Local Dial Calls Are Unaffected By National Walkout

Long Distance Calls On Emergency Basis; Picket Line Set Up

The nation-wide telephone strike which began this morning showed effects in Holland that mirrored those around the country.

No interruption of local telephone service has been noticed yet, with supervisory personnel taking over to handle emergency long distance calls.

A token picket line of "hello girls" marched in front of the Holland Bell office on West 10th St. A larger group picketed between 7 and 9:30 a.m. today.

The dial service in Holland and Zeeland is operating normally, but when telephone users dial zero for an operator, a recorded male voice tells them that "because of a strike, we are able to handle only emergency call service."

However, when there is a full operators break into the recording and handle the requests immediately.

A company official said, "We are giving the best service possible with what we have to work with."

The telephone girls in the picket line—numbering two to five at a time—walked nearly all day in the bitter near-freezing weather.

Some pranksters destroyed the two signs posted at the plant, but a union spokesman said others would be made.

Those affected by the strike are traffic and plant employees. The wage dispute centers around a "livable wage" and wage differentials in larger cities.

Grand Haven telephone users are saddled with difficulties, however, because they have local and not dial service.

Local Club Hears Talk on Alaska

"To thoroughly enjoy Alaska, one must have a love for the outdoors, enjoy adventurous living and be interested in a pioneer land," Frederick W. Case of Saginaw told members of the Holland Tulip Garden club at a meeting in Hope church parlors Thursday afternoon.

Using as his subject "The Alaska Highway in Flower," Mr. Case charmed his listeners with his pleasing personality, expert photography and informative descriptions of Alaska's flowers.

A great many varieties of orchids grow wild there, Mr. Case said. Other flowers that grow in profusion are the fire weed, pink and albino; mountain heather, tundra rose, bog rosemary, Arctic violet, Arctic columbine and lady slipper.

Rainbows of colors are found in the purple raspberry, Alaskan lotus and water lilies, Arctic irises, yellow poppies, lupines, primroses, wild currants and cranberries. The ground dog-wood or bunch berry are also found there, he said.

Sent to Alaska in 1946 as a member of the U. S. Signal Corps, Mr. Case later went there as a botanist and photographer. One of his loveliest and unusual pictures portrayed a copper sunset.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. J. W. Hobeck and Mrs. Harry Dunn.

Breaking and Entering Reported in Grand Haven

Grand Haven (Special)—A breaking and entering into the home of Jacob Bolt, 905 Penoyer Ave., Sunday night, has been reported, and $11 in bills was taken out of a billfold which was on the dresser in one of the bedrooms.

Miss Delores Bolt, whose billfold was ransacked, found a glove on the dining room floor, a rug scuffed up on the floor in the kitchen and the rear door standing wide open when she returned home, which might indicate the culprit was in the midst of his theft when she came home.

Surprise Shower Given For Marilyn Plagenhoef

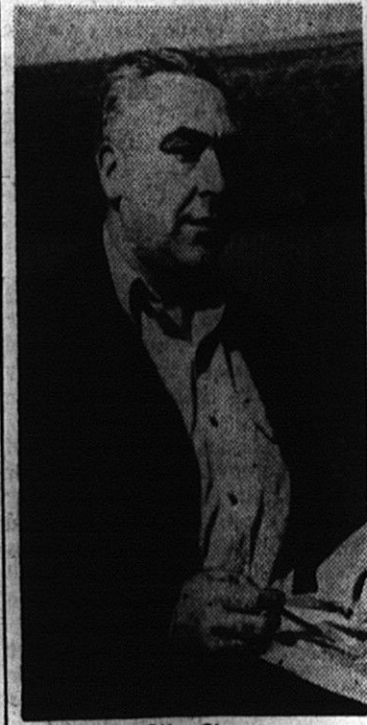

A surprise miscellaneous shower was given Thursday evening for Miss Marilyn Plagenhoef by Miss Donna Roberts and Mrs. John Windisch. The party was held at the latter's home.

Games were played and prizes won by Mrs. Vernon Johnson and Mrs. Jerome Deters. A two-course lunch was served.

Invited were the Misses Phyllis Bax, Betty Groen, Joan De Maat, Irene and Angie Lam, Judy Fisher, Elaine Bleeker, Ruth Busman, Joyce Uitermark, Shirina Wolters, Natalie Hop, Ruth Jurries, Arlene Kiekintveld, Mary Arends and Mrs. Deters and Mrs. Johnson.

GET MUSIC TEACHER

Grand Haven—Harold H. Luoma of Wakefield has been engaged as a music instructor here by the board of education. He also will instruct instrumental music part time in Spring Lake.

Farm Planner Killed in Crash With School Bus

Grand Haven (Special)—Olin Addison Clay, 48-year-old farm planner for the West Ottawa Soil Conservation district, died at 7 a.m. today in Municipal hospital of a skull fracture received Wednesday when his panel truck was hit by a school bus on M-50 at the Eastmanville Rd. intersection.

The crash occurred at 4:40 p.m. when the school bus, driven by Luther J. Mulder, Jr., 33, route 1, Coopersville, had slowed to make a left turn and clipped the rear of the oncoming panel truck driven by Clay. The impact caused the truck to slide 144 feet and turn over, throwing the driver from the truck.

Clay was born in Waterville, Ohio, and attended Ohio State college. He came to this area from Grand Rapids in 1942. He was put in charge of the West Ottawa Soil Conservation district in the Grand Haven post office, and worked with farm groups, planning their work.

Surviving are the wife, the former Alva Nordlof; a daughter, Vera Belle, a student at Michigan State college; and his father, James, who lives at the Clay home. The family lived on route 1.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 2 p.m. from Van Zantwick funeral home, after which the body will be taken to Waterville, Ohio, for services on Sunday and burial on Monday.

The Rev. H. Grant Mason of the Presbyterian church will take charge of both services.

State police who investigated the accident and Prosecutor Wendell A. Miles were to question the bus driver today.

Parents Will Take Students' Seats

Holland Christian schools will observe American Education Week by holding an "open house" for all parents Thursday night in all of the schools, Supt. Bert P. Bos announced.

The committee planning the event reported that the high school will go back to the parent-participation plan used some years ago. Under this plan, parents of high school students will follow their student's daily schedule, going through all of the classes of the day. Periods will be 10 minutes in length, during which time teachers will attempt to outline aims, objectives and difficulties in each particular course.

Principal Raymond Holwerda will conduct the high school chapel exercises beginning promptly at 8 p.m. Following this, the parents will move to the various classrooms. The high school program closes at 10 p.m.

In the Central Ave. and South Side grade schools, and the junior high school, teachers will be available in their rooms to meet parents from 7-9 p.m., Bos said. He said no attempt is being made to have an exhibit. The plan is designed to show the parents natural classroom situations.

In an American Education Week statement, the superintendent said, "The 13th annual and nationwide observance of American Education Week will be used to increase the interest of the parents in the schools that they are maintaining because of a sincere desire to make definite provision for the Christian education of their children."

"Our united efforts must center on children's mental, physical and spiritual development and growth so that our children may be completely and perfectly equipped. Such simple things as keeping physically well, being ready to work with others unselfishly, acquiring a rich background of information, mastering the essential skills, developing interests and appreciations and forming good habits, are the chief essentials of the program, but spirituality constitutes the primary objective."

"Thus the observance of American Education Week in our schools is one way of directing attention to the importance of the school as an instrument for the improvement of the Christian way of life."

POSTAL SCHEDULE

Since Armistice Day, Nov. 11, falls on Saturday this year, there will be no change in post office routing due to the holiday, it was revealed today by postal authorities.

The Saturday schedule will be carried out as usual, which means one delivery, with the post office windows open until noon.

Schools Should Share Task With Church and Home

Reading, Writing and Arithmetic Are Time Tested Fundamentals

The following article was prepared by Mrs. Bruce G. van Leuwen in connection with American Education week. In explaining what she expects the school to do for her children she emphasizes the need of reading, writing and arithmetic.

By Mrs. Bruce G. van Leuwen

To come directly to the point, I expect the schools to share with our church and homes the task of teaching our children to live intelligently, and of inspiring in them faith in God, in democracy and in themselves. To that end I believe the schools' particular function is to give children the mechanical equipment with which to learn and think, and then to stimulate study and thought.

I feel that reading, writing and arithmetic are not outmoded educational aims but time tested fundamentals. The modern child more than any other in history must be familiar with the written word. There cannot be too much emphasis on the teaching of it. We certainly may expect our schools to teach our children to read, write and speak our language effectively. Similarly, rudimentary mathematics should be among the achievements of every school child. If we are to ask the child of this era to understand the problems of the world in terms of billions, we must teach him that two and two is four.

As the child masters words and numbers, the school should teach him that such mastery is not the end in itself but rather the means to new knowledge. He should be taught to use his reading ability to investigate great thoughts of the past and the present, and to use it to garner information with which to produce new thought.

Advanced Mathematics will help him to reason logically. Then he should be stimulated to express in written and spoken word the conclusions his reading and thinking have produced.

In all this concentration on reading, writing and arithmetic, we have not forgotten that modern schools arouse creative ability through instruction in the fine arts. I respect our excellent health programs. These things are an aid to good living, and a society such as ours can well afford to give them to our children, but instruction in these things must not be allowed to infringe on time spent on the fundamentals of learning.

One thing I do not expect the schools to do. I do not expect nor want it to assume complete responsibility for training our children. Just as I feel the need of church and school to help me round out the child's training, I expect the school to ask church and parents to augment its work.

If the schools give our children the equipment and training to learn, think and express themselves with clarity that is about all we can ask of our teachers.

The only other thing we can ask is that the teacher keep in mind during the hours our children are with him that these children belong to a country that professes a belief in God, in democracy and in the sanctity of the individual.

YOUTH GETS PROBATION
ON BREAK-IN CHARGE

Grand Haven (Special)—Albert Farr, 18, Grand Haven, who pleaded not guilty in circuit court Oct. 9 to a charge of breaking and entering in the night time, changed his plea to guilty before Judge Raymond L. Smith Thursday afternoon and was placed on probation for three years. Conditions of his probation provide that he pay $100 costs in six months, $5 a month oversight fees, cease from using intoxicating liquors and cigarettes.

LAMONT YOUTH CHANGES
HIS PLEA AND PAYS FINE

Grand Haven (Special)—Roger Nederveld, 18, Lamont, who pleaded innocent Oct. 23 to a reckless driving charge, changed his plea to guilty Thursday before Justice George Hoffer and paid $25 fine and $6.85 costs.

Nederveld was arrested by state police on complaint of Forest Worthing of Lamont who charged that the youth and two companions were slamming on brakes of their cars and swinging around dangerously on the gravel road in front of Worthing's home.

Elmer E. Bockius, another driver, pleaded guilty Oct. 23 and paid $50 fine and $4.50 costs.

POSTAL SCHEDULE

Since Armistice Day, Nov. 11, falls on Saturday this year, there will be no change in post office routing due to the holiday, it was revealed today by postal authorities.

The Saturday schedule will be carried out as usual, which means one delivery, with the post office windows open until noon.

Hitchhiker Gets 3 to 25 Years

Grand Haven (Special)—John Roderick Neahr, the 17-year-old Marne youth accused of shooting a driver who gave him a ride last Aug. 14, was sentenced today to serve 3 to 25 years.

In announcing sentence, Circuit Judge Raymond L. Smith recommended that Neahr be transferred to the Cassidy lake camp "as soon as it is determined he can be trusted." The judge recommended some job which requires physical effort such as work in a conservation camp.

The youth was specifically charged with assault with intent to rob and steal, being armed. The alleged offense occurred last Aug. 14 when he shot Alvin Kraker who had offered him a ride on M-50 east of Allendale. Kraker was in critical condition for several days but recovered and was in the courtroom when Neahr appeared for arraignment Oct. 9.

Neahr pleaded guilty at the time, and no trial was necessary. He previously had said he shot Kraker "to get his car."

Several other persons appeared for disposition of their cases.

