications are for a very favorable season this year.

The schedule is as follows:

Dec. 2, Caledonia, here; Dec. 9, at Holland; Dec. 16, open; Dec. 21, Allegan, here; Jan. 6, at Coopersville; Jan. 13, at Hudsonville; Jan. 20, Otsego, here; Jan. 21, at East Grand Rapids; Jan. 27, at Grandville; Feb. 3, Coopersville, here; Feb. 7, at Otsego; Feb. 10, Wyoming Park, here; Feb. 17, at Allegan; Feb. 21, at Wyoming Park; Feb. 24, Hudsonville, here.

A social and pot-luck supper was enjoyed Friday evening in Laketown hall as members of the Laketown Gun club and their wives, neighbors and friends gathered for a meal and entertainment. Old-time music was played by Ben Alferink, "Frenchy" Boudreau, Preston Bos, Grad Geurink and Clarence Elders. "The Ten Commandments of Neighborliness" was presented by Mrs. Edwin Fuder. "Applying for a Drivers' License" was the title of a comedy in which actors were Clarence Elders, Mrs. John C. Knoll and Mrs. Lester Knoll. Mr. and Mrs. James Boyce sang a duet. Mrs. Boyce, Mrs. H. Alderink, Mrs. T Alderink, Mrs. G. Knoll, Mrs. Fuder and Mrs. Bauhahn were members of a kitchen band which played several numbers on kitchen implements. Miss Irene Bauhahn read "Clarence Mulder's Hallowe'en Party." Mrs. Harold Alderink was in charge of plans for the social.

City Clerk Oscar Peterson received an application from Ben Speet of 131 West 27th St. to build a garage to cost $310, last Friday.

Mrs. James Wayer spoke before a mothers' and daughters' meeting in Ninth Reformed church, Grand Rapids, last Friday evening.

ZEELAND

After spending a week visiting her father, Peter Elenbaas, and other relatives here, Mrs. Bert Hartgerink of Manistee has returned to her home, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Baron and son, Phil.

Among those at the Inspirational Conference of the Particular Synod of Chicago at Waupun, Wis., Tuesday and Wednesday were the Rev. R. J. Vander Berg and John Haan.

Funeral services for Mrs. Gerrit B. Dalman, 67, will be held Friday at 12:30 p. m. from the home and at 2 p. m. at the Langeland Funeral home, Zeeland. The Rev. John G. Van Dyke, pastor of First Christian Reformed church, Grand Haven, and the Rev. Peter Ypma, pastor of Wyoming tabernacle, Wyoming park, will officiate at the two services.

Howard Fant to Have Own Law Office

Howard Fant, Grand Haven city attorney, who has been associated with Leo C. Lillie in his law office since he graduated from the University of Michigan law school several years ago, has severed his connection with the Lillie office and will establish a law office of his own.

Mr. Fant opened his new office on Monday in quarters over the Oakes office at 222½ Washington street, which has been converted into a comfortable suite and attractively decorated and furnished. Mr. Fant is the youngest attorney in Grand Haven, a native son, who has made strides in his profession since he located there. He recently made a splendid run in the primary election for prosecuting attorney. He is one of the leaders in the Young Republican club of that city. He is the son of William Fant, owner of the Holland Monument Works.

Horse in High School; Two Fires, Not So Funny

Hallowe'en brought with it the usual amount of window soaping, doorbell ringing and gala celebration — but in Allegan three events gained greatest recognition, says the Allegan News.

The horse in the high school building brought many a laugh and a job for the janitors. Despite many rumors that it was taken all the way to the top floor, janitors reported to E. B. Killian, superintendent, that the animal was found roaming in the vicinity of the manual training room on the first floor.

Not very funny were two fires in the adjacent countryside. One of these involved a vacant house near the State Highway garage east of Allegan, known as the Mitchell house, which was destroyed by fire. The second fire involved a haystack owned by Frank Watson near Hudson corners. Sheriff's officers were investigating the two apparent arsons.

ZEELAND PLACES PAVING BONDS WITH BANK THERE

The Zeeland city council Monday evening approved placing the $14,000 special paving assessment bonds with the Zeeland State bank.

Peter Brill, local contractor, was named subcontractor for the laying of the Diesel engine foundation at the local power plant, which will have a generator. The project is sponsored by PWA.

The council approved general claims against the city of $3,959.48; light, $1,464.09 and water, $974.17. The Pittsburgh laboratories of Pittsburgh, Pa., were awarded a contract as the official test laboratories for the concrete base on the Diesel project.

Edwin Aalberts' 5A and 6B classes visited the Netherlands museum Monday afternoon and saw the Africa and Dutch colonial possessions program.

