Annexation Loses by Few Votes

Although Holland city voted 4 to 1 in favor of annexation, the annexation issues for Van Raalte district east of Holland and for Lakeview district west of Holland were defeated by narrow margins in their own districts in Tuesday's election.

The Lakeview district in Ottawa county lost by 18 votes and the Van Raalte district lost by only 2 votes. The unofficial Van Raalte vote was 302 to 304 and the Lakeview vote 347 to 365. The small portion of Lakeview district which lies in Allegan county lost more decisively, 31 to 57.

Persons working for the Lakeview annexation expressed sharp concern over the loss of 108 votes on the issue in Park township. A total of 830 persons voted within the annexed area, but the sum of "yes" and "no" votes on annexation was only 712. Several persons who failed to note the constitutional question and the annexation question emerged from the booth with the question, "Where do I vote on annexation?"

The 13 precincts of the newly enlarged Holland city voted a comfortable 4 to 1 majority on all three issues. The city vote reflected the district vote, placing Van Raalte first, Lakeview (Ottawa) second and Lakeview (Allegan) third.

The annexation issues posed some complications in the townships where voting machines were marked for persons living within the annexing areas and outside the areas. Three of Holland township's four precincts had areas both inside and outside.

It was not known immediately whether annexation proponents would work toward another election or if the opposition would work on new plans. So long as annexation is not effected, these districts cannot send new students to Holland High School.

State Police said they stopped Runion for a routine check because he was driving so slowly and found the local dealer's plates under the front seat.

Holland police said Runion will be arraigned Wednesday in Municipal Court on a charge of larceny by conversation.

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — Gerald Henry Barnholtz, 15, Spring Lake, was treated in Municipal Hospital for injuries received at 7:50 a.m. today when his motor scooter rammed into the rear of a 1958 car owned by Edward Borchers, 51, route 2, Spring Lake. Borchers had stopped in a lane of traffic south of the swing bridge. Barnholtz, who injured his left knee, will be cited to Probate Court for failure to stop within an assured clear distance ahead.

Election Highlights

Election polls closed at 8 p.m. Tuesday. At 8:02 p.m. the Sentinel received its first phone call. A woman wanted to know who won.

When telephone calls got rolling after 9:30 p.m., most calls were on the sheriff's race. Next in interest was annexation. It was a long time before the annexation vote was available on the Van Raalte issue. At first it appeared the issue won by 7 votes, then a recheck revealed it lost by 2 votes. The Lakeview issue lost by 18 votes.

Apple Ave. district, officially the third precinct of ward 6 in Holland, can certainly be proud. Under the competent direction of John Van Appledorn, it was the first to report the vote to City Clerk Clarence Greengood. First precinct of the 5th ward under Louis Dykema was the second to report. First ward came just a little later. John Kemper is election chairman at first.

Apple Ave. district also topped all city precincts in voter percentage, hitting 95.9 per cent of the registered vote. This district tallied 164 votes out of a possible 171.

The sticker campaign carried on by Sheriff Jerry Vanderbeek resulted in many new experiences for local election boards. It was the first time a "serious" sticker campaign was conducted. As expected, some voters pasted their stickers on the front of the machine instead of in the slot above. In the first ward, Vanderbeek got two sticker votes for drain commissioner. Some forgot to remove the protective cover from the sticker. All in all, things went pretty well.

The drone of voices reading votes for the big county chart was heard a great deal in The Sentinel newsroom this morning. It had a familiar sound because these figures are repeated several times before they hit print. First the precinct report figures to the city or county clerk. A newspaper worker takes down the vote and calls it to the news room. There is another repeat deal to transfer it to the main election chart. Then these figures must be dictated again as County totals are made (The Sentinel has two convenient electric adding machines.) Then the figures must be read aloud again on proof reading.

State laws now require that all tallies must be turned into the county clerk's office after the vote is compiled. Since Holland now lies in two counties, this means trips to Allegan and Grand Haven. City Clerk Clarence Greengood took the supplies for 11 precincts to Grand Haven. Deputy Clerk Mel Bouman took them to Allegan. Both left on their respective missions shortly before midnight.

The Sentinel closed shop at 2:30 a.m. Wednesday after tallying the vote of 47 precincts. Throughout the evening there were many visitors. A couple of electric coffee pots provided coffee and Clyde Geerlings brought in a cake, compliments of his wife.

Local Driver Has Fatal Heart Attack

Frank Stevenson, 66, of 16980 Ransom Ave., suffered a fatal heart attack Wednesday at 10:30 a.m. as he drove on West Eighth St. between River and Pine Ave. The driverless car collided with a parked truck, ran through a gas station lot, crossed Pine Ave. and ran into a trucking lot before being stopped by a witness.

Stevenson was pronounced dead on arrival at Holland Hospital of an acute coronary thrombosis.

According to police, Stevenson was driving west on Eighth St. west of River Ave. when the car crossed to the left side of the street and bounced off a panel truck parked there.

The car then veered back to the right side of the street and, at the corner of Eighth St. and Pine Ave., jumped up over the curb and ran through a gas station lot, just missing the pumps.

Jason Roels, working in the produce stand near the corner, saw the apparently driverless car going down the street and chased it through the gas station lot, across Pine Ave. and into the trucking lot before catching it, jumping in and putting on the brakes.

Police said damage to the panel truck and Stevenson's car was minor.

Surviving are his wife, Frances; one son, Robert E., of Holland; one grandson; one sister, Mrs. William Smith of West Englewood, N. J.; and three sisters in California.

Stevenson was born in Elgin, Ill., and came to Holland in 1931. He has been employed at the Holland Hitch Co. for 18 years.

Council Gets 1958 Report On Library

The Library Board presented its annual report to City Council Wednesday night for the year ending June 30, 1958.

The outstanding event of the year was the presentation of $325,000 to the city by Mr. and Mrs. Ray Herrick for a new library to be built on River Ave. between 12th and 13th Sts. Ground breaking ceremonies are scheduled in March, 1959.