Elbert West, 160 West 10th St., Holland, who was found guilty Oct. 17 on a charge of aggravated assault upon Lowell Aiyee, was sentenced to pay $100 fine and $100 costs or six months in jail.

The alleged assault occurred Sept. 15 at Wire Products Co. where both are employed.

Robert Somers, 25, and Robert Homrich, 25, both of Manistee, who admitted 37 violations of breakings and enterings, cattle theft and other crimes during the last year, were sentenced to serve 3 to 15 years at Southern Michigan prison at Jackson with recommendation for minimum term.

They were specifically charged with entering Brolock station on M-50 in Grand Haven township Oct. 13.

Dale Schut, 18, of 236 Franklin St., Zeeland, who pleaded guilty Nov. 2 to a charge of taking indecent liberties with a 14-year-old girl Oct. 20 in Holland township, was placed on probation two years and ordered to serve 30 days in jail, pay $100 costs within 60 days and pay $5 a month oversight fees.

Kortering, second vice president; Mrs. A. Slager, secretary; Mrs. R. Newhouse, treasurer; Mrs. Tom Kraal, assistant secretary-treasurer.

The Rev. H. Mow told the group about his trip to the west coast. Two solos were sung by Bob Van Voort, accompanied by Miss Donna Boeve.

Civic Leaders Draw Preliminary Tulip Time Plans

Four-Day Festival Generally Favored; Would Cut 'Frills'

Civic leaders who spent three hours discussing Tulip Time plans for 1951 Thursday night in the Warm Friend Tavern, generally favored continuation of a four-day festival, but decided to give a schedule including two Saturdays consideration before drawing final plans.

The group, 29 strong, met at the request of W. A. Butler, newly elected president of Tulip Time Festival, Inc., to discuss preliminary plans for the next festival.

They agreed unanimously that the 1950 festival was the most successful festival ever staged here, and commended the commission for a fine job.

Many favored cutting out some of the "frills" and concentrating more on tulip plantings and the distinctly different features such as klompen dancing, street scrubbing, Little Netherlands and the like. The Navy Band concert last May was regarded as a great success but some other musical ventures were not financially successful.

Jay H. Petter, a former Tulip Time president, pointed out that Tulip time is a million-dollar industry in Holland, and should be recognized as such. He said citizens should get behind it as they would a million-dollar firm in Holland.

All in all, many phases of the 1950 festival were discussed and many opinions expressed, pointing to possible improvements in many cases.

Attending the meeting were Willard C. Wichers, festival manager since the festival was reopened after the war; Henry S. Maentz, Mayor Harry Harrington, Dan Vander Werf, Tony Klingenberg, Clarence Klaasen, John H. Van Dyke, Adrian Klaasen, Chester Van Tongeren, Marvin Lindeman, Park Supt. Dick Smallenburg, Laverne Rudolph, C. B. McCormick, Earl Price.

Dick Zwierp, Harry Nells, Bertal Slaght, Mrs. George Pelgrim, Mrs. William C. Kools, Mrs. J. J. Brower, Mrs. Clyde Geerlings, Mrs. Garrett Vander Borgh, Dr. Bert P. Bos, John F. Donnelly, John Van Dyke, Jay H. Petter and William H. Vande Water.

22 Goose Hunters Arrested in Raid

Fennville (Special)—A surprise raid was staged on early morning goose hunters in the Hutchins Lake and Todd Farm areas Wednesday by Ed Clock, Plainwell district supervisor of conservation officers, assisted by 15 other officers.

Twenty-two arrests were made, but only one goose was shot in the illegal time. One party was arrested for an improperly plugged gun, and 21 were charged with firing before the designated time.

When arraigned before Justice William Foster, most of the hunters paid $25 fine and costs of $7.95. Complaints and warrants were issued by local conservation officer Jack L. Gates.

Those charged for jumping the gun:

Gerald Schurman, Willie Hop, Maurice Brower and Thurlow Schmiedelk from Holland; Clifford D. Jonge, Bernard Diekema, John Kraak and James Marr from Zeeland; Troy Lawson and James Krammin from Fennville.

Andrew Kryskia, Robert Kruger, George Radamak, Fred Gropp, John Jurak and Louis Stranak from New Buffalo; Peter Johnson from Benton Harbor; Lloyd Bailey, Clement Bieschke and Robert Sientz from South Haven.

Donald Jesiek of Holland paid $10 fine and $7.95 costs for hunting with an improperly plugged gun.

According to Gates, comments among the violators were much in favor of the raid, although hunters regretted being numbered among the violators.

Additional hunters arrested the last week and arraigned before Justice Foster on charges of possession of firearms directly within the refuge area on the Todd farm were:

Royal Hamilton and Raymond Moyer, Kalamazoo; Kenneth Hiller and William Newton, Grant; Peter De Witt, Grand Rapids; Clifford Johnson, Benton Harbor.

Each paid $17.95 fine and costs. Roy Versa of Millersburg paid the same amount for using a gun capable of holding more than three shells while hunting waterfowl. All arrests were made by Officer Gates.

Condition Unchanged

Dr. H. D. Terkerust, pastor of Trinity Reformed church, remained in serious condition today in Holland hospital where he was taken a week ago Wednesday after a cerebral hemorrhage. His condition is virtually unchanged and he has not regained consciousness.

Members of the Chick-Owa sportsmen's club of Zeeland turned out Wednesday afternoon to plant Scotch pine seedlings on the club's property south and east of Zeeland. The total project will include planting 3,000 pines. Front row (left to right): G. Huisenga, B. Githell, B. Vos, Dr. L. A. Van Kley, club president, A. Kasten and J. Danielson. Holland Voters Okay New Charter; Effective Jan. 1

By a margin of 42 votes, Holland's proposed charter passed, 2,976 to 2,934, in Tuesday's election.

By this action the new charter which authorizes a city manager form of government will become effective Jan. 1, 1951, according to Atty. Vernon D. Ten Cate who served as chairman of the nine-member study commission which spent 14 years drawing up the new charter.

Ten Cate said the new charter provides that a city manager be hired by June 1, 1951, and that boards abolished in the charter will cease to function July 1. On the latter date the Board of Public Works will become known as the Board of Public Service.

Until Jan. 1 the three amendments which passed in Holland in an approximate 2 to 1 majority will be in effect, should Common Council choose to institute such action. The amendments provide that the city may borrow money and issue bonds in anticipation of special assessments provides mechanics for passage of ordinances, and allows council to acquire property for present or future purposes of city government.

The charter vote was fairly close in all wards. The second ward gave the largest margin of 164 votes which offset margins in the first, third, fourth and fifth wards where the vote trailed slightly.

Votes by wards follow:

Wards	Charter	Yes	No
1		319	402
2		564	450
3		442	466
4		517	527
5		537	525
6		597	564
		2,976	2,934

The charter lost by 200 votes in the initial election June 27 when 2,731 persons went to the polls.

Many persons failed to cast votes in the charter issue, and it was estimated the vote was about 400 short of the total vote cast in the six wards.

Total vote in Holland Tuesday was 6,310, a heavy vote for an off-year election, but slightly short of expected totals here.

Vote by wards follows: first ward, 805; second ward, 1,090; third ward, 961; fourth, 1,103; fifth, 1,113; sixth ward, 1,238.

Allegan School Plight Still Being Considered

Allegan (Special)—Mothers of north side first graders, protesting school conditions of their youngsters, were told by the board of education Tuesday night that a solution is still depending on a school committee.

The board said it had asked for the use of a local church parish house for the first grade, which is now sharing a room on the south side with other primary pupils. A total of 60 students and two teachers are conducting classes in a normally one-grade room.

Earlier plans to rent a north side house for the kindergarten, which would bring first graders back to their own school, fell through due to excessive repairs needed, the board told the group. The house, located in Riverview Park, could not be passed by the state fire marshal without considerable changes toward use as a schoolroom.

While the parish house plans are debated, the board is continuing to look for suitable accommodations for the city's wandering first grade, officials said.

Chick-Owa Sportsmen Begin Tree Plantings

Zeeland (Special)—The Chick-Owa sportsmen's club held a tree-planting bee Wednesday afternoon on the club's grounds near Zeeland.

It was the start of a club project to plant 3,000 Scotch pines. Each is from six to eight inches high.

The club grounds are located three miles south and three-tenths of a mile east of Zeeland city limits.

Nine club members appeared at 1 p.m. to start clearing brush from the land. Then a tractor and plow was used to dig furrows for the actual plantings.

The one and two-year-old seedlings were planted each three feet along the furrows.

The project is aimed at beautifying the club grounds and also to help hunting prospects. When the trees grow up, the club will sell them at Christmas time.

Workers turned the work project into a "lot of fun." And Mrs. L. A. Van Kley, wife of club president Dr. Van Kley, served coffee and doughnuts.

Routine Check Nets Cash Box

Grand Haven (Special)—A routine state police check on a pickup truck traveling with no tail light early this morning netted three Muskegon youths who admitted several breaking and entering jobs in four counties, state police revealed today.

Taken into custody were Ernest J. Wilson, Jasper E. Percy and Paul Golliver, all 18, of Muskegon. They were traveling on US-16 in Polkton township when stopped.

Officers discovered a cash box containing an amount of money under the front seat. The men admitted taking the box from the Karr schoolhouse in Muskegon county, police said.

According to officers, they admitted taking part in about 10 jobs in Ottawa, Muskegon, Kent and Newaygo counties. Officers recovered rifles, cigaret lighters and inexpensive jewelry from the truck.

Sheriff Jerry Vanderbeek reported the men admitted entering Marne high school recently. They are under suspicion for two enterings near Coopersville, he added.

Speeders Lead List Of Traffic Charges

Five drivers appeared in Municipal Court Wednesday on traffic charges.

Jack E. Schurman, route 1, paid $22 fine and costs for speeding. Hardie Wilson, 345 Howard Ave., paid $17 fine and costs for speeding. Lester Van Oort, 93 Vander Veen Ave., paid $15 fine and costs for speeding.

Eugene Sprick, route 2, Zeeland, paid $7 fine and costs for running a stop street.

Paul Klomprens, 83 East 26th St., paid $1 parking fine.

Postal Receipts Gain For Month of October

Postal receipts for October once more showed a gain over a similar period in 1949, according to figures released today by Postmaster Harry Kramer.

October, 1950, resulted in postal receipts of $38,645, as compared with $34,517 for the month of October, 1949. The gain of $4,128 represents 11.9 per cent increase.

For the 10 months so far passed in 1950, receipts total $334,099, which represents a gain of $43,361 over 1949's 10-month total of $290,738. The percentage gain for the year thus far is 14.9.

Unproven Guards Poses Problem For HHS Cagers

Too much returning front-line muscle and not enough proven guard material are the immediate problems confronting Coach Fred Weiss as his Holland high basketball team is starting its second week of drills.

Weiss, in his first season at the helm of the Dutch cagemen, said he expected a tall front line but that his back line strength is "of a questionable nature."

He said emphatically that all positions are still wide open.

Weiss has just a paper view of his squad since several key boys are still in football uniforms.

One thing Weiss seems sure of is plenty of height. With lettermen Bob Armstrong, Tom Maentz, Bob Tasma, Rog Eggers, Max Doodt and Morrie Witteveen off build around, he can floor a quintet which averages well above the six-foot mark.

Armstrong is the giant of the team at six feet, seven inches. Maentz, newcomer Frank Van Dyke, Eggers, Witteveen and Tasma all are above the six foot mark.

Weiss has been toying with the idea of utilizing a double pivot, putting skyscraper Armstrong and Maentz around the center circle for feeds and close tip-ins.

But lack of speed among some of the front line candidates may make him switch to a couple of medium sized guards. In this case, Tasma, Ron Bekius or Tom Carey could get the call.

To make use of his height, Weiss may convert Van Dyke to a guard to insure back-line height. But if the experiment does not work, he may have to string along with some of the swifter, shorter boys.

Dutchmen Smash Hillsdale in Driving Storm

(Special to the Sentinel)
Hillsdale — Hope's Dutchmen stomped to a frozen 28-14 MIAA win over Hillsdale in a blistery snowstorm at Hillsdale Friday night.

