NAME SLIGH TO PRESIDENCY OF SCOUT COUNCIL

Trust Fund Unit Approved $300 Already Donated by Two

G.R. Pastor Tells Leaders Four Factors Vital to Boys' Work

Final coordination of a growth program was drafted Monday night following election of officers by the Ottawa-Allegan Boy Scout council at the council's annual meeting in Hope Reformed church.

In addition, the incorporation of the council as a non-profit organization and the establishment of a trust fund to make possible the eventual appointment of an assistant scout executive were authorized.

Two checks totaling $300 already have been given to start the trust fund, it was announced.

Charles R. Sligh, Jr., well known industrialist and water ski enthusiast, was chosen council president, succeeding Dr. A. Leenhouts, in the election of officers during the business sessions which preceded an address by Dr. Milton McGorrie, pastor of Fountain Street Baptist church, Grand Rapids.

Mr. Sligh, head of the Charles R. Sligh Furniture Co., here, is new to scouting in the capacity of an official.

In accepting his office, he thanked the 76 scout leaders who attended the meeting for their display of confidence. He assured them he would do his best to promote scouting and said he was sure of able help from all the leaders.

Mr. Sligh and the other officers and executive board members were elected unanimously when the council leaders accepted the nominating committee's report as presented by Baltzar Bolling of Spring Lake, executive board member and finance committee chairman.

W. P. Bilz of Spring Lake was elected area commissioner, District Chairman Stephen Mead of Grand Haven Probate Judge Irving Tucker of Allegan and Albert Van Zoeren of Holland were named vice-presidents by virtue of their offices.

A. E. Van Lente was elected treasurer.

Chosen as executive board members were:

Rix Robinson district (north half of Ottawa county)—J. E. Spangler Jr., Edw. C. Roberts, Martin Erickson, S. P. Nelson, C. O. Reed, Fred Den Herder and the Rev. R. A. Lewis of Grand Haven, Lee Lillie of Coopersville, Mr. Mead and Mr. Bolling.

Waukegon district (south half of Ottawa)—Mr. Van Zoeren, John Van Tatenhove, William Vande Water, L. J. Harris, Dr. J. E. Cook, Clarence Kleis, Peter Kromann, Earl Goo, Don Zwemer and Edgar Landwehr.

Pokagon district (Allegan county)—Rev. Graham and Carl Jones of Otsego, Lloyd Phillips of Fennville, Joe Zwemer of Saugatuck, Arthur Kaehle, C. F. Peck, Judge Tucker and Wayne Berry of Allegan, Clayton Blue of Wayland and Avery Braginton of Plainwell.

Members-at-large—A. H. Hogue of Fennville, Mr. Bilz, Fr. J. E. Allen of Allegan, George Wright of Saugatuck, Ralph Cook of Plainwell, Maurice Overholt of Grand Haven and Phillips Brooks, A. E. Van Lente, Mr. Sligh and Henry Winter of Holland.

The council leaders also voted to enlarge the executive board from 37 to 40 members to permit the inclusion of the three district commissioners.

As a further step to increase the efficiency of the council, an advisory committee composed of veteran scouting leaders was chosen. On the committee are Dr. A. Leenhouts, E. E. Winter and John De Wilde of Holland, Jack Braak and Dave Cline of Spring Lake and Floyd E. Holland of Allegan.

Standing committee chairman for 1942 as announced by Mr. Sligh were Mr. Van Tatenhove, organization; Mr. Kromann, leadership training; Mr. Spangler, advancement; Mr. Nelson, health and safety; Mr. Bolling, finance; and Mr. Landwehr, camping activities.

Through the creation of the trust fund, a trust fund committee is to be named to legalize the acceptance of major contributions. Mr. Bolling in a report revealed that Mrs. Theodore P. Cheff had given $200 and Phillips Brooks had given $100 as initial donations to the fund.

Dr. Leenhouts, who has been associated with scouting here since the formation of the council, was honored upon his retirement as president through the presentation of a past president's pin by Mr. Braak who praised Dr. Leenhouts highly for his long and active work.

DELAY HEARING OVER LOTTERY

Four Scheduled to Appear in District Court in G.R. Friday

Grand Rapids, Nov. 12—Preliminary hearings before Federal Judge Fred Raymond for four western Michigan men who face federal indictments on charges of selling lottery tickets in violation of the anti-lottery act were postponed from Wednesday until Friday at 9:30 a.m. in the local federal district court.

The defendants are John Knapp, 53, gasoline filling station operator at Holland; John R. Spoelman, Muskegon; Arlo A. Strohpaul, Grand Rapids; and Harold F. Gordon, Cassopolis.

John Knapp, 53, gasoline filling station operator at 264 River Ave., one of the four western Michigan men who were arrested Monday by U.S. marshal's officers from Grand Rapids on indictments charging conspiracy or mail fraud in the alleged sale of counterfeit lottery tickets, told The News that he bought the lottery tickets but did not sell them to anybody.

He said he purchased 12 lottery tickets from a Hammond, Ind. man when the man visited his station. Mr. Knapp, who said he could not recall the name of the man from whom he had bought the tickets, stated that a federal agent had questioned him later in the spring about the tickets and that he gave him all the information he could.

"I didn't know I committed any wrong in buying the tickets. I felt it was just like buying a ticket on a turkey raffle. I only bought them for my own use and did not sell them to anybody," he said.

Knapp stated that he found out later it was against the law to purchase lottery tickets. "I certainly don't intend to buy any more in the future," he commented.

The indictments were returned by a federal grand jury in New York against 83 individuals and one corporation for conspiracy or mail fraud in the alleged sale of counterfeit lottery tickets which the government said cost the public $1,250,000.

The defendants are charged with selling counterfeit tickets for three genuine sweepstakes, lotteries and for two nonexistent lotteries between June 3, 1938, and the fall of 1940.

Alleged in the indictment is that the defendants sold counterfeit tickets for the Irish Hospital sweepstakes, the Jamaica sweepstakes and for one popularly known as the Cuban national lottery.

The two allegedly imaginary sweepstakes for which the tickets were sold, the government said, were "the classic sweepstakes and the Kentucky derby."

Simultaneous arrests of the defendants were made throughout the nation, Deeb said.

In New York Monday night, Mathias F. Correa, U. S. attorney, said the 10 principals in the case face possible fines of $35,000 each and up to 79 years in prison. He said the case was the biggest of its kind ever handled in the New York district.

Within five minutes after receiving the call, police were at the scene and launched a thorough search of the city in the two police cruisers but were unable to find any trace of the robber. One suspect was picked up but he was unable to satisfy police that he had nothing to do with the crime.

From descriptions, the robber is believed to have been the same person who committed four home robberies Monday, Nov. 3, and obtained about $67.

The robbery was committed while Mrs. Nauta was at work in the garden at the rear of her home. A neighbor woman saw the man enter the home through the rear door and depart within a few minutes.

TWO FT. CUSTER SOLDIERS DIE IN PAW PAW CRASH

Third Person Is Seriously Injured as Truck and Car Collide

Acting Coroner Is Probing Case Before Deciding on Inquest

Paw Paw, Nov. 13 Justice Glen M. Huey, acting coroner, was to decide today whether an inquest would be held into the deaths of two Fort Custer soldiers who were killed instantly Wednesday at 9:30 p.m. on a head-on auto-truck collision on US-12, four miles east of here.