The report also indicated a marked increase in circulation, exceeding the 200,000 mark with a gain of 29 percent over the previous year. An all-time record of 2,103 books was charged out in a single day which was more than double the record day of 1957. The summer reading program was particularly successful with 81 percent of those who signed up finishing the requirements. More than 1,000 youngsters received certificates.

Activities of the library staff were outlined with emphasis on cooperation by various civic organizations. During the year the survey of future needs of the Holland Public Library was completed by Kammeraad and Stroop, local architects, and Holland gained national recognition by having the survey and preliminary plans selected by the American Library Association building committee to be presented at the ALA meeting in San Francisco at the 1958 national conference.

In other business, City Manager Herb Holt presented a report on the 1959 paving program listing six projects as follows: Third, River to Pine; 27th, Van Raalte to Harrison; 31st, Columbia to State; Cleveland, Wildwood Dr. to 32nd St.; River Ave., 26th to 27th; Lincoln Ave., 24th to 32nd St. No petitions had been filed for the latter project, but Holt listed it as a desirable improvement. The report was referred back to the city manager for the necessary reports on construction.

A city manager's report on the 1958 sidewalk program listed costs based on 23 cents per square foot plus a 5 per cent engineering fee. Persons having new walks under this program are allowed until Jan. 1 to make payment, after which assessments will appear on the tax rolls.

Another city manager's report was on installation of a water main in Sandy subdivision in the Montello Park area. This project which will involve an expenditure of more than $30,000, calls for water mains in 32nd St. from Ottawa Ave. to Plasman Ave. and in the Graafschap Rd. from 29th St. to a point approximately 300 feet south; also in Ottawa Ave., 31st to 32nd; in Plasman Ave., from 29th to 32nd; in 31st from Plasman to Diekema; in 30th from Sandy Lane to Diekema; in 29th St. from Graafschap Rd. to Diekema Ave. A public hearing was scheduled Nov. 19.

Council approved a $200 transfer in the police account for mileage for a special officer in Maplewood area.

Council approved purchase of a 1959 Rambler for $1,641.35 from Vandenberg Buick for use as a utility car and a custom 300 Ford water cruiser costing $2,037. The city manager listed low bid on the Rambler and next lowest bid on the Ford as the best buys.

Discussion followed on working toward a car pool for the city. Manager Holt said Holland's operation is somewhat small but some progress is being made on car sharing. He said inadequate garage space is a factor.

A new lighting system for Centennial Park was approved, calling for 18 6,000-lumen lamps on ornamental 22-foot poles with underground wiring at an estimated cost of $5,800. Cost to the general fund will be $39 per light per year of $702 a year which will pay for the power and amortize installation costs.

A communication from the Library Board requesting retaining Mrs. Esther Nykamp as interior decorating consultant for the new library was tabled.

Council approved a city manager recommendation for a permit for alterations to a service station at 5th and River. Although existing curb cuts vary from some code requirements, the report recommended they remain as they are because of an adjoining driveway on the north and an adjoining railroad on the south.

Council decided to delay the Nov. 19 meeting until 8:30 p.m. instead of 7:30 p.m. to permit council members to attend a dinner meeting at which Arthur Shields who drafted Detroit's sanitation code will speak. Council will meet Nov. 12 to discuss further ordinances.

Chest Gifts At $51,000

Gifts and pledges to Community Chest reached the $51,000 mark today and plans called for painting the big red feather sign to that amount later this afternoon. This amount is 69 per cent of the goal of $73,835.

Home solicitation by nearly 400 volunteer workers is nearing completion in the city and suburban areas, and Chest leaders are organizing some follow-up work in some cases.

Persons who have not been contacted either at home or at work are asked to send their contributions to Chest headquarters in the John Good building or call the office at EX 6-6649 and arrangements will be made to have the contribution picked up.

On Friday noon, representatives of the Single Solicitation Plan will meet for final reports. It is expected that these reports will boost the current total.

Employees of the street department of the city of Holland use the latest group to enroll 100 per cent for the Community Chest. They come under public employes, division No. 5, headed by Ray Riedema.

Campaign Chairmen David C. Hanson and John Fonger today urged all Chest workers to devote just a little more effort in completing their assignments and to urge people to give "just a little bit more" in order that the goal may be reached this year.

Ford Again Leads Ticket In Ottawa

Ottawa county voted a Republican majority of a little better than 2 to 1 in Tuesday's general election which brought out more than 31,000 voters in this off-year election.

All Republican nominees were elected including a new sheriff in the person of Bernard (Bud) Grysen of Holland who decisively defeated his Democratic opponent, Frank Cherven, and the incumbent, Gerald R. Vanderbeek, who ran as a sticker candidate. Grysen polled an unofficial 17,978 votes while Cherven had 9,327 and Vanderbeek 3,213.

Also reelected were U. S. Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Grand Rapids of the 5th district (Ottawa and Kent) and State Sen. Clyde H. Geerlings of Holland of the 23rd district (Ottawa and Muskegon). Ford won handily in both counties, piling up a plurality of more than 37,000 votes over Richard Vander Veen. Geerlings had a plurality of 5,733 votes over his Democratic opponent, Ralph Richman of Holland.

State Rep. George Van Peursem of Zeeland, Speaker of the Michigan House of Representatives, defeated his Democratic opponent, Malcolm Ferguson of Spring Lake, 20,950 to 10,036. The Congressional unofficial vote follows:

	Ford	VanderVeen
Kent	65,838	40,941
Ottawa	21,880	9,178

The senatorial unofficial vote follows:

	Geerlings	Richman
Muskegon	19,348	24,330
Ottawa	20,832	10,117

Ford not only won handily over his Democratic opponent, but he led the Republican ticket in Ottawa county running some 400 votes over the next high candidate.

James M. Hare, Secretary of State, led the Democratic ticket in Ottawa county polling 10,448 votes or 464 votes more than Gov. G. Mennen Williams received. Local political observers could not recall a time when Williams did not lead the Democratic ticket in the county.

