5,000 Sightseers Visit Todd Farm Near Fennville

Spectacle of 12,000
Canadian Geese Draws
Steady Stream of Cars

Allegan, Nov. 10 (Special)—The spectacle of 12,000 to 13,000 Canadian geese at Sunday dinner drew about 5,000 sightseers to the Todd farm southwest of Fennville Sunday.

Orland Haugen, manager of Swan Creek Wildlife Experiment station, said a steady stream of cars wandering the roads adjoining the 1,600 acre wildlife refuge most of the day.

Many visitors parked along the roadside to listen to the raucous yakity-yak of the geese dining at the expense of the A. M. Todd company's grain and corn fields. Frequently four or five thousand would rise into the air at once in a huge black cloud.

Sunday set a record at Swan Creek where hunters congregate at dawn when the geese leave the marshes for the Fennville feeding place. Haugen counted 550 geese hunters on hand at 7:46 a.m., the most ever seen on a single day. They came from an area as far as Dowagiac, Niles, Benton Harbor, Muskegon and Grand Rapids.

While the Todd farm and Swan Creek annually attract thousands of geese, this season's number is much higher and much earlier than usual, Haugen pointed out. The big birds have gone through a couple corn fields like kids through a bag of candy, to the dismay of Andrew DeGeus, farm manager.

Since the Todd farm is a sanctuary, no shooting is permitted. DeGeus has received permission to chase the birds out, but they simply hop to the next field.

It hasn't helped the crop situation, but it provided a big thrill to Sunday afternoon joy-riders.

Speaker Defines Pension Plans

Problems of providing adequate pensions to Americans 65 years of age and older were explored in a paper read before the Social Progress club Tuesday night by George A. Pelgrim.

The increasing number of older citizens, in relation to the total population, has magnified the problems of providing pensions, Pelgrim said. Tracing the pension movement from older philosophies, when it was considered an individual responsibility to save for earnings enough to provide for old age, Pelgrim described essential differences in pensions now in force.

Strong and weak points of the several systems were detailed. The cost of annuity insurance policies to return $100 a month would cost $15,000 at age 65, Pelgrim said. Few workers reach age 65 with savings sufficient to buy such protection. "Consequently, voluntary savings of individuals can meet only a small part of the need," he said.

"The Federal Old Age Insurance plan is the most satisfactory arrangement for providing income for retired persons in that it avoids four principal weaknesses inherent in most other plans: (1) It covers all jobs in all plants within a given industry, not being limited to the generous or prosperous employers or to plants where unions are strong; (2) it gives enduring protection because it cannot be abrogated at the will of employer or employee, nor do employees lose rights if an employer goes out of business; (3) employees carry their pension rights with them from job to job and employers do not hesitate to hire older workers; (4) aids financially weak employers by uniform costs to all competitors and by equal contributions from all employees," he concluded.

We Must Sacrifice If Democracy Is To Work: E. E. Fell

Every Person Has Equal
Right to Life, Freedom,
And Enjoy Good Things

By E. E. Fell

The theme of American Education Week is "Making Democracy Work." Our democracy is a government of ourselves, by ourselves, and for ourselves. If it works, it is we who make it work. If we are to make it work, we must have the ability and the desire to do so. We must be willing to work hard and to make personal sacrifices to achieve that desire.

In a democracy every person has an equal right to life and freedom and an equal right to acquire and enjoy the good things of life. To have a part in this inheritance is a priceless privilege which we do not always fully appreciate.

To live clean, honest, and useful lives, to make and to enforce just laws by which to govern ourselves, to choose good men and women to administer these laws, to render unselfish service for the good of all, to be good neighbors to the world—these are the great privileges and responsibilities that are involved in the theme of Education Week, making democracy work.

In a democracy every person's vote counts regardless of the ability, vocation, moral character, or economic status of the voter. It is therefore so important that citizens of a democracy possess intelligence and good moral character. It is therefore necessary that our citizens have some knowledge of their government.

They must have the knowledge and skills that will make available to them the thoughts and deeds of those who have lived before and contributed to their culture. And with all this getting of knowledge and skills they must obey the command of the Master Teacher to love their neighbors as themselves and to do to others as they would have others do unto them.

Our schools, as well as our homes and churches, give our youth their directions in life, and as they are, so will be the citizenship of America. The influence of the teacher on the thought and purpose of the student can be a powerful means toward good citizenship. All that a student learns and does has cultural and moral significance. The power and the responsibility of the teacher can hardly be overestimated.

In Glacier park there is a spot where the waters divide, one part winding through mountain passes to the Pacific Ocean, another following its long course to the Gulf of Mexico, and the third flowing off to Hudson Bay. The distance of an inch in the beginning of this falling of waters makes a difference of thousands of miles in the far off destination. Such a point of departure may come in a student's life anywhere in his school career—kindergarten, elementary, high school, college, or university. He must choose carefully when the currents of his intellectual and moral life sweep toward the sea. His destination is at stake.

Our homes, churches, and schools have always been and must remain the safeguards of democracy. Let us make our great national heritage of democracy work and live, from the kindergarten through the great universities of this land, and thus show the world the way to peace and happiness.

Dutch Officials To Visit City

Mayor Melne van Veen and Klaas Jassies, secretary of the town council, both from Enschede, The Netherlands, will arrive in Holland late this week for a one-week stay during which they will confer with city officials and visit local industries.

The visit to Holland has been arranged by the local Netherlands Information bureau office. Enschede, a cotton mill town in The Netherlands, was adopted shortly after World War II by Memphis, Tenn., one of the leading cotton manufacturing cities of the United States.

Through then Mayor Walter Chandler of Memphis, the people helped restore Enschede's damaged cotton industry. The Holland NIB office aided making initial contacts for the exchanges.

College Dramatic Society Entertains Literary Club

A record audience was present at the Woman's Literary club meeting Tuesday afternoon when the Hope college Palette and Masque, dramatic society, presented a variety program.

The program followed a dessert tea honoring 42 new members, who were introduced by Mrs. Clyde Geerlings, president. Executive board members poured at the attractively appointed tables which were decorated in autumn shades of brown, green and yellow. The floral centerpiece was arranged by Mrs. H. P. Harms. Corsages in autumn colors were presented to the new members.

Prof. E. S. Avison of the college speech department, introduced members of Palette and Masque. They presented a one-act play, "Yours and Mine," portraying the domestic troubles of a young couple. Main source of disorder was the husband's father, who lived with the couple. His messy habits nearly forced the young wife, an impeccable housekeeper, to leave. Saving episode and solution to the problem was the father's marriage to a widow, who didn't mind an occasional "mess."