Sgt. Joseph B. Williams and Pvt. N. C. Schmidt were killed and Sgt. Sanford A. Leonard of Indianapolis was seriously injured when their car, eastbound toward Fort Custer, collided with a truck driven by Charles Delemater, 31, Lawton, who had pulled to the left of the highway to make a left turn.

Delemater, who escaped injury, told state police he had been to Martin to get a load of celery which he was taking to Birmingham, Ala., and said he intended turning down the county road to stop at his home en route south. He said he saw the lights of the oncoming car but misjudged its distance, officers related.

Leonard is in Lakeview hospital here, suffering severe scalp lacerations and internal injuries.

HOLLAND BOY HURT BY AUTO

Randall Vande Water Is in Serious Condition at City Hospital

Randall Vande Water, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Vande Water, 62 West 22nd St., remained in a serious condition at Holland hospital today with injuries suffered about 4:15 p.m. Monday when he was struck by an automobile at 14th St. and Central Ave. while riding his bicycle.

Driver of the automobile, according to a police report, was George E. Heneveld, 61, route 1, Holland, who is Park township supervisor.

The boy is suffering of a skull fracture, fractured left arm and general body bruises. He was unconscious when he entered the hospital but regained consciousness during the night.

Police were informed that Heneveld was driving east on 14th St. about 18 miles per hour and claimed he didn't see the boy on the bicycle. He said he heard something bump his automobile but didn't realize at the moment what had happened. When he stopped, the bicycle was found directly under the car, the police report showed.

It was believed the boy was riding north on Central Ave. as he had shortly before left his home en route to the library and to a store on an errand for his mother.

Two witnesses, Nancy Voltman, 85 East 22nd St., and Benny Johnson, 123 East 17th St., told Heneveld the boy rode his bicycle into the path of the car.

Police said the car stopped 85 feet east of where the cyclist was struck. They reported that the point of impact was 12 feet and six inches west of the west side of the east crosswalk and 26 feet north of the north side of the south crosswalk.

The boy's body was lying 30 feet east of the point of impact, police said. A police cruiser chanced upon the accident shortly after the accident and rushed the unconscious boy to the hospital.

MANY WORKING ON ROLL CALL

Two Hundred and Twenty Five Women Making Calls in City

Upwards of 225 Holland women are participating in the annual roll call drive of the Ottawa county Red Cross chapter which opened Tuesday and will continue through Nov. 30, it was announced today by Mrs. J. J. Brower, roll call chairman.

These women are working under the direction of Mrs. Warren S. Merriam and Mrs. Don Crawford, co-chairmen for the residential roll call in Holland. The city has been divided into four zones and districts, each zone having a chairman and each district with a chairman and a crew of workers under the captain. Zone chairmen and their captains, as announced by Mrs. Brower, follow:

Zone No. 1—Mrs. James Brierley, chairman; Mrs. Marvin C. Lindeman, Mrs. Andrew Hyma, Mrs. Mrs. C. J. McLean, Mrs. Henry Steffens and Mrs. John J. Good, captains.

Zone No. 2—Mrs. Joseph C. Rhea, chairman; Mrs. C. Bergen, Mrs. Harold J. Tanis, Mrs. Don J. Zwemer and Mrs. Willis A. Dieken, captains.

Zone No. 3—Mrs. A. W. Tahaney, chairman; Mrs. Robert K. Mason, Mrs. G. W. Copeland, Mrs. Earl M. Wright, Mrs. Martin Low, Mrs. R. E. Chapman and Mrs. Hadden L. Hanchett, captains.

Zone No. 4—Mrs. R. L. Schlecht, chairman; Mrs. Henry Carley, Mrs. John J. Mikula, Mrs. Ray N. Smith, Mrs. J. D. White and Mrs. Leo J. Ebel, captains.

The Chamber of Commerce is greatly concerned over this threat and will put forth every effort to prevent shutdowns.

Mr. Stephan also was instructed to write to Michigan's U. S. senators and local congressmen asking them to defer any non-defense expenditure at once in order to check as far as possible the growing taxation which must be met for defense purposes.

The residential and housing committee reported that at a previous meeting they sent a petition to OPM, requesting that Holland be made a housing defense area. The committee is hopeful that this will be accomplished, pointing out that this would be helpful in the building of additional homes here.

It was brought out that defense work in Holland on a percentage basis of population is greater than any other city in this part of the state, hence the need for more homes.

Grand Haven, Nov. 13 (Special)—Clyde Bowman, 32, route 2, Twin Lake, was found guilty on a charge of creating a disturbance in a public place by Justice George V. Hoffer Wednesday and paid a fine of $20 and costs of $11.90.

Spencer Wood Morten, 20, and David Harold Worm, 17, both of Grand Rapids, entered pleas of guilty before Justice Hoffer Wednesday to a charge of having a loaded rifle in their car, and each paid a fine of $20 and $7.45. Both boys were arrested by Conservation Officer Forrest Lavoy November 11 in Parth Sheldon township.

Burl Goodman, 33, Hutchinson, Kan., who was arrested by Grand Haven Police Nov. 11 after he had crowded another car off a street here, and who was charged with driving while drunk, was arraigned before Justice Hoffer Wednesday and assessed a fine of $75 and costs of $9, plus five days in jail. Allegan Nov. 13—Dale Ochampaugh, 49, of Allegan, is at liberty under $500 bond pending trial Nov. 25 before Justice Guy Teed on a charge of being the hit and run driver who struck Truck Whitecar, 69, of Allegan and left him lying unconscious along Monterey road, three miles north of Allegan. Ochampaugh asked examination on his arraignment Monday in justice court.

If evidence at the examination is found sufficient to try Ochampaugh, he will be bound over to circuit court, since the charge against him, leaving the scene of a personal accident, is a felony.

Directors Put Community Hall Project at Top of Year's List

The board of directors of the Holland Chamber of Commerce at its monthly meeting Wednesday night went on record as protesting a proposal of the state conservation commission that a "parking fee" of 25 cents per auto be charged for admission to the Holland and Grand Haven state parks.

The directors agreed that this fee would place another tax on park users. It was pointed out that the charge for use of public parks would defeat the purpose of the state in providing the public with adequate recreation facilities during the resort season.

The plan has not been formally adopted by the state conservation commission but was considered at a recent meeting in Lansing. Grand Haven's common council went on record last Friday as opposing the proposal. Other Grand Haven organizations are opposing the proposed fee which the state commission claims would be "an experiment."

In other business considered Wednesday night the directors approved the report of its civic committee that the campaign for a community building in Holland be placed first on the program of activity of the Chamber of Commerce for the coming year.

It is planned to call in groups of various organizations of the city to meet with the committee in planning what kind of a building Holland wants. Plans and specifications are to be drawn up so that construction work could start immediately if, and when, the funds are made available.

A band shell also will receive serious consideration from the Chamber of Commerce during the winter.

Secretary-Manager E. P. Stephens was instructed to contact the OPM in an endeavor to avert threatened unemployment here by reason of shutdown in non-defense industries which already has resulted in local men being laid off recently in various plants.

The Chamber of Commerce is greatly concerned over this threat and will put forth every effort to prevent shutdowns.