TAME BUCK DEER ATTACKS CHILDREN IS SHOT

A tame buck deer which was raised at Pigeon, Mich., as a pet with several other deer has paid the penalty for growing belligerent this fall and attacking several persons, including school children.

The buck, a yearling, was one of those released a short time ago after being reared under the supervision of the Izaak Walton League. The buck was docile enough until this fall when it became aggressive, frightening children and in one attack ripping a man's arm open.

In response to a report from the Izaak Walton League, the conservation department ordered the deer shot, and game investigators again issued the warning that tame bucks are much more likely to attack humans than are deer in the wild, because in being reared by man they have lost their fear of him.

Deer can travel 45 miles an hour for short distances.

Hold Prayer While Scarlet Fever Locks Them Up

Almost the entire Emersonian fraternity, one of the men's societies at Hope college, is in isolation this week in the fraternity house at 12th St. and Columbia Ave., as a result of the discovery of a case of scarlet fever at the society's residence. Saturday will be the earliest time that the 38 students can possibly be freed, according to Dr. William M. Tappan, city health officer.

Dr. Tappan ordered the quarantine last Saturday when he found that John De Vries, 18, Fenton, Ill., sophomore, had scarlet fever. De Vries has been removed to Zeeland.

Dr. Tappan visits the fraternity house at intervals and calls the roll, just to be sure that some of the students have not left the premises. Passers-by have been amused all week at the signs hanging from the society's residence: "Open House—Welcome, Girls"; "In Isolation"; and "Grand Opening Saturday."

When the city health officer's order was made known to the college men Saturday, many of them had to use the telephone to cancel "dates" for Saturday night and to arrange with their part-time employers to be excused from work this week.

Seven of the isolated students are staying at a private home, but the other 31 are enjoying their week's vacation at the fraternity house. According to the students, they hold regular daily prayer meetings at 11 a. m., to conform with the schedule at Hope college, where Prayer Week is being observed.

BROTHER OF PROF. ARNOLD MULDER PASSES AWAY IN GRAND RAPIDS

Rev. Henry Mulder died suddenly and unexpectedly at his home, 635 Union Avenue, Grand Rapids, at the age of 58 years. He was president of the Christian Reformed Church Board of Mission, and a former pastor of Burton Heights Christian Reformed church.

Dr. Harmon C. Wolfe, coroner of Kent County, was hastily called when Rev. Mulder became stricken, and it was found that he could not be revived. Even the emergency crew of the city with a pulmotor was hastened to the home, but all resuscitation was unavailing.

He came to Grand Rapids from Lafayette, Indiana, 17 years ago, and retired from the ministry to take up mission work 5 years ago. He was instrumental in organizing new Christian Reformed churches wherever there was need for one, and in doing this work he traveled extensively. Henry Mulder was born two miles south of Zeeland to Mr. and Mrs. Bouke Mulder. The father lived to the ripe old age of 89.

Dr. Arnold Mulder from the faculty of Kalamazoo college, former editor of the Holland Evening Sentinel, is a brother.

Surviving are the widow, Mrs. Swaney Mulder; a daughter, Jeanne of Grand Rapids; three sons, Boyd of Chicago, Gerard W. of Ann Arbor and Stanley of Grand Rapids, and five brothers and four sisters. The brothers are Benjamin and Lester of Zeeland, Rev. James Mulder of New Brunswick, N. J., Lawrence of North Blendon, Mich., and Arnold of Kalamazoo. The sisters are Mrs. Dena Romeyn of Hollywood, Calif., Mrs. John Boyink of Grand Haven, Mrs. Louis Boonstra of Zeeland and Mrs. John Pinpel of Coopersvile. There are also several cousins living in Holland.

Funeral services are being held at the Sherman Street Christian Reformed church this Thursday afternoon at 2 p. m. Private services were held at the residence at 1:15 p. m.

Mrs. W. A. Worthington of the Kentucky mission at Annville has been spending two weeks at the home of her sister, Mrs. S. C. Nettinga, West Eleventh St. Mrs. Worthington was a guest at the dinner of the Women's Mission Auxiliary.

Mr. and Mrs. Morrow Smith of Northampton, Mass., were injured Monday afternoon in an auto accident on M-40 near Fillmore while they were coming to visit Mr. and Mrs. Sears McLean at Castle Park. Mr. Smith was released from Holland hospital after examination Monday night. Mrs. Smith is still confined to the hospital with more serious injuries including lacerations on the head, a cut on the left leg and general bruises. Deputy Sheriff Henry Timmerman of Fillmore investigated and reported that the Smith car cut in too quickly when passing a Federal Baking Co. truck driven by Adrien Veele, who lives east of Holland. Both the truck and the automobile turned over. Mr. Smith had given a speech before members of the Battle Creek Rotary Club.