Cast members were June Dunster, Roy Adelberg, Helen Naden and Robert Stoppels. Richard Leonard and Ray Martin were directors.

Program highlights were readings by Richard Leonard and Marvin Mepyns. Leonard effectively presented selections from Carl Sandburg's "The American Song Bag." Mepyns gave Shakespeare selections from "Hamlet" and "Macbeth."

Allegan Council To Vote Monday on New Appraisals

Allegan, Nov. 10 (Special)—Dis- Estimates of the cost of bringing Allegan property valuations up to a 1941 level will be brought before the city council Monday night at a special meeting.

Councilmen heard representatives of two tax appraisal firms describe their work last night.

Gross inequalities in assessments were pointed out as well as the probability that there were properties within the city not on the tax roll at all. The move will not raise city taxes, however, Mayor Walter Kyes stressed, but will merely set up a standard for guidance.

If adopted, the survey would re-value each piece of property according to local building and labor costs, with deductions for depreciation and functional loss. The appraisal would cover residential, commercial, and industrial properties, as well as goods for the personal property tax.

The council, after a year's preparation, passed a zoning ordinance which divides the city into five use districts, residential, A and B, commercial, 1 and 2, and industrial.

Minimum building costs start at $4,000 and go up to $7,000 depending on the neighborhood. Building permits are required before any building, or remodeling may be done within the city. Harbor lines mark the extent to which fills or buildings may project into Kalamazoo river.

Christian PTA Has Lecture on Music

"We need not fear for our Christian young people who have made careers in the field of music, if they have had the proper Christian training," said Dr. Henry Bruinsma in an address to the Holland Christian school PTA group in the Christian high school gym, Thursday night. The speaker is a member of the music department of Calvin college.

After tracing the history of music to Biblical times, and then among Dutch ancestors, Bruinsma deplored the fact that there are so few Christian people working in the field of music. He said there are many openings for people of musical ability. The demand for accomplished musicians is much greater than the present supply, he reported.

"Music was given to man by God to be used by man in God's service," the speaker said. "As in everything else, our goal in music as well, should be to the praise of our God," Bruinsma said. He closed his address by quoting Psalm 150.

In its business session, the association adopted amendments to the constitution. The amendments provide for the inclusion of sectional meetings throughout the season for various groups of parents. They also set the annual May meeting for the election of officers and the reading of reports. Another amendment provided for an addition to the executive committee of the PTA.

After introducing the new teachers, Supt. Bert P. Bos outlined plans for the scheduled sectional meetings. He said although plans are still tentative, a panel discussion on high school problems is pending along with lower grade discussion meetings. He also announced that tentative arrangements have been made for lectures by a mental hygienist early next year. Other talks by Mrs. Bryon Murray, noted child specialist from the University of Michigan extension service, are being planned. Mrs. Murray will lecture on adult education in Holland.

President John Bouwman presided at the meeting and the Rev. Cornelius Wit, pastor of Harderwyk Christian Reformed church, closed with prayer.

Miss Margery Meeter of Lansing, Ill., spent the week-end with her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Rietdyk, and Mary Beth, 1784 South Shore Dr. On Sunday they returned with her and also visited in Chicago and Evergreen Park, returning Tuesday.

John Meppelink, 35, of route 1, Zeeland, paid a $25 fine and $8 costs in municipal court Wednesday after pleading guilty to a state milk law violation. Arrest was by state dairy inspectors.

Williams Praises Public Efforts In Apple Crisis

Chief Executive Talks At Farmers Union Convention in Holland

"The promotion and sale of apples this year is an historic example of community effort," Gov. G. Mennen Williams told delegates to the Farmers Union convention Friday noon.

Gov. Williams spoke at a noon luncheon in the Warm Friend Tavern.

The chief executive cited the specific remedies affected through federal aid, state, civil and private assistance. When it was first learned that Michigan's apple crop was four to five million bushels more than the average yield and prices were slumped below the $1 level, Williams sent his administrative assistant, Edward Mead, to Washington.

The Agriculture department instituted the purchasing program for school lunches that helped drain a good slice of the surplus. The department turned its marketing agencies loose on the problem and today surplus Michigan apples are being sold at a profit in many surrounding and other states.

Prices, meanwhile, climbed from below $1 to $1.50 and $1.60, the governor said.

"It's amazing how everyone got behind the movement and kept plugging," Williams said. "The supply is now about down to normal."

He emphasized the importance of quality packing, proper grading and inspection for apples and all other crops that are shipped out of the state. He said the state has received a few gripes from other states that packages are not uniform and the bottom of barrels are sub-standard apples.

"For the good of the entire industry, we need quality packaging, good grading and inspection to give customers a fair deal and give the farmers a good income," he said.

Williams said this quality program is a part of the Brannan farm plan which he wholeheartedly backs.

"I am very happy to know the Farmers Union supports the Brannan plan which is designed to see that the farmer gets adequate income and all the United States public gets farm produce at reasonable prices," Williams said. "I think that is a very important program."

He lauded the Farmers Union program that includes getting electricity and telephones to rural areas and the efforts to set up various types of co-ops. Williams asked for continued help in these and other matters.

"We in Michigan do have a state of which we can be justly proud and which has an agricultural and industrial potential that is tremendous," he said.

Williams, accompanied by his wife, left Holland immediately following his talk to return to his office at Lansing.

Mayor Harry Harrington preceded Williams on the program and welcomed the farmers and asked them to come back again.

Gov. Williams was presented a bow tie by the group that was hand-painted with a pair of wooden shoes and tulips painted on the ends.

Dutchmen Squeeze Past Harborites For Fifth Victory

Fourth-Quarter Drive Sees Locals Go Over For Lone Touchdown

As one old grad, back for homecoming put it, "They had me on edge, but they finally won."

He referred to Holland high's 6-0 squeak over Benton Harbor Friday night at Riverview park the game.

Holland was loggy, a far cry from the peak the locals reached last week against Kalamazoo Central. The Dutch outdistanced the Harborites in every department, but couldn't strike gold until that fourth-quarter drive.

Benton Harbor on the other hand, played one of its best conference games of the season. Coach Joe Rogers' line was just short of terrific. The Tigers have lost to Muskegon, Muskegon Heights, Kalamazoo Central and tied Grand Haven.

A crowd estimated at 2,500 braved the freezing weather to watch the pre-game homecoming festivities, and the battle between the two conference foes.