It took a while for Al Vanderbush's charges to get up full steam as they had to come from behind to tie the Dales twice, but the superiority of the hard-charging backfield paid off.

The losers drew first blood in the first period, marching 49 yards in eight plays for a marker. The payoff was a 13-yard run over center by Tom Walsh. Monte Charles booted the conversion and the Dales led 7-0.

The Dutchmen tied the count when they marched 87 yards to pay dirt in 11 plays with Tom Van Wingen bulging over from the two. The drive featured a 20-yard scamper by Ron Appledorn and a 20-yard aerial from Ron Schipper to Fuzz Bauman. Bud Prins converted and it was 7-7.

In the second stanza, Charles slithered 25 yards off tackle and converted to give the Dales a 14-7 lead.

But striking quickly, Schipper heaved a pass to Ed Leverette on a play which gulped up 74 yards for the score. A bad pass from center didn't stop Herb Stouten from running over for the tying extra point.

Fumbles netted Hope its final two scores. Van Wingen crashed over from the one after a 38-yard drive, set up by a 17-yard chuck from Schipper to Appledorn. Prins' conversion was true and Hope led 21-14.

A third period try for a field goal by Hope went awry.

A fumble gave Hope its final touchdown. Appledorn scored on a 20-yard run off tackle and Prins was accurate again making the final 28-14.

Appledorn's 50-yard run in the final quarter was called back when a teammate was detected offside.

Van Wingen, Appledorn and Leverette all ran well for the Dutchmen. Schipper's unerring arm accounted for 194 yards in Hope's overwhelming total of 424 yards.

In the line, Lloyd Beekman, Fred Yonkman and Gene Campbell turned in fine games. Chuck Rohr was the defensive bulwark for the Dales.

Hillsdale's chances were hurt considerably when ace punter Spud Huston, because of an injury, decided to forego his grid activities.

Scoring: Hope's touchdowns—Van Wingen (2); Leverette; Appledorn. PATs—Prins (3); Stouten. Hillsdale touchdowns—Charles; Wash. PATs—Charles (2).

JCC Auxiliary Board Discusses Projects

Board members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce Auxiliary met Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Lewis Vandebunte, East 14th St. Plans were outlined for future meetings and projects.

It was announced that Mrs. Irvin De Weerd has called a meeting of her committee for the polo benefit dance, scheduled for later January. The committee will meet at her home Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Leonard Rehbein will be hostess to the Auxiliary at the next regular monthly meeting when the constitution will be reviewed. Entertainment will be a demonstration on arranging flowers.

Mrs. Frank Nawn, president, with board approval, appointed Mrs. Rehbein chairman of the Christmas basket committee. Mrs. Raymond Heider and Mrs. E. H. Phillips will assist her. Mrs. Vandebunte was named chairman of the February meeting, when the local group will serve as hostesses at a combined meeting of Holland, Grand Rapids and Muskegon Auxiliaries. Mrs. Myron Van Oort and Mrs. Clarence Kammeraad are committee members.

Following the meeting, refreshments were served by the hostess.

Pianist Gives Recital At Memorial Chapel

Those who took advantage of Hope college's invitation to a concert in Hope Memorial chapel Thursday night, heard a brilliant piano recital by Louis Crowder, head of the piano department of Northwestern university school of music. Mr. Crowder is spending two days at the college, lecturing and conducting piano clinics.

Displaying a brilliant tone and faultless technique, Mr. Crowder thrilled his small but enthusiastic audience Thursday night with his interpretation of work of Scarlatti, Mozart, Chopin, Brahms and Debussy. Highlight of the program was probably the Chopin "Sonata in B Minor, Op. 58," seldom heard here. He also played five sonatas by Scarlatti and the Mozart "Fantasy K. 396."

Two Brahms "Intermezzi," and his "Rhapsodie in G Minor," were included, and the program closed with a Debussy group, "Poissens d'or," "Homage to Rameau," and "L'Isle Joyeuse." Mr. Crowder played as an encore Debussy's "Reflections in the Water."

Halloween Pranks Expensive for Trio

Grand Haven (Special)—Three Grand Haven youths had a little less money to jingle in their jeans today, following a bout in justice court to settle a Halloween prank.

William Appel, 19, Peter Appel, 17, and Donald Lewis, 17, were arrested by state police on charges of malicious destruction of property upon complaint of William Metzler who said the youths knocked over a number of corn shocks on his Robinson township farm Halloween night.

Metzler said he had had difficulty last year at Halloween time and decided to lie in wait this year in a woods nearby. When the youths had knocked down more than five shocks he fired a shotgun blast into the air and the youths took off, leaving one car with motor running in the middle of the road.

Each youth paid $10 fine and $3.90 costs.

Peter Appel, charged with parking a car on the traveled part of the highway, also paid $2 for the fine.

Former Holland Man Weds Winnie Venema

Miss Winnie Ruth Venema, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Venema, Sr., of La Grange, Ill., and Clarence L. Knoll, formerly of Holland, son of Mr. and Mrs. John G. Knoll, 148 West 28th St., were married Saturday, Oct. 21, in Cicero, Ill. The Rev. Edward J. Masselink performed the double ring ceremony at 4:30 p.m. in the First Christian Reformed church of Cicero.

Palms and all-white bouquets of gladioli, and baby mums decorated the church and a pair of candelabra lighted the altar.

The bride wore a white satin gown with mandarin neckline and lace yoke and panels down the sleeves, with seed pearls and iridescent sequins. The skirt extended to a train. Her fingertip veil fell from a fitted band of orange blossoms and pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white gladioli with maidenhair fern and an orchid corsage.

Miss Theresa Venema, twin sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and Miss Ann Knoll, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid. They wore organza gowns of princess blue, matching velvet caps and elbow-length gauntlets. They carried bouquets of gladioli and baby mums in graduated shades, from red to fuschia.

George Knoll attended his brother as best man and William Venema, Jr., was groomsmen. Ushers were Albert Venema, brother of the bride, and Arthur Wiersma, cousin of the groom.

Mrs. John Hendricks was organist and accompanied the soloist, Richard Johnson.

A reception for 150 guests was held at the Warren Park Community hall in Cicero.

For their wedding trip, Mrs. Knoll wore a yellow gabardine suit, black accessories and an orchid corsage. After two weeks in Florida, the couple will be at home in Western Springs, Ill.

Mrs. Knoll, a graduate of Chicago Christian high school, is employed at General Electric Co. Mr. Knoll was graduated from Holland Christian high school and is employed at Three Star Laundry in Chicago.

Judge Smith Rules Beer Issue Will Remain on Ballot

Grand Haven (Special) — Ottawa county voted Tuesday on ballot No. 5, which calls for prohibiting Sunday sale of beer and wine. Circuit Judge Raymond L. Smith ruled Monday.

His decision followed a 11-hour hearing on a petition brought by tavern operators who sought to have the Sunday beer and wine ban proposal withdrawn from the Nov. 7 ballot, on the contention that County Clerk Anna Van Horsen had failed to determine that the signers on the petitions asking the ban were qualified voters and sufficient in number.

Judge Smith said the statute under consideration does not impose such duty upon the county clerk. He said such checking might require a staff of about 50 persons, and he said he believed the legislature had no such thing as that in mind.

Prosecutor Wendell A. Miles appeared for the defendant, Clerk Van Horsen, and Fred T. Miles, Sr., appeared as one of the petitioners and on behalf of the 13,530 others who signed the petition.

Clerk Van Horsen was the only witness called. She testified the petitions bearing 13,531 signatures were received in August. She said 8,543 signatures were required for such an action which would be 35 per cent of the 24,408 votes cast in the last general election for secretary of state. She testified the prosecutor informed her last August she did not have to check the signatures.

Defense Attorney John P. Boeschstein of Muskegon introduced into evidence two petitions, one from Polkton township with Arthur Modderman as solicitor and the other from Park township with Benjamin Rooks, route 4, Holland as solicitor, in which he claimed the signatures were in different handwriting from the addresses.

Licenses who filed the petition to withdraw the issue from the ballot were Lawrence Van Esselt, Jack Jungie, Matilda Belch, Log Cabin; Harvey E. and Mable I. Shiver, Yellow Jacket; Edward C. Murphy, Murphy's.

Several school children from Little school in Crookery township attending the hearing, accompanied by their teacher, Mrs. Mary Ron.

Holland Seconds Drop High-Scorer To Little Tigers

Benton Harbor—A nightmarish first half, in which their opponents, the Benton Harbor reserves scored 31 points on an assortment of plays, cost the Holland high seconds their third conference loss of the season Friday afternoon at Benton Harbor. The final was 37-20.

Sid Thompson led the little Tigers to their win. He tallied on a 26-yard run in the first quarter after his team marched from the Holland 46. A Bob Van Dyke to Ron Israels pass play covering 63 yards knotted the count and a Carl Visscher run point gave the Dutch a short-lived 7-6 lead.

On the first play after the ensuing kickoff, Dan Biggs passed to Jim Goff on 68-yard scoring maneuver. Immediately after the second period opened, Thompson picked up a fumble and ran 41 yards to score. A few seconds later he picked off a Dutch aerial and galloped 75 yards for another score.

The Tigers recovered another Dutch fumble and Bud Taylor threw to Jim Grant for a touchdown to make it 31-7 at halftime.

Visscher tallied in the third period from the 14, and a touchdown by Benton Harbor was sandwiched in between a 55-yard pass play from Van Dyke to Israels for the final Dutch score.

The reserves did everything but win the game. They outgained the Tigers in every department but in the all-important tally sheet.

Visscher, Israels and Dick Crawford starred on the attack with Ken Lubbers and Bill Van Oosterhout outstanding on defense.

Local Recruits Taught New Air Force Program

12 Enlisted From Holland During Month of October

Lackland Air Force Base, Tex., has often been referred to as the "Gateway to the Air Force," but actually the "gateway" to the men and women not yet in service is their own recruiting office in their own home towns.

Right here in Holland, local air force recruiters have enlisted 12 Air Force recruits as well as one engineer during the month of October.

The 12 include Albin Van Tumbergen, George Louma, Marvin Knoll, Ivan Huyser, Ken Hulst, Walt Vuurens, Roger Kramer, Don Schreier, and Douglas Lemmen all of Holland, and Keith Van Kovering of Zeeland and Harold Steffens of Hudsonville. Marvin Den Bleyker of Holland was enlisted in the army engineers.

Under the new airman career program the Air Force has set up more than 400 occupations and 42 career fields that the aspiring recruit can enter.

The careers are administrative, aircraft maintenance both accessory and aircraft engine; air traffic control; armament systems; budgetary, accounting and disbursing; chaplain; communications; construction; education; entertainment; fabric, leather and rubber; firefighting and food service.

Also ground safety; information, intelligence; management methods; marine; medical; metal working; missile guidance systems; munitions and weapons maintenance; photomapping; photographic; personnel; and printing.

The list continues with procurement; radio and radar maintenance; rescue and survival; rocket propulsion; security and law enforcement; special activities; supply; transportation; training devices maintenance; utilities; vehicle maintenance; weather; wire maintenance and statistical and machine accounting.

Allegan Submits Road Expenses

Allegan (Special) — Asking for $150,000, the Allegan county road commission's budget request was entered into the Board of Supervisors' record Friday with little hope that the appropriation would approach half that amount. Some supervisors indicated, however, that the enlarged county budget may provide some local help to the road commission's prospective deficit next year.

Offering a budget of $773,000, the commission said that expenditure would be only a "very small beginning for a long range program of renewing county primary mileage completely worn out."

The commission anticipates a deficit of $581,000, the report said. Outside sources, which is state-collected tax monies, probably will bring the county $392,000 next year for road work. Expenses were broken down as follows: Maintenance of county primary roads, $298,000; maintenance of secondary roads, $160,000; new equipment, $50,000; general expense $10,000; matching federal funds, $78,000; refunds to cities and villages, $27,000; and reconstruction of primary roads, $150,000.