The election of Grysen as sheriff will give Ottawa county on Jan. 1 its first new sheriff in 10 years. Grysen defeated Vanderbeek by 84 votes in the August primary. Vanderbeek's decision to run as a sticker candidate was the first serious test of sticker activity in Ottawa county since it has operated voting machines.

Ottawa county is the only county in Michigan to be fully mechanized. Voting machines have been in use now for more than six years.

Allegan county also had a comfortable Republican majority, returning to office U. S. Rep. Clare Hoffman of Allegan, State Sen. Edward Hutchinson of Pennville and State Rep. Ben E. Lohman of Hamilton. In the 4th Congressional district, Hoffman defeated his Democratic opponent, Gordon Elferink of Three Oaks, 58,697 to 33,349.

Threatens Boy With Gun Here

Ottawa County deputies today are looking for a middle-aged man driving an old-model, black pickup truck who reportedly tried to force an 11-year-old boy to get into his truck at gunpoint Wednesday outside the Noordeloos school.

According to deputies, the boy, Donald Bosch, of New Holland St., was standing in front of the Noordeloos School, on Quincy St. just east of 112th Ave., when the man pulled up, opened the door and told the boy to get in.

The boy said he refused, and told deputies the man, whose age he estimated at about 45 years, then pulled a gun out and ordered the boy to get into the truck.

Bosch began running down the street with the man in pursuit in the pickup, deputies said, when a Noordeloos teacher, Mrs. Jane Nally, approached in her car and the man drove away.

Deputies again request parents to warn their children about getting in a car with strangers, and ask persons with any information on this case to call the Sheriff's Department.

30 Firemen Fight Blaze Near Zeeland

Fire of undetermined origin early Monday destroyed the DeWitt Zeeland Hatchery No. 2 plant, located at the corner of Roosevelt and Michigan Sts., north of Zeeland, causing an estimated $100,000 damage.

The Zeeland fire department, called by a neighbor who saw the smoke and flames, was first on the scene about 6 a.m., and was quickly joined by units of the Holland Township No. 3 and Holland Township No. 2 stations.

Holland Township Fire Marshal Andy Westerbeek said the fire, which apparently started in a paint-spraying booth, was beyond control when firemen arrived. About 30 firemen from the three stations, along with three trucks, fought the flames for nearly four and a half hours.

Plant Manager Chris DeWitt said there was no poultry in the building, which was used as a wood-working shop in the manufacture of automatic poultry feeders and coolers and as a packaging plant for dressed poultry.

The one-story wood-and-concrete block building, about 125 feet long by 100 feet wide, was completely destroyed by the fire, with the walls, roof and interior burned out and many expensive machines destroyed or damaged by the flames.

Among the machinery in the shop was a number of woodworking machines such as saws and joiners, a drill press, other electrical tools and about eight "Kry-o-vac" machines, which wrap poultry in cellophane packages.

A quantity of lumber, plywood, finished and partly finished coolers and some records were also destroyed or damaged.

Chris DeWitt said the total damage would run near $100,000, and he believes the plant will be rebuilt elsewhere.

Firemen were called to the plant about two weeks ago to extinguish a small fire in the spray booth, which Westerbeek said was started by a defective motor in the booth.

DeWitt said no one is known to have been in the building since he locked up on Saturday.

Firemen had a great deal of trouble putting the fire out, since it had burned through the false ceilings into the attic and started the insulation smoldering. Large sections of the roof caved in and the interior is a shambles.

No firemen received injuries at the fire. Fire Marshal Westerbeek wishes to thank Zeeland firemen for their cooperation in fighting the fire.

Zeeland Loses to Fremont 20-13 in Kenewa Loop Battle

FREMONT (Special)—Zeeland took a 13-0 first quarter lead here Friday night but the powerful Fremont Packers came steaming back and scored a 20-13 victory in a Kenewa League football game.

The win gives the Packers at least a share of the league crown. Fremont now has a 3-0 record while Zeeland is 2-1.

Cliff Ter Haar, Zeeland junior halfback, had his best night of the season and picked up a total of 190 yards. Early in the first quarter, after taking the initial kickoff, the Chix drove to the Fremont 16 where Ter Haar swept the end for the touchdown. Junior De Jonge failed on the run for extra point.

A few plays later Fremont fumbled on its own 45 and Zeeland recovered. On the second play from scrimmage Ter Haar was again off to the races, this time 45 yards and the touchdown. De Jonge ran the extra point.

Still in the first quarter Fremont drove to the Chix one-yard-line where Bob Bultman sneaked over with the first Packer touchdown. The play was set up on a 25-yard pass from Bultman to Mark Anway. Bultman's kick for extra point was not good.

The Packers tied the score in the second quarter. Fremont drove 50 yards after taking a Zeeland punt and again drove to the one-yard-line where Bultman went over on a sneak. Highlighting the drive was a 30-yard pass play from Bultman to Mark Anway. Bultman's kick was good to tie the score.

Later in the second quarter Fremont with the help of passes and a 15-yard penalty, moved to the Zeeland one. Don Kingsfort cracked off tackle for the score and Bultman converted.

Bob Elenbaas followed Ter Haar in the rushing with 65 yards and Marv Feenstra had the most tackles. Anway led the Packers in rushing and pass receiving. He picked up more than 60 yards in each department.

Zeeland had a drive to the Fremont four-yard-line in the third quarter but Jim Van Dam's fourth down pass was intercepted to stop the chance.

The Chix conclude their season at home next Friday night against Comstock Park.

Dutch Bands Follow Theme Of Halloween

"Halloween Night" was the theme of the performance by the combined Holland Senior and Junior High School marching bands at halftime of the Holland - Grand Rapids South football game at Riverview Park last night.

The 175 piece combined bands directed by Arthur C. Hills and Ray Roth each formed huge cornstalks as they played "Way Down Yonder in the Corn Field" and the majorettes, covered with sheets, ran between the stalks. A pumpkin formation followed as the band played "Ruben Ruben", and the band next displayed a moon and a cider jug as they played "The Little Brown Jug."