The old grads watched Holland pull its season record up to five wins and three setbacks. But the Dutch had a tough time.

Benton Harbor's short punt formation offense bottled up the Holland defense for most of the first half. The Harborites took the ball early in the first quarter on their own 18. With Nate Clark and Herb Popke alternating on through-the-center and off-tackle plays, Benton Harbor moved all the way down to Holland's four-yard line before the Dutch forward wall held and the ball went over.

Holland retaliated with a drive back down the field a few minutes later that carried all the way to Benton Harbor's 13 before the locals had to give up.

However, the first half story was mostly a punting duel between the Tiger's Bill Rahn and Holland's Paul Vander Meer. A few Dutch fumbles in critical spots proved expensive.

The touchdown drive began in the waning moments of the third quarter. Rahn punted to Ron Bekius who caught the ball on Holland's 45 and returned to the 49. On three plays, Holland picked up just five yards and Bruce Van Voorst went back in punt formation with fourth down and five to go.

Instead of punting, Van Voorst heaved a bulleye into the arms of lanky Bob Armstrong who was downed in his tracks on Benton Harbor's 24. That play put the Dutch over the hump with a first down.

Bob Tasma was the big gun in the goalward drive from there as he ripped off an eight, 12 and one yard gain before blasting through left tackle for the score.

Tasma tried a buck for the point but was stopped short.

Benton Harbor struck back but couldn't get any further than Holland's 21, where the game ended.

Bruce Van Voorst, Glenn Essenberg and Jack Kuipers were the best for the Dutch. Ora Clark, Popke, Cliff Appelget and Weatherly were standouts for the Tigers.

Road Commission Denies Rumors Of Irregularities

Newspaper Editorial Had Deplored Negative Vote in Investigation

Allegan, Nov. 10 (Special) — Replying to an editorial in an Allegan newspaper, the Allegan County Road Commission has issued an official statement denying rumors of an "irregular" business transaction.

The paper had reported the story in connection with an editorial deploring the fact supervisors had voted down an investigation of the road committee. The editorial said the public deserves the right to learn the truth. The rumor it mentioned involved sale of a $10,000 crane for $500.

Signed by Chalmers Monteith, chairman, G. C. Anderson and R. B. Crandall, members, and Homer Ward, engineer, the statement said the only power shovel sold by the board was a 1935 model which originally cost $4,635. After many years of service (repair bills in 1947 and 1948 cost $2,271) the commission decided costs were too high, and funds for a new shovel were earmarked in the 1949 budget.

The old shovel was advertised and sold to Ronald Wendt of Allegan for a high bid of $1,200, the commission said. The group said no resident ever appeared before the commission or approached any commissioner individually to make a cash offer, large or small, for this equipment as listed.

"Our records prove absolutely false the editorial rumor that the used crane was purchased for over $10,000 and sold for $500. We also feel the board of supervisors has the perfect right to vote as their judgment dictates."

Saturday Night Closing Okayed

Retail merchants of Holland will close Saturday nights, effective sometime after Jan. 1.

Of the 71 ballots cast, almost two to one favored the proposal. Ballots were counted at the monthly meeting of the retail merchants division of the Chamber of Commerce this morning in the Dutch Mill.

Another night, preferably Monday or Friday, will be substituted for Saturday. A poll will be taken of the merchants who voted to stay open Saturdays, to determine another night.

Although exact details haven't been worked out, President George Good, said the new hours will not go into effect until after the first of the year.

The decision marks the end of three-years work and study by the Chamber of Commerce in co-operation with merchants. In other business, it was voted to begin collections of assessments for downtown Christmas season decorations. Each merchant is assessed according to front footage. The merchants discussed special Christmas shopping hours before adjournment.

Bethel Reformed church

Bethel Reformed Church Marks 25th Anniversary

Bethel Reformed church will celebrate the 25th anniversary of its founding at special services next week. The attractive structure, located on the corner of 18th St. and Van Raalte Ave., is the outgrowth of an idea which developed into a tiny mission and finally the present structure and congregation of almost 200 families.

An anniversary Sunday school meeting Sunday at 11 a.m. will begin the celebration. The Sunday evening service at 7 will feature an anniversary sermon by the present pastor, the Rev. C. G. Reynen. His subject will be "A Call to Advance" based on the text, "Ye have compassed this mountain long enough — rise ye up, take your journey."

The official anniversary service is scheduled for Tuesday evening. The Rev. Gerrit Tyse will speak on "Early Beginnings" and Dr. Seth Vander Werf will speak on "Flourishing Like the Palm Tree." Other speakers will be the Rev. E. H. Tanis, first pastor of the church, and the Rev. Charles A. Stoppels, another former pastor. They will speak on "The Salt of the Earth" and "Why Churches Tick," respectively.

On Wednesday evening a fellowship service will be held, with music by the Tulip Four and films for both adults and children. A social period, featuring "Old Reminiscences," will follow the program.

The public is invited to all of the services.

The idea for founding of Bethel church arose in 1922 when Dr. E. J. Blekkink, Dr. Seth Vander Werf and the Rev. C. P. Dame surveyed possibilities of an English speaking church in the southwest section of Holland. Property was purchased and the Board of Domestic Missions built a tiny chapel for Sunday school and initial services. The chapel was dedicated Dec. 16, 1923. On May 12, 1924, Edward Tanis, student at Western Theological seminary, came to serve the church for the summer months.

The church was finally organized on Sept. 2, 1924. The Rev. M. A. Stegeman presided at the meeting with the Rev. James Wayer and Rev. Dame as co-members of the committee. Thirty-four members were received by letter and 11 on confession of faith.

On Jan. 19, 1925, it was voted to call Tanis, then a seminary senior, to be pastor. He was ordained and installed on June 3 of that year. The congregation continued to grow and the tiny chapel became inadequate for the 85 families in the congregation.

Thus, plans for the present building came about. The structure was completed in July, 1929. Soon after, on Sept. 15, 1930, Rev. Tanis left to become pastor of a Grand Rapids church.

The Rev. Charles A. Stoppels of Hull, Iowa, accepted a call to Bethel church on Dec. 8, 1930. He remained until 1948, when he accepted a call to the Reformed church at Sully, Iowa. Under his leadership, Bethel church grew to its present numbers and many improvements were made in the church itself, including the installation of a pipe organ and a new heating system.

Rev. Reynen became pastor soon after Rev. Stoppels' departure.