Miss Bette Ann Ross became the bride of Ronald James Fortney in an impressive double ring ceremony Saturday in St. Luke's Lutheran church of Detroit. Vows were spoken at 2 p.m. before the Rev. A. Doht.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Judson O. Ross, 1745 Iroquois Ave., Detroit. The groom is a son of Mrs. Alice Fortney, 49 East 18th St., and the late Fay B. Fortney.

For her wedding, the bride wore an afternoon gown of taffeta in a rose-bronze shade with black accents and black and beige accessories. She carried a colonial bouquet of gardenias and yellow roses. Her rhinestone necklace and earrings were a gift of the groom.

As maid of honor, Miss Annette Frouche wore a beige crepe gown with black accessories. She carried a colonial bouquet of gardenias and yellow roses.

Paul Fortney assisted his brother as best man. Following the ceremony, the Rosses entertained about 50 guests from Holland, Muskegon, Battle Creek, Ann Arbor and Detroit at a reception in their home.

For their wedding trip to Canada and Niagara Falls, Mrs. Fortney wore a black velvet suit, a white coat, black accessories and a gardenia corsage. After Nov. 15, Mr. and Mrs. Fortney will be at home at 139 East 16th St.

had as guests for about two weeks Claude Coates and daughter Candy of Iron River, Wis.

The Sand Hill Missionary society of Wesleyan Methodist church held a meeting Thursday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Selby. Dinner was served by Mrs. Selby. Devotional and business meeting was held at 2 p.m.

Several local young people enjoyed a hayride on Halloween evening.

There was a Christian Endeavor rally Sunday at Maple Hill United Brethren church.

Mrs. Mercy Schwander of Maple Hill, who broke her arm last March, is improved. She is staying at the home of Mrs. Ethyl Kreizler.

Traditional Games Order of the Day On Football Menu

Traditional battles will be the order of the day on the coming week-end of football in the Southwestern conference.

And from the glance at the conference standings, Muskegon's Big Reds appear to be a shoo-in for the league title, with only neighboring Muskegon Heights standing in their way to a clear title.

Muskegon leads the pack with three wins and only a tie with Benton Harbor to mar its record. The Heights has a three won, one lost record, and a win could put coach Okie Johnson's wards in the chair. But on paper, Muskegon should win in the traditional Saturday afternoon contest.

Local attention will be focused on the annual Grand Haven-Holland game Friday night at Holland. Each team will be fighting to stay out of the league cellar, and each owns one win, three loss league records.

Elsewhere in the conference, Kalamazoo has a Friday game with Battle Creek, and Benton Harbor engages Grand Rapids South on Saturday.

Zeeland will wind up one of its best seasons in history with a final Friday night trip to Wyoming Park.

Friday scores: Holland 13, Benton Harbor 6, Muskegon 12, Kalamazoo 0, Heights 32, Creston 13, Midland 21, Grand Haven 0.

Standings: Muskegon 3 0 1 875, Heights 3 1 0 750, Kalamazoo 3 2 0 600, Benton Harbor 1 3 1 300, Holland 1 3 0 250, Grand Haven 1 3 0 250.

Turn on Lights In Hen House

Now that the days are getting shorter it's time to turn on the lights in the hen house, says L. R. Arnold, Ottawa county agricultural agent.

Michigan State college poultry specialists have supplied the extension office with some facts about lights for the laying house.

Hens should be provided with sufficient light to assure a 13 to 14 hour working day. Whether the lights are turned on in the morning or evening makes no difference, though the poultrymen say lights should be on every day at the same time.

One 40-watt light bulb in a cone-shaped reflector provides enough light for a 200-foot square hen house. In larger houses one 40-watt bulb should be used for every 200 square feet of floor space.

The agent advises that hens are not likely to respond to the light right away—it usually takes from two to four weeks before you can detect a boost in production.

Hens of average or below average production respond best to artificial light. The high producers usually lay well during the winter without the extra stimulus.

Two Car Accidents Occur In Grand Haven Area

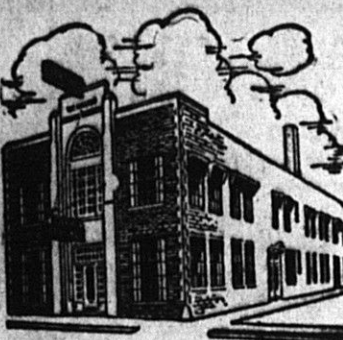

Grand Haven (Special) — Jack C. DeBruyn, 20, Grand Haven, was charged with failure to have his car under control due to excessive speed after an accident on M-104 in Spring Lake township in charge of the nursery, says there is a plentiful supply of trees for spring planting. He expects to see over one and a half million trees more from the nursery to farms.

Slabaugh, who has charge of the files, gives a grand total of over 18 million trees planted since the district was organized in 1938.

City police are investigating an intersection accident at Second and Columbus Sts. which happened at 11:40 a.m. Sunday involving cars driven by Len B. Donnell, 54, Toledo, Ohio, and Mrs. Inez Fath, 43, Ludington. Mrs. Donnell was treated at Municipal hospital for a cut over the left eye and bruises on her right leg.

According to sheriff's officers, a car driven by Frank Miller, 62, Grand Rapids, which was attempting to make a left turn, was struck on the left side by De Bruyn's car. Both were traveling west.

ATROCITIES THEN AND NOW

We are witnessing the disturbing spectacle of people's accepting atrocity stories at face value.
A good many such stories have been coming out of Korea: American boys having their hands tied behind their backs and then shot; American boys being led into a pasture by their North Korean captors on the pretense that they were to be given their chow rations, but instead being mowed down by machine gun bullets; American boys being slaughtered
in various other inhuman ways.
The list of such stories is almost endless.

So far as the home people are concerned, the thing that is new about these stories is that they are accepted without qualms of doubt. During the years between the end of World War I and the opening of World War II it was virtually impossible to make people believe atrocity stories. There had been so many such tales during the early years of the first World war, and people had swallowed everything they heard so easily, that the disillusionment was proportionately great when they finally learned that most of those stories had been faked for propaganda purposes. The result was that most people refused to believe in any of the cruelties even those that had been properly authenticated.

But later something happened to the conduct of war as well as to the atrocity stories. Hitler and his cohorts far outdid the propaganda mills in making atrocities come true. Raw though the stories were that were circulated during the first war, they were the record of almost merciful acts compared with the realities of the Nazi war technique. Even the most skeptical were finally convinced that the Nazis had translated atrocity stories into tenfold reality.

So now when a new war broke upon the world the public mind was ready to accept almost any records of alleged atrocities that were sent out from the battle fronts. So far as anyone at this distance can know, they may all be literally true. Certainly, bad though they are, we wonder if they begin to compare with the atrocities committed by the Nazi war lords that were examined in courts of justice and were authenticated in official records.

Is the quality of mercy disappearing from the business of war?
The facts would seem to suggest as much. Glamor disappeared from war with the invention of machines for long-distance mass destruction, and it looks as if with the loss of glamor there was a corresponding loss of human kindness such as in earlier wars caused victors to give humane treatment to prisoners.

The only protection against this spirit is iron-hard treatment of the perpetrators of atrocities.
They must be shown that cruelty does not pay. Then try and find a way to get along with each other all over the world, if this is possible.

Pack Meeting Held
By St. Francis Cubs

Pack 9 of St. Francis de Sales
Cub Scouts held its monthly pack meeting Monday evening at St.
Francis school. Frank Schwarz, Cubmaster, was in charge of the meeting. He gave a brief outline of the Cub Scout program, presented awards and welcomed parents and families present at the meeting.

New Cub Scouts were registered by Hugh Rowell, neighborhood commissioner, who also called the roll. Robert Atwood and Robert Bush were graduated into Boy Scouts and were received by Dick Matchinsky, Scoutmaster of troop B. The boys received their Scout neckerchiefs, Webelos badge and second year service stars.
First year service stars were awarded to Carl Jungblut, John Mabon, Michael Layden and Robert Rudisill.

The Cubs, dressed in full Indian garb, put on an Indian dance in keeping with the theme of the month.
Refreshments were served by Den Mothers and their committee.
Group singing closed the meeting.

Enriching Our Christian
Friendship
Acts 11:11-18; Philippians 2:1-5
By Henry Geerlings

The popularity of the art of getting along with people continues to grow by leaps and bounds.
Courses are offered in practically every type of educational institution. Lectures are given. Books are written. And all with the underlying purpose of uncovering clever techniques and infallible methods of winning friends.

In modern society it is impossible to live completely alone. We must depend upon others for certain essentials and must come in daily contact with many fellow beings. A Christian should have no desire to isolate himself and become a hermit. In fact, we can only be Christian by following the commands and example of Christ.
Serving our fellow men is an important part of being a Christian.
In order to do so we must be in constant contact with others.
Therefore, it is of greatest significance that we learn to get along with others in every phase of our life.

The apostle Peter was the first of the apostles to learn the lesson of the intimate fellowship among believers in the Lord, whether they were Jews or Gentiles. The Lord Himself prepared Cornelius and his friends to hear and receive the message of grace and the apostle Peter to bring and preach it to them. God brought them together. The vision of Cornelius prepared him to receive all the blessings God had in His heart to bestow upon him. The trans-vision of Peter prepared him to go where God would send him and to deliver His message.

Peter delivered the message of grace, preaching Christ to His Gentile audience, and they received the gift of the Holy Spirit in such a manifest way that it was absolutely undeniable and beyond being questioned. It was evident by the experience of these Gentile hearers and believers on Christ, that Gentiles, too, were saved through faith in Christ and added to the church.

The death of Christ opened the way for the grace of God to flow out to the Gentiles. Because of the cross and death of Christ, as well as of His resurrection from the dead, grace reigns in righteousness unto eternal life. The Gentiles, too, may be saved by the grace of God. He is free to act independently in grace because the cross has removed every barrier which had stood in His way.

The only hindrance to grace was judgment for sin. At the cross judgment had fallen upon Christ.
There the sinless One bore the judgment of God for sin. The same cross that consummated sin, and proved all men sinners, also demonstrated the love of God and absolutely cleared the way for Him to act in pure grace. Thus ended the contention between Jew and Gentile, unless it be raised in self righteousness.

Since Christ died in behalf of sinful man, bearing the penalty of the sins of the world and satisfying every demand of the Law and holiness of God, therefore He can be just and at the same time justify the ungodly which believe on Christ. This is the message of the gospel.

The essence of Christianity is friendship at its best. The root meaning of the word is love. A Christian who is not friendly is denying his profession. The very names by which the New Testament believers are called speak of close association of faith, love, fellowship and service. We are brethren, children of a common Father; we are disciples, sitting at the feet of a divine Teacher;
we are servants, engaged together at common tasks. We are fellow laborers, fellow pilgrims, fellow sufferers. From these different relationships we derive various benefits and we have corresponding responsibilities to fulfill.
Our happiness and spiritual growth and progress depend much on how we cultivate these friendships.

If we are going to enrich our Christian friendships we must go out and associate with as many Christians as we possibly can. It is true that we are to have moments of retirement for our private devotions but these are to be proportionate to our uniting with other Christians. Private worship is indispensable but by it alone we can never come to an adequate satisfying knowledge of God.

Our lives will be enriched when we listen to the testimonies of our Christian friends. They will tell us of their experience in finding God or of being found by Him. They will witness to His daily presence with them. As they speak we get an idea of the grace, the power,
the goodness and wisdom of God.

Our Christian friendships are enriched as we are influenced by the lives of devoted men and women. When one lives near to God, enters into His counsels and walks in His ways, upon such a one the Holy Spirit makes a indelible impression. Men take knowledge of them. Their lives speak louder than words. Long after their voices are stilled in death, the influence of their characters will be felt and passed on from generation to generation. It is to be our highest spiritual interest to cultivate the friendship of men and women of God.

Suits Started

Grand Haven (Special)—Suits by summons have begun in Ottawa circuit court by Miss June Day against Dr. Roy Z. Patterson, both of Grand Haven. Miss Day is seeking a $1,750 judgement.