Mr. Stephan also was instructed to write to Michigan's U. S. senators and local congressmen asking them to defer any non-defense expenditure at once in order to check as far as possible the growing taxation which must be met for defense purposes.

The residential and housing committee reported that at a previous meeting they sent a petition to OPM, requesting that Holland be made a housing defense area. The committee is hopeful that this will be accomplished, pointing out that this would be helpful in the building of additional homes here.

It was brought out that defense work in Holland on a percentage basis of population is greater than any other city in this part of the state, hence the need for more homes.

The program will consist of devotions, a sermon by Dr. Simon Blocker, president of General Synod, the installation ritual, and the charge to the professors by Dr. Harry J. Hager, president of the board of trustees. An academic procession will be led by President Jacob VanderMeulen including representatives from other institutions and the board of trustees.

National Guard Officer Will Join Inactive List

Grand Haven, Nov. 13 (Special)—Capt. H. Austin Lucas of Grand Haven, who left last year with Co. D, Holland's national guard unit as its commanding officer, is on 26-day leave, starting Nov. 5, and on Dec. 3 he will be placed on an inactive status. After attending officers' school at Fort Benning, Ga., he was with the 63rd brigade headquarters during recent maneuvers. Captain Lucas will resume his position with the George B. Carpenter Co. of Chicago with which firm he had been for 30 years, his employment being terminated only by his war service.

LONG DISTANCE LINE DISRUPTED BY FIRST SNOW

Three Persons Injured in at Least Ten Auto Accidents

The first snow of the 1941-42 winter season was held responsible for at least 10 automobile accidents in Holland last Thursday and Friday, according to reports made to local police.

Two persons suffered minor injuries in an accident at 10:30 a.m. Friday at 10th St. and River Ave., where cars driven by Fred B. Clark, 46, route 2, Allegan, and Norman H. Peterson, 44, 601 Michigan Ave. collided.

They were Luella Jesek route 1, Holland, cut on head, and John Kuiper, route 1, Holland, slight knee injury.

A Mrs. Folkert, 70 East 21st St., suffered a slight neck injury in an accident which occurred at 12:10 p.m. today at 18th St. and College Ave. between her car and one driven by William Dekker, 23, 85 East 22nd St.

Dekker was given a traffic summons for failing to have his car under control. Both cars were traveling south on College Ave. Mrs. Folkert slowed down for another car and when Dekker applied the brakes of his car, it skidded into the rear of the Folkert car.

An accident on Friday at 21st St. and Ottawa Ave. involved cars driven by Donald Hamlin, route 1, Holland, and B. Witteveen, route 4, Holland. Hamlin was driving north on Ottawa Ave. and Witteveen was driving east on 21st St. Automobiles driven by Henry J. De Weerd, 172 East 14th St., and Roy Wagenveld, 266 East 11th St., were involved in an accident at Eighth St. and College Ave. Wagenveld was given a traffic summons for not having an operator's license.

With the leaves hardly off the trees, snow shovels were ready to replace rakes here on Friday as the season's first snow, which began falling late Thursday, continued throughout Friday.

The extremely wet snow clung to utility wires, causing considerable damage to long distance telephone circuits out of Holland. Repair crews from the local office of the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. were busy at work in repairing breaks outside the city.

The heavy snow accumulated on telephone wires and froze during the night. Because of the added weight, the wires began breaking about 4 a.m. One break, about half-mile in length, occurred east of Holland and the other one was south of Holland and extended for a distance of about one-fourth mile.

These two breaks put all long distance circuits serving Holland out of commission.

A number of telephone poles were broken and others, where the ground was extremely soft, were pulled out of the ground. Weight of the snow on wires caused a first pole to break and this collapse pulled other poles down in some sections.

Within an hour, the local telephone office dispatched crews to the scenes of these breaks and service was restored on some of the systems by 7:30 a.m. It was expected that all repairs would be completed by the end of the day.

City telephone lines in Holland and Zeeland were not affected by the heavy snow, except in a few minor cases. Most of the lines in Holland are underground.

"NAVY TRADE TRAINING GAVE ME MY START" SAYS PRESIDENT, SPERRY CORPORATION

THOMAS A. MORGAN (pictured in insert), president of the Sperry Corporation, world's largest manufacturer of aeronautical and marine instruments, received his early technical training in the U. S. Navy, in which he enlisted as a young man. "This has proved of great value to me in later years," said ex-sailor Morgan. Pictured above are new Navy recruits receiving electrical training at one of the modern equipped Navy Trade Schools. The Navy offers training to young men in nearly 50 different trades and vocations.

Opportunities for advancement, to learn skilled trades, for travel and adventure are identical whether a man enlists in the regular Navy or the Naval Reserve—and his pay, food, clothing, medical and dental care are the same.

Moral Rearmament Is U.S. Need, Speaker Tells Legion Group

Speaking at the 23rd annual Armistice day banquet of the Willard G. Leenhouts American Legion post Tuesday night at Anchor inn, Emil Leffler, dean of men at Albion college, asserted that "America's great need in this hour is a moral rearmament which shall make our individual efforts equal to the strength of ten."

"Our indecisions, our confusion in thinking and action, our partisan changes must cease. Labor and industry must join their power, our farms and mines must cooperate. American democracy must take precedence over individual gain that all may survive."

"As we pause to honor the men of service and valor of another war, we consecrate ourselves to the finishing of the task before us that truth and righteousness may prevail."

Upwards of 175 legionnaires and auxiliary members attended the banquet. Special guests were Gold Star mothers and a Gold Star father.

In opening his address, Dean Leffler said this Armistice finds Americans again facing "the grim reality of war."

"Again the human family faces the necessity of curbing aggression, violence, bigotry and the ruthless disregard of the rights of others, large or small. It is beside the point to argue the futility of the former effort and to offer vain regrets that other methods were not followed."

American's problem, he said, is a sensing of the part all must play in the present crisis. Failing to do this would be "to dishonor the sacrifices, our heroism of the last war."

"The cause of democracy was immeasurably forwarded by the events of 1914-1918. The essential human rights and freedoms then asserted are the common cause of today, the oppression and ruthless exploitation then challenged must again be crushed. The eternal vigilance which alone safeguards our liberties must be exercised anew."

"Each new generation must learn for itself that priceless lesson."

In the sure strength and knowledge that right must always triumph, we face with calm and tranquil hearts the great test that is before us."

With the program in charge of Dr. E. J. Bacheller, a tableau was first presented. This included a bugle call, salute to the flag, a period of silence in honor of departed comrades, and taps b. Bugler Robert De Vries.

Legion Chaplain Harry Kramer pronounced the invocation. Group singing was led with William J. Brouwer with Mrs. Jack Knoll at the piano.

Auxiliary greetings were extended by Mrs. John Kobes, auxiliary president, in which she introduced her fellow officers, Helen Lawrence, first vice-president; Mrs. H. Van Ry, treasurer; Mrs. William Hoek, chaplain; Mrs. H. Cook, historian; and Mrs. E. Bedell, sergeant at arms.

TOP HONORS TO FRATERNALS IN FLOAT CONTEST

Emersonians Take First Award With House Decoration

The Fraternal society, repeating its last year's performance, again captured top honors in the float contest conducted in conjunction with the annual Hope college Homecoming parade which was staged Friday evening despite inclement weather.