Education of Youth is Job of Community

MANY THINGS INFLUENCE YOUNG PEOPLE; BRING A CRAVING FOR LUXURIES

John S. Haitema of the research division of the department of public instruction in speaking to Exchange Club members at their regular luncheon meeting Monday noon at the Warm Friend Tavern said, "One of the fundamental urges of man is to feel that there is a place for him in the world, and that he can contribute to the good of the world. The youth today feels that he has no place, that 'no one loves him,' and his spirit is broken."

He went on to say that in the olden days life was simple; people lived within their means, and a youth could look forward to a natural life. "Today we are influenced by the movies and by the radio to live a complex life, and to have great desires for luxuries. I don't say that these things are wrong, but we should learn to live within our means. Our youths want jobs, and there are no jobs. They want security, and there is no security. They want to get married, as a natural course, and have neither jobs nor security." He mentioned that it is often at this point that the youth launches himself upon a life of crime to get enough money to get married on.

Mr. Haitema continued, "We want to live a natural life, but we should base it on fundamental truths. We should get over the idea that all truth is relative. We should have certain ideas and principles that stand regardless of what happens to us or around us. When I was young if a couple didn't live together, it was a subject for neighborhood gossip, but today divorces are an everyday occurrance. Some men take a new model wife every year. The youths see these things, and they question whether morality is a good thing. Youths question the proverb, 'Honesty is the best policy.' When asked, 'How do public officials get their jobs?' the youth is likely to answer, 'They get their positions by pull and bribery.'

"Whose problem is this? Has the school failed? No. The pool room, the beer garden and the church, along with many other institutions, are educational influences in the life of a youth as well as the school. The education of the youth is a community job." In conclusion he said, "Let's cooperate by building for our youth a world that's worth living in. A society that is founded on the old-fashioned fundamental truths."

Prof. Seymour Swets of Calvin college provided the music for the program. He sang "The Trumpeter" and "The Two Grenadiers." As an encore he sang "The Builder." He was accompanied on the piano by William A. Struck, a Calvin student. Dr. Rolland Shackson, professor of speech at Hope college, was a guest at the meeting.

Judge Fred T. Miles placed Claude Van Dyken, 17, of Holland on three years' probation Saturday when he was convicted in circuit court in Grand Haven of illegally taking an automobile owned by Henry Streurr of Holland. Van Dyken drove the car to Saugatuck, but stated in court that he intended to return it. He subsequently wrecked the automobile. He is to pay $100 damage and costs of $20.

The county winter tax rate will remain the same as last winter, $5.01 per $1,000 assessment, according to an announcement from the office of City Assessor Peter H. Van Ark. Notices will be distributed Dec. 5.

Brewer, John Oonk, speeding, each $5, except Zuverink who paid a $14 fine; Ina Lordahl, no operator's license, $3; Frank Sinke, and Herman Weaver, failing to stop for stop street, $3; Herman Stoel, passing car on right, $5; H. Holleman, parking too near fire hydrant, $3; John Looman, embracing while driving car, $5; Gerald Borgman, failure to give right of way to pedestrians, $10.

"The Country Kitchen" by Della Lutes was reviewed by Mrs. W. J. Olive Monday evening at a meeting of the League for Service of Sixth Reformed church. At the business meeting, Miss Geneva Strong, League president, presided. Miss Strong and Miss Cornelia Van Voorst were in charge of arrangements for the program.

An Armistice Day program will be presented at the annual fall guest day meeting of the Elizabeth Schuyler Hamilton chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution at 3 p. m. Thursday in the home of Mrs. C. H. McBride, 280 College Ave. Mae Howley Barry's peace play, "A Prayer For Our Sons" will be presented under the direction of Mrs. E. C. Brooks. The Hope college trio will sing several selections. Mrs. John Bosman, Mrs. Otto P. Kramer, Miss Martha Sherwood and Miss Laura Boyd are members of the hostess committee.

Damage of between $300 and $400 resulted about 1:00 A. M. Tuesday when fire started on the second floor of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Been at 178 East Seventh St. The fire started in a bed, Fire Chief Cornelius Blom Jr., said. Firemen fought the blaze almost an hour.

Miss Ruth Albers, who will become the bride of John Plasman, Jr., this month, was guest of honor Friday night at a bridal shower given by Mrs. John Plasman and her daughter, Mamie. The guests played games, and prizes were awarded to the winners. A two-course luncheon was served.

PROBLEM ELSEWHERE

If Michigan is to profit by the experience of other states, notably Pennsylvania and New York, we will find that a season or two on antlerless deer regardless of sex as well as antlered bucks, will place the herds under humane control and in no way endanger the future breeding stock. Both of these communities have been forced to allow the killing of does for the animals over-ran the highways and farms and succumbed to winter starvation in areas where there was a heavy concentration.