The old and the new, with a prize bull in the middle. Louis Peck, left, retired last month as superintendent of the Ottawa County Infirmary at Eastmanville, and Tom Modderman, right, was named this week by the county Social Welfare committee as the new superintendent. In the middle is Woody, the infirmary's prize Holstein bull. Peck retired after more than 40 years as head of the 24-patient home. Mrs. Modderman also will assume a new post as matron, succeeding Mrs. Mae Sawyer who also retired. The Moddermans have been employed at the infirmary for the last five years. Peck plans to visit in Florida for a while and then live with a sister in Coopersville now that he has given up the reins of the 25-acre establishment. (Sentinel photo)

Invitations were received in the city today from Mr. and Mrs. A.
Wagenaar of Grand Rapids, announcing the approaching marriage of their daughter, Miss Agatha, to Mark N. Cihby.

Plans are in progress to gather together the greatest crowd that ever traveled with the team to root for them on the sideline at Grand Haven Saturday for the first of the two games of the season.

Trinity Adult Bible class held its meeting in the parlors of the church Monday night. They have an enrollment of 85 members of which a large attendance was present. After a business session the question box was opened and presided over by Prof. Raap.

A. H. Meyer of Meyers Music
House, is building a large addition to the building he now occupies on West Eighth St. The new structure will be at the rear and will be 30x30 feet, two stories and a basement.

A matter of insufficient funds provided for in the annual appropriation bill to the Board of Education of Holland bars from the public schools of this city during the present year a course in physical culture under the supervision and proven director. Next year will witness the installation of this course, it is confidently expected, as a law provides that all cities of over 10,000 population must have such a health supervisor or for its public schools. Miss De Etta Brendell, a graduate of the Thomas Training school at Detroit whose home town is in Indiana, came to this city about three weeks ago to apply for the position.

The building on West Eighth St. formerly occupied by the Toy and Novelty company, later known as the Princess Roller Rink, has been purchased by Herman Garvelink, local agent for the Maxwell and Oakland cars.

The Woman's Literary club met for their study program Tuesday afternoon. Among the announcements preceding the papers, the education committee reported the maintenance of a loan scholarship at Hope college. This is to be applied yearly to the education of a girl graduating from the high school and desiring to enter college.

Through efforts of Professor Zwemer, a beautiful piano has been donated to the Western Theological seminary to be used in the chapel, according to a story appearing in the Thursday, Oct.
12, issue. The donor's name is not made public, but is however one of the closest friends of the seminary and ardent supporter of the church. One thousand dollars was also contributed by this same individual for the building of Divinity Hall.

Two state Sunday school asso-

Russ De Vette Signs with Grand Rapids Pro Basketball Hornets

Russ De Vette, former Hope basketball great and present cage coach of the Dutchmen, is the newest member of the Grand Rapids Hornets professional basketball team.

Rusty may be pressed into Hornet uniform for the opener Thursday night against Kansas City.

De Vette will not travel with the Hornets because of his coaching status. But permission from Hope college and athletic director
Milton (Bud) Hinga was received for him to play whenever Hornet coach Bobby McDermott needs him.

De Vette succeeded Hinga at the Hope helm in 1948. His teams have not won the MIAA cage championship but have always provided an interesting evening for all the schools.

The new Hornet was an outstanding player at the Muskegon high and a member of the famed blitz kids' of Hope which mowed down opposition in the MIAA to win the conference crown in 1943.

De Vette also starred with the Marine corps at Denison university and with the Pacific Marine fleet. He re-entered Hope after his service stint and rolled up 328 points in 20 games to lead the league and win the Randall C.

Boesch award for the most valuable MIAA basketball player of the 1946-47 season.

Russ served as assistant freshmen basketball coach at the University of Michigan in 1948 while attending the Ann Arbor university for his masters degree.

He is generally acknowledged as the finest cager to play on the local hardwoods and will add local color to the Hornets team which is studded with former All-Americans.

Most of the Hornets boast pro experience. Such greats as George Glamack, general manager and star pivot man, who is making a comeback after a layoff; Elmore Morganthal, seven-foot center;
Al Miksis, Mike Novak, and Blackie Towery, all towering over the six foot-six mark; and such speedsters as Jimmy Doyle, Price
Brookfield, McDermott himself; Fritz Nagy and University of Michigan star Mack Suprunowicz.

Allegan City Council Studying
High Iron Content of Water

Allegan (Special) — Allegan's residents may get relief from poor-tasting, poor-smelling water if tentative plans of the city council go through.

City Manager Philip Beauvais told the council Monday night he was investigating a new method of eliminating iron from the water. A fairly inexpensive process, it may remove the taxpayers' loudest gripe directed at City Hall, he said.

Allegan has a particularly high iron content, Beauvais pointed out. It tests three-tenths iron parts per million parts of water, compared with some communities which have none. Even one-tenth part per million is objectionable.
The method would not soften

the water, Beauvais pointed out, but would improve the drinking qualities. Council plans to approve a month's test after the equipment is received.

The Allegan Construction company was low bidder on two construction projects for the city.
The contract for building a foundation for the new diesel engine was given at $2,473.50, and to erect an addition to the power house for the engine, $6,960.

Beauvais told council the experimental black-top sidewalk on Trowbridge St. had proved to be a cheaper method of re-newing a bad stretch of walk. A project to replace all worn sidewalks in the business district with the material is "certainly a project for next year," he said.

Tourist Group Promises Probe
Of Michigan Watercraft Tax

In answer to complaints by two Holland area resort and boat owners, the executive committee of the West Michigan Tourist and Resort association has authorized a legislative hearing on the Michigan watercraft tax.

Action on the matter came at an executive committee meeting Thursday in Grand Rapids attended by Harold Vander Ploeg and Don Jesiek of Holland and L.
H. Thomson of Detroit, secretary of the Michigan waterways commission.

Vander Ploeg told the group that he objects to the administration of the tax law and further stated that the law is driving out-of-state boat owners from storage in Michigan harbors.

He pointed out that 50 per cent of the tax money goes into a special harbor improvement fund while the other 50 per cent is earmarked for the state's general fund.

"This means," Vander Ploeg said
"that boat owners on lakes with entrances to the Great Lakes are being taxed a levy which not only goes to improve their harbors but which also might be used in a round-about way to improve highway US-27. Although the boat owners receive no direct benefit from the boat tourists' dollar, all merchants, oil companies and others receive business from outside boat people."

Schools Trying To Meet Needs of Changing Society

Parents and Schools Share Responsibility In Child Development

The following article was prepared by Prof. and Mrs. Harold J. Haverkamp, Long-fellow parents, in connection with American Education Week. They wrote on the topic, "What I Expect the Schools to Do for My Child."

By the Haverkamps

The schools do many things for my child which formerly were, and still could be, done in the home. The difference is that the schools do them more efficiently.

The fact that the school has taken from me the task of teaching my child to read, to use numbers, and to develop a wide acquaintance with the world in which he lives does not lessen my responsibility. It remains my task to give him a proper foundation on which the schools can build, and to provide continuing encouragement in the home so that school may always be an exhilarating and rewarding adventure.

Responsibility for the child's development, in general, shared by the home and the school. It is essential that they agree on the goals they seek and that their methods reinforce each other. With an awareness of this shared responsibility, we may suggest some of the things which we expect the schools to do.

One of the problems we jointly face is concern with the apparent loss over the years of the intense interest in learning which is so characteristic of the five and six year old. Perhaps it is an illusion, but over a 13-year span this eagerness seems to give way to apathy. Instead of being an opportunity, learning becomes an obligation. Somewhere, I hope, is an educator who can tell us how to keep alive the fires of curiosity.

Some of the characteristics which I hope my child will develop can best be acquired in the school. One of these is a true appreciation of his own worth, an objective attitude toward himself.

By this I mean that I hope he learns to be aware of his own weaknesses and strengths. I would not like my child to grow up to be an assistant when he might become a manager; neither would I like to have him be intent on becoming a doctor when his abilities and temperament suggest that he might be happier as a hospital orderly.

In the emotionally charged atmosphere of the home it is difficult for the child to see himself, or for us as parents to see him, in a true perspective. In the impersonal atmosphere of the school my child may come to find that middle ground between frustrating ambition and lethargic indifference which will lead to mature happiness.

Another thing which I hope the school will strive to do is to give my child a sense of responsibility to the community, both local and world wide.

Indifference and hostile prejudice have led us to two wars within the span of one generation. If any problem in education is urgent today, it is the development of a sympathetic understanding of and an awareness of mutual responsibility toward people everywhere.

This process must of necessity begin in the home. Here may be acquired the habit of sharing, and an attitude of consideration for others in the family. Entrance into school provides the opportunity to extend these habits and attitudes to a new circle.

We are living in a day when the peace and security of the world depend on the abolishment of petty prejudices and narrow loyalties. As in the past the schools have endeavored to meet the needs of a changing society, so I am confident that today the schools will increase their efforts to give my child, and yours, a world view.

Ganges

Ganges Garden Group met with Mrs. D. W. Wadsworth Friday, Oct. 27, with Mrs. Trevor Nichols assistant hostess. Dessert was served at 1:30 p.m., followed by the program with Mrs. Gertrude Walker in charge. She gave a report on her trip to the Higgins Lake conservation workshop. Slides were shown by Mrs. Frank Stevens which included flowers from her own garden and conservation pictures.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Fisher of South Lyons spent the week-end with her mother, Mrs. Gladys Gooding. They came to attend the wedding of her brother, Robert Gooding, and Miss Eva Runkel, held in the Hopkins Methodist church last Sunday at 4 p.m. Mr. and Mrs. Gooding will live at their home in Ganges, the William Haile cottage, which he purchased several weeks ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Ensfield and Mrs. Orrin Ensfield were called to Rockport, Mo., Sunday by the death of their mother Mrs. Roy Kish.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Nye returned Tuesday from Ann Arbor and Jackson where they spent a few days with their daughters, Mrs. Ruth Burgh and Mrs. Merle Dresselhouse and family.

Members of the Bit O Fun club met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Nye Saturday evening for a surprise party on Mr. Nye. The occasion was his birthday anniversary.

Mrs. William Broadway and Mrs. Corrine Barnes spent Wednesday in Kalamazoo.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cunningham spent Sunday with friends in South Bend, Ind.

Albert Strenly is visiting relatives in Gideon City and Oak Lawn, Ill.

Week-end guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Ensfield were their nephew, the Rev. Wilbur Kingwill of Boston, Mass., and George Kingwill of Belding.

Dr. and Mrs. Allen Brunson of Sturgis spent the week-end with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. E. T. Brunson.

Mr. and Mrs. William Broadway entertained friends from Chicago Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. James Jorgenson of South Haven spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Jacobson.

Holland Elevens In Final Games Of 1950 Season

Football rings down its curtain in Holland this week-end with two games on tap or local patrons.

Friday night the Ottawa county grid championship goes on the block when Grand Haven comes to town to test Coach Bob Stupka's Dutch in the Holland high homecoming contest.

Hope will be trying to sneak into a second place tie in MIAA standings when it takes on an Albion team which has won one, lost two, and tied one in league competition. The Dutchmen can tie Alma for second place if league-leading Kalamazoo can down the Scots in the MIAA championship game.

Both Stupka and Hope coach Al Vanderbush were "quite pleased" with the way their charges committed themselves in impressive victories last Friday. The Stupkamen knocked off Benton Harbor 13-6 while Hope crushed Hillsdale in a snow storm 28-14.

Both local teams will be favored to end their season on successful if not glorious notes.

Stupka had nothing but praise for his line which was hitting its hardest of the season against the Tigers. He singled out his crack guard trio, of Danny Hazebrook, Rex Young and Jack Kulpers as playing "its finest game of the season." Hazebrook doubled as a defensive tackle and performed as if he'd played the position all season.

Chuck Carpenter, Tom Maentz and Paul Klompars also starred in the forward wall. The running of Ron Dalman and Bob Tasma also came in for Stupka's plaudits.