John Vander Broek, dressed in a large fur coat and red ear-flap cap and sitting before a smoking stove with a background of wool socks and red flannels on a clothes line, was the central figure on the winning float designed by Chairman Howard Hoekje and his committee. Kazoo was depicted as a black hornet frozen in a solid cake of ice. The float bore the slogan, "Plenty to Keep Us Warm, but We'll Freeze Out Kazoo!" and the phrase, "This Is No Fireside Chat."

The prize is doubly sweet for the Fraters who had to use all their ingenuity to figure out a solution to their problem when the Eskimo igloo originally planned for the float was accidentally smashed two days ago when construction was in the final stages. A combination end table and magazine rack for their fraternal house was presented to Marty Bekken at the pep meeting in Graves library following the parade.

Second place in the parade of floats was taken by the Emersonian society with its huge black and orange hornet. Carrying out their theme "We'll Take the Sting Out of Kazoo," one football player wielded a sprayer filled with "Hope's Hope" while two others pulled out the hornet's stinger with a large decorated pliers. Riding on the float were Ray Otteman, Maurice Laug and Claudius Finger, Herbert Leigh-Manuel was float chairman.

Sibyllines with their springlike green field of daisies filled with fluffy black-nosed lambs guarded by Dorothy De Valois in a Bo-Peep costume with a shepherd's crook, took third place in the judging. Their slogan was "Make Kazoo Feel Sheepish." Honorable mention was given to the Women's Athletic association for its float, "We Aim At Victory." Two archers, Janet Bogart and Jane Fichtner, in white Indian style costumes with their bows and arrows aimed at a large illuminated "V" rode on the float.

Sororities used the slogan, "We'll Put the Bee on Kazoo!" for their entry which depicted a large bee swooping down on a Kazoo player, crouched on a miniature football field. Tommy Maentz in football togs was the center of attraction on the float.

Delta Phi centered a large coin on their float showing three football players on its face and used the slogan, "Heads We Win, Tails They Lose." Riding on the float were Delphians Betty, Kamps, Bernice Klaasen, Betty Jane Hurlbut and Bettie Morford.

Knickerbockers pictured a large dead hornet on a football field. A large fly spray gun and the slogan, "Stop Kalamazoo with Hope-a-Boo," completed the float. A feature was musical accompaniment.

A large sailboat heading for a lighthouse representing victory was the theme for the Dorian float. Glen Gosselink and Patty Houtman in sailor suits rode in the sail boat.

Cosmopolitans with their pair of white swans drawing a wooden shoe carrying Delvin Van Tongeren in Dutch costume, used the slogan, "Shoe, Kazoo!" Like a Swan We'll glide to victory."

The newly-formed Thesaurian society depicted Hope as a destroyer on the ocean and Kazoo as a sinking hulk for their float and the motto, "Kazoo's Sunk." Arlene De Vries was float chairman.

First prize in the contest for house decorations was won by the Emersonian society. In sharp contrast on the lawn in front of their house they parked a shiny new car and an old model between opposing goal posts and used the slogan, "Modern Design Makes the Difference." A score board in the background read, "Hope 41, Kazoo 0. John Hains was awarded a "smoker" at the pep meeting.

Knickerbockers took second place for house decorations with their large spider web spreading across the entire front of the fraternity house with boarded windows. Hope was represented by the large flashing eyed spider chasing a realistic yellow hornet caught in the other corner of the web.

"Soup's On" the slogan for the Cosmo decorations, complemented a scene showing Kazoo players tied next to a boiling black cauldron ready to be devoured by the Hope capnibals. Fraters decorated their lawn with sign boards and an archway. Two football players with rapidly revolving legs and the motto "We'll Walk Over Kazoo" were main features.

Former Neutral Stand of FDR Is Cited by Hoffman

Quotes Others on Peace, War and Labor Issues of Country

Washington, Nov. 13—Cong. Clare E. Hoffman of Allegan, Mich., this week pointed to "what other folks have said" about war, peace and labor.

He submitted the following: President Roosevelt: "We stand for peace. We shun political commitments which might entangle us in foreign wars. We are not isolationists except insofar as we seek to isolate ourselves completely from war."

"I hate war—I wish I could keep war from all nations; but that is beyond my power. I can at least make certain that no act of the United States helps to produce or to promote war."

"If war should break out again in another continent, let us not blink at the fact that we would find in this country thousands of Americans who would attempt to break down or evade our neutrality."

"We can keep out of war if those who watch and decide have a sufficiently detailed understanding on international affairs to make certain that the small decisions of each day do not lead toward war and if, at the same time they possess the courage to say 'No' to those who selfishly or unwisely would let us go to war."

"Let no man or woman thoughtlessly or falsely talk of America sending its armies to European fields. This nation will remain a neutral nation."

Walter Winchell in June, 1939, said:

"I am introducing a bill providing for the establishment of two military academies and two naval academies to supplement our training institutions as a step in preparation for the building up of an army of from 6,000,000 to 8,000,000 men, which will be necessary before we shall be ready to do the job which is mapped out for us, along with our production of the necessary equipment for modern warfare."

SIX SENIORS OF HOPE IN FINALE AGAINST ADRIAN

To Receive Medals From Legion at Game Here Friday Night

Assured of no place lower than third in the MIAA and a possibility of taking second honors if Kal-amazoo and Albion tie in its clash this week, Hope college will end its football season Friday when it meets Adrian in Riverview park at 7:30 p.m.

Adrian is bringing a victorious team to Holland. The squad boasts a heavy, strong forward wall, paced by Jack Thompson, who was awarded the Randall C. Bosch trophy as the outstanding athlete in the MIAA last year. The entire line is composed of veterans and, if a wet field is in the offing, the game will be close as the Dutch will be outweighed 10 pounds to the man along the firing line. The Adrian backfield is paced by triple-threat Darton who has been the only consistent ground-gainer for his eleven this year.

Friday night will draw the curtain on the playing careers of six Hope players. Capt. Bill Tappan will lead his team into battle for the last time. To Bill goes a large bouquet of roses for his leadership, his excellent play at the pivot post and his all-around ability and good sportsmanship. Versatile Guard Bill Hakken is donning the Orange and Blue for the last time. To Bill, for his never-say-die spirit, his hardy competitiveness, and his aggressive play, goes the sincere compliments of his teammates.

Tackles George Vander Hill and Marty Bekken will be teamed together for the final time in their college careers. To George goes the good wishes of the squad for his steady play, his clever analysis of plays, and his quiet, penetrating spirit. To Marty, the best linesman seen around Hope for some time, goes everything one could wish for his vicious tackling, his splendid morale and his love to play when the going is the toughest.

Flankers Bud Morgan and Ray Van Ommen will play for Hope the last time. To Bud goes the frank admiration of his fellow players, for his brilliant defensive work and his clever analysis of the most intricate plays of the opposition. To Ray goes the heartiest congratulations for his steady play, both offensively and defensively, and his splendid morale.

This six lads will be presented medals during the half intermission by the American legion.

Club Women Challenged to Be Force for Peace

In a lecture appropriate to Armistice day, Gladys M. Petch of New York city, an English woman who has two sons in the service, told members of the Woman's Literary club Tuesday afternoon that in the hands of the women of the democracies "lies the power to bring to the storm tossed world the peace we must have."