MICHIGAN MEDICINE

A dream that first took form in World War I is about to be realized at Ann Arbor. Thirty years ago, under the dynamic vision of Dr. Marion Leroy Burton, the University of Michigan laid the plans for a great center of medical treatment, teaching and research.
President Burton persuaded the legislation to begin it by construction of the 886-bed University Hospital.

With our entry into the war
building costs soared, interest flagged and the huge concrete shell of the hospital remained incomplete for several years. One of President Burton's last accomplishments before his death was to persuade the state to finish the
hospital.

Now, with the aid of a $3,000,000
gift from the Sebastian Kresge Foundation of Detroit the total dream of a University Medical Center is about to be realized.
Grudgingly the legislature last year provided enough money to complete another hospital unit,
for maternity patients, to replace a 60-year-old structure. State funds have also provided a rehabilitation center for veterans nearby.

The Kresge gift makes possible immediate erection of a medical research building adjacent to the hospital. Here will be centered research activities scattered over the present campus. Next on the construction schedule will be a $3,000,000 out-patient clinic, a $10,000,000 medical classroom building and a $2,000,000 children's hospital.

These structures will provide a new medical campus at Ann Arbor and permit the removal of such classes from old buildings on the central campus. Their erection will serve to protect the health of Michigan residents in two principal ways. First, the new center will permit many more patients to be served, both in the hospital and in the out-patient clinic. Second, it will provide for a long-needed expansion in the Michigan facilities for training doctors and nurses.

With an enrollment of some 500,
and a yearly admission of 150
new students, the University of Michigan now has one of the largest medical schools in the country. Even so, some 1,500 applicants are screened each year to select the fortunate 150 permitted to enroll. At least 50 more students can be added to each class when the center is operating.

Thirty years is a long time to wait for the fulfillment of a dream. And all but the $3,000,000
Kresge gift for the ultimate $25-000,000 expenditure still must come out of state appropriations.
Thanks to Merchant Kresge's generosity, however, the people seem assured of this added service to their health at the University.

Lubbers Cites Need for Gym at Kiwanis Meeting

The need for a new gymnasium
by Hope college was brought to Kiwanians Monday night by Dr.
Irwin J. Lubbers, president of the college.

Dr. Lubbers, pointing to the outstanding science building and chapel now on the campus, said,
"The time has come when we must get in the swing of the field of physical education as we have done in science and religion."

A survey of Holland is to be made soon to determine the feeling of the public toward the construction of a gymnasium which may be used by the public as well as the college, Dr. Lubbers said. However, he emphasized, that any gifts given the college
in way of financing construction of this type building must belong to the college.

Daniel Vander Werf, Jr., club president, conducted the meeting and introduced Marvin C. Linde-man and Henry Steffens as guests of the club.

The program was in charge of Tony Last. Group singing was led by Harold Gosting, accompanied by Franklin Van Ry.

First scheduled radio broadcast
in history was made over station
KDKA in Pittsburgh, November
2, 1920.

The Suffering Servant
Isaiah 53:1-12

By Henry Geerlings

The second section of the prophecy of Isaiah is called the "Book of Comfort." In it the prophet sees his people in captivity, undergoing that spiritual discipline which was necessary in order to bring them back to an appreciation of Jehovah as the one true God. He realizes that the period of their bondage is nearing its end, and that better things are in store for them. But in this picture, and crowding every corner of it, is "my servant," the suffering servant of Jehovah, Jesus Christ.

The prophet declares that this Servant will deal wisely and prudently, and by this process will bring His cause to success. His humility is not inconsistent with His exaltation, for although He is a servant, He is also to be a king. His influence over nations is not to be brought about by any external authority, but by wisdom and grace.

Astonishment is expressed at the high position He has reached because of His sufferings and appearance which do not produce a good effect upon His contemporaries. Still even those who despise and reject Him will be led to accept His greatness through what He suffers in their behalf. Kings themselves will recognize His supremacy and maintain an amazed silence in His presence.

Though Isaiah is speaking to unbelieving hearts, he looks down the centuries and sees that the Savior's words would not be more cordially received then. The Jews in the prophet's time could not understand why they had to suffer.
They had not made room for it in their thinking; and just so the people in our Lord's day
could not understand His humility and weakness, and the necessity of His death on the cross. Because He was what He was, and made little display of kingly pomp and power, He became a stumbling block to the Jews and foolishness to the Greeks. It is true the power of God was made manifest in the life and words of Jesus, but those who looked on could not see it. It conveyed no special revelation to them. Their eyes were blind and their ears deaf.

As we read the second verse of the chapter we might think that the prophet has turned historian, and that he is recording what has already come to pass, rather than predicting what lay in the future.
But that is characteristic of the prophetic message. It gives reality to the message. He is here saying that the people looked upon Jesus not as a strong tree, graceful and to be admired, but as an obscure, insignificant and unattractive plant that tries to extract
a bit of nourishment from parched soil. In their eyes the Messiah did not attract people as they expected Him to do.

Not only did the Servant fail to attract His contemporaries. There was that in His appearance which excited positive aversion. He is one represented as stricken with disfiguring diseases so that men instinctively recoiled from him. In short they rejected Him because He did not rise above the common lot of weakness and suffering. A few of the nations received Him but most of them especially of influence and distinction, refused to associate with Him. He seemed to identify himself with sorrow. He was his familiar friend and people turned away, taking no account of him.

Under the most inhuman treatment Jesus offered no resistance, but suffered submissively for our sakes. That was something new in the Old Testament. Even the Jeremiah and Job cried out in pain, protesting their innocence and confessing their guilt. The way Jesus went was appointed by the Father. He knew it was part of the Cup He was to drink. What held Him to His course was the knowledge that through His passion the world would be redeemed.

The Messiah was not given a fair trial. It was by oppression and in defiance of justice that He was brought to His death. The story we have in the gospels fully confirms these facts. The procedure was in utter disregard of the ordinary protection granted the accused by the law. His generation was ignorant. They did not comprehend that His death was for their transgression. The stroke belonged to them, but it fell on Him. Not knowing what it was all about, but supposing that He was experiencing the divine wrath, no one seemed willing to interpose an objection to the visitation of cruelty upon Him.

In His life Jesus chose to associate with sinners and outcasts;
and in His death He was hung between two thieves. It was intended by the authorities that He should be identified with criminals.

The Messiah looked upon the blessed effects of His sufferings and was satisfied; and this was not because there was a drop of joy in His pain, but because through it He revealed the loving heart of God, and witnessed the increase of His followers — the fruits of His bearing the sins of the whole world. And because He poured out His soul unto death for sinners, He shall not only number His disciples from among the lowly and the ignoble, but also from among the great, and His kingdom will exceed in strength and influence all the kingdoms of the world. A conclusion as glorious as that is inseparably tied up with the suffering of the Savior.