Dalman, apparently recovered from the back bruise which impaired his efficiency against Kalamazoo, tallied both the Dutch touchdowns on smashing running plays. Tasma's running was his usual style—ALL STATE caliber.

Stupka said he thought his team should have scored more but that penalties called in the rough game kept down the score and stymied several would-be Dutch drives.

Parents to Visit Allegan Schools

Allegan (Special) — When the school buses make their morning pick-ups next Friday, grown-ups will go aboard, while the junior and senior high school students wave goodbye.

The occasion is the 13th annual "Parents Day" at Allegan high school, when mothers and fathers will attend a program luncheon and teacher-parents conferences. The event also falls on the school's first homecoming day.

Dr. Clyde Campbell, director of administration, Michigan State college, will be the principal speaker in the morning. He will follow a concert by the band at 9:15 a.m., and a welcome by Supt. Arthur Kaehle.

The senior high school chorus will entertain at 1:30 p.m., followed by a panel discussion by Kaehle, Principal Joseph Mulready, junior high principal Walter Godlewski, and Mrs. Lucy Wise, member of the board of education.

Steel pipe installed in the Pentagon building would reach from Chicago to Indianapolis — about 200 miles.

Zeeland

Lt. and Mrs. Ray Vanden Belt have left for California. Lt. Vanden Belt expects to leave for service in Japan in the near future.

Jackie, their son, is staying at the home of their brother and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Klynstra, during Mrs. Vanden Belt's absence.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Altena of Paterson, N.J., were recent visitors at the home of Mrs. John Timmer, East Main Ave.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Elbing of East Lansing were recent visitors with relatives and friends. They moved from Zeeland last August and Mr. Elbing is attending Michigan State college.

Miss Winifred Bume recently visited friends, including the John Jansma family in Kalamazoo.

Dr. and Mrs. J. Van Peursem, who spent three weeks visiting relatives and friends in Maurice, Orange City, Sioux City, Iowa, have returned to their home in Zeeland. Dr. Van Peursem formerly resided in Maurice, Iowa.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Vander Veer have moved from their residence on Lincoln Ave., to the residence on West Cherry Ave., which they recently purchased from Nicholas Mast. The Vander Veer home is now occupied by the Cornelius Klynstra family, who recently moved from Harrison Ave.

At a meeting of the Sunshine Circle, held in the parlors of North Street Christian Reformed church, a chalk talk was presented by Elmer Mulder, principal of the local Christian school. The meeting was held Tuesday evening and husbands of members were invited guests.

There will be a joint meeting of all the missionary organizations at the First Reformed church tonight. The Rev. Ralph J. Kortel missionary on furlough from India, will address the group. He will show a film entitled "Church Work in India."

The devotional service will be in charge of Mrs. George Van Zoeren and Miss Joyce Brunsting will furnish special music. Those who attend will bring gifts for the annual mission box, to be sent this year to Brewton, Ala., where the school for colored children is located.

There was a hymn sing in the North Christian Reformed church on Sunday evening. Special numbers were presented by the male quartet of this church. Charles Bosch of Zutphen directed the music.

The new First Christian Reformed church is progressing and plans are being made to hold services in the basement of the church in the near future.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Jansma of Morrison, Ill., were recent visitors with friends in this locality.

The consistory of the Borculo Christian Reformed church has nominated the following trio. The Rev. John Breuker, Sioux Center, Iowa; the Rev. Albert Jabsay, Evergreen Park, Ill.; the Rev. John Zwanstra, Platte, S.D.

The Rev. John Vander Mey, pastor of the Harlem Reformed church conducted services at the Beavertown Reformed church Sunday.

Speaker Favors Silent Prayer

Silent prayer is more effective than audible praying, according to Oscar Graham Peeke of Kansas City, Mo., who spoke to the Holland Christian Science society at a meeting Monday night in the Woman's Literary club.

Peeke is a member of the lecturership board of the mother church, the First Church of Christ, Scientist, Boston, Mass.

Audible prayer, if it tends toward emotionalism, is the product of the material senses, and therefore is of little avail. But the silent, selfless, and fervent desire for increased spiritual understanding whereby to accept and utilize the spiritual blessings which God is continually and impartially bestowing on all of His children is "effective fervent prayer" which, as the Apostle James says, "Availeth much," the speaker said.

It is not true prayer merely to ask God to love and bless us. Rather it is learning to love as He loves.

"Every statement about God in Christian Science is self-evident truth, and is seen to be so through spiritual understanding and demonstration; also each demonstration incites the earnest student to a greater endeavor to obey the Apostle Paul's practical admonition, 'Pray without ceasing,'" Peeke said.

In our daily living we should keep guard over our thinking in order to increasingly realize the ever-presence of God, good, and follow as closely as possible the loving admonition of Christ Jesus, given in his sermon on the mount," he concluded.

Local Board Members Attend District Meet

Eight members of the local Golden Chain Christian Endeavor Union executive board attended the Great Lakes region C. E. conference held in South Bend, Ind., Friday and Saturday.

The local group included Vern Boss, Irene Vrugink, Norman Vrugink, Marjorie Hoeve, Elmer Ensing, Gerald Huyser, Edith Brouwer and Shirley Brouwer.

More than 125 leaders of Christian Endeavor from Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin and Michigan attended. Purpose was to lay plans for improvement and extension of C. E. societies in Protestant churches in the area.

Deer Hunters Can Get Emergency Messages

Again this deer season, the state conservation department and state police will co-operate to provide emergency message service.

Hunters are invited to register their names and camp location at the nearest state police post or conservation department headquarters. Before leaving home, hunters should advise their families of the station at which they are going to register.

Messages must be of an emergency type.

Hotel Has Modern, Pleasant Rooms

The Warm Friend Tavern has modern and pleasant rooms for its overnight guests. They are furnished attractively for rest and relaxation. An additional parking space was added recently when the land at the west entrance to the hotel was cemented. Taxi service and a shoe shine parlor are available at the hotel for convenience of guests.

A favorite stopping-off place for both out-of-town guests and Holland persons is the Bier Kelder, open from noon to 12 p.m.

Especially popular for private parties, luncheons and dinners are the Tulip, Centennial and Van Raalte rooms in the Tavern. These modern rooms are favorites for college and high school functions too, according to Gerald Helder, hotel manager.

The Dutch Grill is noted for its fine food at all times of the year. The hotel's motto, "Where True Dutch Hospitality Prevails," also applies in the dining room where guests are served by girls in Dutch costumes. The spacious and beautiful hotel lounge is arranged for privacy and comfort.

Bucs, Holland To Renew Long Rivalry Friday

One of the most torridly contested series in Western Michigan prep circles comes up for renewal this Friday when Grand Haven invades Holland for their annual "Wooden Shoe" trophy battle.

Add to this the fact that the game, the last of the season for both eleven, is the annual Dutch homecoming and you have the makings of a hotly contested game.

In the rivalry which dates back to 1903 both teams have won an equal number of games, 23. This is a rubber match, so to speak. On the basis of season's play, the Dutch will rate as slight favorites to trip the Buccaneers.

To show how evenly matched the two teams are, each owns a single conference victory, that over Benton Harbor. Both have lost to the other conference powers, Muskegon, Muskegon Heights and Kalamazoo.

Holland victimized three non-league foes and tied one, while the Bucs won over two non-loop opponents while losing a like number. Holland owns a four-three-one mark while Grand Haven has a three-five overall slate.

Led by Bob Tasma the Dutch walked off the Grand Haven gridiron last season with a 25-13 victory.

Holland coach Bob Stupka is pointing for this annual "grudge" game and a victory here would make the season a success. The most lopsided score in the long series is the 82-0 humiliation meted out by the Dutch squad of 1916. Interestingly enough, it was the second game played between the two teams that year and the Dutch were hard-pressed to win the first 12-0.

Grand Haven's most lopsided tally was the 60-0 drubbing in 1907.

Riding Party and Picnic Held by Camp Fire Girls

Members of the Waku Wasti Camp Fire group had a horseback riding party last Friday at Kalamazoo. The ride was followed by a party at the home of the group leader, Mrs. Joe Moran.

Group members planned and participated in the event to fulfill requirements of the Torch Bearers rank in the sports and games craft.

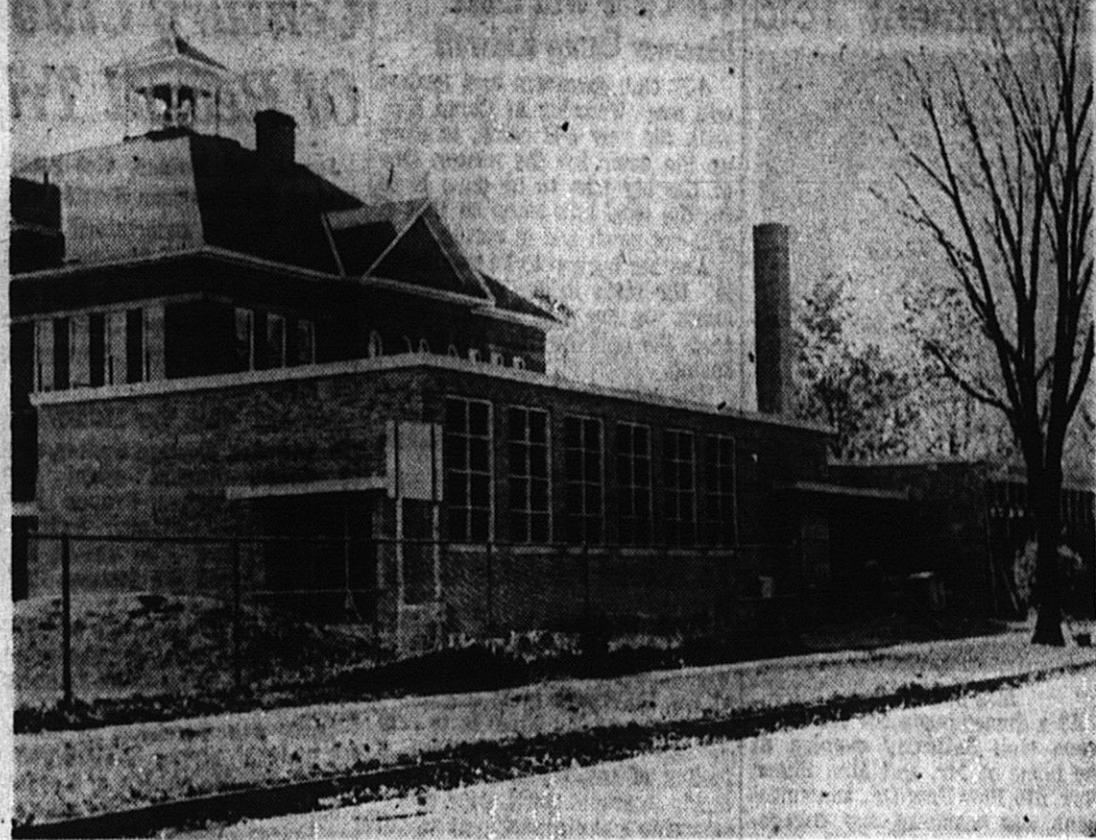

At the Moran home, a scavenger hunt was held with the Stallions as winners. The Mares were winners in a badminton contest. Individual winners were Joyce Cook and Shirley Seidelman, who were awarded horse figurines as prizes.

A birthday picnic supper was served in the Moran yard in honor of Clarine Olin and Nancy Moran, who celebrated their 13th birthday anniversaries. A large birthday cake, decorated with 13 miniature horse figures, was served on a musical plate.

Judgment Awarded

Grand Haven (Special)—A consent judgment of $7,750 without costs was granted Stanley Skalanka of Detroit in circuit court Wednesday upon agreement of counsel. Skalanka had sought $50,000 damages from John Ten Hagen of Grand Rapids for injuries received when hit by Ten Hagen's car a year ago. Skalanka, a cook on the Car ferry City of Grand Rapids, fractured both legs and was a patient in Municipal hospital until Oct. 7 of this year. Skalanka, 56, is a veteran of World War I.

Vermont began the commercial quarrying of granite on a large scale as early as 1812.