The lights were turned off as the band members displaying lights, on their caps, formed a stick figure representing a skeleton while "Dry Bones" was played. The spotlight played on the majorettes, dressed in witches costumes, surrounding a boiling cauldron. The band last moved into an "H" formation as they played "Go Holland High".

South High School's band featured a performance based on television programs. Directed by Charles Perry, the band first formed a TV set with "rabbit ears" and played the "Howdy Doody" theme as a clown was displayed on the screen.

The band then "switched channels" and showed a stick horse and a theme from a TV western was played. Other selections played by the South band included: "In the Evening by the Moonlight," "Good Night Ladies" and "Our Boys Will Shine."

Venhuizen, field director; and Mrs. Robert Myrick, secretary. Almost 1,600 girls, from eight to 18 years of age, are members of the organization.

Police Kept Hopping By Usual Series of Halloween 'Pranks'

Holland police were kept exceptionally busy Friday night attempting to keep up with the usual run of Halloween pranks, but officers said nothing too serious in the way of destructive vandalism was reported.

Perhaps the most serious incident, officers said, was the random squirting of ink in water pistols by five or six youths, who were taken into custody. Police said the ink cannot be removed from the finish of several cars which were sprayed, and others reported the ink sprayed on their clothing.

At least three windows throughout the city were broken by sling shots or BB guns, and police are seeking the culprits involved.

In addition to these cases, there were a great number of the usual Halloween "pranks." Police said a total of nine chickens were turned loose downtown to run squawking through the traffic.

The fire department was called out to extinguish several leaf fires. Police turned off a number of fire hydrants which had been turned on to gush into the street. Water-filled balloons were confiscated from several young "bombers."

Barricades of brush, corn shocks, small trees, etc., appeared at regular intervals in the city streets and were as regularly removed by police. And, of course, there was the usual quota of tomatoes and eggs thrown about, and uncounted windows were more or less artistically decorated with soap or wax.

Ottawa County deputies reported things fairly quiet in the areas surrounding Holland, with the most common complaint being roads blocked up by brush and corn shocks, some of which were set afire.

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — Halloween vandalism was practically nil in Grand Haven this year, compared with the situation last year when rowdies virtually took over the entire downtown area.

This year, four persons will appear in Municipal Court on disorderly conduct charges involving throwing water filled balloons at cars and pedestrians.

Another group was caught in the act of throwing garbage and was escorted to the dump by city police to dispose of the wastes. A window in the home of Roger Russel on North Fourth St. was broken when hit by a bag of garbage.

Dutch Trade Consultant Visits City

Peter E. H. Praetorius, assistant general manager of the Netherlands Industrial Institute, has returned to New York after spending Thursday and Friday this week with Willard C. Wichers, director of the Netherlands Information Service, and the NIS staff in Holland.

In company of Wichers, Praetorius conferred with leaders of several industries in Western Michigan interested in exploring possibilities of establishing subsidiary manufacturing operations in the Netherlands.

Ever since World War II, The Netherlands has been encouraging American industry to expand their operations into the Netherlands in an effort to balance the labor market and provide for foreign trade not always possible on a direct basis.

Through special banking arrangements with several other countries in Southern Europe, American industries can produce their products through subsidiaries and engage in trade with "soft currency" countries, yet arrange for profits to be paid in American dollars. The program also allows special tax and tariff considerations.

MICHIGAN AND TOMORROW'S ELECTION

Americans in every state have a stake in tomorrow's election, and that of Michigan is not less important than the general run; in some ways it may be more important.

On one level Michigan may affect national politics in a big way for the first time. The election tomorrow will determine whether the Michigan candidate for a presidential nomination will stay in the race or not. That is a situation that Michigan has never before experienced.

If Gov. Williams is elected again, he will obviously stay in the race. If he should be defeated he would just as obviously become "unavailable."

If you favor the former, it is clearly your business to vote for the Governor. If you are opposed to the Williams presidential candidacy, it is just as clearly your business to vote for his opponent in the gubernatorial race.

Nationally, Michigan is involved in tomorrow's election in still another way. The state, which is fairly evenly balanced between Republican and Democratic voters, resulting in a Democratic executive branch and a Republican legislative branch, is to decide tomorrow whether it shall be represented in the U. S. Senate by the Democratic party exclusively or by the two parties.

At present we have one Democratic Senator and one Republican. Does that fairly reflect the wishes of the people of the state in national representation? That is a question to be asked of the state's voters tomorrow and to be answered by them — that is, if they take the trouble to go to the polls.

More important, perhaps, are the local issues and candidates that are up for decision. But at the moment they may be less worthy of special emphasis because they will affect fewer people in individual cases and smaller sections.

But the Michigan gubernatorial issue in tomorrow's election is national in its implications for perhaps the first time in the state's history. And the same thing is true of the senatorial contest. Whether a Democrat or a Republican is named will affect political power issues on a national level.

The moral is obvious. If you don't want your privilege of franchise to go by default in deciding these national issues, you will have to exercise your right to vote.

Remember tomorrow is the day. If you do not VOTE, do not complain after the election.

Sunday School Lesson

Jesus Describes Discipleship
Sunday, November 9, 1958
Matthew 5:1-12
By C. P. Dame

(Based on copyright outlines produced by the Division of Christian Education, National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U.S.A. and used by permission.)

Jesus preached the Sermon on the Mount to his disciples. A person has to be Christlike in order to be desirous to practice the teachings of this the greatest of all sermons. Churchless people who say that their religion is the Sermon on the Mount do not know what they are saying.

I. Christ's view of happiness differs from the majority of people. Tradition says that Jesus preached this sermon on the Mount and Jesus preached this sermon on a mountain. In this sermon Jesus states the ideals and principles of the Christian life. Jesus does not explain here how to become Christians but how to act as Christians. In this sermon there is nothing said about the atonement or about justification of faith or about some of the other great doctrines of the Christian faith. However theology and ethics belong together. Our beliefs shape and mould our conduct.