HHS Nursing Program
In Co-operative SetupFederal Spending
Scathed by Ford

Rep. Gerald Ford addressed members of the Holland Exchange club at their noon luncheon meeting Monday at the Warm Friend Tavern. His subject was "What Has Taken Place in Washington
in Recent Months."

The speaker reminded his listeners that good citizenship is a year-round job and before they criticize others they should search their own souls to see if they have lived up to their maximum ability.

Two things, he said, cause him great concern—one being the tendency of Congress to spend too much money. Appropriations made by the last legislature exceed the sale value of every home in the United States, and the value of every farm. Ford said even these,
a deficit of $3 billion is anticipated
by June 30, 1950. "The time must come soon when people will be willing to sacrifice some of the services now received from the government," he said.

A second concern of Rep. Ford is the concentrated effort of the executive branch of the government to take over legislative rights. Every bureaucrat in Washington seems to be determined to extend his own little empire, he said.

Ford concluded his talk with a plea for every citizen to put himself solidly behind the recommendations made by the Hoover commission and see that it becomes
law. "By so doing we can prevent the bureaucrats from assuming complete control and Congress from becoming a mere rubber stamp for them," he said.

President Richard Martin presided at the meeting with nearly 100 per cent membership attendance. Exchangeite Chapman presented Monte Dyer of Senior high school as Junior Exchangeite for the month. S. Partington of Hope college was received as a member from the Grand Rapids Exchange club.

Other visitors were A. A. Visscher, Rep. Henry Geerlings and W. D. Barber.

Serious Crowding Forces Second School Election

Allegan System Already Using Legion Home; Parents Ask Change

Allegan, Nov. 10 (Special)—Serious overcrowding of the public schools and repeated requests from parents are the two reasons for a second election on the school bond question coming up Dec. 6, the board of education stated today in an official statement.

Voters will ballot on a $490,000 bond issue which would build a new grade school near the present high school.

The board pointed out that one grade already is housed in the legion home, having been crowded out of North Ward school, and that two more groups may face the same fate next year.

"The other reason that prompted our action was the large number of requests coming from parents, particularly those whose children are affected by the crowded conditions, that they be given another opportunity to vote for a new school building at the earliest time," the statement said.

"We wish to say that there is no change in the proposed plans from those offered last spring. For several years we have given much time and a great deal of study to our school housing problem. We have asked for help and suggestions from the public. We have had the advice and counsel of outside agencies. As a result, we have developed a plan which is our judgment most economically and effectively solves our present problem.

Construction costs, the board explained, allowed the cut from the originally $600,000 issue. It said it had been advised that further reductions could not be anticipated for some time.

Don Voorhorst, former Holland resident and a graduate of Holland high and Hope college, has taken a position as sales manager for the Automatic Poultry Feeder Co. of Zeeland, makers of the Big Dutchman feeder. He succeeds Jack De Witt, one of the owners, who is now vice president. Voorhorst, son of Mrs. Alice Voorhorst of route 5, founded the Voorhorst Distributing Agency in Marion, Ohio, in 1946. Previously he taught seven years at Hudsonville Junior high school and later was associated with the Michigan Blueberry association. He and Mrs. Voorhorst and their two children now live at Zeeland.

Zeeland Gridders Win Final Contest To Go Undeclared

Zeeland, Nov. 10 (Special)—Hats off to Zeeland high school's football team.

Friday night the Chix defeated Plainwell to complete the first undefeated season since the school started a football team.

The score was 12-7. The precious victory also gives Zeeland undisputed possession of the Tri-County crown.

It was a personal triumph for Coach Joe Newell who came back to Zeeland this fall after a four-year absence. Newell has done a masterful job of fighting down overconfidence all season and at the same time kept the players keyed to win eight straight games.

Zeeland had to fight tooth and nail for every inch against the strong Plainwell team at Zeeland.

Christian School Plans Open House

Open house for parents will be held in the Holland Christian schools on Thursday night, Sept. 10, at 8 p.m. announced today. It is being held in observance of American Education Week.

Parents may visit the respective classrooms in grades kindergarten through eight from 7 to 9 p.m. and the high school from 8 to 10 p.m. Teachers will be in their rooms to confer with parents, it was announced. Bos said no attempt is being made to have an exhibit, but merely to have the parents see the natural classroom situation, including some of the pupils' daily work.

"We are anxious to have as many parents as possible turn out. I think they will realize more fully what it means to work under crowded conditions. Our teacher-pupil ratio in the grades is 38 pupils, while the high school average is 33. All parents should avail themselves of this opportunity to discuss these and other problems with our teaching staff," he said.

The regular procedure of having parents follow the pupils' daily class schedule in the high school has been omitted this year to allow more time for conferences with teachers, school officials emphasized.

The superintendent also called attention to the fact that Christian Education Week is also being held this week in conjunction with the national observance. He said, "The observance of American Education Week in our schools is one way of directing attention to the importance of the school as an instrument for the improvement of the Christian way of life."

Hope Orchestra To Give Concert

The Hope college orchestra will present its first concert of the season Thursday at 8:15 p.m. in the Reformed Memorial chapel. Morette Rider is conductor.

Program features will include "A Short Overture to an Unwritten Opera," which was written in 1945 by Don Gillis, music production director of a large broadcasting company. It is written in modern idiom with emphasis on rhythmic patterns. The Purcell "Trumpet Prelude" will be presented, featuring Richard Ruch of Holland, Gordon Cox of Chicago and Calvin Swart of De Motte, Ind., in the solo parts. The Prelude, originally written for organ, was only recently arranged for orchestra.

Other works will include "On the Steppes of Central Asia," by Borodin, a musical portrait of a Russian caravan crossing the plains; "Toccata," by Frescobaldi, polka from "Schvanda the Bagpiper," by Weinberger, and "Siegfried Idyll," by Wagner. The latter was written by Wagner as a Christmas present for his wife in 1870. It is a work for chamber orchestra, consisting of eight wind instruments and strings. The public is invited.

Charter Group Talks Finances

The charter revision commission voted Thursday night to change the dates of the city's fiscal year to coincide with the federal government and with the city tax collections.

Meeting in the council chamber of the city hall, the nine-member group decided that July 1 would be a logical date to start each year on the books for Holland under the proposed new charter.