Undoubtedly today the situation in Michigan is worse than it was in the two Eastern States. It would be far better to allow legalized killing of does and fawns and utilize the meat rather than let the animals die of slow starvation and their carcasses left to rot.

Our deer herds are estimated to number between 750,000 and 1,000,000 animals. Hunters killed 51,200 bucks last year and 10,000 does and fawns died of starvation. Each year under the one-buck law the proportion of does increase and the bucks being polygamous means a tremendous increase in the next year's stock. We have about 20,000,000 acres of summer range in the deer country which is sufficient to support what deer we now have, but when they are forced to concentrate on appraximately 2,000,000 of winter yards they face trouble on a range so restricted that food soon disappears.

MICHIGAN IS SIXTH IN WILDFOWL HUNTERS

Michigan was in sixth place in sales of 1937 duck hunting stamps. Minnesota topped all states with 265,667. Wisconsin second with 186,705. Illinois third with 183,608. California fourth with 169,969 and Texas fifth with 149,412. The Michigan sale was 128,514.

STOCK EAT WEEDS; MANY ARE DEAD

Several valuable horses of Fennville recently died of forage poisoning. Dr. George Menold, local veterinarian, has been unable to service all of his calls and assistance has been had from neighboring towns. Dr. Menold reports a wide spread of wild white clover which poisons animals almost immediately after eating.

Japan's Real Problem

The capture of Canton and Hankow puts Japan in control of the last of China's great industrial centers and commercial arteries.

The Japanese army and navy now dominate the China coast from Tientsin in the north to Canton in the south. They hold all of China's important railways and the Grand Canal. The possesion of Shanghai and Hankow enables them to control the trade of the rich and populous Yangtze Valley.

While contact with the Soviet Union in the north and with Burma and Indo-China in the southwest is still possible, these overland routes are slow and inadequate.

Obviously Japan is in a position to bring great pressure on the fugitive Chinese Government through interference with China's trade and revenues.

This does not necessary mean the end of its undeclared war on China, as Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek is still at large and his armies undestroyed.

Will Japan be content with its conquests to date or will it continue its pursuit of the elusive Chinese leader further into the interior?

Whatever it does it is likely to find that its real task is only begun.

Capturing a few strategic cities may turn out to have been child's play compared to pacifying 450,000,000 people who feel that Japan has grievously wronged them, who out-number the Japanese seven to one, and who have a country to maneuver in that is 15 times the size of the Japanese archipelago.

Vanishing Americans

(Detroit Free Press)

A "typical" American family from Indiana is spending a week in New York as guests of the National Institute for Straight Thinking.

The family consists of Glen Craig and his wife and their two young children, a boy and a girl.

Craig is of Scotch-Irish extraction, 34 years old, was born in Alabama and is now employed in the water works at Muncie at $125 a month. He does not gamble nor drink but smokes cigarets. He owns a small car. He does not belong to a lodge. He has no other ambitions than to provide for his family. Unable himself to go beyond grammar school he wants his children to go to college and has purchased insurance policies to provide the necessary funds.

Speaking only when called upon by her husband Mrs. Craig states that she neither drinks nor smokes, when the "shows are good" she goes to the movies once or twice a week, and likes a game of euchre, although neither she nor her husband plays bridge.

The Craigs go to church "occasionally" and pay their debts as the bills are presented.

And still they are surprised at the "fuss" that is being made over them ever since statisticians selected them as a "typical" American family!

They insist that they are "just ordinary Americans."

They seem to miss the point.

While there still are thousands of families in this country as "typically" American as they are, their type of Americanism is steadily being pushed into the background by the new "Americanism" that looks to government to do for the individual what he could and should do for himself.

They are specimens of a noble but vanishing race which may soon be found only in museums of natural history.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

November 13, 1938.

The Sacredness of Human Life—Exodus 20:13; Matthew 5:21-26.

Henry Geerlings

This is a very short commandment. It has but four words in it, yet how important they all are. Life is a sacred thing and is not to be lightly regarded. Perhaps most of us think too lightly of it. We mistreat it or abuse it or needlessly expose it to danger. It is the highest and the most sacred thing God created. It has the closest possible resemblanse to Himself.