"Stronger than armies" she called the united women of the world—150 million in the lands where liberty is still loved, (not counting the women of Russia.) "United we stand—divided we fall, but we will not fall because our union is a spiritual one, common to womankind throughout the centuries," the speaker declared.

Mrs. Petch outlined the progress of women's opportunity and development, and stated that today as the half-way mark of the twentieth century is faced, there is hardly an art or a profession in which women have not reached success. Women stand shoulder to shoulder with men in every enterprise except in making of war, she said.

Many criticize women for not accomplishing more since being given the right to vote, the speaker said, but they have had so little time in comparison to the centuries in which men have ruled, only to result in chaos and ruin. "But we shall and will become such a force that the international gangsters will flee and run as the pioneer spirit in the women of the democracies is aroused."

"The women across the sea look to the women of America to point the way," Mrs. Petch said in closing.

Mrs. Petch illustrated her lecture with beautifully colored slides of authentic pictures showing what the women of Europe are doing in the present war. There were also several scenes showing the destruction in Norway, where the speaker has spent considerable time.

As an impressive close to the program, the audience rose to sing "The Star Spangled Banner" as the American flag was shown on the screen. Mrs. Clyde Geerlings was at the piano.

Mrs. George A. Pelgrim presided. Announcement was made of the annual Thanksgiving luncheon to be held in the club house next Tuesday. Members who desire to attend are asked to secure their tickets from their division chairmen before Friday night.

After several announcements as to future plans of the group, a "walking rehearsal" of "The Valiant," was given by Mesdames O. S. Cross, Lester Essenburg, William Winter, Stanley Boven and Simon Borr. The play was written in 1934 by Hallworthy Hall and Robert Midlemass.

The Child Study group, of which Mrs. Clarence J. Becker is chairman, met in the team room preceding the regular meeting for an "information please" program led by Mrs. Jack Bos. THE SMALL TOWN AS A
GUINEA PIG

A congressional committee investigating the effect of the defense efforts on business in the United States has picked the little city of Hastings, Nebraska, as its scene of operations. That city will be the congressional guinea pig; on the basis of what is found there decisions will be made in regard to the country as a whole,
and conclusions will be drawn
that may affect the whole country.

The important point is that Hastings is a small city. It has a population of about 15,000. It is therefore in Holland's population group. Holland might well have been chosen for such a test; almost the only reason why Holland,
or some other city of that size,
would not be as good a testing ground as Hastings, is that Hastings is near the center of the United States, whereas Holland is near the edge of the country. It is likely that a town near the geographical center is more nearly typical than one far from the heart of the country.

In any event the small city is the best guinea pig for a political or social experiment. For it is of course still true that most of the American people live in just such small communities. The typical American does not as a rule live in the million-peopled cities; the typical American industry is not usually found in the overgrown communities; typical American thinking is not done in the larger but in the smaller places. Any political group that wants to find out what defense is doing to typical America is well advised if it goes to the smaller places for information.

What the people of communities like Holland and other towns in that class think about the question of peace and war, of defense,
of intervention, makes far more difference than what the people of the larger places think; for the simple reason that more people, in the aggregate, live in smaller places than in the larger.

The larger centers of population get more advertising than the smaller, but in the end it is the smaller places that have to be convinced. Wise public men have always known that the small newspapers, taken together, wield far more influence than the large ones. There are, relatively, only a few large newspapers, there are many small ones. The total subscription list of the small papers is far larger than the total list of the large ones.

The congressional committee making this particular investigation is deeply concerned about the small business man. That small fellow is important because there are many of him. The billion dollar concerns are relatively few in number; the concern that thinks in thousands instead of millions is found everywhere.

Hence the choice of Hastings,
Nebraska, as a guinea pig for national experiment would seem to be a good one.

THE CHURCH INVITES YOU Christianity is the fountain of all healthful moral and social sentiment. It may indeed be doubted whether free institutions can exist apart from Christianity. Certainly, equal rights and impartial justice have never been enjoyed where it has not prevailed. It recognizes the essential quality of mankind, and represses those ambitions that lead the strong to oppress the weak and the many to coerce the few. Of those principles Christianity is the conservator; and of Christianity the church is the custodian. Give yourself wholeheartedly to membership in some church. But do not forget the church after uniting with it; regularly and faithfully accept the invitation to go to church next Sunday.

Union With Christ

John 15:1-10

By Henry Geerlings

John emphasizes the mystical side of Christ's life, and stresses the necessity and the privilege of fellowship with Him. In no other way can we be sure of winning immortality. There are many statements and figures in the writings of John designed to emphasize this important fact. He uses the word "life" more frequently than any other writer in the Bible, and always with the idea that permanence of existence belongs to God only and to those who through their fellowship with Him escape
the destruction which is the necessary fate of all material and earthly things.

The parable of the vine and the branches was spoken in the upper room in Jerusalem the night before Jesus was nailed to the cross.
It was a time when the hearts of the disciples must have been greatly troubled. It is true that they did not grasp the full meaning of the words their Master was addressing to them, but there was enough in those words for them to understand to give them reason for deep concern. Less than a dozen hours lay between Him and the cross, and the shadows were falling thick around Him.

In the light of the moon, no doubt, vineyards could be seen on the slopes of Olivet and elsewhere.
He knew how soon He was to leave His disciples. He knew too how serious was the effort He made to bind these men to Him with links that could not be broken. He must have been well aware of the fact that both the fact and the manner of His death would be a great strain upon the faith of these men who had been with Him less than three years. What could He have said to impress them more deeply than the truth that is involved in
the parable of the vine and the branches. All of them knew of the characteristics of the grape vines and what was needed to be done to make them productive. It is, therefore, not surprising that our Lord made use of this simple but effective illustration both to strengthen and to warn the disciples with respect to their attitude toward Him
when His life would be ruthlessly blatant out. The loyalty which they had previously shown was to be maintained even in the midst of the most trying and adverse circumstances.

The fruitfulness of life depends upon the close fellowship of disciple and Master. If we abide in Him, He abides in us. If we accept His teachings, they bear fruit in our lives. If we follow His example, we see that we have been with Christ. It is clearly evident that some such close relationship must exist between every follower and his leader if the follower is to carry out the mission and message of the leader. How fortunate it is for us as Christians that Jesus brought out this significant teaching in such a simple illustration.

The teaching of the New Testament is that God and Christ make their dwelling with men. With His departure to eternity, Jesus promised the presence of the Holy Spirit. All these teachings of Scripture would indicate that God would have us believe that He is near us. To be one with Christ is to be one with God.

Christ makes it very clear in this parable that only by close contact with Him, can good be the product of our lives. Apart from Him we can do nothing. This is a very strong statement. He means it. No one can come to the fullfillment of life without Him in his heart. A man may think to do something. He may work hard. He may produce certain commendable results. He may write well. He may build to the satisfaction of tenants and buyers. He may teach with a fair degree of success. But the best and richest in career or life is not found apart from the inspiration and direction of Christ.
He is as necessary for the spiritual life as is the sun for the physical life. We may effect something by candlelight. We may be quite proud of the electric light, and think that we are getting far towards independence but who believes that we can dispense with the sun. Christ holds the key to all that is permanent in human endeavor, to all that is deepest and best in human character.