Under the present municipal set up, the city begins its fiscal year on the third Monday in March.

The commissioners approved a plan whereby all city officers and departments will submit an itemized estimate of expenditures for the next fiscal year to the city manager by Feb. 15. The city manager in turn would prepare a complete itemized budget and submit it to council on or before April 1.

Council would adopt its budget by the first meeting in May. City tax payments would begin on July 1 and the same penalties for non-payment as presently in effect, would be included.

After the budget has been adopted, no money shall be drawn from the treasury except budget appropriations. However, council can take any unencumbered appropriation and transfer it from one department to another by a majority vote and on recommendation of the manager.

The city clerk and mayor, with council approval, must sign warrants for treasury expenditures. The city auditor would sign the checks to pay the warrants.

George Sidwell, charter consultant, attended the meeting.

Railroad Quitting Passenger Trains Through Holland

Post Office Readies Star Route Service With Grand Rapids

For the first time in a long time, no passenger trains will come in or go out of Holland during the day the 12 and a half hours from 5 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

The Chesapeake and Ohio railroad company announced recently that effective Nov. 20, two day-time trains will be permanently discontinued.

They are train No. 3 that arrives in Holland at 8:30 a.m. from Grand Rapids en route to Chicago, and train No. 6, that stops in Holland at 2:30 p.m. en route from Chicago to Grand Rapids.

Holland post office, in an effort to keep up its present service that was handled by the two trains, is accepting bids for star route truck service between Holland and Grand Rapids, and return.

The star route will leave Holland at 5:30 a.m. and arrive in Grand Rapids at 7 a.m. after stopping at points en route. It will return to Holland at approximately 11 a.m. with the Detroit mail load in time to make afternoon deliveries.

The second route will leave Holland at approximately 3:30 p.m. over the same route and return about 7 p.m.

The Muskogean to Holland streamliner, recently discontinued, will be re-established Nov. 20.

The new route will leave trains No. 2 and 8 on the Chicago and Grand Rapids run.

Service from Grand Rapids will include trains stopping in Holland at 5:53 p.m. and 1:25 a.m. The other way, from Chicago to Grand Rapids, is via trains that stop in Holland at 9:53 p.m. and 4:45 a.m.

Time changes for the two trains are anticipated before Nov. 20 to provide more convenient service.

Dutchmen Lose Four-Mile Run

Hope college's cross-country team saw its ideas of an MIAA title dashed Saturday at Albion by a record shattering four-mile run by Albion's Ted Hagadone.

The Britons, defending champs, beat the locals 17-48.

Albion runners crossed the tape for the first three places. Hagadone's winning time was 21:50 minutes.

Don Vander Voort was second and Carl Cappel came in third.

Ivan Huyser, Hope's No. 1 man, placed fourth. Huyser was a doubtful starter because of a twisted ankle that kept him away from practice most of the week.

Jack Sharp of Albion finished fifth.

"Can you imagine a stack of buckwheat cakes as high as a 27-story building?" asks an advertiser. No; we don't care so much for buckwheat cakes. But we can imagine a blueberry pie as large as Lake Michigan.

Four-year-old Larry Speet, standing, is glad to be back home again with his lively fox terrier "Bubbles" and his twin brother, Gary. Larry spent seven weeks in Grand Rapids after being stricken with polio in mid-September. Now he is almost completely well except for a weakness in his left shoulder necessitating a sling for his arm. During his absence Bubbles got lost, but after wide advertising, was returned. Gary didn't feel so well either—but the doctor concluded he was only homesick for his twin, not getting polio. Now they're all happy. (Sentinel photo)

Larry Happily Reunited With 'Bubbles' and Twin

Four-year-old Larry Speet was glad to be home today.

You'd be glad too if you had had polio and was gone from home seven weeks separated from your twin brother and your dog.

First to greet him when he arrived home Thursday were his identical twin, Gary, and their excited fox terrier, Bubbles.

Bubbles figured prominently in the news the latter part of September when she disappeared a couple of days after Larry entered Blodgett hospital. Larry cried to see Bubbles and Larry's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Speet, tried every device to keep the child happy.

Seven-year-old Bobby Elenbaas offered his black and white Tuxie, but Larry wasn't interested. It wasn't Bubbles. On Oct. 1, the family recovered Bubbles through aid of the police. The dog apparently had strayed from home and had been picked up by a new-comer family which didn't understand the language too well.

Larry feels fine. A mighty sick little boy for a time, it was feared he might be an iron lung patient and a lung was kept outside his door. Paralysis affected his arms and legs. His legs are almost entirely better, although he wears orthopedic shoes. There is a weakness in his left shoulder and he carries his left arm in a sling.

"Now I can tell the difference between the twins," Mrs. Speet said.

Campaign Leader Praises Workers For Their Efforts

SSP Gave Major Share To Successful Quest; Money Still Coming

Holland's Community Chest drive went over the top Wednesday.

Contributions to the most comprehensive drive in history, exceeded the assigned quota by $336.27. As of noon, collections amounted to $37,669.27. The quota was $37,333.

Most divisions made or exceeded their quotas, according to campaign chairman George Good, and contributions still are coming.

The total amount, largest ever raised in Holland, was obtained in just 24 days since the drive started Oct. 17.

Good credited the Single Solicitation Plan, inaugurated for the first time this year, for a major share of making the drive a success. The industrial division raised more than $20,000 on the basis of payroll deductions and direct contributions. A total of 41 plants participated in the Single Solicitation plan.

"We appreciate the relentless efforts of all workers and contributors, in each division for their untiring efforts in reaching the quota," Good said. "And we ask all workers to continue their collections to boost the total."

"It is gratifying to see the manner in which the people of Holland have responded to the Community Chest drive," Good said.

The drive will not be officially ended until every prospect card has been turned into campaign headquarters, he pointed out.

"A quota is a minimum goal," Good stressed. "By making it we have gone over the bottom, not the top. There is a great need in Holland for human services and every additional dollar that can be collected will be used for furthering the interests of this community."

O. W. Lowry, chairman of the Single Solicitation Plan, pleaded with workers to continue contributions throughout the year. And Good joined Lowry in asking factories to sign up new employees, as they are hired to replace any that are discharged.

By making the Community Chest goal through payroll deductions, the 41 factories also have raised funds for the Red Cross and polio drives, Good said.

After absorbing that 31-0 licking from Grand Rapids last Saturday night, the locals are fired up and want to put on a showing that they, and their coaches, think they can.

Holland wasn't in the ball game Saturday night and a few instructions here and there could reverse the picture in the Canes favor Thursday night.