The word "blessed" is sometimes translated by the word "happy." The word "happy" does not fully convey the idea of Jesus but it is suggestive because the word is so popular. People want to be happy. Most people think that those who are successful, the prize winners, the rich, those who suddenly inherit a million, the glamorous people are the happy people. Those whom Jesus called "blessed" are radically different from the people who are considered happy by the rank and file of folks.

II. The spiritually rich people are the truly happy. The poor in spirit know their true condition and humbly seek the genuine riches. Those who mourn for their sins feel the need of forgiveness and rest not until they gain it and the comfort which follows. The meek are not the weaklings many suppose them to be but they are the mild, the patient, the gentle and the truly strong. Mussolini was not meek but Moses was — and history will always portray Moses as a man of strength. We speak of the mighty meek but never of the mighty proud. There are many hungry people in the world but not enough happy hungry people — the people who are hungry for God and his Word, people with a keen spiritual appetite.

The merciful too are called happy because they have received mercy and hence they give mercy. The first four beatitudes look towards God while the last three look towards men — this beatitude about the merciful is the first of the last three. Some people think it is a mark of strength to be hardhearted. Jesus differs with them. Mercy flows from a pure heart. Many people do not think purity of life to be essential. Only the pure in heart shall see God. The word "peace" is pleasing to most ears. Jesus calls the peacemakers blessed. Our world needs people who are truly peacemakers. All persecution is unpleasant but all who are persecuted for righteousness' sake are blessed. Most people want to be popular. In the kind of world we live in the Christian-like people will at times and in some places be reviled and persecuted. It costs to be Christians in a wicked world.

III. The Lord has promised a reward to the faithful. The persecuted belong to a great company. They have a right to be proud of their heritage. Here Christians may suffer for the sake of their faith. The time will come when the Lord will give rewards to all who faithfully represented him by revealing the marks of a Christian amongst unbelievers.

Loader Busy

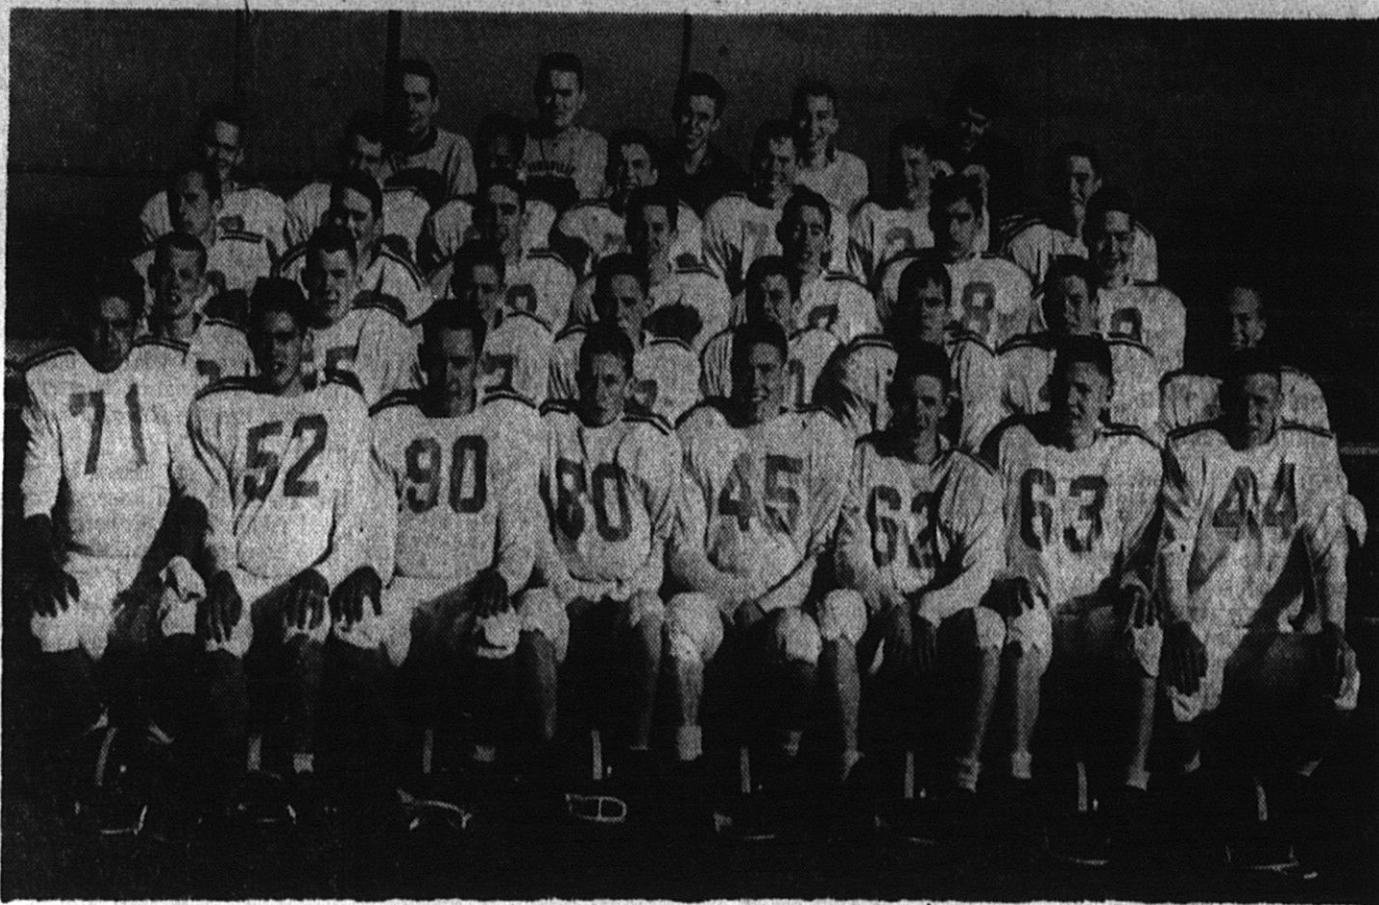

The street department leaf loader is currently working on a 16-hour day following two weeks of around-the-clock work. City Engineer Lavern Serne said today. He said the greater share of leaves are now off the trees, but not all home owners have completed raking their yards. The leaf loader will continue its work on a 16-hour basis the remainder of the week and longer, if necessary. Just rake your leaves to the curb.