Here is the new addition of six class rooms at Longfellow school now nearing completion. Construction was begun last August for the unit consisting of six class rooms, gymnasium and new heating plant. It is the first unit of a long range program which schedules additions or replacements at Lincoln and Froebel schools, Van Raalte school and the high school. The contract for a new elementary school on the Lincoln school site already has been let. The new unit with 12 class rooms will be built around the present gym which is still in excellent condition and will serve in the new building.

Hydrant Tamperers Appear Before Court

Two young Holland men, who admitted turning on a fire hydrant Halloween night, were ordered to pay $25 fine and $4.70 costs each by Municipal Judge Cornelius Vander Meulen Wednesday.

Gordon Sloothaak, route 4, and Don Topp, Jr., 80 North Division Ave., both 18, were the men involved. The judge pointed out there is a city ordinance against tampering with fire hydrants.

Pullman

(From Friday's Sentinel)

Mrs. Ila Hough, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Rainey of Pullman, and Raymond Boileau of Wisconsin were married Oct. 19 by Judge Harold Weston at Allegan. The bride was attended by Miss Doris Galbreath of Pullman and Charles Rainey, brother of the bride, was best man. The groom has reported for Army service at Camp Riley, Kans. They will make their home in Pullman.

Mrs. William Randolph and Mrs. Donald Hoyt of Pullman gave a shower for Mrs. Russell Hoyt at the Randolph home Oct. 19. The bride is a graduate of Fennville high school, is employed at S. E. Overton Co., South Haven. The 27. Gifts were presented to the honored guest.

Mrs. Eleanor Lutz, former postmistress of Pullman, and Clinton Fleming of East Casco were married Saturday, Oct. 28, at the bride's home.

Mrs. Bruno Rohde gave a masquerade Halloween party at her home at Lower Scott Lake last Saturday.

Guests of Mrs. Vera Galbreath of Pullman last Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Flora and family of Kalamazoo, Mrs. Ray Fleming and son of Fennville, Miss Ruth Jean Galbreath of Muskegon and Miss Mary Simmons of South Haven.

Mrs. Clyde Lyman and Mrs. Lavern Hoyt of Pullman gave a bridal shower last week for the former Dorothy Stevens.

Percy Hodgeman of South Lee and Mrs. F. Burrows of Casco called on Mr. and Mrs. Francis Reams Sunday. Lewis Burrows of Bangor accompanied his mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Haynes and daughter, Mrs. Gordon Haynes of South Haven, were Monday evening visitors at the home of Mrs. Glenn Haynes' sister, Mrs. Ray Overhiser of East Casco.

Mrs. Marion Bugden of East Casco has left for South Haven, where she will spend the winter months.

The Pullman Rebekah lodge will meet Wednesday evening, Nov. 8, at the Pullman IOOF hall.

Junia Halverson Named Girls League President

Miss Junia Halverson was elected president of the Junior Girls league of Fourth Reformed church at a regular meeting Tuesday evening at the church parsonage. Miss Audrey Bouwman, retiring vice president, conducted the meeting.

Others elected are Miss Myra Van Dyke, vice president; Miss Norma Harbin, secretary; Miss Audrey Bouwman, treasurer, and Miss Karen Doezman, assistant secretary-treasurer.

Members of the group answered roll call with a Bible verse containing the word "thanks."

It was announced that the next meeting, Dec. 5, will be a Christmas party.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Henry Van Dyke, sponsor of the group.

First Reformed Church Sets Showing of Film

The film, "The Sicile or the Cross," will be shown Thursday 7:45 p.m. in First Reformed church. The film was recently released by the Lutheran Layman's league and presents a graphic picture of communism and Christianity in conflict. Ed Vining will lead devotions at the meeting and the vesper choir will sing. The public is invited.

Monday marked the beginning of American Education Week in schools all over the country, and Prof. A. E. Lampen, president of the Holland Board of Education, took the opportunity to call attention to Holland's plans for providing adequate buildings for the teaching and administrative needs of local school children.

With the new addition at Longfellow school well on the way to completion, President Lampen says the long-range program envisions the construction of four units. Besides Longfellow, this includes a new elementary school on the Lincoln site to replace Lincoln and Froebel schools, and improvements or replacement of Van Raalte school.

The contract already has been let on the new school on the Lincoln site. For Longfellow, however, the board believes the present location is not the most desirable and therefore is purchasing property in the vicinity of 24th and Harrison in the hope of constructing a new building. Another year of careful study and planning will be necessary to provide the best possible unit.

To meet the financial demands of the elementary program, the city voted a bonding issue of $650,000, and after considerable and careful advertising, these bonds were sold at the remarkably low interest rate of 1.1119 per cent a rate which attests the high financial rating of the city. A large part of this money was reinvested in U.S. Certificates of Indebtedness bearing an interest rate of about 1.25 per cent. In this way, the money is kept in a needed fluid state and the interest is largely met through reinvestment.

The fourth and last unit will be an addition to the high school building. To anticipate the financial needs for this building, the board is setting aside about $55,000 a year so that after five years a sum of at least $275,000 will be available when the large enrollment is expected. Half of this yearly allotment will come from tuition paid by out-of-town students. The board is permitted to set aside from its own funds a definite maximum for building and site funds. So far, the board has not yet put aside the maximum.

"We feel confident that local people who are our taxpayers and supporters will be satisfied that the board has planned wisely and that the new buildings will be artistically constructed and will meet the needs of our student body for years to come," Prof. Lampen said.

Bethel Bible Class Elects New Officers

Officers were elected by the Adult Bible class of Bethel Reformed church at the annual meeting in the church parlors Tuesday night.

John Bleeker was named president; Mrs. Henry Naberhuis, vice president; Mrs. Herman Cook, secretary; Henry Stiekete, treasurer, and William Topp, assistant secretary-treasurer.

After the election a program was given. Mrs. Earl Vanden Bosch sang two solos "A Pilgrim and a Stranger" and "I Heard the Voice of Jesus Says." She was accompanied by Mrs. R. Van Vuren.

Mrs. Ernest Penna entertained the group with a selected group of readings. Refreshments were served.

Mrs. Mary Van Rhee Dies in Grand Rapids Hospital

Zeeland (Special)—Mrs. Mary Van Rhee, 82, of Jamestown, died unexpectedly Friday night at St. Mary's hospital, Grand Rapids, where she was taken that night. Surviving are two sons, Dr. George Van Rhee of Detroit and Lucas of Jamestown; one daughter, Mrs. Anna Van der Molen of Hudsonville; 10 grandchildren and 16 great grandchildren; also a brother, Lucas Vredevelde of Drenthe.

Wall paper originated in China, and was not introduced into Europe until the 18th century.

Stamp Collecting Events Scheduled

National stamp collecting week will be observed in Holland Nov. 13-19 with a window display of collections and an open forum meeting, both sponsored by the Holland Stamp Collectors club.

The display will be set up all week in the window at the Chamber of Commerce building on Eighth St. The meeting will be held at the Bosman tailor shop on Eighth St., at 7:30 p.m., Monday, Nov. 13.

Both events will be open to the public.

Stamp collecting week was set aside in honor of "the hobby of kids and kings" which began with issuance of the first postage stamps in 1840. It is designed as a means of furthering the knowledge of stamp collectors as well as non-collectors about the hobby.

C. Veersma, president of the Holland club which lists 50 members, will preside at the forum meeting, and has general charge of the local arrangements.

The club meets on the second and fourth Mondays of each month at the Bosman shop. New members are invited to join.

Miss Johanna Leegstra Wed to Cecil Terpstra

Miss Johanna Leegstra, daughter of Mrs. Lizzie Leegstra, 36 Taft St., Zeeland, and Cecil Terpstra, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Terpstra, 5445 124th Ave., were married Thursday, Nov. 2, in the parlors of North Street Christian Reformed church, Zeeland. The Rev. John Gulichelaar read the double ceremony at 8 p.m.

Miss Mae Kolkema, soloist, sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly." The wedding marches were played by a cousin of the bride, Miss Grace Elzinga.

The parlors were decorated with chrysanthemums, ferns and candelabra for the exchange of vows. The bride wore a bronze tulle gown and carried a colonial bouquet of roses and chrysanthemums. Mrs. Gordon Vork, her only attendant, wore an aqua tulle gown and also carried a colonial bouquet.

Gordon Vork assisted the groom as best man. John Morsink and Alvin Elzinga, cousins of the bride, seated the guests. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Zuidema, brother-in-law and sister of the bride, were master and mistress of ceremonies.

A reception for 85 guests was held in the church parlors. Misses Stella Steenwyk and Lucille Bos were in charge of the gift room.

Serving were the Misses Elsie Geurink, Evelyn Geurink, Anna Mae Zuidema, Alice Luurtsema, Angeline Gebben and Jo Overway.

The bride is employed at National Biscuit Co., Holland, and the groom is employed in the shipping department at H. J. Heinz Co.

For their southern wedding trip, Mrs. Terpstra wore a wine suit with black accessories and a corsage of roses.

They will live at 1784 104th Ave., Zeeland, upon their return.

Guests were Virginia Hulst, Darlene Kole, Maxine Riksen, June Moeller, Janice Kleinkind, the honored guest and her mother, Mrs. James Hofmeyer.

COUNTY FARM VISITED

Allegan (Special)—Supervisors and county officers were dinner guests of the county farm staff Thursday. It's an annual event of the October session of the board. According to custom, each guest contributes a dollar to make up a fund for purchase of entertainment equipment for hospital and infirmary inmates.

Florida has more kinds of trees than any other state.

October Started And Ended Warm, With Little Rain

October's average temperature of 56.5 degrees was 4.7 degrees above normal but the light rainfall of 1.33 inches was 1.87 inches below normal, according to Charles A. Stiekete who keeps the official weather records for Holland.

October started out warm with a high reading of 82 degrees on Oct. 1 and ended warm with a high reading of 78, a boon to youngsters anxious to celebrate Halloween. But in between there were plenty of cold periods, although there were only a few frosts. The lowest reading was 28 degrees.

The average temperature was 56.5, compared with 57.6 in 1949, 50.5 in 1948, 61.1 in 1947 and 56.2 in 1946. Maximum was 82, compared with 86 in 1949, 77 in 1948, 86 in 1947 and 81 in 1946. Minimum was 28, compared with 31 in 1949, 26 in 1948, 31 in 1947 and 29 in 1946.

Average minimum temperature was 46.5, compared with 47.4 in 1949, 39.5 in 1948, 49.2 in 1947 and 43.6 in 1946. Average maximum temperature was 66.5, compared with 67.8 in 1949, 61.5 in 1948, 61.1 in 1947 and 56.2 in 1946. Departure of temperature from normal was plus 4.7, compared with plus 5.8 in 1949, -1.3 inches in 1948, plus 9.3 in 1947 and plus 4.4 in 1946.

Precipitation measured 1.33 inches compared with 1.91 in 1949, 1.34 in 1948, .58 in 1947 and 2.10 in 1946. Departure of precipitation from normal was -1.87, compared with -1.29 in 1949, -1.86 in 1948, -2.62 in 1946 and -1.10 in 1946.

Rain fell on six days, compared with 11 days in 1949, 11 in 1948, five in 1947 and eight in 1946.

Allegan Goes GOP By 3 to 1 Majority

Allegan (Special)—Allegan county gave a 3 to 1 majority to Republican candidates Tuesday, returning all county officers to their posts with but one exception. The new prosecutor will be Dwight Cheever succeeding Chester A. Ray who did not seek reelection.

Clare Hoffman, long-time U. S. representative of the 4th district, was returned to office with comfortable margins over his Democratic opponent, Forrest A. Schoonard. Hoffman polled 8,758 votes in 29 out of 32 precincts in Allegan, to 3,250 for Schoonard.

Hoffman also received comfortable majorities in balloting in Barry, Berrien, Cass and St. Joseph counties, the other counties in the 4th district.