We cannot do as we like with ourselves. In the physical sphere we are limited. We may be able to determine our own actions, but we cannot determine their results. We are in the grip of laws that nothing can resist. In the social sphere we are limited. Like Robinson Crusoe, we may regard ourselves as on an island and say that we are our own and do as we like, but that is manifestly limited by the complex social order of this twentieth century. Society owns a good part of us. Its opinions and customs dominate us to a very large extent. This social order puts our prosperity, our comfort, our very life in the hands of others to no small degree. In the moral sphere we are limited. An individual in a mercantile establishment may for a while deceive his employer, but belonging to a civil order he is bound hand and foot to certain inevitable penal consequences. So our whole life is set in and belongs to a divine moral order. We can tell a lie or use foul language if we choose, but we cannot keep that foul language from defiling our nature or that falsehood from deceiving our own spirit. We can be hard and selfish and covetous but that lust for worldly possessions will narrow our own life and our own soul. We are not our own. We belong to a divine moral order. But over and above this we belong to a great redemptive order. We belong to Christ because He has redeemed us. The greatnss of the love is measured by the greatness of the price paid; and the greatness of the price paid defies all words and transcends all thought. When we try to realize we are overwhelmed with the mystery and we veil our faces in awe. The devotion of a friend risking his life to save another life; the bravery of the captain and the crew sinking calmly and resolutely into their watery grave while one weak woman or one feeble child is left in peril—these have the highest value as examples of human courage and self-devotion. But how little, after all, does any such sacrifice help us to realize the magnitude of the great sacrifice. It is the infinity of the price paid for our redemption that is its essential characteristic. The Son of God came from heaven to earth in order to save us from our sins and to help us to be what God wants us to be, but could not be without divine help. When we think what some persons have become and have made out of themselves, when they might have thrown their lives away, we cannot help feeling that life has in it tremendous possibilities. If we do not believe that it is not likely that we shall ever make much out of ourselves. When we think highly of human life we will respect it, whether our own or another's.

Life is important because of what we may become. We came into the world helpless creatures. There seemed to be only a spark of life; and yet we grow to become strong, with keen sight and hearing, and mental powers that have been able to change the face of the earth.

Life is sacred because it can pour out so much love and goodness into the world. There is almost no end to what good one person can accomplish here if he sincerely tries. There are powers in these frail bodies of ours that know no limit. These powers, as well as the bodies they inhabit, cannot be explained unless we believe that God made them. They are so much like Him.

It is interesting to note what light Christ threw on this commandment by His teaching. He put a spiritual message into it and taught His followers how to interpret and apply it. Under His touch the command ceased to be a cold statement of law and become a living body of eternal truth.

The Bibe considers human life sacred. It never thinks of it in any other fashion. It has its origin in God and bears His image. He, therefore, forbids the wilful and wanton taking of human life, whether it be our own or that of another. This commandment is violated when life is needlesly or carelessly shortened. Its violation is evident when in hate we lift the hand and slay another, or when we help to plan the murder of another, even when we ourselves do not do not commit the act, or when we treasure enmity in the heart, or when we fall into habits that shorten our days or when we wage unjust wars.

TELEPHONES, OLD AND NEW

Holland Has 4,300 Telephones in This Exchange

Telephone people here and throughout Michigan are joining in an informal observance of the 60th anniversary of the founding of the state's first telephone directory, both of which occurred in Detroit in the early fall of 1878.

Sixty years ago there were less than 100 telephones in the state, all of them in Detroit; there were only a few hundred in the entire world, all of them in this country.

Today, there are almost 4300 in the Holland exchange alone. Michigan today is served by three-quarters of a million telephones, of which the Michigan Bell Telephone company operates 660,000 in 252 towns and cities. The lines of the Michigan Bell and of the Bell System make available to every local telephone, connections with 35,000,000 others in 70 countries.

Here, as at Detroit, the first telephones were thought of, perhaps, much as were the first crude radio sets of 20 years ago—an interesting experiment. Therefore, at first, telephone service was not much in demand and it was some time before many names were added to the lists of the venturesome first few subscribers. Among those, listed in the 1938 telephone directory here possibly are some few of those connected with the local exchange upon its establishment.

The first telephones were brought to Michigan in 1877 by W. A. Jackson, a telegraph operator. He and associates he had interested, secured what is said to have been the first license contract the Bell interests ever made to operate telephone service, and organized the Telephone & Telegraph Construction company, forbear of the Michigan Bell Co.

Activities of the company were confined, until the summer of 1878, to the construction of private telephone lines rather than exchanges. The two or three telephones on one line could not be connected with those on another. Single iron wires that extended over the roofs, or were attached to trees, were used. Messenger boys were employed as operators, but in 1880 were replaced by girls because of the latter's greater "patience and general adaptability." And the first telephone directories contained no numbers, calls being placed by the names of the called parties.

Subscribers on one line began to ask for connections with those on other lines, and the idea of an exchange was born. In the summer of 1878, a canvass was made for customers for exchange service, and a small switchboard was installed in a basement room. There were 73 subscribers, only 53 of whom had their lines connected with the central office.