With their sights on the fourth victory of the season, the Canes will workout tonight at 19th St. field.

After tonight's session, Coaches Ed Damsen and Jay Van Hoven are expected to announce a starting lineup for Thursday's game.

Holland Hurricanes Host Potent Flint Blue Devils Thursday Night

Holland Hurricane Coaches Ed Damsen and Jay Van Hoven took inventory of their team Tuesday night as the Canes practiced for the Flint Blue Devil game Thursday.

The results were disheartening. Coaches found that the Grand Rapids game took a lot out of the players and at least three are doubtful starters Thursday night because of injuries.

Center Norm Paquin had two ribs broken and reported Tuesday all taped up. Quarterback Howie Peterson, who was switched to guard for the Grand Rapids game because of an earlier shoulder injury, has a separated shoulder and probably won't play much—if at all.

Tackle George Botsis had five stitches taken in his jaw and will have to take it easy if he does play. Speedster Don Leeuw is pestered with a recurring leg injury.

The coaches also found a sprinkling of assorted bumps and bruises among the other players.

And the local mentors are frankly worried because they know the Flint invaders are one of the best independent ball clubs in Michigan. Flint up until a couple of weeks ago, had won 17 straight games without defeat.

And the Blue Devils play Indiana, Michigan and Illinois teams that rank almost in the professional ranks.

Coaches sent their men through offensive drills Tuesday night at the 19th St. practice field and promise a lively single-wing attack in Thursday's game. Jason De Vries and Don Moeller will alternate at the line-plunging post and Bob Ohts will be at quarterback. Red Hulst and either Don Leeuw or Bettie Morse will be at the left half position.

Morse showed his stuff in his first appearance with the Canes against Grand Rapids last Saturday night. The fleet and shifty Fennville back picked up quite a few yards on end sweeps.

The Canes will lay off tonight to allow the bruises to heal. Kick-off time at Riverview park Thursday is 8:30 p.m.

Following the game, the "Gridiron Stomp" will be held at the Woman's Literary club.

Ted Wierda of 152 Van Raalte Ave., and Mary Terpsma of 595 Columbia Ave., each paid $1 parking fines.

Holland Travels to Grand Haven Friday for Ottawa Champ Contest

Holland is a lopsided favorite to dump Grand Haven Friday night and end the season with a six win, three loss record.

The traditional game at Green field in Grand Haven is for the Ottawa county championship and a pair of wooden shoes that right now is in the Grand Haven high school trophy case.

However, Holland fans know they must discount all that previous score business in this annual classic. Grand Haven, a team beset with just about every type of misfortune imaginable this season, can be expected to do their best work against Holland.

Coach Ted Kjolhede has had trouble after trouble this season and to add to his dismal outlook, a car rammed the team bus en route home from Midland early last Saturday morning and one player will be sidelined during the Holland game because of injuries received in the mishap.

He is End Bob Bulkema who was advised by his dentist to turn in his uniform because his jawbone was cracked and four lower front teeth loosened in the bus-car crash.

Grand Haven in eight games so far this season, has won one and tied another. That leaves six defeats. The Bucs opened by defeating Ludington 19-12 and tied Benton Harbor 0-0 the following week. Since that time the scores have been against Grand Haven as follows: Muskegon 20-0; Kalamazoo 19-0; Ionia 13-0; Muskegon Heights 18-0; Lansing Eastern 27-0 and Midland 38-13.

Against the Midland Chemics last Friday, Grand Haven had a 7-0 lead before the game was two minutes old. But the Bucs couldn't stop the Chemic passes and were bested 38-13.

Twelve Holland players will be playing their final game wearing the red and white jerseys. And the Dutch will be out to clinch third place in the Southwest conference. Right now Holland is tied with Muskegon Heights for the third spot, behind Kalamazoo Central and Muskegon.

Grand Haven's hopes for the upset this week will be bolstered by homecoming festivities. The two-day affair includes a parade, queen and all that glitter that can help up almost any team.

In the only other game that has any bearing on the final Southwest conference standings, Muskegon hosts Muskegon Heights Saturday afternoon in the traditional "dog-eat-dog" struggle.

Standings:

	W	L	T	Pct.
Kalamazoo	4	0	1	.900
Muskegon	3	0	1	.875
Holland	2	2	0	.500
Muskegon Hgts.	2	2	0	.500
Grand Haven	0	3	1	.125
Benton Harbor	0	4	1	.000

But in the third period, Coach Joe Newell's lads broke loose. Allegan had punted out of bounds on the Zeeland 2.

Zeeland had to battle every inch of the way to the Allegan 10. On the next play Raterink flipped a short pass to Mick Zuverink who lateraled to Jim Boonstra. Boonstra swept wide and scored standing up. The try for conversion was no good.

In the fourth quarter, Allegan again punted out of bounds on the Zeeland 25. In a repeat performance, the Chix started a drive that carried all the way to the Allegan 15 from where Raterink skirted right end for the score. This time Herm Nienhuis added the point on a plunge through center.

A fumble and recovery on the Allegan 35 set the stage for the final tally. Milt Meyard scored off his left tackle from the 15. The attempted extra point try was no good.

Zeeland dominated offensive play most of the evening as it made 17 first downs to those two in the first half for Allegan.

Newell called Zeeland's defensive play the major contribution to victory.

Mick Zuverink, Barry Van Koeveering and Denny De Haan were the standouts.

The entire Zeeland team, especially the backfield, was good on offense. Newell said it was the best blocking by backs that he has seen this season.

In the fourth quarter, Raterink was running a punt back when the lights flickered and went out. Raterink might have walked over the goal, but quick-thinking officials stopped play.

Zeeland Gridders Rout Allegan Team In Crucial Game

Allegan, Nov. 3 (Special) — Zeeland high school's powerhouse football team reached its peak Friday night at Allegan and the Chix went home with a 19-0 victory.

Zeeland waited six long years for a victory over the Tigers and it came during a season that hadn't seen the Chix beaten in six games. The Allegan victory made it seven.

There wasn't much doubt as to which was the better team on the field, although it took two quarters before the Zeelanders could get over the Allegan goal.

The Chix marched up and down the field the first two quarters. However, they couldn't push through the Allegan defense for a clincher. Brilliant Allegan punts, away from Zeeland safety man Bern Raterink, and out of bounds, kept the Chix back in their own territory.

In that first half, the Chix made eight first downs to two for the home team.