In 28 out of 32 precincts, Edward Hutchinson, former representative, led his Democratic opponent, Ned Roberts, 8,577 to 2,905, in the state senate race. Ben Lohman, Fillmore supervisor who was Republican candidate for state representative, led his Democratic opponent, Carl Winslow, 8,525 to 2,944, in 28 precincts.

County Clerk Esther Hettinger led the entire county ticket with 8,730 votes in 28 precincts, with 2,639 for her opponent, Thaddeus Bilski.

Others re-elected were James Boyce, treasurer; Howard Strand, register of deeds; William Teed, drain commissioner; Clyde Dickinson and William Ten Brink, coroners; Hugh McDougall, surveyor.

Allegan county gave an overwhelming majority to proposal No. 2 on state hospitals, but in 16 out of 32 precincts, the colored oleo issue was trailing 3,121 to 3,690.

Powers Murder Re-Trial Heads Allegan Calendar

Allegan (Special)—Retrial of Melbourne Powers, 58, Douglas man charged with killing his son-in-law last July, heads the seven criminal cases on the November circuit court calendar. The case tried in September resulted in a hung jury.

Two new criminal cases concern Earl G. Adams, South Haven, up for sentence on a breaking and entering charge, and Theodore Cook, Otsego, for trial on a statutory complaint. Four cases were held over.

There are 19 jury civil cases, 17 non-jury civil suits. Among the 42 contested chancery cases are 28 divorces; among five non-contested, four are divorces.

Hope Church Women's Club Completes Projects

Seventy-four members of the Hope church Women's club attended the monthly dinner in the parish hall Thursday night and saw the culmination of two special projects. Mrs. Clarence J. Becker was a guest of the club and received gifts for the church nursery department. Other gifts, in the form of used clothing, were brought for a missionary project in Mexico.

Mrs. Donald Brown, who had interested the group in the Mexican mission, showed moving pictures taken in Mexico. Mrs. Leon Hopkins, president, presided and Miss Elsie Stryker conducted devotions. Mrs. Kenneth De Press gave the invocation.

Tables were decorated by Mrs. Lester De Ridder who was in charge of dinner arrangements.

To Celebrate Golden Anniversary

Open house will be held Wednesday by Mr. and Mrs. John Onk, Sr., 202 East 13th St., on their 50th wedding anniversary. Friends and relatives may call at the home from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m.

The couple came to the United States from the Netherlands in 1908. Four of their eight children are living, Henry, John, Albert and Dena Onk. Mr. Onk, who was employed by Michigan Gas and Electric Co., retired several years ago. Mr. and Mrs. Onk are members of St. Francis de Sales church.

Mr. Onk will be 81 years old on Friday. Mrs. Onk is 79.

On Sunday evening, Mr. and Mrs. John Onk, Jr., entertained at a family dinner party in their home, 158 East 16th St., in honor of Mr. and Mrs. John Onk, Sr.

Twelve guests, the children and families, attended the event. The dinner table was decorated with a centerpiece of artificial flowers containing 50 one-dollar bills, which the host and hostess presented to the guests of honor. A two-tiered anniversary cake completed decorations. The evening was spent socially.

Mrs. Lloyd Spencer, Pullman, shows her husband the cup and saucer she brought from Copenhagen to add to her already large collection. Other souvenirs include the book with the hand-woven cover, the festival day plate, crocheted necktie, and other gifts from her Danish hostesses.

She Liked Visit of Denmark Best While on Recent Tour of Europe

Allegan (Special)—Her hostesses frequently couldn't speak English, but Mrs. Lloyd Spencer of Pullman has just returned from the most generous—if wordless—hospitality in her experience. "The most wonderful hosts you ever saw. Why, one day, we ate eight times!" is Mrs. Spencer's summing up of her visit to Denmark.

Two months in Europe as the president of the Michigan Home Demonstration council, Mrs. Spencer's first responsibility was attending the conference of associated countrywomen of the world in Copenhagen.

But since her aim was to learn how rural women in other countries lived, she found her tours into the Danish farm country left the greatest impression on her memory.

For four days, following the conference, she was among the guests of the Danish Housewives association, an organization much like the home extension clubs which she represented. She ate and spent the nights with farm families, who prepared their finest food and kept the children home from school to "see the American lady."

"Usually, it was the man of the family who could speak a little English. The wife and I usually tried to talk, and then end up giggling. That's something we can all do," Mrs. Spencer comments.

"Apparently, before our arrival, the Danes were told the American women would want water with their meals—which is not their custom—and that they ate ice cream every day."

"Consequently, at the conference meals, we had quart bottles of water on the table and huge glasses which they kept filling and re-filling. And we had ice cream every meal!"

"Coffee was a meal in itself. We were offered apple juice, carbonated water or beer with our meal. About an hour later, coffee was served with pastries. This happened after lunch, before dinner, after dinner and before bedtime. They were insulted if we refused, and so we stuffed!"

She visited the co-operative woolen mills, candy factories and schools in Denmark but found herself unable to "sell" fruit tree thinnings to Danish orchard men. She was enchanted with the tours of castles on their route.

If Danish food left them gaping, English fare left them hungry. Mrs. Spencer declares. Cabbage was the only vegetable they were served and they got it twice a day. It was accompanied by soggy potatoes and an unpalatable meat dish, made more mysterious by a shroud of white sauce.

England, Sweden, Italy, Germany, and France were on the post-conference tour which Mrs. Spencer and 21 other women delegates made in a specially chartered bus. It was a whirl of strange sights and thrills.

There was the exclusive fashion show in Paris when they got a look at tight skirts and great high bows for trim; an evening "watching" Monte Carlo; Stockholm, a lovely city despite a constant rain; the day at Versailles; the acres of bombed out ruins in Hamburg, Germany, and the families living in the debris; the hair-pin turn atop a Swiss mountain where the women had to get out so the bus could negotiate the curve.

Now at home unpacking the mementoes of the trip, Mrs. Spencer is busy compiling notes for several speaking engagements coming up soon.

Young Calvinist Rally Planned in Church Here

The Ninth annual International Young Calvinist rally will be held Friday night in Fourteenth Street Christian Reformed church. The local rally, scheduled at 7:45 p.m., is planned in connection with similar rallies to be held the same evening in various cities in the United States and Canada.

The meeting is being arranged locally by the Holland-Zeeland Young Calvinist and American Federation of Reformed Young Women's leagues.

Speaker at the event will be Dr. Eugene Osterhaven of Hope college. He will present an address on the international theme, "The Road Ahead."

Music will be furnished by the Christian high school choir, under the direction of Marvin Baas. Miss Myra Wiersma will be soloist.

Speaks at First Church

Mrs. A. Tobet of the Sudan Interior mission field in Africa was guest speaker at a meeting of the Women's Missionary society of First Reformed church Thursday afternoon in the church parlors. Mrs. Tobet showed colored slides of the mission field and told of her work there.

Mrs. Bastian Kruthof, president, conducted the meeting and Mrs. Peter Marsilje led devotions. A solo, "Is It Nothing to You," was sung by Miss Marian Eastman, accompanied by Mrs. Ellen Ruusard. Mrs. Tobet led the closing prayer.

Hostesses for the afternoon were the Mesdames Harry Young, Fred Slag, Dick Schaaffenaar and Jake Van Dyke.

Holland Joins Rest of Nation In Defense Test

Spotters Report All Airplane Flights To Grand Rapids

Holland joined the rest of the nation Saturday in tests to determine whether Russian atomic bombers could get through this country's spotter defenses by flying over the Arctic for a knockout blow at U. S. industries.

Marlin Japiga, of 266 West 20th St., and his wife are spotting all planes flying over this area today and Sunday between the hours of 9 a.m. and 6 p.m. as part of the test.

Japiga, a former Air Force captain, relays the information to Grand Rapids where local flights are filtered from other flights and reported on to higher officers.

"We will need more help on this project later and ask that any volunteers call us so they may be enrolled," Japiga said.

More than 150,000 civilian volunteers mounted guard at 6,100 spotter stations from the Atlantic coast to the 103rd meridian—roughly paralleling the east slope of the Rockies.

Detroit, the nation's industrial arsenal, was protected from the north by spotters manning 500 lookouts located in a network every eight miles throughout Michigan, according to Capt. Leo W. Kauffenberger, filter center commander Grand Rapids.

The spotters, located on water towers, rooftops, other vantage points reported the planes' locations, heights and directions to central offices for relay to "filter stations" which plotted each ship's course and determined whether it was "friend" or "foe."

It was the first major test of the country's spotter defenses since development of the atomic bomb.

Chicago Workers Give Iron Lung To Mrs. Larson

When the Holland Kiwanis club stages its March of Dimes (or dollars) early next year, an iron lung will be on display downtown.

At least, that's the plan now, according to Gabe Kuite, local campaign chairman, and Charles K. Bugielski of Grand Haven, county co-chairman and treasurer.

The lung is a gift for Mrs. Harry Larson, 29-year-old polio victim in Holland hospital, who has been an iron lung patient since September, 1929. It is a gift from workers in the Hanna Manufacturing Co. in Chicago, who read of Mrs. Larson's plight and decided to present the lung to her for her own use so long as she has need of it. Materials were contributed by several Chicago firms.

It was constructed by Hanna employees in their spare time and was completed some time ago. Since Mrs. Larson spends more than eight hours a day out of the lung, the new lung will be kept at the home of her parents, the Rev. and Mrs. John Vanderbeek, where she goes almost every day to be with her husband and two young sons.

Hanna employees wrote Bugielski of their offer after reading about Mrs. Larson. They asked Bugielski whether Harry Larson, trained electrical worker, would check and test the lung.

The lung Mrs. Larson has at Holland hospital is property of the National Foundation of Infantile Paralysis. When she first came to Holland hospital a year ago, she could be out of the lung only about a minute at a time. Months later she improved to the point where the minutes stretched into hours.

Since she spends several hours almost every day at her parents' home, most of Mrs. Vanderbeek's personal possessions have been moved there including the television set which was a gift of several Holland persons when she was transferred to Holland hospital from Blodgett hospital, Grand Rapids, a year ago. She has a wheelchair at home and often attends a service in Ebenezer church.

Ten drivers appeared in Municipal Court Monday on traffic charges.

Wilber C. Walker, 66 East 13th St., paid $12 fine and costs for speeding. Richard J. Campbell, Battle Creek, paid $13 fine and costs for failure to observe due caution.

John Vanden Beldt, Jr., 12 West Main St., Zeeland, paid $7 fine and costs for speeding. Lucille Slosson, A-2 Beach Ct., paid $7 fine and costs for defective brakes. Duane Lyons, 119 East 15th St., paid $5 fine and costs for running a stop sign. Donald Dekker, route 4, paid $5 fine and costs for speeding.

Paying $1 parking fines were Peter Van Iwaarden, 534 College Ave.; J. Schroeder, 451 College Ave.; Dale W. Bommers, 100 East 22nd St.; and Walter Van Meeten, 47 East 16th St.

Engagement Told

Miss Barbara Borr

At a dinner party for the Nineteens club Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Simon Borr, 979 Paw Paw Dr., announcement was made of the engagement of their daughter, Barbara, to Warren J. Veurink, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit Veurink, 49 East 22nd St.

Little notes revealing the engagement were concealed in yellow pompons which were presented to each guest. The guest of honor received a corsage of rust and gold baby mums. A corsage was also presented to another honored guest, Miss Betty Otten, whose engagement was announced recently.

The table was decorated with a centerpiece of baby mums, greens and yellow tapers.

Guests were the Misses Carol Marcuse Shirley Staal, Elsa Zwiap, Hanna Lenters, Ruth Klingenberg, Betty Otten, Joyce Steketee, Joyce Heetderks and the guest of honor.

4-H Clubs Will Close Summer Camp Kidwell

4-H club members and leaders will meet Thursday at Camp Kidwell, the new 4-H camp, to close up the camp for the winter. One of the big jobs to be done is to fix the road into camp so that it will not wash out in spring.

Another big job to be completed is the main lodge. The second story on one side is still open from the roof lowering job of last spring.

The camp can be reached by going three and a half miles south of Cheshire Center, to the south side of Eagle Lake.