The Telephone & Telegraph Construction company itself, or by sub-licensing local people, also was instrumental in establishing exchanges at other points in the state. Then came a natural demand for inter-city connections, and the state's first long distance line was built from Detroit to Port Huron, in 1881. At the time it was the longest long distance line in the world. Long distance lines connecting other points followed rapidly.

That, briefly, was the beginning of the development of the state's telephone system, the 60th anniversary of which is being noted quietly by Michigan telephone men and women. To them it is an important event, for they believe they are supplying their communities, and their state, with a necessary service, telephone service of a quality that is unexcelled anywhere in the world.

Bees' Importance

For a long time fruit growers have known that honey bees were their fellow workers. But just why the bees did so much better work some times than others was not quite clear.

At Michigan State College, J. C. Kremer, research specialist, has been getting up early and sitting up late to watch the bees at work, and while he acquits them of the charge of being sluggards, he discovers that they are more interested in making good honey and lots of it than in helping the farmer produce apples and peaches and melons.

An interesting discovery is that blossoms of different plants begin shedding their pollen at different hours of the day and they shed more or less pollen according to weather conditions. Kremer proves that it is of great importance to the fruit grower to study the habits of the bees and to provide conditions likely to attract them to the plants desired to be pollinated. For if the bees do not help with the distribution of the pollen, the fruit crop will bring a disproportionate number of specimens knowns as culls, the little, knotty, flavorless fruits that can not go to market because of grading regulations, and are not valued at home even by the domestic animals.

Time For A Change

No man is allowed to operate a railroad locomotive—though it runs on rails along a predetermined track, with every conceivable safety device to prevent accidents—without long and rigorous training, and periodic examinations for health and capability.

No man can command a ship—though it plies oceans and waterways where the chance of collision with another vessel is microscopically small—without similar training and examinations to determine fitness and ability.

No man can fly an airplane—though its "highway" is the empty air—without providing absolute proof of his competence.

Yet any man can operate an automobile down crowded streets and highways, where the margin between safe passage and a possible serious accident is a matter of inches, no matter how ill-fitted he is to drive safely.

That fact largely explains our gigantic motor vehicle accident toll. In some states no examination of any kind is required to obtain a driving license. In others not even a license is needed—the most ignorant and incompetent can get behind the wheel and roar away, endangering everyone in his path. And in most of those states where drivers' licensing systems have been established, the law is usually inadequate and prevents only the most obviously incompetent from endangering the public safety.

Physical infirmities, bad vision, defective hearing, and, most important of all, psychological handicaps that make safe driving impossible—these are found in literally millions of people who are today operating steel juggernauts capable of hundred-mile-an-hour speeds. We'll never go far toward solving the accident problem until every state takes the steps necessary to making certain that no person is given a license without providing proof of reasonable capability and a thorough knowledge of traffic regulations. We've let the incapable drive as they pleased—and they've made our highways a shambles.

Venus Did Have Arms

Venus did have arms originally, but they were broken off. The position they assumed is a matter of dispute, but the common opinion is that the goddess was depicted as holding a polished shield, in the mirror-like surface of which she regarded herself. When the statue was found in 1820 in a grotto on the island of Milo, or Melos, there were also found fragments of the upper left arm. How or when the arms were broken off is unknown, but a great deal of ancient sculpture has been similarly or more severely mutilated by time.

Ellis, 'Jehovah Is God'

The name Ellis is a form of Elias, a Hebrew name meaning "Jehovah is God," or, according to one authority, of Elisha, meaning "God is my salvation," only slightly different from Elias.

Wood Tourniquets Used

Tourniquets first were made more than 300 years ago. They were simply pieces of wood placed under bandages. In the many wars of that time they were often used. Then a French surgeon produced a complicated type. It was a band with a pad which screwed down over an artery. From this screw came the name tourniquet, an offshoot of the French "tourner," meaning turn.

HOPE COLLEGE NEWS

German Students Reorganize Club

Just recently a group of advanced German students met in order to reorganize the German club. Ein Deutsche Verein was started on Hope's campus in 1898, but was disbanded a few years later.

During the business meeting the following officers were elected: president, Jean Hoekje; vice-president, Marinus Potts; secretary, Mildred Potter; treasurer, Don Cordez; reporter, Lois Jane Kronemeyer. It was decided that the new club be a continuation of the club which was organized forty years ago, and the president appointed a committee of three to revise the old constitution.

Plans for future programs were discussed. Miss Boyd consented to give more illustrated lectures on Germany and the German people, and a joint meeting with the French club is also planned.

Ellison, Bonthius Represent Hope At Extemp Meet

At the extempore speaking contests held recently, Virginia Ellison and Bob Bonthius were chosen to represent Hope in the state tournament at Kalamazoo on November 22.

Bill Jacobs and Don Van Liere were given second and third places in the men's contest, while Isla Meppelink placed second in the contest for women.