To abide in Christ makes possible an endless realization of promise and power. We need to learn more about the potentialities of loyal, spiritual living. Such living results in assurance, comfort and strength. We need to put more dependence upon the great words and promises of the Master. Too often we are weak, when we need not be weak; sick when we do not need to be sick; cowardly when we could be brave. Answers to our needs are available. Not answers to our petty, foolish wants. But great answers to great needs.
Jesus gives us the pledge. Union with Him gives us that security and that joy.

When Christ spoke these words to His first-century disciples He was visible to them. Perhaps it was, therefore, easier for them to think this living relationship to Him. He is now unseen, but His presence is no less real. The space limitation has been removed. He can be nearer now to each and all than before.

HOLLAND
IN 1912

"The Dearborn Corporation" is the name of a new factory that is to be built in Holland within a very few weeks, began a news story in the Thursday, March 21
issue of the Holland Daily Sentinel published in 1912. Some weeks ago a delegation of the bonus committee composed of George E. Kollen, Austin Harrington, E. P. Stephan and Benjamin Van Raalte, Jr., went to Chicago to investigate the proposition and since that time the plans for the landing of the big concern here have been slowly maturing. The new plant is capitalized at $100,000 of which $80,000 has been paid in.

The sheriff situation in Ottawa
county took another turn this afternoon with the appointments of Peter Wierenga, for three years city marshal of Grand Haven, as sheriff at the county. Dr. De Kleine, who took the office temporarily finally succeeded in getting a man to take his place who is satisfactory to Sheriff Andre, and Judge Cross.

At the meeting of the council
last night the following election inspectors were appointed for the election to be held here on April first: First ward—William O. Van Eyck; second ward—John Vanden Berg; third ward—Edward Steke-tee; fourth ward—Henry Pelgrim, Jr., and fifth ward—John Luidens.

That Twelfth St. shall be paved from Lincoln Ave. to the lake was finally decided upon by the council last night. City Engineer Naberhuis was instructed by the aldermen to make estimates on costs and to submit diagrams and

A big business deal was closed up this afternoon when the so-called Slagh block of the Tim Slagh estate was sold to A. W. Hompe of Grand Rapids for a consideration of $20,000.

Five additional are lights are to be placed in the Fifth ward. It is estimated that each light costs the city a hundred dollars a year to keep up, which means an additional five hundred dollars a year to light up the fifth ward.

The meeting of the college
Young Women's Christian association was led this afternoon by Miss Cornelia Bouma. The following officers were elected for the coming year: President, Helen De Maagd; vice-president, Evelyn De Pree; treasurer, Ruth Pieters.

The congregation of the Wesleyan Methodist church have bought the building of the Fourth Reformed church. The Fourth Reformed church some time ago decided to build a new church and the Wesleyan Methodists will in the future worship in the old building. The plan is to move it to the lot owned by the church on the corner of Sixteenth St. and Pine and a petition has been presented for a permit to move the building.

Last night in the parlors of the Fourth Street Christian Reformed church the Young Ladies' Sewing Circle gave a public entertainment for the purpose of collecting money to pay for their piano. The sum of $80.32 was collected and previously the sum of $100 had been collected for this purpose.

Wait Stebbins. The following officers were elected: Regent, The Rev. Frederic Oscar Grannis; vice regent, Prof. Henry Raymond Brush; Secretary, Dr. George Wyatt Van Vleet; treasurer, Lovell

DISPLAY TRADEMARK
IN BLOOMING TULIPS

At the suggestion of S. H. Hout-man, general festival manager, the local H. J. Heinz Co. has arranged for planting of tulips in a plot at the west end of the company's main building on West 16th St. as an attraction for the 1942 festival.

About 2,000 tulips will be plant-trademark. O. R. Hayes, manager of the local Heinz plant, said.

Arrangements have been made with John Van Bragt, park super-sometime this week. When in full bloom, the "57" will be in solid red

The display will be 20 by 35 feet.

FIRM HAS NEW POULTRY DRUGS

A new establishment known as the Holland Laboratories, Inc., has been opened on Lugers road, near Holland. The laboratories offer a complete service for poultry disease prevention.
Some new drug uses have been developed in the past year which will play an important part in poultry disease prevention. Of these sulfathiazole is no doubt the leading one. It is being used successfully in preventing and in curing the disease of pullets and turkeys described by such names as Blue comb, false cholera, X disease, ruptured yolk, colitis, pullet disease, wheat disease. The symptoms are similar to cholera, and spread rapidly with a high mortality. Marked improvement has been effected within 24 hours after administering sulfathiazole.
Phenothiazine in convenient tablet form is the drug of choice for removal of Cecal worms in turkeys. The Cecal worm is the carrier of Black head.

The common louse is poultry enemy No. 1. Ortho-phenyl-Phenol a drug with lasting killing power is effective as a poultry delouser.
In addition Holland Laboratories compound phenosulphonates, an intestinal astringent and inhibitor of bacterial infections causing diarrhea in poultry of any age.
All formulae compounded are based on the recommendations of the extension service of Michigan State college. O. J. Weisner, manager of Holland Laboratories, Inc., is a graduate of the four-year course in poultry husbandry, at Michigan State college. He has had 17 years' experience in the poultry field as state extension poultryman for Michigan, North and South Dakota State colleges. During the past 41 years he has lectured and held poultry post mortem clinics in 40 states.

Dr. Hoogstra Gives Armistice Talk

Dr. J. T. Hoogstra, pastor of Prospect Park Christian Reformed church, addressed an Armistice day assembly of Christian Junior high school Thursday.
An appropriate program was presented including readings, selections by a quartet and community singing. The moment of silent prayer in which 122 pupils reverently participated was observed at 11 a.m. followed by taps sounded by John Danhof. Boy Scout Robert Topp directed the salute and pledge to the flag. The singing of the national anthem, "God Bless America" and "God of Our Fathers" concluded the program.

Uniform Curls

The above picture shows the newest addition in equipment to the Holland Beauty salon, the Eugene Supreme permanent wave machine. Eugene equipment and solutions have been on the market for a number of years and are well established in the beauty profession.
With this machine the amount of electricity which passes through the heaters is controlled so it will have an even flow. Because of no variation in the heating period, this new machine gives a uniformity of curls.
Any permanent wave machine loses its uniformity after a certain period of time, hence some curls are tight and some are loose. This of course would be the fault of the machine and not the operator. It has been the policy of the salon to use the best in equipment and supplies.

Secret study, silent thought, is, after all, the mightiest agent in human affairs.

DUTCH HORNETS PLAY TO 6-6 TIE ON SOGGY FIELD

Homecoming Fray Is Wide Open Despite Slippery Ball, Gridiron

On a gridiron that looked like a muddy farmyard, the Hope College eleven battled the Kalamazoo Hornets to a 6-6 tie before a homecoming crowd that braved the elements to see the battle Saturday.

The game was wide-open, even with the slippery ball, and lateral passes and forward passes were the order of the day. The Hornets used its intricate T formation and fumbled the pigskin only twice. The Dutch lost the ball on fumbles three times. Although the going was slippery, some spectacular runs were registered, one by Jack Bockelman of the Hornets who scampered 36 yards in the first period, and a couple of sizeable gains by Art Timmer for the Dutch.