Fennville High Gridders Complete First Perfect Season

FENNVILLE (Special) — Senior leadership, hard work, determination and enthusiasm were given today by Fennville High football coach Sam Morehead as reasons why the Blackhawks completed an unbeaten season.

It was the first time the Blackhawks have finished a football season unbeaten and marked the initial time in Morehead's term as coach that the Blackhawks won the Al-Van League crown.

In recording the seven victories,

Fennville also compiled the best defensive mark in the school's history. The Blackhawks allowed 33 points, for a average of 5.6 points per game.

Fennville scored 129 points for an average of 18.3 per contest. Five of the wins were chalked up in the Al-Van League.

Gene Luna, a fine defensive and offensive end, paced the Fennville scorers with 30 points, scoring five touchdowns. Carl Pandel, another end who was strong both ways, was the second high scorer with 24 points.

Jan Hammer and Den Morse, fullback and quarterback respectively and the team co-captains, each scored 18 points. Morse missed the final game because of a fractured thumb.

Hammer was the team's leading ground-gainer and also led in tackles. Lyle Earl, who made 18 points on two touchdowns and six extra points, was the second best tackler from his guard spot and tackle Ray Modrak was third in tackles.

Hammer and Morse came in for special comment from Morehead for their play. Hammer was an all-conference lineman last year and then was switched to the backfield and performed well enough to probably win all-league honors again. Morse was an outstanding passer and did a good job of directing the club.

Phil Blackburn, Modrak, John Damanskas, Earl and Tom Phelps were the main reasons for the strong, defensive middle of the line.

Damanskas, Henry Barnes and Rog Tiffany each made one touchdown. Tiffany stepped in for Morse following his injury and did a good job. Damanskas also made two extra points and Charles Kwiatkowski scored an extra point.

Morehead will face a rebuilding job next season with eight of his players graduating. Seniors on the club are Bill Tromp, Mike Phelps, Roy Smith, Blackburn, Loy Loudin, Earl, Don Hammer and Morse.

City League Cagers Play In B Loop

As it stands now the Holland city basketball league will not operate as a separate unit but will participate as part of the B and C Recreation basketball leagues this season with games at the Cvc Center.

Last season the City League consisted of four teams and played its games on Wednesday nights at the Armory. The league was co-sponsored by the Recreation department, entry fees from the participating clubs and ticket sales.

Ken Van Wieren, basketball director, said he plans to incorporate the interested teams and players from the city league into the B Recreation League. Van Wieren plans to have 12 teams in the two leagues this season, six in the B league and six in the C league.

Borr's Bootery signed up Monday for the B league and Quality Motors, Bohn Aluminum and Dutch Novelty will play in the C league this season, Van Wieren said.

Van Wieren indicated that with the addition of the A League (City League players) some of the rules presently governing the B league may be changed slightly.

The games are played on the Civic cross-courts, with the clock running continually until the final three minutes. There is a possibility that the A league teams would stop the clock for foul shots and change a few other minor rules now in effect in the B league, Van Wieren said.

Play will begin Wednesday, Nov. 12 at the Civic Center. The first game will be at 6:30 p.m.

A-B-C Grades Okayed for Restaurant

Cuty Council passed two new ordinances Wednesday night, one amending the restaurant ordinance to provide for A-B-C grading of local restaurants, and the other revising the parking lot ordinance allowing the Board of Appeals to permit fencing instead of hedges bordering parking lots in residential areas if fencing proves more desirable.

Council spent 45 minutes in a committee-of-the-whole to discuss the two ordinances. City Sanitarian James Hensley explained operations of the restaurant code. Both ordinances will become effective Dec. 1.

Hensley explained that supervision of local eating and drinking establishments is designed to minimize the spread of certain diseases, and that such activity is beneficial both to the public and to restaurant personnel.

Restaurant grading will not be in effect until next April 1, the date for renewing licenses, unless local restaurants request a grading inspection earlier. The grades, A in green, B in yellow and C in red, will appear on decals on the window where they can be easily seen.

Restaurants will be graded according to their compliance with sanitation requirements. Grade A establishments are safest and grade B places have failed to comply with one or more of the less important requirements. Grade C restaurants have violated one or more of the important items of sanitation. Restaurants having a class C grade will be permitted to operate for only a temporary period of 30 days or less. It is regarded as a penalty grade and allows a restaurant to operate while improvements are being made.

Hensley said he had had many inquiries on restaurant grading since he came to Holland 15 months ago.

The restaurant ordinance and the parking lot revision have been under study for a long time. Aside from the grading system, the restaurant ordinance is essentially the same as the one adopted some months ago when Council approved a thick sheaf of new ordinances, the result of many months of study.

In other business, Council recommended four employees of the water department of the Board of Public Works who have been granted F-3 water treatment plant certificates, according to a letter from the division of engineering of the Michigan Department of Health. The four men are Gerald J. Goshorn, Larry J. Martin, F. J. Palecek and James R. Vande Wege.

Also read was a resolution adopted by the Ottawa County Board of Supervisors expressing appreciation for the generosity of the city of Holland for providing housing for county agencies in City Hall as well as police dispatching service free of charge to the county, and commending the city for its cooperation in matters of mutual concern.

A letter from Production Steel Building Co. requesting a variance from fire district requirements to permit construction of a Wonder Building on Reliable Garage property at 135 West Eighth St. resulted in calling a public hearing Nov. 19. Henry Strabbing, proprietor of Reliable Garage, explained details.

A letter from Marion Shackson, 311 West 12th St., listing 14 points for further study in connection with vacating Harrison Ave. from 12th to 13th Sts. was filed.

A letter from Fillmore township requesting an agreement for the rental of one fire hydrant instead of two called for in the present agreement was referred to the city manager. This agreement allows the Fillmore tank truck to obtain water at a designated city hydrant.