In a letter to Dr. Irwin J. Lubbers, college president, Rep. Included in the collection are 41 volumes on the United States foreign relations which contain reports on this country's dealings with foreign nations. There are 13 volumes on the Paris peace negotiations and three volumes on U. S. relations with Japan. Another valuable set of documents include the Lansing papers covering the first World War. The Rev. Theodore Schaap and the Rev. Raymond Schaap, brothers, seem to have their destinies intertwined.

Sons of Mr. and Mrs. C. Schaap of 435 College Ave., Holland, the ministers seem to have a habit of landing in the same class when they move from pastorate to pastorate.

They started out 14 years ago graduating from the same class at Western Theological seminary and taking pastorates at De Motte, Ind., in the Indiana Reformed church classis.

Later they were in the Grand Rapids classis when Theodore served in Grand Rapids and Raymond in Vriesland. Still later both accepted Chicago charges, placing them in the Illinois (or Illinois) classis.

Early this year Raymond and his family moved to Alendale in the Muskegon classis and this week Theodore, his wife, and their son Ronnie and their seven-year-old twin daughters, Dorian and Sharon, moved to Muskegon after 44 years at First Reformed church of Englewood, Chicago.

Three Civil Suits Filed in Allegan Circuit Court

Allegan, Nov. 10 (Special) — Three civil suits as a result of automobile accidents have been filed in Circuit Court.

Ernest Gordon Race is asking $50,000 judgment from William and Dale Bush, Fennville, for injuries he claims to have received in an accident Dec. 27, 1948. Race, an army private, said he was hospitalized at Percy Jones hospital in Battle Creek until last August and claims he is partially paralyzed from the waist down because of the injuries.

He claims he was a passenger in the Bush car on a 90-mile an hour ride near Saugatuck which ended in a crash.

George E. Boerigter has filed suit for $40,000 against Edison Crowe, Saugatuck, after an accident last April in Hamilton, in which he claim to have suffered permanent injuries. Crowe has filed an answer denying driving negligence.

Lela Marie Martin, 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Martin, Fennville, is asking $25,000 for disfigurement of her left arm which she says was the result of an accident in 1937. Defendant is Mrs. Rena L. Goodrich, Allegan, who denies responsibility for the intersection accident in Ganges township and charges the arm injury must have happened subsequent to the 1937 mishap.

Smaller suits are: Norman H. Stoner versus William A. Koprach, $820 for boarding Koprach's dogs; West Michigan Sash and Door Co. and as assignee of the Hamilton Block and Roofing Tile Co., versus George and Mary Peet and the Peet Lumber Co., Allegan, $350; Cherokee Manufacturing Co. of Barnesville, Ga., versus Allegan Casket Co., $1,274.

Foreign Markets Seeking Imports

Holland business firms, through the European Co-Operative administration, may find an export market for their goods.

Application blanks that tell the story of a business, describe the articles for sale, are available at the Holland Chamber of Commerce office.

After the ECA receives the application blanks in its Washington, D.C. office, the foreign aid agency catalog products and distribute lists to European importers and agencies that place ECA financed orders.

The ECA is arranging field counseling groups to help manufacturers process their articles and get through "the ropes" of foreign trade.

The farm course is one of several new courses designed for students not going on to higher education. A double track mathematics plan also has been launched, one for students who plan to enter vocations along technical lines and the other giving background for advanced mathematics.

Farm Problems Course Is New at Junior High

In the last year or two, new courses have been added to the Junior high school curriculum to appeal to and fulfill the needs of the non-college student.

The Farm Problems course is being given for those interested in agriculture. A double track plan has been adopted by the mathematics department to accommodate those not going on to higher education as well as those who are.

According to Leon N. Moody, who is teaching the Farm Problems class this year, the group will study livestock feeding, soil conservation, crop rotation, seed selection, storage, farm markets and farm arithmetic. The course also includes judging and scoring of cattle, horses, hogs, sheep, and poultry.

In order that this course may be as practical as possible, the students are going out into the community to apply the knowledge they have gained in the classroom. Last week the group took its first trip to a farm for the inspection of a dairy herd.

Two other trips are planned: One to the Farm Bureau for the study of poultry killing and storage, and another to do some judging and scoring.

The mathematics curriculum is divided into two sections, one of which is referred to as the sequential courses and the other as the general courses. The sequential courses are designed for and recommended, through the guidance program, to students who plan to enter vocations along the technical lines. The general track is recommended for those who do not plan to follow these vocations but do recognize the need for training in mathematics beyond the eighth grade. Algebra I and II are offered in the ninth grade in the sequential group while General Mathematics I and II are offered in the general group.

Because of the growing need for two types of curriculum, more will probably be done in the next few years to provide other courses for the non-college student.

Christian Coach Has Five Veterans For Cage Squad

Five lettermen will form the nucleus for Coach Arthur Tuls' Holland Christian basketball squad this season. With the opening contest with Zeeland less than three weeks away, the Maroon mentor has been drilling his cagers for the past week. During the crucial next two weeks, he must select his starting five from the 13 remaining members of the squad. Tuls made one cut from the original turnout.

"As usual, all positions are still wide open. We are a big question mark as far as this season is concerned, and we won't be able to say anything definite until the season begins," Tuls said.

One of the big problems Christian faces this year is a lack of height — at least experienced height. Two boys, well over six foot have turned out, but have little, if any game experience. Ken Knott, a six-foot three lad has had only reserve team experience while Ken Marlink, who reaches six-foot four is out for basketball for the first time.

The five returning veterans are: Henry "Pete" Holstege, a starter from last year's squad; Ken Mast, another starter; Norman Unema, Donald Schipper and Joe Kramer, Unema saw considerable varsity action last season, but is a semester student, as is Schipper. Hence Tuls points out that he will have only three veterans for the entire season. Holstege has not been out to practice as yet, having suffered a cheek bone fracture in a freak accident recently.

Other lads, who have moved up from the reserve squad, and are bidding for positions are: Ed Altena, Dave Holkeboer, Bruce Bouwman, Sherwood Kok, Ralph Bouwman and Ben Bouwman. All of these boys are under the 6' mark although do possess considerable speed.

Tuls has the tough job of replacing three in his regular starting lineup of last season. Missing is Preston "Butts" Kool, star backboard artist and the leading scorer; Glenn Petroelje, a wiry guard and Herb Otten, a rangy forward.

Most of the drills thus far have been stressing fundamentals, although the Dutch coach said plenty of hard work is scheduled for the next few weeks.

Christmas projects were discussed and following the business meeting, Christmas bouquets were made.