The first period had hardly started when the Hornets struck. After an exchange of punts, with the Dutch kicking into a strong wind, Kazoo was in possession on the Hope 45. Bockelman hit center on two plays for 9 yards. Then, he sifted through right tackle and slid into the secondary on the 25, where he evaded Art Timmer and romped on to score, culminating a 36-yard jaunt. An attempted plunge by Bockelman failed and the score remained at 6-0. During the remainder of the quarter, the Hornets were in Hope territory, but failed to make any appreciable gains as the strong forward wall of the Dutch threw back their charges. Don DeFouw fumbled a low pass from center on fourth down and Kazoo took over on the Dutch 32. Vander Berg, on a reverse, crashed over right tackle for four, but an attempted pass by Bell was intercepted by Bill Tappan on the Hope 30 and the Dutch captain was brought down in a mud puddle on the 35 to stop the threat.

In the second period, the Dutch were favored by the wind and slowly pushed back the threatening Hornets on good punting by DeFouw. The Hornets got a break when Rowan's fumble was recovered on the Hope 44. At this point the initial first down of the game was racked up by Kalamazoo. Bockelman circled right end for 7, and Vander Berg smashed center for 3 and a first down. However, the attack bogged in the mud and Bell was forced to punt. The half ended with the Hornets on its own ten after a booming 60-yard punt by DeFouw.

The second half kickoff was fumbled by DeFouw and Gilly Gilman recovered for Kazoo on the Dutch 30. But the Hope mud-spattered forward wall rose up and tossed the Hornets back and a kick resulted. Bell fumbled DeFouw's return punt and alert George fell on the ball on the Kazoo 20 and Hope was threatening for the first time.

DeFouw hit center for 3, Higgs, the best ball-carrier on the field, slid through center for 3, then, on a lateral, Davis to Higgs, registered a first down on the Hornet 9. DeFouw plowed through the center for 4, but Timmer was spilled for a 2-yard loss and DeFouw was stopped cold on a plunge. Davis, on an attempted forward pass was spilled on the 10, and Kalamazoo stopped the threat.

The Orange and Blue started again from the 30. On the first play, DeFouw tossed a 5-yard pass to George Slager, who lateraled to Dick Higgs and the lad rolled to the 5. But, the play was called back and Hope was penalized 5 yards for offense. After the punt exchange, Hope started with a rush from the 44. A pass, Timmer to Higgs, netted 15 yards and Timmy hit left tackle for 13 and a first down on the 16. On a fake reverse, Davis tossed an aerial to Higgs, who was downed on the 1 as the quarter ended.

On the first play of the final stanza, DeFouw powered into the center of the line to score for the Dutch. Then came the try for point. Davis dropped back into place-kick formation, the ball was snapped to DeFouw who stood up and tossed an intended pass to Van Ommen, but the ball slipped through the flankers hands and the score remained tied.

With the wind at its back, Kazoo pushed the Dutch back into their own territory. Late in the game, the Hornets were in possession on the Hope 40. Bell circled left end for 11, and three plays by Bell and Bockelman placed the ball on the 17. This threat was stopped by DeFouw who intercepted the ball tossed by Bell on the Hope 10 and brought it back to the 33, where he fumbled and Kazoo recovered. Bell was tossed for a 7-yard loss as the game ended.

The game was evenly played, with the condition of the field hampering both offenses. Hope made a first down to the Hornets' 3. Kazoo completed one pass out of 8 attempts. Hope connected with 2 out of 6. The Dutch intercepted two passes. Kazoo recovered all three of Hope's fumbles, and the Dutch recovered one of the Hornets' two fumbles. The game was remarkably clean from the legal side, with Kazoo losing 10 yards and Hope 5.

SUNDAY DINNER Suggestions

COMES autumn, and there's an urge to round up friends you've been too busy—or too hot—to see during the summer months. It's a grand idea at this season of the year, and can be accomplished easily even by the amateur housekeeper with a limited budget. It's all in what grandmother called "know-how," the planning of meals that have a festive air, but won't take too much from either the hostess' time while her guests are there, or from her purse while marketing.

Good news for the prospective hostess is that meat prices, generally speaking, are down this week. Lower prices also prevail on roasting chickens that can be popped in the oven before the arrival of the guests.

Plenty of excellent vegetable buys are reported. Celery, lettuce, beets, string beans, peppers, sweet potatoes, broccoli and cauliflower—easily prepared and not too costly—are available.

With an eye toward dinner for your first fall entertaining, Marion Rouse Budd, of the A & P Kitchens, has prepared the following menus at different price levels. Many of the items can be prepared in advance of the guests' arrival.

Low Cost Dinner
Sauerkraut Juice
Barbecued Spareribs
Mashed Turnips
Green Beans in Onion Sauce
Bread and Butter
Cinnamon Baked Apples with Cream and Ginger Cookie
Tea or Coffee

Moderate Cost Dinner

Tea or Coffee

Very Special Dinner

A number of local Gideons and their wives attended a Gideon banquet in the Occidental hotel in Muskegon Saturday night which opened a two-day rally of Gideons in Muskegon, Ottawa and Kent counties.

Rendert H. Muller, former president of the local camp, was the banquet speaker. He spoke of the urgent need of getting the testaments into the hands of the boys in the army and spoke of the difficulties of getting paper on which to print the Bibles. The OPM had put the Gideon project far down on the priorities list, although lately the Gideons had been able to get three carloads of paper, Mr. Muller said.

On Sunday 37 churches in the Muskegon area opened their doors to Gideon spokesmen and a number of local men participated in this part of the program.

Among those from Holland attending the banquet were Mr. and Mrs. Ben Van Lente, Mr. and Mrs. Ren Muller, Mr. and Mrs. William Volkema, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Elhart, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Low, Mr. and Mrs. Chris Reidsma, Mr. and Mrs. Herm Bos and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Westmoreland. FEE PLAN HIT BY G.H. SOLONS

Council Action Is But Part of Protest to Proposal for State Parks

Grand Haven, Nov. 13 (Special)—City council at a special meeting Friday night adopted a resolution citing six points in protest to the proposal of the state conservation commission to charge a 25 cent admission fee for autos entering Grand Haven State park.

The Grand Haven Woman's club also adopted a resolution opposing the proposal Friday and the Chamber of Commerce has addressed a communication to the chairman of the commission entering its objections. Organized labor also is interested in the proposal and Louie Anderson, president of the Central Labor council said a resolution of protest would be presented at its meeting Monday.

The resolution adopted by the council points out that the land on which the park is located was given by the city to the conservation commission and holds that its people are entitled to continued use of this lake frontage without charge; that such a charge would be contrary to the purpose of the city's gift; that many would leave cars parked outside and enter the park on foot, creating a traffic problem which would defy solution; that a charge would be contrary to law and the authority of the commission; that it would be contrary to public rights, particularly the people of Grand Haven, and would be detrimental to the tourist and resort business of this section.

In conclusion the council requested a hearing before the conservation committee before final action is taken on the proposal which also would affect Holland State park.

TIME IS SHORT

IN HUNDREDS of Michigan defense factories, the words "TIME IS SHORT," flanked by the Great Seal of the United States, stand as a solemn reminder.

Your Telephone Company, too, realizes that time is short. We have been driving night and day to meet the vastly increased telephone demand. New buildings, new cable lines, new plant equipment have been supplied faster than ever before.