Each of the participating men was given one hour to prepare a five-minute speech on a phase of the national minorities question or the problem of United States neutrality. The subject choices given the women were socialized medicine and the United States and the European situation.

As the first all-school forensic activities of the season, both contests attracted many freshmen as well as upper classmen.

Dr. Wm. De Kline Red Cross Official Speaks In Chapel

Earthquakes, floods, tornadoes, explosions—these are only routine businesses for American Red Cross advisor Dr. William De Kleine. Speaking in chapel service recently, Dr. De Kleine told of the two-fold activity of his unique position. Administering relief, in the form of food, rehabilitation, clothing, etc, the Red Cross organization "looks into the needs of the sufferers and helps them get started again," he explained.

The other phase oh fis work is teaching the "art of healthful living" to the American people. Citing the example of the Pellagra plague which hit the cotton districts so severely in 1928, Dr. De Kleine showed the miraculous effects of a knowledge of the fundamental principles of nutrition and hygenic living upon the grave situation. The death rate was reduced 60% by the Red Cross.

Throughout his talk the doctor emphasized the importance of a knowledge of the "fundamental principles of hygiene, particularly the principles of nutrition." "Life would be extended five to ten years if everyone knew and followed the rules of health," he concluded.

Dr. De Kleine, who graduated from Hope in 1902, has visited the scene of every major disaster in the United States that has occurred within the last ten years; and each year there have been over 100. He was the first man to devote full time service to public health work; for he started 25 years ago in the infancy of sanitary science.

The freshmen girls held a meeting Thursday morning in Van Raalte hall to decide on their program for the annual Freshman-Sophomore Nykerk Cup contest.

Dr. Nykerk, the originator of the contest, donated the cup. The object of the contest is to let the freshmen and sophomore girls satisfy their class rivalry in a program consisting of a short play, a musical number and an oration.

Dr. Thoms Tells Interesting Facts Of His Christian Work In Arabia

—Hope Anchor.

"The East and West do meet," stated Dr. Wells Thoms, young medical missionary of Arabia, and recent speaker in Hope's chapel, when he graciously consented to spaer a few minutes of his time for an Anchor interview. He went on to explain that humans are alike the world over, and that much the same problems arise in Arabia as in America.

Dr. Thoms attended Preparatory school in Holland in 1921, and left here after his freshman year in 1925 to continue his studies in Kalamazoo. Since then, he has studied at the University of Michigan, trained on the surgery staff of a Panama hospital, and taken six months of eye work in New York. Therefore, he was well equipped to set out for Arabia in the winter of 1931. This trip home was his first furlough and he plans to replace Dr. Harrison in Muscat, Arabia during the latter's furlough next year. Dr. Harrison is the father of Margaret Bilkert, sophomore, and of Paul Harrison, freshman.

"Which phase of your work do you personally consider of primary importance?" the reporter queried of Dr. Thoms.

Dr. Thoms clear blue eyes lighted with enthusiasm as he launched on his favorite topic: "Helping people to know Christ means more to me than anything else," he replied wholeheartedly.

"Have you been successful in gaining converts?"

"We have had many more converts in the last few years," he answered. "Most of the converts are on the hospital staff. The government is a great opposition to the spreading of Christianity, however. Secret societies are rapidly springing up for the purpose of following the concepts of Jesus Christ, whom the Arab recognizes as a great man, before he accepts Him as Savior. These youth movements originated in Calcutta, India, and as the Nazi youth consider Hitler to be everything, so they consider Christ to be everything."

"How did you happen to become a medical missionary?" was the next question.

"My mother and father were missionaries in Arabia and went over in 1898," Dr. Thoms explained. "I lived there as a boy and became naturally interested in furthering their work. I also was acquainted with Dr. Harrison, who incidentally has taught me much about surgery, and he interested me in Arabia."

It was discovered that Dr. Thoms had worked with Jennie Bast, sister of Henrietta Bast who graduated from Hope last year. Jennie has retired from nursing, however, and is now the wife of Mr. Bell of the Standard Oil Company.

Further information concerning Dr. Thoms' experiences in Arabia can be obtained from an article written by Lowell Thomas in the the September COMMENTATOR.

COLORED ARTISTS TO SING AT HOPE MEMORIAL CHAPEL WEDNESDAY

Miss Catherine Van Buren, foremost soprano of the colored race today, will officially open the local Choral Union concert course in Hope Memorial Chapel next Wednesday, Nov. 16, in a change of dates announced this week. Harry Farbman, violinist, scheduled for an appearance here next week, will play on Miss Van Buren's date in January.

As a lyric soprano, Miss Van Buren easily holds a place in the American world of music. She has been soloist with the Fisk university choir for four years, is a graduate of the Oberlin Conservatory of Music, and has served on the faculties of the music departments of four universities. She is ranked with the great Negro tenor, Roland Hayes.