A petition requesting an adequate number of street lights on Hazel Ave was referred to the city manager with power to act.

Council authorized payment of $3,000 to Ernst and Ernst for auditing services for 1957-58. Of the total, $1,250 will be paid from the general fund, $1,250 from utility funds and $500 from the hospital fund.

Council approved an agreement signed by eight property owners who agree to participate in the cost of filling the city water course running in vacated River Ave. between 28th and 29th Sts. Estimated cost is $6,900 with property owners paying $2,860 and the city's portion to be charged to the Motor Vehicle Fund.

Mayor Robert Visscher presided at the meeting which lasted two hours and 15 minutes. Henry Kleinknecht, ex-officio council member representing Maplewood district, gave the invocation.

The Hope coach said he wanted to take a good look at the present candidates, plus those boys who are out for football who will be trying for basketball.

Community Chest Benefits Holland Guidance Center

The Child Guidance Clinic, operating under the Michigan Department of Mental Health and under the Community Chest, offers diagnostic and treatment services for children having emotional and personality problems.

With the consent of the parents anyone may refer a child under 18 to the clinic for study. This specialized service is a real boon to parents who become distraught and perplexed to know how to treat children who do not respond in the normal way. There is a variety of disturbances which may have their origin in some physical illness or emotional difficulties.

The understanding and technical training staff, can, by their counseling and treatment, help the child get a better start in life and make the entire family happier as well as the child.

According to Dr. O. Vander Velde, it may be difficult for some people to appreciate the service, but the facts and statistics show that many of the people in our community have benefited. During 1957 the record shows that there were over 1,200 interviews and consultations, and the clinic serviced 152 children in Ottawa County and the majority of cases were from the city of Holland and its immediate environs.

Grateful parents have sent in letters time and again to express their appreciation. Some excerpts from letters that parents have written "His temper tantrums have disappeared and he no longer acts angry" . . . "Today she is happy, friendly, normal teenage girl. She has fine friends and is getting along better in school and in social groups too. You really would be surprised to see her as the change has been so noticeable" . . . "We hope you can find happiness for others as you did for your own family."

Both Dr. Vander Velde and Mrs. Ruth Van Duren will be happy to tell you how you can take advantage of the service of the Child Guidance Clinic.

Seventh Grade Football Team Showed Speed

Speed is a basic ingredient for football and Coach Con Eckstrom reported today his Holland public school seventh grade team had more speed as a unit than the other two teams he has coached.

Eckstrom made the analysis as he was checking in equipment used by the seventh graders this season. Thirty-four took part in the program this year.

This was the third season organized football was staged on the seventh grade level. Eckstrom handled the coaching alone this season but was assisted by John Spurgeon the first two years.

Spurgeon is working on an advanced degree this year.

Fundamentals of blocking and tackling were drilled into the boys and they also learned various play patterns. Scrimmages were held with the eighth grade each week or an intra-squad scrimmage was staged.

The boys began shortly after school started. They play with a football slightly smaller than regulation size.

Seven of the boys were selected to play with the eighth grade today at Grand Haven. They also played against Benton Harbor last week as members of the eighth grade team.

Making up this list are: Vern Plagenhoef, center; Gary Hopkins, Jim De Neff and Tom Shashaguy, backs; Paul Wassenaar and Bill Beebe, backfield and line and Darrel Schurman, end or tackle.

The seventh graders concluded their season last Thursday with an inter-squad game and some of the seventh graders played against the eighth grade in another game. Eckstrom said all of the boys showed improvement throughout the season and he was satisfied with the progress.

October Had Beautiful Weather

An average temperature of 55.4 degrees, which is 3.1 degrees above normal, set the stage for a month of beautiful weather in Holland, a check of local weather statistics by Charles Steketee of Hope College revealed today.

And a monthly rainfall of 3.16 inches, or .15 inch above normal, provided much needed moisture in this area. A total of 3.01 inches fell during a two-day period, .64 inch on Oct. 8 and 2.37 inches on Oct. 9. Hail, accompanied by severe electrical storms, caused considerable damage.

Maximum was 78 degrees, compared with 73 in 1957, 82 in 1956, 78 in 1955 and 78 in 1954. Minimum was 33, compared with 28 in 1957, 28 in 1956, 33 in 1955 and 26 in 1954. The 33-degree low was registered Oct. 29. There was no "killing frost" as such in Holland city during October, and autumn flowers had the longest blooming period in many a year.

Average temperature was 55.4, compared with 50.2 in 1957; 58.2 in 1956, 55.6 in 1955 and 53.4 in 1954. Average maximum was 65.5, compared with 60.5 in 1957, 70.1 in 1956, 65.7 in 1955 and 62.2 in 1954. Average minimum was 45.2, compared with 39.9 in 1957, 46.3 in 1956, 45.5 in 1955 and 44.6 in 1954.

Precipitation measured 3.16 inches, compared with 3.82 inches in 1957, .50 inch in 1956, 4.50 inches in 1955 and 9.60 inches in 1954. Precipitation fell on five days, compared with eight days in 1957, eight days in 1956, 14 days in 1955 and 19 days in 1954. In 1954, snowfall also amounted to 9.8 inches — a Halloween "treat" which was not particularly appreciated by the young in heart. Just a trace of snow was registered the other years.

Ford Addresses Local Kiwanians

Labor - management legislation was the subject of a talk by Congressman Gerald R. Ford, Jr. before the Kiwanis Club Monday night at the Warm Friend Tavern.

Ford gave a history of labor and management problems dating back to 1934 when the Wagner Act was placed upon the statute books to encourage collective bargaining.

By 1946 Ford said labor organizations had grown to over 15,000,000 members and were abusing their powers under the Wagner Act. As a result the public demanded and got the Taft-Hartley Act, which was an effort to equalize bargaining strength of both labor and management.

Ford started in January of this year. President Eisenhower recommended to Congress that a strong labor reform bill be enacted in law providing proper election procedures in unions, methods by which undesirable labor leaders could be removed from office, methods for reporting financial transactions in unions and other changes to the Taft-Hartley Act.