Today the nation faces shortages in many basic telephone materials. Substitutes are being developed, but there is increasing difficulty in meeting all telephone needs as promptly as in the past. However, we believe you will agree with us that defense must come first.

To keep telephone service at full efficiency for the defense effort, here are several ways in which you can help:

- ★ Give us ample advance notice when you wish to have a telephone connected or disconnected.
- ★ Keep your telephone conversations as short as possible.
- ★ Try to avoid the peak traffic periods—10 A. M. to noon, and 2 to 4 P. M.—especially on Long Distance calls.

FATE OF NATION UP TO CITIZENS, AVERILL HOLDS

But, He Tells Rotary Club, Job Is 'Left Up to Boys in Washington'

"Do the people want to be saved?" George R. Averill, editor and publisher of the Birmingham Eclectic, asked in his address to members of the Holland Rotary club in the Warm Friend tavern last Thursday noon.

Answering this question, Mr. Averill, who was introduced by C. A. French, remarked that if the people do want to be saved, it is entirely within their own power to do so themselves.

"We are a free and independent people with a social and governmental system that affords us the opportunity to shape our nation's destiny, for better or for worse," he said. "At the present time we are living in a state of comparative peace and security. However, this illusion should not become so instilled in our minds as to allow any unwarranted carelessness in regard to the part that we as citizens are entitled and expected to play in our nation's government."

"Unfortunately," he added, the distressing state of affairs which comes as a result of the lack of public participation and investigation into civic affairs, is all too often discovered after the harm has been done. Dictatorships are unsavory political scandals often hatched from this lack of the public sense of civic duty, he said, and it isn't necessary to look very far for examples of such situations.

"Men go to school, read books, are informed of the events of the day through the facilities of the newspaper and the radio," he continued. "It seems that in view of this fact they should always be completely posted on the affairs of their government. Yet in spite of this, it is all too often the case that they leave it up to the boys in Washington and spend all or most of their time and mental resources concentrating on personal furtherances. Therefore, the people should not be too aghast at blazing headlines which cry out of the frequent mix-ups of city, state, and even national politics, and which are usually accompanied by a strong and unsavory stench. It is within their powers to avoid such circumstances."

"You will receive what you earn, you will accomplish what you are capable of, you will be as big as you truthfully are, and as small as your slightest controlling desire. With this idea in mind it is best to make the most of your possibilities; and your possibilities as regards participation in the nation's government are practically limitless. We all know this for a fact but often seem quite indifferent towards it. It would help if we could more fully realize that the system of democracy which we now employ is an inheritance bequeathed to us by our ancestors, an inheritance which they gave us at the expense of their lives."

"Government isn't static, but is subject to improvement or decay. The public is always excited and enthusiastic at election time, but the period between one election and another is usually void of united public sentiment, and as a result becomes stagnant insofar as the people's voice is concerned."

The opening prayer was given by E. E. Fell, superintendent of public schools. Mr. French, publisher of The Sentinel, the club's "youngest" member, was given hearty congratulations on his birthday. Congratulations were also accorded Rotarian Neal Stokette, chairman of the Community chest drive, upon his outstanding success in the campaign. Mr. Stokette answered by thanking the Rotarians for their whole-hearted cooperation with the project. Duncan Weaver, program chairman, announced that next week's guest would be Arch Ward, head of the sports department of the Chicago Tribune.

JURY RULES AGAINST FURNACE COMPANY

Grand Rapids, Nov. 13.—A judgment of $2,295.74 was returned Thursday by a federal jury against the Holland Furnace Co. in favor of Carl G. Probst, administrator of the estate of his father, Walter G. Probst.

The suit was based on the sale of stock in the company which Mr. Probst owned but was sold when payments were defaulted. The plaintiff charged the stock had been disposed of without serving of default notice to the owner as required by law.

Thomas Roach, attorney for the plaintiff, said Mr. Probst, associated with the Holland Furnace Co. for 17 years, five of these as regional director in the eastern states, owned 300 shares of the company's common stock valued at $10,000 in 1931. The firm then purchased an additional 500 shares on Mr. Probst's behalf and the entire 800 shares were then put up as collateral for the latter purchase, Roach said.

According to the attorney, Mr. Probst became ill in 1933 and was confined to his home for four years. The stock, Roach said, was sold on Sept. 18, 1935, without due notice to the plaintiff.

Until 1933, Mr. Probst resided in Holland, later moving to Grand Rapids. His son and administrator, Carl G. Probst, is now a resident of Dearborn and the widow, Mrs. Julia Probst, lives in Pittsburgh.

League Union Has Annual Rally in Bethel Church

More than 200 girls and young women gathered in Bethel Reformed church Friday night for the annual fall rally of the League for Service Union of the Holland class, which includes about 18 societies. This date was selected by the New York board and leagues all over the country held special observances. The evening's theme was "The World His Love Might Know."

Mrs. John R. Kemper, missionary to Mexico, appearing in Mexican costume in green, white and red with serape, sequins and embroidered Mexican symbol of eagle on cactus, gave an interesting account of her experiences in the neighboring country.

Mrs. Kemper said that one of the main criticisms of mission work in Mexico is that it is supposedly a Christian country, but she pointed out that millions there have never heard of Jesus. She said the Protestant church has been in Mexico for only 84 years, that before that time all religious endeavor was Catholic.

The missionary mentioned the time in 1925 when an old law was to be enforced prohibiting missionaries from entering in the country. Many left, she said, but the Kemper stayed on. Now the government makes no opposition.

Missionary schools are not operated in Mexico, the speaker said, adding that the government believes there should be more influence in the home than in the schools. The mission, however, has two hospitals working full force and training nurses. Orphanages also are sustained by the mission.

Norman Taylor of the military service takes the word of God to the camps, Mrs. Kemper related, and it has been through his efforts that many persons have found salvation. She added that the church in the 28 states of Mexico is growing rapidly and that all work is done in Spanish. According to the speaker, the Mexican government now is working on a project to educate the Indians although the Indians do not want schools. The government also has provided the Indians with Bibles in their own tongue and is now working on translating the Bible in the native tongue.

Mexico is a land of beauty and charm, the speaker stated, but the people there are not happy because of the extreme poverty. There has been almost no gradual development in industry and invention and the Mexicans have been thrown from the burro to the airplane, without even the horse and buggy days. DETHMERS WILL AIR COAL CASES

Rushton Appoints Holland Lawyer as His Special Assistant

Lansing, November 13.—Attorney General Herbert J. Rushton said here that John Dethmers, of Holland, had been named special assistant attorney general to represent the state in coal transport hearings before the interstate commerce commission.

Dethmers, a Holland attorney, was in Lansing Tuesday to preside over a conference of coal receivers which was called by the Michigan public service commission.

The state legislature has earmarked $5,000 for participation by the state in the "coal cases of 1941."

The Detroit board of commerce, contending there should be some industrial direction of any efforts which the state might elect to put into the case, urged the state commission to sponsor an assembly wherein the receivers might discuss with Dethmers means by which all Michigan groups could cooperate in a common effort.

Petitions have been filed with the interstate commerce commission by northern and southern coal operators for a reduction of freight rates for coal into Michigan. Besides Michigan, Dethmers will represent other interested groups.

(In accepting the appointment, Dethmers said that the work will not require his absence from the city at any length of time.)