Petite and prepossessing in appearance, modest and graceful of manner, Miss Van Buren's voice is reputed to have color, range, depth, modulation — those qualities so much admired in the really successful concert singer.

Her program will include two arias from operas by Handel-Bibb; the Schubert "Gretchen am Spinnrade"; "Sandmannchen" and "Treue Liebe," by Brahms; "O Bocca Dolorosa" and "La Girometta," by Sibella; "Louise," Charpentier; "Allelujah," Mozart; "Magdalen at Michael's Gate," Liza Lehman; "Pastoral," La Forge; the "Polonaise" from Mignon, Thomas; and a group of Negro spirituals, "Weepin' Mary," "New Born Again," and "Sometimes I Feel Like a Motherless Chile," arranged by Burleigh.

This concert will officially open the Choral Union course, a pre-season concert having been presented in October by the Michigan Symphony orchestra. Season tickets for the entire course of five numbers may still be obtained from the Hope college office. Besides Mr. Farbman, other numbers are the "Messiah" in December, the Chamber Opera Trio in February, and the Augustana college choir the first of March.

SUNDAY DINNER Suggestions

By CORA ANTHONY
Director of the A&P Kitchen

WITH such good values in meats, eggs, vegetables and fruits this week, it won't be hard for housewives to keep within their food budgets. It may even be possible to put a little money aside for Thanksgiving dinner luxuries. All meats and poultry are reasonable; eggs are coming down in price; and there are many cheap fruits and vegetables.

Perhaps the best meat selections for week-end meals are pork loin, beef or any kind of poultry. In the vegetables, bargains will be found in string beans, cauliflower, spinach and cabbage. Grapefruit and oranges are cheap, too. Broccoli, mushrooms, celery, Iceberg lettuce, apples, pears and grapes are other vegetable and fruit items which moderate budgets may afford.

Low Cost Dinner
Braised Chuck Steak with Potatoes and Carrots
Creamed Cauliflower
Bread and Butter
Orange and Grapefruit Sections
Cup Cakes
Tea or Coffee Milk

Medium Cost Dinner
Clear Soup
Roast Stuffed Chicken, Giblet Gravy
Mashed Potatoes Fresh String Beans
Orange and Grape Salad
Rolls and Butter
Pecan Tarts
Tea or Coffee Milk

Very Special Dinner
Mushroom Broth
Roast Loin of Pork
Glazed Apple Halves filled with Puree of Chestnuts
Mashed Sweet Potatoes or Candied Yams
Broccoli Creamed Celery
Persimmon and Endive Salad
Rolls and Butter
Cranberry Pie
Coffee

The Christian Endeavor society of the Second Reformed church met Sunday evening. The meeting was in the form of a "Ship Wreck" meeting. The meeting was opened by the president, Ella Ensing, who gave the introduction after which "What a Friend We Have in Jesus" was sung. Prayer was offered by Raymond Huizenga. The scripture lesson for the evening was taken from I Thess. 4: 6-16. Among the other numbers were testimonies, readings, poems, sentence prayers, duets and hymns were sung. Among those giving duets were Pauline Hall and Henry J. Grit who sang "Drifting"; Janet and Cynthia Lammers who sang "Throw Out the Life Line"; Ed and Hartzel Holleman who sang "Lighthouse on the Shore." The seats were arraigned in ship form and candles were used to give the light. Rev. Leonard Greenway of Grand Haven will render an organ recital at the Second Reformed church on Thursday evening, Nov. 17, at 7:45 under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor society. A silver collection will be taken. All are cordially invited to attend. Bring your friends.

HARVEST FESTIVAL

Harvest time is stock-up time. If you look on page two, section two, you will see there a a bumper crop of values. Two strong horses are pulling the load, and what a load. We refer you to page two, section two, so you may know what it's all about.

There are some real values from a score of merchants. It is surely a clean-cut bumper crop.

WHEN WE SAY "VALUE" WE MEAN IT — TAKE A & P COFFEE FOR EXAMPLE

When you buy Eight o'Clock, Red Circle or Bokar Coffee, you save up to 10c a pound — and often more. Yet you enjoy coffee so fine in quality, so rich in flavor that many coffee lovers would willingly pay far more for coffee so good. Yes, A&P Coffee is a value you can't overlook — a value made possible because A&P is the only retail organization that buys its coffee at the plantations, ships, blends, roasts, packs and sells it to the consumer — thus eliminating many in-between profits. These savings are passed on to you. And that's the very same way A&P saves money for you when you buy Ann Page quality foods, A&P Bread and all the products made by A&P. Come today to any of our markets. You'll save money.