"I think the President's recommendations were good and sincerely wished Congress had acted affirmatively on it," Ford stated.

The Kennedy-Ives bill which was drafted left much to be desired. Ford said. It exempted from coverage sixty-five per cent of all unions including a number of notorious unions. The bill was defeated by a vote of 198 to 191.

"This bill, in the opinion of more than 50 per cent of the members of the House, would have taken one step forward and three steps backwards. It would have been window dressing which, I think, would have been seriously harmful and detrimental to the fundamental philosophy of the Taft-Hartley Act," Ford emphasized. "For that reason I voted against the bill," Ford said.

Touching upon the powers of labor leaders such as James R. Hoffa, international president of the Teamsters union, and Walter Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers union, Ford stated, "In my opinion we must draft legislation which will prevent any labor monopoly by any one person whether it effects Mr. Hoffa or Reuther. That was one of the deficiencies in the Kennedy - Ives bill."

"We are not opposed to labor reform legislation," Ford asserted, "but we want good legislation. I sincerely hope the next Congress, with the right attitude, will pass good labor legislation."

Ford's talk before the local service organization was his last appearance in his campaign for reelection to the House of Representatives.

Demonstrations Delight Students

Holland Christian High School students and faculty members received an educational treat Monday morning when they witnessed a demonstration and display staged under the auspices of the United States Atomic Energy commission.

The hour-long assembly entitled "This Atomic World" was put on by the Museum Division of the Oak Ridge, Tennessee, Institute of Nuclear Studies. Ted Johnson, in charge of the traveling unit, said that Holland Christian was one of 60 high schools in the state selected by the museum for the demonstration.

Johnson, who is a graduate of Tennessee Polytechnic Institute, with advanced training in nuclear science at Oak Ridge, kept up an interesting commentary during the elaborate display. Particularly outstanding from an educational point of view, was the simple manner in which the highly technical subject was handled.

In addition to explaining the parts in atom structure as well as nuclear fission, Johnson demonstrated use of the atom smasher and the huge atomic reactor. Student participation in the experiments proved entertaining as well as educational.

Johnson also demonstrated some of the peaceful applications of atomic energy as well as showing how these various operations were of prime importance in high school science study.

The nuclear expert explained that the present unit touring the Midwest is one of six similar exhibits in the country. The unit was scheduled for St. Joseph High School today.

BUILDING DESTROYED — Chris DeWitt, manager of the DeWitt Zeeland Hatchery No. 2 woodworking plant which was destroyed by fire early Monday, stands among the rubble and surveys the damage after firemen put out the flames. Above him, a large section of the roof is gone, caved in after it was eaten through by fire, and all around him is damaged and ruined machinery. Neither DeWitt nor firemen have determined how the fire started, although it is believed to have started in the paint spraying booth nearby. A neighbor reported the fire about 6 a.m. (Sentinel photo)

SMOKE AND FLAME — Smoke and flames fill the interior of the DeWitt Zeeland Hatchery Plant, at the corner of Roosevelt and Michigan Sts., north of Zeeland, as firemen poured water from a high-pressure hose into the inferno. Inside the charred door can be seen some of the machines and equipment which were destroyed or damaged in the fire. Chris DeWitt, manager of the woodworking plant, north of Zeeland, estimated the damage as close to $100,000. Firemen remained on the scene nearly four and a half hours. (Sentinel photo)

BRING UP THE HOSE — Four firemen are shown above rushing a fire hose around to the north side of the DeWitt Zeeland Hatchery Plant No. 2, which early Monday was destroyed by fire. The Zeeland Fire Department and units of Holland Township No. 3 and No. 2 stations cooperated in fighting the flames. Firemen said gases working upward into the attic caused the attic and roof to go with a rush when fire worked through. The building was primarily a woodworking plant, and was no longer an egg grading station, DeWitt officials said. (Sentinel photo)

Play Presented at Club By Lansing Clubwomen

"One for the money, two for the show, three to get ready and four to go," was the theme for a thoughtful play given for the members of the Woman's Literary Club Tuesday afternoon. It was also Philanthropy Day.

A group of members of the Lansing Women's Club appeared in the playlet "Testing One-Two-Three-Four," written by Mrs. William H. King, Jr., who appeared as a member of the cast. Others in the cast were Mrs. John Dethmers, former Holland club member and past president, who read the prologue; Mrs. Waller Ruell, Mrs. Lewis Andrews Jr. and Mrs. Wilbur Seelye.

Four women, all friends were shown at a bridge table. As the game proceeded and each one was a dummy, she crossed the stage and sat at a small table, called the dream table. Each had her own thoughts and dreams and wishes. One for the money was Kitty's problem. Jane's problem was marital and of the heart. Amy's problem was her children and knowing how to advise them. Amy was played by the author, Mrs. King. The fourth was Julia's problem, health and what it meant to her family.

As the play closed, the telephone rang, and each woman was sure it was for her with an answer for her. The cast was well chosen and did a splendid job of portraying the character.

New members of the club introduced by Mrs. Clarence Becker were honored guests at the tea that followed in the club tearoom. Identified by corsages the new members included the Mesdames Johanna Markestein, Robert Leslie, E. E. Fell, Anthony Bouwman, William Wiswedel, Joseph Feinberg, J. Russell Bouws, John W. Miss Patricia Vander Beek sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer." Her accompanist was Lee De Pree who also played appropriate wedding music.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Boersema wore a sheath blue dress with white accessories and the mother of the groom had a black dress with black and white accessories. Both had shoulder corsages of red roses.

Thirsty Burglars Steal Two Barrels of Beer

Burglars, who apparently had a king-sized thirst sometime Tuesday night or early Wednesday morning, broke into a large walk-in cooler at the Botsis Beverage Co., 177 Douglas Ave., and stole two half-barrels of beer.

Owner George Botsis said the burglars smashed a padlock off the cooler door to get the beer, valued at about $33. A half-barrel holds about 15 gallons of beer, Botsis said.
